MYSTERY VEILS SUDDEN LEAVING OF FREDERICK FROM WIERINGEN

Wurttemberg Government Negotiates for Separatist Movement Against Berlin; Communists Bring Pressure to Bear on Cabinet in Critical Governmental Caucuses

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Wurttemberg government, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph, has entered into negotiations with the Bavarian government for joint separatist action against Berlin.

The prince, accompanied by the burgomaster, who is responsible for his safety, left hardly six hours ago for the Wieringen. His exact destination is not known, adds the correspondent, but it is said not to have been Doorn. He was expected to return late Tuesday night.

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Hans von Raumer, the German minister of economics, has resigned, says a Reuters dispatch from Berlin tonight. It is officially declared that von Raumer's resignation was not due to cabinet differences, but personal reasons.

Ministers Resign. Dr. Hans Luther, food minister in the Stresemann cabinet, has resigned, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph.

Dr. Eugene von Kulling has resigned as premier of Bavaria, says a Central dispatch from Berlin, and he is to be succeeded by Dr. von Kahr, who was recently named Bavarian military dictator with the title of general commissioner of state.

BERLIN, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Stresemann cabinet was still in session at 1 o'clock this morning. A protracted controversy was precipitated by the socialist demand that Bavaria repeal her martial law decree.

CHANCELLOR LOSES SUPPORT

BERLIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Chancellor Stresemann's effort to construct a national parliamentary coalition, giving unified support to his proposed "economic dictatorship," have failed to win the unqualified support of all the Reichstag parties, and up to a late hour tonight the political situation was in a state of confusion.

At the end of a day devoted to party caucuses and deliberations over the chancellor's "authorization bill" by virtue of which he would give sweeping authority in dictating the economic measures, the united socialists informed him that while they were not altogether opposed to some of the cardinal features of his economic program, they were opposed to the existing state of emergency and would support the communist resolution demanding its immediate repeal.

Ebert Informed. Upon receipt of the ultimatum the chancellor immediately proceeded to President Ebert and apprised him of the socialists' attitude, which if put into execution would deprive his majority.

Farmer-Senator Picks Flaws in G. O. P. Affairs

Magnus Johnson Runs into News Hounds on Reaching Capitol; Says Coolidge-May Be Progressive Some Day

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor senator from Minnesota, came to Washington today to confer with President Coolidge and to familiarize himself with what are to be his future surroundings on "Capitol Hill." He will visit the White House at noon tomorrow and will leave in mid-afternoon for Chicago, where he is to speak Friday night.

Confronted by a maze of corridors in the senate office building, Senator Johnson on his arrival there inquired of a negro attendant as to the location of room 125.

COOLIDGE GIVES CONSIDERATION TO FARM RELIEF

President Takes Under Advice-ment Plans for War Corporation to Accept Foreign Buyers' Settlements

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Coolidge, continuing his study of the agricultural situation through conferences with farm organization representatives, received and took under consideration a proposal that, as a means of relieving the farmers of the country, the war finance corporation accept settlements made by foreign buyers of American farm products.

The proposal was presented to the president by the executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which, like the executive committee of the National Grange, received yesterday by the president, was called by invitation of the executive.

Outlines Plan. As laid before the president, the plan contemplates no additional explanation or actions by congress. It merely would have the war finance corporation take over the settlement received by farmers' cooperative organizations for grain sold for export, the corporation paying from its funds to the cooperative organizations the amounts involved. Authority for such action is contained in the act creating the war finance corporation and the plan, in the opinion of the farm bureau federation, could be quickly put into effect.

Second Scheme Listed. Another proposal similar to that made by the farm bureau federation, is under consideration by the president and has been the subject of conferences held by him with the war finance corporation members within the last few days. It involves organization privately, but with the assistance of government funds and export corporation to deal in the farm products, but not committed himself to the plan, but is thinking over a suggestion that either Manning Director Meyer or Director Mondell of the finance corporation, visit the central northwest to discuss it with the wheat growers on the ground.

Moore's Rail Head. President Coolidge also discussed the farm question today with Howard Elliott, chairman of the board of the Northern Pacific railway company, who opposed general reduction in freight rates on agricultural products, but told the president that a decrease in rates on grain and other products designed for export might be helpful to the farmer.

Late Returns from Half of Oklahoma Voting Districts Shows Nearly Five to One Victory for Proponents of Special Session to Consider Official Acts of State Executive

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 2 (AP)—Late returns from county districts in Oklahoma's special election today emphasized the overwhelming victory of opponents of Governor J. C. Walton who sponsored a constitutional amendment authorizing the state legislature to convene by its own call to consider the official acts of state officers.

FAVOR LAWS ON BRANCH BANKING

National Systems May Be Weakened Unless Congress Acts, Board Governor Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—National banks in increasing numbers are withdrawing from the federal reserve system and obtaining state charters so as to engage in the branch banking business, Governor Crissinger, of the federal reserve board, testified today before the congressional commission inquiring into the reasons for the failure of state banks and trust companies to join the federal reserve system.

Unless congress authorizes national banks to engage in branch banking, Mr. Crissinger said, the national and federal reserve banking systems will be further weakened by withdrawal. He urged the congress to take action to confine the cities within which the national banks are located, but Vice-Governor Platt told the commission these banks should be authorized to establish branches throughout a state where state banks were permitted to do so.

Urges Further Plan. Governor Crissinger also urged that national banks be permitted to do a general departmental banking business like that engaged in by trust companies and savings banks, but under a requirement that the savings accounts be segregated. Mr. Platt recommended to the Clayton anti-trust act to permit not to exceed three banks to have interlocking directorates, asserting that the present law against such directorates was operating to the disadvantage of the federal reserve system.

Governor Crissinger said that while some state banks remained outside the reserve system because of insufficient resources to meet their obligations, many others remain out because by doing so they can receive interest on their reserves, distribute larger dividends and obtain all desired accommodations.

Radio Officer Testifies To Carelessness on Night of Fatal Destroyer Wreck

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—A communications officer of destroyer squadron eleven late today became the target for pointed questions from the presiding member of the naval court of inquiry investigating the wreck of a fleet destroyer of the squadron off Honda, Cal., on September 8.

Lieutenant S. L. Huff, in charge of radio and communications aboard the S. S. Lee, had testified that when the crash came he sent out a message to all ships of the squadron warning them that "the Delphy and Lee were aground."

"Just when was that message sent?" asked Admiral William V. Pratt, presiding at the inquiry. "At 9:10 p. m., sir." The admiral waved his pencil at the witness. "Inasmuch as previous testimony has shown that the last ship to go aground struck at 9:06," he said, "how much of a warning do you think that was?" "I don't know, sir."

At midnight with virtually half the state accounted for, the measure was maintaining fully the lead it assumed with the tabulation of the returns.

Although the rural vote was proportionately lighter than in the cities and towns and the total estimated vote was lessened somewhat as a result, the legislature proposal nevertheless was holding its own as established early in the morning.

At midnight, 1381 precincts had reached a total of 142,896 for the measure.

While the number of precincts does not represent half of the actual number of 2837 in the state, it is believed to fully half the number in which votes were cast today. In two counties, Cimarron and Harper, with 12 and 30 precincts, respectively, no election was held because supplies failed to arrive from the state election board and in many other counties individual polling places did not open because of misunderstandings growing out of conflicting orders from the governor, the attorney general and the state election board.

Estimates Too High. These missing precincts, combined with the late returns from the country which were lighter than expected, served to reduce the early estimate of a total vote of 450,000 made by anti-Walton political leaders.

The light county vote was attributed to a check favoring the governor as indicating a general observance on the part of the rural population of his prohibition barring the election. But opponents of the executive were inclined to believe the rural vote, which fell in scattered sections of the state were mainly instrumental in keeping the voters at home.

Bonus Measure Loses. A measure authorizing a $30,000,000 soldier bonus was apparently defeated on the basis of returns from approximately one-fourth of the state. With returns based on the early estimate of a vote of 450,000, no. 40,621.

"Fight Only Begun." Governor Walton issued the following statement at 9:30 o'clock:

"The fight on the inviolable empire has just started in Oklahoma. I am still governor of the state." "The stand will remain unchanged," the executive stated.

Troops which had been held in reserve during the day for an emergency were not used, and no disorders or requests for services of guardsmen were received.

McBee Elected. Representative W. D. McBee of Stephens county, said in a statement tonight that such an overwhelming majority has repudiated Governor Walton.

DANGER SEEN IN EXTREMELY LOW FREIGHT RATES

Grain Dealers Assail Political Clamor for Lower Rail Charges as Sounding Death Note for Roads

DES MOINES, Oct. 2 (AP)—Political clamor for lower freight rates may endanger the nation's transportation system, according to the reports of the transportation committee of the convention of the Grain Dealers' National association here late today.

In presenting the report Chairman Henry L. Goemann of Mansfield, Ohio, assailed politicians for misrepresenting the present situation of the railroad in public pronouncements.

"Such political clamor might eventually force the roads into receivership by forcing down rates," he said. "Then government ownership would follow. With government ownership would follow high wages through labor's political activity. Higher wages and great bond issues would bring high rates and at the same time we would have an unprecedented state of transportation inefficiency."

Favor Commisition Action.
The report opposed indiscriminate legislation against the carriers and said that freight rates should be determined not by congress, but by the interstate commerce commission.

"Roads should be permitted a fair return," Mr. Goemann said, "and today only a few of them are earning the return allowed under the law."

Government price fixing for grain was attacked as unsound and dangerous by Acting Governor John Hammill of Iowa. He quoted statistics showing how America's surplus wheat crop must compete in the world market with the huge surplus of Canada and other producing nations and declared that production and consumption should be made more uniform.

Acceptance of the challenge was withheld pending the outcome of the McTigue-Stribling fight to be held here Thursday.

Should the government buy to stabilize the prices, there would be an inflation during the buying period and later a deflation, Mr. Hammill said.

"Later the government would be asked to buy other commodities and eventually the United States would go broke. Brazil tried it with coffee and other countries failed in similar attempts."

Urges Study of Cooperation.
He urged intelligent study of cooperative movements with a view of constructive programs by which the producer and the distributor would be working in close harmony.

"We should not seek to destroy any existing system, but should earnestly strive to solve the problems of the farmers." He denounced those who constantly exaggerated the woes of the farmer with the statement that "there is too much pessimism."

Milton B. Pitt of Lucas, Iowa, and former speaker of the state legislature, was the speaker at the banquet tonight. The convention will close tomorrow with the adoption of resolutions and the election of officers.

Politics in Indiana in Turmoil as Charges are Hurlled at State Executive

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2 (AP)—Republican politics in Indiana were thrown into a turmoil today as a result of charges and counter charges concerning the republican state central committee here Monday to consider Governor Warren T. McCray's financial affairs. A declaration by John Moorman, Kansas, Ind., political adviser to Governor McCray, that yesterday's meeting was ordered by President Coolidge at the instigation of former Governor James P. Goodrich, was followed by a subsequent denial by Mr. Goodrich. Mr. Goodrich in turn asserted that charges by prominent men that Mr. McCray had been guilty of actions involving the most serious consequences led to the meeting.

Both men issued statements, Mr. Moorman declaring that the hub of the whole effort to remove Governor McCray from office is fear of republican leaders that they will be held responsible for the depression in the value of farms and farm products and they are alarmed over the effects that may follow in the wake of such a notable example as the collapse of the governor's fortune.

Mr. Goodrich termed Mr. Moorman's statement as being "absolutely false." He denied discussing Mr. McCray's affairs with President Coolidge and charged Mr. Moorman and the governor in their public statements with trying "to throw dust in the eyes of the people of this state and create the impression that the meeting of the committee was simply an effort on the part of certain machine politicians to obtain control of the committee."

WOODSTOCK, Ga., Oct. 2 (AP)—A small dirigible balloon bearing on its side the inscription U. S. A. balloon No. 1, fell in a field near here at noon Monday. No one was aboard and farmers and residents secured rope and anchored the ship. The balloon was only slightly damaged and leaking a little.

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Oct. 2 (AP)—Officers at Scott field asserted the small dirigible balloon bearing the inscription "U. S. FULTON KNOCKED OUT BY CANADIAN SLUGGER

Jack Renault puts K. O. to Minnesota Plasterer in Ninth Round of Scheduled 10-Round Bout.

BOSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, knocked out Fred Fulton of Minneapolis, in the ninth round of a scheduled ten round bout here last night. Renault weighed 195 pounds and Fulton 210.

Fulton appeared sluggish and Renault did most of the leading throughout. In the second the Minnesota plasterer was sent down for a short count, but he recovered and in the next two rounds gave the Canadian something to think about with short left jabs. In the ninth Renault drove Fulton against the ropes with a terrific left to the heart. A right to the jaw ended the contest.

Jack Schoendorf of Milwaukee, won the decision over Alexander Trumbitt of California, in the ten round semi-final.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sluggishness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and is intended to flush the kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful afternoon litta water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—While there was no business reported in raw sugar up to late afternoon, it was understood that some interest was being shown in full duty sugars. Cubas continued firmly held and were not offered freely. Centrifugal was unchanged at 6.67 cents cost and freight, equal to 7.78 cents duty paid.

The market for sugar futures had an irregular opening with prices three points lower to two higher, but again became firm, advancing about ten points over the previous close on covering of hedges. After a period of dullness at midday the market became active again near the close and quite strong on buying attributed to European interests. The close was firm at a net advance of 12 to 24 points.

In the refined market no refiner was quoting below $25 for fine granulated today, the list ranging from $22.5 to $25. There is considerable raw sugar coming in and refiners appear to be more interested in catching up on orders than in securing fresh supplies of raws. Refined sugar futures nominal.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2 (AP)—An eighth inning rally in which six runs were scored gave St. Louis a 10 to 5 victory over Cleveland today. The locals batted round in the eighth bunching their hits and knocking Smith out of the box.

IDAHO FALLS TO TACKLE BRUINS

Twin Falls Schedules First Grid Game of Season; to Meet Opponents on Their Field

The lid is off and the etherical blue is the limit. Twin Falls has a real game scheduled. Arrangements were completed by telephone Tuesday morning for a game with Idaho Falls Friday, October 6, at Idaho Falls.

The blue and white warriors will leave Thursday afternoon by auto bus and will arrive in Idaho Falls that evening, just about time for bed and will have all day Friday to limber up and get the feel of the ground again.

Idaho Falls will be a tough nut to crack especially this early in the season. With a large number of their last year's men back and three coaches and with the experience of one game against the Bruins this year, it will be no man's team. They defeated the Sholey high school last Friday over 100 to 0, so they have had at least a lot of running practice.

Joe Maddock, Idaho Falls coach, is anxious to wipe out last year's defeat, and Clint Evans is just as anxious to make it two straight. That it will be a wonderful exhibition of good clean football cannot be doubted for the two coaches are as much alike as two peas, when it comes to teaching real sportsmanship to the players.

Maddock was loud in his praise of last year's Twin Falls team and we hope he will have to walk across the field again this year and shake Evans by the mitt and tell him it is another even better than last year.

A good many students are racking their brains trying to devise ways and means to see the game, and there is no doubt that there will be a large delegation go from here with the team. The more the merrier and the larger the crowd the better the boys can play.

GRIDIRON NOTES

Tuesday's practice was a bummer! More snap and ginger than the boys have had this season, and the reason is easy. The game next Friday made them realize that practice would not keep up forever and that they were facing a stiff game as their first encounter.

Harrison had a whirl at center Tuesday night and got away in pretty good shape but needs a bit of practice in passing. He is a husky and should make good. Harrison has his turn at it and it will be one of the two that will start Friday's game.

Man, oh man, but that boy Lester did look sweet tearing through that line. He was first on the dummy line nine times out of ten and when he hit it it made the bleachers rise and shine.

Swim did a little tearing on his own account Tuesday night and looks like a million in the water. He is a real tackle. The teams that oppose Twin this season will know that there are two tackles on the line, believe you me.

With only one more practice before the big game the boys will have to step for Evans is going to take only 17 men and they are not picked yet. A lot will depend on Wednesday night's practice as to who makes the trip.

Backfield substitutes are another problem that is worrying Evans. Day and Farrar are likely candidates and will probably get their chance to show their stuff and Muscell and Cron can both be used in the backfield but are needed at ends.

The indispensable Manager Carl Kahn will accompany the boys and his influence with Moose will be a valuable aid to Evans. Carl is chief valet for Moose and supplies the ambiforce for the whole family.

Replies are beginning to come back from the many queries sent out and the schedule will take shape before long.

The game with the Nevada fresh will be a good one to watch and the blue and white will accomplish something if they come away victors.

And it is almost a certainty that the U. of I. fresh will be willing to take on Evans' colts for a fracas so that we will see some real football anyway.

If you can't make it to Idaho Falls next Friday don't forget that Rupert is taking on Blackfoot at Rupert and it will probably be a game worth watching.

How about a special train? Think it could be done? Talk it up and let's see how much we can make of it. We have here. If they ever needed support they will need it Friday for this is the first game this season and a tough one at that. Every word drap help.

If a special train is too big, how about another bus. There is another one around here that will take 25 people. Let's get busy and see what can be done.

Nevada's Freshmen Ask for Game here

Coach Evans Receives Wire Asking Him to Select One of Two Dates for Clash

The game with the University of Nevada freshman team became a certainty Tuesday when Coach Evans received a wire asking him to choose between October 13 or 20. The University of Nevada has always given the Utah gang a tough battle and no doubt their freshman outfit is of the same calibre, so that it will be bumping into a good football aggregation to take them on. Evans will decide within the next week or two whether to date and will be most satisfactory to us and then clinch the game.

IDAHO SET FOR OPENING GAME

Speculation on Vandals' Chances This Season Hold Interest of Fans.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Oct. 2.—With the opening game at hand, Coach Bob Matthews is trying to find out through reconnaissance just what sort of football team will defend the silver and gold this season. No definite information will be available until the Vandals swing into battle against the College of Idaho, at the university, Sunday, October 6.

There is no small amount of speculation on the season's outcome. Some of the more ardent doers have even permitted themselves to swallow whole the tempting speculation from the California press that Idaho can be considered a championship possibility.

Idaho has yet to win her first conference game, and should she win any stroke good fortune take by conference pennant it would be worth writing a scenario about.

Huskies Back Up

While some writers are casting real bouquets into the Muscovite camp, others conceal bricks among the roses. Close on Stanford's remark about Idaho's practice game came a companion remark from the University of Washington, in a ferocious "bear" story on the heavy Huskie schedule, pointing out that the Huskies play every week on the coast but Stanford. This despite the fact that Idaho came near upsetting the Huskies at Seattle last season in the first fourth game between the two schools in 10 years. The Huskies won, 2-0, on a safety, but it was a hollow victory and when the 1923 schedule was arranged Washington made it known that Idaho couldn't possibly be given another chance.

Idaho might trade a few of the "minor" league clubs that must appear on her schedule for some of the "major" ones that Washington must meet. Idaho's schedule, particularly the last end of it, carries too much explosive for any "minor" club to handle.

Three of Idaho's games are on the same trip, and if the Vandals should slip off a brace of victories it would go down as a real achievement, for a coach will seldom even consider as many as two contests on the same jaunt.

At Pullman October 10.

October 10 will be the date for the first Coast conference game and few of the teams will be up to full fighting strength until then. Idaho will probably be the first to get under way, playing at Pullman October 10.

At Idaho's camp Matthews and his aides are being compelled to do so much double duty that the Washington State game may be too early to find his eleven at tip-top strength. The College of Idaho and Montana games will both be tough scraps, but should be Idaho victories, although possibly by narrow margins. Both elevens will be pointed for Idaho, whereas it will be dangerous for Idaho to consider much edging until the Washington State game.

The Vandals have been divided into three teams. Scrimmage practice has been under way for over a week, but the players are tending to shape slowly. Injuries are down to a minimum.

There the senator found a crowd of newspaper correspondents who had besieged his offices for several hours. The republican party promised three years ago that it was going to assist American agriculture in every way.

Senator Johnson said he did not believe it would do much good now to call an extra session of congress to enact legislation to relieve the present situation.

"It's too late now," he added. "Anked how he regarded President Coolidge, the senator said he had not been in office long enough to be judged.

"You know he may turn out to be a progressive," he said. "You can't tell."

The senator declined to voice any views as to the republican leadership in congress. "I get along fine with every one of my colleagues," he said. "I did so for eight years in the Minnesota senate and house. Of course, we'll have our little scraps. I had 'em out there, but that's nothing."

the communists' "no confidence" resolution. While the demand of the socialists that the existing state of emergency be raised is viewed as a bold piece of party tactics and with price for the radicals' further participation in the present coalition, it also throws a fierce spotlight on the gravity of the crisis, which it is assumed, will have a decisive influence on the further trend of national politics in that it now will be demonstrated whether the dictatorial regime demanded by Stresemann for the nation's conciliatory salvation can be put into operation without an active working majority in the Reichstag.

Time's Changes. In these days of the fashionable and easy divorce, it will interest freedom-seeking husbands to read in "All About Coffee" that in Turkey, during the Seventeenth century, to refuse or neglect to give coffee to one's wife was a legitimate cause for divorce. The men made promises when marrying never to let their wives be without coffee. Nowadays the wife's neglect to serve her husband good coffee has led to many a separation.

Latin America. Latin America is a general name given to the countries and people in South and Central America, especially those races which come of Latin stock. These include naturally the Mexicans, the inhabitants of Central America and certain islands of the West Indies. The term "Latin" serves as a boundary line between what is known as "Saxon America" and "Latin America."

No Occasion to Harm Bat. As bats are only rarely seen in the daytime, people, as a rule, know very little about them. When attracted by a light, and a window chimes to be open, one will, during the warmer parts of the year, fly in and cause considerable excitement, says Nature Magazine. The best thing to do is to allow it to make its escape unharmed, as the interesting little mammal preys upon no end of harmful insects.

About the 'Limit. Your friend Wheeler is a crank on punctuality, isn't he?" said Smith. "If should any time," replied Brown. "Why, he even carries his watch in the rear pocket of his trousers, just to prevent his ever being behind time."

Hard to Photograph. Two animals that will try the patience of the photographer are the dragon fly and rove beetle, says Nature Magazine of Washington. Both are ferocious prey creatures, but, as they most wild things, it treated properly, will submit to captivity without fatal results. By placing a large dragon fly in a large glass box and supplying plenty of houseflies, splendid pictures are secured of this insect, hawk feeding upon its victims.

Jewelry Never of Pure Gold. No jewelry is entirely made of gold. To be pure gold it would require 99.7 to 99.8 per cent gold; this being too soft for ordinary purposes, it must be alloyed with other metals to shape and design jewelry. Fourteen karat gold is considered the best for commercial purposes. The standard metal used for coinage is made up of eleven parts of gold and one of copper.

Coal Tar Derivatives. Chemists say that the time is approaching when natural dyestuffs, such as madder and indigo, will no longer be needed. For almost every one of these substitutes have been obtained from coal tar, and most of these are actually superior to the dyestuffs of the last generation.

He Who Runs May Not Always Read. Venca, Cal., possesses the only newspaper proprietor who can neither read nor write. The distinction belongs to Benjamin Brodsky, who came to this country from Russia 18 years ago and neglected school to go into business. The daily papers are read to Mr. Brodsky by his secretary.

What is useless to you may be valuable to others—advertise it in the classified column.

Meaning of "Hague." In the Dutch language Hague means hedge. The name of the capital, therefore, is The Hedge, given to the spot centuries ago when it was a hunting lodge of the counts of Holland. The Dutch people, or more properly the Hollanders, have a great liking for ornamental hedges.

Punishment to Fit Crime. In a case of assault, under the laws of Mexico, the amount of the fine or the term of punishment is fixed by the number of days the victim spends in hospital or under medical supervision. If the period exceeds six whole weeks, the fine is doubled.

Easy to Fillbuster. Experiments to determine the total sound energy flowing from the lips, indicate that a United States senator speaking in a normally modulated voice could fillbuster for an entire day with the expenditure of less than a single foot-second of energy.

Change Always Going On. Growth is the regular order of business. It applies to everything. Nothing remains stationary. It grows or decays. There is a constant change going on, even in us.

Diplomatic Relations Between Nations Suddenly End; No Reasons Given

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(Special to The News)—With a ceremonial session attended by practically the entire membership of Rotary clubs of Rupert, Burley, Twin Falls and Buhl, the Rotary club of Jerome received its charter this evening. Officers were elected for about 150 persons at the dinner served at the North Side Inn. R. E. Shepherd, president of the Jerome club, was chairman and delivered one of the principal addresses of the occasion.

Presentation of the charter was made by Dr. C. T. Groome of Rupert, acting as representative of the district governor, Arthur Wherry of Salt Lake. Although absent in person, Governor Wherry delivered an address which was made audible to the assembly here by radio.

Visiting Rotarians were welcomed by William A. Peters of Jerome, and responses were made by representatives of each of the visiting clubs, Jasper E. Wilson speaking for the Twin Falls club; Pearl C. Meredith for the Buhl club; and Dr. Groome for the Rupert club.

Brief talks were made thereafter upon invitation of the chairman, by president of the visiting clubs. The speakers included W. T. Scilly, Twin Falls, and J. H. Barber, Buhl. Judge E. A. Walters of Twin Falls, discussed the "Duty of Rotary to the Farming Industry."

The entertainment program included several vocal numbers and a number of songs by the Jerome club quartet, which were well received. An orchestra also contributed to the musical program.

Although it has just received its charter, the Jerome Rotary club has been in existence for about a year, and has a membership of 16.

NURSES CHOOSE DELEGATE

Mrs. Robert Rogerson to Represent District Organization at State Association Meeting

Members of the first district of the Idaho State Registered Nurses' association, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the nurses' home at the county general hospital, named Mrs. Robert Rogerson of Twin Falls as delegate to the meeting of the state association to be held next Tuesday in Boise.

At this meeting Mrs. Rogerson submitted a report on the sectional conference held in Tacoma last June, and Mrs. Rogerson and Mrs. T. D. Conner of Ellier reported on the last meeting of the state association at Boise.

Miss Johansen, president of the district organization, presided.

Refreshments were served by Miss Wahlgron and Miss Ostriche.

SOCIETY

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 390

The first regular business meeting of the Twentieth Century club was held in the Business and Professional Women's club rooms on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. Orr Chapman presided and reports of committees were given, among which was the report of the members of the housing committee, who told the club of the two locations under consideration for the new apartment building and the Business Women's club rooms. While both meeting places are most desirable there was some opposition to the latter plan, and the majority favoring the bungalow, the meetings will be held there hereafter. It was also voted, upon motion of Mrs. James Fitzgerald, that expenses of the president or her alternate to the state and district federation meetings should be paid hereafter by the club. The program was in charge of Mrs. Marshall Brown, who gave a highly entertaining synopsis of the recent discussion in the New York Times and other publications of recent lists submitted of the 19 most noted women of America. From these lists she selected those whom she would call the foremost 12 and the lives of these women were touched on in a most interesting manner by Mrs. H. J. Youngs, Miss Jessie Fraser and Mrs. F. T. Kellogg. Mrs. I. H. Masters gave personal reminiscences of Carrie Jacobs Bond and sang several of her beautiful songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Alexander.

On Tuesday afternoon the girls of Mrs. Thomas Robertson's Sunday school class met at her home on Ninth avenue north and elected officers as follows: President, Vivian Wilson; secretary, treasurer, Mary Ann Pland; and made for the work of the year and they decided to sew for a missionary box. At the close of the afternoon light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Charles L. Hart and Mrs. F. F. McAtee have issued invitations for an "at home" Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Hart on Main avenue west.

CAN'T GIVE MONEY AWAY
Johnny Morrison, sensationist, who will perform one of his death defying stunts on the street Thursday night, wants to give some money away and can't find anyone to give it to. His plan was to have a collection taken during his act, a part of which was to be given to some charitable institution. Now, since it is apparently impossible to give part of said collection he offers to let and institution take up a collection and keep 100 per cent.

Mr. Morrison will present his act, following the street performance, at the Idaho theater. One section of his act is the trick of breaking a 300 pound rock on the abdomen. Scientists have agreed that this is impossible without the aid of hypnosis.

GLOBE TROTTERS ON BILL
Sam and Elsie Goldie, a couple of globe trotting actors, will appear here Thursday and Friday at the Idaho theater, with their comely vaudeville act, "Applause," a fruit cocktail by Aaron Hoffman, author of "Friendly Enemies."

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie are making a trip around the world in their automobile, having left New York three years ago and having since played in England, Ireland, Scotland, and throughout the continent wherever there was an American colony, and also in India, Egypt, China, Japan, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

While playing in the South Sea islands, which, by the way, the rave about, they presented their act in English and then had to wait until an interpreter translated their words into five different languages. The experience was disturbing to the actors until they understood the situation, and then it became amusing to them.

CROSSES AND CIRCLES

In the West Virginia hills, candidates are being initiated by thousands into a new secret order. It is called the "Blazing Circle," and the rites are performed in the light from a fiery circle 40 feet in diameter. Great enthusiasm is reported, with the movement spreading rapidly in several states.

This is an answer to the challenge of the "Fiery Cross" of the Ku Klux Klan. The Circle's principal requirement is opposition to the Invisible Empire.

"And is it another invisible empire?" people everywhere will inquire. It would be a somewhat natural development if it were. And it would add a certain element of romance and mystery to the impending struggle. The situation reminds one of Jack London's weird story of the two men, bitter rivals and foes, who made themselves invisible by scientific methods and then fought to the death, unseen by friends present, who could only hear the blows they struck.

But the Circle, fortunately, is not invisible. According to the reports, though the members wear white robes, they do not wear masks. It is safe to say that if the Klan survives, it also will discard the mask sooner or later.

WATERWAY APPROVAL

A committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce which has been investigating the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence ship canal is preparing to recommend that project. At the same time it will recommend the construction and improvement of other big inland waterways, especially the deepening of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers.

This is no more than was expected, from the previous testimony of engineers as to the feasibility and profitableness of such enterprises, and from the public interest manifested in the general subject of water transportation. There is growing appreciation of the enormous value of our navigable rivers, lakes and canal routes may have in the future, for the economical movement of heavy freight.

A part of the committee's report will deal with the co-ordination of rail and waterway service. This is logical. The two should never have been divorced, and the transportation needs of the country will never be fully met until they are joined in a great, friendly network of rail and water routes covering the continent.

VACATION FOR THE PUBLIC

A prominent banker suggests that a vacation for the national mind is about the most urgently needed means of improving conditions, and he puts up to the bankers of the country the responsibility of starting the public on that vacation. Bankers can, and should, he believes, correct the false impression that economic disaster lurks just ahead.

Capital no doubt does have a little kick coming about burdensome taxes and the restriction of government regulation. Back of labor's hue and cry for shorter hours, better working conditions and more pay lie some real grievances. The farmer's lot is not ideal. But who of us, the banker inquired, would willingly return to the conditions of 50 or 100 years ago?

A mental vacation from fretting and worrying certainly wouldn't make things any worse than they are, and it might rest the general intelligence enough to let it get to work in sane and earnest fashion at overcoming the difficulties.

"I'll put this down into your hold, and unload you, that's what I'll do."

"Is the election over, Mr. Peterson?" asked Newton.

"Yes," answered Mr. Peterson, "and the votes counted."

"Who's elected?" asked Newton.

"Colonel Woodruff," answered Mr. Peterson, "The vote was twelve to eleven."

"Well, dad," said Newton, "I s'pose you'll be sore, but the only way I could see to get in half a vote for Colonel Woodruff was to get poisoned and send you after the doctor. If you'd gone, it would 'a' been a tie, anyhow, and probably you'd 'a' persuaded somebody to change to Bonner. That's what's the matter with me. I killed your vote. Now, you can do whatever you like to me—but I'm sorry I scared mother."

Era Bronson seized Newton by the throat, but his fingers failed to close. "Don't pinch, dad," said Newton. "I've been using that neck 'a' it's tired." Mr. Bronson dropped his hands to his sides, glared at his son for a moment and breathed a sigh of relief.

"Why, you darned infernal little fool," said he. "I've a notion to take a hamcaper to you! If I'd been there the vote would have been eleven to thirteen!"

"There was plenty votes there for the colonel. If he needed 'em," said Hinkson, whose politician's mind was already fully adjusted to the changed conditions. "Ay tank the Woodruff district will have a unanimous school board from dis time on once more. Colonel Woodruff is just the man we have needed."

"I'm with you there," said Bronson. "And as for you, young man, if one or both of them horses is hurt by the run I give them, I'll lick you with'n an inch of your life— they comes Dilly driving 'em now—I guess they're all right. I wouldn't want to delye a good team to death for any young hoodlum like him— All right, how much do I owe you, Doc?"

CHAPTER XV

The Glorious Fourth.

A good deal of water ran under the Woodruff district bridges in the weeks between the school election and the Fourth of July picnic at Eight-Mile grove. But few surface indications there were of any change in the little community in this annual gathering of friends and neighbors. Wilbur Smythe made the annual address, and was in rather finer fettle than usual as he paid his fervid tribute to the starry flag, and to this very place as the most favored spot in the best county of the greatest state in the most powerful, intellectual, freest and most progressive nation in the best possible of worlds.

Jim Irwin read the Declaration rather well, Jennie Woodruff thought, as she sat on the platform between Deacon Avery, the oldest settler in the district, and Mrs. Columbus Brown, the sole local representative of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Colonel Woodruff presided in his Grand Army of the Republic uniform. The fresh northwest breeze made free with the oaks, elms, hickories and box elders of Eight-Mile grove, and the waters of Pickeral creek glistened a hundred yards away, beyond the fitting figures of the boys who preferred to shoot off their own firecrackers and torpedoes and silver-chasers, rather than to listen to those of Wilbur Smythe. Still farther off could be heard the voice of a lone lemonade vender as he advertised ice-cold lemonade, made in the shade with a brand new spade, by an old maid, as a quantity that it was the blindest, coldest lemonade ever sold.

WHEAT PRICE ADVANCE FOLLOWED BY REACTION

General Rush to the Buying Side Causes Sharp Rise in Quotations, Offset by Profit-Taking Sales

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—During a general rush to the buying side, the wheat market today made a sharp advance in price, but heavy profit taking later brought about a reaction. Reports that government measures to provide flour relief were being considered in the House for the new wheat in values. Wheat closed unsteady at a shade to 3-4 net gain; corn finished 3-3 to 2-3 1/2 up; oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions—rice varying from 5 to 25 cents.

On the rise in prices on the wheat market, bulls had things their own way until the December delivery had climbed more than seven cents a bushel from the recent low point for that month. Although profit taking sales had been in progress from the outset today, the offerings were well absorbed for a considerable time and it was only in the last half of the day that a setback became pronounced. Aside from expectations of government help, another thing which gave strength to the market was the fact that receipts at domestic primary terminals were small, northwest arrivals being in particular but half as large as a year ago.

Increased inquiry for flour was reported from widely scattered territory, and it was said also that the buyers were showing well absorbed for early delivery. The better demand for flour was an additional bullish influence as to wheat. On the other hand, however, rains southwest were expected to have put winter wheat soil in the best condition at this time in years.

All deliveries of corn and oats touched a new high price record for the season, but as in wheat, a decline followed as a result of profit-taking sales. Provisions were firmer with grain and because of a big decrease shown in the stock of land here.

TWIN FALLS MARKETS

These prices are obtained daily at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and are intended to cover only the average of prices. Where certain dealers for short periods offer more than the general market, these are made to include such quotations. Quotations are offered merely as a guide to producers and should not be accepted as reflecting extremes of either high or low prices.

Potatoes and Beans Both Up. Beans took a jump today to 10 cents a hundred and potatoes are up a dime. Freshing of beans started Tuesday night after the week of wet weather and the buyers were paying 45-50 Tuesday, a raise of ten cents over the Monday price. Potatoes took a turn upward Tuesday as the dealers bid from five to ten cents more than Monday.

DEAD WOMAN'S LETTER ENTERS MURDER TRIAL

Unknown Contents of Note Written by Girl Bride to Husband Charged with Her Death, Causes Speculation

Promise of sensational developments in the trial of Melvin Blackburn, Filer district youth charged with first degree murder of his bride, Evelyn Hurst Blackburn, by poisoning, was seen Tuesday when Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor, soon after selection of the jury for identification and exhibit which, he said, is a letter addressed by the dead girl to her husband, and found by her mother on her dressing table the day after she was stricken by her fatal illness. No indication as to the contents of the letter was given, and no attempt was made during the day to introduce evidence.

The murder-charged youth heard without evidence of emotion the story of his relations with the dead girl and details of her fatal illness and death on last Tuesday by members of her family, physician and coroner. A witness testimony was offered by the prosecution. His mother sat at his side throughout the day, and he turned occasionally to whisper to her or to converse with his attorney. His appearance showed little or no marks of his confinement in the county jail since a few days prior to the death of his wife last May. When the trial was resumed on Tuesday, he was surrounded by a number of friends, several of them of about his own age. An audience of about 100 persons, made up largely of women and girls, gathered in attendance to see the developments in the trial Tuesday.

Mrs. William B. Hurst, mother of the dead girl, was the first witness called for the state. She was followed on the stand by William B. Hurst, pioneer and former cattleman of south Idaho and the father of the dead girl; Dr. F. A. Dwight, Filer, the family physician; E. R. Dwyer, Filer, who was called in consultation during the illness of Mrs. Blackburn and who performed a post mortem examination, and Richard A. Dwyer, her brother-in-law, who testified to the death of the girl. Through the testimony of these witnesses, the state laid bare the relations of Blackburn and his girl wife, both before and after the marriage, traced the progress of Mrs. Blackburn's final illness and attributed the cause of death to a virulent corrosive poison, presumably bichloride of mercury, which the state charged Blackburn procured and induced his wife to take.

Hints at Suicide Possibility of defense based on a theory of suicide was indicated in cross-examination when W. Taylor questioned as to whether he had dipped any seed potatoes this spring. He replied in the negative. Bichloride of mercury or corrosive sublimate is commonly used for this purpose. Counsel for the defense inquired also of Evelyn Hurst if it were not the fact that her sister, Mrs. Blackburn, was on terms of intimacy with a Mrs. Cora Williams of Filer. The motive for this question was not disclosed by subsequent interrogation.

Finds Lethal Dose Testimony of the chemist as to his analyses of samples of the powders which the state asserts were given by Mrs. Blackburn to her husband, questioned by counsel for the defense, the scientist being called upon to give chemical symbols used to designate several poisons. The chemist, upon direct examination, stated that his analyses showed that Mrs. Blackburn had taken a lethal dose of bichloride of mercury.

Opinion that Mrs. Blackburn's death resulted from bichloride of mercury poisoning was expressed by Dr. Alexander, who detailed the results of the post mortem examination. Richard Hurst and Evelyn Hurst were questioned as to the arrival through the mails of a package, which the state declares contained the poison, and both identified a paper wrapper as that which was about the mail that was delivered by Evelyn Hurst to her sister, Mrs. Blackburn, on the evening of May 9. The next day, May 10, according to testimony of the brother and sister, Mrs. Blackburn was stricken by the illness which resulted in her death on May 31.

The brother and sister of the dead girl were closely questioned by defense counsel as to the time of the receipt of the parcel.

Maternal Pride Revealed Defense counsel also laid stress, in cross-examination of these witnesses, on the fact that the brother, who was living at her parents' home, had gone on May 9 to Filer, under the impression that there was to be held there that day a baby show in which she expected to enter her baby, which, evidence showed, was born some time prior to her marriage to Blackburn, who was the father.

Cross-examination of witnesses was conducted by James W. Barber, the case for the state being conducted throughout the day by Prosecuting Attorney Taylor.

In the process of selecting the jury, the state asserted that the jury was challenged and the defense seven.

Home Market Development Seen As Hope of Farmers

Congressman Smith Declares for Continuation of Protective Tariff as Essential to Solution of Agricultural Problem; Points Out Advantages Already Gained

Development of home markets for American agricultural products and requirement that foreign producers shall pay for the privilege of entering American markets is essential to the solution of the agricultural problem, according to Congressman Addison T. Smith, who has just left his home in Twin Falls, returning to Washington for the opening of congress.

On his way back to the national capital Congressman Smith will make stops at Caldwell Thursday to address the Kiwanis club, and at Vale, Oregon, on Friday to attend an irrigation congress. Senators McNary and Stanfield of Oregon, Governor Moore of Idaho, Governor Pierce of Oregon and Governor Dixon of Montana are here on the program for the latter event.

Program at New Orleans Congressman Smith also is on the program of the Forestry, Reclamation and Irrigation convention to be held November 19-22 in New Orleans, his subject being "The West Aids Prosperity to the Nation." Others who will appear on the program include Secretary of Agriculture H. C. Wallace, Senator McNary and Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific railroad system.

Mrs. Smith, who was unable because of continued illness to accompany Mr. Smith to Boise as planned, will join him at Portland.

Prior to leaving Twin Falls, where he has spent the summer months, Congressman Smith, in an interview, expressed his opinion with respect to the probable legislative program of the coming session of congress, and particularly with respect to the agricultural problem.

"A few of the outstanding problems which will doubtless be given early consideration," he said, "are reduced freight rates, a change in the constitution permitting legislation to prohibit the issuance of tax-free securities; legislation controlling the coal mines, and further legislative relief for the agricultural interests."

Without Stagnation "It is rather singular but equally true," Mr. Smith continued, "that no tangible legislative solution for the farmers' ills has been evolved, although every effort has been made to do so, not only by congress, but by the 200 delegates to the wheat conference held in Chicago last June. The slogan they adopted, 'Eat More Wheat,' will avail nothing for the consumer of wheat will not likely eat an extra slice of bread in order to deplete the supply that the price may be raised. Such a suggestion would be ludicrous if the situation was not so serious.

"The old law of supply and demand is inexorable, and will continue to be the one big factor governing prices as it has been since the dawn of civilization, but if it can be controlled to some extent by co-operative marketing, and the avoidance of the production of an excess supply. Diversified crops will undoubtedly be given more consideration by the farmers than heretofore.

"In view of the expansion of agriculture in Europe and the beautiful crops there, the farmers in the United States cannot safely rely upon a larger export trade, and while during the last fiscal year we shipped abroad twice the value of agricultural products, raw and manufactured, that we did in any one year before the war, there is danger of the demand for our agricultural products being reduced. We must build up our home markets, and make the foreign producer pay for the privilege of entering our markets. We will not only in this country develop our own industrial and agricultural resources, but bring into our treasury $400,000,000 per annum and reduce our federal taxes accordingly.

Benefits of Protection "If any proof were needed that protective tariff is necessary to the prosperity of the farmer, the prices which are being paid the producers for wool, lamb, hay, sugar beets, butter, eggs, beans and peas and corn need only be compared with the prices which prevailed for these articles immediately preceding the world war under the Underwood law. The high prices which prevailed during and for two years after the war were abnormal because of the foreign demand for our products. The duty on wool is 33c; sheep, $2 per head; hay, $4 per ton; sugar, $124; butter, 8c; eggs, 8c per dozen; beans and peas, 1c; corn, 15c. Despite the duty of 30c per bushel on wheat the quantity imported is still very large, and the wheat growers are urging a duty of 45c per bushel."

Congressman Smith quoted the following statistics on the importation of wheat into the United States: For the year, June 1, 1920, to May 31, 1921: Imports of wheat, bushels, 31,197,227; imports of flour, 453,820 barrels, equal to 0,542,400 bushels (4 1/2 bushels to a barrel) 6,542,400

Total imports wheat and flour as wheat, 19,944,030

Tariff Holds Price Up "If it were not for the duty of 30c per bushel on wheat," Mr. Smith said, "our farmers would be receiving much less than the present price, because of over-production in the wheat-raising countries is scarcely sufficient to pay the actual outlay, leaving nothing for the farmer.

"Our farmers, though they have experienced so much economic suffering, when compared with those in Europe and the Orient, are infinitely better off. Millions of men have come here from Europe, many of them to remain permanently, because of the enlarged opportunities for material welfare and advancement. They have come because the share which labor receives for its contribution to the upbuilding and development of this nation is the largest anywhere received. Any growth which we might have attained would have been a slow, laborious and painful progress, had we not had a protective tariff policy, and the level of the American wage earner would have been precisely that of the European, offering no temptation to the latter to come here and better his condition. The Fordney tariff law as a protective measure, a revenue raiser, and a stimulus to industry and agriculture, is a splendid piece of work."

Duty Well Performed "The republican party can go to the country with it in the presidential campaign of 1924 in perfect confidence that it represents a duty well performed. It presents a defense which is impregnable to democratic assault so long as the great majority of the people hold steadfast to the principles which they have supported for generations. The Underwood law dragged out a miserable existence of nine years, nearly five of which were years of war embargo. I bespeak for

Oro Company Will Extend Its Tunnel

Stockholders Decide Upon Immediate Prosecution of Development in Contact Property

Immediate extension of a tunnel in the Oro Copper company's property in the Rich, Nevada, district, to strike a rich ore-bearing ledge, was decided upon at a meeting of the company's stockholders held here Tuesday evening. A force of workmen will be put to work on the property, not later than next Monday, it was announced.

It is anticipated that the ledge, which has been uncovered previously by a shaft, will be encountered in the tunneling operations within 30 to 40 feet from the present breast of the tunnel. The tunnel has been driven up to the present time, approximately 304 feet through the rock surrounding the ledge. With the exception of about 50 feet, all of the work in the tunnel has been done by the Oro company since it came into possession of the property.

Through the tunnel, when it is completed, it will be possible to remove ore from the ledge with tram cars which will be dumped directly into railroad cars, company officials stated. The company is composed almost entirely of Twin Falls investors, C. C. Biggins, Twin Falls, being its president.
