FOOTBALL STAR HELD PRISONER IN MOUNT CASE

Charles Palmer is Held, Despite His Denials, in Connection with Disappearance of Northwestern Student

CHICAGO, May 17, (AP)—Charles Palmer, star football player and senior student at Northwestern university, was held in custody to-night in connection with a disappearance in September, 1921, of Leighton Mount, former student, despite denials by Palmer that he knows anything about the case.

Palmer was taken into custody after Mrs. Violet Bachman, a former friend of his, had told assistant state attorneys that Palmer told her shortly after Mount's disappearance that Mount was safe and that he knew where he was and that he later told her he could not talk about the case.

Fitch Hears Questioning Palmer denied Mrs. Bachman's statements although admitted that he knew Mrs. Bachman, then Miss Violet Lawson, in 1921. Also present at the questioning of Palmer and Mrs. Bachman was Hecate Quigley Fitch, student who a few days ago said he knew "all about the Mount case," but later he asserted he thought inquirers were talking about Fitch, another student, killed in an automobile accident a few weeks ago.

Palmer tonight was taken to a cell in a police station.

Mrs. Bachman was said to have divulged the information she says she possessed through her husband, R. G. Bachman, a salesman, to whom she told it, and who notified the state's attorneys.

Makes Sweeping Denial Palmer told John Scarslan, assistant state's attorney, that he had been with the then Miss Lawson on but two occasions. He said he did not discuss the Mount case with her because he was not knowing anything about it.

Palmer admitted, according to investigators, that he had participated in the chess race the night Mount vanished, but insisted that because he was a football training he went to his rooms about 1 o'clock in the morning. He said that he had roomed with J. Allen Mills, of Akron, Ohio, a former student, who was brought here for questioning.

Fight for Evidence. Intimating that further information was expected from Palmer, Offices Wharton, assistant state's attorney, tonight said: "This is the first real evidence we have been able to dig up in this case. We had to fight for that."

Palmer complained to newspaper reporters of his treatment at the hands of authorities. He said he had been taken from the fraternity house, put in a police cell and held there all night throughout the day. Palmer is one of the best athletes developed at Northwestern for many years.

Signs as Ball Player. It was a star back on the 1922 football team and it was his for more than 100 yards that tied the Northwestern-Minnesota score last fall. He captained last year's basketball team and won a name for himself on the football team and in track work. He has signed with the Milwaukee club of the American association after his finish school.

Humors and anonymous messages that Mount is alive continued to come to the state's attorney's office today but were given little consideration.

COURT TAKES UP T. W. W. CASES

Arraignment of More Than 500 Men Take in Roundup Begins in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, May 17 (AP)—Arraignment of more than 500 alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World, recently arrested at Los Angeles harbor, where longshoremen went on strike April 25, was begun in police court today. About 100 men were arraigned and 50 asked for jury trials. Bail in each case was set at $100, but none provided. More arraignments will be held tomorrow.

Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks announced threatening letters had been received by him and a number of private citizens, presumably because of police order against public meetings in the harbor district, and that he had ordered officers to guard the homes of the recipients.

Eugene Mills, president of the Shipwreckers' Association of the Pacific, would never employ another man who had I. W. W. affiliations. He said normal conditions prevailed at the harbor today.

REVIVES RIVAL MARKETS BODY

Plans for Rehabilitation of National Wheat Growers Association are Announced

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 17 (AP)—Plans to revive the National Wheat Growers' association as a marketing organization of wheat growers in the United States were announced today by the National Wheat Growers' Association, which will be established at Kansas City, Minneapolis and Duluth.

NORTHWEST NOT AFFECTED. SPOKANE, May 17 (AP)—Announcement of revival of the National Wheat Growers' association as a selling agency will not affect plans for the organization of the American Wheat Growers' Association, it was predicted here today by Walter J. Robinson, manager of the Washington and Idaho Wheat Growers' association. Robinson declared the National Wheat Growers never had marketed any grain.

At a meeting here last month wheat growers of the four northwestern states affiliated with the Northwest Wheat Growers Association, voted to join the American Wheat Growers, Robinson said.

George C. Jewett, manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers, has been selected almost unanimously by 12 state organizations of wheat growers as the general manager of the American Wheat Growers, Robinson said.

Puts Age of Santa Barbara Indians at Five Centuries

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., May 17 (AP)—The Indians whose remains have been found in the Burton mound excavations in this city probably were an ancient race whose Columbus discovered according to J. B. Harrington of the Smithsonian institute, who is superintending the work. "We know positively that the skeletons already found close to the surface in our excavations were buried long before the Spaniards came to California," said Harrington. "The most recent remains certainly have been lying here for not less than five centuries."

"In none of the graves opened is there any evidence of contact between the natives and the Spaniards of the Mission period. I confidently believe that the discoveries here will carry us back into remote antiquity."

TWENTY TO 40 PERSONS KILLED IN SCHOOL FIRE

Audience Stampedes When Lamp Overturning on Stage at Entertainment Fills Second-Story Hall with Flames

CAMDEN, N. C., May 18, (AP)—At least thirty persons were said to have burned to death or killed in a fire which destroyed the school house at Cleveland, eight miles south of here, last night while an entertainment was being held on the second floor of the frame building.

This estimate of the fatalities was made by five victims of the catastrophe brought to a local hospital for treatment of burns and broken limbs.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 18, (AP)—Reports received early today that the Cleveland tragedy and forty persons were either burned to death or killed in jumping from the second story of the Cleveland school house, eight miles south of Camden, S. C., shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The fire is reported to have started from the overturning of a lamp on the stage of the school house where an entertainment was being held.

The report was received here from a telephone operator at Cleveland who could give no details of the reported tragedy or any close estimate of the deaths or injuries.

Five victims of the fire have been carried to the hospital at Camden for treatment, according to the message, four of them adults and one child. Three were said to be suffering from broken limbs and two from burns. The injured told a story of raging flames and a mad rush for a narrow stairway in which many were crushed to death, the report said.

ADAMS IS NAMED SENATOR

Pueblo Attorney and Son of Former Governor is Chosen to Succeed Late Senator Nicholson

DENVER, May 17 (AP)—A senatorial battle for the slot of the late member of a family noted in Colorado for its representation in public life, when Governor William E. Sweet today appointed Alva Adams, Pueblo attorney and son of former Governor Conrad Adams, to succeed the late United States Senator Samuel B. Nicholson, who died in March.

Mr. Adams, who until recently was considered as a more conservative democrat than Governor Sweet might decide, issued a statement following his appointment in which he outlined his views on political questions and in which he partly agreed with some of the views of progressive democrats of Colorado.

Late today he returned to Pueblo, where a reception in his honor is being planned for tomorrow night.

California Indians Resurrect Strenuous Dance of Forebears

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 17 (AP)—The northern California Indians, reviving a stentorian religious ceremony of 25 years ago, late yesterday completed performance of the hill-dance near Willows, in Colusa county. The dance was learned here today.

The dance began Tuesday and while it broke no ordinary record, it was reported to have been even more strenuous than some of the record-breaking marathons. Approximately 300 Indians participated in the performance, which among them is considered a rare means of reaching the "happy hunting grounds."

Features of the dance were the colorful attire of the dancers, their wailing and their frantic gestures. The dance continued without rest for 48 hours. It was led by a white dancer, a hundreds of white persons attended.

American Minister Tells China to Free Captives or Meet "Drastic Action"

Dr. Schurman Uses Plain Terms in Ultimatum Demanding Immediate Release of Brigands' Prisoners

TSAOCHWANG, Province of Shantung, China, May 18 (AP)—Get the foreign captives out of the grip of the Buchow bandits and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be "drastic action," was the ultimatum laid down to Chinese government officials late yesterday by Dr. Jacob S. Schurman, American minister to China.

The American diplomat, who stepped off here on his way from Shanghai to Peking, told the Chinese officials congregated here to negotiate with the bandits, that unless the foreign prisoners were released immediately serious international complications would result. Dr. Schurman said:

"Get these delays and confusion between various departments of the government. Get the captives out and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be drastic action taken."

Relations Strained. Relations between the Chinese government and the representatives of foreign countries is described on all hands as "strained," as a result of the bandit situation.

Dr. Schurman kept in constant cable communication with Washington during his stay in Shanghai and sent and received numerous messages.

Captives in Distress. J. B. Powell and other captives have not word from their mountain prison that all the prisoners are being taken to feel the effects of some air raid insufficient and "unaccountable" food. Others, forced to make no more than a bare place with their feet unshod, are suffering from the rocky trail from the scene of the holding near Szechow, are suffering intensely.

CHINA SENDS EMISSARIES

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Representatives of the Chinese government will leave Peking immediately to begin negotiations with the Szechow brigand leaders for the release of the Chinese foreigners, according to advices to the state department from Peking today.

A message from Minister Schurman, who said in informal talks with Consul John K. Davis and Major John Lynch, assistant military attaché at Peking, that the terms of the bandits' bid for their freedom was not from $200,000 to $300,000.

They were understood, however, to include raising of the siege of Panzhuo and restoration of all the bandits to the Chinese army, the necessary $200,000 cash ransom had been demanded. It was indicated in the message.

Puts Blame on Foreigners. Blame for the failure of the Chinese government to know the exact terms of the bandits proposed was placed on the Chinese army, the minister said. The minister of communications, according to the dispatch.

Minister Schurman pointed out that the Chinese government would "undoubtedly do everything possible to shift the blame on the foreigners for everything that goes wrong," and added that for the time being the diplomatic corps had consented to refrain from participating in negotiations with the bandits or otherwise affording the Chinese government an excuse to shrink or shift its own obvious responsibility.

BUILDERS' WAGE DEMAND DENIED

New York Employers Refuse to Grant Blanket Pay Increase of $1.00 a Day

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Demands of the building trades council, which claims 20,000 members for a blanket increase of $1 a day and a collective agreement for a year, were refused at a conference today by the executive committee of the Building Trades Union, which said the refusal will result in a general strike effective June 1, Thomas B. Clarke, president of the council, declared.

Clarke asserted that 62 out of the 77 union trades affiliated with the council had previously voted to strike on June 1 if their demands for the wage increase were refused.

Discount Strike Threat. Employers, in refusing the demands had insisted a strike was not likely and asserted that their offer of a bonus system would be acceptable to the majority of the locals connected with the council.

Stoppage of the building construction, as recommended at a general conference of heads of various phases of the building industry of the National Association of Manufacturers, was condemned as a menace to the nation's prosperity by Noel Sargent, manager of the open shop department of the National Association of Manufacturers. The move, he said, would cause a depressing effect among manufacturing industries engaged in furnishing supplies for construction.

Mother's Problem Overtaxes Court's Powers to Assist

Loss of Children's Affection Cannot be Remedied by Order, Woman is Told

LOS ANGELES, May 17, (AP)—Mrs. Bertha Sheehan asked the law to make her children live with her, but was told the superior court "could not manufacture affection."

Eight months ago, Mrs. Sheehan, 38, and John 17, who, after domestic difficulties left their mother and made a home for themselves in an apartment house, separated themselves before Judge Edwin F. Hahn, in the juvenile court, while Mrs. Sheehan stood alone, eyeing them hungrily.

When John joined his brother and sister in the mother's home, "could stand it no longer," and so appealed to the court to send them all home.

"Have you ever stopped to think there might be some fault on your side?" the court asked.

"Judge," replied the mother, "I am a good woman. There is nothing wrong with my character. I can prove it to you."

"You can't understand my question," the court said. "It is the task of every parent to keep the love and affection of his children. You are responsible for the children's living you. You cannot catch flies with vinegar. You must give affection to gain affection. I can order your children to support you, but it is up to you to catch them here today and live with you. I cannot manufacture affection here."

Missionaries See American Girls on Way Back to Jungle

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—American girls of the west are going back to jungle standards so fast that missionaries returned from Africa are horrified to see the change that has come about in the Christian and Missionary Alliance conference, declared in an address at the conference meeting which opened here today and is being attended by foreign missionaries from all parts of the world.

Missionaries returning to this country find that the change that has come about in girls from 12 to 15 years old, Dr. Rader said, adding:

"I am approaching the jungle standard. Little black girls under the tropical sun mature early and little American girls are maturing too quickly under the influence of jazz and speed."

The next generation will see old women in their twenties, he declared, unless the tendency is halted. The conference is seeking 1000 missionaries for work in Africa.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY AROUSED FOR RUSSIANS

Fear That Action May Be Taken Against Soviets Without Parliament's Consent Voiced by Opposition Leader

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—Discussion arose in the house of commons today between the government spokesman and the laborites as to the actual significance of the lengthy meeting between Foreign Secretary Curzon and M. Krasin, the soviet commissioner for foreign trade, the laborites made evident their fear that during recess the government might take some step against Russia without parliamentary consent.

Referring to the debate the under-secretary for foreign affairs, Ronald McNeil, contended that the British ultimatum to Moscow still stood, and that, had been done was to give time to Krasin in which to communicate with his government. J. Ramsay MacDonald, laborite leader and leader of this majority's opposition, indicated that the laborites intended to debate a motion implying that the ultimatum was held in abeyance, which he took to intimate that no further note would be received from the soviet until it was in the form of an acceptance of the British demands.

Supports McNeil's Views. Appeal was made finally to Stanley Baldwin as leader of the house and acting premier.

Mr. Baldwin supported Mr. McNeil's views, and said that, should it become known that no agreement was possible with the laborites, the government would not be tied in its action by the fact that parliament was not sitting.

At the same time he was hopeful of a favorable result from the government presented by Mr. MacDonald admitted that this did not necessarily mean acceptance of the British ultimatum; word for word or not, but general satisfaction of the British demands.

PROCEEDINGS HELD SECRET

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—Leonid Krasin, Russian soviet minister for foreign trade, had a two hour conference with Marquis Curzon at the foreign office today concerning the recent exchange of notes by the two governments.

Both sides agreed to reveal nothing publicly regarding the nature of the discussion and its content from the extreme secrecy observed in the other governmental departments that Lord Curzon is determined nothing shall be announced regarding the whole question until the conversations are concluded. The Russian trade delegation was equally uncommunicative. It is understood, however, that the Russian relations with Russia-Britain relations was reviewed in the light of the allegation contained in Great Britain's recent ultimatum to Moscow.

Demands Full Compliance

The British foreign secretary extended the time limit given in the original ultimatum to enable M. Krasin to communicate with Moscow, but at the same time he indicated that he made clear to Krasin that nothing short of full compliance with all the British demands would be acceptable.

As soon as Krasin has communicated Lord Curzon's views to the soviet government and received reply, he will have another conference with the foreign secretary. It is understood that in foreign quarters that the conference with Krasin, who possesses necessary powers, will result in an amicable solution.

WISHARD NAMED MODERATOR BY PRESBYTERIANS

President of Wooster College is Chosen Over W. J. Bryan by General Assembly on the Third Ballot

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17 (AP)—Dr. Charles E. Wishard, president of Wooster college, Ohio, today was elected moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, defeating William Jennings Bryan on the third ballot.

The commoner had led a field of four on the first ballot and of three on the second when he received 18 votes of election; but after all other candidates had withdrawn, Dr. Wishard forged ahead, winning by 451 to 427, with 429 votes needed for 470,000 out of the total.

Friends of Dr. Wishard based their campaign on the claim that an ordained minister was needed to direct the highly spiritual work of the church and on Mr. Bryan's views on the theory of evolution, holding that his position as a leader of the fundamentalists would not be conducive to unity.

Bryan is Reticent. The three times democratic nominee for president declined to discuss his dissent. He attacked himself at a banquet during the two-hour fight.

Dr. Calvin C. Hayes, the retiring moderator, opened the 15th assembly of the church by making a reference to the annual sermon, after the delegates had partaken of communion. Approximately 900 are in attendance.

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, and former republican national committee chairman, launched a campaign tonight for $100,000 out of the $200,000 fund for aged ministers in an address before the first "popular meeting" of the assembly.

Mr. Hays, an elder of the church at Sullivan, Ind., attending the assembly as a member of the Indiana delegation. He compared the pay of Presbyterian ministers to many classes of common labor and showed the average salary of a pastor of the church is less than that of an alien ditch digger.

Committees Named. Following the election of Dr. Wishard, standing and special committees were appointed and the assembly adjourned until tomorrow.

The actual business will open tomorrow, part of the morning session to be devoted to the centennial jubilee of Presbyterianism in Indianapolis. The Rev. Louis S. Mathews, stated clerk, will report tomorrow afternoon on the referendum vote on overtures set down to the presbyteries by the general assembly at New Orleans last year and also present the annual necrology showing the death of 187 ministers during the year.

LAST AMERICAN CONSUL QUILTS SOVIET TERRITORY. WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The state department was advised today that American Consul Tuck at Vladivostok and other consuls in the Russian Far East have been notified to quit their posts by the expiration of their visas.

The consul and his assistants will drop out of the requirements of the soviet officials applying generally to foreign consuls at Vladivostok and which were found impossible of acceptance on the part of the United States.

HARDINGS AT HORSE SHOW. WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—President and Mrs. Harding, both admirers of fine horses, today attended the annual spring meeting of the National Capital Horse show. Mr. Harding personally presented "The President's Cup" to the winner in the hunter's class.

Returning from the show, President and Mrs. Harding passed former President and Mrs. Wilson who were out for their afternoon ride. The cars however had passed before either party recognized the other.

BIRGHAM YOUNG HOUSE TO FALL. SALT LAKE, May 17 (AP)—A quaint old farm house on outskirts of the town, built in 1861 by the Mormon leader, Brigham Young, is to be torn down. It was on this farm that the first sugar beets were grown in Utah, which industry later became one of the most important in the history of the state.

Lumbago. This is a rheumatism in the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected.

Mrs. F. J. Dean, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."—adv.

CALDWELL LOSES TO TWIN FALLS IN TITLE TILT

Bruins Win State Interscholastic Championship with 10 to 4 Victory in Crucial Game of Series.

Twin Falls high school baseball team won the state interscholastic baseball championship Thursday afternoon at Lincoln field when it won a hard fought game from Caldwell 10 to 4, making it two in a row of the three-game series.

men fell victims of Hodgins' hook ball, and the scoring for the visitors' first attempt was over.

Home Team Scores Two.
The second inning closed in two minutes for the home team and the score was tied. Nye opened up with a hot shot to right. Hodgins singled to left, moving Nye to second. Hodgins took too big a lead and was tipped. Smith to Lowell. Selek fanned, and then Cron walked, his second of the day. On the hit and run, Laval Jarman sent a long double to left field scoring Nye and Cron.

Treat for Billiard Fans
Snook and Logan, Epler and Goldwater Matched for Games with Bailey Drawing Bye

Billiard fans will be treated to some of the best billiards in the city when the final round of the double elimination three cushion billiard tournament at Maudley's billiard parlor goes under way.

In the opening game of the evening, the one and only Snook will take on "Sure Shot" Logan. Snook has won two and lost one, and Logan has won two and lost one, and a defeat will eliminate the one who lives.

Caldwell Fielders Strong.
Fielding features go to the Caldwell lads, who completely outplayed the home team in the field. But one error was chalked against them, that being a poor throw by Kim trying to get Hodgins at first, after he had singled.

Caldwell handed on Jarman with a vengeance in the first frame, Lawson picked one to the corner of center field for a triple. Jarman followed with a two-base hit that Jarman misjudged. Lawson scoring. Kim singled to right, scoring Smith, but O'Leary Oliver called Smith out for cutting him in his stride to score. Lowell singled to left and Kim scored when Jarman let the ball roll to the barn, Lowell trying up at second. This was a real snafu for Coach Evans, and Hodgins was called to the rescue, Laval Jarman going to left in place of Jarman. The next three

FROM THE PLAYERS' BENCH
Well, the Twin Falls team won the second one, but it was lucky to get away.

The dope says that Caldwell made 13 hits and one error, while Twin Falls made 15 hits and 6 errors. There is not enough difference between these figures to warrant a six run difference in the score.

LARGEST CLASS OF GRADUATES GIVEN DIPLOMAS

State Education Commissioner Gives Timely Advice to the Young Men and Women Leaving High School

"Some of you may find your way to the front door of some of the modern colleges or universities, but be sure you do not go to the door too soon after you enter. Make good use of your time in college, the principal thing is education, not pleasure."

With this advice, Dr. Enoch A. Bryan, state commissioner of education, closed his address in the graduating class of the Twin Falls high school at the commencement program at the Orpheum theater Thursday night.

Diplomas were presented to the members of the graduating class by E. S. Peters, vice chairman of the Twin Falls school board, following a brief address by Superintendent M. C. Mitchell. The program was opened by music by the high school orchestra and an invocation by the Rev. W. H. Toller, pastor of the Baptist church, followed by a group of songs by Mrs. C. H. Dugan and the address of Dr. Bryan. The Rev. Mr. Toller closed the program with a benediction.

Speaking of the subject, "The Modern University," Dr. Bryan delivered a most comprehensive and intelligent address in which he traced education from its beginning to the present time and compared ancient institutions of learning with the modern colleges and universities.

College education is of benefit to many, but probably not to all who enter, but the present day school is starting to value to the community, he said. His contrast of the medieval and modern schools was very interesting and he drew forth much amusement in his concept of what the education of an ancient student might be in visiting one of the modern universities. He said:

"Instead of the slow-complexioned students of his time he would find educational institutions where the glow of health was revealed in the faces of the students. He would doubtless be startled in meeting the girl students, to view the display of silk hosiery, the ankles and the size and development of the head, which, if measured by cubic content—not by cubic content, however, would indicate a vast knowledge. He would not understand conversation which included such expressions as 'fruits,' 'sorrel' and 'dates.'"

"But when he became better acquainted with the modern educational institution he would be not deceived with its surface life. That life is not the ideal of college and the appearance is deceiving."

Dr. Bryan in the latter part of his address, outlined the changes that have taken place in colleges, pointing out among other things the difference in entrance requirements of today as compared to those of years ago. The changes in the method and curricula of higher schools of this country, he said, began immediately after the Civil war. In closing he urged the graduates not to select a college merely for its large enrollment or magnificent buildings.

Honor Students. Students who have attended the Twin Falls high school for at least three years, named in the order of their rank, beginning with the student receiving the highest grade average during their high school course, are:

Una Stafford, Emma Wagner, Berneice Wallford, Elizabeth Ramos, Dorothy Sheldon, Walter Sparks, Alva Della John McMartin, George Wirsching, Margaret Dunlap, Moroni Jameson, Augusta Place, Ruth Youngs, Constance Hill, Harriet O'Neal, Emma Silvers.

Whooping Cough. This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paracetamol, codine or other relief is given, it is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

THE TOWED TEETH

The silly season used to begin along about the Fourth of July, getting into good sea serpent form somewhere in August, and fading away before the serious purpose of getting the children ready for school.

This time the person seeking publicity is Mr. Alfred Hatos, aged fifty-six, who was tamed from New York in Philadelphia by the method of hanging on to one end of a ten-foot tow-line by his teeth.

Mr. Hatos, it is understood, used to do a tooth act on the stage, and his object in undertaking the tooth marathon was to prove himself still fit for a similar job.

If we are in for a long and silly season of silly endurance stunts, this is at least more amusing to the reader than some that have been laid before him.

It is possible, too, that before long some of them will begin to partake of the wholesome contest variety.

BIRDS

One of the most charming gifts of spring is the opportunity it offers for bird study. The student who goes forth armed with opera glasses and bird book will be more than rewarded for his pains.

In most localities the tardy spring has held back both bird migration and foliage, and the chances during the next few weeks will be unusually good for catching the migrants on their journeys or watching the old settlers opening their summer homes.

Few studies offer more interest or amusement. Most birds are beautiful, many are humorists in their unobtrusive way. One variety is as different in its habits from another as one type of human beings differs from the rest. And the varieties to be found even in the most unpromising surroundings are astonishing.

BUSTY FARM MACHINERY

The Broaders' Gazette takes the American farmer to task, editorially, for neglect of his machinery. It states that there is an annual loss in farm implements amounting to six hundred million dollars, caused by rusting tools and machinery carelessly exposed to all weathers.

This is an old criticism. Is it really based on existing facts? With the advent of the automobile and the motor tractor and other modern implements for agricultural work, one suspects that the farmer awake to his own advantage in investing in these things is also keen enough to keep them in good repair.

Even if it has not already arrived there, the efficiency of the modern farmer, with its protection, oiling and repairing of machinery, is likely to invade the farm soon.

WOULD EXTEND HOME MISSIONS.

HELENA, Pa., May 17 (AP)—A plea for a unified financial system and extension of home mission work was made by Dr. R. H. Hutcheson of Pittsburgh, at the opening session of the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the general committee of home missions of the United Presbyterian Church of North America here today.

G. N. PLANS EXTENSION.

HELENA, Mont., May 17 (AP)—The Great Northern railroad in planning construction of about 80 miles of line from Java, on the southern border of Glacier park, which will run east across the summit of the Rocky mountain range to connect at Augusta with a branch line now running west from Great Falls, according to W. P. Kenney, chief president of the Great Northern.

The Light of Western Stars A Romance By Zane Grey. Illustrations by Irwin Myers. Copyright by Harper and Brothers.

The idea was as enthusiastically received by Madeline's guests as it had been by Stillwell. Madeline was pleased to note how seriously they had taken the old gentleman's story.

The June days had set in warm; in fact, hot during the noon hours; and this had incited in her insatiable visitors a tendency to profit by the extra leisure of these used to the Southwest. They indulged in the restful slouts during the heated term of the day.

Madeline was awakened by Majesty's well-known whistle and pouncing on the gravel. Then she heard the other party. When she went out she found her horse assembled in gala golf attire, and with spirits to match their costumes. Castleton, especially, appeared eager to get in a golf coat that beggarly description. Madeline had faint misgivings when she reflected on what Monty and Nels and Nick might do under the influence of that blaring garment.

"Oh, Majesty," cried Helen, as Madeline went up to her horse. "don't make him kneel! Try that flying mount. We all want to see it. It's so stunning."

"But that way, too, I must have him kneel," said Madeline, "or I can't reach the stirrup. He's so tremendously high."

Madeline had to yield to the laughing insistence of her friends, and after all, of them except Florence were up she made Majesty go down on one knee. Then she stood on his left side, facing back, and took a good firm grip on the stirrups and mounted, and his mane, after she had slipped the toe of her boot firmly into the stirrup also called to Majesty. He jumped and swung her up into the saddle.

"Now just to see how it ought to be done watch Florence," said Madeline. "The Western girl was at her best in riding-habit, and with her horse. It was beautiful to see the ease and grace with which she accomplished the cowboy's flying mount. Then she led the party down the slope and across the flat to climb the mesa."

Madeline never saw a group of cowboys without looking them over, almost unconsciously, for her foreman, Gene Stewart. This afternoon, as usual, he was not present. However, she now had a sense of which she was wholly conscious—that she was both disappointed and irritated. He had really not been attentive to her guests, and of all the cowboys, was the one of whom they wanted most to see something.

Stewart, however, immediately slipped out of her mind as she surveyed the group of cowboys on the links. By actual count there were sixteen, not including Stillwell. The cowboys were on dress-parade, looking very different in Madeline's eyes, at least, from the way cowboys usually appeared. Sombrosos with silver buckles and horsehair bands were in evidence; and bright silk scarfs, embroidered vests, fringed and ornamented chaps, huge swinging guns, and shining silver spurs lent a festive appearance.

"Well, you-all kneel over, I see," said Stillwell, taking Madeline's bridle. "Get down—get down. We're sure amazin' glad an' proud, an' Miss Majesty. He offers to beg pardon for the way the boys are packin' guns. Make it snip' polite. But it's Stewart's orders."

"Stewart's orders!" echoed Madeline. Her friends were suddenly silent. "I reckon he won't take no chances on the boys bet'n' surprised sudden by raiders. An' there's raiders operatin' in from the Gundalupes. That's all. Nothin' to worry over. I was just explainin'."

Madeline, with several of her party, expressed relief, but Helen showed excitement and then disappointment. "Oh, I want something to happen!" she cried.

Sixteen pairs of keen cowboy eyes fastened intently upon her pretty, petulant face, and Madeline divined, if Helen did not, that the desired commutation was not far off. "So do I," said Dot Coombs. "It would be perfectly lovely to have a real adventure."

The gaze of the sixteen cow boys shifted and sought the demure face of the only discontented girl. Madeline laughed, and Stillwell made his strange, moving link.

Monty and Link, like two emperors, came stalking across the links. Madeline's friends were hugely amused over the prospective match; but, except for Dorothy and Castleton, these disinterested spectators factored participation. Accordingly, Madeline appointed Castleton to judge the play; Dorothy to act as caddy for Ed Linton, and she herself to be caddy for Ambrose. While Stillwell beamingly announced this momentous news to his team, and supporters Monty and Link were striding up.

Both were diminutive in size, bow-legged, lame in one foot, and altogether unprepossessing. Link was young and Monty's years, more than twice Link's, had left their mark. But it would have been impossible to tell Monty's age. He was burned to the color and hardness of a cinder. He wore dark-flecked, waggling, for all the world like a barbarian chief.

"That Monty makes my flesh creep," said Helen, low-voiced. "Really, Mr. Stillwell, is he so had—desperate—as I've heard? Did he ever kill anybody?"

"Most as many as Nels," replied Stillwell, cheerfully. "Oh! And is that nice Mr. Nels in desperado, too? I wouldn't have thought so. He's so kind and old-fashioned and soft-voiced."

"Nels is sure an example of the docility of men, Miss Helen. Don't you learn to his soft voice. He really is as bad as a side-winder rattlesnake. One of the cowboys came for Castleton and led him away to exploit upon ground rules."

The game began. At first Madeline and Dorothy essayed to direct the endeavors of their respective players. But all they said and did only made their team play the worse. At the third hole they were far behind and hopelessly bewildered.

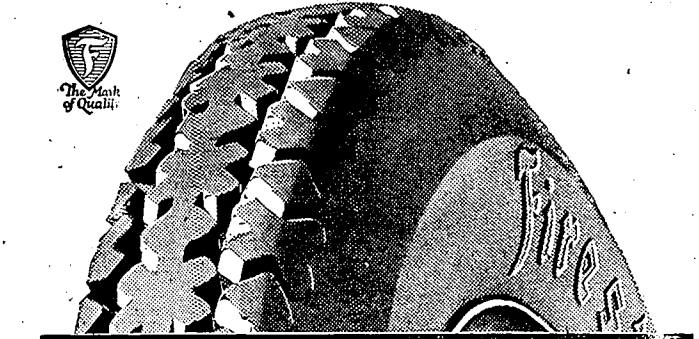

Madeline and her party sat up to watch the finish of the fifth. It came with spectacular suddenness. A sharp yell broke to his soft voice. His eyes turned attentively in the direction of the black horse had surmounted the ridge of the mesa and was just breaking into a run. His rider yelled sharply to the cowboys. They wheeled to dash toward their grazing horses.

"That's Stewart. There is something wrong," said Madeline, in alarm. Castleton started. The other men exclaimed unseeingly. The women sought Madeline's face with anxious eyes. The black got into his stride and bore swiftly down upon them.

Madeline divined her emotions between growing alarm of some danger menacing and a thrill and quickening of pulse-beat that stung over her whenever she saw Stewart in violent action. No action of his was any longer insignificant, but violent action meant so much. It might mean anything. For one moment she remembered

RAILROAD PLAN ENDANGERED BY SLOW RESPONSE

Committee Chairman J. W. Graham Appeals for Immediate Increase in Cash Contributions in Big Drive

With only $18,000 estimated as the amount raised to date in the financial drive on behalf of the Rogerson-Wells railroad, local citizens must respond immediately if this drive is to be a success and the certificate of necessity and right of way purchased, according to the consensus of opinion at the meeting of the railroad committee Thursday night at the Rogerson hotel.

As a result of the conclusions reached at the meeting John W. Graham, chairman, and his assistants will start in Friday morning on an intensive campaign with the view of bringing the drive to successful conclusion in the next few days.

"The railroad committee has collected only $18,000 to date," said Mr. Graham. "We must raise $25,000 in cash by Saturday night. Those who have not contributed must do so if we are to get the railroad south."

"It seems that the people do not fully realize the importance of this acquisition, and do not fully comprehend the danger we are in of not getting the railroad. You must not 'leave it to George' to do it. Come in and make your subscription and feel that you have done your share."

"Those who have heretofore given notes as a bonus for the construction of this railroad south had better get busy, because those notes will not be returned unless this certificate is gotten out of the way, and to purchase this certificate it takes $25,000 in cash, to be raised by Saturday night. Make a donation at once and your note will be returned."

SALMON DIRECTOR BOARD SETS SPECIAL MEETING

Will Consider Water Allotment on Monday Night; Crop Prospects in District Reported Favorable

Matters concerning the Salmon river irrigation district were discussed at a meeting of directors Thursday night at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce rooms, an official action being taken on account of the lack of a quorum. G. M. Hall, chairman, and two other members of the board were present.

The directors adjourned until Monday night when a meeting will be held to consider articles on official matters including the allotment of water and the time for delivering. The first water delivery will probably be made next week.

Crop prospects on the Salmon are very favorable this year and the recent rains have been welcome although the total water supply this year will not be as ample as that of last year or the year before, according to Mr. Hall.

JURY ACQUITS DEFENDANT

Floyd Fowler Found Not Guilty on Statutory Charge. Testimony Begins in E. J. Murray Liquor Case

Floyd Fowler, who was arrested last winter in a rooming house, was found not guilty of a statutory charge in district court Thursday.

Mrs. Billie Elliott, who was arrested with Fowler, and tried on the same charge, was found guilty at the last term of court and fined $100. Attorney Charles N. Nor of Tuleton, Stephens & North, defended Fowler and Mrs. Elliott.

The trial of E. J. Murray on a liquor charge began Thursday afternoon.

PROGRESS MADE ON BIG PROJECT

District Directors Tackle First Steps in the Lengthy Legal Procedure

With the contract between the government and the American Falls irrigation district regarded as satisfactory by both parties concerned the district is awaiting the signature of the secretary of the interior to the contract and the next step in the procedure toward the construction of the big dam will be the application of the $1,000,000 government appropriation toward the purchase of the right of way, according to W. P. Alworth, secretary of the board of directors. Work from the secretary of interior is expected within 10 days.

Mr. Alworth returned Thursday after attending the sessions of the district directors with the reclamation officials from visiting officials were Assistant Secretary of the Interior D. W. Davis, former governor of Idaho, and Director of Reclamation A. P. Davis.

The government appropriation will cover only a part of the total expense in connection with the right of way, the total cost of this part of the big project being estimated at $1,500,000, the remainder of the $9,000,000 estimated to be the cost of purchasing Indian lands for the right of way is estimated at between $500,000 and $750,000.

At present negotiations are begun on the purchase of the lands to be flooded the district will take the first steps in a large amount of legal procedure connected with the bond issue and the bonds will probably not be sold until July 1, Mr. Alworth stated.

Benefit assessment of all land in the district will be one of the first steps, according to the secretary of the board, and the entire procedure must eventually be approved by the state supreme court.

CALDWELL LOSES

which means that the hits were missing when needed.

Laval Jarman will remember the first four Caldwell batters for a long time to come.

Once upon a time a team was lucky to score 11 runs on the Twin Falls team in one inning, and now the team that scored 11 runs says that Twin Falls was lucky to score 7. Oh, huh—

Barclay pitched a far better game than the score indicates, with the exception of the fourth frame.

The Caldwell infield looked good, and their double play in the eighth was a first piece of work.

Hodgin, like Christy Mathewson, lets the bats get a couple of hits or so in an inning and then tightens up. Keen stuff if the tightener is working.

John Nye sure kicked the ole apple, his homer going into another county.

Kim got a wonderful kick out of his homer in the third, and he had it coming.

Caldwell lost a couple of scores by cutting bases. Smith had spiked the platter when called out for missing third, and Lavson lost a two-bagger in the second by missing first.

The prettiest individual play of the day was made by "Joel" Lowell, when he speared Cron's hard drive with one hand in the seventh inning and beat Cron to the bag.

BOISE VALLEY TEAMS IN JANGLE OVER TITLE

Weiser Claims Championship on Basis of Victory Over Caldwell in Scheduled Exhibition Game

According to Boise papers, high school baseball teams of that section are still fighting for the sectional championship, failing to mention Caldwell as contenders. This argument, however, has nothing to do with Twin Falls being proclaimed state champs.

Before the season started, Caldwell and Weiser were hooked for an exhibition game to be played during the latter part of the season. This game was played last week, and Weiser made it known that they were the undisputed champs of that section.

Previous to the Weiser game, Caldwell had won a game from Nampa and one from Boise, the Weiser game being the third one of the week, with both first string of Caldwell pitchers being used up. Nickle, a recruit twirler, was called into service, and Weiser batted him to all corners of the lot. So much for Weiser's claim to the title.

Nampa, if for no other reason, was eliminated from being a contender for the championship when Twin Falls won two out of three games from the junction city last, with the fourth game a tie.

The only way to figure out the mix-up is to find out whether a team that wins an exhibition game from a team that has won from every other team in the section two or more times, is entitled to be called a championship caliber.
