CORFU, GREECE, BOMBARDED BY ITALIAN WARSHIPS

FINAL HOPE OF AVERTING STRIKE IS RELINQUISHED

Miners and Operators Are Wide Apart on Views as to Pinchot Proposals; Suspension Order Stands

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31 (AP)—All hope of averting a suspension of mining operations in the anthracite region vanished today. Operators and officials of the miners' union replied to Governor Pinchot's four propositions for settlement, responses that were variously qualified and limited in acceptance of the principles. After holding them more than five hours in executive discussions, endeavoring to bring them together, the governor dismissed both groups, pledging them to return at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Governor Pinchot said, at adjournment that both sides would maintain "status quo" during the interim while John Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared that "nothing having been done, the union notice for suspension of work still stands."

It was shortly after noon today when Governor Pinchot, took leaders on both sides in his executive offices and literally locked the doors upon them. There were only 11 hours to interpose before the order of suspension was to go into effect. Each side, as a last statement to the public, gave out the text of its formal reply to the peace propositions very soon after it was delivered. The answers proved that the employers and the employees' representatives were far apart in every particular.

Both Sides Agree
The governor's four-part peace proposal the eight-hour day came first and got substantial acceptance from each group in the written response. His second proposal, for a 10 per cent flat wage increase, met with objections from both sides, but was accepted by the union on a basis of negotiation, and accepted by the employees—under protest—provided that on it was founded a wage contract for a long term of years, with annual adjustments, up or down, to be made by arbitration.

The union sought a larger increase for men paid by the day, though less the percentage increase in contrast rates for mining coal. The operators said it would cost the consumer 75 cents more per ton in coal bills and that neither "private persons nor public officials" could assure an absorption of any part of the increase in transportation or distribution. The governor figured the total increased cost to be 60 cents a ton with 10 cents to come in reduced profits from the operators.

Treating the governor's third proposal, which in substance asked the

Five Men Are Shot in Riot Following Initiation by Klan

Resentment of Attempt to Break Up Meeting Met by Armed Attack by Mob

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 31 (AP)—Five men were shot and injured continued for several hours following an initiation of 250 candidates by the Ku Klux Klan on a farm near Newcastle tonight.

The most seriously injured are Harry Hush-Beck, 17, shot in the back, and William Clark, 31, shot in the neck. The rioting started at the close of the ceremony when a cross was lighted. Disorders began with a volley of shots from a crowd of about 500 boys in an adjoining field. Klansmen pursued them, but were met by nearly 1,000 men, who rushed the klansmen off the field and destroyed the cross. The klansmen rallied and there was a general fight. Policemen and firemen were called out but were unable to quell the disorders. The klansmen were finally routed and fled the scene in automobiles. As they sped through a suburb they were pelted with stones, hurled by a gang of negroes.

MARTIAL LAW IS PROCLAIMED IN TULSA COUNTY

Military Force Takes Command of Oklahoma District as Result of Long Series of Floggings

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 31 (AP)—Martial law in Tulsa county was proclaimed tonight by Governor J. C. Walton to take effect tomorrow at noon.

The executive proclamation suspends the right to the writ of habeas corpus in the county and declares that no civil agencies, including the courts, shall function without the consent of the commanding officer of military forces.

All arms and ammunition in the county, shall be turned over forthwith to the military authorities, the proclamation provides. Only persons granted permits by the military will be allowed to keep arms in their possession. The military investigation began on August 15 in mob activities in Tulsa county, the proclamation said, "has disclosed that a general state of lawlessness existed—for a period of more than a year prior to this time and that scores of people, including women, have been whipped, assaulted and beaten."

Authorities in Sympathy.

Civil authorities in Tulsa county have been in "secret sympathy" with those responsible for mob floggings," the governor charged in the proclamation. The situation had become such, he declared, that the lawless element had usurped civil powers, including the judiciary.

The civil authorities have refused to make any effort to bring to justice members of mobs and have refused to cooperate with military authorities, the proclamation declared. Additional troops will be sent to Tulsa from various points in the state to carry out the new martial law regulations, it was announced.

Singing of War Songs by Cafe Crowds Mark Receipt of the News

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Express reports that "the war fever in Italy is intense." Flags are flying and there is cheering everywhere, with Mussolini the hero of the hour. Men and women, the correspondent says, are thronging the cafes, singing war songs and toasting the premier and lionizing the fascisti.

Trace Resemblance Between Present and Scenes of 1914

News of Italian Action Received with Disquiet by British; Bombardment Regarded as Premature

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Events moved swiftly today in the dispute between Italy and Greece which in the almost universal opinion of the British bears lamentable resemblance to the dispute of the tragic days of July and August, 1914. Greece promptly replied to the Italian ultimatum with an offer of such satisfaction as, in the opinion of the British press, the occasion demands until criminal responsibility for the murders of the five Italian members of the Greco-Albanian boundary commission has been fixed by proper investigation, but declined to submit to what Greece regards as humiliating conditions.

Thereupon, the cabinet reassembled in Rome and decided on the next step Italy should take. This, according to reports from Athens, took the form of the Italian minister at Athens preparing a new note to Greece, seemingly in the shape of another ultimatum, the terms of which have not yet been stated, but giving only a few hours for a reply, and also notifying the Greek government that

WAR SPIRIT LOOSE IN ROME WHERE CHEERING CROWDS VOICE APPROVAL

CORFU, Island of Corfu, Aug. 31 (AP)—Corfu was occupied by the Italians this afternoon after a sharp bombardment in which at least 15 Greek civilians were killed and many wounded.

The demand for the surrender of Corfu was given at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon and firing began at 5:00 o'clock. The police school was demolished and the old fort fired upon. In the fort there were many casualties among the refugees. Orphans under the care of the American Near East relief were in serious danger from shell fire.

GREEK REPLY IS NOT ACCEPTABLE TO THE ITALIANS

Premier Mussolini Explains His Country's Views with Reference to Action Taken at Island of Corfu

ROME, Aug. 31 (AP)—Premier Mussolini today informed representatives of Italy abroad that Greece's answer to the Italian ultimatum was equivalent to complete rejection and that therefore, in order to bring Greece to a realization of her responsibilities, a temporary landing of Italian forces at Corfu had been ordered. The premier's message, which was put on the cables during the day, was as follows:

"The just demands of Italy, following the barbarous massacre of Italians in Greek territory, the Greek government has replied in terms equivalent in substance to a complete rejection.

"This unjustified attitude imposes on Italy the necessity of recalling Greece to a position of recognizing her responsibilities, and accordingly a detachment of Italian troops has been ordered to land at Corfu.

War Not Intended
"By this measure, which is of a temporary nature, Italy does not intend to make an act of war, but only safeguard her prestige and manifest her unshakable determination to obtain reparation due her in conformity with custom and international law."
"The foregoing does not create any obligations for the Italian government, the ambassador's conference may take by virtue of the fact that the Italian mission was part of a frontier delimitation commission which was appointed by the conference itself.

INDIGNATION RUNS HIGH

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Athens was wild with indignation when news was received of the occupation of Corfu, says the correspondent of the Daily Express at the Greek capital. The news reached the city before the announcement of the Italian five-hour ultimatum. Nobody in Athens, the correspondent adds, believed that Italy would commit a warlike act until Greece had definitely rejected the Italian demands.

GOVERNMENT INSECURE

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP)—A Central News agency dispatch from Rome, dated Friday, says that according to advices from Athens, the Greek internal situation is very critical and that the position of the government is untenable. Exchange has fallen and there was a panic at the bank.

AMERICANS AT CORFU

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—A dozen Americans interested in relief work are stationed at Corfu, which has been bombarded by the Italians, according to Colonel W. N. Haskell, who until a few months ago served as Red Cross commissioner to Greece.

RESERVISTS IN READINESS

LONDON, Aug. 31 (AP)—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Rome, says it is reported that two classes of Italian reservists are being held in readiness to be called to the colors if this should be necessary.

ATHENS, Aug. 31 (AP)—It has been semi-officially confirmed that several refugees in the police station at Corfu were killed by the Italian bombardment and that the building was destroyed by fire. The landing of the Italians was carried out under the guns of the fleet, which fired over the town. Fire also was opened from airplanes above the town.

OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED

ATHENS, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Italian fleet bombarded the police station and school on the island of Corfu, says an official communication issued this evening. The communication says that when the governor of Corfu was informed the island was to be occupied he said he would ask instructions from the Greek government, but that before the arrival Italian troops landed and the fleet bombarded the police station and school, which caught fire. The communication does not mention any casualties, but from other sources it is reported there were some.

ITALY NOTIFIED

ROME, Aug. 31 (AP)—The commander-in-chief of the Italian fleet is a report to the minister of marine to night announced the landing of Italian naval forces on the island of Corfu. The landing was effected without difficulty. The report says at 6 o'clock this evening the Italian flag was flown from the old fortress, that a salute of 21 guns was fired amid the cheering of the Italian crew, and that the occupation of the town and the island was proceeding without disorder.

NEW LIGHT IS SHED ON DEATH OF ART TEACHER

Suicide of Franklin H. Sargent Due to Breaking of Ties Between Himself and Well-known Actress

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—A romance in real life as poignant as delicate as any he has produced on the stage, was woven today by David Belasco around the career of his friend, Franklin H. Sargent, teacher of dramatic art, whose body was being borne to New York from Pittsburgh, where last Tuesday he sent a bullet crashing into his brain.

Crowned by financial and artistic success, Sargent faced the greatest year of his life. But this success could not make up for one of the greatest failures of his life—the loss of the love of Mary Anderson, the great actress whose tutor he had been.

Three times, said Belasco, his friend had attempted to end his life after a rift had separated him from his beloved pupil and she had become the wife of Antonio Ferrando de Navarero.

The fourth time he succeeded. Behind him he left no hint of the motive which had caused him to end his life. But Belasco knew.

Here is the story that Belasco, the weaver of beautiful dreams, tells:

"Franklin Sargent, one of the most lovable men I ever knew, has ended it all. His secret sorrow finally bore him down—down until its mirage obliterated all that should have been, and could have been happiness in the life of this great man.

Loved Years Ago.

"Long years ago Franklin Sargent met and loved Mary Anderson, the actress. Always she would look lovingly at him and repeat that she owed her great success to him. They loved, Sargent then seemed genuinely happy. Then came the rift. They separated, never, as far as I know, to see each other again. Mary Anderson married. Her name was changed to Mme. Antonio de Navarero. Franklin Sargent prospered, gained the love of friends, a very few friends, by the way, for he fraternized little, and became one of the most highly respected men in the theatrical profession.

"But always, far back in those big, sad eyes of his, deep down in his heart and soul, there lurked that hidden sorrow that followed him shadow-like through all the years, making him sad when he should have been happy, and blotting out all the sunshine. Few of his friends knew what was eating away his heart, but I did. It was memory of an old love; a wonderful old love; that he couldn't have shaken off if he wanted to, and wouldn't have shaken off if he could."

SPEECH IS WELL RECEIVED

Discussion of Monroe Doctrine by Secretary Hughes Draws Enthusiasm from Eminent Men Among Hearers

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 31 (AP)—Frequent applause from the crowd that packed the auditorium interrupted Secretary Hughes' address on the Monroe doctrine before the American Bar association in convention here.

Every seat in the large hall was taken an hour before the time set for the address, and it was necessary to lock the doors to keep the crowd outside from forcing its way past the door-man.

Lord Birkhead, former lord chancellor of Great Britain, declared the address "an admirable presentation," and Dr. E. S. Zeballos of Argentina, president of the International Law association, also commended it.

Prominent jurists, including justices of the United States supreme court, were high in their praise, remarking on the clarity of the exposition.

So great was the crowd around the auditorium seeking an opportunity to hear Secretary Hughes that Lord Birkhead, Justice Butler and several other legal notables were forced to wait nearly 20 minutes in a dark alley before gaining admittance.

PROSPECTS GIVE GOOD PROMISE

Agricultural Outlook Throughout Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank District Generally Satisfactory

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Agricultural prospects were described generally as satisfactory and economic conditions throughout farming areas were regarded as hopeful by the presidents of the 12 federal land banks who have concluded a conference with the federal farm loan board.

The land bank heads based their views and subsequent report to the board on survey made by their agencies scattered in every section of the country and with only a few exceptions their statements were optimistic.

Commenting that the reports taken together obviously revealed unsatisfactory conditions in some localities, Commissioner Cooper of the board declared the statements of the bank presidents "clearly demonstrated the generally sound and improved conditions in American agriculture." The commissioner added that he believed the farmers were back on their feet to stay.

The regional reports, summarized by the board, follow:

Eleventh district: (Utah, Nevada, Arizona, California). Crop conditions are satisfactory. Cotton in Arizona is good and the sugar beet situation, both as to acreage and condition is better than last year. The fruit market is depressed and the cattle industry of the range country has not fully recovered from the depression of several years ago.

Twelfth district: (Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana). The great wheat crop, the largest ever known for the

of a score of French officers.

A large number of intensely interested members of the German populace flocked to the scene to witness the ceremony.

PEACH CROP READY.

FILER—The late peach crop will be ready for harvest next week and from all reports the crop will be twice as large as that of last year. Hundreds of pickers and packers will be required to handle the crop. Peaches in carloads are being contracted at $1 per bushel.

district, is being harvested, but the low prices have not made it as highly remunerative as is possible. The farmers, however, will be able to liquidate considerable of the debt burden as a result of the bountiful harvest. Severe conditions of the past two years have left big holes in the reserve resources of the district, and it will be some time before normal conditions obtain. The cattle industry is at a standstill, but the sheep men are prosperous.

Experienced woodsmen say that when a man gets lost in the forest he usually travels round and round in a circle.

That's just the way some folks shop. They hit the buying trail, stray from it a bit, and before they are aware of the fact, they are lost—wandering in a maze of counters—gradually growing wearier and wearier—and finally get back home mentally and physically tuckered out without having accomplished much.

Up-to-date shoppers make up their minds what they are going to buy before they leave the house. They know exactly what they want, how much they want to pay, and just where they will find the right goods at the right prices. To them shopping is a pleasure.

HARRY GREB IS EASY WINNER IN TAME STRUGGLE

Johnny Wilson Outclassed and Outpointed by Former Champ; Attendance Disappointing to Promoters

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Aug. 31.—The welter boxing championship passed from Johnny Wilson of Boston to Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, in a lopsided 15-round battle before a small crowd in the Polo Grounds tonight. Greb won the judges' decision.

The new champion was not profuse in his customary windmill style, because he did not have to be. Wilson made a lethargic defense of the honors he won from Mike O'Dowd, and hardly at any time did he press his opponent. Despite the number of times Greb held, he had a wide margin of earned points.

Out of about 500 persons, including a sprinkling of women, were in the stands when darkness settled down. Vic McLaughlin of the West Side, New York, won the first four-round preliminary from Charles Arthurs of Yonkers, which was a slashing affair. The men are middleweights.

Seats Fill Slowly

As the second preliminary proceeded the spectators began to trickle in, but none of the sections appeared to be filled. It was a six-round bout between more middleweights and was won by Faddy Flynn, of Brooklyn, from his fellow townsman, Harry Galfand.

After the third preliminary it was evident that the crowd was not only a big disappointment to the promoters but to the spectators, who entreated men on the sidewalks to buy $5 tickets for 64.

The third bout was won, after a six-round tussle, by Cuddy DeMarco of Pittsburgh, from Johnny Conley of New York. The Pittsburgher weighed 129 1/2 and his opponent 140.

The last preliminary, a lopsided 10-round tussle, was won by Jack DeLaney of Bridgeport, Conn., from Jimmy Darcy of Fort Lauderdale, Ore. The winner weighed 163 1/2 pounds and Darcy 170.

Both Wilson and Greb were given an enthusiastic ovation when they entered the ring.

The weights were announced as 158 each. Jack Sullivan, referee, was the third man in the ring.

Fight by Rounds

ROUND ONE—They sparred in the center of the ring for a minute before Greb landed the first blow, a glancing left to the body and then they went into short body exchanges. Wilson landed another left to the body and took a right in return. The champion retreated around the ring and Greb drove him to the ropes where the Pittsburgher got in some effective body work. From the center of the ring Wilson then drove Greb to the ropes with short body blows after which they exchanged actively in the center of the ring. Greb forced the champion to cover up, sending both hands to the body and then the challenger did some damage at close range. They exchanged punches with one arm locked in the other's. They had a furious exchange in Greb's corner again locking each other's arms and pounded fully 20 blows apiece, separating at the bell.

ROUND TWO—Greb was short with a right and they exchanged a clinch. Greb began to bore in with his long lefty swing but Wilson met him. Again they locked arms and hit each other at short range. Greb held Wilson around the waist with his left and struck him with his right until the referee stopped him. Greb rocked Wilson at the ropes with a right but the champion clinched when the challenger added his right. Greb clouted a little bit and began grabbing Wilson around the neck with his left and punching with his right. They were sparring when the bell rang.

ROUND THREE—They sparred for a moment and then Greb charged, swinging his right to the stomach, driving Wilson to the ropes with a straight left. They exchanged at arms' length in the center of the ring and Greb began to charge again landing hard rights to the body, while he held with his left for which he was met by the champion. Wilson landed a hard left to the jaw before Greb again resumed his holding and received severe reprimand from the referee, O'Sullivan. Greb had the better of a protracted exchange at long range and they began to spar when the bell ended the round.

ROUND FOUR—Greb jumped to the attack and landed both hands to the head. He blocked a right and then repeated with both hands when Wilson tried to cover up. They clinched several times and Greb ripped short rights to the chest and jaw. Wilson landed a few lefts in a clinch. Wilson then landed a right to the chest and Greb missed a wide right. Wilson then came in and landed both hands. Greb sent a long right to the head and danced away before coming in again to hold with his left and pounded with his right until the champion counteracted with short lefts. The round ended with the main body to fight.

ROUND FIVE—They clinched immediately, exchanging off balance with one hand. Greb was very wild with rights, but he caught the champion and locked one arm and landed, one hand to the body and the other to the back ribs. Greb landed a hard right to the jaw and Wilson met him. Wilson was pretty much on the retreat now, missed also. Greb landed to the jaw and Wilson shot a left to the body and bounced his fists off the challenger's jaw. Wilson rushed Greb to the ropes but Greb came out laughing away with two flat attacks, and the champion resumed the clinching. Greb shot a right swing to the jaw and was going in for short range work when the gong sounded.

ROUND SIX—In this stage Greb was leading by a margin which was not too wide. Wilson fought toe to toe in a most severe exchange, but after a full he took a severe right to the jaw. Greb landed another right to the jaw and Wilson sank his fists to Greb's stomach. Greb landed four hard rights to the jaw in a clinch and then Wilson sank his right to the body before they clinched again. Wilson landed another right to the body and Greb began holding. Wilson's neck with one arm and Greb landed another right to the jaw with his free arm. Greb shot a hard right to the jaw before they exchanged again. They were pounding in a clinch as the bell sounded.

ROUND SEVEN—After a short delay Greb rushed and landed lightly and then they clinched, swinging both arms. The champion continued the body attack he began in the previous round. Greb kept gingerly on the offensive. Greb sent three short rights to the jaw and then his left to the body followed by three rights to the body. Wilson missed a right and Greb landed a hard right to the head. They resumed their half-clinching, hitting with their free hands, but Greb, in the next clinch, sent three short rights to the head and then his left to the head as the round ended.

ROUND EIGHT—Again after a slow start, Greb sent a left to the body and then began to punch Wilson's left eye which was half closed. Wilson was unable to solve Greb's clumsy and unloading attack and was simply blocking the landing while Greb landed unexpected quarters. Greb held again with his left and punched with his right to the body, both at short range and with long swings. Greb held again and Wilson was unable to counter much but as the challenger advanced Greb blocked his right to the head and shot a right. Greb was again met and fought but it did not stop him from landing a dozen more blows from that position and had the champion obviously bewildered when the round ended.

ROUND NINE—They parried a little while Greb analyzed his opponent's condition, before plunging in, digging both hands into Greb's body. Greb landed a hard right to the head and Wilson backed to the ropes, covering his face with his hands while the Pittsburgher whacked away. Wilson grabbed Greb around the waist to hold on and the challenger slipped to the floor. The challenger was hard at it again in a butch and sent a very damaging right smash to the head. The champion looked as though he were wavering. He dug a short right to Greb's midriffs and dispatched a right and left to the chin before the bell ended the round.

ROUND TEN—Wilson appeared groggy as he sat in his chair, his left eye completely closed. They started slowly but at that moment Greb shot a straight right toward the injured eye and cornered the champion in a neutral corner. Greb whipped over a right in a clinch and slashed away with both hands when Wilson came into clinch. With his one eye Wilson could see that Greb's stomach was slashed and he pointed his target, but could not reach it, while Greb backed away for a moment and came in landing wide swings. They had a short exchange before the gong tapped.

Greb had a clear margin in the opinion of experts at the end of this round.

ROUND ELEVEN—Greb swung a right to the face and Wilson missed counter right leads. They exchanged in a clinch, then Greb landed numerous rights before he opened up with both hands. Greb held with his left, and butted with his head and these tactics were expected to count against him, so it was difficult to estimate his lead. Wilson shot a hard left just above the belt. Wilson was advancing and clinch and Greb accepted his overtures by locking one arm and swinging the other. This was a slow round, and ended with the men sparring.

ROUND TWELVE—They came together fighting and Wilson was cheered for living up to the battle with a left. Greb grabbed the rope with his right and tried to pivot for a swing, but the champion hit out with a right and Greb had to cross the ring to land a hard right. They went into another half clinch and Greb did deadily punching with his right to the body and head. Greb sunk a left in Wilson's body and then crossed both hands repeatedly to the jaw. Greb slashed right punches to the jaw and Wilson's eye and the champion clinched when Greb pounded with his left. In the next clinch Greb pounded with his other st. They were going into an exchange when the bell rang.

ROUND THIRTEEN—They clinched as soon as possible, backed away and clinched again, and in both instances Greb landed the best effectively. Wilson advanced with a body attack and landed with both fists to the body, finding Greb very willing to mix. They mixed again until Wilson clinched. Johnny three both fists into Greb's stomach and they exchanged pretty evenly until Greb shot a left uppercut to the jaw. Now Greb held with his left and punched with his right, but Wilson came back with his body punching and they had a desperate exchange in a neutral corner which the gong stopped.

ROUND FOURTEEN—Wilson supporters shouted for him to do something, but he was nervous and they expected for a moment before clinching. Greb gained a few points in that and then looked a hard right to the head and followed with a hard left to the body. They pounded each other's body in a clinch and then Wilson landed a hard left to the kidneys. Wilson landed a right to the stomach. Greb counter-punching with both hands to the head. Wilson began to bore in but he did it too slow and Greb had one arm around his neck and was pounding with the other before the champion could get going. They were fighting at the gong.

ROUND FIFTEEN—Greb lured with a right and Wilson landed both fists to the body, but Greb swung a hard right to the head and Wilson backed to the ropes. Wilson was wide with a lead and they half clinched. Greb met his next advance with a left to the head, and when the champion came next, Greb held with his left in the next few seconds. Wilson's belated activity was not worth so much. Greb landed his right to the jaw and then pounded with both hands to the body. They clinched. Wilson landed a right to the jaw and Greb was pounding him along the ropes when the gong ended the fight.

MAYOR HAS NO OBJECTION

Exhibition of Pictures of Dempsey-Gibbons Fight in Chicago Agreeable to the Chief Executive

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Mayor William E. Dever, in the face of the arrest of James J. McGrath, charged with transporting the Dempsey-Gibbons fight pictures from Butte to Chicago, in violation of the federal law, said today that he had no personal objection to the pictures being shown in the city.

Edwin A. Olsen, United States district attorney, who directed that McGrath be arrested, declared Jack Dempsey and Jack Gibbons were indicted if he finds sufficient evidence to show there was a conspiracy to violate the law in bringing the pictures into the city.

SCHEDULE FOR SEASON GIVEN

University of Moscow Vandals to Play Eight Games, with Three on Home Grounds

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Aug. 31.—Football practice for the Vandal squad will begin Saturday, September 15, which is the earliest date permitted under coast conference rules, according to a statement made by Coach R. L. Matthews. Practically every other university in the conference will begin practice this same day.

Five lettermen of last year's team have played their last game for Idaho. Brony Breeshers and Arnold Cobley have been lost by graduation, and Babe Brown, Dale Veis and Jim Neal have played three years, although they have not completed their college work. Brown, Veis and Neal, who will return this fall, will act as assistant coaches.

The veteran lettermen of the 1922 season who will be in suits this year are Stevens, quarter back; Knicker, half; in the backfield; and in the line Quinn and Hausen, at tackle; Vesser at end; Kline at center, and Tapper at guard. Kinross at half; Stephens at guard, and Marker and Romer at end are also expected to make strong bids for regular positions this year.

Drop Kicker on Job

Bob Filzke, exceptional drop kicker and punter, who was ineligible last year, will get an opportunity this season to display his educated toe, and his ability to garner points from the field will make him a dangerous man in the Vandal offensive machine.

The 1922 frosh squad will report for varsity practice this year almost intact. It is this team that won the freshman championship of the north-west, with a record of being scored against but once in a six-game season. So from this team will come the men to fill the gaps in the depleted varsity. Men who are expected to make strong bids are Davis, Cameron, Davison, Nelson, Huoffner and Phipps, in the backfield, and Rocklin, Sibley, Landon, Jones, Payne, Disney and Stephens in the line.

Football fans are expecting a most successful season. With but one game played on the local field last year with practically new material, and some mighty hard trips, "Matty" developed a team that made an enviable record. The fighting spirit in the face of heavy odds, that characterized the Vandals last year is again expected, and with veteran players and a much easier schedule, it looks like a mighty good football year.

Three Home Games

Out of the eight games played three will be in Moscow, and one in Pullman, which leaves four games which call for long trips. Idaho is attempting something this year, however, that has never before been known. That is a trip on which three games, all conference, will be played. Sufficient time

AUSTRALIA BREAKS EVEN

Challenging Forces in Davis Cup Singles Develop Formidable Strength in Battle with U. S.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Proving an unexpectedly formidable menace to America's tennis supremacy Australia's Davis cup challenging forces broke even with the United States today in the two singles matches marking the opening of the 1923 play for the historic trophy that carries with it the emblem of the world's tennis championship.

William M. (Little Bill) Johnston, one of Uncle Sam's chief jobs in the title struggle, went down to defeat before James O. Anderson, Australian champion, in a spectacular gripping five set battle, 4-6, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2. But William T. Tilden, national champion, evaded the sword for the United States when he crushed John B. Hawkins in a dazzling, brilliant exhibition in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Anderson's victory over the Californian, who this year won the title of world's champion at Wimbledon, came as a startling surprise to tennis followers, who had considered Johnston and Tilden virtually invincible in the realm of international play. Upsetting the hopes and calculations of the cup defenders, it faced America with the most dangerous challenge she has had in the past three years, a challenge which can only be swung back by victory in two of the remaining three matches of the series.

Tomorrow Hawkes and Anderson will face Tilden and R. Norris Williams, American champion, a new international combination, in the third match, while on Monday Tilden will play Johnston and Johnston will oppose Hawkes in the remaining singles matches.

To Be Kept Open During September

Leigh Banbury Will Continue His Courteous Treatment of Our Patrons During September Before Returning to California

We are surely encouraged and gratified over the generous patronage rewarding our efforts to conduct a nice, clean, comfortable swimming pool. This season has been the best of our four seasons' experience.

We wish to express our thanks to the schools of the surrounding towns for their class meets and picnics during May. We had with us the schools from Shoshone, Gooding and Gooding college, Bliss, Hagerman, Wendell, Jerome, Buhl, Castleford and Filer.

The biggest week day we had, except July 4th, was when Gooding and Filer schools happened to meet on the same day. We thank all of these schools for this year's patronage and hope to have the pleasure of their company again next summer.

When we set down in the sage brush on the bank of the Snake river a big swimming pool the same size of the Boise "Nat," many of our friends feared it was an expensive experiment. But we can assure you all it is no more an experiment but an established success under our strict endeavors to furnish a clean, decent and orderly place. We insist on "behave yourself," and the rest is yours.

We try to do everything possible for parties bringing their own lunches or dinners in order that they may have a most enjoyable outing.

We shall do a considerable amount of improvement for next season.

Make yourself at home with us during September and you will find an increased endeavor to keep the water clean and warm.

COMPARES FIRPO TO WILD BEAST

Scientist Engaged in Studying South American Gives Description of Contender

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 31 (AP)—The muscular system of Luis Angel Firpo is vastly different from that of an ordinary human and his great strength is equal to that of a gorilla, Dr. John Reilly, who is making a study of the Latin gladiator, declared today.

"Firpo," the scientist said, "has a natural development, the same as a gorilla. He has not been an intensive trainer, but built up his strength by playing the most violent sort of games and eating large quantities of fresh meat at every meal."

"Like the wild beast I have compared him with, Firpo relaxes immediately after using his muscles. After a round of sparring he does not sit, but stands in his corner. His muscles hang like sacs of fat.

"His breathing is hardly noticeable."

Plural of "Money"
The correct plural of the word "money" is "moneys," following the rule that nouns ending in "y" preceded by a vowel add "ies" to form the plural. The word "monies" is an irregular plural that is sometimes used, particularly in the sense of "sums of money."

DEMPSEY SHOWS HITTING POWER

Jules Rioux, 200 Pound French Canadian Lumberjack, Takes Count at Hands of Champion

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Jack Dempsey's hitting powers were revealed again today when the heavyweight champion knocked out Jules Rioux, a 200-pound French Canadian lumberjack, and severely punished the other sparring partners who faced him.

As a result of shaking off the cold that has bothered him for a week, Dempsey worked with greatly improved form. The champion engaged in eight rounds of work. He went through a snappy round of light bag punching and a round of shadow boxing before putting on the gloves to face Ray Newman, a 175-pound fighter from Jersey City, for the opening two rounds. Dempsey directed his attack at Newman's body, hooking him solidly with lefts to the ribs and jolting rights under the heart.

Rioux, who engaged in a light workout with Dempsey 10 days ago, returned to camp today with his manager, and promptly requested another chance with the champion. He was scheduled after Dempsey finished with Newman. Rioux sparred timidly for a moment, and Dempsey hooked three lefts to the chin that sent him staggering.

Drops to Knees
The champion backed away to permit his opponent to recover, and then hooked a left to the body and a right to the chin. Rioux dropped to his knees, but quickly jumped to his feet. Another short right dropped him for the second time. Rioux blinked nervously when he struggled to his feet. Dempsey backed away for a second and then shot over an short left hook that caught the big Frenchman on the chin. He crashed to the floor, rolling over on his back completely knocked out.

George Godfrey, the 225-pound negro sparring mate, stood outside the ring and watching his turn with the champion, with eyes bulging and his mouth open, watching the camp attendant assisting the unconscious Rioux to the corner of the ring, where he was revived with a dash of cold water.

Godfrey tried to keep out of range during the two rounds he faced Dempsey, but Jack managed to nail him with right crosses and left hooks to the chin that jarred him to the head. The big negro continually poked his left into Dempsey's face in an effort to keep the champion off balance.

FORD CHANGES ARE ANNOUNCED

New and Improved Design to Be Followed by Detroit Manufacturer in All Types of Cars

Introduction of a higher radiator, bringing new and improved body lines to all types of Ford cars, is announced today by the Ford Motor company.

The changes have just gone into effect and the various types are now in production.

While the higher radiator has been made standard on all types and while it has made possible other betterments in body design, there is no radical departure in construction. The new radiator sets an inch and a half higher than the former and has an apron at the bottom which joins a similar apron effect of the fender on either side.

Most conspicuous among the new types is the coupe, which is entirely new body design and construction, resulting in a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and a greater luggage carrying capacity.

From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator, bringing a pleasing effect to the eye. The doors are wide and open forward, making easy and exit ease. They are heavily framed for rigidity and strength. The compartment at the rear has been enlarged to afford increased carrying capacity. The gasoline tank is under the seat, with divided cushions to afford easy filling of the tank from the right side, making it unnecessary for the driver to leave his seat. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add much to the attractiveness of the car. A new fender of more sturdy character also is a feature.

Good Material Used
Interior fittings are of choice material and the arrangements of the deeply cushioned seat has been affected so that at the rear there is a small recessed shelf for carrying parcels. The rear vision window is much larger and oblong in shape. Door windows have been equipped with revolving type window regulators and door locks are provided. Side windows are equipped with the new type window lifters.

Marked, too, is the improvement in the four door sedan. Highly popular since its introduction a year ago, because of its low, graceful lines, the car now presents even much better lines and sturdier appearance.

This has been brought about by the installation of an entirely new cowl, with a graceful sweep from the dash

LEAGUE OF NATIONS WILL BE ASKED TO TAKE ACTION

GENEVA, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Greek delegation here received instructions tonight to submit the Italo-Greek dispute to the league of nations.

M. Politis, head of the Greek delegation here, announced tonight that, acting under article 15 of the covenant of the league, he would formally submit the case to the league tomorrow morning by means of a communication to the secretary-general, setting forth Italy's demands and Greece's reply to them and explaining that Greece considers it her duty to have the league pass on the controversy, believing her attitude just and reasonable.

Article 15 of the covenant says: "Disputes should arise between members of the league any dispute likely to lead to a rupture, which is not submitted to arbitration in accordance with article 13, the members of the league agree that they will submit the matter to the council. Any party to the dispute may effect such submission by giving notice of the existence of the dispute to the secretary-general, who will make all the necessary arrangements for a full investigation and consideration thereof."

Union Pacific Taxes $36,306 a Day

Union Pacific System taxes practically tripled between 1912 and 1922, or from $4,668,875 to $13,251,552.

Our 1922 taxes amounted to $36,306 a day. This would have paid for 17 all-steel box cars every day or a modern freight or passenger locomotive every other day.

Union Pacific System tax payments since 1900 have been as follows:

Year	State and County taxes	Federal taxes	Total
1900	$1,256,839	—	$1,256,839
1910	3,205,069	344,792	3,549,861
1912	4,386,265	332,610	4,668,875
1917	6,131,174	3,113,943	9,245,117
1920	9,841,767	4,250,331	14,092,098
1922	9,876,649	2,998,506	12,875,155
1922	9,831,822	3,419,730	13,251,552

Fiscal year ending June 30. Calendar year ending December 31.

Union Pacific System taxes for 1922 consumed 6.87 cents out of every dollar of gross earnings and 27.03 cents out of every dollar of net earnings.

Total taxes paid by all railroads of the United States in 1922 were $304,885,158, which was almost as much as the cost of digging the Panama Canal. Taxes exceeded cash dividends paid by the railroads in each year since 1917, or the entire expense of running the United States Government in 1916. They amounted to 5.4 per cent of the entire gross earnings.

Railroads are the largest tax payers in many states. In some counties railroad taxes equal one-half the total. Some of the tax money provided by the railroads is used to build and maintain highways on which trackless competitors operate. Some of these highway transportation routes serve as feeders for the railroads, but in most cases they take tonnage from the rail lines, and the taxes levied on the railroads and their trackless competitors are often unjustly apportioned.

Senator Borah, speaking in Congress last December, said:

"It will be very difficult to reduce freight rates if we continue in this country to increase taxes upon the railroads as we have for the last four years. . . . These public utilities must collect this money from but one source, and that is from those who ship."

Railroads, like other businesses, must pay taxes. They are willing to pay their share, but they ask that the tax burden be equitably distributed, and that the public appreciate that taxation is an element of increasing importance in railway costs.

The price of transportation is bound to keep pace with the cost of transportation. We are bending every effort to reduce the cost.

Constructive suggestions are always welcome.

Omaha, Nebraska, September 1, 1923.

BREACH CLOSED; AGREEMENT WITH MEXICO REACHED

Diplomatic Relations Between United States and Southern Republic to Be Resumed at Once

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (P)—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico were resumed today and the breach existing for more than three years between the two governments was closed.

The action of the American government, expected by officials here to be followed soon by recognition of the Obregon government by Great Britain, France, Belgium and Cuba, thus restoring Mexico to its former position in the family of nations.

The state department through a prearrangement with Mexico City officials, announced the record of the two governments' relations since August 1, 1920, a formal statement, issued at noon, gave full credit for the understanding which made recognition possible to Charles B. Warren and John Barton Payne, the commissioners appointed by President Harding to the recent Mexico City conference held with a view to expediting an arrangement for the restoration of friendly relations.

A similar reference was contained in the statement to the part played by the Mexican commissioners in their effort to have the Mexico City officials comprehend the American attitude toward their government. It was in view of the report and recommendations submitted by the four commissioners, the statement said, that the United States resolved to renew relations.

To Name Ambassadors. It was indicated in diplomatic quarters here that France probably would designate its ambassador to Mexico on the same day the United States filled its embassy post in Mexico City. Information, however, was lacking as to the probable date. Great Britain, Belgium and Cuba would accredit their diplomatic representatives.

Great Britain has considerable interests in Mexico and it is believed she may find it desirable to protect them through conventions or otherwise. While it is known that President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes already have given some attention to the selection of an ambassador to Mexico, no hint has been given by the White House or state department that a final decision had been reached. It is believed, however, that since recognition has been extended, an announcement will be forthcoming soon, probably next month, and no time will be lost by the appointees in taking his post.

Instructions Preparing. Meanwhile, affairs of the United States embassy in Mexico City and the Mexican embassy here will be directed by the accredited charges d'affaires. Instructions are to go forward, probably tomorrow to George T. Summerlin, charge at the embassy in Mexico City, to present his credentials to the Mexican foreign office. Manuel C. Teller, charge at the Mexican embassy here, has not received instructions from his government, it is said, but they were expected momentarily and Mr. Teller is prepared to make the customary call at the state department.

R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Texas, is regarded in official circles here as the probable choice of President Coolidge for the post of ambassador to Mexico. He is known to have been the choice of President Harding and his recent conference here with Mr. Coolidge is said to have resulted in favorable consideration of his name by the chief executive. Mr. Warren has definitely announced he would not accept the post and it is regarded unlikely that Mr. Payne would give up his work here as head of the American Red Cross even though he was offered the Mexico portfolio.

Claims to Go Over. Regarding the appointment of American members to the claims commission, provided for in the report of the Mexico City conference commissioners, it was explained today by authoritative spokesmen that the matter would be given attention when the claims negotiations have been formally signed and have been ratified by the United States senate. At the present time, it was said, the first consideration is to have the documents signed by representatives of the two countries as soon as possible.

Rotten Time Promised. A Japanese invitation to dinner frequently runs as follows: "I beg your pardon for thus insulting you in begging your company at my house to dinner. The house is very small and very dirty. Our habits are rude, and yet I hope that you will condescend to be present with us at 8 o'clock." You go, and you find everything exactly the opposite.—Boston Transcript.

PONY EXPRESS ALREADY AHEAD OF SCHEDULE BY ONE AND A HALF HOURS

Rider Reaches Lawrence and Passes Through Before Assembling of Welcoming Crowds

LAWRENCE, Kan., Aug. 31 (AP)—Riding an hour and a half ahead of schedule, Clarence Main brought the pony express into Lawrence tonight at dusk and left at once for Topeka. He was so far ahead of the time expected that there was not even a street crowd to welcome him.

At one little town in Kansas a newspaper sought information about the pony express. An old farmer, asked if he had passed, replied: "Yes, but it was only a man on horseback."

RESEMBLANCE TRACED

meantime Korfa would be peacefully occupied temporarily by Indian troops. On this development the Greek government immediately telegraphed Geneva, invoking the intervention of the league of nations.

War Conclusions. There are the outstanding developments of the day as far as ascertainable under what generally is believed to be a partial reversion to war conditions in the way of censorship or delays in telegraphic communication from Rome and Athens.

Marital law is said to have been declared throughout Greece, while in Italy many anti-Greek demonstrations are reported. Many sensational reports of naval and military movements have been current, but it is considered here these should be received with reserve.

Disconcerting reports, which, however, have not yet been officially confirmed, comes from Rome. It is to the effect that Premier Mussolini intends to ignore the league of nations in the controversy, maintaining that the dispute concerns only Italy and Greece. The view held in British official circles is that under article 12 of the covenant of the league, both Italy and Greece, who are members of the league, are bound to submit the dispute to that body.

Press Comment Bitter. In varying tones, ranging from deprecation to denunciation, the British newspapers complain of Premier Mussolini's "treasonous precipitancy," and draw parallels with the Austrian note of 1914, which led to the world war. Fear, is expressed by some of the newspapers that the present spark may set the whole Balkan ablaze. It is expected that Marquis Caron, the foreign minister, may curtail his visit and return to London next week but it is expected the British government still is hopeful that war will be averted and that for the present it contemplates no special action.

BORAH PLEADS

nize soviet Russia would effect an earlier settlement of the Ruhr situation, add to the possibilities of world peace, establish foreign trade relations for America and create a market for American products, as well as being a humanizing move that would effect thousands of Russians.

During his address Senator Borah ventured too near one end of the platform and one of the planks slipped, nearly causing him to fall, whereupon he remarked that the plank "must be the direct primary plank," but that, at any rate, he would "ride it" to the ground.

Has No Confidence. The Idaho senator expressed no confidence in the ability of France to pay her war debt to the United States, adding that "the child is yet unborn who would live to see one dollar returned."

He contended that to recognize soviet Russia, be it what it may, was justifiable as was the recognition of the government set up in France and recognized by Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton and the members of the cabinet, referring to Washington as the world's greatest constructive genius, and to Jefferson as the foremost statesman of his time, or any time, and quoted the letter written by Washington recognizing the government then founded in France, when kings and queens were being beheaded.

The senator's audience included citizens from more than a dozen central Idaho towns, some of whom traveled more than a hundred miles to hear his message.

cook, apparently the only survivor, was the fifth member.

The expedition, according to announcement at the time, was partly commercial and partly scientific. One of its objects was to raise the British flag over the island which, according to Stefansson, had never been claimed by any sovereign power. Recently this claim was disputed by the Russian soviet government, which, in a note to Great Britain, protested against the raising of the British flag and asserted that on various occasions Russia had laid undisputed claim to all the islands along the northern Siberian coast.

Wrangel island is a bleak windswept island off the northern shore of Siberia, northwesterly from Bering Strait. Its existence was first reported by natives in 1823 to Baron von Wrangel, who made an unsuccessful search for it. It was first clearly seen and its shores delineated, according to authorities by Captain Thomas Long of the American whaling bark Nile, in August, 1857, and called Wrangel island. Its insular character was determined in 1881 when it was given its name, Wrangel island.

Impossible of Access.

Explorers have described it as almost impossible of access because of the constant pressure of the ice packs that form in the Arctic ocean off the Siberian coast. Many trailing schooners have attempted to reach it only to be turned back by the great floes and the Arctic storms.

Captain Nole's expedition, which returned to Nome today, was the second expedition to go to the relief of the Crawford party. In 1922 Captain Joe Bernard, master of the trading schooner Teddy Bear, battled with the ice floes for weeks in an attempt to reach the island, but was forced to abandon the venture when the polar ice pack closed down later in the fall. His vessel barely escaped destruction and returned to Nome without news of the adventurers.

The men had been provisioned for one year and only this year Stefansson engaged Captain Harold Nole to make another attempt. Nole, on the schooner Donaldson, sailed from Nome August 3, after being notified that because of the Russian claim to Wrangel island his vessel was liable to seizure if found in soviet waters. At Kotzebue he attempted to obtain a number of Eskimo families for colonization purposes, but all but one of several families he had induced, to join him deserted on the eve of his departure.

The master of the Donaldson, Captain Louis Hansen, resigned his command at Kitzebue because of difficulties over the conduct of the expedition and Nole was forced to proceed short-handed.

The Donaldson left Kotzebue on the night of August 6, and was last heard from August 9 off Point Hope, until her return to Nome yesterday.

Fears for Safety Allayed by Arrival in Harbor; Hurricane Causes Heavy Losses to Shipping

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31 (AP)—The tourist steamer Freya, which broke her moorings near Hoerler in the hurricane which raged along the coast of Jutland Thursday, landed her 200 passengers safely tonight. The vessel, for which fears were held as no news from her had been felt for many hours, was terribly battered in weathering the storm.

Fifty fishing boats have not yet returned to Esbjerg and there is grave fear for their fate. Dikes were burst everywhere, houses and animals being swept away.

Telegraph and telephone wires are down in western Jutland.

of the original pony express, when President Coolidge in Washington presented a golden key that gave the telegraphic signal to start the express. Astoria Beauty, a mare of nine years, Shephard owned over the paved streets of the modern St. Joseph to the banks of the Missouri river, cheered by several thousand persons who had gathered from over the middle west for the event. He wore blackish trousers, and olive drab shirt and white sombrero.

Indians Lend Color.

Kickapoo Indians from Kansas, women dressed in the modes of 1800, covered their faces with heavy blacking and were hitched to them—all made up the scene that was to represent the launching of the first express 60 odd years ago.

Shepherd crossed the Missouri river here on a large especially built for the event. The landing on the Kansas side was made amid crowds of cheering riders as he pushed his way up the bank, anxious to be off toward Troy, Kansas, where the first change of feed was made. There C. L. Main relieved Shepherd and carried the mail pouch upward, to be lived in turn near Atchison, Kansas, by John Carter, youth of Topeka.

And so the westward progress of the pony express revival was made, Leavon being reached late in the day from whence the route lay over the crete-fort-to-fort and Victory highways to Lawrence and Topeka. At Lawrence a brief stop was made while exercises were held before the site of a hotel which was destroyed in the famous Quantrell raid 60 years ago this month.

The mail pouch which is being carried to the Pacific coast contains 389 letters, the pouch and its contents weighing 14 pounds 10 ounces.

FINAL HOPE

union to drop the "check-off" demand, the operators consented to an arrangement by which union agents would be permitted to collect union dues in company offices, stating that this was being done now. The union answer was an argument for the practice by which the employers would be required to hold out union dues from each employe's pay check, and turn it over to local unions.

The fourth and final proposal for acceptance by both sides of collective bargaining principles drew from the operators the observation that they accepted it, if it meant the system followed in the industry. The union answer also accepted, stating their understanding to be that it would require the operators "to forego their practice of contracting with individual employes for service at less than prescribed rates."

Touching other paragraphs of the original peace proposal, the union took occasion to reaffirm opposition to any form of arbitration. The operators, besides declaring the flat wage increase to be "uneconomic," urged that the public was "entitled to a complete and durable settlement" which would prevent recurrence of strikes and give assurance that "the principles of orderly adjudication would now receive some recognition."

COOLIDGE STILL HOPEFUL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31, (AP)—Refusal of either side in the anthracite controversy to accept outright the industrial proposal of Governor Pinchot for a compromise has not shaken the confidence of President Coolidge in the ultimate success of the negotiations at Harrisburg.

The government's policy, it was declared today at the White House, continues to embody complete support for and in cooperation with the Pennsylvania executive, with the determination to use every power of the federal authority to assure adequate fuel to the public should production cease in the anthracite fields.

Regardless of developments at Harrisburg, it was stated officially, that there would be no move to put in motion the elaborate machinery for distribution of anthracite substitutes until after Labor Day, with the probability that action along this line would be postponed until even a later date.

No Need of Hurry

Officials having charge of the emergency program emphasized their opinion that there was no necessity for precipitate action in view of the known existence of surplus bituminous coal to supply the market for at least six weeks from the date on which stoppage of hard coal output became an accomplished fact. With agencies in readiness to move these supplies to affected areas, they said, the government would have time to exhaust every avenue of mediation between the anthracite operator and the mines without endangering to the slightest degree the industrial situation in New England, or the comfort of individual consumers during the approaching winter.

This view was held also at the department of commerce where it was held that even a complete stoppage of anthracite production, "while disturbing, could have no very great effect on industry generally." Outside of a relatively small area, an official of the department said, bituminous coal was the main reliance of the national industrial machine and the absence of a normal supply of hard coal would hardly be noticed.

Traffic Plans Laid. It was foreseen, however, that the normal flow of transportation might be affected because of the necessity of moving an increased volume of bituminous over long distances to eastern centers, and plans have been made to so arrange this traffic and its requirements of cars as to prevent a shortage of rolling stock for movement of fall crops.

Secretary Hoover called at the White House late in the day for a conference with President Coolidge, presumably on the anthracite situation.

THE MARKETS

ONLY SLIGHT CHANGES SHOWN IN WHEAT PRICE

News of Bullish Character and Stronger Hog Market Have Effect on Grains; Corn Advances

CHICAGO, Aug. 31 (AP)—European news of a bullish character and strength in the hog market gave a firm tone to the wheat market today. Toward the close, however, support fell off and values failed to retain advances established earlier in the day. At the close wheat was unchanged to 1-4c lower, with December $1.04 3/4 to 1.05, and No. 1 $1.04 1/4 to 1.05 1/4 to 7/8; corn was up 1-8 to 1-16c, oats 1-4 to 1-4c higher, and provisions gained 5 to 15 cents.

News from abroad, especially that pertaining to Italy and Greece, was readily absorbed by the bulls and wheat values started with an upward swing. Higher Liverpool cables helped to lift values here, as did hog values, which were the highest of the season. Firmness in the cash market also led a bullish factor, but when buyers withdrew the market became easier. Offerings were light, receipts being estimated at 275 cars.

Trade was light, commission houses being moderate buyers. The upward confirmed sales of 300,000 bushels of hard winter wheat to the United Kingdom and it was expected that 200,000 bushels more would be worked before night.

Corn was firm with September delivery leading the upturn, strength in the cash market being an influence to some extent. Buying was scattered with some profit taking on the advance.

Buying by a leading cash interest was a helpful factor to higher levels in the oats market.

Provisions were strong and higher in an active trade.

STOCK PRICES STIFFEN

Despite Showing of Strength Trading on New York Exchange Marked by Post-Holiday Quietness. Total stock sales 567,200 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 63.46; net gain, .06. High, 1923, 105.38; low, 86.01. Twenty railroads averaged 80.30; net gain, .29. High, 1923, 90.63; low, 70.78.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—

Constructive factors were at work in today's stock market, with the result that prices stiffened considerably after an early period of heaviness. Trading, however, was of the usual quiet, post-holiday character. Morning paper reports of warlike preparations on the part of Italy against Greece, and predictions that Governor Pincho's proposal would not be accepted by both parties to the miners' wage dispute brought a fairly large volume of selling orders into the market at the opening, the recessions running high for four points. These offerings were well absorbed, however, and within half an hour the market was pointed upward again.

The rally did not assume very extensive proportions, however, until after the official announcement of the resumption of diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States, which was followed by notable buying demonstrations in the stocks of companies interested in Mexican properties and in the bonds of the Mexican government itself. This announcement, which was followed by a report that the miners had accepted the Pincho plan as a basis for further negotiations, and that the operators while objecting to the 10 per cent wage increase, would accept it on condition that an agreement putting it into effect over a long term of years be effected, imparted a firm tone to the rest of the list. Dun's business review states that "signs point more clearly to a gradual breaking away from the summer lull in some branches of business," adding that "while conservatism continues to govern most operations, with some hesitancy induced by prevailing uncertainties, more interest in forward requirements is noted and September is expected to bring about a further quickening of demand." Bradstreet's sets forth that "there are more cross currents visible in trade, crops and industry, and business operations generally have reflected the desire to make the most of the last week of the vacation season, but the more cheerful toning recently noted continues unabated." United States Steel, Baldwin, Studenbaker, American Can and most of the other pivotal stocks showed small fractional gains on the day.

Davidson Chemical, whose spectacular fluctuations featured yesterday's market, ranged between 51 and 60, closing at 52 1/4 for a net loss of 3 1/4. An official investigation of yesterday's fluctuations was ordered by the business conduct committee of the exchange this afternoon. Call money opened at 5 1/2 per cent, but slipped to 5 before the close. Time money ranged between 51 and 60, closing at 52 1/4 for a net loss of 3 1/4. Foreign exchange unchanged. Foreign exchanges received slightly, demand sterling falling a half cent to $4.64 1/4, and French francs falling 5 points to 5.59 1/2 cents.

BOARD PREPARES FOR BEGINNING OF SCHOOL YEAR

Directors Agree on 22 Mill Levy, Change in Tuition and Text Books in Independent District

Establishing of a school tax levy of 22 mills, revisions of text-book lists and fixing of school tuition were the principal matters of business before the annual meeting of the Twin Falls school board held Friday night.

The subject of the school tax levy was disposed of following a short discussion, the matter having been gone into rather thoroughly at previous meetings.

The levy of 22 mills is divided as follows: interest, four mills; sinking fund, one and one-fourth mills; transportation, two mills; general running expense, 14 3/4 mills.

The fact that the valuation of the district this year is estimated at approximately $500,000, as compared to about $360,000 last year, is given as one of the principal causes for the necessity of a higher levy.

The outstanding changes in text books apply to geography and arithmetic in the grades and to chemistry and biology in the high school.

Mr. Mitchell presented a list of teachers who have resigned and the resignations were accepted and new appointments of the superintendent were confirmed by the board.

Expect Oil Flow at Oakley Field

Recent Showings Convince Officials Well May Be Struck Shortly; Product High Quality

The drill of the Goose Creek Oil & Development company, biting its way a little deeper each day into the formations on Coal Creek 10 miles south of Oakley, where the company holds an oil lease, has produced bailings of sand containing oil and the showings within the past few days have convinced many that oil will be struck shortly, according to official reports from persons at Oakley closely in touch with developments.

In the same vicinity the West Pearl company, now at a depth of about 2500 feet, is continuing its operations and has obtained oil showings, although an excessive flow of water is said to be hampering operations considerably.

The lease holder for the Goose Creek company, in which D. C. Carpenter is interested, reported Friday that the company has brought up bailings from the present depth of about 700 feet that contain oil that appears to be of an exceptionally high grade.

Examples of the sand placed in an ordinary pint fruit jar and left to settle resulted in the gathering of about half an inch of oil at the top, he said. The company expects to have an analysis made shortly.

The company is now drilling through a formation that is said to be considerable among oil men the invariable covering of either a heavy oil flow or oil showings, and this fact leads to the belief, it is said, that the flow may be of a good creek when the formation is penetrated.

WOULD PREVENT WITHDRAWAL OF DISTRICT LANDS

Murtaugh District Asks Injunction to Stop Annexation of Farm Property by Milner Low Lift

In a complaint filed in district court Friday the Murtaugh Irrigation District seeks to prevent several property owners from withdrawing their lands from the Murtaugh district and annexing them to the Milner Low Lift district. Following the filing of the complaint an order was issued by Judge W. A. Babcock setting next Friday as the date when the defendants are to appear before Judge T. Bailey Lee at Burley to show cause why an injunction should not be granted against them.

The defendants named in the complaint are the Milner Low Lift Irrigation district, Edgar W. Moorman, David Moyes, Glenn H. Hyde and D. B. Moorman. The complaint bears the signatures of Porter & Witham, E. A. Walters and R. P. Parry as attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Several hundred acres are involved, the land adjoining, according to J. W. Porter of counsel for the plaintiff, the Murtaugh district on the south, in Twin Falls and Cassia counties.

The complaint states that the owners of the property in question petitioned the court on October 27 to be excluded from the Murtaugh district and the petition was refused. At another hearing in connection with the action was set for next Saturday.

The complaint relates considerable of the history of the Murtaugh district including the confirmation by the court on May 2, 1921, of the petition for the organization of the district, the withdrawal on May 15, 1922, of the bonds in the total sum of $270,000, and on October 27, 1922, the complaint states, the board of directors approved and assessed benefits of the bond issue against all lands in the district, including those now in question.

EXTREME PENALTY IS PAID

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 31 (AP)—Calm and stoical, George H. Gardner today paid the death penalty for the slaying at Wobly, Utah, on April 15, 1922, of Deputy Sheriff Gordon Stuart and Joseph Irvine, a rancher.

He was executed at dawn by a firing squad at the Utah state prison. Gardner's last statement, made as the black hood was being placed over his head just before he took his seat in the death chair, was an expression of sympathy for the widow of the deputy sheriff he had slain.

"The killing of Gordon Stuart was accidental," he added, "but I have no apology to make for the killing of Irvine."

Gardner's death culminated one of the most bitter legal battles in Utah criminal history. Every resource having been exhausted by the defense in the courts in the hope of preventing the execution.

COUNCIL FAVORS CLEANER SPORTS

District Scout Organization Urges Elimination of Enmity Between Towns

The elimination of enmity and unwarred bitterness between towns and cities in southern Idaho over athletics and the maintenance of harmony and true sportsmanship will become one of the aims of the Snake river council of the Boy Scouts, the council having gone on record to that effect at its meeting here Friday night.

The matter was presented by Dr. W. F. Pascoe, Twin Falls Boy Scout commissioner. Fifteen scout officials from Twin Falls, Buhl and Rupert were present. Dr. J. H. Murphy of Buhl, presided. The feature of the meeting was the submission and acceptance of the district executive's report. His report, in part, is as follows: "The first two months of activity in the newly formed Snake river council have been, of necessity, spent in getting acquainted with the field, completing the organization, rounding out the summer camping program and in laying plans for the next season's work."

"During the past week plans have been largely perfected for the holding of a patrol leaders' convention September 8 and 9. Exhibits for the Cassia county and Twin Falls county fairs are being prepared. Complete registration of all Scouts and officers is being completed, in order that accurate information may be had regarding the status of scouting in the council territory. "One new troop each, at least, should be organized in Buhl, Burley and Rupert. Scout rallies should be held the last part of the month or the first part of the following month."

Before adjourning the council decided to hold the next meeting on October 6 at Rupert. ORDER GIVEN TO CLOSE STATION BOISE—Permission was given the Oregon Short Line railroad to close the station at Idahoone, in Cassia county, as an agency station. The order does not become effective until December 1, however, because of the grain shipments at the present time. The utilities commission also was informed by the railroad that steel cat-guards would be placed at the crossing near Idahoone as a result of protests of several citizens of that section because of livestock being killed by the trains.

COMMENTS HEARD AMONG TOURISTS

There is much dissatisfaction expressed by tourists at the way they are misdirected by people both east and west of this place. It appears that someone is trying to divert travel from the Oregon Trail to a road over the desert on the north side of the river. Two parties have lost their way and have been obliged to cross by way of Blue Lakes. One man was very angry and expressed himself in strong language. He said that it was an outrage to send strangers over an unmarked trail. He was especially incensed at the fact that after visiting his country down that awful grade at Blue Lakes, he should be held up at this side for six bits. He said that there could be a sign on the north side notifying the stranger that the grade is private property.

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Dickford and family from Ancon, Canal Zone, Panama, are touring the country from coast to coast. They sailed for New York June 10 and have been through the northern and western states, visiting in Illinois and Minnesota. They came through the Yellowstone park and will return the same way, stopping for a final visit at the doctor's former home in Minnesota. He said that he had seen many irrigated districts, but nothing to compare with Twin Falls in extent or in variety of crops.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Shaw are returning to Long Beach, Cal., from Weyburn, Saskatchewan. Mr. Shaw says that he is a Canadian, but as long as the people of Long Beach treat him right he will stay with them. A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McManus and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sherman of Weyburn, Wyo., are changing their residence to La Grande, Oregon. Messrs. E. R., L. J., L. D. and Miss Vera Munnell are moving from Bloomington, Illinois, to Portland to grow up with the west.

POWER SITE INSPECTED

The Auger Falls site for the irrigation plant owned by the Murtaugh district has just been inspected by A. J. Paulson of Boise, representative of the federal power commissioner. He was accompanied on the inspection by the district's engineer. No report or comment was made on the completion of the survey, according to attorneys for the district.
