

COURT REFUSES TO PASS UPON MATERNITY LAW

Unanimous Opinion Declares Massachusetts' Attack on Sheppard-Towner Act Does Not Present Judicial Question

WASHINGTON, June 4, (AP)—The supreme court refused today to pass on the constitutionality of the Sheppard-Towner maternity act in cases brought by the state of Massachusetts and a Boston taxpayer. Both suits were dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

Unanimously the court held that an attack on the validity of the statute by a state did not present a judicial question. As to the suit instituted by Mrs. Harriet A. Frothingham, the court declined her status as a taxpayer did not entitle her to challenge the law.

Dismissing questions of jurisdiction raised by the Massachusetts case, the court's opinion, delivered by Justice Sutherland, declared that justice through forms of words to the substance of the complaint, it is merely that officials of the executive department of the government are expected and will execute an act of congress asserted to be unconstitutional, and this we are asked to prevent.

"It was added, 'would be not to decide a judicial controversy, but to assume a position of authority over the governmental acts of another and co-equal department, an authority which plainly we do not possess.'

Cites Larger Citizenship

Massachusetts attacked the law on "national grounds in the interests of its citizens." The court asserted, however, that "the citizens of Massachusetts are also citizens of the United States," and that "it cannot be conceded that a state may institute judicial proceedings to protect citizens of the United States from the operation of the statutes thereof."

"While the state, under some circumstances," the opinion continued, "may sue in that capacity for the protection of its citizens, it is no part of its duty or power to enforce their rights in respect of their relations with the federal government. In that field, it is the United States, and not the state, which represents them as parents patriae, when such representation becomes appropriate in the former and not to the latter, they must look for such protective measures as flow from that status."

In reference to the suit of Mrs. Frothingham which was instituted in the District of Columbia courts, Justice Sutherland said that the right of a taxpayer to enjoin the execution of a federal appropriation act on the ground that it is invalid and will result in taxation for illegal purposes, has never been passed upon by this court.

Sees Source of Trouble

Although the question has been frequently presented, he explained, it has either been permitted to pass in silence or the court has expressly refused to pass upon it. The administration of a law likely to impose taxation upon a number of taxpayers, he said, is a matter of public and not of individual concern. If one taxpayer could clamor and litigate such a case then every taxpayer court do it, it was pointed out in respect to every appropriation act on statute which required the outlay of public money.

The bare sign of such a possibility goes far, in the opinion of the court, to sustain its conclusion that a suit such as that brought by Mrs. Frothingham could not be maintained.

EDGE SAYS GOVERNMENT COULD ADVERTISE PROFITABLY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 4, (AP)—The United States government could profitably advertise what benefits it extends to the people and guide the way to things the citizen can do, Senator Walter E. Edge said in an address today at the convention of the Advertising Clubs of the World.

"With the proper kind of publicity concerning its functions, the government could make taxes pay dividends which, when understood by the people, would make taxation less burdensome than now," he said.

TAMMANY CHIEF'S WIDOW DENIES TROUBLE MAKING

Mrs. Coker, under Cross-Examination, Says She Had No Part In Altercation between Husband and Step-Son

DUBLIN, June 4, (AP)—Today's proceedings in the contest over the will of Richard Coker, once chief of Tammany hall, were occupied with the cross-examination of the widow, Mrs. Bula Coker, by Sergeant Sullivan, counsel for Richard Coker, Jr., the plaintiff. The questions put the witness related mostly to financial disputes between the testator and Richard Jr.

Mrs. Coker denied instigating the charges that her husband brought against Richard, Jr., in 1917, in connection with financial matters. Her answers were clear and she was never flustered.

She admitted receiving about one million from her husband, but said he gave her less money than he did his first wife. He told her that at one time he was worth $15,000,000, but that he had been robbed by his family and desired that the remainder should go to her.

Must youth be served, as so often we have been told it must! Must it? Well, listen: Iron Man Ty Cobb has been playing in the big league long enough to know youth must be served, but the ancient one is clouting well above .300. He has been playing big league ball since 1905 and still has the highest batting average ever made, .347.

LEMP GETS REVENGE. HANSEN, June 4. (Special to The News.)—'Nig' Lemp, Kimberly's stand-by in the box, got sweet revenge here Sunday afternoon when he won a hard fought 4-to-2 baseball game from the Hansen team with his old teammate, 'Bud' Thompson, as opposing twirler.

Lemp had everything, although inclined to be a little wild, but with men on bases he proved master of the situation. Thompson had a little trouble getting started, Kimberly nailing him for three runs in the first two innings. He gave way in the seventh to 'Simmi' Walton, who held the Kimberly boys safe. Stowa, the youthful Kimberly out fielder, collected two hits during the game, as did Schmidt of the same team.

EDEN OVERCOMES LEAD. EDEN, June 4. (Special to The News.)—Eden broke into the win column here Sunday when it won a close game from the Shoshone ball players, 8 to 5, after nine innings of hard play. Clarence Garrity on the mound for the home team, had the visitors eating out of his hand in eight of the nine innings, his only weak feature being in the eighth, when he allowed the invaders to gather five hits for a total of three runs. The high school pitcher forced 15 men to walk, the ozone and issued but one base on balls.

FLYING BY NIGHT MAY SOON BECOME GENERAL
CHICAGO, June 2. (AP)—Night flying by aviators has been brought squarely before the public by the great non-stop flight across the continent by Lieutenants Macfieady and Kelly, and through the demonstration of its feasibility, general night flying and the delivery of mail during the night may become an accomplished fact before the end of the summer, according to L. J. O'Malley, of Chicago, in a recent address before the Chicago Aviation club.

"A great part of the plans for this epoch-making achievement in aviation now rests with the public utility lighting companies of the cities themselves," said Mr. O'Malley. "Guide or beacon lights are necessary for night flying particularly when steps are to be made for delivery of mail or passengers. A great start has been made in this respect, as well as in the construction of landing fields, and probably more work will be done in this direction during the coming summer."

"The United States Aerial Mail has developed a plan for flying night mail which seems thoroughly practicable, since the various cities over which the night mail passes agree to maintain the necessary lighting system and the emergency landing fields. "It is a fact that the whole future success of the aerial mail hinges upon the success of night flying, since the time that is lost by laying over nights would eliminate the saving in time obtained through day flying. "The night flyer is reduced to flying by compass, and no compass has yet been evolved that is sufficiently reliable to be depended upon exclusively. Then the question of forced landings is involved. KANSAS MAN IS NAMED FARM LOAN BOARD HEAD

Resignation of O. E. Lobbell and Appointment of L. J. Pettijohn Announced Simultaneously

WASHINGTON, June 4. (AP)—The resignation of Charles E. Lobbell, as head of the farm loan board was accepted today by President Harding, who simultaneously announced the appointment of L. J. Pettijohn of Dodge City, as one of the original members, and several years later, upon the resignation of Commissioner Norris, he was designated as the executive of the board. Retention of the post by Mr. Lobbell during the last several months was due in a large measure to his desire to see the new intermediate farm credit machinery placed in operation before leaving the government service. During his term as a member and later as the commissioner of the board the farm credit system has been developed to the point where more than $45,000,000 of federal funds is out on hand loans through the farm loan banks and an additional $35,000,000 has been handled through joint stock land banks.
