

PANIC STRICKEN ITALIANS FLEE AETNA'S WRATH

Molten Rock Cracks Through Five Great Gorges On Side of Mountain; 30,000 People Reported Homeless

CATANIA, Italy, June 18 (AP)—According to latest news, the earthquake shocks from Mount Etna continue with increasing panic among those inhabitants, who have not yet made their way out of the threatened region, but there has been a still further subdivision of the lava stream, and Linguaglossa is considered almost out of danger.

The panic stricken people are raising prayers to Saint Egidio, patron saint of Linguaglossa, who, according to legend, in 1864 stopped the flow of lava at the very gates of the town.

One report estimates that 30,000 people are homeless in Etna's stricken area.

ROME, June 18 (AP)—Mount Etna, in violent eruption, is laying waste the surrounding countryside, say dispatches reaching the mainland.

Great rivers of molten rock, pouring down the steep sides of the mountain from numerous fissures, are overwhelming all before them, and the inhabitants of the surrounding settlements are fleeing in despair, while crops and homes disappear under the hissing flood.

The main crater of Etna, after the fitful displays of the last week, suddenly opened up at midnight Sunday with a noise like the firing of a thousand cannon. There were subsequent rumblings, flames shot to the sky and the population of the little towns about the base of the cone fled to the plains.

Through Five Mouths.
Five great cracks opened in the northeastern slope of the mountain and from these five mouths several kilometers from the old crater, seven streams of lava.

Thousands of tons of rocks and ashes were hurled to a height of from 30 to 60 feet from the old and new craters and the lava streams advancing on a frontage estimated at 500 yards, had the view of the valley in front of them in their path and progressed at a speed of a mile and a quarter an hour.

Isolated houses, left early by their owners, were speedily devastated. The important railway station of Castiglione was destroyed.

Doomed City Deserted.
Linguaglossa, which is some 10 miles from Catania, is reported to be almost deserted.

Unions Negotiating.
The trades unions already have inaugurated negotiations with Chancellor Cuno and the ministry of labor with the object of remedying the wage difficulties due to the mark's depreciation, but there is widespread fear that the mark and file of the workers faced by still worse conditions, will get out of hand and strike.

Some quarters regard the rumblings of outlaw strikes as one of the causes of the mark's new slump; others continue to attribute it to Germany's political prospects abroad and the heavy demand lately among German industrialists for foreign currencies.

The dollar officially was 147,630 to 148,370, as compared with Saturday's 114,712 to 115,388. Late in the afternoon the dollar reached 160,500 unofficially. The rumor was circulated on the hours for a time today that hereafter the mark would not be given official quotation in New York.

Poison For Billion Grasshoppers Issued to Rupert Farmers

RUPERT, Idaho, June 18 (AP)—Enough poison to kill one billion grasshoppers has been issued to farmers in this district since June 4. The local agricultural station filled orders for 15,000 pounds of the poison, and it distributed properly, it is said, will cover an area of 2000 acres. In some places near here, where the grasshopper pests appear annually as a menace to crops, the average number of them in one acre has been found to approximate 3,600,000.

PREUS LEADS IN RACE FOR TOGA

Minnesota Governor Wins In Tight Run Against Former Justice For Nomination

ST. PAUL, June 18 (AP)—Governor J. A. O. Preus, republican, Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor, and James A. Carley, democrat, were nominated for United States senator in Monday's statewide primary in Minnesota. Returns available early today indicated.

St. Paul, June 19 (AP)—Nomination of Governor J. A. O. Preus for the United States senate in the republican ticket was indicated in returns available at 1:30 a. m. today from Monday's statewide special primary in Minnesota.

When 1083 of the state's 2520 precincts had reported, Preus had a lead of 11,000 votes over Oscar Hallam, former justice of the state supreme court, and attaches of Hallam headquarters here "unofficially" concede Preus' nomination.

Magnus Johnson, who was defeated by Governor Preus in the last gubernatorial election, had a lead of nearly 5000 over Dr. L. A. Fritzsche on the farmer-labor ticket, with most of Hennepin and Ramsey counties (Minneapolis and St. Paul) reported.

Carley's margin in capturing the democratic nomination was so wide that it was not planned to complete tabulation of the democratic vote tonight.

BOY DROWNS IN POND

ODDIN, June 18 (AP)—Shipping from a raft upon which he was playing in a pond near here, Lorin Crusey, 8 years old, was drowned today. The boy had attempted to push the raft from shore and fell into the water, six feet deep.

Cries of Lorin's pal, Earl Kinsley, 6 years old, who also was on the raft, attracted a passerby who leaped into the pond and recovered the boy.

IDAHO SHIPPERS GIVE VIEWS ON CAR SHORTAGES

Detention of Rolling Stock by Eastern Roads Blamed For Recurrent Stringency In Northwest

POCATELLO, June 18 (AP)—Prevailing freight car shortages in the Pacific northwest, the cause and extent and measures to alleviate the situation, were discussed here today by shippers and railroad representatives, meeting with commissioners of the interstate commerce commission.

The hearing closed late today and it was announced that the next regional meetings to consider the car situation, together with other rail problems, would be held at Spokane and Seattle.

Testimony introduced in behalf of the shippers today indicated that they viewed the car shortage problem as "a chronic condition, induced by the detention of cars by eastern lines, rather than through any fault of local railroad companies."

Commissioner G. B. Atchison announced that the hearings are being held in response to a resolution introduced in the senate requiring the interested commerce commission to render a report regarding car shortage and transportation facilities in the Pacific northwest region.

Way Presents Evidence

Leonard Why, rate expert for the public utilities commission of Idaho, and also secretary to Senator Frank R. Gooding, was the principal figure in presenting evidence on behalf of the shippers. Other witnesses for the shippers were J. R. Fiedl, fruit grower of Emmett, and Harry Yost of Boise, representing vegetable shippers.

J. M. Thompson and W. H. Gibson of the Idaho utilities commission, and W. H. Prickett, manager of the traffic service bureau of Utah, were among those present at the hearing.

Witnesses for the shippers, who questioned on behalf of the carriers were J. M. Souby of Quality, assistant commissioner and valuation counsel for the Union Pacific system.

Carriers' Representatives

Among representatives of the carriers present at the hearing were John O. Moran of Pocatello, attorney for the O. S. L.; H. V. Platt of Salt Lake, general manager of the O. S. L.; G. L. Whipple of Omaha, superintendent of transportation for the Union Pacific; E. Goodwin of Salt Lake, assistant general freight agent of the Oregon Short Line; T. S. Kimbrey of Salt Lake, Oregon Short Line car service agent; R. B. (Continued on Page Five)

Wheat Growers Seek Plan to Put Industry on Sound Economic Basis

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP)—Representatives of farmers' organizations of the west, south and southwest were among the first arrivals today to attend the annual wheat conference which opens here tomorrow. C. S. Barrett of Atlanta, Ga., president of the National Farmers' union, declared that the non-pecuniary nature of the conference held out hope that from it might come a plan for the stabilization of wheat growing in America on a sound economic basis.

"We come here as wheat growers to meet with representatives of the business interests of the country," he said. "We come from all parts of the country in which our political interests are all different. We didn't come here to talk politics, but business, for our business interests are all the same. The fact that the country's financial and transportation interests of the manufacturing states are coming here to put their heads together with the wheat growers of the farming states makes it possible for us to set up a practical plan to save the wheat growers from bankruptcy."

PRESIDENT AT WORK ON TALKS

Endeavors to Clear Desk of All Official Matters Before Setting Out For West

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The door to his office closed against all callers, President Harding spent today at work on addresses to be made on his western trip and endeavors to clear his desk of all official matters prior to his departure.

Final arrangements for the trip that will take the executive to the Pacific coast, Alaska, the Panama canal zone and Porto Rico have been completed, and with the exception of a few details all is in readiness for the departure shortly after noon Wednesday.

The presidential party will travel on a special train of ten cars and will comprise about seventy persons. The immediate party of the president will number about twenty-five and more than a score of newspaper men will make the trip.

The itinerary provides for no stops between Washington and St. Louis, where the president will arrive Thursday afternoon. The president will make his first formal address that night and shortly before midnight will leave for Kansas City.

The president, it has been indicated, will make an appeal in behalf of the administration proposal for American membership in the world court in his St. Louis speech. He will follow that up with a pronouncement of the administration's transportation policy in his Kansas City address and in his third formal address at Hutchinson, Kansas, on Saturday, will discuss agricultural problems. Several other subjects, such as the question of reclamation and immigration, will be discussed by the executive.

FORMER GOVERNOR OF IDAHO TO BE HEAD OF RECLAMATION SERVICE

Secretary of Interior Work Abolishes Office of Director and Puts D. W. Davis in Charge

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Sweeping changes in the organization of the reclamation service were seen today in the announcement by Secretary Work of the abolition of the office of director, effective July 1. D. W. Davis, former governor of Idaho, will assume the duties of the service, with title of commissioner.

American Falls Not on Harding's Idaho Schedule

Twin Falls Committee Continues With Plans For Excursion to Pocatello

President Harding's itinerary through Idaho will not permit him to visit American Falls on his western trip, according to word received Monday from George B. Christian, the president's secretary. Arthur L. Smith, chairman of a local committee arranging an excursion from Twin Falls in connection with the president's visit to Idaho.

The president will arrive at Pocatello at 12 noon, and leave at 2 p. m., June 21. He will arrive at Idaho Falls at 4:15 a. m. and leave at 5 p. m., June 28. Our schedule does not provide for passing through American Falls.

Although disappointment is felt here over the president's inability to visit American Falls, Representative Smith said Tuesday evening that his committee was proceeding with arrangements for an excursion for the residents of Twin Falls and vicinity who desire to join in the welcome for the president at Pocatello.

"It is believed that a large delegation from Twin Falls at Pocatello will insure the president with our interest in reclamation and in the American Falls project in particular," a statement issued by the chamber of commerce Monday evening said.

High Wind Demolishes Village of Ernfold, Saskatoon; Child Torn From Mother's Grasp, Found Safe

REGINA, Sask., June 18 (AP)—The village of Ernfold, Sask., 67 miles west of Moosejaw, is today a mass of wreckage as the result of a cyclone that swept over the district Saturday at midnight.

Buildings are down in all directions and practically every window in the area was blown out. The high wind was accompanied by a considerable extent. Flocks of poultry have disappeared.

The nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, of Uren, who was returning to her father's home from Chaplin when her parents, was blown from the buggy just at the outskirts of Uren and was lost for ten hours. The buggy was upset just as the child was taken from the mother's grasp. She was found unharmed, sound asleep in a deserted shack a mile and a half away.

HARDING BAKES EXTRAVAGANCE IN GOVERNMENT

President Tells Officials He Is Ready to Discharge Those Who Would Exceed Budget; Forecasts Big Surplus

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Confident that the government will finish the 12-month period ending June 30, with a surplus of $200,000,000, President Harding told government officials at a business meeting today that he expected greater economies to be effected during the next fiscal year. The president asserted, must be pressed further for the benefit of the taxpayers.

The executive, taking official notice of reported attempts by some officials to increase requests for grant appropriations than had been recommended by the budget bureau, warned against repetition of such activities. Harding, in a speech before a group of officials who urged congressional committees to go beyond the budget figures in appropriations.

"I do not hesitate to say," Mr. Harding declared, "that repetition of the acts of any government officer before a congressional committee, in urging appropriations in excess of the budget's recommendation, will be regarded as sufficient reason to cause the giving of consideration to the severance of such officials from the government service."

The president's determination to enforce the program of keeping government expenditures within income was reflected in a speech by Brigadier General Leonard Fox, his personal secretary, also, speaking at the meeting, said he had asked the president to discharge one official who had instructed his subordinate to spend the budget money for their bureau before July 1. The official, General Lord, declared, sent telegrams to his field service employees, urging them to spend the appropriation lapse at the end of the fiscal year when unexpended funds revert to the treasury general fund.

General Lord made a plea for a stopping of government operations, the small as well as the large, for both kinds, he said, were equally important in any program of retrenchment.

The president characterized the efforts of the government "business" organization towards retrenchment as (Continued on Page Five)

GERMAN LABOR GROWS RESTIVE

Talk of Outlaw Strikes Comes With Fall of Mark to New Low Level

BERLIN, June 18 (AP)—Berlin was buzzing tonight with talk of impending negotiations with Chancellor Cuno and the ministry of labor with the object of remedying the wage difficulties due to the mark's depreciation, but there is widespread fear that the mark and file of the workers faced by still worse conditions, will get out of hand and strike.

Some quarters regard the rumblings of outlaw strikes as one of the causes of the mark's new slump; others continue to attribute it to Germany's political prospects abroad and the heavy demand lately among German industrialists for foreign currencies.

The dollar officially was 147,630 to 148,370, as compared with Saturday's 114,712 to 115,388. Late in the afternoon the dollar reached 160,500 unofficially. The rumor was circulated on the hours for a time today that hereafter the mark would not be given official quotation in New York.

HARDING THIRD PRESIDENT TO PAY PARK VISIT

Chief Executive's Intended Trip to Yellowstone Recalls Previous Visits of Arthur and Roosevelt

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., June 18 (AP)—President Harding and his official party are expected to arrive in the park at the northern gateway on June 20, and depart from the same gateway on the following evening.

The entire party, which includes about 70 members, of whom perhaps 20 will be newspaper men and photographers. No previous official visit in history has been of corresponding importance inasmuch as favoring the nation with the park is concerned.

Two other presidents have visited the park during their terms of office.

President Arthur, accompanied by the secretary of war, the lieutenant general of the army, the chief justice, several foreign diplomats and a party of distinguished civilians, visited the Yellowstone in 1882, all traveling by horseback, followed by a great pack train. This party traveled nearly 400 miles.

President Roosevelt came to the Yellowstone in April of 1903, accompanied by the great naturalist, John Burroughs. Roosevelt entered on horseback and traveled by sleigh to the geysers basins and grand canyons. He remained in the park nine days, on leaving the park he dedicated the northern gateway as "for the benefit and enjoyment of the American people."

Travel Conditions Change

Conditions of travel have greatly changed since those earlier presidential visits. Traveling by automobile over the splendid highways of the park it will be possible for President Harding to see the points of greatest interest within the two days allotted for his visit, although a longer stay would, of course, be more satisfactory.

Besides seeing the so-called "Four grand canyons, Lake Yellowstone and other scenic wonders, it is not improbable that the president will glimpse an abundance of game. Elk recently have been seen frequently near the park highways. This is not surprising since during the spring more than 10,000 of these noble animals were actually counted in the park. Prong-horn, caribou, deer, bear and antelope also are very favorable. The bears usually frequent the vicinity of the big hotels after the tourist traffic starts. The park season formally opens June 30.

A herd of antelope has been grazing near the Tower Falls road, not many miles from Mammoth hot springs, and if time should permit the president might easily see the head of buffalo in the same direction.

New Geyser in Action

A natural feature of the park new this season is a geyser which has broken in the North basin across the road from the Black geyser. This new geyser recently has been erupting twice daily to a height of 75 feet. The famous geysers of the Upper basin, including Old Faithful, Giant, Grand Grotto, Daisy and others—all have been performing this spring in their customary interesting fashion.

The presence of a large group of newspaper men will serve to emphasize the changes in park communications since the visit of President Arthur in 1882. At that time it was necessary to establish a regular courier service to relay messages to a telegraph station for transmission to Washington. Of course the park is now covered by a network of telephones, and there are telegraph stations at all important points. Special telegraph service will be arranged at Old Faithful during the president's visit.

Transportation also has undergone great evolution. Whereas pack trains were the rules in the days of Arthur, succeeded in turn by the great stage coaches, the service now is provided by a great fleet of 250 ten-passenger cars and other vehicles of the Yellowstone Park Transportation company.

FOOTBALL STAR KILLED

Victor Place, Former Coach at University of Washington, Reported Fatally Hurt in Logging Accident

SEATTLE, June 18, (AP)—Victor M. Place, former football coach at the University of Washington, and in his college days at Dartmouth a member of the mythical "All-American" football squad was killed in a logging accident at Brookings, Oregon, Saturday, according to word received today by friends here. Place coached football at Ohio Wesleyan college from 1903 to 1905 and at the University of Washington in 1906 and 1907. He was succeeded at the local school by Gilmore Dohie, now coach at Cornell university. Later Place practiced law here.

ONE HOUR DRESS CREATES SENSATION

Display at Wright's Brings Interested Women

Lots of interested women were at Wright's store yesterday to see the display of the sensational "One Hour Dress," to examine the garment more closely, and to learn by what magic it is possible to make a dress in sixty minutes without the sacrifice of beauty, style and distinction.
The Wright's store, in staging its "Fashion Service Week for Home Dressmaking" as part of the nationwide movement sponsored by the Woman's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences, of Scranton, and in arranging for the display of the "One Hour Dress," which is one of the Woman's Institute creations, anticipated the interest the event would arouse in the community. So demonstrators were on hand when the doors opened to answer questions and explain the making of the dress.
Every woman attending the display received a printed copy of "A Guide to Correct Dress," an attractive booklet setting forth in an authoritative manner the style of dress, hat, wraps, shoes, gloves and dress accessories the well-dressed woman should wear on every occasion. Distributed with it were complete printed instructions for making the "One Hour Dress." Both booklets are from the pen of Mary Brooks Picken, vice president and director of instruction of the Woman's Institute. Mrs. Picken is a nationally known authority on dress and style creation. Her writings on these subjects are printed weekly by nearly 200 daily newspapers throughout the country.

The store windows are attractively decorated in honor of the event. One display presents graphically the steps taken in making the dress and indicates the time required for each operation. Another display, a reproduction of an oil painting in full color, shows the completed garment as it appeared on Mrs. Marshall, the famous screen star, when her likeness was painted by W. G. Kriegerhoff, a noted American artist, whose works include portraits of Cardinal Mercier, Marshal Foch and King Albert of Belgium.—adv.

SHOSHONE TEAM LOSES CONTEST TO TWIN FALLS

Errors Pave Way For 9 to 7 Victory For Locals, Eden and Jerome Teams Win In Sunday Games

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

Shoshone 7
Twin Falls 9
Kimberly 3
Eden 4
Hansen 1

Twin Falls baseball team lined out the Shoshone ball tossers here Sunday afternoon, 9 to 7, in the contest featured by many errors, some nice fielding and some hard hitting.

Leading until the eighth frame, the Shoshone contingent felt that another mark would be registered for them in the win column, but such was not to be, as Whitel's wrecking error tore into Mr. Foster, doing slab duty for the visitors, for five out of the lead and holding it, although Shoshone became dangerous in the ninth, and sent a marker across, with a man left stranded on the bags.

Barlogi of the visiting team was the shining light with the willow, gathering four hits out of five trips to the plate.

Foster, a new man to the Twin Falls players, did the hitting, for Shoshone and had all the earmarks of being a real winner, making his head do most of the work. But 7 hits were made off his delivery, giving the way for the win to the Twin Falls rurs. Foster had the knack of keeping them where they wouldn't hit ten very far, although Whitel connected with a triple that hit the score board. Carlos Linville smashed out a double, these two hits being the only two made by the locals that went for extra bases.

Don Linville started on the mound for Twin Falls and lasted four and one third innings, the Shoshonites not taking kindly to his offerings.

Phil Fix rolled him and pitched a nice game, tightening up in the pinches, and keeping the invaders away from the platter.

An error by Jim Scelley followed by another, and a two-ply error gave the enemy a marker in the initial frame. A couple of errors and a clean hit made another in the second. The Shoshone had no net content with two so added one more in the third, when they fell on Linville for two bingles which, sandwiched in with two out netted another marker.

Twin Falls first run came in the third, when "Hooh" Linville doubled and came home on two errors. The locals temporarily tied the score in the fourth, Whitel sent one of Foster's grove balls to the score board, and scored on Scelley's clean swat. Scelley worked his way to third on weak infield work, and scored on an error.

Shoshone clouted out two more runs in the fifth, on three hits and an error. This was too much for Manager Whitel, and Linville went to the outfield and Fix took the mound.

Twin Falls sent one across in the fifth, when Smith mangled to first, took second on a fly, and Scelley's second hit did the rest.

An error and a double by Piper made the score read 6 to 4 in favor of Shoshone in the sixth, and the visitors had the game well tucked under their belt.

In the eighth, the Shoshone team fell to pieces, and with a few hits mixed in five runners spiked the rubber.

ELKS AND LEGION PLAYERS TO BATTLE THIS EVENING

Fast Game Scheduled in Twilight
League, Manager Brown Back on the Job

Local fans will be treated to a real ball game this evening, when the Legion team, under the personal supervision of Ray Brown, locks horns with the Elks' brigade of ball tossers.

"Daniel" Boone, the elongated first baseman, has taken the management of the Elks, to succeed Harry Benoit, and promises that his purple and white warriors will be at the top when the last bell rings.

Ray Brown promises a few surprises for this evening's entertainment, as he will no doubt have to bring out a new pitcher, as Garrity's arm is a little sore from Sunday's workout against the Kimberly team.

Ray Hodgkin will be used in the box for the antlered herd, with "Grandpa" Thomas on the receiving end. Mussel is scheduled to do the entertaining for the Legion team.

The game this evening will start at 6:15.

Northside Outpaw Pitcher Turns In 2 to 1 Victory, Jerome in Tie For 2nd Place

HANSEN, June 18.—(Special to The News)—Jerome's baseball team took a class game from the Hansen boys here Sunday afternoon, 3 to 1, the contest being featured by the masterful pitching of "Lefty" Erickson of the Jerome team, who held the locals to two hits in the nine innings.

Eden fell victims of his dazzling speed. The lone run made by the Hansen team came in the last of the ninth, without the aid of the pitcher.

"Pat" Thompson, on the mound for the home team, pitched a nice brand of ball, but weakened in the fourth and fifth innings when the visitors scored all their runs.

The largest crowd of the season was in attendance.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

Shoshone 7
Twin Falls 9
Kimberly 3

Twin Falls baseball team lined out the Shoshone ball tossers here Sunday afternoon, 9 to 7, in the contest featured by many errors, some nice fielding and some hard hitting.

Leading until the eighth frame, the Shoshone contingent felt that another mark would be registered for them in the win column, but such was not to be, as Whitel's wrecking error tore into Mr. Foster, doing slab duty for the visitors, for five out of the lead and holding it, although Shoshone became dangerous in the ninth, and sent a marker across, with a man left stranded on the bags.

Barlogi of the visiting team was the shining light with the willow, gathering four hits out of five trips to the plate.

Foster, a new man to the Twin Falls players, did the hitting, for Shoshone and had all the earmarks of being a real winner, making his head do most of the work. But 7 hits were made off his delivery, giving the way for the win to the Twin Falls rurs. Foster had the knack of keeping them where they wouldn't hit ten very far, although Whitel connected with a triple that hit the score board. Carlos Linville smashed out a double, these two hits being the only two made by the locals that went for extra bases.

Don Linville started on the mound for Twin Falls and lasted four and one third innings, the Shoshonites not taking kindly to his offerings.

Phil Fix rolled him and pitched a nice game, tightening up in the pinches, and keeping the invaders away from the platter.

An error by Jim Scelley followed by another, and a two-ply error gave the enemy a marker in the initial frame. A couple of errors and a clean hit made another in the second. The Shoshone had no net content with two so added one more in the third, when they fell on Linville for two bingles which, sandwiched in with two out netted another marker.

Twin Falls first run came in the third, when "Hooh" Linville doubled and came home on two errors. The locals temporarily tied the score in the fourth, Whitel sent one of Foster's grove balls to the score board, and scored on Scelley's clean swat. Scelley worked his way to third on weak infield work, and scored on an error.

Shoshone clouted out two more runs in the fifth, on three hits and an error. This was too much for Manager Whitel, and Linville went to the outfield and Fix took the mound.

Twin Falls sent one across in the fifth, when Smith mangled to first, took second on a fly, and Scelley's second hit did the rest.

An error and a double by Piper made the score read 6 to 4 in favor of Shoshone in the sixth, and the visitors had the game well tucked under their belt.

In the eighth, the Shoshone team fell to pieces, and with a few hits mixed in five runners spiked the rubber.

ELKS AND LEGION PLAYERS TO BATTLE THIS EVENING

Fast Game Scheduled in Twilight
League, Manager Brown Back on the Job

Local fans will be treated to a real ball game this evening, when the Legion team, under the personal supervision of Ray Brown, locks horns with the Elks' brigade of ball tossers.

"Daniel" Boone, the elongated first baseman, has taken the management of the Elks, to succeed Harry Benoit, and promises that his purple and white warriors will be at the top when the last bell rings.

Ray Brown promises a few surprises for this evening's entertainment, as he will no doubt have to bring out a new pitcher, as Garrity's arm is a little sore from Sunday's workout against the Kimberly team.

Ray Hodgkin will be used in the box for the antlered herd, with "Grandpa" Thomas on the receiving end. Mussel is scheduled to do the entertaining for the Legion team.

The game this evening will start at 6:15.

VILLA DEFEATS VETERAN CHAMP WITH KNOCKOUT

Fighting Filipino Flyweight Brings Sensational Bout to End in Seventh Round; Will Meet Genaro

POLO PINO VILLA, fighting dynamo from the Philippines, who was defeated by American flyweight title holder only a few months ago, rose to world's champion heights tonight when he knocked out Jimmy Wilde, British holder of the crown, in the seventh round of a battle that was spectacular from start to finish despite its one-sidedness.

A crowd, estimated by the promoters at about 10,000, witnessed the second world's title to change hands at the Polo grounds within a few weeks.

Rushing and slashing with a terrific assault that has rarely been equaled in the first round, Villa's victory was one of the most decisive in the annals of world's championship bouts.

Wilde was hit a number of times, and his right eye was badly swollen. He stood up under the most deadly of attacks for six rounds, bleeding from cuts about his mouth, nose, cheeks, and with his right eye virtually closed, but he refused to quit. He was knocked out by a devastating attack, Wilde's bulldog courage kept him in the thick of the fray, bloody and helpless a picture as he lay.

Wilde Refuses to Quit.

Time after time Villa tried to manure Wilde for the second round, but the Britisher took his hardest punches without going down. It was only a question of how long the title holder could hang on. In the sixth round Villa forced into the arms of his handlers in his corner, all but out and the crowd pleaded with Referee Patsy Haley to stop the fight.

Little Welshman, nearly blinded, shook his head as his seconds urged him to quit, and staggered to his feet to answer the bell for the seventh round.

Seizing victory, Villa stepped from his corner like a wildcat. He drove rights and lefts to Wilde's head as the Britisher gave ground slowly, still fighting gamely, but ineffectively, to fight back.

The Filipino, amazed that his opponent could stand up under such an assault, drew back in the next ring where another veteran, Johnny Kilbane, recently lost his featherweight crown to Eugene Critch of France.

Wilde's knockout, which came after one minute and 40 seconds of the seventh round, was the second of his career. He took the count of ten in his last fight in January, 1921, at the hands of Pete Herman, former lightweight champion, in London. But then Wilde was outwitted more than 10 pounds. Wilde weighed 109 1/2; Villa 110.

Fatsy Haley was the referee.

ROUND TWO—Villa staggered Wilde with a right to the jaw and angrily attacked the body of Villa. Wilde at the Little Filipino was staggering the champion about the ring with blows to the head. Wilde's swings

Gibbons Works for Speed and Accuracy

Challenger's Workout Creates Favorable Impression Upon Expert Critics

SHELLEY, Mont., June 18 (AP)—Determination to retain Mike Collins as matelander and other officials in charge of the promotion of the Jack Dempsey-Jimmy Gibbons heavy weight championship fight here July 24, were reached tonight by Dan Tracey, Great Falls business man, who assumed the executive control of the management today.

Tracey, after a preliminary survey of the situation in connection with the plans arranged at Great Falls Saturday when Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, received the second $100,000 of the champion's $200,000 guarantee, said he did not consider any changes necessary in the present format.

Tracey decided to remain here to perfect the machinery to handle the finances and tickets. He installed Frank E. Fogarty, a financial expert of Great Falls, as assistant treasurer to Mayor Jim Johnson, who has been treasurer for the American Legion committee promoting the fight.

Tracey said he has been unable to devote the time necessary to the financial end of the bout.

Impresses Experts.

Gibbons boxed an equivalent of 14 rounds before the critical eyes of experts who have been watching Dempsey in his workouts for the last two weeks. The ex-Fall challenger made a highly favorable impression but the experts commented on his disinclination to punish his sparring partners as Dempsey does.

The challenger worked mainly for speed and accuracy, flashing a snappy left hook to the head and body and landing with remarkable accuracy with a light cross.

After whaling away at a punching bag for two hours and seeking the leather-floored swinging dummy, Gibbons pulled out the weights for two rounds before facing Bud Goran, 220 pounder, the first of his four sparring mates for the afternoon. He lasted two rounds with ex-Fall challenger, St. Paul, Paul challenger punched harder today than he has at any time.

Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul, who recently lost a close decision to Gene Tunney, the American light heavyweight champion, forced Gibbons to extend himself during the two rounds he faced the challenger.

Uses Dempsey's Style.

Delaney boxes much after the fashion of Dempsey, working and crumpling to draw a lead. He made Gibbons miss frequently, but the challenger nailed him a half dozen times with right crosses to the chin.

"Figs" Kid" Herman had so much difficulty in connecting solidly that the crowd was in an uproar and Gibbons' face often broke into a smile. Herman, during an exchange in the middle of the ring, missed half a dozen shots when the challenger held his arms close to his body, allowing the punches to slip past his head.

Jack Kearns, manager of the heavy-weight champion, declined an invitation to watch the day's workout, excusing himself by saying he had other business to claim his attention. Kearns said he did not wish to be in a position to embarrass Gibbons, who might not prefer to extend himself, knowing that his every move would be under careful scrutiny. The slugging Kid Rocco, who joined the Gibbons camp after working a few days with Dempsey, cutting and changing his eye with his head, packed his boxing equipment today and left the camp. Gibbons knocked him down in his last workout and therefore Rocco displayed an inclination to evade the challenger's blows.

Dempsey Rehearses Defensive Tactics

Champion Makes Sparring Mates Look Like Tyros With Bursts of Speed

CHICAGO, June 18 (AP)—In two of his training bouts here today, Jack Dempsey abandoned the offensive that has heretofore made the going so strenuous for his sparring partners and rehearsed his defensive tactics against a boxer known as Billy Wells, the English welterweight champion. Wells, who has been safe from attack or retaliation, attempted to hang blows on the champion's features and succeeded only in making himself appear like a rank novice.

Once or twice before, Dempsey had abandoned his slugging tactics in favor of speed but at no previous time since he began training for his meeting with Tommy Gibbons has he appeared to so great an advantage in this department. Using his gloves as a protection for his nose, Dempsey used only his footwork and dodging ability to protect himself from the Britisher's assaults. He emerged at the end of the two rounds with his face having received their target but two or three times and then with their force spent.

Knowing he was for the day, Dempsey was reportedly dazed in class and attempted to land a right or left effectively but generally he missed by a foot.

After the Wells bout, the champion took on Herman Auerbach, Salt Lake City junior welter, who made his appearance at this camp for the first time today.

Against Auerbach, Dempsey followed the same tactics, as he did with Wells, except that he let one or two counters slip and the welter left the ring bleeding from his mouth.

Harry Campbell, the English heavy-weight, followed the two lighter men and fared as poorly as he usually does against the champion.

Before Dempsey became accustomed to facing a heavier, harder hitting opponent, Drankie gleefully slipped over a couple of solid blows. His fun ended when Dempsey caught him with a one-two blow and sent him staggering back on his heels half way across the ring, to be saved from a fall by the ropes.

Drankie clinched until his head cleared, but in the final round he was so completely out when time was called that he did not hear the signal and continued to hang on until the uproar of applause from the crowd penetrated his buzzing brain. Virtually out, he had staggered to his feet after being sprayed on the chin by a left to the face and was clutching desperately at the champion to keep his feet.

COLORADO'S GOVERNOR INTERVENES IN STRIKE

Walkout of Shop Craft Workers on Denver and Rio Grande Western is Held in Abeyance by Executive

DENVER, June 18 (AP)—A threatened strike of nearly 5,000 shop craft workers on the Denver and Rio Grande Western and the Rio Grande Southern, was held in abeyance today by order of Gov. W. E. Sweet, who intervened and who is about to offer a plan for the settlement of the controversy between the road and union employees.

The order postponing the strike calls attention to the terms of settlement which were accepted about two weeks ago by the railroad and laboring unions. The union men voted to call off the strike which began last July. The road and the union were brought together under the informal agreement by Attorney General Russell W. Fleming, but last week Mr. Fleming notified the union men that the railroad had failed to live up to its side of the agreement and that the men were released from all obligations incurred as a result of the informal settlement.

BERLIN VOICES NEW OUTCRIES AT TERRORISM

Germany Declares France Alone Responsible For "Any Consequences" That May Develop in Ruhr Situation

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Germany's latest protest against French "terrorism" in the Ruhr valley, a copy of which was delivered to the state department late today, serves notice that the French government alone will be responsible for any consequences that may develop.

"The German government," says the note, "has repeatedly proposed that accounts for incidents and commissions. The French government, however, has failed to reply to all such suggestions. Against such attitude and against the incessant French harassment of the German government raises protest and announces to the world that the responsibility for any consequences rests alone with the French government."

Seen as Advisory Move

The communication was addressed to Secretary Hughes and was signed by Dr. Otto Weyrich, the German ambassador here. It was indicated at the state department, however, that officials regarded it as having been presented only for the information of the American government and not with a view to any intermediary action.

In addition to voicing a general protest against the French method of administration, the note cited three specific instances of alleged wrongs against the German residents of the occupied district:

"On May 2 the merchant Schlegeler, on account of alleged acts of sabotage was shot in execution of a sentence rendered by the French military court, although the French government had been officially requested to desist from executing the situation more acute by arguing out this sentence of the court."

Charges Innocent Man Killed

"On June 10 the unaccounted for death of two French soldiers was taken as a reason for capturing on the street, severely mistreating and finally shooting to death any man who refused to obey the arbitrary procedure, six Germans by a French patrol. As shown by the annexed record of the sworn statement of a witness, it was the German who had nothing whatever to do with the death of the two French soldiers."

"On June 11 Carl Mueller, 19 years old, was shot by French soldiers at Breda, Belgium."

"On June 12 a French military court at Mayence sentenced to death one Georges, teacher of agriculture, on account of alleged acts of sabotage."

ephal. He said that the benefits accruing were not all properly shown and pointed to the adoption by many states of federal standards and methods as proof that the policy of economy in government was being carried further by the example of the federal government. All of this, the executive asserted, means government at less expense to those who pay the bills.

Second only to the "signal achievement" of keeping the government expenditures below the income and of accumulating a surplus, the president said is the reduction of federal expenses as compared with the 12 months ended last June 30. The reduction, the president reported, was $256,000,000.

Since the government began the current fiscal year with an apparent deficit of $823,000,000 and is expected to finish with $260,000,000 on the right side of the ledger and at the same time has reduced the amount spent as compared to last year, the president declared he believed there was "just cause for pride."

With a continuation of the campaign for economy, Mr. Harding told the officials, there should be developed greater efficiency and greater work in the government service. These, he added, manifestly would produce most significant results.

FULLER SILENT ON BUCKETEERS

Operator Whose Failure Started Wall Street Probe, Refuses to Talk on Stand

NEW YORK, June 18, (AP)—Trembling apprehensively and shielding his face with his hands, Edward M. Fuller, confessed bucket-street operator, took the witness stand before the Federal Reserve board today and surprised the audience that had gathered by refusing to tell his expected story involving the higher ups in a reported bucket-street ring.

The bucket-street failure of whose firm for $5,000,000 started an investigation that has rattled Wall Street, was taken to the hearing under heavy guard.

This United States Marshal heard explained, was because reports had reached him that Fuller was to be killed before he had an opportunity to make any disclosures.

Throughout the hearing at which leading questions were volleyed at him, Fuller refused the formula "I refuse to answer on the ground that it would tend to incriminate and damage me."

Before the hearing closed, however, Fuller promised to confer with his counsel and decide whether he would answer from his determination to keep silent. The next hearing was set for Monday.

Up For Sentence

Fuller and his partner, Wm. F. McGee, are scheduled to be sentenced tomorrow on their plea of bucketing. It was reported, however, that suspension of sentence would be postponed to give Fuller one more chance to seek leniency by making a clean breast of his knowledge of the bucket-street ring.

Wall Street, with one eye on the Fuller hearing and the other sharply on the lookout for indications of the string of recent brokerage failures, was decidedly nervous all day. More than forty representative stocks listed by the big board made new low records for the year, falling off from 3 to 6 points and closing with losses of 3.32 1/2 points.

WARNS AGAINST STATE'S TAKING OVER INSURANCE

Chicago Actuary Tells Credit Men Writing of Compensation Policies is First Step to Dangerous Monopoly

ATLANTA, Ga., June 18 (AP)—Insurance policies are the underlying basis of the individualist state and, for that reason, stand against which no being made in this country to break down insurance as a private enterprise and to make a state monopoly out of all such activities, but they could not survive government ownership of insurance.

"Power breeds power, and it is only a short step from state compensation funds to state life and fire insurance. Those who unthinkingly accept the socialist theory of why state companies should write compensation laws, can not hold to it and at the same time logically oppose any other government insurance scheme."

Yet a model law, many people there are in this country who know that today 16 American states are operating insurance companies for the writing of workmen's compensation business, and that two states, Wisconsin and Massachusetts, have experimented with life insurance. I venture to say that there are very few who realize the extent to which this socialization scheme has been carried.

Idaho Experiments.

"The laws which are experimenting with the compensation lines are: California, Colorado, Idaho, Maryland, Michigan, Montana, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming. And seven of these states actually prohibit private companies from writing this type of insurance and require all employees of labor, arbitrarily and without option, to rely on the state funds for their protection. The states, which, by establishing a monopoly, admit their inability to compete on equal terms with others engaged in the insurance business are: Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming. In 1921 the state companies in the nine states permitting competition."

only made 11.7 per cent of the compensation coverage, although all of them offered an insurance plan apparent in that saving in rates.

"This record must be ample proof that government ownership of insurance is just as inefficient, just as extravagant and just as bureaucratic as government ownership of any other business. The cost of any commodity is its quality, and the price it is sold at. The employees of those nine states seem to have heeded this principle in buying their compensation insurance."

TURK SEIZE BRITISH BOAT

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 18, (AP)—The British destroyer Splendid was seized in the sea of Marmara, a Turkish transport carrying a cargo of guns from Thrace.

Evolution of the Organ.

Modern organs are said to be a development of primitive pipes. Credit has a brother of Alexandria, is known to have had a crude pipe organ in 250 B. C., and Archimedes had one in 220 B. C. Organs were introduced into Europe from Greece and were applied to religious devotion in churches about 657 A. D.

Ton of Gold.

Allowing $2000 pounds to the ton, and 16 ounces to the pound, a ton of gold would be worth only about $400,000, for its assay weight is $20 plus to the ounce.

JEROME

JEROME—The Ladies' Pioneer club and their husbands held a most enjoyable social evening at the Civic club hall on Friday evening. After a splendid buffet dinner, a delightful program was enjoyed followed by dancing. About 20 couples who have resided in Jerome since April 1, 1900 enjoyed this annual affair.

Announcements have been received by Jerome friends of the marriage of Miss Edna Allen of La Grande, Oregon, and Wallace Johnson of Jerome. The young couple will make their home in Jerome where Mr. Johnson is employed in the First National Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Vogler left the first of the week for Salt Lake and California, where they expect to remain for the betterment of Mr. Vogler's health.

Mrs. Jerome Sanger delightfully entertained at her spacious country home on Thursday afternoon. Several guests besides the Busy Bee Club members were present. The hostess served a delicious dinner.

The Jerome Civic Club members delightfully entertained on Tuesday afternoon for numerous club women of surrounding towns. After a delightful program a two course luncheon was served. This concludes the Civic club activities for the summer and they all report a most successful year's work.

Mr. A. L. Keithley of Westfield has as her house guest her sister, Mrs. W. A. Gleason of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Mr. John Dowd went to Twin Falls on Friday, where she submitted to an operation on her ear. At last reports she was doing nicely.

Miss Helen Johnson returned to her home on Saturday from Moscow where she has attended school.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Day on Wednesday, June 6.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson have as their house guest Mr. Johnson's mother of Colfax, Washington.

Mrs. Walter Diefendorf and sister, Miss Margaret Humphrey returned home on Saturday from an extended visit in Exponent, Kansas. They were accompanied by their mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carlton have as their house guest Mr. Carlton's aunt, Mrs. E. Strang of Minnesota. She expects to spend the summer here.

The Needlecraft club met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. La May. After a social afternoon the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

Miss Beatrice Sturges returned home after a short visit with friends in Idaho.

Mrs. Gilias of Halley returned to her home on Saturday from Moscow after a short visit at the Eckert home northwest of town.

SUFFERED WITHOUT A GROAN

Almost Unbelievable Story of Fortitude Exhibited by Mortally Wounded Sioux Indian Brave.

American Horse—a splendid example of the Sioux, stalwart, broad-chested and imperious—had been shot through the abdomen and his intestines were protruding from the wound. But his wife hastened to him and wrapped a shawl about his middle to hold them in.

With never a word of complaint he walked the distance to a camp fire and sat down. It was some little time, says Adventure Magazine, before the surgeons tending the wounded, white and red, reached him. An operation was necessary. American Horse declined chloroform in the hope to which he had been removed. He had his own palliative. He spoke a few words to his wife, who scuttled out and returned with a short piece of hard wood. This he thrust between his teeth; he motioned the surgeons to proceed.

During the terrible work upon him the sweat stood out upon his forehead, he bit deeply into the stick, but he uttered never a groan, nor did he flinch. As he well knew, the wound was mortal; but he insisted upon sitting up, until just before dawn, he fell back—he died as silently as he had suffered. He was man and Indian to the end.

The mounds of the plains are filled with heroes—but there is no instance more striking in heroism and noble fortitude than this end of American Horse, who fought the good fight and lost.

What is useless to you may be valuable to others—advertise it in the classified column.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY PAYS

Everybody has been jumping onto the United States Steel Corporation for its twelve-hour day, since Judge Gary made his public defense of that institution...

Two important steel companies testify that the short working day is better for their industry than the long one...

The Commonwealth Steel Company changed from the twelve-hour to the eight-hour day in nineteen hundred and twelve...

Detailed evidence of the same sort is given by J. P. Welborn, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company...

The trend of production per hour, with unimportant exceptions, has been upward since, he says, and in every department of our steel manufacturing operations...

That ought to settle the question, for the steel industry or any other industry.

WET MOVEMENT CHECKED

The Illinois legislature refuses to repeal the state prohibition enforcement laws, and the days welcome this as a victory offsetting New York's repeal...

If so, it is a wholesome thing. There is little to be gained, locally or nationally, by states refusing to help the federal government in the execution of a national policy.

If the wets want to carry the fight to Congress, that is another matter. That is exactly where the fight should be waged, because honest opposition to the present prohibition regime is based on the interpretation which Congress gave to the Eighteenth Amendment...

Pending any such action, the states will do well to cooperate with the federal government. If for no other reason, they should do so because refusal means a general slump in law, order and morals which is sure to hurt them more than it hurts the rest of the country.

HORSE MOVIES

There are a lot of persons in this country who need to know how a horse handles his legs at different gaits. The United States Department of Agriculture has made an educational motion picture which shows, in "slow motion," horses pacing, cantering, trotting, and so on.

SCOTS TO FOREGATHER AT PIONEER CANADIAN LANDING PLACE

To July to insure pleasant weather. What the Scot has done in winning Canada from the wilderness, in winning her for the British Empire, in stimulating business, education and literature, is told most entertainingly in a little book, "Scots in Canada," by John Murray Gibbon, himself a transplanted Scot.

OLD BATTERY AT PICTOU

PICTOU AT 100 YEARS OF AGE

Pipes will skirl and Scottish accents will be heard on every hand at Pictou, Nova Scotia, during the week of July 16th-21st, when the 150th anniversary of the landing of the first Scottish pioneers to Canada, will be celebrated.

On September 16th, 1773, the good ship "Beetle" landed at this spot in New Scotland, nearly 200 Scottish settlers, including 83 families. This was really the first contingent of Scots to settle in Canada, although previous to this date occasional Scots had come to Canada and a Highland regiment which had been disbanded at Quebec settled in that province. The celebration has been moved forward to July to insure pleasant weather. What the Scot has done in winning Canada from the wilderness, in winning her for the British Empire, in stimulating business, education and literature, is told most entertainingly in a little book, "Scots in Canada," by John Murray Gibbon, himself a transplanted Scot.

Novo Scotia is the premier vacation land, with a lure for the sportsman, the writer and poet, the painter and the plain every-day vacationist. Its numerous seaside and country towns and villages have each their individual charms and cozy hotels and boarding houses to which the same American flock year by year. Pictou is a seaside town and the outlet for a good agricultural district. Its population of 4,200 is augmented during the summer by many visitors who find Pictou's waterfront and longshoremen, the sweet smelling cooperages with their musical hammerings and, in season, the packing of fruit, all interesting. Fishing in nearby streams and lakes is satisfactory sport. The July celebration will be attended by Governor-General, Lord

Byng and staff, together with Dominion and Provincial officials. British, Canadian and American warships in the harbor will lend a note of majesty, while the uniforms of their crews will brighten the thronged streets, as they are to participate in land parades as well as naval maneuvers. A Highland regiment and one of artillery will be in camp at Pictou during the festival week. Canadian Clubs of New York, Boston and other American cities are evincing much interest in the celebration and are expected to become actively interested. Vacationists who include the Pictou celebration in their 1923 summer itinerary are assured of a rare and unusual treat of historical significance.

COME ALL YE SCOTS!

"But the great point is, is there a Rita on the list?" "That's just what I don't know," confessed Tuppence. "You see, very few Christian names are given. They're nearly all Mrs. or Miss."

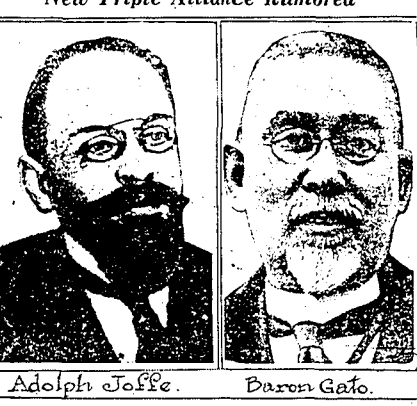

How Would They Have Known Jane Finn Had the Papers?

Tommy had by this time the gibbous horn of practice. He rattled off the formula to the elderly woman, looking more like a housekeeper than a servant, who opened the door to him. "Christina name?" "Margaret."

sons or daughters over twenty-one?" "Now." "Thank you." Tommy closed the notebook with a brisk snap. "Good morning." "Good wleece, wasn't it? And we can repeat it ad lib. Where's the next draw?" "Mrs. Vandemeyer, 20 South Audley mentions. Clapneton road, Battersea. She's a lady's maid, as far as I remember, so probably won't be there, and, anyway, she's not likely."

Hardly able to contain his excitement, Tommy hurried down the stairs. Tuppence was waiting at the angle of the turn. "You heard?" "Yes, Oh, Tommy!" "Her hand was still in Tommy's. They had reached the entrance hall. There were footsteps on the stairs above them, and voices. Suddenly, to Tommy's complete surprise, Tuppence dragged him into the little space by the side of the lift, where the shadow was deepest. "What's that?" "Flush!"

New Triple Alliance Rumored

A new triple alliance of Russia, Japan and Germany is regarded by shrewd political observers as a possible outcome of a preliminary official conference to which the Japanese Government will invite Commissioner Adolph Joffe, who was head of the Russian delegation to the Russian-Polish peace conference at Riga and who is Foreign Plenipotentiary of the Russian Soviet Government. Japanese leaders, it is said, are building politically for the future in their negotiations with Russia and Germany. The decision of the Japanese Cabinet to confer with Joffe is regarded as a victory for Baron Shigemitsu Gato, former Mayor of Tokio, who resigned that office in order to urge an economic conference and agreement with the Soviet.

months, but it has already been shown in nearly every town in Kentucky, and is in great demand in so many different places that copies are being made to meet the need in all parts of the country.

A livestock specialist in the Texas Agricultural College says that students learn more about the action of horses in a 15-minute showing of the picture than they learn from studying horses directly in all the time they spend at the college. The United States Army has purchased eight prints of the picture for use in instructing cavalrymen. Polo clubs, horse associations, artillery schools, riding clubs and county agents are among the other interested groups using, or wanting to use, the film.

This furnishes an excellent illustration of the educational value of the motion picture. The slow-motion film shows every muscle movement and gives time to study it. Dancing and physical education might be taught in this way. So, too, birds building their nests, the unfolding of flowers and innumerable other subjects of natural history and science can be reproduced accurately in slow or fast pictures for the education of students and public.

The Secret Adversary

By AGATHA CHRISTIE

(Copyright Dodd, Mead & Company)

"I've always had a kind of idea that English girls were just a little nosier. Old-fashioned and sweet, you know, but scared to move around without a footman or a maiden aunt. I guess I'm not behind the times!" The upshot of these confidential relations was that Tommy and Tuppence took up their abode forthwith at the Ritz. In order, as Tuppence put it, to keep in touch with Jane Finn's only living relation. "And put like that," she added confidentially to Tommy, "nobody could boggle at the expense!" "Nobody did, which was the great thing."
