DEMPSEY WINS BLOODY FIGHT BY KNOCKOUT

Firpo Floored Five Times in First Round; Champion Is Knocked Through Ropes; Battle Ends in the Second

BINGHED, New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—Jack Dempsey tonight reared his world's heavyweight title, knocking out Luis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas," in the second round of one of the fiercest, fastest and most spectacular battles in the history of pugilism.

The champion floored his Argentine challenger five times in the first round and twice in the second round before a short rest apparent to the jaw sent Firpo down for the last time. But in the three minutes and 57 seconds of whitewind, terrific mauling, Dempsey himself was once knocked clear through the ropes on top of the press benches, and, groggy under a bombardment of mighty rights, once sank to his knees.

Head Champ Tettering Before Firpo went hurtling down to defeat, carrying with him the shattered hopes of a continent, he gave a vast, frenzied throng of 85,000 one of the most thrilling and courageous exhibitions of all time.

Firpo fought the best fight of his career. The challenger's mighty right was never mightier than the relentless power and versatility of the champion's furious attack he went down, but in defeat he gained more glory than in any battle of his career. He was beaten but his menace to the heavyweight throne was not removed.

Was Slashing Affair From the top of the first going these two scowling giants tore at each other with attacks of unrestrained savagery. Firpo was by shoving his hands on to close quarters, but in a flash the champion plunged, shot in a right to the body and a left to the jaw, sending the challenger crashing to the floor on his side.

Momentarily dazed, but with eyes ablaze, Firpo rose to his feet after a short count and rushed again to his feet, but after a withering drive and went down for the second and third times. Blood flowed from his mouth, he was stunned, and Dempsey let loose the most terrific power of his swings as he sensed victory.

Firpo went down twice more and both times it seemed as if he could come back after taking a count of one or his fifth knockdown, the challenger suddenly sprang at his ad-

COOLIDGE WILL NOT USE NAVY

Will Not Employ Armed Forces to Enforce Prohibition Law, Report Claims

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—President Coolidge has no idea at this time of asking congress for authority to use the armed forces of the nation in enforcing prohibition laws, it was said today at the White House. The executive does not believe it would be wise to use the army and the navy in such police work. He regards it as conceivable that the time might come when it would be desirable to use naval craft to prevent smuggling, but such use of war vessels should be resorted to with a great deal of hesitation.

Enforcement of police regulations should not be put on the army and navy, the president believes, but should be shouldered by the regularly constituted state and federal authorities. It was pointed out that it is only rarely that a state calls on its national guard to perform police functions and that it should be seldom that the federal government used its armed forces for such work.

ITALY SLOW TO TAKE ACTION IN FIUME QUESTION

Expected Proclamation May Not Be Made at Once; Jugoslavians Denounce Policy as Being Imperialistic

BELGRADE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Indications here today were that Italy has postponed her proposed decisive action regarding Fiume, which the Jugo-Slav government believes will take the form of annexation of the free city. It is not expected now that the proclamation will be made tomorrow which was the date set by Premier Mussolini, but that he will wait until there is an opportunity for the friendly conference urged in his letter to Premier Pachitch, which was read before the council of ministers, presided over by King Alexander yesterday.

The Jugo-Slav newspapers denounced the prospective annexation as the beginning of an imperialistic campaign on the part of Italy. They compare it with the policy pursued by Austria-Hungary, which policy, they say, caused the downfall of the dual monarchy. The presence here of Marshal Franchet d'Esperey has given opportunity for the Jugo-Slavs to display their friendship for France, which seems particularly warm and enthusiastic in the present emergency.

The Fiume crisis has given added impetus to the important movement among the Serbian youth who are grouping themselves into patriotic associations called the "Omladina." Funds have been flowing into the treasury of this organization during the last few days, the list of subscribers including the names of several cabinet ministers.

THE LONG DRAWN OUT MELODRAMA

LEAGUE CONSIDERS NEW PLANS ON DISARMAMENT

Give Approval to Scheme Requiring Nations to Lend Assistance in Wars if Arms Agreement Is Adopted

GENEVA, Sept. 14 (AP)—Progress was made today in the work of the league of nations assembly on the proposed international pact of mutual assistance, the aim of which is maintenance of world peace, when several more articles were approved by the commission on reduction of armaments. Amendments to Article Two of the pact, suggested by Christian L. Lange, of Norway, secretary of the inter-parliamentary union, were rejected after long discussion. This article is practically a duplicate of the famous Article Ten of the covenant in the league which aroused so much debate in the United States senate.

As approved today, it calls upon the signatories to furnish assistance to any state which is attacked, on the condition, however, that the country attacked has consented to the pact stipulations concerning the reduction or limitation of armaments.

M. Lange's amendments provided that all international treaties should be filed with the league for registration and publication and that all signatory states should accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the permanent court of international justice. Countries refusing to abide by these conditions would not be entitled to help from their fellow countries.

Lord Robert Cecil was among those who opposed these amendments. He thought it uneconomic to oblige the signatory states to compulsory arbitration when there was a chance to settle disputes between nations by direct negotiation. He also thought that insistence upon the publication of treaties might prevent the adherence of certain powers.

Article Three Adopted The league commission also adopted Article III of the pact, which provides that when any signatory power feels that another state has exceeded the armaments laid down by the pact, or threatens to open hostilities upon her, such state may appeal to the league. It also approved Article IV, which authorizes the council of the league of nations to decide within four days which state is the aggressor.

The commission likewise adopted in principle Article V, which outlines the nature of the assistance to be accorded to an attacked country and arranges for an economic and financial boycott against the offending nations.

CUNO ARRIVES AT U. S. PORT

Former German Chancellor Says Trip Here Is to "Renew Relations with Americans"

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Dr. Carl Joseph Wilhelm Cuno, former chancellor of Germany, and president of the council of the Hamburg-American line, arrived today on the Helland for a visit of several weeks in this country as a private citizen and shipping man. Denying that he was here in the interest of a proposed one billion inter-allied loan to Germany or to arrange extension of the Hamburg-American and W. A. Harrison shipping combine, Dr. Cuno declared the sole purpose of his trip was to renew personal and business relations with his American friends. He had no connection with politics, he said, which he definitely left behind when he resigned the office of chancellor.

See Possible Settlement Due to the fact that conditions have changed since he left Germany, Dr. Cuno would not discuss recent developments in France and Germany looking to a settlement of the Ruhr question. Fundamentally, he said, this was an economic and financial problem. As a business man he thought it possible of settlement if looked at purely from the political viewpoint. "The Germans realize that Germany lost the war," he said in a formal statement, "and that Germany therefore must pay for the war. Germany is willing to pay to the limit of her capacity. Life in the Ruhr districts, the industrial heart of Germany, is at a standstill, and until the Ruhr conflict has been settled no one can estimate Germany's capacity to pay."

Holds to Original Plan. Although his three proposals for a settlement of the Ruhr difficulty were declined, Dr. Cuno said that they had not been withdrawn and the German people stand by them today. He said too, that he held to his original estimate of 30,000,000,000 gold marks as a settlement. Before he became chancellor Dr. Cuno had refused the offer of the ambassadorship to the United States, and added that he would refuse the post if it were offered him now.

CHANGES MADE IN ALLOTING OF DELEGATES

Plan Designed to Equalize G. O. P. Representation Is Made Public; Some Southern States Left Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—A tentative apportionment of delegates to the 1924 republican national convention, forming to the order of the national committee, issued in 1920, and designed to equalize republican voters' representation was made public tonight at committee headquarters. It provides for 1036 delegates and alternates compared to 984 four years ago, with sharp reductions ordered in some of the "solid south" states and increase in most of the northern and western sections. Changes in apportionment were indicated following years of criticism of large delegations from southern states normally democratic. No delegates will be allowed under the new rule, from congressional districts which do not maintain a republican organization and do not cast at least 2500 republican votes, and from that figure up to 10,000 only one delegate is allotted. This strips many southern districts entirely of representation, reducing South Carolina's strength from 11 to 4, Mississippi from 12 to 4, Louisiana from 15 to 5, and Georgia from 17 to 9. The Florida delegation, however, is increased from 8 to 10, Tennessee from 20 to 26 and Virginia's from 15 to 16. Four delegates at large are allowed each state, and two additional delegates at large are called for on each representative of at least 100,000.

Poll records from several southern states have been difficult to obtain, according to national committee leaders, and later information may slightly change the tentative apportionment. Delegations allowed each state and territory, compared with those of 1920, include:

Table with 3 columns: State, 1924, 1920. Arizona: 8, 6. California: 28, 24. Colorado: 14, 13. Idaho: 10, 3. Montana: 10, 8. Nevada: 8, 6. New Mexico: 8, 6. Oklahoma: 22, 20. Oregon: 12, 10. Texas: 17, 23. Utah: 10, 9. Washington: 16, 14. Wyoming: 8, 6. New York: 92, 88.

Tenants trapped on upper floors were saved by neighbors and firemen a few minutes before the structure was destroyed. The fire started from an unknown cause on the first floor and quickly enveloped the building.

Spanish Revolt Culminates When Cabinet Resigns

Rebellion Started by Captain at Barcelona Spreads; Martial Law Proclaimed

MADRID, Sept. 14 (AP)—The revolt started by Captain General Primo Rivera at Barcelona, and which spread with great rapidity through various sections of the country, culminated today in the resignation of the Spanish cabinet and the setting up of a military directorate. Captain General Primo Rivera is on his way to Madrid, there to take charge at least for the time being, of the directorate which is now composed of General Cavalaniti, Baro, Daban and Frederic Boronquer, and presided over by General Mazoncobo, captain general of Madrid.

It is stated that General Primo Rivera tomorrow probably will withdraw a mixed military and civil cabinet for the directorate. General Primo Rivera before leaving Barcelona, declared that it was not his intention to give up the post of captain general of Catalonia. Although martial law has been proclaimed throughout the realm, no disturbances have been reported from any place. The people everywhere are said to be carrying out their usual daily work, and there is scarcely anywhere any indication that there has been a successful coup d'etat in Spain.

PUBLIC PROBE TO BE HELD ON WRECK'S CAUSE

Secretary Denby Announces Intentions to Get to Bottom of Fatal Smashup of Seven U. S. Ships

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Inquiry into the loss of seven naval destroyers off Point Honda, California, last Saturday night, will be conducted in public and will be designated to go to the bottom of the incident, Secretary Denby announced today.

A decision by officers in direct charge of the investigation to conduct the inquiry in secret was overruled by the secretary, whose action was taken after a new and, to department officials unexplained, feature of the disaster became known in the receipt by a subsidiary bureau of a report mentioning two and possibly three additional naval ships as included among those which went aground.

Although the additional vessels were not reported as having been wrecked, neither Secretary Denby nor any of his assistants had been informed that more than seven destroyers originally mentioned were involved in the list.

Other Ships Included.

Press dispatches from the scene of the accident have described additional ships as having been damaged when the seven were practically destroyed, but the only report in the department of additional vessels involved is one under date of September 12 to a board of inspection and survey. It reads as follows:

Completed inspection of J. F. Burnes, September 11, requires immediate renewal port forward main turbine gland. Repairs to generator. Completed inspection Farragut and Somers September 12. Owing grounding September 8, Farragut damaged as follows: water leaks into reservoir feed tank; and into fuel oil tanks. Starboard propeller, one blade damaged. Bottom dented. Frames slightly buckled starboard side. Topsides dented by collision.

"Somers damaged by grounding September 8, as follows: 101 hole, crescent shaped, 4 1/2 inches by 14 inches, salt water leaks; bottom dented. Frames buckled near stem. Propeller damaged.

"Recommend Farragut, Somers be docked San Diego, examination and emergency repairs sufficient proceed to navy yard Mare Island. The dispatch was signed by an officer connected with the inspection bureau of the Pacific fleet base.

REPAIRS ORDERED.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 14 (AP)—The Marcus, one of three United States destroyers which grounded when seven of her sister ships were wrecked near Point Arguello last Saturday, was ordered late yesterday at the destroyer repair base here at 10:30 o'clock today. Rivets loosened in the destroyer's bottom, near the bow, and damage to its machinery caused by water entering through sprung plates constituted the extent of the damage suffered by the Marcus, when it bucked off the sand, it was officially stated at the repair base.

Estimate Damage. An official estimate of the damage to the destroyers Somers and Farragut, the other two destroyers which escaped destruction by turning quickly to the open sea when distress signals warned them of disaster, would be available soon, it was announced. Both of these vessels were only slightly damaged, it was indicated and would follow the Marcus into drydock.

Kennedy to Drydock. The destroyer Kennedy also was slightly damaged and will follow the Farragut into drydock it was announced later. "Only minor repairs will be necessary on the Kennedy," base officers said. What specific damage the minor repairs would correct could not be learned.

The drydock occupied by the Marcus today is the only one at the repair base, it was explained, and that four destroyers will be handled there, one by one, the Somers, Farragut and Kennedy following the Marcus in the order named.

The report that a century plant blooms only once in a hundred years is probably due to the impatience of some of its admirers. POLICE QUELL RIOT AT SCENE OF TITLE BOUT

Officers Victors when Hundreds of Excited Fans Charge Lines; Bedlam Prevails; Thousands in Fight

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Mounted police were called on to quell a small riot that broke out on the viaduct approaching the Polo grounds, scene of the Dempsey-Firpo fight. Several hundred men attempted to charge the police lines, but were dispersed after a lively encounter in which clubs were used freely.

The crowd at the battle ground area numbered several thousand. It took a few minutes for the mounted police, aided by hastily summoned reinforcements, to regain control of the situation. Lines were tightened after this episode and now without tickets were allowed within several blocks of the arena.

Bedlam Loosed.

From mid-afternoon it was bedlam outside the park. The trouble started on Eighth avenue, two blocks from the entrance to the grounds where the main line began to form at dawn. At 4:15 p. m. a rumor spread that the tickets had arrived and the restless standers began rioting. The line was shattered and soon a solid block of people was massed around the wagon supposed to be bearing the tickets.

Police Charge. Mounted police charged, driving their horses into the crowd, and blue coats wielded their clubs in a frantic attempt to form a line. When some semblance of order had been restored those who had stood at the head of the line were at the foot. Among the unfortunate was a woman who was the first to take a blow.

When the postbags finally arrived at the crowd and the police were powerless to withstand it. The pressure around the wagon became so great that it began to totter and it was moved another block with the thousands running after it, pulling coat-tails and pummeling one another. Hundreds of men lost hats, had their clothing torn to shreds, lost their jewelry and money and were battered and bruised before they gave up the struggle and left for home. Others fought on, moving with the wagon each time it moved.

Then a second wagon was ribbed up on top of Spogans's bluff, but before men could arrive, its sides were battered down. When the ticket seller came his taxicab was stormed and the mounted police were forced to charge and recharge.

Down below the bluff, beneath the viaduct that connected the hill with the grounds, the majority of the police concentrated and there was better order.

Police estimated between 25,000 and 30,000 persons were battling each other around the four walls of the arena trying to get tickets.

When a taxi came dashing up someone invariably shouted "Here comes Dempsey," or "Here comes Firpo," and immediately half a dozen men jumped on the running boards, hanging on to the sides and behind, peering inside to get at least one fleeting glimpse of the supposed principals.

Just inside the gates there was better order. At least 75 patrolmen were underneath the stands waiting for something to turn up. It was long after the preliminaries had started that police got the rushing, crowding mob quieted. The same semblance of order was noticed, the ticket sellers were swung into line and many a greenback was handed over for a piece of postboard that allowed its holder to enter the crowded arena.

Jealous Spaniards Hid Wives. The so-called Venetian blinds first came to Venice from Spain, where they were called "fisolinces." The jealous Spanish husband kept his wife in seclusion. She was not allowed to draw up her blinds, but she might peep out through the slits between the laths.

FIRPO AIMS TO HAVE ANOTHER SHOT AT TITLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo, defeated by Jack Dempsey tonight, declared he would be ready to take another shot at the heavyweight championship of the world in a year. "I will be back," he said. "I will make a motor trip to Canada. Then I will go to my home in Buenos Aires, and when I come back I will be better prepared to fight the champion."

Reporters Needed Adding Machines to Record Events

After the fight Firpo eluded the great crowd that had gathered outside his apartment and motored into the bustling part of the theatrical district. Here, in a little restaurant, owned by Terona, a friend, he was given a reception by his friends. He was toasted and congratulated by them on the showing he had made.

Fight Scribes' Breath Taken Awdy by Speed of Developments in Dempsey-Firpo Bout

RINOSIDE, New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The three minutes and 57 seconds of the Dempsey-Firpo fight tonight was so filled with action that many scribes at the ringside needed an adding machine when they got their breath in order to recover the knockdowns. Charles Schweigler, official time keeper, said that Firpo actually was floored five times in the first round and also knocked to his knees twice. He checked up two knockdowns against the Argentine in the second, while the champion was knocked to his knees once in the first and a few seconds later was lifted over the second rope, outside of the ring and as far as the third row of press benches. Billy McCamey, a veteran fight manager, who sat in the front row, said that in his opinion Firpo was actually floored only three times in the first round, but his count was far below that of the other experts. Veteran fighters, managers and officials were left so thrilled by the contest that they were almost inarticulate and quivered after the song like schoolboys who had fled from a graveyard on a dark night.

TILDEN IN FINAL ROUND

GERMANTOWN CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, Sept. 14 (AP)—For the second successive year, William T. Tilden II of Philadelphia, champion of the United States, and William M. Johnston, the little San Francisco star, are finalists for the men's tennis singles title to be decided tomorrow. Tilden reached the final round this afternoon by virtue of his easy victory over Delan I. C. Norton, the South African champion, last survivor of a big field of foreign players, who began the annual championships last Monday.

Grid Squad Learns Rudiments of Game

Candidates for Football Team Working Hard Under Supervision of Coach Evans

The second gridiron practice of the season was held this morning at Lincoln field, with a large squad all working hard. Coach Evans is confining the work to the fundamentals, teaching the men how to get down the line and laying particular stress on the correct form and flash charging. The backfield candidates are practicing the fast get-away and carrying the ball. D. Alvord, Walter Swain, Stau Cron and Harrison are some of last year's men who are out again this year. Swain and Harrison are out for line positions and Alvord and Cron for the back field. Timm from Fiter, is also on the squad this year and will make a strong bid for a back field position. The sign this large and the majority of them are rookies. Only eight work-outs were held this week and the candidates will have a chance to get over the sore period and should be in trim for the hard practice to commence next week. The back field from last year is fairly intact and Coach Evans has a good basis to build on in Jenkins and Swain. It will be necessary to develop a new quarter and center, two of the most important positions on the team. Coach Evans is already starting work on these two positions, but it will take some time to get much of a line on the prospects.

CALIFORNIA DOGS HERE TO ENTER FIELD TRIALS

Fair Oaks Kennel Club of Sacramento Sends String of Pedigreed Setters to South Idaho Meet

Trainer Black, representing the Fair Oaks Kennel Club of Sacramento, Cal., arrived in Twin Falls Thursday with a string of blooded setters and pointers to enter in the field trials to be run here Sunday and Monday, September 16 and 17. Trainer Black made the trip overnight and experienced little difficulty with his dogs. He is here early to give his dogs a chance to get acclimated and used to working on pheasants before the trials. Paul Whiteside, professional dog handler, of Portland, Ore., who has been working this spring and dog near Gooding for the past month, will arrive Saturday with his dogs to be on hand for the trial Sunday. Much interest locally is being shown in the trials and from all indications there will be a large number of local dogs entered in the various stakes. The trials present a good opportunity for the local dog men to display their wares and many have been grooming their dogs for the event all summer. Announcements will be made later as to the course to be run so that the spectators who are late can pick up the run when they enter the various rounds.

ANNOUNCES PRIZE FOR ATHLETIC ENGINEERS

Dean of Idaho Tech School Posts $50 Award to Develop Initiative Among Students in His Classes

POCATELLO, Sept. 14—For the purpose of encouraging students in engineering to take an active part in other student activities as a means of developing initiative, Dean A. C. Gough of the school of engineering at the Idaho Tech. has announced a prize of $50 to be awarded to the student in his department who scores highest in student activities. A committee of the faculty will be asked to choose a list of the various athletic activities, and club organizations, and to give each of those a ranking number of points. Students competing for the prize will have this list of points so they can at all times compute their progress in the race. This plan is being fostered by the engineering societies all over the country.

DEMPEY WINS

versary like a wounded tiger, an infuriated jungle beast. Swinging with ball-like rapidity and sledge-hammer power the famous right that had broken aside all opposition before and swept him to victory. Caught unaware by this stunning comeback on the part of the man he had believed beaten into submission, Dempsey reeled under the assault. A right to the side of the head sent Dempsey to his knees and as he arose another swing knocked him from his feet and through the ropes on top of the newspaper man huddled at the edge of the ring. Dempsey's knees wavered as he climbed back in. He clinched to save himself. Firpo couldn't follow up his advantage and the bell ended a round that will go down as one of the most sensational of all fighting history came to an end with both gladiators on their feet. Unleashed for the second round, they leaped at each other once more.

Lands Winning Blow

Dempsey again was the quicker on the attack and Firpo went down under the crushing blow of the champion. He arose only to go down once more. Now there was no doubt of the outcome. The challenger, bleeding and tottering, forced himself to his feet, carrying on largely by instinct. Dempsey stepped in, whipped his left to the body and then sent a short right to the chin that sent Firpo sprawling on his back, staring vacantly at the glare of lights overhead. The Argentine tried feebly to turn over, to gather strength to rise. His fighting heart called him back to the fray, but the body that had withstood one of the most terrific assaults the ring has ever known could not respond. He lay flat at the count of ten, after 57 seconds of the round had elapsed, and was helped to his corner by the victorious champion.

Experience Won

Then that vast throng, whipped to a fever pitch of excitement by this exceptional struggle of these slugging gladiators, gave vent to an ovation that echoed and re-echoed from Coogan's bluff as Dempsey's hand was raised in victory. Ring-side spectators rushed for the ring, some hurled three rows of press benches to get at the champion and lift him to their shoulders. For a moment it seemed that the frenzy might assume the proportions of a riot, but the police, after a struggle, gained control. And while the American had fulfilled popular expectations and the most venturesome predictions of critics by his short and spectacular triumph, the challenger received an ovation in defeat for the fight that marked him among the most courageous battlers who ever sought the world's title. Dempsey won because he was the "Dempsey of Toledo," the smashing, mauling, relentless assailant who battered Jess Willard into submission four years ago and ascended the heavyweight throne. Firpo proved himself a dangerous challenger, despite the briefness of his stand against the champion, but his inexperience, the lack of an all-around fighting equipment to reinforce his powerful right, caused his downfall in the face of Dempsey's superior speed and generalship. The outcome proved that sheer strength and hitting power alone plus a courageous heart could not survive against experienced skill, swiftness of foot and equally as formidable punching prowess. Dempsey had to call on his all to survive that withering comeback of Firpo's in the first round after the Argentine had been floored five times. But the fact that he had the reserve, the stamina and courage to weather that sudden and terrific storm and emerge triumphant demonstrated conclusively that he is the present day "champion of champions," and in the belief of those who saw him tonight, one of the greatest of all time. Dempsey's victory answered the riddle of his battle with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mo., last July. It proved that the champion has not lost his punch, that Gibbons lasted the limit, simply because he waged a defensive fight, intent upon staying the limit, and that against a foe ready to struggle toe to toe Dempsey can give and take the mightiest of punches and in the end win.

Won Fortune

Dempsey gained a fortune with his victory tonight, for he will receive close to half a million dollars as his share of the gross receipts, estimated at $1,270,000 by Promoter Tex Rickard, a figure second only to the record "gate" of $1,600,000 realized two years ago by the Dempsey-Carpentier battle at Jersey City. The champion's share, 37 1/2 per cent of the gross receipts, approximated $480,000, while Firpo, whose share was 12 1/2 per cent, will receive about $160,000, twice as much as he got for any previous bout.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS

ROUND ONE: Dempsey missed a left hook to chin and dug right to the body, sending him to his knees. Dempsey floored Firpo with a left hook to the chin, but he staggered to his feet at the count of one. The champion sent him crashing to the floor for the third time with a hard right to the jaw, but he did not take the count. Dempsey, fighting furiously, knocked him to the floor for the fourth time with a right to the chin. When he got up, Dempsey chased Firpo to a neutral corner, flooring him with a right and left to the chin for the fifth knockdown. Firpo, battling like a tiger, battered the champion to his knees and then charged Dempsey to the ribs of the ring, knocking him through the second and top ropes with a savage right to the jaw. The champion, bleeding from the mouth, was groggy. Firpo pounded the dazed Dempsey on the jaw with sledgehammer rights as the round ended. Firpo was also bleeding from the mouth as he went to his corner.

ROUND TWO: Firpo swung right to Dempsey's shoulder. Dempsey hooked a left to the chin and then drove both fists to the body and the challenger fell to the floor. Firpo, bleeding and groggy, was cornered and floored for the second time, but he quickly jumped to his feet. Dempsey chased Firpo to the center of the ring, whipping over a left hook and a right to the chin, knocking the giant Argentine flat. With blood trickling from his mouth, Firpo rolled over on his back while Referee Gallagher counted him out. Dempsey nervously rushed over and helped pick up his fallen foe and then trotted to his corner.

Dempsey weighed 192 1/2 pounds, Firpo 216 1/2 pounds. Manager Jack Kearns was in charge of Dempsey's corner, assisting Joe Benjamin, Pacific Coast lightweight, and Jerry Lavarda, his trainer.

Fight Manager, one of Firpo's business representatives, Horatio Lavalle and Guglielmo Widmer were in charge of the challenger's corner. Champion Applauded

Dempsey received a deafening ovation when he was announced as "our own Jack Dempsey, champion of the world." Firpo also got a tremendous reception when he bowed to the crowd after his introduction.

Johany Gallagher, of New York, was named referee. He brought them to the center of the ring for instructions at 10 o'clock.

Close to 50,000 fans had jammed their way into the Polo grounds, while tens of thousands more swarmed in at every entrance when the first preliminary to the Dempsey-Firpo title match was called. The opening festivities brought together Leo Brown, of Australia and Dan Bright of England, in a six-round set-to.

Short Curtain-Raiser

The first preliminary bout was over before either fighter had had a chance to warm up. Dan Bright, English heavyweight, knocking out Leo Brown, of Australia, in 88 seconds of the first round. A right swing to the jaw sent Brown sprawling for the count. Brown weighed 207 and Bright 208. Charley Nashort, Jersey City light heavyweight, received the judges' decision over Frank Koebel, of Brooklyn, one of Firpo's sparring mates, in the second preliminary, a four-round added attraction. Koebel, battered badly about the head and body, was dropped for counts in the first and third rounds and was barely hanging on at the final bell. Both weighed 172.

Burke Wins

Mike Burke, of Greenwich village, battered Al Roberts of Staten Island into defeat in the third preliminary of six rounds. Roberts absorbed terrific punishment about the head and was barely able to keep his feet in the last round as he reeled about the ring.

TOTAL OF 16,000 AT COUNTY FAIR

LARGE CROWDS ARE PRESENT ON LAST DAY

Children's Event Attracts Hundreds of Youngsters; Plans Already Under Consideration for Next Year

Friday was children's day at the fair and it is estimated that about 1500 children were in attendance. The grounds were crowded again Friday, although the crowd was not as large as that of Thursday. The grandstand, bleachers and annex were completely filled and the automobiles were thick around the fence of the track. There were 4088 paid admissions, and estimating 1500 children, making the grand total 5589.

The actual paid admissions for the week by days are as follows:

Tuesday	785
Wednesday	2363
Thursday	5049
Friday	4088

It is estimated that consisting the free tickets held by exhibitors, concessionaires and officials that there were 16,000 people visited the fair this week.

So far as could be learned there was not an arrest on the grounds and not an automobile accident.

The livestock show was highly praised by stockmen from all parts of the district. All of the exhibits were especially fine this year and the people took advantage of the fine displays keeping the stock barns and exhibit halls full almost all the time. Officials pointed out that the fair does more than encourage the farmer to produce his very best; that it aids in teaching him how to produce better stock and better crops, gives him a chance to mingle with his fellow farmers, get their ideas and exchange thoughts and ideas with him, and brings him in contact with men noted for their efficiency in one particular line. The fact that the farmer appreciates his opportunity is borne out by the attendance for the week.

The directors and officials are already making plans for the 1924 fair and promise one bigger and better than ever for 1924.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON AT HAND

Usual Bombardment to Usher in Open Period Half Hour Before Sunrise on Sunday

Idaho's duck season will open Sunday morning one half hour before the official sunrise time with the usual bombardment. The various hardware stores have appropriate window displays and the hunters are getting out the double barrels and pumps or auto-matic, applying a generous coating of oil and getting ready for the big event.

The 1923 legislature changed the state law to conform with the federal migratory bird law, advancing the opening date from October 1 to September 16, and raising the bag limit to 25 ducks per day for each hunter. A hunter must not have more than 25 ducks in possession at any one time.

The sunrise time for Sunday morning, as announced by the state game department, is 6:25 o'clock and sunset at 6:54, mountain time, and applies to all the territory in the state where ducks will be hunted. The following is the sunrise and sunset schedule for September and October:

PACER SETS FAST MARK

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Pacing the fastest three heats in a three-year-old has named this season, Anna Bradford's Girl, undefeated this year, won the Onondaga heat at 2:00.00, year-old pacing stable, held at $2000, the feature event of the closing day's card of the Grand Circuit races at the state fair today. Ben White drove the little brown filly to a straight heat victory, winning easily in every heat.

Bonnie Del won the 208 trot after winning the first heat and then watched Kentucky Downs and Harry E. Sherr win a heat. His gelding out-trotted the field in the fourth heat, in which only heat winners were eligible, winning in the drive down the stretch and outstripping Peter S., which challenged in the last 100 yards.

Ganey the Great had an easy time winning the 3:07 pace from a field of six or seven pacers, leading the field by length in every heat. The little man took the pole on the back stretch and was never headed to the wire, winning the final heat by 20 yards.

Tommy Murphy drove Mary Ann to a straight heat victory in the 2:17 trot from a field of eight starters.

Many Thrills in Wild West Show

Crowds Kept on Edge by Daring Stunts; Two Slightly Hurt in Accidents

The wild west show conducted by Fay Cox of Kimberly, has drawn big crowds throughout the week. The show provided the spectators with thrills galore at every performance and kept them on their feet most of the time. This attraction was a process of elimination riders being eliminated each day until the finals Friday, when there were only five riders left to compete for the prizes. In the bucking Lalo Palmer won first money, and Vain Whitelife second with Earl Duffey, third. In the barbed wire Tim Smith was first and Glenn Cochran was second while Babo Kelsa took third place.

In the roping and steer tying contest Fay Cox won first money the first two days and roped and tied his animal in 41 seconds Friday but did not tie him second evening and the steer got loose so the first went to Condon Edwards who tied his in 41.

Two riders were injured, one receiving a broken leg when kicked by the animal he was riding, and the other while bull-dogging a steer. He received broken ribs.

FAST EVENTS ON FINAL PROGRAM

Races on Closing Day Prove to Be Speediest of Entire Week; Comedy Features

The last day's racing program at the county fair was the fastest of the four days. Almost the same size crowd as Thursday thronged the grandstand and completely filled the annex and bleachers. The crowd as usual filled all available seats, and along the fence and automobiles were parked around both turns.

The first event, the 2:20 trot or pace, proved fast in every heat and provided the crowd with thrills galore. At the beginning of the second heat Nellie Logan, driven by Resgan, became excited and unmanageable and in the bucking exhibition that followed, she became entangled in the hobbles and fell on her back. She was finally extracted from the tangle, but did not take part in the last two heats.

The time in both harness races Friday was faster than on previous days and kept the crowd on edge.

The first heat of the 2:20 trot or pace was won by Alexander G, owned by Swank; Buster, owned by Swank, second, and Allerwood Maid, owned by Williams, third. Time 2:18 1/2.

The second heat was easily won by Buster, with Alexander G second and Allerwood Maid third. Time 2:10 1/2.

The third heat was again Buster's without much competition; Alexander G second and Allerwood Maid third. Time 2:16 1/2.

Irish Tide Wins Again

The second race a quarter-mile dash, was won by Irish Tide, with Sleazy Kate second and Belle third. Time 25.

The free-for-all harness race developed a surprising speed, although the mare Mary J had things all her own way in every heat, showing conclusively that she is capable of faster time if pushed.

The results of the first heat: Mary J, first; Jenny McKinney, second; and Appanee third. Time 2:10 1/4.

The second heat: Mary J, first; Jenny McKinney second; Artell Wilkes, third. Time 2:17 1/4.

The third heat was won by Mary J, Jenny McKinney second and Artell Wilkes third. Time 2:16.

The next event, a five-eighths running race, was won by Cammano with Begory second and Irish Tide third. Time 1:04.

IRISH TIDE WINS AGAIN

The second race a quarter-mile dash, was won by Irish Tide, with Sleazy Kate second and Belle third.

The final of the mule horse elimination trial resulted in Pet, owned by Cooper, first, and Black Bear, owned by Phillips, second. This was a three-eighths of a mile event and they stepped it in 40 seconds.

Mule Race Amusing

The last race of the day and of the fair this year gave the crowd a good laugh. This was the mule race for a half mile. There were about eight entries of Mauds and although none of them balked the riders had a hard time keeping them from going through the paddock gate, but after safely passing this obstacle a famous Jinney from Buhl took a long lead and was never in danger until she passed under the wire the winner. Several of the fall-enders had trouble getting their mounts out of the wire at all, but finally with much advice and shouting from the crowd all of them finished.

Friday's events ended one of the fastest racing meets held on the Filer track. Every day's program provided plenty of speed and almost without exception every race was a real horse race. The harness races were particularly good and many people were attracted all three days to see these fast events.

The events moved off smoothly and in good time and the crowd was never kept waiting, there was something doing every minute, for between races the Mahon Wheeler Comedy Circus entertained with all sorts of comedy tricks and the whole troupe were artists in their line, providing a good clean-line of amusements and winning the hearty applause of the crowd after each act. The whole program and the way it was handled earns the highest praise.

Ten Years of His Life Wasted

A Frenchman spent ten years of his life inventing a noiseless clock. After he had succeeded, he found that nobody would buy a noiseless clock, so he did not hear the steady tick-tick of the old clock on the mantel shelf, but the moment the clock is silent, they miss the familiar noise.

OKLAHOMA MIX INDICATES NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Martial Law Extended, Press Censorship Threatened by Governor Walton; Executive Target for Criticism

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 14 (AP)—With extension of martial law to new sections of Oklahoma in prospect and a military censorship of the press threatened by Governor J. C. Walton, two steps were under way tonight in an attempt to curb the powers being assumed by the executive.

Following the posting of a censor to the offices of the Tulsa Tribune, Richard Lloyd Jones, editor of the newspaper, announced he would seek an injunction in federal court in defense of the freedom of the press.

The second step took the form of a movement to bring the legislature into extraordinary session without a call from the governor for consideration of the acts of the executive.

Authorities differ on the right of the state's law-making body to take such action, no procedure having been perfected by statute for such a course, although it is said the matter is not prohibited by the state constitution.

In an interview at Tishomingo today William K. Murray, chairman of the constitutional convention of 1907, declared the right to assemble on its own initiative was an inherent power belonging to the legislature.

Governor Walton remained at his home today, where it was reported that he was ill with a heavy cold. It was understood that he held a number of conferences concerning the martial law situation, however.

DISEASE TERRORS PASSING

Theory Advanced That Germ Species May Die Out as Did Mammoths and Dinosaurs

Is it not likely, speaking as a layman and without medical erudition, that germ species originate, grow to maturity, then pass on to senility and die out like so many families of creatures have done on this earth? The last Methuselahs, of certain diseases may now be moving on to oblivion. Did not the mammoths and the dinosaurs rise, flourish and disappear? Then why not the microscopic terrors that menace mankind?

Yellow fever is passing beyond the horizon. It is waving its last saffron farewell to us. Soon it will be history only, its battles with humanity, its massacres, as remote as those of Semiramis or the Babylonian kings. Finding no place to lay its fat finger, it will give up the ghost.

Typhoid, dislodged from its last county well and village drains, has become a fugitive, pursued by health boards who bombard it with serums and germicides. It is in full flight. It cannot pause anywhere to organize the smallest epidemic. The seed of it will perish from the earth.

DEFORREST'S FORECAST OF FIGHT WAS CORRECT

"If I'd Trained Firpo He'd Have Been the Winner," Says Veteran Trainer; Battle Was Premature

RINGSIDE, New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—Jimmy DeForest, veteran trainer, who schooled Luis Angel Firpo for his victory over Jess Willard, and was then disposed, shrugged his shoulders expressively when his former protege ended the evening on his side.

"If I'd trained him, he'd have been a winner," said De Forest, who viewed the battle from the ringside. "He has the stuff."

DeForest prophesied today that Dempsey would win in one round, or not more than three. He had declared previously that Firpo was unduly for a championship title.

THE PONY EXPRESS

Much has been said and written lately, properly enough, in praise of the "pony express" which carried a mail pouch from St. Joseph, Missouri, to San Francisco...

Yet the thing shown most clearly by this undertaking was the gain made by man in clearing the horse for transportation purposes...

With all due regard to man's good friend, the horse, it must be admitted that as a vehicle that beast is woefully awkward and inefficient.

DESTRUCTION AND INFLATION

As America gladly speeds its aid to Japan it should also heed the timely warning of economists. They remind the nation that it took the lumber companies of the Pacific Coast region nearly a decade to recover from the artificial inflation which followed the rebuilding of San Francisco after its earthquake and fire of nineteen hundred sixteen.

Headlong inflation is always a serious mistake, if not an economic crime. Any great disaster which means the destruction of wealth and property is a loss to the whole world and must be borne by the world.

Destruction is destruction, and in the long run profiting by another's loss and misfortune is a difficult thing.

GERMANY READY TO YIELD

The industrial workers in the Ruhr and other occupied regions are reported to have received orders to stop their "passive resistance" against the French. Big German business men are preparing to send representatives to France to sound out the French government regarding concessions.

With their agreement, a new era may open for Europe, which is already further along with its recovery than most Americans suppose.

OUTGROWN FIGHTERS

It was only 16 years ago that Admiral Evans, "Fighting Bob," took a fleet of America's great warships around the world on a glorious cruise. Those vessels marked the highest development of naval invention at that time.

The other day two of those ships were sunk by bombs dropped from an airplane sailing a mile above them.

Millions of dollars are spent annually to turn out these marvels of human invention, and year by year new ones crowd the old ones into the discard.

The BROWN MOUSE By HERBERT QUICK. (Copyright by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued.) Then came a long talk on traps and trapping, shooting, hunting and the joys of the mountains—during which Jim noted the ignorance and poverty of the Simmes.

"If he could feel like anything but an underling, he'd succeed," said Jennie. "That's his heredity," stated the colonel, whose live stock operations were based on heredity.

"What do you mean by a Brown Mouse?" "That do you mean, eh?" scoffed Jennie—"a Brown Mouse."

Basket on Pole Hives Bees Safely

A Wisconsin beekeeper, whose general farm work allows very little time for capturing the swarms that escape his apiary, has found the method illustrated both easy and quick. The device used for the work, he claims, has saved him many hours of labor as well as numerous painful stings. The device is simple to make. It consists of a circular rim and a supporting frame made of 3/4-in. iron rod, and a cone-shaped screen-wire basket attached to the rim as shown.

studies of all the children, and what they liked to read. He knew their favorite amusements. He talked with their mothers and sisters—not about the school to any extent, but on the weather, the horses, the automobiles, the silo-filling machinery and the profits of farming.

Really, though Jennie Woodruff did not see how such things related to school work, Jim Irwin's studies were done in the homes of the district and the minds of many pupils, weeks and weeks before that day when he called them to order on the Monday specified in his contract as the first day of school.

On Bonner, who came to see the outline, voiced the sentiments of the older people when he condemned the

"That Fellow'll Never Do." school as disorderly. To be sure, there were more pupils enrolled than had ever entered on a first day in the whole history of the school—not as hard to accommodate them all. But the director's criticism was leveled against the free-and-easy air of the children.

The number exercises of the little chaps had been worked out with care and kernels of corn. One class in arithmetic calculated the percentage of inferior kernels at tip and butt to the full-sized grain in the middle of the ear.

All the time, Jim Irwin, awkward and uncouth, clad in his none-too-good Sunday suit and trying to hide behind his Lincolnian smile the fact that he was pretty badly frightened and much embarrassed, passed among them, getting them enrolled, setting them to work, wasting much time and laboring like a heavy-laden barge in a saw-
"That fellow'll never do," said Bonner to Bronson next day. "Looks like a tramp in the schoolroom."
"Wearin' his best, I guess," said Bronson.
"Like the kids call him 'Jim,'" said Bonner.
"That's all right with me," replied Bronson.
"The room was as noisy as a caucus," was Bonner's next inditement, "and the furo was all over corn like a hop-pole."
"Oh, I don't suppose he can get away with it," asserted Bronson, "but that boy of mine is as tickled as a colt with the whole thing. Says he's got regular 'his winter.'"
"That's because Jim don't keep no order," said Bonner. "He lets Nowt do as he pleases."
"That's Jim's ever pleased to do anything but daylight," protested Bronson. "Oh, I suppose Jim'll fall down, and we'll have to fire him—but I wish we could get a good teacher that would get hold of Nowt the way he seems to!"

THE MARKETS

NEW SUPPLY CAUSE OF LOWER WHEAT AVERAGE

Price Drops Despite Numerous Returns in Market; Buying Orders Fall to Follow Baise in Quotations

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Notwithstanding numerous upturns, wheat averaged lower in price today, largely as a result of increasing arrivals of new wheat at Minneapolis.

With advice at hand that receipts of new wheat in Winnipeg tomorrow would total 140,000 carloads as against 93,000 today and 233 a week ago, buying orders here failed to follow advances in price.

Higher quotations on hogs strengthened the provision market.

During the late dealing, especially wheat here showed a downward tendency, with indications pointing to increased hedging pressure.

Exporters were said to have been good buyers early at Minneapolis, but the seaboard continued to emphasize mention of relatively low demand from Europe.

Higher quotations on hogs strengthened the provision market.

HIGHWAY ROUTE DISPUTE COMES AGAIN TO FORE

Crossings Agreement Between Railway and Road Officials Revives Issue - Over Twin Falls-Hollister Route

An issue of several months' standing as to which of the roads from Twin Falls to Hollister is to be designated as a state highway is brought into prominence again by the action this week of representatives of the Short Line railway, state highway department and Twin Falls highway district in determining the location of the proposed Oregon-Wall railroad which will intersect the highway south from Rogerson to the state line.

That portion of the road between Twin Falls and Hollister was not taken into consideration by the railroad and highway officials in determining these crossings out of the road. Indications that designation of the route of the highway extending north and south through this county is to be made in the near future, and it is anticipated that the matter of railroad crossings will have an important relation to the decision as to which road will be designated as the state highway.

Public opinion, so far as it is informed, seems to be divided into two camps. One favors the Twin Falls-Hollister route of the proposed highway. Improvement work has been done by the Twin Falls highway district on two possible routes. One, which may be termed the east route, is a continuation of Blue Lakes boulevard in Twin Falls extending south in an almost direct line to a point east of Hollister.

The other route, which may be termed the west route, follows the highway west from the end of Shoshone street in Twin Falls and passing through Knud. This road has been gravelled throughout, whereas on the east route the gravel is in places on which no gravel has been laid. Advocates of the east route, however, point out that the amount of gravel applied to the west route, 15,000 yards per mile, falls short by 8000 yards of requirement for obtaining federal road building aid. They declare, also, that the east route is more likely to conform to federal requirements for a much lesser cost than the west route, asserting that residents along the east route have agreed to apply gravel from a nearby gravel pit without charge for their work involving necessary grading.

Advocates of the east route regard as one of their strongest arguments the fact that the west route crosses the railroad six times between Twin Falls and Hollister, whereas there are only two railroad crossings on the east route, one above Blue Lakes boulevard in Twin Falls and the other at Hollister. They argue that establishment here of Rogerson-Wells line shops for which the site has been secured, will involve additional railroad crossings on the west route.

They point out, too, difficulty encountered on the west route at the point where it crosses the high line canal at sharp angles, and declare that the situation there can be met only by changing the course of the canal or by installing a long span, the cost of which they estimate at $20,000.

Decision Up to Gregory. In further comparison of the two routes, advocates of the east route point out that it follows a natural grade along which snow would not drift during the winter, whereas the west route, they point out, has a number of cuts and fills. The difference, they say, is that between a mountain and a valley road.

Decision as to which route will be designated as the state highway, it is understood here, has been delegated to H. W. Gregory, supervisor of state highways, who is expected to visit this region in the near future.

CLAIMS CROP AS RENTAL

A. L. Houghton Sues Tenant on Farm and He Bought as Sheriff's Sale; Asks Restraint Order.

In a suit instituted Friday in district court here A. L. Houghton seeks to establish a rental claim to one-half of the crop grown this season on Twin Falls county farm lands which he purchased at sheriff's sale in July, this year, under foreclosure on a mortgage held by himself. Jay Thomas, tenant on the property, is made the defendant in the action. Application is made for a restraining order to prohibit Thomas from delivering the crop rental in question to any other claimant.

Thomas is in possession of the land as tenant under a lease executed in January, this year, under provisions of which he would have turned the crop rental over to the original owners of the property from whom it was taken by foreclosure proceedings. Based in the sum of $1000 was filed with the complaint, which was filed by the law firm of Hodgins, Stephan and Merrill.

HIGHWAY ROUTE DISPUTE COMES AGAIN TO FORE

Crossings Agreement Between Railway and Road Officials Revives Issue Over Twin Falls-Hollister Route

An issue of several months' standing as to which of the roads from Twin Falls to Hollister is to be designated as a state highway is brought into prominence again by the action this week of representatives of the Short Line railway, state highway department and Twin Falls highway district in determining the location of the proposed Hograon-Well railroad which will intersect the highway south from Hograon to the state line.

That portion of the road between Twin Falls and Hollister was not taken into consideration by the railroad and highway officials in determining the crossing, but the highway department indicates that designation of the route of the highway extending north and south through this county is to be made in the near future, and it is anticipated that the matter of railroad crossings will have an important relation to the decision as to which party will be designated as the state highway.

Public opinion, so far as it is informed, seems to be divided into two camps over the Twin Falls-Hollister route of the proposed highway. Improvement work has been done by the Twin Falls highway district on two possible routes. One, that may be termed the east route, is a continuation of Blue Lakes boulevard in Twin Falls extending south in an almost direct line to a point east of Hollister.

The other route, which may be termed the west route, follows the highway west from the end of Shoshone street in Twin Falls and passing through Knoll. This road has been graded throughout, whereas on the east route there is a gap of six miles on which no gravel has been laid.

Advocates of the east route, however, point out that the amount of gravel applied to the west route, 12,000 yards per mile, falls short by 9,000 yards of requirement for obtaining federal aid. It is also pointed out that the east route can be improved to conform to federal requirements for a much lesser cost than the west route, asserting that residents along the east route have agreed to apply gravel from a nearby gravel pit without charge for their work providing necessary grading.

Advocates of the east route regard as one of their strongest arguments the fact that the west route crosses the railroad six times between Twin Falls and Hollister, whereas there are only two railroad crossings on the east route. One above Blue Lakes boulevard in Twin Falls and the other at Hollister. They argue that establishment here of Rogerson-Wells line stops for which the site has been secured, will involve additional railroad crossings on the west route.

They point out, too, difficulty encountered on the west route at the point where it crosses the high line canal at sharp angles, and declare that the situation there can be met only by changing the course of the canal or by installing a long span, the cost of which they estimate at $20,000.

Decision Up to Gregory. In further comparison of the two routes, advocates of the east route point out that it follows a natural grade along which snow would not drift during the winter, whereas the west route, they point out, has a number of cuts and fills. The difference, they say, is that between a mountain and a valley.

Decision as to which route will be designated as the state highway, it is understood here, has been delegated to H. W. Gregory, supervisor of state highways, who is expected to visit this region in the near future.

Application is made for a restraining order to prohibit Thomas from delivering the crop rental in question to any other claimant.

RAILROAD WORK AWAITS SPRING

Union Pacific President Makes Frank Statement Relative to Rogerson-Wells Line

It is the hope of C. R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific railway system, that construction work on the Rogerson-Wells line may be started in the spring as soon as weather conditions will permit.

Statement to this effect is contained in a telegram from Mr. Gray received here Friday in response to telegraphic inquiry made Thursday by directors of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Gray's message, dispatched from Omaha Friday, is as follows: "It will take some time to complete surveys and let contracts for construction of the Rogerson-Wells line and by the time this line down winter-will be well upon us. We will, however, be able, I hope, to start work in the spring as soon as weather conditions will permit."
