Lloyd George Declares Hughes' Plan for Commission on Reparations is "Absolutely Best Hope of Settlement."

MONTREAL, Quebec, Oct. 8 (AP)—Secretary Hughes' proposal, made nearly a year ago for the appointment of a commission of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations was declared by David Lloyd George tonight to be "absolutely the best hope of the settlement of reparations."

The former British premier made this assertion when shown press dispatches from Washington which stated that high American administration officials believed it was the best hope for acceptance of the plan. His statement came after he had delivered his first public address in Canada, in which he expressed his gratitude for the resolute and unhesitating part which the dominion played in the world war.

Not Too Late. Commenting on Secretary Hughes' plan, Mr. Lloyd George said: "In my opinion this plan is not too late for consideration and it is absolutely the best hope of the settlement of reparations. Of course, since the plan was first broached the ability of Germany to pay is much less. The greater the delay the closer the situation approaches chaos. I hope that serious consideration of Mr. Hughes' plan may be taken up even at this late date, and I repeat that it is the best hope of a successful settlement."

The Washington press dispatches indicated that in official opinion there was no acceptance of the plan would rest with France.

Spain's wartime premier spoke late this afternoon to an audience which crowded Mount Royal arena, with its seating capacity of 30,000 to the doors. He declared with ringing eloquence that Canada in the great war was "tried practically for the first time on a great scale in that burning, searing crucible and she came out pure and refined gold."

Lands Canadians. "Canada had to enter an examination of her qualities," he continued, "in a competition and a conflict with the most virile races in the world; the strongest, the most 'stated,' the most dominant races, and it was a searching test for a new nation. She passed through all these fiery trials. And do not forget she emerged with a certificate of nationhood signed by all those great nations, friend and foe alike."

"The treaty of Versailles may have its defects. It is now in the testing. It may succeed or conceivably, it may fail, but for Canada it is an opportunity of national value; it is a certificate of nationhood, signed by practically all the great nations of the earth, after four and one-half years of trial. It is therefore a charter for Canada."

The arena meeting was the only formal function attended by Lloyd George today. In the morning he was taken on an automobile trip through the city, visiting the waterfront, the stock ex-

Engine of Harding Funeral Train Will Carry His Pictures

Photographs of Late President to Be Placed on Side of Locomotive Cab

MARION, Ohio, Oct. 8 (AP)—Locomotive number 2032, which pulled the funeral train of Warren G. Harding over the Kent division of the railroad from Akron to Marion, August 9, is to carry pictures of the late president. Harry R. Adams, superintendent of the division announced today.

The pictures, draped with American flags, will be mounted in dust-proof frames, 8 by 10 inches, which will be welded on the sides of the engine cab, under the windows. They will remain on the locomotive until March 4, 1925, when the body of President Harding would have expired.

ASSURE HIGHER APPLE PRICES

Gathering of Fruit Growers at Payette Discusses General Market Conditions

PAYETTE, Idaho, Oct. 8 (AP)—Apple growers who hold their crops for 30 to 60 days may be reasonably sure of higher prices, local, eastern and independent growers assured a gathering of growers and bankers at the Bancroft hotel tonight. The meeting, held at the call of the Payette Chamber of Commerce, was presided by a banquet.

Colonel L. V. Patch, president, and called on representatives of buyers, local business men and growers, after which the meeting was thrown open to a general discussion of the apple market, more particularly as it affected the Payette-Waiwae-Ontario region. There were about 40 present, including Weiser and Ontario bankers.

Addresses were made by R. D. Bradshaw, president of the Payette Chamber of Commerce; W. H. Homan, cashier of the Ontario National bank; James Turnbull of Texas, a buyer; Roy Matthews of Sioux City, Iowa, another buyer, and A. A. Stettler of Fruitland, representing the growers. The meeting was then thrown open to general discussion.

The price offered by buyers for the

KELS PREPARES FOR PAYMENT OF DEATH PENALTY

Confessed Perpetrator of Weir Murder to Shield Financial Disaster Refuses to Obtain Defense at Trial

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 8 (AP)—Alexander A. Kels, a leading citizen of the community of Lodi, Cal., and confessed perpetrator of a weird murder, meant to shield himself from a financial disaster, started tonight in a final straightening up of his earthly affairs in the expectation of being sentenced Wednesday to death on the gallows at San Quentin prison.

"Nothing remains to be done," Superior Judge D. M. Young said after a long and exhaustive examination of the prisoner today. "The court has gone fully into the witnesses, and all that is left is the judgment."

Judge Young intimated that the sentence would be death when he told Kels that "I cannot entertain any mercy, and I hope you understand that."

Kels replied indifferently that he did.

Prosecution Quiet. In keeping with the previous statements the prosecutor's office made no recommendations of any kind. Kels virtually delivered himself up to the court without a plea or appeal, going so far as to deliberately burn behind him the last bridge that might lead to a mitigation of the judgment. He flatly refused the offer of the court that he be given counsel, an offer repeated many times during the examination today and as often refused with emphasis.

"Mr. Kels," the judge said at last, "I cannot get up from this seat of mine and go out and get evidence that would be favorable to you. I cannot conduct a superficial examination to determine the degree of the crime. An attorney would be able to investigate thoroughly for you and bring in many facts that might be helpful to you."

"I understand that," the prisoner replied, "but I am satisfied to let the thing rest as it is."

Judge Young then set the date of sentence for Wednesday.

CO-OPERATIVE SELLING IS SCHEME FAVORED TO HELP WHEAT GROWERS

Success of Modern Marketing Methods Among Tobacco and Cotton Producers Furnishes Answer to National Problem

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Lifting the wheat farmer from his present slough of financial difficulties, and low prices to the level of the cotton and tobacco growers by the same means that lifted them—co-operative marketing on a national scale—was decided upon today by representative cooperative and agricultural leaders called into conference on the best means of correcting the present national situation in wheat.

Immediate survey of the six principal wheat growing states with the view in mind of working through present facilities where they exist and creating them where they are not, was voted by the conference which resolved itself into a permanent committee and elected an executive committee with former Governor Frank O. Lowden as chairman to carry on the work.

Sapiro Invited. Robert W. Bingham of Louisville, a leader in the tobacco cooperative marketing movement and present chairman of the national council of farmers cooperative marketing associations, who called the conference, invited such cooperative leaders as Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, president of the American Cotton Growers' exchange; Aaron Sapiro of New York and San Francisco, organizer of the California Fruit Growers', and numerous other cooperative groups; George C. Jewett, general manager of the Northwestern Wheat Growers' association, and others.

Eugene Mayer, Jr., managing director of the wire finance corporation; Frank Mondell, another director; and M. G. Yohe, of the bureau of agricultural economics, appointed by President Coolidge to investigate the wheat situation, sat in the conference and following his conclusion declared they saw in co-operative marketing the real solution in the wheat problem and assured the committee of the support of the administration and of the governmental agencies that may be able to help the plan.

LABOR EJECTS MONTANA MAN FOR RED VIEWS

Alleged Communistic Activities of Butte Bulletin Editor Lead to His Being Unseated After Hot Debate

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 8 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor in convention here today revoked the credentials of William F. Dunne, of Butte, Mont., central labor council, as a delegate, in a spirited session during which Dunne was characterized by speakers as "a traitor to organized labor," on account of his alleged activities as a communist.

The vote as announced was 27,538 yeas, and 130 no.

Complaints by United Mine Workers officials against Dunne's utterances through the Butte Bulletin, of which he is editor, were discussed during the debate and culminated most of the convention's two sessions today.

Oppose "One Big Union." Following the unseating of Dunne the convention rejected three resolutions proposing that unions be consolidated along lines of industries, instead of crafts—the one big union idea. The report charged that those who favor amalgamation aim at the destruction of organized labor.

Dunne was the author of one of the amalgamation resolutions. Delegate James A. Duncanson of Seattle, said that he Senate Central Labor council had been a pioneer in propaganda for amalgamation. He said, however, that his organization was not endeavoring to disorganize the American Federation of Labor. He said he was in accord with the report of the resolutions committee outlining the federation's attitude on amalgamation.

Denounce Klan. The executive council's report denouncing "usurpation of government" by the Ku Klux Klan was unanimously approved in a resolution adopted last night. It called upon the American Federation of Labor to support the "menace to American government." A copy of the report on the Ku Klux Klan was ordered sent to each local organization in the federation. The convention adopted a resolution denouncing the fascist movement and its support by the executive council's report flaying that movement.

The vote on the resolution unseating Dunne, brought to issue the conservative and radical elements of the convention. It was taken after several hours of discussion in which Dunne was denounced by Matthew Wolf, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. Dunne himself replied to the attacks and lugged defiance at the convention and the officers of the federation.

Commend Governor. A resolution was adopted commending Governor Davies of Kansas for efforts to eliminate the "can't strike" law of former Governor Allen.

The stand of the railway shipment in the strike last year was approved. Efforts of the railway labor board, which had been attacked as tyrannical, was demanded in another resolution adopted.

A resolution declaring for limitation of the powers of the supreme court of the United States and election of federal judges for definite terms, was adopted late today.

INQUIRERS PUT ON THE STAND

Naval Officers Conducting Inquiry Tell of Their Actions Before Wreck.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 8 (AP)—Tables were turned at today's session of the court of inquiry investigating the Honda destroyer disaster when the judge advocate and assistant judge advocate of the court whose duty it has been to present evidence in somewhat the same manner as would a district attorney, took the witness stand to be questioned concerning their actions as officers of the 11th destroyer squadron shortly before it steamed off its course into the rocks.

Lieutenant Commander Leslie Bratton, judge advocate, testified that as captain of the U. S. S. Stoddard, thirteenth ship in line when the squadron flagship, he made its disastrous downward turn he received a radio compass bearing from Point Arguello indicating that his vessel was much farther inshore than he had suspected and apparently had not made good its estimated speed of 20 knots. He was in a quandary over this and other radio bearings, he said, when he saw the head of the column changing course to eastward. While he was plotting this change of course on his chart to see where it would lead him, he explained, he heard engineer room signals indicating his ship was slowing down.

Heard Signals. About this time, he testified, he heard the whistle of a railroad train. Soundings showed the Stoddard in 12 fathoms of water "and then," he concluded, "I realized we must be close to beach."

The Stoddard had just begun to follow the other ships around the turn when he gave the order to sheer out of the column, he said.

Slowed Speed. Under cross-examination Lieutenant Commander Bratton said that the "governing factor" in his decision to sheer out of column into safer waters was an apparent discrepancy in signals out by the squadron flagship after she struck, coupled with the fact that his own ship had already been told to reduce its speed to avoid collision with destroyers ahead of it which were slowing down.

Was Not Suspicious. At the request of Rear Admiral William V. Pratt, presiding member of the court, the witness indicated on a chart just where he thought his ship

Solons to Draft Opening Attack in Legislature

Oklahoma Representatives to Discuss Investigation of Impeachment Charges.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 8 (AP)—Members of the lower house of the state legislature, summoned by Governor J. C. Walton to meet in extraordinary session Thursday, will perform a caucus Wednesday evening to perfect an organization with a view toward launching an investigation of impeachment charges against the governor immediately the assembly is called to order.

Coinciding with this announcement from temporary legislative headquarters here tonight, Murray Gibbons, speaker of the house of the legislature, issued a statement declaring he would not be a candidate for the speakership because of his "intimate connections" with Governor Walton's administration.

Gibbons heretofore has been considered a possible stumbling block in any legislative move to consider the executive official's acts. Representative W. D. McEwen, of Stephens county and Dave A. Stovall, of Huga, have been mentioned for the speakership. The former is prominently identified in the attack against Governor Walton's official conduct.

Speed Marks First Day in Second Hearing of Stokes Divorce Case

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Speed marked the first day of the retrial of the divorce case which W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy 70 odd year old hotel owner, has brought against his wife, Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Stokes, a woman more than 35 years his junior.

Before a packed courtroom, consisting mostly of attorneys, law students and a few women, a jury was speedily drawn, two witnesses examined and cross-examined and third heard on direct questioning before Supreme Court Justice Mahoney adjourned court for the day.

Negress Testifies. The main witness was Mrs. Nell Rose Miller, a Chicago negress, who testified that she saw Mrs. Stokes in the New York apartment of Edgar T. Wallace, the principal co-respondent in the first Stokes trial, at least half a dozen times between June 1917, and January, 1918, when she brought food from the tearoom where she worked two floors below. Several times, she testified, Mrs. Stokes was in the bedroom.

Her examination was brief, and Samuel Undermyer, chief counsel for Mrs. Stokes, announced he would cross-examine her tomorrow.

Max D. Steur, chief counsel for Mr. Stokes, surprised Mr. Undermyer when he produced his first witness, Mrs. Alice S. Mills of Kansas City, Mo., a distant relative of Wallace. She testified that she saw Mrs. Stokes in 1904, then Miss Helen Erwood, in Bunceon, Mo., where Mrs. Mills then lived, in company with Wallace and Clarence McCormick.

Accepts Taunt. She accepted Mr. Undermyer's taunt that she had a reasonable memory, asserting that she knew all the 900 people in Bunceon when she lived there and made it a point to see every day for two years all the people who went riding about town in the village tally-ho.

The next witness, Mrs. Kramer, also of Bunceon, admitted she came to testify primarily because she wanted to see New York. She has difficulty telling where she lived in Bunceon, saying the streets had neither names nor numbers.

INVESTIGATORS FILE REPORT ON VETS CEMETERY

Vanderbilt and Littleton Find Necessity for Removal of Many Bodies in Burial Ground of U. S. Heroes

PARIS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Brigadier General Cornelius Vanderbilt and Martin W. Littleton, who have been conducting an investigation into the conditions at the Belleau Wood cemetery, where many American soldiers are buried, today made public their findings.

"We found," said their statement, "that due to the removal within the past few months of 1500 bodies, it became necessary to remove and reinter the location of those remaining. This necessitated laying out the cemetery on entirely different lines, which was done with great haste, but the required work of reconstruction, road building and drainage, while unfinished, makes the cemetery only partially accessible and in its present condition it presents a disagreeable aspect."

The investigators say the work of reconstruction was let to sub-contractors without time limit, and consequently there is no means of saying when the work will be completed.

Collect Money.
Concerning the collection of money at the cemetery gate for the Belleau Wood Memorial association, the report says 200,000 francs have been collected and deposited with the Bankers' Trust company. Visitors to the cemetery are not imperturbed to contribute, there being merely a sign above the register to the effect that "contributions are accepted."

Recommend Change.
Nothing reprehensible or wrong has occurred in connection with this method of collection. It is said the purpose for which the money is collected and the motives of all those engaged in the enterprise are characterized as lofty and deserving of praise, but the report concludes:

"Receipt of money by an official of the government to be administered by a voluntary association, is opened to misconception and criticism, and should be discontinued."

BEET GROWERS GET BIG SUM

Great Western Sugar Company to Pay $2,000,000 Additional for 1922 Crop

DENVER, Oct. 8 (AP)—Sugar beet farmers in areas covered by the Great Western Sugar company will be enriched about $2,000,000 as the result of a decision announced here today by the company to pay additional money to producers for beets delivered last year.

This sum will be paid in final settlement for the beet tonnage delivered by the growers in 1922, in accordance with the "sliding scale" contract, under which the farmers were to participate in proceeds realized from the sale of the sugar.

The payment of approximately $2,000,000 will bring the total amount paid to producers for their 1922 crop to about $16,000,000, according to officials of the company. The company realized $7.25 per bag on its output of 5,000,000 bags of sugar from the 1922 beet crop, it was announced.

Disaster Postpones Prince Regent's Marriage

Crown Prince Hirohito, regent of Japan, will not be married this autumn, as had been planned, because of the sorrow into which his country has been thrown by the earthquake. The future empress of Japan is in hearty agreement with her imperial fiancé. She is devoting all her time to alleviating the sufferings of her countrymen.

SUSPECTED MAN HELD INNOCENT

Husband of Mrs. Gertrude Webb Declared Above Suspicion of Causing Death

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 8 (AP)—Any suspicion which may have attached to Charles Webb, husband of Mrs. Gertrude German Webb, has been thoroughly blown up. Colonel Howard Thayer Kingsbury, chief counsel for Mr. Webb, declared after Webb had appeared today before the grand jury investigating the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Webb's death at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club at Rye two weeks ago.

Colonel Kingsbury declared newspaper explanations of the contest of Mrs. Webb's will, which left her entire estate to her husband, had failed to point out that Mr. Webb would benefit more than lose if the contestants won their case.

With the second will, which is being contested, he said, Mr. Webb filed a third unsigned will and a statement sworn to by him whereby he promised to carry out the second will strictly in accordance with the extra provisions of the third will. The second will, Col-

Murderer of Priest Recommended Held to Grand Jury; Seeks Police Protection

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Emily Strutynsky, wife of a Greek Catholic priest of Rome, Pa., and who yesterday shot and killed the Rev. Basil Stetusk, pastor of St. Nicholas' Greek Catholic church, after she had been admitted to the confessional at St. Michael's Archangel church, where Rev. Stetusk was conducting Mass, was recommended held to the grand jury on a charge of murder by the coroner's jury which investigated the slaying today.

An angry crowd milled about the little undertaking room where the inquest was to have been held, and Mrs. Strutynsky, frightened, appealed to the officers who had her in custody for protection when the crowd became threatening. A hurried order for police reserves brought several patrol wagons to the scene.

Mrs. Strutynsky took the witness stand at the inquest but was asked nothing except her name and place of residence. Other witnesses told of how the woman, heavily veiled, had entered the church, expressed a desire to make a confession, had waited for some time until the Rev. Stetusk arrived and then walked down the main aisle to the confession box.

She shot the priest through the head as she knelt before him, witnesses said, and fired other shots at him as he staggered down the aisle and collapsed.

OPINIONS VARY ON OUTCOME OF WORLD'S SERIES

Respective Chances of Yankees and Giants Furnish Topic of the Day as Time for Opening Event Approaches

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—The respective chances of the Yankees and Yankees in their third world series are being discussed tonight by the usual vanguard of players, writers and fans, come from the thousand and one baseball corners of the continent.

Everyone has a different opinion regarding the why and wherefore of the weaknesses and strong points of the teams, but the general idea seems to be that as in the previous two series all the dope will be turned upside down.

The Yankees, as in 1921 and 1922, have, by far, the strongest pitching staff on paper. The five regular hurlers of the Huggins staff, Jones, Pennock, Bush, Hoyt and Shubert, have worked in twice as many complete games as Scott, Neff, Watson, Bentley, McQuillan and Ryan of the Giants. Yet, in 1922, when the same sort of condition obtained, McGraw's pitchers were the best in the series.

It is believed by many that Ruth, the axis about which the Yankees make their revolve, will lead his team mates to their first world title. In 1921 and 1922, Ruth was a stunning disappointment in the series. Without his battering ram, the Yankees could not go on. This year, however, Ruth is fresh from the greatest season of his career, a season in which he was the most valuable player of all those in the American league.

The followers of the American league champions have been anxious about Walter Pipp, the first sacker, who injured his ankle in a game at Boston several weeks ago. Pipp, however, joined his team mates in practice today, and while he betrayed a slight limp, was able to get about speedily and with his accustomed ability. Huggins watched him work but would not say whether he would start him in the first game Wednesday. "He looks all right," said Huggins, "but I want to see him work again tomorrow and then have the doctor examine his ankle."

Should Pipp be unable to play, Huggins probably will send Ruth to first base and Hendricks to left field. Hendricks is one of the newest of the Yankees, but a hard hitter, while Elmer Smith, the veteran upon whom the choice ordinarily would fall, has been weak against left-hand pitchers and Huggins desires all the attacking force he can muster against the Giants. Bob Meusel, Ruth's brother gardener, has recovered fully from his ailments and will play.

McGraw's only "injured" player is Casey Stengel, who got into last year's series. Should McGraw have to replace Stengel, Jimmy O'Connell, the experienced outfielder from the West and Cunningham, another youngster, would be used alternately, according to whether the pitching is left-handed or right.

There still is some speculation about the opening game pitchers. McGraw probably will send Art Nehf to start, yet there is talk that John Scott, the hero of the 1922 walkaway, may get this honor. Huggins has Jones and Pennock ready.

The Yankee management has announced today that all reserved seats for the first, third and fifth games, to be played in their stadium had been sold. Ed Barrow, the Yankee business manager, predicted that with fair weather the record receipts for a world series game would be broken in the opening game. Barrow said he expected the seat sale for the opener to reach $200,000. The greatest receipts recorded for one game was at the last contest in 1922, $125,417.

Bruins Digging in to Stage Comeback

Coach Puts Squad Through Grilling Session and Finds Lads Ready to Go

The Bruins, a little stiff and sore from Friday's game, were put through one of the stiffest practices of the season Monday night. It was scrimmage from the word go, with much practice in blocking and tackling.

The line men particularly were given a hard grind and before the practice was over they were chafing like wildcats—but still not hard enough to suit the coach. It will take some hard work and a lot of bumps to overcome the weakness that was so evident last Friday.

Jenkins and Frazzello were not out Monday night and their absence was noticeable. The line has been shifted to Jenkins-Swim at center, Hodgkin and Christoferson at tackle, with Holman and Umphrey or Harrison at guards. Evans is determined to build up a line that can and will charge and block, and the boys seem to sense his determination and are responding in good shape.

There was a chance to observe what a week of intensive work can do for a team next Friday when the Twin Falls warriors mix with the Albion Normal team. Albion was defeated by Burley last Friday, but no doubt has a strong aggregation and will improve during the week.

Every man on the squad has filed away in the back of his head the slogan "Beat Idaho Falls when they come down here," and it is only hoped that there will be a return conference game here in November.

Crom and Alford probably will be used as quarters the rest of the season and will make a hard pair to beat. Both need a few more lessons in blocking—but with their willingness to work, it won't take long to whip them into shape.

Christoferson should make an All-lineman, and if hard work will do it he will be there.

There isn't a man on the squad that isn't willing to work hard and the defeat of Friday seems to put the old fight back into the whole gang. With Swim at center, Leiser had Christoferson tackles and Frazzello and Holman, Harrison or Umphrey at guard, it will be a powerful line. Watch them next Friday against Albion. It will be a game worth watching if only to see the Bruins come back after defeat.

JOCKEY KILLED. NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Ted Rice, well known jockey, was fatally killed. Edw. E. Becht took a track today when he was thrown by Charles A. Stoneham's McKee in the sixth race. Rice died on the way to a Jamaica hospital.

ON VANDALS' LINE

Sylvester Kleffner of Twin Falls, halfback on the University of Idaho football team last season, has been shifted to end this fall, and judging from his work at that position during scrimmages he has it cinched. Kleffner played two years of football at Gonzaga high school and freshman half at Idaho. Last year Kleffner was one of the mainstays in the backfield, but the loss of the veteran ends and the surplus of backfield men made it favorable for Coach R. L. Matthews to shift him back to an end position, where he feels perfectly at home. Kleffner is but 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 160 pounds. He is fast and accurate on hauling down passes. If Idaho does any great deal of passing this season Kleffner is certain to be one of the outstanding figures on the receiving end.

FOOTBALL PLAYER DIES FROM INJURIES IN PLAY

Negro Tackle on Iowa State College Eleven Succumbs as Result of Being Crushed in Minnesota Game

AMES, Iowa, Oct. 8 (AP)—Jack Trice, of Cleveland, Ohio, a sophomore in animal industry at Iowa State college and tackle on the football eleven, died at 8 o'clock this afternoon in the Ames college hospital from injuries sustained in the Minnesota game at Minneapolis on Saturday. Trice, a negro, was crushed in a play through his position and was taken from the field to the Minnesota hospital.

Trice was brought to Ames early Sunday morning and Ames college and Ames physicians were in constant attendance.

He was crushed in the play and died from a hemorrhage of the lungs. Trice's mother was notified Sunday morning of her son's illness, but failed to arrive at the bedside before he died.

WHITE SOX SCANDAL IS RECALLED IN TESTIMONY

Charges of Alleged Gambling Placed Against Chicago Team in 1919 Enters Bucket Shop Investigation

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—The scandal which surrounded the Chicago White Sox and the world championship baseball series of 1919 was brought into the Fuller-Magee bucket shop investigation today when Arnold Rothstein, who was primarily mentioned as a gambler at the time of the series, was a witness before Harold P. Coffin, referee in bankruptcy.

Vandals' Freshman Squad Looks Strong

Twin Falls Lads Among Outstanding Figures in First-Year Players at University

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Oct. 8.—Practice by practice, in every way, the University of Idaho's 1923 freshman squad looks better and better.

There is, in the opinion of the coaches, more promising material in this season's turnout than there was in the squad from which last season's team which took the northwest conference freshman championship, was built. Opposing this bright outlook is an undercurrent—that this season's squad will require more work than any other. It seems that this season the fresh gridders are greener than usual.

Several scrimmages have been held between the Vandal youngsters and the varsity, but it took a few games before the frosh got over their fear of bucking into Coach Mathews' bunch of regulars. When they found that the varsity was far from invincible they made an excellent showing.

Both line and backfield ability are present in encouraging amounts. Coach McMillan, who gave Idaho her freshman pennant winners last season, is the authority for the statement that there are about 33 players of equal ability, making the selection of a first string a difficult matter. Outstanding among the backfield candidates are John Miles of Coaldale, whose previous football experience is less than nothing; Frank Powers of Moscow; G. P. Cooper of Tacoma, Wash.; and the Thompson brothers of Cascade, Mont.

Line players who have been unusually effective in practice so far are Robert Putzier of Twin Falls; Donald Flynn of Twin Falls; L. W. Hanson of Moscow; Carl and Roland Hutchinson of Chowah, Wash.

Idaho will know definitely whether these glowing freshman prospects are merely false when the Vandal babes meet the Gonzaga university second team at Spokane October 20. Gonzaga is reputed to have a bunch of second stringers that look good enough at times to be mistaken for the varsity.

Firpo Pleads for Return of Papers on Naturalization

Argentine Fighter in Tears when Learning of His Status as American Resident

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—There were no tears in the eyes of Luis Angelo Firpo when he was knocked out by Jack Dempsey, but the keen black eyes of the South American heavyweight were moist today when he pleaded for return of papers in which he had proclaimed his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States.

Morton E. Sturges, chief naturalization examiner, and County Clerk Donagan, ruled that the papers must stand on record, but agreed to give the pugilist a letter certifying their belief that he had signed the application under misapprehension.

Accompanied by Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, and a lawyer, Firpo appeared before the officials and told them that he had never dreamed of deserting his beloved native land; that he still was a loyal Argentine, and that he believed that he had applied for a certificate as he said was issued in Brazil and other countries to foreigners touring a strange land.

In addition to the players the club trainer and club secretary each have been voted a full share.

FILER MEN FOR MARKETING PLAN

Growers and Business Men Take Steps Toward Organization for Co-operative

FILER, Oct. 8.—(Special to The News)—The Idaho Potato Growers' exchange, a cooperative marketing concern established in accordance with the Sapiro plan, is a going concern, with arrangements completed for financing and furnishing seeds to its members, a meeting of about 200 growers and business men in the high school auditorium here tonight was told by W. S. Hill, director of the Colorado state farm bureau and organizer of the Colorado Potato Growers' exchange.

The meeting was the first of a series of meetings to be conducted by Mr. Hill in several towns of the county during the week.

The message brought here by Mr. Hill was enthusiastically received, and a committee of five members was named to proceed with organization work in this locality. Members of the committee were George Leonard, D. L. Graybill, A. O. McDaniel, A. E. Ehrhart, Joe Greenwood.

Mr. Hill's address was preceded by a brief talk by A. E. McGleason of the Aberdeen, Idaho, experiment station, in which he referred to the Grimn Growers' association of Blackfoot as an example of successful cooperative marketing and detailed some of the work being done at the Aberdeen station in the interest of the potato growing industry.

Subsequent meetings to be addressed by Mr. Hill will be held Tuesday evening at Kimberly; Wednesday evening at Puhl; and Thursday evening at Hansen.

Clark, Filer, will be determined and announced today by Probate Judge O. P. Duvall, it was announced Monday upon conclusion of a preliminary examination in the case. Ringer was remanded to the custody of the county jailer pending the court's decision. He declared in testimony on his own behalf that he had purchased the tire in question from another motor traveler. The case for the state was conducted by J. H. Barnes, assistant prosecuting attorney, and for the accused traveler by J. H. Sherley, Buhl.

SUGAR MAKERS DELAYED

Campaign at Twin Falls Factory Postponed Because of Rain and Slow Harvest of District's Best Crop

Because of recent unsettled weather conditions and consequent delay in harvesting beets, the Amalgamated Sugar company will postpone opening its campaign at the Twin Falls sugar factory until Wednesday next, it was stated Monday by James Selley, district manager for the company. It had been announced previously that the factory here would open the campaign on Monday.

GRIDIRON NOTES

There is one team in this section which will bear watching this year, and that team is Shoshone. Although beaten by a lighter team last Friday when they met Filer, they will be able to show several of the best ground games in the district some real football when they get a leg in.

They have a twin for Kershinsneck in one of their linemen. He tips the scales at 207 pounds.

When the Normal travels to Twin Falls next Friday the Bruins will line up against at least one who knows what it is to play against the blue and white. Aman, Filer's last year general, is holding down the quarterback position on the Normal's team this year.

Filer has six letter men back in uniform this year. Adkins, Dohi, Loop, Love, Etnia and ... The rest of the team is composed of green material which seems to be getting the hang of the game, especially Robertson, who was one of the best ground gamers against Shoshone. Robertson plays left half.

Edwin Higgins, remembered by Twin Falls as the best well leader in recent years, has taken to athletics at the "Tech" down at Pocatello. Both he and Randall Victory, also of Twin Falls, made the squad there this year.

Rupert will also bear watching, for with men like Stone, Long and Nelson in the backfield, they certainly have not only a bat but a hard hitting outfit.

wise prosperous national agricultural situation and nothing but the brightest spots in this situation were the cotton and tobacco growers and the California fruit growers, whose cooperative marketing is at its best. Mr. Bingham called the conference, to decide if such methods could improve the wheat farmer's situation, if the present time is appropriate, and the first two being answered in the affirmative, to decide upon a plan and put it in operation.

Attending the conference were Lowden, Alexander Legge, president of the International Harvester company; Professor G. F. Holden, agricultural adviser of the same company; Walter P. Chappell, of Chanute, Kansas, representing the Farmers' Union; George Duls of the North Dakota Wheat Growers' association; Clifford Gregory, editor of the Prairie Farmer; Don Wallace, editor of the Farmer; W. C. Bell of the Indiana Farm Bureau; Mr. Bingham, Mr. Williams, Senator Arthur Capper, Mr. Settle, Mr. Jowett and Mr. Wallace.

Declaring the American wheat farmer is fighting not only a 100,000,000 bushel surplus in the United States, but also the surplus in Canada, Argentina, Australia, the Balkan states and Russia, Mr. Williams said the wheat situation is not one for price fixing, but one of orderly marketing. It was agreed, he said, that cooperative marketing was the only sound economic solution offered for placing wheat growing of the nation on a paying basis.

Surveying the situation will be the first work of the new executive committee, which numbers in its membership, besides the Farm Bureau, Mr. Bingham, Mr. Williams, Senator Arthur Capper, Mr. Settle, Mr. Jowett and Mr. Wallace.

Work to Start at Once.

Herman Steen, associate editor of the Prairie Farmer, has been appointed executive secretary and work will be started on the committee's program within the next few days. Plans of organization now in the minds of the committee members, but not definitely decided upon, call for organization within the state sufficient to control the commodity and a federation of these state associations into a national group with headquarters and national force to care for the orderly marketing of the crop.

Mr. Meyer and Mr. Mandell, in attending this conference, began an investigating trip which is expected to cover every wheat producing state in the country, being undertaken at the request of President Coolidge, with a view of finding a way of improving the situation.

Mr. Meyer said he had not decided where he would next go into the situation.

KELS PREPARES FOR PAYING PENALTY

No event in the court history of San Joaquin county drew the throngs that were attracted by the Kels hearing, court officials said.

No demonstration greeted any of Kels' appearances. The crowd regarded him silently but with curiosity. Kels' one remaining chance is that the judge may find in his examination of today some fragment of a clue that the man was unacquainted when he committed the murder of an aged man believed to be Edward Meeryer, itinerant laborer. But Judge Jones strongly indicated there was nothing left but the noose.

local crop is 75 cents a bushel, which the growers assert is too low. Buyers told the meeting that a normal crop in the east, with an unusually heavy crop in the west, had overstocked the market. They advised the growers to store their crop for 30 to 60 days when, they arrested, higher prices were almost sure to result.

The meeting adjourned without taking any definite action, but those in attendance expressed satisfaction with the frank interchange of views, and felt that the gathering had achieved definite results.

POTATO Growers Meetings

FILER, Monday, October 8th, 8 o'clock P. M., in High School Auditorium.
KIMBERLY, Tuesday, October 9th, 8 o'clock P. M., in Legion Hall.
BUHL, Wednesday, October 10th, 8 o'clock P. M., in City Hall.
HANSEN, Thursday, October 11th, 8 o'clock P. M., in Town Hall.

At a meeting held in Parish Hall, Twin Falls, September 28th, Mr. W. S. Hill, organization manager, explained to some 50 or more farmers and townspeople the Aaron Sapiro National Plan of marketing potatoes. It was decided at this meeting that local meetings should be held at the above places on the dates set forth, for the purpose of further discussion of the plan and explanation of the contract and to appoint committees to carry on the organization work.

Bankers and business men are urged to attend these meetings and a special invitation is extended to the ladies. Farmers who did not grow potatoes this year should also attend these meetings and lend their support if they are convinced that the plan is right.

Mr. Hill recently organized the Colorado Potato Growers Exchange and is Secretary of the Farm Bureau of that State, also National representative on the Farm Bureau Committee; he is thoroughly posted on this national marketing plan and his talk will surely interest anyone who has the interest of the community and the agricultural industry at heart.

Surely every one is alive to the activities of the Nation on orderly marketing of farm products ere this time, and we should get lined up and put our shoulders to the wheel and put the agricultural industry on its feet.

Be sure to attend these meetings.

FARMER AND WORKMAN

Senator-elect Magnus Johnson of Minnesota says he is sure that the farmer-labor combination will work on a national scale because there is co-operation of these two elements in his state.

It may be fairly questioned whether Minnesota affords a good test. It is mainly a farming state. Will farmers and industrial workers co-operate so harmoniously in states where they are about equally divided?

On general principles, it would seem strange indeed if these two classes were to join hands and work together, on a large scale, because their economic interests are so much at variance with each other.

So far, they have not been reconciled, but each class has taken what it could get through organization and legislation, regardless of the other. This is not an ideal way to do, but it is human and in harmony with the present competitive economic system.

CARELESSLY LOST DOLLARS

Observing the efficiency of a business concern is one of the favorable all-season sports of many persons who are thoroughly unbusinesslike in the conduct of their own affairs.

One of the leading publications of the country announces in a recent issue that it has in its files several thousand dollars that do not belong to it.

The magazine files a typical instance: An abusive letter came to the office one day asking how it expected "to keep customers with such treatment" and stating that the writer had an account with the company, had agreed to pay $5 a month for a set of books, had paid two monthly installments and had received no books, no credit and no receipt.

The letter was signed with two initials and a name with no indication as to whether the writer was a woman, married or single, or a man.

It took weeks of painstaking correspondence before the firm could elicit from the wrathful subscriber that the person signing the letter, had ordered the books as a Miss someone Else in St. Louis.

And there are scores of other simple souls doing exactly the same thing.

A DAFFLING VICTORY

Germany is surrendering, losing her economic war as she lost her military war. Governmental ending of "passive resistance" in the Ruhr is the first and biggest step. Other steps will follow. German workmen will return to work. Germany is hopeless. France is winning a complete victory.

The only trouble is, as French statesmen are beginning to realize, that this victory, like the military one, doesn't seem to mean anything.

France demands reparation big enough to compensate her for her losses. There is only one way that Germany can pay such reparation. That is by reviving her industry.

With her industrial machinery running again, as it might run if France permitted, Germany could pay France in goods, or sell enough goods in other markets to pay France in money.

Watching what the Poincare government will do about it is going to be an interesting occupation for the long winter evenings.

"THE GREAT" TRIUMPHS. Pola Negri's second American made Paramount picture, "The Cheat," a Jack Pitzner production with George Holt featured as leading man and Charles de Roche in support, opened last evening at the Idaho theater, a veritable triumph.

The second screen version of this immensely popular story, which was produced about eight years ago by Cecil B. DeMille, has been entirely rewritten and modernized and now offers tremendous opportunities for highly dramatic acting to the principals. It is an ideal screen vehicle, and Pitzner has made the most of it, the action throughout being staged with much realism.

Miss Negri's far famed emotional acting was never more wonderful.

Bats Hang Together. Wholesome, manly, bats, all are mammals. All bats are young alike and suckle them. Most species of bats give birth to a single offspring, but some North American forms may bear as many as four at a time.

The babies cling to their mother while she flies about, and do not trust their own wings until they are practically full grown. Consequently the mother may be forced to carry several times her own weight as she flits in search of food for herself and her young ones.

Smoker Stories for Example. Necessity may be the mother of invention, but there are a lot of stories invented that there is no necessity for.

"Why, James," said she, "you seem excited. What's happened?" "Nothing," he replied, "except that I believe there's just a possibility of my being a success in the world."

"My boy, my boy!" said she, laying her hand on his arm. "It was not die tonight, you'd die the greatest success any boy ever was—if your mother is any judge."

Jim kissed her, and went up to his attic to change his clothes. Inside the waistcoat was a worn envelope, which he carefully opened, and took from it a letter which was full of many foldings. It was the old letter from Jennie, written when the conical mistake had been made of making him the teacher of the Woodruff school. He read only the sentence in which Jennie had told of her father's interest in Jim's success, ending with the underscored words, "I'm for you, top."

"I wonder," said Jim, as he went out to do the evening's tasks, "I wonder if she is for me!"

CHAPTER XVIII

Old Man Simms Spoke. Young McGeehee Simms was loitering along the snowy way to the school-house bearing a brightly scoured tin pail two-thirds full of water. He had been allowed to act as water superintendent of the school since the reward of merit—said merit being an essay on which he received credit in both language and geography on "Hawking Wheat in the Tennessee Mountains." This had been of vast importance to the school in view of the fact that the Simmses were the only pupils in the school who had ever seen in use that supposedly-obsolete harvesting implement, the cradle. Buddy's essay had been passed over to the class in United States history as the evidence of an eyewitness concerning farming conditions in our grandfathers' times.

The sumacless Pete, Colonel Woodruff's hired man, halted Buddy at the door.

"Mr. Simms, I believe," he said, "I reckon you must be lookin' for my brother, Raymond, huh," said Buddy.

"I am a lookin'," said Pete impressively, "for Mr. McGeehee Simms."

"That's me," said Buddy, "but I haven't been doin' nothin' wrong, huh."

"I have a message here," said Pete, "for Professor James R. Irwin. He's what-ho within, there, ain't he?" "That's inside, I reckon," said Buddy. "You will be as high as an eagle descending as to stop so low as to jump so high as to give him this letter?" asked Pete.

Buddy took the letter and was considering of his reply to this remarkable speech, when Pete, gravely saluting, passed on, rather congratulating himself on having staged a very good burlesque of the dignified manner of those queer mountaineers, the Simmses.

The note was from the colonel: "Please come to the meeting tonight, and when you come, come prepared to hold the district up. If we can't meet the Pottawatomie county standard of wages we ought to lose you. Everybody in the district will be there. Come late, so you won't hear yourself talked about—I should recommend nine-thirty and war-paint."

It was a crisis, no doubt of that; and the responsibility of the situation rather sicken Jim of the task of teaching. Only one thing kept him from dodging the whole issue and remaining at home—the colonel's master-of-fact assumption that Jim had become master of the situation. How could he see, when this old soldier was fighting so valiantly for him in the trenches? So Jim went to the meeting.

How could he impose conditions on the whole school district? How could the colonel expect such a thing of him? And how could anyone look for anything but scorn for the upstart field-lab from those men who had for so many years made him the butt of their good-natured but none the less contemptuous derision? Why was he, anyway, to lay down rules for these substantial and successful men—who had been for all the years of his life at their command, subservient to their demands for labor—their underling?

The season was nearing spring, and it was a mild thawing night. The windows of the schoolhouse were filled with heads, evidencing the presence of a crowd of almost unprecedented size, and the sashes had been thrown up for ventilation and coolness. As Jim climbed the back fence of the schoolyard, he heard a burst of applause, from which he judged that some speaker had just finished his remarks. There was silence when he came alongside the window at the right of the chairman's desk, a silence broken by the voice of Old Man Simms, saying "Mistah Chairman!"

"The chair," said the voice of Ezra Bronson, "recognizes Mr. Simms."

Jim took it in goodly part. He was not expected while the debate was in progress. There is no rule of manners or morals, however, forbidding eavesdropping during the proceedings of a public meeting. Therefore he listened to the first and last public speech of Old Man Simms.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Business in the raw sugar market was limited to a few sales of outside sugars, although it was rumored that the Rotterdam market had sold again at 7 3/8 cents cost and freight, or unchanged from the last previous price. Other sales included some new crop Louisiana at 7.05, with sugar cut at 6 1/2 cents 5-1-4 cost and freight for Cuba; also 28,000 bags Czechoslovakia raws to American refiners at 4.11 c. o. b. Hamburg, Cuba, with sugar cut at 6 1/2 cents cost and freight, equal to 7.05 duty paid.

Raw sugar futures were quiet all day. Prices showed one point decline to 2 1/2 cents, but not covering orders which became heavy under offerings of outside sugars at earlier prices. December, after selling early at 4.88 ended off at 4.85, but not covering orders which promoted a late rally. Final prices were 2 to 4 cents net here. Closing: October, 35 1/2; December, 41 1/4; March, 35 1/2.

In refined sugar there was a continuing good withdrawal demand, but very little new business and the list prices of fine granulated remained at 60.25 to 60.60.

Refined sugar futures nominal.

A Good Thing—DON'T MISS IT. DEFECTS FOUND IN CITY METHOD OF BOOKKEEPING

Accountants Report to Commission on Findings of Preliminary Survey; Suggest New System

Defects in the bookkeeping methods used by Twin Falls city were pointed out to the city commissioners at a regular meeting Monday evening by Edwin A. Wilson and James Monroe, certified accountants, whose statements in this regard were based on results of preliminary surveys of the city's books, made with a view to establishing a basis for submitting a proposal for auditing the city's accounts for the current year.

Revenue collected under the tax levy for warrant redemption and interest is erroneously combined money in the general fund, the accountants said their survey showed. Mayor Shad L. Hoaglin agreed that this was at variance with requirements of law making it necessary to keep the funds and accounts separate. City Clerk J. Mcg advised that this method had been used since May 1, last, upon advice of another accountant, who had taken the position that so long as interest was paid and warrants retired as they became due, the purpose of the law was being fulfilled.

In Dapx as to Earnings
Records of the waterworks fall to show the amount charged to consumers each month, the accountants said. They advised that record of this nature was necessary if the city officials were to know the earnings of the department.

The accountants were authorized to continue with their investigations of the city's records, and in the event that other defects were disclosed, to communicate with J. S. Keel, finance commissioner.

The city has waited for several months for a former Twin Falls property owner to file a claim for refund of payment made for pavement where no pavement exists, it was disclosed when J. E. White, in behalf of a client, appeared before the commission, asking for refund on this account. The former owner was notified several months ago that the city would issue a warrant in payment of his claim as soon as it was presented, the city clerk stated, but the claim has not yet been presented. The amount involved is approximately $50.

City Pays Its Share
The city of Twin Falls became a paid-up member of the Southern Idaho Power Users' association when the commission Monday evening ordered a warrant drawn for this purpose. The association is engaged in collecting an amount for the use of water public utilities commissioner evidence in relation to the Idaho Power company's application for approval of an increase in its property valuation. Twin Falls' share, based on the annual power and light bill of residents, is approximately $400.

Warrants on order drawn in payment of claims against the city in the following amounts: General fund, $45.75; street sprinkling, 40 cents; waterworks, $89.41.

GROWER TELLS HOW HE SAVES HIS BEAN CROP
Dr. L. C. Giffen Explains Ingenious Method for Protecting Progeny by Use of Straw in Harvesting

An ingenious method for protecting beans from rain is being used by Dr. L. C. Giffen on his farm south of town. Dr. Giffen has a pole in the ground where the center of his stalk is to be and surrounds it with the beans. When he has reached the top of the pole, which is as tall as the stalk is to be, he covers it with straw, and according to him the beans will not only be much more quickly dried by this method but they will also keep for several months without danger of them either shriveling or rotting as is apt to be the case this year if the rain continues.

Jury Comes Slowly for Murder Trial

Panel Exhausted and Special Verdict Issued in Case of Accused Mexican

In the effort to complete selection of the jury, the regular panel was exhausted, and, just before recess was taken, Judge W. A. Habeck issued a special venire calling for six men for jury duty. The venire was placed in the hands of Coroner P. J. Grossman to serve.

During the day 16 men who had been called to the jury box, were excused from service in the trial. Those named were Fred H. Wegener, G. W. Dean, J. E. Roberts, S. E. Banks, Ed Tolbert, John Lundahl, Charles Worell, George D. Atken, M. D. L. Barstow, C. D. Walsh, W. C. Wyckoff.
