

WORDS FAIL TO DESCRIBE SCENE OF EARTHQUAKE

Witness Depicts Unbelievable Sights as Result of Great Disaster; Buying of American Flour Is Urged

HONOLULU, Sept. 6 (AP)—No other word but "hell," can depict the scene in Tokio during and after the earthquake, according to the Tokio correspondent of the Hawaii Shimpu, who today sent from Sendai, Japan, "eye witness" story of the disaster. "No vocabulary, he declared, would suffice to describe it adequately.

GAVE NO WARNING.

"The first great quake came at 11:55 a. m. Saturday last," the correspondent said. "It was without warning. Most of the buildings of Tokio collapsed at the first shock. The center of the quake seemed to be in Fukuoka and Kanagawa, but it was felt throughout the entire region between Nagoya in the southwest and Aomori on the north, a region comprising virtually the northwestern half of the island of Honshu.

"The earthquake was preceded by a tremendous landslide along the Sagami coast. Fires which followed in the wake of the earthquake were partially due to the incendiary of Koreans, who applied torches to fallen buildings.

"With the proclamation of martial law General Fukuda was appointed emergency commander of the Tokio area. Admiral Nomaguchi, commander of the Yokosuka naval base, was appointed commander of the area including Yokohama and Yokosuka.

"Among the known dead are Baron Y. Matsunaka, member of the privy council; Baron Y. Sonoda, member of the imperial council.

"After the earthquake Tokio was a living hell. Crazy, horrible flames stormed the parks to escape the refugees. Those who were too slow or too weak from exhaustion and excitement were overtaken by the flames which engulfed them. The fire spread with remarkable rapidity.

"In the chaos and pandemonium children were torn from their parents' arms and from their husbands. The surviving populace ran wildly about, holler skelter, their screeching mingled with the crackling of the mountainous flames, explosions and other thunderous noises.

"In a short time thousands of bodies were thrown about the streets. The imperial gardens and the military barracks throughout the city were opened to refugees. The cabinet appropriated $5,000,000 yen for relief."

"The correspondent said he reached Sendai only after a series of indescribable adventures.

GIVES LOWER ESTIMATE

OSAKA, Sept. 5 (AP)—Casualties from last Saturday's earthquake had reached 10,000 dead and 100,000 injured in Tokio by last evening, according to a dispatch received here today from the Tokio Asahi, a leading newspaper, by airplane.

"The dispatch estimated the deaths in Yokohama at from 30,000 to 40,000, saying that virtually every house in Yokohama had been destroyed within three minutes after the first shock was felt. It is estimated that 500 foreigners had lost their lives in Yokohama.

"The foreign section of Yokohama and the section occupied by Chinese were 'utterly ruined,' according to this message. (Later dispatches have indicated much of the foreign section of Yokohama was not greatly damaged.)

VETERANS NAME G. A. R. CHIEF

Ohio Man Is Selected as Commander-in-Chief Following Debates on Resolutions

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 6 (AP)—Gaylord M. Saltzgeber of Van Wert, Ohio, was unanimously elected commander-in-chief at the national Grand Army of the Republic tonight after announcement had been made earlier that the election had been postponed until tomorrow morning.

Opposing Commander Saltzgeber were Frank A. Walsh of Milwaukee, and Dr. E. F. Arnesburg of Uniontown, Penn.

A heated debate developed following introduction of a resolution sponsored by the New York department, which, when finally adopted, will permit the sons of veterans to attend post meetings, but will not grant them a vote in the deliberations of the organization.

Mr. Walsh was elected senior vice commander-in-chief, and G. T. Leach of Baltimore, was chosen junior vice commander-in-chief, neither having opposition. Charles L. Shurgur of Aurora, N. Y., was elected chairman-in-chief, and Dr. Charles A. Burrill, Kansas City, was named to succeed Dr. George T. Harding of Marion, Ohio, father of the late President Harding, an surgeon-in-chief.

D. N. Hall of Columbus, Ohio, was named trustee of the permanent fund, completing the list of national officers.

The only remaining business before the body at tomorrow's meeting is the selection of the 1924 convention city.

Thought for the Day.

If some people could get what they want they make it more uncomfortable for the person who does get it.

Cheaper Coal

---That is Easy if That is What You Want.

We think they call it Pea Coal. We don't know so much about this Pea Coal, only that it is CHEAP and CONTAINS lots of slack. We have quite a lot on hand that looks just like it. Ours is Slack, with a little sprinkle of small nut. We try to get $5.50 for it, but it can't be done after they see OUR SPRING CANYON NUT at $6.50, SCREENED.

Now, we can buy coal considerably cheaper than we are paying, and it looks nice and black, but we know the difference in quality and you would, too, after you burned it.

It seems like most of the folks had their fill of this so-called Pea Coal the way it is stocking up and if we had it we'd sell it for slack and then buy good coal. That's the only way to have satisfied customers.

It is something like the two Darkies. One asked the other, "What kind of a fly was that bit him?" "Why, Sambo, don't you know dat's a horse-fly, what gits after jackasses?" the other darky said. "What do you mean? I see no jackass." "I didn't say you is, but you can't fool a horse-fly." Same with the public. All they want is to know where they can get the best and they'll have it.

We don't have any trouble in selling our SPRING CANYON NUT, so why not play "safety first" and come and get it and your coal troubles are all ended.

N. B. We will ship to any station or siding this Nut Coal for threshing at $7.50 in car lots. Divide it with your neighbors and save better than 13 per cent and have a short haul.

WAY IS CLEARED FOR SETTLEMENT

Miners and Operators Set Aside Principal Barriers Toward Peace in Coal Fields

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—All of the principal barriers to a settlement of the controversy which has shut down the anthracite mines have been set aside by agreement between the miners and operators, Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, announced tonight, with the exception of the union demand for increase in pay greater than 10 per cent for day workers in the field and the further union demand for the "check off" system of collecting union dues.

John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, called a formal meeting tonight of the union scale committee to be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow to agree upon definite action. Both union officials and representatives of the mine operators agreed to meet Governor Pinchot again at 3 p. m. tomorrow for further negotiation.

Effort Succeeds

Governor Pinchot's protracted attempt to bring operators and miners to an agreement upon the four points which he tendered as a basis of settlement of the difficulty had been successful in part, he announced at the conclusion of executive sessions with them today. He gave out a summary of the agreement, upon which Mr. Lewis would make no comment but which S. D. Warriner, chairman of the operators' policy committee, declared to be acceptable. It operated as follows: The union leaders and the operators' group, the government said, had agreed upon definitions for the various terms. The governor's original settlement proposal, he pointed out, had involved granting of the eight-hour day, full recognition of the union by the operators, a uniform 10 per cent increase of 10 per cent for all employees, and the recognition of collective bargaining in the industry.

It had been agreed that in establishing the eight-hour day that most working hours should be reduced would be given increases identical to those agreed upon for maintenance men who are being kept at work during the suspension of mining. It was further agreed, his statement continued, that the anthracite conciliation board should make a study of wage rates and recommend adjustments to the next conference between the union leaders and the operators' committee.

NEARLY $60,000 RAISED

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6 (AP)—Philadelphia's relief fund for earthquake sufferers in Japan tonight had reached nearly $60,000. The city's quota is $50,000 of the $5,000,000 requested by the American Red Cross.

A Pronounced Success.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints both in children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal.—adv.

SWITCHMEN TO DEMAND RAISE IN WAGE RATE

General Chairmen Vote for Increase of 23 Per Cent; About 12,000 Union Members Will Be Affected

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—General chairmen of the Switchmen's Union of North America, in session here today, voted to demand an increase in switchmen's wages amounting to 23.26 per cent over the present rate of pay. This, according to a statement by T. C. Cahlin, president of the organization, will, if granted, bring switchmen's wages up to the level demanded in 1920. The restoration of the differential between night and day work also is to be asked.

The general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who also are considering the formulation of new wage demands, were in executive session tonight and will report tomorrow morning.

Some 12,000 members of the switchmen's union would be affected by the increase.

Recent agreements between the train service brotherhoods and the class one railroads of the country, all expire between September and January, 1924.

CHAMP REFUSES CONSIDERATION OF WILLS BOOT

Dempsey Says Negro Challenger Will Never Be Given a Chance to Fight Him While He Holds World's Title

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—Harry Wills, negro challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, will never have a chance to win the title while Jack Dempsey is champion. The title holder made this declaration tonight after receiving word that Zack Mullins, manager of Wills, had instituted legal action in an attempt to stop the Dempsey-Firpo match at New York, September 14.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, left immediately for New York upon receipt of a message from Tex Rickard, promoter of the contest. Kearns said he had been summoned to make an affidavit for the champion and himself explaining their connections with the fight.

Dempsey was fighting mad when word reached him that Mullins had endeavored to stop the match with the giant South American because of Dempsey's failure to meet Wills first. He became further enraged after Kearns had communicated with Rickard and the situation was explained. "This means that Wills will never get a chance at the title while I am champion," Dempsey said. "He doesn't deserve a chance after such tactics. I had intended taking him on if I still held the title after boxing Firpo, but I will not do it now under any consideration. There is no chance for either Mullins or his lawyers stopping my bout with Firpo. I am confident of that."

Dempsey today started to ease up in his training, reducing his boxing to four rounds instead of the customary six or eight, and eliminated the work of attacking the heavy leather-filled swiping dummy.

Manager Kearns explained the reduction by saying Dempsey was ready to enter the ring tomorrow and that he did not care to risk the danger of having the champion become too finely drawn.

The champion displayed characteristic speed and aggressiveness in his boxing, but the workout was rather disappointing because of the inclination of his sparring partners to "get on their bicycle," which Dempsey explained means to run away. Dempsey boxed two rounds each with Farmer Lodge and George Godfrey.

Firpo Spends Day Receiving Guests; Reduces Training

Dempsey's Future Opponent Poses for Artists; Reads News Reports with Bosh

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 6 (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo spent today lazing about his cottage, entertaining a host of newspaper men, posing for sketch artists and painters and reading what the papers had to say about the man who will meet September 14 for the world's heavyweight title.

There was just a wee bit of work for the South American. In the morning he had breakfast, went through a few Argentinean setting up exercises and had a rubdown that his muscles might be kept in shape. Then he will make the return to heavy work.

Firpo was greatly interested in some newspaper reports to the effect that Dempsey was having trouble keeping his physical condition and that he was not the same Dempsey who mauled Willard out of the title. He wondered whether the reports were true.

Firpo's new motor car arrived today.

READY TO HEAR WRIT PETITION

Action to Restrain Heavyweight Bout to Be Aired Friday; Wills States Claim

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—The next step in an attempt by Harry Wills, negro heavyweight title contender, to throw legal entanglements in the path of the Jack Dempsey-Luis Angel Firpo championship match, will be taken tomorrow morning when an order requiring the state athletic commission to show cause why the bout should not be enjoined, is returnable in supreme court.

Papers in the mandamus action were served today upon the commission, according to Wills' counsel, William Klein. The commission refused to comment on the situation, but it was indicated legal representatives would attend the court hearing tomorrow.

Klein emphasized today that the action was directed solely at the state athletic commission and not against Tex Rickard, promoter of the Firpo-Dempsey match, which is scheduled at the Polo grounds on September 14. Rickard, however, said he probably would be represented in any legal proceedings.

The commission has sanctioned the fight," said the promoter, "and we will go right ahead with our plans until that body orders differently. The case is in their hands."

Wills' action is based on his claim that because of a formal challenge and $2500 forfeit he posted more than a year ago with the commission for a match with Dempsey, he has prior right to box the title holder.

TWO KILLED, MANY HURT WHEN POWDER EXPLODES

Death Occurs when Large Quantity of Explosive is Detonated; Second Blast Wrecks Freight Cars

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 6 (AP)—Two men are known to have been burned to death and several others were seriously injured in an explosion of large quantities of black powder which was being transferred from hex cars to barges in the Raritan river late today. Police officials feared other lives have been lost.

A second explosion which illuminated towns for miles around blew the cars to pieces and timbers were scattered for hundreds of feet. Other hex cars which immediately took fire were blown up to leucostriated and crashed flaming through the heart of the city to get them away from the powder supply which had already been loaded on barges.

The fire department of South Amboy was rushed to the scene. Just before the engines arrived several other hex cars of powder exploded. The pier and two of the barges were enveloped in flames within a few minutes of the first explosion, the cause of which has not been ascertained.

FORD CONSIDERS NEW PROPOSALS ON SHOALS PLAN

Secretary Weeks Requests Modification of Offer; Asks Elimination of Power Plant on Warrior River

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Henry Ford took under advisement today a request by Secretary of War Weeks, conferred in by President Coolidge, to modify his offer for the purchase and lease of the government's power and nitrate projects at the Muscle Shoals, Ala. Mr. Ford is expected to give his final decision after thorough consideration.

Secretary Weeks is understood to have asked Mr. Ford to eliminate the Gorgas power plant on the Warrior river from his proposal for the operation of the Muscle Shoals property.

Secretary Weeks is said to believe that the government should be compelled under a contract agreement to sell the Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power company, and that the plant could be eliminated without sacrificing the cost of the Detroit manufacturer has in view.

If the Gorgas property is eliminated from those Mr. Ford seeks to purchase, it is planned that the money paid the government for the Muscle Shoals Power company would be allowed as a credit on the purchase price fixed by the Ford offer.

Throughout the congressional hearing of the Ford proposal, representatives of the Detroit manufacturer insisted that the Gorgas unit be included, and they steadfastly refused suggestions from members of the house senate committees that it be eliminated.

RUSH MEDICAL AID

on home office information from Tokio that the loss of life there was 30,000, but Yokohama is known to have suffered much more severely than the capital city and the home office figures do not attempt to give into consideration the 100 miles of coast line towns and villages, all in the path of the tidal wave.

Some Sections Saved

All available information shows that Tokio and Yokohama were not totally destroyed, the foreign residential district of the port city, which is on a high bluff overlooking the bay, having suffered comparatively little damage, while the residential suburban districts of Tokio also escaped. This would account for the few deaths among the foreigners there, for on Saturday afternoon, when the wave hit, many were in their offices.

The destruction of Tokio extends over two-thirds of the metropolitan district. The western and western lying districts completely wiped out. In other sections of Tokio, where the foreigners lived, in more or less isolated foreign compounds, consisting of a few western style houses built on small hills, the damage was by fire, which, owing to the number of open spaces, could be controlled. The foreign compounds and residences were widely scattered throughout the higher districts of Tokio and a number of them, including the American embassy, have been destroyed.

The British foreign office tonight received its first news from its representatives in Japan in a message reporting that all the embassy staff were safe, but that the building was uninhabitable, necessitating rebuilding.

Big Buildings Escape. Other messages received by the London agents of Japanese companies state that Tokio's "skyscraper district" escaped destruction.

The fire which swept the eastern and central sections of Tokio after the quake, was halted at the railway yards and the outer palace moats.

STORM CLOUDS

leo for the lesser states, and application of its stipulations is essential to the maintenance of the new order of things in the world in which all countries have placed supreme hope. Hjalmar Branting, Sweden, subscribed to the Belgian view. The Uruguayan delegate, Dr. Alberto Guani, declared that the competency of the league in such international questions which affected the peace of the world could not be disputed.

A clash occurred between Signor Balandra and M. Politis in the course of the debate. Balandra had related how Italy sacrificed 600,000 lives of her soldiers in the great war and emphasized that the question at issue involved Italian national dignity and prestige and declared that Italy could not accept any decision by the league. He then added that M. Hyman and M. Branting represented countries where, happily, assassination was not resorted to as a political means to an end.

This brought M. Politis to his feet with a vigorous protest. He repudiated any accusation that Greece was guilty of such methods. He remarked that assassinations had occurred in the world's most civilized countries. The council adjourned without fixing a time for the next meeting. The chairman, Viscount Lath, declared "there remains the question of the competency of the council and the league. It is a judicial question and a grave one. I suggest that we go into that at a later session."

ISLANDS QUIET

ROME, Sept. 6 (AP)—Absolute quiet reigned on the island of Corfu and the neighboring islands of Paxos and Antipaxos which are occupied by the Italian forces, according to information obtainable here. Commander Goiran, who is in charge of the forces on the latter two islands, was long impressed by the reception accorded his men by the inhabitants. The Italian authorities are regulating the price of foodstuffs and distributing help among the refugees from Asia Minor.

The Giornale d'Italia's Corfu correspondent says that the majority of the Corfuites, if not sympathetic with the Italians, are more hostile to the present Greek government as most of them are Constantine royalists. A minority of Venizelists exists on the island, however, and is well organized and financed by local bankers.

Victims Were Refugees. The Giornale d'Italia's correspondent says the victims of the bombardment that preceded the occupation were not Greeks but Anatolian refugees who are disliked by the Corfuites, who consider that the refugees bring epidemics. The only Greek wounded was the daughter of an officer walking near the barracks, but she is rapidly recovering. Her government was killed.

Responsibility for the casualties is placed by this correspondent upon the Venizelist commander of the fortress, Major Schiadiopoulos. He says that when the Greek captain Hemanrakis was warned of the occupation, he telephoned to Major Schiadiopoulos for instructions which the latter did not give. A semi-official statement was issued tonight saying that differences had developed between the members of the local police force at Corfu and that the Italians were considering taking over direction of a united force.

LITTLE'S DEATH BRINGS SADNESS

Retired Member of Idaho Faculty Taken Suddenly; Was Noted as an Educator

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Sept. 6.—University circles are saddened by the death of Dr. Charles N. Little, who retired this summer from the deanship of the College of Engineering, after 25 years of service on the university faculty. Death came suddenly in Berkeley, California, the last day of August, and funeral services were held in Moscow September 3. A message received by Mrs. Little from a nephew says that Dr. Little was found sitting in his chair at his desk, death having been due to heart failure and evidently instantaneous. Dr. Little had accepted an invitation from Professor Lehmer at Berkeley, to appear at his mathematical seminar, September 11, to discuss the theory of knots, a little-known branch of mathematics on which Dr. Little was recognized as an authority with a reputation throughout the world of mathematics. Since retiring from his deanship at Idaho, Dean Little had found his enthusiasm renewed in this subject, which had much absorbed him in earlier years.

Born in India Charles Newton Little was born May 19, 1858, in Madras, in southern India, where his parents, Charles and Susan Little, were stationed as missionaries, to which work, as earnest Puritan Christians, they had dedicated their lives.

On August 5, 1886, at Lincoln, Nebraska, Dr. Little married Emma R. Funke, who was his loyal companion for 37 years, and who survives him. Dr. Little received his A. B. degree at the University of Nebraska in 1879 and his A. M. degree from the same university in 1884. In 1885 he received his Ph. D. degree at Yale university. He was instructor in mathematics and civil engineering at his alma mater, the University of Nebraska, from 1886 to 1888, and associated professor of civil engineering from 1888 to 1890, and professor of engineering from 1890 to 1893. From 1893 to 1901 Dr. Little was professor of mathematics at Leland Stanford university, resigning and coming to Idaho in 1901. In 1899 and 1900 Dr. Little was on leave of absence from Leland Stanford and during that time studied at the universities of Göttingen and Berlin.

In 1901 Dr. Little came to the University of Idaho as professor of civil engineering and in 1911 was made dean of the college of engineering, which position he occupied until the close of the past school year, when he announced his retirement, at the age of 65 years.

Dr. Little's research work on the theory of knots was of an outstanding nature and brought forth world-wide comment from mathematicians. It began with his thesis for his doctor's degree. This attracted the attention and friendly interest of Dr. Tait of the University of Edinburgh, also a worker in this field, and it was at his suggestion that Dr. Little conducted his work on this subject, completing studies which Professor Tait's other urgent activities were pushing aside. These papers were published in the Transactions of the Royal Society of Edinburgh.

Again, in later weeks, after many years of routine activity, Dr. Little wrote Mrs. Little from Berkeley, that he had Christian friends, that he had met a brilliant young mathematician of Princeton university, who suggested an interview with Dr. Little, to talk over knots. Professor Vahlen, being one of the most prominent men in the world in mathematical analysis. As work in this line of mathematical research has been a favored hobby of but a limited number of students, Professor Vahlen expressed interest in meeting one of the few men in the world, who knew about them.

Dean Little was a fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, the American Association of University Professors, the American Society of Civil Engineers, and the Idaho chapter of the American Association of Engineers. He had been a devoted Christian since early life, a member of the Congregational church, but in Moscow, where that congregation is not represented, had worked with the Episcopal church. His earnestness and devotion to duty, as well as his Christian character, led others had endeared him to a large circle of friends. Frequent tributes are received from former engineering students of the university, not a few of whom, because of the excellent training given them by Dr. Little, occupy outstanding places in the engineering world.

BELIEF WORK GOES ON.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Response to the Red Cross appeal to the American people for $5,000,000 for the relief of earthquake sufferers in Japan, has continued unabated today, and belief was expressed that the amount would be pledged by Monday. Officials emphasized that $5,000,000 is the minimum amount.

Reports to national headquarters were to meager for an estimate of the amount thus far subscribed in various sections of the country. To date, however, $170,000 has been received in contributions made direct to headquarters here.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Considering all the intelligence devoted to developing and selling the automobile, it is strange that so little constructive thought has been devoted to signals for automobile traffic.

"Horns sound," says one critic, "but say nothing." Every blast has to be interpreted according to conditions, and often it is interpreted wrongly, with tragic results. A driver may intend starting, stopping, slowing down, going ahead, backing, turning to the right, turning to the left, or giving notice of some unusual predicament, and yet he gives the same meaningless blast.

It is about the same with tail light signals. Most of them merely show red and say "Stop," no matter what change of speed, course or situation the driver intends, to the continual confusion of people behind.

Hand signals are somewhat more intelligible by daylight, but lose their effectiveness at night.

Yet signs seldom have any traffic trouble, in spite of their perils. Lights and horns indicate almost un-failingly the direction and intention of every craft.

Why cannot a similar system be worked out for automobiles? It might make use of horns alone, according to a simple, flexible and complete code, or lights alone, or horns, lights and hands, to be used separately or together according to circumstances.

Such a system, once universally adopted, would immensely increase the pleasure and safety of driving, diminish traffic jams and save hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH
 John A. Stewart, a New York banker, recently celebrated his hundred-and-first birthday. He is still actively engaged in his banking work and evidently has no intention of retiring. The confidence of his associates in his health and faculties is shown by the fact that he remains chairman of the board of trustees of his big trust company.

Everyone, as usual in such cases.

Is Confessed Slayer of Pancho Villa

Jesus Salas Barraza

Jesus Salas Barraza, member of the Mexican congress, is held in jail in Ciudad, Chihuahua, Mexico, the confessed slayer of Francisco ("Pancho") Villa, Mexico's notorious bad man, who was shot down from a machine. "I would kill him again if he rose from the grave," Barraza boasted when this exclusive photograph was taken.

wants to know what this centurian has done to conserve his powers. Mr. Stewart is so little concerned with the problem that he refuses to indulge in any of the ordinary advice of the aged. He is still too busy living and enjoying life. Friends say, however, that he spends much time outdoors, takes frequent automobile rides, is deeply interested in developing his country estate and reads several newspapers every day.

There you have it—regular work and recreation, plenty of fresh air and exercise, an interest in creating something and attention to what is going on in the world. Full use of body and mind, at an age when most men let both of them atrophy from inaction.

SELECTIVE IMMIGRATION NOW

Although the United States does not yet have as thorough a system of selective immigration as thoughtful citizens and responsible officials desire, it has nevertheless stumbled upon a sort of selection through the temporary law now in effect.

Steamship lines have discovered that they cannot dump all their migrating passengers upon our shores if the prescribed quotas are filled. With the number of entrants restricted, the immigrants themselves are coming to realize that entrance is a difficult thing, and they prize successful admittance more than formerly. A current magazine, speaking of this condition, writes:

"Access to this country is thus a privilege, something which everyone cannot obtain. The fact that an immigrant passes the inspector is instantly a certificate of character and of efficiency. The fine quality of the immigrants now landing at Ellis Island is the point that all observers insist on. Practically all who are now coming possess the stuff of American citizenship."

All this does not mean that regulation of immigration has reached perfection. It should point the way to further enlightened handling of the matter, with the selection carried on mainly in the ports of embarkation so that there will be fewer delays and misfortunes at the ports of entry.

Letting in the Light

Books are like the windows of a great tower. They let light in. Every life is a growing tower. It is put up stone by stone. The higher it grows, the darker it gets if we do not put in a window here or there to give light. That is what a book does to life. It lets light into that life. Some lives are so dark that the folks who live them grope up the winding stairs, dust covered and gloomy, because there are no windows and consequently there is no light.

MASTERPIECE IS RETURNED

Priceless Work, Stolen from Art Gallery, Accompanied by Report of Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 (AP)—The priceless masterpiece "The Entombment of Christ," which was stolen recently from the Crocker art gallery, at Sacramento, has been received by the San Francisco Call, accompanied by an unsigned note reading:

"God has forgiven me. You will find my body in Stone Lake."
 The police department immediately was notified and a search of the lake which is located in Golden Gate park. Word of the recovery of the paintings also was sent to W. F. Jackson, curator of the Crocker art gallery.

The painting was received by the Call in today's mail. The wooden panel of the picture had been broken but the painting itself was not harmed. The masterpiece was the work of Guido Reni, an early seventeenth century Italian artist.

The picture, in a flat package wrapped in a newspaper and tied with a string, was delivered with other mail to the newspaper office. The address was written on a piece of brown wrapping paper pasted on the newspaper covering. The handwriting was crude. The cancellation marks were illegible and it was not possible to determine where the package had been mailed.

The police believe that the person who removed the painting from the art gallery realized that it would have been virtually impossible to have disposed of the picture and for that reason decided to restore it without making its identity known. They do not think that he has committed suicide.

MEREDITH FOR FIXED PRICE ON FARM PRODUCTS

Former Secretary of Agriculture, in Talk at Buhl, Declares for Sharing Farmer's Risk by Population at Large

BUHL, Sept. 6.—(Special to The News).—E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, former secretary of agriculture, was a guest on Thursday of the Buhl rotary club, and talked to the members on agricultural conditions and business matters generally.

Mr. Meredith pointed out that agricultural conditions were reflected in all the business of the country and through business upon all things, and emphasized that the problem of satisfactory fundamental conditions in agriculture is of mutual importance to all those interests and that each is equally affected.

"Of all the big problems confronting the United States," said Mr. Meredith, "agriculture is the biggest. The man in business in an agricultural community is dependent upon the farmer for his business, or upon businesses made by those who are doing business directly with the farmers, but this dependence upon agriculture is just as true with the business man in the big city as with that remotely removed from the agricultural territory."

Mr. Meredith showed that during a period of 60 years, up to 1923, the farmers had received an average of $14 per acre from every acre in the United States. During the same period the average number of failures per 1000 of the business men of the United States was 95 per 1000.

Mr. Meredith also pointed out that in 1870 there were in the United States 175,000,000 acres of improved land and 1,000,000 acres of business house for each 425 acres of improved land. In 1910 we had a total of 475,000,000 acres of improved land in the United States and 1,800,000 business houses, averaging 275 acres of improved land to each business house.

Mr. Meredith emphasized that the problem of each good citizen of America, and that some plan should be worked out to stabilize agriculture and give the farmer an opportunity to plan his business a year ahead with some assurance that in the event of a production, that he would receive at least some certain price for each bushel or pound of his produce.

He does not feel that it is possible to guarantee prices which would guarantee each farmer a profit, but he does feel that it is possible to fix prices with some government support and each individual farmer determines whether or not he can make a profit on the ground that particular crop at the stabilized price.
