San Diego Pilots End Epoch-Making Flight in Midst of Cheering Thousands Crowding Field

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 28 (AP)—Captain Lowell Smith and Lieutenant John Richter, San Diego aviators, pilots of the big De Havilland plane, landed at Rockwell field tonight at 6:12:35, ending their epoch-making flight for continuous endurance performance aloft. The birdmen brought the ship down to a graceful landing and were greeted by blasts of whistles from every craft in the harbor. Several thousand persons crowded the field and rushed towards the plane when it came to a stop.

Speed records set in the flight ending tonight follow:

2500 kilometers, 17 hours 35 minutes 44.45 seconds. Set at 10:37 p. m. Aug. 28.

3000 kilometers, 21 hours 11 minutes. Set at 2:15 a. m. Aug. 28.

3600 kilometers, 24 hours 37 minutes 38 seconds. Set at 5:41 a. m. August 28.

4000 kilometers, 28 hours 6 minutes 43 seconds. Set at 9:13 a. m. August 28.

Tired and stiff from their long grind Captain Smith and Lieutenant Richter climbed from the ship and literally fought their way through the dense crowd assembled to greet them.

According to a statement made by Smith, they battled a heavy fog all night and when they saw the same condition appearing for tonight, they signalled a landing was about to be made.

During the history-making flight, 15 tanks of gasoline and 38 gallons of oil was transferred from the supply plane to the big De Havilland on its trip.

Trouble With Gas Tank
Captain Smith said that considerable trouble was experienced during the night by the gasoline strainer becoming clogged, and he smashed his flashlight striking it and causing a continuance of flow of fuel to the motor.

Aside from this strainer trouble, the powerful Liberty motor gave a wonderful performance of mechanical excellence.

The aviators, who took off yesterday morning at 5:07 o'clock, established six aviation records, according to unofficial computations. The flight started at Rockwell field here.

The aviators, who were in the air more than 37 hours, established four new speed records as well as making new marks in duration and distance.

Smith and Richter stayed in the air, according to unofficial figures, 1 hour, 7 minutes and 11 seconds longer than did Lieutenant Oakley Kelly and John MacReady, who made a continuous flight of 50 hours, 5 minutes, 21 seconds, in the first non-stop transcontinental flight.

Until tonight, Kelly and MacReady held the duration record. Smith and Richter were up 37 hours, 12 minutes, 32 seconds; unofficial figures showed.

More than two hours after the flight was completed, official elapsed time, average speed and total mileage had not been announced. However, as the aviators passed the 4000 kilometer mark about 5 o'clock last afternoon it was certain that they had passed the previous distance record. The old record was 4,090 kilometers, or 2,541.2 miles, and was also held by Lieutenants Kelly and MacReady.

Later it was announced officially that the two flyers had been in the air 37 hours, 15 minutes, 14.45 seconds and had traveled 5,300 kilometers, or 3,293.25 miles.

Diversified Laws As to Divorce In America a Menace

Moral Chaos and Ruin Threaten Nation Under Existing Statutes, Women Lawyers Are Advised

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—"Moral chaos and ruin" face the United States unless there is standardization of the laws controlling marriage and divorce, Mrs. E. Jean Nelson Penfold, practicing New York attorney, told the national association of women lawyers here tonight.

The "habitable menaces of unrestrained divorce and 'out law' varying marriage laws," she declared, "largely feed the divorce courts and directly give the white slave traffickers the most effective opportunity to ply his iniquitous trade."

Urging the need of federal law to govern marriage and divorce and uniform administration of the law, she said that the trouble with depending upon state action is that we could never be sure from one day to another what local laws might not lift down.

Mrs. Penfold's address came after a dinner tonight to the delegates from 25 states attending the organization meeting of the women lawyers' association which will conclude its work tomorrow with the election of officers.

Hugo Stinnes Adds New Industry to His Present List of Industrial Activities

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—Hugo Stinnes has added another industry to his already lengthy list— that of making his own money. The first notes of the Stinnes issue are already in circulation in Berlin. They are in denominations of one million marks, bear the flag, in colors of the Stinnes steamship line and are signed by Hugo Stinnes, Jr., and by Stinnes himself. The currency is guaranteed by two of the largest banks in Hamburg.

Many banks are also printing their own notes, with the permission of the government, as a means of relieving the drastic currency shortage.

ENTIRE MISSION IS ASSASSINATED

Official News of Massacre of Italian Officials by Greeks Stirs Country

ROME, Aug. 28 (AP)—It is officially announced that the entire Italian mission assigned to the work of establishing the Albanian-Greek frontier has been massacred by Greeks.

The chauffeur and dragoman also were killed.

The Greek foreign office has expressed to the Italian minister the government's profound regret over the murders.

It is intimated that the Greek government had taken strong measures to discover and punish the murderers.

LENGTHY CHASE BROUGHT TO END AT PRISON DOOR

Defaulting Cashier of Pueblo Bank Sentenced After Eight Years of Effort to Escape Law's Clutches

DENVER, Aug. 28 (AP)—The iron nerve with which he evaded the pursuing hand of the law for eight years, broken, and his health shattered, Coney C. Slaughter, defaulting cashier of the late Mercantile National bank of Pueblo, was placed on a train bound for the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, here tonight.

Pleading guilty to two charges of embezzlement totaling $120,000, out of 20 counts pending against him, Slaughter was sentenced to serve concurrent terms of six years on one count, and five years on another count in this morning. The other charges were dismissed.

When Federal Judge J. Foster Symes pronounced sentence, Slaughter roared, buried his face in his hands and sank into a chair. It was several minutes before Slaughter began his composure sufficiently to be led from the courtroom to his cell to await his journey to the penitentiary.

Crime Wracks Bank

Slaughter's embezzlement wrecked the Mercantile National bank in 1915, resulted in two trials of his father, William B. Slaughter in federal and state courts, in both of which he was acquitted, caused Coney Slaughter's wife, now living in Oklahoma, to institute divorce proceedings and started him on a flight which led through Mexico, Central America and the eastern states, finally culminating at Phoenixville, Pa., where he was arrested last April while employed at a sanitarium. The shortage in the bank was discovered by bank examiners. Eighty-five per cent of the money of depositors has been paid.

ADVENTUROUS CAREER OF BOY BURGLAR IS TERMINATED BY GUN

Fourteen-Year-Old Lad Shot in Leg by Grocer Whose Store Was Scene of Crime

POCATELLO, Idaho, Aug. 28 (AP)—The adventurous career of Charles Sadlo, 14 years old youngster, who claims New York as his home, met with a setback early yesterday when he is alleged to have attempted to burglarize a grocery store here.

The owner of the store fired one shot through a skylight and the boy was wounded in the left leg, according to authorities. Despite this handicap he escaped.

Officers late yesterday found the boy in a hotel and his wound was treated. The youth asserted he had been shot by an unknown person while beating his way on a railroad train, authorities said, and his story was believed until he was implicated in the burglary through a legging he was said to have lost while making his escape from the store.

I. W. W. General Defense Committee Begins Campaign to Free War Law Violators

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—A campaign to set free Christmas the remaining 32 prisoners held at the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, for violation of the espionage act has been started by the general defense committee of the I. W. W., it was announced today.

Ralph Chaplin, former editor of "Solidarity," the I. W. W. organ published in Chicago, who was one of those convicted and sentenced to 20 years in Leavenworth, but whose sentence was commuted, said the chief aim was to give those who have announced themselves in favor of amnesty for the prisoners an opportunity to act.

Chaplin said that the members of the I. W. W. on the east and in the northwest were planning another general strike in protest against the continued imprisonment of the 32 men still at Leavenworth.

Pinchot Halts Conference Pending Submission of New Plan For Strike Settlement

Pennsylvania Governor, Convinced of Futility of Present Course of Action, Closes Hearings and Announces Intention of Preparing Fresh Basis of Peace with Miners

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 28 (AP)—Sufficiently informed as to the issues on which a suspension of anthracite mining has been ordered for September 1, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, today broke off the series of conferences which he has been conducting with operators' representatives and officials of the miners' union and went to work drafting a settlement suggestion of his own.

Both groups of men, who have been expending millions of dollars for prolonged intervals during the two days since he intervened to prevent a break, agreed to await the proposal he will make, but professed entire ignorance as to its terms.

"I have conferred with both sides and told them I hoped they would remain in Harrisburg tomorrow," the governor said, "but I am not prepared to discuss my purpose, 'within reach for consultation, and that I desire at the earliest possible moment—before tomorrow night—a brief announcement of a suggestion for settlement of the strike. Both sides have courteously acceded to my request."

Law of Moses Plea For Justification in Tragic Murder

Slayer of New York Gunman, Taken Red-Handed, Rests Case upon Proposition of an Eye for an Eye

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—A stripping with a gun took the law out of the hands of the New York police today and wrote a dramatic twist to the career of Jack Kaplan, alias "Kid Dropper," notorious gunman and leader of the city's "raping gang."

The only witness against him, on whom the police had been trying to fasten something for months, avenged at noon from Essex market court, where he had just defeated the latest efforts to connect him with the shooting of two members of a rival gang. Some of the detectives who had crowded the court to guard against a rumored attempt at his rescue, served him with a warrant charging violation of the Sullivan anti-riot law.

The Dropper smiled ironically and stepped to the taxiderm in which his captors planned to take him to another court. His young wife, who had been awaiting him at the sidewalk, broke through to his side, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him.

"Good luck, you'll get out of this, too," she cried, waving her hand.

A slim figure which had been lurking behind the cab, straightened, drew a pistol and fired through the back window of the cab.

Driver Also Hit

The Dropper slumped down in his seat with two bullets in his chest. The taxiderm driver was laid out with a scalp wound. Detective Captain Willson's hat was pierced by another shot. Two other shots went into the crowded street. The Dropper's Nemesis turned with empty gun, to flee but detectives overpowered him. He was taken to Bellevue hospital.

His assailant, who said he was Louis Cohen, a laundryman, 21 years old, said:

"An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. If I hadn't got him, he'd have got me. He told me as 'He's been bounding me for a long time. It's weeks ago he told me my life wasn't worth salt if I didn't hand over $500."

Officially the police had nothing to say about the slaying of "Kid Dropper," but it was evident that they were not among the mourners.

Attorneys General in Annual Session Condemn Unscrupulous Present Practices Among Steel Plants

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—A revolution declaration was made, and unscrupulously against the steel trade practice known as "Pittsburgh plus," was adopted today at the annual convention of the National Association of Attorneys General.

The resolution said it is "unjust" and "unconscionable" and pledged the attorneys support in the fight being made against the practice which freight is charged from Pittsburgh on steel regardless of where it is made or shipped from.

A resolution declared in the resolution that it emphatically and unscrupulously goes on record against the steel trade practice commonly known as "Pittsburgh plus" and that the association and as individual attorneys general we pledge our support and cooperation in the fight being made before the Federal Trade Commission for abolition of that practice. It is unjust and works an unlawful discrimination that can no longer be tolerated."

Bankers Announce Full Willingness to Assist Farmer

Six States Represented in Gathering at Fargo in Interests of Financial Aid for Agriculture

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 28 (AP)—Hundreds of farmers and bankers from northwestern states met here today in session calculated to bring about a definite program of aid by banks of the north west to farmers in their crop difficulties.

A number of representatives of the banking and farming interests explained the general situation to the conference.

L. B. Hanna, former governor of North Dakota, presided.

A committee was organized by Chairman Hanna to formulate a plan for a definite program by which the bankers of the reserve district can aid the farmers in obtaining a better price for their product or at least help them in their present difficulties.

In addressing the conference B. H. Otis of Madison, Wis., representing the American Bankers Association, declared that the bankers in the reserve district are only too willing to help the farmers. All that he desired, he said, was that the bankers should have a fuller understanding of the troubles of the farmers.

States officially represented are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin.

MONTANA MAN FOUND DEAD IN ROOM IN HOTEL

Julius Seidl of Billings Discovered Dead, Apparently Beaten to Death, by Salt Lake City Police

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 28 (AP)—Bald hand and foot, with a deep gash in his head, apparently the result of a blow inflicted with a blunt instrument, the body of a man identified as Julius Seidl, 51 years old, of Billings, Montana, was found in a room at a hotel here late today. The slain man formerly was a tailor, the police said.

Seidl's room had been ransacked and police said that robbery evidently was the motive of the slayers. The body was lying on a bed, with bedclothes covering it. The slain man's arms had been pinned to his back with a leather strap, his legs were bound together with strips of a bed sheet, and a necktie was tied tightly about his throat. It was thought that Seidl died as the result of a terrific beating over the head with a club. His head and neck were gashed and a wound at the base of the skull proved fatal, physicians said. The slaying was characterized by police as one of the most brutal in local criminal history. It is the police theory that the slayers were three men involved in the slaying.

Dr. J. J. Galligan, city physician, will conduct an autopsy.

AMERICAN LEGION HEAD ENDORSES RUHR ACTION

Colonel Owsley Tells Paris Audience His Organization Stands with France and Belgium

PARIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Colonel Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, and the entire delegation of visiting members of the legion and their wives, were the guests of American Legion post No. 1 at a dinner here Monday night. Covers were laid for 70. The dinner of war and the minister of marine were represented.

Colonel Owsley, in a speech, said the American Legion was the only organization in the United States with courage enough to tell France, "We stand with you and Belgium in the occupation of the Ruhr." In outlining the policy of the American Legion, he said its program was to the above parties and "Inaugurate throughout the United States a regular school of Americanism."

The legion, Colonel Owsley continued, was committed to the passing by congress of an "adjusted compensation bill." He asked the European guests of the legion to endorse the same and to give their support to a bonus when the next convention of the legion is held in San Francisco.

EXPRESS STRIKES FREIGHT

Passenger Buggy Out by Flying Glass when Flat Train Collides with Bulging Box Car

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 28 (AP)—A number of persons were injured principally from flying glass, when the Philadelphia express of the Pennsylvania railroad, east-bound, sidetracked a bulging freight car on an adjacent track a short distance west of Greensburg Monday night. So far as is known no one was seriously injured, according to news received at the Pittsburgh office of the railroad.

Practically all of the windows on one side of the coaches and sleepers were broken but the passenger train was not derailed. Four men were sent from Greensburg to attend the injured. The train consisted of two coaches and a number of sleepers.

Several cars on a freight train on number 1 track had been wrecked a short time before. One of the cars had bulged over to the adjoining track but not sufficiently to obstruct the railroad officials and trainmen had not had sufficient time to prepare for flagging the passenger when the express came through Pittsburgh.

In a Changing World the Negligee Alone is Constant

Fashions for dehabille are the least temperamental of all the modes. The lovely gracious lines are very apt to flow in the same direction for several years.

Therefore according to the best rules of feminine logic and geometry it has been proved that at least one silk negligee is a great economy.

The place of the tea gown seems permanent. Pyjamas, once so highly favored have fallen from grace. All that remains of the trousered style is a few tea gowns which still show a tendency towards wide and puffy half pants and half skirts inspired by oriental models. Wings and trains and delicious swirling draperies are now seen most frequently in Paris, according to a letter from Henri Creange, the fashion authority, who is now abroad.

Silk dyers have rivaled the rose in getting the shade of the pink Mirokrope negligee here illustrated. The material falls in an unbroken sweep from the drooping neck line, held only by the sort of silver buckle that is concealed in almost everyone's jewel box. Silver chain lines the bottom, and about eight inches from the bottom, and silver slippers carry out the bright scheme.

The huge sleeves, are of white silk lace, held to a puff just above the elbow by narrow silver ribbon.

German Chancellor Declares Fall of Government Might Result in European Wave of Bolshevism

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Dr. Gustave Stresemann, the German chancellor, interviewed in Berlin by a special correspondent of the Daily Graphic, is quoted as having said:

"If my government fails, accomplishing nothing, then I shall perhaps be the last 'burgorlich' chancellor of Germany. It may be the end. If that happens it will mean a European wave of Bolshevism."

Dr. Stresemann advocated a triple understanding among France, Great Britain and Germany. He said such a general agreement was the only thing that possibly could bring peace to Europe. Then commenting on the food question, the chancellor said:

"If we can keep the people fed, perhaps all will be well, but we have not the money. Although there are many millions of tons of meat in Germany, we have not the money with which to buy it from the American owners."

Uncovering of Land Fraud Scheme by Government Involves Enormous Sum

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28 (AP)—With the arrest here of B. W. Skipper, head of the Oklahoma Engineering company, government agents have revealed a program for terminating what they allege to be a land fraud scheme involving nearly $1,000,000. Persons in all parts of the United States have been defrauded, according to postal authorities by the Oklahoma company's contract, which they characterized as misleading.

Besides Skipper, five agents of the company were named in the complaint filed today in the United States district court by Samuel M. Carwine, a United States district attorney, and sworn to by E. R. Cochran, post-office inspector here.

J. W. Gillespie, H. C. McNabb, A. H. Champlin, P. B. Camp and H. C. Evans were the agents named.

Skipper was arraigned before a United States commissioner. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $2500 bond for appearance at a preliminary hearing here next Friday.

McNabb and Champlin were arrested near Tacoma, Wash. They had been with a group of men in Spokane, Wash., advertising the Oklahoma lands, according to information which agents asserted they had obtained here.

Skipper asserted the men were arrested because they absconded with money sent them for expense.

Announcement is made that arrangements had been made with William J. Burns, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, for agents, "well versed and experienced in the Borgdall case, to investigate the whole occurrence in the vicinity of Hagerstown."

Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, declared the United States government, "through his office, will be interested" if the money proves to be Borgdall's.

Mr. Miller said until the agents make their report his office could formulate no policy nor could a prohibition be made as to what future action might be taken. The demand made by the government for Borgdall's property, he declared, "would cover the so-called sum of money which Borgdall was reported to have hidden in the vicinity of Hagerstown."

Friendly Philosophy.

Nature punishes neglect and plays no favorites. The neglected field becomes an unsightly mass of tangled briars and rank weeds; the untrained swamp a stagnant cesspool—pusillate brood of varied life and poisonous growths; the human brain an unclean generator of faulty and soul-blasting ideals unless directed into channels of realism and truth. Neglect is indeed costly.—J. E. F.

Finding of Treasure Believed Property of Draft Evader to Be Probed to Bottom

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Department of justice agents will endeavor to determine whether gold coin reported to have been dug up recently near Hagerstown, Md., by a road worker, is the property of Grover C. Borgdall, Philadelphia draft evader, now in Germany.

Announcement is made that arrangements had been made with William J. Burns, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, for agents, "well versed and experienced in the Borgdall case, to investigate the whole occurrence in the vicinity of Hagerstown."

Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, declared the United States government, "through his office, will be interested" if the money proves to be Borgdall's.

American Society of Teachers Offer Prize for Machine to Keep Couples Wider Apart on the Floor

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—A device to be worn by dancers to keep their hands in the proper position and their bodies the correct distance apart is wanted by the American Society of Teachers of Dancing, and to this end prizes of $100, $50 and $25 were announced at the opening of the society's forty-fourth annual convention in the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria this week.

With the fox trot and its variations holding forth almost exclusively on the dance floors nowadays, the society is also out for a new dance rhythm and is willing to pay $500 to its inventor, according to President Vinay of Milwaukee.

The one-step, two-step, half-step and what-not-steps are officially in the discard, and Mr. Vinay says somebody should be able to devise a satisfactory five-step, seven-step or some other step to relieve the monotony.

Want Simpler Steps.

The tendency as far as dancing is concerned, is toward simpler steps, tempered with glides and "rests," in which the dancers come to a complete stop for an instant, according to those attending the convention.

"Less noises or more melody," was the keynote of the convention sounded by Louis H. Chaliff of New York, first vice president, who said the society would make a valiant effort this winter to restore the waltz to its popularity as "queen of the dance."

Mr. Chaliff made a plea for better music, saying that competent and dance orchestras could do more to purify the dance than could be accomplished by legislation.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ON JOB

Once Famous Social Leader Confronted by Dazed Room while Creditors Watch Over Assets

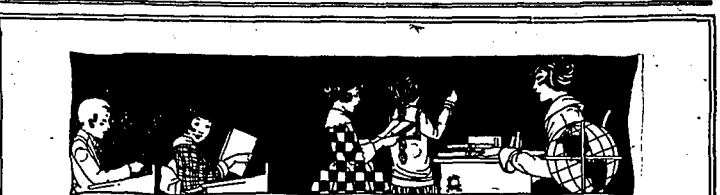

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Princess Lawoff-Parlath, who once moved among the aristocracy of Europe and America, is still in a darkened room of her home here today while the priceless furnishings of the place are guarded by a deputy sheriff as collateral for amounts totaling $213,000 demanded in three suits against her.

Her doctor says that she is suffering from depression and that insulin has been administered, but without success. He also says the princess is overwrought mentally and the serving of papers upon her would lead, possibly, to a change for the worse in her condition.

In her younger days the princess was recognized as a portrait painter of great ability. She was said to have been a protégée of the former kaiser, who is one of the many celebrities whose portrait she painted.

CARRIES HEAVY INSURANCE

Great Dane Is Wheeled Up and Down in Chair on Board Walk During Illness

LONG BEACH, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—The life of "Tigo," a great Dane, owned by Mayor William H. Reynolds, has been insured for $10,000. The mayor recently employed two of the best physicians in town to care for the animal when he was ill, and an offer of $5000 for him has been refused. "Tigo" is a familiar figure to board walk strollers, having during his illness, been wheeled up and down the promenade in a roller chair.

Firpo Wears Out Four Sparring Partners in Development of Port Side Wing

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP)—Banging away with lefts—straight lefts; hooked lefts and uppercut lefts—Luis Angel Firpo punched four sparring partners dizzy in eight rounds of a fairly heavy workout at his training camp this afternoon.

Several times during the day's sparring session the South American, after drawing his men into a corner, would loose the right, and in each instance the sharp commands of Lavalle could be heard above the thud of the punches, directing the challenger for the heavy weight title to work only with the left.

Frank Koebel, the young Brooklyn lightweight, whose style is similar to that of the heavyweight champion, furnished stiff opposition for the challenger. Koebel's straight rights for the jaw and left hooks to the body seldom fell short of their mark.

Jeff Clark, the Joplin ghost, though his shifty head bobbed up and down and in and around incessantly, could not escape a drubbing. It was a bit groggy at the finish.

DEMPSEY HELD FAST BY GOLD

Champ Spends Day Indoor While Rain Patters on Cottage Roof at Training Camp

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—Rather than risk the danger of further aggravating his cold Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, cancelled his contemplated training trip today and remained in his cottage upon the shores of Saratoga lake to keep out of the cold, drizzling rain that was still falling when he crawled under the blankets tonight.

The champion's cold, while not serious, bothered him today, and was showing no signs of improving. Jerry Lavandis, his faithful little trainer, smeared his chest with liniment and told the little holder that he would be better in the morning.

While the rain beat down on his little frame cottage, Dempsey chafing under his enforced confinement, spent the day playing pinochle, reading and grinding out jazz tunes on a phonograph. He was forced to give up his usual run because of the rain soaked roads.

TOTAL ISSUE IS UNKNOWN

Actual Amount of Paper Marks Issued in Germany Believed Beyond Computation

BRELLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—Nobody knows just how much paper money is floating about in Germany, according to the conclusion reached by the Boersen Zeitung, which believes that even an approximate computation would be impossible, since communities, big industrial plants and numerous private corporations now have entered into competition with the reichsbank in the production of paper marks.

Even railway station lunch room operators, say the paper, are issuing slips to overcome the shortage of franc currency. Under these conditions, it adds, "a continuous collapse" of the mark is most obvious.

DRAMATIC TEACHER DIES; SELF-MURDER INDICATED

Franklin H. Sargent, Well Known in Art Circles, Believed Victim of Suicide

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—The body of a man identified as Franklin H. Sargent, head of the Sargent school of dramatic art, in New York City, was found with a revolver in one hand in a room of the Withers hotel here late today.

Mr. Sargent had removed the receiver of the telephone in his room and when the operator was unable to get in touch with anyone, a bell boy was sent to the room.

Mr. Sargent had placed oil cloth on the rug where his body fell and had bandaged his face and mouth, evidently with the purpose of stopping the flow of blood. The bullet entered his right temple and death was instantaneous.

Leonard has agreed to weigh in at 135 pounds at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the fight, and Dundee, of course, will have no trouble in making the weight.

offer corresponded with a compromise proposal by John L. Lewis, the union president, to the United States coal commission in New York two weeks ago. The suggestion that union agents be installed in company offices to collect dues was said to be a partial compliance with the union demand for the "check-off," the system by which the operators would collect the dues from each employee, and turn them directly over to the union.

ELEVEN STATES TO ASSIST

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Eleven Atlantic seaboard states today pledged themselves to do all in their power to aid Federal Fuel Administrator Wadleigh and coal-carrying railroads to minimize the suffering that might follow in the wake of protracted suspension of anthracite mining after September 1.

Four governors, and representatives of seven other states voted, with delegates from the District of Columbia, to co-operate in whatever emergency measures Mr. Wadleigh might undertake. Parties to the agreement included representatives of the interstate commerce commission, the American Railway association, the United States bureau of mines and the American Federation of Engineering Societies.

After expressing confidence in a plan outlined by the federal administrator for coping with any fuel crisis that might arise, the conference adjourned to await the outcome of Governor Pinchot's conference at Harrisburg, Pa., with union leaders and operators.

"The next thing on the program is to wait and see if there is to be a strike," said Mr. Wadleigh at the end of the conference. If no need arises we will start at once to put in operation our plan for maintaining rapid distribution of what anthracite is available and of sufficient bituminous, all other substitutes to keep people from suffering."

EMERGENCY MACHINERY

Mr. Wadleigh's plan, as tacitly approved by the conference, proposes the establishment of each state of an emergency fuel distributing organization. The government would maintain a similar organization with staff men to work with the states "in distributing fuel in securing the needed supplies from the producing fields, in obtaining the co-operation of railroads toward rapid and equitable transportation."

The federal administrator's organization would act as a point of coordination between the state authorities, the bituminous operators, the selling agencies and the transportation interests.

The American Railway association has promised with individual roads in upper Atlantic states to see that the coal is properly distributed, said Mr. Wadleigh. The bureau of mines will seek to educate the public as to fuels that may be substituted for anthracite. The federated American engi-

ACTOR STILL UNCONSCIOUS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28 (AP)—A slight paralysis of the left side, affecting principally the left side of the face, was the only change late today in the condition of James Kirkwood, motion picture actor, who sustained a basal fracture of the skull when he fell from a horse last Saturday, according to Dr. R. B. Griffin, brain specialist in charge of the case.

Mr. Kirkwood was still unconscious at 4:30 o'clock the physician said, but neither this fact nor the appearance of paralysis had altered his decision not to operate.

"The paralysis is slight, and, I think, only temporary," he declared, "and in general the patient's condition has not grown worse."

COMMUNISM IS DEAD ISSUE IN RUSSIA, REPORT

Sixty Million Dollars Spent in American Aid Credited with Results of Far-Reaching Importance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Communism in Russia is dead and Russia is on the road to recovery, Colonel William N. Haskell, who was in charge of American relief administration activities there, said in a final report today to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and chairman of the relief administration. Not only did American aid amounting to $60,000,000 during the last two years save millions of lives in Russia, said Colonel Haskell, but it helped to stimulate Russian recovery and, more valuable than all, spread a lasting inheritance for America in good will of the day race.

Colonel Haskell's report summarized two years' work of the relief administration and praised the American and Russian agents who performed and Secretary Hoover's conception and administration of the relief program. "During this period," said the report, "a little under a million tons of food, seed, clothing and medical supplies have been brought in the United States by the American relief administration, requiring about 250 voyages of American ships. These supplies amounted to 60,000 cartons on the Russian railways. The relief program was accomplished through the organization of 35,000 different stations at the worst period when we were feeding nearly 11,000,000 men, women and children daily. Not only would these millions have died without this relief, but over larger numbers would have perished from the onset of contagious diseases which was then raging in every direction.

Carries Heavy Load. "In the battle against these epidemics the American relief administration furnished supplies to over 15,000 hospitals and institutions, distributed the inoculation and vaccination of over 7,000,000 individuals. Its systematic campaign of sanitation stamped out the most dangerous center of contagion in the entire world.

From seed imported about 5,000,000 acres of land were sown. The worst of the famine was over a year ago, but since that time the American relief administration has continued to feed, clothe and give medical service to an average of 2,000,000 derelict lives until their present recovery. It has provided food and clothing for over 100,000 teachers and professional people as a supplementary service. In America, Colonel Haskell added, provided more than 90 per cent of all the relief furnished Russia during the last two years. In the expenditure of $60,000,000 of American money, he said, there had been no cost to the American distributor or taxpayer for administrative purposes.

The task in Russia, the report said, was more satisfactory because success was achieved "in spite of the lies and misrepresentations in the American and Russian press regarding the relief work's objects. Despite this, it was added, the full confidence of the soviet government was secured.

On Road to Recovery. "Communism is dead and abandoned and Russia is on the road to recovery," said the report. "The realization by the Russian people that the strong American system was able and contained the epidemic have these men of strangers from the death that had engulfed them must have furnished food for thought."

Referring to Mr. Hoover and his part in the enterprise, the report said: "To you alone who dared to conceive and execute one of the greatest administrative operations to relieve famine in the history of the world since fit to be told."

Colonel Haskell's detail for the Russian relief work ended August 28 when he will report to the war department for new duty.

LEGION LEADER TALKS PLAINLY

Colonel Owsley Reiterates His Statement on Attitude of Members Toward Ruhr Case

PARIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—The official reception for the entire American Legion delegation by Marcel Peraud, wounded veteran of Verdun, who is vice-president of the city council, supplied an occasion for the most outspoken remarks made by Colonel Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, since he came to France with a delegation of Legionnaires to attend the conference of the inter-allied veterans at Brussels next month. A short time before Colonel Owsley made his brief response to M. Peraud, he was notified that he had been appointed a commander of the Legion of Honor and in the decoration officially will be conferred on him by General DeGoutte, the French commander of occupied Germany, at Dusseldorf, on Thursday in military fashion.

The American Legion, whose national commander I have the honor to be and for whom it is my distinction to speak, representing 4,000,000 of the American Legion, said the Legion chief in reply to the welcome from M. Peraud, "is the one great standing American organization that has declared before the world that it stands with and approves the action of France and Belgium.

Believes France Right. "We believe France is right in occupying the Ruhr that it may obtain payment of its debt long since over due. I have come to France at this particular time to get first-hand information concerning your situation, particularly about the vexing problem of the occupation of the Ruhr," said the vice-president of the city council who welcomed the delegations. The reception was the last official function for the delegation in France.

Colonel Owsley's rise to the Legion of Honor is one of the most rapid in memory, as he was nominated immediately to be commander without having passed through the lower grades of knight and officer. The French government felt that nothing but the rank of commander was commensurate with the place that the commander occupies in the Legion holds in American public life.

GOVERNMENT IS EASILY WINNER AT THE POLLS

Republicans Carry Four Seats Against Sixteen According to Official Returns of Irish Elections

DUBLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—The results of the general elections officially and semi-officially numbered up to 11 o'clock tonight gave the government 10 seats and the republicans four. The farmers' party is credited with two, but the complete official returns are reported, and it may be said that the republicans are tonight showing greater confidence in the results than the government party.

Official returns for the national university show that the government candidates secured all three seats. They were Professor John MacNolla, an educationist, Professor Michael Hayes, speaker of the last diet, and Professor McGonnigle.

According to the first preference votes, which became known today, President William T. Cosgrave in Kilkenny and Carlow headed the poll and secured election. Under the proportional representative system no actual polling figures are announced for voters today, but in certain cases the votes on first preference are sufficient to insure election and are announced in that way.

General Richard Mulcahy, minister of defense, on the first poll in the north city secured "quota and surplus," large enough when distributed to carry the other government candidates with him.

Reverses Former Defeat. In the south city, Countess Markievicz, wife of William T. Cosgrave in Kilkenny and Carlow, the much wanted chief of staff of the republicans, who for a long time had been "on the run," also won a seat in the diet. It is considered probable that he stood third on the poll as he was mainly responsible for the irregulars' decision to dump, instead of surrendering, their arms.

Another feature of the elections was the small poll throughout the country which the republicans count as extremely favorable to their cause, as they claim to have polled practically their full strength. It is strongly admitted that the poll has not averaged 70 per cent for the whole country, and the Free Staters certainly expected a better showing. In Cork 50 per cent was polled, but in Galway barely 50.

Claim Fifty Seats. The government party tonight put their claim modestly at 50 seats, and the other 40 republicans at 20. The republicans themselves claim 47, and their chief organizers are in high spirits. They admit disappointment, however, in what they allege to be the small labor poll.

In the county of Dublin, Kevin O'Higgins, minister of home affairs, was far ahead of all candidates on the first count and is elected. No doubt is felt concerning the return of all the ministers. The election of Aitken also in a way is an advantage to the government as it is said to involve the defeat of Cathal O'Shanon, who was an unsparring critic of the government and the dull, while Aitken, under the republican boycott, will not take his seat.

DEATH COMES SUDDENLY. ENID, Okla., Aug. 28 (AP)—Dr. W. W. Martin of Glasgow, Scotland, who had a large audience last night that he was more than 80 years old, while delivering a lecture on "The Foundation of Youth," or "How to Keep Young," died from a stroke of apoplexy at a hotel today.

GUNMAN KILLED. NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Jack Kaplan, alias Kid Dropper, notorious gang leader of a gang which bore his sobriquet, was shot and killed today in the crowded street before Essex Market court.

Temperament. On the big curve coming into the Irish waystage station, the train stopped longer than usual one morning, and the guard, descending from his van, walked up to the driver. "What are you stopping for?" he inquired. "Sorry, and can't see the signal," the driver replied, "I've started the driver. The guard snorted contemptuously. "It's mighty particular you're getting' all of a sudden," he said.—Tatler (London).

Belgium's Latest Reparations Note Falls Far Short of Expectations in Statist Circles

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Belgium's latest reparations note, made public in Paris today, is considered by the British government officials, to whom it was addressed, as offering little or no advance toward a solution of the Ruhr impasse.

While appreciating the generous language and the marked amity of the document, British officials admitted they were forced to admit that its financial proposals fall far short of Great Britain's expectations. British officials admitted they were frankly disappointed that the Brussels cabinet failed to offer anything new or any concrete or workable solution of its own conception.

Chief Justice Prominent Figure in Preliminaries to Convention Opening

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Two addresses by William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States and a number of sectional meetings, were today's preliminaries to the opening here tomorrow of the three-day annual convention of the American Bar association, the forty-sixth in the organization's history.

In both addresses, one before the conference of American Bar association delegates, and the other at the closing session of the Minnesota Bar association today, the chief justice urged the simplification of laws to speed the wheels of justice.

There is tardiness in the nation to regard the judiciary in lighter esteem than formerly," the chief justice told the state bar meeting, and this he ascribed to the usual like pure of justice, which discourages and finally wears out the man of small means."

Proceeding the chief justice's address, George W. Wickerman, attorney general in the Taft cabinet, told of the progress made by the American Institute of Law, a national organization of legal talent here for the opening of the Minnesota Bar association at 10 a. m., when President John W. Davis of New York, will deliver his address and receive reports of various officers.

ADMINISTRATION SEEKS WAY OUT OF SHIP TANGLE

Problem of Disposition of Government-Owned Fleet Subject of Conference as to Ways and Means

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Solution of the problem of disposing of the government's merchant fleet, confronting the administration as a result of the defeat of its shipping bill in the last congress, was sought today at a conference between the shipping board and American steamship owners and managing operators. While the conference was in progress it was learned at the White House that President Coolidge had asked for further information concerning the so-called Lasker-Farley operation plan. The president, it was said, plans to go deeply into the question before asking the attorney general for an opinion as to the proposal's legality.

Chairman Farley of the shipping board, at the close of an all-day session with the owners and operators, announced the board's alternative plan for government operation through subsidiary corporations under its control in the event no plan for private operation and ownership is found acceptable. Earlier the steamship owners had condemned government operation, and submitted their recently rejected plan, while the managing operators also put forward a proposal. The chief difference between the two private ownership plans is in the expressed willingness of the operators to share with the government losses in the same proportion that they would share profits.

On the other hand, the steamship owners proposed to purchase net profit for the ultimate purpose of ships, but contended the government should assume all the losses.

PREGNANT FIGURES

For those who like figures here are some facts of more than passing interest.

Every year more than a million dollars in Federal taxes are collected from the consumers and payers of small income taxes and given as a present to the late William Rockefeller.

The tax free bonds owned by Mr. Rockefeller amounted to $43,043,055.00. Part of them yielded five per cent, part of them yielded one and one-half per cent.

THE BUSINESS YEAR

Business is said to be picking up as the autumn begins. This is a phenomenon observed almost every year.

Summer naturally brings dullness. This year things have not been really dull, but only so compared with the great business activity of the spring months.

The business year really begins in September. Happy New Year!

WHEN TRAFFIC HINDERS TRADE

For years city merchants have been blessing the automobile because it brought so many new customers to their doors.

This was fine. But there are signs of the tide beginning to turn the other way. For the multiplication of automobiles has so jammed the business sections in many towns that visitors find it harder and harder to find a place to stop in the shopping district.

This particular trade problem has arisen so far, as a rule, only in the larger cities. But it is developing rapidly in smaller places that have not foreseen the peril and taken measures in time to broaden their business thoroughfares.

The oldest manuscript written on cotton paper in England is in the British museum and bears the date of 1040. The most ancient manuscript on the same material in the Library of Paris is dated 1050. The death warrant is the official document giving Sheriff Benjamin E. Harries authority to execute Gardner, according to the provisions of law. Gardner is under sentence to die before a firing squad at the Utah state prison here at midday next Friday morning.

Ruakin on Cheapness. "All works of quality must bear a price in proportion to the time, skill, expense and risk attending their manufacture. Those things called 'cheap' are often when justly estimated, the cheapest; they are attended with much less profit to the artist than those things which everybody calls cheap."

Interesting Career Believed Drawing Towards Final End

Princess Anastasia, Widow of Late William B. Leeds, Lying at Point of Death from Cancer

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Princess Anastasia, who formerly was Mrs. William B. Leeds, widow of the American tin plate magnate, and who was married to Prince Christopher of Greece in 1920, is lying near death in a London home. An illness she is in a semi-comatose condition, alternating with a lucid state, when she recognized all around her. She experiences no pain, but is in a greatly weakened condition and has been unable for some time to take food beyond the very smallest quantities of liquid nourishment.

Dr. Thomas Horder, eminent cancer specialist, who treated Premier Bonar Law, has been called in with several other specialists for consultation, but it is understood they hold out scant hope for her recovery. Dr. Turner, an American physician, living in Paris, was summoned to London tonight.

The hope of the princess' relatives is that she may survive until the arrival of her sister, Mrs. Oreen, who is a passenger on the steamer Mauritania, which sailed from New York today.

Princess Anastasia Remains Constantly at the bedside of her wife, Her son, William B. Leeds, married Princess Anna of Greece, in 1921, and to whom the interest of the huge Leeds trust fund will revert in the event of the death of his mother, is also in attendance.

Since Dr. Alden R. Hoover of Muscatine, Iowa, chief of the American hospital in Constantinople, saved the life of the princess after a sensational dash from Constantinople to Paris in a torpedo destroyer, she has undergone no less than four operations for organic intestinal disease.

So far as is known the princess has provided for no change in the will of her late husband, William B. Leeds, which stipulates that if the princess should die the interest from the trust fund which she has been drawing since his death, shall go to his son.

NORTHWEST STATES SEEK TO CONTROL CROP PESTS

Idaho Requested to Send Representatives to Montana to Frame Plans to Fight Grasshoppers. BOISE, Aug. 28.—According to an announcement by M. L. Dean, state director of plant industry, Idaho may be represented at a conference to be held at Great Falls, Mont., August 31, to consider plans for combating the grasshopper pest. The conference has been called by the agricultural college of the University of Montana. Several of the states of the northwest have signified their intention of sending representatives as well as several of the Canadian provinces.

Canada complains that no effective work has been done in either country to combat the pest, which has been making great inroads on all crops and causing many dollars' worth of damage annually. The same situation prevails locally, no concerted effort has ever been made to control the pest and it is the hope of local farmers that Idaho will be represented at the conference and that some plan may be evolved whereby a concerted effort, preferably under state direction, be made to exterminate the pest or at least reduce its ravages.

TO CHANGE EXISTING LAWS

American Association of Joint Stock Land Banks Would Clear Way for Securities. CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP)—A move to bring about legislative action in numerous states so as to make joint stock land bank bonds legal for the investments of saving reserves, trust funds and insurance company investments, was outlined in a committee report today before the annual convention of the American association of joint stock land banks.

Under existing laws in several important states, particularly in the east, the joint stock bank bonds are beyond the scope of regulations governing the investment of trust, savings and insurance funds by chartered institutions. Modification of such laws is to permit a freer purchase of the agricultural bonds which make available to the farming industry great additional sources of credit, the committee suggests.

Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, spoke today, urging a sympathetic appraisal of the credit needs of agriculture by the joint stock banks. 'Prospersity begins at the farm and ends at the farm,' he said. 'If the farmer is a self-sufficient, capable business man who can avail himself of the good things, considering what things he needs in his business to produce property, he is entitled to an extension of credit, for he is doing his part.'
