FARMER SENATOR TAKES VIEWS ON PARTY MATTERS

Brookhart Regards Election of Minnesota Man as Warning of Political Crisis; Lauds Russian Stability

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, back from a 10-weeks' survey of agricultural conditions in Europe today asserted that the election to the senate of Marcus Johnson of Minnesota, was a warning to the republican bosses that something was about to happen in the political situation of the United States.

Senator Brookhart, a republican who was elected with the support of the farmer-labor bloc, to the seat previously held by Senator William S. Knapp in his first public statement since his return to the United States, touched on the political situation. Ascertaining that he had read only three of the speeches which President Harding has delivered on his tour, Mr. Brookhart said:

"I should think that about three more speeches like those would elect Henry Ford by about ten million majority—if the president is a candidate. It is time the republican party was looking for a candidate who will fight for the common people and against Wall street. Someone like Judge Knapp should be drafted for this purpose."

Based on former Senator Brookhart's statement, the senator declared that the Russian soviet government was second in stability only to that of the United States, and that Russia soon would be moving forward upon the grain markets of this country.

"The thing that demands immediate attention in an extra session of congress is the agricultural situation," declared Senator Brookhart.

Senator Brookhart is one of the senators who parted company with his party leaders on various questions of domestic and foreign policy. He nevertheless, is counted among those yielding to the C. O. P. a nominal majority of five in the senate.

Referring to his tour, during which he visited Russia and the principal countries of Europe, Senator Brookhart said:

"The world is saying that we are entering upon a new era, great changes are impending, and new developments are at hand. But what is it all to be?"

"This nebulous talk gets nowhere. I was looking for something definite and I think I found it."

"I did not enter a newspaper, an article, or an editorial on the whole tour, but I did see the living leaders of the common people in nearly all the countries of Europe. I talked to the statesmen of this world's movement and met leaders and active managers of the great cooperatives everywhere."

"My conclusion is that economic cooperation under the simple principles constructive ideas that has survived the war. It is the only plan that will end the criminal trust and give the farmer and the producer and consumer the just rewards of their labors."

Need Extra Session. "The thing that demands immediate attention is an extra session of congress, is the agricultural situation."

CABINET QUILTS AS CLIMAX TO POLITICAL WAR

Resignations of Filipino Cabinet and Council of State Accepted After Day and Night Debates

MANILA, July 17 (AP)—Governor General Leonard Wood today accepted the resignations of the Filipino cabinet and council of state. The action by the Filipino officials came as a climax to the political war between them and the government.

The resignations came suddenly after all day and all night sessions of members of the Filipino political groups and a gathering of the council of state and the cabinet ended at Governor General Wood's official residence, Malacanang palace.

A delegation of officials filed into the executive office of General Wood at his head, and as they stood in a group before the governor general's desk, Quizon read the collective resignations of the cabinet members and of the council of state, with the signatures of each affixed.

As Quizon finished, Governor Wood arose, briefly expressed his regret at their action and promptly accepted the resignations.

Mrs. Oesterreich was accompanied by her attorney when police officials took her from her cell in the county jail to her residence. Many photographs of various parts of the house were taken by the police photographer.

She was arrested at length, but stuck to her story that persons unknown to her locked the closet door while she was inside before she shot her husband in the downstairs room where Oesterreich was slain.

Police in Texas Town Prepared for Activities of 'Wobblies'

LOS ANGELES, July 17 (AP)—Foot-loose members of the Industrial Workers of the World today were ordered to go from the Los Angeles harbor district to Port Arthur, Texas, as quickly as possible, according to the local police. The police said the orders were passed along the waterfront here by six messengers from the I. W. W. headquarters in San Francisco.

Three I. W. W. recently were killed in Port Arthur, the messengers said, according to the police report. The police estimated that there were 500 footloose I. W. W. here.

"LET 'EM COME," SAYS CHIEF OF PORT ARTHUR, Texas, July 17 (AP)—"Let 'em come, we'll take care of them," said Police Chief W. Covington tonight when shown the dispatch from Los Angeles stating footloose I. W. W. were ordered to Port Arthur as a result of the killing of three members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

"No I. W. W. have been slain here that I know of," said the chief, "and while I don't believe they are coming, we'll take care of them the best way we know how."

"There are many chores to be done in Port Arthur and I guess the I. W. W. can be made to do them."

LOS ANGELES, June 17 (AP)—Twenty-nine members of the Industrial Workers of the World were indicted for criminal syndicalism by the Los Angeles county grand jury today. Bonds were set at $7,500 in each case. Most of the defendants were already under arrest.

The strike of the marine transport workers branch of the I. W. W. went into its sixth day today but ship owners and police said it was still ineffectual and that shipping was progressing normally. The strike originally was called for five days as a protest against the prosecution of alleged members of the organization for criminal syndicalism.

Although she did not make public the details of her plans, it was learned from Thomas Egan, Irish tenor, that he had been negotiating with the singer to take the leading role in a musical comedy in which she would play the role of a girl of the "wild and wolly" west.

The Olympic reached quarantine late tonight.

DAUGHERTY ASKS SEPARATION OF HARVESTER FIRM

Demands Division of International Company in Three Units on Grounds of Alleged Monopoly Attempt

WASHINGTON July 17 (AP)—Contending that the dissolution decree entered against the International Harvester company in 1918 had proved inadequate, Attorney General Daugherty demanded in a petition filed in the federal district court at St. Paul today that the company be separated into at least three distinct operations, with wholly separated owners, stockholders and officials.

The petition asserted that the original decree had failed to break up restraint of trade and restore competition in the production of harvesting machines and other farm implements. Request was made by the petition that the court hold the harvester company "still is a combination in restraint of trade and in commerce in harvesting machinery and still is monopolizing and attempting to monopolize said trade and commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, contrary to the several conditions, orders and decrees of this court."

Feared "Control" Increase Unless steps are taken to effect a real dissolution, the petition contended, the monopolistic control exerted by the defendants, will increase, and the nation of complete monopoly which reorganizers of the company had in 1902 will be completely realized, to the detriment of the farmers of the country in their purchases of farm machinery.

The action of the attorney general was taken after prolonged conferences among government officials and follows the line suggested by the federal grand jury in 1920, and by the court in 1920. The petition declared that a reasonable "test period" had been given the corporation since the close of the world war, as provided in the original decree, to restore to the public that period having passed, it was added, the United States now has the right to seek further relief had not been necessary to restore competitive conditions.

Several Firms Cited Specifically, the petition cited the International Harvester company of America, the International Flax Harvester company, the Wisconsin Steel Rolling company, the Illinois Northern Railway, and the Chicago, West Pullman and Southern Railroad company and the officers and directors of all these companies parties to the alleged combination.

The number of independent manufacturers, it was declared, steadily is shrinking because of their inability to compete with the combination.

HUNTING THE WILD REDBIRD

PRESIDENT NOT ENTHUSED OVER BALLOT RETURN

Harding Receives News of Conceded Election of Minnesota Labor Candidate to Senate; Makes no Comment

CURRY, Alaska, July 17 (AP)—News of the election of Magnus J. Johnson, farmer-labor candidate, to the senate from Minnesota over Governor Preuss was received by President Harding this morning when the special train to the Alaska railroad was stopped here for breakfast.

The chief executive read the Associated Press dispatch concerning Governor Preuss has conceded his defeat and giving returns from about half the state, but he would make no comment for publication on the grounds that the voters of Minnesota had spoken and any statement from the president would be unseemly.

It was obvious that the president was greatly disappointed.

Hold Preuss Responsible.

Other members of the party who might be regarded as reflecting the views of the chief executive were inclined to the view that Governor Preuss about the present situation through his refusal to make an interim appointment of a senator.

Mrs. Harding fatigued. It was held to be inadvisable that she make the 300-mile automobile trip from Fairbanks to the state capital trail because of her condition of fatigue and in view of her need of rest, and in order to prepare her for a strenuous program on the return to the states.

There is no indication, the doctors say, that her condition will interfere with the program about the party or that the tour through the states, the Panama canal and Porto Rico would be shortened on her account.

JURYMEN IN SMALL CASE ARE FOUND NOT GUILTY

Thunderous Applause Greeted Verdict of Acquittal on Charges of Accepting Money as Bribe

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 17 (AP)—"Not guilty," was the jury's answer today to charges that the panel acquitted Len Small, governor of Illinois, here last June was "fixed."

The verdict came after one hour and 10 minutes' consideration of the evidence in the case of John B. Fields, Edward Kaufman and Edward Courtney on trial for conspiracy to impede justice through jury tampering in the trial of the chief executive.

Fields, a member of the jury which acquitted the governor in the Loko county circuit court here June 22, 1922, and who later was appointed a deputy state game warden, was charged in the indictment on which the trial was based with having accepted $50 from defendants of the governor for his influence as a juror.

The indictment was returned by the grand jury on April 29 last year.

The trial began June 25. Kaufman and Courtney were named as conspirators who were working in the county during the Small trial in an effort to influence the verdict by unlawful means.

A deafening thunder of applause from the crowded court room greeted the verdict.

None of the three defendants took the stand at the trial.

A $4,000,000 improvement program has been outlined for some time. The board of regents had taken steps to obtain loans for the improvements, but it was until a few weeks ago that hope developed for other sources of revenue.

It is admitted by university officials that should a producing oil field be opened on the school lands it would be profitable for some time. Reports of the richest schools in the nation. Reports of a gusher in Reagan county were made recently, but it remains for the field to be proved.

TROUBLE FOR BANKS IN SPAIN FOLLOWS WALKOUT

Institutions in Difficulties with Employees Refusing to Handle Checks of Non-Union Workers

MADRID, July 16 (AP)—Numerous banking institutions throughout Spain are experiencing difficulty with their employees who are demanding that the banks shall be run in accordance with the rules of the employees' union.

The trouble began last week when the president and the secretary of the union, were assassinated in Valencia, and the employees of the Banco Espanol Credito in Madrid immediately declared strike. Since then the employees of other banks have been forced to quit their jobs or forced the banks to recognize their union.

In some banks the employees refuse to handle checks and other paper coming from the Banco Espanol Credito, where non-union workers under police protection have taken up the duties of the strikers. The Marquis Casiana, president of the Banco Espanol Credito has received numerous threats of death and the chief of police in consequence has provided him with a special guard.

At Seville the employees of the banks and on the banks, and bank employees at Cadix, Huelva and Badajoz have formed unions. Twenty-eight banks throughout the country have decided to permit their employees to organize, but others have declined to do so. The manager of the Banco Vizcaya today announced he would close the doors of the bank rather than surrender to the demands of the syndicalists, whose terms, he declared, were impossible.

TREATY PARLEYS DRAW TO CLOSE

Text of Pact Examined and Preparations Under Way for Attaching Signatures

LAUSANNE, July 17 (AP)—The last scene but one in the Near East conference was enacted tonight at Ouchy, Geneva; the entire text of the treaty was examined and arrangements were made for its formal signature July 24.

Tonight's scene was remarkable in that numerous matters on which the various parties had not succeeded in reaching an accord were under consideration. It was a night of reservations, which included reservations by the United States and Great Britain concerning the validity of the British Turkish Petroleum company concession, which conflicts with the rights accorded in the Chester concession for unknown oil riches in the Mosul area.

The silent battle between the United States and England over oil concessions which had dominated the conference in the last few days became an open contest tonight when Sir Horace Rumbold, after protesting Turkey's refusal to ratify the British concession in the treaty, declared that he was very uncertain on what ground the American government wished to intervene between the Turkish government and the Turkish petroleum company.

American Pressed.

Sir Horace made this statement after various of the new had said that the American government was gratified that a way had been found to solve the difficult question of cancellations and that he took it for granted that the protocol affecting the French railroad company and the Vickers Armstrong company, would not be applied in such a way as to prejudice the vested rights of American citizens or companies.

This was an allusion to the agreement of the allies to drop their demand for preferential rights in future contracts.

"With regard to the rights said to have been acquired by the Turkish Petroleum company before the war," Mr. Grey declared, "I deem it sufficient to refer to correspondence with the British government in the past three years, in which my government fully set forth its viewpoint. This viewpoint has not changed."

A sensation was caused when Sir Horace accused the Turks of violating their promise to accord treaty approval to the acquired rights of the English company. Ismet Pasha, he charged, refused to agree to the slightest violation of the company and the British government wished to give notice in the most categorical manner that it deemed the obligations of Turkey toward the company as binding.

Want Armenians Freed.

England recognized no rights which would conflict with the rights of cancellation, he added, and which have been given by Turkey to third parties. (This was an allusion to the Chester grant.)

Another feature of tonight's session was an appeal from all the delegations to the Turks to permit the Armenians to return to Ottoman territory. Mr. Grey, in particular, urged "sympathetic consideration for the interests of these homeless exiles." He asked that steps be taken to safeguard their homes and property and that generosity and tolerance be shown to the Armenian people.

Ismet Pasha replied that Turkey would apply amnesty with alacrity; she only desired to keep out disorderly and disturbing elements.

Munich Brewer's Association Makes Unsuccessful Attempt to Triple Charges to Visiting Athletes

MUNICH, July 17 (AP)—The brewers' association has failed in its attempt to triple beer prices in the face of the great influx of visitors for the national gymnastic tournament.

In the announcement the authorities said that a general rise in price would not be tolerated and that if any individual brewer heeded his rates he would be required to justify his action in an investigation.

DISBAR LYNCH FROM RANKS OF TITLE HOLDERS

Failure to Accept Challenge of Joe Burman Costs Bantam Champ His Crown; New Champion is Named in New York

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—Following its policy of holding ring champions to the letter of the New York boxing laws, the state athletic commission today disbanded Joe Lynch, New York, as bantam weight title holder for failure to accept within six months the challenge of Joe Burman of Chicago. Simultaneously, Burman was elevated to recognition as 116-pound champion in this state.

The decision came on the heels of an announcement that Lynch and Burman had been tentatively named for a title bout in Madison Square Garden in September. Edgie Mead, Lynch's manager also was placed under official ban.

Lynch was the second champion within a few weeks to be deprived of title recognition here. Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N. J., the welterweight title holder, was ousted recently for failure to accept a challenge from Dave Shade of California, who also was awarded championship recognition as a solution for failure to obtain his title match.

An echo of Walker's disbandment today was the indefinite suspension of Nate Siegel, for long time Walker's night at Newark, N. J., while the latter was under official ban. Siegel was knocked out by Walker.

The commission put its stamp of approval upon the world's middleweight title match scheduled at the Polo grounds between Johnny Wilson of Boston, the champion, and Harry Greb of Pittsburgh. This was brought about by Wilson's formal acceptance of the former light heavyweight champion's challenge.

REFUSE PERMISSION FOR FIGHT AT INDIANAPOLIS

Promoters Plan to Hold Dempsey-Gibbons Match on Government Property to Escape Governor's Jurisdiction

INDIANAPOLIS, July 17 (AP)—Warren T. McGray, governor of Indiana, has refused to grant Indianapolis business men permission to hold a Dempsey-Gibbons fight in Indianapolis, it became known today.

The promoters are going ahead with their plans, however, in the hope of holding the match at Fort Benjamin Harrison, a government reservation just north of the city. Members of the group, in commenting on the governor's refusal to permit holding of the match here, declared they are of the opinion the executive's jurisdiction does not extend over the government property.

Following the announcement of the business men, Governor McGray said he will ask the attorney general for an opinion as to whether he is empowered to prohibit the match at Fort Harrison.

Department of Justice Agents Take Fight Picture from Studio; Claim Transportation Law Was Violated

LOS ANGELES, July 17 (AP)—Department of justice agents visited the Foxley studio today and confiscated the motion picture films of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby, Mont., July 4. No arrests were made but the officers said several were in prospect.

The agents said they seized five reels which, they declared, had been brought here in violation of the federal law making it a felony to transport in interstate commerce pictures of prize fights. Officials of the studio denied any attempt to violate the law.

Promoter and Manager of Champion to Decide Place for Holding Dempsey-Firpo Scrap

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—Whether Jack Dempsey will defend his heavyweight boxing title next time in the United States or the Argentine probably will be determined tomorrow afternoon, when Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, confers with Tex Rickard, promoter, and Luis Angel Firpo, the South American challenger.

Rickard yesterday advanced a proposal to stage the Firpo-Dempsey contest in Buenos Aires, capital of the Argentine republic, around November 7, but Kearns has expressed a preference instead for two title bouts in this country, one with Firpo on Labor day, and the other with Harry Wills, negro challenger, shortly before the world's bantam series.

The title holder's manager, however, said tonight he was open to the best proposition and might accept Rickard's South American offer if no better one was in sight. At any rate, he has promised the promoter he will make his decision tomorrow.

Firpo reiterated today his desire to fight for the title before his countrymen, who look upon their rugged batter as something of a national hero. Rickard has received assurances from agents in the United States that the necessary financial access for a championship fight there are unusually good.

officers, he said, blocked payment which had been promised by Edward N. Hurley, the shipping board chairman, but his successor, John Barton Payne, renewed the promise of the $100,000 payment. Whether the money ever was paid, Mr. McAdoo did not know.

In obtaining coal tonnage contracts for the Morse lines, Mr. McAdoo said the usual fees were charged in negotiations suggested to him, he said, by John A. Donald, a member of the shipping board. He refused to testify from the district attorney, the witness said that in negotiating for Italian coal contracts he conferred with members of the Morse line, but he added that these men had not been concerned in negotiations he had as secretary of the treasury for government war loans to Italy.

In all his conferences with the shipping board officials regarding the Morse contracts, Mr. McAdoo declared, he had heard no attacks regarding any attempt to defraud, obstruct or delay the government in its building program.

BENEFIT GAME PROMISES MUCH

Idaho Falls to Play with Local Team Here Sunday; Easterners Fill up Weak Spots

Idaho Falls is the team that will play the locals here Sunday afternoon at Athletic park, in place of Aberdeen. This change was made owing to the fact that three of Aberdeen's best players have left town, leaving the team in a weakened condition, and the Twin Falls management wants only the best to tangle with the local players.

The game Sunday will be a benefit affair, the proceeds being used to pay off the indebtedness on the fence. There is still several hundred dollars due, and the game Sunday should take care of the deficiency.

Idaho Falls comes here strengthened up with the best material in eastern Idaho. Manager Gurley of the eastern team stated that he had a team that would play even with Eberly and when told that the locals had won from the railroad boys 10 to 3, he immediately looked for reinforcements; the result being that Twin Falls will bump into the hardest game of the season, when Gurley brings his picked team here on Sunday next.

GOLD STANDARD BENEFIT SHOWN

Speaker at Bankers Convention Says Banking System Must be Protected from Attacks

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 17 (AP)—The necessity of the present credit system, the gold standard, the federal reserve bank and of defending the banking system from attacks by radicals was stressed by John H. Puchler, president of the American Bankers' association, today in an address at the opening session of the twenty-first annual convention of the American Bankers' association.

Dr. C. Wallace Peety, Pittsburgh, president of the institute, also was speaker.

Were it not for the gold standard and the federal reserve bank, America would have been engulfed in the financial maelstrom of Europe, Mr. Puchler said. He told the institute bankers that unless they battle in public against the defunctors of the country's fiscal system the federal reserve bank will follow into oblivion the first and second banks of the United States, its two predecessors.

Record Herring Catch. The herring hauls of the Pacific coast may yet rival the North sea. He said he had caught as much as 200 tons of herring in one day, which would probably mean 1,600,000 fish. Its total catch during the last season, which begins about the middle of October and ends about the middle of February, was in the neighborhood of 60,000 tons, about 400,000,000 fish.

Immigration Commissioner Blames Steamship Companies for Surplus of Aliens

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—Steamship companies which took a "gamblers chance" in bringing immigrants to this country when the quotas for the aliens' nationalities were nearly filled, were blamed tonight by W. W. Husband, commissioner general of immigration, for the large number of deportees held on Ellis Island. Mr. Husband spent the day at the island inspecting conditions and conferring with immigration Commissioner Curran.

Mr. Husband said immigration officials were not to blame for the prospect faced by these aliens. He charged officials of transportation companies with carelessness and disregard for conditions in their eagerness to obtain as large a portion of the immigrant traffic as possible.

He asserted steamship companies had ignored offers from immigration authorities at Washington to furnish daily statistics on quotas. He said he had urged the companies to carry only 15 or the possible 20 per cent of immigrants that could be admitted during the current month, the first of the new fiscal year.

SEES PROTEST IN MINNESOTA SPECIAL NOTE

Republican National Chairman Analyzes Outcome of Special Election; Represents Knock at Republicans

WASHINGTON, July 17, (AP)—Commenting on the election to the senator yesterday of Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor candidate, the chairman of the republican national committee, in a statement tonight, declared that "in a general way, the result in Minnesota was a vote of protest against continuing the temporary arrangement for farming interests adversely." Agricultural conditions are bound to improve, he said, adding that the American farmer "can be depended on in the long run to support the cause of good government, sound economy and stable institutions."

Chairman Hull of the democratic national committee, also took occasion tonight to discuss the election, the result, declaring in a statement that it constituted a "general condemnation of dominant republican national leadership since 1912—condemnation of the nation and of the world drifting aimlessly along, while our domestic business conditions are temporary, artificial and unsound."

Mr. Adams, pointing out that returns indicated the democratic candidate polled about five per cent of the total vote, said that "certainly the democratic vote got much comfort out of this result."

Democrats Favored Press

"On the face of the returns," continued the republican committee chairman, "it appears that the farmer-labor candidate, endorsed by several other organizations, including the communists, received the bulk of the democratic vote in Minnesota. Democratic leaders in Minnesota supported Governor Prosser."

"As the situation stands today, the republican party is the only organized force among the progressive forces of the country can rally. In Minnesota, and other states the democratic organization has been completely wiped out by the partisans of radical leaders. The indications are that the democratic party in the next campaign will make common cause with those radical influences and endorse part of their socialistic program."

"In a general way, the result in Minnesota was a voice of protest against conditions temporarily affecting the farming interests of the state. At such times candidates who promise the most, regardless of whether their promises can be redeemed or not, are the beneficiaries in popular elections. It is conditions of the kind now existing, in agricultural sections of the country, are bound to improve, and with their improvement public opinion in these sections will right itself. The American people, and especially the American farmer, are entitled to a saving quality of sober second thought and they can be depended upon in the long run to support the cause of good government, sound economy and stable institutions."

Raps Administration

Mr. Hull, in the course of his statement, declared: "The American farmers have experienced a complete try-out of typical republican high tariff-tariffs that have never increased the price of farm products but have tremendously increased the prices of most commodities to the farmer. This verdict of the Minnesota farmers is that such republican high tariff-tariffs and also the burden of a costly fraud upon the American farmer and that there is no greater handicap to farmers' prosperity. The farmers were told two years ago that high tariff-tariffs would increase the prices of their farm products, whereas they have gone down to almost nothing in many instances, with the result that the republicans are now telling the farmers that the only remedy for price increase of wheat is not a tariff, but a reduction of wheat acreage, or for the people to eat more bread."

"The temper of Monday's election is indicative of the temper of the voters generally, not only among the farmers, but of all classes."

Special Interests

"Unfortunately for the Harding administration, it cannot take advantage of the lesson given by this election of Minnesota. It cannot replicate the high protective tariff policy without alienating the great manufacturing and other special interests which supply the campaign funds and control its economic policy. It has no choice but to remain true to special privilege and protected interests and continue to resort to sophistry, misrepresentation and other reprehensible methods in further attempts to fool the great body of voters upon whom these special interests prey."

"I therefore renew my prediction that in 1924 the country will again turn to the democratic party with its sound economic program, its indicative and aggressive leadership and efficient administrative ability."

PLURALITY GROWS

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17, (AP)—Further returns late today from the Minnesota yesterday indicated the United States senatorial election in the plurality of about 60,000. The farmer-laborite would exceed 70,000 and might amount to the 75,000 mark. With the election of Johnson assured, no concerted effort was made by state tabulation headquarters to bring in the Harding-sponsored, but there 27,000 of the 400,000 voters precinct had reported Johnson had a lead of 67,470.

In those precincts the farmer-laborite had polled 248,000 votes, compared to 130,373 for James A. Carley, democrat.

This total of 446,339 votes was believed within 60,000 to 75,000 of the total for the election, compared to a total of 349,000 polled in the June 18 primary election.

to compete with the International. In 1918, it was asserted the International produced but 64 per cent of the harvesting implements manufactured while during 1922, the percentage was 66.

LEGGES MARKS BRITISH

CHICAGO, July 17, (AP)—A recent harvest in England, the result of vigorous competition, which the Sherman law was enacted to preserve, and are fairly comparable with the price of other implements fixed by the same competition, Alexander Legges, president of the International Harvester company, said today in a statement commenting on the government suit against the company filed in federal district court at St. Paul.

The suit, Mr. Legges said, is a continuation of the government action brought against the company eleven years ago. He said the company had been accused by a jury of misrepresentation and the attorney general's admission of no wrong dealings or unfair practices toward customers or competitors. Mr. Legges said the suit entered, to insure lawful competition, requiring the company to sell to competitors certain complete lines of harvesting machinery, limiting sales representatives to a single dealer in any one city.

Issue Statement

"That decree, he said, provided that at the end of a test period which has now expired the government might ask the court to restrict the company or not the free competition contemplated by the Sherman anti-trust law exists in the farm implement industry. He said the government is now taking the statement said, and continued: "As we understand it, the sole issue raised by the present petition relates to the competitive conditions with respect to harvesting machinery only. It does not charge the company with unduly raising the price of harvesting machinery to the grave injury of the American farmer, as charged in 1912, but it does charge that the company has been unduly depressing the price of harvesting machinery, particularly since 1920, to the injury of its competitors."

The situation in which the manufacturers of farm implements find themselves, the statement said, is due to the business depression that started in 1920.

DELAY GREATS RENEWED HOPE

Washington Officials Optimistic of Favorable Action on Liquor Rule by British

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Continued delay in forwarding of the British reply to Secretary Hughes' ship liquor running treaty plan, coupled with other recent developments in England, have created renewed hope among officials here that the British attitude may not prove in the end to be an uncompromising one on the 12 mile search and seizure phase of the proposal as Lord Curzon's recent statement in the house of commons suggested.

Since then Lord Birkenhead has written a public letter which substantially supported the Hughes plan. It is believed that this communication appearing in the British press, indicated a better comprehension of the situation in which the American government finds itself. While above still remains evidence of misapprehension abroad as to the powers of the executive branch of the American government in dealing with such matters, the fact that the British are in Washington that the treaty proposal is the best way out of both difficulties and that negotiations to that end will be possible.

Sovereignty Is Problem

Lord Birkenhead in his remarks in the house of lords when the question of the treaty first was brought up, interpreted a clause of the supreme court decision touching on the power of "local sovereignty" to exercise administrative discretion in applying the Volstead act as referring to discretionary powers of the president. The local sovereignty to which the court had referred, however, could only be the sovereignty of the American people and in legislative matters to be exercised only through congress. The result of this difference between British and American governmental systems, it is pointed out, was to leave the Washington administration without discretion in the enforcement of the act.

Regard View Favorably

An impression seemed today to prevail in government circles that the British viewpoint on Hughes' plan, as it is being worked out by a committee in the British foreign office, would take this limitation on the Washington government into consideration. Coupled with such recognition of the situation, it was felt, must come an understanding that the United States has not proposed any extension of the three-mile limit and probably would not be agreeable to an extension under any circumstances.

FARMER SENATOR

ed at the last session are timely make-shifts and wholly inadequate for agricultural needs.

"Hullo dispatches on my boat back said there are prospects for big crops in the United States. For forty years the farmers have received less total money for the same crop than for the little ones. They did the extra work in harvesting and handling and paid less return on the crops.

"They are in the same situation now, made worse by their own war deflation and aggravated by railroad inflation. The farmer's business sells its product in a protective market and is at a charge the farmer cost of production and in many cases an extortionate profit basis."

Rips Harding's Speeches

"I have read only three of the president's speeches. One great self-promoting world court, the last year in universal autonomy. Another urged a confiscating tax in railroad rates upon the people of the United States, essentially upon the farmers, to sustain seven billion dollars of water in railroad valuations. I denounced the government of the United States as a railroad man, and last night he said that private ownership increased the operating expenses on our people by fourteen hundred and eighty-five million dollars the first ten months after the government turned the railroads back."

"If it said the roads could not be replaced for nineteen billion dollars, he neglected to say the value of all the stocks and bonds representing all the value of all the roads was less than two billion dollars."

"In the third speech the president favored drafting all the people and all the property in the next war—mild you, in the next war. But he said not a word about taxing the profiteers and dollar-a-year patriots all around him for the millions and billions of blood money which they took from the government during the war. He refused to say to pay the bonus and promised the soldier."

In discussing the situation in Russia Senator DeLoach said: "Lenin is the man of the hour there. He is now suffering from a nervous breakdown brought about by overwork. His conditions are similar to that of President Wilson. Trotsky, with whom I talked, is an able man. The soviet government has abandoned the communistic plan for that of the cooperative."

ANCIENT FOSSIL LEAF FOUND IN NORTHWEST

SPOKANE, Wash., July 17, (AP)—Discovery of a fossil leaf of the gingko tree, considered as evidence of the past, was made in Asia and America were joined at a recent geological period, has been announced by Thomas A. Bonser, curator of the public museum here.

The leaf was found by a high school student on Five Mile Prairie, north of Spokane, and pronounced by Mr. Bonser as being probably about a million years old. It was in such good condition that it was found possible to remove it without injury from the clay layers which encased and preserved it for the centuries.

The gingko tree now is known only in Asia, according to Mr. Bonser. For centuries it has been the sacred tree of China.

Consumers Are Assured of Representation at Valuation Hearing if Support is Given

Work of the Southern Idaho Light and Power Users' association will be continued in connection with the hearing before the state utilities commission on the Idaho Power company's application for approval for increased valuation on condition that support of the association's members will justify it. In presenting its valuation the company requested the commission's order of several months ago fixing the valuation as of December 31, 1919, at $11,638,499.80.

The hearing before the commission was not represented at the hearing Monday by counsel, but Mayor E. R. Sherman of Boise, president of the association, and Boise's city attorney attended.
