MAKES APPEAL TO PUBLIC IN HOME WALKOUT

Pinchot Emphasizes Consideration of Common Rights of Individuals; Expresses Optimism of the Future

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 1 (AP)—Governor Pinchot, his work as mediator in the anthracite wage controversy temporarily suspended by the recess until next Wednesday, will today represent the operators and officials of the miners' union agreed today, appealed tonight to the people to consider their own interests, and to make their will known through the fullest possible discussion.

In a statement in which he said the essential and encouraging fact is that the negotiations which yesterday were lagging are still going on, the governor declared he welcomed the breathing space for the hard pressed leaders of both sides and urged the use of an adjustment to a realizing sense of the public point of view.

With mining operations throughout the anthracite regions halted by the suspension order which went into effect at midnight last night, representatives of the opposing sides here since Monday when Governor Pinchot called them together and told them their differences must be settled, left Harrisburg declaring the situation unchanged. The governor, outside of his formal statement, confined himself to an expression of encouragement.

"The essential and encouraging fact is that the negotiations which yesterday were lagging are still going on," the statement said.

Both committees have suggested an adjournment to consider carefully the whole situation, including the four points of my recommendations. But since each committee will do its best to get a view of the interests of its own side, this seems to me like a good time for the people to consider their own interests also, and to make their will known through the fullest public discussion.

"In these negotiations I have been representing the public and its necessity to get coal. To get coal we must find a compromise upon which the miners and operators may meet and settle their differences with some regard for the public right. That common ground, in my opinion, properly covers a wage increase and a temporary rise in the price of coal. The choice lies between that and the threatened shortage.

People's Rights First.

"The public is the most numerous and the most important party to this controversy. Its rights are paramount. Its welfare is the first consideration. The health and safety of the people are directly and most seriously threatened by the closing down of the mines.

"The hardships of a coal shortage go far beyond discomfort. January, February and March of 1922 were ordinary winter months but anthracite was lacking during these months.

"Six thousand more people died in Pennsylvania than in the same months in 1922, when anthracite was not lacking. These were deaths only. They did not represent the very great number of illnesses and injuries which would have resulted from the prolonged illness and physical injury. Our industries also suffered as did our people.

"This is what happened in a normal season of winter weather in a state which consumes but 10 per cent of the total tonnage of anthracite. What deaths and suffering took place outside of Pennsylvania from this same cause I can only surmise. It is worth remembering that there are said to be fifteen million customers for anthracite.

Dancing Master Would Organize Ballet Teachers

Mascagno Says Most Instructors Confine Work to Ballroom Steps; Favors Changes in Association

BALT CITY, Sept. 1 (AP)—Conferences that most dancing teachers "know nothing at all about ballet, and teach their work in the simple forms of ballroom dance," Stefano Mascagno of New York, nationally known dancing master, said today that the ballet teachers' association of America being formed in Baltimore is the real art of dancing may be maintained.

The founders of the new organization, besides Mr. Mascagno, are Fred Christensen of Seattle, William F. Christensen of Ogden, Utah, and L. P. Christensen of Salt Lake City. Christensen announced today that they had resigned their membership in the American Association of Dancing Masters, with whom they had been affiliated, because the American association has failed to emphasize the importance and significance of the ballet.

ITALY MOVES TOWARD STRATEGIC POSITIONS

League of Nations Confronted by First Big Test as Greece Places Her Case Before Geneva Conference; Belgium Believed Favorable to Italy's Cause

ROME, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Italian government is actively engaged in military movements to exact reparations from the Greeks for the killing of the members of the Italian delimitation mission in Greek territory.

HOPE TROUBLE MAY BE ENDED

Washington Confident Hostilities Abroad Will Remain in Localized Status

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Belief held in Washington from the first that a solution of the difficulties between Italy and Greece would be reached by peaceful means was open stronger today as a result of the reports received from the Italian and Greek officials. It was said, it was similar to those received by the press and were considered hopeful.

Although it was admitted that the situation holds potential dangers, the view generally expressed in diplomatic circles was that an adjournment was in prospect either through the league of nations or the good offices of some such neutral power as Britain. Even if some further military moves are made, it was said, the trouble would in all probability remain localized.

The Greek legation announced tonight that it had filed a formal protest with the state department against the action of Italy.

In a statement the legation declared the course of the Italian government in taking the Greek legation to the island of Corfu constitutes a violation of international law.

"It is not only an infringement of the territorial rights of Greece, but is an open violation of the principles of international law to which the government of Greece has already appealed," the statement said.

GREEK TROUBLE AFFECTS PRICES

Wall Street Deeply Concerned Over Outcome of Foreign Mix; Lire Decline

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Wall street bankers expressed deep concern today over the Italian military operations against Greece and all cables were cautiously scanned for latest developments.

Professional speculators for the decline attempted to bring about a reaction in stock prices, using the Greek-Italian situation and the suspension of hard coal mining as an excuse, but they met with only partial success, the reactions in actual industrial and railroad shares generally being limited to fractions. In the bond market the kingdom of Seta, Creata and Siovesa dropped 2-5/8 points but the Italian 4 1/2 per cent bonds were unchanged with the volume of business small.

The wheat market, invariably the most susceptible and early evening, advanced 1-1/2 to 2 cents a bushel. Italian lire dropped nearly 12 points in the foreign exchange market to 4.22 1/2 cents, or within 2 points of the year's low, but rallied later to 4.23 1/2 cents. Greek drachmas were steady around $1.75.

WOOD PREVIOUS BRIGHT FUTURE IN PHILIPPINES

Administrative Questions Dwelt Upon in Governor-General's Report; Shows Governmental Banking Success

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—An encouraging future for the Philippine islands was forecast by Governor General Wood in a report submitted to Secretary Wood on the record of the Philippine government for the year ending December 31, 1922, and made public today by the war department. The report laid out defects which existed in the island administration, revealed steps taken in the way of reform and treated optimistically of governmental policies and government banking success.

General Wood confined his observations almost wholly to questions relating to administration and omitted all but the most general references to the political situation in the islands, which since the report was made, has resulted in the reorganization of a number of Philippine officials.

Of all the government enterprises, the governor general said, the Philippine national bank presented the most serious problem. Audited reports, by the general government, showed that it had lost its entire investment in the capital stock of the bank and that remaining assets of the institution were largely held in frozen loans and investments which must remain for a long time, some of them indefinitely.

"Fortunately," he added, "the public is not so much concerned as it might be with the loss of the bank through its ownership of 92 per cent of the stock. The situation is thus relieved of any cause of alarm to depositors or holders of the bank's official bonds.

The policy of the insular government in the past of business as rapidly as sound business methods and proper protection of the interests of the government, the governor general said, adding that its commercial enterprises were being reorganized and well along with that of the bank as the heaviest. Of the work of the legislature General Wood said:

"The spirit of the legislature has been one of the most commendable in the history of the fifth legislature. The spirit of the legislature has been one of the most commendable in the history of the fifth legislature. The spirit of the legislature has been one of the most commendable in the history of the fifth legislature.

PAY TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN

Stefansson Is Astonished at Death of Crawford on Wrangell Island

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Vilhjalm Stefansson, the explorer, today expressed astonishment and grief over the tragic fate of Alan Crawford and his companions in the bleak expanses of Wrangell island, as reported in the Associated Press dispatches from Nome.

The famous Arctic explorer, who was largely instrumental in dispatching the relief boat with assistance for the little expedition, was of the opinion that, with care and management, anyone could live on the island for three or four years, subsisting on the seals, walrus and bears with which the place abounds.

Crawford's death is a terribly tragic news," said Stefansson. "I heard nothing myself direct from him for a long time. I knew the situation of the party, but I did not expect this sudden end."

He concluded by paying tribute to the courage of Crawford and his gallant American companions.

ORDER SHIPS TO SCENE OF QUAKE

U. S. Navy Vessels Speeding Toward Tokio to Bring Relief to Sufferers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—After communicating with President Coolidge the navy department tonight ordered the fleet to participate in the relief work. Admiral Anderson, commanding the fleet, was instructed to use all possible speed to dispatch the relief work and to render every aid possible.

The Atlantic fleet is now near Port Arthur, and Admiral Barks, chief of the fleet, said it was probable that Admiral Anderson had already dispatched a squadron of destroyers to Yokohama, where an American navy hospital is located. He added, however, that in order to assure the presence of American relief ships there, specific orders were dispatched.

No dispatches reached the navy department today from the Asiatic fleet, officials depending wholly on press reports for their information. The navy wireless was unable to establish communication with the stations which could give details.

Neither the state department nor the navy department today received reports from Japan. Acting Secretary Phillips of the state department remained up to date on the situation in Japan. He expressed deep anxiety over the lives in the affected area. State department officials were in touch with the Japanese embassy, which extended the aid of the organization through the consulates.

It was recalled by these officials that the Japanese Red Cross was among the first organizations to offer aid.

FRANCE AWAITS NEW EVENTS IN CORFU CONFLICT

Utmost Discretion Observed by Government in Italo-Greek Hostilities; Diplomatic Action Is Limited

PARIS, Sept. 1 (AP)—The utmost discretion is observed in official circles over the Italo-Greek conflict, the government appearing to have decided to adopt a policy of "wait and see."

All diplomatic action among the allies thus far has been limited to action by the council of ambassadors and according to the best information obtainable there has been no change of views between Paris and London as to the attitude of the allies.

It is understood that the French viewpoint is that the moment Premier Mussolini took separate action on the question of sanctions for the assassination of the Italian members of the boundary mission became an Italo-Greek question and the allies henceforth can only exercise a moderating influence on Italy and advise reasonable compliance with Italy's demands by Greece. In this opinion, however, the moment for such intervention as this seemingly has not arrived.

The argument advanced in behalf of Italy that the occupation of Corfu finds a precedent in the occupation of the Ruhr has caused some irritation in French official circles, where it was said there was no similarity and that the Ruhr question was effected under the terms of the treaty of Versailles after the reparations commission, with the Italian representatives voting with the majority, had declared Germany in default.

On the other hand, it was pointed out, the Italian occupation of Corfu was effected without either the knowledge or approval of the allies.

There is a desire in Paris that Great Britain and France remain united in this crisis, as the Greco-Italian conflict is regarded as the extremity of a chain of incidents which might spread a conflict over the whole of Europe. The discretion of the French government is regarded—in political circles as due to the tone of the Italian officials.

WALL STREET IS PLEASED

Financial District Expresses Keen Satisfaction Over Resumption of Relations with Mexico

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Expressions of satisfaction at the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico were general in the financial district today, although all interests showed a disposition to withhold comment until it was ascertained what effect the recognition would have on their claims against the Mexican government.

Banks particularly were pleased at the state department announcement, and said that recognition would remove many obstacles which now beset efforts at financial transactions between the two countries.

No comment was available on the probable effect of the stop on the resumption of interest payments by Mexico on its securities in the hands of American investors, but the opinion was general that restoration of amicable relations would be beneficial to the debt plan.

The chief topic of conversation in the financial district was the probability of dismissal by the courts of numerous suits and claims which have been filed against the Mexican government. Attorneys were generally agreed that all such claims would now be handled through diplomatic channels and that recognition relieved Mexican funds on deposit in this country from danger of attachment.

LAST MAN LEAVES STATION

Final Victim of Riots Following Klan Meeting Departs from Police Headquarters at Perth Amboy

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 1 (AP)—A lone figure slipping quietly from police headquarters Friday night was the last reminder of the protracted riots last night and today, when a mob of more than 5,000 persons, defying the police, broke up a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan, beat white-robed figures whenever they appeared, and drove the klanmen from the streets.

The man had spent the day at headquarters waiting an opportunity to leave safely, and tonight quiet had been restored sufficiently to permit his departure. He was the last of the 800 klanmen who had been targets for missiles and blows from the mob that interfered with the Klan meeting.

Despite the violence of the riot, no serious injuries were reported. Tonight police reported that the situation was well in hand. Five men arrested this morning on charges of inciting to riot were released under bond into today.

PICTURE OF RUSSIA.

Bolshevism manipulates every human activity in Russia. It strangles the press and imprisons correspondents who dare to hint at the truth. It establishes its own press agency called the R. O. S. T. A. which pours out newspaper material radiograms and every form of propaganda designed to picture bolshevism as the millennium of mankind. Cauteremen who seek to obtain pictures without permission of the soviet government are apt to be imprisoned or even shot. An attempt to smuggle films across the border would be dealt with summarily.

Nevertheless, "Red Russia Revealed," the Fox special reel to be shown for two days starting Monday at the Idaho theatre contains extraordinary vivid scenes of the actual operations of the bolshevik tyranny. In spite of all autocratic control, in spite of all threats, in spite of every precaution taken by the soviet the pictures were made, were hidden and were carried across the border to be brought to this country for the information and the entertainment of the American people.

Mighty Labor A Nation's Tribute

On labor depends the progress and prosperity of a nation.

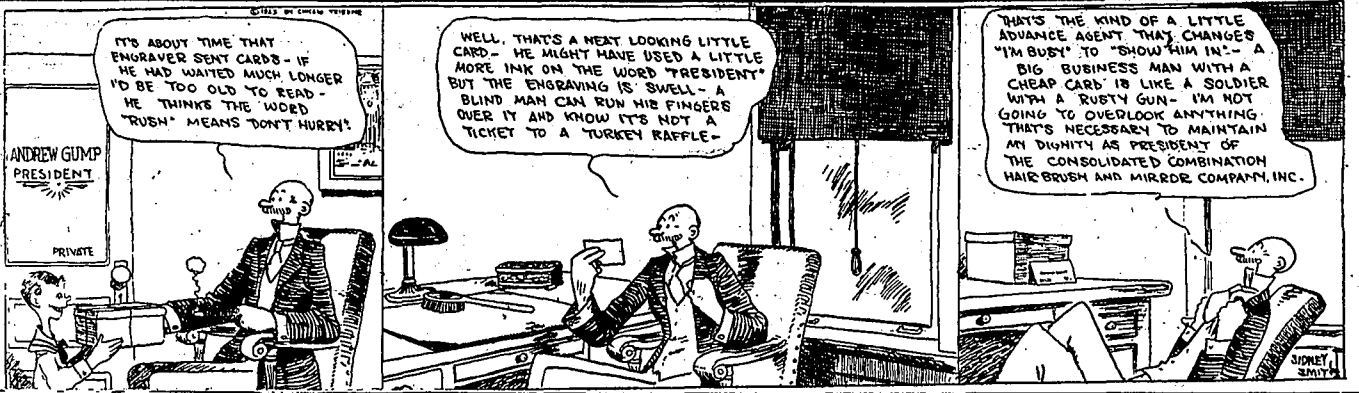

All science and invention, commerce and industry look to it for stability, strength and sound finance. In war and peace the hand of labor, with its power to construct or destroy, alone has the means to make the world a better place in which to live.

All our luxuries and necessities, the automobile, aeroplane, telegraph and steamship lay at the feet of labor.

A nation's gratitude sets a holiday, the laboring man's day, to honor the brawn and sinew and skill that has been responsible for the progress of the world through the ages.

FIRPO RECORD IS UNUSUAL IN FISTIC ANNALS

South American Heavyweight Contender Begins Life as Bootblack, But Scores Rapid Rise

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo, ex-steeplechase rider, the son of an Italian emigrant to the Argentine, has scaled the pugilistic heights to challenge for the world's heavyweight title after one of the strangest, most picturesque careers in the prize ring known. Unheard of two years ago, he is matched to fight Jack Dempsey in the championship at the Polo Grounds on September 10.

Strong, and possessed of a powerful punch, Firpo is recognized by boxing critics here as a dangerous contender for the title, but back in his native Argentine Luis is more than that—he is a national hero.

Firpo's early career in the land of papayas and pineapples was a record of the athletic prowess he was to gain. Born October 23, 1892, nearly 23 years ago, in Buenos Aires, he had little to boast and ruggedness to recommend him as a ring prospect. He grew a native of Genoa, Italy, emigrated to the Argentine at an early age. His father was small of stature, but his wife, born of Spanish parents in the Argentine, was of much larger type, leaving her son Luis inherited his size. The mother died several years ago, leaving an elder brother and a younger sister, besides Luis.

The father in now employed in the government railroad near Buenos Aires. Worked as Bootblack

Before turning to pugilism as a means of livelihood, Firpo had a variety of occupations, doing odd work as a stove cleaner for some time. He also earned a little as a bootblack and had another job as a bottle-washer in a drug store. The foundation upon which he built the legend that he once was a drug dealer.

Firpo, however, irked under the drudgery of these tasks and devoted most of his spare time to athletics, where he demonstrated all-round prowess through natural pugilistic aptitude and qualifications. He had read of the achievements of the pugilists and one day when a friend took him to a gymnasium he seized a chance to enter the ring against an amateur named Angel Rodriguez.

The fight against that attempt in 1917 was the real stimulus to Firpo's ring career. He was knocked out in the first round by Rodriguez, who since has retired from active competition.

Only One Setback

That setback, the only one of his career, was followed by a succession of triumphs. Firpo, finding a natural outlet for his physical ability, in the rudiments of the game rapidly, through relying only on his strength and punch. He knocked out his opponent in a matter of minutes. Then, in his first bout as a professional, he knocked out an American, William Uily, in the seventh round. That had occurred in September, 1919, in Chile, and was followed by a string of knockouts by Firpo among opponents of his own country, Uruguay and his native land, the Argentine.

By the winter of 1921-22 Firpo had conquered about all the pugilistic opposition South America could furnish. He was to turn toward other fields. Influenced by his increasing fame and the interest in him, Firpo came to the United States early in 1922 and after some delay obtained a permit to fight Max Baer, at Newark, N. J. Firpo won by a knockout in seven rounds and then in succession stepped two other lesser heavyweight lights, Italian Jack Warner

CHAMP HAMMERS SPARRING MATE

Best Member of Dempsey's Staff Nearly Takes K. O.; Goes Eight Fast Rounds

SARATOGA SPRING, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—Jack Dempsey came dangerously near knocking out Jack Burke, the "ace" of his sparring pit today, saving the fight by the humiliation of stretching out on the canvas floor of the ring by picking him up and holding him in a clinch until his dizzy brain cleared.

The punches administered to Burke made the third victim for Dempsey in as many days. Jack McAuliffe, the Deacon, did not get in a single blow, being out Thursday. Yesterday Jules Kluz, the big French-Canadian lumberjack, was strangled unconsciously in the corner to be revived by spitting of cold water in his face.

Dempsey increased his boxing to eight rounds instead of stopping the usual six, but aside from the spirited two rounds with Burke the workout was a matter of minutes. He sparring partners to retreat. He faced two rounds each with McAuliffe, Burke, Farmer Lodge and Ray Newman. In the order named, and only gave them 30 seconds rest between rounds.

Burke, who usually rises into Dempsey as if actually engaged in battle, fell a victim to the champion's plodder righter. After a fairly even first round, Dempsey knocked Burke into the ropes with a short right and hit him with the same punch when he bounced back, dropping him to his knees. Burke scrambled to his feet and danced to the center of the ring. Dempsey tore after him, and whipping over a third short right to the peak of the chin, sent Burke crashing to the floor. He was groggy and unable to rise.

Dempsey, with a smile on his face, tenderly picked up the game prize-burgler, and held him in a clinch until he was able to get on his feet. Farmer Lodge, the Minnesota giant, breathing as if he had run 20 miles, wrestled Dempsey all over the ring to escape mauling. Whenever Dempsey started to punch at him, Lodge immediately wrapped his big arms around the ropes, falling over the top strand and landing on his back on the laps of the ring-stickers.

STATE TAX LEVY BELOW 5 MILLS

Board of Equalization Completes Labors; Total Reduction About .75 Mill

BOISE, Sept. 1.—A large saving will be made for the taxpayers of the state in their taxes for the year in the reduction by the state board of equalization of the state tax levy nearly two-thirds of a mill. The tax last year was 5.381 mills and this year it was cut to 4.773 mills. The farmers will enjoy most of this saving because there was also made a cut of nearly $6,000,000 in the assessed valuation of agricultural land and stock in the state. The agricultural land, dry land and milk cow valuation was actually lowered by the board $17,200,487.30, but the valuation of irrigated land was increased $10,500,752.51.

While the equalized valuation of all properties was decreased approximately $1,600,000 an increase in approximately the same sum is shown against the saw mills and lumber. An increase of $917,030 was made in the valuation of saw mills and $851,341.40 in lumber.

The Idaho Power company was given an increased assessment of $200,000; the Utah-Idaho Power company, an increase of $75,000; the Washington Water Power company, $61,770 and lesser concerns in proportion. The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company will show an increased valuation of about $50,000.

Short Zinc Given Increase.

The Oregon Short Line railroad company will show an increased assessment of $28,780, or a total of $55,195,964, while the Northern Pacific valuation was slightly reduced standing at a total of $11,070,110.

Governor C. C. Moore states that he is immensely pleased to get the state levy below five mills and that it could not have been accomplished without the rigid program of economy adopted by the last legislature. A saving was made by the last session and the executive force of $201,471 below the appropriation for 1923. This meant a saving of more than $430,000 for each year of the biennium which affects the state tax levy very materially.

Other members of the state board of equalization are Auditor Ed Gallat, Treasurer D. F. Banks, Secretary of State F. A. Jeter and Attorney General A. H. Connor.

Miss Mildred Elrod, who has been studying music in Chicago the past summer, will be at her studio, 321 Fourth avenue east, after September 1st, to receive pupils for piano instruction. She is prepared to offer the Dunning system of instruction, having recently completed a course in this method. Phone 718W.—adv.

SIKI ARRIVES IN U. S.

Senegalese Scrapper Beaches New York; Wants to See Dempsey-Firpo Match; Willing to Fight McTigue

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Battling Siki, the Senegalese who fought his way to fame a year ago by knocking out Georges Carpentier, and whose real name is Louis Fall, arrived here today from France.

Siki comes to this country for two purposes. He declares first his desire for a return match with Mike McTigue, who he defeated by knocking out 20 rounds at Dublin last March. Next he wants to attend the Dempsey-Firpo match and challenge the winner.

Siki was accompanied by his manager and two pugilists. The latter said he was ready to meet all comers, except "has-beens," among whom he placed Jack Johnson.

LABOR DAY

Labor Day 1923

Upon Labor Depends the Progress of the World

Every luxury and every necessity in use by mankind today owes its existence to labor. Without labor there would be no Progress, and without Progress, Organized Society would soon cease to exist.

Labor Day commemorates the date set aside upon which the World shall pay homage to Labor. A Nation's gratitude sets aside this day upon which all may pay a tribute to this great and mighty force.

LOWER TAXES

Nearly everybody kicks about taxes.
Nearly everybody agrees that they should be lower. No wonder about that, when the coat of government, national,
state and local, is now one hundred dollars a year for every man, woman and child in the country. How to lower taxes is the question. Here are four suggestions from Senator Smoot, who has made a specialty of public finance:

First, support the national budget system. This remedy assumes similar budgeting of expenditures, and living up to the budgets, in state, county, township and municipal governments.

Second, adopt a constitutional amendment to prohibit issuance of any tax-secure certificates, to prevent legal tax-dodging by big capitalists and make it harder for extravagant administrations to obtain funds.

Third, turn down all new proposals for joint federal and state expenditures, such as those now made for good roads, because they encourage states to spend money they cannot afford.

Fourth, emphasize the fact, whenever any new expenditure is proposed, that it is the taxpayer who pays the bill, and let the taxpayer ask himself in every case not simply whether the object is worthy, but whether it is worth the cost contemplated.

Some of these proposals are debateable, but all of them deserve consideration. The last one alone, which is the least debatable of all, would save American citizens a billion or two a year if they heeded it.

FAST MAIL

The success of the recent experimental mail flights between New York and San Francisco assures that there will soon be a mail service duplicating regularly the remarkable results obtained. It has been proved feasible to carry mail from coast to coast in less than 30 hours. That is to say, a letter mailed one morning on the eastern seaboard can be delivered on the western seaboard the next afternoon.
It may not be long until the time is shortened to 24 hours.

Thus the two oceans are brought only one day apart for purposes of written communication. Similar air service would reduce the communication distance of the northern and southern extremities of the country to half a day.

The importance of this in binding together distant and opposite sections of a great country can hardly be exaggerated. It will operate immediately for better business co-operation, and that will mean increased prosperity, since the prosperity of the United States depends mainly on doing business with itself on a bigger scale. It will mean, too, better understanding and closer co-operation in matters more vital than business.

Fifteen Years Ago
in Twin Falls

From The News Files Sept. 4, 1908

Labor day, the only legal holiday, will be fittingly celebrated in Twin Falls on Monday, September 7. The local merchants have agreed to close their doors and have been liberal in donating prizes. The local labor unions have been active in promoting the celebration and have succeeded in preparing attractive features. There will be a large number of handsome floats in the parade, and the prizes promise of being the most pretentious spectacle of the kind ever witnessed in Twin Falls.
The oration of the day will be delivered by Judge K. J. Perky of Boise. James A. Waters will be master of ceremonies and C. W. Dyer marshal of the day.

The capital stock of McCormick & Co.'s bank in Twin Falls is to be increased from $50,000 to $100,000 by admission of local stockholders who have already subscribed more than the required amount. Mr. McCormick will retain the controlling interest in the institution which is to be hereafter called the Twin Falls Bank and Trust

Adverse Effect on Business Will Be Short-Lived; Prospects Generally Are Promising

WELLSLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 1
(Special to The News.)—Roger W.
Babson today gives his monthly review of general business conditions. Mr.
Babson is not bullish on the immediate outlook, believing rather than we have begin in earnest to complete the period of readjustment which was started in 1919. He insists, however, that this completion will clear the decks for real prosperity in the future. His statement is as follows:
"Business is beginning to feel the shock of President Harding's death which so stunned the American people.
Although there is consolation in the fact that his successor, Calvin Coolidge, has had great administrative experience, yet a shifting from one president to another must break many connections and change many plans. The first period to feel the results of this change are the retailers. Retail sales fell off immediately following President Haring's death and have not yet resumed.
Hence, wholesale buying is on only a moderate scale. Buyers are not inclined to purchase beyond their immediate needs. The price of wheat is also falling the size of crops and the prices of agricultural products.
"The best immediate business opportunities are believed to be in the textile and clothing industries. Reports are somewhat disappointing, yet the good prices promised should make the southwestern prosper during the next 12 months.
Although there is consolation in the balance of the season and current prices, the south will add greatly to its wealth and purchasing power. The northwest, however, is handicapped by the European farmers who are raising more grain every year, which naturally reduces our exports of cereals. Wheat prices have shown no material change
recently, but corn prices are softening, although this softening is only natural as the new corn crop approaches maturity.

Not an Unhealthy Sign

"Iron, steel, petroleum, copper, wax and certain other basic commodities are declining in price, but this is not an unhealthy sign. The great difference in the level of farm products and manufactured goods must be eliminated sooner or later. The price of agricultural products must come up and that of manufactured goods must come down. Therefore, the present readjustment movement is healthy and good for all of us in the long run. This readjustment will be accomplished by a reduction in the prices of raw materials, an increase in the efficiency of labor and a reduction in overhead and selling expenses.

"The employment which is retaining certain industries on account of foreign competition, should make labor more reasonable. On the other hand, indications are that the wage earners in those monopolies such as transportation, coal, etc., are still greatly tempted to make trouble. Certain of the railroad unions are about to make drastic demands for wage increases, restoring wages to what they were at the peak following the war and prior to the cut July 1, 1921. Considering that the dollar of 1913 is now worth about 67

cents compared with only 40 cents in May, 1920, and only about 50 cents in the spring of 1921, these demands on the part of labor for a restoration of war time wages seem very unjust.

Clearings Declining

"Bank clearings have definitely turned down the corner and are declining; mail order sales have again apparently reached a maximum; the demand for iron and steel is slackening. Credit expenditure is still up in Pennsylvania, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. People scramble to buy on advancing markets, but refuse to buy on declining markets. As a result, the decline in prices may now go as much below normal as the previous advance went above normal. This is unfortunate; but being in accord with the law of action and reaction, it is inevitable. This further explains the current decrease in retail buying and the consequent falling off in the orders of manufacturers and jobbers. When we are in a bear market prices always decline to abnormally low figures irrespective of merit or the cost of production.
"The general public are optimistic signs if studied with the long pull in view, although they naturally affect the Babsonchart index, which is today 10 per cent below normal. There is no doubt that business when ill in 1920 and 1921 did not properly liquidate—it got out of bed too soon. We must now retrace again and be willing to convalesce slowly. Therefore, things are now traveling in the right direction—not withstanding current pessimism—and when prosperity finally comes, it will be much more healthy and last much longer than it otherwise would."

We think when it gets to the size of a pea, that it might fall thru the grate and get is Spring Canyon Nut at $3.50 per ton. We have some coarse slack coal looks like pea coal, we sell for $5.50. We also have some slack at $4.00 per ton. The reason we have so much slack for sale, we sell our coal separate and our slack separate. We also have a special furnace coal, lump and nut mixed, at $9.00 per ton. We saw an ad the

We Now Charge Batteries In 8 Hours

We have installed the CONSTANT POTENTIAL METHOD of BATTERY CHARGING—the most important time, money and battery saving development since the beginning of the battery service. It is endorsed by the makers of Exide Batteries—the oldest and largest battery manufacturers in the world.

Batteries are fully charged in eight hours by this method, which is recognized by the leading engineers as the ONLY scientific method of recharging batteries.

By the Constant Potential Method, batteries are charged individually and not mixed indiscriminately with other batteries. Each battery unfailingly takes exactly the amount of current which it requires —no more or no less. The possibility of overcharging, excessive gassing,
"boiling" or overheating is POSITIVELY eliminated.

The time of local plate action is cut down from a 48 or 72-hour maximum to an eight-hour maximum, thus reducing the amount of shedding of active material from the grid retaining frames. When a battery is fully charged the current is automatically cut down, which prolongs battery life.

1923

It is well to think that here in America—the one great prosperous nation in a troubled world—men can work in peace, accumulate in security, and enjoy their independence unmolested.

The privilege of being an American was never more priceless than on this Labor Day, 1923.

MARKET REPORTS FORCE WHEAT PRICES HIGHER

Bullish Crop Estimates and War News Among Factors Causing Changes; Corn and Oats Advance

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP)—War news, improved export business, bullish crop estimates and higher quotations at Liverpool combined today to force a sharp advance in wheat futures here. At the market wheat showed a net gain of 1 1/8 c. to 2 1/8 c., with December $1.02 1/2 to 1.03 1/2 c. to 5-8, and May $1.12 1/2 to 1.13 3/8 c. Corn was up 5-8; oats advanced 1/8 to 1 1/2 c. and provisions were unchanged to 1 c.

The Green-Italian situation again was the chief influence in boosting values in the Liverpool market; the advance being reflected on this side of the Atlantic. A better export business appeared in the making, as Chicago sold 235,000 bushels of hard winter wheat for export via Montreal and chartered tonnage for about twice that amount in addition. Unfavorable weather conditions abroad were said to have impaired the European crop, while private estimates of the spring wheat crop in this country were placed at 121,810,000 bushels compared with last year's crop of 278,887,000 bushels. The Canadian wheat crop was placed at about 2,000,000 bushels below last year. Deliveries on September contracts were 4,478,000 bushels with milling interests accepting 2,000,000 bushels.

Wheat estimates for corn were construed as moderately bullish. Rains are delaying maturity and possible danger from frost is increasing. Commission houses were busy covering up orders on two upturns.

Oats were strong in sympathy with other grains, the demand being good and selling scattered. Provisions were firm on light deliveries, strength in hogs and higher Liverpool market being strengthening features.

STOCK TRADING IS DULL

Prices Show Tendency to Sag During Week; Speculative Losses in Standard Lists Are Small.

Total stock sales 204,700 shares. Twenty individuals averaged 93.22; net loss, 24. High, 1329, 1053.88; low, 86.01. Twenty individuals averaged 70.88; net loss, 42. High, 1923, 1053.88; low, 76.78.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Stock prices showed a tendency to sag throughout today's brief session of the market with trading unusually dull because of the absence of many traders on account of the Labor day holiday. Division Chemical again indulged in a high bid for 100,000 shares of 1-4 points lower at 51, dropping to 40 at which one sale of 50,000 shares was recorded and then plunging to 35 1/2. Wagon was up to 1.50; weaners 1.25; point, and just half of last Thursday's price. An official investigation of the movements of this stock is now under way.

Professional operators using the suspension of anthracite mining and Italian military action against Greece as excuses, began to offer stocks down to 10c. The opening of the market did not exceed 10c or so in the active and standard issues, probably because of the long selling made its appearance. Pool operations were again in evidence in a few new specialties. Austin Nickel and Julius Kaiser each rising more than a point.

An attempt was made to depress the automobile shares following the announcement of additional automobile price cuts, but good buying support appeared and the reactions, as a rule, were limited to fractions. One block of 10,000 shares of General Motors changed hands just before the close at 15 1/2, the price dropping later to 13 1/2, off 2.5. Bulls picked slightly on what was generally believed to be profit taking sales. The hard coal carriers failed to reflect any weakness over the announcement of new coal contracts. The weekly clearing house statement showed an increase of $73,460,000 in loans, discounts and investments, while net demand deposits increased $28,622,000, and time deposits $12,248,000. The reserve of member banks in the federal reserve bank increased $5,843,000. Weakness of Italian exchange, and strength of the Norwegian and Swedish currencies were the features of the quiet foreign exchange market. Italian bills dropped nearly 12 points to 4.2 1/2 cents or within two points of the year's low, but rallied later to 4.23 1/4. Norwegian krona advanced 17 points to 16.12 cents, and Swedish krona 11 1/2 points to 26.69 1/2 cents. Demand sterling held steady around $4.54 1/4 and French francs advanced nearly 5 points to 5.64 cents.

REVELATIONS OF MR. CONOCO —the most contented motorist in six states!

Comparatively speaking—

YOU can go about as far, and as quickly, with "anonymous" gasoline as you can in a boat with cheese-cloth sails.

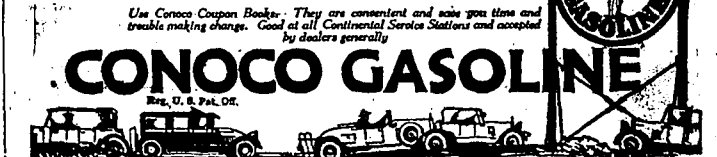

"This car of mine, however, doesn't have to struggle along on that kind of diet. No sir!—not when it's so everlastingly easy to stop at the CONOCO sign—and to know that I'm getting a fill that has the proper 'kick' in every drop.

"My carburetor is adjusted for a lean, economical mixture and there it stays—no fussing or fiddling with it for the rest of the summer. The answer is simple, too—I just stick to Conoco, not only because it's dependable, clean-burning and powerful gasoline, but because it's always the same wherever I get it in these six mountain states.

"Incidentally, I can't help thinking my engine feels happier—certainly she's humming a pretty tune these days."
