SOLDIERS REFUSE TO QUIT FIGHT OVER SESSION

Long Legal Battle to Test Out Walton's Authority Is in Store; Order Troops into Another County

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 27 (AP)—Troops of the Oklahoma national guard were ordered into Murray county tonight by Governor J. C. Walton in response to an appeal from citizens of that county, who charged local authorities with neglect in apprehending the perpetrators of numerous mob outrages there recently.

"Under the present reign of K. K. K. officers in the present conditions are intolerable and are becoming worse," the governor was told by the committee from Sulphur, which included Scott Ferris, nephew of Oklahoma Congressman Sprague of Oklahoma, and the mayor of the town.

"Persons who are not members of the Ku Klux Klan," they declared, "are totally unjustly persecuted, property and life relief is accorded in an unequal way and in this county there will be trouble and possibly bloodshed."

The protracting which have kept Oklahoma afloat since Governor J. C. Walton opened his war on the K. K. K., and state legislators in turn began to take out tonight with a long, dull court fight in prospect.

Seek Injunction

The first move to test in the courts the legality of the special session of the lower house of the legislature, called by members who hold it in their right to investigate the official acts of Governor Walton, was taken in state district court here today. Sixty-seven habeas corpus applications for a temporary injunction restraining Adjutant General B. H. Markham and all members of the Oklahoma national guard from interfering with meetings in the house.

No order was issued by the court during the brief proceedings and by agreement of all parties, hearing on the petition was set for next Tuesday before Judge J. I. Phelps.

Legislators Leave

Meanwhile, the house members who gathered here for the session and attempted to convene, only to be dispersed by military authorities acting under instructions from the governor, began to leave for their homes to await the outcome of the court action.

A pledge was signed by the legislators that should the courts finally decide they have authority to meet as a body at any time, they will follow the petition and call of Representative W. D. McBee of Stephens county, one of the leaders of the legislators. No further attempt would be made to convene until the court has decided the issue is decided in state supreme court, and then there remains the possibility that the case will go through the United States supreme court.

If granted by the district court, will not be made the basis for another attempt to assemble, the legislators decided.

Walton Satisfied

Expressing satisfaction with the situation, Governor Walton declared to the press:

Idaho's Veterans Take Advantage of Federal Training

BOISE, Sept. 27 (AP)—Approximately 500 Idaho veterans of the late world war are taken advantage of the vocational training offered by the government, according to Lester Alberts, state adjutant of the American Legion of Idaho. Less than 5 per cent of these trainees have been unable to procure positions, Alberts said. More than 2,000 veterans of the war from Idaho have not disability claims with the government, and practically half of this number are drawing compensation for their wounds or are in vocational training.

NAME UTAH MAN TAX EXECUTIVE

National Association Elects William Bailey, State Board Member, as President

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 27 (AP)—William Bailey, member of the state board of equalization of Utah, was elected president of the National Tax association in its annual meeting today. Thomas W. Page, assistant director of the Institute of Economics, Washington, D. C., was elected vice president, and Alfred E. Hildebrand, assistant secretary of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, was re-elected secretary of the association.

New members of the executive committee chosen were Harry P. Smead, counsel for the state tax commission of Louisiana; Professor H. L. Leutz of Louisiana State university, Palo Alto, Cal.; G. G. Grant, assistant general collector of the Pennsylvania railroad, and J. A. Bogie, comptroller of provincial revenue, Province of Quebec.

The federal income tax might be abolished "unless the delay and uncertainty now characterized in its administration" are removed, Professor Thomas Adams of Yale university, the retiring president, said in an address. As remedies for existing conditions Mr. Adams suggested that a "clean up" commission be appointed to settle the 1917 and 1918 tax cases, that the treasury department discontinue the practice of imposing arbitrary assessments to secure wages from tax payers and abide in good faith by the law which provides that assessments should be wound up in five years and that an appeal tax court be appointed. He suggested making the salary of members of the court $12,000 to retire better men in the service.

Hundred Lives Are Reported Lost When Train Goes Through Bridge

Police Puzzled by Mistake of Nurses in Babes' Identity

Father Calls for Daughter's Child; Is Given Wrong One and Search Follows

DETROIT, Sept. 27 (AP)—Police tonight continued the search of high weeds, trees and a creek adjacent to the house occupied by Alfonso Vlemminck, for the baby or the three weeks old baby of William Greatrix, given to Vlemminck by mistake at the Evangelical Deaconess hospital when he called for the baby born to his 18-year-old daughter, Eva Vlemminck. Vlemminck, hired by the police, has been under continual questioning, and officers say, has told conflicting stories of what disposition was made of the baby given him at the hospital.

Greatrix discovered that the baby held at the hospital was not his when he returned from Toronto, Ont., after the burial of his wife, who died 11 days after the birth of the child. The hospital then admitted an error had been made and sought the child given Vlemminck. When the baby could not be found, police were called and Vlemminck was arrested. According to the police, Vlemminck said he gave the baby to a stranger by the name of a sailor.

Questioning the daughter brought out no information regarding the whereabouts of the child sought, but did, according to the police, bring an unusual accusation of the daughter against her father and also the admission of the birth of another baby to her about two years ago.

Prosecutor Paul W. Yearhills asserted tonight that until the baby was found, dead or alive, no action could be taken against Vlemminck. Meanwhile Vlemminck's daughter's baby is at the hospital.

RECALL SUCCESS IN WORLD WAR

Narration of Custom of "Following the Leader" Occupies Naval Wreck Inquiry

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 27 (AP)—More complete exposition of the "destroyer doctrine" in which officers are trained to "follow the leader" wherever he may lead their ships' occupied a large share of today's session of the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster in which six vessels trailed the U. S. S. Delphy to destruction on the rocks of Honda, Cal., September 8.

A declaration that this doctrine of "dig and dare and follow the leader" was responsible for the success of American destroyer squadrons in the world war was drawn from one defendant-witness today by Admiral William V. Pratt, presiding member of the court. "In order," the admiral explained, "to forestall any misconception of the spirit which motivates the officers of a destroyer squadron in racing full tilt behind their flagship wherever it may lead."

Commander William S. Pyle, division chief in the squadron that was wrecked, testified that at one point on the voyage down the coast from San Francisco he had noticed that the Delphy was steering a course that would soon lead them into danger, but he had hardly reached the conclusion that the course was dangerous before she signalled a swerve into safer waters.

It was difficult to check the navigation of the leading ship, he said, but he was satisfied from the data available to him that night that her navigators know where they were going.

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 27 (AP)—Thirty-seven bodies are said to have been recovered from the derailed coaches and sleeping car of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train No. 30, that plunged through a bridge into the Big Muddy river near Locketh, a about 10 o'clock tonight, according to Dan McLain, of Denver, who says that he is the only person who escaped from the Denver sleeping car.

Mr. McLain declared that in his opinion at least 100 lives were lost.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 27 (AP)—More than a score of persons were reported drowned when five coaches of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train No. 30, due here at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, went through a bridge near Casper, Wyo., and into a swollen creek, according to a report to the chief Burlington dispatcher here from the telegraph operator at Casper station.

According to the report two day coaches, one sleeper, one baggage and one mail car crashed into the river, which was swollen by rains that swept parts of Wyoming this afternoon and tonight.

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 27 (AP)—A special train carrying doctors and railroad officials left here tonight for Locketh, 14 miles east of Casper, where Burlington passenger train No. 30 is believed to have gone through a bridge.

The trainmen who notified the local dispatcher's office of the wreck said that only two of the train's seven coaches remained on the track. Two day coaches, one sleeper, one baggage and one express car left the rails, he said.

Four Cars Submerged

Four cars were completely submerged, and one car was standing on end, McLain said, and he did not believe any of the trapped passengers escaped from the wreckage.

Telephoned News

McLain made his way to the Midwest camp in the Big Muddy oil field and telegraphed news of the accident to Douglas, eight miles away. Word received at the local telegraph office of the Burlington railroad from Superintendent Chasing was to the effect that the Big Muddy was a raging torrent and rescue work was out of the question.

Verifies Estimate

When told that a passenger estimated the loss of life at one hundred persons, the dispatcher said: "It would be easy to say that. He was unable to say how many people there were on the train, however."

Clarence Goodman, of the Crucible Steel company, R. P. Johnson, of the American Steel company, both of Denver, and Julius Gundner, prominent republican leader of Douglas, were among those known to have taken passage on the train from Denver.

BOURBON SEES VICTORY IN ELECTION OF HILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Election of Samuel B. Hill, democrat, in the fifth congressional district of Washington was said to be the first democratic national chairman today, to be "another forecast of a presidential victory in 1924," said a statement by Mr. Hill. "I was recognized by republican managers, state and national, as a test of popular political preference, and was emphasized by their speakers and workers here in a desperate effort to prevent a renunciation of the national administration in 1924," said a statement by Mr. Hill.

Building Trades Official Warns Union Men to Prepare for "Rainy Days"

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 27 (AP)—An unhealthy condition exists in the building industry in America and workmen engaged in it should prepare for the "rainy day" which must follow the collapse of the present boom, is the opinion of John Donlin, president of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Donlin's statement is being made in presenting an annual report today at the convention of the building trades here.

"Prevailing conditions," the report said, "are not optimistic. The boom will see its end before we are aware; competition will again assert itself among all the elements of the industry; material manufacturers will slacken production and demand. Mechanics are being taught in great numbers. We are trying to satisfy a 300 per cent abnormal demand. This demand will recede until we have reached 100 per cent of normal, and consequently only one in each three will find work. We must prepare to meet that inevitable condition."

An attempt was made in the building trades convention today to heal the two-year-old breach between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the other trades, but was not at once successful. The resolution voicing the effort was referred to the committee on resolutions, following defeat of an effort to obtain immediate action.

GRAIN GROWERS WOULD REVIVE CORPORATION

Northwest Farmers, Suffering from Lower Prices, Appeal for Special Session of Congress to Enact Laws

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The wheat-growing interests of the central northwest, suffering from low prices for their grain, laid their case directly before President Coolidge and other administration officials today with a request that congress be called in special session to enact legislation to revive the United States grain corporation.

The president, together with Secretaries Wallace and Hoover and Managing Director Meyer of the War Finance corporation, received the proposal as presented by a delegation of a dozen bankers and farmers from Minneapolis Federal reserve district, but made no promises. Members of the delegation said, however, that Mr. Coolidge showed a deep interest in their proposal with regard to the grain corporation and also in their request for reduction in freight rates on wheat and flour, and they left the White House after an hour's conference pleased with the reception given their views.

Meet with Wallace
The delegation conferred with Secretary Wallace, who has been studying the wheat price situation by direction of the president, later in the day, for three hours, and tomorrow they will meet with Secretary Hoover and probably with Director Meyer. The president, it was learned, will call the two secretaries and Mr. Meyer into conference after they have met with the delegation, and it is believed that the general agricultural situation and the wheat growers' difficulties in particular will be discussed again by the cabinet at tomorrow's meeting.

Accompanied by Senator Evans and Representative Young of North Dakota, and Senator Norbeck and Representative Johnson of South Dakota, the delegation, composed of two bankers and three farmers, arrived at the White House shortly before noon for a half hour's conference, but it was more than an hour later before the discussion of the matter with the executive and his advisers ended.

Data Presented
Statistics and detailed statements showing the plight of the farmers of the central northwest as the result of the low wheat prices were presented by four or five spokesmen of the delegation, and then Mr. Coolidge began asking the farmer members questions. Soon the president and the three farmers were involved in detailed discussion of the whole problem.

The question of the grain corporation's revival was thoroughly discussed. The delegation explained that it was not their idea to have the corporation fix prices as it is during the war and immediately after, but that they desired to have a government-controlled corporation with a capital of $50,000,000 to buy and sell wheat for export and also on the domestic market. The operation of such a corporation would in itself stabilize the price of wheat and put the price at a higher level than that for which the grain is now selling, the delegation members explained.

The reduction of freight rates was not gone into in detail at the White House conference, but was taken up in the later meeting with Secretary Wallace.

GOMPERS PLEADS UNIONS' CAUSE

Federation President, Speaking as Delegate, Traces History of Labor

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 27 (AP)—Samuel Gompers, delegate to the labor trades department of the American Federation of Labor, sat in its sessions here today in his capacity as a delegate, but spoke in his capacity as president of the American Federation of Labor, urging steady pressure in behalf of the recognition of the union label as a means of keeping unionism before the public and creating a favorable attitude toward trades unions.

"Every influence that has kept conditions of labor in the United States from retrogressing has come from organized labor," he declared. "And it was the resistance of organized labor to the drives and campaigns to reduce wages after the war that saved us and has brought about the present day conditions wherein nearly every working man is employed in gainful occupation under living conditions that are tolerable."
"In no other country in the world has this been the case—and in no other country in the world did labor fight to protect itself against the attacks that were made to disorganize it. Labor in European countries, allowed its attention to be diverted from the economic issue and was led away to follow false gods."

He said he was "constrained to believe" that Prohibition Commissioner Haynes "doesn't understand what the eighteenth amendment means."
"The president of the United States has been 'constrained to believe' that I want to excuse him," he added. "He has been imposed upon, he decided I want this convention to pass a resolution expressing confidence in the secretary of the treasury and the commissioner of internal revenue for Mr. Coolidge's benefit."

PARIS AWAITS EFFECTS OF CAPITULATION ORDER

All Regulations Issued by Allied Authorities to Be Maintained Until Situation in Germany Clears

PARIS, Sept. 27 (AP)—All orders and regulations issued by the allied authorities in the Ruhr will be maintained, it was said in official circles tonight, until the situation in Germany clears and it becomes known to just what extent the passive resistance has ceased in consequence of President Ebert's proclamation. Today's dispatches from Berlin gave no basis for any conclusion as to what turn events may take, and the allies can only continue to wait and watch.

Former Chancellor Cuno's repatriation offers are regarded by the allies as having been superseded by the later developments. It is learned, and the Germans will be expected to make entirely new proposals. If they decide to do so, then the allies are ready to turn the repatriation clock back to January 11, and consider the whole situation anew, provided they are assured earnest co-operation from the German government.

ACTION FILED AGAINST FRIEL

Business Manager of St. Louis Browns Named by Urban Shocker in Complaint

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27 (AP)—A petition charging breach of contract and asking that Urban Shocker, star pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, be declared a free agent, was served today upon Wm. F. Friel, business manager of the Browns, by Jerome F. Duggan, attorney for the pitcher. A copy of the petition, it was announced, has been sent to Commissioner Landis.

Duggan declined to say whether the petition had been filed in court. Shocker likewise refused to comment on the action.

Notice of the action, however, was served on the Browns' management coincident with the announcement that in the recent suspension imposed upon Shocker for alleged insubordination he had been lifted and that he would be in uniform tomorrow when the Browns open a series with the Chicago White Sox.

The petition alleges that the action of the club in several material points of the suspension has breached his contract and that the pitcher no longer is bound to the team.

Shocker's suspension grew out of his desire to have Mrs. Shocker accompany the Browns team on the western trip. Club officials stated that this was in violation of a club rule which forbids a player's wife from accompanying him on a trip during the season.

Denmark's Alphabetical War

There is a battle of the big and lit the letters now being in Denmark. The Danish language, like the German, has hitherto adhered to the Middle-age practice of spelling its nouns with capital letters, but a progressive movement of growing strength demands the substitution of the little letters in conformity with English, French and other languages. The demand has aroused the fury of the conservative elements.

Now Minister of Education, Appel has determined to introduce the small-letter practice in the schools. As in the Bolshevik reform of the Russian orthography, the change of the initials changes the big letter and the small letter have become symbols of political opinion.

Evans Puts Lads to Gamboling on Green

Coach Prevents Interruption to Practice by Abandoning Muddy Field for City Park

Clint had his coils out gamboling on the green in fact Wednesday night. Lincoln field is a sea of mud, so the coach decided that one day of rest was enough and took the squad out in the city park.

It was almost as good as a real game to watch the scrimmage. The second team was punching some pretty big holes in the first string line and making considerable yardage for a time, but the vets got warm under the collar after Evans talked to them a bit and the second string met stiffer opposition.

Boy, that's a sweet backfield. You can't praise one without giving them all a shot, so take them all together and they are going hounds. East High will know she has been to a game. Some of the big boys on the line were loafing on the job a little, but the coach finally succeeded in firing them up a wee bit and some of those line tackles were grunting and making like to take their second string backfield men. They were hitting the line mightily hard Wednesday night and a lot of them looked like old-timers.

Maybe some of our neighbors would like to take our second team. It wouldn't be hard to pick the winner.

We're all for Rupert and you can rest assured that there will be a crowd out to see the game on the 30th.

The date will probably be set in the near future for the two games, and if over a game should be supported it is these two games.

A little sunshine and wind wouldn't hurt the field a bit and it will probably be forthcoming in the next day or so.

LEAGUE TURNS TO THE HAGUE FOR DECISION

Will Submit Two Questions on Competency to Permanent Court; Eminent Jurists to Pass on Other Problems

GENEVA, Sept. 27 (AP)—The council of the league of nations after a two-hour debate tonight agreed to submit two questions covering the general aspects of the competency in international complications to the permanent court of international justice at The Hague. This was brought about by the action of the smaller states who sent a note to the council relative to an interpretation of the covenant.

The council also provisionally decided that two other questions shall go before a special commission of eminent jurists, rather than to The Hague court because they deemed it to be of a political, rather than of a legal nature.

One concern was whether the council to adopt coercive measures, while the other endeavor to secure the fixation of a country's responsibility for crimes committed in its territory.

Ask Salandra's Consent

Members of the council tonight tried to induce Signor Salandra, the Italian member, to consent to The Hague court passing upon other matters, such as incidents affecting national honor, are to be excluded, but Signor Salandra was obstinate; he said he did not want such incidents to go to the permanent court and was not sure that he wanted them to go anywhere.

The French are seeking to act as conciliators, believing that eventually Italy will agree to a full examination of the covenant.

Favors Arms Reduction

M. Lohr, a former member of the secretariat, who helped to bring about the secret pact of mutual assistance, said tonight the world should realize that its chief aim was reduction of armaments, which was only possible in a world where peace and its security was established. He emphasized that Great Britain, France and Italy must ratify the pact before it can be operative in England decided definitely tonight that in view of the divergences of opinion on its contents, including the clause authorizing the supplementary committee to request to send in their opinion about the pact of the league. Hence, any action on the pact has been postponed until next year.

The assembly of the league held meetings today, both morning and afternoon, considering chiefly humanitarian problems and measures to organize relief for countries in distress. Dr. Nauman, who will soon tour the United States, was praised for his heroic efforts in this direction.

CHARGE AGAINST DOCTOR IS DISMISSED BY COURT

Charges against Dr. H. W. Wilson, professor at the prosecuting attorney's office at the instance of E. B. Dooley, and involving alleged commission of a statutory offense were dismissed Thursday by Judge W. A. Dooley in district court upon application of the prosecutor.

In an affidavit supporting the motion for dismissal, the prosecuting attorney declared that since the filing of the complaint in the case, August 17, "several material and essential witnesses for the state have expressed a reluctance and unwillingness to testify, and that the affidavits of testimony of said witnesses it is unlikely that a conviction could be secured, and that the prosecuting witness no longer desires to prosecute.

The prosecutor stated further that "this case is one of such nature that it should not be prosecuted unless there is a reasonable degree of probability that a conviction can be had; that the affidavits of testimony and therefore alleges that the ends of justice would be best served by having this action dismissed, and that the interest of the state of Idaho and of the community concerned in or connected with the alleged offense would best be served by having no further prosecution herein."

day "the fight is over so far as the right to continue."

There were indications tonight that within the next few days the governor would modify his martial law regulations and retire the greater part of the troops now mobilized.

Question Authority

The injunction petition filed by the plaintiffs declared that the action of Adjutant General B. H. Markham in dispersing them while they gathered at the capitol yesterday and in continuing through force and arms to prevent an assembly, "was and is without authority of law, and was and is an invasion of the constitutional and civil rights of these plaintiffs."

"It is the duty, purpose and intention of the plaintiffs and each of them as such members of said house of representatives peaceably to reassemble and continue the said session of the house, but plaintiffs are unable to do so because the defendant (Adjutant General Markham) has threatened and still threatens, by force and use of armed soldiers under his command, to continue forcibly to disperse any assembly of said house of representatives and to prevent its transacting any business and these plaintiffs from attending any session of said house and unless restrained by the order of this honorable court, he will do so," the petition stated.

Deny Guilt

The legislators denied in the petition that they have been guilty of any offense against the laws of the state or nation and disclaimed intention to commit any breaches of the peace.

"Under the constitution and laws of the state of Oklahoma, the governor and other elected officers are liable and subject to impeachment, and under the constitution and laws of the state of Oklahoma, the members of the house of representatives to present all impeachments to the senate sitting as a court of impeachment, and to draw up, approve and present articles of impeachment to prevent the same before the senate sitting as a court of impeachment through a board of managers appointed by it," the petition continued.

Dispersed "In Good Faith"

It related that the house members were dispersed when they assembled "in good faith to determine whether impeachable offenses had been committed by any officers of the state subject to impeachment. The legislators set out that the session was called in the belief that "many of the greatest of the constitution of the state have been and are being abrogated by executive action, and that the liberties of the citizens have been destroyed, and that the grossest corruption have been and are being committed."

The house members are represented by O. B. Stuart, J. F. Sharpe, John H. Miloy, E. M. Singleton, W. E. Dilshey and D. K. Richardson.

Brigadier General Charles E. McPherson of Durant, an attorney and state senator, appeared in court today in behalf of Adjutant General Markham.

GREEK PAYMENT VEXES ENGLAND

Diplomatic Circles Puzzled Over Action of Ambassadors on Indemnity Question

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Surprise is expressed in British official quarters over the sudden decision of the allied ambassadors' conference to award Italy the 50,000,000 lire deposited by Greece as a guarantee for indemnity in the case of a Greek revolution.

It is understood that the Marquis of Crewe, British member of the ambassadors' conference, was at first in favor of and opposed this award on the ground that Greece's culpability in the massacre had not been proven. The British government, however, it is asserted, making that it would be the minority of one against Italy, later decided for reasons of "diplomacy and expediency" to modify its attitude.

Political observers are now wondering whether the permanent court of international justice, to which the indemnity question was to have been entrusted, will accept the summary action of the ambassadors. The terms of the original agreement between Italy and Greece for settlement of the Janina dispute provided that amount of the indemnity was to be determined by the international court, judged on the strength of the report of the special commission of inquiry investigating the case.

This commission, in its preliminary report, exonerated the Greek government for complicity in the murder, but the ambassadors' conference, according to reports, is not only not only acknowledged the commission's opinion, but took the matter out of the hands of the court.

Mrs. Thomas Robertson was hostess to the Episcopal Guild Thursday afternoon. The usual business was transacted and the president, Mrs. C. C. Higgins, in the chair. The Rev. Charles H. Sumner told of the loss of all the property of the church in the recent earthquake in Japan and reported that some of the Episcopal missionaries had lost their lives. A special collection will be taken at next Sunday morning's service to assist in rebuilding. Plans were completed for the cooked food sale to be held at One Book Store on Tuesday. Roll call was answered with quotations from the Psalms. It was also decided to hold an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. E. F. Hester on Tuesday. Those who cannot come for all day are asked to come for as many hours as possible in order that work be completed as soon as possible. Mrs. Henry Bieler read a splendid paper on Mexico, and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Lizzie Smith.

In an effort to identify a man found murdered September 21 at Pocatello, who, authorities believe, may possibly have been a resident of Twin Falls, the sheriff of Bannock county has enlisted the assistance of the sheriff's office here. A description of the dead man, accompanied by a photograph, has been furnished to the local authorities. According to the description the man in question was white, between 30 and 40 years of age, weight about 135 pounds; height, five feet six or seven inches; sandy complexion and sandy mustache. He wore overalls and blue work shirt, heavy shoes, black stouch hat. He is believed to have been killed with a coupling pin out of a railroad car.

MINING MEN CONSIDER MANY BIG PROBLEMS

7. Appoint a committee to investigate the gold situation and recommend such measures as seem best suited to protect the gold standard in the United States and throughout the world.

Urges Action

In the resolution to test the right of the treasury department to revoke allotments of silver for coinage under the Pittman act, the proponents attacked by the revocation in the following language:

"It is therefore urged that the executive officers of the American Mining Congress, in conjunction with the producers of silver, immediately take such steps as may be necessary to bring the matter before the proper courts for interested consideration and judicial action, to the end that a situation which has caused producers to question the good faith of the government, may be clarified and the silver producers receive fully and exactly the benefits provided under the act, regardless of the action of a department that is wrongfully endeavoring through widespread propaganda to deceive the people into believing that producers seek an unfair interpretation of the act."

APPLE MARKET INFLUENCED BY BULLISH FACTOR

Growers Here Receive Report of Sales Through Canyon County Association for $40 a ton for Jonathans

The situation with respect to marketing of the season's apple crop in the Twin Falls district was influenced Thursday by introduction of a bullish factor in the form of a communication received by M. A. Strick, prominent grower from A. O'Reilly, Canyon county agricultural agent, relative to market conditions in that district.

Canyon county growers, in their determination to meet the demand for a ton for Jonathans, are meeting with success, according to Mr. O'Reilly, who states that two sales were made, Wednesday at that figure.

Growers here are not trying to do business with cash buyers. "Mr. O'Reilly's message said, 'Many inquiries are coming in from other states asking for prices. Two sales were made for a ton of 85¢ were made this morning for Jonathans. A few scattering sales at low figures are being made during the week.'"

An organization of growers in Canyon county is said to control an output of 600 carloads of apples.

LADINO SEED GROWERS ASSOCIATION CHARTERED

A tentative constitution for a statewide organization of Ladino clover growers, temporary organization of which was formed at a meeting Monday, was worked out at a meeting here Thursday evening at the temporary officers and a committee named for this purpose.

The proposed constitution, which with articles of agreement between growers and the association, will be submitted to the growers at a meeting to be held later. It was under supervision by the association over production and marketing of the seed crop.

Gives Community's Debt to Childhood

Assumption by Church of Responsibility for Modern Features Industry Predicted

It is the duty of the community to provide for its children's Christian homes, adequate schools and trained and efficient religious education and leadership, the Rev. A. L. Black, of Boise, member of the state executive committee of the Council of Religious Education, declared Thursday evening before an audience of about 100 persons assembled in the Presbyterian church at a session of the religious training institute being conducted here under direction of the state organization.

Prediction that the church eventually will assume the whole responsibility for motion pictures, taking the industry out of the hands of parents and directing it toward purposes of education, was made by Mr. Black in the course of his remarks.

He declared it is the duty of the church to combat every institution to the extent that such institution tended to interfere with child development along proper lines.

In connection with the institute, which will close three-day sessions here Friday evening, steps were taken Thursday evening toward formation of a county unit of the state and national councils of religious education.

The session Friday afternoon will be devoted to presentation by Miss Georgia Parker of a plan of work for the intermediate department; the Rev. A. L. Black, young people's department in church and church school work, and Dr. Franklin J. Estabrook, Division of organization and phases of church school work.

Dance Brings Drive to Successful End

Immense Crowd at Affair Closing Welfare Fund Campaign Offsets Disappointment

Disappointment over postponement because of rain, of the Rotary-Kwanza baseball game, scheduled as a feature event of the final day of the American Legion post's campaign for the benefit of its welfare fund, was mitigated to a considerable extent by success attending the dance under auspices of the post, which brought to Danesland Thursday evening one of the largest crowds ever assembled at a similar event in Twin Falls.

Assurance also was given the legion's representatives by members of those organizations, that the Rotary-Kwanza game, conceived with a view primarily to enhance the veterans' welfare fund, would be staged at a later date when weather conditions were more favorable.

Representatives of the Legion Thursday evening would not attempt an estimate of the financial returns of the campaign. It had been started some 30 days previously by Bert Sowie, who took a particularly prominent part in the campaign, that expenses of the undertaking had been met by receipts up to that time and that subsequent receipts would insure to the welfare fund.
