STEPS TAKEN TO END STRIKE OF PRESS WORKERS

Publishers and Striking Pressmen Engage in Conference Seeking to End Walkout in New York City

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—Steps to end the strike of newspaper pressmen took definite form today when it was announced a conference would be held tomorrow, or soon after, between spokesmen for the pressmen and newspaper owners.

George L. Berry, president of the pressmen's international union, who yesterday characterized the strike as illegal and threatened revocation of the local union's charter unless the men returned to work, today was appointed head of a committee to negotiate with the employers after he had addressed more than 2000 strikers in Bethoven hall.

Mr. Berry was met with jeers and hisses as he entered the hall. He proposed that the men return to work under a ten day truce, during discussions. Derivative suits of "No" came from all over the hall. The idea made it impossible to put the motion.

Mr. Berry explained he felt the strike should have been decided until the publishers had been given more opportunity to define their needs or meet the pressmen's new program. For two hours he answered a barrage of questions. He did not immediate action to revise the local's charter was contemplated.

The afternoon papers meantime appeared in the combined form adopted yesterday and many smaller papers, unaffected by the walkout, assumed unprejudiced positions and sold like hot cakes.

Pickets remained at the affected plants throughout the day. But little disorder was reported. Five men who identified themselves as pressmen for the New York World, were remanded to jail for sentence Saturday after pleading guilty to having seized fifty bundles of paper from an elevated train and carried them in a taxicab to the East river to destroy them.

The wage scale proposed for arbitration specified $60 a week for master pressmen, $54 for men or pressmen, $42 for junior pressmen and $33 for fly boys.

David Simon, head of the local union, announced earlier in the day that 400 paper handlers had walked out in sympathy with the pressmen.

GASOLINE SELLING AT 14 1/2 CENTS IN IOWA

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Sept. 19 (AP)—Gasoline prices cut here today to the Des Moines level of 14 1/2 cents a gallon by the Standard Oil company and other distributors soon followed with a similar reduction. The price had been 16 1/2 cents. Standard Oil officials hinted the reduction was made because of special prices offered by some of the independents.

Mexican Embassy Asks Explanation of Mayor's Order

Consulate to Investigate Situation at Johnstown; Hundreds of Blacks Leave City

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The state department was asked by the Mexican embassy today for information concerning reports that Mayor Cuffel of Johnstown, Pa., had directed both negroes and Mexicans who have not been residents of the city for at least seven years to leave at once. At the same time, the embassy stated that it had instructed the Mexican consulate at Philadelphia to proceed to Johnstown and report on the situation. The embassy threatened the mayor had no legal authority to expel peaceful Mexican residents.

Umpires Hit by Rock Fusilade Hurlled by Fans

Riot Is Aftermath of Unpopular Decision Against Sacramento Coast League Team

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 19 (AP)—Several hundred men, women and children, all baseball fans, attacked Umpires Byron and Ward of the Pacific Coast league, as they left Moring park after today's game between San Francisco and Sacramento. Rocks were thrown, fists used and epithets flung.

Ward and five members of the San Francisco team, attempting to protect the two umpires, were injured slightly. Byron escaped unscathed. The riot was the aftermath of a decision the fans thought was unfavorable to the Sacramento team, made today by Byron, and another unfavorable decision made yesterday by Ward.

A policeman was knocked down by a rock which struck him on the side of the head when he attempted to escort Byron to a street car. Several other policemen were struck on the body by stones.

After the umpires reached their hotel, the hotel was besieged by fans who asked the management to refuse them rooms.

WHEAT DEALERS DEMAND RELIEF

President Asked to Double Tariff Rates in Effort to Aid Grain Growers

OMAHA, Sept. 19 (AP)—Doubling of the present tariff rate on wheat to bar foreign competition in an effort to aid American wheat growers was declared for in a telegram sent to President Coolidge today by Omaha wheat dealers. The president was asked in another telegram by United States Senator R. B. Howell, republican, Nebraska, to use his executive authority in increasing tariff rates on wheat so as to aid the farmer. The threat of large imports of Canadian wheat should be "guarded against," Senator Howell asserted.

Some of our industries have enjoyed the protection of the tariff for decades. It would seem that here is the opportunity of affording the wheat farmer a direct benefit in the same manner.

GLASS FIGHT FATAL

HONOLULU, Sept. 19 (AP)—George Paul, a freshman at the University of Hawaii, died this afternoon as the result of a broken neck received yesterday in an interclass fight. The university authorities are expected to issue orders barring all interclass fights.

"HANDS OFF" IS LEAGUE POLICY ON REPARATIONS

Some Objections Heard when Commission of International Body Favors Inactivity on Vital Problem

GENEVA, Sept. 19 (AP)—"Hands off" the reparation problem for the moment at least, was the decision reached today by one of the main commissions of the league of nations. This decision, it is believed, will affect the entire attitude of the league assembly on this problem. It was not reached without some murmur.

The reparations issues arose before the commission on technical organizations, when Sir Henry Strakosch, the financial expert representing South Africa, alluded to the statement at the opening of this year's assembly to the effect that the league was confronted with difficulties owing to the absence of a settlement of the questions of reparations and interrelated debts. But after consulting his French and Belgian colleagues, Sir Henry said he was convinced of the advisability of not starting a debate on this delicate subject which might aggravate the situation and hinder eventual settlement.

Sir Hubert Lovell Smith, of England, deprecated allowing the impression to exist that the reparations question was outside the domain of this commission. He advocated that the commission make recommendations to the league council, as preferable to a general discussion, which might cause unfortunate discussions.

A second important feature of today's league activities was the adoption of a resolution interpreting Article X of the covenant. The commission adopted a new compromise formula replacing the existing one of Article X and recommends that the assembly adopt several clauses in the form of a resolution.

The first clause is that in case the council of the league deems it necessary to recommend the application of military measures because of an aggression or a menace of aggression, the council will take into account the geographical situation and special conditions surrounding each state. The second clause declares that it is the right of the constitutional powers of each member state to decide the nature and extent of its obligation to maintain the independence and integrity of territory of members and to what extent it should furnish military assistance.

SEE NECESSITY FOR BIGGER RESERVOIR

BOISE, Sept. 19—According to a report made by reclamation engineers, says the Salt Lake Tribune, the cost of irrigating the 325,000 acres in the Mountain Home district would be $60,052,000, or $184.78 per acre, if the water were taken from the proposed American Falls reservoir. To make this possible the dam would have to be made much higher than is now planned, it is said.

LAYS PLANS FOR ARCTIC FLIGHT

Amundsen to Use Three Metal Planes in Relays in Polar Dash Next Summer

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 19 (AP)—Captain Roald Amundsen's plan for an airplane flight across the North Pole from Spitzbergen to Alaska next summer contemplates the use of three all metal planes in relays, he announced today following a conference with Hankon H. Hammer, his business representative. An attempt to fly from Wainwright, Alaska, to Spitzbergen last summer was frustrated by an accident to the explorer's airplane in a test flight.

Amundsen explained that the purpose of the proposed flight was not to create a non-stop record in the polar regions, but that its sole object was exploration "to discover what lay within the 1,000,000 square miles of the unexplored Polar basin. Hammer, who made several flights northward from Spitzbergen last year, said that while he had found no new lands, he did discover that many legends shown on maps and charts in reality did not exist.

Amundsen said the three all-metal planes to be used in the relay flight already are under construction in Germany. Bases for the three planes will be selected later when full details of the trip are worked out. Hammer related how, ignorant of the fact that Captain Amundsen's plane had been disabled, he went to Spitzbergen to receive him there.

IDAHO WEATHER Thursday: Partly cloudy.

Crews Repairing Lines Damaged in Heavy Storm

Hundreds of Poles Torn Out and Communication Cut Off by Colorado Blizzard

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 19 (AP)—With three crews of linemen at work the Mountain States Telegraph and Telephone company was endeavoring today to repair the damage done to its lines between Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek gold mining camp in yesterday's sheet of windstorm which tore out nearly 300 poles and laid down miles of line. The district was covered by about a foot of snow when the storm broke through. This is the earliest in years the snow plow has been used on the cog line. Traffic on the Pikes Peak auto highway also was halted at Cripple Creek. The chief way mark, yesterday. Auto trips of the summit were expected to be made today.

LABOR TROUBLE BARS PROGRESS

Coal Commission Cites Strikes as Being Deadly to Normal Developments

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Labor disturbances are the most serious obstacles to superabundant production of coal in the United States, the coal commission declared today in a report before the House committee on the subject of "irregular operation and overdevelopment of the bituminous industry." While ineffective transportation machinery was said to lend its effect to the situation, the commission concludes that "the strike of mine workers is the only bar to continuous production considerably in excess of present possibility of consumption."

To attempt to solve the problem solely by improving transportation, the report said, would be "simply to increase the cost of the coal industry" through over-development of the coal industry and to necessarily increase freight rates. It was estimated that the railroads would entail an expenditure of $200,000,000 if they set out to build up their equipment to the point where it could serve the peak demand for fuel, which would impose an additional charge on coal of about 1 cent a ton.

The alternative is better use of transportation facilities currently available," the commission decided. Commenting upon the labor factor in recurring shortages, the report said: "There have been but two national strikes of the union coal miners since 1915, that of November-December, 1919, cutting off some 70 per cent of the bituminous output for the summer of 1922, affecting the bituminous coal fields to the same extent and shutting down the anthracite fields completely for about five months. The loss of production occasioned by the concerted withdrawals of the organized mine workers has in each instance caused such general shortage of coal that even after resumption of mining there were long periods of persistent demand and high prices. The strike of the mine workers is the only bar to the continuous production of bituminous coal at a rate considerably in excess of present possibility of consumption by the industries, railroads and households of this country, and of demand for export."

EDITORS JOIN IN FIGHT ON WALTON STAND

Leading Publishers of Oklahoma Unite in Statement Charging Governor with Despotism Conception of Powers

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19 (AP)—The Oklahoma legislature will meet next week—even if the members have to congregate in Kansas or Texas. Representatives John Miller, Tulsa, told newspaper men tonight, following his return from Oklahoma City, where he has been active several days in secret outmaneuvering to organize a majority of the lower house.

Admitting that armed guardsmen might prevent a meeting in the state house at Oklahoma City, the legislators declared that those who believe the move are prepared to gather elsewhere in Oklahoma if possible, or beyond the borders of the state if necessary.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19 (AP)—An address "to the people of the United States" declaring that the "supreme issue in Oklahoma today is constitutional government" or dictatorship, made public tonight by a group of Oklahoma daily newspaper publishers following an all-day meeting called by a "new editor with a view" of placing the true situation before the country.

Publishers of several of the largest dailies in the state signed the statement. "Governor Walton, by his own acts, has attempted to nullify rights guaranteed under our constitution, and to change the process of republican government," the publishers declared.

Session Urged. A second declaration addressed to "members of the legislature" said: "The editors of Oklahoma urge that the legislators meet immediately."

The "new editor" was a man in connection with the declaration of statewide martial law, which were termed instances indicative of Governor J. C. Walton's "despotic conception of his executive power and the public address that 'these acts create an intolerable situation in Oklahoma—one which the people cannot endure and the press cannot ignore.'"

Many Sign Statement. The following personally signed the address: E. K. Gaylord, The Daily Oklahoman and the Oklahoma City Times; E. S. Edwards, the Reno News; Richard Lloyd Jones, the Tulsa Tribune; E. K. Bixby, the Muskogee Phoenix; C. S. Kennedy, the Miami Daily News; John W. Yading, the Sapulpa Herald; Leon B. Oakeney, the McAlester News-Citizen; A. K. Ross, the Sapulpa Bulletin.

Telegraphic authorization to sign was granted to the following, who could not be present: Ned. Shopler, the Lawton Constitution; Leslie G. Niblack, the Guthrie Leader.

Demands Set Forth. "The newspapers of the state up hold rigid adherence to all the laws and they are united in demanding that constitutional rights of assembly, free

Officers Attacked As Mobs Attempt to View Dead Girl

Crowds Angered by Report of Girl's Death Being Caused by Mistreatment

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 19 (AP)—A riot call was sent in by police tonight when a mob estimated at 5000 persons attempted to gain entrance to the home of John Lorne to view the body of his 15-year-old daughter, Gladys, who, the father alleged, died from ill treatment at the hands of the police after her arrest September 11 on a charge of carrying a gun.

The girl was arrested on complaint of J. F. Anderson. The day after her arrest the girl was taken to a hospital. She died Saturday.

Before her death, according to the father, she told him she had been abused by the police, put into ice water three times and that attempts were made to put her in an electric chair to cause her to confess the robbery. The father asserted that the body of the girl bore marks of it indicating bruises. According to a statement issued by James Spritt, assistant superintendent, the girl was not injured when the detection team immediately after her arrest and the next day removed to the hospital. The statement says death was caused by acute pneumonia. An autopsy was held after her death. The statement of the police superintendent says the marks on the body were caused by hypodermic injections given before the girl's death and the incisions by surgeons during the autopsy. The story told by the girl to her father is said by Spritt to have been given before the girl was delivered just before her death.

DISREGARD FOR SIGNALS CAUSE OF SHIPWRECK

Navigators of Destroyer Squadron Admit They Were Guided by Convictions Rather than Radio Station Messages

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19 (AP)—Dead certainty that they were right and a radio compass station on Point Arguello wrong, led navigators of destroyer squadron 11 to plot a change of course that hurled seven ships on rocks off Point Honda and cost the lives of 23 enlisted men, a naval court of inquiry was told here today by Lieutenant F. Blodgett, navigation officer of the squadron flagship, Delphy.

The frank admission that little weight was attached to radio signals from Arguello furnished the chief sensation of the hearing factor and caused the interruption of the witness' account by Admiral W. V. Pratt, presiding member of the court, long enough to name him the thirteenth defendant in the case.

New Defendant Named.
Lieutenant Blodgett was the first defendant to be named in connection with the disaster under investigation since Monday when twelve naval officers were cited in the present of the court of inquiry as "interested parties to the status of defendants." He told his story leaning over a large chart of the waters about Santa Barbara channel, plotting painstakingly with rule and divider the Delphy's course as laid out by himself and the commanding officer of the Delphy, Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunter.

Traces Course.
About him clustered the naval officers consulting the inquiry eagerly regarding the chart as the lines indicated the course of the squadron, the point where he thought the Delphy was at 9 o'clock on the night of September 8, and the point where she actually was at that time.

These two points were more than 10 miles apart. Lieutenant Blodgett's testimony showed that his supposed position was well south of Point Arguello, where it would have been necessary to make a change of course to the eastward to clear Point Miguel Island. Their real position was some distance north of the point.

"Were radio compass bearings obtained from Point Arguello?" Admiral Pratt asked the witness.
"Yes," answered Blodgett, "just prior to 8:30. At that time we changed somewhat south of Point Arguello, we obtained a bearing which showed us to be to the northward, but that the bearing was so far out from the correct position that we immediately requested the reciprocal (reverse) bearing from the station, which laid down on the chart would show us down the channel somewhat south of Point Arguello."

Just before 9 o'clock, when the fatal change of the course to the east was made, the navigator rebelled, two more bearings were received, both of which showed the Delphy still north of Point Arguello.

Recalls Bearings.
"Do you remember what those actual bearings were?" he was asked.
"The figures I don't exactly remember," was the reply, "but I remember that they were 'way inside and 'way to the north and so obviously contradictory to the last few that we had been receiving that we immediately sent for reciprocals."
"Then," insisted Admiral Pratt, "all of the radio compass bearings we initially received put you northward of Point Arguello, is that correct?"
"All of them, as initially received, before reciprocals were taken for—yes, sir."

Ordered Fata, Turn.
Lieutenant Blodgett was asked if he remembered the radio compass bearings received at 8:50—two minutes before the fatal eastward turn was ordered.
"I don't remember the exact figures," he answered, "but remember that it was decidedly to the north."
Asked if any of the bearings as first received showed the Delphy southward of Point Arguello, Blodgett replied that some had, indicated they were to the southward except one at 8:16 p. m., and one early in the afternoon.

'Tis a Mystery.
"So there's another rupture of Mount Vesuvius?" said Mrs. Farthing, as she put on her specs. "The paper tells us about the burning lather running down the mountains, but it doesn't tell how it got there."

DENY PLAN TO ANNEX FIUME

Mussolini's Plan in Regard to Free City Seen in More Favorable Light

ROME, Sept. 19 (AP)—Appointment of an Italian military governor in Fiume does not in any way signify annexation by this country, it was vigorously stated today and any moves by Italy up to the present have been for the purpose of bringing Jugoslavians to see the need for a satisfactory arrangement concerning the disposition of the free city.

It is held that Premier Mussolini did everything in his power to avoid the situation as it is today when he asked the joint Italo-Jugo-Slavian commission considering the Fiume question, to finish its work on August 31, and begged the Jugoslav government to make a definite decision on the commission's report by September 15. Jugoslavians, however, let the date pass without coming to an agreement and this, it is contended, threw the entire responsibility for Fiume on Italy, which for five years had been maintaining the city at her own expense.

Government circles declare reports spread abroad have emphasized and exaggerated the military preparations on the part of Italy. The truth is, according to these quarters, that reinforcements were sent to the Jugo-Slavian frontier and to Fiume because Mussolini wished to be ready for any eventuality should Jugoslavians reply in an unfriendly manner.

Mussolini is represented as having been placed in a most delicate position by the delay with regard to Fiume. He had no wish to question the rights of another state arising from treaty obligations, say the Italians, but on the other hand, he could not stand aside and see Fiume threatened with hunger and anarchy.

It is emphatically declared that the Italian premier has no wish to violate the juridical clauses of the treaty of Rapallo, in substantiation of which it is pointed out that he has just registered the treaty with the league of nations.

TALKS FARM AID WITH COOLIDGE

Borah Confers with President on Problems Facing Agriculture in Western Area

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—President Coolidge and his advisers will be energetically occupied for the next 10 days in seeking a solution of the situation confronting agriculture in the west. Senator Borah, of Idaho, said tonight, after an hour's conference with the executive at the White House. Senator Borah said the question of calling an extra session of congress to deal with the situation was discussed, but added that he was entirely in agreement that "we ought to undertake to determine upon a remedy and define a program before an extra session is called."

"If we cannot find a remedy hereafter such a session," the senator said, "we probably could not find one afterwards." Senator Borah told the president he regarded the whole agricultural situation west of the Mississippi as serious as any within his recollection, or in his reading on the subject. He declared that not only the wheat growers but producers of other crops were facing difficulties. The trouble is, he continued, that they are selling on a pre-war basis and buying on a war basis with the further necessity of paying many times the amount of taxes they did before the war.

The congress is a non-partisan forum for free discussion and accurate thinking on the part of the leaders of public thought and industrial action of the west," said the letter. Governor W. E. Sweet of Colorado today also sent personal invitations to the governors of the same states inviting them, as governor of Colorado, to come to Colorado at the time of the tariff congress.

MINE STRIKERS BACK AT WORK

Anthracite Walkout Proves Short Lived, But Normal Output Is Delayed

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP)—Mining operations in the anthracite fields were resumed today after having been suspended since September 1 pending the negotiation of a new wage contract for the workers. There was far from a full response, however, to the offer lifting the suspension after the expiration of the new agreement by the tri-district convention of the United Mine Workers.

In some sections less than 20 per cent of the men reported for work and in a few districts collieries failed to reopen because of the small forces, while others opened only a few hours. At most of the mines, however, between 50 and 75 per cent of the men returned to work.

AMERICAN LABOR

A bit of keen analysis of the labor and immigration situation is made by Elizabeth Fraser in a recent Saturday Evening Post.

Miss Fraser quotes the superintendent of a large factory: "The trouble is—with the present youthful generation—that they've got the notion that work that's hard on the finger nail carries a social blight."

"Not the Englishmen, Germany, France, Italy or in any European country do the great industrial concerns depend on foreign labor to man their mills; they use their own workers and still manage to get results."

"This is a point seldom considered by those who believe America will always have to get her cheap labor from abroad. America has already arrived at the point where no labor is cheap, and where thoughtful people realize that they do not want it to be cheap."

The claim so often heard that Americans will not perform manual labor is spurious. For a generation or two the white collar jobs were superior. Naturally, young Americans turned to them. At present the pendulum is swinging back.

The technical schools are to a large extent taking the social blight off the grimy-headed jobs. Nor are the rewards of labor inconsiderable. Outside every building in process of construction may be seen the parked cars of the builders. The white collar men use the common carriers.

Moreover, with the young American of spirit, inventiveness takes the place of brawn. "Cheap foreign labor" is expensive on the human side. It constitutes an even more costly human problem. The American who invents and utilizes labor-saving machinery does not "displace into idleness" the men no longer needed, but releases into other forms of usefulness that human power.

If America were forced to depend wholly upon herself for all her wants she would speedily adjust herself to the situation and be able to handle it adequately. The importation of low-grade labor merely postpones that happy day.

THERAPY AMERICA

Federal Reserve Board statistics, covering reports from eight hundred ninety-five banks, show that savings deposits in the United States increased more than ten per cent in the year which ended August first. The summer showed a slight decline in savings totals, but that was credited chiefly to money withdrawn for vacations.

Bankers declare that there are more savings withdrawals nowadays than formerly which are turned directly into sensible investments. More and more the small savings depositors are saving not merely for the possible rainy day of the future but expressly for investment purposes.

Luxury expenditures are high, as many a statistician has pointed out recently, but their growth is accompanied by this other encouraging tendency to save and invest. Perhaps Americans are going to become thrifty in the best sense of the word, after all.

THE COAL SETTLEMENT

It is agreed on all sides that the settlement of the hard coal strike, while gratifying in its promptness, is at the consumer's expense. That fact does not leave the consuming public in any too amiable a mood, even though, with cold weather coming on, it is obviously better to have more expensive coal than no coal at all. Hardly anybody who has looked into the question can see any sound reason why the public should pay more than it has been paying, to insure continued production.

Says the United States Coal Commission, arraigning both sides in the controversy: "The legislative, judicial and executive branches of this government must not permit a union of operators, a union of miners nor a union of both together to become greater than the union of the states."

That is what has been permitted so far, and what will continue to be permitted as long as the public is content to be the goat of every conflict in the industry, and pay regular tributes, in the form of higher prices, to persuade operators and miners to keep on doing business.

The BROWN MOUSE

By HERBERT QUICK

(Copyright by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

It was still an hour before nine—when the rural school traditionally "takes up"—when the boys had stored their traps in a shed at the Bronson home, and walked on to the school-house. That rather scabby and weathered edifice was already humming with industry of a new kind.

The hostility of the school board, and the aloofness of the patrons of the school, the pupils were clearly interested in Jim Irwin's system of rural education. Never had the attendance been so large or regular; and one of the reasons for this, before nine and after four was the inability of the teacher to attend to the needs of his charges in the five and a half hours called "school hours."

The day passed. Four o'clock came. In order that all might reach home for supper, there was no staying, except that Mrs. Bronson and Raymond Simms remained to sweep and dust the schoolroom, and prepare kindling for the next morning's fire—a work they had taken upon themselves, so as to enable the teacher to put on the blackboards such outlines for the morning's class work as might be required.

Jim was writing on the board a list of words constituting a spelling exercise. They were not from textbooks, but grew naturally out of the study of the seed "wheat," "cockle," "morning-glory," "equivalvus," "viable," "vibrility," "sprouting," "iron-weed" and the like. A tap was heard at the door, and Raymond Simms opened it.

In filed three women—and Jim Irwin knew as he looked at them that he was greeting a deputation, and felt that it meant a struggle. For they were the wives of the members of the school board. He placed for them the

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS

Order to Show Cause Why Order Be Making Administrator of the Estate of Patrick Not Be Made.

In the Probate Court of the County of Twin Falls, State of Idaho. In the Matter of the Estate of A. H. Wampler, Deceased.

Geo. F. Leopold, administrator of the estate of A. H. Wampler, deceased, having filed his verified petition herein, showing that prior to the death of A. H. Wampler entered into a contract with Patrick McLaughlin for the sale of certain real estate and paying for an order authorizing and directing the administrator of the estate of A. H. Wampler, deceased, to convey to said Patrick McLaughlin the Southeast quarter SE 1-4 of the northeast quarter (NE 1-4) of Section thirty-four (34) of Township Twelve (12) Range Sixteen (16) in Twin Falls County, State of Idaho.

(Subject to the state right on said land), pursuant to the terms, covenants and conditions of a contract made and between said Patrick McLaughlin and A. H. Wampler, deceased, on or about October 9, 1918.

It is therefore ordered, by the said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased appear before the said Probate Court on Saturday, the 6th day of October, 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Court Room of said Probate Court, in the County of Twin Falls, to show cause why an order should not be granted directing the said administrator to convey the above described real estate to said Patrick McLaughlin pursuant to the terms, covenants and conditions of said contract of date October 9, 1918.

And that a copy of this order be published at least one week for not less than four consecutive weeks in The Twin Falls News, a newspaper printed and published in Twin Falls County, Idaho.

O. P. DUVAL, Judge of Probate Court. Dated September 4, 1923.

three available chairs, and in the absence of any for himself remained standing before them, a gaunt shabby-looking revolutionist at the bar of settled usage and fixed public opinion.

Mrs. Bronson Peterson was a tall blue-eyed woman with a full face, and Jim felt an instinctive respect for her personality. Mrs. Bronson was a good motherly woman, noted for her housekeeping, and for her church activities. She looked after her son, and his friend, Raymond, than at the schoolmaster.

"I wish more of the parents would call," said Jim. "At any hour of the day."

"Or night either, I dare say," suggested Mrs. Bronson. "I hear you've taught the school for all hours, don't you?"

"We do break the usual rules, I guess, Mrs. Bronson," said he; "there seems to be more to do than we can get done during school hours."

"What we came for, Mr. Irwin, is to object to the way the teacher's being done—corn and wheat and hops and the like, instead of the learnin' schools was made to teach. I can see 'er the whole district can see that it's easier for a man that's been a farm-hand to teach farm-hand knowledge, than the learnin' schools was set up to teach, but if so be he hasn't the book education to do the right thing, we think he should get out and give a real teacher a chance."

"What am I neglecting?" asked Jim mildly.

Mrs. Bronson seemed unprepared for the question, and sat for an instant mute. Mrs. Peterson interposed her attack while Mrs. Bronson might be recovering her wits.

"We people that have had a hard time," she said in a precise way which seemed to show that she knew exactly what she wanted, "don't want our children taught about nothing but work. We want our children to learn nice things, and go to high school, and after a while to the university."

"Aren't your children happy in school, Mrs. Peterson?"

"I don't send them to school to be happy, Jim," replied Mrs. Peterson, calling him by the name most familiarly known to all of them; "I send them to learn to be higher people than their fathers and mother. That's what America means!"

"They'll be higher people—higher than their parents—higher than their teacher—they'll be efficient farmers, and efficient farmers' wives. They'll be happy, because they will know how to use more brains in farming than any lawyer or doctor or merchant can possibly use in his business."

"It's a fine thing," said Mrs. Bronson, coming to the aid of her fellow soldier, "to work hard for a lifetime, and talk nothing but a family of farmers' affairs!"

"They will be farmers anyhow," cried Jim, "in spite of your efforts; ninety out of every hundred of them! And of the other ten, nine will be wage-earners in the cities, and wish to God they were back on the farm; and the hundredth one will succeed in the city."

The guns of Mrs. Bronson and Mrs. Peterson were silenced for a moment, and Mrs. Bronson, after gazing about at the typewriter, the hectograph, the exhibits of weed seeds, the Babcock milk tester, and the other unscholastic equipment, pointed to the list of words, and the arithmetic problems on the board.

"Do you get them words from the speller?" she asked.

"No," said he, "we get them from a lesson on seed wheat."

"No," said Mrs. Bronson, "we made ourselves. We were figuring profits and losses on your cows, Mrs. Bronson!"

"Mrs. Bronson," said Mrs. Bronson, "these words of 'em. The Babcock test shows they're just boarding on us without paying their board!"

The delegation of matrons ruffled like a group of startled birds at this interposition, which was Newton Bronson's effective seizing of the opportunity to issue a progress bulletin on the research work on the Bronson dairy herd.

"Newton!" said his mother, "don't interrupt me when I'm talking to the teacher!"

"Well, then," said Newton, "don't tell the teacher that pa knew which cows were good and which were poor. If any one in this district wants to know about their cows they'll have to come to this shop. And I can tell you that it'll pay 'em to come, too, if they're going to make anything selling cream. Wait until we get out our reports on the herd!"

Cat Was Taking Music Lesson. One morning while down in the basement I heard someone playing the piano. Knowing my neighbor had left for school, I did not know what to think of it. It sounded like someone was trying to play that did not know how. I went upstairs to investigate, and on arriving I found the cat jumping around on the keys.—Chicago Journal.

STYLE TREND FOR FALL IN MEN'S APPAREL

By Geo. Elliott Taylor. The outstanding features in fall styles are the free and easy lines. A decided preference for conservatism in men's dress has ousted sports style from its seat of high favor. Sports clothes, in short, are going back to their rightful place of casual, motoring and games.

As an alternative for the comfortable air of the sports suit, the designers have given us an equal amount of freedom in the regular street and business clothes.

Suits are plain in line. Coats are loose—they either drape than trace the figure. Shoulders are slightly wider. Trousers are fuller and straight hanging, the pleated waist being a popular style innovation. College men still like the bell bottom idea in trousers. Vests more often exhibit the blunt ends, but the peaked points are by no means out of favor.

ENGLISH STYLE POPULAR. The American has cleverly adapted the prevailing English mode to American taste. You'll see it modified and varied in many ways. These models are the best evidence of the English thought. Their soft rolling front, loose flowing lines and high button effect brought them instant recognition from the smartest dressers of two continents.

DOUBLE BREASTED SUITS STAGE A COMEBACK. Nothing is smarter than the trim and dapper double breasted suit. Primarily designed for the man of rather slim lines, his more portly brother now wears it with equal enthusiasm. It is, in fact, the thing for fall. Popular alike with the college youth and the business man who favors the buoyant air in dress, the double breasted suit can be recommended to all types. Carried out in the smart striped material, or in plain, navy blue fabrics, this style achieves its finest effect.

YOUNG MEN'S STYLE. The "cake eater" is dead. He was buried to the COME IN AND SEE THE KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES.

The above is a picture of a GLOBE LOGS TREE, growing at the Water Parish house on the corner of Tenth and Shoabone east. It is making its second years' growth. For ornamental purposes this tree far surpasses any tree hitherto put on the market. It will give you pleasure in passing this place to look at it. The tree does not require any trimming to acquire the symmetrical globe shape. The foliage is very dense and of beautiful blue green color and makes a good lawn shade tree as well as for border and parking. Although this tree has not completed its second years' growth it has made a growth of seven and a half feet spread of branches. Another redeeming feature—it has no bloom, nor thorns. Being a log tree, it carries the soil hence the grass will grow better under this tree than any other. From the above statement this tree is destined to become the leading shade and ornamental tree of this country. This beautiful globe logs tree was brought to this country by J. A. Waters, who has a limited supply for sale.

WHEAT MARKET SHOWS MODERATE PRICE GAIN

Costly of Heavy Increase in Foreign Buying Given as Basis for New Advance in Chicago Quotations

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP)—Drops that European buying of wheat was in quarters on a larger scale than most traders were aware of led to moderate gains in price today. The close was firm 1.8 to 5.8c net higher, December $1.02 7/8 to 1.02 and May $1.08 1/4 to 1.08 1/2. Corn finished unchanged to 1.8 to 1.4c lower, oats varying 1.8c off to 1.8 to 1.4c advance, and provisions unchanged to 17 cents down. At the close the wheat market averaged lower as a result of weakness in Liverpool quotations and because of assertions that offerings of Canadian wheat being put on the market in Great Britain. On the downturns in price here, however, demand from commission houses broadened somewhat and except during the first hour the course of value was favorable to the bulls. Persistent buying of future deliveries at Winnipeg apparently for exporters was noted, a circumstance which in some quarters was connected with talk that new German reparations offer within ten days was looked for. Considerable comment was caused by the reported booking of 3,000,000 bushels of wheat for sale in Great Britain. EXPECTS DUTY ON LIVESTOCK TO STAND TEST

Congressman Smith Predicts Failure of Attempt to Put Cattle on Tariff Free List; Gives Views to President

Effort on the part of the American Farm Bureau Federation, through its Washington legislative agent, Gray Silver, to induce President Coolidge to place cattle on the tariff free list, under the provision of the tariff act, are not likely to succeed, according to Congressman Addison T. Smith. Silver, the congressional agent, while the president is in favor of protective tariff duty on imports.

"In my judgment, it will be exceedingly unwise to reduce the tariff on livestock as suggested by the legislative agent of the American Farm Bureau Federation," Mr. Silver, the west is already rapidly declining and cannot be rehabilitated if the tariff is reduced, permitting of competition from the south.

"We earnestly protest against any change in the present tariff law so as to reduce the tariff on livestock as suggested, would be disastrous. The ruinous result to the entire range country of the proposal contained in Mr. Silver's application cannot be overestimated."

"Mr. Silver's argument is predicated upon the fact that the bulk of the cattle coming from the west are steers and feeders. The cattle raised in the west are likewise principally steers and feeders, that move to the feed lots of the corn belt, and are fattened for beef, and the proposal would simply increase the supply and still further reduce prices that are already forcing the range man out of business."

On the 22nd there will be a big parade at 4:30 in the afternoon followed by a grand banquet and reception of the Shrine ceremonial will be held at Meridell park, after which a barbecue will be served, and then the ceremonial will proceed with the third section, the evening entertainment.

Pocatello is expecting about 1500 Shriners in the city on that day. Special housing arrangements have been made and different organizations will be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star and at the Y. M. C. A. a buffet luncheon will be served.

On the 22nd will be the biggest day in Sheridan that has ever been conducted in the intermountain country. The divans, patrols and bands of all have temples will be Pocatello and one feature alone is that Elks of Salt Lake is sending $10,000 worth of rugs for the decorations of the stage. INCREASED INCOME FOR BEET GROWERS IS SEEN

Sugar Company Manager Predicts Gross Income of Around $140 an Acre for Producers This Season

Twin Falls county beet growers grossed an average of $132 per acre for beets in 1922 and will probably receive around $140 per acre for this year's crop, according to District Manager James Selley of the Amalgamated Beet Growers Association at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club Wednesday.

"Burley this year has 6000 acres in beets and we have the day will come when the farmers in the territory tributary to this factory will put in 10,000 acres," said Mr. Selley. "We now have about 100 men on the payroll and by October 7 this will be multiplied by two or three. There are 10,000 acres of corn in Twin Falls county, we are advised, and in proportion to this we should have two more sugar factories, instead of only one."

Mr. Selley stated that during the county fair 1925 persons registered guests at between 100 and 1500, upon examination of samples of each, and of the whole lot only one person made a correct guess.

Auto Touring Firm Beseled by Hard Luck

Twin Falls Youths on Trip to East Encounter Hard Going Over Rockies

Burned out brakes, bursted tires, freezing nights and fractured springs took prominent place among the joys of motoring as experienced by the firm of "Bud and Merrill," in Russell Husted and Merrill Ayres, who left here some two weeks ago in their specially constructed machine, yeelpet Tania, for crank, enroute for the Atlantic coast.

But the troubles gave small concern and the bright spots in the tour outnumber the dark hours, judging from a communication received from the firm Wednesday, written at Denver September 15.

"We have made rather slow progress so far," says the letter. "Due to bad roads through Utah and the quantity of mountain scenery enjoyed in the upper fastnesses in Colorado. We haven't seen an irrigated district yet that compares to Twin Falls, and the more country we pass through the better it looks."

"We have had some experiences we didn't expect, considering the time of year. We came over Periboth pass, one of Colorado's highest mountains, in the snow with practically no brake. We had burned them all out on the mountains we had come over before. When we got up in the morning at Frazier our water bag was frozen solid. This seems unusual for this time of year, but Frazier is located in the heart of Colorado's highest mountains, in the numerous punctures, breaking of our front spring and burning out of all our clutches and brake bands, we are getting along fine."

"We leave in the morning for St. Joseph, Mo., and expect to make it in about five days. We are having a good time in spite of our troubles."
