

PREDICTS HUGE INTERNATIONAL AIRCRAFT LINE

British General Sees Possibility of Linking Great Nations Soon by Intricate Air Systems.

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP)—A most interesting and instructive paper was read before the International Air congress recently in session in London, by Brigadier General F. H. Williamson, director of postal services of the British government.

General Williamson predicted that the United States, Canada, the West Indies and other parts of the North American continent would soon be linked up by air with Great Britain. Connecting air lines would also run to Egypt, India, the Straits Settlements, Australia, New Zealand and Africa. "It is not hard to predict," said he, "that the next generation will see its railways and its steamships supplemented by a complete system of communication by air."

General Williamson said the Cairo-Bagdad air mail service now in operation, saved 20 days over the old land route which ran via Bombay, Karachi and the Persian gulf. The mail planes covered the 850 miles in a single day.

Discussing the future of mail transport by air, the speaker said that the conveyance of the mails by air was an unlikely development unless and until there is a very marked change in the cost of air transport, and in the financial limitations under which postal services are compelled to work. Limitations which require some sort of proportion between the postage charged and the cost of transport.

"Moreover," the general added, "an essential condition of mail service is regularity under all conditions, in all weathers, and at all times of the year. It is commonly assumed that if a method of transporting mails can be devised which is considerable more rapid, even if more expensive, than anything already in existence, there is an immediate public demand that it be used for the carriage of mails. There is, of course, some truth in this; but the experience of the postoffice indicates that the importance attached to the mere speed of mail communication can easily be exaggerated.

"It is probable, therefore, that for a long time to come air mails must be justified to 'urgent correspondence' on which a special fee is charged, and that such correspondence will only be a relatively small fraction of the total mail. The actual volume of air mail carried will depend on three factors, regularity, gain of time, and cost of conveyance; that is, exactly the same conditions as those of which the development of passenger and goods traffic will depend, and to which the technical development of commercial aviation must be directed."

FOREST FIRE IS RAGING

Rangers Report California Blaze Partly Under Control but Still Burning on Eight-Mile Front.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Aug. 11 (AP)—Forest rangers today report that the fire in Santa Barbara forest has been brought under control on the southern side but is swooping westward along an eight-mile front. The flames were in the big timber of Cahuilla creek district and progressed more slowly although the wind is still heavy. The forest officials are hopeful that the blaze may be checked when Cahuilla creek is reached unless the wind should increase. More than 40,000 acres or 70 square miles have been converted into a blackened waste by the flames. The strip burned is 20 miles long.

Fifteen Years Ago in Twin Falls

From The News Files, Aug. 14, 1908

Mr. and Mrs. George Darrow are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Wednesday morning, August 12.

While fishing below Shoshone falls Gus Johnson found the remains of a son of a son on Wednesday morning, August 12, bearing No. 2837. The stock had rotted away and the barrel was almost rusted in half, but the brass fittings of the weapon were intact. The rifle had evidently lain on the rocks for many years. Its number would indicate that it was one of the first manufactured.

M. P. Provost and C. C. McAllister have purchased the interest of Frank Wilson in the firm of H. A. Stroud & Co., which will hereafter be known as Stroud, Provost & Co. Mr. McAllister has been here for some time and is well and favorably known. Mr. Wilson was cashier of the First National bank of Grand Encampment, Wyo., and is a young man of splendid business ability and pleasing personality.

Oscar Strobeck, a builder and contractor, who recently arrived from Nebraska, received a letter this week addressed to Twin Falls, Neb. The letter was in care of Carl Lind and the address was unnoticed at first. That it reached its destination in evidence that every one about Twin Falls and that there is only one Twin Falls on the map.

Petitions are out for the nomination of W. S. Starr of Kimberly for state senator, and J. A. Waters for representative at the republican primary election.

The lands under the King's Hill Irrigation and Power company's canal system will be opened for entry under the provisions of the Carey act at King Hill, Idaho, on October 14. The system covers 14,000 acres of choice fruit land located on the south side of Snake river to the west of the Twin Falls tract. It will be watered from the Malad river, the water to be carried across the Snake river by means of a gigantic siphon, one of the most spectacular engineering feats in the west.

The Great Shoshoni and Twin Falls Water Power company has completed its line to Filer, the gap between the high line and Orchard having been filled last week. The copper is up to the Salmon dam and it is only a question of a few days before the current will be turned on.

WIDOW TO STAY IN WASHINGTON

Mrs. Harding Clears Out Effects of Late President from Capitol Rooms.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Harding who returned to Washington this morning from Marion, spent the entire afternoon supervising the clearing out of the effects of the late president from his office in the executive building. Secretary Rudolph Forster, executive clerk, and others of the White House staff were called in to assist, and a mass of material, consisting chiefly of correspondence and memoranda, was taken away.

It is Mrs. Harding's present purpose to remain in the White House at least until Monday, after which time she may take up a temporary residence here, either at the home of Mr. Christian or at other friends.

Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the president, greeted her at the White House on her arrival from Marion and remained with her for a brief time.

Miss Ruth Powderly, one of the nurses who attended President Harding during his fatal illness, is at the White House with Mrs. Harding.

URGE CIVILIAN AVIATION

St. Louis Air Club Plans Events of Interest to Stimulate Flying; Offer Prizes and Trophies.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11 (AP)—Elaborate plans to stimulate commercial aviation among civilians are being made by the St. Louis Air Board and Flying club, in connection with the international air races to be held here October 1, 2 and 3.

Three of the events will be open to civilians only, although they may enter two of the others. Boy manufacturers of model airplanes propelled by only a rubber band have not been forgotten in the list of events. The Mulvihill trophy and $200 in prizes are offered to the member of the Junior Flying league whose home made airplane model flies the farthest in a total of three trials. The only motive power will be that derived from the use of rubber bands.

Strong Force of Police Guards Departing Diplomat for Protection Against Fanatical Attacks.

TOKIO, Aug. 11 (AP)—A. A. Joffe, Russian soviet envoy, who has been in Japan several months carrying on informal conversations as a possible basis for formal negotiations looking toward the resumption of diplomatic relations between Japan and Russia, left tonight for Moscow to make a report.

Baron Goto, at whose instance Joffe came to Japan, and officials of the foreign office entertained the envoy on the eve of his departure and accompanied him to the station. A strong force of police guarded the Russian, who had not previously appeared in public because of ill health and because of his fear of fanaticism.

Sitka Populations Pays Last Respects to Dead Executive at Spot Where His Ancestry Was Given.

SITKA, Alaska, Aug. 11 (AP)—Within a few feet of the water of the Pacific ocean at high tide, Sitka yesterday paid last tribute to the late President Harding, where not three weeks before he had said farewell to Alaska after his visit to the territory. Led by combined bands, the entire population, including natives, marched to the native Presbyterian church which the president attended during his stop here.

Favorite hymns of Mr. Harding were sung and his new was draped in black and inscribed with a brass plate commemorating the presidential visit. It was then turned over to the city to attend public worship for the rest time.

SCIENTISTS TO VIEW ECLIPSE

Data on Meteorological Phenomena to Be Obtained at California Meeting.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 11 (AP)—Scientists of the Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton, near here, headed by Professor W. H. Wright, will view the September eclipse of the sun and procure scientific data in this connection from the La Grana valley, 55 miles southeast of Eureka, in Lower California. It was announced today by Dr. R. G. Aitken, assistant director of the observatory.

Professor Wright left this week to make arrangements for the expedition, and will be followed, shortly by other members of the university.

Study of the coronas of the sun and the sky in its vicinity is the object of the expedition, Dr. Aitken explained. The expedition is made possible, he said, by the generosity of W. H. Crocker, who financed the recent eclipse expedition from Lick observatory to Australia to measure data in connection with Einstein's theory of relativity. Dr. Campbell, who headed this expedition, reported that the observations made tend to conclusively confirm Einstein's theory that another expedition for the same purpose was unnecessary.

FRUIT GROWERS MOVING TOWARD CO-OPERATION

Steps Toward Perfecting Organization Are Taken After Speaker Urges Unity Among Orchard Owners.

Steps toward perfecting the organization of the Twin Falls Horticultural society were taken last night at about 25 fruit growers in Parish hall here Saturday evening, when C. F. Pherson, George F. Sprague were elected president and secretary respectively, and a committee, headed by these officers, was named to suggest plans for perfecting the organization on a stable basis and including a majority of the orchard owners of this region.

The keynote of the occasion was struck in an address by Pherson, who is the early days of the Twin Falls project served as agricultural advisor in the first settlers, and who has since been in the orchard business in southern California. Mr. Pherson made a telling argument for cooperation on the part of orchard men.

"It is necessary," he said, "that fruit growers should know their trees and cooperate in the beginning with the buyers and the friends and the families of those trees, and it is necessary, finally, for fruit growing to get together on a basis of 'one for all and all for one' and take their proper position among the industrial forces in the business and industrial world today."

Challenges Mental Attitude. Of recent years, the speaker declared, a change has come over the mental attitude of producers of this region. In business, he said, they have been implanted consciously or unconsciously, a feeling of injury and a consequent sense of inferiority.

"I have seen many feel that they are not capable of standing on their own feet and matching their intellects with the minds of other men," he said. "I have seen many 'producers have become a prey for unscrupulous politicians and radicals and rods of every description. Whether it be in the part of producers that lead to this situation."

Committee Named. Following the election of the chairman and secretary it was moved after some discussion, that the committee be named to work out plans for perfecting the organization. The motion provided that the officers just elected should be the committee.

John W. Hardin, Kimberly, T. George Hialop, A. K. Euel, J. E. Swelley, Twin Falls, and Joe Day, Eden, were named as the committee.

Great Future Seen For Twin Falls Country by Investigators in 1912

Report to San Francisco Chamber of Commerce Made Eleven Years Ago in Connection with Proposed Railroad Construction Contains Interesting Information in Light of Present Conditions.

Eleven years ago—August 12, 1912, Controller Friedlander of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, completed and filed with the chamber a report upon the resources of the Twin Falls country based upon personal observation and investigation through this section, then just completed.

Controller Friedlander's visit to the Twin Falls country was made upon the solicitation of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and was accompanied by Robert M. McCullum as representative of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

In an effort to induce investment on the part of the people of Oakland and San Francisco in the construction of a railroad from Twin Falls to Wells, these two Twin Falls men went to the coast and presented to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce a report referred to in the News by Mr. Alken from his file. It is offered eleven years after its completion as food for study in the light of the relation of the subject matter to conditions as they exist today.

San Francisco, Aug. 12, 1912. Mr. M. H. Robbins, Jr., President San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco, Cal. Dear Sir:

Pursuant to instructions I proceeded on the evening of August 8, 1912, to Twin Falls, Idaho, for the purpose of investigating the new irrigated districts in that region. I found a large and fertile area of land, with a variety of staple crops, and with a great future before it. The population that these irrigated lands will support must be very large and will require a great amount of water.

San Francisco should be able to command a large part of this trade, both in and out. On the southern border of the state of Idaho, about equidistant from the east and west borders of the state are the counties of Twin Falls, Cassia and Lincoln. The Snake river basin, which is the heart of the irrigated area, has been of recent years a most remarkable development of irrigated lands. On the eastern line of the area is located the Minidoka project, which is a great irrigation project, where 100,000 acres have been put under water. Adjoining this project, down stream to the west are the North Side Twin Falls project, comprising 212,000 acres. Surrounding these projects are the Salmon tract of 90,000 acres, the Oakley tract of 90,000 acres, the King Hill tract of 100,000 acres, the King Hill tract of 20,000 acres, and the West End Twin Falls tract of 30,000 acres, making a total of 522,000 acres. Of this acreage, 200,000 acres are now farmed. The principal crops are alfalfa and red clover, wheat and other grains, potatoes, and fruits usual to a temperate climate.

Benefits of Caray Act. The land has all been put under water under what is known as the Caray act, the effect of which has been most beneficial, the land, which was of the usual sagebrush type, had not been considered of sufficient value to be sold by the state. The Caray act, by corporation. Under the Caray act, 3,000,000 acres of these lands were withdrawn from entry and were segregated to the state of Idaho, to be sold by the state engineer, plus 50 cents per acre for the land, which latter 50 cents goes to the state of Idaho. These projects are sold for $25 to $45 per acre, which includes permanent and adequate water rights. The settler must put his land to beneficial use within five years time.

Little Leveling Needed. But a limited percentage of the land is leveled, which is cleared of the sagebrush and lateral built, which costs are remarkably light, and put into crop it is worth $100 an acre. The land is very fertile and can easily produce a yield of from 50 to 60 bushels of wheat per acre are not uncommon, the average being 35 bushels; other grains in like ratio. The yield of potatoes averages 200 bushels to the acre. Alfalfa yields about five tons to the acre for the first cutting; the limit of cuttings in this locality. Large herds of cattle and sheep graze in the summer on the ranges east and west of these projects and are brought to the first fields for shelter and feeding during the winter season. The farmers are obtaining $4 to $5 per ton for hay loose in stack in their fields.

way. A great many of their staples are purchased in eastern markets, and are shipped to the coast at Salt Lake City. From the district are shipped a great number of cattle and sheep, which could be raised in this country, and an outlet to foreign countries.

The Oregon Short Line traverses the district from east to west and has built numerous branch lines through the irrigated districts. The Oregon Short Line railway, an independent concern, has 25 miles in operation and 25 additional miles graded. As soon as the lines from the Idaho Southern are projected, they were promptly paralleled by the Oregon Short Line. The town of Twin Falls, in about the center of the district, is 200 miles by rail from Portland; 250 miles by rail from Ogden and 200 miles by rail from Salt Lake City. The town of Wells, Nevada, is 125 miles from the center of Twin Falls. Between these points a railroad can be easily and economically built; with easy grades and at a cost of approximately $15,000 per mile. If this line were built, the distance from Twin Falls to San Francisco would be in the neighborhood of 725 miles, or practically the same as the distance to Portland, as against 1035 miles by the present route via Ogden. The Oregon Short Line has a branch about 30 miles long to the town of Bonanza, which would be directly on a proposed line between Wells and Twin Falls, so that the actual railroad construction necessary to connect the town of Wells with the other points of the Oregon Short Line and Western Pacific at Wells does not exceed 95 miles. The distance from Ogden to Los Angeles is 513 miles.

Contact Looks Good. On the proposed road from Wells (via Bonanza) to Twin Falls, the distance from Wells to the mining town of Contact. At this point granodiorite and allied granular rocks and porphyries predominate in the prevailing formation. Where this line would be built, there exist some of the greatest copper mines in the United States have been found, notably those around Butte, Idaho, and in the vicinity of the deep shaft being 300 feet. Large quantities of copper deposits are known to exist in the district, and are being exploited, fully as well as the other districts mentioned where mining has been so successfully prosecuted. The district is rich in copper, and to greater depths owing to the want of adequate transportation to economically bring in machinery, timber and other supplies. It is estimated that a railroad from Wells to the Twin Falls district could rely upon a very large tonnage into and from the coast district and city.

One can tell what there is under the ground, but the indications for very large copper mines are quite as good today at Contact as they were at the mine surrounding Butte, and in the same state of development. There is abundant water around Contact, and it is estimated that the water available at Contact is sufficient to supply the needs of the district.

See Double Connection. The interests in San Francisco and the state of Idaho demand that any line from the Twin Falls district should come to Wells, where it would connect with both the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads. This is the farthest point to the west at which it would be feasible to make connection, and the farthest point west is most to our advantage. A few lines would afford direct communication to other districts. San Francisco would be the nearest port of call water for a vast and growing country to the north and northwest to the vicinity of Boise, Idaho, is a large acreage that can be profitably farmed and which is even now well cultivated. The north and northwestern to Butte, Montana, are other large acreage just being put to beneficial use. Besides farming, various large industries are found in both districts.

This Section's Needs. Among other articles that could be supplied to this district from California are grain glue, binder twine, overalls, work clothes, china and glassware, writings, tents, canvas and staple prints, traction engines, machinery and electrical appliances. Certain articles, such as corsets, umbrellas, parasols and pool cotton, now coming into the district, originate in San Francisco and come in via the Portland gate.

CHILDREN SEEK MISSING MOTHER

Little Fern and Otis Knapp Meet Bitter Disappointment on Arrival Here.

Two little children went to bed Saturday night crying for their mother, who they were told by their father when he took them on the train at Idaho Falls, would arrive here Saturday evening. But there was no mother at the depot when the train rolled in, and the police, who were on duty, were unable to locate her. Fern and Otis Knapp, 10, and Otis Paul Knapp, 10, are the children who, for the moment, are missing. Their mother, Mrs. Jessie Knapp, is the name of the mother they are seeking. The little ones were taken back to their home at 461 Main avenue east, where they were cared for Saturday night. Miss Knapp's telephone number is 724. J. C. Knapp, the father, arrived in Idaho Falls some weeks ago at the end of an overland trip from Lincoln, Kansas, the children and their mother. About a week ago the mother left for Twin Falls, where it was understood the family would make its home in the future. There are no relatives of the family here, the children said.

I submit with this report map showing the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming, with their railroads, map showing the country within a radius of 150 miles of Twin Falls; map of the project immediately surrounding Twin Falls; a very interesting report on a north and south road through the intermountain region, prepared by an engineer who has been prominent in the construction of irrigation works in the neighborhood of Twin Falls; a bulletin of the United States geological survey, giving an account of the development of the mining district of Contact. I also submit samples of copper ore selected from quantities that are now being hauled out by wagon.

In conclusion, I will state that the district shows every indication of prosperity and will undoubtedly grow into one of the great producing sections of our country. Its trade is large today and will constantly increase. The outlet for a large portion of its products should be San Francisco, as well as the source of many of its supplies. The people of the district are anxiously looking forward to the opening of the Panama canal and the opening of an outlet to Europe for their products. The San Francisco gateway, a rail line from the railroad, and the rail lines in the Twin Falls district would pay as soon as operation was commenced. The Twin Falls people are convinced that they need this connection with us, and it is equally evident that we need the connection with them. Wells is the point most advantageously from the center of relations and from the matter of position, for San Francisco and California interests. It would greatly enhance the value of our section and would enable us to successfully combat opposition. I desire to bear testimony to the progress of the people of this section, who are active and progressive in their culture and the Carey act, they are building on a permanent foundation a magnificent structure.

Respectfully Submitted, FRIEDLANDER, Controller.

Mercury Leaps to Season's High Mark

Mounting at a leap to a maximum temperature at 95 degrees, mercury in the thermometer at the government weather observatory here here Saturday recorded the hottest day of the year. The new high mark is one point over the previous record for the season set last week at 94. It is almost as above the high mark of Friday, which was the top figure for the month until Saturday's reading. Last week Saturday's record stood at 47 degrees, a decline of two points under Friday's minimum.

ALSIKE CROP YIELDS WELL

G. Crimmon, Buhl, Obtains Nice Bushels of Seed per Acre from Field of 11 Acres. One of the most satisfactory yields of alsike seed reported this season, is a production of nine bushels per acre obtained by S. C. Crimmon on his farm six miles southeast of Buhl. The reported yield was an average for the crop from a field of 11 acres. Yield of from two to four bushels per acre seem to be most common for the crop this season, where it has been threshed in this region.

TRIAL SET IN WATER CASE

W. M. McGinnis, Charged with Interfering with Ditch, to Answer to Charge in Probate Court Here. Trial in the case of W. M. McGinnis, ranchman residing eight miles southeast of Twin Falls, charged with a misdemeanor of illegal interference with an irrigation ditch, has been set in Probate Judge O. P. Duval to be held here next Wednesday. Complaint was issued at the instance of Andrew Lang, a neighbor.
