on your money

Invest your savings in stock of the Lighting Company

DO not confuse "investing" with "speculating". Lots of folks don't realize the difference. "Speculating" means taking chances; running risks; subjecting your hard-earned dollars to perils and hazards—what many people call "stock gambling". INVESTING does not consist of plunging or blindly taking chances. Investing means putting your money to work in some firmly established business where your dollars will be SAFE and where they will steadily and surely earn more dollars for you. And that is just what happens when you buy shares of the IDAHO POWER COMPANY

CUMULATIVE PREFERRED STOCK

Consider the man who invested in 8 shares of our stock in November, 1921. It meant an outlay of about $800.00. Since then his shares have paid him dividends every 3 months which by November 1, 1923, will amount to $112.00.

That amount would have been his loss if he had let his savings remain idle instead of INVESTING them.

How much will YOU stand to lose in 1 year, in 2 years, in 10 years if you do not invest the money you have saved?

The question is NOT, "can you afford to invest?" but "can you afford NOT to invest?" Can you afford to stand by and LOSE the money your saved dollars can earn for you?

Our Preferred Stock pays dividends every 3 months, on February 1, May 1, August 1 and November 1.

The dividends amount to 7 per cent a year on each dollar you invest if you buy the stock at the present price.

Think a moment. Our stock is being

HUGGINS SURE YANKEES WILL BE CHAMPIONS

Pilot of American Leaguers Says Saturday's Performance Not Extraordinary; Hoyt or Bush to Pitch on Sunday

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—Miller Huggins believes the Yankees are as certain to win the 1923 battle for world baseball honors from the New York Giants, champions in 1921 and in 1922.

In discussing the heavy hitting of his men in the fourth game of the series at the Polo Grounds today, Huggins declared it was nothing extraordinary for the Yankees to hit so well. "They figure to keep on that great hitting stride," the little manager said, "and I don't know how they do it. They seem to know how to hold themselves. Nehf seems the only dependable hurler that the Nationals had left in condition after today's thrills."

Bentley May Pitch

John McGraw, the Giant manager, after the disastrous attack by the Yankee batters on his right-handed pitchers, may call upon Jack Bentley to oppose the American leaders tomorrow. John Watson will be held ready to take his place if necessary. McGraw had no excuses to make for the loss of today's game. "Sometimes a team is invincible, and sometimes the opposition is invincible," he said. "The Yankees were hitting heavily today—indeed their hitting would have been just as hard if we had used a different pitcher against them every minute. "There is a great possibility now that the series will go even games, but I personally think that it will be decided Monday night."

WISCONSIN GRID MEN BEAT MICHIGAN AGGIES

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13 (AP)—The University of Wisconsin football team defeated the Michigan Aggies here today 21 to 0. It was a hard fought game in which the visitors outplayed Wisconsin in the first period but fell before they were able to play the university team the remainder of the contest.

Bruins Will Tackle Fort Hall Indians

Redskins to Send Husky Eleven Against Twin Falls Team in Gridiron Battle Here

The Bruins will tackle the much-touted Fort Hall Indians on Friday, October 10, at Lincoln field. The Indian school at Fort Hall has a large contingent of players with a large number to pick from. With the natural aptness of the race for athletics of any kind, the Indians should turn out a strong team.

The Bruins had a chance to look them over last Saturday at the Pocatello Tech-Montana game. The Indians were there in force in many hard hitting and look fairly husky. Arrangements were completed Saturday morning by M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, for the game, and the Bruins will begin active practice Monday night in preparation for the game. The game with the Novadan freshman team was cancelled because of transportation difficulties and the game with the Indians substituted.

GRIDIRON NOTES

The Albion high school is a "hardened outfit." They had only 15 players reported for football in the high school and two of them were injured in practice for the rest of the season, with a squad numbering 13 men, seven of whom had never seen a football game until this year and only two who had ever been in uniform, Albion has made splendid progress. They have Rooker, who with Neatly and Dunner, in the backfield, the three of the hardest hitting backs in any of the high schools in this part of the state. Taking their place with Jenkins and Garrity. Three men, however, are unable to make much headway against Filer, because of the green and light line which failed to open the holes.

Dope, that nebulous quantity, which invariably goes wrong. But, according to the most recent line we have on the various teams, we figure that the strongest team in the district, with the modest exception of Twin Falls, will be either Oakley or Filer.

We figure this as follows: Albion is reputed to be equally strong, as the normal team and that would indicate by comparative scores that Twin certainly has the edge on Filer, and Oakley on Filer, too, for that matter, as they beat Albion, 60-0, whereas Filer was lucky to get 33-0. Barley is out of it because they barely won from the Normal.

The reason we believe the Normal and Albion high to be equal is because a game played by these schools during the past week in which the Normal was very fortunately the winner by a single touchdown.

And now about this Oakley bunch? Filer is worried. They have a right to be, for in only two games Oakley has annexed 198 points to their opponents' nothing. Our advice is "Watch Oakley."

RAIN POSTPONES GAME

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Rain which began falling last night and continued throughout the day of the postponement today of the fourth game in the city series between the Chicago teams of the National and American leagues. The contest will be held at Comiskey park, home of the White Sox, tomorrow, weather permitting. The postponement was welcomed by Manager Killifer of the Cubs, as his pitching staff will be benefited thereby.

MICHIGAN SCORES VICTORY

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 13 (AP)—Michigan rode to a 2 to 0 victory over Vanderbilt on Jack Blott's toe today, his place kick from the 15-yard line being all that prevented a repetition of last year's scoreless tie. Blott was called back from center for the play only after Michigan, getting the ball to Vanderbilt's seven yard line, had lost yardage in two pile driving attempts to puncture the adamant Vanderbilt defense.

UNMASKING... The most hopeful word that has come out of Oklahoma lately is the statement, made by a representative of the Ku Klux Klan, that that organization is going to unmask.

"You can tell the rest of the country," he announces, "that the Klan will discard its hood and gowns ten days after Jack Walton is hauled back into private life. This is positive and certain."

It might be better for all concerned if such action were taken without any conditions attached to it. But, conditionally or unconditionally, it would be a blessing to Oklahoma and a good omen for the rest of the country.

The great objection made to the Klan from the first has been its masked character, which rendered it anonymous and therefore irresponsible. This is a land which prides itself on personal responsibility for public or private acts.

The mask, originally intended by the Klan as a means of strength, has proved a source of weakness. If it is granted that the Klan's purposes are good, nevertheless its secrecy has invited abuse. Irresponsible members, secure in their invisibility, have gone farther than their sober brethren would have sanctioned.

If the Klan comes into the open, its purposes and acts can then be judged on their own merits, and condemned or approved like those of any other organization.

It is all the more desirable that this be done where issues raised by the Klan are such as ought to be settled at the polls. The American way is to advocate every public cause openly and frankly, with full responsibility shown on both sides, so that every voter may know who are represented by propagandists and candidates for office, and what policies they stand for.

The battleship Idaho is the only vessel in the United States navy which has not been supplied with a silver service by the people of the state after which it was named. According to the statement of a former resident of Idaho who was aboard the battleship a few days ago, the wife of the commander, Mrs. W. P. Guthrie, whenever guests are entertained on board, a movement is being launched in Twin Falls to purchase a silver service for the Idaho by popular subscription.

Mrs. W. P. Guthrie and daughter have returned from Yakima, where they visited for three weeks.

The Methodist ladies will serve a full dinner next Wednesday, October 21, at the O. K. candy kitchen.

Mrs. A. E. Reagan has opened a musical studio at her home on north Main street and will give piano instruction to anyone who desires it.

It is currently reported that the Utah Construction company has purchased the Sparks, Hartzell Cattle company's holdings in Twin Falls county, Idaho, and Elko county, Nevada. As this company is closely allied with the Oregon Short Line, which is surveying a line from Twin Falls to Wells, Nev., passing through the Sparks, Hartzell company's land for many miles, the purchase bears significance.

Surveyor General D. A. Utter has awarded contracts for the biggest survey contracted for at any time in the history of Idaho. The tract embraced amounts to almost 500,000 acres and the price is $15,024. Contract No. 1, for 11 townships, was awarded to Frank E. Maxwell and Walter E. Tolson, and the second contract to Oscar W. Sonckah and Fred W. Mitchell, on almost the same amount of acreage, for $7112. The terms of contract require the work to be completed December 31, the lands in question being largely under the lines of the proposed canal for the Bruneau-Twin Falls project.

NEW METHOD HEALS RUPTURE

Kansas City Doctor's Discovery Makes Trust or Operation Unnecessary

Kansas City, Mo.—(Special)—A new discovery which experts agree, has no equal for curative in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of Dr. Andrews, the well known hernia specialist of this city. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and holds a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. It has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no log straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on the trial to the reader. The man who writes him at his office, 3061 Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. He wants one person in each neighborhood to which he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today.—adv.

The BROWN MOUSE

By HERBERT QUICK

(Copyright by The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

Across the road was the creamery, with its businesslike unloading platform, and its addition in process of construction for the reception of the machinery for the co-operative laundry. Not far from the creamery, and also across the road, stood the blacksmith and wheelwright shop. Still farther down the street were the barn, poultry house, pens, hatches and yards of the little farm—small, as were all the buildings save the schoolhouse itself, which was built, as it should have been, for the future.

And even the schoolhouse, when one thinks of the uses to which it was to be put—kitchen, nursery, kindergarten, banquet hall, theater, moving picture hall, classrooms, manual training rooms, laboratory and counting room and what not, was wonderfully small and snug. It was apparently so large as to be rather astonishing to the unexpected passer-by.

The unexpected passer-by this May day, however, would have been especially struck by the number of motor cars, buggies and surreys parked in the yard in front of the creamery, along the roadside, and by the driveway running to the schoolhouse. People in numbers had arrived by five o'clock in the afternoon, and were still coming. They strolled about the place, examining the buildings and grounds, and talking in the blacksmith and the butter-maker.

Gradually they drew into the schoolhouse like a swarm of bees into a hive selected by the queen. None of them, however, went across the concrete bridge to the schoolmaise, save Mrs. Stumms, who crossed, consulted with Mrs. Irwin about the shrubbery and lawn, and went back to Bessie and Jimmie, who were good children but naturally couldn't be trusted with so many other young ones without some watches.

"They're coming! They're coming!" This was the cry borne to the people in and about the schoolhouse by that Hans Hansen who would be called Hans Nilsen. Hans had been to the top of the little hill and had a look toward town.

Like a crew manning a rigging, or a crowd having its picture taken, the assemblage crystallized into forms determined by the chances of getting a glimpse of the bungalow across the ravine—on posts, fences, trees and hillocks.

A motor car came over the hillock, ran down the road to the driveway to the schoolmaise and drew up at the door. Out of it stepped Mrs. Woodruff and the colonel, their daughter, the county superintendent of schools, and Mr. Jim Irwin. Jennie was dressed in a very well-tailored traveling costume, and Jim in a moderately well-tailored business suit. The fact that when they reached the threshold Jim picked Jennie up in his arms and carried her in, will enable any good detective to put one and one together and make a palm—which comes pretty near telling the whole story.

By this time it was nearly seven, and Calista Stumms came across the churning bridge as a dispatch-bearer, saying that if Mr. Jim and Miss Jennie didn't mind, dinner would be ready.

shaved right soon. It was 'cooked' and right, and the folks was getting right hungry—an' such a crowd! There were fifteen in the babies' room, and for a while they thought the youngest Hamm young one had swallowed a marble. She would tell they would be right over good-by.

There was a great cheer as the three elders and the two younger ones emerged from the schoolmaise and took their way over the bridge to the school side of the velvet-bottomed moat, but it was shut off like the vibration of a bell dipped in water by the sudden rush of the showers into the big assembly room, now filled with tables for the banquet. And here the domestic economy classes, with their mothers, sisters, female cousins and aunts, met them, as waiters, hat snatchers, hostesses, floor managers and cooks, scoring the greatest triumph of history in the Woodruff district. For everything went off like clockwork, especially the victuals—and such victuals!

There was quantity in meats, breads, vegetables—and there was also savor. There was plenty, and there was such a Mrs. Haakon Peterson, who yearned for culture, and had been afraid her children wouldn't get it if Jim Irwin taught them nothing but farming. She will tell you that the dinner—which so many thought of all the time as supper—was such a success in her own house, as a community affair, and in a community where, if any one should ask you, you are authorized to state that there's as much wealth to the acre as in any strictly farming spot between the two oceans, and where you are perfectly safe, especially with dropping from a balloon in the dark of the moon, and paying a hundred and fifty dollars an acre for any farm you happen to land on. Why shouldn't things have been well done, when every one worked, not for money, but for the love of the doing, and the love of learning to do in the best way?
