WOMAN RELATES STORY OF BEING BURNED BY ACID

Alleged Kidnaping Is Detailed to Military Court at Tulsa; Troops Search for Missing Brothers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 28 (AP)—The story of a woman who said she was kidnaped and outraged by two men, burned about the body with acid, and whose part of her hair, was made public tonight by Governor J. C. Walton in form of testimony given a military court of inquiry at Tulsa by Mrs. Pearl ...

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 28 (AP)—Military forces were sent to Creek county late tonight in search of Leonard and Floyd Cook, brothers, from their homes, following an appearance before the Tulsa military commission to give testimony de-

A note warning the Cook brothers to leave the community was found on the door of their home by the soldiers.

They have been here and you had better leave," it said. Jack Hyde and Morris Evans, named in military information growing out of the attack on the Cook dwelling and had for trial scheduled for next Tuesday, may not be prosecuted if the missing persons are not located, officers declared.

Six persons now are being sought by the military following their disappearance after appearing before the court of inquiry. In addition to the four members of the Cook family, whose departure was discovered tonight, Eugene Goolbsy and Myrtle Spain have been missing since September 25, when they failed to appear in preliminary hearing of four men named in riot information. Goolbsy and Mr. Spain were victims of a whipping several months ago.

MARTIAL LAW EXTENDED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 28 (AP)—The area of stringent martial law in Oklahoma was widened tonight when Governor J. C. Walton ordered national guard troops to Payne county in response to an appeal from District Judge C. C. Smith of Cushing. The judge declared that no justice can be obtained in the county through the courts, attorneys, the governor said.

ACCOUNTS OF HEROISM TOLD

Naval Inquiry into Destroyer Wreck Proceeds Slowly; Experts Give Testimony

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Tales of heroism rubbed elbows with navigation tips and expert testimony on naval tactics at today's session of the court of inquiry investigating the wreck of seven destroyers off Florida, Cal., September 8. When court adjourned until Monday all but two of the 13 commanders and lieutenant commanders involved as defendants in the destroyer inquiry had told their stories of the catastrophe. Testimony at the opening of the session developed an unusually technical tone when Commander William S. Pyle, chief of one of the three divisions of the stricken destroyer squadron, was asked during cross-examination to discuss certain features of destroyer tactics and naval policy with which he was known to be especially familiar. Commander Pyle is recognized as an authority on strategy and naval policy, and is an author of several text books used at the war college in Washington. He was asked: "As a recognized authority on naval tactics and doctrine, and on the basis of information obtained as a participant in this disaster, will you state that the commander of the division just ahead of yours could have done any more than he did to avoid the wreck?" "He could not," replied the witness.

Arizona Only State Barred to Idaho's Fruits, Vegetables

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 28 (AP)—Idaho fruits and vegetables may be shipped into all states in the union, except Arizona, upon complying with state regulations governing classification, grading and inspection, stated Commissioner of Agriculture M. A. Means yesterday, in reply to a wire received from Senator William E. Borah asking for information of Idaho's quarantine position. All Idaho farm products, except alfalfa hay and meal, can be shipped into Colorado, Oregon, California, Montana, Washington, Alabama and Nevada. Other states accept all of Idaho's products.

STEVE D. PARKE TAKEN BY DEATH

Well-Known Burley Editor, State Commissioner, Dies in Coast City

BURLEY, Idaho, Sept. 28—Steve D. Parke, 45, state commissioner of public investments, died Friday afternoon at Portland from complications resulting from influenza, with which he was stricken last spring, according to word received here. Mr. Parke, who had been critically ill for several weeks in a Portland hospital, was thought by friends and relatives to be improving, and the telegram announcing that he was dying, and a subsequent one announcing his death Friday afternoon, were received with a shock at Burley. The former state official left his office at the state house in Boise about ten weeks ago. At the time of his death Mr. Parke was the publisher and editor of the Burley Bulletin, with which he had been connected since 1910.

Mr. Parke, who was born in Salt Lake, Utah, was brought by his parents to Albion when he was a year old. He was raised on his father's ranch near that place, and received his academic education at the state normal school at Albion. Later he was a teacher and the principal of the Burley grade school. In 1909 Mr. Parke served as superintendent of the Twin Falls city schools. In the following year he acquired the Burley Bulletin and conducted it in the interests of the republican party.

FORTY PERSONS BELIEVED LOST IN TRAIN WRECK

Furiously Lashing Flood Current Sweeping Over Cars that Crashed Through Bridge in Wyoming; Bodies Still Buried

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Walker Davidson, manager of the central division of the American Red Cross, today wired Paul F. Steinkamp, Red Cross seed director at Fort D. A. Russell, Cheyenne, Wyo., asking him to proceed immediately to the scene of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train wreck near Casper, Wyo., and to offer any assistance and relief that may be needed.

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28 (AP)—Out in the sandy loan country near Lockhart, Wyo., 15 miles east of Casper, where creeks generally are but little larger than irrigation ditches, a furious lashing torrent is sweeping over the wrecked remains of what at the same hour last night was the crack Casper-Denver Burlington railroad train No. 30.

It is raining and snowing. The storm continued all day, rain and snow falling intermittently. Rescue workers, striving to find ways and means of reaching the victims known to be imprisoned in watery graves, were helpless. Several hundred of them, recruited from Casper and Glen Rock, stood on the banks of the creek in the whirling storm, unable to do anything to aid. As the day wore on, newspaper reporters noticed that the submerged cars were slowly settling in the flood waters.

Few Known Dead No additional bodies were recovered from the wreck this afternoon and the known dead consist of Nicholas Semetz of Douglas, Wyo., D. E. Schultz of Casper, a baggage man, and an unknown man who was beating his way on the trucks of the baggage car. It is impossible to accurately estimate the total toll of lives taken by the wreck. Generally a conservative estimate places the number of persons who lost their lives, while railroad authorities say fewer persons were lost. The death figure probably will not be known for many days. Tornadoes and Cloudbursts Cause Severe Damage Over Wide Area; Many Homeless

Twister in Iowa Followed by Fire

Six Persons Reported Killed when Storm Hits Council Bluffs; Buildings Razed

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Sept. 28 (AP)—Six persons are reported to have been killed in the tornado which struck this city shortly after 5 o'clock tonight, uprooting trees, blowing down houses and sheds. Four of the dead were killed when their homes collapsed. The rear of the Strand theatre, on the banks of Indian creek, collapsed, but no one, it was said, was injured. The dead are: Mrs. Lura Kalstrup, 45, her three sons, Chester, 4; George, 7; and Edward, 6. Fred Ruppke, 35, stock buyer of Wellsville, Mo. Unidentified man.

City Flooded The downtown section of the city is flooded for more than a mile square. So swift is the current in the streets that spectators rushing to the scene of the tornado were unable to remain on their feet. A warehouse, several homes and garages were destroyed by a fire which started soon after the tornado. The fire department, which was called to aid in the rescue of unroofed persons, was unable to come within more than half a mile of the stranded persons, or the fires. More than an hour after the first alarm of fire was sounded, firemen succeeded in getting water on the burning structures. Arthur Hafer, who lives in the bank of the creek, reported that he saw a man floating down the river clinging to a log, screaming for help. Before he could attempt to aid the man he was swept down the raging creek.

Explosion Averted A serious explosion was probably averted by the fact that several barrels of oil in the garage of A. G. Hlasky, whose garage caught fire, fell into the river before exploding. The explosion, if it had occurred, would have flooded with more than a foot of water. Police received reports shortly after midnight that a man whose name they

RIVER RISING AT SCENE OF FATAL TRAIN WRECK

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28 (AP)—With a continuing downpour in the district about Cole creek, it is reported here that the stream has risen three to four feet since midnight Thursday. This morning it was said, that the recovery of bodies engulfed in Thursday night's train wreck probably will be hindered and perhaps delayed tomorrow. Rain has fallen in Casper and throughout central Wyoming continuously for nearly 48 hours with little indication of any let-up. Snow fell part of the afternoon at the scene of the wreck.

EIGHT KILLED IN NEBRASKA

Members of Family Lose Life in Cloudburst; Property Loss Runs into Thousands

LOUISVILLE, Neb., Sept. 28 (AP)—Eight persons were killed and thousands of dollars worth of damage done when a cloudburst struck this city tonight. The eight dead are relatives and neighbors of the local Red Cross chapter has assumed charge of relief work upon authorization of Mayor Charles Sheldon. One life appeared to have reached its crest late this afternoon, the water in the Big Goose, which was seven feet higher than the normal stage, dropping two feet. The Little Goose showed a slight drop despite the fact that the rain continued to fall unabated. More than four inches of rain have fallen in the last 48 hours.

Several hundred residents of northern and eastern Sheridan will be forced to spend the night huddled in attics, it was said. One life is reported lost and damage to exceed $200,000 is said to have resulted. ESTIMATE $1,000,000 LOSS. CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28 (AP)—The flood disaster in central Wyoming was not confined to the wreck near here last night, but was marked by damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars on a wide area east and west of here, and in the Salt-river valley. The service in all directions was paralyzed today.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad sustained the greatest damage, a large part of which represents repair work rushed for the last two months to place the line west of here in condition for service following the great flood of last summer. Damage at that time was estimated at over $600,000, and this damage is believed to have been repaired with the duplication of cloudbursts along the Wind river.

BRIDGES WASHED AWAY

On the Chicago and Northwestern, nearly all bridges between here and Lander were washed out and on both roads, it is reported, miles of track and roundbeds are gone. The Northwestern replaced several after the summer flood.

Salt creek suffered enormous damage from cloudbursts last night. Trunk line carriers to Casper were broken, resulting in a flood of oil which drifted over surrounding territory. The home camp of the Midwest Refining company, the largest operator in the field, was inundated and vast quantities of oil which the oil field reported water running from one to four feet in depth with resulting damage to houses and oil equipment. Bridges and streams in the field nearly all went out.

CONSIDER ERECTION OF MEMORIAL TO HARDING

Corporation Headed by Coolidge and Members of Cabinet May Be Formed to Raise Needed Money

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Consideration was given by President Coolidge and his cabinet today to the proposal that a memorial be erected in honor of the late President Harding and it was indicated that such appropriation will have the backing of the chief executive and his cabinet members who served under the late president. A corporation headed by Mr. Coolidge and the members of the cabinet probably will be formed in which many other friends of Mr. Harding will be associated for the purpose of raising money and directing the building of the memorial. The site and location have not been decided but the suggestion has been made and considered that the memorial be erected in Marion, Ohio, the home and burial place of the late chief executive.

Auto License Fees Throughout Idaho at $900,000 Total

BOISE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Automobile license fees in the state of Idaho up to September 1, amounted to nearly $900,000, according to Secretary of State P. A. Jeter. For approximately 59,000 licenses, licensees, $880,080.01 has been collected. Licenses collected for violation of the license laws relating to motor vehicles totalled $19,919.99.

Barracks Shelter Refugees of Flood

Guard Troops Patrol Sheridan District; Train Service Paralyzed

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Sept. 28 (AP)—Several hundred refugees, driven from their homes by great walls of water came crashing down on Sheridan early this morning as Big Goose and Little Goose creeks overflowed their banks, were preparing to spend the night in temporary barracks erected in the city by the Salvation Army building, the Y. M. C. A. and the school gymnasium. Big and Little Goose creeks became raging torrents early this morning with a few hours' time and flooded the northern and eastern sections of the city, covering these sections with from two to four feet of water.

National guard troops have been called out to assist in patrolling the flooded areas. The local Red Cross chapter has assumed charge of relief work upon authorization of Mayor Charles Sheldon. One life appeared to have reached its crest late this afternoon, the water in the Big Goose, which was seven feet higher than the normal stage, dropping two feet. The Little Goose showed a slight drop despite the fact that the rain continued to fall unabated. More than four inches of rain have fallen in the last 48 hours.

NATIONAL BANK OF GREECE, Acting on Instructions of Government, Sends Order for 50,000,000 Lire Payment

ATHENS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Acting on instructions issued by the Greek government, the national bank of Greece has telegraphed the Swiss national bank authorizing the institution to make immediate payment of the 50,000,000 lire indemnity deposit to Italy. The presentation of Greece's reply to the council of ambassadors with respect to the cabinet's decision in the controversy between Greece and Italy has been postponed until tomorrow.

ROME, Sept. 28 (AP)—Official denial was given today to the statement printed in a Rome newspaper that Italian dreadnaughts are still in the port of Corfu and that Greece will not pay in indemnity to Italy. Some small Italian naval units are making new ports, but outside territorial waters, the denial declares and not one Italian soldier remains on the island, which was returned yesterday to the Greek authorities.

ENGLAND'S FAMOUS STATESMAN FETED ON EVE OF DEPARTURE FOR CANADA AND U. S.

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—David Lloyd George today was given a stirring send-off by the members of the American Society who gave a luncheon in his honor on the eve of his departure for a tour of Canada and the United States. The former premier said he was going to America neither to make speeches, write a book, nor "as a missionary or proselyter," but primarily to show Canada and the United States for their great help during the war and to see how a modern, progressive country like the great American republic had dealt with the outstanding problems of the time. England, he said, was part of the old civilization which at times seemed afflicted with periodic outbreaks, but when aroused gave ample proof of its vitality. The old countries of Europe were fettered and dominated by the new, more advanced nations, he said. Lloyd George's tour of Canada and the United States is his last official visit to the continent of North America.

State Department Sends Note to the League of Nations Setting Forth Objections to Arms Traffic Convention

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The state department has just made public the American note to the league of nations in which the United States declines to become a party to the proposed arms traffic convention through ratification of the convention of Saint Germain. The purpose of the communication was disclosed at the Geneva sessions of the league a few days ago, but attached to the text as made public today was an explanatory statement saying that the note "did not indicate that this government was less anxious than other powers suitably to control the traffic and arms."

Dealing with objections to the convention the note said: "While the application of the convention to certain designated areas or zones, extending in effect the Brussels convention, may fulfill a useful object, the plan of the present convention is much broader. The distinctive feature of this plan is not a provision for a general limitation or armament, but the creation of a system of control by the signatory powers of the traffic in arms and ammunition, these signatory powers being left free not only to meet their own requirements in the territories subject to their jurisdiction, but also to provide for supplying each other with arms and munitions to the full extent that they may see fit."

Object to Terms. "There is particular objection to the provisions by which the contracting parties would be prohibited from selling arms and munitions to states not parties to the convention. By such provision this government would be required to prevent shipments of military supplies to such Latin-American countries as have not signed or adhered to the convention, however desirable it might be to permit such shipments, merely because they are not signatory powers and might not desire to adhere to the convention."

World Mean New Laws. "It should be observed also that the acceptance by the United States of an agreement of the nature and scope of the convention of Saint Germain would call for the enactment of legislation to make it operative, and particularly for the imposition of penalties applicable to private arms producing concerns as a means of establishing an effective control. This government is not in a position to undertake to obtain the enactment of such legislation."

"Finally, it may be observed that the provisions of the convention relating to the league of nations are so intertwined with the whole convention as to make it impracticable for this government to ratify, in view of the fact that it is not a member of the league of nations."

Wyoming Tornado Wrecks Many Houses and Sweeps Freight Cars from Tracks

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 28 (AP)—Apprehension regarding the situation at Pine Bluffs, 42 miles east, wire communication with which was cut off by a storm late Thursday afternoon, was relieved when telephone communication was restored this morning. A tornado swept about seven miles east of Pine Bluffs yesterday afternoon, but the storm was merely a torrential rain at Pine Bluffs.

Near Smeed, several miles east of Pine Bluffs, the tornado struck a west-bound Union Pacific freight train of 67 cars and wrecked 47 cars in the center of the train, leaving 14 cars on the rails at either end. The wrecked cars were lifted from their trucks and scattered along the double track. None of the train crew was injured.

North of Smeed the wind wrecked a number of residences and other farm buildings but injured no one. Fragmentary reports reaching here tell of torrential rains in eastern, southern and central Wyoming. Both the Burlington and Chicago and Northwestern tracks were washed out east of Bonnaville, where disastrous floods occurred last June.

The Man Who Talked at Random

He sat in the window-corner of the Pullman's smoking compartment, and breathed fatly and uttered large opinions in a suety voice. It grew late, as so often it does; and he put the quietus on a discussion with the ponderous statement:

"I don't read advertisements. They have no effect on me at all. I'd never miss them if they stopped printing 'em."

Then he glanced at his advertised watch and sought his lower berth.

In the morning the ad-skeptic contorted himself out of his advertised pajamas into his advertised underwear, drew on his advertised socks, adjusted them with his advertised garters, got into his advertised clothes, laced his advertised shoes and added himself to the congestion in the wash-room.

There he shaved with an advertised razor, using advertised shaving cream; brushed his teeth with an advertised toothbrush and advertised dental cream, washed with advertised soap, and brushed his hair with an advertised brush. Buttoning his advertised collar on an advertised button, he neatly knotted his advertised tie, gave his advertised suspenders a tug or two, and finished dressing.

Let us leave him there, this man who never reads advertisements!

Everything worth using is advertised. Everything that isn't, rarely is.

Nine of these pennant triumphs have been gained during the indomitable leadership of John Joseph McGraw, "Little Napoleon" of the diamond, who leads all other managers in this respect. His nearest rival is Connie Mack, tall mentor of the Philadelphia Athletics, who has six to his credit.

McGraw holds the additional distinction of having twice in his career won three pennants in a row, a feat no other manager has ever performed. The first time was in 1907, 1908 and 1909. The second time was in 1911, 1912 and 1913. The Chicago Nationals twice captured three flags in a row, but two managers shared in the honors, the late "Pop" Anson leading the club to the top in 1880, 1881 and 1882, while Frank Chance outdistered the Cubs to championships in 1906, 1907 and 1908.

Besides his triumphs of the past three seasons McGraw also accounted for pennants in 1904, 1906 and 1917. The other New York pennants were won in 1888 and 1890.

The Giants won the pennant this year only after one of the hardest fought campaigns in annals of the senior circuit. Except for a brief spell by the Brooklyn Dodgers early in the season the world's champions met their stiffest opposition from three western clubs with Cincinnati and Pittsburgh forming the chief difficulty to their supremacy.

The real turning point in the race came in the crucial midsummer western trip of the Giants, who played at the top of their game to defeat Pittsburgh in the opening series and then take five straight from the Reds. These victories gave the McGrawmen a formidable advantage, but they were forced to stand off further challenges.

The Reds, despite their crushing setbacks, rallied and kept close to the top by taking a later series from the Giants at the Polo grounds. Virtually all further chance for the Reds vanished, however, when these two rivals clashed even in a two-game series at Cincinnati early this week.

One game on the Giants' schedule will be unplayed, a contest with St. Louis, scheduled earlier in the season has been cancelled.

AMERICAN NAVY FLIER TAKES SCHNEIDER CUP

Lieutenant David Rittenhouse Drives Curtiss Hooper at 177 Miles an Hour Against Field of Sixty-two

COWES, Isle of Wight, Sept. 28 (AP)—Lieutenant David Rittenhouse of the United States navy, driving his Curtiss navy racer at a speed of 177.38 miles an hour, today won the Schneider cup from its English holder against a field which had simmered down to another American, an Englishman and a Frenchman.

Lieutenant Rittenhouse crossed the line of the 480-mile course in one hour, 32 minutes, 36.45 seconds, his American colleague, Lieutenant Rutledge Irvine, was less than two minutes behind him and the Englishman, Captain H. H. Baird, more than nine minutes behind. The Frenchman was eliminated when forced to make a landing in the water. His plane was towed ashore unharmed.

Captain Baird has been disqualified because he rose from the water before crossing the starting line, instead of taxiing over it, but as the plane hummed the water after crossing the line the judges withdrew their disqualification. Engine trouble developing at the last moment kept two of the French entrants from flying. Accidents during trials had already accounted for one of the Americans and two of the English entrants.

GOODING TRIMS SHOSHONE
Victors Put in Second Team for Second Year. Win Clash with Score of 25 to 6.
GOODING, Sept. 28 (Special to The News)—On a muddy field Gooding High school team here today, 25 to 6. The work of the Gooding backfield was exceptionally good during the first half and the 25 points were piled up in that half. The second team went in for the last half and were unable to score against the Shoshone team.

FILER, Sept. 28 (Special to The News)—Filer high school defeated Oatfield high school in the first conference football game here today, 94 to 0. This is Filer's first year in football and every man in the school is on the team. They put up a pleckish battle but were outclassed.

BUHL LOSES TO WENDELL
WENDELL, Sept. 28 (Special to The News)—In one of the most evenly contested football games seen on the local gridiron Wendell high school defeated Buhl high school today, 7 to 0. Elliott, Wendell quarter, took away through the line for a 30-yard run with the only touchdown of the game. Elliott, quarter, and Christopher, fullback, were the outstanding stars, but it was a little more experience they will be going for Buhl.

GRIDIRON NOTES
Lincoln field was in pretty fair condition Friday night and the boys were out getting the shake of the mud, if nothing else. A number of the first string men were not out, but Evans has plenty of substitutes and the scrimmage was snappy.

Now all we need is a game and that will probably be forthcoming before long. The Mistletoe Country News (Rupert) says that Rupert high is arranging a schedule with Idaho Falls, Blackfoot, Pocatello, Boise, and expect to see a better brand of football than in previous years.

Jenks and Crom were on the crippled list, "nothing serious but both were taking a rest. Jim was out of town and Fizzello was not out in a suit so the coach was short-handed. Rupert has a game scheduled on October 5 with Blackfoot at Rupert and on the following Saturday, October 12, they play Idaho Falls. Let's support them all we can. Blackfoot always has a top-notch team and Blackfoot says his team is good but light, but that they will be in there battling every minute.

ACCOUNTS OF HEROISM

Signal Game Too Late
Commander Pye said that he observed nothing dangerous about the course which the Delphy, flagship of the squadron, was steering, until she led the column in a sharp turn eastward.
Lieutenant Commander John P. McClain, the next witness, said that as captain of the U. S. S. Farragut, he had been puzzled by apparently contradictory reports from the Delphy and the Arguello, and that he had just received the other bearing indicating they were too far north for the eastward chance of course they had just executed, when he looked out over the water and ships began to pile up around the Delphy.

HUNDREDS SHOWN WRECKAGE

Hundreds of people visited the scene of the wreck today and silently viewed the tangled mass of steel and wood in the stream. They gazed at the wrecked express car and the bodies of a man clad in faded blue overalls, the feet dangling in the water. In the vestibule of the same car the body of a man, hanging face downward, could be seen. And while they stood helpless, unable to reach the victims, the angry current roared over the sides of the car.

CAUSE UNDETERMINED

Railroad men today declared their belief that the accident could not have been prevented. An hour before the train, swinging around a slight curve on scheduled time and with no warning, crashed through the bridge spanning the small stream of Coal creek. A track walker reported that he had inspected the structure and found it safe. Workmen by heavy storms and with its edge torn away by the raging torrent as the result of a cloud-burst, the small bridge was in no condition to withstand its heavy load of steel.

FORM PLANS ON GRAIN PROBLEM

Coolidge, Hoover and Wallace to Give Farmers' Plight Serious Consideration

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (In)—Informed through a series of conferences as to the situation faced by the wheat growers of the central northwest, President Coolidge expects to meet with Secretaries Wallace and Hoover within a few days to determine what remedies may be applied to the ills of agriculturists generally.

The plight of the wheat growers was laid before Secretary Hoover in detail today by the delegation which conferred yesterday with President Coolidge and Secretary Wallace. The conferences with the two cabinet members treated the subject of wheat in more detail than was possible at the White House meeting and the president in his study of the question desires to avail himself of the information and advice of the two secretaries.

Propose Special Session

Members of the delegation from the northwestern states embraced in the Minneapolis federal reserve act have proposed that the president call congress into special session to enact legislation to revive the United States grain corporation, minimize its war-time powers to fix prices, that they also have asked a reduction on freight rates on wheat and wheat products.

Seek Immediate Action

Inquiry at the White House today brought no information as to the impression made on the president by the presentation of the delegation, but it was said the president was anxious to consider the proposals as soon as possible with Secretaries Wallace and Hoover. The president is convinced that while the war finance corporation may be helpful in the present situation, it is not a lack of credit but a lack of markets that lies at the bottom of the farmers' difficulties. The finance corporation, it was pointed out at the White House, has extended credit through local banks since its revival two years ago and has advanced between three and four hundred million dollars and has outstanding $150,000,000. The corporation, it was alleged, still stands ready to supply loans, but the difficulty now is to get for the products of the farmers. Such credits, it was asserted, could be helpful now principally through enabling the farmers to hold their crops until market conditions become more favorable.

Rates Criticized

The delegation previously had visited the offices of the war finance corporation. Mr. Meyer, president of the board, declared the rates paid for deposits by many of the state banks, particularly in the ninth federal reserve district, have been so high "that they determine a level of interest rates for loans to the farmers which is burdensome."

Loans Heavy

Directors of the corporation said that of a total of 4223 banks in the United States to which loans have been made, 1,577 are located in North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana, and that the organization has outstanding about $28,000,000 in loans to the banks of the four states, or almost 64 per cent of all money outstanding. Mr. Meyer told the delegation that in addition to aiding in bringing down interest rates for agricultural purposes, they could be helpful in promoting co-operative marketing organizations.

ENROLLMENT SHOWS GAIN AT TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

POCATELLO, Idaho, Sept. 28—Enrollment at the Pocatello Technical Institute at the opening of the present term is a little over 18 per cent greater than that at the corresponding date last year. A feature of the present year's attendance is the large increase in the number of high school graduates enrolled for freshman and sophomore work in the Junior college.

SOCIETY

On Thursday evening former teachers of the Washington school entertained the new teachers with a four-course progressive dinner. Miss Clara Hillier and Miss Slurry were hostesses at the home of Mrs. E. J. Costello. Refreshments were served when the guests arrived, after which social vocal solos were given by Mrs. Emma Smith and Mrs. James Hall. There was an entertaining guessing contest. Sheets with holes for the eyes and nose were hung up and the guests delighted in guessing the persons standing behind the curtain while the other group guessed who was behind the sheet. The group guessing the most faces correctly received a box of Miss Elizabeth Shotwell and Miss Ann Craven were additional guests.

Mrs. A. H. Vincens entertained the Fortnightly club Friday afternoon at her home on Eighth avenue north. The usual games of bridge were played, Mrs. Edward Cooper winning the prize for highest score. The Pythian Social club was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. R. Halpin. The general plan of entertainment was in the form of an "excursion," roll call being answered by a "traveling experience" which proved to be exceedingly interesting. All games and contests carried out this idea, prizes being won by Mrs. Arthur Edgett, Mrs. D. Harvey Cook and Mrs. F. H. Higbee. The rooms were gay in their decorations of marigolds and a dainty lunch was given. Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Jack Elmore. NEW ANGLE DEVELOPS IN DAM CONSTRUCTION SUIT

Farm Development Company Denies Any Indebtedness to Building Corporation and Claims $61,814 Damages

Another angle to litigation involving settlement for cost of construction of the Rosworth project irrigation system was developed Friday in the case of the Idaho Construction company against the Idaho Farm Development company, when Judge W. A. Babcock, in district court here, upon application of the Farm Development company, signed an order making the Idaho Surety company a party to the action. In an amended answer and cross-complaint filed at the same time by attorneys for the Farm Development company denial is made of the claim of the construction company for $50,000 in payment for its work in connection with the building of the irrigation system, and claim on the part of the Farm Development company for $61,814.54 damages from the construction company is asserted.

The damage claim includes $40,814.84 for damage alleged to have been suffered as a result of abandonment by the construction company in March, 1920, of its contract to build the system, and an additional sum of $21,000 under provisions of the contract providing for forfeiture by the construction company of $20 per day for the period beyond the expiration of the time limit for completion of the work.

The Farm Development company is represented in this action by S. L. Hoelich, Twin Falls; Edwin Snow, Boise, and A. W. Ostrom, Boise.

meteoric of the New York Exchange. Big capitalists no longer deal so heavily in Wall Street, because the income tax takes too much of speculative profits. The Federal Reserve system has established a dozen centers of finance, each with its own problems and opportunities.

HOOPS FOR WOMEN: Dr. Catherine Tepper of Wichita, Kansas, says that pointed toes and high heels worn by mothers affect not only them but their children, resulting often in the birth of congenital cripples.

Dr. W. V. Reinsburg of Minneapolis, president of the National Association of Chiropodists, while making no such claim for the immediate effects of deforming a woman's feet by stylish shoes, suggests a startling result in the long run.

Which, as Madame will agree, would be a devil of a thing to hobble around on.

SUGAR: NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—There was no change in the local raw sugar market as the close prices were concerned with Cuban held at 6 cents cost and freight, equal to $7.75 for cent.

Reports of more liberal offerings of full duty sugars in the spot market led to renewed selling pressure in raw sugar futures. The market at the time showed declines of 2 to 14 points on active positions under liquidation and selling said to be for Cuban account.

HEADSTREET'S REPORT: NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: "While there is a considerable degree of irregularity still reported, trade, crops and industry, the general trend of distributive trade is responding to stimulating causes hitherto noted is still forward. Fall buying in wholesale and jobbing lines is slightly better than a week ago when retail buying gained more slowly. Industry, too, shows a slight gain on the whole, and collections are rather better."

THE BROWN MOUSE: making an inspection of the rural school exhibit. "I hear he has been having some trouble with his school board," the professor was saying.

The BROWN MOUSE By HERBERT QUICK (Copyright by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

The Colonel Takes the Field. Jim stood apart and alone with his thoughts after his rebuff by the caucusing members of the school board.

"I don't see," said a voice over against the cooking stove, "what there is in this to set people talking. Buttonholes! Cookiest! Humph!"

It was Mrs. Bonner who had clearly come to scoff. With her was Mrs. Bronson, whose attitude was that of a person torn between conflicting interests. Her husband had indicated to the crafty Bonner and the subtle Peterson that he was still loyal to the school board, but while consorting with the censorious Mrs. Bonner she evinced restiveness when the school and its work was condemned.

"And I had not Newton become a better boy—a wonderfully better boy?" Mrs. Bonner asked with resentment that she also could not be enrolled among Jim Irwin's supporters.

And when Mrs. Bonner sneered at the buttonholes and cookies, Mrs. Bronson, knowing how the little fingers had puzzled themselves over the one, and how she had been floundering and red over the other, thured up a little.

"And I don't see," said she, "anything to laugh at. I'd like to help them."

Mrs. Bonner was far too good a diplomat to be cornered in the same enclosure with a rupture of relations. "And quite right, too," said she. "The little things ought to be helped—at home and by their mothers."

"Well," said Mrs. Bronson, "take them Simms girls now. They have to have help outside their home."

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Bonner, "and a lot more help than a farm-hand can give 'em in school. I shouldn't wonder if there was a lot we don't know about why they come north."

"As for that," replied Mrs. Bronson, "I don't know as it's any of my business so long as they behave themselves."

Again Mrs. Bonner felt the situation getting out of hand. "Ain't it some of our business?" she queried. "I wonder now! By the way, Newton keeps his eye on that Simms girl shouldn't wonder if it might turn out your business."

"Pshaw!" scoffed Mrs. Bronson. "Puppy love!" "You can't tell how far it'll go," persisted Mrs. Bonner. "I tell you these schools are getting to be nothing more than spunking holes, from the county superintendent down."

"Well, maybe," said Mrs. Bronson, "but I don't see spunk in everything boys and girls do as quick as some."

"I wonder," said Mrs. Bonner, "if Colonel Woodruff would be as friendly to Jim Irwin if he knew that everybody says Jennie decided he was to keep his certifik because she wanted him to get along in the world, so he can marry her?"

"I don't know as she is so very friendly to him," replied Mrs. Bronson; "and Jim and Jennie are both of age, you know."

"Yes," said Jennie, "he has. Proceedings before me to revoke his certifikate."

"On what grounds?" "I found that his pupils were really going very well in the regular course of study—which he seems to be neglecting."

"I'm glad you supported him," said the professor. "I'm glad to find you helping him."

"Ah, I see," replied the professor, "Mendelian segregation, you mean?" "Certainly," said the colonel. "The sort of mind that imbibes things from its mother."

"Well, he's rather wonderful," declared the professor. "I had him to lunch today. He surprised me. I have invited him to make an address at Ames next winter during farmers' week."

"Is?" Jennie's tone showed her astonishment. Jim the underling. Jim the official. Jim the thorn in the county superintendent's side. Jim the country teacher! It was stupifying.

"Oh, you mustn't judge him by his looks," said the professor. "I really do hope he'll take some advice on the matter of clothes—put on a cravat and a different shirt and collar when he comes to Ames—but I have no doubt he will."

"He hasn't any other," said the colonel. "Well, it won't signify, if he has the truth to tell us," said the professor. "Has he?" asked Jennie.

"Miss Woodruff," replied the professor earnestly, "he has something that looks toward truth, and something we need. Just how far he will go, just what he will amount to, it is impossible to say. But something must be done for the rural schools—something along the lines he is trying to follow. He is a struggling soul, and he is worth helping. You won't make any mistake if you make the most of Mr. Irwin."

"I have invited him to make an Address."

GOT TOO POPULAR

Why Couple Returned to Kitchennette Apartment.

He liked "compy" and his young wife was also fond of having folks in. Life was much less monotonous when friends were around. But they lived in a one-room apartment with a very tedious disappearing kitchenette, and when they were both at home the place was thronged. They had no space to give over to entertaining visitors.

One evening, says a writer in the New York Sun and Globe, they invited a couple in for some bridge and when they pivoted the visiting lady was badly trampled. After that lamentable experience they gave up the idea entirely and spent all of their spare time longing for the day when the incoming sailings would be abundant enough to provide commodious quarters.

"If we can only get ourselves adequately housed," said the wife, "we can entertain our friends to our hearts' content."

The husband finally dislodged the necessary raise in salary. With no attempt to conceal their jubilation, they selected an apartment with four rooms, a kitchenette and a bath. Almost hilariously they announced frequent house-warmings. Their many friends flocked to offer congratulations.

And after the first period of celebrations had ended the friends continued to come. They dropped in without invitation or provocation. From their own cramped quarters they issued continuously to share in the ecstasies of the fortunate ones. The "famine of compy" ended. The young man and his wife were inundated with it. Several vain efforts were made to stop the inrush. But the friends coldly overlooked all hints and fettered not.

Early one Sunday morning, as the last of a large delegation of self-invited poker players had departed, the husband spoke. There was a trace of exasperation in his voice.

"When we lived where we couldn't entertain we wanted 'compy' all the time," he said. "Now that we are in position to entertain we have it all the time, whether we want it or not. Our friends drop in as if this were a subway station. They seem to think I'm the commissioner of parks and playgrounds. Just because we have more square footage than they have they do their coming here. The only difference between our home and the public library is that we allow smoking and serve refreshments. I'm through. The young wife checked every statement. And soon thereafter, although the multitude of friends bemoaned their act, they moved back to their former location. They decided if crowding had to be done they would do it themselves. They elbowed each other around and saved money. And when they felt as if they needed "compy" they rode a local train through the East side subway, during a rush hour and attempted to get off at Thirty-fourth street.

LATE CROP ESTIMATES SWING WHEAT PRICE UP

Market at Chicago Closes Firm with Slightly Higher Quotations on Strength of Reports from Canada

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—New Canadian crop estimates 57,000,000 bushels smaller than the Canadian government's latest returns had much to do with a decided upturn today in wheat prices here.

With buying on a much broader scale than has been the rule, wheat led to only transient comobacks. The wide discrepancy between the estimate today from the northwestern grain dealers was explained here as due largely to differences in the average basis used.

High price records for the season were again outdone in the corn market by all months except December. Wet weather acted as a stimulus to buyers, and it was said farm reserves were the smallest in twenty years, barring one instance.

Shorts in oats covered freely. Provisions were firmer in line with grain and hogs.
