Work Decides Congress Must Authorize Buying Land Key to American Falls Project

Enterprise Not Held Back, but Construction Work on Dam is Delayed Until Legislation Removes Objection; Removal of Town and Taking up Options Will Use up Fund

SALT LAKE, June 14. (AP)—On the advice of his solicitor, Secretary of the Interior, Work today held that he must have specific authority from congress before he can acquire, in connection with the American Falls reservoir, some 35,000 acres of tribal lands known as the Fort Hall bottoms, according to a special dispatch received tonight from Washington by the Salt Lake Tribune.

These lands, lying in the American Falls reservoir site, are the key to the American Falls dam project, the dispatch said, and while delay in acquiring them will not necessarily hold back the American Falls project, it will make it impossible to go forward with construction work on the dam itself until congress acts, and the lands actually are acquired as congress may direct.

Secretary is Friendly.

The dispatch continues: "Secretary Work's decision was reached at a conference of interior department officials today, attended also by former Senator Fred T. Dubois, representative of the Fort Hall Indians and the greater Fort Hall irrigation project. Secretary Work and other department officials are entirely friendly in their attitude towards the American Falls dam project, but the secretary feels he must proceed in so important an undertaking in strict conformity with the law, and the solicitor of the interior department, as well as the commissioner and solicitor for Indian affairs all hold that the Fort Hall tribal lands cannot be purchased without specific authority from congress. That authority was not given in the last three appropriation bills which provide funds for carrying forward work on and incident to the American Falls dam.

BORAH EXPECTS HARDING TO WIN

Idaho Senator Predicts Renomination of President by Acclamation; Talks on Bonus

POCATELLO, June 14. (AP)—That President Harding would be renominated by acclamation at the next republican convention, is the conviction of Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, who is here today.

"I know of no material opposition," he added. The senator further expressed the hope that the president would visit some of the complete going reclamation projects of the west that he might see for himself what is being done and that he would be convinced "It would prove a tremendous advantage to him and to the country," he added. When his attention was called to the attack made upon him by Commander Alvin Owsley of the American Legion because of his opposition to the bonus bill Senator Borah said: "I do not care to say anything other than that I did what I thought was right. It was a serious thing to put a job of four or five billion dollars upon the country at a time when there are a few hundred million in taxes and I could not do it. I am willing to submit the justice of my position to the legion boys themselves. As far as the discharging men are concerned, I have always and will always vote liberally to help them. There is nothing which they need which I am not willing to vote for. But for those who were so fortunate enough to escape unhurt, I feel that we ought to take into consideration the condition of the country, the taxpayers and all pull out together."

Senator Borah addressed the state convention of Elks' here today, being a charter member of Boise lodge. He gave to highly commendable to speak of the pioneer day celebration. He will be in the state until October.

Applies X-Ray to Thymus Gland to Save Babe's Life

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Using an X-ray to whether the thymus gland of a three-day-old baby, who faced death because of inability to breathe, Mr. Mary Halton saved the infant's life after artificial respiration had been resorted to for 24 hours, it became known today. The thymus gland is a mysterious organ found only in infants, the weight of which has long puzzled physicians.

The baby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schwartz, was brought to the New York infant hospital, where women and children ten days ago. She appeared normal at birth, but two days later stopped breathing. The baby was rushed to the infirmary where tents of oxygen were used to save her life. Physicians explained that before birth a child does not breathe and expressed the belief that the thymus gland, which normally atrophies after the child enters the world, has something to do with preserving life in the prenatal months.

TROOPS CHASE STAMBOLISKY AFTER BATTLE

Former Powerful Premier of Bulgaria Now Fugitive and Alone; Escapes in Disguise of Chauffeur.

SOFIA, June 14. (AP)—Former Premier Stambolisky was captured today at Molavia, a village near Slavovitsa.

LONDON, June 14. (AP)—A dispatch to the Times from Sofia dated Wednesday says advice received in the Bulgarian capital from a witness near Slavovitsa to the effect that M. Stambolisky's brother has surrendered. He is quoted as having said the former premier still is hiding in the woods here, in fear that he will be maltreated if he should surrender.

SOFIA, June 14. (AP)—Isolated from all his followers, Alexander Stambolisky, the once mighty premier, today is a fugitive pursued by troops beyond Pirdop City, 20 miles from Sofia, where he withdrew after an engagement in which there were casualties.

Stambolisky started for Elshintza in an automobile disguised as an army chauffeur. He withdrew after an engagement in which there were casualties. Stambolisky started for Elshintza in an automobile disguised as an army chauffeur. He withdrew after an engagement in which there were casualties.

Big Clock Figures

A sensation has been created by the discovery in the archives of the national bank that Stambolisky last March cashed a check for 120,000,000 levas, the sum having been authorized at a secret meeting of three members of the cabinet. The purpose of the expenditure was not designated, beyond the statement that it was for the security of the state. The moral character of Stambolisky is being attacked by the press.

Among the consequences of the fall of Stambolisky is the reversion of Sofia's theological seminary, which was founded under the auspices of the astronomical institute to the priesthood. Other restorations of church property include the large pine forest of the Elia monastery which Stambolisky seized and turned over to an exploitation company, most of the members of which were Italians, at one fourth its value.

Disolves Peasants Clubs

The new minister of finance, M. Thelander, has informed the bankers that they must pay a larger share of the taxes. He has assured them, however, that the peasants will bear their share.

PLANS GIANTIC POWER PROJECT

Utah Corporation Considers $10,000,000 Development at Green River Gorge

SALT LAKE CITY, June 14. (AP)—Plans for one of the largest hydroelectric projects in the world, involving an expenditure of more than $10,000,000 and employment of more than 1,000 men over a period of three years, were announced today by the Utah Power and Light company here, officials announced tonight.

Beginning of actual operations is held up pending a decision by the federal power commission at Washington, according to officials. The project, it was announced, would entail the construction of a hydro-electric generating station at the Green River in Utah, about five miles below the Utah-Wyoming boundary line. A transmission line would carry the power to the terminal city of Green River, it would be distributed to various points of consumption. The projected station would furnish 60,000 horsepower, it required. The nature of the project is to raft the Colorado river compact, is held responsible for the delay in granting the preliminary permit for the project which was asked under the provision of the federal power act passed by the congress in 1920. All six of the other so-called Colorado river basin states have ratified the compact. As indicating the increased demand in Utah for electric power for industrial use, this project follows close upon the heels of the 16,000 horse power addition now nearing completion at Green, Idaho. The Utah Power and Light company has also just started work on a 10,000 horsepower generating installation at Soda, Idaho.

CHINESE TELL HORROR STORY ON SHIPBOARD

Fifteen Orientals, Survivors of Man-Smuggling Mystery Boat, Unfold Tale of Hand-to-Hand Combat

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—A story of horror on the sea within the shadow of the Sundry Hook rim fleet's rendezvous, reminiscent of the days of buccannery on the Spanish main, was drawn piecemeal today from 15 Chinese survivors of the man-smuggling schooner Mary Beatrice, picked up adrift last night at the entrance to the harbor.

They unfolded a story of hand-to-hand encounter between 20 Chinese passengers and the crew of four. In the end the crew and one Chinese were slaughtered and thrown overboard after the unidentified captain had deserted the craft with 5000 passenger money. When their stories were related the authorities were as mystified as they were when the little schooner slipped into the harbor with her strange passengers.

Trace Ship's Origin.

The British consul, communicated with officials at Canton, Ichang, the port from which the Chinese said they had first sailed, in an effort to trace the ownership of the craft, and her captain's identity. Nothing throwing any light on the situation had been received tonight.

The stories of the 15 survivors pieced together, indicated that the schooner had arrived off the coast about June 8, and stood off for several days awaiting launches to smuggle them ashore. Provisions and drinking water ran short and the mysterious captain refused to whom each had paid $250, quit the ship and has not been seen since.

The suspicions of the Chinese were aggravated when the schooner demanded an additional $250. Two white men and two negroes comprised the crew. Resistance to the demand for more money was said to have started a general battle at dusk Tuesday, implements of every kind being brought into play.

Battle of Mixed Weapons.

Interpreters gathered from accounts given by the excited Chinese that the attack first was made on one of their number, then they joined in the struggle for self-preservation, using knives, razors, axes, marlin spikes or anything that could be used as a weapon.

The outnumbered crew was overpowered and killed, and in the fray, their bodies were cast into the sea.

The mystery was intensified by the absence of ship's papers or navigating instruments.

The 15 Chinese will be taken before officials of the Chinese bureau of immigration tomorrow. If it is found that the schooner was British, it was said the Chinese would be turned over to the British government, and if the craft was of American registry the federal authorities probably would prosecute the 15 men for the killing of the crew.

Doubt Chinese Casualties.

John F. Danton, inspector in charge of the Chinese division of the immigration service, said he was skeptical whether the five Chinese had been killed on the boat.

He based his conclusion, he said, on the fact that on June 10 he was notified that a schooner was on run row with 15 Chinese aboard.

LIQUOR TANGLE DEBATE THEME

Possibility of Inability to Modify Dry Rule Figures in Washington Discussions

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Negotiations with maritime powers for reciprocal concessions have failed to clear up simultaneously rum smuggling and ship liquor problems still lacked any authoritative indications today of how the powers approached would receive the state department's proposals.

Neither through the Washington diplomats nor American ambassadors abroad as far as could be learned, has any official intimation of this nature been transmitted.

Foreshadowing some further development in the diplomatic conversations, a storm of argument swept Washington today dealing for the most part with the rebellion of supreme court rulings and the new administration plan for easing both the commercial intercourse and rum smuggling embarrassments that surrounded it. One school of thought had developed which contended that the "transit" decision of the court had set up such a construction of the "transportation" prohibition clause of the eighteenth amendment that the government, even congress, was powerless to authorize transportation of liquor within American territory.

Rejects Barriers Theory.

For administration viewpoint, it is declared flatly and authoritatively that such a construction of the effect of the court's opinion would not and could not be tolerated. It also was said to be the determination of administration leaders to proceed on a contrary theory up to such a time as the supreme court might decide, in a specific case presented to it for decision and directly involving that point, that the amendment did in fact prevent congress from exercising powers of regulation of the transportation of liquor.

In that event, it was stated, there exists no means of relieving the ship liquor situation except by further amendment of the legislation through ratification of the amending resolution by 36 states. How many years such a process might take, nobody in authority would predict.

Two Ways Open.

Following what is held by high administration officials to be the only common sense and practical view of the supreme court's decisions and statements, prolonged study of the ship liquor questions at the state department has convinced Secretary Hughes that nothing could be done except through a change in the Volstead act. Two means of effecting such a change are open and the administration, it was explained, has elected to move at once toward exercising the treaty-making power to supersede any existing statute. Supplementary remedial legislation by congress also may be undertaken later.

TOMMY GIBBONS MAKES BOXING HIS LIFE WORK

Elder Brother Known as "The Phantom" Takes Lad from Railroad Shops and Paves Way for Ring Career

ST. PAUL, June 14 (AP)—Just about the time most nervous fathers are "feeling out" their sons to ascertain their life-work desires, a young man of St. Paul—hardly more than a kid, his friends said—grasped the lower rung of the ladder of pugilistic fame.

It was his selection for a life profession, and how well he has mastered it will be demonstrated July 4 when he seeks to wrest the heavyweight boxing crown from Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Montana.

For the young man who decided on boxing as a life work was Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, only a youth of 19 years who has answered the first of the game. Many boxers have gained their start in the ring through their prowess as rough and tumble mixers, with science developed later as a necessary requisite to greater success.

Not so with Tommy Gibbons. It was purely a business proposition with him, and he selected his career for the same reason. The lad, who is going, men have entered less violent professions. It was the attraction of more money than he could make any other way.

Brother Leads Way. Tommy's path had been beaten by his brother, Mike Gibbons, five years his senior, whose boxing skill later gained for him the sobriquet of "The Phantom." It was the verbal persuasion of Mike, coupled with his success at fighting, that decided Tommy. "I had left school and gone to work for the Great Northern railway here," he said in recounting his start. "Of course, I was only making a little money, no more than any kid of that age is likely to make."

"One day Mike came to me with a proposition that I enter the ring. He said he could pay me more than the railroad company could, and as I had watched with some envy the money Mike was making, I decided to take him up."

"Mike was a great teacher, and from that time until very recent years, when Mike's eyes have been bothering him, he gave me thorough instruction. It is to this of course that I owe much of whatever boxing ability I possess."

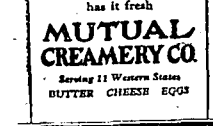

It was the luster cast over him by his brother's success that took Tommy into his first fight. He fought a few fights at a little "club" and the young men maintained on in the Gibbons neighborhood.

The father disapproved. "The fellow expected me to be a fighter just because Mike was," Tommy said, "and so they generally matched me with the big fellows. I didn't have much to gain, for they all expected me to win my fights. But I had a lot to lose—at least, it seemed a lot then—and so I naturally fought 'over my head' as a rule."

Father Disapproves. The father of Mike and Tommy had a keen aversion to fighting. It was over his strong protest that Mike entered the game, but when the senior Gibbons saw the remuneration that might result from a victory, his opposition gradually vanished and had disappeared by the time Tommy was ready to enter the professional ring.

However, the senior Gibbons never saw either one of his sons in the ring. He died on the night that Tommy fought Billy Miske in New York last October. He had no other knowledge of his father's serious illness. The bout terminated when Gibbons felled Miske.

Tommy was the youngest member of the family, and he declares, "I naturally wasn't what a favorite." He tells with a smile of the day he and Mike "framed" a bout for their father as the only spectacle. "The mixing ended when Tommy 'knocked out' Mike. He was glad, those the younger one got the best of it, the senior Gibbons said, after he saw Mike was not seriously hurt.

The Crude Rubber Monopoly weakened when it came into contact with aroused public sentiment. The press of the country today reflects the determination of the American motorist that tire prices shall stay at a reasonable level—and that America must produce its own rubber.

Firestone CUTS TIRE PRICES

10% EFFECTIVE JUNE 11

We announce a 10% reduction in tires and tubes effective June 11th. The lowered cost of scrap rubber and the special Firestone manufacturing and distribution advantages make this possible. Firestone factories are organized on a basis of large volume and effective production. Costs are down but quality is at its peak. Stockholder workmen are daily building many thousands of Gum-Dipped Cords—the best the Firestone ever produced and, we believe, the leader on the market today. Firestone Cords took the first four places and eight of the ten money positions in the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, May 30th, without a single tire failure. Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords have set new standards in adhesion, traction, comfort and safety. Car owners have expressed their approval of the extra value in Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords by increasing their purchases 194% in the past six months. We have replaced many expensive branches with warehouses. We now have 108 distributing points which are delivering Firestone tires to the consumer at the lowest cost in our history. GARRITY BEATS ELECTRICIANS
Legion Team Walloped Wire Nippers 15 to 1 in One-Sided Tilt

Jimmie Hallinan's wire nippers took a whipping Thursday evening when the Legion boys walloped his team 15 to 1.

The Garrity brothers, Clarence and Earl, were the whole show, Clarence with his clever work in the box, and Earl with some big league catching combined with high class batting.

Laval Jarman occupied the mound for the wire men, and took one of the worst beatings of his baseball career. Sixteen hits for a total of 15 runs is the way the ex-soldier team treated Laval.

The game was a good one to look at, not withstanding the lopsided score, with plenty of fine folding to keep the fans in good humor.

Pitching honors go to "Sprout" Leichter, Renfro, and Ernie Goodnight.

The first two innings failed to bring the best both Jarman and Garrity pitching gilt edge ball, although Garrity was inclined to be a little wild during the first two frames.

In the third, the Legion boys fell on Jarman for five clean hits which netted them three runs.

The Hallinans scored their lone marker in the fourth on Whitell's clean swing to right, two outs and a single to right by Slim Hammond.

Seven runs were scored by the Legion boys in the fifth on 6 hits, one a triple by Earl Garrity, and an error.

The sixth was another lucky frame for the soldiers, five more runners spiking the rubber. Five more hits combined with an error did the work in this inning.

Renfro made a hit in the seventh, with one out but Helen Hammond, and Leichter made a show string catch of Jarman's drive and the game was over.

tripped and a sacrifice in four hits to the plate.
Ernie Goodnight's work at short was pretty to look at. His throwing to first was perfect.
"Sprout" Leichter made a beautiful catch of Jarman's hard drive in the seventh.
"Slim" Hammond grabbed off three nice foul flies, and took like the first baseman of old.
Renfro comes in for honorable mention for making four fine catches in center.
Jake Yachem pounded out three hits out of four trips to the plate.
After the second inning the juke observers had a hard time with Garrity, the fourth being the only frame in which he weakened.

Trambitas Gets Draw in Tilt with Meyers
Gruelling Battle Goes Full Twenty Rounds with Honors Even, Romeo Hagan Fills In

POCATELLO, June 14.—(Special to The News) "Sprout" Meyers of Tocatello and Johnny Trambitas of Portland fought a draw here tonight after 20 rounds of the best boxing ever seen in Pocatello. Trambitas weighed in at 162 1/2, while Meyers tipped the beam at 157 1/2.

Meyers did most of the leading during the contest, with Trambitas standing like the hardest walling in the ring. The bout ended the twentieth round standing up, none the worse for their long siege.

Tonight's fight was the second for the two lads, a draw having been declared after 10 rounds of fighting in Portland last March.

In the preliminary battle, Romeo Hagan, filling in for old Parker, went six rounds to a draw with Melvin Christensen. They are middleweights.

A crowd of 150, including about 100 visiting I.O.O.F., witnessed tonight's boxing carnival.

DECLARES SOVIET ARMY FEEDS ON CHARITY FUND

CHICAGO, June 14.—(Special to The News) Charges that funds of the Friends of Soviet Russia were used to feed the bolshevik army were made today by Charles Smith, a former British secret service agent who served as a colonel in the Russian army at a luncheon at the Chicago Association of Commerce Wednesday. The report is the most stable in Europe, he asserted, adding that it was "not only on world revolution."
"Hobbesism is in Russia to stay unless outside nations interfere and break it up with a food or other blockade," he declared. "Through a so-called charity bureau, Princes of the House of Romanoff, and a half dozen others, have been sent to Russia for starving persons. Practically every cent of this money has been used to feed the red army. The soviet government is the most stable in Europe today. It is headed by some of the most astute brains in Europe. Jews are at the head of the revolution. When one joins the reds he drops all religion and race and these Jews are not doing any more but working against the masses and interests involving their former race."

Dempsey Punishes Sparring Partners

Jack Burke, Pittsburgh Heavyweight Takes Count When Champ Connets

(GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 14, 1923)—With a terrific left hook to the chin, Jack Dempsey today knocked out Jack Burke, a Pittsburgh heavyweight, making the heavy-weight champion's second knockout victim in two days since he resumed boxing after a week's lay off. After boxing two spirited rounds with George Godfrey, a 225-pound negro, who nailed the champion half a dozen times with solid right hand smashes, Burke parted the ropes to face Dempsey's bombardment. In the first round Burke was sent reeling with a left hook and in an exciting exchange on the ropes, Dempsey missed his sparring mate with a right hand punch, his gloved hand crashing against a plank just outside the ropes.

Coming out for the second round, Dempsey smashed Burke with a hook on the chin, and the Pittsburgher fell into the ropes and flat on his back. The champion picked him up and attempted to clear his dizzy brain by shaking him but Burke was completely out. When he staggered out, Dempsey drew his left leg behind him as if paralyzed.

Besides a round of shadow boxing and a round of slugging, the 225-pounder fought heavy but Dempsey boxed six rounds, finishing up with Harry Drake, the British heavyweight, who was knocked out on his feet yesterday. The champion perspired quickly and freely today as a result of a hot sun that beat down on the outdoor ring in contrast to the chill wind of yesterday. He continued to wear the leather head guard to protect the cut over his left eye and also gave his sparring mates only thirty seconds rest between rounds.

Kearns Goes For Cash

As Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion was about to board a train for Shelby tonight to collect the second installment of $100,000 due Dempsey tomorrow, bankers of Great Falls, together with Mayor Johnson of Shelby, prevailed upon him to meet with them here tomorrow at which time they said the money would be paid.

No explanation was forthcoming for the last minute change in plans.
Dempsey, according to the terms of his contract, is to receive $100,000 tomorrow and the final $100,000 of his $200,000 guarantee on July 2, 48 hours before going into the ring with Gibbons.

Major James A. Johnson of Shelby, treasurer for the American Legion, post promoting the fight, told Kearns the money would be placed in his hands at the appointed time. The payment of the $100,000 will remove the best traces of unbusiness existing here or elsewhere of the Shelby promoters' ability to go through with their enterprise.

Kearns received an offer from Simon Elshery, a promoter of Long Island City, N. Y., for a labor day match with Harry Wills. He replied that he would consider it provided the Wills athletic commission would issue a permit for the bout.

SIX LOSE CROWN SINCE JOHN L. SULLIVAN'S DAY

Gibbons If Victorious, Will Be Eighth Heavyweight Title Holder in 31 Years

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—(Special to The News) Six men since John L. Sullivan in their fight for the heavy-weight championship of the world at Shelby, Mont., July 1 next, the heavy-weight title will have passed eight times in 31 years, with one wearer taking it by default.

While many battles for the heavy-weight championship have been staged during the last 21 years, the actual change of title has passed in only the following fights:
Sullivan to Corbett; Corbett to Fitzsimmons; Fitzsimmons to Jeffries; Jeffries to Barris by default; Barris to Johnson; Johnson to Willard; Willard to Dempsey.

James J. Corbett wrested the crown from the brow of John L. Sullivan at New Orleans on September 7, 1892, knocking the veteran out in the twenty-first round.

"Gentleman Jim" Corbett held the title to the heavy-weight championship for five years, and then lost it to Bob Fitzsimmons by a technical knockout in the fourteenth round at Carson City, Nev., March 17, 1897.

The lanky Bob held the title for only two years, being knocked out by James J. Jeffries in the seventh round at Coffey Island, N. Y., June 9, 1899.

Jeffries retired and Tommy Burns claimed the title by default. Burns defended his claim against Jack Johnson at Sydney, Australia, on December 26, 1908, and was defeated in the seventh round by the colored fighter on a technical knockout.

Jeffries was dragged back from retirement in 1910 and met the colored champion in a title by default. Jeffries failed to regain the crown as Johnson knocked the former champion out in the fifth round.

The next fight was made on April 5, 1915, at Havana, Cuba, when "Lill Arthur" was knocked out in the twenty-sixth round by Gus Willard.

Willard held the championship belt for four years, but lost it to Jack Dempsey when the latter knocked him out in the third round at Toledo, Ohio, on July 19, 1919.

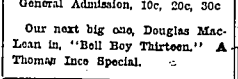

While Dempsey was engaged in a number of exhibition battles, he defended his title only three times in four years by defeating Billy Miske, three times at Hill City, Mo., twice rounds, and Georges Carpentier, four rounds.

M'FIGUE TO MEET SIKI

BAYLON, N. Y., June 14.—(Special to The News) Light heavyweight champion of the world to day signed articles to meet Battling Siki, former European titleholder, in a return bout at Dublin on September 8. The agreement was reached between Dr. Patrick McArtan of Dublin, representing Siki, and Joe Jacobs, McTigue's manager. McTigue will receive $100,000 it was said.

ALBANY, Ore., June 14.—(Special to The News) Oil applied along the tracks of the Southern Pacific Albany-Newport branch, is hoped to have solved the caterpillar problem as far as the rail way is concerned. Trains from the coast are arriving on time for the first time in a week and trains report the bug armies retreating from the right of way.

Gibbons Shows Up Well on Defensive

Sparring Mates Give Challenger Lively Sessions; Rocco Stops Heavy Punch

SHELBY, Mont., June 14.—(The News) In his "Tommy" Gibbons' training ring received more punishment this afternoon than did his four sparring partners.

The challenger swapped Kid Rocco, the light heavyweight, with a left that landed squarely on the chin, but it was virtually the only time Gibbons put on full steam during the afternoon session.

Gibbons used his left almost exclusively this evening and he was not punished hard enough to compel him to display any extensive footwork. Bud Goeman, the Racine brawler, in the service of "The Kid" Herman, who works not feeling well today, gave the challenger his stiffest workout.

Jacky Morrow, a 155-pounder from Spokane, provided several hundred spectators who witnessed the training session with considerable excitement, but made few dents in Gibbons' defense. He mixed freely with the challenger, but his blows apparently did not bother Gibbons.

Plans were completed late today for a trip to Glacier National park tomorrow for the challenger and his wife and child to accompany. They will return later in the day.

PRICES STABILIZATION CALLED FARMERS' NEED

Senator Clegg Glass Tells Association of Creditmen Existing Laws Give Agriculture Plenty of Credit

ATLANTA, Ga., June 14.—(Special to The News) Senator Clegg Glass today declared here today in an address before the convention of the National Association of Creditmen. What they need now, he stated, was legislation for cooperative marketing and in measures to stabilize prices.

Senator Glass was the principal speaker at the third day's session of the creditmen's convention. Resolutions were adopted by the convention today declaring that the credits of the creditmen of the country must be re-established on a firm basis, agreed to government ownership; declared for the extension of the state conferences of creditmen; recommended a joint commission of credit men and members of the American bar association for cooperation in bankruptcy practice and a firming of the interest of bankers and creditmen in the problems of the farmers.

With the election of officers set for the last session of the convention tomorrow, reports tonight were that E. F. Little of Boston would be advanced from vice-president to the presidency of the national organization and that J. S. Elkin of San Francisco and A. F. Peoples of Detroit were to be elected vice-presidents.

BASIN PROJECT WILL BE PUT UP TO GOVERNMENT

Supporters of Plan for Reclaiming 2,000,000 Acres of Arid Lands in Washington to Wage Active Fight

SPOKANE, June 9 (AP)—Final government report on the practicality of the $270,000,000 Columbia basin irrigation project, under which it is proposed to reclaim approximately 2,000,000 acres of arid land in northeastern Washington, is expected to be ready for submission to congress when the next session convenes in December. The signing of actual work on the project awaits an appropriation by congress. Its supporters continue waging an active fight for action as soon as the report of the interior department engineers has been submitted.

Engineers of the department of the interior are engaged during the present summer in a survey of the project, and reported under the construction of $100,000 granted by the last congress. It is expected that the field work, including investigation of geological formations and soil analysis, will be finished before fall, and that the report be drafted by December 1, according to statements of officials of the department of the interior.

Third Survey in Progress

The third survey of the project, which began four and one-half years ago, after E. P. Blaine of Seattle, had laid before the late governor Ernest F. Dierker a proposal for the construction of a dam on the Snake river in northern Idaho, for irrigating a large tract in the Columbia river basin in Washington territory in 1919, appropriated $100,000 for a preliminary survey by state engineers. The Columbia basin survey commission was organized and started the investigation, and two years later the legislature appropriated an additional $50,000 for continuation of its work.

After the commission had made a favorable report, the state in February, 1922, employed Major General George W. Goethals to make a further investigation and report on the feasibility of the project from an economic standpoint. He also made a favorable report.

Operating independently of the state and the federal government since the completion of the project, but working in cooperation with both, the Columbia Basin Irrigation League was organized in Pocatello, Wash., and is conducting the present program of the league, which is controlled by a board of directors comprising representatives of four Pacific northwest states, contemplating raising a fund of $250,000 for conducting a campaign of education to obtain federal backing for completion of the project. Of this fund, approximately $127,000 has been subscribed and $50,000 has been paid in.

Of the 2,000,000 acres of land included in the project 1,753,000 is classified as first class land capable of being placed under gravity irrigation. About 250,000 acres are susceptible of being watered by slight pumping, or are partly available to gravity irrigation, as engineers reports show. The land is situated in Franklin, Adams, Grant and Walla Walla counties in Washington, about 75 miles from Spokane, 120 miles from Seattle and 160 miles from Portland.

Cost Put at $270,000,000.

Cost of the completed project, including several lateral canals, has been estimated at $270,000,000, which would make the average cost per acre $147 to $171. This estimate was based on costs of material and labor during the high prices of 1921, and engineers since have stated that the acre cost probably would not average more than $125. The annual maintenance cost has been figured at 48 cents an acre. Seven years would be required for completion of the project.

Construction work will extend for 125 miles from Newport, Idaho, the point of diversion of the water, to Pasco, Wash., the point of distribution. The water would be carried for a part of the distance in a canal 90 feet wide and one foot deep, capable of an average flow of 12 miles an hour.

In the course of transmission from Lake Pend Oreille, the water would be carried through a large diversion dam at Albany falls on the Pend Oreille river, through six smaller lakes, each with an impounding dam and seven tunnels. One of these latter would penetrate a residence section of Spokane.

POINCARRE WILL DEFEND HIS DOMESTIC POLICIES

Debate on Internal Politics Scheduled in French Chamber of Deputies with Lively Session Indicated

PARIS, June 14 (AP)—The debate on internal politics, which has been fore-shadowed since President Poincarre signed his veto of the recent vote of the senate refusing to try the committee for treason, will begin in the chamber of deputies tomorrow afternoon on the resolutions by representatives of the largest group in the chamber known as "the Republican center."

The interpellators, M. Pellet and M. Ybarnegaray, are among the less prominent deputies, but the orators of the different groups are expected to intervene and the debate will probably develop into a sort of lineup for the election next spring.

A plan for a coalition of the radicals, republicans and center in order to cause cancellation of the chamber next year, has caused considerable nervousness, in the present moderate majority led by Andre Tardieu.

It is supposed to ask M. Poincarre if he looks to the parties allied with the socialists for a majority.

The leaders of the majority will call upon the premier to define his majority and say whether it includes the radicals.

HALTS SILVER PURCHASES

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Director Sechey of the mint will close the treasury books at 5:30 p. m. tomorrow to all offers of silver for purchase by the government and, it was officially stated today, the tender tenders are likely to be accepted for two or three years.

Actual treasury purchases of silver ended June 1 when offers estimated to two hundred million ounces had been received under the Pittman act. Since the offers all were on the basis of estimates, Mr. Sechey had no way of ascertaining definitely whether the amount required by the law would be entirely filled. Consequently he has continued to sell silver in order to meet the one hundred million ounces purchased to replace that loaned by the treasury to Great Britain for use in India during the war. When that billion is again in its hands the government will be out of the silver market. Officials believe the treasury will have no further need for additional stocks for several years.

TREASURY WILL MOVE BIG SUMS

Income Tax Receipts and British Payment to Offset Debt Retirement

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—More than three quarters of a billion dollars theoretically will pass through the treasury tomorrow in the government's mid-year fiscal operation.

Taxpayers of the country will complete their subscribed quarterly remittance of the year and at the same time the treasury will receive a payment from the British government of more than seventy million dollars as an installment on Great Britain's war debt to the United States. The treasury has to pay out two hundred millions to retire an issue of certificates of indebtedness, maturing tomorrow, but to offset this outlay it will receive more than $100,000,000 from the sale of certificates under the recently announced offer.

Treasury officials predicted tonight that the second tax installment would be about $270,000,000. The first payment, March 15, brought more than four hundred millions into the treasury, but that included many smaller assessments which were paid in full. The new issue of certificates which will mature four per cent interest and will mature February 15, was announced as for $150,000,000 but when subscriptions were closed last night, the total was around $190,000,000. Indications were given today that inasmuch as $38,000,000 of the subscriptions were in the form of untraded federal securities, turned in for replacement, these would be accepted in addition to the original amount of certificates offered for sale.

The belief was expressed at the treasury in connection with the anticipated tax receipts that the government's fiscal year ending June 30 would be completed with a surplus far in excess of the last official estimate. The highest surplus officially predicted in recent weeks was $125,000,000, but there were those at the treasury who believed the surplus might exceed $170,000,000 if the tax revenue meets expectation.

The surplus that may be on hand when the fiscal year ends automatically will go to reduction of the public debt.

CABINE SPLITS OVER LANGUAGE

King Albert Accepts Resignation Culminating Belgian Political Crisis

BRUSSELS, June 14 (AP)—The political crisis arising from the conflict in parliament over the proposition to substitute the Flemish language for French in the University of Ghent came to a climax this afternoon, when, after the senate had rejected a resolution introduced by Baron Charles De Broqueville for the use of Flemish language alongside of French, the cabinet decided to resign. The king accepted the cabinet's resignation.

Not only was the pretense split on the question, the chamber approving the Flemish language and the senate being opposed to it, but there were divisions in the cabinet itself, influential members, such as M. Van De Vyvere, favoring the predominance of Flemish, though a majority of the cabinet members opposed it.

In view of the impossibility of the cabinet reaching a unanimous conclusion as to its attitude on the subject, its resignation became inevitable.

outlandish name that caught my attention. "A 'people say that coincidences don't happen'?" Tuppence tickled her luncheon happily.

"I know that. You're only got one idea in your head. What I mean is, what about the next step? How are you going to keep the game up?"

"I don't know. We can only find out through Whittington. We must discover where he lives, what he does—something in fact. Now I can't do it because he knows me, but he only says 'You or the fantastic 70 Lyons.' He's not likely to recognize you. My plan is this, Tuppence went on calmly."

When I come out I shan't stop in my case he's watching. But I'll take up my stand somewhere near, and when he comes out of the building I'll drop a handkerchief or something, and off you go!"

smiled at her encouragingly. There was something in the quality of his smile that made the girl's usual reserved heart her.

"We wanted to know—that is, would you be so kind as to tell us anything you know about Jane Finn?" "Jane Finn? Ah! Mr. Carter appeared to reflect. 'Well, the question is, what do you yourself know about her?'"

FILER MAN DIES AFTER ACCIDENT

Charles O. Krohn, Pioneer Farmer, Loses Life Trying to Stop Runaways

In an attempt to stop a runaway team hitched to a hauled hayrack on his farm, about two miles south of Filer, on the pole line, Charles O. Krohn, aged about 50, pioneer Twin Falls county resident, received injuries about 6 o'clock Thursday evening which resulted in his almost instantaneous death.

Krohn had just come in from the field, unhitched his team and was talking to a neighbor, Mr. Bennett, when a team which had just been hitched to the hayrack by a young farm hand, jumped, throwing the boy under the wheel. Krohn, according to witnesses, ran toward the runaway and was struck by the front end of the rack and thrown under the wheels. He received the blow on the back of the head and his legs were bruised and his clothing torn.

No inquest will be held, Deputy Coroner Glen Sturdevant said Thursday evening. Krohn is survived by his wife, a son about two years old, two brothers in Spokane and a sister in Salt Lake. He first came to Twin Falls about 10 years ago, being engaged at his trade as a plasterer for a short time. About 14 years ago he moved to the farm near Filer and remained there since that time.

Parade Sets New Mark

The Elks parade this afternoon was the longest and best ever held by any organization in this section of the state. Practically every lodge in Idaho was represented and five bands took part. The Portello Elks, more than 200 in number, marched in the parade dressed in white shirts and trousers, white shoes and socks, straw hats with purple hat bands and purple sashes.

The parade was several blocks in length and terminated at the high school grounds where the flag day exercises were held under the auspices of Poacello lodge number 672.
