Unexplained Explosion Wrecks Office in Building Occupied by American Consul General at Mexico City

WASHINGTON, May 18, (AP)—The state department today received official word that a bomb had exploded at 2:30 o'clock this morning in the building at Mexico City, occupied by the American consulate general.

The message, which came from Consul General Dawson, said there had been no "noticeable" damage to his own quarters, although a room on the second floor of the building, occupied by a Mexican lawyer, had been wrecked.

He said there were no casualties.

MEXICO CITY, May 18, (AP)—Investigation today failed to bring to light any definite clue in connection with the bomb explosion in the Mexican embassy here this morning, or with the bomb outrage of May 4, in the embassy building, which was revealed following today's blast.

Neither did material damage or caused any loss of life.

No Warning Given

Inquiries at the American embassy consulate did not disclose anything concerning today's explosion, with the outrage of May 4, Claude Dawson, the consul general, stated he had not received warnings or threats.

Witnesses in the building, secretary of the department, declared this morning's bombing was the work of enemies of the government, especially in view of the fact that the most commission negotiations relative to recognition by the United States are going on.

The office which was wrecked opens on the sidewalk across a courtyard that part of the building facing the Plaza de Reformas, the second floor of which is occupied by the consulate.

Testimony offered by the police indicated it was a giant powder bomb. Anonymous Letter Figures

Testifying in the district court, Carlos Castillo, whose office was wrecked, declared he could not imagine who would have a motive for damaging his office.

He could not explain how an anonymous letter threatening progressive measures of punishment could have been placed inside the office. The letter which was discovered after the explosion, says:

"This is the beginning your sentence, because it never has been our intention to destroy you with one stroke. We have left you, formerly your protectors, now your victims."

"A posterist reads: 'This is how justice is administered.' A soiled cap, bearing the red and black communist colors, was found in the wreckage.

At home there's a little brother about nine months, and three more little sisters. They are two, five and six. They and I are all that's left. But I guess I can help some."

The mileage of new and improved highways that are now being built or for which contracts have been let or will be let, amount to 9,464. Those states and the counties composing them will furnish $149,775,000, while the government will contribute $31,355,000, making the actual figure to be expended on this work $181,130,000. In the matter of actual cash now being expended and allotted to be expended, Missouri leads with $16,600,000, Missouri now has 1377 miles of good roads and expects to increase this to the extent of 1341 miles by December 31, 1923.

This state will expend $32,500,000 of state and county money and $1,500,000 of government funds, making the grand total $34,000,000 for improved road work. ## SOVIETS' RAIDS CAUSE WITHDRAWAL OF CONSUL

American Diplomat Leaves Vladivostok After Vain Attempt to Prevent Seizure of Property

WASHINGTON, May 18, (AP)—Further details of the withdrawal of the American consular officials at Vladivostok, revealed today by the state department, show that Consul Turk and his staff left their posts only after it had become apparent that further efforts to prevent seizure of American property by the soviet authorities would be fruitless.

The amount of such property taken over by the Moscow government is not known here, but it is known that the International Harvester company, the General Electric company and other American companies have sent to Vladivostok at one time or another property valued at several hundred thousand dollars.

Some time ago a soviet commission visited the city and without any legal process seized and removed into western Russia some of the foreign holdings. Efforts of Consul Turk to check upon the seizures, get a basis of claims were blocked by desire of the Moscow officials to compel the United States through this means to apply at Moscow for renewal of the consular acquiescence held by Mr. Turk from the other former China government.

At no time has the state department seriously considered acquiescence to the Moscow demand, application for such a renewal would be considered only in effect political recognition of the soviet government.

So far as known in Washington the Japanese and Chinese are the only foreign consuls now remaining in Vladivostok, the British, French and Italian as well as the representatives of the Scandinavian countries already having withdrawn.

MOORE'S FISH AND GAME PROGRAM WINS APPROVAL

Idaho Warden Finds Cordial Atmosphere Prevailing in Widely Separated Sections of State

BOISE, May 16 (AP)—Governor C. C. Moore's program for the state fish and game department is meeting with widespread approval from all parts of the state. Less money for salaries and traveling expenses and more money for the propagation of fish and game is the aim of the governor in this department and it is proving popular with the citizens of Idaho.

State Game Warden H. E. Thomas has recently returned from trips through southeastern, southern and southwestern Idaho and found general approval of the department's program in all of those sections. The game warden is faced with a big job in trying to solve all of the local problems presented to him and with the conviction that has been promised he hopes to work out things that will be for the best interests of all concerned.

"Each community has its problems and they naturally appear to that community as the most important in the state," said Mr. Thomas. "We have reduced the number of field men about 25 or 30 per cent and it is now our aim to cut this force down to around thirty and put the money thus saved into propagating and preserving our fish and game resources. This means that local wardens will be cut out in some instances and no new wardens will be added. Our force will be so distributed that the state will be covered most efficiently and, with the cooperation of the people in helping us to cut down our number of employees, we will be able to have more funds for building up our resources. We have had hundreds of applications for deputy wardenships and if we were to grant all of them we would spend all of our money for salaries and traveling expenses with no funds to propagate fish and game.

"Efficiency will be demanded of every deputy warden. The law requires that they put in their full time at their work and no warden can run a farm or a business or hold in shares of amusement and hold his job. We are only servants of the people and with their cooperation we will be able to carry out their wishes as far as possible."

BROWNS MAKE IT THREE STRAIGHT FROM CALDWELL

Nye's Home Run Drive in Fifth Scores Deciding Runs for Blue and White Victory by Score of 3 to 1

Twin Falls high school baseball team, state champs, won the last game of the Caldwell series Friday afternoon, 3 to 1, in one of the best high school games of the year.

A home run over the right field fence by John Nye in the fifth inning, with Hammond on first, gave the locals the deciding run.

Earwood and L. Jarman engaged in a pitchers' battle over the right high school baseball. The big Caldwell twirler allowed six hits, three coming in the fifth, when Nye did the damage. Jarman held the baid hitting Caldwell boys to four scattered hits, no two coming in the same inning.

Caldwell again out-fielded the Twin Falls team, playing an errorless game. Budla Earwood, while the lone runner scored by Caldwell in the seventh was the result of two glaring errors.

Three Straight Wins.

The victory Friday gave the locals three straight wins over the Caldwell team.

How it happened:
First inning—Caldwell: Lawson was hit on the shin and hobbled to first. Smith sent a roller to G. Jarman, who took to Selek, forcing Lawson at second. Kim singled to right, sending Smith to second. Lowell hit to L. Jarman who threw to Cron, forcing Smith. Selek missed Laval Jarman's effort to catch Kim and the wily Caldwell runner moved to third. Birdseye went out. G. Jarman to Hammond. 0 runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

Twin Falls: Cron popped to Jensen. L. Jarman went out. Kim to Lowell. Jerry Jarman fouled out to Lowell, who made a beautiful running catch near the fence. In this inning Earwood threw but three balls. 0 hits, 0 errors.

Second inning—Caldwell: G. Jarman took care of Jensen's fly. Morris fanned. Albertson also flied. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Twin Falls: Mussell, Atkinson and Hammond fanned. Earwood received a big hand when he came to the bench. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Third inning—Caldwell: Earwood opened the inning with a Texas leaguer to left. Lawson was hit in the ribs, moving Earwood to second. Smith sent a hot one to Laval Jarman who threw to Cron, forcing Earwood. Kim hit Laval again who again threw to Cron, forcing Lawson at third. Smith and Kim moved up a notch on a passed ball. Lowell walked. Birdseye hit to Selek, forcing Lowell at second. G. Jarman making the putout. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Twin Falls: Nye fanned. Jarman fanned. This made five straight strikeouts for Earwood. Selek walked and stole second, but was nipped at third by Morris, who had backed up Kim on Smith's high throw. It was a neat play. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Fourth inning—Caldwell: Cron hooked Al Owen's roller, and then threw high to first, allowing the Caldwell outfielder to perch on second. Morris went out. G. Jarman to Hammond, Jensen talking third on the play. Albertson fanned. Earwood fanned. Jarman's hook ball was working and the visitors were breaking their backs reaching for the elusive pellet. 0 runs, 1 error.

Twin Falls: Cron opened the inning by hitting out a bunt along the third base line. Laval Jarman laid down a neat sacrifice going out at first. Earwood to Lowell. On the hit and run, Jerry Jarman sent a safe hit to left, scoring Cron with the first run of the game. Jerry took second on the throw in. Mussell popped to Kim. Atkinson hit a sweet one to Earwood and was thrown out at first. 1 run, 2 hits, 0 errors.

Deciding Runs.

Fifth inning—Caldwell: Cron threw Larson out at first. Laval stopped Smith's roller and threw him out at first. Kim singled to left for his second hit of the day. Lowell went out. L. Jarman to Hammond. 0 runs, 1 hit, 0 errors.

Twin Falls—Hammond sent a clean single to left. John Nye hit the second ball pitched to him, far over the right field fence, scoring Hammond ahead of him. Jarman walked for four wild ones, and wandered to first. Selek popped to Earwood. Cron sent a high one to right that Lawson hooked. Laval Jarman singled to right. G. Jarman skewed to Morris. 2 runs, 3 hits, 0 errors.

Sixth inning—Caldwell: Birdseye went out. L. Jarman to Hammond. Nye missed Jensen's easy pop-up to right and went to second on the error. Morris fanned. Mutch, batting for Albertson, flew out to Selek. 0 runs, 0 hits, 1 error.

Twin Falls: Mussell went out. Earwood hit to Lowell. Hammond fanned for the second time. Hammond went out. Earwood to Lowell. 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 errors.

Seventh inning—Caldwell: Earwood went out. G. Jarman to Hammond. Jarman shifted for Lawson, and when he hit to left Jarman muffed the ball.

Indications point to a record breaking crowd approaching 75,000, which is more than the capacity of large grandstands and the space between them and the rail. In the assignment of post positions Chittagong was given the rail, enchantment in the center and Immenon on the outside.

BABY PHEASANTS HATCHING

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 17 (AP)—Little Chinese and Hungarian pheasants by the hundreds began popping out of their shells at the state game farm here recently and day by day the population of the farm will increase by several hundred.

Baby pheasants fly ten days after they hatch. They have 10 flying feathers in their wings and one is developed each day, according to August Bule, farm superintendent.

Up to five days of age the chicks are as tame as barn fowls, then they suddenly revert to type. Pheasant eggs are being laid at the rate of 400 a day and the country is being secured for setting hens.

GOVERNOR MOORE URGES BETTER SPORTSMANSHIP

Idaho Chief Executive Endorses Campaign to Discourage Use of Automatic Shotgun in Field. HOUSE, May 18.—(Special to The News-Governor C. Moore issued the following statement today: "With reference to the educational campaign just inaugurated by 'Field and Stream' to induce hunters of America to discontinue the use of the automatic shotgun, I think your efforts along these lines are to be commended. There can be no question as to the desirability of the automatic shotgun. No one will deny, all things equal, the toll of this arm will be greater than that of any other shotgun, that it occasions more ruthless slaughter, and certainly, (by reason of the wild anxiety of the user to empty as fast as possible the entire magazine) it is the cause of more crippled birds, never recovered by the hunter, which birds eventually die and are of no benefit whatsoever.

"The farmer, merchant, professional man, in fact, thinking people from every walk in life have for years agitated this question, and I believe I am safe in saying that at least 90 per cent of the true lovers of wild life in Idaho are in favor of prohibiting the use of an automatic shotgun. "I am heartily in sympathy with this movement and shall be glad to do every thing possible to assist 'Field and Stream' in its campaign of education."

BORAH ATTACKS HARDING WORLD COURT STAND

Idaho Senator Denies That the United States Can Join Tribunal and Hold Aloof From League of Nations

ST. LOUIS, May 18 (AP)—"The United States cannot join the international court and remain out of the league of nations, as both institutions are bound by shackles of binding adamant that cannot be broken," United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, declared in an address here tonight.

Outlining the duties that the world government will have to perform as an advisor of the league of nations, Senator Borah said: "Let us suppose we become a member of this court. We sit at Geneva every day and year after year, not merely passing arbitrators upon some controversy which may arise between countries, but we sit there advising, counseling and directing the league itself. We have no reference to its own powers, but upon all vital European questions which may come before the league, and upon which it is fit to act, we have the right of the judges concerned. How could we be more thoroughly, both legally and morally, bound up with the league of nations, its activities and responsibilities, than to become the counselor and advisor of the league?"

Sees Parallel Situation.

"After emphasizing that the same close relations as existed between the department of justice of the United States government and the league of nations also existed between the world court and the league of nations, Mr. Borah asserted:

"The attitude in which we are being placed toward the league in being its advisers and counselor and yet professing to be against the league, puts us in an intolerable position. With all the respect to the league, and with all opinion, it seems to me to be a wholly immoral position. And it is a position which, I venture to say, the American people will never accept."

"You can see at once that this position is an impossible one," Mr. Borah continued. "You can not serve God and Mammon, you cannot force good and evil at the same time. You cannot be opposed to the league of nations because it is dangerous, and in favor of the league because it is good, for the reason that the court cannot exist without the league."

Blames Leaders for Wars.

Reviewing recent developments in Europe, Senator Borah asserted that events had unfolded in a league of nations had not put a stop to wars.

"The men who brought on the great world war," he said, "had produced more than 20 years since the league was organized."

"I do not see how you are going to stop war, or even check war, until you make war an institution for the settlement of international disputes, a crime and hold responsible those who foment wars," the senator said. "Leg time a score of men brought on the world war. No nation was responsible for that war; no persons were responsible for it."

In charging that the league of nations not only had failed of its purpose, but had been a good way caused wars, Senator Borah asserted:

Arraigns League Members.

"It was a league member who incited Greece to war, and she deserted him in her humiliation and defeat. It was a league member who armed and financed Turkey and brought her back to power. The army which butchered the helpless and defenseless women and children in that field of carnage in Asia Minor was armed and equipped by a member of the league of nations. Poland was armed and equipped by a member of the league, invaded and took Vilna and began war on Lithuania, used arms against eastern Galicia and Lithuania, and by force of arms to drive them from the allied powers. France, member of the league, invaded the Ruhr and is now whipping women and trampling down children in Germany."

Hays, describing the cause of the fire and the scene as the flames spread said that at first it was believed by those on the stage that the blaze would be extinguished. But the flames ignited scenery and draperies, and in an instant the audience was panicky.

No announcement has been made whether there will be an investigation of the disaster although it was reported that the building had been condemned and that it was being used last night for the last time. Coroner Dixon and his daughter were among those buried today.

UNIVERSITY'S PAGEANT DEPICTS IDAHO HISTORY

State's Development - from Time of Advent of Lewis and Clark Motive for Spectacular Performance

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 16.—"The Light on the Mountains" is announced as the name of the pageant of Idaho history which will be presented by university students the night of Saturday, June 9, as the most spectacular feature of commencement exercises.

This "light on the mountains" is "Eldorado," from which the state takes its name. It appears remarkably in the program as a part of the elaborate lighting effect which will be a feature of the presentation. A night performance was decided upon to make this possible. Six hundred searchlights supplemented by flood lights and automobile lights, will be employed.

When the light first shines on the hills, revealing the gigantic figures of a motionless horseman, a medicine man at a campfire thus interprets the vision:

"You have seen the single vision,
"Seen the dancing Indian spirits,
"Seen the Light upon the Mountain,
"Seen the dreadful sky-mountain,
"Eldorado, the sky-mountain."

Appearance of the light is taken as prophecy of the appearance of Lewis and Clark, whose entrance into Idaho is depicted in the first part of the pageant. In part two, trader and trapper are represented—the trader by David Thompson, who is shown trading with the Indians at Kallyspoll house in 1806, and the trapper by John Reed, of the Boise river in 1812.

Two missionary scenes are introduced—one showing Henry B. Spalding at Lapwai in 1816, and the other Father De Smet at the Mission of the Sacred Heart, 1842.

The pageant is composed of a prologue, prologue, the episodes, two interludes and a finale. The first interlude depicts a scene on the Oregon trail in 1822. Then comes the episode of "gold," preceding scenes on the Clearwater and in the Boise Basin depicting the old Idaho City and the vigilantes, and introducing such characters as Moses Spaulson, George Grimes, John Hatley and Governor W. J. McConnell.

Interlude two brings in the cowboy. Then comes the "Epic of the New West," in three scenes, followed by the finale, depicting symbolically the present, past and future. The dance of the waters, the dance of the mining comes, the dance of the spirits of the timber, and the dance of agriculture suggests the present resources of the state. Past and present pass in procession and then comes "the future," with Education the guide.

BRYAN LIKELY STORM CENTER IN ASSEMBLY

Commoner Refuses Committee Chairmanship to Wage Fight on Theory of Evolution at Presbyterian Conclave

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 18 (AP)—William Jennings Bryan developed today into a stormy petrel of Presbyterianism when he refused to accept the chairmanship of the committee on home missions of the 125th general assembly, tendered him by Dr. Charles P. Wishart, in the name of the moderator.

His refusal threatens to precipitate a fight between the liberals and the fundamentalists which will overshadow the other work of the assembly.

A practice of long standing gives the second man in the vote for moderator the chairmanship of the important committee on bills and resolutions, the steering committee of the assembly.

When Dr. Wishart made up his committee assignments last night, however, he selected Dr. Hugh Walker of Los Angeles, third in the moderator race, for this post. The bills and resolutions committee will pass on the protest of the Philadelphia presbytery against the doctrine preached by Harry Emerson Fosdick, a protest in which Mr. Bryan is very much interested.

Bryan Delays Decision.

Having selected Dr. Walker for the post, the moderator asked Mr. Bryan to select any other, and after some consideration the commoner announced he would be satisfied with the view of the appointment, but by the time he had reached this decision, Dr. Wishart had named J. Spencer Chapman, a Philadelphia lawyer, as vice moderator and sent the list to the printer, giving Mr. Bryan the minor committee leadership.

The Florida delegation, of which Mr. Bryan is a member, had named him for the committee on education, where he would have a hand in acting on his expected resolution to bar teaching of evolution from all church schools, colleges and seminaries. Appointment to a committee chairmanship automatically removed him from the education committee, but by refusing Dr. Wishart's appointment, Mr. Bryan got back the other post.

Announces Objectives.

He immediately announced that he would devote all his time to the fight against the Darwinian theory and against the preaching of any doctrine which denied the virgin birth of Jesus Christ or the fundamental interpretations of the Bible.

"I think the fight against this doctrine of evolution from a brute is more important than any work I could do on any committee," Mr. Bryan said. "I was willing to accept the vice moderatorship to show that I accepted my defeat in good spirit, but I spoke too late.

"I believe that the doctrine that man is descended from a leech, a doctrine supported by any scientific fact, and directly contrary to the Bible account of creation, is the greatest menace facing the church today, and I resigned the committee chairmanship because I did not like to see the convention on the floor all the time to carry on my fight against it."

Victory for Liberals.

Dr. Wishart's committee assignments were accepted by church leaders as a victory for the liberal-minded faction. The committee on bills and resolutions is made up of liberals, church men said.

While the ecclesiastics were meeting with gossip over the action of Mr. Bryan, the assembly buried itself with routine business.

The clerk's report on the adoption of six overtures sent down to the presbyteries by the assembly at Des Moines last year was accepted. Church publication committees presented their reports, a representative of the Near East relief was heard and a special committee on the New Era movement every member plan and home mission committee reported.

Business of the morning was devoted to an address of welcome by Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana, and a celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Presbyterianism in Indiana.

When they rounded the head of the mesa, bringing into view the ranch-house and the valley, Madeline saw dust or smoke hovering over a butte that stood in the distance.

Madeline recognized Stillwell's black horse's neck. She was in the saddle. Stewart was in the saddle. Stewart was in the saddle. Stewart was in the saddle.

"I'm not sure, but I want to be on the safe side." She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

"What must I do?" she asked. "You must suggest to send your friends back East—and go with them, until this guerrilla war is over."

"I'm not sure, but I want to be on the safe side." She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

impulse, "you once mentioned a debt you owed me." And seeing his dark face pale, she wavered, then went on. "It is paid."

"Then why? The debt you owed me is paid. I cancel it. So why not shake hands upon it, as men do?"

"I don't know," she said. "I don't know." She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

"I don't know," she said. "I don't know." She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

"I don't know," she said. "I don't know." She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

But suddenly he'd fetched a cooler change of heart. He had been some flustered with Stewart's eyes a-prim' into his moves, an' then, mebbe he had a sudden change of heart.

Stillwell paused in the rapid delivery of his narrative; he still retained Madeline's hand, as if by that he might comfort her.

"I don't know," she said. "I don't know." She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

In the Nature of a Hint

On a train recently I tried, to make the acquaintance of a little girl. "Oh yes," answered the child, "I'm the good little girl who always says 'thank you' when one gives me something."—Exchange.

As to Misfortunes

If all men would bring their misfortunes together in one place, most of them would be glad to take their own home again, rather than to take a proportion out of the common stock.—Solon.
