COOLIDGE EFFECTS PLAN AIMED TO LIFT BURDEN OF DEPRESSION FROM SHOULDERS OF AMERICAN FARMERS

ORDER WAR FINANCE OFFICIALS TO ASSIST CO-OPERATIVE SALES PLAN

Northwestern Area Constitutes First Field of Activities of Chief Executive's New Scheme to Be Put in Motion at Once; Nation's Leaders Seek Further Remedy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—President Coolidge today set in motion a plan designed to lift the burden of agricultural depression from the shoulders of American farmers. He directed Managing Director Meyer and Director Mondell of the war finance corporation to proceed into the northwest immediately and assist in the formation of co-operative marketing associations, promotion of which the president believes will result in direct benefit to the farmer.

CORN SOARS TO NEW HIGH MARK

Price in Mid-West Exceeds One Dollar for First Time in Three-Year Period

CHICAGO, Oct. 3 (AP)—Corn soared above the dollar mark in Chicago and on most of the other leading markets of the country today for the first time since October 1, 1920. Yellow corn sold in Chicago at $1.01 1/2 and white and mixed at $1.01.

Actual scarcity has been the reason given by brokers for the steady rise of corn prices. Today's quotations are up 8 1/4 to 11 1/4c since September 17.

The corn supplies are said to have been consumed in 10 months and farmers are using the new crop and paying around 65 cents for it. The old corn, now selling around $1, is paying the farmer handsome profits and is from three to five cents higher than No. 1 northern wheat in Winnipeg, which is considered the best wheat in the world.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE SEES IMPORTANCE OF DAIRYING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Delegates to the world's dairy congress, concluding their Washington sessions today were received at the White House by President Coolidge, who, in a brief address of welcome, declared the meeting indicated clearly that the industry had become "a industry to commerce and support to a friendly international friendship."

Today's session was devoted to technical questions, important among which were the international aspects of the industry.

PRESIDENT FOR PROTECTION OF U. S. INDUSTRY

Western Tariff Commission Informed of Coolidge's Stand on Harding Program; Moore Sends Message

DENVER, Oct. 3 (AP)—Thomas O. Marvin, chairman of the United States tariff commission, telegraphed to the Western Tariff Commission today that President Coolidge stands for a national policy of protection, but is opposed to a sectional application of protection.

Reading of Marvin's telegram was the second word from the president. This morning a message direct from President Coolidge was read to the congress. In it the president declared, "obvious necessity for maintaining proper measure of protection to American industries and production in the face of chaotic industrial conditions following the war, has unquestionably brought us nearer to a national solidarity on the tariff issue."

At today's sessions, addresses were made by Governor Sweet of Colorado, former Governor Ammons of Colorado, who presided; Frank J. Hagenbarth of Salt Lake; Governor Parker of Louisiana, and John H. Kirby, president of the Southern Tariff association, United States Senator Phillips of Colorado, and others.

Governor Walton Prepares to Continue His Warfare Against Members of Klan

"The Fight Is to a Finish; There Will Be No Compromise," Executive Says; Later Returns Pile Up Big Majority.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3 (AP)—Charging that the Ku Klux Klan controlled yesterday's election, Governor Walton issued a statement tonight, pledging the "American people" that the issue whether the "invincible empire" shall supplant constitutional government in Oklahoma, would be decided in the special election on December 6. This was called by the governor as a substitute for yesterday's election, which was proclaimed illegal by executive decree.

"The klux guns of the nation are now trained on me," Governor Walton declared in his statement. I am daily in receipt of threats of assassination, but I had rather die by the hand of an assassin than die the death of a coward.

"The fight is to a finish. There will be no compromise. In the next 60 days will be fought the most historic political battle since the civil war."

The governor renewed his appeal for funds with which to carry on his campaign, declaring that "klux money" now is flowing into the state.

Baloted returns received tonight from yesterday's special election continued to pile up an overwhelming vote for the constitutional amendment empowering the state legislature to convene at its own call to inquire into impeachment charges against Governor Walton.

At 8 o'clock when 2142 out of 2837 precincts in the state had been heard from the count stood: For, 188,573; against, 57,899.

The soldiers' bonus amendment, for which the election primarily was called, was defeated. In addition to the fact that its passage required a majority of all votes cast, the vote from 1789 precincts was: For, 56,715; against, 109,862.

Attacks Legality. Governor Walton's attack on the legality of yesterday's election was in full swing tonight with more than a third of the returns in the state not yet tabulated.

NEWLY FORMED BERLIN CABINET IS FORGED OUT

Stresemann and All Members of His Ministry Resign After Term of Only Seven Weeks in Office

BERLIN, Oct. 3 (AP)—Dr. Gustav Stresemann and the members of his ministry resigned from office tonight. President Ebert then called upon the retiring chancellor to form a new cabinet.

The Stresemann government retired from office tonight in fulfillment of a promise of passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rheinland as the only active accomplishment to its credit. While criticism of its usefulness on this score would seem to be not entirely fair, in view of the hopelessly tangled legacy assumed by it as the successor of the Cuno administration, the Stresemann coalition in its political composition was such as to preclude, in the long run, any hope of productiveness in the nature of financial and economic reforms, on account of the conflicting currents which hampered its deliberations.

With a theoretical socialist in the ministry of finance and an industrialist man as minister of economics, one chronic point of friction was promptly established. It led to the retirement yesterday of Hans Von Ranmer, who held the latter post, as he had apparently wearied of carrying on a running debate with Dr. Hilferding on financial and economic dogmas.

Failed to Revive Nation

This was only one of the several minor paradoxes with which the Stresemann ministry was handicapped. The chancellor, whose well-known optimism was praised as a usual asset when he assumed office, was unable to overcome the task of getting an economically and politically moribund country back on its feet.

M. Poincare, the French premier, is blamed by the German government and the reichstag leaders for the collapse of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition government. If Poincare had given the slightest indication of a reciprocal attitude in response to German abandonment of passive resistance, official and political quarters believe that Dr. Stresemann's position would have been measurably strengthened, inasmuch as it would have been spared the nationalist onslaught, which not only gained momentum through the unconditional Ruhr surrender, but also from the swiftly collapsing internal situation.

Was Short Lived

Both factors sufficed to knock the prop from under the cabinet, whose advent as a "big coalition government" was acclaimed less than seven weeks ago as presaging internal reconstruction, as well as progress in the foreign situation.

After the socialist members of the reichstag rejected by a vote of 61 to 54 the compromise proposed by Chancellor Stresemann on the mooted points of the eight-hour law and modification of the authorization law, its four members in the cabinet, Dr. Hilferding, minister of finance; Schmidt, reconstruction; Solman, interior; and Bahrbuch, justice, apprised the chancellor of their retirement, whereupon

Oklahoma Mayor Ready for Gang of Chicago Men

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3 (AP)—One hundred members of Barron's Athletic Club of Chicago, described as "Irish lads, handy with clubs, knives or guns," who left for Oklahoma recently with the announced intention of aiding Governor Walton in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan, will be put to work piling up votes if they reach Oklahoma City, Mayor O. Cargill advised the Chicago Tribune in a telegram tonight.

Johnson's Arrival Causes Sensation at Capitol City

New Senator from Minnesota Confers with Coolidge; Meets Other Executives

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Magnus Johnson, new farmer-land senator from Minnesota, conferred for 20 minutes today with President Coolidge and his visit to the White House offices caused a stir that seldom has been equaled by the call of ambassadors, or even princes and potentates.

Long before the new senator arrived a small army of photographers, camped about the White House and a host of newspaper men gathered in the corridors. Accompanied by former Representative Baer of North Dakota; George D. Brewer, his political adviser and Miss Josephine Loftus, his secretary, Mr. Johnson arrived a few minutes before the time of his appointment and was ushered into the office of Secretary Sloop.

While waiting to see the president Mr. Johnson talked with Mr. Sloop, who remarked that the new senator was the first to make his appearance from photographs which had always portrayed him with a pitchfork or some other farm implement. He was introduced by Mr. Sloop to Secretaries Work and Wallace, and Senators Harrell, republican, Oklahoma.

Lack of Funds for Modern Ships Blamed for U. S. Naval Disaster

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 3 (AP)—Had congress not refused to grant appropriations for "the proper equipment of destroyers squadrons" the disaster in which seven ships and 23 lives were lost off Honda, Cal., September 8, would never have occurred, Captain James H. Tomb, chief of destroyers squadron 12, today told the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster.

The navy department has tried repeatedly but without avail to obtain appropriations for the construction of ships properly equipped to act as destroyer squadron leaders, Captain Tomb asserted, but ordinary destroyers with insufficient quarters for a commander-in-chief's staff and carrying no sonic depth-finders with which to send soundings still are used for this purpose.

Favors British Type

"Had a squadron leader of the type used in the British navy been assigned to squadron 12 on September 8, such disaster would have occurred," declared the captain, who had been called to the stand to tell how his destroyer squadron, the twelfth, had rounded Point Arguello in safety, while ships of the eleventh steamed off their course and into the rocks.

Admiral William V. Pratt, presiding member of the court, the witness said that had he been in command of squadron eleven and in possession of the data available to its navigators it would not have gone on the rocks, even without a squadron leader of the British type.

He reiterated, however, his previous assertion that with a vessel of this type at the head of the column, equipped with the sonic depth finder, the seventh squadron would not have met disaster.

Radio Station Outfitted

The radio compass station at Point Arguello—whose direction signals were disregarded by navigators of the U. S. S. Delphy when she led squadron eleven head on into the California coast, also came in for criticism by Captain Tomb.

"It is amazing," he said, "that a compass station serving such a dangerous stretch of coast is not equipped to give ships at sea a prompt warning whenever requested as can be expected from similar stations on the east coast.

UNION PACIFIC EARNINGS GAIN

Increase of $2,131,000 Shown for First Eight Months of Present Year

OMAHA, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Union Pacific system with its subsidiary lines, the Oregon Short Line, Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company and the Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad, net income for the first eight months of this year as compared with the corresponding period of 1922, according to figures made public today in Omaha.

Gross increase in revenue for the period was given as $12,598,070, but operating expenses were $10,467,070. The largest increase in gross revenue was in freight business, revenue being $63,537,737 compared to $63,334,901 for the first eight months of last year. Passenger department revenue was given as $23,701,120 against $23,329,122, an increase of $377,998.

ALFALFA SEED CROP MAY PASS 1922 FIGURES

Production Smaller in Central Districts but Larger in South and Far West, Government Estimates Show.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The 1923 crop of alfalfa seed may exceed last year's production by 25 per cent or more if severe killing frost does not occur in some important districts, according to an estimate just made public by the United States department of agricultural economics. The increased production in Utah, Arizona, Texas, New Mexico, and possibly Idaho, is expected to more than offset the greatly decreased production in Kansas and Nebraska and the somewhat decreased production in some other states.

Estimates of dealers at 125 stations in leading producing districts indicate 1923 crop shipments at 13,500,000 pounds, compared with 1922 crop shipments aggregating approximately 10,000,000 pounds from the same stations. In many important districts weather conditions during the growing and harvest seasons were good but in other districts too much rain early in the spring followed by severe drought during the summer caused a marked reduction in the acreage and yield per acre. Grasshoppers did not cause damage principally in Kansas, Montana and Idaho. Webworms were again bad in Kansas.

Harvesting of the crop in most sections was a week or two later than last year but proceeded under favorable conditions. In a number of sections harvesters did not start until the first or second week of September. Many fields in which seed from the third crop may be saved will not be ready to harvest before October 1-10.

Prices offered to growers on September 15 averaged considerably higher than last year and the year before. Country run seed was being bought mostly at $12 to $13 per 100 pounds, averaging about $13.50 compared with $11.25 last year and re-cleaned or "basal clean" seed at $15.50 to $16.

A summary of the information obtained from important producing districts in the states indicated is given below.

South Dakota—Heavy rains in the spring and early summer, together with high temperatures in the Black Hills district were conducive to luxuriant vegetation growth at the expense of seed production. Drier weather in August and September was favorable for the development of seed. The slightly reduced yield per acre is expected to be offset by an increase in acreage. Estimates of 20 to 25 carloads available for shipment out of this district have been made. Harvesting began September 10. About $10.50 per 100 pounds for country run and $14 to $15 for re-cleaned seed were being offered to growers on September 15.

Kansas—Drought, grasshoppers and webworms were chiefly responsible for the marked reduction in the acreage harvested for seed. In some sections heavy rains in the spring decreased the production considerably. In northwestern Kansas the acreage was about one-third and in southwestern Kansas about one-half of last year's average. The yield per acre on the comparatively small acreage that was left for seed may average about 75 per cent as much as last year. Harvesting began August 15 to September 10, depending whether the first, second or third crop was the one saved for seed. Growers were offered $13 to $15 for country run and $15 to $16 for re-cleaned seed.

Nebraska—Too much rain in western Nebraska decreased the seed acreage about 50 per cent and the yield per acre of 80 per cent of last year. Harvesting began about September 15. Few or no prices had been offered up to that date.

Oklahoma—Drought and some damage from grasshoppers in western Oklahoma were reported. The acreage was estimated to be 10 to 20 per cent larger than last year and the yield about the same as last year.

Texas and New Mexico—The yield per acre in eastern New Mexico was 50 per cent or more larger than last year, but the acreage was only about 5 per cent larger. In western Texas the crop was one-third or more larger than last year due to a 10 per cent increase in acreage and a 25 per cent increase in yield. Harvesting in these districts began July 20 to August 1. Growers received $13 to $14 for country run, and mostly $15 for re-cleaned seed.

Lewisohn, in Asylum, Cries "Sane!"

Application for a writ of habeas corpus, later withdrawn, in the Court of Common Pleas, of South Norwalk, Conn., disclosed the fact that Walter Lewisohn, banker and copper magnate, of New York, has been a patient in Blythwood sanitarium, in Greenwich, since May 22. It was alleged that Lewisohn was lured there on the pretext that his intimate friend, Leonora Hughes, dancing partner of Maurice, had been injured. Later it was shown he had signed a request for voluntary confinement until he recovers from a nervous breakdown. He is shown here with his wife, Mrs. Selma Kraus Lewisohn, and their young son, who was mysteriously shot to death in his apartment, after leaving them at their hotel.

Arizona—A production of more than 3,600,000 pounds is estimated for the Yuma project. The acreage was 5 to 10 per cent less, but the yield per acre 20 to 30 per cent more than last year. About $15 was being offered to growers on September 15 for re-cleaned seed.

California—Scattered reports from the producing sections in the Surprise valley, Honey Lake region, Ferris and Palo Verde valleys and San Joaquin valley in California indicate a smaller production for the state than last year. Considerable injury from grasshoppers during July and August was reported in Modoc and Lassen counties.

Montana and Colorado—The acreage in Montana was reported to be about 10 per cent less and in Colorado about 10 per cent more than last year. Yields per acre in both states were smaller, excessive rains and grasshoppers being largely responsible. About 600,000 pounds of seed is estimated for Montana, compared with 900,000 pounds last year. Offers of $14 to $15 for re-cleaned seed in Colorado and as high as $17 to $18 in portions of Montana were being made.

Utah—Utah, leading state in the production of alfalfa seed, is expected to harvest a crop of 14,000,000 pounds compared with about 11,000,000 pounds last year. Favorable weather after September 20 might increase the production one or two million pounds, while unfavorable weather might decrease it. The heavy frost cut many fields before the seed was mature. This undoubtedly will cause a heavier shrinkage of immature seed than usual, hence the yield per acre is expected to be 5 to 10 per cent less than last year. The acreage, however, will be 20 to 40 per cent more than that of last year. Harvesting began about September 10. Main threshing operations will begin about October 1. About $11 was offered for re-cleaned seed on September 15. A week later prices as high as $15 to $16 were reported.

Idaho—Approximately 3,500,000 pounds of alfalfa seed is estimated for this year. Earlier estimates indicated a yield per acre in excess of that of last year. Later the yield was gan September 1 to 10. Growers were offered about $14 for re-cleaned seed on September 15, and $15.50 to $16 on September 22.

General—A good demand for alfalfa seed was reported during the spring and summer. The carry-over of good quality domestic seed is reported to be small and seedmen seem to be more interested at this time than usual in the outlook for this year's crop. In general the growing season in European countries that produce a surplus of alfalfa seed was much more favorable than last year and then undoubtedly will have more seed to offer than last year. Higher prices than prevailed last year at this time will be an incentive for them to export as much seed to this country as possible. It should be remembered, however, that during the last two years Argentina has contributed the bulk of our imports of alfalfa seed. During the fiscal years ending July 30, 1922 and 1923, the total quantities of alfalfa seed permitted entry under the seed importation act were 7,250,100 and 8,874,000 pounds, respectively, of which amounts approximately 90 per cent was imported from Argentine alone. The 1923 crop of Argentine was reported to be only one-half as large as the 1922 crop, which was estimated to be about 25,000,000 pounds. The carry-over of 1922 crop seed plus the production in 1923 in Argentine amounted to about two-thirds of their large 1922 crop. Approximately three and one-third million pounds of the 1923 crop has already been exported to the United States, Europe and Brazil. In addition to Argentina's requirements for autumn sowing in February and March, there remains only about two and one-quarter million pounds of 1923 crop for export.

Between July 1 and September 15 of this year 2,211,800 pounds of alfalfa seed was permitted entry compared with 3,012,600 pounds last year, 1,185,000 pounds two years ago, and 171,000 pounds three years ago for the same period. During the week ending September 22 approximately 461,000 pounds subject to the seed importation act, arrived at New York from Argentina.

RULES AGAINST BRANCH BANKS

Attorney General Holds Subsidiary Offices May Not Go in General Business

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—National banks may establish branches within the cities of their location for the receipt of deposits and the cashing of checks, but such branches may not engage in a general banking business, Attorney General Daugherty holds in an opinion submitted to Comptroller of the Currency Daves.

Explaining the opinion today to the joint congressional banking committee, Mr. Daves said that the opinion that branches for the performance of even these limited functions could not establish in localities where the state laws or practices prohibit state banks from rendering these services.

Discussing the branch banking business at length, the comptroller declared that the development of such banking, unless curbed, will mean the destruction of the national banks and of the federal reserve system and the substitution of a highly centralized privately controlled reserve system. He argued that the federal reserve board be given power to refuse admission to the reserve system of institutions engaged in general branch banking and to curb further extension of this principle by member banks.

Charles S. Hamlin, a member of the federal reserve board, told the commission that the board was prepared to recommend to congress as a means of inducing state banks in rural communities to join the federal reserve system that such banks in future be permitted to compute their reserves be permitted to deduct from their deposits checks in process of collection from other banks. This was necessary to ensure the reserve requirement, he said, adding that many banks refrained from joining the system because they thought the amount of reserves demanded by law was too high.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 3 (AP)—A monument in honor of two Iowans who were killed in the world war and which will bear inscriptions to their officers written by the war heroes themselves, before their departure for France, is to be unveiled Sunday at Paterson, near here. Final plans for the ceremony were announced today.

The inscription reads: "Jess H. Salisbury, killed in France."
 "Joe Downs, shot."
 The words were scratched into a piece of wet concrete on the day the young men enlisted and the inscription was preserved by Paterson authorities. When the struggle ended it was found Salisbury and Downs were the only men who went to the front from the little town who failed to return. The concrete block and its legend was thus made a part of the municipal memorial.

MAROA

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 3 (AP)—Two issues loomed big in the opinion of labor leaders tonight as committees continued to work on a mass of resolutions introduced at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

From three states and from one of the large international unions there have come demands that the American Federation of Labor enter actively into politics and from three states there have been received suggestions that unions amalgamate in single organizations, each to cover one industry. Adoption of either of these would involve a departure from the policies of the federation in recent years. Labor leaders, however, predicted that the conservative element at the convention would be strong enough to swamp both movements.

Hoots greeted the efforts of Max M. Sillsensky of Cleveland, Ohio, today to bring a resolution on recognition of soviet Russia before the convention with a request that it be transferred to the committee on international relations to which it had been assigned. His appeal to the convention from an adverse ruling by President Samuel Gompers was lost by an overwhelming chorus of "aays" in opposition to his motion. Representatives of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor and the Chicago Federation of Labor have asked that labor launch into the political arena as a party. Delegates from the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers have joined in this stand. Amalgamation of unions is sought in resolutions proposed by representatives of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, the Trades and Labor Council of Butte, Mont., and the Portland, Oregon, Central Labor council.

Among the 95 resolutions which are before the convention are protests against injunctions, demand for election of all federal judges by popular vote and for laws for abolition of child labor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Heavy buying for the short account, which apparently was becoming overcrowded, brought about a vigorous upturn in prices in today's stock market, the first million share day since September 13. The rally, which was generally construed as a correction of a week-end technical condition, was conducted without relation to new developments. Several of the large commission houses reported that the buying came largely from professional sources, so-called public participation being of negligible character.

The upward movement started in the railroad shares, buying of which was indicated by the August earnings statements now being published.

Particular attention was paid to "Big Four," which added 8 1/2 points to its 6 1/2 point gain yesterday, touching 104, a new high for the year, on reports of its purchase by New York Central.

Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Ohio, which are reported to be earning about $20 a share, each were run up another point or so, as were Wabash preferred "A," New York Central, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Lackawanna, Lohigh Valley, Erie first preferred and several others. Reading was pushed up 3 5/8.

Baldwin Eases.

Baldwin, in which the short interest is supposed to be unusually large, made the best showing among so-called pivot stocks closing five points higher at 120, after having sold slightly below that figure. Studebaker, which, with other motors, has been under pressure recently in speculative expectation of more intense competition and price cutting in the automotive industry next year, was not far behind, climbing 4 3/8 points to 99 1/2. United States Steel crossed 80 for a net loss of nearly 2 points, and American Can closed 3 points higher at 98 3/8.

The weekly steel trade reviews report a further light contraction in both pig iron and steel. Since March there has been a shrinkage of 1,988,980 tons in the unfilled orders of the United States corporation. September operation of the corporation reported to be at 87 per cent of steel making capacity, and if the 31,000 ton daily bookings reported in the first three weeks were continued through the month, the reduction in unfilled orders is expected to be considerably below the 496,000 tons decrease of August.

Weak Spots

Tobacco market was not without its weak spots. Jones Brothers Tea broke below 30 to a new low for the year. Unofficial reports that the year's earnings would be considerably below the $10 or $12 a share reported a few weeks ago. National Enameling also had a temporary sinking spell, dropping to 43 1/2 but it rallied later to 47 3/4, up 3-4 on the day. The only other conspicuous weak spots were J. I. Case and Van Heate Silk, off 9 1/2 and 4 3/4 points, respectively, the turnover in each case being small.

Money rates were somewhat easier. Funds on call opened at 5 per cent, decreased to 4 1/2 and thence to 4. Some 30 and 60 day time money was quoted as low as 3 1/4 per cent, but the bulk of time funds moved at 5 1/2.

The commercial paper market was steady.

Demand sterling held steady around $4.54 3/8, but the continental rates were reactionary. French francs dropped 12 points to 5.37, and German marks sank to a new low of 1-3 of a cent a million.

SQUAD TO MAKE TRIP IS NAMED

Coach Evans Chooses Players for Initial Clash at Idaho Falls; Line-up Kept Dark

The last practice before the squad leaves for Idaho Falls Wednesday night was a stiff one and Coach Evans gave the boys a hard workout. Not much scrimmage, but what there was of it was good.

Leiser, Garrity, Hodgins, Mussell, Christoferson, Umphrey, Donning, Friezelle, Swin, Alvord, Cron, Farrar, Harrison Jenkins Timm, Day and Manager Carl Kuhn will make the trip.

As to who will start the game figure it out for yourself. This is our guess, Swin at center, Houghs and Mussell ends; Leiser and Harrison, tackles; Friezelle and Umphrey, guards. The backfield is easy—Timm, full; Garrity and Jenks at half, and Alvord at quarter. If Cron is in condition to play the lineup will be changed and he probably will start at one end, with Houghs at center and Swin at full.

Cron pulled the muscles of his side and has been lame for several days. It is doubtful whether he will be able to play Friday although two days of rest may fix him up. He is needed at end or in the backfield and it will be tough luck if he is unable to play.

The bleachers were well populated Wednesday night and there was much speculation as to the outcome of Friday's game and as to the probable lineup. There will be a large delegation of rooters accompany the team in cars and Twin Falls will be well represented.

Moose Garrity was tuning up his putting foot Wednesday night and he has not lost any distance since last year and still makes a beautiful kick and a twister that is hard to handle.

Old lady rumor has it that the Pocatello fans are not hotting on the outcome of the game but on the reverse, some bets saying Twin Falls will win by 35 or 40 to 0. Idaho Falls has had two weeks more work than Evans' team and under a good coach so it will not be a walk away.

With Albion normal scheduled for a game here October 12 and good prospects that East high will be here the first part of November and the Nevada fresh between the schedule is beginning to take shape. All good games too and we can't forget Rupert for they will come in some place before long. Watch them against Blackfoot next Friday. Bleamster says his team is light but fast—just what that means or how fast they are we will have to guess and we can tell better after they meet Blackfoot.

FIRPO TO ACT IN MOVIES

South American Angel Accepts Offer of $100,000 for Film to Be Made in His Home Country

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo has forsaken temporarily the resined arena for the silver screen.

It was learned today that the wild ball of the pampas has accepted an offer of $100,000 from a Los Angeles motion picture concern for a silent drama to be filmed in the pugilist's Argentina.

Firpo, it is said, turned down a $200,000 movie contract calling for the picture to be made in this country, because of his desire to return to South America. He has decided definitely to sail for Buenos Aires on October 13, and expects to begin motion picture work within a few weeks after his arrival. Cinema paraphernalia and a special cast for Firpo will be taken to Argentina.

Pocatello Game is Cut from Schedule

Injuries to Players on Tech's Second Team Cause Cancellation of Contest

Word was received Wednesday night by Coach Evans that Pocatello Tech's second football team would be unable to come here on Friday, October 12, because of many injuries received, chief of which was a broken collar bone sustained by Clarence Kling, who was center on last year's Twin Falls team.

King will be out of the game for the balance of the season. Coach Evans has been dickered with Albion normal and got in touch with the athletic manager and secured a game with Albion normal for Friday, October 12 at Twin Falls, so the local fans will have a chance to see their team in action on the home grid a week from Friday. If no serious injuries are received in the Idaho Falls game, Evans will have a mighty strong team. Advice from Albion state that they also have a "strong aggregation" and no doubt the boys will have their hands full.

FOUR YANKS ON CASUALTY LIST

Babe Ruth and Three Others Temporarily Out of Play Due to Minor Injuries

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Four members of the New York Yankees, including Babe Ruth, their star of stars, were on the casualty list today, but with a week remaining before the opening of the world's series all are expected to round into condition again by the time the club takes the field against the Giants.

Wally Pipp, whose ankle injury was reported to be so serious that he might not be able to start the series, hobbled into the Yankees' dressing room today, aided by a cane, to announce that he was improving rapidly and would be at first base for the American League champions in the opening game. Pipp twisted his ankle in the series with the Red Sox at Boston recently.

Ruth, who was discussed as a likely substitute at the initial bag if Pipp is kept out, also has a tender ankle. The injury is not serious, but he will give it all the rest it needs for the next few days. Babe also developed a slight infection of the hand in Boston, but this was said to have practically disappeared. McNally, utility infielder, and Bob Mouzel, outfielder, are the others on the casualty list, both with sprained ankles.

The Yankees return tomorrow to the stadium for a series with the Athletics that will wind up the season for both clubs. The Giants go to Baltimore tomorrow to continue their series with the Orioles, International league champions.

GUARDS BATTLE WITH CONVICTS

Three Murderers Barricaded in Prison After Attempt to Shoot Way to Freedom

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 3 (AP)—Three convict murderers, cornered in the dining-room of the Eddyville state penitentiary here today, after they had killed one guard and wounded three others, in a desperate attempt to shoot their way to freedom, still were beset in their circle of death.

Ringed around with a grim circle of prison guards, reinforced by scores of citizen riflemen, the convicts held to their barricade, exchanging an occasional shot with the besiegers.

No concerted attempt to rush the improvised fortress of the convicts was made during the day and tonight, with a machine gun from the main guard post and from the Louisville police department coming to help prison authorities meet the situation, officials expected to determine what course to pursue after a conference with leaders of the reinforcement.

Siege Officer.
The convicts, Monte Walters of Louisville; Lawrence Griffith, Mayfield, and Harry Ferland, Covington, started their break for freedom in the shift factory of the penitentiary today, according to Guard Gillham. Between 40 and 100 convicts were in the room, Gillham said, when the three men seized upon a bound gun from the main guard there, and with automatic pistols in their hands made a dash for the main entrance to the prison grounds, firing at every guard they met.

The shots attracted guards from all parts of the prison to the scene and under a heavy fire the convicts were forced to take refuge in the dining room, a two-story building in the center of the prison grounds.

Citizens to Advance.
From vantage points in upstairs windows of the dining room the convicts were able to direct, with a rifle which forced the guards to take cover. An alarm quickly was sounded and citizens from the neighboring countryside added their strength to the besiegers.

Prison officials obtained a machine gun from a coal mine company at Nortonville and this was trained upon the barricaded building during the afternoon. Governor Edwin P. Morrow ordered troop C of the national guard, machine company at Hopkinsville, to the scene.

WALTON TO CONTINUE HIS WAR ON KLAN

Fight was fired today when he sought and obtained in state district court a temporary restraining order before the state election board from certifying the returns to the election of state.

Hearing on the application to make the order permanent was set for October 9. Observers on both sides anticipated a lull in the contest between the governor and the legislature until then.

The order was granted by Judge Tom G. Chambers, Jr., an appointee of Governor Walton.

In his application, the executive alleged the election was illegal because the proposed constitutional amendments submitted were not properly advertised before the election. He declared that thousands of armed special deputies commissioned by sheriffs throughout the state had intimidated voters and that this, combined with alleged influence exerted by the Ku Klux Klan, had kept more than 200,000 persons from the polls.

Hearing Set.
Interest in the tangled situation will shift tomorrow to a hearing in state district court of an injunction sought by members of the legislature to bar the governor and his representatives from interfering with their attempt to convene an impeachment session. The injunction suit was brought following action of the military last Wednesday in dispersing, at the governor's order, a session called by a majority of the members without his sanction.

The action was instituted before it was determined that the legislative amendment would be voted in yesterday's election.

New Attack Launched.
Meanwhile, a new attack was launched today against the official acts of Governor Walton by Campbell Russell, a bitter political enemy of the governor, who circulated the initiative petition for the legislative referendum.

This time it was a petition for a grand jury in district court here to investigate charges that Governor Walton has misused public moneys and to inquire into the appointment of thousands of state secret service agents by the executive. More than the required number of signatures were obtained and the petition was filed in what was said to have been the shortest time on record for such proceedings in Oklahoma City.

It is alleged that the governor used state highway department employes in violation of the law to check the initiative proposal in an effort to substantiate his claim that many of the signatures were forgeries. Both the secretary of state and the state supreme court held the petition valid.

A grand jury called to investigate similar charges was prevented from meeting three weeks ago by military authorities enforcing the executive decree of martial law.

FIND BODIES OF WRECK VICTIMS

Remains of Three Men and One Woman Recovered at Scene of Wyoming Crash

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 3 (AP)—Bodies of four victims of the Burlington wreck in Colo creek last Thursday night were recovered today.

Three of them—men—were dug out of the demolished smoking car and their identity established by railroad officials. They are: W. S. Wilson of Denver, international organizer of the Painters' union; F. R. Parker of New York City; Fred Fargo of Casper.

The fourth body—that of a woman as yet unidentified—was found on the bank of the Platte river, 20 miles below the scene of the wreck.

The woman's body was the first found down stream and bears out the theory of railroad men that many of the victims of the wreck were washed from the cars and are lying along the banks or under the sand of the Platte river. It was found back up in the Hildebrand irrigation ditch opposite a tank farm seven miles east of Glen Rock.

There are indications that Germany may break up. The Rhineland seems likely to separate, remaining independent, though possibly under French protection.

There would be poetic justice in that, as punishment for the great crime which modern Germany perpetrated in 1914, just as there was in the forced partition of Kurdistan.

The most obvious handicap in Europe today is the great number of small, independent states, jealous of each other, perpetually quarreling and setting up middle-class economic barriers against each other.

Imagine the United States dissolved into forty-eight independent, rival states. It would wreck this country and impoverish its people.

SQUARE DEALING WITH JAPAN... It is expected that Japan will need, for reconstruction following the earthquake, more than a billion feet of American lumber.

"A fine chance for a big rake-off" some people will say. Yes, indeed. And the finest thing about it is that the Pacific Coast lumbermen have refused to take advantage of Japan's need.

This is admirable business ethics. It is also sound practical business. The price policy referred to seems to have originated in mere decency.

LAW IN OKLAHOMA... In most foreign countries such a situation as that which has arisen in Oklahoma would mean an outbreak of armed violence.

the crisis, has been mental rather than physical. There have been no riots, no armed revolts, no battles except battles of words.

It is the American way. Our people are often accused, abroad, of being canonically lawless. That is a mistaken judgment, based on superficial evidence.

UNSATISFACTORY INDIAN AFFAIRS... The United States Bureau of Indian Affairs is out of touch with the American Indian, according to educated leaders of that race.

Among the evils which a paternalistic policy has fostered are poor education, absence of health work, and restriction of their use of their own property.

It is perhaps only because of lack of information on the subject that a nation eager to Americanize its alien population and to train them to good citizenship should neglect these original Americans.

LOVE STORY FILMED... Hidden away from most of his fellow countrymen for years because of a sensitive modesty, the most interesting figure of a great American is now brought to the knowledge of the masses by Charles Ray.

In a vivid and compelling picturization of "The Girl I Loved," made for United Artists, and booked for today at the Orpheum theatre, this popular star of the screen draws from practical obscurity the personal romance of James Whitcomb Riley as described by him in a poem that he finally withheld from his published works when its intimate revelations were disclosed as his own.

Mr. Riley passionately loved a maid and when he was about to claim her, as he too confidently believed, a rival appeared. Out of this dual struggle for the hand of a girl grew a network of tragic events which exemplify the maxim that "there is a drama in every home."

"THE FRENCH DOLL"... Mao Murray is coming. That's news which will be welcomed by moviegoers everywhere. But that's not all. Her newest Metro picture, "The French Doll," which will be at the Idaho theatre today, is undoubtedly the beautiful star's most elaborate and fascinating production.

This startling photoplay breaks Miss Murray's own record for gorgeous gowns and luxurious settings. Her ravishing costumes were made from her own designs in New York, Paris and Vienna, and they represent the last word in luxurious apparel. There are scenes of society life in Paris, New York and Palm Beach. Miss Murray has the role of a vivacious little French girl who found romance in America.

"The French Doll" is based on the successful play in which Irene Bordoni played the leading role. Frances Marion prepared the scenario. The photoplay is presented by Robert Z. Leonard and was produced by Tiffany Productions, of which Mr. Leonard is executive general and M. H. Hoffman general manager.

"Isn't your mother here, Jim?" she asked. "I've been looking all over the crowd and can't see her."

"I want help," said Jennie. "Our hamper is terribly heavy. Please?"

"Sit down, Jim," said Mrs. Woodruff, "you've earned a bit of what we've got. It's good enough, what there is of it, and there's enough of it, such as it is."

"I'm sorry," said Jim, "but I've a prior engagement."

"I'm sorry," said Jim, "but I've a prior engagement."

"Why, Jim?" protested Jennie. "I've been counting on you. Don't desert me!"

"I'm awfully sorry," said Jim, "but I promised. I'll see you later."

One might have thought, judging by the colonel's quizzical smile, that he was pleased at Jennie's loss of her former swain.

Jim seemed to be in demand—a fact that Jennie confirmed by observation. He received a dozen invitations as he passed the groups seated on the grass—one of them from Mrs. Cornelius Bonner, who saw no particular point in advertising disgruntlement.

But Jennie—the daughter of a politician and a promising one besides—Jennie sensed the fact that Jim Irwin had won something from the people of the Woodruff district in the way of deference. Still he was the gangling, Lincolnian, ill-dressed, over-stricken Jim Irwin of old, but Jennie had no longer the feeling that one's standing was somewhat compromised by association with him.

He had begun to put on something more significant than clothes, something which he had possessed all the time, but which became valid only as it was publicly apprehended. He was clearly the central figure of his group, in which she recognized the Bronsons, those queer children from Tennessee, the Simmes, the Talcotts, the Hansens, the Hamms and Colonel Woodruff's hired man, Pete, whose other name is not recorded.

Jim sat down between Bettina Hansen, the black-haired young Brumhalls of seventeen, and Callie Simmes—Jennie saw him do it, while listening to Wilbur Smythe's account of the exacting nature of the big law practice he was building up—and would have been glad to exchange places with Bettina.

"The repast drew to a close; and over by the burr oak the crowd had grown to a circle surrounding Jim Irwin.

"He seems to be making an address," said Wilbur Smythe.

"Well, Wilbur," replied the colonel, "let him do the first act at us. Suppose we let him over and see what's under discussion."

"You think so, Ezra," said he, "and it seems reasonable that big creameries like those at Omaha, Sioux City, Des Moines and the other central points can make butter cheaper than we would do here—but we've the figures that show that they aren't economical."

"They can't make good butter, for one thing," said Newton Bonner coolly.

"Why can't they?" asked Olaf Hansen, the father of Bettina.

"Well," said Newton, "they have to have so much cream that they've got to ship it so far that it gets rotten on the way, and they have to renovate it with lime and other ingredients before they can churn it."

"Well," said Raymond Simms, "I reckon they sell their butter for all it's worth; an' they can't get within from foah to seven cents a pound as much for it as the farmers' creameries in Wisconsin and Minnesota get for theirs."

"That's a fact, Olaf," said Jim. "Don't you kids know so darned much about it?" queried Pete.

"Huh!" sniffed Bettina. "We've been reading about it, and writing letters about it, and figuring percentages on it in school all winter. We've done arithmetic and geography and grammar and I don't know what else on it."

"Well, 'im 'gin' any school?" said Pete, "that makes kids smarter in farmin' than their parents and their parents' hired men. G' me another swig of that lemonade, Jim?"

"You see," said Jim to his audience, meanwhile pouring the lemonade, "the centralizer creamery is uneconomic in several ways. It has to pay excessive transportation charges, it has to pay excessive commissions to its cream buyers. It has to accept cream without proper inspection, and mixes the good with the bad. It makes such long shipments that the cream spoils in transit and lowers the quality of the butter. It can't make the best use of the buttermilk. All these losses and leaks the farmers have to stand. I can prove—and so can the six or eight pupils in the Woodruff school who have been working on the cream question this winter—that we could make at least six cents a pound on our butter if we had a co-operative creamery and all went our cream to it."

"Well," said Ezra Bronson, "let's start one."

"I'll go in," said Olaf Hansen.

"Me, too," said Con Bonner.

There was a general chorus of assent. Jim had convinced his audience.

"It's got the jury," said Wilbur Smythe to Colonel Woodruff.

"Yes," said the colonel, "and right here is where he runs into danger. Can he handle the crowd when it's with him?"

"Well," said Jim, "I think we ought to organize one, but I've another proposition first. Let's get together and pool our cream. By that, I mean that we'll all sell to the same creamery, and get the best we can out of the centralizers by the co-operative method. We can save two cents a pound in that way, and we'll learn to co-operate. When we have found just how well we can hang together, we'll be able to take up the co-operative creamery, with less danger of falling apart and falling."

"Who'll handle the pool?" inquired Mr. Hansen.

BOYS DISCOVER REMAINS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3 (AP)—Three boys playing on the bank of the Monongahela, river tonight found the head of a man imbedded a foot or more in the sand. The head is believed to be that from the headless body of a white man found in the girl's dressing room of the South Side bathing pool.

The boys, among hundreds of others, who had searched the river bank all day, were attracted by a few wisps of hair in a pile of small rocks. Poking among the rocks and sand, they uncovered the head.

Election Called on Irrigation District

Commissioners Order Submission of Proposal to Electors of Salmon River Project

Residents of the Salmon river project, under provisions of an order and call for election issued Wednesday by the board of irrigation projects and commissioners, will be called upon to vote December 11 on the proposed creation of the Salmon river irrigation district to acquire and operate the project's irrigation system.

Records of the commissioners with respect to the petition show that O. P. Objection had been made to Mr. Carlson participating in the proceedings, because of the fact that he is the owner of land within the proposed district.

Delegates Gather for Church Session

Central Idaho Baptist Association Opens Three-Day Sessions with Annual Sermon

Delegates representing approximately 200 churches of the area of the state assembled Wednesday at Twin Falls to attend three days sessions of the thirtieth annual session of the Central Idaho Baptist church here with an address of welcome by the Rev. W. H. Toliver, pastor of the local church and moderator of the association, and the stated sermon delivered by the Rev. H. W. Votra of Halley. Announcement also was made by the moderator of committee appointments.

"The cross," the Rev. Mr. Votra declared in the course of his sermon on the topic "Spiritual Dynamics of Praise and the Gospel," is more than a historical fact. It includes the whole of Christian doctrine; it is a spirit of life. It is not merely wearing a golden emblem.

"The word gospel," Mr. Votra said, "is derived from a word meaning good news. The gospel, like a compound of several elements, is composed of several factors. It includes: first, God will save men; Christ is God's saving power; God uses us to help him save men.

"The gospel is a source of comfort in affliction and a source of renewed courage, clarifying vision and inspiring to high endeavor."

"What else it means to be proud of the gospel? It means to be proud to be in this world like Christ in the various experiences of life; it means to be proud of what He taught to be exponents of His teachings, the golden rule in daily life; to be teachers of His word and to help to send the word to others.

"The program for the morning session Thursday includes 'Bible Exposition,' Rev. W. F. Roberts, Gooding; 'Our Evangelistic Program,' Rev. E. L. Mills, Boise; 'A Survey of Our Association,' Rev. J. E. Kanar, Gooding; 'Our German Baptist Churches,' Rev. A. J. Heinrichs, American Falls.

The afternoon will be devoted to a Sunday school session with talks on 'The Bigger and Better Sunday School Campaign,' Miss Ayres, Boise; 'The Importance of Trained Leadership,' Mrs. H. M. Nunnenmacher, Twin Falls; 'A Church Department of Young People's Work,' Rev. J. H. Herrin, Gooding; 'Week Day and Night Church Schools,' Rev. H. W. Votra.

The laymen's session in the evening will include talks on 'Baptist Laymen in Action,' J. H. Masters, Twin Falls; 'Bible Principles of Giving,' E. J. McMahon, Shoshone; and a stereopticon lecture, 'Fighting for Character in Japanese Cities.'

Visiting delegates will be honored guests at the association banquet to be served in the evening at Tom's cafe. Reports of committees and election of officers is scheduled for Friday morning.

STATEMENTS OF BLACKBURN TO ENTER RECORD

Defense Drops Fight Against Admission of Testimony as to Alleged Contradictory Admissions by Accused Youth

Melvin Blackburn, Ellor youth on trial in district court here for first degree murder of his girl wife, Cecil Hurst Blackburn, by poisoning, last May, made various contradictory statements, each, however, involving a measure of responsibility on his own part for the fatal occurrence, according to testimony of several witnesses introduced Wednesday by the state in the absence of the jury.

This testimony will be repeated before the jury, under the ruling made by Judge W. A. Babcock, just before recess was taken Wednesday evening. The court held that the statements attributed to Blackburn had not been obtained from the accused or promises of reward, and that testimony bearing on such statements would be admitted in evidence.

Counsel for the state asserts that at least five different contradictory statements have been made by Blackburn.

Blackburn on Stand

In an effort on the part of the defense to show that the statements had been obtained under threat and promises given by county authorities that "it would be lighter for him if he would confess," Melvin Blackburn took the stand for a few moments Wednesday afternoon. His testimony was confined to that particular issue.

Wednesday brought an increased number of spectators to witness proceedings in the trial. The charged youth maintained his appearance of equanimity throughout the day.

Defense Closes Resistance

During the day the jury was twice excused for comfortable periods of rest while testimony as to statements attributed to Blackburn were rehearsed in order that the court might determine whether it would be admissible in evidence. In each instance the court ruled for admission of the testimony.

James W. Porter of defense counsel, stated on the court made the second ruling that no further effort would be to exclude testimony relative to Blackburn's alleged statements.

Question as to the admissibility of this testimony was first raised by John W. Gabbart was called to the stand. Mr. Gabbart, in the presence of several witnesses that he had sought to obtain a drug to cause premature birth of his wife's child. The officer said that Blackburn at various times made conflicting statements as to the source of the drug and persons by whom it was obtained.

Testimony of J. H. Barnes, assistant prosecuting attorney, and H. S. Hamilton, former deputy sheriff, was introduced by the state to show that Blackburn had admitted sending to his wife the drug which, it is alleged, caused her death. This statement, both written and oral, was voluntary on the part of Blackburn.

In the first conversation, the witness said, Blackburn told his wife he had sent her a medicine. The next day he asked if she had received the medicine. On the following day Mrs. Blackburn told her husband she had received the medicine and received from him directions as to how to take it. This conversation, the witness said, took place on the day before Mrs. Blackburn was stricken. Twin Falls Women Victims of Wreck

Mrs. M. J. Sweeley and Mrs. E. M. Wolfe Among Passengers in Motor Stage Accident

A favorable report was made Wednesday as to the condition of Mrs. M. J. Sweeley and Mrs. E. M. Wolfe, both of Twin Falls, who were two of the eight passengers in the Twin Falls-Boise motor stage when it overturned Tuesday evening on a curve about two miles east of Mountain Home and dropped over a 10-foot embankment.

Seven of the passengers were slightly injured. Mrs. Sweeley suffered severe bruises about the side, and Mrs. Wolfe also was painfully bruised. Both were removed to Boise. Medical attention was given the injured passengers at Mountain Home.

The accident occurred, according to reports, when the driver, discovering too late that a load of hay was on the road ahead, turned off the road to avoid a collision. Under the weight of the automobile lights, it was said, the load of hay appeared to the driver only as the continuation of the road.

The stage, an hour and a half after the accident, caught fire from an unknown cause, and was considerably damaged.

Mrs. Sweeley, western director of the Federation of Women's Clubs, was on her way to Boise to attend sessions of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Wolfe, president of the State Federation of Catholic Women's Leagues, was making the trip to attend sessions of that organization as well as of the Federation of Women's Clubs.
