

TROUBLE RISES FROM DECISION ON DRY RULING

New Cause for International Disagreement is Seen in Prohibition Deadline Drawn by Court about 3-Mile Limit

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Announcement that the government in 30 days will begin to "vigorously" enforce the law as interpreted by the supreme court to prohibit American and foreign ships from carrying liquor within the three-mile limit was made tonight by Attorney General Daugherty.

Explaining that the supreme court mandate would become effective in 30 days, Mr. Daugherty in a formal statement, in which he discussed yesterday's decision at considerable length, declared that "every agency at my command will be used to enforce the law without favor, partiality or discrimination."

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The liquor problem again became the paramount concern of the federal government today as a result of the decision of the supreme court drawing a prohibition deadline around the territory and territorial waters of the United States.

On the one side officials turned their attention searching to the question of what to do in the face of the court's ruling that outside the three-mile deadline American ships can become under the present law, as well as they desire.

On the other hand, there arose a new cause for international disagreement over the edict of the court that no foreign ship can bring liquor inside the three-mile limit, despite the fact that some foreign nations require their vessels by law to have liquor aboard and to serve it to their crews whenever they may be.

Administration in Quandary.

Over these two features of the situation President Harding and his cabinet put their heads together while officials of other interested agencies of the government were at work on lesser phases of prohibition enforcement.

There were many indications today that developments involving every phase of the situation were in the immediate offing.

At the White House Chairman Laker of the shipping board, conferred with the president and indicated afterward that the policy of the chief executive toward carrying liquor serving on its vessels outside the prohibition deadline would be set forth shortly in a public statement. His observation led, too, to the impression that the shipping board fleet probably would stay dry as a matter of policy.

Treasury Works on Rules.

The treasury department, which is responsible for administration of the Volstead act, began likewise the preparation of a statement which will lay down the principles on which the decision of the highest court will be applied to shipping at American port on arrival and departure.

Attorney General Daugherty, whose celebrated "bone dry" opinion was partly upheld and partly overthrown by the court, studied the text of the decision and prepared a statement holding that the real effect was to strengthen the position taken by him in favor of drastic enforcement.

Among the foreign diplomats, and at the state department, there were evidences that a prolonged and perhaps delicate international exchange of views was in the making. Both the French and Italian governments require their ships flying their flags to provide wine to the crews as a part of the regular ration.

Intimations that the administration might ask congress to amend the law so as to exclude foreign ships in American ports from the sweeping prohibition laid down by the supreme court aroused an immediate protest from the dry battalions in the senate and house.

Present Situation Worries.

The more immediate consideration of the administration, however, relates to the course to be followed between now and the time when the next term, December, it is expected that the statement under preparation by Secretary Mellon at the treasury, will set forth in some detail the enforcement plans that are to go into effect as soon as the supreme court hands down its edict to the lower court in New York where the cases decided yesterday originated.

It is evident that the treasury regards the question of stoppage of foreign ships at the three-mile limit if they have liquor aboard as a most intricate phase of the situation.

HEAD OF KRUPP WORKS IS GIVEN BERTH IN JAIL

French Lay Hands on Industrial Leaders on Charges in Connection With Riot in Which Germans Were Killed

ESSEN, May 1 (AP)—In the jail at Werden, not far from the Villa Hugel, the home of the famous Krupp family, Dr. Gustav Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach, president of the Krupp works, tonight is a prisoner of the French occupation authorities. He was taken into custody today by the French on charges brought against him in connection with the riot at the Krupp plant here March 31, when 14 Germans were killed and a large number wounded by the French troops.

Dr. Von Bohlen has as companions in the jail three directors and Herr Hartwig, who have been incarcerated since they were arrested on Easter morning, the day after the shooting. Von Bohlen and his associates are charged not only with violation of the 23, conviction under which will entail terms of imprisonment from 10 years to life and the possibility of a death sentence, but also are accused of 100,000 marks, but also are accused of violation of the first decree General Depuissieux issued when he entered the Ruhr, regarding the maintenance of order. This latter decree provides for imprisonment up to five years and a fine of 10,000 marks.

Trial Is Arranged.

Colonel Payronel, commander of the artillery of the 77th French division, will preside over the court martial which is to try the prisoners. Captain Duvert has been appointed chief prosecutor, while counsel for the defense will include Dr. Grimm, the German attorney who defended Fritz Thyssen, the industrialist, at the Mayence court martial; M. Moriaud, a Swiss lawyer, and Dr. Wolff, of Berlin. The French authorities have announced that the trial will begin at 10 o'clock Friday morning and that the case will be ended and sentence imposed by Friday night.

In the Villa Hugel are living at present Frau Bertha von Bohlen, wife of Dr. Von Bohlen, and her mother, who is the widow of Frederick Krupp, founder of the famous works which bear his name.

Noters Seize Street Cars

No sooner had the police cleared the street than there came a hurly call from a spot a few hundred yards away from the center of the battle, where the fleeing demonstrators had captured several street cars. The crowd compelled the passengers to alight and then broke all the car windows, tore up the iron grill work from around the park trees and used the cars for target practice with missiles. A fresh running fight ensued, but the disturbing elements were quickly routed.

Notable for Orderliness

The observance of May day throughout Paris was notable for its comparatively calm and orderliness. Notwithstanding the excitement of the strikers for a workers' holiday and a demonstration against capitalism, a vast majority of the French proletariat remained at work and most of those who took the day off apparently did so in a spring time holiday spirit.

SHOOTING FOLLOWS PARADE

JERONAS AIRS, May 1.—(AP)—The conclusion of a syndicalist May day procession in the city of Paris with considerable shooting. A group of 1,000 anarchists joined the demonstrators, who declined to obey orders of the police to disperse. The police took strong measures, although there were no casualties, they succeeded in quickly re-establishing order.

DEMONSTRATION FALLS FLAT

TOKIO, May 1.—(AP)—The radicals today attempted their greatest labor day demonstration in the cities of Japan. In Tokio the program fell flat as the police outnumbered the demonstrators. The latter marched from Shiba park across the city to the park, where they arrived as a fugitive they were little inclined to continue with their original plans. The police quickly halted efforts made to cause trouble. There were 400 arrests, including Koreans and socialists.

DANGER IN REMOVING MOLE

No Matter What Process Is Employed, Operation Is Likely to Have Grave Results.

Birthmarks are due to an overgrowth of the blood vessels of one spot in the skin. There are two kinds, the mole and the fat. The mole is the one to be feared. The mole is a reddish raised spot, appearing in the forehead or between the eyes of a new baby. There are several treatments for this, of which the best is removal. It should be removed soon after the appearance, as it leaves practically no scar while the child is still young.

Artistic Masterpieces.

The "Last Judgment" is a superb fresco painting by Michelangelo (1475-1564), on the wall opposite the entrance to the Sistine chapel in the Vatican at Rome. It is 90 feet high and 30 feet wide, and was completed in 1541, after a labor of eight years. The painting contains nearly 800 figures, and presents "a confused mass of naked bodies in the most violent attitudes and most admired disorder, and excels chiefly in energy of expression." The "Last Judgment" has been much injured by dampness, but more especially by the smoke from the incense and altar candles.

HAZELTON, May 1.—(Special to The News)—Hazleton's high school baseball team evaded the score with the Jerome ball losers here this afternoon, winning a hard fought game, 6 to 4. Clyde Lindsay, on the mound for Hazleton, had the hard hitting Jerome team completely at his mercy, allowing but three hits during the contest, and shutting the visitors out until the ninth inning when he called up and Jerome scored its four tallies. Lawrence, doing slab duty for Jerome, pitched a nice work, pitching an airtight ball for four innings. In the fifth he was nicked for four runs, which came as the result of timely hits and costly errors. Hazleton scored two more in the seventh. Lee, who relieved Lawrence in the seventh, pitched brilliant ball, holding the locals down.

WOMEN CONTENT. (Continued From Page One) I was unconscious. I knew nothing of what was being done.

"When no one would tell me of the whereabouts of my little girl, I went out of my mind. For two months I wandered about Illinois and Iowa, finally coming to my senses at Clinton, Iowa. Again I asked my sister and she told me the infant had been given to a nurse named Mrs. H. M. A. society. The society refused to tell me who had taken the baby.

"I went personally to the aid agency in the hope that I might find out if the baby was dead as I had been told. They told me the baby was alive, but they would not tell me where she was. Finally, in November, 1921, I found the record of the adoption of Beatrice Chalk in the Cook county records. I wrote to James Nuttall, Zion (Ill.) and he told me the baby was in Wanakena.

"Did you ever consent to the taking away of the child?" Judge David. "I would never have let her get away from me if I knew."

Chicago, David criticized the methods of the founding institution which permitted the adoption of the child without the formal consent of the mother and indicated that he would render his decision tomorrow.

Prickett of Salt Lake, representing the national wool growers' association, also questioned witnesses during the cross examination. Gives Maze of Figures. L. E. Witting, manager of the statistical bureau, western lines, at Chicago, spoke on production work, rate conditions, and statistics, presenting a maze of figures by way of exhibits. The exhibits contained figures and statistics on rates and wool production in various states. J. M. Wilson, president of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association, expressed confidence that an early settlement of the rate question would be reached. His testimony was a defense of the railroad, which he said had "saved" the wool industry in Wyoming. The Wyoming representative is expected to resume the stand when the hearing is continued tomorrow.
