PRICE FIVE CENTS

MOVE TO BOOST WHEAT PRICES GIVEN IMPETUS

Statement is Made on Behalf of Nation-Wide Campaign Urging the Public to Buy More Whole Grain and Flour

OMAHA, July 23 (AP)—An appeal to the public to buy wheat and flour to raise wheat prices to the farmers and improve financial conditions for them, was made here today in a statement by John L. Kennedy, Omaha, banker, and chairman of a local committee of business men recently organized to further a nation-wide wheat buying campaign.

Adopting the slogan, "Buy a thousand more bushels of wheat or a bag or barrel of flour," the committee through its chairman's statement, asked for "every loyal citizen and every financial, commercial and industrial organization, north, west, south and south, to support the campaign."

Two Solutions. After outlining two proposed methods of aiding the farmer, holding of wheat out of the market and the increasing of demand for actual consumption, the committee statement declared the latter to be the preferred solution of the farmers' problem, and added: "The public should be made to understand that of late he has been hearing more than enough of these hurriedly concocted 'buy a thousand bushels of wheat, but we can buy a bag or barrel of flour, and we can do it now.'"

Rely on Home Market. Saying that "we have no moral right to export other countries to buy our surplus crop," the statement added, that "in the emergency, we must rely chiefly on our home market."

"I have discussed with responsible officials for the affairs of foreign countries," it said, "and our present attitude tends to discourage foreign trade relations."

"Bidding rates of exchange, too, go far to make such trading unprofitable and unmanufacturable."

SWISS OBSERVE PEACE ADVENT

Delegates to Near East Conference Attend Dinner; Treaty to Be Signed Tuesday

LAUSANNE, July 23 (AP)—A great dinner to celebrate the advent of peace was given tonight by the Swiss federal council. All the delegates to the Near East conference and Joseph C. Grow, the American minister to Switzerland, were present.

The Americans will attend but will not sign the treaty or any of its annexes or records. It is hoped to regulate American relations with Turkey in a special treaty now under negotiation. Several points in this treaty are still in dispute and the Turco-American parliaments have been suspended pending instructions from Washington and Ankara.

Light Damage is Done By California Tremor

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., July 23 (AP)—Inventory of the damage of last night's earthquake, completed tonight, showed three persons injured and about $2000 damage to the city of San Bernardino, $2500 in Rodmans and extensive damage to the southern California state hospital for the insane at Patton and the general hospital of San Bernardino county, near here.

The state hospital's east and west wings were shattered to such an extent that 510 patients were ordered removed. Replacement value of the wings declared unfit for occupancy was estimated at $500,000. At the general hospital damage consisted of demolished plaster on each of the three floors, cracked tile and damage to ornamental work.

Three Injured. The injured are George R. Fisher, hurt when brick and stone from the hall of records fell through the building near door into his room; B. H. Lee, citrus fruits specialist of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, who was driving an automobile on a bluff at East Highlands, near the San Andreas fault when the earthquake jarred the structure ing wheel from his hands and caused the car to go over a 30-foot cliff, and William M. Jones, cut by falling glass. Damage to San Bernardino consisted largely of cracked walls in various school buildings, the court house and business blocks. The hall of records which lost an immense chimney, was the building worst damaged.

Interior walls of the court house, the tallest building here, were cracked through in a half dozen places. Some of these walls are two feet thick.

Keep Onlookers Away. At the hall of records, adjoining the court house, barriers were erected today to keep onlookers at a distance. After an inspection of the Junior High school, a three-story structure erected in 1922, officials of the board of education today announced that the third floor probably would have to be removed. City officials announced only one business structure, an old two-story building, would be condemned.

Persons who were camping in both the San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountains told of a roar which preceded the earthquake. Rocks rolled from canyon sides.

LEVIATHAN FINISHES HER MAIDEN VOYAGE

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—The Leviathan today completed her maiden voyage under the American flag. More than 7,500 persons were at the Hudson river pier where the giant "sea palace" docked.

The running time from Southampton to New York was five days, 12 hours and 11 minutes, with an average speed of 23.08 knots an hour. Her speed from Nantucket to Ambrose light was 25.07 knots an hour.

Captain Herbert Hartley praised the engineering and maneuvering qualities of his big charge, declaring that not the slightest trouble had been experienced in handling her in and out of the foreign ports.

The longest day's run was 605 miles. Another day 616 miles were covered.

Ten stowaways slipped aboard at Cherbourg and Southampton. They were turned over to Ellis Island authorities.

ARGUE MOTION OF DEFENSE IN BROWNING CASE

Challenge Right of Prosecution to Change Charge to First Degree Murder; Hearing Taken Under Advisement

SALT LAKE, July 23 (AP)—Hearing on the defense motion to annul charges of first degree murder against Mariner A. and John M. Browning, Jr., cousins, alleged slayers of Benjamin F. Ballantyne in his home on April 6, was completed today and the case taken under advisement by District Judge G. A. Iverson. He indicated he would deliver his decision at the next session of the court on August 7.

Defense counsel in their arguments today challenged the right of the prosecution to file information charging first degree murder after the defendants had been bound over for their preliminary hearing on charges of second degree murder.

District Attorney E. A. Rogers contended he was privileged to charge against the defendants the offense contained in the original information, which was first degree murder.

The original information was sworn to by County Attorney Arthur E. Morton several days after the slaying. At the preliminary hearing that followed, City Judge Noel S. Pratt, presiding, ruled the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conclusion of premeditated murder, and ordered the Browning bound over for trial on charges of second degree murder.

The defendants, who are at liberty on $25,000 bonds each, were not in court during the hearing. Ballantyne was the brother-in-law of John M. Browning, Jr., who is the son of the famous firearms inventor.

LIUENE AUTO DRIVERS HELD ON TWO MONTANA CITIES

HELENA, Mont., July 23 (AP)—In two Montana cities—Butte and Great Falls—ordinances have passed first reading to license automobile drivers. A driver convicted the first time for reckless driving would receive a license tag of a light color which would indicate on conviction. HENDERSON, WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, July 23 (AP)—President Harding won his first match today in a shuffleboard tournament arranged to mark the invitation to walk away the time on a three-day voyage from Sitka, Alaska, to Vancouver, B. WANT RESPECT OF PROHIBITION

Baptist Leader in Europe Says British Embassy at Washington Should Be Kept Dry

STOCKHOLM, July 23 (AP)—The British embassy at Washington ought to be kept dry, out of regard for American prohibition law, Dr. J. H. Russ, Baptist minister of London, said today in a world alliance today.

The jibes at American prohibition have not come from British and American Baptists, he said, "and our fear is that we are often too sluggish in following it. Our representatives in America should show decent respect for its constitution."

Because of reports brought to the alliance from Rumania by Dr. Russ, Broek and others, he said, "I am sure Dr. Uphaw of Atlanta, Ga., announced that he would go to Rumania and after making a personal investigation of the alleged practice of drinking there would seek the aid of congress in remedying the situation."

The alliance is being urged by various organizations to take such action as would arouse governments everywhere to the use of giving to all citizens of every religious belief the right to worship in a free and open manner according to the dictates of their conscience.

HANSEN MAN DROWNS IN SHALLOW WATER DITCH

Death of E. E. Pearce, Found by Wife and Neighbor. Attributed by Coroner to Fainting Fit

Prostrate in 18 inches of water in a drainage ditch on his farm one mile south of Hanson, the body of Ed. E. Pearce, aged 53 years, was discovered Sunday forenoon by his wife and a neighbor whom she had called when she became alarmed over Mr. Pearce's failure to return after elapse of time sufficient to change irrigation water for which purpose he had left the home.

Death, according to Coroner P. J. Grossman, resulted evidently from drowning after Mr. Pearce fell into the ditch in a fainting spell. It was known to have suffered from this infirmity over a period of several years. There was no indication on the body of any signs of violence. The body lay face downward when it was found.

Mr. Pearce had been a resident of Lewiston, Idaho, but came from Goldendale, Washington, to which place the body will be taken after funeral services, which, it was announced, would be held in a hall at a 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Grossman chapel here, and conducted by the Rev. A. G. Pearson of the Presbyterian church.

INSANE PATIENTS TO BE REMOVED FROM HOSPITAL

Damage to Walls of Institution at Patton to Take Inmates to Place of Safety

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., July 23 (AP)—Removal of 510 patients from the state hospital for the insane at Patton, near here, was ordered today when it was discovered that damage to walls of the hospital building by the earthquake last night had caused the structure to crack to be occupied.

Dr. Edwin Wayt, acting superintendent, said he expected many of the patients ordered removed would be obliged to sleep in the open tonight. There are 2500 patients enrolled at the institution, and there is no room in other wards for those ordered taken out.

Dr. Wayt telegraphed to Sacramento asking that state engineers be sent to Patton to make an inspection.

A hole 10 feet square was torn in the north wall of the building by the shock. Two wings were affected, one containing three wards occupied by men patients, the other two wards occupied by women.

GRAY PREDICTS MORE VARIETY IN FARM CROPS

President of Union Pacific Pleased at Present Prospects; Road's Improvement Program Is Biggest in Years

DENVER, July 23 (AP)—Carl R. Gray, President of the Union Pacific system, was in Denver today, enroute east from a business visit to the agricultural districts of Utah and Idaho. He spent some time in conference with Joseph H. Young, receiver of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad, but the nature of the conference was not revealed.

"One of the bright spots in the present depressed condition of the farmer," Mr. Gray said, "is their prospects for a good beet crop and reasonable prices. I am pleased to note the decrease in acreage of potatoes, which crop has been over-developed. Next year we may expect a decrease in the wheat acreage. The farmer is beginning to learn the necessity of diversifying his crops. More farmers will go into the dairy business as an adjunct to the farm. Poultry raising is sure to become more popular. It will be necessary to reduce the long hauls as far as possible."

"There is nothing new in the development of the railroad consolidation plans of the government. There seems to be a full for the western roads while the interstate commerce commission is holding hearings for the eastern roads. The Union Pacific is going ahead with the biggest improvement program planned within recent years. This consists of new trackage and better and more convenient service for the public."

"It was a fine thing for the Denver and Rio Grande Western to make a loan of $1,000,000 to the farmers along its line. Until the money is actually used for road improvements, the modern idea of the farmer to give the people the greatest service possible in return for the patronage received."

THREE SLAYERS ARE CAPTURED

Bandits Held as Suspects of Villa's Assassination; Rumors of Revolt Are Heard

MEXICO CITY, July 23 (AP)—General Eugenio Martinez, military commander of the state of Chihuahua, announced the capture by his troops of three men suspected of having participated in the recent assassination of General Francisco Villa. General Martinez' report added that four additional flying columns of cavalry had been dispatched in pursuit of the assassins.

Trouble is feared at Canutillo and federal troops in nearby garrisons have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness in case of any possible threats of revolt by hundreds of Villa's followers because of an attempt by Mrs. Berta Villa to obtain possession of the hacienda hacienda owned by Villa.

Through her attorney, Jose Martinez Baca, Mrs. Villa, who has been living on the ranch of the late rebel chief in Canutillo, has filed a suit seeking to obtain the hacienda on behalf of herself and three children. Villa's followers, who have been cultivating the lands at Canutillo, have announced their intention, according to press reports, to obtain the holdings by force if necessary.

TWIN FALLS SETS MARK IN CHAUTAUQUA WORLD

Rapid Action Looking Toward Next Year's Chautauqua Program as Speakers at Klamath Meeting

Twin Falls, by signing the contract for its 1924 Chautauqua course on the second day of the 1923 program, has attained a distinction that is unique among more than 900 cities and towns served by Chautauqua, and one that will bring the city much favorable attention, members of the Klamath club were told at their luncheon meeting Monday by their guests, Miss L. Coleman of Portland, Ore., and Miss L. E. Chautauqua, and Beatrice Stuart Walker, cartoonist-lecturer appearing on the Monday afternoon program. Miss Walker, in her remarks before the club, laid stress on internationalism and urged upon American citizens a greater appreciation of the part the United States might play in the conduct of nations.

Dr. Charles Simons of Berkeley, California, a guest here of his brother, George Simons, attributed to the late President the same fine and similar intentions a growing appreciation of the golden rule in the commercial world.

BOISE RESIDENT MEETS SUCCESS IN RELIEF WORK

E. E. Dailey Tells of Experiences in Handling Motor Transportation Division in Campaign in Near East

MOSCOW, Russia, July 23 (AP)—A thankless job, yet one which has played a prominent part in the successful carrying on of the greatest relief operation in history, is the one E. E. Dailey of Boise, Idaho, has just engineered to a successful end.

Mr. Dailey has been chief of the motor transportation division of the American relief administration in Russia since the fall of 1922, when he came here from Warsaw where for two preceding years he had charge of motor transportation for the A. R. A. and. Apart from the minor difficulties connected with the active management of a small regiment of Russian chauffeurs, mechanics and automobile repair men, he has had to keep 130 motor trucks, touring cars, camionettes and flyovers on the go during weather which varied from a few inches of rain to miles of mud; over roads in Russia's most remote spots which have known no repairs since the pre-war days and which even then were nothing more than clay trails.

"We have never yet had a district tied up through lack of motor transportation," Mr. Dailey declared with justifiable pride. "Although we have had some tight pinches."

Handle All Repairs

Under Mr. Dailey's regime the big A. R. A. automobile repair shop in Moscow has been able to meet every repair requirement and requisition from the districts.

Axles, radiators, bearings, crank shafts, in fact every and any kind of auto part for any one of the more than 100 different kinds of cars employed in A. R. A. service have been supplied with ease.

"If we didn't have them in stock, we made them," Mr. Dailey explained. "Of course we couldn't always fix up cars by mail, even though the districts were well equipped with agents and mechanics. Now and then, when a car showed unmistakable signs of wear and tear we brought it into the shop here in Moscow and overhauled it. We overhauled or overhauled or overhauled cars and put them back in service as fit as fiddles."

Difficult Job

Mr. Dailey's job has not been a cinch by any means. The demands on motor transport have been heavy and often. The management of the Moscow garages alone is no idle dream. Cars have had to be supplied at a moment's notice, and the outgoing, have had to be met with constant regularity, at all hours of the day and night. The motor transport division has enjoyed no holidays and the problem of getting sufficient and suitable help has been a vexing one.

Government Buys Trucks

The A. R. A. sold all its motor transport to the Soviet government recently, and with it complete garage and machine-shop equipment, much to the relief of Mr. Dailey. With the completion of the sale, his job has ended. Before closing shop, however, he worked day and night for several days filling requisitions for the districts. His demands included everything from new tops to new cot-tiders. Complete sets of tools, complete sets of spare parts, extra tires, tubes and wheels had to be supplied. The districts were selling their cars, too, having practically wound up their liquidation programs.

Mr. Dailey will spend the summer in Europe before he begins his probably sailing for America early in the fall.

Responsible for Passengers

Drivers of motor cars traveling through certain parts of England are not only responsible for the handling of their vehicles, but are now liable to be fined if they allow their passengers to misbehave themselves during the trip.

Significance in Number Three

Why should not three cigarettes be lighted from one match? This superstition is an oriental one. In parts of the Near East three wax tapers are placed by a deceased, and three lights are held to be a sign of death.

FOREIGN POLICY TO BE OUTLINED

Senator Johnson to Speak on European Tour; Refuses to Comment on Candidacy

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, boomed by his friends for the republican presidential nomination in 1924, returned today from Europe on the Levantine and tonight was preparing for delivery at a banquet to be given in his honor Wednesday night a message to the American people on the nation's foreign relations. The senator, who spent four and one-half months abroad, refused to discuss either domestic or foreign politics and declared that on Wednesday night he would set forth the attitude which in his humble opinion, America should adopt towards Europe.

Declines Statement

Pleading ignorance of first-hand information of late developments in the political situation at home, Senator Johnson declined to make any comment on them until he had a chance to catch up.

He categorically refused to say whether or not he would accept a date for the republican nomination in 1924 and asserted that his address on Wednesday would "not embody any statement on that subject."

"For four and one-half months," Senator Johnson said, "I wandered in Europe, generally close to the ground. I visited seven countries and talked with every one I could, in high places and low places. The visit was very interesting and informative."

Prepares Message

"On Wednesday night I will tell you my impressions and my opinions, as necessarily somewhat inchoate. Then I will deliver my message to the people when I can and how I can. But on domestic affairs I cannot say yet anything."

Immediately after his arrival with Mrs. Johnson at his hotel, the senator went to work preparing his address which will be delivered at a testimonial dinner to be given in his honor by a committee of his supporters, headed by Rhineland Walden and George Henry Payne.

To Advise Albania

The council of the League of Nations went to far off Java to choose its representative as financial adviser to the little kingdom of Albania. J. D. Hunger, former governor of Bavaria, has been selected by the league to take up the task of setting Albania on its financial feet.

Recent reports of the richness of Albanian oil fields and the rumors that many great international interests are seeking concessions there have probably caused the appointment of a more or less neutral Hollander to this important post. Mr. Hunger has been in his country's official service for many years, and his record in Java commended him strongly to the league.—New York Herald.

PROPOSAL FOR ARMS MEETING IS VOTED DOWN

Motion in British House of Commons for International Conference Fails; American Strength Is Recognized

LONDON, July 23 (AP) Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, moved a resolution today in favor of convening an international conference to discuss the limitation of armaments. But the house rejected this proposal, 280 to 100. No vote was taken on an amendment introduced by R. W. O'Neill, which had been accepted by the government, inviting the government to take the earliest favorable opportunity to attain the object desired through the agency of the league of nations. This amendment was talked out.

The opposition leader explained that no mention had been made in his resolution of the league of nations because that organization had not yet won the confidence of all the important nations of the world. It was most desirable that the United States should come into such a conference and he wanted to make it perfectly clear to the American people that there was no wish to make it difficult for them to come in.

MONTANA MINES CLOSED

BUTTE, July 23 (AP)—Discontinuance of governmental purchase of silver under the Pittman act has resulted in the closing of some mines in western Montana and the reduction of working forces in others. The drop in price from approximately 21 an ounce to around 65 cents, occasioned by the reversion from the government's fixed price to that prevailing in the open market, has not seriously affected many mines in the Butte district proper, where silver is generally only a by-product. In outlying districts where there are exclusively silver properties the effect has been felt keenly.

FINE PITCHING FEATURES GAME

Don Linville in Fine Form, and Locals Beat Idaho Falls 11 to 4—Many Features

Idaho Falls' baseball team lost to Twin Falls Sunday afternoon, 11 to 4, in a game featured by the pitching of Don Linville.

Getting away to a bad start in the first frame, Don settled down, and from the first to the fifth held the invaders hitless. In the fifth he was nicked for two more hits and this settled the fate of a fortnight of play.

Twin Falls clearly demonstrated that it has one of the best ball teams in the state, making but one error during the game, and showing one with a vengeance from their boating team in Idaho.

Manager Gourley started out with Zingle, a 17-year-old high school boy, in the box, and as far as his were concerned Zingle did very well, but he had very poor control and seemed nervous. He walked three men and hit two during the five innings he pitched.

Whitzel's catch of McIntosh's liner in the eighth was snappy. The ball went to first like a bullet, but Bob held onto the globe.

The team will practice this evening at 6 o'clock.

to get into condition before playing any more. If he ever gets into condition he will beat Henrie Groh out of his job.

Laville only threw four balls in the second inning.

Evans made a nifty catch of Whitzel's Texas leaguer in the fourth.

Kieffner made a swell catch of Birch's four near the autos in left field in the seventh.

Laval Jarman was a whole show by himself, making two nice hits, and rapping three flies to the field. His catch of Anderson's line drive in the eighth robbed the Idaho Falls captain of a triple.

Whitzel's catch of McIntosh's liner in the eighth was snappy. The ball went to first like a bullet, but Bob held onto the globe.

The team will practice this evening at 6 o'clock.

Why "Topsy-Turvy."

The expression "topsy-turvy" was originally "topside-turvy." When turf is cut for fuel it is turned upside down to dry, the "topside" of the "turvy" being underneath. So the expression came to mean upside down.

Women Want Harem Back.

According to recent research the women of Turkey are not all giving three cheers for their recently acquired independence. Most of the old-timers are still strong for the harem. Now a lot of them have to get out and hustle for their meals. In the old days all they had to do was to sit on upholstered cushions in nice warm harem and munch chocolate creams. They could push the buzzer for coffee whenever they felt like it and the hours were spent in gossip and embroidery.

To go forth into a rough world and put in twelve hours a day in some factory or shop for the joy of being independent does not appeal to all of them. They are sighing for the good old days when Mustapha Phelem provided a nosebag for a whole flock of harem and odalisks. It seems to be mighty hard to please all the women in the world.—Los Angeles Times.

Once more the local lads proved that Twin Falls has a real ball team.

The infield looks like the goods, and it takes a pretty good hit to pass it.

Don Laville had everything that goes to make a pitcher. His control was perfect, not a man being passed to first base.

This fellow Russell, for the enemy, is one sweet ball player, taking care of everything that came his way, besides cracking out two nits, one a triple to the right field fence.

Laville allowed the visitors to make four hits in the first frame, and it looked as though he was doomed for the show, but from then until the fifth, when two more hits were made, Don turned the visiting batmen back as fast as they came to the plate.

Watson made a beautiful stop of Kieffner's hard hit ball down the third base line in the second inning, and threw him out at first. Bruce stated that he was out of practice and wanted

Challenger Fails to Annex Champ's Title

LEONARD'S SKILL Baffles Tendler

World's Lightweight Champion Retains Crown in Fast Fifteen Round Battle with Philadelphia Glove Expert

RINGSIDE, YANKEE STADIUM, New York, July 23 (AP)—Benny Leonard, king of the light weights of the past six years, demonstrated conclusively tonight his undisputed title to the throne by stunning Leo Tendler, his Philadelphia challenger, in a slashing, bitterly fought 15-round match at the Yankee stadium.

Before a crowd of more than 65,000 that paid a half million dollars to see the match, setting a new high mark for championships outside the heavy weight class, Leonard outgeneralized, outboxed and outpunched his foremost rival from start to finish. He held the upper hand in the clinch, and the judges' verdict in his favor at the finish was merely a formality.

Spectacular in the fight, it lacked the thrill, the suspense and evenness of their memorable battle a year ago at Boyle's Thirty Acres, where Leonard, hanging on at one stage, was barely able to gain a margin of victory.

Leonard Showed Mastery Leonard fought with consummate skill. A master of ring tactics, he had his rugged southpaw challenger baffled by the speed and precision of his attack, while at the same time he made futile most of Tendler's attempts on the offensive. The champion landed three blows to one in nearly every round.

Tendler, on the other hand, seemed slow, lethargic by comparison to the title holder. Blocked in his favorite method of attack—for which Leonard apparently had perfected a remarkable defense—the challenger was left with no effective weapon. He was wild repeatedly, and though he stood up gamely under a terrific battering in several rounds, he seemed in much poorer form than when he gave Leonard a slashing struggle a year ago.

Majority Favor Leonard A majority of ringside experts gave Leonard every round except the first, which went to Tendler by a small margin. Some gave the challenger an even break in the seventh, but the fact remained that at no time did he appear to have a chance.

Fast Semi-Final In the semi-finals Jack Zivie of Pittsburgh and Johnny Darcy of Jersey City started their 10-round match at a fast clip. They had the crowd in an uproar with the furious exchange in the first round. Darcy was driven against the ropes in the third with a two-fisted assault to the head. Both held in the fourth round after a rapid-fire mixup.

The Fight by Rounds. ROUND ONE—They came together slowly, sparring. Tendler missed a right lead. They clinched lightly. Leonard landed a light left to the jaw and took a left to the jaw. Tendler backed away from Leonard's lead and the crowd roared. Leonard backed slowly to the ropes awaiting Tendler's rush. They clinched in a neutral corner, moved out into the center and clinched again. Tendler sent his left into the champion's ribs, but did little damage. They exchanged body blows in a clinch. Tendler drove Leonard into his own corner with overhand left jabs to the face. Tendler rushed in again. The champion clinched. They were squaring away when the bell rang. Both men took it easy.

ROUND TWO—Tendler continued to land, finishing out a right to the jaw. Leonard landed a light left to the head. They had a light exchange and clinched again. Tendler rushed into Leonard's arms and took an overhead right to the head. Leonard parried it, but Leonard grabbed him with his right hand and sent a volley of solid rights to the jaw. Tendler drove the champion back to the ropes. Leonard was furious, exchanging to the challenger's advantage. Leonard lashed stiffly with his left and then crossed twice hard with his left to the jaw, meeting Tendler's next rush with a stiff right to the head. Leonard resumed the defensive. He then caught the challenger with a left jab and pounded him in his right. Tendler was trapped in a neutral corner, taking blows from both hands when Leonard laced out. It was a fast round.

Keop Fast Pace. ROUND THREE—They sparred in the center of the ring. Tendler again sent the lead left into a clinch. They had a furious exchange and Leonard, moved to the center of the ring and clinched. Tendler led again, but Leonard with his head left, pounded him with his left which he moved in a horizontal cross fire from belt to head and back again. In the next exchange the champion fared better, landing short right uppercuts and Leonard caught Tendler with a hard right jolt to the jaw and sent him spinning to the ropes, but remained cautious. Tendler landed a light right and a hard left to the jaw and the champion sank a right into Tendler's midriff. They clinched. Leonard clinched on Tendler's next rush. Leonard stepped back, landed two hard rights to the body and poked two lefts to the head. That was how the round ended.

ROUND FOUR—Tendler led with a right but was short. Leonard retaliated with his left and sent two long uppercuts to the jaw. Tendler did considerable dancing, then Leonard jolted Tendler with a left hook to the jaw and Leonard again sent two long uppercuts to the head in a clinch and then, soaked Tendler in the left eye. Tendler landed two hard lefts to the head and Leonard was caught with his back to the champion who reached around and curved his right into the challenger's body. Leonard sent two short rights to the body that hurt. They exchanged lightly to the body in a clinch. Tendler left hooked the champion's jaw and then shot a right blow to the heart and was short two rights. Leonard caught the challenger with two stiff rights to the jaw just before the bell topped the challenger's rush. Tendler's seconds showered him with water when he came to his corner—and the champion listened patiently to his handler's advice.

Leonard Gains. ROUND FIVE—Leonard met Tendler's rush and they exchanged evenly until a neutral corner where they clinched. Leonard was getting the better of the clinches now, shooting both hands to the challenger's jaw and then crossing both hands to the jaw when they separated. Tendler clinched lightly and then Leonard appeared in effectively with his left. Leonard sank a right to Tendler's jaw and then whiplashed two uppercuts to the jaw. Tendler landed a hard mouth and then hooked his left to the breast. The champion jabbed expertly with his left which bothered Tendler who missed and ran again. Leonard caught Leonard a hard left to the belt and then took a left cross to the head. They rushed into a stiff body exchange jabs to the head.

Champ Gets Lead. ROUND SIX—The majority of experts agreed that the champion was leading by a comfortable margin at this stage. They met in the center, and clinched. Leonard hooked left in the jaw moment later. They danced around. Tendler's right was short and Leonard slashed him with a left. Then the champion whiplashed his right to the body and hooked Tendler with left jab. Leonard had much the better of a clinch, sending both hands to the jaw. Leonard backed to the ropes for a rest and stepped aside when Tendler moved up, allowing the latter to slip through the rope. When the latter regained his equilibrium they shook hands in the center of the ring. Leonard sent solid rights to the jaw, the body and the jaw again, and had no difficulty in avoiding Tendler's left lead. The champion appeared the least worried as they backed away from light exchange in answer to the gong.

ROUND SEVEN—They sparred for a second after the bell and then both fell away. Leonard gave an opening and Tendler rushed in with a light left to the jaw. Tendler relaxed for a moment and Leonard whipped two rights to the jaw. Tendler turned away and Leonard landed two rights to the head. Leonard dug his right under Tendler's ribs. They exchanged lightly and when they came together Leonard surprised and then took a left to the belt line. Tendler again walked into the neutral corner where he was caught with a two-handed attack to the head. Tendler, who was jinking a poor showing, fell back again with the ropes and Leonard dug both hands to the jaw some more. They sparred lightly and were boxing when the gong sounded.

Tendler Rushes. ROUND EIGHT—Tendler's manager used force in his talk during the intermission for the champion had a wide margin by now. Evidently Tendler took the advice, for he rushed twice into the lead, but his accuracy was as poor as before and Leonard took respite. The referee cautioned Tendler for using the rabbit punch. They danced a neutral corner with the jaw and sent in a few more when Tendler clinched. Tendler landed two short uppercuts and then took a left to the body. Tendler punched the champion's kidneys. Tendler sent a terrific right into the stomach that gave a resounding thump. Leonard punched with his right. Leonard caught Tendler with three right crosses in the champion's corner and the challenger appeared worried when the bell rang.

Knocked the Muscle. ROUND NINE—Tendler's handlers carried the muscle out and Leonard's continued to offer advice. Tendler landed lightly with his right. They sparred around the ring and then Leonard hooked with his right to the same and Tendler clinched. Tendler walked into a straight left and then was cautioned for hitting low with the right. Leonard landed a right effectively in two clinches. Tendler walked into Leonard's stiff right jolts and the champion crossed and hooked. Tendler became fussy, inaccurate, mixing with his left again, fell partly through the ropes. Leonard pounded Tendler's body with his right and then forced the challenger away by sending the same hand to the jaw. Leonard uppercut sharply with his right and then slashed some more at the body. They were separated at the bell.

Challenger Takes Jolt. ROUND TEN—The champion revolved around the challenger who stood in the center of the ring. Leonard landed into a neutral corner and landed swiftly two hard rights. Leonard missed a short straight uppercut. They clinched. Leonard easily ducked Tendler's left and right and next by holding out his left hand. Tendler was again unsuccessful in trying to break through Leonard's defense, stopped more jabs and falling into a clinch.

Wrestling. ROUND THIRTEEN—Tendler's handlers were excited and doused newspaper men in their corner with water. The fighters walked into a clinch. Leonard hooked with his left and then hooked with his right to the jaw. He smashed Tendler's mouth with a battering right. Leonard uppercut sharply with his right then pushed Tendler away. They clinched. Leonard punched two rights to the head. He then sent a hard right to the jaw and then a hard left. He smashed a left to the body which sent Tendler to the floor. The champion sprang to his advantage like a cat but it was a question of whether Tendler slipped. When Tendler stood up he had time to rub his gloves on his pants. Leonard sprang at him punching to both body and jaw, and Tendler fought back. One of his blows was low and Leonard objected to the referee. The bell rang then and Leonard's manager stepped into the ring protectively.

British Fencing Team Wins. LONDON, July 23 (AP)—The British fencing team tonight won the Robert M. Thompson from the American team which came overboard to defend it. The final scores: Great Britain 24, United States 22.

Gautier's Versatility. Gautier was an extremely various and voluminous author. There cannot be many things in the visible world about which he did not say something—and generally something wise, memorable, and urbane—in the sixty volumes he wrote. But his principal achievement is fourfold—he was a novelist, a critic, a traveler, and a poet. In each of these departments he wrote some of the best things that have ever been written in French.

Could Sing, but Wouldn't. Civic pride and interest was high recently when members of the congregation of a church in the southern part of Indianapolis held a social gathering. Mothers and fathers sat with pride while their offspring sang songs of various musical standards. The enthusiasm was not so pronounced among the boys and girls who were not participants in the program.

The crowning blow came when a group of little girls sang a childish Sunday school song in a manner that won a hearty applause from the audience. "The popularity of the girls was too much for a fourteen-year-old boy, who said in a loud voice to a companion when the applause ceased: "I know a song I could sing, but I won't"—Indianapolis News.

GUARD FORCES BRING ESCAPED MAD MEN BACK

Seventeen of Forty-one Insane Convicts Delivered from Illinois Hospital Are Found by Searching Party

CHESTER, Ill., July 23 (AP)—Seventeen of the 41 insane convicts who escaped from the state hospital for the criminal insane after assaulting their guards last night were still at large tonight, 23 of the men having been recaptured. One man, Joe Jackson of Chicago, negro, was slain in the outbreak.

Guards of southern Illinois penitentiary located near Chester, deputy sheriffs and the local police recaptured 10 of the men today. Some were retaken shortly after the delivery last night.

It is reported tonight that several more of the fugitives were surrounded by a posse in a wooded tract near here, but the report could not be verified.

Guard Homes

Citizens of the town who are not engaged in the hunt for the madmen continued to guard their homes with firearms tonight in fear of the escaped prisoners, many of them had been committed to the asylum for murders. Women and children kept off the streets in terror of possible depredations by the convicts.

During the night the prisoners were located in a nearby cemetery and a hot fight ensued before guards finally rounded them up and brought them back to the hospital. One of the convicts was captured in a tree within the city limits of Chester. Chief of Police John Janny is credited with having taken four of the escaped prisoners.

Search Difficult

Leaders of the posse said the search for the men is difficult on account of the motley clothing worn by them. Most of the inmates wore altered in working clothes instead of hospital garb.

The condition of James Denny a guard who was seriously stabbed when the convicts attacked their unarmored guards and battered a hole through a large wire enclosure, was reported unchanged, together with Ralph Dillard, another guard who was wounded. In accordance with rules at the institution the guards are not allowed to even carry sticks for protection.

MANY HAVE BLOOD OF BURR

Numerous Descendants of Man Whose Character Has Been Subject of Wide Controversy.

A newspaper paragraph says that Senator Carroll S. Page of Vermont has a grandson who is a cousin of Aaron Burr. The context makes it appear the thought is that cousins of Aaron Burr are few and far between. The reverse is the truth. There are hundreds and perhaps thousands of Americans who are blood relatives of this stormy petrel of the nation.

To use the customary but bromidic manner of speaking, you can't throw a stone anywhere in America without hitting one of Aaron Burr's cousins. They are or are not proud of the relationship, according to their inherited viewpoint, but most of them are proud that they can trace the relationship to Burr through the family of Jonathan Edwards, who was Aaron Burr's grandfather.

Jonathan Edwards is buried in a churchyard at Princeton, N. J., and his grandson, Aaron Burr, lies alongside of him. Edwards had a brother or two and his sisters, every one of whom married and became father or mother to a large family of children. In the case of the Edwards sisters personally the word large can be used entirely properly in a physical sense. The average height of Jonathan Edwards' girls was six feet. They were known collectively as "Jonathan's sixty feet of sisters."

At one time in this country there were seven presidents of American colleges who were of the Edwards blood, and cousins of Aaron Burr. There are in Chicago several families whose members are of direct descendants of the Edwardses and therefore who, if they so wish, can claim cousinship to Burr. It is believed that there are more Americans of the Edwards blood than of the blood of any other one American family.—Continuity to Aaron Burr is the common property in a common holding.—Chicago Evening Post.

Son of Princess Mary Not a Prince.

The baby son of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, and the first grandchild of King George, is not a prince. Under letters patent issued in 1017, defining the style and title to be borne in future by members of the royal family, it is declared:

"The children of any sovereign of the United Kingdom and the children of the sons of any such sovereign and the children who trace the descent of the Prince of Wales shall have and at all times hold and enjoy the style, title, or attribute of royal highness, with their titular dignity of prince or princesses prefixed to their respective Christian names, or with their titles of honor; that they save as aforesaid the titles of royal highness, highness, or serene highness and the titular dignity of prince or princess shall cease, except those titles already granted and remaining unrevoked."

The first man who comes along and sees the lady alone in the car just naturally stops and fixes the tire. As soon as the friend in need departs our hero steps out and starts on his way."

FAIL TO AGREE ON WAGES FOR MINE WORKMEN

Conference Between Miners and Operators Relative to Averting Strike Is Still in the Tentative Stage

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 23 (AP)—Expecting today to enter the bargaining cycle in their efforts to agree on a wage contract and avert a coal strike this fall, anthracite miners and operators tonight failed to reach any objective. At the end of a four-hour conference the joint committee of eight still considered itself in the preliminary stage of negotiations.

All of the session today was taken up in discussion of the demand for specific rates for "deal work," blasting rock and removing refuse in getting at the coal vein.

Both sides agree that it probably will be a day or two before the operators get the floor to have their say about the demands and possibly offer a series of counter proposals. Wages and the check off are expected to excite the major controversy, the miners program calling for increase of 20 per cent for contract men and $2 for four men with universal adoption of the check off.

Heads of the conferring delegates did not reflect the confidence that there would be no suspension on September 1, reported to have been expressed at Boston today by two members of the United States coal commission, John Hays Hammond and Thomas R. Marshall, vice president under Woodrow Wilson.

Fuel From Waste Paper.

This fuel is not utilized by putting a match to the paper, but by the action of a microbe which will turn one ton of waste paper into fifty gallons of alcohol suitable for motor fuel. Two English chemists are said to have discovered this microbe, which, say its captors, is a rod-shaped bacillus which can develop so much heat in its growth that other germs, which might interfere with the alcoholic fermentation, are automatically killed. Apart from yielding the motor alcohol, the chemists say, this germ is capable of developing some 10,000 cubic feet of gas, suitable for internal combustion engines, from one ton of waste paper. It is to be hoped that these chemists will let the rest of the world know how to breed and use this useful little creature.

Noiseless Trolley Cabs May Be Built.

The rattling din of moving trolley cars at St. Paul and Minneapolis will be eliminated if plans of the Twin City Rapid Transit company mature. The two cities will have the first noiseless street cars in the world. Roller bearings will solve the problem and trucks equipped with the best tires are now being made at the shops. The company, however, hopes to decrease something besides noise. It is expected that the new bearings will remove friction in the truck shafts, will save 15 per cent of the power and will enable motormen to stop and start cars more quickly. The company hopes to save a large item in brookly. Eagle.

EASTERN REPRESENTATIVES George B. Davitt Co., Inc., 123 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y., 1411 Harford Building, Chicago.

WEST VS. EAST

The East, having failed to conserve its own resources when conservation was in order, would now stretch hands across the continent and conserve those of the West.

That is about all there is to the proposition of Eastern interest in Western conservation and about every body knows it.

Former Governor D. W. Davis of Idaho, recently appointed to the position of Director of Reclamation in place of Arthur P. Davis, eminent engineer, author, theorist and dreamer, has become the target of the eastern press.

It would be more or less funny if it were not so serious.

An ex-grocer and banker prominent in Idaho politics is what the New York Post calls D. W. Davis, while the extraordinary fact that Mr. Davis comes from the same Idaho Congressional district as Representative Addison T. Smith is held up as a coincidence of damning significance.

Ex-Director Arthur P. Davis is one of the greatest engineers in the country, according to competent authorities, and under him he has had other great engineers to carry on the work of his office.

There is no intention to take, from Arthur P. Davis any part of the credit which should be his for the splendid record of the office under his administration, but who shall say that Reclamation as a whole will not be the gainer through the change in official heads, no matter what the record to date.

In any event Reclamation, being a western problem, is perfectly safe in the hands of a western man, the press of the effort cast to the contrary notwithstanding.

RESTORED LOUVAIN

The opening of the first wing of the restored Louvain Library is an event which gratifies most Americans. The destruction of that famous old building with its rich stores of irreplaceable treasures was one of the heart-breaking cruelties of the German invasion of Belgium.

Although there are many items of the library's former collection which can never be replaced, there is still much saved. And there are historical value and beauty to be found in the rebuilt edifice.

A great many persons outside of Belgium have contributed to the restoration. American school children in great numbers gave generously to the work. In the exercises at the opening of the first completed wing an American presented the library with a book containing the names of the subscribing boys and girls.

At the same time the French minister of education presented a volume of 80 photographs of the ruins of Rheims cathedral.

Those two records alone form a glowing appeal for peace. Little children contributing their pennies to construct destruction wrought by fighting men—the one pictures the hope of civilization and of humanity itself; the other shows the cruelty and folly of war.

PATH OF RETAILERS IS FILLED WITH PROBLEMS

Increased Costs and Changes in Conditions Bring Difficulties, Babson Believes

ALBUQUERQUE, July 23 (AP)—(Special) The New York Y. Babson, who has been visiting his parents here for a few days, issued the following statement as he left the city:

"Every group of people today has its problems. Employers have their difficulties; wage-workers have their struggles; and professional men have their temptations. The greatest practical problem, however, is that of the retailers of our average community. Surely they have problems to confront; in fact, our retailers are up against four fundamental difficulties:

(1) INCREASED NUMBER OF RETAILERS. Investigation fails to find a single city in the United States where, during the past ten years, the number of retailers has not increased at a greater rate than the population. To put it in another way, the number of retailers increasing everywhere more rapidly than the population.

(2) INCREASED COST OF DOING BUSINESS. Retailers are faced today with increased costs, increased wages, increased taxes, and increases in almost every department of their business. Of course, this is largely a natural result of the increase in the cost of living. Retailers are limited to a certain area, and as the demand for store space increases, rents increase also.

(3) AUTOMOBILE SALES. The automobile is affecting the retailers in our larger cities. During the past few years people have been getting out of the habit of using street cars and walking to the retail stores. They have been coming in automobiles instead. But just now as they have formed the automobile habit, the automobile retailers must organize parking in front of the best retail stores. The police authorities cannot be blamed for making these rulings, but the effect on retail trade in the congested districts is apt to be very harmful.

(4) CHAIN STORE COMPETITION. Although the chain store is in its infancy, many lines of trade are already feeling the effect of chain store organizations. It is mostly food, grocery, shoe stores, hardware dealers, clothing stores; but other lines are gradually being forced to meet this chain store competition. Considering that it is only in its infancy, the ultimate results may be serious.

"Yet, notwithstanding these four problems facing the retailers, I believe that the retailer has a splendid opportunity if he will only organize and grasp it. There are many things these independent retailers should do, but I will mention only four:

(1) WORK HARDER FOR NEW CUSTOMERS AND CIRCULARIZING COLLECTIVELY FOR NEW TRADE. The better retailers must organize into groups for collective advertising, circularizing, and general educational work. The better retailers can form groups of about fifty, of which there need be only one representative of a given line in each group. It will be found that such groups can unite on sales promotion plans far more effectively than the retailer can get an amount of money that it would cost one when working independently. The retailers should do more advertising, and cover with their advertising a larger territory than they did before the days of the automobile. Now every small city retailer can consider as a possible customer everyone living within a radius of forty miles. While each retailer should advertise his own business independently, yet he should be willing to join with the others in constructive and educational advertising.

Better Service (2) GIVE BETTER SERVICE. Retailers must remember that they are the servants of the consumer and are not in business to gouge the consumer. The retailer whose chief interest is in his customer has a good business today and is sure to prosper in the years to come. Retailers need to know nothing about carrying systems or other new-fangled schemes provided they will give service. People are willing to pay for service and retailers who give real service at fairly prices enjoy real prosperity.

(3) ESTABLISH BETTER RELATIONS WITH MANUFACTURERS. One of the greatest advantages which the chain stores have is their intimate relation with the manufacturers from whom they buy their goods. It would be possible for retailers to establish such a relationship if they would only treat their money in the stocks of the companies from which they buy. For instance, if a grocer, instead of buying mining, oil, and other stocks, about which he knows nothing, would invest his savings in the National Biscuit company, Quaker Oats company, American Sugar Refinery company, etc., he would then establish a relationship which would soon be very valuable. One sees very clearly what this would mean if a large group should combine their stock holdings and vote their stock as a group.

(4) STUDY BUSINESS CONDITIONS. Retailers must give more thought and study to the conditions of the country as a whole. The average retailer must realize that his business depends a great deal upon the business conditions of the entire country, yes, of the entire world. This is necessary in order to know when to buy and when not to buy, when to borrow and when not to borrow, when to advertise and when not to advertise.

"It is true that the retailers of our country are faced with four tremendous problems, but I believe that all of these problems can be met if the better retailers will only organize and fight collectively—first, to get new customers; second, to give better service; third, to establish stronger relations with the companies from which they buy; and fourth, to study business conditions in general. Today business is about normal as indicated by the Babsonchart. What the future is to show will largely be determined by the action of the nation's retailers. It is commonly said that the stock market discounts industrial changes. Certainly the retailers discount stock market changes. The retailer is primarily responsible both for the high prices of over-expansion and the buyers' strikes with the depressions that follow."

(All rights strictly reserved.) Just Ahead. "Can you remember," asks an exchange, "how you looked forward to your future 20 years ago? Well, this is your future. What are you doing in it?" Oh—err—still looking forward.

JURY DEADLOCKS IN MURDER CASE

Adelarde DeLorme, Former Priest, to Stand Trial Again for Half-Brother's Death

MONTREAL, July 23 (AP)—Adelarde DeLorme, former Catholic priest, will have to stand trial again at the next session of the court of the king's bench on a charge of having murdered his half-brother, Raoulet, for life insurance.

The jury, which for several weeks has been considering his case, this afternoon reported for the third time that it was deadlocked and Chief Justice Sir Francois Lacombe discharged the jury after rebooking him for the expense they had incurred, the people by not reaching a decision.

The court refused to admit the prisoner to bail pending retrial. After the jury had disbanded, P. D. Decarie, one of its members, told reporters that he and W. B. David had stood for acquittal against the other ten.

"After hearing the entire speech of the learned judge I was sure that the accused was not guilty," said Decarie. "I stuck to that decision throughout the entire time that the jury was debating. Two of us worked for acquittal him, while the rest was confident that the accused was guilty."

The jury got the case late Saturday.

"At the club the other afternoon a friend of mine took a big plug of tobacco out of his pocket, bit off an inch or two, and then held out the plug to me."

"Have a chew?" he said. "No," said I; "I won't. And to tell the truth, Bill, I went on. 'I'm a good deal shocked to see a man of your culture with a quid in his cheek. How did you come to take up this uncouth habit?'"

"Well, you see," said Bill, "since my wife has gone in for pipe smoking I feel that I must do something to assert my masculinity."

GUIDE'S STORY HARD TO BELIEVE

In Schoolboy Parance, Youthful Sportsman Would Have a "Go Some" in Way of Romancing.

I have just read in the Youth's Companion, written a correspondent, the story of the dog that tracked the turkey back to the nest where it had been hatched. The yarn recalls to my mind a hunting story that an old man of the Ozarks told me a few years ago, says a writer in that magazine.

Seventeen miles out from the little village of X—, in Missouri, lived an old hunter named Bill Green. In those days the hills abounded in wild turkeys and deer and he often served as guide to hunting parties and to fishermen.

The season had opened and a party of sportsmen from Kansas City had secured old Bill's services. In the party was a young fellow who evidently had had some experience in shooting deer, but whose stories of his achievements were exaggerated and long; the other members of the party were tired of his boasting. They were astonished therefore when old Bill, who by nature was taciturn, said to the young fellow:

"Say now, that means me if I get the other morning. I got up just fore day and went down to the deer lick as I allus do, and there in the bright moonlight stood a great big buck. I raised my gun and was ready to fire when I noticed on the limb just above nine turkeys roosting in a row. As fast I was puzzled which to shoot at the turkeys or the deer. Then all at once I thought of my boasting. They were astonished therefore when old Bill, who by nature was taciturn, said to the young fellow:

Needless to remark, the young sportsman was silent for the rest of the day.

WHEAT AVERAGE IS LOWER

Despite Daily Drop in Reports from Northwest, Prices Take Further Drop; Corn Range Irregularly

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—Despite a rally due for the most part to reports of damage by black rot in the northwest, wheat averaged lower in price today, owing chiefly to persistent hedging and to a slowdown of export demand. The close was unsettled at 1.4 to 3.8c to 1.2 to 5.8c net decline, with September 1.3-1.4c to 98.7-8c, and December 1.01-1.02c. Corn finished at a range varying from 7.8c decline to 1.1-1.4 to 8.8c advance, oats unchanged to 1.2 to 5.8c lower, and previous unchanged to 10c off.

Estimates that more than 1000 carloads of wheat had arrived here today gave the market a downward tendency at the outset, but the actual total was much less, 864 cars, and this together with important damage in sections of the northwest and unfavorable weather both sides of the Canadian line, soon gave bulls a temporary advantage.

Considerable attention in the last part of the day was given to figures pertaining to wheat for world supply purposes. The increase of Canadian wheat acreage since 1913 would more than make up for stoppage of exports from Russia.

LOVE'S HARD PATH

Combination That Was Too Much for Belinda.

How Was It Possible for Her Married Life to Be Happy After Such Warnings?

Of course one may not be superstitious, but circumstances after cases, and sometimes the course of our lives, and observes a New York Sun writer, Clarence met Belinda one day in March, which is rather early in the year for disturbances of the heart, but he fell hard and at the end of a week found himself still at her feet.

So one night in the darkness of the moonlight she had sought her and during a spirited burst of sound from the orchestra he asked her to marry him.

She hesitated, as a shy young girl should, but something seemed to hold her tongue-tied as well. Suddenly light dawned, it was April 1. Well, he would not catch her that way, she thought, and said, with sweet maidenly reserve that, of course, as she had not known him very long it would be better to discuss that a little later in their friendship.

Clarence thought it might be wise, and with apparent meekness acquiesced.

During the next ten days they saw each other frequently. Then one bright day Clarence appeared, his countenance radiating satisfaction, and presented her with a small package.

When followed a four-weeks' engagement for the term of Clarence and Belinda. At the end of this time the young woman was still fond of the ring, but her affection for Clarence had received a decided chill.

One night as he was saying a fond farewell at the foot of her brownstone steps he asked her for the thousandth time if she still loved him, when suddenly a black object ran between his feet, and losing his balance, he fell backward upon the stairs, dragging Belinda with him.

Belinda tore the ring from her finger, thrust it at him and cried: "I can't marry you! You proposed to me on April Fool's day, you gave me the ring on Friday the thirteenth, you have spilled salt on the table three times this week, opened an umbrella before we were out of the house, a black cat ran across our path, and when you threw me down just now you broke the mirror in my vanity case. Good night!"

THUNDERSTORM IN TWIN FALLS SETS NEW MARK

Extensive Crop Damage and Burning of Dwelling House Results of Terrific Thunderstorm Here

Damage to crops that stems likely to run into many thousands of dollars and destruction of an unoccupied frame dwelling house in Twin Falls, Idaho, Monday evening, were consequences of a severe thunderstorm accompanied in some localities by terrific hail that swept south-central Idaho Monday afternoon, striking the city of Twin Falls and immediate vicinity with, apparently, its greatest violence.

The storm in Twin Falls is declared by pioneer residents to have been the most severe in their recollection. It continued here for about 30 minutes, setting a new record, according to residents of 14 years, Monday afternoon. The storm gave little warning of its approach. Observers noticed a heavy dark cloud moving from the southwest, and when it was over the town a cloudburst seemed to occur—directly over the city.

Water Bans in WAVES Rain fell in sheets. Pavement was drenched and gutters overflowed. The water ran in waves over the pavement, and where there was obstruction in the gutters, the torrents broke into heavy spray.

Basements in the lower-lying sections of the business district were flooded to a greater or less extent. The municipal street department's motor pump was called into play to remove the water from the basements of the Twin Falls Bank and other company buildings, which were reached by several inches, and from the basements of the Big White store and First National bank building. Sacks filled with sawdust were used to keep back the tide on the Majestic pharmacy in the Hotel Perrine building.

Along Sixth avenue a torrent ran across lawns and gardens. In this district were flooded. The municipal pump will be employed a good deal of Tuesday in removing water from basements along that thoroughfare.

Both Starts Blaze At the height of the storm, following a dazzling flash of lightning and deafening strokes of thunder, a frame dwelling on Fifth avenue west was discovered in flames issuing from three places in the roof. The blaze resisted the efforts of the fire department augmented by the continuing downpour, and the building was destroyed.

The storm in Twin Falls was accompanied by little hail, but reports from the country immediately to the south and west of town told of extensive damage to fruit and crops resulting from a heavy barrage of frozen rain. In districts where there was little or no hail, grain that had been irrigated recently was reported to have been lodged.

Boy Scouts and Bee Hive Girls Tell of Eventful Trip to Park

A tour through Yellowstone national park which was organized Friday evening brought realization to dreams and toward to effort turned in this direction for more than a year. The party of members of the Scout troop No. 2, and of Twin Falls First Ward Beehive Girls.

The story of the trip has been told by spokesmen for the boys' and girls' organizations. "We began our tour Monday, July 9, at 6 a. m.," says the boys' historian. "The adventure opening, his nation as far as Arco, where we made our first camp and caught about 60 trout. The next day we journeyed to Birch Creek. From Birch Creek we traveled by way of Dubois and were royally treated to ice cream by the commercial club of Dubois."

"About 10 o'clock on July 12, we entered the west entrance of Yellowstone park and drove to Old Faithful, where we camped that night. There we visited and enjoyed the hot springs and geysers and enjoyed a good swim beside Geysers Old Faithful in action, and many other sights. From Old Faithful we went to the Mammoth Hot Springs, where the greatest of fishing and boating on the Yellowstone river and lake. The next day we drove to Canyon, which was the most of our trip. It was a beautiful spot in the park by most of us."

Abundant Wild Life "Here we were visited by our first bears that evening. Four bears visited our camp and seemed quite friendly when fed. In accordance with the usual custom of the park, the bears were kept at a distance of 100 yards. Sunday morning we held Sunday school and in the evening we had a large bonfire.

On Monday we went to the Mammoth Hot Springs. On the way we saw the petrified trees and saw a number of antelope. At Mammoth we visited the hot springs and saw some timber wolves, and the wonderful Mammoth terraces. "There we were treated to ice cream and a collection of curios by the Park curio shop. We also enjoyed a wonderful swim at the Mammoth pool.

On Tuesday morning we went to West Thumb by way of the Obsidian cliffs. At West Thumb we saw deer and bears, besides many geysers and other curious natural formations. From West Thumb we went to the southern entrance and went into the Jackson Hole country, camping at Wilson that night. The next morning we went to the north entrance, crossing from Montana back into Idaho, and then traveled to Blackfoot. Our next day's journey brought us from Blackfoot to Twin Falls.

Funds Afford Ease We reached home in good health and spirits. We had no well planned that we had plenty of good wholesome food, and we always slept warm, although it was quite chilly in some places. We had a very good time in the troop fund to provide us with something to eat each day as we traveled, such as oranges, cherries, cookies, and other delicacies, and to provide us with warmies.

We were taken over the entire course by Mr. W. G. Shipman in a truck. "With the Girls The following is the story of the trip given by the girls' historian: "The Twin Falls First Ward Beehive Girls returned from their tour through Yellowstone national park, Monday evening, July 16, and report a very splendid time. Beginning the tour we left this city on Monday, July 9, going by way of Shoshone, Idaho, to Arco. We camped that night in Arco after some cat trouble. By noon the following day we were on our way to Howe. A rain storm delayed us a little here, but finally we reached the park and were viewing the hot springs. The following morning we enjoyed a pleasant treat by the Commercial club of Dubois. On we went, passing through the hot springs and the island Park for that night's camp. We were nicely entertained at Mack's Inn that evening. On Thursday morning, July 12, we went through the west of Yellowstone entrance to the park. We drove to Old Faithful and arrived just in time to see Old Faithful erupt. We camped there that night and enjoyed a good swim in the hearing-fish ponds and many other interesting sights."

At Nature's Laundry "On our way to Yellowstone Lake, our next camp, we visited the handkerchief pool, where all in the party laundered their handkerchiefs. At Lake camp on the Yellowstone river we enjoyed the fishing and boat-riding. At Canyon, our next camp, we saw the most wonderful sight of the eyes of many of the party, which we had visited, the Grand Canyon. Many camps were set at this point. On to Mammoth we were viewing the hot springs along the road, one of interest being the petrified trees. At Mammoth the buffaloes and the formations of the geysers were the most interesting features.

Bears in Camp Back to West Thumb we traveled, and we had many bears in camp that night. On the way to the park, we left the National Park on our way home, traveling out the south entrance and through the Jackson Hole country, camping at Wilson that night. Early Monday morning we crossed the Teton Pass from Wyoming into Idaho. Our next stop was in Idaho Falls, where we camped that night. From there we traveled to our truck had serious trouble and we arrived there a couple of days. We traveled home in good spirits and in the healthiest of Twin Falls, more than ever before."

COUNCIL BOYS WATER METERS FOR ALL USERS

Purchase of 700 Measuring Devices and Favorable Consideration of Motor-Bus Franchise Occupy Session

Authorization for the purchase of 700 water meters to complete Twin Falls municipal water distribution system, was given by the city commission at its meeting Monday evening, and which further and generally favorable consideration was given also to the application of Fred Spencer, former street superintendent for a franchise covering the operation of a motor bus system.

Delivery of the new meters will be made in the next few days. Carl E. Painter, representative of the Dunbar company, who met with the commissioners, and installation with the city engineer, Mr. Fred Spencer, will be completed within eight weeks time, according to Harley Ravburn, street and water works superintendent. Mr. Ravburn said that in previous installation of meters here, completed almost two years ago, the crew then employed had made a record of installing 27 meters daily.

The new meters are to be installed in the south and west corners of the original townsite, exclusive of business houses already provided with meters. The meters are to be installed toward the southwest from Fourth avenue north.

Motion for the purchase of the meters was made by Fred Spencer, who was seconded by Commissioner S. S. All, and passed by unanimous vote. Bus Line Gets Boost An award of a ten-year franchise to Mr. Spencer was made by the city commission, and he seemed assured at the conclusion of Monday evening's discussion of the proposition, in which Mr. Spencer agreed to accept the franchise previously indicated readiness to admit reasonableness of Mr. Spencer's claim for the ten-year term franchise, under such restrictions.

The restrictions suggested included the city's claim to forfeiture of the franchise upon failure of the grantee to maintain and operate the system in accordance with the terms of the franchise, and prohibition of sale or assignment of the franchise without the consent of the city. Mr. Spencer previously had stated that he would pay $50 a year for each bus put in operation.

Reference was had during the discussion to a copy of an ordinance granting a similar franchise to Casper, Wyo., and agreement was indicated both on the part of the applicant and the commission to provide proper equipment here, would conform pretty closely to the provisions of the Casper grant.

A. J. Myers, city attorney, was directed to prepare an ordinance granting such a franchise to Mr. Spencer to be acted upon at the next meeting of the commission. Mr. Spencer took emphatic exception to the suggestion made first by Mayor Hodgkin and endorsed by Commissioners W. T. Leslie and S. S. All, that the franchise be given for five years' term.
