RAISIN MEN ENGAGE IN GORY FIGHT

One Fatality Probable Result of Clash Between Armenian Growers and Solicitors for Co-operative Concern

YETEM, Calif., April 21 (AP)—One man was shot, probably fatally, one man had part of his hand cut off with a cleaver, and one man had his arm crushed in a fight at Yetem, Tulare county, today when 200 raisin growers seeking new contracts for the Sun Maid Raisin Growers' association, clashed with a group of Armenian raisin growers. The Sun Maid concern is a cooperative marketing association.

WOOLENS MANUFACTURER PREDICTS PRICES RISE

Advancing Costs of Raw Material and Labor to be Reflected in Goods Market, W. M. Wood Announces

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, said on the majestic today for a vacation, declaring he left the company "in the most satisfactory condition in its history."

"The mills are operating to 100 per cent capacity," he said, "and I have sufficient orders to keep them employed for the balance of the season. We were overwhelmed with orders when our fall lines were shown and we were forced to substantially reduce orders submitted to us. We eliminated speculative orders as far as possible and our business is on a sound basis."

The recent advance in labor will increase the cost of our products from 7 1/2 to 15 cents a yard and beyond that, as a matter of fact.

"Prices of raw wool have advanced 12 to 41 per cent over prices which were figured in this season's goods and it is anticipated that certain necessary grades of wool have not yet reached their peak prices."

"Cloth prices for the spring of 1924 naturally must be higher than those quoted at the opening of this season. Wood said that the credit situation was never more healthy and that his company's collections of the past few months indicate a liquidated condition of the company's customers."

DYNAMITE USED TO AVERT FLOOD

Engineers Endeavor to Blast New Channel for Stream and Check Inundation

WINNEMER, Man., April 21 (AP)—Engineers resorted to dynamite today in an attempt to blast a new channel for flood water in the Assiniboine river and check the threatened inundation of Portage la Prairie.

The waters already spread over the city, were rapidly rising. The city hall was being surrounded when volunteers of the Canadian Pacific railway began blasting in the downtown section in the hope of diverting the flood.

The danger to Portage la Prairie, sixty miles west of here, became imminent early today when an ice gorge in the Assiniboine jammed and the river banks and inundating a wide farming area to the southwest.

Trains have gone out of farmers who did not desert their homes were marooned; lines of communication were cut off and downtown sections of Portage isolated. The water was four feet deep in some places and many families were imprisoned.

The situation at Brandon and surrounding districts was reported improved today with the water receding slowly and the levee in the Assiniboine moving freely. Morris and other points threatened with inundation during the last two days were believed today to be out of danger.

PHILLIPS STORY IS PUT TO TEST

Authorities Seek Evidence that Husband Aided Murderess to Escape from Prison

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (AP)—Bertram A. Horrington, attorney for Clara Phillips during her trial for the murder of Albert Mondow, dropped dead tonight when he was talking with friends. One of Horrington's last acts as an attorney was to obtain the release of Arthur L. Phillips, husband of the escaped hammer murderess, who was arrested last night on a charge of aiding his wife's escape from the Los Angeles county jail December 5, last. Phillips was freed today on $3000 bail.

LOS ANGELES, April 21—To establish that Arthur L. Phillips, out on bail following his arrest in connection with the escape of his wife, Clara Phillips, convicted hammer murderess, aided in her escape, district sheriffs were today tracing the movements of Jesse C. Carson, who is said to be in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, with a woman suspected of being Mrs. Phillips.

That Phillips aided in the escape of his wife shortly after Mrs. Phillips' escape from the county jail December 5, last, was definitely learned today through information reaching the sheriff's office.

Two motorcycle policemen of Lynnwood, a suburb, arrested Phillips about three days ago, according to reports received by the sheriff. Several days later, it was learned, Carson approached the two officers and asked if they had a car for sale. Phillips' car, as he had left some packages in it, Carson stated, according to the information that he had accepted a free ride with Phillips, who had stated he would have done as he had a considerable amount of money on him at the time. He then showed the two officers $2200 in cash which the sheriff's office has learned Phillips carried in his pocket.

Phillips denied that he had any knowledge of his wife's whereabouts. The sheriff's office is gathering evidence to the contrary to present to the court Tuesday, when a hearing on the writ of habeas corpus granted Phillips will be held. He was released today on $3000 cash bail.

Britain's Aid Is Sought in War on Rum Runners

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—While an unofficial survey is in progress to determine what naval facilities are available to wage war on rum runners, within the three-mile limit, important measures for co-operation between the United States and British governments to prevent smuggling are under discussion.

No official information has come from the White House that the navy would be drawn into the fight, but it was learned at the state department that every possible aid was being given there to the work of prohibition enforcement.

It became known also that a number of methods of preventing smuggling on the high seas suggested to the state department.

As indicating the activities of the state department in this matter, in addition to the negotiations pending with Great Britain it was pointed out that Canadian authorities had issued instructions that shipping board vessels should accept applications to transfer vessels from American to Canadian registry.

The department has taken up with the British ambassador the question of enlisting the British registry of American owned vessels used for smuggling liquor and has asked the Canadian authorities to refuse clearance papers for liquor vessels destined for the United States.

EX-PREMIER HALTED AT U. S. GATES

Colonel Jovan Plamenatz of Montenegro, Expelled from Italy, is Detained for Investigation on Arrival

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Colonel Jovan Plamenatz, former premier of Montenegro, who sailed for America after he had been expelled from Italy and was detained by immigration officials on his arrival today, later was released on parole to await action of the Washington authorities. He was accompanied by three aides.

The former premier appeared before a board of special inquiry at Ellis Island, but the reason for his detention was withheld.

When the former premier left Italy on the Giuseppe Verdi, he was reported to have announced he was "going to New York to establish a Montenegrin government over there."

His detention, it was reported, had arisen over the visa on his passport, but Plamenatz' recent history is dated with flashes of diplomacy as played in the Near East. He succeeded Popovich as premier of Montenegro in 1919. Later he took the portfolio of foreign minister. Since his flight from his country by Jugo-Slavins, Plamenatz has been in Rome.

Last September he seized the Montenegrin consulate at the Italian capital and surrounded by 20 of his countrymen, all armed, proclaimed himself again premier.

Reign Is Short-Lived

The consul and other dignitaries of the office happened to be visiting when Plamenatz' party entered the consulate. The coup was successful. Plamenatz declared that the queen had legally assumed the title of regent, she was to govern the interests of her grandson, Prince Michael. He charged her with having betrayed Montenegro in secret negotiations with Belgrade.

Colonel's reign was brief and was followed by the Italian order for his expulsion.

"I came here for something very personal," he said, "I told reporters today. In fact, the same beliefs prompt my visit as those which stirred Mazzini when he went to England in 1839 to plead the cause of Italy."

Officers Discover Secret Booze Room

Hidden Still and Liquor Seized in Underground Passageway, Deputy Sheriff Reports

The discovery of another secret still, seizure of two gallons of liquor and the arrest of Andrew Allen and Orin Allen Saturday noon was reported by Sheriff's office here. When arrested in probate court Saturday afternoon Orin Allen pleaded guilty and Andrew Allen pleaded guilty on charges of possession of liquor.

The still, which was hidden at a residence in the Yeatman addition. During the search deputy sheriffs became suspicious of bolts locking the rear stairway leading from the back of the house.

The bolts were removed and the stairs lifted upright revealing another set of steps leading downward into the ground and over a dirt dugout to a hidden still. Sheriff's officers discovered a complete still and various apparatus, together with the liquor, according to their report.

Borah Debates League of Nations with Lord Robert Cecil at Breakfast Table

Advocates Federal Control of Sugar Trade to Relieve Exorbitant Price Situation

Louisiana Congressman Puts No Trust in Tariff Revision or Injunction Proceedings, But Would Extend Scope of Grain Futures Act; Defends Producers Against Criticism

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—On the heels of a statement by Democratic National Chairman Coroll Hull, charging the administration with efforts to shield the infamous Forney-McCumber sugar monopoly...

"After consulting my colleagues I am preparing drastic legislation to be presented to the next congress which, believe, will make it impossible for the sugar gather again to succeed in another such raid upon the American home. If he tries he will land in jail where he properly belongs."

"Mr. Borah said the policy of federal injunctions was dangerous and charged that the tariff commission had gone through a long period of 'stalling' in its sugar investigation. He made public a letter from President Harding written in response to a request for information on April 19, and saying that 'it is my impression that by the time you receive this letter the department (of justice) will have begun to end the activities of the exchange.'"

Chairman Hull declared in his statement that development in the sugar situation reveal the Harding administration is far more interested in white washing and screening the infamous Forney-McCumber sugar rates and their beneficiaries than in relieving the American consumer from the existing outrage of sugar prices.

President Harding, Mr. Hull said, had told the tariff commission in advance "just what kind of a report to make to him on the price effects of the sugar tariff."

"The commission, he said, has given me the report to lie to the daily sugar market reporter since January which shows in box-car letters that every penny of the sugar tariff goes into the pockets of the American consumer, which is at the rate of $200,000,000 a year over and above what they would otherwise pay."

"The impression made by Lord Robert's presentation to the president was in no wise revealed, the White House issuing no statement after the call and Lord Robert confining his comments to the question that he had a pleasant discussion with Mr. Harding. Senator Borah, however, issued a formal statement, which while not directly setting forth the impression left by the conversation, declared the senator had told Lord Robert that the vast majority of the American people were uncompromisingly opposed to joining in a plan of league which would involve America in European politics."

Both of the conferences were arranged by Henry White, former American ambassador to France, and one of the American commissioners at the Versailles peace conference, who is entertaining Lord Robert while he is in Washington. At breakfast Senator Borah was a guest at the White house and Mr. White accompanied Lord Robert to the White House.

PLANE CARRIES FOUR TO DEATH

Army Airship Falls into River Snuffing Out Four Lives and Severely Hurting Fifth Man

DAYTON, Ohio, April 21 (AP)—Four men were almost instantly killed and one other probably fatally injured this afternoon when a Martin air service plane crashed into the Great Miami river here. The crash was caused by a pilot, Langley field, Va.

Sergeant Wesley Rowland, Selridge field, Mich. Captain L. M. Smith, Bureau of Aeronautics, Washington, D. C., injured. Technical Sergeant P. B. Shaw, Selridge field, Mich.

All five men suffered fractured skulls. The accident occurred as the men were taking off for Langley field, after having been here for several weeks.

The big plane left the ground heading north but owing to a heavy wind, witnesses said, it was evident that the pilot realized that he could not clear the Herman avenue bridge, just east of the field, and sought to turn his plane to avoid crashing into it. The strong wind caught the machine and twisted it in a nose-dive which ended in the river.

All the men in the plane had parachutes on their backs, but were unable to use them on account of the suddenness of the fall, the plane being only a few feet from the ground at the time it dived.

The crew was plunged into the water, most of them out of the ship as the bodies were seen to come to the surface one by one.

Orders Investigation Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, and Major L. W. McIntosh, commandant at McCook field, were the first air service officers to reach the scene.

General Mitchell was at first reported to be in the plane, but it was later learned that he was lunching in a restaurant opposite McCook field.

General Mitchell appointed a board of investigation to determine if the men were in the air in the line of duty, and if any defects there may have been in the plane.

Shortly after the accident General Mitchell took off for Bolling field, Washington, D. C. As he passed over the scene of the disaster he dropped flowers into the river. He will make a report of the crash on his arrival in Washington.

IDAHO SENATOR MAKES PUBLIC DIALOGUE PART

Conversation Between President and British Exponent of International Organization is Not Disclosed

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Lord Robert Cecil, president directly from the League of Nations and to Senator Borah of Idaho, his explanation of the league of nations, its achievements and its hopes.

The noted British exponent of the league of nations for a month had been advocating the league cause in public addresses in the United States had breakfast with Senator Borah, one of the leaders of the irreconcilable group in the senate fight over the treaty of Versailles, and then went to the White House where he had half an hour's conference with President Harding.

Gives Appraisal of Sentiment The impression made by Lord Robert's presentation to the president was in no wise revealed, the White House issuing no statement after the call and Lord Robert confining his comments to the question that he had a pleasant discussion with Mr. Harding. Senator Borah, however, issued a formal statement, which while not directly setting forth the impression left by the conversation, declared the senator had told Lord Robert that the vast majority of the American people were uncompromisingly opposed to joining in a plan of league which would involve America in European politics.

Both of the conferences were arranged by Henry White, former American ambassador to France, and one of the American commissioners at the Versailles peace conference, who is entertaining Lord Robert while he is in Washington. At breakfast Senator Borah was a guest at the White house and Mr. White accompanied Lord Robert to the White House.

Rumor Deals with Court Whether Lord Robert's conversation with the president touched upon the permanent court of international justice, an agency of the league of nations, in which tribunal Mr. Harding proposes that the United States accept membership, was not disclosed, but the senator's remarks were formed a major subject of discussion during the half hour's conference.

The international court matter continued to press forward as a matter of discussion, among republican leaders in the capital and indications increased during the day that the president would announce in a matter of a few days a pronouncement of the administration's stand in favor of American adhesion.

The administration proposal received the endorsement of Speaker Gillett of the house, who in a formal statement, attributed the opposition expression by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the republican

Dancers Move Out of Reach of Sunday Law

Washington's Endurance Contest Survivors Transfer Stepping to Moving Vans

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Having spent the better part of four sleepless night racking days and nights waiting over the floor of the national bank building, five men and a woman did a one-step into trucks at midnight and danced their way out of the District of Columbia where Sunday law had cut short their test of endurance.

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—One of the most remarkable incidents of the night, held the floor at a dance hall in Northwest Washington tonight, while downtown at another hall, two men and one woman equally were sole survivors of the 37 persons who started out Wednesday night to break off an endurance dancing record.

Meantime half a dozen victims of the craze, who at various periods had dropped out of the gruelling contests from exhaustion, were in hospitals or under the care of physicians at their homes, and city authorities were seeking means to prevent such exhibitions in the national capital in the future.

Thousands Pay Admission Since the beginning of the exhibitions here thousands of persons have paid admission to the halls to watch the dancers, whose efforts, physicians said, were most exhausting, both to nerves and body tissues, over a period of several days.

Two prizes, some of $50 have been distributed among those who fell to the floor after sleepless days and nights of motion. Others have won prizes for their efforts, and one or two young women have lost their jobs.

The marino and the cavalryman tonight dominated the greatest later contest. The former, declared to be a marvel of physical development, is Audrey Gilbert of Clarkdale, Miss., and he faces charges of "absence without leave" unless he "brings home the bacon."

FOREIGN ISSUE LOOMS BIG IN FARM AFFAIRS

Agriculture Secretary's Committee of Economists and Statisticians Reports Conditions and Prospects

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—At least no reduction in the supply of American farm products this year, a slightly less favorable foreign demand and an active demand at home as long as the present business conditions continue, was forecast today by a committee of 15 prominent economists and statisticians in a report to Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture after a two-day conference here.

"It is of the most vital interest to American agriculture," the report said, "that the United States lend aid in every way possible to the settlement of the reparations and other European problems."

"The favorable factors with respect to foreign demand are: First, the influence of American prosperity upon the demand for European goods, and second, the possibility that the slight business recovery that has occurred in a number of European countries may gradually gain momentum."

Strong Competition Indicated.

"With some overflow of the business activity of the United States to the rest of the world, particularly the non-European part of the world, the prospect would rather be that there will be some increase in the production of foods in foreign countries. We cannot, therefore, confidently offer any reason for the expectation that our farmers will meet any less serious competition in European markets during the coming year than they have met during the last year."

Forecasting the domestic demand for agricultural products would be active as long as the present condition of business with full employment continued, the committee said, most competent observers seem to agree that the country may expect general business prosperity to last at least six to nine months longer.

Wheat Exports Threatened.

With European countries making efforts to place their grain production on a pre-war basis, the heavy wheat exports of the last two years may be expected to decline, and the committee advises that American production should be readjusted to meet these changing conditions. The condition of winter wheat is unfavorable, intended plantings of spring wheat are 5.5 per cent below last year's acreage, and weather thus far has been unfavorable for spring planting.

There is no evidence that the consumption of American cotton 1922-23 will fall below the indicated world consumption for 1922-23, which is not less than 13,000,000 bales, the committee reported.

The corn situation is about normal, the committee found, but between now and the time the new crop is harvested there will be some tendency toward corn shortage because of the larger number of pigs on feed. Hog production has been heavy and is still in a state of expansion. Unless bad weather and other conditions have reduced the number of spring pigs to an unusual degree, the price of hogs may be depressed next fall and winter.

SINCLAIR WINS LIBEL SUIT

Lady Klansmen Stage Parade in Tulsa Streets

TULSA, Okla., April 21, (AP)—White-robed Kamelia, "lady klansmen," paraded here last night.

The parade was the outstanding public feature of the two day convention here of Kappa Kappa Klans from Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

Between 30,000 and 50,000 persons viewed the procession of snowy-garbed women. Hordes of handclapping played up and down the line, and march occasionally and now and then a shout was heard, but in the main silence reigned.

The Kamelias, organized by Colonel William J. Simmons, founder of the clan, picked a dreary night for their first public appearance in America. Blankets would have made much more comfortable wrappings for the marchers than did the muslin that adorned them.

Less than 500 women marched. There were eight men in the ranks carrying a little red house supported by symbolic of the home. The parade lacked the spectacular trappings observed last year. There were no torches, no red fire, in fact, no display at all.

The women were all clad in what was announced as the official Kamelia regalia. It was a very simple costume of white robe with a red 'K' on the breast and a white hood.

Some of the banners displayed in the parade: "Kamelias," "Protection of Women," "This Group 100 Per Cent Americanized," "Kiss the Flag or Cross the Pond," "Oregon, We Are Coming," "Organization and Strength."

In addition to the thousands of spectators that lined the streets through which the parade moved, other thousands filled windows in office buildings all along the way while others occupied choice seats in hundreds of automobiles that filled every available parking place.

The next convention of Kamelia will be held in Kansas City within six months, it was announced by Colonel Simmons.

it was announced by Colonel Simmons. He told delegates at the closing session that the organization now has 16,000 members, predicting that within a few years the membership will number millions. The closing session was semi-public, a number of specially invited guests being present.

We Favor the American Principle

of the greater number of people controlling in the selection of public officials. This principle is generally accepted. We will explain why it is opposed in Twin Falls.

In the spring of 1922, as a result of the first election held under the Commission Form of Government, the Mills-Walton Ticket elected four of its candidates. Dr. W. H. Dwight, who opposed that ticket, and his opponent, Commissioner McAuley, each failed to receive a majority of the votes cast. Dr. Dwight receiving a plurality. However, Dr. Dwight recognizing that the electorate desired the Mills-Walton ticket to have the responsibility of the City Government; and notwithstanding his plurality over Mr. McAuley, publicly requested his friends to elect Mr. McAuley. His friends appreciating this FAIR and MANLY ATTITUDE took no further interest in Dr. Dwight's candidacy. After the election of Mayor Hodgkin on April 3, his unsuccessful opponent, Mr. Lambing, in a FAIR and MANLY SPIRIT congratulated Mr. Hodgkin and expressed the WISH and HOPE that Mr. Hodgkin would have a supporting council by the election of Mr. Keel and Mr. Leslie. At the same time the campaign manager of the Lambing ticket likewise in a FAIR and MANLY SPIRIT congratulated Mr. Keel upon his plurality and upon the plurality of Mr. Leslie and the election of Mr. Hodgkin and stated that from thence on he would be WITH THEM.

Why, then, the continued opposition to the election of Mr. Keel and Mr. Leslie? It is only by reason of the anxiety of the Ku Klux Klan to accomplish the election of Mr. Roberts and Mr. Stinson, who have admitted that they have applied for membership in that organization. Mr. Keel and Mr. Leslie are opposed to the intolerant principles and secret methods of this hooded organization. In their desperate attempt to elect Roberts and Stinson their supporters have endeavored to whisper a law enforcement issue into this campaign. They have not had the courage to do this openly or publicly because they know if such an issue is READ it is so because of the FAILURE or the INCOMPETENCY of J. E. Roberts as police commissioner, and they know that thinking people would recognize this fact. Mr. Hodgkin is an experienced PEACE OFFICER and is PLEDGED TO ENFORCE THE LAW—all of it—solely by means of the CONSTITUTED AUTHORITIES at his command. Mr. Keel and Mr. Leslie are pledged to support and to work in harmony with him. THERE IS NO LAW ENFORCEMENT ISSUE. Neither is there any OPEN SUNDAY ISSUE. The City Council cannot, without the express consent of a majority of the electors, make any change in the regulations respecting Sabbath observance. Mayor Hodgkin, Mr. Keel and Mr. Leslie have publicly stated that they oppose any such change. This pretended issue is BUNK. It is urged by the Klan in support of its candidates, and is purveyed solely in a brazen attempt to impose upon and scare sincere law-abiding citizens into voting for the Klan candidates.

If you want civic harmony—If you want efficient and safe business administration—If you want public affairs, publicly and openly handled, vote for OAKLAND, Cal., April 21 (AP)—The University of Washington made a clean sweep here today when its varsity and freshmen crews defeated the varsity and freshmen crews of the University of California in the annual boat races.

The victory in the varsity race gave the northwestern the Pacific coast championship and the right to represent the far west at the Pugetkeepsie regatta.

A stiff head-on wind and choppy water made the race very rough on the estuary. The Washington varsity's official time was nearly three minutes slower than the record for the three-mile course.

Both California varsity and freshmen crews started out with a lead over the northwesterns, but these were cut down in the early stage of the races.

The official times were as follows: Washington varsity, 18:05 2-5; California, 18:40.

Washington freshmen, 9:57; California freshmen, 10:07.

PROSPECT FOR RECOGNITION OF MEXICO CLEARS

Recent Exchanges in Connection with the Protection of American Lives and Prospect Revive Hopes of Agreement

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Hope of an understanding between the United States and Mexico again has been revived as a result of recent exchange centering about the protection of American lives and property on Mexican soil.

A restatement of the whole Mexican attitude, including an explanation of executive proposals to clarify the much debated article 27 of the Mexican constitution, has been laid before the Washington government by the Mexican embassy, and apparently has been received as an important step toward agreement. Further discussions are in progress at Mexico City and a public announcement is expected within a few days.

Still Some Handicaps.
No official here will comment on the situation in its present status, but there was every outward evidence to-night that a new element of hope had been injected into the long-protracted relationship between Washington and Mexico City. It was indicated at the same time, however, that steps remained to be taken which might once more complicate the problem just as it appears on the verge of solution.

So far as it has been revealed at the state department, the policy of the United States toward a resolution of the problems as it was outlined in 1921, when Secretary Hughes proposed a treaty of commerce and amity under which Mexico would make definite guarantees for the protection of American interests within her borders, and the United States would accord at the same time full diplomatic recognition to the government of President Obregon. If it taken for granted that signature of that treaty would be the only method of offering a complete accord, but whether news of the signing is expected to be contained in the forthcoming announcement no official will say.

Mexican Law Figure.
The refusal of President Harding and his advisers to extend recognition without specific guarantees has been based largely on the detention of article 27 of the constitution adopted in Mexico in 1917, under which it has been contended that confiscatory policies are sanctioned in the destruction of long-standing American mining concessions. Legislation recently formulated by Mexican officials, however, has been said to be the attention of the United States as calculated to insure against any resort to the article as a weapon against American interests.

CONQUERED THE WART HOG

"Filver" Proved Too Much for Pugnacious South African Animal Who Objected to Its Presence.

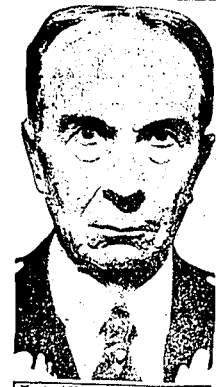

The wild animals of South Africa do not take kindly to such new-fangled beasts as "filvers," as the following incident, related by William McStay, historian of H. A. Snow's expedition, which has been hunting big game from a motor car, will show.

"The wart hog, whose name fairly well describes his appearance, fought Snow's machine to a standstill; to the beast, the filv was a new form of enemy. Snow encountered the wart hog one day in driving a path across the trackless waste. For amusement the explorer chased the hog with a distance, when, with suddenness and ferocity, the beast turned to attack. With slavering jaws and grunting defiance the wart hog hurled itself against the trusty filver, the only car not susceptible to the death bite of the tusky life. Its tusks struck the tires. Its hard head battered the radiator.

"Backward reeled the Tin Lizzy, trembling in every member. Forward she lunged again, thrusting the animal in broad beam. The latter charged anew, again she retreated and again she leaped like a gasoline billypout. Finally the wart hog gave up the struggle and went and sat down afar off, watching the new enemy it could not conquer. The beast's attitude of dejection was sufficient to cause laughter."

Faith Worth While.
The only faith that wears well and holds its color in all weathers is that which is woven in conviction and set with the sharp mordant of experience.—Lowell.

congressional campaign committee, and by some other republican leaders, to a misunderstanding of the administration's recommendation.

Borah Speaks For Himself

Senator Borah, in making his statement with relation to his conference with Lord Robert, said he did so in order "that a significance unwarranted by the facts" might not be attached to the meeting.

"I must not be understood, of course, as viewing, according to Lord Robert's views on constituting his league ideas," said Senator Borah. "But I do not mind saying that I stated to him frankly that in my opinion the vast majority of our people were uncompromisingly opposed to joining any plan or league which would involve us in European politics—in other words, that a political organization or an organization which could be dominated or directed or controlled by the political forces would never be accepted by our people. And if some plan could not be worked out wholly different from a political organization that it would be safer for Europe to proceed upon the theory that the United States would not be a party to it."

Clubs Invasion of Ruhr

"I further stated that in my opinion, our people had been confirmed in their views, according to Lord Robert's league by what had taken place since the armistice. I had in mind, and called his attention, as an illustration, to what was happening now in the Ruhr, exciting that the ruthless invasion of the Ruhr and the ruthless now being practiced had confirmed the people in the belief that they wanted nothing to do with European politics and further that would be an instance which a prominent member of the league was under most solemn obligations to cooperate with the other signers of the league and to adopt a policy of arbitration and settlement but had manifestly entered upon a policy of force of war, of destruction of another people.

Sees Coming Conflict

"As another illustration, I stated it was my opinion that the policy of the allies since the war was throwing Russia into Germany into each other's arms, that it was forcing a combination between the organizing power of Germany and the man power of Russia, and no greater menace to the world's peace could be imagined. Here was one great country being literally crushed by force and, if possible, dismembered, and another outlawed. That couldn't mean anything in the end but a terrific war and it was being done by those who were solemnly pledged by the league to do otherwise. In such politics and with such policies the American people could not be led to believe that the league would have the slightest effect except to involve us in it. In other words, it was quite apparent that what Europe wanted was a league to do but a league for war, a kind of a bringing together of certain powers to control and dominate any break up and dismember other powers."

FARMERS MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

Survey of Rocky Mountain Region Shows Moisture Conditions Favorable

DENVER, April 21 (AP)—Spring work in making good progress in much of the Rocky mountain region, but is still held delayed in some sections of Colorado, due to the late spring according to the semi-monthly notes of the United States division of crop and livestock estimates. With few exceptions, moisture conditions are generally about normal; the drought still conditions are broken in southeastern Colorado. The supply of farm labor in New Mexico has been equal to the demand, but in most sections elsewhere the demand has become heavy due to the backward spring.

Winter grains have made little growth in Utah and Nevada, but moisture conditions are favorable. No improvement is noted in Wyoming except in the east central counties, where moisture is needed. A few districts of Colorado report a good condition of winter wheat, but in general the abundance will be heavy. Seeding of spring wheat, oats, and barley is general in Utah and Nevada, and in fact, seeding has been done in Colorado. More moisture is greatly needed in southeastern Colorado to facilitate plowing and seeding.

Range Conditions Better

The moisture supply is generally ample to insure good growth of ranges, with the advent of warmer weather, but the growth of vegetation is still retarded by low temperatures. More rain is needed in southeastern Colorado and in a few counties of New Mexico, but generally the situation has greatly improved. The harvesting of alfalfa and grain hay is in progress in Arizona. Stock have generally wintered well, although recent storms in the northern section have caused some loss in condition. Hay is becoming scarce in some places where feeding is still necessary. Cattle feeding is becoming general in southeastern Arizona. Sheep shearing has begun in Utah and Nevada with conditions favorable and the market for wool encountering to the sheep grower. Some lambing is in progress in all the states and a good crop is indicated, based as far have been light. A fair to good calf crop is generally expected. Some heavy losses of early pigs are reported in Colorado.

Arizona Moving Lettuce

A few cars of lettuce are still moving from Arizona. The weather is favorable for head lettuce in Colorado and an increase in acreage probable. Present prospects indicate a good fruit crop may be expected in Utah, New Mexico and Colorado. Cotton will be planted over the entire dry farm section of New Mexico and further north than usual. A few fields of sugar beets and early potatoes are being planted in Colorado and Utah.

AROUND THE BASES

Filer will be over on Tuesday at attempt to try and even matters.

This game should prove to be a hummer, even though the locals won last week with a lopsided score. Filer has a good team, and above all, they have in Jake Schaefer one of the best high school twirlers in this section.

Jake did very fair last Wednesday, but blew up when his teammates started to make errors behind him.

Filer always plays better in Twin Falls than they do at home. This may sound strange, but statistics show that the best efforts of our neighbors on the west are made at Lincoln field.

On Thursday the blue and white team will cross the canyon and play the Jerome team. Jerome opened the season here a few weeks ago, and gave the "Exams" clan their worst scare. A lucky home run by "Slim" Hammond with the bases full is the only thing that saved Twin Falls from losing to the northiders.

Lee is the mainstay of the Jeromeites, and is a heady chucker. The team hits hard, and although the Twin Falls team has shown wonderful improvement since playing Jerome, reports from the north side metropolis state that Jerome is considerably faster too.

Friday the south central track meet will take place at Filer, and between 150 and 200 athletes will compete for honors. Twin Falls will send over its squad, as will Jerome, Wendell, Burley, Hah, and in fact, every town from Hooding to Minihoku will be represented.

Filer has some star track men, and will be right in line for first honors. There will be two cups for the winner and runner-up, and with the Twin Falls high school entertaining here, two events, a gala time is to be expected.

The high school baseball team will take a little jaunt on May 2, playing a two-game series with the Nampa team at Nampa, and on May 4 will tangle with the Caldwell team. On the morning of the 5th a second game will be played with Caldwell, and in the afternoon the team will be guests at the semi-track eliminations which will be held again at Caldwell.

Arrangements have practically been completed to bring the Caldwell team here for a three-game set series on May 16, 17 and 18. The only thing that seems to be holding up the deal is the matter of whether the heavy expense can be carried by the local school.

Last year the Caldwell team played a three-game series with the local school and took the odd game. Contrary to reports, Caldwell has a real team again this year.

INTERESTING FACTS INVOLVING "FAIRBANKS IN ROBIN HOOD"

An idea of the magnitude of Douglas Fairbanks' most ambitious undertaking involving the production of this stupendous cinema drama may be had from the following statistics:

Over 20,000 persons were employed in the various branches of industry to make this production.

The royal banquet room in the castle is the largest room in the world, being larger even than the concourse of the Pennsylvania Terminal station in New York city.

More than 10,000 people appear in the various scenes.

Twenty-two experts delved and studied in the necessary research work for accurate designing of the colossal sets. Hundreds of workmen labored three months to build the sets. One million feet, or approximately 35 carloads of lumber, were used in their construction. Thirty tons or about one carload of nails were consumed in erecting the sets.

Two hundred and fifty tons of material went into the castle walls. More than 15 acres of studio property were used for the principal sets.

The king's castle alone covers two and one-half acres and is 310 feet in height. The exterior is 650 feet long.

There are eight castles towers. If these towers were water tanks each would hold 276,000 gallons.

The main diffusing system—used to diffuse light—is bigger than the combined "big tops" of the world's greatest circle enterprise.

Every thoughtful yard of heavy velvet and rich cloth material were used in making the costumes worn by the principals, players and extras.

Every weapon carried in the production was made entirely by hand. Thousands of spears, swords, shields and daggers had to be especially made.

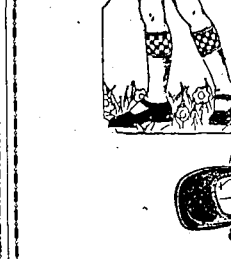

Saddles and trappings for the horses were all hand-made and hand-sewed.

In making an exact duplicate of the standard used by King Richard I. in his crusade to the Holy Land, 300 pounds of iron were necessary.

Lee is the mainstay of the Jeromeites, and is a heady chucker. The team hits hard, and although the Twin Falls team has shown wonderful improvement since playing Jerome, reports from the north side metropolis state that Jerome is considerably faster too.

THE KLAN In another column on this page The News takes pleasure in offering a letter upon the subject of the Ku Klux Klan from the pen of the Reverend W. W. Burks of the Christian church.

The communication is of the kind which newspapers like to publish because it is written in a spirit of fair and impartial discussion in the interests of a better and a clearer understanding, and in this same spirit The News would offer such comment as would seem to be called for.

There is no question of intolerance as between the right of one man to membership in the Ku Klux Klan and another to membership in the Knights of Columbus. The right of each, as we view it, is exactly equal. Nor is there any logical answer to Mr. Burks' next question as to why men supported by the Knights of Columbus should be regarded as better qualified for municipal office than men supported by Klansmen.

In this connection, however, it may be pointed out that neither Mr. Leslie or Mr. Noel is either a Klansman or a Knight of Columbus, nor has either made application for membership—it would seem that here the real difference begins as to the status of the two sets of candidates. Messrs. Roberts and Stinson are credited with having applied for membership in the Ku Klux Klan and have made no denial of the allegation.

There is no reason to question the correctness of Mr. Burks' statement that the Klan endorses no one for political office. But such endorsement would seem to be superfluous in a case of this sort, even if the practice were a common one on the part of the Klan.

The balance of Mr. Burks' letter is of more than passing interest yet it is not new and never has been the idealistic viewpoint set forth in the proposition of "one hundred per cent Americanism" with which the non-Klansman takes issue. Rather is it the opportunity set up for the furtherance of a spirit of the very reverse of that described by Mr. Burks which leads to question as to the ultimate good likely to be brought about through the program and the procedure for which the order stands.

We find little fault with Mr. Burks' description of the Klan spirit, yet who shall defend the Klan from that element of its membership which shall elect to adopt some other spirit?

All clean men should join with the Klan in its declared program of war upon the bootlegger, yet would it not be better from the standpoint of the Klan itself if the public was enabled to scan the Klan membership lists, and see for itself that the name of no bootlegger was included on the roll?

These are a few of the points which suggest themselves to the average man and they are not offered wholly in a spirit of carping criticism.

The News is well prepared to believe that many good men belong to the Klan and many others whose goodness is of lesser stature. As far as the Klan operates as a local law enforcement league, well and good, but it does not appear that any better results will be obtained through the secrecy surrounding its operations and its personnel than would be possible in the full light of day.

And finally, let it be kept eternally in mind that one hundred per cent Americanism calls first of all for one hundred per cent support of the Constitution of the United States and that in this same Constitution of the United States the very fullest sort of religious liberty is guaranteed to every American citizen, Gentile, Jew and Catholic, and that the same machinery brought into existence by the Constitution still exists and still functions to protect and uphold the rights of all classes of citizenship, secular as well as religious.

THE ELECTION General interest in the City Election of Tuesday is apparently not overwhelming. Seemingly the idea prevails that what each man wants has a fair chance of happening and a fair chance is good enough.

It's poor policy for the citizenship of any community, yet there is no getting away from the fact that an election which is but an incident in a series of elimination contests cannot be expected to hold as much interest as when the battle amounts to a final and decisive engagement.

The Black Law, or Commission Government measure, contains many points at variance with the old Mayor and Council plan, none of which could be changed without sacrificing some part of the program of the author.

The form of city government which it provides for should be accepted or rejected in whole. It has been accepted in Twin Falls and for a good many years there will be no opportunity for a change.

The coming election will settle the question on a basis of plurality rather than majority vote. In view of the plurality already obtained by Messrs. Leslie and Noel it would appear that the only thing which is to be feared on their behalf is over-confidence on the part of their supporters.

THE FORUM

THE KLAN

Editor News: Dear Sir: I read your editorial in today's paper on "The Invisible Empire," with interest. As a representative of this great and virile order, I cordially assure you that we invite a fair discussion and the fullest investigation. Our membership everywhere is made up of the very best citizens in the community.

Practically all the ministers of the church to which I belong are members, wherever the order functions; and this is a true of other Protestant Churches. Your principal criticism of the order is its alleged regalia. No member of its ranks wears its regalia outside of his home room unless by special permit on some stated occasion, just as in the case of all other orders. Our work is constructive; that is, we are not fighting any liberty-loving order, I cordially assure you that we invite a fair discussion and the fullest investigation.

Our order publishes its doctrine and its obligations to the whole world and we are proud of them. This propaganda about taking the law into our own hands is absurd. We need will stand behind every officer of the law in his efforts to see that the law is enforced.

We are a clean order of Americans, whose life and work is to protect and defend the weak, to restrain the lawless and to extend the principles of Protestant Christianity.

At the same time we avow our determination not to abridge in any way the rights of any citizen, guaranteed under the Constitution. I am interested in the general welfare of my community and nation, just as much because I am a Mason, Old Fellow, Knight of Pythias and a Woodman as I am that I am a Klansman, and more than all these because I am a Christian citizen.

We endorse no one for political office. Our members are urged to see that as far as possible the community is kept clean and a wholesome place in which to live. Some of the Klansmen here openly support Mr. Hedin and are now supporting Noel and Leslie in spite of the uncalculated attacks of these men on the order.

This is sufficient in answering the charge that the election is on the issue of the "Ku Klux Klan."

Very truly,
W. W. BURKS D. D.

RETAIL TRADE BACK TO NORMAL, BABSON SAYS

Statistician Sees Average Return to Ordinary Conditions on Part of Element that is Last to Recover

WILMERSLEY HILLS, Mass., April 21 (Special to The News)—George W. Babson, who has recently been checking figures on the retail trade of the country, has today issued a preliminary statement. According to his analysis, retail trade averaged all sections of the country is again back to normal.

Some sections are still behind the good years of 1919 and 1920, says Mr. Babson, but many other sections are ahead. Retail trade was the last to feel the effects of the depression. When a slack business hits a section the financial interests are first the manufacturing and farming interests feel it second; the jobbers and wholesalers feel it third; and finally the retailers feel it. Hence, although retail trade continues good long after Wall Street is blue it does not come back again until sometime after Wall Street comes leaving them with a few years' receipts to this general rule. The profits of firms like Tiffany, the jeweler, who sell largely to the very wealthy, are an exception to the general rule; but 95 per cent of the retail firms lag a year or more behind.

Industrial Towns Lead "The best retail trade today is in the industrial cities of the East. Where two years ago mills and factories were shut down, they are now working at full capacity, are now back to nearly 100 per cent. Akron, which had lost 40 per cent of its population because of unemployment in the industry, is now advertising for men. Detroit is back again to normal and the volume of retail trade in these cities is equal to or greater than it has ever been. Of course, this does not mean that profits are as large. The public is showing its discrimination in its purchases and is shopping about more. The volume of retail business, however, is back to normal in these cities.

It is common in the industrial city which is not doing a normal business today should clean house and ascertain wherein the difficulty lies. Cities which are about to experience advances in an especially favorable position. The retailers of these cities should do the best business during 1933 they ever have done. The mill cities of New England are in this class.

"The farming communities may not be back to normal although statisticians differ greatly as to what is normal. If we call normal an especially favorable position, then the farming sections are still below, and may be for many years to come. If, however, we consider normal as the average for the past twenty years and in addition allow a proper amount for growth, we will find that the retail trade of most farm sections is now back to normal or better than normal. Therefore, I say that something is not doing a normal business. Either he is mixed up in some sticky enterprise and is not attending to business—or else is not posted as to the fundamental conditions. There is no reason for this in either case—where and it is up to him to find it.

"During the next few months, merchants should advertise. National manufacturers are utilizing the great power of advertising in the distribution of their products. The successful department stores are also using large space in the newspapers; but the small retailer has yet failed to advertise as he should. Perhaps this is why he is small—some cannot tell. There is surely some reason why the people flock to one merchant and pass by another. Statisticians certainly indicate that the reason is closely connected with the advertising. Let me also take this occasion to urge retailers to use the news papers in a dignified way rather than in the cheap and unbecomingly contrived manner. During the past two months I have noticed considerably throughout different sections of the country. At almost every corner is something else said to some bank merchant who thought he had discovered a cheaper or more effective method of advertising than his newspaper offered. As a matter of fact, he unconsciously disfigures the highways, endangers life and makes enemies instead of friends. Merchandising is a professional and is treated in a dignified way. Moreover, how banks can adopt such cheap appearing methods of publicity is beyond the comprehension of most business men. Yet I understand the temptation, having once fallen for outdoor advertising myself much against the advice of the Gaudin Advertising agency, which handles our copy."

Talks on Chain Stores. Mr. Babson added a word of cheer to those retailers who fear the chain store.

"Instead of worrying about chain stores, Babson says, 'The independent retailer should copy their good features and avoid their pitfalls. The chain stores are revolutionizing retailing. They are introducing many good features from which every retailer should profit. But chain stores have many troubles ahead. When their employees organize labor unions—as is inevitable with such big units—then the independent merchant will again have a great opportunity. I, however, do believe that it would be wise for independent merchants to get together more among themselves and form small chains which they themselves can control. Personally I should not want to struggle with one lone grocery store; but had just as soon have a group of a dozen grocery stores.

"General business," concluded Mr. Babson, "is good. The Babsonchart stands today at 3 per cent above normal, compared with 16 per cent below normal a year ago. (All publication rights strictly reserved.)

Important Election News

As you all know, Shad Hedin and we were elected in the last election, so we are not running this time. The way we have been handling coal since last election will convince anyone that we were elected. We burned the engine out of one of our trucks and had to get a new engine; our men are all tired out and it looks like we will have to get new men until these are rested up.

Well, Shad, still just looks as though the people of Twin Falls know how to vote; all they want is a chance. Now, Shad, let's not disappoint them; and we know you won't. You give them the best administration that they ever had and we will do likewise with the coal, and by the time next election comes around we won't have to worry about the Klan or anyone else. We won't have to call anyone any names; they will just want to keep on voting for us. You know some fellows make great promises and platform pledges, but they produce the goods, that is what counts.

Well, we suppose we ought to say something about the other four fellows that want a chance to serve the people of Twin Falls; but then what is the use, they are all good fellows; and besides, it don't make so much difference so long as you and we are at the head. With you on the administrative and we on the coal we think that there is a bright future ahead for the people of Twin Falls.

Oh, say, we almost forgot to tell you what we had to say about our service on coal. As we told you sometime ago, we were your friends, this is how we prove it.

On April 17 your enemy, the railroads, advanced the rate on coal 50¢ per ton; so we bought a big supply of coal in order to keep on selling at the same old price; how do you like that? Since we have adopted Henry Ford's plan we are doing lots of business, that means buy our coal and spend the rest for something else.

Now, here is another thing; we own a part of the Mutual Coal Co. In order to introduce that coal we will sell at any non-stockholder one ton of Lump Coal at $1.00 less than regular price. This is good for thirty days only. This is our way of having a get-together meeting. How do you like it?

Our prices on all coals are: Spring Canyon Nut $ 8.00 Spring Canyon Egg $10.00 Spring Canyon Lump $11.00 Mutual Lump to Non-stockholders $10.00 Also Alfalfa Seed, per lb... $ .20

THE MARKETS
WHEAT MARKET ADVANCES

Reported Sale of 1,000,000 Bushels for Export to Europe, with Bullish Reports on Seeding Spring Upland

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—With nearly 1,000,000 bushels estimated as having been bought for shipment to Europe and with bullish reports current as to the seeding outlook northwest, the wheat market today took something of an upturn in price. The close was unsettled, 1-4 to 3-4 net higher, May 1.23-1/2 to 1.25, and July 1.22-1/2 to 1.23-1/2. Corn finished 1-8 to 3-4 lower, oats down 1-8 to 3-4 to 1-2, and provisions off 2 to 5 cents.

At first wheat prices showed a downward tendency owing to rains which kept in progress today, but something of an upturn in price was noted. The fact that the balance of spring wheat is not yet sown, and that European purchases included considerable quantities of winter wheat, tended to temporarily weaken the market. However, indications, however, that export demand had improved and that European purchases included considerable quantities of winter wheat, tended to temporarily weaken the market.

According to one authority many Dakota farmers who intended to sow wheat are instead sowing flax and barley, eliminating wheat from the crop. This course, he reported, was especially being followed in South Dakota and southern North Dakota, and was said to be the cause of the increased danger of wheat being damaged by black rust. Under such circumstances early decline in prices would be to be expected, and the market closed at fractional gains.

Speculative selling weakened the corn market, and indifferently had a bearish effect on oats. Provisions went lower in line with hog values.

MARKET GAINS—STRENGTH

Buying Support Appears When Bears Come Down Industrial and Broad Leaders and Early Losses Modified Day's total sales 611,300 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 10.10; net loss, 28. High, 1923, 103.38; low 98.40. Twenty railroads averaged 8.75; net loss, 60. High, 1923, 106.63; low 94.53.

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Speculators for the decline launched another attack on prices at the opening of today's stock market, forcing recessions of 1 to 4 points in a number of industrial and railroad leaders, but good buying support made its appearance at the lower levels and a number of the early losses were modified or entirely canceled.

There were no outside developments to influence a resumption of selling pressure, which was merely a continuation of that inspired by a number of unfavorable developments yesterday. Extensive short covering operations set in after the first hour and gave added impetus to the moderate rally in the closing dealings.

Speculative interest was again attracted to the sugar shares on Himsley's revised estimate, placing the Cuban crop at 3,750,000 tons as against an earlier estimate of 4,025,000. Cuban Sugar preferred closed 2 points higher at 62, after having touched 62 1/2, and American and Cuban-American registered net gains of 1 and 1 1/2, respectively.

Fan-American oil issues were strong on Mr. Bohann's announcement of the proposed divestment yesterday. The naval reserve oil lands, the A stock, closing 2 1/2 cents higher at 71.34 after having touched 75.5 and 8, and the B stock, showing a net gain of 1.34.

The other oil lands within narrow and irregular limits. Steel shares had a temporary sinking spell. United States Steel common getting as low as 104.38, but rallying later to 105.18, off 1.00. Crucible's closed a point lower and most of the others showed fractional concessions on the day.

Some of the other outstanding heavy issues in the industrial list were American Locomotive, American Smelter, General American Tank Car, Manhattan Electrical Supply, Matthews

EFFECT FINAL PLANS ON BIG ROAD PROJECT

Money Toward Surfacing State Highway Made Available by Day's Conference of the District Boards

The way for the immediate construction of a highway project that is regarded as one of tremendous value to Twin Falls and surrounding district was opened Saturday when a final settlement between the Twin Falls and Murrumbidgee districts was reached and funds made available toward the grading of the state highway from Murrumbidgee eastward beyond the Cassin county line.

As a result of the settlement warrants in the sum of $30,000 will be received by the Twin Falls district on a basis which to begin negotiations toward the completion of the project which is to be accomplished in cooperation with the highway district and the government. The cost of the project is based on the preliminary estimate of $110,000. The proportionate expense falling on the Twin Falls district is estimated at $6500, the greater part of the highway to be graded being in the Murrumbidgee and Barley districts.

The Barley district has assured its cooperation in the matter and has set aside funds to meet its share of the cost.

Government money is now available for this purpose and it is not expected that any difficulty will be met in closing negotiations, which are regarded as a matter of detail, to secure the appropriation of the government's share of the expense. The road estimates and surveys have already been completed and bids will be let as soon as the contract can be drawn up and arrangements made with the government.

The project was gone over thoroughly Saturday when conferences were held at the Perrine hotel and at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce rooms between the highway district and the district boards of the chamber of commerce, H. W. Gregory and A. N. Ashline of the state highway department, and local business men.

The completion of the project means that the Old Oregon Trail will have a continuously hard surface across the state of Idaho and that the inducement to tourists to travel through Twin Falls this summer will be greatly increased. The plan has been for a long time one of the principal goals of the bureau of highways, and the completion of final negotiations represents realization from a considerable amount of time and effort of the road body.

Start Drive to Aid Soldier Grave Fund

Seek Cash for Permanent Income Investment to Decorate Cemeteries in France

The campaign on behalf of the American Legion graves endowment fund is under way here and financial contributions will be forwarded through the Twin Falls Legion post to headquarters where they will be added to others and placed in the fund from which interest will be used to decorate the graves of American soldiers in the war cemeteries in France.

The drive for funds is being made to cover the entire United States and the quota for the entire country has been set at $100,000. This amount will be invested permanently and the income used to provide decorations to be placed each Decoration Day on the graves of 32,000 American soldiers and sailors "over there."

VOTERS REGISTERED FOR SECOND CITY ELECTION

The closing hours for registration Saturday witnesses a considerable increase in the number who applied at the office of J. L. Mee, city clerk, to sign the books in order to vote in the election for city commission Tuesday.

Registration books closed at 9 o'clock Saturday night. A number of new voters have registered during the week while others registered who failed to do so before the last election or who were not eligible at that time.

The voting Tuesday will take place at the same location as at the election April 3. Voters at the first ward will cast their ballots at the city clerk's office, and those of the second ward at the Lavering. Polls will open at 9 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Will Present Scout Pageant in August

Noted Authority on Indian Loro Will Be Here in Summer, Local Officials Say

H. C. Hubbard, noted expert on Indian lore, here arranged to be in Twin Falls in August to attend the annual meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, according to telegraphic information received from him by local Boy Scout officials, who stated the Boy Scout Indian pageant will probably be held at that time.

The pageant will take two or three hours for presentation and the tentative plan was to stage the event on several consecutive evenings late in August as the opening event of fall work in the Scout organizations. Mr. Hubbard will spend about two weeks in training the local Scouts for the big event.

Members of the Scout council have also been informed that J. A. Warner of Spokane, district Scout executive, has accepted the invitation to be here during Boy Scout week, May 3 to 6. The final details of the Scout week will be arranged at the council meeting Sunday afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms. Representatives of the Twentieth Century club and other local organizations assisting in the project, which will be preceded by a meeting of the court of honor.

Stage Stars Will Visit Homes Here

George Meigs and Dick Cameron, Leading Acrobats, Arrive Next Week

Two Twin Falls boys, Dick Cameron and George Meigs, will return to "the old home town" next Wednesday for a brief visit after nine years' experience in vaudeville, which has placed them in a leading position among acrobatic entertainers.

Arriving under the name of the Bates Brothers, the two young men have been playing the Orpheum circuit on which they were started through the efforts of A. B. Anderson of the Orpheum the other here.

They were scheduled to present their act at Salt Lake this week, but the closing of the circuit there gave them an opportunity for a short trip to Twin Falls. Mr. Cameron will visit his mother, Mrs. Ella Cameron, and Mr. Meigs will visit his uncle C. O. Meigs.

The January issue of Vanity Fair contains a full page of photographs of the two and a short but highly complimentary comment on them.

And Now—

SEDAN TIRES

for closed and open cars

Closed cars are harder on your tires than open cars. They are differently weighted and throw a different strain on the tires. Brunswick Sedan Tires are the first to meet this new strain. They are perfectly balanced to protect against the stress of top-weighted closed cars. As they are made to give greater mileage on closed cars they naturally give much greater mileage on open cars. And Brunswick Sedan Tires are Friction-Proofed by Brunswick's exclusive process, to combat "road-burn." Come in and let us explain why Brunswick's deliver more mileage.

BAND OUT FOR WILLARD

Yonkers Accords Enthusiastic Welcome to Former Heavyweight Champion, Preparing Conquest

YONKERS, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—A delegation of citizens, headed by Mayor Tausig and a brass band today met Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, when he arrived from Excelsior Springs, Mo., to begin final training for his match with Floyd Johnson May 12 at the Yonkers stadium. The former heavyweight champion was two pounds over the weight he scaled when he won the title from Jack Johnson at Havana in 1915. He weighed 250 when he lost the championship to Dempsey in Toledo in 1919.

Willard, who looked to be in excellent condition, boxed seven rounds with a sparring partner, shadow boxed two more and tossed a medicine ball around during his workout.
