RULES AGAINST USING NAVY IN FIGHT ON BOOZE

Attorney General Holds Prohibition Must Be Enforced Without Aid of Ships; Hands Opinions to Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The navy cannot be used legally in enforcing prohibition, Attorney General Daugherty ruled today. In addition, he decided, there is no national emergency in the situation calling for the employment of warships to make the dry laws effective.

Delivering to President Coolidge the formal opinion, asked last spring by the late President Harding, the attorney general held that the naval establishment could be used as an enforcement agency only by special authority of congress, or in an emergency which made civil processes impotent.

Two questions were submitted originally by President Harding—whether the navy could be used to enforce the naval forces in enforcing prohibition in the absence of an emergency, and, if this was unlawful, whether an emergency existed authorizing the use of naval forces.

Answers to the questions were given in the negative by Mr. Daugherty, who cited several laws and supreme court decisions as precedents.

Enforce Dry Law

"In general the prohibition act is enforced," Mr. Daugherty said in the course of his opinion. "There are stubborn exceptions in congested localities in some of which local support has not been rendered. There are places where public opinion is unfriendly and the enforcement of this law is difficult. But I cannot believe that such isolated cases constitute a national emergency within the meaning of the act of congress."

Constitutional provisions relating to the maintenance and duties of the navy were cited, together with appropriate precedents. There are, Mr. Daugherty said, it would therefore seem that congress did not consider that the president possessed the power to use the naval forces in line of enforcement of the prohibition act, or in criminal laws without its expressed authorization.

Applies Only to Army

The opinion was regarded as applicable to the army as well as the navy, including the use of military forces in assisting prohibition enforcement although it dealt specifically with the navy.

Secretary Daugherty and other officials, who have been opposed to diversion of their forces to prohibition work, were sustained by the attorney general.

BOISE, Sept. 13 (AP)—A. H. Avery, James A. Laurer, C. E. Larson, former officials of the Payette National bank at Payette, and John H. Another week was allowed to enter pleas.

LABORATORIES EXPANDED

Idaho Tech Increases Facilities for Instruction in Scientific Branches; Other Departments Expand Out

BOGATIELLO, Sept. 12—When college students register at the Idaho Tech next week they will find the best equipped and most spacious science laboratories that the institution has ever possessed. The chemistry and pharmacy departments have taken over the first two floors of Farls hall, which gives double the space the laboratories occupied in the administration building and makes possible the accommodation of the increased numbers expected this year. This new arrangement makes it unnecessary for different classes to use the same laboratory and assures each group supervision at all times.

The removal of these laboratories from the main building makes it possible for the biology and agriculture sections to expand and consolidate in the vacated rooms.

Will Leave Corfu Before October 1

Danger to Peace of Europe from Recent Hostilities Is Removed when Full Agreement Is Reached

PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—The danger to the peace of Europe from the Italian occupation of Corfu ended tonight, when, after another difficult session, the ambassadors' council came to a full agreement. Italy finally consented to evacuate Corfu before the end of September. The island was occupied August 31.

It is also understood the council agreed that on the date of evacuation the inter-allied commission of inquiry reports that Greece has not done all possible to discover and punish the passants of the Italian members of the Greco-Albanian boundary mission, the 20,000,000 lire deposited by the Greek government shall be paid over to the Italian government as reparations.

Up to almost the last moment the Italians insisted that the powers could not take Premier Mussolini's word as to the evacuation and leave it to him to fix the exact date after the reparations measures had been carried out.

Stands For Peace

The British ambassador insisted quite as strongly that public opinion throughout the world ought to be reassured by a definite arrangement that would put an end to the talk that Italy intended to remain in Corfu indefinitely. He asked that the Italian premier choose a fixed date which would be early to set all speculation as to Italy's intentions at rest.

Constant Inquiry

The allies assure the Italian ambassador that the greatest diligence would be exercised in pursuing the inquiry into the assassination of General Tellini and other members of the Italian boundary commission and pleaded with him to urge Rome to accept the desire of Great Britain and fix a precise date for the evacuation of Greek territory so as to relieve the world of anxiety. The afternoon session was postponed until 1 o'clock and then again to 6:30 o'clock, in order to give time for the ambassadors to communicate with their governments.

Relief Is Evident

Two more hours were occupied by the ambassadors at the evening session before they could come to an agreement, but eventually it was announced with an air of great relief that Italy had agreed to evacuate. An official communique issued soon afterward said:

RELIEF DRIVE EXCEEDS QUOTA BY $1,200,000

Cash Donations Continue to Flood Red Cross Offices; Bodies of 74,000 Victims Are Cremated at Tokio

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The American Red Cross relief fund for Japanese earthquake and fire sufferers tonight exceeded a million and a quarter dollars the original $5,000,000 asked for. The total reported up to six p. m. was $6,200,000 with donations coming in steadily.

Of the six divisions to which the work of collecting funds was allotted, four have exceeded their quotas, and the others are making ground rapidly. It was announced a Red Cross headquarters. A check for $200,000 was received today from the New York county chapter, bringing the cash received at headquarters up to $3,670,000. A check for $25,000 from the Knights of Columbus was received by Chairman John Barton Payne.

In a letter made public by the Red Cross, General Pershing, who at one time served as military attaché in Japan, called upon every one in the United States who could do so to contribute something to the fund, declaring that the best the country could do would bring but a small measure of amelioration of the terrible conditions. "This disaster is a world tragedy and all civilized countries are rallying to the assistance of their stricken associate," said General Pershing. "The United States must not be surpassed in this service of mercy."

MANY DISTRICTS SHAKEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Seventy-four thousand dollars were cremated in Tokio up to Sept. 10, the Japanese embassy was informed today in dispatches from its foreign office dealing with earthquake and fire casualties. Since Sept. 4, the embassy said, 500,000 persons had left the capital by train, but no estimate was possible of the number who departed by foot, by boat or other means. "In Yokohama up to the 11th," the foreign office said, "there were 88,000 destroyed houses out of a total of 93,000. The food supply is fairly good."

"In other parts of Kanagawa prefecture, casualties known to date (11th) are as follows: Houses shaken down, 53,000; houses burned, 4,500; swept away by tidal wave, 70; houses partly burned, 25,000; number of dead, 4,300; injured, 24,000."

Declare Opposition to Annulling Low Export Grain Rate

Montana Interests Prefer Retention of Present Differential in Charges

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 13 (AP)—Preference of certain Montana interests for the retention of a differential grain rate giving grain for export through Pacific coast ports a lower rate than grain shipped for domestic purposes, was expressed by witnesses at the interstate commerce commission hearing here today before Examiner Mackley.

United States Senator T. J. Walsh and Governor Joseph M. Dixon of Montana, as witnesses, declared their opposition to annulling the export rate, the former declaring the export differential rate to be "extremely subject in theory and the latter saying that it was the "one little crack in the door of hope for the Montana grain growers."

INDICT FORMER BANKER AT BUHL

Frank K. Hyde to Appear in Federal Court on Charge of Embezzling Funds

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13 (AP)—Frank K. Hyde, of Long Beach, Cal., surrendered to federal officers in Los Angeles today to answer to charges of embezzling funds of the First National bank at Buhl, Idaho. He appeared before the United States commissioner and gave bond of $5,000 for his appearance at Boise. Officials here said they did not know the amount of the alleged embezzlement.

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 13 (AP)—Frank K. Hyde, formerly of Boise, was secretly indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of embezzling funds from the First National bank of Buhl, Idaho.

Hyde was an officer of the First National bank of Buhl. He left Boise five or six years ago. E. G. Davis, United States attorney, said the total amount alleged to have been embezzled would reach approximately $10,000, extending over about two years. Small amounts are alleged to have been taken at varying intervals.

UNITY OF MINE OPERATORS IS FAVORED PLAN

Federal Coal Commission Suggests Move as Defensive Measure; Insurance of Necessary Supply Recommended

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Operation of the national coal industry so as to insure a dependable supply of fuel to the public, adequate wages to the miners and reasonable return to the operators is possible, the coal commission declared in a report submitted today to President Coolidge. Thirty-seven specific recommendations were made with a view of establishing the equitable interest of each party.

Alleged detentions by both miners and operators were condemned by the commission, the recommendation being that the two groups join in the study of ways and means of stabilizing the industry to prevent unemployment and uneven production. The suggestion also was made that the operators perfect an organization among themselves as effective as that of the miners, "both as a defensive and a cooperative measure."

Would Conduct Probes

Incorporation of the unions would not have the effect of "binding the union to its contract," the commission declared, adding that apparently "neither side desires that wage contracts shall be specific enough to be binding through judicial enforcement." It recommended special compulsory investigation as a failure to renew an agreement appeared imminent, and inclusion in every wage contract of a clause providing for automatic renewals except respecting such provisions as may be denounced 90 days prior to expiration of the old contract.

Other outstanding recommendations in the report were: Continuation by the government of its study into the industry generally and into specific phases such as unemployment and inequalities in rate structure and continuous, compulsory collection and publicity of rates and rate changes in non-price fields. Abolition of convict leasing to operators.

"Serious study by both sides" of the problem of undue limitation of output and of causes leading thereto.

Death Following Arguments Leads to Murder Charge

Nebraska Real Estate Man Killed After Difficulties with Passing Tourists

OGALLALA, Neb., Sept. 13 (AP)—Grover C. Rodman, real estate dealer of this place, is dead, and the cause is said to be from Detroit, Mich., are in jail here facing murder charges, as a result of a roadside argument over a pair of pliers said to have been removed from the Detroit tourist by Rodman when his automobile lighting system failed at Brule, near here, last midnight.

Rodman was run over by a car and twice shot, though the injury caused by the car passing over him was the cause of death, it was said. The argument occurred about midnight, according to Sheriff F. M. Jump. The lights on Rodman's car went out. He accepted a passing car in which Merie Warren and Harry Carlson of Detroit, were riding, asking for the loan of pliers to fix his lights, which they are said to have refused, and continued their journey to Brule. Here Rodman, who had followed them in the car of Dr. Benjamin of Longlo Polo, Neb., again encountered the Detroiters, and it is presumed the previous argument was renewed.

ITALY'S CHIEF IS SILENT ON FIUME POLICY

Mussolini Refrains from Comment on Governmental Developments if Jugo-Slavia Rejects Joint Agreement

ROME, Sept. 13 (AP)—Premier Mussolini remains absolutely silent with regard to the attitude which will take it, at the expiration of the time limit set for September 15, Jugo-Slavia does not accept the conditions laid down in the joint agreement of the Italo-Jugo-Slav commission concerning the administration of Fiume or shows signs of persisting in what is termed her procrastinating policy. One thing seems certain—that Mussolini is determined that the Fiume question shall be settled and quickly.

The Italian newspapers say there are signs of an organized campaign abroad regarding Fiume which doubtless had its origin in Jugo-Slav propaganda. They also pretend to detect an inclination to mix up the Fiume question with the Greco-Italian quarrel and also express the belief that the suggestion of mediation by a friendly state, namely France, between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, which Italy could not accept, is due to this alleged propaganda. It is considered here as not improbable that Premier Mussolini, if requested by M. Poincaré, the Jugo-Slav premier, might postpone to the time limit for Jugo-Slavia's answer to the Italian note. If, however, a delay is granted, it is reported it will be for a short time, since, as Mussolini explained today, Fiume is in a very bad material situation owing to the crisis.

Money Not Everything.
 When I hear a man saying that he is in business only for the money he can make and not for the favors he can render, I think of what some wise man said one time: "If a pig could pray he would devote his entire prayer to corn and swill, but men should pray for other sorts of things."

Little Slave Girl Looks Forward to Home of Her Own

Margaret Melton, Age 11, Who Slept in Chicken-House, Will Now Live in Comfort

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—Margaret Melton, the 11-year-old child who was treated like a slave, according to Illinois children's home and aid societies workers, on a farm where she had been placed after her parents were divorced, will have a new home in New York city with her uncle, Daniel Coghlin. She no longer will sleep in chicken house and she will have a bright future for a happy childhood hereafter.
 Mr. Coghlin, the uncle who had never seen his niece until she came here after reading newspaper stories of how the juvenile authorities had taken the little girl into their care, was given custody of the child today by Judge Ewen, who refused the girl's mother's plea for custody, declaring that the mother had forfeited all claim to her daughter.
 Margaret Melton's parents were divorced four years ago and the father placed the girl on a farm. There, according to the aid society workers, she was made to sleep in a chicken coop, where she was locked in, made to work, given poor food and not allowed to play with other children.

BIDS ARE SHORT ON TUNNEL JOB

Contract for Project West of Denver Is Held in Abeyance; Will Cost Millions

DENVER, Sept. 13 (AP)—Because only one bona fide bid for the construction of the Moffat railroad tunnel through James peak, west of Denver, was received by the Moffat tunnel commission here today, the awarding of the contract is being held in abeyance. The only bid, that of Ulen and company of New York, was $6,075,000. Additional bids were sent in but were not considered as they were not accompanied by the prescribed $200,000 certified check.
 The bid of the New York concern carries with it the provision that the Ulen company will stand a loss not to exceed $200,000 above the total sum of the bid, but any losses in excess of this amount would have to be borne by the commission. In event the bid is accepted any amount in profit above $480,050 would be divided equally between the company and the tunnel commission.
 Three courses are open to the tunnel commission it was said tonight. It may accept the bid, advertise for new bids or go ahead with the construction work itself. The commission is said to be divided on the question of undertaking the task of construction as a body.

WOOL GROWERS WILL ORGANIZE

Three-Day Conference Closes at Chicago; Fifth of Output Is Represented

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—The three days' conference of growers and bankers from the range-wool states Monday with a meeting of the directors of the National Wool Warehouse and Storage company. No less than 50,000,000 pounds of wool, one-fifth of the national production, was represented at the conference, said Matt Staff, president of the company. That amount, more than ever came to Chicago for handling before, may be expected here for handling after the shearing next spring, for we shall be ready before then.
 "This is the present center of the wool trade." Plans were made to start organization of growers' cooperative association in the range-wool states. Staff said. The associations are expected to apply for long term credit provided under the agricultural credit act of 1923, and to market their wool through the National Wool Warehouse and Storage company as now organized.

THE GUMPS—A LETTER FROM OLD TIMER

DEAR ANDY: I WROTE TO APOLOGIZE FOR KEEPING YOU OUT IN THE HOT SUN THE LAST DAY YOU STAY AT SHAW REST. I HEAR THAT THE HEAT HAS AFFECTED YOUR BEAUF. I HEAR THAT YOU ARE TRYING TO MANUFACTURE A COMBINATION HAIRBRUSH AND MIRROR. THAT'S JUST ABOUT AS SENSIBLE AS STARTING TO MANUFACTURE CANNED HOT AIR FOR BOY BALLOONS. I'VE BEEN IN SHADY REST FOR OVER FORTY YEARS. ONLY TWO PEOPLE IN THE VILLAGE HAVE HAIRBRUSHES AND THEY DON'T EVER USE 'EM.

IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO HAVE A MIRROR ON THE BACK OF EACH BRUSH— THEN WHENEVER ANYONE BUYS A BRUSH HE CAN LOOK IN THE MIRROR AND BEE A S.A.P.— I DON'T KNOW HOW YOU HAPPENED TO THINK OF A HAIRBRUSH. ALL YOU NEED TO COMB YOUR HAIR IS SOME LUKE WARM WATER AND A STONGE— PUTTING A BRUSH IN YOUR IVORY EXHIBIT IS LIKE RUNNING A LAWN MOWER OVER A CEMENT SIDEWALK. WHEN THE CRASH COMES GIVE MY REGARDS TO THE SHERIFF.

THAT OLD BIRD KNOWS A LOT ABOUT HAIRBRUSHES— WHEN HE SAW MY TOOTH BRUSH HE THOUGHT I CARRIED IT TO CLEAN MY WATCH— HE MADE A BAR OF SOAP LAST LONGER THAN A TON OF COAL— HE'D LIKE TO SEE ME STARTING IN BUSINESS WITH A HALF DOZEN LEAD PENCILS AND A TIN CUP. OH WELL, IF BIG BUSINESS MEN DON'T EVER RECEIVE LETTERS FROM CRANKS THEY WOULDN'T NEED TO BUY ANY WASTE-BASKETS.

Grid Squad Turns Out for Practice

Cochran Calls on Candidates for Team to Play Hard But Clean Game

The Twin Falls high school football squad turned out for the initial practice Thursday night 65 strong. Only preliminary work was engaged in. Coach Evans gave them a real talk on what he expected of them and on the game itself, telling them that football was not a game for babies and that he would expect the best that every man had in him at all times during the season. Coach Evans impressed the men with the idea that they must keep the training rules and keep themselves in the best physical shape all during the season. By so doing they would be doing their bit for their school.

The bunch were divided up into squads with a last year's veteran in charge of each squad and such preliminary work as falling on the ball, blocking and proper position for the line was gone through as well as the setting exercises to get the men in the best physical condition to stand the long, hard grind ahead of them. "Moore" Garrity was not in a suit Thursday. He sustained a slight injury to his hip and will probably not appear in a suit until sometime next week.

Morning practice will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock school being closed for the day. Conditions do not expect a full squad out, as some of the boys are working and have permission to be absent.

DILLON GETS DRAW WITH PACIFIC COAST CHAMP

SEATTLE, Sept. 13 (AP)—Tom Morgan, Pacific coast featherweight champion, and Danny Dillon of Minneapolis fought a six round draw here Wednesday night. Morgan had a shade the better of the exchange but Dillon's great work in the fourth round caught the eye of the referee.

ITALY GIVES

The ambassadors' council has adopted a solution which it considers such as will put an end to the situation created by the accusation of the Italian delegation. The solution will be immediately transmitted to Athens, and also communicated to the league council and will be made public tomorrow at noon.

The members of the commission of inquiry will leave tomorrow to take up their work with instructions to pursue their investigations with the greatest energy.

Oldest Known Will

A will executed in 2548 B. C. is the oldest extant. It is written on papyrus by an Egyptian named Uah. In it he gave his home and other property to his wife, to be left by her to any of their children; arranged for the burial of himself and wife, and appointed a guardian for a son. In fact the will differs little from one which might be executed today.

IDAHO LOSES SERVICES OF HUSKY GRID PLAYER

Dale Vohs, Tackle in Vandal's Line, Ruled Out of 1923 Games Because of Success at Eastern School

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Sept. 13—Because the faculty committee on eligibility found that sometime in the past he played a few minutes of varsity football at Notre Dame university the services of Dale Vohs of Emmett, husky Vandal tackle, have been taken to the 1923 team. Vohs has played two years on the Idaho team and until the committee investigated his record he was listed among the veterans around whom the 1923 eleven will be formed.

Although Vohs is an Idaho boy he went to Notre Dame after completing his high school work and easily made the varsity team at that institution. He was a varsity candidate his senior year, but it was not known that he participated in a collegiate game until recently. The football revival at Idaho, which started in the fall of 1920, attracted Vohs westward and during two seasons he was one of Idaho's prize tackles.

When the committee's action was known Coach E. Mathews jumped at the chance to get another assistant coach to complete his staff. Vohs, with his familiarity with Notre Dame football and his two seasons at Idaho, was considered a valuable addition to the Vandal staff. Mathews is himself a veteran of one of the famous Notre Dame eleven of former seasons.

EGG MARKETING PLAN DEVELOPS

Committeemen Named to Count Hens with View to Forming Co-operative Association

Additional steps toward formation in Twin Falls county of a co-operative egg marketing association were taken at a meeting Thursday evening of several Twin Falls citizens in the chamber of commerce offices here at which announcement was made by A. L. Swin, president of the chamber of commerce, of a partial list of committeemen named to make a survey with a view to determining whether there is a sufficient number of hens hereabouts to justify proceeding with the organization immediately.

The meeting was attended by Fren C. Moore, poultry specialist of the state university extension division, who on previous visits here recently had suggested the advisability of forming the proposed organization. It would be necessary, Mr. Moore advised, that at least 150,000 hens be represented in the initial organization.

The meeting was held primarily for the purpose of presenting the organization plans here. Twin Falls grocers and dealers in eggs, none of whom, however, attended. Their absence was regarded as an indication that they were not out of sympathy with the proposed organization.

"It seems to be a fact," Mr. Moore said, "that, while producers receive materially higher prices for their eggs when marketed through a co-operative association, the lack of such an association and consequent lower prices does not mean that any one is taking an exorbitant profit. We can only charge the lack of profit to the producer to waste."

Mr. Moore advised that farmers and business men of Jerome and Gooding already have practically completed a co-operative egg marketing organization such as is proposed to be formed here. It was suggested at the meeting Thursday evening that in the event too few hens were found here to justify proceeding with the organization, arrangements might be made for uniting with the North Side Enterprise.

Only one co-operative egg marketing association has heretofore been formed in Idaho, Mr. Moore said. That is in Caldwell. Its activities, Mr. Moore said, have been attended with a high degree of success.

Members of the committee, which is to make the survey looking toward the formation of an association here, are Vance Naylor, Hansen, James Kilpatrick, Filer; J. H. Treadley, Hollister; C. E. Potter, Twin Falls; Herbert Lambing, Kimberly.

COMMENTS HEARD AMONG TOURISTS

A party of young men from Council Bluffs and Keosauqua, Iowa, consisting of Bob Haseltine, R. M. McCormick, W. M. Cox, Floyd and Walter Workman are working their way to the coast to spend the winter. They have been on the road for more than three months, working on farms in North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska. They expect to return to Iowa in the spring over the Santa Fe trail.

Mrs. Jennie B. Redfield, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Redfield and Emory Johnson, of Des Moines, Iowa, are going to Los Angeles to try that city the second time. They lived there for five years, but have been living in Iowa for the last 13 years. Mrs. Redfield said that if Los Angeles does not look as good as it used to they are surely coming straight to Twin Falls, as it is the prettiest and cleanest town that she has ever seen. She also added that the tourist park here is the most convenient one that she has visited, even better than the much-lauded one in Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Schaefer of Chicago are wandering around in search of a more congenial climate. He said that he had been on the road so long that he had lost all idea of time; in fact he did not know the hour the day of the week or the month; but that when he reached Twin Falls he thought that it must be June, because he had never seen such a profusion of flowers in any other month.

Growers Fix Apple Price

CALDWELL, Sept. 13 (AP)—Something like 400 cars of apples were pledged at a meeting of the farm bureau office of the newly organized Apple Growers' association of this section. All the growers pledged themselves to sell through the association and fixed their price at $40 per ton or $1.25 in baskets. The association is sending out letters to prospective-buyers advising them of the amount they have for sale and the price expected.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The Greek-Italian squabble seems to have been settled by the Council of Allied Ambassadors instead of by the League of Nations. While Italy was holding out on the technical point that it was not a matter for the League, because the present government at Athens had not been formally recognized, the Ambassadors' Council, acknowledging the peace of Europe menaced, managed to get the work done.

The settlement itself comes gratefully. No one with any common sense, in any country, really wants any more war. But it seems a pity that the League did not jump to its opportunity with a little more force.

The League is distinctly on trial.
If it proves its worth, after a bit, its power will grow, and the nations, not now represented will ask admission.
If it allows itself to show weakness
and indecision when strength is needed, it will surely die.

BOOKS ABOUT JAPAN

Most accidental ideas about Japan are hazy, at best. Now, with the world's attention centered on that ancient, beautiful and mysterious country, many people find their curiosity stimulated and wish to learn more about it. A few books are here suggested which will repay looking over.

First, there is Basil Hall Chamberlain's "Things Japanese." There are "Tales of Old Japan" and other books by A. B. Mitford, now Lord Rodesdale. A slight but entertaining introduction to Japanese life is Frances Little's "Lady of the Decoration."
A delightful written volume is
"Japan and the Japanese" by Walter Tyndale, illustrated by the author,
who is first a palater.

For those who care to go a little further into the subject, the most sympathetic of all studies of Japanese life
and character are found in the books of Lafcadio Hearns. Hearns, born on the Greek island which gives him his name, of a Greek mother and Irish father, educated in France, put through the grind of years of newspaper work in America, finally landed in Japan.
There he found his niche.

Hearns married in Japan, lived and died there. His "Japanese Miscellany" is light and charming. His
"Gleanings in Buddha Fields," "Kokoro," "Glimpses of Unfamiliar Japan" and other books get deep into the heart of his adopted country. His researches into child songs and child customs gave him some of his most delightful material.

On the more serious side, his "Japan: An Attempt at Interpretation" will be found to clear up many prejudices and misunderstandings as to the religious and social life of the country.

With the development of ever faster transportation, the far countries of the world came closer. With air travel perfected, Japan will be just around the corner. The less we put up with shallow guesses, the more we make effort to know her, the happier, in those days, we all will be.

The BROWN MOUSE

By HERBERT QUICK

(Copyright by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

Jim Irwin made a somewhat lengthy speech after the awkwardness wore off. He adjured Bronson, Bonner and Peterson to study his plan of a new kind of country school—in which the work of the school should be correlated with the life of the home and the farm—a school which would be in the highest degree cultural by being consciously useful and obviously practical.

Sharp spots of applause from the useless hands of Newton Bronson gave the final touch of absurdity to a situation which Jim had felt to be ridiculous all through. Had it not been for Jennie Woodruff's "Humph"
stinging him, had it not been for the absurd notion that perhaps, after they had heard his speech, they would place him in charge of the school, and that he might be able to do something really important in it, he would not have been there. As he sat down, he knew himself a dreamer. The nodding board of directors, the secretary,
actually snoring, the bored audience restored the field-band to a sense of his proper place.

"We have had the privilege of listening," said Bonner, rising, "to a great speech, Mr. Prisdint. Makin' a good speech is one thing, and teaching a good school is another, but in order to bring this matter before the board, I nominate Mr. James E. Irwin, the Boy Ombler of the Woodruff district, to present the new white hope, for the job of teacher of this school, and I move that when he shall have received a majority of the votes of this board, the secretary and prisdint be instructed to enter into a contract with him for the coming year."
The president followed usage when he said: "If there's no objection, it will be so ordered. Prepare the ballots for a vote on the election of teacher, Mr. Secretary."

There was no surprise in view of the nomination of Jim Irwin by the blameless Bonner when the Secretary smoothed out the first ballot, and read: "James E. Irwin, one." But when the next slip came forth, "James E. Irwin, two," the board of directors of the Woodruff Independent district were stunned at the slowly dawning knowledge that they had made an election before they had rallied, the secretary drew from the box the third and last ballot, and read, "James E.
Irwin, three."

President Bronson choked as he announced the result—choked and stammered, and made very hard weather of it, but he went through with the motion, as we all run in our grooves.

"The ballot having shown the mannims election of James E. Irwin, I declare him elected."

He dropped into his chair, while the secretary, a very methodical man,
drew from his portfolio a contract
duly drawn up save the name and signature. This he calmly filled out, and passed over to the president, pointing to the dotted line. Mr. Bronson would have signed his own death-warrant at that moment, not to mention a perfectly legal document and signed with Peterson and Bonner looking on stony. The secretary signed and showed the contract over to Jim Irwin.

"Sign there," he said.
Jim looked it over, saw the other signatures, and felt "as tupples to dodge the whole thing. Then he thought of Jennie Woodruff's
"Humph"—and he signed!

Jim Countered With an Awkward
Upper Cut.

"More we adjourn," said Peterson.
"No objection 'tis so ordered!" said
Mr. Bronson.

The secretary and Jim went out,
while the directors waited.
"What the Billy—" began Bonner,
and finished lamely! "What for did you vote for the dub, Er?"
"I voted for him," replied Bronson,
"because he fought for my boy this afternoon. I didn't want it stuck into him too hard. I wanted him to have one vote."

"An' I wanted him to have wan vote,
too," said Bonner. "I thought meself
the only dang fool on the board—"
he made a speech that aimed wan vote—but fr the love of hivin, that dub fr a teacher! What come too?
You, Haakon—you voted fr him, too!"
"Ay wanted him to have one vote,
too," said Peterson.
And in this wise, Jim became the teacher in the Woodruff district—all on account of Jennie Woodruff's
"Humph!"

CHAPTER III

What is a Brown Mouse?
Immediately upon the accidental
election of Jim Irwin to the position of teacher of the Woodruff school, he developed habits somewhat like a ghost's or a bandit's. That is, he walked of nights and on rainy days.
On fine days, he worked in Colne!

Woodruff's odds as of yore. Jim's salary was to be just $300 for nine months' work in the Woodruff school, and he was to find himself—and his mother. Therefore, he had to indulge in his loose habits of night walking and rambling about after hours only,
or on holidays and in foul weather.

The Simms family, being from the "mountains" of Tennessee, were rather startled one night, when Jim Irwin, homely, stooped and errandless, silently appeared at their family circle about the front door. They had lived where it was the custom to give a whop from the big road before one passed through the pailin's and up to the house. Otherwise, how was one to know whether the visitor was friend or foe?

From force of habit, Old Man Simms started for his gun-rack at Jim's appearance, but the Lincolnian smile and the low slow speech, so much like his own in some respects, ended that.

"Stranger," said Mr. Simms, after greetings had been exchanged, "you're right w'ome, but in my family circle
we find it dangerous to walk in this way."
"How so?" queried Jim Irwin.
"You'd more'n likely git shot up some," replied Mr. Simms, "unless you whooped from the big road."
"I didn't know that," replied Jim.
"I'm ignorant of the customs of other countries. Would you rather I'd whoop from the big road—nobody else will."

"I reckon," replied Mr. Simms,
"that we'll will have to accommodate ourselves to the ways 'round here."
Evidently Jim was the Simms' first caller since they had settled on the little brushy tract whose hills and trees reminded them of their mountains. Low hills, to be sure, with only a footing of rocks where the creek
had cut through, and not many trees, but down in the creek bed, with the oaks, elms and box-elders arching overhead, the Simmses could imagine themselves beside some run falling into the French Broad, or the Holston.

The creek bed was a withdrawing room in which to retire from the external black soil and level cornfields
of Iowa.
"The soil was so poor, in comparson with those black uplands, that the owner of the old wood-lot could find no reater but it was better than the soil in the mountains, and suited the lonesome Simmses much more than a better farm would have done. They were not of the Iowa people anyhow, not understood, not their equals—they were "pore," and expected to stay
"pore"—while the Iowa people all seemed to be either well-to-do, or expecting to become so.

Jim Irwin asked Old Man Simms about the fishing in the creek, and whether there was any duck shooting
spring and fall.
"We git right smart of these little panfish," said Mr. Simms, "an' Callata done shot two butterball ducks about
"late-plintin' time."
Callata blushed—but this stranger,
so much like themselves, could not see the fog's suffusion. The allusion gave him a chance to look about him at the family. There was a boy of sixteen,
a girl—the duck-shooting Callata—younger than Raymond—a girl of eleven, named Virginia, but called Bianca—and a smaller lad who rejoiced in the name of McGeeher, but was mercifully called Buddy.

Callata squirmed for something to say. "Raymond runs a line o' traps
when the fur's prime," shee volunteered.

SHARP BREAK FOLLOWED BY LOWER WHEAT PRICE

Crop Estimates from Canada Again Play Part in Decline; Trading Falls to Yield to Harvesting Force

OHIOAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—Huge crop estimates from Canada led to sharp breaks today in the price of wheat and September delivery in Chicago dropped to below a 1 bushel. The close was weak 1/8 to 2 cents lower, with December 1.02 7/8 to 1.03, and May 1.08 3/8 to 1.05 1/2. Corn finished 5.18 to 1.12c down; oats 1.18 to 1.20c off and provisions at 10 to 7c decline.

With the wheat market here showing little or no power to rally in the face of extremely bearish opinions current as to a rapid increase of the Canadian crop movement, liquidation sales on the part of holders attained considerable volume. The downward swing of values met with no lasting check, and the lowest price of the day was ruling at the close. It was contended in some quarters that the latest forecast of Canadian wheat production for 1923 implied that the crop would be easily supplied with wheat and flour without any contribution of the United States. Another view held of view was that North America could alone supply the 1923-1924 export requirements of Europe.

In addition to Canadian developments of another increase of the domestic yield of wheat was expected next Monday. It was asserted also that transatlantic demand for wheat from the United States would be at least temporarily lessened as Canadian wheat arrived at export positions. Late reports from Winnipeg said country purchases of wheat in western Canada were running at the rate of 3,000,000 bushels a day.

Predictions of a liberal movement of new corn to Chicago had a bearish effect on the corn market, despite predictions of a steady supply of wheat, which was steady in the absence of any rural offerings. Provisions were weak in line with hog values.

ROAD BUILDERS PICK CROSSINGS ON SOUTH LINE

Representatives of State, Highway District and Short Line Choose Intersections for New Road

Locations at which an Idaho state highway through Twin Falls county will intersect the line of the Rogerson-Wells railroad were determined Thursday by representatives of the Oregon Short Line, state highway department and Twin Falls highway district.

The highway and railroad will intersect in Twin Falls county south of Rogerson on only two places, one near Idaho springs and again near the Nevada state line. In both instances, it was announced Thursday evening by A. N. Ashline, state highway division engineer, the highway will pass under the railroad through underpasses or cut-aways. Necessary construction with the crossings will be done by the railroad company.

Nevada Survey Incomplete. Because the railway survey has not been completed location of highway through Nevada cannot be determined at this time, it was stated by Mr. Stacey, chief location engineer for the Oregon Short Line, who accompanied the Idaho highway officials on the trip Thursday from Rogerson to the Nevada line. Prosecution of the railway survey is expected to bring practical completion, Mr. Stacey said.

The Twin Falls highway district was represented on the trip by A. S. Shoberg, district engineer and supervisor of highways.

ENROLLMENT OF SCHOOLS IS 2434

Compilation of Reports at End of First Week Shows Many Back at Studies

Enrollment in Twin Falls schools at the end of the first week closing Thursday afternoon, reached a grand total of 2434, according to reports made to Superintendent M. C. Mitchell at that time. The total is approximately 150 less than the total enrollment at the end of the first week last year, Mr. Mitchell said.

Enrollment figures, it is expected, will be increased materially within the next few days, when a considerable number of pupils from other schools next year return to take up the new year's work. Press of work on farmers and lure of the county fair, together with the fact that only four days constituted the first week because of the Friday holiday, are reasons advanced for failure of pupils in many cases to return to school this week.

New Pupils in High School

Included in the enrollment of the senior high school are 42 pupils who come from schools elsewhere and who will attend school here this year for the first time. In compiling the enrollment of the three senior high school classes, Mr. Mitchell assigned to each class an equal number of "foreign credit" pupils. This enrollment gives to the twelfth grade a total of 90, eleventh, 139; tenth, 145.

Enrollment of the junior high school including seventh to tenth grades, inclusive, totaled 648, divided as follows: Ninth, 230; eighth, 213; seventh, 305.

A total of 1400 pupils enrolled in the elementary grades at the end of the reporting period, divided among the three elementary grade schools as follows:
