CABINET HEARS MEASURES FOR FARMER RELIEF

President Engages in Discussion of Proposals to Aid Wheat Growers; Wallace Would Assist All Agriculture

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Various proposals for prompt relief of the country's wheat farmers were given earnest consideration today by President Coolidge and his cabinet. Further study and information on the subject, however, was decided on before any definite action is taken by the government, and the president arranged to receive a delegation of farmers and bankers from the ninth federal reserve district at the White House Thursday. Secretary Wallace laid before the cabinet a report on the wheat situation at home and abroad, suggested a 25 per cent reduction in freight rates and the establishment by the government of an agricultural export commission or corporation with broad powers.

It was also suggested that tariff rates on wheat be increased to 45 cents a bushel, but both proposals to lower freight rates and raise duties contained certain features which were said to have brought some objections by administration officials.

Need Fair Prices

Secretary Wallace, in presenting a resume of the domestic and world wheat situation, declared the government had a very definite responsibility, not only to wheat farmers, but to the farmers in general, first because the country cannot hope to have the general prosperity it desires until fair price relationships between agriculture, industry, commerce and labor are restored, and second, because the government itself is in part responsible for the difficulties under which the farmers are now working. "Attention must be given to the condition of agriculture as a whole," Mr. Wallace said. "The wheat situation is but one symptom of a general and serious trouble. The real problem is to re-establish fair ratios between agriculture and other things."

Disavors Price Fixing

Secretary Wallace declared he had little faith in the efficacy of arbitrary price-fixing of any one crop, because even if it should afford temporary help it would almost certainly within a short time make conditions worse for the farmer. The buying and holding of a large part of the surplus wheat or any other crop might be of temporary benefit, he said, but unless production of that crop were controlled it would aggravate the situation.

YOUNG MAN ACTS AS OWN COUNSEL; WINS ACQUITTAL

Prisoner, Aged 23, Wins Freedom on Robbery Charge in Novel Case at Salt Lake

SALT LAKE, Sept. 25 (AP)—Acting as his own legal counsel, his own client and serving as his own witness, Jack O'Neill, 23 years old, charged with robbery in connection with a holdup of a service station here last April, yesterday fought his way to an acquittal before a jury in the third district court.

O'Neill's clever defense was a revelation to the embryo lawyer and was said to be almost an innovation in the third district court. After leaving the courtroom the jurors admonished O'Neill to keep out of trouble and apply his talent to useful and constructive work. This he promised to do.

The statement adds that several chiefs of communist bands have committed suicide and others have been killed by their followers. It states that large numbers of communists who surrendered carried rifles of a Russian pattern.

PEKING, Sept. 25 (AP)—Although denying responsibility for the Linbeung bandit outrage last May, in which a number of American and other foreigners were kidnaped from a Tientsin-Shanghai express train and held captive for more than a month, the Chinese government has already begun the reorganization of its railway police, in preparing to punish the provincial officials for their negligence and in conducting a campaign throughout a number of provinces for the extermination of the growing brigand bands.

MANY DEBATES ARE IN STORE

Senators and Representatives Home from Study of Conditions in Europe

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Reinforced with first hand information, which probably will figure in debates in congress this winter, a group of United States senators and representatives returned today from the Levant from Europe, where they studied political and economic conditions. Some of them also attended the international parliamentary union at Copenhagen. Among the returning congressmen were Representative J. E. Baker of California; Senator Joseph Robinson of Kansas; Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee; Senator William B. McKinley of Illinois; Senator Claude Swanson of Virginia; Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

Senator Robinson, who was minority leader of the senate, has been mentioned as a presidential possibility. When asked if he would accept the democratic nomination, he said: "I want to render the best service of which I am capable in the United States senate. I am seeking no further advancement. I don't want to impair my usefulness in the senate by becoming a candidate for the presidency."

Senator Robinson said that while adjustment between Germany and France would not be immediate, necessity probably would soon force a working agreement which would be a forerunner of a complete adjustment between the two nations.

RIVER STATES OPPOSE SPLIT ON WATERWAY

States Affected by Projected Development Protest Construction Without Ratification of Pact by Arizona

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Protest against the approval of any major development projects along the Colorado river until the Colorado compact becomes effective through ratification by Arizona was filed with the federal power commission today, on behalf of other states interested in the great waterway.

Denying any intention to coerce Arizona, delegations from Colorado, Wyoming and California insisted that issuance of a license covering a projected power development in the Colorado canyon would endanger the whole fabric of the agreement drawn up under federal sanction to conserve the interests of the seven states using the waters of the river. Similar objection was made against the plan outlined yesterday by Governor Hunt, which would put the canyon's development in the hands of an Arizona state board.

Contention Denied

Contention of Arizona that the compact would give an unequitable division of water to the upper basin is perpetually and vigorously denied. Engineering reports were cited with the intention of showing that although 27,000,000 acre feet of water originated in the four states in the north, the proposed division would give these only 7,500,000 annual feet against 8,500,000 annual feet to the three southern states. In this connection, the commission was told that the single project covered by an application now before it, for a power plant in the canyon in Arizona, would require the average flow of the river for 20 months.

Opposed by Arizona

Opposition to the Arizona plan and to the state's position regarding the compact was voiced also by several citizens of Arizona. Colonel B. F. Fly, who represented the Yuma chamber of commerce, declared prompt ratification of the pact would be secured if the question was put to vote in Arizona.

American Bankers Draft List of Six Amendments to Reserve Act

Measures Advocated "to Prevent Deterioration of Entire Federal Board"

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 25 (AP)—Six amendments to the federal reserve act "to prevent the deterioration of the entire federal reserve board," were urged today in a report approved by the executive council on recommendation of the economic policy commission of the American Bankers' association.

1. The amendments of the federal reserve act forbidding the establishment by a federal reserve bank of any branches in foreign countries under the guise of agencies.
2. Appointment of two members of the federal reserve board by the naming and California insisted that issuance of a license covering a projected power development in the Colorado canyon would endanger the whole fabric of the agreement drawn up under federal sanction to conserve the interests of the seven states using the waters of the river. Similar objection was made against the plan outlined yesterday by Governor Hunt, which would put the canyon's development in the hands of an Arizona state board.
3. Provision that members of the board, at the expiration of their terms, may be reappointed by the president without senatorial confirmation.
4. Provisions that members of the board shall designate the governors and vice governors, instead of having the president of the United States charged with the duty.
5. Amendment to the federal reserve act to make the governor of the federal reserve board the chairman of the board, the under-secretary of the treasury becoming an ex-officio member instead of the secretary of the treasury.
6. Amendment to the federal reserve act providing that the major functions of the comptroller of currency shall be transferred to the federal reserve board with a view to bringing about a simplification and uniform system of examination and ratings.

The Klan cross was recently burned in Oklahoma by a Governor J. C. Walton under a martial law decree.

EXPERTS FRAME LEAGUE REPORT

Legal Lights Quickly Decide on Questions Designed to Test Scope of Authority

GENEVA, Sept. 25 (AP)—That speed is the guiding principle in the league of nations' determination to have its covenant scheduled to judicial interpretation, was evidenced tonight by the fact that the special committee of legal experts had already framed its preliminary report. This examination was decided on because of Italy's refusal to admit the competency of the covenant with respect to her recent dispute with Greece.

The league council met tonight and received the report of the experts who were appointed to frame suitable questions on which the covenant could be judged, the idea being to submit them to the permanent court of international justice for an advisory opinion and to secure illuminating rulings which will serve as a basis for the future. Just what does the covenant mean in the general end which the league seeks to attain. There will be no amendment of the question apparently, because the council plans to make a full report to the assembly before that body adjourns next Saturday, and allow no suspicion to linger in the mind of any delegate that the grave issue of the covenant interpretation has been thrown aside.

The experts reported that they had drawn up five questions. These have not been made public, but it is understood that three of them directly concern the league's competence. One refers to the responsibility of states for political crimes committed within their borders. Multitudinous problems occupied five of the league commissions today. They sat simultaneously at the league headquarters, but the most troublesome problem of all was that definitely fixing the method whereby non-permanent members of the council shall be elected. The system of election has never been clearly outlined and today deliberations brought no further light. The council now is composed of four permanent members, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan; the six non-permanent members are Spain, Belgium, Brazil, China, Uruguay and Sweden.

OFFER WALTON ASSISTANCE IN STATE CRISIS

Thirty-five Thousand Volunteers to Aid Guards to Stop Session; Court Action Seen as Orders Are Served

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 25 (AP)—Federal buildings in Oklahoma will be barred to members of the state legislature for their proposed special session, Governor J. C. Walton was advised tonight in a telegram from C. Bascom Slemm, secretary to President Coolidge.

"Use of federal buildings for purposes other than business of the United States government is contrary to regulations," Secretary Slemm telegraphed Governor Walton. The telegram added that the custodian of the Oklahoma City federal building had been instructed not to permit the building to be used for "any unauthorized purpose."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 25 (AP)—Thirty-five thousand men in the state have volunteered for service in the Oklahoma National Guard during the legislative crisis, Governor J. C. Walton announced here tonight. The executive made it plain, however, that he anticipated no necessity for calling the volunteers to duty.

Another unit of guardsmen will be brought to Oklahoma City early tomorrow to aid troops already stationed here in blocking the called session of the legislature at noon, the governor added. Because of the military censorship over troop movements, Governor Walton declined to say what battery had been called.

The executive made light of reports that there would be bloodshed and violence when the legislators attempt to meet tomorrow. "Why," he could take a cap pistol and drive all of those fellows into the Red river," the governor said jocularly. "I don't think there will be the least bit of violence."

EVIDENCE TAKEN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 25 (AP)—A general order issued by Adjutant General H. B. Markham forbidding the convening on Wednesday of a special session of the state house of representatives was served late today on house members gathering here for the session.

As the order was served, each member asked if it was being served as an individual or as a legislator. Upon being told the service was in their capacity as legislators, each asked the name of Major J. J. McCartney, in charge of the service detail, and then took the names of witnesses to the service. This was regarded as indicating that the way was being paved for court action to test the adjutant general's authority. Copies of the order were posted on the house and senate doors. Despite the issuance the opinion

FAMED BANDIT IS HERO OF STRANGE ROLE AT PRISON

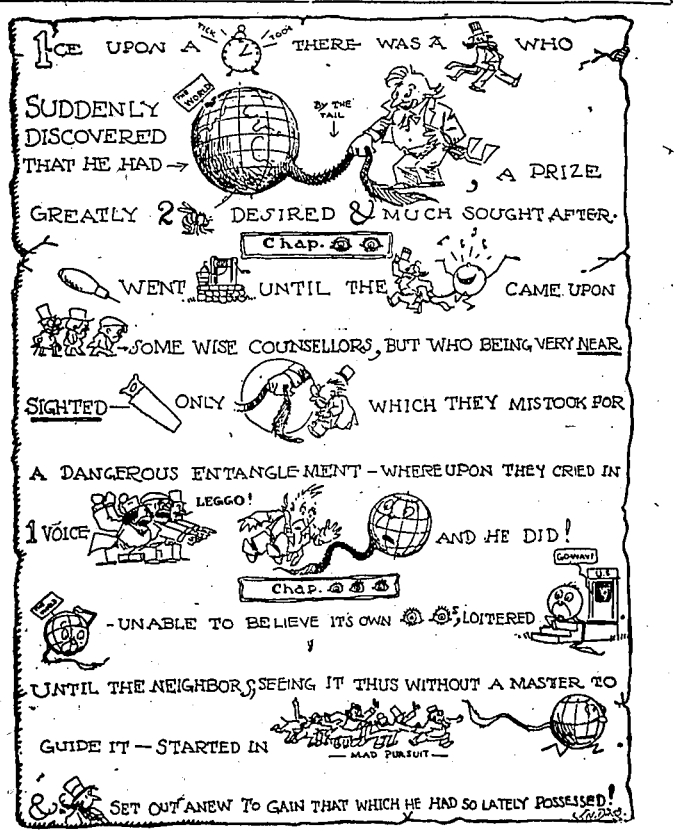

Bill Carlisle, Former Train Robber, Battles for Hours with Fire at Rawlins

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 25 (AP)—Bill Carlisle has been named in a new role. At the state penitentiary at Rawlins Sunday afternoon the once notorious train bandit, who attracted national notoriety a few years ago by his daring exploits in holding up Union Pacific trains and then making his escape, battled for five hours against a fire that threatened the prison shirt factory and threatened the remainder of the plant. Striking to the front line of fire fighters and taking all manner of risks, Carlisle finally was overcome by smoke and forced to retire. He was taken to the hospital, where he recovered several hours later.

The accident occurred on the night of August 21 last, when the jury that McComb was driving at speed.

ADMITS ERROR WAS CAUSE OF FATAL CRASH

Commander of One of Seven Wrecked Ships Confesses Poor Judgment Played Important Part in Smash-Up

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 25 (AP)—An error in judgment caused the wreck of seven destroyers off Honda Cay, September 8, according to Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunter, commanding officer of the U. S. S. Delphy, which was leading the column when the destroyer squadron Eleven rode into the surf at 23 knots.

That it was an error of judgment and not an act of providence that hurled seven ships to destruction and 23 men to their deaths was admitted by the captain of the Delphy shortly before he concluded his testimony late today before the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster. Lieutenant Commander Hunter had been on the witness stand for several hours and had given the court a detailed account of the last voyage of the Delphy, beginning with her departure from San Francisco on the morning of September 8 and ending with the tragic fate of J. T. Pearson, the badly injured man who had to be left aboard the doomed ship when most of its officers and crew fought their way ashore.

He was being cross-questioned by counsel for other defendants and had just finished citing an unseemingly northerly current and the type of radio compass used at Point Arguello as the "real cause" of the destroyer disaster when it was interrupted by Admiral W. V. Pratt, senior member of the court.

"Do you mean to say that the wreck was an act of providence," asked the admiral, "or an error of judgment?" "I'll have to admit that it was an error of judgment," replied the witness. Then after a long pause:

"But as contributory causes I believe the unusual northerly current we encountered near Point Arguello and the fact that a bilateral radio compass is used there were partly responsible."

"I think there is also a possibility that abnormal currents caused by the Japanese earthquake might have been another contributory cause, or magnetic disturbances, connected with the solar eclipse affecting the compass—out of these I speak, of course, speak with any first-hand knowledge."

The Screen

INTO THE PRIMITIVE.

Plunged from the most congested area in the United States, to its least civilized spot within a few days—that was the experience of Lois Wilson, featured player in Paramount pictures, when she went to the Tonto basin, Arizona.

A few weeks before Miss Wilson was jostled by vast crowds in New York. From a skyscraper she looked down the canyon of Broadway. Within a short time she stood upon the "Rim" and looked down into natural canyons and into the valley where a wagon wheel has never turned. Miss Wilson prefers Arizona to New York, for she is a lover of the "out-of-door". She has the featured leading woman's role in "To the Last Man," a Zane Grey production, adapted from the author's famous story which comes to the Idaho theater for four days, beginning today.

The story concerns a feud fought to a finish in the Tonto basin in the late eighties. One man survived the battle and his descendants who still live in the valley, appear in the mob scenes in the picture.

BELIEVES RIVER PARTY IS SAFE

Federal Man Is Confident Lost Surveyors Will Return About October 1

PEACH SPRINGS, Ariz., Sept. 25 (AP)—The Colorado river party is safe and will arrive about October 1 at Diamond creek, Ariz., in the opinion of Roger W. Birdseye, director of the land work of the United States geological survey's expedition to chart the river.

"I see no reason to be stumped by the strong belief that all is well with the party," he said. "Disaster to the entire party or any major part of it is inconceivable. Accidents to individual members or boats, are, of course, possible, but any calm consideration of the facts must tend to allay the anxiety of those most concerned in the safety of the expedition."

Due to the storm and flood in the canyon country, Mr. Birdseye predicted the surveyors would arrive at Diamond creek about three days later than scheduled.

SUGAR. NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—There was a further advance of 1/2¢ in the local raw sugar market today with Cuban now quoted at 5 3/4c cost and freight, equal to $7.53 for centrifugal. There was a good inquiry and sales were reported early of 17,000 bags of Cuban at 5 5/8c cost and freight, equal to $7.41 for centrifugal, with about 20,000 bags of other sugars on the same basis. Later 55,000 bags of Cuban were sold to local refiners at 5 3/4c cost and freight, all for October shipment, with a further buying interest at the same level.

The raw sugar futures market was firmer, reflecting the strength in the spot market and reports that the United Kingdom was inquiring for new crop Cuban. There was a little more activity noted and prices at the close were from 9 to 30 points higher on covering and increased buying by commission houses. Closing: October, 85.00; December, 84.00; March, 84.05; May, 84.13.

The market for refined was firm and prices 30 to 15 points higher in response to the higher cost of raws. Fine granulated is now quoted from $9.00 to $9.15. New business is less active, but withdrawals on old contracts continue of fair proportions. Refined futures nominal.

Not Every Mouse Can Scare an Elephant

There is a legend that elephants are afraid of mice. The contrast is amusing. It tickles the funny-bone and interests folks. Hence, it gains belief. Yet circus men will tell you that there are many safer places than an elephant's pen for a mouse bent on bullying.

But the fable lives as persistently as another fiction—the one that advertised goods cost more than goods not advertised. Here, too, the truth is the other way around.

As a matter of fact, manufacturers who advertise increase the demand for their goods, which naturally increases their production. This means that each article they make is made for less money than otherwise would be possible. This in turn means that they can sell for less.

Merchants who advertise bring crowds of people into their stores. The more customers, the quicker the merchant's stock is sold, and the sooner his cash is available for reinvestment. All this means that he can afford to do business on a smaller margin of profit than the man who depends on fewer sales to pay expenses and give a profit.

If you want to buy economically, buy advertised goods, and patronize merchants who advertise.

Decision Reached on Big Game Date

Rotary-Kiwanis Baseball Contest Causes Increased Interest; Sentiment Divided

Twin Falls world's serious starts Thursday at 4:30 p. m. At last the date has been set, much to the relief of both team managers. The town is keyed to a high pitch and the mayor is said to be seriously contemplating additional men for the police for that day. It looks as if the town were going to be divided about fifty-fifty. The Kiwanis supporters are low in their predictions that the score will be very much one-sided and just as many Rotary stand-patters say it will be all Rotary.

Much activity is noted around the two training camps today and the crack of the willow and the crack of the bat in the gloom, accompanied by cool weather, almost made one think it was spring instead of early fall.

A big demonstration is planned before the game, starting with a parade around the town and winding up at the ball field, where a few stunts will be pulled before the big game is on. The day will wind up with the big dance at Danceland that promises to be the event of the year.

Poetry as it is lived. In his "Human Traits and Their Social Significance," Irwin Edman writes:

"Men may first have come to speak poetry accidentally, for language arose, like other human habits, as a thing of use. But the charming and delightful expression of feelings and ideas came to be cherished in themselves, so that what was first an accident in man's life has become a deliberate practice. "When this creation of beautiful objects, or the beautiful expression of feelings or ideas is intentional, we call it art."

"In such intentional creation and cherishing of the beautiful, man's life becomes enriched and emancipated. He learns not only to live, but to live beautifully. The first poem may have been an accident, as Mr. Edman suggests, but more than one number in the latest lot can be reckoned among catastrophes.

Wife Worse Than Expected. A darky who had recently married was asked by the farmer for whom he worked how he and his Mandy were getting along.

"Not very well, boss. The fact is Mandy and me's done had a 'Parted!' exclaimed the farmer. "Why, you were just married. You know, Sam, you can't leave Mandy. She's your wife and you took her for better or worse."

"That's just it, boss," said Sam. "I shore did tell that pshaw that I took that gal for better or worse. But, boss, dat gal is wuz'n I took her to be."

Young and inexperienced. When I was a bride I went into a shop to purchase socks for my husband. I was young and unaccustomed to buying men's wear, and was at a loss when the saleslady inquired what size I wanted.

"I don't have the slightest idea, but suddenly I said, 'I don't remember what size his socks are, but he wears a number fifteen cellar.' The clerk and all other people in the shop burst out laughing—Exchange.

A Helpful Hint. "I don't know what in the thunderation is the matter with my wife!" grumbled Gap Johnson of Bampus Edge. "She's preposterously asking me for money to buy a new dress with a bonnet, or some such fool thing." "Mought try giving her a little money some time, and see if it would make a plumb fool of her," suggested an acquaintance.—Kansas City Star.

OPPONENT WANTED FOR DEMPSEY AT TIA JUANA

Keans Planning Scrap at Racing Center After July 1 St. Paul Scrapper Being Considered

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (AP)—Jack Keans, manager for 25 Dempsey, who stopped here today on his way to Salt Lake to join the champion, said tonight that tentative negotiations were under way with James Coffroth to match Dempsey for a fight at Tia Juana, probably shortly after the first of the year.

No opponent had been selected for the tentative engagement, he said, but added that it would not be Harry Wills, negro fighter. He indicated that Tom Gibbons was being considered.

Johnny Dempsey, brother of Jack, who is with Keans, took occasion to deny reports that he and struck Babe Ruth the night of the Dempsey-Fibro fight in New York while Brother Jack was doing the same to Flippo.

"The only fighting the Dempsey family does is done by the champion, and that only in the ring," he asserted. "Why, Babe and I are good friends. Then, again, Babe is a big fellow. Why, I'd be a sucker to go for him."

FOSSILS FROM THE ICE AGE

Czech Scientist Discovers Skeletons of Man, Women and Great Variety of Animals

Skeletons of prehistoric men and women from the ice age, mammoth, two lions, a hyena, a wolverine, five cave bears and at least sixty fossil beavers have been found in the vast system of underground palaces formed by nature in the limestone rock of central Moravia now being explored by Dr. Karel Absolon, curator of the Brno museum of Czechoslovakia. Dr. Alex Hrdlicka of the United States National museum, who is in Europe studying cave men for the United States Smithsonian Institution, will report these discoveries in a communication to the next issue of Science.

The skeletons of many of these mammals of the glacial period of the earth's history are in an excellent state of preservation, he says. The cave bears remains are almost complete and will be mounted as a group in the Provincial museum at Brno (Brunn), while the teeth and skulls of the beavers are also considered of highest scientific value.

The great subterranean halls, with their numerous columns, stalactite and stalagmite forms, are being energetically explored and are said to rival in beauty the famous caverns in Virginia and Kentucky.

HIS FIRST ATTEMPT AT WORK

Curious Experience of College Student Who Was Trying to Earn Money for Expenses.

Many students attending the universities of Indiana pay part of their college expenses by doing odd jobs. Several years ago a young man applied at the Y. M. C. A. employment office of one of the universities and asked for work. He was directed to the home of one of the professors.

His first duty was to mop the kitchen floor. Mrs. H. supplied a mop, some rags and a bucket. She was upstairs sewing a few minutes later when he called, "What shall I do with the water?"

"Throw it out." "But she came down to investigate. She found the kitchen floor flooded and the new helper standing as a chair holding the dry rags and the empty bucket. He explained that he had filled the bucket with water about eight times and emptied it on the floor.

The young man is now a practicing physician in Indianapolis.

Game Proves Lure to Football Hero

Bill Gihring, All-American Center for Two Years, Joins Coosah and Lads on Field

Bill Gihring, Penn State, '16, '17, '18, and All-American center for two years, blew into Twin Falls Tuesday and immediately made friends with Clint Evans. Bill was out to practice and couldn't do on the benches very long. He was right in the thick of it, mud and all. It's hard to tell who received the biggest kick out of it—Gehring, Evans or the team. It's a cinch the boys received some valuable pointers. Gehring is manager of the Salt Lake office of the Fox Film corporation and was here on business when he discovered we had a real football team and immediately became interested; so interested in fact that he missed his train.

Jenks came out with a charity-horse last night. Let's hope it don't start off like last year. That backfield looks mighty good out there and it takes Jenks and Moose to make it look right. Timm looks better every day and a few weeks under Evans will improve him a lot. Alford is holding down the quarter job pretty consistently and gets along in great style.

Holden is still taking turns at the center position and it's hard to tell who will land the job. It's a hard position to fill.

The line positions are still somewhat scrambled. There are some mighty likely looking men trying for positions and it will be a case of the best man win. Evans expects to hear from East High within the next day or two and is confident that it is only a matter of which date they can come. Other games are in prospect, and, although it may take a little longer to arrange a schedule, it will be a good one.

ADDITIONAL PRESSMEN AT WORK IN NEW YORK

Invitation of International Official to Out-of-Town Workmen Meets Immediate Response

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Additional pressmen were distributed today among newspapermen affected by the strike of members of the local pressmen's union who left their posts a week ago last night, it was announced by officials of the international union, who have invited out of town members of their organization to fill the places of members of the out-of-town local. They said others were arriving hourly in response to the call of their president, George L. Berry.

Spokesmen for the publishers' association which signed an agreement under which the international was to man the presses, announced that enough men had arrived, or are en route to end the strike, as far as the employers were concerned. They said it had not been determined, however, when the combined morning and afternoon editions would resume their individual makeups.

MEMORIAL ISSUE DELAYED

Twin Falls Postoffice Waits for Fulfillment of Order for Stamps Issued in Tribute to Harding

Request made by M. A. Strunk, Twin Falls postmaster, for 50,000 Harding memorial stamps lately issued by the federal government still remains unfulfilled, although many of the stamps have made their appearance on letters received here during the past two or three weeks. Orders placed by central accounting offices have been filled first. The stamps are of two-cent denomination, and bear a picture of the late president with the dates of his birth and death. It is estimated that the supply for which request has been made here would meet ordinary requirements somewhat less than a month.

PREDICT RAISE IN VALUATION

Lewis Claims Total Through-out Idaho Will Exceed Equalization Board Figures

BOISE, Sept. 25.—George W. Lewis, budget officer of the state, predicts that the total valuation of the state will approach very close to his first estimate of $480,000,000. The total valuation as reported to the state board of equalization amounts at this time to $457,735,547.33 but Mr. Lewis feels that the other sum close to $200,000,000 will be approximated after improvements and new institutions have been added. The total valuation as reported to the board of equalization at the beginning of its meeting here recently was $347,474,754.50. The board added values of $6,094,322.06 and deducted $2,490,274.65 leaving a valuation of $351,492,229.51, reported after being equalized. The total valuation of railroads as determined by the board was $84,911,903; electric current transmission lines, $15,927,505; telephone lines, $3,473,659; private car companies $179,808.56; and Pullman car companies $200,000, or a total of more than $457,000,000.

 "Not successful big business institution is conducted without a careful budget," stated Governor C. C. Moore recently. "The state of Idaho with valuations of nearly a half billion dollars with expenditures for government, education, roads and other necessities amounting to approximately four million dollars per biennium must, in my opinion, budget its funds receivable and not take on great burdens to the taxpayers which the valuation of the state cannot support."

"History tells us that the great revolutions of the world have been caused primarily by excessive burdens of taxation to support top-heavy governments in luxury. Excessive taxation soon becomes confiscation and the expense of government should be held down in proportion to the citizens' ability to pay. The budget bureau will aid us immensely in this respect in conducting the largest business in the state."

FRENCH FOLLOW RUHR REACTION WITH ANXIETY

Official Circles Speculate on Results of Latest German Move; Separatist Movement on Rhineland Holds Interest

PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—The political situation in Germany as the aftermath of the decision to abandon passive resistance in the Ruhr is being watched by the French government with the keenest interest. The possibility of a nationalist movement, such as one tending to separate Bavaria from the reich; the outbreak of mild bolshevism in Prussia, and fresh impetus to the separatist movement in the Rhine. Should serious disturbances of any sort arise in the rest of Germany, it is thought they would most certainly have the result of increasing the number of Rhinelanders desiring to assure continuation of their tranquillity by separation.

The allied troops, it is asserted in official circles, will not be allowed to take sides in any conflict, as in the absence of other military force responsibility rests upon them for the maintenance of order in the occupied territory. There is good reason for the conclusion that the French attribute little importance to the separatist movement thus far, but that they will not intervene to prevent it from taking any action they see fit, so long as order is not disturbed.

May Need New Regime

In the event the cessation of passive resistance is not attended by violent outbreaks, the allies will, it is assumed here, be faced at once with the necessity of providing for a new regime of occupation.

The hypothesis is that the industrial leaders of the Ruhr, freed from the restrictive policies of the Berlin government, will repeat the promises made after beginning of the occupation, to pay the coal tax demanded by the occupation authorities and to co-operate with them.

It is anticipated that the German government, pending final settlement of the new terms for the payment of reparations, will ask that the expelled functionaries be allowed to return to the Ruhr, that the imprisoned industrial magnates, including Dr. Krupp von Bohlen, be released, and that the rigors of the occupation be lessened.

No Objection Seen

Information gleaned from official circles here indicates that there will be no stout objection to a change in the occupational regime, and that the French government is quite willing to rid it as far as possible of its disagreeable features. The return of the German functionaries, however, is a more serious matter, since most of them are Prussians and it is feared by the allies, and especially to raise new forms of obstruction.

Clemency toward these Germans imprisoned is regarded as certain to follow a show of good will by the German government in execution of its obligations and a disposition on the part of the industrial leaders to co-operate with the allies.

RUHR REMAINS QUIET

DUESSELDORF, Sept. 25 (AP)—The decision of the Berlin government to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland thus far has not produced a ripple of disturbance among the people of the Ruhr. Notwithstanding leading editorials in the German newspapers, even as late as Monday, predicting that there would be a spontaneous outbreak of disorder of passive resistance were abandoned unconditionally, the news of its actual abandonment could not have produced a more undramatic effect.

As to whether the lack of visible excitement was due to stupefaction caused by the abruptness of the Berlin government's decision, or whether the population generally fully realized that passive resistance already had become exhausted on its own accord, opinion of the leading Germans today was divided. Some of today's newspapers declared that the government's decision was the only thing to be done and that it was really "the natural course of events."

Mental Reservations

Other newspapers express the pride of their readers by saying that while Chancellor Stresemann and his cabinet apparently decided to give up passive resistance, there really were mental reservations and a successful renunciation of the economic activities in the Ruhr depended on the French decision to treat the population. This school of newspapers took a general attitude, somewhat as follows:

"We recognize superior force and bow to the inevitable, realizing we are at the end of our material resources. But in our hearts we shall never admit the legality of the occupation of the Ruhr by France and Belgium."

Many leading Germans, however, say that the French and Belgians can have real co-operation in redeveloping the Ruhr industries if the Germans expelled are permitted to return, if all foreign competitors. Mr. Wallace believed they should be helped by a government agency which would establish easier credit conditions on American purchases.

"Freight rates on agricultural products are altogether higher than agriculture can afford to pay," he said.

"The railroads must not be crippled, but a reduction of at least 25 per cent. in freight rates, especially on agricultural export commodities should be brought about in some way without further delay. The entire structure of freight rates should be analyzed.

"If, as it seems evident, we must admit ourselves to be on a permanently higher scale of industrial wages and consequently higher cost of production in industry as well as agriculture, a normal relationship can be restored only by bringing agricultural prices up to somewhere near the level of other products."

"The most hopeful prospect of accomplishing this purpose is through establishment by the government of an agricultural expert commission or corporation with broad powers. The angle was that the committee is the working of such an organization.

gained strength tonight that the stage had been set for the attempt tomorrow to convene the extraordinary session at which opponents of Governor J. C. Walton have promised to seek his impeachment.

No bloodshed

Authoritative sources which could not be revealed expressed the belief that a "gentlemen's agreement" would prevent the danger of bloodshed.

It was indicated that the refusal of the military to give the legislators access to the name of the would involve nothing more than the formality of a guard officer informing the house members that they were not permitted to enter the floors.

Then, it was believed the representatives will leave the capital, later assembling at some unannounced location. They will convene at night and where some of their number probably will be arrested.

This maneuver, it is believed, would tend to prevent a public spectacle which might invite violence by on-lookers not identified with the guard.

It is believed that guard officers even may be members of the intended location for the second convening.

Demers Reports

Reports that he had stated that he knew no reason why the legislature would meet in the United States district court in the federal building were denied tonight by Federal Judge John H. Cull.

Plans for holding a caucus tonight to organize the house were cancelled, the legislators deciding to wait until the body regularly convened before electing officers.

Charles S. Brees, of McAlester, speaker pro tempore, will call the session to order, it is expected. Election of a regular speaker and adoption of a resolution vacating the organization elected during the last regular session will follow, it is expected.

The adjutant general's order forbidding the session follows:

"Special Order Number 158:

"Pursuant to a special executive military order issued by J. C. Walton, governor of Oklahoma, as the commander-in-chief of the military forces of said state, addressed to the undersigned, Baird H. Markham, adjutant general, forbidding the gathering or assembling in a pretended session of any of the members of the legislature at the state house in Oklahoma City, at 12 noon on September 26, 1923, or at any other time or place, within the state, during the present period of unrest on the grounds that such a gathering or meeting is an unlawful assembly in violation of the provisions of any and all laws, and has been calculated to bring about a breach of the peace, provoke riot and institute a reign of anarchy and bloodshed. Now, therefore, I, Baird H. Markham, as adjutant general, under the order above named, hereby forbid such meeting at the legislative halls in the state capital on the date named or at any other time or place within the state while the said order is in effect. Any attempt to hold such meeting or session of the legislature under the present conditions will constitute a violation of both the civil and military laws now in force in this country and state and any attempt at meeting or session will be dispersed."

EX-CARAVANERS' SUIT IN COURT

Attorneys Argue Demurrer and Motion in Cases Brought Against Roseworth Company

Demurrers and motions to strike portions of the complaints were argued by attorneys in district court here Tuesday in suits brought by five members of the Brooklyn modern caravan for damages approximating $25,000 from the Idaho Farm Development company because of alleged fraud in connection with the sale of lands on the Roseworth irrigation project.

The demurrers and motions, if sustained by the court, will require re-drafting of the complaints, but will not otherwise affect the status of the suits, according to Homer C. Mills, attorney for the former caravaners. The company was represented by Edwin Snow of Boise and A. W. Ostrom of Beul.

The former caravaners, who have brought suits in which argument was heard Tuesday, are Paul G. Hanft, organist and choir director, formerly of the Presbyterian church here, and now of Boise; Walter McPherson, Twin Falls meat and dairy inspector; Alfred P. Hyde, Herbert S. Roth and Frederick H. Bagnall.

Argument also was heard on a motion in the case of the Idaho Farm Development company against "Willie H. Judd, an action brought to foreclose on a water contract, in which the same attorneys appeared. Judd is attempting to set aside the water contract. Right of the company to foreclose was at issue in the argument Tuesday.

SEVENTY MEN ENTOMBED

Fear All Perished when Deep Pit in Scotch Coal Mine is Flooded; 41 Not Accounted For

GLASGOW, Scotland, Sept. 25 (AP)—Seventy men were entombed when a deep pit at the James Nimmo company's colliery, near Falkirk, was flooded today. It was feared that all would perish, but one party of men succeeded in making their escape through a disused shaft. There are now 41 unaccounted for, and it is almost certain they are dead.

When the water, which broke through the walls of an adjacent pit, had reached their waists, one of the entombed men remembered the existence of a shaft which they managed to reach with the aid of picks and shovels.

They cut their way through debris and wreckage and crawled out in time to meet a rescue party.

Interposed in pending suits, the court Tuesday received the pleas of several defendants in criminal actions.

David Litvin, Twin Falls garage proprietor, entered a plea of not guilty to charges of receiving stolen automobiles and trial in the case was set for October 3.

Joe Martinez and Anton Fierro pleaded not guilty to a charge of resisting an officer. Date for the trial was not set.

Earl Love pleaded guilty to charge of illegal possession of liquor, and the court announced next Saturday as the time for pronouncing judgment.

Fred L. Cobb pleaded not guilty to charge of illegal possession, and Orson Allen entered a similar plea to a similar charge.

SOCIETY

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 396

The Twentieth Century club gave their annual opening reception at the Lavering pavilion Tuesday afternoon. The room was decorated most artistically with a color scheme of pink, white, lavender and purple and simulated Japanese-Jen garden. The lights suspended from the ceiling were in the lavender, pink, white and purple. The balustrade of the balcony was covered with a lattice which was entwined with locust leaves and wisteria blossoms.

Under the balcony dozens of small Japanese lanterns were suspended, while all about the seating were pedestals holding wicker baskets of flowers in the four colors. The balcony for the orchestra was separated from the main hall by an arbor of wisteria and here during the afternoon the Friedman orchestra furnished delightful music.

Standing at the receiving line were Mrs. Kennedy Packard, first president of the club, Mrs. W. H. Clouche, Mrs. George D. Alken, Mrs. Burton E. Moore, Mrs. M. J. Sweeley, Mrs. W. P. Pike, Mrs. Mary Y. Norton, Mrs. C. A. Ems, Mrs. C. J. Schroeder, and Mrs. W. Orr Chapman, the incoming president.

Those who have been president of the club and now residing elsewhere are Mrs. J. L. Cookley, Mrs. E. E. Humphreys, Mrs. M. A. Baker and Mrs. E. R. Van Cott. The program was short and consisted of two vocal solos by Mrs. O. P. Duvall, who was accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Alexander; a brief address by the president, and a response by Mrs. A. S. Martyn. During a brief business session 11 delegates were elected to attend the state federation meeting to be held at Boise October 3, 4 and 5.

A pleasant social time followed and punch and wafers were served by the refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. Robert Marsh, chairman; Mrs. W. H. Rosfor, Mrs. Thomas Mott, Mrs. F. L. Cogswell, Mrs. C. D. Adams, Mrs.

R. E. Simpson, Mrs. P. T. Kollag and Mrs. H. L. Austin.

In the evening the annual ball was held at the Lavering with a large crowd present. The reception committee for the evening was Mrs. Kennedy Packard, chairman; Neandras D. L. Alexander, C. J. Schroeder, E. M. Wolfe, C. F. Dwight, Louis Friedman, W. H. Clouche and Miss Minnie Farrar. The Benoit orchestra furnished music for the occasion and punch was served throughout the evening.

The Pan-Hellenic club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Polly Thomas on Seventh avenue north. The evening was planned as a compliment to new members and was very delightful. A moving picture show furnished entertainment, the stars being members of the club. During the performance a cabaret orchestra, consisting of Mrs. Cass Figger, Mrs. Irma Spielberg and Miss Priscilla Munson furnished the music. An interesting guessing game was also a feature of the evening, and later delicious refreshments were served. Miss Endicott was chairman of the entertainment committee and was assisted by Mrs. L. E. Jostyn and Miss Polly Thomas. Mrs. William Macaulay was chairman of the refreshment committee, and was assisted by Mrs. L. W. Coleman.

Mrs. Alan P. Bonlor entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. B. A. Hamilton of Hollywood, Cal. Three tables of players enjoyed the games. There was a guest prize for Mrs. Hamilton and a prize for high score at each table. These were won by Mrs. George R. Eastley, Mrs. Wilbur S. Hill and Mrs. F. C. Beebe. After the games the hostess served dainty refreshments. The guests were members of the Wednesday bridge club and a few intimate friends of the hostess.

THE OKLAHOMA PROBLEM

It is provided in the body of the United States Constitution: "The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, or, on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence."

It is doubtful, so far, whether a republican form of government has really broken down in Oklahoma, and the governor appears to think, as for domestic violence, there has certainly been a great deal of it in Oklahoma, and there may be more.

If the situation arising from the warfare of the Ku Klux Klan and the Governor Walton is not lightened out soon, there will be no question about the rights and duty of Uncle Sam to step in and restore the machinery and processes of normal civil life. But such a job is never pleasant, and it would be particularly unpleasant now, on the eve of a national campaign.

Neither Congress nor White House will care to intrude if it can possibly be avoided. It is an excellent time to respect state rights, in Oklahoma as it was in Pennsylvania when the coal miners and operators locked horns.

FREEDING NEW JERSEY CHILDREN

During the last few months the New Jersey Departments of Health and Labor have been carrying on an aggressive campaign against the system of home sweatshop child labor which has existed for some time. The campaign has been notably successful, although its definite results have not yet been fully summed up. The Newark News makes this timely comment on the situation:

"One thing, however, must not be lost sight of. The evil that is in process of being blotted out has existed by virtue of an economic pressure which this campaign has, at least, only arrested. This pressure is a constant one, always ready to overlap or break through lines of resistance which the law and its agencies set up. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety in this respect as in others, a fact that seems to have been firmly grasped by the Labor Department, whose inspections are going to be continuous."

Ten often a community, aroused by an emergency, will unite to get a regulating law passed or to blot out the evil, and then will proceed to go its old, indifferent, careless way, serenely believing that all is well. Through housecleaning once a year doesn't eliminate the need of vacuum cleaners and all mops and good soap and water all the other eleven months.

Eternal vigilance is the price of all civic progress.

A MODERN TOKIO

Word comes from Japan that ruined Tokio, in being rebuilt, will be made "thoroughly modern," according to European and American ideas. This is fine as far as the engineering work is concerned. It is well to eliminate narrow and crooked streets, laying out broad, straight avenues and radiating thoroughfares, with public parks, sewers, lights, etc., after our occidental ideas. We ourselves have done this in evolving from medieval conditions, and Asia must do no less if life in its large cities is to be made pleasant and healthful. It is well, also, to get away from the Japanese type of construction which makes buildings flimsy in their walls and framework but top-heavy with tiles. Experience shows that a building should be either altogether light or altogether heavy and strong to resist the earth tremors.

Beyond a few such basic considerations, however, most people of West and East alike, should regret any tendency to sacrifice typical Japanese styles of architecture for American and European styles. Everyone knows how much less attractively the Japanese look in their recently adopted western clothes than in their native costume.

Architecture, too, is a kind of clothing. Every nation possesses artistic taste, when left to itself, developing a characteristic architecture which fits it, and which is pleasing as well as appropriate. It is native architecture which chiefly distinguishes one country from another, in the eyes of the traveler. It serves its purpose, too, in preserving the best elements of the national character.

Japan, as all travelers report, is a country charming to the eye in rare degree. In adopting alien styles it loses much. The world as a whole loses, too, in richness and variety.

Why should all men and nations, as civilization progresses, be cast in one mold?

The BROWN MOUSE By HERBERT QUICK (Copyright by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

"Incompetent!" the disconcerted word representing everything he had always despised rang through Jim's mind as he walked home. He could think of nothing else as he sat at the simple supper which he could scarcely taste. Incompetent! He was incompetent. He picked up a pen, and began writing. He wrote, "To the Honorable the Board of Education of the Independent District of..."

"Take a chair, won't you?" "No," replied the colonel. "I thought I'd see if you and the boys at the schoolhouse can't tell me something about the snout in my waist. I heard you were going to work on that snout."

"I had forgotten," said Jim. "I wondered if you hadn't," said the colonel, "and so I came by for you. I was walking up the road. Come on, and ride up with me. We are friends, and there was a new twist to his manner tonight. He was almost deferential. He worked with the class on the problem of snout. He offered to aid the boys in every possible way in their campaign against snout in potatoes. He suggested some tests which would show the real value of the treatment. The boys were in a glow of pride at this co-operation with Colonel Woodruff. This was real work! Jim and the colonel went away together. It had been a great evening.

"Jim," said the colonel, "can these kids spell?" "I don't know," said Jim, "but they can outspell any school about here." "Good," said the colonel. "How are you about arithmetic and the other branches? Have you sort of kept them up to the course of study?"

"I have carried them in a course parallel to the textbooks," said Jim, "and covering the same ground. But it has been vocational work, you know—related to life." "Well," said the colonel, "if I were you, I'd put them over a rapid review of the textbooks for a few days—say between now and the twenty-first."

"What for?" "Oh, nothing—just to please me." "And say, Jim, I glanced over a communication you have started to the more or less Honorable Board of Education." "Yes?" "Don't don't finish it." "And say, Jim, I think I'll give myself the luxury of being a wild-eyed reformer for once." "And if you think, Jim, that you've got no friends, just remember that I'm for you, Colonel." "Thank you, Colonel." "And we'll show them they're in a horse race." "I don't see..." "You're not supposed to see," said the colonel, "but you can bet that we'll be with them at the finish; and by the way, when they're getting a full meal, we'll get at least a lunch, see?"

REAL PIONEERS OF IDAHO WILL ASSEMBLE HERE

Twin Falls to Be Host to Organization of "Seventy-Niners" at Annual Meeting and Reunion.

Flags will be flung out over the principal streets Wednesday morning in token of Twin Falls' welcome to the members of the organization formed a few years ago and styled the "Seventy-Niners," who will assemble here for an annual meeting.

Membership in the organization is confined to persons who were residents of Idaho prior to the year 1880. It is expected that about 150 members will attend and take part in this year's reunion.

Elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the pioneers during their stay here Wednesday have been worked out by local members of the association, headed by John F. Hansen, its president for the present year.

Headquarters for the pioneers will be opened at the Rogerson hotel, where they will be received upon their arrival here, and which is to be their domain for the day.

Assembly at Dinner

Dinner to be served at noon at the hotel will mark the first assembly of the pioneers. It is expected that G. O. Stocklager of Shoshone, former district judge, will attend and that at this gathering he will stimulate a flow of reminiscence and anecdotes of pioneer days on the part of the real old timers.

The visitors will be shown about town after dinner in automobiles, a large number of which, it was stated Tuesday evening, have been placed at the disposal of the association for the occasion.

Business sessions will occupy the later afternoon, and the day will be closed with a dance in which all of the old settlers are expected to participate.

WILL LAUNCH INSTITUTE

Sessions Under Auspices of Idaho Council of Religious Education to Open Here This Evening

Three-day sessions of the Idaho Council of Religious Education leadership training institute will be opened here with an initial assembly of delegates expected from various points throughout the state in the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Seek After Information; Ask Chamber of Commerce

Duties of the chamber of commerce do not consist alone of wholesale distribution of community advertising matter, consultation with auto travelers and other visitors or providing a clearing house for transaction of business of the community and of business men in particular.

In addition to all these and other important functions, the chamber of commerce must serve as the central information in regard to the community, and the volume of correspondence relating to this phase of the chamber's work is a considerable item in its list of activities.

In Secretary's Files

A survey of correspondence of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce covering a rather limited recent period indicates the great scope covered by communications calling for information as to various phases of the community's resources, activities or prospects. Here are some samples:

"A local man asked me to write you for information as to when the American Falls Irrigation dam would begin. I wrote the secretary at American Falls and never did hear from him. If there is such an animal, I contracted typhoid fever at Twin Falls in the summer of 1910, so shall never forget your city. She was growing fast then and I presume I would hardly know the place now."

"F. D., Oklahoma."

As to Air Mail Service

"I have your letter of September 10, and am indeed pleased you are interested in aviation, but regret to have to advise you that additional appropriation would have to be obtained from the congress before the question of air mail service at Twin Falls could be given consideration."

"For the Second Assistant Postmaster General."

Alfalfa Possibilities

"I thank you for your letter of the 20th ult., and hope to hear soon from your chairman to who you have referred my letter relative to a home owned, cooperative alfalfa mill for Twin Falls."

"This is the end, would aid your farmers so much, as what they need is a better market for their alfalfa, and I can give it to them as I understand the markets thoroughly on both alfalfa hay and alfalfa meal, and with the prices that are being paid to prevail this winter, it is coming there and getting into the business actively would be a help to your entire community, until I am sure it will justify you in giving me all the assistance possible along this line."

"G. L. Texas."

As Tourist Map

"Your letter of the 15th, enclosing details regarding scenic points of interest in the vicinity of Twin Falls, is sincerely appreciated."

"This, we will be able to use to good advantage in the publication of the tourist map which we now have underway."

"Oregon State Chamber of Commerce."

Books Endorsement

"At the Western Tariff Congress to be held in Denver October 3 and 4, I want to submit on behalf of the Denver Civic and Commercial association, as nearly complete as possible, a list of the leading chambers of commerce of the west endorsing the call for the tariff congress."

"We would very much appreciate it if you would join with us in signing the call. This request comes from the producing organizations of the west and of the nation, endorsed by the bank associations, the press, western governors and others, as copy of enclosed call for the congress indicates."

"T. B. S., Colorado."

Commercial Statistics

"We are enclosing with a memorandum showing briefly the commercial statistics of your city, which is intended for free publication in the forthcoming issue of our newspaper rate book."

"If you will revise the enclosed so as to bring it up to date as near as possible, we will in return be pleased to favor you with a complete copy of the book when issued on or about December 15. Aside from this, no charge or obligation will be involved on either side for the advertising of your city, or the compilation of the statistics."

"N. Cheesman and Company."

On Aerial Map

"The information will be available for all aviators and will considerably assist the progress of cross-country flying in this country. When complete data has been obtained it will be possible for the various municipalities to have complete information on hand."

"We would like your cooperation in a movement being undertaken by the United States army to secure in compiling information regarding landing fields in your locality. As you are no doubt aware, the army air service activities now embrace many fields other than actual preparation for war, a few of which are the forest fire patrol, aerial mapping, seed sowing, pest extermination and tree and field spraying. In this work it is frequently necessary that landing be made at places other than government airfields, and this is the reason we are calling upon you."

"G. H. B., Commanding California."

Like Twin Falls Country

"I was very favorably impressed with your city and the surrounding country. Am sure I would enjoy living in such pleasant surroundings and especially after having lived in this desolate country."

"If you should learn of something which you believe would interest me, kindly let me hear from you."

"How many crates of head lettuce are raised to here, and what price are growers getting? How is the new railroad coming?"

"E. T. B., Wyoming."

Publicist Interested

"Please state when 500 tons of good hay, with outside feeding or grazing grounds and plenty of water, can be purchased for around Twin Falls."

"W. D. E., Idaho."

MARKET PRICE OF APPLE CROP PROVES ELUSIVE

Harvest Season Nears in Twin Falls District with Growers and Buyers Both Reluctant to Name Figure

With the beginning of the apple harvest in the Twin Falls district less than a week distant, no market price for the crop has yet been established here.

Buyers in greater numbers than usual in past seasons have been here for some weeks, and have been holding courts each evening in the lobby of the Hotel Perrine with many of the principal orchardists. Apparently, however, the range of opinion as to these concludes includes everything but apples. Buyers, for the most part, profess inability to determine the market value of the crop this year, while growers generally seem indisposed to make the break. On either side there is noted the range of opinion as to the hour of actual necessity for beginning the harvest before getting down to business.

Growers generally interpret early market reports from the east as indicating conditions making for prices that will be satisfactory for their standpoint.

Leaves Conditional Margin

Only one or two sales of crops by growers of the district have been reported thus far. The price paid in these transactions is generally regarded as one that will permit of a margin of profit to the grower, provided to about grading is not required.

Offers made by buyers are said to range from $10 to $23 per ton for varieties other than "Delicious," for which bids of from $35 to $40 are said to have been made.

Indications point to bulk marketing of the greater part of the district's crop. Arrangements, however, have been made by J. H. Sawyer, one of the leading growers, to open the old East Fruit company packing plant, and a number of growers are expected to market their crops in boxes or baskets.

Estimates as to the total probable crop of the district are difficult to obtain for the reason that the extent of land damaged is indefinite. Apple shipments from the branch two years ago were approximately 500 carloads, and among persons familiar with conditions it is estimated that the shipments this season will run between 300 and 400 carloads.

Raymond Offers Hint

Information touching the above mentioned on the market situation was received here Tuesday by M. A. Stronk, in a telephone conversation with A. J. O'Reilly, Canyon county agricultural agent. Growers in that district, according to Mr. O'Reilly, have received a bona fide offer of $30 a ton for fruit of last year's crop. Through their organization, Mr. O'Reilly said, had agreed previously to hold out for $40 a ton. At a meeting Tuesday night it was to be determined whether a lesser price would be accepted. Approximately 600 carloads of apples are said to be controlled by association members.

Building Survey

"Two years ago we made a survey of the building needs of America, based on reports received from chambers of commerce in the United States that proved helpful to innumerable organizations, to the building industry in particular, and to the nation generally. The marked activity in building construction last year and this year has properly been credited as the most potent factor in the prosperity which has prevailed."

"The form below" is designed to bring our survey up to date. We will warmly appreciate your co-operating with us again by filling in the blank spaces and returning this sheet to us promptly.

"It will be to the advantage of your community to be properly represented in our tabulation, and to the advantage of all if this survey is in print with the greatest possible speed."

"Building Age."

We wish to thank the kind friends and neighbors for their kind words of sympathy in the loss of my husband and our father; also for the many beautiful flowers.
