ADD NEW LINK IN U. S. AIR MAIL SERVICE

Eight Big Army Planes to Be Tested for Use in Proposed 28-Hour Schedule to Start on August 21

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Eight big army airplanes, especially built for the postmaster general's department, are being shipped from eastern factories to Chicago and Cheyenne for the over-night trip in a series of tests of transcontinental, all-weather, 28-hour air service, to start August 21.

Orders that the proposed service be rigidly fixed by August 21 were received here today by J. E. Whitbeck, superintendent of the eastern division, all mail service, from Colonel Paul Henderson, chief of the postmaster general's staff at Washington.

Approximately 60 machines will be used. All night flying will be done between Chicago and Cheyenne, for which service the eight new machines were specially constructed.

The test schedule will provide 28 hours of actual flying time between oceans, with 20-minute stops at Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City and Reno.

The new night machines are single-seater biplanes fitted to carry in sustained flight 500 pounds of mail. While they have a normal speed of 100 miles under way, they can maintain headway and land at 40 to 45 miles an hour.

A path of beacon lights has been laid along the flight route between Chicago and Cheyenne with long-range lighthouses interspersed at regular distances to guard the pilot through darkness, fog and storms, Superintendent Whitbeck said.

Bandit Ends Life to Escape Capture

Two Men Thwarted in Attempt to Loot California Bank; One is Captured

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Thwarted in an attempt to loot the bank of San Gabriel, near here, after shooting the cashier, two bandits were pursued today by a posse of citizens. One was captured. The other committed suicide when he was cornered, the posse reported.

One of the bandits fired a revolver at Clay Killian, the cashier, as he sat in his cage. Killian was struck in the shoulder. Other bullets narrowly missed William B. See, president of the bank, and Miss Ferida Monnar, bookkeeper. The bandits ran out when other employes made a rush for them.

The pursuers were joined by other San Gabriel citizens and caught up with the bandits in a wash. A pistol fight was on up to the moment the bandits were shot in surrender. Another shot was heard and the other man was found dead with a bullet from his own weapon in his head. The other bandit gave his name as Jose Sibus of Los Angeles.

ASK FEDERAL OFFICERS TO COMBAT AGITATORS

Reports to U. S. Marshal's Office Indicate Radical Element Making Trouble in Montana

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 9 (AP)—Assistance was asked of the United States marshal's office in the policing of Roosevelt county by Dan Noble, county agent, today. Noble, in a telegram which stated that labor agitators were making trouble in the harvest fields.

Noble was informed that federal assistance could not be given unless the agitators get out of the control of state authorities.

Governor Joseph M. Dixon had received no word of the difficulty in Roosevelt county up to a late hour today. Local authorities were not advised of the nature of the trouble.

Noble is said to be an officer of the militia as well as county agent.

IDAHO WEATHER Friday: Fair.

American Investors Suffer Severe Loss by Mark's Decline

OMAHA, Aug. 9 (AP)—Investors in German marks for amounts ranging from a few dollars to as much, in one instance, as $200,000, in Omaha alone, have lost approximately $1,000,000 as the result of the collapse of that currency, according to local bankers.

Local bankers are generally agreed that Germany has no alternative except to place her financial status on a gold basis and predict that future German money masses will be guaranteed by actual deposits of gold bullion, which the government will hold in trust.

BROWNING'S TO FACE CHARGES

Judge Holds Alleged Slayers Under Bonds to Trial for First Degree Murder

SALT LAKE, Aug. 9 (AP)—Overruling the defense motion to annul charges of murder against Marrius A. Browning and John J. Browning, Jr., alleged slayers of Benjamin F. Dalany at his home here last April 9, District Judge G. A. Iverson today declared that the two defendants must stand trial for first degree murder. The Brownings who are held under $25,000 bonds each, will appear in the district court Saturday for pleading.

Judge Iverson's decision was given today after three weeks' deliberation on the motion to quash the proceedings, after the defendants had been bound over to the district court by City Judge Noel E. Pratt on charges of second degree murder. At their preliminary hearing, Judge Pratt had ruled there was nothing in the evidence presented to him to warrant charges of the first degree.

District Attorney E. A. Rogers was upheld by Judge Iverson's decision to delay in his action of filing new more serious charges.

FOREIGN NATIONS RENEW RELATIONS WITH U. S.

Diplomatic Ties Broken by Death of Harding Are Bridged Officially by All Representatives

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The ranking officials of all the foreign embassies and legations here, instead of being accredited merely to the American government, are empowered technically to deal with the president in person, called on President Coolidge today and formally renewed relations broken by the death of President Harding.

Several countries have announced the purpose to close for two hours to the entire afternoon.

Request to Twin Falls business houses to close for a time Friday as a memorial to the late President was made in a statement by Shad L. Hodgkin, Twin Falls mayor. "I think it

SUSPENSION OF BUSINESS TO MARK MEMORIAL HERE Twin Falls will pay tribute to the memory of the late President Harding, for whom funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at his home in Marion, Ohio, by suspension of business activities for greater or less periods of time Friday afternoon. A summary of the arrangements in this respect follows: Postoffice closes all day. County offices close at 12 noon. City offices close at 12 noon. All banks close at 12 noon. Business houses generally will be closed during that hour.

The agreement reached Thursday as to the hour to be dedicated to the memorial supersedes a prior arrangement announced Wednesday evening whereby the hour from noon to 1 o'clock would have been set apart for this purpose.

True Character of Warren Harding Reflected in His Newspaper Creed

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 9 (AP)—Warren G. Harding's newspaper creed, posted upon the wall of the editorial room of his newspaper, the Marion Star, warns reporters and editors, "Be truthful, be fair, and, above all, be clean."

Following is the text of the creed: "Remember, there are two sides to every question; get both. "Be truthful. "Get the facts. Mistakes are inevitable, but strive for accuracy. I would rather have one story exactly right than a hundred half wrong. "Be decent. Be fair. Be generous. "Boast—don't knock. There's good in everybody. Bring out the good in everybody, and never needlessly hurt the feelings of anybody. "In reporting political gatherings,

BELIEVE COOLIDGE WILL ENFORCE VOLSTEAD LAW

Impression Given that New Executive Will Carry Out Administration's Policies on Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Calls on President Coolidge today gained the impression he was determined to carry out the prohibition enforcement policies of the Harding administration. Among those who discussed the question with the new executive was Prohibition Commissioner Hayes.

RABBI AND SON NABBED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Rabbi Jacob Tovi and his son, Maurice, were arrested by federal agents today on charge of violation of the Volstead act and placed in the county jail in default of $25,000 bail each.

The rabbi recently caused the arrest of E. T. Burch and L. H. Miller, prohibition agents, alleging they had attempted to extort $350 from him.

LONG TRIP IS ENDED AT MARION

Body of Warren G. Harding Arrives at Ohio City to Rest for Brief Space Before Interment

MARION, O., Aug. 9 (AP)—A one-time country editor came back today to sleep for a night again under his father's roof in Marion, Ohio, with his family, the grief of the nation, of the world, that he was dead.

Warren Harding was back again among his neighbors folk of his home town. The brief day of his greatness was but a memory treasured by the nation. His life work was done; the slowness of his high place under the heavy folk who had half back when last he came among them, awed by the majesty "that doth budge a King" now came eagerly to look that last on his face, to be grateful with the calm of eternity.

DISCOUNTS PLAN TO AID FARMERS

Chicago Man Fails to See Feasibility of Keeping Wheat Off the Market

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—The plan advanced by the American Farm Bureau Federation to store 200,000,000 bushels of wheat on the farms in the hope of raising prices, was declared today to be unsound, impractical and of no permanent benefit to the farmer by John J. Stream, president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Farmers in distress are not those with strong facilities, nor are they financially able to construct such containers, Mr. Stream said. If storage space was available and if farmers were a unit in following the plan, it would still be far from sound, he added.

"Keeping wheat off the market never has and never will change the supply and demand status," he asserted, and he added to the conclusion that has resulted from agitation and ridiculous public pronouncements by ill-advised politicians. We must get off the surplus if it is to be of any use. It would have to compete with the new crop."

WHERE THE HEARTS OF AMERICA ARE TURNED TODAY

Ohio City Thronged With Visitors As Last Hour of Grief Draws Near

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 9 (AP)—Countless numbers of floral tributes reached the Harding home during the day. They were sent by people in every walk of life and from nearly every country in the world. Their value was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

The funeral train brought two full carloads of flowers, and other carloads arrived by express on another train. Other offerings continued to arrive during the day and throughout the night in great profusion.

Flowers now filled every downstairs room and corner of the Harding home. It was not long before they were banked all over the front lawn. As evening approached they filled the side and back yards and indications were that tomorrow the yards of several neighbors would be needed to hold the floral tributes.

One of the largest and most beautiful of the floral pieces was sent by Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison, Harve S. Firestone and Bishop William F. Anderson of the Methodist church, members of a camping party of which Mr. Harding was a member last summer. This piece was placed in the room with the casket.

George W. Van Fleet, general manager of the Marion Star, which was owned and published for years by Mr. Harding, arrived from Washington on the funeral train on the afternoon, went to the Harding home with the body and then returned to the Star office where he made up the regular afternoon edition of the paper. He was associated with Mr. Harding as editor of the Star for many years.

Yards of the four railroads entering Marion were filled to overflowing with floral tributes and special trains bringing distinguished mourners to the city. More special are due tomorrow from Washington, bringing Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and other high government officials.

The Superba, the private car in which the body of the late Harding was brought back from San Francisco, will probably be retired from active service, it became known today. According to stories going, the rounds of the railroad and special trains will be taken to Washington with the funeral train party, but will be taken to Mansfield and then to Chicago over the Pennsylvania railroad line.

One of the scenes of greatest interest in Marion today was the private office of Mr. Harding in the editorial building of the Star. All day long visitors thronged the office, eager to see the draped chair and desk at which Mr. Harding did his editorial work.

During the afternoon and evening an average of 35 persons a minute passed through the front room of the Harding home to view the body of the dead President. The service was held at 10 o'clock tonight, approximately 17,000 people had viewed the body.

WIDOW REMAINS BRAVE AS FINAL DAY APPROACHES

Mrs. Harding Returns to Home Folks with Same Heroic Calmness to Await Burial of Late President

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 9 (AP)—Florence King Harding was alone tonight with her dead. She awaited bravely and calmly the coming of tomorrow when she would be taken from her and placed in the nation's newest shrine, behind locked iron gates of an unpretentious receiving vault in the Marion cemetery.

The return from Washington to her grief-stricken companions, her friends and most intimate associates, failed to weaken her resolute determination to keep strength to the end. To the many who came to cheer and ease her burden of sorrow, Mrs. Harding spoke her thanks, but firmly declined to pass on to them even the smallest of the troubles were hers.

Even to those of her companions who traveled on the general train from San Francisco to Washington and continued the journey to the ending here today, she bravely would let it be known that she was in no danger of a collapse and there was no reason for them to worry about her. This statement but increased the admiration expressed by her friends, who in recognition of its truthfulness, stood quietly aside, ready to aid, but lacking the opportunity.

Last to Leave Train. Mrs. Harding was the last to step from the funeral car when the train arrived in the Marion station.

The casket already had been transferred to the hearse. The eight cabinet officers and other Washington officials had taken their places on the platform. The remaining members of the train, which accompanied the late president to Alaska and had been requested by Mrs. Harding to come to Marion, also had left the coaches and made their way to assigned seats in the procession.

Then Mrs. Harding came down the car steps and Marion saw her. She was not the smiling and cheerful woman Marion had grown to know so well in the last several years. Her black gown, heavy veil of impenetrable weave and creped borders, her slow step and general demeanor told the story of her visit. It was read instantly and sympathetically by the waiting throng.

George Christian, Jr., secretary to the late President Harding, stopped to her side, and together they walked to the automobile and were taken slowly to the home of George T. Harding, Sr., residing in the city. There she stopped to the curb. Mr. Christian offered his arm and together they entered the modest little home, just as the casket was placed in position in the parlor.

Recalls Husband's Career. To the Marion friends who visited her during the day, Mrs. Harding conversed but little on the subjects concerning herself and her future plans. She preferred to talk about "Warren," and how he had devoted himself to public duty in the 20 years past, mentioning at frequent intervals some of his achievements during that period, and something of his ambitions for the future.

Beyond her decision to make Marion her residence after her return to Washington and to spend most of her time during the next year or two at the home of her brother, Clifford B. King, Mrs. Harding gave her visitors no definite ideas of her future plans. She was said to have expressed a desire to travel, to go to Europe on a tour, but she realizes that such a proposal would meet with opposition upon the part of her medical advisers and for that reason must be abandoned.

Referring to the residence where she and the late president lived before they went to Washington to occupy the White House, Mrs. Harding told her callers that she would "keep her bargain" with those who had leased the property, and since the lease did not expire for more than a year, she could live very happily during that time at her brother's home.

Business Change. Because of the changes made today in the plans for tomorrow's procession to the cemetery was said to have been made at the personal request of Mrs. Harding. As a result, the completion of the Marion Daily Star will march in the procession, taking their place just behind the honorary pallbearers, immediately in the rear of the casket. It was in the office of the Marion Star, then published by the late president, that Mrs. Harding learned the newspaper business. She was at that time, and worked with her husband in that capacity for several years following their marriage.

FEW MISHAPS RECORDED IN NORTH IDAHO MINES

KELLOGG, Idaho, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Mines of the Coeur d'Alene district held the record for scarcity of accidents during the past year, considering the number of men employed, according to comparisons made from records filed in the office of the industrial record board.

The records show that with 6300 men employed there were but 13 fatal accidents during the year. Two of them were surface accidents, and 11 were underground fatalities of the district. In the past three years the Tucker Hill and Sullivan, which is the largest lead mine in the world, has not had a single fatal accident, either above or below ground, mine officials claim.

PLAYERS LEAVE FOR GAMES WITH EMMETT CHAMPS

Twin Falls Club to Try and Redeem Defeat of Last Week with Double Victory Against Emmett

Twin Falls baseball team will leave at noon today for a two game series with the Emmett team, the first game to be played Saturday afternoon and the second Sunday.

After the miserable showing made by the locals last Sunday against the champion Emmett team the Twin Falls boys have been working hard all week, the result being that the old time pep is back, and the team that leaves this afternoon will be far different from the one that lost to Emmett 11 to 2.

Pete Papworth, the Salt Lake pitcher, will make the trip with the Twin Falls boys, arriving here on the noon train today, and will be the main attraction overland with the rest of the team.

With Papworth comes "Red" Spence, one of the best third basemen in the business. "Red" will fill the hole at third and round out the infield in neat fashion.

"Doc" Campbell, now located with Dr. McAttee, takes his turn at chasing them in left field. "Doc" had three years in the outfield with the University of Illinois, which means that he is a good enough company with the local ball tossers.

Whitely's thumb is still in a bandage, and it is doubtful whether the Twin Falls captain will be able to get into harness, but Bob will make the trip just the same as there isn't a header left on the team, and Bob's advice is always valuable.

Laval Jarman will be stationed at first, with Jim Scully at second. Sib Kluffman will be at short, and Spence will take care of the hot ones that come along to third base.

With Campbell in left, Ostrander in center and Jimmie Hinton in right, the team lines up in A-1 shape. Phil Fix will start the opening Sunday against the Emmettites and Harry Bille will do the rest of the games, although Hoels Livville will be right there ready to don the mask in case of unforeseen accidents.

With the above lineup, Emmett will face a much different team from that which lost to them a week ago, and local fans are of the opinion that Twin Falls will win the Saturday game. If such be the case, then they are in a fine way to win the final game of the series.

The team will start from Macaulay's at 1:15 today and all members of the club are requested to be there on time.

Directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, at a meeting here Thursday afternoon, instructed E. R. Clyde Baldwin, watermaster, and the state commissioner of reclamation, affecting the flow of a tributary to Snake river in its upper reaches.

In this action a preliminary injunction has been obtained to restrain the watermaster and reclamation commissioner from interfering with the use by the irrigation company an accumulated individuals, from using approximately 2000 inches of water in Scott's slough.

The court order already issued in the case, Judge Botwell advised, will stand unless it is overturned by action on the part of interested parties among whom would be the water-owners of the Twin Falls North and South Side projects, Mizoloka project and Aberdeen-Springfield project.

PURE-BRED STOCK AT THE FAIR

"We are offering premiums on purebred stock only this year," said Secretary J. M. Market to a representative of The News. "Last year and for several years past we have given premiums for grade horses, but times have changed and the character of our show has changed with it," said the secretary.

"The practice of having a farmers' horse day at the fair was too local in its character and was a heritage from the days when an annual field day was held," said the secretary. "However, there will be a good showing of pure-breds as exhibitors express themselves desirous of showing their splendid animals. Such horses as McMaster, Young, Boone, Miller and Chamberlain are getting ready to fill the barns with some of the best stallions and brood mares in the intermountain country. The special premiums awarded by the Percheron society have arrived. Wesley Young of Filer is superintendent of this department.

In a moment, this conviction became deeply and ineradicably imprinted upon Wrexham's mind. It was a vague notion, but it fitted well with his vaguely formulated ideas of an over-riding providence and an offended Jehovah.

"A rum go and no mistake!" he repeated again, slowly, a trifle awed. He remembered the letter, and glanced over the writing. It made no reference to the newspaper clipping. There was, however, a postscript: "P. S. I hear that the chink of Macassar, Chuen Ying, pulled up stakes two or three years ago and vanished."

"They say he went to the States, and I hear he was no chink at all, but a blooded Manchu. If you meet him over there, give him my regards—'shook you!"

Chuen Ying! For a moment Wrexham puzzled, before he remembered that burned and looted junk under Palembang Island. Then he laughed. "If this ain't my lucky day," he reflected, "I'm comin' out all right, I tell you. Now, I'd better buy some stout and get back home. No stink to waste flouting the schooner and irragin' that cursed rice-crop. Warn me to irrigate, will you? I'll do it, blast your eyes!"

A furious exultation was upon him for the rest of that day. He could scarcely sit quiet while the launch chugged back home through the bay. Immediately he reached the plantation, Wrexham went aboard the schooner, dived up the steeply inclined deck, and vanished below. He was busied there, alone, until sunset. Then he emerged into sight, yawning and stretched himself, and halted the shore. A negro in a canoe fetched him a bamboo.

"Leave this canoe with a paddle in it," said Wrexham. "I want to use it tonight, but I'll do my own paddling."

Wrexham, in fact, was soaking wet to the waist, and stained with mud. He glanced down at himself, and laughed.

Captain Wrexham sat down. Except for the passing gaff of his face, he appeared quite calm.

"Well," he asked quietly. "You know, of course, that I have reasons for wanting to see you," said Ah Lee in a conversational tone.

"Of course," the other smiled gently. "I have tried several times to reach you, but failed. Why did you burn my junk, back there at Palembang?"

"This was very unfortunate. It cost me a ship and a rich cargo—a very rich cargo."

"Eh? Then you know what's going on here?" Ah Lee smiled. It was a smile of genuine amusement; a smile that ended in a richly muffled laugh.

TWO YOUNG MEN MOST ANSWER TO THEFT CHARGES

Fred Hoops and Clayton Good-year, Accused, in Sensational Case, of Cattle Stealing, Are Held Under Bond

Fred Hoops, 23, and Clayton Good-year, 24, were held under continuing bond of $1500 each, to answer in district court to grand jury charges involving alleged theft of cattle, at the conclusion of a preliminary examination Thursday before Probate Judge O. P. Davall.

Charges against William Hoops, father of Fred Hoops, and Probate clerk of the Hollister district, now engaged in extensive highway construction operations in Nevada, who had been arrested in connection with the alleged theft, were dismissed by the court at the close of the hearing.

Sensational Arrest. The arrest of Fred Hoops and Good-year, according to statements from the sheriff's office, was effected Tuesday night when a search of the automobile on horseback intercepted them in a car on a road in the Cottonwood butte region, about 18 miles south of Piler.

National features of the case served to attract one of the largest audiences ever assembled at a preliminary examination here when the case was called at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the probate court room. In order to accommodate the crowd the examination was removed to the larger district court room.

No testimony was introduced by Shad L. Hodgins and Frank L. Stephan, appearing as defense counsel, but motions were offered after the state had rested its case by Attorney J. W. Taylor, charging against all three of the accused men. The motions were denied except as to William Hoops.

Testimony of G. B. Janks, Twin Falls butcher, who is conducting with Fred Hoops and Clayton Good-year, a meat cutter in his employ, and of E. W. McIntire and J. P. Larsen, owners of two of the saloons which Hoops had been stealer, was offered by the state.

Powell told of having visited the Hoops ranch to inspect the cattle which were being sold by McIntire and Janks, and which, subsequent testimony showed, were delivered in the absence of William Hoops in Nevada, by Fred Hoops and Clayton Good-year, which Janks contracted to buy from William Hoops. Janks delivered in two bunches, Powell testified, six weeks' time intervening, but containing no calves. The last bunch delivered contained the animals which, it is alleged by the state, had been stolen, two of which, according to Powell, were sold Thursday, were the property of McIntire and Larsen.

Janks testified as to his payment for the cattle received under the deal with William Hoops, and that he was made partly in trade and partly in cash, separate checks being issued to William Hoops, Fred Hoops and Good-year. Testimony of similar effect was given by Mrs. Janks.

Phillip Fix, of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company, testified as to the disposition of the cash checks. Powell said he received in cash. Fred Hoops received $80 in cash and the balance was credited to the account of William Hoops, as was the check issued to the older Hoops.

B. C. Beach, on Return from New York, Tells of Sorrowing Groups Along Route of Funeral Train

Groups of sorrowing people clustered at every highway crossing along the route through Illinois of the funeral train bearing the body of the late President Harding, being the national capital attitude to the common grief over the tragic passing of the chief executive, according to B. C. Beach of the Idaho Deputes, who passed the funeral train on his return from New York to Twin Falls, at Sterling, Illinois.

The national metropolis seemed dazed and stunned by the word of the death of the president, Mr. Beach said. At the same time, he added, confidence seemed generally there that Calvin Coolidge, as the new executive, would prove an able man for the place.

In a number of quarters of New York Beach said that he has never purchased a larger stock for fall demand than he had this year.

CIRCUS PEOPLE SHARE SORROW

Show's Plans in Connection with Nation's Mourning Hour Still Uncertain

There was no representative of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus in Twin Falls Thursday evening who was qualified to answer questions arising here as to the course to be taken by the circus when it comes here Friday, in relation to the nation-wide memorial for the late President Harding, who will be laid to rest at the last resting place that afternoon.

Only one representative of the circus was on the ground. He was A. P. Hoffman, who has duty to do in procuring feed for the horses and animals in the menagerie carried by the show. "Of course, I cannot say what the plans of the management are with respect to the memorial observance," Hoffman said. "Our manager is in Pocatello tonight with the show, and he alone could answer that question. But I will say that we of the circus are all good Americans, and our sorrow over the death of the president is like that of all good American citizens."
