CUBAN LOTTERY BILL CAUSE OF COMPLICATIONS

Crowder's Sudden Return Interpreted as Protest Against Recent Legislation; State Department Will Not Comment

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 1 (AP)—Eumors emanating from New York and quoted on the authority of the New York Times state that General Crowder, ambassador of the United States to the Cuban government, is to be recalled, the reason given being a resolution passed by the Cuban congress on the occasion of congress passing the new lottery law over President Zayas' veto.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Ambassador Crowder's sudden return from Havana is being interpreted here as in the nature of a protest against the trend of Cuban legislative action in recent weeks. Whether it forebodes any further developments in relations between the two governments is not being disclosed. State department officials will not discuss the development and hold to their original guarded statement that General Crowder has been called home for a conference on "various matters."

Recent enactment of the Cuban lottery bill was counter to the advice of the ambassador and the views of the United States government. Not alone was the bill itself objectionable from the American point of view, but the resolution adopted at the same time by the Cuban congress was regarded as so distinctly un-American in character that it appeared advisable to Washington officials to call General Crowder home to give a complete understanding of the situation. General Crowder went to Cuba for the specific purpose of leading such aid as he could as a special representative of President Harding in shaping a Cuban legislative program that would aid in the recovery of the island government from after-war conditions. He undertook his mission at the request of the Cuban government.

Society Woman is Hit by Booze Law

Claim Liquor Destined for Home for Aged Found Its Way into Wealthy Homes

DENVER, Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Katherine O'Connor, Denver society woman, pleaded guilty in United States district court here this afternoon to illegal possession of liquor and was fined $400 which her attorney paid.

No evidence of any nature was taken at the hearing. After Mrs. O'Connor had entered her plea, United States District Attorney Granby Hillier said: "I believe Mrs. O'Connor was drawn into this affair by placing over-elastication upon her parties." Henry McAllister, Jr., counsel for Mrs. O'Connor, made no statement. Judge Symes assessed the fine immediately. Nothing was said concerning the details of the case. Earlier in the day, John R. Walsh had entered a plea of guilty to charges of illegal possession of liquor and illegal transportation of liquor and was fined a total of $500.

Father Walter A. Grace, Mrs. O'Connor and Walsh were indicted by a federal grand jury at Pueblo in June, charged with the shipment of liquor into Colorado. The shipment, originally destined for the J. K. Mullen Home for the Aged, according to the government's allegations, eventually found its way into the home of Denver society folk.

Mrs. O'Connor is a daughter of J. K. Mullen, millionaire Denver miller.

Predicts Democrat Will Be President

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 1 (AP)—The next president of the United States will be a democrat, "unless some radical change occurs," and Henry Ford "would win hands down as the presidential nominee of either party," declared Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, who arrived here today. He is to address the Georgia assembly tomorrow.

When asked by newspaper men if he himself is a candidate for the presidential nomination, the senator replied: "Why, I am for Al Smith."

ENGLAND GITES LIQUOR RULING

Davison Calls Attention to American Dispatch Regarding International Usages

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP)—England has discovered what is said to be a precedent established by America herself which it is claimed here supports the contention that British ships should be permitted to enter United States ports with liquor under seal. This cropped up in the house of commons today in the usual grist of questions and answers concerning American prohibition. Sir William Davison asked Ronald McNeill, under secretary of foreign affairs, "whether the attention of the government has been called by a dispatch forwarded by the American government some years ago to the Spanish government, which, while admitting the legal right of every nation to prescribe the conditions under which foreign vessels should be admitted to their ports, laid it down that these conditions must accord with well known and long established usages regarding international intercourse between civilized nations, which could not be violated without giving just cause of complaint to nations whose interests would be affected by their violation."

FREE STATE FAVORS LAW FOR HOLDING PRISONERS

Public Safety Bill Is Passed by Dall Eirann and Is Now Placed in Hands of Governor-General for Signing

DUBLIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Dall Eirann this evening passed the public safety bill, under which the government may continue to hold prisoners who are charged with having been actively opposed to the free state government. The measure was presented to the Dall for urgent action owing to the fact that the court of appeals in a decision today in liquor court proceedings declared that a writ returnable tomorrow, if the bill as passed tonight receives the assent of the governor general, it is believed it will prevent the release of a higher court proceeding in a large number of men and women now in prison.

MEXICAN TROOPS MOVING

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 1 (AP)—Troops are advancing from Rosales and other nearby points to the estate in Durango owned by the late Francisco Villa. It is reported that there are nearly 500 Villa followers on the estate, including Villa's brother, Hipolito and seven former Villa generals who have not yet defined what their attitude toward the government troops will be. The belief prevails that they will be disarmed.

PATROLMAN DISCOVERS FATHER IS SUICIDE

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP)—Investigator in Branchburg, N. J., ordered a reported suicide, Patrolman John Crann, today found the body of his father with a bullet through his head and his old service pistol beside him. The elder Crann had been in ill health.

Little Negro, Former Caddy for Harding, Tells of Generosity of Chief Executive

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—Jesse Hopper, a 15-year-old negro caddy, from Tampa, fell into the arms of the police today and told them with pride that he once carried President Harding's clubs. "It was the most generous man I ever carried for—and some golfer," said the boy. "He gave me a $2 tip for carrying his clubs down in Tampa." Detectives found Jesse begging for

SENATE PARTY SETS SAIL ON FOREIGN TRIP

LaFollette Announces Determination to Ascertain True Foreign Conditions; Swanson Favors Liberal Candidate

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—Declaring that he intended to obtain first-hand information regarding conditions in Europe, so that his "constituents would have nothing on me," Senator Robert M. LaFollette sailed on the George Washington today with four other senators who are to attend the inter-allied parliamentary union at Geneva. Those sailing with him are Senators McKellar of Tennessee, McKinley of Illinois, Robinson of Arkansas and Swanson of Virginia. Representative John E. Raker of California also was in the party.

While these senators were sailing they passed Senators Gerry of Rhode Island and Stanley of Kentucky, who returned from a European trip upon the Majestic.

In "Plink of Condition" Senator LaFollette was in a jovial mood and declared he was in the "plink of condition" and that while his European tour was, intended as only a visit he would not neglect looking over the continent and familiarizing himself with important subjects. He was not certain where he would go or what he would do.

"Funny, isn't it to hear me say I don't know where I am going or what I am going to do, but that's the case."

He said his trip was directed mostly by Basil Manley, director of research and investigation and one-time United States commissioner of industrial relations. The senator, who recently left a summer home in Michigan after he had directed the victorious fight of Senator-elect Magaw Johnson of Minnesota, declared he was feeling "great."

"Look at that arm," he said. "I am going over to Europe to rest a bit and taper off my training. Then, when I get back I'll be ready for all comers."

"In the presidential ring?" he was asked. No answer. He would not discuss affairs of state. Senator Swanson said he would visit Germany, France, England, Switzerland and Genoa, where he would study the workings of the league of nations. From there he expects to go to Moscow.

Swanson Speaks "In regard to the presidential situation Senator Swanson said: "It is impossible to say this early as to who the democratic nominee should be for the next presidential election. The man should be a progressive liberal. This would be in accord with the sentiment existing in the country, and with the tradition of the party, and the democratic party. It is too early to determine what man best measures up to these requirements."

NORTH IDAHO FORESTS SUSTAIN SEVERE LOSS

Fire Caused by Lightning Reported to Have Swept Over More than 2500 Acres; Wire Lines Are Down

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Aug. 1 (AP)—More than 2,500 acres were reported today to have been covered by fire near the Magee ranger station, which was supposed to have been caused by lightning and fanned by high winds. The situation was said to be serious, although the wind had subsided and the weather was cooler.

Forest rangers have been destroyed by the fire and communication with the region has been cut off. Fifty men are fighting the flames and more are being rushed to the scene. Estimates of the losses cannot be obtained.

BLOOMING PRairie, Minn., Aug. 1 (AP)—Emphasizing he cannot be bought or sold by any party, Senator-elect Magaw Johnson promised the voters of Minnesota that he will work for the interest of the state, irrespective of political affiliations, at a homecoming celebration here today.

Picture Brides Among Thousands Seeking Entry at American Ports

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—Nearly 2000 immigrants were added to the population of the United States today at the port of New York. Between 12,000 and 13,000 other aliens waited on liners in the bay their turn to pass Ellis Island. They came from 21 countries in Europe, Asia and Africa. Immigration Commissioner Cullinan with what he stated was a "distressing inadequate" force of immigration inspectors, did his utmost to pass the immigrants through the station with the least possible delay. The commissioner estimated that between eight and a dozen August qu-

NEED SOLDIERS TO FIGHT RADICALISM

DEL MONTE, Cal., Aug. 1 (AP)—Speaking here today, General John J. Pershing asserted the nation for years would need 500,000 civilian-soldiers to aid in suppressing "red" activities. "Insidious workings of red propaganda upon the Pacific coast have made especially rapid progress," he told the members of the civilian military training camp and 2,000 other persons gathered here to listen to his address. Those who preach the doctrine of pacifism are the unwilling accomplices of emergency of the government, General Pershing declared. General Pershing urged that not only the men, but the women of the nation be trained in military tactics.

Protest Seizure by Chinese Army

Concerted Action Taken by Consuls of Four Nations on Act of Manchurian War Lord

HARBIN, China, Aug. 1 (AP)—Concerted action has been taken by the American, British, French and Japanese consuls here to protest the seizure of the Chinese eastern railway land department by Chang Tao Lin, the war lord of Manchuria, who ordered all the railway lands ceded Russia under the old treaties taken over by his provincial government.

Representatives of the land department, placed their official seal on a chest containing deeds to the railroad lands. After meeting to discuss the defense of foreign interests, the consuls telegraphed their diplomatic representatives at Peking.

The situation has been further complicated by Chang Tao-Lin ordering Chao Huan-Siang, the new head of the railway land department, to open publicly this afternoon the sealed chest containing the land deeds. Representatives of the railway, shareholders, the board of directors and foreign banks have registered protests against the war lord's action.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 1 (AP)—Although no word has reached here concerning the progress being made tonight by Carbis A. Walker, Cleveland Y. M. C. A. swimmer, in his attempt to swim across Lake Erie, his friends estimated that it will take 30 hours to complete the feat.

A power-bout and a row-bout are conveying the swimmer. No wireless equipment is carried.

HOT WINDS AFFECT CROPS

Drought and High Temperatures Affect Crops in Last Area of Kansas; Northeast Section Escapes

TOPEKA, Kansas, Aug. 1 (AP)—The vitality of the Kansas corn crop is being tested by hot winds and high temperature the last few days, with cessation of the northeast quarter of the state, where the condition is reported as excellent, according to the weekly crop report issued by the weather bureau here today. The crop in the extreme southern counties as far west as Seward—second county east of the Colorado line—has been so badly damaged by drought that it is past hope of recovery, even with rains in the near future," the report states.

HARDING MAKES FURTHER GAINS; RECOVERY SLOW

Chief Executive Continues to Win Over Grip of Serious Illness; Physicians Keep Vigilant Watch Against Reverse. PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, San Francisco, Aug. 1 (AP)—President Harding is slowly but surely winning his way back to health. Every official statement from the attending physicians today contained evidence of improvement and every report from the sickroom told of steady progress. The result is that tonight the country's physicians are almost ready to announce that all danger is past. They recognize, however, as they said in a bulletin issued at 10 o'clock today, that "every care is necessary to assure freedom from further complications."

CONVICTS' TRIP BRINGS TROUBLE

Complications, Ensnue when Governor Takes Trustees with Him into Canada

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 1 (AP)—Without a word from Governor Donahy and Warden E. F. Thomas of the Ohio state penitentiary, who with the governor's six sons and the warden's son, started on a fishing trip into Canada Monday, attaches of the executive office tonight were trying to figure the outcome of "international complication" which has arisen by the presence in the governor's party of two convicts from the state prison taken along as camp chauffeurs.

Advice from Canadian official sources today were that the dominion government prohibits the entrance of criminals into its domain and that steps may be taken by immigration officials there to deport them.

Price Russell, former executive clerk to Governor Donahy and recently appointed chairman of the state board of clemency, expressed the opinion that there are no "complications," inasmuch as the two convicts not only are in the custody of the warden, but also of the governor himself, and that the two Ohio officials would have in a foreign country practically the same rights as an ambassador.

TORONTO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Governor Donahy of Ohio, in an interview with the Toronto Star, today characterized as "political bunk" the prominence given the news that two convicts were accompanying his fishing party into northern Ontario as servants. The governor, who was reached at Coblenk, Ont., was further quoted as saying: "This news was published to hurt me. I have a signed pardon in my desk at the executive mansion for Earl Jenson, one of the murderers, and C. Zippant, the other, is employed as a cook. Both men are trustees and have been for over five years. "These boys are not real murderers. They were convicted of second degree murder, not first. They started a fight in a poolroom and in both cases their opponents were accidentally killed. I am personally responsible for these men and I know them."

THREE BURNED TO DEATH IN COKE COMPANY FIRE

Blaze in Milwaukee Plant Spreads in a Flash; Firemen Give Up Efforts; Started by Heavy Explosion

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 1 (AP)—Three men were burned to death in a fire which started in the Greenfield avenue plant of the Milwaukee Coke and Gas company here today. The fire started with an explosion in the building used for the storage of benzol and spread so rapidly and burned so fiercely that firemen were unable to get within a block of the place until it had partly burned itself out. The dead were Frank Spender, Walter Goodwin and Kurt Martin, all employees of the plant. The benzol plant was razed by the flames and the fire spread rapidly to the main building. A heavy wind blew the flames toward the coal piles which were also ignited.

The heat from the burning coal tar products was so intense that firemen could not get near the fire. Streams played upon the fringe of the blaze, only being concentrated to prevent spreading.

Spokane Youngster Fa ils to See the Joke When Fugitive Monkey Twists His Nose

SPokane, Aug. 1 (AP)—A full-sized monkey engaged in a strange encounter with Merrill Nims, Spokane lad, here recently when it invaded the boy's home. When the fugitive animal first appeared, Merrill chased it under a neighbor's front porch and when he started to crawl under the porch in pursuit it grabbed him by the nose, gave it a wrench, and then retreated to the neighbor's cellar. Merrill pursued the monkey to the cellar, where it was jumping about on the rafters. There it grabbed the lad's cap and the two started a wrestling match. In a straight hand-to-hand tussle with the invader, attacked it with a stick, stunning it. The monkey was caged, awaiting word from its owner.

AMERICANS FORCED TO RESPECT BLACKS

Tourists in France Must Honor Custom of Equality Between Whites and Negroes

PARIS, Aug. 1 (AP)—The foreign office's warning regarding the behavior of tourists who had manifested aversion to being thrown in company in public places with colored men from the French colonies, was repeated in an editorial in the semi-official Temps today, with some explanatory comment. The editorial makes special reference to "those—very rare—among our American guests who had forgotten that the French republic makes no distinction between the inhabitants of its immense empire whatever their race or color."

"They will undoubtedly, henceforth," adds the article, "see in them nothing but Frenchmen, like other Frenchmen, and will recall that their own country, like ours, accepted during the war the cooperation of black troops."

The editorial reiterates that it was only a "small number of visiting tourists who are affected by the note, which was drawn up with the tact and moderation to be expected from officials connected with the Quai d'Orsay."

It concludes by pointing out that Frenchmen willingly submit to the "dry" regulations when in the United States, and adds: "Our foreign friends will as willingly submit to a regulation of imposed by law, but by our character, and habits."

BUREAU SURVEY TO SHOW IDAHO OIL PROSPECTS

Bureau of Mines of State University Has Parties at Work Mapping Oil Structures in Southern Section

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Aug. 1.—The activities during the present summer of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology staff illustrate the widely varying nature of the mineral resources of the state and the diversity of interest with which the bureau has to concern itself. This organization, although not a part of the university, being controlled by a board of which Governor C. G. Moore is chairman, is nevertheless, under the law, administered from the office of Dr. Francis A. Thomson, as dean of the school of mines.

The work which is perhaps attracting the greatest popular interest is that having to do with the oil possibilities of the southeastern part of the state. Here two parties are doing work, one in the Bonneville-Caribou area, east of Idaho Falls and north of Soda Springs, under the direction of Virgil B. Kirkham, one of the members of the geological staff of the school of mines, assisted by W. H. Birchby, a recent graduate in geology. This party is engaged in mapping the structure of the beds, which, as parts of Wyoming, have been large producers of oil, and which at suitable places to be determined by this survey would seem to justify prospect drilling in this state. The other party, under the direction of A. M. Piper, a member of the bureau staff, and connected with the university, and assisted by Felix Platino, a graduate of the university and a member of the faculty of the Idaho Technical Institute at Pocatello, is making a reconnaissance survey of the oil possibilities in Power and Oneida counties.

Crew at Work
R. M. Ballard of Placerville has recently completed about three weeks of field work in Idaho county, designed to supplement and bring down to date the data which has been collected both by Dr. Francis A. Thomson and Mr. Ballard during the past three years. Dr. Thomson has also completed a brief reconnaissance in the Plerce City country. All of the material under study is embodied in a bulletin which will probably be entitled "Geology and Gold Resources of North Central Idaho," to be issued this fall.

Mr. Ballard is now completing the field work and laboratory studies for a similar bulletin on the "Geology and Gold Resources of the Boise Basin."
Dr. F. B. Laney, head of the department of geology in the university and a member of the United States geological survey staff, will shortly conclude the field work in the Seven Devils and adjacent areas, preparatory to the preparation of a scientific publication of the results of the copper ore deposits of this important region. Dr. Laney's production when completed will probably be issued as a professional paper by the United States geological survey.

Professor D. C. Livingston, formerly a member of the university staff but now head of the department of geology at the Oregon Agricultural college, is completing a study begun three years ago on the ore deposits of the Cuddy mountain and adjacent areas. Professor Livingston's work is expected to result in a bulletin on this area to be published by the Idaho bureau during the coming winter.

Will Show Results
Clyde P. Ross of the United States geological survey staff, in cooperation with the state bureau, is at present completing and correlating the work done in previous years in the Hailey area by Messrs. Umpleby, Westgate, and others, and it is anticipated that a bulletin including all of this work will be issued by the survey early in the fall.

Upon the completion of his work at Hailey the program for Mr. Ross calls for him to make a reconnaissance survey of the copper deposits in the immediate vicinity of Salmon City in Lemhi county. In this work he will probably be assisted by A. L. Anderson, who has recently completed his work for the master's degree in geology at the university.

As a part of the metallurgical work, in cooperation with the United States bureau of mines, A. W. Fahrwald, the United States bureau of mines ore dressing engineer, who is permanently stationed at Moscow, is conducting at the present time, in co-operation with the Banker Hill and Sullivan Mining and Concentrating company, extensive experiments in the development of a new type of classifier, developed jointly by Mr. Fahrwald and the late R. B. Elder, which has given such successful preliminary results that a 100-ton unit is being completed by the Banker Hill Mining and Concentrating demonstration on a large scale.

Growing out of this work are two sub-problems, one is the application of classification to flotation concentration and the other the adaptation of different concentrating tables to

Believe Johnson's Hat Is in Ring

Senator Hiram Johnson

Many who heard United States Senator Hiram Johnson's speech at the welcoming banquet given him in New York upon his return from his European tour, assert his words definitely have put him in the race for the republican nomination for the presidency against President Harding next year. Senator Johnson's attack on the Harding policies, especially the world court idea, indicated a clear-cut break between the Californian and Mr. Harding.

various classification feeds. The latter phase of these problems is in charge, this summer, of C. B. Marshall, instructor in mining and metallurgy in the school of mines.

Thomson in Charge
Another metallurgical problem to be studied during the coming year is that of the metallurgical treatment of dry silver ores and the oxidized lead-copper area in Blaine, Custer, Lemhi, and adjacent counties. This work will be under the supervision of Dr. Thomson, with the assistance of the bureau of mines staff, and will probably form the basis for a part, at least, of the work of the graduate fellows in metallurgy at the university during the coming academic year.

A number of minor problems are well toward completion, and mimeographed bulletins concerning them will be ready soon or have been issued, including Dr. Buvvalda's report on the "Gas and Oil Possibilities of Southwestern Idaho," and a report by Messrs. Thomson and Laney, assisted by a committee from Columbia section, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, on the reported platinum occurrences near Coeur d'Alene City.

BELIEVE BANKERS WILL ADMIT LARCENY CHARGE

Secretary and Teller of Denver Bank Claimed to Be Ready to Plead Guilty to Embezzlement of $441,000

DENVER, Aug. 1 (AP)—Les P. Floyd, secretary, and John Harrington, teller, of the Hibernia Bank and Trust company, will plead guilty to charges of larceny and embezzlement when they are arraigned in court tomorrow morning, the Denver Post says today.

Floyd and Harrington are accused of being tools of Maurice Mandell, Denver broker, who is alleged to have obtained $441,000 which he filched from the bank.

Floyd, Harrington and Mandell were arrested last Friday after the directors of the company surrendered the bank to the state bank commissioner and closed its doors, nearly one-third of its entire resources having been stolen in the conspiracy.

SALT LAKE TO PITCH GAME FOR LOCALS SUNDAY

Pete Papworth, Who Worked Out Here Tuesday Evening, to Hurl for Twin Falls Against Emmett

Pete Papworth, the red who worked out Tuesday evening with the local ball team, is none other than the Papworth who has been pitching round Salt Lake for the last few years, and wishing to locate in Twin Falls if the proper inducements were forthcoming.

An inquiry from Salt Lake Wednesday from the sporting editor brought out the fact that Pete is the best performer in Utah today, and the informant stated that he doesn't bar a pitcher on any Coast league team, either.

According to advices Pete wouldn't play league ball with Salt Lake because Duffy Lewis failed to hit the mark set by Papworth. Papworth has been around Idaho for the past week and states that Twin Falls looks good to him. He left on the noon train for Salt Lake, but will return here Saturday, and will throw the game against Emmett.

Tam Looks Good.
Now that the pitching part is taken care of it may be well to look over the rest of the team. Harry Campbell may be on the receiving end, and will take good care of Papworth's slants.

Another new comer who performed in nice style is Doc Campbell. Doc played left field for three years on the University of Illinois varsity team, which means that he is close to big league calibre.

Campbell has been out every evening this week, and with Jimmie Houlhan on his vacation, Campbell may be used in left field Sunday. Campbell throws with his right hand, but bats from the port side of the plate.

Whitely looks better and better at the initial sack, and after all these years of ball playing has found out that he always was a first baseman. Very little need be said of Jim Scilley and Sib Klossner. These two lads perform around second and short like major leaguers and Harry takes pretty fair hit to pass these two in fielders.

As to Bruce Watson at third, we have in him one of the best third sackers in the business. Bruce grabs all the hot ones, and rarely makes a poor throw to first. Laval Jarman and Gene Ostrander will play the other two gardens, and if Emmett has a better pair of outfielders, then we are willing to tip our hat.

Word from Emmett tells of the classy team they have, and Sunday's game should be one of the best games seen in Twin Falls in many a year.

Emmett boasts of a pitcher by the name of Bouch, who was farmed out to Emmett from Portland, and with Papworth of Salt Lake opposing him runs should be few and far between.

OLD WARSHIPS TO BE TARGETS FOR AIR BOMBS

War Department Receives Plans for Destruction of Battleships Under Terms of Naval Limitation Treaty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Details of plans of the army air service for bombing tests against the old battleships Virginia and New Jersey off Cape Hatteras at a date to be fixed later were before the war department today for final approval with indications that they would be accepted.

Under the plans the ships destined to be scrapped under the naval limitation treaty would be anchored 25 miles off shore to the east of Cape Hatteras and sunk by bombs dropped by aeroplanes in what is declared by air service officials as an operation designed only to test the accuracy of bombs at varying altitudes.

It is expected that four or five days will be consumed in the operations, which will include night maneuvers by the air fleet.

A new feature to be tested will be the laying of a smoke screen about the target battleships by airplane. The theory of the maneuver will be to assume that the attacking air forces have established control of the air and that the aeroplanes need protect themselves only from the fire of anti-aircraft guns upon the ships.

The bombardment group now located at Langley Field, Cal., will be employed in the maneuvers, two squadrons of Martin bombers, two squadrons of six ships each being used in the flight from an advance airbase on Cape Hatteras near the weather bureau station to the point where the target ships will be anchored.

That distance off shore is necessary in order to sink the naval craft in 50 fathoms of water, insuring that they will not be a menace to navigation.

PLAN IMPORTATION OF RUSSIAN FARM WORKERS

SPOKANE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Plans for bringing a colony of Russian peasants to Douglas county for the resettlement of abandoned wheat farms there were outlined at a recent meeting of the local settlement committee of the Spokane chamber of commerce.

Many fertile farms, it was declared, some possessing valuable improvements, had been abandoned because of crop failures and could be secured with little or no payment down and made to pay for themselves within a few years.

Mr. Miller expressed the belief that mortgage men handling the land would assist the settlers in securing cattle and other stock and that they would not require any payments on the principal until at least five years after taking possession.

WITNESSES GIVE STORY OF MINISTER'S MURDER

Three Testify that Southern Preacher Was Killed by Bullet Fired by Garrett; Family Members Take Stand

COLUMBERLAND COURT HOUSE, Va., Aug. 1 (AP)—Three witnesses testified today at the trial of Larkin C. Garrett, charged with the murder last June of the Rev. E. S. Pierce, that Garrett fired a pistol in the street fight which culminated in the death of the minister.

William Smith, however, testified that the Rev. Mr. Pierce fired the first shot and that Garrett did not shoot. On cross-examination he said that shots fired by the Rev. Mr. Pierce and R. O. Garrett, brother of the defendant, who will be tried later on a murder charge, rang out so closely that he was not sure which was fired first.

Robert Pierce, the minister's son, testified that Larkin Garrett fired after a pistol held by his father had been discharged accidentally, while pointing at the ground. He was followed upon the witness stand by his mother and sister, Mary, 15 years old, who told of the crime in front of their home.

It is charged that the fight between the Rev. Mr. Pierce and the Garrett's was the culmination of a long standing feud.

WOMAN HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

State Contends Mrs. Oesterreich Fired Fatal Shots or Acted in Complicity Plot

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich today was held to answer on a charge of murder growing out of the fatal shooting of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, wealthy apron manufacturer, here a year ago.

It is the state's contention that Mrs. Oesterreich either fired the shots which killed her husband at their home here upon the night of August 23, 1922, or acted in complicity with the person who did.

It was brought out at the preliminary hearing that the bedroom closet in which the defendant was found locked, with the key upon the outside of the door, shortly after the slaying, could be so locked by anyone inside the closet.

TREATY MAY BE SIGNED SHORTLY

Washington Officials Intimate that Negotiations with Turks May End Soon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Despite reports from Lausanne that further complications had arisen to delay the signing of the Turkish-American treaty of amity, it would cause no surprise in Washington if the signatures of the Turkish and American negotiators were attached to the document before the end of the present week.

There is every indication here that the attitude of Washington government has continued to be of a conciliatory trend. Unless the Turkish government delays at the eleventh hour a disposition to refuse an agreement on a reasonable and friendly basis, it is believed the treaty can be completed within a day or two.

There is no question but that the Washington government would have been better pleased had it been possible to deal in the treaty with a number of questions, among them being the status in Turkey of naturalized Americans of Turkish origin.

It is also clear that Washington would have preferred that the question of American claims be dealt with in the treaty in somewhat more specific fashion than the formula under debate at Lausanne attempts to do.

NATIONS MAKE SLOW PROGRESS ON SETTLEMENT

Await Revealment of England's Next Step in European Problem; Negotiations Still Shrouded in Secrecy

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Whether the closing sitting of parliament tomorrow will reveal the next step of the British government in the difficult European problem is still unknown. The cabinet's prolonged discussion of the situation today has only brought thus far the announcement that Premier Baldwin and Lord Curzon will make similar statements in the house of commons and house of lords, respectively, tomorrow, but not the slightest indication of the nature of those statements.

The prime minister's admission in the commons today that in the absence of permission from the French and Belgian governments for publication of their notes the debate would be restricted, seems to point to the fact that the government does not believe the time has arrived to take any new line.

Seek French Agreement

Hopeless as the prospect of an agreement with France seems, the probabilities point to another attempt by the government to achieve such an agreement by further negotiations, in which case Premier Baldwin's statement in parliament is likely to be comparatively brief, dealing with the British position and embodying a renewed warning to France that the negotiations cannot be indefinitely protracted. The prime minister also will probably appeal to the house not to embarrass the delicate and difficult negotiations by hard criticisms, he having already undertaken that a special session of parliament shall be called if a new situation arises requiring the sanction of that body.

FRENCH TENNIS PLAYERS TO TRAVEL TO THE U. S.

Rene La Boste, who will be one of France's representatives in the United States, was the minister of the French team, his defeat of Count de Gomar being the only reverse the Spanish noblemen suffered in the Davis cup singles in Europe this year. Their match was the turning point in the series.

County's Valuation Drops $2,400,729

Auditor's Report Indicates Probability of Higher Tax Levies to Raise Same Amounts

In common with most, if not all other Idaho counties, Twin Falls county's tax levies will have to be increased this year to yield the same amount of money that was collected last year for public purposes. This situation arises from a decrease in assessed property valuation, amounting, according to reports completed Wednesday by the county auditor's office, to $2,400,729.

The 1923 tax roll property valuation, exclusive of public utilities, is shown at $23,093,745, as against the equalized valuation for 1922 of $25,504,474. Valuation put on agricultural land this year shows a decrease of $1,729,735.

"GRUB STAKE" HERE

The only North American wild animal trained to appear in motion pictures are seen in "The Grub Stake," Neil Shipman's new picture of the frozen north. They are all owned by the star and are part of her zoo, which includes more than 200 animals exclusive of 25 sled dogs. Deer, elk, bear, cougar, wild cats, lynx, wolves, coyotes, skunks, raccoons, weasels, chipmunks, minks, marmots, badgers are in her zoo and most of them appear in "The Grub Stake," with ravens, owls and eagles as well. It is a remarkable collection and the picture is the only one of its kind. "The Grub Stake" is being shown at the Orpheum.

"MINNIE"

The new Marshall Neilan picture released by First National, is a realistic page from real life in a small town country hotel. Neilan has made all his characters look and act humanly and he has put into the picture much rare humor. Neilan in giving advice to scenario-writers once said: "Don't be obvious."

Leatrice Joy plays the part of "Minnie" and with her is Matt Moore. Now the "obvious" thing for Neilan to do was to give both "straight" parts. They had always done that kind. But Neilan didn't do the obvious. He has made Matt and Leatrice shine in their odd role. The picture is at the Idaho today.

POOR CONSOLATION

E. T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture and himself a recognized authority on matters agricultural, is quoted as pointing out that only ten per cent of the farm acreage of the country is devoted to wheat and that, therefore, a ten per cent decline in the price of this commodity results only in a loss of one per cent to the farmers as a whole.

As cold logic this is probably true, but the fact supplies small consolation to the farmer with any considerable quantity of wheat on the farm. A ten per cent cut in the income of any one department of a man's business does not, on the whole, look like a very serious thing, but in the case of the farmer it falls upon the man who can least of all afford it.

It is hard to dig consolation out of the facts as they exist. The drop in the price of wheat works a real hardship on the wheat farmer and in a lesser degree upon all farmers and in turn upon everybody else over a countrywide such as that of Twin Falls.

THE SILVER AGE

"We live in an age of iron and have all that we can do to keep the iron from entering our souls." So says John Burroughs in the posthumous book just published. This book of his last essays, called "Under the Maples," contains his wise and sweet philosophy at its best.

Less diplomacy and statesmanship and more economic vision would help the Ruhr situation considerably.

"Our vast industries have their root in the geologic history of the globe as in no other past age. We delve for our power, and it is all barbarous and unhandsome. When the coal and oil are all gone and we come to the surface and above the surface for the white coal, for the smokeless oil, for the winds and the sunshine, how much more attractive life will be! Our very minds ought to be cleaner. We may never hitch our wagons to the stars, but we can hitch them to the mountain streams, and make the summer breezes lift our burdens. Then the silver age will displace the iron age."

BURIAL SIDEWALKS: With the rapid development and improvement of inter-city highways comes the need for the development of sidewalks. In the old days, when country roads were unpaved and unimproved, there were nearly always footpaths along their edges for pedestrians.

With the coming of good roads in the open places the footpaths have been abandoned to weeds, while walkers generally take to the hard-surfaced roads. Obviously this has added its share of complications to the traffic situation. It is dangerous to the pedestrian to walk in the way of rapidly moving motor vehicles. It is annoying and sometimes dangerous to the automobile driver to have pedestrians whose next move cannot be foreseen in his pathway.

Here is a problem that needs to be considered along with highway construction. Costly sidewalks need not be laid, but some satisfactory provision should be made for foot traffic.

RUEB ECONOMICS: While discussion about the Ruhr goes on in diplomatic circles in England, France and Belgium, the simple fact remains that without economic peace and co-operation there can be very little peace of any other sort. Germany has coal and France has iron and each nation needs a share of the other's product to conduct its manufacturing.

Use Radio on Motorcycles to Catch Bandits

In the United States economic peace and prosperity are promoted by the fact that a product from any one section is available to all the others. Pennsylvania has coal, Michigan has ore, the South has cotton, the North has power to run the country's machinery, and so on. All are members of the same Union and so are mutually friendly and helpful.

Less diplomacy and statesmanship and more economic vision would help the Ruhr situation considerably.

CHAPTER VI: It was well past noon on Monday when the Watersprite started on her hundred-mile voyage to the Gulf coast. Fortier had heard nothing further from John Philbrick.

In his younger days an enthusiastic amateur yachtsman, David Macarty was nominally captain of this commodious little cruiser. In reality, his two mates did all the handling of the craft. There was a crew of six white men—one of them a quartermaster, Gros Michel by name. A fat, hulking ruffian, the

On coming aboard with Macarty and Alaine, Jack Fortier was introduced to the second officer, Thompson. The latter touched his cap, without apparent recognition, and Fortier chuckled to himself at the sudden features.

"Some time tomorrow it all goes well," Alaine Lavergne eyed the distant river shores as they slipped past. "We should reach Latouche in the morning, and may stop there for mail and supplies. As a rule, uncle leaves the Watersprite there when he is not using it."

Fortier nodded. "By the way," said the girl, after a little silence, "I have with me a number of papers that father had left in his safe-deposit box in the bank in

"Loud Speaker" Guides Vessels to Port

Marine engineers at an English port have devised a voice-amplifying apparatus, which, it is claimed, greatly reduces the danger of accidents to large vessels approaching their docks in a busy harbor. With the new loud speaker, a dock superintendent may throw his voice over a long stretch of water to the helmsman of an incoming ship. Complete docking directions can be given in much less time than is required when whistles and bells are used.

Removing Headlamp Rims

When it becomes necessary to remove automobile headlamp rims, it will frequently be found that they are so rusted that they cannot readily be turned by hand. This is due to the fact that insoluble "grip" is obtained because of the high polish of the metal or enamel. Before applying tools, which may scratch

New Orleans. They all seem to be deeds and old papers dealing with the estate. Would it be worth while your looking them over? I thought we might as well have them at hand, in case it becomes necessary to raise any more money by mortgages."

"Certainly, let me see them!" exclaimed Fortier, who never knew what may turn up among such things. "They are in my bag, I'll get them." Alaine rose and went below.

Fortier drew at his cigar, slipping occasionally at the lime concoction which Solomon had provided. The three men of the crew furnished away at the brasses, exchanging occasional remarks among themselves in the back-country patois. The three were Cajuna, Fortier, who spoke the tongue as well as he did English, gleaned that they were discussing certain ladies of Latouche, and dismissed them from his mind.

Presently Alaine Lavergne returned, putting into his hand a legal envelope stuffed with papers and documents. She sat down with some sewing, and left Fortier to look over the papers undisturbed.

He ran through them rapidly but carefully. Nearly all proved to be documents relating to Cypressport plantation, and some of these went back two hundred years. As he shuffled them, a thin slip of paper fluttered into his lap. Glancing at it, Fortier, to his surprise, perceived that it was a receipt for board and lodging, written in curious English and dated at Port Saint in 1666.

"What's this—something valuable?" he said, smiling. He handed the slip of paper to the girl, who glanced at it in surprise. Her eyes softened.

"Oh! No—I suppose father kept that as a memento of his trip," she said. "He was in Syria and northern Egypt about fifteen years ago, on business. He was there for nearly a year, and made a good deal of money. I believe that he always intended to return some day, but of course the war broke up all his plans, and then he died the year after the war. He must have kept this because of its funny English."

Fortier glanced up, to perceive the pudgy figure of the steward behind them. Macarty touched his cap apologetically.

"Beginn' your pardon, sir an' miss," he said. "If so be as you wants tea, I'll 'ave ready, ship-shape an' Bristol fashion, whenever you rings."

"Thank you," rejoined Alaine. "It's a bit early yet. We'll wait until Mr. Macarty comes."

The girl kept the bit of paper in her fingers. Presently, as though reluctant to sever the link with her past, she slowly tore it into fragments and let the wind carry them over the rail. Fortier had resumed his survey of the documents.

"There's no tacking," he said, inwardly cursing his lack of caution. "Something that he meant to tell you about, evidently. Perhaps Philbrick will know."

Simple Portable, Adjustable Base for Farm Engines

The problem of holding down a gasoline engine, without resorting to the usual method of bolting it to the floor, was solved by the portable and adjustable base shown in the drawing. Two heavy wooden beams are bolted to the underside of the engine, their ends projecting far enough to be used as handles. Two similar beams, somewhat shorter, are permanently attached to the floor so that those on the engine will fit between them. A removable rod is then pushed through holes drilled in all four beams to lock them together and hold the engine down securely. One hole is drilled through each outside beam and a series of holes through the inner ones so that the two base members can be locked together at different points, to obtain proper lock tension. Five beams of the same type are attached near every engine-driven machine, so that, to attach the engine, it is only necessary to slide it into place and slip in the rod.

Fortier sat up, blinking. A glance at his illuminated watch told him that it was almost midnight. Had his door been opened? He was certain that he had locked it upon retiring. Had he been mistaken in the sound? As he sat there, hesitant, he heard a sudden pound of bare feet on the outside deck. After this, a sharp cry:

"George, something's up!" thought Fortier, and sprang out of bed. Throwing on his coat over his pajamas, he glanced out into the passage, then left the room and passed to the deck. There he found the electric lights switched on, and several men standing about each other. The mate glanced at him.

"That you, Mr. Wright?" asked Fortier. "What's the trouble?" "Murder," said the chief officer curtly. "I had turned over the bridge to Mr. Thompson and was going below when I stumbled on him—"

Fortier looked down at the motionless bulk of the quartermaster, Gros Michel. The man had, apparently, been stabbed in the side and lay there dead. Yet, oddly enough, as the body lay on its face, one hand was twisted about to the back of the neck.

The chief officer stooped, lifted one inanimate arm, and examined the knife that still lay gripped by the dead flesh. A startled exclamation burst from his lips, and he straightened up. "Ask Mr. Thompson to step down here," he snapped at the nearest man. Thompson had stood erect, the hand of Wright shifted to his coat pocket. Fortier caught the gleam of metal.

"What's this—something valuable?" he said, smiling. He handed the slip of paper to the girl, who glanced at it in surprise. Her eyes softened.

"Oh! No—I suppose father kept that as a memento of his trip," she said. "He was in Syria and northern Egypt about fifteen years ago, on business. The girl kept the bit of paper in her fingers. Presently, as though reluctant to sever the link with her past, she slowly tore it into fragments and let the wind carry them over the rail. Fortier had resumed his survey of the documents.

"Why, that is singular!" murmured the girl, frowning a little. "What did the man by whom he held in trust?" and Gaultin—that means the twins, Gustor and Pollux—"

Fortier saw the bulking figure of Gros Michel turn and dart a seemingly careless look at the speaker. He quietly held out his hand and took the paper.

"There's no tacking," he said, inwardly cursing his lack of caution. "Something that he meant to tell you about, evidently. Perhaps Philbrick will know."

"Oh, of course he will!" exclaimed Alaine, relieved. "Philbrick will know everything—my father always told him everything. And there's uncle now. Shall we have tea served here, Uncle David?"

Macarty came up, and Fortier put away the papers in his pocket. He attended no importance to the last scrawl, yet Macarty had some meaning. He determined to ask Philbrick about it upon reaching the island.

That evening, Alaine retired early, leaving the two men to smoke together. Fortier found his host no less charming than at their first meeting; indeed, Macarty seemed to have made himself to make a favorable impression upon the young attorney.

Fortier smiled, for he could read the other man's mind like a map. Macarty fancied that his guest was a raw youth, one impressed, who could be twisted around a steel finger without trouble. By his studied flattery, Fortier conveyed the notion that he cherished an immense respect for Macarty's opinions. And Macarty was just shallow enough to know no better.

Fortier sat up, blinking. A glance at his illuminated watch told him that it was almost midnight. Had his door been opened? He was certain that he had locked it upon retiring. Had he been mistaken in the sound? As he sat there, hesitant, he heard a sudden pound of bare feet on the outside deck. After this, a sharp cry:

GRAIN MARKET IS FIRMER

Estimates of Decrease in Yield Has Bullish Effect on Trading; Active Buying Starts Wheat Upward

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Estimates that the 1923 domestic yield of wheat should be 19,000,000 bushels less than the government continually had forecasted, had a decided bullish influence upon the wheat market today. Prices closed firm, 7-8 to 10-8 not higher, with September 98 1-8 to 98 1-4, and December $1.04 1-4 to 1.01 3-8. Other leading staples, too, scored gains—corn 1-4 to 1-1/2, oats 3-8 to 1 to 1-1/8, and provisions 10 to 42c.

Active buying and dearth of offerings started wheat prices upward soon after the opening and although reactions later took place at various times the close was near the top figures of the day.

Unfavorable crop reports from the northwest gave an advantage to bulls, and so, too, did strength in the stock market and in cotton. The chief demand, however, appeared to come from traders who were in a position to have the quickest information regarding the crop figures pointing to a material reduction in the probable domestic yield this season.

According to generally accepted private estimates the United States harvest of all wheat this season will total about 808,000,000 bushels, as compared with 862,000,000 bushels harvested last year. It was also pointed out that the harvest in Canada will hardly become general for two weeks yet and that much damage might yet take place there.

Hot winds in Kansas gave independent firmness to the corn market and so, too, did an estimate that the condition of the corn crop throughout the United States had been reduced 2.0 points in July. The condition of oats was reported to have declined 5 points during July.

Provisions ruled higher in line with grain and hogs.

Short Covering Operations and Favorable Earnings Report Bring New Life to Market Trading

Total stock sales $8,700 shares. Twenty Industrials averaged $7.00; net gain, 1.03. High, 1923, 105.38; low, 86.01. Twenty railroads averaged 77.01; net gain, 7.71. High, 1923, 90.03; low, 76.85.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—Extensive short covering operations, inspired by a sharp recovery in the price of gold and a bullish government report brought about a sharp recovery in prices in today's stock market. Most of the popular rail and industrial leaders closed at net gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points.

The opening was the strongest in several months. It indicated the presence of a large short interest which apparently had become unwieldy. While there was some buying by so-called "bargain hunters," the bulk of the business was of professional origin. Earnings of the United States Steel corporation were nearly $3,000,000 above earlier estimates, and this fact, together with an optimistic statement by Chairman E. H. Gary on the business outlook, brought about a recovery in the steel shares. United States Steel common was pushed up more than two points to 87 3/4, and the feet back to 87 1/4. Bethlehem, Crucible, Republic and Gulf States Steels closed at 3-8 to 2-8 points higher on the day.

Rubber and sugar shares developed temporary weakness, the former on reports of impending tie cuts which were later denied and the latter on further reductions in the raw and refined products. Both groups rallied, however, before the close. Both United States Rubber and Kelly-Springfield established new lows for the year.

Baldwin, Studabaker, Corn Products, American Car and Foundry, Dupont General Electric, the Panama issue, Pullman, Sears-Roebuck, Stromberg Carborator and Maxwell Motors A were among the active issues to show net gains. The decline, however, on the day. Ralls moved to higher points, but gains, as a rule, were limited to a point or two. Great Northern preferred, Rock Island common and the two classes of preferred, Northern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central were conspicuously strong.

Call money renewed at 6 per cent, but softened to 5 1/2 and thence to 5, confirming the impression that the higher rate was merely incidental to month-end settlements. Time money was somewhat easier with some of the longer maturities being arranged at 5 1/4 per cent.

Weakness of the French franc which dropped 7 1/2 points to 5.83, a new low for the year, was the feature of the irregular foreign exchange market. Belgian francs also touched a new low at 5.61 1/2. Sterling held steady around 44.65 5/8.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—The raw sugar market was easy, but trading was light and the only sale reported was a lot of 2500 bags of Santo Domingo, the highest amount to a lot of refiner at 4 cents, c. i. f., equal to about 4 7/16c cost and freight for Cuba. This transaction was reported early in the day and in the afternoon Cuba was offered at 4 1/4 cents cost and freight, equal to 36.05 for centrifugal, but found no buyers.

There was a further sharp decline in raw sugar futures today under renewed dealing by trade interests and houses with Cuban connections, prompted by the continued inactivity in the spot market, and the poor consuming demand. Final prices were 5 to 25 points lower. Closing: September, $4.08; December, $3.83; March, $3.27; May, $3.33.

COTTON FUTURES GAIN.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1 (AP)—Cotton futures scored here today, advancing $7 a bale after receipt of the government monthly report placing the condition at 67.2, while the traders were looking for an average slightly above 70.0 per cent of normal. The annual statement of General H. G. Butler of the New Orleans cotton exchange, showed what was regarded as the smallest carry-over into the new cotton year since the production of the staple in the south reached a important figure.

Oil From "Turfa."

The "turfa" of Brazil is described as a soft, brownish-yellow substance that floats on water. From it can be distilled crude oil and scrubber naphtha. The oil is pronounced a very good shale oil. When distilled the turfa yields a third of its original volume, and seems to offer a coke of good fuel value.

The Finest Line in English Poetry.

An English critic thinks that the finest line in English poetry is from Wordsworth's "Tintern Abbey": "Whose dwelling in the light of setting suns" Tennyson once said that this was "almost the grandest in the English language, giving the sense of the abiding in the transient."

PROSPERITY OF COUNTRY SEEN IN MIXED CROPS

State Agricultural Commissioner Means Optimistic Over Twin Falls Future in Diversified Production

Diversified crops are putting the Twin Falls country on a new and more permanent prosperity. According to M. A. Means, Idaho commissioner of agriculture, who, with M. L. Dean, director of the state bureau of plant industry, visited Twin Falls Wednesday and conferred last afternoon and evening meetings here of dairy products buyers of this region.

"There is occasion for optimism over the future of this country for one who sees and recognizes value of mixed crops—beans and beets, hay and grain, vegetable crops being grown on a large scale, together with an increasing number of livestock and poultry," Mr. Means declared. "The man who produces mixed crops can never be down and out and is steadily improving his property and finances, while the one crop man rarely helps himself and in the long run he robs his soil with whatever crop he may be growing, even if it is alfalfa."

After First Hand Information

Commissioner Means and Mr. Dean came to Twin Falls in the course of a trip through central and eastern Idaho, with a view, Mr. Means said, "to inquiring themselves as first hand as to the conditions throughout the state."

With the milk and cream buyers, Commissioner Means discussed methods and practices of buying with a view to insuring conformity with a regulatory state law, and insuring equitable conditions of the business from the standpoint both of the producer and purchaser.

Commenting on observations made on visits Wednesday to several orchards in the vicinity of Twin Falls, Mr. Dean pronounced the fruit crop conditions generally satisfactory outside of damage caused by hail and an insect pest known as the leaf roller.

"The commercial value of the crop would be doubled," he said, "if it were properly thinned now, and conditions for next season's orchards hit by hail would do well to remove the damaged fruit, to turn the resources of the trees toward production of better fruit that has not been damaged and toward building up vitality for subsequent seasons."

Prescribes For Pests

Referring to treatment of orchard pests which he observed here, Mr. Dean advised application immediately of the cover spray against damage by worms. The blister mite, he said, should be treated with a solution of lime and sulphur in the spring. In many places, Mr. Dean said, he observed cherry and pear trees almost defoliated by ravages of the pest called this pest, if permitted to continue, weakens and eventually kills the infested tree. It yields readily to application of essential sprays or to sprinkling with slacked lime, wood ashes or road dust.

Indications point to a production of potatoes in Idaho this season equal to that of last year, Mr. Dean declared, although reports indicate considerable reduction in the acreage. He referred to statements made by potato growers at a meeting at Idaho Falls Tuesday evening which he and Commissioner Means attended.

As a result of an opinion given by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. The opinion, which relates to amendments to the state tax laws made at the last session of the legislature, holds that the period for redemption of property on which taxes are delinquent is extended to four years from the date that property on which taxes became delinquent in 1920 is subject to redemption up to January 1, 1924.

CAPITAL TURNS ATTENTION TO IDAHO PROJECT

Murtaugh Irrigation District Enlists Interest of Financiers in Plans for Reclamation of Idaho Lands

Reclamation of approximately 40,000 acres of land situated between Hanson and Murtaugh, in accordance with the plans of the Murtaugh irrigation district, which has been authorized by a vote of resident land owners to issue its bonds in the amount of $3,500,000 for the purpose, has enlisted the interest of capital to the extent, at least, that a representative of Pacific coast financial interests has been sent here to make preliminary inquiry into the enterprise.

This was learned Wednesday when H. T. Henderson, engineer for the district, arrived in Twin Falls with the representative of these financial interests, for an interview with J. W. Porter, attorney for the district, to be followed by detailed examination of the project on the ground it is proposed to reclaim.

Success Foreshadowed.

No statement was given out Wednesday either by Mr. Henderson, the financial representative or attorney for the district. It had been announced some weeks previously, however, that Mr. Henderson and T. N. Nash, treasurer of the district organization, had been sent out by the district directorate to enlist the support of financial backers for the project, and within the past few days optimistic reports had been sent back by Henderson and Nash to the directorate.

The district's plans contemplate not only the installation of a pumping plant at Milner and construction of an irrigation system by the establishment of an electric power development plant on Snake river for operation of the pumps and to supply current for the use of settlers on the reclaimed lands.

Girls Take Over Boy Scouts' Camp

Twenty-two Twin Falls Lassies and Supervisors to Spend Outing Among Pines in Basin

The Boy Scout cabin among the pines of Shoshone basin, 12 miles south of Twin Falls, which for two weeks past has been the scene of activities for the scouts, will be taken over by the girls of the Girl Scouts of Twin Falls, under the supervision of P. Douglas Hawley, district scout executive, was turned over Wednesday by the returning scouts to a group of 25 girls and their supervisors, for an outing of about two weeks duration.

The feminine successors to the boy campers are members of the Camp Fire Girls and Bee Hive Girls of Twin Falls. Miss Myrtle Anderson, as supervisor, and Mrs. A. N. Bailey accompany the Camp Fire Girls, and Miss Ruth D. Nelson, as supervisor, for the 14 Bee Hive Girls in camp.

A program of activities and recreation that insures profitable and pleasurable days for the girl campers has been worked out.

The same truck that brought the scouts back from the camp took here Wednesday for the scene of their outing Wednesday morning.

Many Pets Travel With Auto Tourists

Dogs of High and Low Degree, Many Goats and Parrots Seen on Visit to Park

When we hear the word tourist, we are more than apt to think of human beings only, but there is where we make a great mistake. A few visits to our tourist park would convince one that men and women are not alone among the wanderers. The most numerous of the four animal life is the dog, and not only the dog, but dogs and more dogs, for both mongrel, puppy, whelp and found and curs of low degree are there. Next in number come the squirrels, to be exact, two of them. Then comes one poll parrot with his or her talking machine in working order, and last, but by no means least, is a nanny goat that furnishes fresh milk on demand. What is the use of going to the circus?

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dann of Corvallis, Wash., are going to Marshalltown, Iowa, for a visit, and then to San Diego, Cal. for the winter.

A party of 12 from Shelley, Idaho, are swinging around the circle in good style. They went from here to Ingerman and then to Wood river, Oregon, down the Salmon to Chillis and returned to divide to Lost river and so forth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Frazee of Portland, were camp visitors Monday night on their return from Yellowstone park. They say that their roads are far superior to those of Wyoming and Montana. They said that a small fee should be charged for the use of the park, as it would keep out a class known as auto tramps, but we should provide shower baths for which a small fee should be charged, but they added that there should be a time limit on the bath, otherwise a certain class would monopolize them.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Collins of Denver, are here en route for Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Morehead from Baker, Ore., are going back to the old home in Nebraska for a good long visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown and H. H. Ross of Bridgeport, Conn., are going to Los Angeles to make their home in the east to suit them. Mr. Ross has been employed in an office for a number of years, but he says that after seeing no more of the west he wants to move back to his old home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hinton are on their way home from a visit to Yellowstone park. When asked for an opinion as to the management of tourist parks, they had very little to say except that they objected to no one or allow their children to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wilmer of Long Beach, Cal., left Wednesday morning for Salt Lake and Denver. They said that our park is much better than the one at Boise.

G. W. Myers and two daughters are journeying from Elkhart, Indiana, to Los Angeles.

Mrs. William Duesley and children from Hurn, South Dakota, are going to Long Beach, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace are on their way back to their old home in Algona, Iowa. They moved to Salem, Ore., in April, but were not suited with that section. He said it was all right for a fruit grower, but was no place for a farmer.

A. Fudge and family are going back to Cincinnati, Ohio, after trying Fresno, Cal., for a while.

R. C. Demick and family have been visiting in Texas, and are on their way home to Willaw, Okla. Mr. Demick expressed himself as well pleased with his trip, and said that he had never seen such crops as we have in Twin Falls county.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherrick of Rittman, Ohio, are just wandering. They have been eight week on their way, and still going strong.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Clancy and daughter, from Sherritt, N. Y., are going to Los Angeles to try that place as a

STATE ROAD BUILDERS READY FOR WORK HERE

Department Makes Preparations to Begin Completion of Gap in Oregon Trail

Preparation is being made by the state highway department for beginning construction of gravelled highway to complete the gap between Hanson and Murtaugh on the Oregon Trail, as soon as negotiations for disposal of the bonds of the Murtaugh highway district are completed, it was stated Wednesday evening by A. N. Ashline of the state highway staff, in Twin Falls Wednesday evening.

Construction of the road, for which gravel will be used, will be completed in from four to five months after work is begun, Mr. Ashline said, and the completed road will be open for travel in the spring, if the financial negotiations now pending are successful. # SEES INDUSTRY GETTING ON MORE STABLE BASIS

Slight Recession from Peak Activity of Spring Seen by C. E. Wright on Eastern Buying Trip

Industry in the east continues active with only slight diminution from the peak reached last spring, according to C. E. Wright of W. H. Wright and Sons, who returned Wednesday from several weeks' buying trip to New York and Chicago. There is, however, little change in the general situation, Mr. Wright said, and such slackening of activity as may be perceived is generally attributed to suspension of building operations incident to disputes of building laborers' wage scales.

Merchandise prices during the summer months have become better stabilized and prospects are that autumn will see slight if any advances. "We are looking forward to the best fall business we have enjoyed since opening our store here three years ago," Mr. Wright said.

Mr. Wright was joined at Ogden on his return by Mrs. Wright and children, who have been visiting relatives there.
