RIISING WATERS FLOOD HOMES IN NEBRASKA AREA

South Platte Overflows Banks in Vicinity of Ogalalla; -Train Service Throughout State is Crippled-

OMAHA, Neb., June 15, (AP)—A special dispatch to the Omaha Bee tonight states that the South Platte river near Ogalalla, Neb., flooded all homes between the Union Pacific tracks and the river. Feas are expressed by railroad officials there, the message declared. The flood which is now less than ten feet distant from the track caused a washout of several hundred feet of track. The sudden rise in the already swollen river is attributed to the heavy rains of Thursday and the breaking of a big irrigation reservoir near Brighton, Colo., last week.

Bridges near Merino, Sterling and Sedgwick, Colo., are also washed out, according to the dispatch. Residents near the river have cut a grade approaching the river in a last effort to hold the flood waters.

TRAIN SERVICE CRIPPLED

FREMONT, Neb., June 15, (AP)—With 500 feet of track washed out by the high water in the vicinity of Fremont, Washington county, traffic on the Northwestern railroad was demoralized today, according to local officials. Rains of Thursday and Friday all over the Nebraska system set the road running in such road beds making trainmen uneasy.

DELUGE HITS PIKES PEAK

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 15, (AP)—A torrential downpour struck the Pikes Peak region tonight with an accompaniment of an electric storm, a freak hail storm and a small tornado. Residents of the lowlands along Fountain creek were the worst sufferers.

The waters quickly receded and late estimates of the damage from that source place it at about $10,000. Greater loss may be reported on the hill, however. The center of the storm was 10 miles east of Colorado Springs, and a motorist brought in hail stones as large as $100,000 and escaped injury, he said, by holding the leather seat of his automobile above his head.

OKLAHOMA ROADS HARD HIT

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 15, (AP)—Every bridge over the North Canadian river from Beaver county in the Panhandle to Oklahoma county is washed out and total damage to the highways and bridges amounts to several million dollars as a result of the recent floods, officials said today. A number of agricultural counties have rendered powerless to ship out their crops.

BORAH RENEWS PLEA FOR SOVIET

Urges Recognition of Russian Government as Means of Opening European Markets

BOOBY Idaho, June 15 (AP)—Recognition of the Russian people, explanation of his stand on the soldiers' bonus and an attack upon the world court plan as at present outlined, were featured by Senator W. Borah or chairman in an address here for Idaho Pioneer day.

Towns of the upper Snake river valley united in celebrating the 50th birthday of Senator Borah's address was a part of the morning's program. It was his first address in Idaho since his last year.

Discussing the need of a world market as one of the biggest questions before the farmers today the senator urged the opening of European markets through the recognition of the people of Russia. "There are 140,000,000 people in Russia whom we are treating as aliens," he said. "How are you going to have peace in Europe with these people outside of the human family? You say the soviet government is communitarian. I don't believe in it any more than you do, but it is their form of government. Recognition of a government does not approve or disapprove of their form of government. It is not apologetic and it is not persecutions in Russia. I only know there has been a government there for six years and the prosperity see in it is a market to an end. If world markets are to be opened up and peace restored in Europe we had better sit down with the leaders of Russia and attempt to lead them in the right path."

Wallace Advises Adjustment of Farm Production to Fit Demand

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Warning to American farmers that unless production is fairly well adjusted to demand, prices will be disappointing and that low prices of the last three years have not been due to reduction of agricultural exports, was given today by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture.

"A great many people seem to have had the notion that the low prices for farm products during the last three years have been due to a reduction of our exports," said Mr. Wallace. "Under this misconception they have urged the adoption of various political and economic devices which they thought might increase agricultural exports. The fact of the matter is that our exports of farm products during the last three years have been far greater than before the war and greater even than during the years 1905 to 1914."

"Unless production is fairly well adjusted to demand, prices will be disappointing. We are far more dependent upon Europe for markets for our cotton than for our food products, and the price of cotton is not depressed."

"In considering the matter of future exports of our agricultural products, it must be remembered that the probable tendency will be downward. European agriculture is becoming more productive and an equal economic conditions are becoming more stable. As normal conditions in Europe are re-established their purchases of our surplus will become more normal."

UTAH RESIDENTS LOOK TO WYOMING FOR NEW NATURAL GAS SUPPLY

SALT LAKE, June 15, (AP)—Natural gas for Salt Lake City and Ogden from a newly discovered field in western Wyoming is being considered here. One well drilled recently is said to have a capacity of 80,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day and this amount, experts point out, is greatly in excess of what would be used by Salt Lake and Ogden even should natural gas displace coal for heating purposes.

Manufactured gas in Salt Lake City at present costs about $1.22 per thousand cubic feet, and it is claimed the natural gas could be piped in and sold for much under this amount. The new natural gas field in Wyoming is said to be practically inexhaustible and it is proposed to construct a pipe line of about 200 miles.

They have a cheering section of their own and are led by a Lehigh student cheering leader. No longer do they disturb the play by "razzing" visiting teams and shouting "kill the umpire." Nowadays they even have cleanly washed faces and hands.

BOLT IGNITES TANKS OF OIL

Three Large Containers Destroyed and Fourth in Flames in Pittsburgh Yard

PITTSBURGH, June 15 (AP)—Lightning this afternoon struck an oil tank in the storage yard and refinery of the Atlantic Refinery company here, and tonight the fire was still burning, the entire plant so enveloped in flames and smoke as to make estimates of the damage impossible.

Estimates at 11 o'clock were that three large tanks had been entirely destroyed and a fourth was burning, while efforts were being made to prevent the spread of the fire to the gasoline section where large quantities of oil were stored.

Five firemen were saturated with burning oil, but none was seriously hurt, and three others were injured by a falling wall.

Among the buildings destroyed were the grain, stable and specialty; room of the Lincoln plant of the United Engineering and Foundry company, adjoining the refinery, and firemen were trying to save a number of other plants in the immediate vicinity. The plants cover four blocks along the Allegheny river.

EFFORT TO FREE STAMBOLISKY COSTS HIS LIFE

Peasant Premier of Bulgaria Shot and Killed by Captors in Course of Attempted Rescue

SOFIA, June 15, (AP)—Alexander Stamboliski, premier of Bulgaria, from the time the peasant government was formed under his leadership in 1918 until he was overthrown last week by the Bulgarian army, was killed this morning in the village of Votina, near his native town of Slavoviza. He was shot—virtually on the spot—by a party of peasants to rescue him from guards who had captured him yesterday after a three-day flight.

Stamboliski was brought from the village of Golak, where he was captured. He announced he had important documents at his Slavoviza home and was permitted to set out on Slavoviza in an automobile surrounded by guards. On the outskirts of the village a party of peasants blocked the road.

Dies at Birthplace

Under the fire of the peasants the guards abandoned Stamboliski, while the peasants proceeded to escort him to the village. They met a band of soldiers who attacked the peasants with rifles. It was during the short fight which followed that Stamboliski was shot—virtually on the threshold of his birthplace.

Stamboliski, as a captive, was expected to be brought to Sofia by the army train today. When the train arrived at the station the streets around Alexander square were choked with citizens eager to get a glimpse of him. Shortly afterwards they learned of his fate.

Peasant Makes Arrest

It was a peasant who arrested the former premier at Golak, Stamboliski went to a tile making establishment and ordered a large amount of tile, paying 200 leva to bind the bargain. Recognizing him in spite of his disguise, the merchant—virtually on the purpose of the transaction and developed friendly contact so that he could communicate with the mayor of Slavoviza thereby getting in touch with his associates. The merchant summoned assistance and told Stamboliski he was under detention.

Stamboliski then decided to place himself in the hands of the authorities and wrote a letter to the chief of police at Votina, offering to surrender. The officer arrived several hours later with a detachment of men and proceeded to arrest the former premier asked to be permitted to drive to Slavoviza and it

ALIENS INFLOX CAUSES WORRY

President Will Point Out Conditions to Congress With Request for Remedy

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—With a view to enactment of remedial legislation, President Harding intends to call the attention of the next congress to the increasing number of aliens being smuggled into the United States, it was announced today at the White House.

It was said that President Harding feels the steadily increasing "bootlegging" of aliens to be a serious problem. The government, it was said, was attempting vigorously to prevent the illegal entrance of aliens and liquor, one of which is regarded as about as troublesome as the other.

Collusion Suspected.

Government officials who have studied the problem were said to be somewhat apprehensive of collusion in the course from which the aliens come, although recognizing that any such collusion is without sanction of the home governments.

Secretary Davis, who has been studying for several months measures to stop the illegal admission of aliens, estimated today on the basis of last month's report that there are in New York about 100,000 Chinese who had gained admission to the United States in violation of law. Their deportation, even if they could be arrested, would be an almost impossible task, the secretary asserted, adding that to deport the Chinese in New York alone would cost the government at least a million dollars.

Davis Urges Enrollment.

The labor secretary also told the president that he regarded the enrollment of aliens in this country as the only feasible method of stopping illegal entry of immigrants since he believed that even if the entire army and navy were used to guard the nation's borders, "immigrant smuggling" could not be stopped. An alien enrollment bill already has the endorsement of the administration and is expected to come up for action at the next session.

LIQUOR ISSUES WILL NOT CAUSE EXTRA SESSION

White House Announcement Puts to Rest Rumors of Early Call to Congress to Amend Volstead Act

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—There will be no special session of congress to deal with complications arising in the ship liquor situation. It is expected to be definitely settled at the White House.

The White House spokesman did not indicate whether this also applied to the question of a special session of the senate might be found advisable should the state department's efforts to negotiate treaties dealing simultaneously with the ship liquor question and with something else prove successful.

There was nothing to indicate, however, that administration officials are contemplating a yet to be made plans based upon the assumption that the American reciprocal treaty proposal will be accepted abroad.

Negotiations Still Young

Negotiations are still in the earliest stages without any indication what ever of an official or semi-official character having been received so far as known by the government as to the probable attitude of the maritime powers on the treaty proposal. It is made evident in official circles that it would not be surprising should the conversations now in progress continue some time. There are many points of view involved both as to the international status of ships within any territorial jurisdiction and to the feasibility of granting a limited right to search beyond the three-mile limit.

The discussion up to this point is understood not to have brought out many of these matters except as the American view point has been made known in presenting the treaty proposals. The whole question of definitions that would make it certain that the right of search proposed should not be in an emergency employed as an extension of territorial jurisdiction remains three miles in length. It is understood that the right of search should be permitted.

HARDING URGES CODE FOR CIVILIAN USAGE OF FLAG

President Tells American Legion Conference Nation Would be Better for Singing National Song

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—A code for civilian usage of the American flag and for proper behavior in its presence was advocated by President Harding today in addressing the American Legion's flag conference which has in attendance delegates representing a number of organizations. The president expressed a hope that the various organizations represented would insist upon "some suitable provision" to have every American learn to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" as a declaration that "we would like to have the spirit of America show itself in song."

Assistant Secretary Davis of the war department and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, were among the speakers on today's program.

A rising tide of farm education is sweeping America. Nearly a million young folks now belong to Boys and Girls Clubs. Now this vast army will become the "quality and quantity" farmers of tomorrow will be told to the old world by four red-checked, enthusiastic American girls. They are Beulah Rogers and Kathryn Bollaugh of Iowa, first winners in the National Canning contest, and Bertha Boyer and Elaine Chickdricks, Colorado, reserve champions at the International Livestock Exposition. Fresh from modern farm homes having running water, tractors and pure-bred livestock, the girl champions, after two weeks in the French School of Domestic Science, Paris, will swing into rural France. Demonstrations and talks will be given on economic home life, including canning and preserving. The girls will go into the devastated region, now being reclaimed by American machinery. As guests of the International Harvester company they are to demonstrate on the spot where in 1879 the late Cyrus Hall McCormick with his American reaper started a striking change in European rural life. They will also visit Amiens, a pivot point in the war where in 1919 the old International Harvester tractor in the picture carried off all-around honors, running two days continuously. Today American tractors are again at work turning battlefields into harvest fields. The three-month tour of the girls, who won over 100,000 contenders, is under the auspices of the American Committee for Devastated France. "And we'll return," smiled Miss Rodgers as the boat lifted anchor. "We have new ideas—not on French gowns, but on French cooking."

GREAT STRIDES SEEN FOR WEST WITHIN DECADE

General Electric President Predicts Immense Power Development Along With Increased Reclamation

SALT LAKE, June 15. (AP)—Visions of electrified railroads more common than steam lines are today and fuller development of hydro-electric resources, which will naturally follow or occur simultaneously with greater development of irrigation and agricultural resources, are some of the things General George of New York, president of the General Electric Company, sees materializing in the west within the next decade or two. Mr. George was a recent Salt Lake visitor and while here inspected numerous electrical projects in this vicinity. Electrification of railroads on a large scale Mr. George said he believed inevitable. "It is best from an economic viewpoint. Also, more efficiency would be possible. When it is considered that practically one-fourth of all tonnage handled by steam railroads is coal consumed by the railroads themselves an idea of the proposition may be obtained."

FOE TO SOVIET FOUND DEAD

WARSAW, June 15. (AP)—Advices to local newspapers say that General Dulkevitch, noted as an anti-Bolshevik leader in White Russia, and who for some time has been a fugitive in Poland, has been found murdered in the vicinity of the Bialowoz woods. His assassins are believed to be white Russians, who waylaid him as he was traveling through the forest. They are said to have executed Dulkevitch by a "snuffing tractor."

The Canary's Alring.

George, age five, is a pretty sharp youngster and picks up much of the slang that goes the rounds. He was greatly interested last summer in his neighbor's canary and when the bird was put on the perch on the warm days often stood beside the cage and submitted various questions as to birds' habits generally. One of his questions was, "Why do you put the bird in a cage?" His answer, satisfied when told that it was to give the canary fresh air. A few days ago George dropped into the neighbor's house. Spying the bird, he said he guessed it was too cold to put the singer outside now, and when told that the cage was correct, studied for a minute, and then said: "Oh, well, I suppose you'll 'give him the air' again next summer."

PLANS TO INTRODUCE NEW BEER BILL

Representative Fred D. Griffin, Republican, of Illinois, "drew" leader, has announced his intention of introducing a beer-and-light-wines bill on the first day of the new Congress. In an explanatory statement he declared that $70,000,000—more than enough to run the entire Army and Navy for a year—could be produced in revenue by permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer under Federal tax. "Such a tax would be paid more cheerfully than any other the Government could impose," he declared. "It would not only take care of a soldiers' bonus but would pay off the whole national debt in twenty years."

Get Warning in Radio.

A woman in California, listening in on a radio set, heard a warning from the state board of health as to the dangers of rabies. She had been bitten shortly before by a sick dog. The advice coming through the ether caused her to have an analysis of the dog's head made, which showed that the dog had been suffering from rabies and she reported for treatment in time to save her life from the dreaded disease.

Real Family Life.

An Indianapolis plumber with offices in North Delaware street is the father of three children and is in the habit of buying their clothes at the same time of the same firm. Saturday he walked into a downtown shoe store, followed by his children, and in response to the question, "What size?" answered: "Oh, mix 'em up." That same plumber was afraid to go home from a party because he had only four balloons, three short of enough to satisfy his children. He stayed and stayed until he obtained three more, and went on his way, rejoicing, at 1:30 in the morning.—Indianapolis News.

Books They Read.

The books people read are always interesting and amusing. Today in one office a dignified financier buried his head in a book on Checker Playing, a clerk read a Russian novel, a telephone operator was reading some of Walt Whitman's poems, while the office boy discussed the best way to end the last net of a play he is writing.—Detroit News.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Babe Ruth has created what sport experts believe to be a new record for free passes. He has received 61 in his first 50 games. In 1920 he set the major league record with 145 free tickets, but with his season only one-third over he has reached nearly half that total.

Cat Rings Doorbell.

A cat which rings the doorbell when it wants to get into the house is one of the latest unusual members of the puss family. This cat is owned by Mrs. Charles Wester, a lifelong resident of Carmel, N. Y. The cat is the family pet and, standing on its hind legs, with one forepaw against the door, uses the other forepaw to give the small handle a turn, and it gives the bell a husky ring. To the bell is of the kind which people turn with the thumb and first finger. Sometimes the cat does not succeed in clanging the bell upon first trials, but keeps at it until it does ring, when its mistress always opens the door to let it in.

A tradition of Jewish worship has been broken in Temple Beth El, for the first time in Detroit and for one of the few first times in the world, by the decoration of the temple with murals by Myron Baslow, the artist. Do You Save Enough?

BANKERS say that saving money is largely a matter of habit—of systematically putting away something every pay day—of consistently thinking in terms of thrift.

The bankers are right. But remember that thrift embraces buying as well as saving. It is "penny wise and pound foolish" to save by scrimping and yet spend money needlessly in making your every-day purchases.

Has it ever occurred to you that every day you can save something simply by reading the advertisements in this paper? Do you realize that the advertisements tell you just where and when to buy to advantage—that they tell you how to avoid regrettable expenditures?

Thrifty folks realize that advertising has reduced the selling costs of thousands of factories and stores. Many of the things that today count as necessities or simple luxuries could not be sold at anything like their present prices had not advertising created a broad market for them. It has made millions of sales at small profit where otherwise there would be thousands of sales at large profit per sale.

So, you owe a great deal to advertising. And you owe it to yourself to read advertising.

SEES SOLUTION IN PROBLEM OF LAND PURCHASE

Representative Smith Confident Congress Will Enact Required Legislation to Buy Reservoir Property

Confidence that congress, soon after meeting in regular session next December, will enact legislation required by the secretary of the interior for to authorize the purchase of the lands necessary for the completion of the American Falls reservoir project was expressed Friday by Representative Addison T. Smith, chairman of the house committee on irrigation and reclamation, who is spending the summer at his home here.

"I was somewhat disappointed, but not discouraged, this morning when I learned of the secretary's decision," Mr. Smith said. "It is evident to me that the secretary is pursuing a policy of extreme caution, which probably is desirable in respect to so large an undertaking. It is the secretary's policy to have the land purchased in one piece, and not divided among individual Indians. The reclamation service would be authorized under existing law to purchase Indian lands and no other lands."

Big Fund Available

"I am confident that congress, early in December, will give the necessary authorization, and that no controversy in respect to the appraisal of the lands will yield to settlement readily. Congress will not be called upon to appropriate additional funds in handling this phase of the situation, since purchase of the lands will be made out of reclamation funds already appropriated. There is available for purchase of this year the American Falls project $1,000,000 of federal funds, and $1,250,000, already appropriated, will be available next year.

"The secretary's policy is not to cause any delay in the completion of the project. The Indian lands in controversy would not be submerged inside of three or four years, even if construction of the dam were begun at once."

Delay Regrettable

"The possibility that development of the American Falls project may be delayed by the secretary's policy is the regrettable feature of the present situation as I view it," Mr. Smith said. "But, he added, "this need cause no concern because the secretary's approval of the contract with the power company involving an immediate payment by the government of $250,000, and continued expenditure of government funds in connection with the removal of the town of American Falls from the site of privately owned lands on the reservoir site, should be sufficient guarantee of the fact that the undertaking will be pushed to a successful conclusion."

DRY LAW REPEALER FAILS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15 (AP)—The O'Grady prohibition law repealer was wiped off the Illinois house calendar here tonight.

The Sleeveless Day Comes in Vogue

Whether your spirit control is Egyptian, Indo-Chinese, Early-Victorian, or merely late Parisian, you are likely to find yourself pretty sleeveless this spring and summer. Many of the afternoon frocks are quite without sleeves, and since the tendency of the time is to put the afternoon frock on in the morning, you may pursue an unchecked course.

This simple tea-time frock feels the influence of the Indo-Chinese only in the pattern of the fabric—a printed Cordella silk from the South Manchester looms, which has a design of deep Chinese blue and Indian red.

The architecture of this costume is so complicated that one well might try to cut it out with hand and scissors on it. It is merely gathered in the old-fashioned way at the neck and waist and drawn up with red ribbons which fall in long eared bows at the shoulders and center front. The skirt opens with discreet narrowness on a slip of Indian red crepe de chine, a band of which finishes the skirt and falls two inches below the slip.

Harding Presents Roosevelt Medals Awarded to Three

Major General Leonard Wood, Dr. H. F. Osborn and Miss Schuyler Recognized

WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Harding today presented the three gold medals, recently awarded by the Roosevelt memorial association, with the declaration that "Every thing which is done to preserve the memory and ideals and example of Theodore Roosevelt, is a contribution to the patriotic spirit and the confidence of the United States of America."

The presentation ceremonies were held in the east room of the White House almost 25 years to the hour from the time Roosevelt was elected president of the United States.

Major General Leonard Wood, retired, a native of Florida but with his famous regiment of Rough Riders for Cuba. General Wood, who has received a medal for distinguished service in the promotion of the national defense, could not be present because of his duties as governor-general of the Philippines.

Dr. H. F. Osborn, who served on his staff for many years, received it in his name.

Praises Several Wood

The president in presenting the Wood medal said he regretted that the recipient could not be present and added:

"Like the Americans, I know of the contribution of General Wood to the national defense. I know of his spirit of devotion which has been an inspiration throughout America. I know of the noble service he has already done. And I have peculiar reason to know of the most distinguished and patriotic service which he is now performing."

"As in the other cases, I can understand the spirit of Theodore Roosevelt in rejoicing in this bestowal of honor to the individuals whom he regarded as great and very highly admired. It is a becoming effort on the part of the Roosevelt memorial association because it conveys in another form the thought of the mindfulness, the earnestness, the readiness of Colonel Roosevelt to be of service to his country."

Naturalist Honored

The medal for distinguished service in the promotion of the study of natural history was bestowed by the president for the memorial association of Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History.

Dr. Osborn, who is now in England, declared that the "very rare distinction to have so pursued one's activity as to earn the devoted and trusted friendship of Theodore Roosevelt."

The medal was awarded in absence of and Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler, a great grand daughter of Alexander Hamilton, organizer of the Roosevelt commission which was the Red Cross of the Civil War.

Guiltless

The following may not explain why we call a person a "poor fish" but it shows what a "poor fish" a fish sometimes is. A man once placed a glass partition in an aquarium and deposited a bass on one side of the glass and several minnows on the other side. For two or three days the bass bumped its nose against the glass partition striking it the minute they gave it up as a bad job. The man then took the partition away, and the minnows swam around the bass untouched thereafter.

GENERAL LUIS TERRAZAS ANSWERS DEATH'S CALL

Military Burial to be Accorded Former Mexican Army Soldier and Agor Cattle King of Chihuahua

EL PASO, June 15 (AP)—A military burial will be accorded General Luis Terrazas, agor Mexican army man, who died at Chihuahua City, Mexico, today while friends were arranging to celebrate his ninety-fourth birthday anniversary on July 21.

General Luis Terrazas, one of the greatest cattle kings of Mexico, lost almost all his fortune in the Villa revolution and became an exile in the United States in 1913. In 1920 he returned to what was left of his estate, El Chihuahua City and recovered possession of most of his holdings in the vicinity of that city, including one of his palatial homes.

At the height of his fortune General Terrazas is said to have owned 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 acres of land in Chihuahua and his wealth was estimated at $40,000,000. He owned "great herds of cattle."

Francisco Villa confiscated all his estates and killed his stock. General Terrazas' friends have said that the general prayed to avenge the former Villa's death and that he had vowed to "kill Villa into the next world and then denounce him for his sins."

Terrazas was 81 years old when he was expelled to Texas from Mexico with his family. For six years he lived in El Paso, Texas, some of the time at the home of A. B. Fall, then United States minister and later secretary of the interior. Subsequently he lived for about a year in Los Angeles with 23 members of his family. When he returned to Chihuahua in 1920 he under the name of the son of his two sons, Juan and Alberto Terrazas, to rebuild his fortune, restock his ranges and accumulate settlers for his own land.

General Terrazas was born in Chihuahua City July 21, 1829, of Spanish parents. He practiced the Apache and Comanche Indians who invaded Chihuahua from the United States, fought during the War of Reform and was governor of Chihuahua state several times. He was an officer of the staff of Benito Juarez, the Mexican liberator and president of Mexico and captured Chihuahua City, his birthplace, from the native forces commanded by the "Caudillo" of this victory Terrazas was made a general.

ADOPTS CODE OF USAGE OF FLAG

Conference Called by American Legion Formulates Rules for Respect to National Emblem

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The code covering proper civilian usage of the American flag and the observance of its presence was adopted at the concluding session today of the conference of national organizations called by the American Legion, and a permanent committee was authorized to disseminate it throughout the country.

Resolutions adopted recommended that each of the more than sixty organizations represented "promote the study of the words and music of the 'Star Spangled Banner' and its teaching in all schools and juvenile organizations," as suggested to the conference yesterday by President Harding. State legislatures also were asked to enact uniform laws requiring display of the flag in and over all schools, parks, playgrounds and over other buildings.

Ranks Unpatriotic Teachers

Considerable discussion over what was described as the unpatriotic attitude of a number of teachers and textbooks in public schools resulted in adoption of another resolution demanding that "all persons employed in a public capacity, national, state and municipal, whose compensation is paid from public funds, be required to pledge allegiance and support the constitution and respect for the flag of the United States. Opposition was recorded to proposals to change the official dimensions of the flag.

Prescribes Women's Saluto

A proposal included in the report of the code committee that the proper salute to the flag by a woman holding the military salute employed by soldiers in uniform was amended to read that her right hand should be placed over her heart in paying respect to the emblem. The code covers 15 rules for display of the flag and list of 15 "things to avoid," in addition to setting forth the proper use of hunting and salutes and pledges to the flag, suggestions for state legislation and a recommendation that the "Star Spangled Banner" be universally recognized as the national anthem.

University President Recommends Prohibition of College Pranks Involving Abduction by Force

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Although stating that class rushes were conducted in "no way with the recent death of Louis Auber and the disappearance of Leighton Mount," Northwestern university students, President Walter Bill Scott said tonight he was convinced that class rushes of every form must be prohibited at Northwestern university.

"Acts of recklessness should not be called college pranks," President Scott stated tonight. "Abduction by force cannot be tolerated even though the abduction be to keep prominent class members away from social functions or to attend a party. University spirit and class loyalty should be encouraged, but they must be directed into channels consistent with university aims."

Scott's statement was composed in a report prepared for presentation to the university's board of trustees tomorrow and made public by him tonight.

BOCA RATON, Fla., June 15 (AP)—Postal inspectors tonight were searching for four bandits, who this morning robbed and killed a mail messenger here, taking a $1,000 payroll of a local coal company. The bandits escaped in the direction of St. Louis, Mo., after traveling John Giron, 50 years old, the messenger, out of their automobile near Collinsville, Ill. Members of a sheriff's posse, which was organized immediately after the robbery, reported tonight that they had found no trace of the bandits.

LORD CURZON EXPECTED TO SIGN LAUSANNE PACT

Delegates Persist in Belief That Agreement Will be Reached Despite Continued Complications

LAUSANNE, June 15 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Curzon of Great Britain is expected to come in Lausanne to sign the peace treaty with the Turks which, despite the continued complications of the question of the Ottoman debt, the delegates persistently believe will be negotiated.

England is taking the lead in opposing any adjournment of the conference. The French are no less eager to deftly settle the Near Eastern problem, but feel that they cannot yield to the Turkish insistence in regard to interest payments on the Ottoman debt involving the loss of 500,000 francs a day to French bondholders.

M. Venizelos has assumed the allies that Greece has no intention of abandoning the conference. His recent suggestion for the signing of peace preliminaries between Greece and Turkey, he said, was dictated by Greece's desire to demobilize her expensive army and concentrate her efforts on internal reconstruction.

WHEN GEORGE FELL DOWN

Defeat of a proposed nominal increase in Twin Falls municipal tax levy by a handful of citizens at a mass meeting comes as a surprise and shock pretty generally. Manifestly the outcome of the meeting was not in accord with the wish of Twin Falls citizenship as a whole...

It is a safe surmise that all of the opponents of the proposal including those who were presided through misinformation together with the city's little coterie of constitutional obstructionists were on hand at the mass meeting and voted. Their triumph could not carelessly be repeated if another opportunity were presented for voting on the question.

The situation precipitated by the ill starred meeting is so serious that it might not be permitted to continue if there is any other way out. The penalty is too great even for the unforgivable sin of apathy. Some way must be found to relieve the situation.

REVOLT AGAINST EFFICIENCY

The revolution in Bulgaria seems to represent the breakdown of super-efficiency in government. Stambouliski, the "peasant premier" who ruled the country for four years, was determined to eliminate all waste, extravagance, luxury and idleness. A beggar, a capitalist and a king looked alike to him.

There were two silent letters in the written language. Little letters were as immoral and intolerable as little men. So he swept them out of the alphabet.

Idleness and privilege somehow refuse to be swept out, or to stay swept out. Humanity clings to its perquisites and follies, and demands pleasure and waste and superfluity. The conservatives plotted revolt. The reactionaries reacted. And so Stambouliski and his super-efficient system were swept out together, and the two superfluous letters are restored to the alphabet, and people stop being industrious and sensible under compulsion, and somehow the nation seems strangely contented again.

FIRST AID CONTESTS

The work of the Red Cross, started during the war, of teaching home nursing and first aid, has borne much good fruit. Today a great many more people than ever before know the fundamental points of caring for the sick or injured in the home, quickly and safely. Best of all, the impetus has been given to carry on such education regardless of the lack of any war emergency.

Where swimming instruction is given on many swimmers annually take, and pass, the Red Cross life-saving test. Contests in such efforts attract general attention and give added inspiration for further striving. One city has determined recently to hold annual first-aid contests. Any organization may compete for the city championship, and there will be medals and awards for victorious teams and individuals.

Inter-city contests of this sort would have more point to them than the usual competition for promotion growth.

THE EXTENDED THUMB

Again the cryptic signal of the extended thumb is in evidence on the highways. But it is not heeded as it was in years past. Occasionally a motorist stops to pick up a couple of boys on their way to a ball game or a swimming place, or an honest pedestrian plodding along a country road, but as a general thing the automobile fraternity has turned against the free-five business.

This does not indicate necessarily any lack of generosity on the part of the drivers. All kinds of people own automobiles nowadays, and drivers along any thoroughfare are likely to be pretty much the same kind of people as the walkers—with this possible difference. The drivers are likely to be people who, when they want a thing, go out and hustle for it themselves. They cannot help having, therefore, a certain contempt for people who habitually beg rides.

And when such beggars become numerous as to constitute a pest, the automobilists naturally defend themselves by refusing to see the beggars. There is the consideration of safety, too. Many an automobilist, during the recent crime wave, was held up and robbed, or had his car taken away from him, by young fellows who had been generously picked up on the road.

All this is unfortunate insofar as it keeps deriding pedestrians from getting a friendly lift on their way. But in most cases the automobilist is little to blame. He has been forced to be selfish about it.

Smile When You Pay Your Income Taxes

Federal Revenue Agent Tells of Beneficial Uses to Which Tax Dollar is Put

From an address by Rex B. Goodrich, Collector, Internal Revenue Sixth District California

When revenue officers descend upon a community, the question in every body's mind is: "Was it made up?"

Do not be here to make an investigation of any of you tonight, but to invite you to a brief contemplation of the obligation the individual owes to his community, state and nation, and the benefits he derives from these agencies of government. Then, with that obligation and these benefits in mind we suggest that you should "smile when you pay your taxes."

Most of us fail to comprehend that we are not built in the governmental jurisdiction of the United States of America, that great cooperative organization dedicated to the one thing in life that is worth while—human happiness. It is only because you and I, as individual citizens of the United States, maintain this great agency that society is able to function at all or that we have the blessings and benefits of Christian civilization.

A few of the common things will illustrate what I mean. For instance, the food you eat, and the milk you drink, the clothes you wear, the things you know where it comes from, or who has handled it. You accept it on faith because you depend upon the government for protection through the effective administration of pure food and sanitary laws.

Guarding Public Health. Then there is the public health. Do you ever stop to think of the fact that for your tax money which goes into this governmental activity, through it cholera and bubonic plague, which take the toll of thousands in foreign lands, are kept from spreading here, all forms of contagious diseases are restricted, so that epidemics of these diseases are now almost unknown.

Education. You are supported by taxation, and if you received nothing else for your money they alone would amount to a reimbursement for the whole amount of your tax bill. I do not suppose there is a man here tonight who has a gun in his pocket. That is not because you believe there is no need for it, but because you rely upon the instruments of government for protection. You go to your work in the morning, leaving the matter in the hands of the law. The doors are open, the children are playing in the back yard. You know they are, but you do not worry. Why? Because of the protection afforded by the governmental agencies supported by the taxes you pay.

Every man who had a gun carried it. More crime, burglary, larceny, robbery—was committed in that one day in the city of Boston than in any sixty days of normal times in the same city.

Your Money's Worth

Do you get your money's worth? Is there any more you spend for which you get such large returns? I could stand here until morning and enumerate the things that result from this power of government. And yet you find men complaining about the taxes they pay.

You have a right to demand that there shall be economy in the operation of the government. We collect a lot of money in the revenue service. Some remarkably good money. It costs 50 cents on the dollar to collect it. I want to give you some exact figures. It cost $25,000,000 in our office to collect more than $50,000,000 of tax. The loss that one-half of one per cent. There is not a business enterprise in this district that is operating on any thing like that percentage of expense. In the nation as a whole there was collected $2,200,000,000 in all kinds of Federal taxes at a cost of $1,100,000,000.

Then again, while talking tax figures, I want you to know that the tax bill in the United States is $26,300 per cent of the national product. That is, of any of the civilized nations, Great Britain, where not only is the income tax three to five times greater than in the United States, but the tax bill is $74.20 per cent of the national product. One-fourth of the blessings out of that we do.

Most Nearly Fair Tax

The income tax law is the most nearly fair tax ever written and for two reasons: First, a man pays in accordance with his ability to pay.

Second, the benefits he derives from the maintenance of the government—and herein is shown the equity of the graduated scale of taxation from four per cent on the first $2,000 to 63 per cent on the little needs and little protection of the government. The more property a man has the more his needs protection.

There is not a thing you own that you do not own because of the ability of the government to keep you in that ownership. There is not a thing you own that you do not own because of the ability of family and friends, and there is not a thing you own that you do not own because of the ability of the government to keep you in that ownership.

Wealth in Maine Fur Trade

An for the fur trade in Maine, creel estimates place a money value of a million on this business. To be sure, this is through the figures reported by the State game department. But the State game department does not give the catch on thousands of farms where the boys do their own shooting and trapping; nor do they include many thousand dollars' worth of furs shipped directly out of the state without check on them, says the Lewiston Journal.

Explaining the "Planetesimal" Theory. The visiting star left behind a sun surrounded by a vast revolving cloud of matter that had been torn out of it. In this cloud were millions of small lumps of matter—called "planetesimals"—of various sizes. Some of them, a little larger than the others, became the nucleus of our earth. It picked up the smaller lumps that happened to be revolving about the sun in the same general path. Think of a molasses-coated baseball flying through space and hitting smaller balls.

In the course of time—millions on millions of years—the earth picked up nearly all the baby planets within its reach.—Popular Science Monthly.

But afterward we always find that there has been some nonentity, a servant or a clerk, who has remained in the background unnoticed, and that the elusive Mr. Brown has escaped us once more.

WHEAT PRICES GO HIGHER

Reports of Crop Damage to Both Winter and Spring Sowings Gives Bulls Advantage

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Higher prices for wheat resulted today from reports on damage from the rains in the winter crop belt and from drought in some of the spring crop states. The closed firm at 1 1/8 net advance, with July 21 1/8 to 1 1/4 and September 21 1/8 to 1 1/4. Corn finished 58 1/2 to 1 1/4 up and oats scored gains of a shade to 1/4. In provisions the outcome ranged from 5 cents decline to a rise of 20 to 22 cents.

Kansas reports in particular indicate that excessive rains had brought about severe impairment of the probable yield of wheat.

North Dakota and Minnesota led in the sounding of complaints about the effects of dry weather. On the other hand downpours in various parts of South Dakota furnished relief for that state. The net effect was that there was evidence of hedging sales here had more or less to do with causing some thing of a reaction in prices. Bulls again became aggressive buyers, however, and most of the day's advance was not held at the close.

Corn and oats sympathized with the wheat advance, about 31 of the effects of dry weather. On the other hand downpours in various parts of South Dakota furnished relief for that state. The net effect was that there was evidence of hedging sales here had more or less to do with causing some thing of a reaction in prices.

Provisions were firmer owing to an upturn in hog values.

STOCKS MAKE RECOVERIES

Short Covering Operations Cause Sharp Rally Just Before Close of Reactionary Trading Session

Day's total sales 776,400 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 91.86; net gain, .38. High, 1923, 105.28; low, 92.77. Twenty railroads averaged 83.66; net gain, .19. High, 1923, 90.33; low, 80.15.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Short covering operations brought about a sharp rally just before the close of today's stock market which had exhibited a reactionary tone throughout most of the session. Closing prices were irregular, most of the usual leaders showing only a slight advance. The market was characterized by a reactionary tone throughout most of the session. Closing prices were irregular, most of the usual leaders showing only a slight advance.

There were no developments in the day's news to account for the selling pressure which was of professional origin and obviously inspired by the continued lack of public interest and the unwillingness of insiders to support their favorites.

Repeated attempts to bring about general liquidation were frustrated by the strength shown by a few individual stocks notably Atchafalpa, which closed 2 1/4 points higher. Other strong spots were Associated Dry Goods, Dupont Chemical and Allied Chemical up 2 to 4 1/2 points.

Pan-American issues made the hour feature in the oil group, closing about half a point above yesterday's final figures. Recent weakness of California Petroleum was attributed to liquidation resulting from the increased margin required on the new stock. Stocks, including most of the heavy ones, of the day. Copper shares made no response to the higher prices for export metal.

Railroad issues showed moderate strength on reports that the First National bank interests were taking a more active part in the financial affairs of the country. Most of the other railroad issues showed moderate strength.

Foreign exchange rates showed few important changes. Demand sterling was quoted at 193 and French francs were quoted around 492 cents. German marks rallied slightly to 2008 1/2 cents. Money rates were steady despite the heavy run over of funds in connection with the necessary interest on the day's payments. Call money held steady at 1 1/2 per cent throughout the day. Demand for time money was light with 90 to 120 days rates at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per cent and the longer maturities at 4 1/2.

DUN'S REPORT.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will show that business trends are measured show a diminution of buying in primary channels, but a general increase in distribution. There are reasonable signs and no mark any unusual or unexpected change in the general situation. Close observers of conditions had not anticipated that the strength in commodity expansion of the first quarter of this year would continue indefinitely or that the rise of prices would go on until checked and held back by a reaction in the policy of avoiding burdensome accumulations of merchandise.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—The raw sugar market was unsettled by the sharp reaction in the futures and as no sales were reported prices were nominal. Cubas were offered at 5 1/4 cents cost plus freight, equal to 5.75 for centrifugals.

There was a further sharp decline in the raw sugar futures market today due to renewed general selling prompted by the continued disappointing consuming demand. The lowest prices showed declines of 38 to 45 points on active positions, with Wall street and houses with Cuban connections the principal sellers. Near the close there was a rally of about a dozen points covering 4000 fund prices 28 to 33 points net lower. Closing: July, $4.95; September, $4.98; December, $4.92; March, $3.92.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, June 15 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin says: "The wool market has continued sluggish this week and prices are a bit easier, secured wools. Fine single wools being largely steady. But the large exports testify to the relative weakness of this market for cross breeds."

The foreign markets keep fairly firm, however, all good wools at Liverpool holding steady with continental demand especially keen. The poorer styled wools were about five or ten cents easier. Bradford is feeling better. "In the west there is still more or less of a deadlock. Although some wool is being taken at limits which are 5 to 6 cents a pound lower in the gross than they were at the high point. The goods market is still more or less unsteady, but the wool market is feeling better. "Mohair demand has continued rather restricted during the week, but
