OUTLINE PLANS FOR SAVING OF TIMBER SUPPLY

National Lumbermen's Association Favors Advancement of Hoover's Reforestation Policy

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 (AP)—A program calling for the advancement of Secretary of Commerce Hoover's policy of reforestation and lumber standardization to such an extent that the timber and lumber supplies of the country shall be made inexhaustible, was outlined here today in the meeting of the standardization board of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

Representatives of the department of commerce and the forest service were present to enlighten the delegates regarding the technical features of reforestation, standardization and sizing. The campaign to eliminate waste in what was characterized as "the largest industry in the United States," was discussed in detail.

John W. Blodgett, Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the association and chairman of the meeting, and Dr. William Compton, secretary of the association, told of the plans to have boards cut up into odd lengths instead of the even lengths called for by the present trade practices.

Time Specified For New Rail Line Construction

Permit For Project Is Formally Issued

Commission Says Work Must Be Started by Next January and Ended by July, 1925

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special to The News)—While the Oregon Short Line declared in its application to the Interstate Commerce Commission that it intended to commence construction of the Rogerson-Walla extension by September first and have the road completed by December 31, 1924, the commission today formally issued the certificate of public convenience and necessity and incorporated this proviso:

Provided, however, this certificate is issued upon express condition that construction of said line of railroad shall be commenced on or before January 1, 1924, and be completed on or before June 30, 1925.

This grants six months more time than the railroad company indicated it would require, extension of time being in accord with the commission's practice. In issuing the certificate authorizing building of the Rogerson-Walla road, the commission made an unusually brief recital of facts.

Failure of the Idaho Central to actually build, says the commission, raised doubts as to the ability of an independent line from Rogerson to Walla to sustain itself, but in considering the application of the Short Line, the commission holds that it is an advantage to the communities and a large saving in distance between southern Idaho points and San Francisco, and

Senator Underwood Describes Effect of Wheat Declines; Makes No Statement on Political Race

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 25—Senator Oscar W. Underwood, delivering his first public address since his return from Europe, before the Birmingham Rotary club today, sounded a note of warning against the "black clouds of the west" caused by the failure of the wheat market.

"We may feel in the south that the failure of the wheat market affects only the north and northwest," Senator Underwood said, "but that is not the case. When our own cotton crop failed in 1914, we could not get ships to carry our bales to Europe, the effect of it was felt over the entire nation. It will be the same way with the wheat failure and what we need is for the business men of the country to do their part. The result may not be felt directly down here, but every one will feel it indirectly."

Supply and Demand. "I can never tell where the cloud will go. Who among you can tell if the same cloud now hanging over the west will not be hanging over the south next year? There is no golden rule governing this condition. The only way to guard against an economic crisis is to operate along the

CONVICT PRIEST IN LIQUOR CASE

Rev. Walter Grace Is Found Guilty of Forging Shipping Permit

DENVER, July 25 (AP)—The Rev. Father Walter A. Grace, former pastor of the Shrine of St. Anne, near Denver, was found guilty by a jury in federal court here today. He was tried on a charge of having forged the name of Sister Germaine of the Mullen Home for the Aged here, to an application for a government permit to ship whiskey into Colorado.

The penalty is one to five years in the penitentiary and a fine not to exceed $10,000.

Father Grace accepted the verdict of the jury which had deliberated only ten minutes, without outward emotion. He was taken into custody by United States Marshal William A. Dollison and committed to the county jail early this evening, about three hours after he had been found guilty.

John McConn, assistant United States district attorney, said that Father Grace would not be eligible for release under bond until after motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment have been filed. An attorney who appeared in the cleric's defense were expected to file the motion tomorrow.

Alleged Conspiracy. The priest also faces another indictment which charges conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, in which Katherine O'Connor, prominent in Denver society circles, and John R. Walsh, former Colorado ranger, and a brother-in-law of Father Grace, are also named.

Father Grace made no statement following the jury's verdict, except to say, "Judgments of God are not those of men."

In summing up the government's case United States District Attorney Granby Meyer said: "The fall of a man of the cloth is great in itself. In this case the defendant had represented a church which has carried the banner of righteousness for 2000 years. Under the cloak of righteousness he violated the care of his friends. If a man under the obligation of religion, and who ought to be looked upon to uphold the law, can violate the law with impunity, then the administration of the federal laws will be futile."

"I feel the pretense of virtue and charity and righteousness held up to you by the defense is a pretense indeed. It is a simulation of virtue and charity."

WANT RATE CUT ON WHEAT FOR EXPORT

HARDING PARTY EN ROUTE HOME

Henderson Anchors Near Vancouver; President's Visit to Set Precedent

WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, ON CAMPBELL RIVER, B. C., July 25 (AP)—After a speedy run from Sitka, the last Alaskan port visited by President Harding and members of his party, the transport Henderson anchored off Campbell river, about 90 miles from Vancouver. It will continue its voyage there tonight in time to arrive at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the chief executive will make a precedent, his first marking the first time an American president during his term of office has stepped on Dominion soil.

The layover here made it possible for the fishermen in the party to go out in small boats for sport with the salmon, a number of which were broiled aboard for dinner. Secretary of Commerce Hoover, engaged with administering fishing regulations of the United States, brought in the best string taken from Canadian waters. Other members of the party thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

Welcome Aloha. The president will be met at Vancouver by provincial and civil government authorities and welcomed by them to the Dominion. He will respond later in an address at Stanley park, after which a lunch and rest period will be allowed before the golf game commences at Shaughnessy Heights club.

The president will be the honor guest of the Dominion government at dinner in the evening, and after a public reception will embark for Seattle, arriving at the municipal dock at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

POPULATION TURNS OUT

Other parties are in launches off the mouth of Campbell river fishing. There have been 80 catches to date.

G. Irving and others, arrested last March. It was said by federal officials today.

FIRPO SIGNED WITH DEMPSEY FOR TITLE GO

Challenger Will Meet Heavy-weight Champion in This Country at Time and Place to Be Named Later

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and Luis Angel Firpo, his challenger from the Argentine, have been matched for a title-bout, probably in September, at a site within or close to New York.

Promoter Tex Rickard announced today that articles hindering the match had been signed by Firpo and Jack Kogran, the champion's manager, but said the date and place were still a matter of uncertainty.

"You can say that the match is signed, sealed and delivered," Rickard said, "and that it will be held in the United States, but I can give no other details now."

Belief that Rickard had the Polo grounds in mind as the probable site was strengthened by information that he had held a press conference with Charles A. Stosham, president of the New York Giants.

What Rickard has guaranteed the fighters was not disclosed. When Firpo came back to the United States last March for a series of matches under the promoter's auspices, the first of which was with Bill Brennan, it was said the Argentinian was promised $100,000 in the event he gained a title bout with Dempsey. The champion's end, it was figured, probably would be close to half a million.

Firpo left late today to fill several engagements in the middle west. He has signed to appear chiefly in exhibitions or no-decision matches at Grand Rapids, Mich., July 27; Omaha, August 3; St. Louis, August 6, and Indianapolis, August 8.

JOHNSON RAPS

dent Harding in asking for America's entrance into the world court, nor the fact that he believes he may accomplish the seemingly impossible task, but aside from his few advisers, he is quite a substantial disbeliever with him."

Recalling that in 1920, Secretaries Hughes and Hoover, of Harding's cabinet, had urged America's entrance into the league and had since changed their minds, Senator Johnson pointed out that they were now in the most important policy, the chief sponsor of the world court. He said he congratulated them that they had seen "the error of their ways," and asserted, "I may be pardoned, therefore, in suggesting to you the vehemence of their views three years ago upon this important policy, views which they now have changed, and we may be pardoned, too, in accepting respectfully, but with a bit of caution, their present views upon a less important international policy."

It is wisdom that France and Britain want, Senator Johnson declared. "They know that we have no special wisdom to offer. They know that they could get better special wisdom about the Ruhr, for example, from Denmark. But they do not say that Denmark is essential to the league. They do not say the United States is essential to it. What is the difference? The difference is that while Denmark is wiser about European affairs, the United States is the world's largest reservoir of money and one of the world's largest reservoirs of potential military man-power."

American's own problems are so stiff to be solved, the senator said, without attempting to solve the stiffer problems of Europe. America, he said, has not learned how to bring about peace in the miles of West Virginia; to establish friendly relations between the Ku Klux Klan and the Catholics, Jews and negroes; to be certain of an anthracite coal supply for next winter.

"Our own poor are as yet poor," he added, "and little children of the slums yet suffer. Our farmers face falling prices of their products and see in despair the future of Europe. Looking into the future of Europe, Senator Johnson said he did not believe the continent would fall into chaos."

How No Chances.
"I saw no evidence of chaos in Europe," he said, "but I saw plain evidence of future conflict. Another bloody war is in the making. I would prevent it if I could, but if that bloody war is no concern of ours and comes from causes of which we are no part, I would not send a single American soldier again across the seas."
"There's just one course to pursue," Senator Johnson concluded, "just one way to play our proud part, just one method to render real services—speak our voice frankly and boldly, be true to our institutions, hold to our own ideals, be fair, and just to all peoples, but stand firm on our own shores, remain the master of our own destiny, the captain of our own souls."

Irene Castle in London Alone

The picture was taken in London, where she danced at the Embassy club. She went to London alone, after having gone on a second, but very brief, honeymoon with her husband, Captain Robert Treman, wealthy Ithaca (N. Y.) manufacturer. Her divorce proceedings in Paris have never been withdrawn, and it is reported the reconciliation lasted only a few days.

Loans $10 to $75 an Acre.

Farmers the world over are having their troubles eased in Denmark. English farmers are losing $10 an acre on wheat, $15 an acre on oats, $20 an acre on barley, and $50 to $75 an acre on potatoes. Hard as this may be to believe, these are average losses set forth by experts in the London Times. That paper comments, "If the English farmer this year simply ceases to grow crops he will be keeping money in his pocket instead of losing it." The reasons for this situation as given by the London newspaper are several, a disturbed world, unstable exchanges, high railway rates, restricted credit to short credit and middlemen's profits. When milk sells for 16 cents a quart in England, the farmer gets 7 cents, the railroad 4 cents; a loaf of bread retails for 18 cents, the farmer gets 7 1/2 cents, millers and bakers get the rest; of every $2 still spent for beef the farmer gets only $2. These figures are from the London Statist. They show how similar are the troubles of farmers 8,500 miles apart.

BOTH FIGHTERS READY TO SCRAP

Criqui and Dundee Pronounced to Be in Best Condition for Title Bout

NEW YORK, July 25 (P)—Eugene Criqui, French holder of the world's featherweight boxing crown, and Johnny Dundee, his Italian-American challenger, were pronounced tonight to be fit and ready for their championship match tomorrow night at the Polo grounds.

Both boxers were well under the 125 pound limit today, Dundee scaling 124 1/2 after a light workout, and Criqui a half pound less. They will be close to those figures when they enter the ring.

Boxing followers anticipate one of the meanest title fights of the season, that already has witnessed half a dozen championship contests. Among experts Dundee has been a slight favorite, but the Frenchman, who demonstrated his speed and punching power in knocking Johnny Kilbane from the throne nearly two months ago, has many an ardent backer.

Both are clever ring generals and good boxers. Criqui is a year younger, has some advantage in height and reach and is a harder hitter, but Dundee's supporters believe his endurance and aggressiveness will offset these advantages.

The advance sale reached $100,000 today, according to promoters, who announced they expect it to exceed $150,000 by tomorrow night. Arrangements have been made to handle a crowd of 65,000.

Timepiece Purchased by Fred Oesterreich Shown as Exhibit in Trial

LOS ANGELES, July 25 (P)—An octagonal gold watch, said to have been worn by Fred Oesterreich, wealthy sperm manufacturer, when he was shot and killed at his home here on the night of August 22, 1922, late today became the center of interest at the preliminary hearing of his widow, Mrs. W. W. Oesterreich, on a charge of murder, growing out of the slaying.

The watch was first shown to Leslie Clark, a jeweler, who testified that he had sold it to Mr. Oesterreich several years ago, but without the monogram, "H. S. S." which appeared on its case today.

Herman Gline, police detective, who shown the watch and said it answered the description of a watch Mrs. Oesterreich told him was worn by her husband on the night he was killed, but which was not on his person when the body was found. She said, Gline testified, that not only the watch, but a large number of items of clothing were missing from his clothes, and expressed the opinion, he said, that they had been taken by his slayer or slayers.

Herman S. Shapiro, an attorney, then identified the watch as one which had been given to him by Mrs. Oesterreich last November. He has had the initials "H. S. S." engraved upon it shortly thereafter.

"I found this watch while moving," Mrs. Oesterreich told him, he said.

CLASHES LIVEIN MORSE HEARING

War Fraud Case Passes Fifty-Sixth Day; May Reach Jury in Two Weeks

WASHINGTON, July 25 (P)—Sharp clashes between the court and counsel and between Charles Piez of Chicago, a witness, and counsel, featured this, the fifty-sixth day of the Morse trial, during which the defense rested and the government began the introduction of testimony in rebuttal. It is now regarded as a probability that the case will reach the jury within two weeks.

Justice Stafford interrupted the cross examination of Lee R. Sanford, a naval architect with the Emergency Fleet corporation, by former Attorney Fowler of defense counsel, that he was not "treating this witness fairly."

Mr. Fowler asked for an exception to the court's remarks and Justice Stafford said witnesses should be treated in a gentle, manly manner. Arguing Mr. Fowler asked for an exception to the court's remarks and Justice Stafford said witnesses should be treated in a gentle, manly manner.

Mr. Sanford was cross-examined about his testimony as a government witness, that from the records of the fleet corporation he would estimate the net effect of the four major changes in the plans and ships built at the Virginia shipbuilding corporation's Alexandria, Va., plant, to cause practically no delay. The defense had contended that alterations in plans had been a contributing cause to the delay in delivering the ships to the government.

CROWD HURLS RIDICULE AT DRY LAW OFFICERS

Cries of "Lynch Him" Are Heard as Sleuths Arrest Man on Charge of Having Horse in His Room

COLUMBUS, O., July 25 (P)—Activities of prohibition enforcement officers in two Columbus hotels, the Dealer and Chittenden, today culminated in what police termed a "near riot" when two of the agents arrested at the Dealer a man who gave his name as W. R. Carey, of Pittsburgh, on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

As Carey was being taken from the hotel a crowd gathered and cries of "lynch them" were directed at the dry officers.

HOME RELIGION PUT AT TOP OF WORLD'S NEEDS

Salvationist Crusader Raps Replacement of Evening Hymn and Bible by Language of Tin Horn Sport

"What the world needs more than police regulations, railroad development or world court, is a revival of home religion," in the opinion of Lieutenant Colonel Davis, Salvation Army crusader, now conducting services of an evangelistic nature in the Lavinger theater.

"The kind of home religion needed," the colonel contended, "is particularly the family altar kind. I am told in some homes the children know nothing about the Bible and in some instances they have never learned the Lord's prayer. These same children seem to know all about 'pat flushes,' 'full houses,' 'ace in the hole,' 'hanging board' and 'talk over since they were born. The language of the cheap gambler and the tinhorn sports has taken the place of the evening hymn and the Bible has been displaced in the home by a deck of cards."

"You would know the religion of a father, ask his son," Colonel Davis said. "A father can't go to church on Sunday and swear all the other days in the week without losing the respect of his son. If a father's religion does not merit the confidence of his son it is not worth having. The same applies to mothers and their daughters. Some parents feel that they have fulfilled all obligations to their children and their God when they have provided for the mental and physical welfare of their children, but they have not come up to their requirements if they neglect the spiritual welfare of their children, which is equally as important. A father should not become so wrapped up in his business as to neglect the spiritual well-being of his son; neither should a mother, in her zeal for newspaper notoriety, become so absorbed in the functions of society as to neglect the spiritual training of her brood," the colonel concluded.

Meetings will be held every evening, up to and including next Monday, at 8 o'clock, according to Captain Houghton.

TRIAL OF CONGRESSMAN IS READY FOR THE JURY

Attorneys to Finish Arguments in Blanton Libel Case Thursday; Court Overrules Defense Motion

COMANCHE, Texas, July 25 (P)—The trial of Congressman Blanton will go to the jury tomorrow noon, after attorneys have finished their arguments. Mr. Blanton is alleged to have libelled former Congressman Oscar Callaway, his 1922 political opponent. The state, after introduction of little testimony this morning, rested its case. The court refused the defense permission to offer any testimony before the jury dealing with the truth of the allegations made in a published campaign document, alleged to be libelous.

SUN'S SOLDIERS REFUSE TO OBEY

Revolt Takes Place in Fighting in China; Trouble Brewing in Kwangsi

CANTON, July 25 (P)—It is reported here that the northern Chinese troops after evacuating Shichow, have joined Chen Ching-ling, Sun Yat-sen's ancient enemy on the East river, who is at Waichow. Sun has ordered his Yunnanese troops to reinforce his campaign on the East river, but they refuse.

Much opposition has developed, especially among returned immigrants from America to Sun's action in seizing railways not government property. This action is being protested through the Hong Kong press. Chinese people abroad are being advised not to invest here.

The people of Kwangsi province are showing dissatisfaction with the Cantonese occupation of Wuchow and trouble is brewing.

It finds even more reason for authorizing the Oregon Short Line to build, than existed in the case of the independent company. "In our opinion," says a statement of the commission, "public interest will be better served by construction and operation by the trunk line carrier." The estimated cost of $5,004,000, the commission says, does not include the equipment, as it is the purpose of the Short Line to furnish rolling stock from its other lines for service between Wells and Tongueon. Construction will be financed out of current funds or advances from the Union Pacific, but later the Union Pacific may apply for authority to issue securities to cover permanently the cost of this and other extensions.

REPAIR DAMAGE INFLICTED BY WYOMING FLOOD

Lines of Communication Restored at Riverton; Half of Small Townsite Was Taken Away by Torrents

RIVERTON, Wyo., July 25 (AP)—Communication with the outside world has been restored to this city after a lapse of more than 24 hours, caused by one of the worst floods ever known in Fremont county. The Wind river, swollen by repeated cloudbursts on Monday and Tuesday, had killed portions never before known here. Half of the townsite of Bonneville has been washed away by the high waters. Five bridges between Shoshoni and Riverton on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad have gone out and it will be several days before trains can be run beyond Shoshoni.

Fifteen miles of track on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy between Bonneville and Lysite has been washed away.

Rain in Torrents

At Riverton one and nine-tenths inches of rain fell Monday night. At the reclamation camp above the city two and one-tenth inches of water fell Tuesday. The waters of Dry creek rose to a depth of 20 feet. The Augusta Anderson family below Bonneville were forced out of their home Tuesday night by flood waters and spent the night in a storm, wading waist deep in water.

Automobile roads leading to the south entrance of Yellowstone park were reported open for travel tonight.

Urges Service As Ideal of Business

"Jamie" Herron, Chautauqua Lecturer, Addresses Rotarians and Kiwanians

A powerful plea for the introduction of the ideals of Rotary into everyday life in the business world in every line of endeavor was delivered at the regular weekly luncheon of Rotary held Wednesday night at the Kiwanis club and chamber of commerce as guests, by "Jamie" Herron, Chautauqua lecturer and member of the New York Rotary club.

Mr. Herron, who is also an honorary member of the Kiwanis, is an actor as well as a speaker, and his emotional style of delivery rapidly surprised the Rotary and Kiwanis ideal of "Service Above Self," applied the motif of his address, the bulk of which consisted of the rendition of a one-act playlet on the subject of the "Ideal of Business." The club's motto, "The Profits Most Who Serves Best," was strikingly illustrated.

"Business," Mr. Herron declared, "has developed into something higher and better than a mere means of making money and getting out of the way." He stated that business in its higher aspects should be viewed as a means of service and not primarily as a means of gainful occupation. The Rotary ideal provides for business standards of a kind where confidence may be safely based upon honor and where integrity and good faith shall rule in every single transaction.

"Rotary as an international institution is seeking to promote higher ideals in business. If a man be a Rotarian at heart he must subscribe to a code of business and professional ethics which provide for a literal introduction of the Golden Rule into his daily activities. The day of 'Business as Usual' philosophy is past. Good business today is honest business and that is the only kind of business which Rotary recognizes."

During his remarks Mr. Herron paid a splendid tribute to the work of the commercial clubs and chambers of commerce of the country. "These institutions," he said, "are entitled to the full support of their respective communities. They perform a service which is not and cannot be duplicated by any other institution. They are the instruments which make towns and cities grow. By their efforts and activities communities are advertised to the world, and every information in which the chamber does. Nothing can take their place, but to succeed they must be given the unqualified support of all and they can receive this only in communities where the people as a whole are willing to admit their individual interests for the better good of their town."

"It is a mistake to regard Rotary and Kiwanis as rival institutions. They are brother institutions. The work of each is almost identical and a full and complete cooperation between the two will pay dividends of rich value. It should also be borne in mind that neither or both of these clubs can take the place of or do the work of the chamber of commerce. The latter stands supreme as the chief instrument of civic development and both clubs should give their best efforts to promote the work of the chamber and help it to best serve its community."

The meeting, which was presided over by W. T. Seilley, president of the Rotary, with Merline Hatley of the Kiwanis club in charge of the musical end of club in charge of their respective programs, was attended by between 60 and 70 persons, of whom some half dozen were women.

proper lines. The law of supply and demand cannot be overthrown by the puny efforts of man."

If American business is to survive in the future, it is absolutely imperative that our products have a European market and a European market cannot exist until a stabilized government has been established, the speaker said.

"In order that we may market all we produce in America, one-half of our cotton, one-third of our meat, and one-third of our wheat crops must be sold in Europe," said Senator Underwood. "The law of supply and demand rules the commercial and financial world and nothing can change this economic principle. We must have a market for what we produce or else we will fail financially. And America has to depend upon Europe in a large way for a market. As no market can be secured in a country where there is no stabilized form of government, we find that a large part of Europe will be exempt from prospective markets and this reverts back to us the products which we had hoped to sell in Europe."

Refrains from Politics

Senator Underwood did not mention any political issues in his speech Wednesday, but he made it clear that the assistance of America was badly needed in Europe to straighten out affairs and that unless European governments became stabilized the American citizens would be great sufferers.

"The energy of man is the only way to produce, and as half of Europe is not working, it can be seen that half of it is not producing anything. Stability does not exist in governments over there and no credit can be given in countries where stability exists."

Senator Underwood closed with an appeal for the businessmen to stand up and do their share in the crisis. "On the battlefields of France the boys of America did their part. I only hope and pray that in this critical day for the world the businessmen and citizenship of America will not flunk."

SEARCH BEGINS TO LOCATE TWO MISSING BOYS

Father and Deputy Sheriffs Set Out in Hunt for Lads Reported to Have Set out on Foot from Scout Camp

Search for two boys, reported to have left the Boy Scout cabin in Shoshone basin early Tuesday afternoon walking to Twin Falls, a distance of 42 miles, was launched Wednesday evening by O. J. Johnson, father of Max Johnson, 13, one of the missing lads, and Deputy Sheriff John W. Gabhart and E. F. Prater. The name of the lad reported to have left the scout camp with the Johnson boy coming to Twin Falls was not learned.

Max Johnson, his father said, had never previously visited the basin country, and his sense of direction is poor.

Absence of the lads from the scout camp was learned by Mr. Johnson Wednesday evening when he telephoned to the ranger's station in the basin and talked with F. Douglas Hawley, district scout executive, in charge of the camp, in which there are 25 lads from Twin Falls, 10 from Rupert and two or three from Burley.

Mr. Johnson asked the scout leader to permit Max to return home at the first opportunity, because the Johnson family planned to leave this week on a trip to Yellowstone park. He was advised by the scout leader. Mr. Johnson told the sheriff, that Max and another boy had left the camp Tuesday noon to walk to Twin Falls.

Keeps Fears from Mother

Mr. Johnson did not learn the name of the other boy. He was telephoning from home and endeavored to avoid causing Mrs. Johnson alarm by asking for details.

Telephone communication with the camp could not be had after closing of the exchange at Rogers early Wednesday evening. The scout camp is about two miles above the ranger's station, which has the only telephone in the basin.

In the search Mr. Johnson was joined by H. M. Numemaker, a neighbor. In accordance with plans agreed upon at a conference in the sheriff's office, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Numemaker set out in their car over the highway south from the end of Main avenue and the deputies took a parallel road a mile west. They were to meet at a point east of Hollister. It was hoped that the lads would be located at a farmhouse in the region north of the foothills and east of Hollister.

It was assumed that, unless the lads had taken the wrong road out of the basin and traveled southward, they would have followed the well-defined road over the foothills to the north, and might have become confused after leaving the hills when they might have taken any of a number of roads extending through the region east of Hollister.

Responsibility Not Fixed

It was not determined whether the scout leader had given the lads permission to set out on the journey. Persons who inclined to that view Wednesday evening expressed severe condemnation of the executive. Others suggested that the lads may have set out on their own initiative without consulting the scout leader, and left it to their companions to carry word of their intentions to the camp supervisor.

Long Beach Hospital Sold by Dr. T. O. Boyd

Pioneer institution of southern California city, owned and operated for some years by former Twin Falls physician and surgeon, is transferred for cash consideration of $160,000.

PIONEER MEDICO IS COMING BACK

Dr. T. O. Boyd, Leaving California, Will Return to Re-open Twin Falls Hospital

Sale by Dr. T. O. Boyd and his associates of the Long Beach hospital at Long Beach, California, for a cash consideration of $160,000 was announced here Wednesday evening by Truman O. Boyd, junior, who left that evening for Long Beach to assist in closing up the family's affairs in the California city.

Dr. Boyd will return to Twin Falls to reopen and operate the Twin Falls hospital, which has stood empty for more than a year. The return of Dr. Boyd and family is scheduled for September 1, following a period of about 30 days' traveling that will give him his first vacation in 15 years. Hospital supplies, X-ray machines and other apparatus reserved in the sale of the Long Beach institution already has been shipped to Twin Falls.

Builds Hospital Here

Dr. Boyd has been identified with the Twin Falls hospital since its beginning in the early days of Twin Falls. It was one of a group of the first settlers who launched the institution and later he acquired sole ownership of it. From time to time Dr. Boyd enlarged and improved the institution by additions and remodeling. It is situated on spacious grounds at the corner of Third street and Third avenue west.

About six years ago he entered into an agreement for the sale of the hospital to the Catholic Sisters of Charity, by whom it was operated for some months. About two years ago the agreement was broken by mutual consent, and since that time the building has been unoccupied.

Owns Business Block

The Boyd corporation, of which Dr. Boyd is the head, owns also the Boyd block on Main avenue-south, on the second floor of which Dr. Boyd maintained his offices while a resident here.

Dr. Boyd and his son, Truman O. Boyd, junior, have made frequent visits to Twin Falls since leaving for southern California.

The Long Beach hospital, formerly known as the Long Beach sanitarium, is a pioneer institution of the California city. Erected about 16 years ago by the old Long Beach Hospital association, it was sold by that institution some years later to W. Ray Snipeston, who, in turn, sold it to Dr. Boyd and associates. A large sum of money was expended recently in alterations and improvements.

Varied Program Is Presented to Crowd

Indian Songs, Legends and Dances, and Inspirational Lecture Chautauqua Features

PROGRAM FOR CLOSING DAY OF CHAUTAUQUA

2:30 p. m.—Popular concert, Thaviu's exposition band.
8 p. m.—Grand closing concert, Thaviu's exposition band, featuring three grand open singers in operatic sketches.

Indian songs, legends and classic and interpretive dances artistically and dramatically presented in picturesque native and tribal costumes by the Princess Te Ata and company, were features of Wednesday's Chautauqua here, occupying the entire afternoon program and providing the prelude for "Jamie" Heron's lecture in the evening.

The princess, who has been called the Pavlova of her race, proved herself also a reader of exceptional talent. Her lecture, "Hanging Flower," a Dakota maiden, is said to be the greatest contralto of her race, and Pearl Archquette, the third member of the company, is an accomplished pianist and accompanist.

Speaking on "Building Better Business by Building Better Men," James Heron, with his burled Scotch tongue, gave a large audience inspiration and a good time. Prefacing his more serious theme—that of service and the Golden Rule as the best guide in business—with a humorous roundelay and recital of the comic adventures of a typical Scot, Heron won and held his audience throughout.

Chautauqua will close here Thursday evening with afternoon and evening concerts by Thaviu's exposition band.

BULLET HALTS HUMAN QUARRY

Roundup at Hansen Results in Wounding of Wanted Man and Detention of Companion

Rowland Wilder, 24, wanted in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, on charges of wife seduction, is a patient in the county general hospital here suffering from a gunshot wound through his left forearm, and Myrtle Fry, 22, with whom Wilder is alleged to have lived at Hansen for some four months past in the relationship of husband and wife, is detained at the county jail. The results of a roundup in which Deputy Sheriff John W. Gabhart and E. F. Prater, Constable M. W. Krumm and a number of volunteer possemen participated Wednesday forenoon.

Authorities at Sioux Falls have been communicated with and it is expected that steps toward the return of Wilder and perhaps the woman, will be taken in the near future.

Wilder was brought down by a bullet fired by a member of the group led by Deputy Gabhart at the end of a chase that covered a distance of about three-quarters of a mile and occupied an hour's time. Responsibility for the shot by which Wilder was wounded had not been fixed Wednesday evening.

Takes to Heels

The chase after Wilder began when Deputy Gabhart, in Hansen on business, was advised by Constable Krumm that Wilder was to be found in a house on the outskirts of Hansen. The officers were admitted to the house by Myrtle Fry. Wilder was in the garden picking beans. He told the officers, when they approached him, that Wilder was "just around the corner," and began to move away at a rapid pace. Krumm wanted the sleeping man was the wanted individual. Wilder broke into a run when the officers called on him to halt. The officers fired several shots in his direction, then summoned assistance from Twin Falls.

When the pursuit was resumed, after the arrival of Deputy Prater, Wilder was treated to a thick shower of sweet clover. Deputy Gabhart called on Wilder to come out. At length Wilder was seen emerging from the thicket at another point. He disregarded calls to halt and the party with Deputy Gabhart opened fire. Wilder fell when he was struck, at which the officers approached. Deputy Gabhart says, he held out his injured hand to Gabhart and confessed that he had taken the wrong course in seeking to escape by flight.

Matron Asks Detention

Authority for the action of the local officers is contained in a letter under date of July 20, received by the sheriff from Mrs. Lucy Boneman, police matron at Sioux Falls. Relating circumstances concerning Wilder's departure from Sioux Falls some time following the departure from there of Myrtle Fry, the letter contained:

"If you should be able to locate them, I wish you would arrest them and hold them until we could get them, as he has deserted his wife and we are sure he is with Myrtle Fry. We would appreciate it very much if you could help us locate them, especially him."

FUNERALS

Grossman chapel here, with interment in the Twin Falls cemetery. The services were largely attended by neighbors and friends of the bereaved family.

SCOTT CARAVAN MEMBERS FILE $13,520 CLAIM

Eastern Men, Induced to Cross Country to Build Homes on Roseworth Project, Ask Return of Payments

Claims aggregating $13,520 are asserted in suits instituted in district court here Wednesday against E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, P. C. Meredith and the Idaho Farm Development company by three of the members of the Brooklyn modern caravan who two years ago came across the country to make farm homes on the Roseworth project, southwest of Buhl, of which the Merediths, as large stockholders in the company, were promoters.

In each of the three cases, which were filed by Homer C. Mills, attorney, identical charges of false and fraudulent representation on the part of the promoters are alleged, and the claim is asserted for return of the amount paid by each caravaner for his land together with damages.

Each of the caravan members declares that he has left the Roseworth project, and that he was not entirely convinced of all of the alleged misrepresentations practiced against him until the late fall of 1922 and spring of 1923. Each says that he was induced to enter into an agreement for the purchase of 40 acres of land on the Roseworth project.

Individual Claims

Alfred P. Hyde, formerly of New York, asks for return of $1,000 as first payment on the land, together with $3,570 damages.

Frederick H. Bagwell, also a former resident of New York, asks for return of $500 payment on land and $4,770.10 damages.

Paul G. Hanft, formerly of New Jersey, who for several months past has served as organizer and chief director for the First Presbyterian church here and who has been engaged, beginning August 1, in a similar capacity for the Episcopal cathedral at Boise, asks for return of $500 payment and further damages in the sum of $3,161.94.

Prospective members of the caravan were not told, when they were persuaded by William D. Scott, leader of the caravan, to embark on the Idaho enterprise, the complaints assert, that the secretary of the interior had not granted to the state an extension of time to show reclamation of the Roseworth project, and that the segregation had lapsed in December, 1918. Neither were they advised, they declare, that prior attempts at colonization in 1909 had failed.

Recite Promises Made

On the other hand, the caravaners declare in their complaints, they were told that the state of Idaho was back of the project and guaranteed its security; that in the season of 1923 it would be possible to obtain an alfalfa seeded crop from 40 acres of land worth $4,000; that it would be possible to build and pay for mortgage buildings out of receipts from crops at the end of the third season; that the promotion company would establish a bank, hotel, lumber yard and other essential enterprises and that a community recreation hall and library would be erected.

They were told, they assert, that the irrigation system was complete and that it had been built at a cost of $225,000. This they deny, and declare that the system should have cost to exceed $300,000.

Reference is made in the complaints to an alleged meeting of the caravan at West Yellowstone, Montana, with O. H. Barber, then state commissioner of reclamation, to whom they were induced to execute powers of attorney authorizing Mr. Barber to select lands on the Roseworth project other than the lands they had obtained by drawing held in Brooklyn before the departure of the caravan from that city.
