LAYS PLANS TO FORCE INDIANS TO SURRENDER

United States Marshal Leading Pursuit of Renegade Plutes in Southern Utah, Prepares to Make Rush

SALT LAKE, March 24. (AP)—United States Marshal Ward of Salt Lake, armed with 200 rifles for the arrest of the renegade Plutes in the East-ern region of the San Juan canyon region on charges of insurrection and rebellion against the government, and a force of special deputies to surround the entire mountain passes tonight is laying plans for action to force the surrender of the red men. The penalty for insurrection is death.

Builds Pen for Captives
Reports from the scene indicate that the besiegers will undertake capturing the action unless the Indians yield speedily. Otherwise, there is likely to be a protracted siege. At this time nobody knows, save the captives Plutes, how many red men remain with the army, whose elimination is the main information. Meanwhile, the United States marshal is constructing a stockade at Blanding to confine the Plute prisoners who are being captured there. Some eighty Indians, a sprinkling of squaws and children are now in custody.

The state has offered a reward for Old Posy's capture and the outfit is expressed that friendly Navajos, who are enemies of the Plute renegades, will help the whites in ending the trouble by capturing or killing Old Posy, whose elimination for the disturbances would doubtless bring the revolt to a quick end.

More Casualties Reported
There are reports from Blanding that two more Indians have been killed in the fighting in the canyon. The five Plutes who escaped after capture in the fighting in the canyon recently have again been taken into custody. It is learned that Old Posy was wounded in one of the earlier skirmishes when his horse was shot from under him. How serious his condition is cannot be learned.

HOUSE OF DAVID LEADER WILL USE 40 WITNESSES

Members of "Inner Circle" Including Several "High Priestesses" to Testify in Trial of Suit for Accounting

GRAND RAPIDS, March 24. (AP)—Members of "the inner circle" of the House of David and other followers of Benjamin Purnell, cult leader, to the number of 40, are to be called by the defense when the suit for an accounting brought by John W. Hansell is tried here Monday. It was learned today.

The list of witnesses includes two sisters of Mrs. Esther Hanson, star witness in the plaintiff's former action against Purnell, as well as several "high priestesses" of the House of David, where it has been testified, immoral practices were indulged in. Whether Purnell will take the witness stand still is doubtful. It previously was announced that his wife, Mary, would testify but her names does not appear on the witness list.

A brief to be filed by attorneys for the plaintiff Monday, setting forth in detail Hansell's claim of fraud, in which he claimed, in 1919, to have $5500 to the colony when he became a member and which was denied him, he alleges, when he was expelled. Hansell asks settlement in the sum of $5000. The suit was filed in the federal court here Monday, it was learned today.

NAMES NEW GAME WARDEN

Governor Moore Announces Appointment of E. B. Thomas of Kollgoff Park Assistant Chief Deputy

BOISE, March 24. (AP)—Governor C. C. Moore today announced the appointment of E. B. Thomas of Kollgoff Park to the position of state fish and game warden to succeed Otto M. Jones, whose resignation the governor requested Saturday. Mr. Thomas has been with the department for four years as assistant chief deputy in charge of north Idaho. He will replace Mr. Jones April 1. Terms of local deputy wardens also expire on that date and the warden will make such appointments as are necessary.

Requires Utah Sheriff to Defend His Title to Office

SALT LAKE, March 24. (AP)—Ben B. Harries, elected to the office of sheriff of Salt Lake county at the November election will be compelled to appear in court to defend his title to the office according to the decision of Judge McCrea of the third district. It is charged that his election was due to "church interference." The complaint alleges "admission of the church" on the part of President Herbert J. Grant of the Mormon church and the return and in signed statements sent out by the various ward meeting leaders and counselors

Business Statistician, Reviewing Conditions in Mountain States, Declares Readjustment Here Severe and Prolonged, but 1923 Will Be Year of Local Improvement

OFFERS NO SUGGESTIONS EXCEPT CONTINUATION OF PRESENT EFFORT

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., March 24. (Special to The News)—Today Robert W. Babson issued his report on conditions in that section of the country which extends from the agricultural states through to the Pacific Coast states. This group consists of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona and a part of Texas and Oklahoma.

"I am very fond of this mountain section," says Mr. Babson. "It is the section which develops those many and robust qualities which are the backbone of American civilization. This is the West, which developed Roosevelt spiritually, mentally and physically. Rugged character of both country and people, freedom from artificial conventionalities and the custom of judging men solely by what they do, characterize these mountain states. This was very foreign, sought to my mind last month when, on my way south, I stopped in Philadelphia to call upon George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, a man who

DEATH SUMMONS S. D. NICHOLSON

United States Senator from Colorado Dies at Home in Denver after Month's Illness

DENVER, March 24. (AP)—Samuel D. Nicholson, United States senator from Colorado, died here at 9:15 o'clock tonight.

Senator Nicholson was unconscious when he slipped into a state of coma shortly before the end, and he did not regain consciousness before he succumbed.

First Serious Illness
The malady which caused the death of Senator Nicholson was the first serious illness he had suffered in his life time. In his first appeal to physical and medical science was unable to aid him.

For several years preceding his death, Senator Nicholson had experienced slight pains, which he had attributed to indigestion, according to his brother, Murdoch A. Nicholson.

Nine days before the adjournment of congress, in which he had been serving his first term, the senator was seized with an illness which he first believed to be lagrippe. For the first time in his life Senator Nicholson called a physician. As a result of a diagnosis at the Army and Navy hospital in Washington, an x-ray advised to consult the Mayo brothers in Rochester, Minn.

Surgons Withheld Knife
On March 10, Senator Nicholson arrived at Rochester and his case was diagnosed by physicians at the Mayo brothers' hospital clinic. At that time, according to Dr. Arthur Mahlo of the Mayo hospital, the Mayo brothers, the liver had become enlarged to about twice its normal size, although the senator was able to walk about. After consultations with Doctors Charles and Frank Mayo, and the Robert Wood secretary of the interior, who had been called to Rochester at Senator Nicholson's request, it was decided that an operation was inexpedient.

Falling rapidly, as the toxic poisons resulting from his condition spread, Senator Nicholson requested that he be removed to his home in Denver. He arrived here Friday.

REDUCES PARTY MAJORITY

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The death of Senator Nicholson and the expected appointment by Governor Street of Colorado, of a democrat to are alleged to have "instructed" members of the Mormon church to support Harries at the polls, and this is contended by the plaintiffs as having violated the state constitution, which prohibits any interference with the functions of the state.

Harries entered the race after he had failed to win the nomination in the democratic convention. His candidacy was announced by the Welfare League and this was followed, it is alleged, by endorsements from the Salt Lake ministerial association and of fields of the Mormon church.

Jay Walkers Find Bombs on Street in Theatrical Center

Pedestrians in Crowd Jamming Thoroughfare from Curb to Curb Pick Up Missiles

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Two cast iron bombs, stuffed with explosives and carrying 12-inch fuses were found today in front of the Union Methodist church, half a block from Broadway and West Forty-eighth street, in the heart of the theatrical district.

The bombs were found at the height of the post-matinee rush, when the street in front of the church was jammed from curb to curb with pedestrians and taxicabs.

"Jay walkers" picked up the explosives in the middle of the street. They were about the size of baseballs, with shells of cast iron. The fuses had not been lighted.

MME. BERNHARDT CRITICALLY ILL

World-Famous Actress Fights Bravely Against Ravages of Disease Against Odds

PARIS, March 24. (AP)—Madame Sarah Bernhardt is critically ill, possibly dying, of this remarkable woman, who belongs to the world as well as to France, is fighting against the ravages of disease, but her weak constitution makes the odds much against her.

After a long consultation tonight the attending physicians issued the following bulletin:

"The condition of Madame Bernhardt has become aggravated in the last few days and the prognosis must be reserved."

The guarded terms used would lead to the belief that the possibility of Bernhardt's recovery is not great. Bernhardt herself declared only recently that she would continue her work on the stage to the very last and only this week she posed at her home in Paris for an American company, thus probably overtaxing her strength.

Fixing of Later Date for Straightening Out the Piggly Wiggly Shares Brings Little Activity in Thang

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—The extent of the short interest in common stock of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., variously estimated at 7000 to 25,000 shares, will remain a mystery until Monday when final delivery must be made under the New York stock exchange rule.

FLOOD MENACE REMOVED WHEN GORGE YIELDS

Slow Disintegration of Ice Jam Clogging Missouri River Alays Fears in Surrounding Towns and Country

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, March 24. (AP)—The huge ice gorge at Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, is slowly disintegrating. With a roar heard for five miles, a mass of ice a mile in length broke from the gorge tonight and is floating down the river.

If the gorge continues to break slowly, flood damage will be minimized. The flood menace that had become acute last night, was for the most part removed today when the enormous stream cut a new channel on the Iowa side and the river receded in course of time.

Further Danger Unlikely
All flood danger here is past unless very severe and unusual weather conditions set in very soon, according to a statement tonight by R. J. Anderson, chairman of the board of supervisors of Woodbury county, A. B. Erickson also of the board, and J. C. McLenan, county engineer, who spent all day Saturday in the danger zone on both sides of the Missouri river investigating the situation.

Their statement declared that a drop of one foot in water stage, at the lower point of the gorge on the Iowa side, about three miles south of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, had occurred in the 24 hours from Friday night to Saturday night. A recession of seven inches was noted at Dakota City, Neb., they said, the fall having occurred since this morning.

Water Cuts Channel
A well defined and open channel 150 to 175 feet wide has been opened on the Iowa side of the gorge. It flows freely, thus relieving the situation. The ice is melting rapidly so that a number of open spaces in the ice sheet have made their appearance.

Foresees Rule of England by Labor's Forces

Scottish Minors' Spokesman Approves Hobnobbing of Leaders with Royalty

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—The "hobnobbing" of British labor leaders with the king and queen of Great Britain as exemplified at a recent tea party at Lady Astor's home, was approved today by Andrew McAnulty, representative of the Scottish coal miners, before he sailed for home on the steamship Carmania.

The labor party will be in control of the government, Ed and will in five years be "bloodless" revolution or otherwise, he predicted, and so felt that leaders of labor should seize every opportunity to learn the customs and usages of official society.

Mr. McAnulty, who has been here studying the coal mining situation, said he had been a labor leader for 25 years and had never favored in the belief that some day the labor party as a constitutional party would control the destinies of England without changing the present form of government. He is Scotland's representative at the conference in London.

"I have no feeling against the present king or queen or the royal family in general," he said, "but if the revolution that is coming here is a bloody one, no one knows what might happen."

"I haven't the slightest feeling against meeting the king and queen as labor leaders did at the Denver dinner recently, and I am surprised that my associates were quoted as being against such action."

MINERS FREEZE TO DEATH

Bodies of Two Men, Known Only as Smith Brothers, Found Near Cabin in Colorado Canyon

TOLLAND, Colo., March 24. (AP)—The bodies of two miners, known only as the Smith brothers, were found today near Mammoth canon, frozen to death. The bodies were found in a snowdrift a week ago, with a horn and sled and a quantity of provisions. They said they were going to the Illinois mine, four miles up the canon. When nothing was heard from them a search was made. Thursday afternoon the horse and sled were found, the horse frozen.

The miners continued the search and came upon the bodies within a quarter of a mile of the cabin at the mine. The men had perished in the storm.

Trip from Walden to Laramie in Progress for Two Weeks is Finally Abandoned

LARAMIE, Wyo., March 24. (AP)—Stalled in a snow-filled cut between Walden and Laramie, a Colorado Railway and Eastern railroad train was abandoned this afternoon. Mail carried on the train was transferred to sleds and sledges.

The only snowplow of the company is out of commission and it was impossible to obtain any plows from the Union Pacific railroad company, officials of that road explaining that all their snow fighting equipment is at work clearing their own lines.

The train is reported to have been on the way from Walden for nearly two weeks. Harrison cut, where the train is stalled, is deep and completely snowed out. The train was with the stalled train.

ATTEMPT TO FIX JURY IS FOILED

Apparent Effort to Influence Jurors Confirmed in Foster Case; Trial to Proceed

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 24. (AP)—Attempts to tamper with the jury trying William Z. Foster on charges of criminal syndicalism have been frustrated and the trial will proceed, Berrien county officials stated today.

First confirmation from an official source that an apparent effort to influence the jurors had been detected came today following publication of the details of Judge Charles White's hurried conference with lawyers for the state and with the jury after court adjourned last night.

Two men were reported to have been caught following some one or more jurors. They were searched, questioned and then released with the warning to stay away.

Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Foster, has not reported whether Foster will take the stand in his own behalf.

TWO HURLED TO DEATH

DES MOINES, March 24. (AP)—Two persons were killed and seven injured today in a preliminary conference in London when an elevator in the Randolph hotel fell eight stories. Every victim of the accident, save one, the negro elevator boy, was a member of the Hill or Hoskins family of Des Moines. The people gathered in Des Moines for a farewell party before Hill departed for a visit to California.

Miss Mary V. Hill, wife of an Earlham banker, was killed instantly. Late this afternoon, her sister, Mrs. Richard Hoskins, died from her injuries.

SEE PEACE IN NEAR EAST

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 24. (AP)—Official news from London says the newspaper Aksham assures peace in the Near East. The paper attaches much importance to the presence at the Near East preliminary conference in London of Lieutenant General Sir Charles Harington, commander-in-chief of the allied forces in the Constantinople area.

In a speech, the national leader, Kemal Pasha, the national leader, declared:

"If I take the nation again into my hand, it must be with a clear conscience. If the life of the nation is not endangered, war would be a crime."

"Girlie" Shows and Jewels Pall on Lads from Africa

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Back to civilization after five years in the African wilds and eagerly seeking a little "life," three young men today were seen in New York City. They were the first of the "lads from Africa" who are now in New York City. They were seen in the city's most famous "girlie" shows and jeweled women.

BRISBANE, March 24. (AP)—Bands of unemployed men wearing green shirts have been terrorizing the country at night in the Rothemann district, near Essen, and the French are sending additional troops to this region to end the trouble.

German officials say most of these men are communists, led by a Russian minor and that their object is to show their strength against the nationalists, whom the communists oppose in every way.

The Germans declare that these bands, which circulate only after nightfall, are armed. In one case, near Rothemann, several hundred communists surrounded the home of a mine director with whom they said they desired to hold a conference. The director, however, had been warned of their coming and escaped.

At least 11 Germans have been wounded in the last few nights in consequence of the activities of the German bands, according to German officials.

Attorney General's Office Holds That Wholesalers Are Not Liable Under Utah License and Stamp Tax

SALT LAKE, March 24. (AP)—In a lengthy opinion filed by the assistant attorney general of Utah, it is held that wholesalers and jobbers of cigarettes and tobacco are exempt from the cigarette license and stamp tax. Reading the act, as a whole, it is the intent of the legislature to require the payment of the stamp tax by retailers, the opinion says. It is further held that the apparent intent is to prevent cigarettes from being distributed to minors and with this in mind, it is pointed out that the evil is not with the wholesaler but with the retailer.

Thousands at St. Augustine Take Part in Enthusiastic Greeting of President and Vacation Companions

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 24. (AP)—Concluding their houseboat cruise along the Florida east coast, President and Mrs. Harding and their vacation companions arrived in St. Augustine today and received an enthusiastic reception from hundreds of old friends.

The people of St. Augustine know the president and his wife perhaps more than any other city in the United States, except Marion, Ohio, for the Hardings have been coming to this old Spanish founded city for nearly 50 years.

Shipping is Delayed and Sealing Handicapped by Stormy Weather Off South of New Foundland

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 24. (AP)—The south coast of New Foundland again is obstructed by great ice fields. The mail steamer Kyle, which left this port last Saturday, reported today that she had just reached Harbor Breton, 180 miles from St. Johns, a trip usually made in 20 hours.

Reports from the sealing fleet today were that the total kill so far is only 18,000 seals, of which 14,000 were taken in one day. The owners of the fleet express fear that the fleet has missed the ice free carrying the main seal herd.

GIVES IDENTITY OF MYSTERIOUS 'MR. MARSHALL'

Prosecuting Attorney Lifts the Veil of Secrecy Surrounding Figure in Dorothy Keenan Murder Case

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Asst.-at-Law District Attorney Pecora, who for nine days has preserved the incognito of the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" of the Dorothy Keenan case, today reluctantly admitted when faced by a band of newspaper men that "Mr. Marshall" was John Kearley Mitchell of Philadelphia, captain, claimant and member of E. T. Storey, of J. P. Morgan & Co.

At the same time, Mr. Pecora removed the veil of secrecy surrounding the identity of another man, who accompanied Mitchell to the apartment of the Broadway model the night before she was slain with chloroform. "Mr. Wilson," another name, the prosecutor, was John H. Jackson, New York lawyer.

Confers With Fair

After this denouement, Mr. Pecora held a conference with Mitchell and Jackson. The pair accompanied by Nelson Sweet, another New York lawyer, retained by Mr. Mitchell, stepped into Mr. Pecora's office after it had been vacated by "Billie" Bradford, Miss Keenan's maid, who also had been summoned for further questioning.

Mitchell—wheat wife, Mrs. Frances Storey Mitchell, today professed in Palm Beach, complete surprise when informed that her husband had been named as the mysterious "Mr. Marshall"—was called here for questioning as to whether he had any knowledge of a blackmail plot which Mr. Pecora believed existed, but in which Miss Keenan refused to join. In a formal statement, Mr. Pecora reported that Mitchell had admitted no connection with the crime.

Takes Spectacular Course

Mr. Pecora's naming of Mitchell and Jackson was spectacular. This morning he announced reluctantly that he would continue to shield the identity for the sake of "Mr. Marshall" finally.

Then the name of Mr. Mitchell went the rounds of newspaper offices. Still Mr. Pecora would not talk.

Then a newspaper picked the name. Mr. Pecora remained silent, but Olecut added to the mystery by asserting that a great wrong had been done Mitchell and that his client would "right the wrong."

Mr. Pecora later was presented with a copy of the newspaper naming Mitchell and he confirmed the identification.

'Ye're Na Smith'

The late Sir James T. Nesmyth of Posso, Peebleshire, has just been succeeded in the title by his nephew, Mr. Douglas Nesmyth. An interesting story is told of how this very old family got its name. In the reign of James III of Scotland an ancestor, pursued by the Douglas partisans, sought refuge in a smithy, disguised as a hammerman. The Douglas followers suspected the man, who in his agitation struck a false blow, when one of the Douglas men rushed at him calling out, "Ye're na smith."

Origin of "Doughboy"

The word "doughboy" a slang military term applied to an infantryman in the United States army. The word dates from the Civil war when army wit was aroused by the large globular brass buttons on infantry uniforms. Someone who must have been a doughboy, the buttons "doughboys" because they reminded him of the boiled dumplings of raised dough that are so frequently served in ships' messes and are known to all sailors as "doughboys."

BABSON HAS SOLUTION FOR FUEL SITUATION

Would Force Operators to Compete and Protect Public from Combination of Either Miners or Owners

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Mar. 24 (Special to The News) Roger W. Babson, statistician and business authority, has some very decided views on the coal situation—and he has a solution.

"Within another week the coal famine should be over. If the weather was according to the Almanac, everyone will be able to get all the coal he needs after April 1st."

But, is the coal problem settled? Decidedly not," says Roger W. Babson, the statistician who demands that the coal problem be solved this spring when it can be solved and that we do not wait until next winter when it will be too late to do anything but rush around feebly to try to get enough coal to tide us through the zero weather.

"We are a lot like the man who had a leak in his roof," says Mr. Babson. "When it was raining it didn't seem fixing. When it was raining he couldn't fix it. As a result we have repeated tie-ups in the spring since talk by the coal dealers in the summer and autumn feebly to try to get the actual shortage. The attached table will give you a picture of the situation as it is. You will note that there hasn't been a single year in which there has not been a shortage of coal in coal production which means higher costs to the consumer."

"It now looks as though history were going to repeat itself again. We are threatened with another coal strike this spring.

"It is allowed to go into effect, it will mean a shortage and more suffering next year.

"Six such serious tie-ups in the last twenty-five years are a plenty and it is possible that we may arrive at the solution of the problem by changing the cause of these several tie-ups. In studying them I find that they are surprisingly alike. In each case miners and operators have had what they thought was a real grievance and real difference. In each case the Government has attempted to deal with the problem by appointing a commission.

"In 1897 public sympathy was largely with the miners who had a just grievance. As we get down to 1922, however, we find the miners becoming quite able to take care of themselves. There is little choice between the miners and operators as to which was the aggrieved and which the aggressor. Both now have powerful fighting machines and both apparently are actuated by the same motive—to get all they can for themselves and to give as little as they can. The third party in argument, the great consuming public, has done so very well. In every single instance on record it has taken most of the beating and has meekly appointed a commission to patch up the quarrel between the other two parties. After being meekly rebuffed and robbed by a half dozen operators and a few thousand miners, the hundred million consumers have begged Congress to appoint a commission, simply because the thing just had been done and it is assumed, thereof, that it must always be done.

"I personally do not know much about what went on inside the commission meetings. One can only judge by results, and it is evident that little or nothing has been accomplished.

"In 1897, for instance, a compromise was made between operator and miner, on September 2nd. Wages were increased 20 per cent and miners and operators agreed to meet in January 1898 for the purpose of forming a wage scale and making an annual contract. The strike was very successful from the point of view of the miners.

"In 1902 through the mediation of President Roosevelt the strike was settled on October 23rd, with the understanding that questions in dispute would be referred to a commission. A 10 per cent increase in wages and a reduction of hours were granted to the miners.

"In 1903 the strike was finally settled through agreement between operators and miners themselves. Not through a third party.

"On April 1st, 1910, 300,000 miners went out. The agreements were submitted to the miners and rejected. The strike was finally settled on September 8th of that year. A slight increase was granted and certain other concessions. The miners' union paid out $674,000 in strike benefits and miners were idle from April 1st to August 8th.

"A conference was called on October 16th, 1919 in an effort to prevent a strike, but the operators refused to negotiate as long as the strike order was in force. The miners' contract which really did not expire until April 1920, was rejected. The President's appeal to the strikers failed. The Attorney General issued an order restraining union officials from putting the strike into effect. This failed. An injunction demanded that the operators rescind the strike order, the order was surplus of both mines and miners."

"The other findings of the commission indicate that it is really analyzing the problem, but it looks as though it must suffer the fate of most such commissions.

"Now there are three of us in this coal problem. Both miners and operators have been long in proclaiming their rights and in demanding that their particular pet schemes be enforced. I should like to propose a platform for the most important member in this argument—the general public.

"The operators' arguments boil down to the contents of the present contract. It is apparently just as profitable to do business half of the year at twice the profit and take a vacation for the other six months as it is to work the year 'round at a normal profit.

"The miners' plan is ingenious and well calculated in so far as the welfare of the miner is concerned. They would have the government buy all the coal mines at a figure which they set at $4,500,000,000 and would then have the government carry on operations and sell coal to the public. The scheme involves much machinery for scientific determination of costs, price fixings, and similar other activities. Mine wages would become a political issue which would be very fine for the miners. In addition to this fact, such a plan would eliminate competition and all necessity for progress and economy in the industry. Coal to be sure would be sold to the public at a lower price, only to leave a huge deficit which must be made up in increased taxes. In the final analysis the scheme favors the operator and I just as much or more than it does at present. No government can operate a business as efficiently as a private owner. The scheme favors the consumer's standpoint, the proposition to have the people buy the coal mines is not attractive. They already have had enough of government operation in connection with the railroads, the building and operation of ships, and the various other interests in which the government took a hand during the war.

The Problem

"What the consumer is interested in is getting coal at a fair price when he needs it. Everyone who has studied the coal problem will agree that the seat of the trouble lies in the fact that competition has been squeezed out of the private owner. The reason all these troubles arise is because the natural laws which govern other lines of business have been blocked. On the one hand the government has interfered with the organization of labor; on the other hand by the combination of the operators. This, moreover, is the principal argument against government purchase of the mines, for such a plan instead of increasing competition would bar it out entirely. The real problem, therefore, is to employ government authority only so far as it is necessary to make the industry subject to economic laws—the law of supply and demand and the law of competition.

The Public's Solution

"How then can we put competition into the coal business? The first step must be to secure from the government a commission or board which will have the authority to act as a referee for the public in all arguments arising within the industry. It must be empowered by the federal government to enforce its rulings. As a second step, the mines should be divided into two parts which will be approximately equal in size as their producing capacity is concerned. "The operators claim that the more efficient mines are the open shop mines, whereas the miners claim that the most efficient plan is the closed shop and the tight union. The public does not know which is right, but it does know that when either group secures complete control it becomes inefficient, careless and arrogant. So long as there is real and fair competition, both sides are kept on their toes. If it is really

TWO TEAMS TOP BOWLING LIST

Week Sees Rendahl-Wright Crew Forge Into Tie for Leadership with Laundry

The week just passed showed the Rendahl-Wright team fighting hard for the league leadership, hold so long by the Troy Laundry outfit.

The auto men bowled into a tie with the Laundry team when they took three straight from the Idaho theater kids last Wednesday evening. The two teams have won 20 and lost 10 games for an average of 807.

The I. D. Store outfit did their bit during the week, topping the leaders two of the three games played.

At the present time there are several teams that have a chance for first money, but it is a bit too early to make any predictions as to who they are or will be.

The standing of the teams, according to games won and lost:

Teams	Won	Lost	Pct.
Troy Laundry	20	10	.667
Rendahl-Wright	20	10	.667
Idaho Theater	16	14	.533
Shoe Market	10	14	.533
Rogerson Cafe	14	16	.467
I. D. Store	13	17	.433
Wright's Store	13	17	.433
Alvord & Mott	8	22	.267

In looking over the total pin part of the bowling season, one wonders what the pin setters have been doing all this time, so with the aid of Mr. Burroughs it is found that the bowlers have topped over 185,870 pins since the season opened.

Getting down a little further in the dope book, it is found that since the start of the league games the grand total pins per team per game is 174, which means that the average per man per game during the entire season is 155.

This average of 153 shows that the bowlers are fast rounding into shape and there are very few towns the size of Twin Falls that can boast of such an array of timber burning talent.

The Monday and Tuesday games for the coming week have been switched, so on Monday night the fans will get a chance to see the Rendahl-Wright leaders and the Shoe Market quintet in action.

The Shoe Market team has been going at a nice clip for the last few weeks, and are right in line for a top position.

On Tuesday evening the Alvord & Mott team will try conclusions with the Rogerson cafe team. The cafe men have been leading the bottom all season, but the last few weeks' bowling has put them close to the .500 mark.

Charley Bruggeman's postoffice gang went their first series last week against the Wright's store men, and threaten to do the same to the Rogerson bunch, although Bill Towan and company will have something to say about that.

Wednesday evening the Idaho theater boys will lock horns with the I. D. Store team, and this game should prove to be one of the closest of the week. These two teams are evenly matched and rivalry is keen between the players.

Wright's store quintet is the team that will be asked to unloop the Troy laundry on Thursday night, and it is the consensus of opinion that the department store men will make life miserable for the contenders.

Last week the Troy team lost the odd game to the I. D. Store men after that team had fallen down the week before. Last week the Wright's store team fell down miserably, and now the fans are wondering whether they will stunc a

In the total pins department the Troy laundry team has a lead of 220 pins over their rivals for first place. The Troy have a total of 24,122 pins with the Rendahl-Wright gang totalling 23,593.

The Rogerson cafe team still holds on to third place in this department.

Tenth Week of Bowling League Tournament Sees Some Changes in Individual Averages

Bowling averages for the tenth week of the Twin Falls bowling league show several changes, the two main changes being the dropping of four points by Charley Larson, anchor man for the Rogerson Cafe team, and the spurt taken by Ralph Boyd of the Troy Laundry quintet, who, by rolling 550 last Monday evening jumped from tenth to third place, moving his average from 164 to 171. Larsen gave up his hold on fourth place and slid to seventh among the pin husters.

Bill Towan, leader of the maple arches, held his average of 174, which is his highest rival for first honors. Bill Bailey, fell two points, going from 173 to 171.

Troy Cubit sneaked up a point and now rests in sixth place, with 169. Livville held his average of 169 and is stationed at No. 4 on the list.

Perce Thompson slipped one point but is still quartered at position five.

It's a great life if you don't weaken.

The bachelors will play off their postponed game of last Friday this coming fish day.

It will now be time to start figuring on the playing of a few doubles and singles.

Doubles and singles are just as interesting to the five-man Team bowling, and with careful choosing some classy doubles could be picked.

How about bowling a team of five men to play the winners of the tournament? There are various games that could be scheduled to give the fans entertainment those nippy evenings.

TWIN FALLS GUN MEN TO COMPETE BY TELEGRAPH

Local Trapshooters to Oppose Boise Team in Season's First Trial for Honors

This morning at 10 o'clock the Twin Falls Gun club members will meet at the "Happy Hunting Grounds" for their first telegraphic shoot with Boise's best gunmen.

Carl Miller of Castleford, is bringing along a squad from Buhl who will also try for honors.

Work on the gun club grounds has been progressing nicely, according to Bill Drury, secretary of the club, and the members will shoot over a thoroughly remodeled course. The new club house will not be finished for this week's shoot, but it is promised for the following week.

Everett Swelley, president of the Boise Gun club, who arrived in Twin Falls Saturday, will be out, his score to be counted for the Boise club.

At present there are 30 members in the local club, and it is the hope of the officers that this number will be increased to 50 before the state shoot is held here in May.

All members, and near members, are requested to be at the grounds this morning at 10 o'clock to participate in the locals' first telegraphic contest of the year.

The Twin Falls Gun club grounds are located at the Snake river rim rock on Washington street north. Go out Main street to Five Points, turn on Washington street, going north.

SPIRIT FORMS ARE DISCERNED IN PHOTOGRAPH

Plates Exposed at Funeral of Spiritualist Leader Bear Marks Resembling Human Faces, Photographer Says

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (AP)—Photographic prints from a plate made yesterday at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Fairlie McVicker, associate pastor of the Central Spiritualist church, showed three distinct evas resembling human faces, according to C. H. Monroe, who made the prints. In the lower part of the picture there are also several other faint impressions that it is said have some resemblance to faces.

Before her death, Mrs. McVicker requested a photographer to be at her funeral and take pictures of her, and she would cause her spirit form to record itself on the camera plate.

Accordingly, at the first Spiritualist church, where the funeral was conducted, a photographer made two exposures. A third exposure was attempted, but prevented by the ending of the service. The plates were taken to the Monroe studio and developed. This process was carried on very slowly with a weak developing solution to bring out every detail in the picture. One plate was developed and examined. When the remaining plate was examined late yesterday while still wet from the developing tank, it showed evidence of spirit form, according to an announcement made by Mrs. McVicker's congregation.

The plate was allowed to dry last night and the prints were made late today.

Mrs. Mary C. Vasek, pastor of the First Spiritualist church, after examining the prints, declared that she could identify the three forms. The upper one, she said, was Mrs. McVicker gazing down at her corpse in the coffin. The other two, according to the pastor, are her father, Mr. James McVicker, a spiritualist who died here last year.

country. Not only has this section suffered more than any other, but its problems are more difficult of solution. The chief industries are cattle and sheep raising, mining and lumbering, and a certain amount of agriculture, including the raising of very fine fruit in certain irrigated sections. All of these lines have suffered during the past few years and are only now beginning to look better.

Readjustment in this section has been severe and prolonged, but I believe that 1923 will go down in history as a year of improvement. Although no sharp upturn is likely, those doing business in these states will note a gradual broadening of purchasing activities and a diminishing volume of overdue accounts.

From a mining standpoint 1922 was one of the worst years on record. Poor market conditions and the unusually low prices for copper, lead and zinc were the chief factors. The value of the leading mineral products taken out of the ground in Montana in 1921 was only $10,712,000 compared with $55,573,000 in 1920. Great activity was noted in the mining of silver and silver-lead ores. The market for all of the non-ferrous metals is quiet, but the tendency is toward a better demand and strengthening prices. Already a number of the larger mines and refining plants have resumed operations. Progress along these lines may be slow for a few months, but it will be in the right direction. Personally, I am distinctly bullish on the copper situation and believe that the Montana copper districts will show the greatest percentage of increase in 1923 over 1921 and 1922, of any sections of the country. The same thing, only to a lesser extent, should apply to the cattle and sheep business.

Taxiff Will Help. In discussing some of the cities of the mountain section, Mr. Babson reports as follows: Every city approaching 300,000 in population, shows sales to be 105 per cent of what they were a year ago. Car shops, packing and miscellaneous industries are about normal today. I am sure, however, that Denver and the entire state of Colorado will have a better year in 1923 than it had in 1922. Salt Lake City, Utah, with population of about 125,000, reports greater activity in mining and smelting with an improved condition of these industries entering to the farmers. Pueblo, Colorado, with 50,000 is not yet back to normal; but I believe the tariff will help this section. It has already begun to feel the effects of a greater demand for steel and iron products. As the Colorado Fuel and Iron companies become more prosperous, the entire country always prospers with it. Phoenix, Arizona, a center of 35,000 people, shows the best conditions steadily of any city in this region. It profits not only from the mining industry but also from cotton. This district has enjoyed not only a good cotton crop but favorable prices. Building is active—local purchasing power increasing and the outlook is very good. Phoenix is a very good illustration why every city of the nation should diversify its sources of income.

"Among other cities for which I am hopeful are Butte, Great Falls, Billings and Helena, Montana; Boise and Twin Falls, Idaho; Obeyesque, Casper and Sheridan, Wyoming; Albuquerque, Las Vegas, New Mexico; Tucson, Douglas, Arizona, and El Paso, Texas.

"I am especially hopeful in regard to El Paso because, it is the 'outlet of Mexico, which is one of the richest sections of the American continent. Some day Mexico is going to settle down and El Paso will greatly profit. Not only do these cities are fast becoming distributing centers but all of them there still are opportunities for men who have the Six I's of Success: Integrity, Industry, Initiative, Interest and Inspiration."

On Right Track

In conclusion, Mr. Babson said: "When studying conditions in other sections of the country, remedies for the local difficulties are usually easy to suggest. For instance, in studying conditions in New England it is apparent that the labor problem is New England's greatest handicap and the solution of the problem lies in its future in their hands. It is very apparent that the need of the south is more capital and energy with a greater willingness to work and risk. When one studies the conditions in the rapidly growing sections he immediately sees that many now raising wheat should raise other products. When, however, one studies the conditions in the Rocky Mountain sections of the west, the problems of these mountain states are very much more difficult. Frankly, I am unable to suggest anything to these people except to continue as they have been doing. Statistics show that they are utilizing their natural resources to as great an extent as the market permits; they are endeavoring to diversify their sources of income and develop their communities along broad and permanent lines. I call your attention to the excellent results which are being obtained in the field of stock cultivation by the Mormons. However, one may differ with them on religion, they certainly set us all an example by applying religion to everyday life. What these faithful Mormons have done with the desert sands of Utah shows what can be done with all these Rocky Mountain states if people are willing to apply the same industry, thrift and other fundamentals of prosperity."

Readjustment Continuing

When asked about general business conditions throughout the country as a whole, Mr. Babson stated that the Babsonchart shows activity 6 per cent above normal. He is not quite so optimistic as he was a few months ago, believing that some lines are again approaching deflation. He still insists that the period of readjustment is only about 60 per cent completed, and that any attempt to run up prices and higher at this time would result in curtailing many industries. Next week Mr. Babson will issue a report on the conditions in the Pacific states.—(A full publication rights strictly reserved.)

AMERICAN LAD STROKES OXFORD ON TO TRIUMPH

Dark Blue Eight Holds Lead Through-out Course on Thames and Wins Over Cambridge

PUTNEY, England, March 24 (AP)—Twenty-year-old W. P. Mellon of New York, stroked Oxford's crew up the Thames to triumph this afternoon in the seventy-fifth Oxford-Cambridge race on the four and one-quarter mile course from Putney to Mortlake. The American stroke pulled the Dark Blue eight ahead of Cambridge at the front all the way, answering with fine judgment every challenge of his opponent.

It was Oxford's first victory since before the war.

French Holder of European Featherweight Title Crosses Atlantic for a Bout with Johnny Kilbane

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Following the footsteps of his countryman, Georges Carpentier, who came to this country and captured the world's light heavyweight championship several years ago, Eugene Criqui of France, holder of the European featherweight title, arrived today aboard the liner Paris, in quest of pugilistic laurels here. Criqui is under contract with Tom O'Rourke for three matches in the United States, but his immediate goal—providing certain difficulties with the New York state athletic commission can be smoothed out—is a title match with Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, world's featherweight champion, at the Polo grounds on June 2. O'Rourke declared today he expected all apparent obstacles in the way of the bout to be removed soon.

DANCES HULA HULA

Betty Compton learned to dance the hula hula and then had to learn it all over again on her route to the Hawaiian Islands to film her latest Paramount picture, "The White Flower," which comes to the Idaho tomorrow, the star took daily lessons in the art of hula hula dancing as practiced in the United States, and when the ship docked at Honolulu she learned that the dance she had so painstakingly mastered wasn't danced by the natives at all. Miss Compton, who plays a half-caste girl in the story which Julia Crawford Ivers wrote and directed, was forced to get it all back learned on the spot and start all over to master the real Hawaiian hula hula. The supporting cast includes Edmund Lowe, Arline Bretty, Leon Barry, Sylvia Ashton, Edward Martindel and Arday Hoyt.

THE HEADLESS HORSEMAN

How the Fires Start

In evergreens the Rockies the insects stimulate some distance apart so that their tops do not touch, says the "School Book of Forestry" of the American Tree association. As a result, these western forests do not shade the ground as well as those in the East. This causes the soils of these forests to be much drier, and also increases the danger from fire.

DEVISE SCHEME TO STRAIGHTEN RADIO TANGLES

Government Officials and Experts Complete Revision of Wave Lengths in Ether for Use by Wireless Operators

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Recommendations for a revision of wave lengths in the ether for wireless use were completed today by the second annual radio conference. Experts and government officials joined unanimously in suggesting to Secretary Hoover that the Federal Radio Commission be asked to open up to public use the wave band area hitherto reserved for military and governmental service, and that broadcasting stations hereafter be given individuals, while those on which they may continue their services with less of interference to other users.

Opens New Field

"Previously all broadcasting was concentrated on three wave lengths," the official summary of the conference recommendations explained. "300, 400 and 485 meters. Now a new field extending from 222 meters to 645 meters can be created for the purpose. Within that field, stations can be assigned individual wave lengths and divided into two classes. The higher power, class 'A' stations corresponding to the present class 'D' stations can use the wave lengths between 288 meters and 645 meters, while lower powered stations (new class 'B') stations can use the waves from 222 to 286."

"This will enable the higher powered stations distributed in fifty localities and comprehensively covering the United States, to be within the reach of every listener. Suitable wave lengths are provided in the recommendations for more than 600 existing lower-powered stations."

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Houston, who have just completed a lovely new home four miles west of Twin Falls, were the recipients of a very delightful surprise Friday evening when the members of the Country Women's club with their husbands, appeared to spend the evening and dedicate the new domicile. About forty-five were present to enjoy the games and musicals which formed the diversion for the evening.

Among the many enjoyable social affairs given by the department of the Twin Falls Country Club in the past year, none have been more charming than the card party held in the Business Women's club rooms by the drama and literature department on Saturday afternoon. The prize for high score in the bridge games was won by Mrs. Jacob Simons, and the $500 prize was awarded to Mrs. M. C. Moseley. There were delicious cakes baked by members of the department. There were 15 tables of players and several other ladies were onlookers. After the games, delightful refreshments were served. The money raised will go to the club building fund, which is growing quite rapidly. Mrs. E. C. Wyatt, who is chairman of the department, was ably assisted by Mrs. B. F. Magel, Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. F. C. Dawson.

On Wednesday evening of last week members and friends of the Christian church assembled in the church parlors for a social and get-together meeting. The program was presided over by Dr. F. H. Smith, chairman of the social hour which gave an introductory talk. This was followed by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, who responded to an encore. C. E. Allen, superintendent of the Sunday school, gave an interesting talk, and Margaret Dunlap gave a reading entitled, "At the Matinee." A very smart concert was given by Harvey James Hall, Lloyd Patrick and B. H. Rouse sang a selection and both the reader and singers favored with encore. Mrs. W. H. Patrick, president of the Woman's Council, gave a short talk and Mrs. James Hall gave a vocal selection and encore. Dr. B. L. White spoke on "Application and Co-operation," and Dr. W. W. Burns gave a short talk. A social hour with refreshments completed the evening.

The Pythian Sisters Social club met at the home of Mrs. D. Harvey Cook Friday afternoon. There was the usual transaction of business and the remainder of the afternoon was spent playing "500." Mrs. Cook and the assistant hostesses, Mrs. C. H. Eldred and Mrs. Ethel Fletcher, served refreshments at the conclusion of the games. The club favor was given by Mrs. Cook. Mrs. J. C. Bates was a guest and twelve members were in attendance.

Mrs. Alvas Wynns was hostess to the "Girls' club" at W. Worth's store Friday evening. The evening was spent in sewing, after which refreshments were served.

Cupid Wins Over Divorce Courts

Statistics, Compiled at Court House Show 52 Couples Separated, 206 Married in 1922

The local activities of Cupid during 1922 left the divorce courts far in the lurch, according to figures compiled by John F. Hansen, deputy county recorder, and C. L. Bowen, deputy clerk, to be used by the government census bureau. Figures show that a total of 52 divorces were granted in Twin Falls during last year, while a total of 206 marriage licenses were granted during the same 12 months' period. Action in 40 out of the total of 52 divorces granted was started by wives. Extreme cruelty was shown to be the principal cause, divorces having been granted during the year on grounds of "cruel and inhuman" treatment. Desertion was responsible for 19 divorces, 11 licenses were granted on grounds of neglect and one woman was given a divorce for failure on the part of her husband to provide.

A total of 49 children were the result of the 52 broken marriages, the largest family containing six. There were four of the families with four children each, two with three children, three with two, and 16 families with only one child. Only two of the divorced couples had no children.

Thirty-nine of the defendants resided in Idaho when the divorces were granted, the remainder having moved to various parts of the west, principally California and Utah.

ARRANGE FUNERAL FOR PIONEER FILER WOMAN

Plans to be Held Sunday Afternoon for Mrs. George Erhardt, Wife of Farmer West of Twin Falls

The funeral of Mrs. George A. Erhardt, age 41, pioneer resident of Filer who died Saturday afternoon, will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Methodist church at Filer, the Rev. C. E. Best officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt had lived in the Filer district for 12 years, both being well known throughout the vicinity. They came from Gottenberg, Idaho to Seeley, Idaho, where they spent a short time before moving to this county.

Mrs. Erhardt's death resulted from pneumonia following influenza. Mr. Erhardt will bury the body at Gottenberg immediately after the funeral.

WISE IMPROVING SLOWLY

Local Attorney, Victim of Sudden Attack of Illness Spends Bestful Day; is Still in Serious Condition

The condition of J. H. Wise, well known Twin Falls attorney, who suffered a stroke of apoplexy Friday night, was somewhat improved late Saturday although he is still very ill, according to attendants at the county hospital.

Mr. Wise had regained consciousness and he spent the day resting nicely. His condition is still serious, however, and visitors are not permitted to see him, nurses stated.

succeeded him will reduce the republican majority in the new senate to nine, making the lineup 22 republicans, 43 democrats and one farmer-labor. The change will also weaken by one vote the block of regular administration senators of which Senator Nicholson was always counted a member.

During his short term in the senate, Senator Nicholson had grown popular on both sides of the chamber. He participated very little in debate, but he displayed an intense interest in farm legislation and various other subjects and took part in many conferences in which laws were drafted. His most important committee assignment was naval affairs, and he was also a member of the committees on civil service, manufacture and mines and mining.

Just before the adjournment of congress, he was appointed a member of the commission on gold and silver inquiry. As a former minor and as a mine owner, he was expected to take a prominent part in the investigation by the commission, as he always had in the work of the committee on mines and mining.

Deaths

Vera Hazel Trueblood

Miss Vera Hazel Trueblood, aged 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Trueblood, died late Saturday night at the family home two and one-half miles southeast of Kimberly. She had been in ill health since Christmas but her condition did not become serious until a few days prior to her death.

Miss Trueblood is survived by her parents, a sister, Mrs. Opal Wheeler and a brother, Earl Trueblood, all of Kimberly. Her parents are well known and they have resided at their present home for more than 10 years. A funeral service will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Christian church at Kimberly. The body is at the DeWitt parlors.

A GOOD PLACE TO TRAVEL

For EASTER

EASTER is Fashion's own day, the occasion on which you, like all other women, will eagerly pay homage to Style by smartly decking yourself in her most distinctive creations and joining the Easter Parade. It is a most pleasant task and one made easy by the attractive displays which are assembled here for this fashion event.

FROCKS

—make a smart bid for the privilege of costing you on Easter. Indeed, after seeing these one wonders if you could make a wiser choice.

The trig tailored styles in shades of fallow or gray need only a soft fur scarf to top them off, while richly printed or embroidered crepes are quite self sufficient.

—methinks because they are particularly good looking this Spring will be the Easter choice of many fashionable women. Many have scarf collars that will fly nonchalantly behind you as you promenade or else cape backs that the breeze will play with. Heavy silk crepes divide honors with luxurious woollens.

The trig tailored styles in shades of fallow or gray need only a soft fur scarf to top them off, while richly printed or embroidered crepes are quite self sufficient.

SUITS

—the Easter costume par excellence line up to the finest traditions of unique styling, attractive fabrics and clever details.

Whether you think a flaring bolero jacket or one that blouses above a snug hip-band would most suit your fancy, you are certain to find the Suits in this group very attractive.

In the Leading Role GLOVES

Ferrins Kid Gloves, Van Raalte suede finish, and silk gloves, with their clever gauntlet cuffs stitched and appliqued so that they are sure to be noticed. Prices are really low.

Well Cast For Its Part HOSIERY

For an accessory that is to harmonize with your footwear nothing could be more fitting than a sheer hose of either Hummingbird, Van Raalte or Gotham Gold Stripe—$1.65, $2.00 and $2.50

Leading Up to a Climax NECKWEAR

Frisly collars, cuffs and vests, Lacy Berthas, Bromleys or perhaps a bandana. Perhaps you want to make your own style. Collar laces by the yard are in big favor. You will find prices reasonable.

Quite Important HANDBAGS

Hand Bags play a minor but very important part in the Easter parade. We suggest the new Paisley Bags, or others in contrast to the color scheme of your costume. We offer a very special value at—$2.00

If the Day is Warm A CHOKER

Nothing is quite so fetching as a clever choker thrown about the throat and shoulders, especially if the day is too warm for a heavy wrap. You will find a good assortment to select from—$7.50 to $45.00

To Complete It All A BLOUSE

New arrivals within the past week have brought our display up to a completeness that makes it a pleasure to show them. Let us suggest an early selection.

We especially invite you to view this season's Easter Display because of its unusual attractiveness. In the foremost fashion centers our buyers collected the distinctive costumes which compose these complete assortments and we feel justly proud of them. And since as a shopping occasion the week before Easter is very much like the week before Christmas it is suggested that you visit the store at your earliest convenience.

More Evidence: According to the records of the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue in Boise, the amount of income tax collected in cash in Idaho up to March fifteenth of this year exceeded by five hundred thousand dollars the amount collected up to the corresponding date of a year ago.

Thrillers in Brazil: From Rio de Janeiro it is reported that an enterprising publisher has had translated into Portuguese the "Buffalo Bill" and other "wild west" novels which, selling at five cents a copy, were so popular among American boys of a generation ago, and that they are "going like hot cakes."

Finland's mite is to be added to Great Britain's billions in the total of refunded debts to the United States.

There are 20 nations which owe the United States money. With Czechoslovakia, which announced a few days ago its intention to send a mission to Washington to arrange for refunding its share of the debt, there are now three of the 20 which have indicated a "recognition of the validity of contract," as President Harding phrased it.

There seems abundant reason to believe that others of Europe's debtor nations will have realized the logic of events before congress assemblies again, and will have added their agreements to those of the British, the Poles, and the Czechoslovakians.

The United States has gone on preparing its budget and making its appropriations without regard of the money owed to it by European nations.

dropped out of her lips; her black eyes grew wild with fright.

"You mean you'd send me away?" The words came slowly out of her terror.

"Wouldn't I—if I acted the way you act?"

Lettie's body swayed. Her lids fluttered. In the few weeks that she had been in this house, she had attracted herself to Mrs. Penfield with a doglike devotion.

"O Penzie!" She threw herself into Mrs. Penfield's lap and burst into wild sobbing.

"Mrs. Penfield drew her closer. "Dear child, I didn't say I was going to send you away. I merely said I should if I acted the way you do."

"Don't you see you expect me to be patient, but you ain't willing to be patient yourself? You're willing I should do lots of things for you, but you ain't willing to do this one thing for me."

"O Penzie," sobbed the child, "I'll do anything—anything—if you'll only keep me. Honest, I will. I'll work and pay for the window. I'll go without eating just as long as you say."

"Mrs. Penfield interrupted before Lettie had wiped the slate entirely clean of all the pleasures she had ever known.

"Sure. We'll attend to all the punishing for this time; but the main point is, what will you do the next time you get mad? Will you try to control yourself and keep calm?"

"The child looked up through streaming tears. "I will, honest," she gulped, "I'll do that very thing, so help me Jacob! I'm going to be so good that you'll want to keep me—darned if I ain't!"

"Now you're talking," encouraged Mrs. Penfield.

"This is a serious matter Lettie. Do you realize that you have destroyed property?"

"I didn't mean to do that, Penzie. I meant—"

"Yes, you intended to injure a human being. That is far more serious."

"Oh, not really injure!" protested Lettie. "And besides, didn't he hit Fil Caesar?" she added hotly.

Mrs. Penfield sighed. "Come here, Lettie; I want to tell you something. I haven't never told you how it makes me feel when you lose your temper and do these awful things. I keep my feelings inside me, but I get 'em just the same. And if you keep on like this, you'll get me going, too. Had you ever thought of that? Now, when things don't go the way I want 'em to—like this afternoon, for instance—if I get mad as you do, and strut out at everybody 'round, do you know what it would mean to you?"

Lettie's face whitened; the color

"Show me where," demanded Lettie, with an anxious eye on Fil Caesar, who was standing by during the suspension of hostilities, waiting for the signal to begin again.

"He didn't bite you 't all," repeated Lettie, with growing assurance.

"He did, too, but he ain't never got to go. Darn him!" His eyes searched the ground; he stopped.

"Don't you dare!" cried Lettie. "Don't you dare! Just you let Fil alone, and I won't never—"

But Mr. Wopple had found a stone that suited him, and without changing position had let it fly. It caught the unsuspecting Filbuster on a front leg. There was a pop of pain from Fil, a screech of rage from Lettie.

"Oh! Oh! You've hit him. You've killed him. You've killed him!"

Mr. Wopple reached for another stone. Filbuster Caesar, by no means killed, but rendered strikingly discreet, hopped swiftly out of range.

Lettie heard him, but beyond realizing that he was able to move, she paid him no attention. Instead, she faced her neighbor with a fury that gave him pause.

Her thin chest rising on a high wave of anger, her cheeks flaming, her black eyes shooting danger sparks, she was beside herself with content and wrath.

"You beast!" she screamed. "To hit a dog! You're worse'n no good. Penzie says she don't see why the Lord ever made you. So!"

"What!" gasped the astounded Mr. Wopple, for the moment overwhelmed by this revelation.

"Hi! Hi!" shrieked Lettie. "That got you, didn't it? I'll give you more. Hi!" With a quick swoop, she picked up a stick and threw it. It glanced past Mr. Wopple and struck a window behind him, shattering the glass; but Lettie, blinded by rage, scarcely noted the disaster.

She darted here and there in search of a second missile, relieving her feelings with all the stormy phrases she could think of.

"Penzie hates you—hates you!" she repeated, having produced more effect with this information than with anything else she had tried. "She loves 'most everybody, but she hates you. She says she don't know why the Lord ever made you."

"Lettie!"

The one word had an astonishing effect—not merely upon Lettie but upon Mr. Wopple. His conduct underwent immediate reversal. He did not glance at Mrs. Penfield, who had come quietly around the house and was still standing on the common walk; rather, his attention was wholly absorbed by matters in his own yard.

With nervous jerks he detached the old hose and coiled it carefully, an operation noticeably contrary to his custom.

As for Lettie, Mrs. Penfield's voice had been to her like the breaking of a spell. She went suddenly limp. Her face dropped out of her face; frenzy released its hold of her muscles; a strange expression took the place of anger in her eyes—an expression of realization, of frightened dismay.

"Lettie, go into the house." Lettie went.

For a brief space Mrs. Penfield did

RUSH POTATOES TO MARKETS AS PRICE DOUBLES

Advance to 75 Cents a Hundredweight Means Aid to Local Farmers; Storms Responsible, Dealer Says

Attracted by a local market that has doubled in price the past week, potato growers are marketing their crops in the east where they can get them and prepare them for shipment, according to P. E. Boyle, vice-president of the Boyo Commission company, who expects to leave Sunday for headquarters of the company in Kansas after a stopover at Idaho Falls. Mr. Boyle has been here in the interests of his company which is the marketing agency for the Twin Falls Potato Growers' association.

The price now paid for potatoes ranges around an average of 75 cents per hundredweight for No. 1 Russets, and the best market since September previous now, Mr. Boyle said. The average price has been from 25 cents to 80 cents.

"The advance is caused by freezing in the south and by the storms in the middle west, which has made it impossible for the farmers to get their potatoes to the railroads," said Mr. Boyle. "There is now a good demand and a healthy market and we are expecting immediate shipment. Farmers here are feeling especially encouraged."

"Growers throughout the county have been well pleased with the season marketing contracts for this year and the method in which the present crop has been handled."

The Boyo company has ordered several cars of Gem seed to distribute among members of the association for planting and several cars of the best Burley seed are also being acquired, Mr. Boyle stated.

DAIRYMEN TO CONSIDER ASSOCIATION PROBLEMS

Meeting Scheduled for Tuesday Night to Take Up Incorporation of New County Organization

A meeting of the Twin Falls County Dairy association is to be held Tuesday night at the court house.

While the meeting is primarily a meeting for members, local persons interested in the organization will be welcomed, according to R. E. Brossard, county agent. Several business men will attend.

The work of forming the association and getting it in operation has created widespread interest here and the project is being unanimously favored as a means of developing and stabilizing agriculture in Twin Falls county.

Plans are being discussed for forming an organization among business men to finance the purchase of good dairy cattle and establishing their own milk in the same way as was done on the North Side. One of the problems is to place the cattle in the possession of owners who are capable of breeding for dairying, will be sure to make the proposition a profitable one.

OUTLINES QUALIFICATION IN MUNICIPAL ELECTION

Residence in State Six Months and County Three Months Necessary; Many Must Register This Week

Residence in the state six months and in the city three months is required in order to vote in the city election April 3, according to S. D. Davis, city attorney.

Attorney Davis also emphasizes the fact that registration or participation in the general election or any election other than the last one held does not entitle anyone to vote April 3.

Persons who registered or voted in the last city election are legally entitled to vote in the coming election without registering, but others must register and must list the residence qualifications. Registration books, now open at the office of J. L. Stinson, city clerk, will close Saturday night.

Arrests and Ramos to Serve Terms of 30 Days in Jail; Mrs. Ellison Fined for Statutory Offense

Cecil Arasels and Joe Ramos were sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 each in district court Saturday on liquor charges.

Mrs. Billy Ellison, convicted early last week on a charge of selling beer, was fined $100. She failed to pay her fine immediately and was ordered confined in jail. The fine was paid later in the day and she was discharged.

Floyd Fowler, arrested with Mrs. Ellison, was retried Saturday on a complaint sworn to by Chief of Police Cress. Bond of $500 was guaranteed by J. H. Doran and W. C. Sawyer. His case will come on for trial the May term of court, according to C. A. North, his attorney. Fowler will be given a preliminary hearing in probate court Monday at 10 a. m.

J. S. Keel, Candidate for City Commission, Explains Meeting with Opposing Candidate

Matters pertaining to the origin of the Hoedlin-Keel-Loeble ticket in the field for the city election April 3 are explained in an open letter by J. S. Keel, candidate for city commission, to William Lambing, candidate for mayor. Mr. Keel's statement is as follows:

Editor Twin Falls News,
Twin Falls, Idaho.

Dear Sir: In your paper of March 17th you printed a letter from W. E. Lambing in which he states that on the last day of February he had a talk with me in which I said to him that at a meeting the night before, all the people present were willing to endorse both him and Mr. Stinson and that in another talk on March 14th I made the same statement to him. In order that there may not be any misunderstanding of the conversation between Mr. Lambing and myself, I feel that I should state this conversation in detail.

When I had my first talk with Mr. Lambing and Mr. Stinson, Mr. Stinson and Mr. Roberts had filed it and it was rumored that the Lambing committee had endorsed Roberts. I asked Mr. Lambing if this were true and he told me that it was untrue. He denied this emphatically to me. I then told him that the man with whom I had talked this matter over was willing to support both Mr. Stinson and Mr. Roberts' name. He denied this emphatically to me. I then told him that the man with whom I had talked this matter over was willing to support both Mr. Stinson and Mr. Roberts' name. He denied this emphatically to me.

"I suppose that is what it amounts to," I asked him if they still refused to disclose their identity. He said they did.

At a meeting that same night I reported my experience with Mr. Lambing and his committee and we found out from the position of the most other support Mr. Roberts who had been closely affiliated with and an ardent supporter of the Mills-Walton machine during the last year or two.

In regard to my conversation on March 14th in which Mr. Lambing says I repeated my statement that my friends and colleagues would support him and Mr. Stinson, I wish to say that this was merely a reiteration of the conversation in the last of February. I had been told that Mr. Lambing said that I was a party to double-crossing him by placing a new ticket in the field and I thought there must be some misunderstanding. When I met him on March 14th I told him I thought there must be some misunderstanding between us or he would not have made the statement he did, and I repeated my conversation had with him on the last day of February. We agreed on just what that conversation was, except that he said it was his understanding that we would file only one man against Roberts, instead of a complete ticket. I explained to him the inconsistency of that and he agreed with me. He did not state to him at that time that we were still willing to support him and Stinson, but only that we had been willing to support them had they agreed to a satisfactory third man.

Very truly yours,
J. S. KEEL.

BIG DISTRICT BOARD TO HOLD SPECIAL SESSION

Plan Adjourned Meeting Here Tuesday to Further Consider Contract; Will Inspect Site in Few Weeks

The board of directors of the American Falls irrigation district plans to hold a meeting here on Tuesday to further consider the government contract and to discuss it with reclamation officials, according to W. F. Alworth, secretary of the board.

The gathering will be in the nature of a special, or adjourned meeting, and Barry Dibble, F. A. Banks and B. E. Blountsmeyer are expected to be present.

The date for the meeting at American Falls has not been set but will probably be held in the very near future, or as soon as the contract matter can be disposed of and a report received from the secretary of the interior, Mr. Alworth said. The trip to American Falls is planned principally to familiarize the directors thoroughly with the site and engineering problems of constructing the reservoir.

BARN DAMAGED BY FIRE

Buildings of Lincoln Produce Company "Wiped Out" by Blaze in Kregel Shop Slightly Burned

Two fires required the services of the fire department Saturday. An automobile being repaired in the Kregel Machine shop took fire shortly before noon. The blaze was extinguished with chemicals.

The Lincoln Produce barns near the railroad bridge in the southwest part of the city caught fire at 5 o'clock in the evening and were badly damaged. A fire started nearby by boys was said to have started the blaze. A line of hose 1800 feet in length was used.

It Was From Brain of Champion Billiardist that Brunswick Tires and Tubes Originally Came

By AL SPINK

"It was from the brain of Michael Phelan, the famous champion billiardist, that the Brunswick tire really came," said Mr. H. F. Davenport, secretary of The Brunswick-Balke-Coller Co. "No, Mr. Phelan didn't invent the first tire, but he was the first to secure a patent on a rubber compound for billiard table cushions. Secondly, the manufacture of billiard table cushions our factories originally developed the Brunswick Tire."

"It will perhaps surprise you to know that when rubber tires are of very recent origin, Michael Phelan, one of the founders, and other officials of our company made a study of rubber and rubber compounds as far back as 1857, or upwards of 65 years ago."

"Sounds like an interesting story," I said, "won't you give me the rest of it?"

"In 1857 Mr. Phelan was associated with H. W. Collender who later became the president of the Brunswick-Balke-Coller Co.," replied Mr. Davenport.

Ten years after Mr. Phelan had patented the rubber cushion for billiard tables, Mr. Collender brought out and patented his improved cushion which was used almost exclusively throughout the United States until 1880, when M. Bensinger, son-in-law of J. M. Brunswick and later president of the company, made an improvement in the compounding and produced the present Monarch billiard cushion.

"This has been slightly changed in shape of the mold since it was introduced in 1880 but the compounds under a secret formula are about the same."

"But about the Brunswick tire coming from Phelan's invention—the connection between the two? That's the interesting part about it," said I.

"When the pneumatic tire first came into use," said Mr. Davenport, "this company, which had previously established a rubber manufacturing plant for the making of billiard table cushions and different kinds of hard rubber goods at Muskegon, Mich., gave serious thought to the manufacture of tires."

"We produced our first tires in 1907, but did not get into larger production until 1916, when the Brunswick Tire was introduced."

"And all this was made possible through the efforts of the pioneers

Weather Conditions: Northwestern barometers are now high, while over the southern Rocky mountains they are lower. Temperatures have been slightly higher, but seem to be dropping. Snow fell in small amounts from the Rockies to the lakes over the northern states, while along the coast there was no precipitation, and skies were clear.

Idaho forecast—Sunday: Fair.

With an average temperature of 43 degrees, Saturday in Twin Falls was the warmest day of the past three weeks. Maximum temperature at 51 degrees was slightly under the highest mark on Friday but Saturday's minimum of 34 degrees exceeded all recent low marks.

of the House of Brunswick, who started in the compounding of rubber many years before pneumatic tires were heard of.

"That their efforts were in the right direction is proved by the wonderful growth of our tire and tube business. And the Brunswick tire of today is the ultimate of those sixty-five years of development."

"The tire business appeals to us very forcibly for several very good reasons. First, it offers a quick turnover—much quicker than possible with other products which we manufacture. Secondly, the manufacture of tires requires a comparatively small floor space, considering the annual sales possibilities, especially when compared to that required for the manufacture of hard rubber goods and some of our other lines, which we speak of in sense instead of square feet.

"Thirdly, our already established system of branches in all the main distributing centers of the country made possible the efficient distribution at an extremely low cost—much lower than would be possible were those branches established for the merchandising and product only."

"We were the originators of some much-needed innovations in the tire industry. For example, we perceived the waste involved in compelling the dealer to carry too many styles, and we were the first to discontinue the plain and ribbed tread. Our stock of these was entirely exhausted, before other manufacturers made a beginning."

"We have the knowledge born of long experience in rubber. Our manufacturing facilities are unsurpassed."

"The reason of our other lines helping us to support our branch houses we can produce and sell the best tire for the least money."

"Recently we have added an immense new power building to our plant at Muskegon which will quadruple our present output."

"The Brunswick tire is here to stay and your grandchildren will probably say, 'It's the best, as your grandfather said of Brunswick goods sixty years ago."

"So you can plainly see that the seeds which were sown by the rubber patents of Michael Phelan in 1857, by W. Collender in 1867, and M. Bensinger in 1880, have sprung forth into a new life, and broader and bigger possibilities than were ever dreamed of by the founders of the concern when they commenced their experiment."

ments in rubber upwards of sixty years ago." "Yes," concluded Mr. Davenport, "The Brunswick tire is here to stay." "They will stay eighty-four per cent cooler than any other tire made. Why? Because they are 84 per cent friction proof. They resist the road heat."
