DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS ARE ENDED

Saxony and Bavaria Recall Their Ministers; Split on Communistic Proposals; New Dangers Confront Cabinet

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—Diplomatic relations between Saxony and Bavaria have been severed. Saxony today dismissed its Saxony's officials to Berlin, and announced the appointment of a new minister, whereupon the Bavarian government replied, declining to receive the new minister as long as the communist party was represented in the Saxony ministry. At the same time it recalled the Bavarian minister from Dresden.

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—With the situation in the Ruhr and Rheinland rapidly approaching a condition of an acute social and economic crisis with Saxony's socialist-minister, continuing its defiance to the central government, and with Bavaria having severed diplomatic relations with Saxony, Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet is confronted with issues which will afford it an early opportunity to make use of the dictatorial authority vested in it by the reeling in the emergency power bill.

Chaos Increasing. While these are the outstanding issues which harbor elements of immediate danger, the internal situation in its entirety, especially with regard to the financial catastrophe toward which all classes of the population are heading through the further depreciation in the value of the mark, is automatically constituting itself a contributory factor which will have a decisive bearing on the further course to make use of the dictatorial authority vested in the cabinet. The bill which provides for a new period of price chaos has set in and with it the government's helplessness with respect to the adoption of speedy reformatory measures became more emphasized.

Socialists Restive. The social situation growing out of the complete wreck of the nation's economic structure is making the socialist party restive, in that it apparently no longer is able to cope with the clamor of the masses, whose cause is being repudiated by the more mili-

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 18 (AP)—O. J. Underwood, J. L. Millett and John D. Carroll, arrested here Wednesday as suspects, are not the men who held up Southern Pacific train No. 13 and killed four trainmen near the Oregon line October 11, Police Chief Bernard McShane and Inspector Arthur Ryan announced today after they had subjected the three suspects to a six-hour grilling. The men, however, will be held for a few days, police said.

MASONS STAND FOR EDUCATION

Scottish Rite Council Favors Americanization and Establishing National College

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Support of an educational program, including a campaign for creation of a federal department of education and establishment of a national university here to be supported by the government, was reaffirmed today by the supreme council, thirty-third degree, ancient and accepted Scottish Rite southern jurisdiction.

Other features of the program re-endorsed include compulsory teaching of English in the public schools, Americanization of aliens, equalization of opportunity for children of the rural districts and improvement of the status of teachers. "Unless the United States attacks this problem of education in a more earnest and comprehensive manner than we have done up to the present time, the nation is headed for disaster," declared John H. Cowies, sovereign grand master. "The presence of vast unassimilated alien populations, speaking foreign languages, and out of sympathy with American institutions and ideals, constitute a danger that cannot be overestimated. The majority of immigrants now entering the country come from nations where illiteracy is very high, and where superstition, ignorance and squalid conditions prevail."

VETERANS URGE PREPAREDNESS

Legion Men Favor Adjusted Compensation, Stronger Naval and Air Forces

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—The American Legion closed its state today by adopting its pending resolutions, including drafts favoring adjusted compensation for ex-service men, the 5-5-3 naval plan, a strong and adequate air force and complete rehabilitation and hospitalization for the disabled veterans, and prepared for electing its new national commander, vice commanders and national chairman tomorrow and adjourning until next October, when it meets in St. Paul.

The convention delegates voted unanimously to maintain the five-year stand of the Legion in favor of just compensation. The committee report covering the subject related that the plan was not originated by the Legion, but the Legion drafted the compensation law at the invitation of the ways and means committee of the senate.

Officer Believed Man Who Beat Up Soda Springs Lad Came Back to Seek Hidden Loot

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 18 (AP)—An echo of the robbery of the Jefferson County National bank at Rigby on July 7, 1922, when "Billy" Finkler and Ernest Saxey alias "Swede" Reed held up the bank, came to light here today when local officers were asked to be on the lookout for an automobile bearing license number 51830 driven by Saxey, who stole the car from a Soda Springs lad Monday night.

According to the story reaching the sheriff's office here, a stranger, later identified as Saxey, approached a 15-year-old Soda Springs boy Monday afternoon and hired the lad to drive him into the country. A few miles out of town the stranger showed the lad a fake star and told him he was a detective looking for a famous Chicago bank robber. He jumped into the back seat of the automobile and later struck the boy over the head, rendering him unconscious.

Was Tied with Ropes. The boy was then tied with ropes and thrown into the back seat of the car. When he recovered consciousness the man was standing by the side of the car and proceeded to search his pockets. Finding only a dollar and a pocket knife he threw them back to the lad with the remark: "I have plenty of money now, I don't need

PAYS RESPECTS TO MEMORY OF BELOVED DEAD

England's War-Time Minister Stands with Barred Head at Lincoln's Tomb; Praises Him as One of Greatest Men

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 18 (AP)—David Lloyd George came here today and paid homage to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. With bowed head, he, in spite of a cold driving rain, the war-time premier of Britain, approached the monument and entered the tomb of the martyred president where he placed on the sarcophagus a wreath with his card bearing the words: "A noble and generous homage to the memory of one of the world's greatest men."

Accompanying him were Dame Margaret and Miss Megan Lloyd George as well as members of the official reception committee. Standing with head slightly bowed below the sarcophagus and for a moment in deep reverie, the man who also has known the pressure of greatest responsibilities in time of war, said: "He is the greatest man grown up on the American continent. He is growing too—oh, yes, he grows."

The wreath was placed on the top side of the sarcophagus just above one standing in front and placed there several months ago by President Coolidge when he was vice president.

Before going to the tomb, Mr. Lloyd George visited the Lincoln home near the center of the city. Evidencing the greatest interest in all matters concerning the great president, whom he has regarded as an ideal since boyhood, the former premier went through the different rooms and examined all articles with minute attention. He also visited the room where Mr. Lincoln was notified of his election as president, the distinguished visitor paused and remarked to Dame Margaret and others: "This is the room where he heard that he had been elected."

Ford May Devote His Attention to Flying Flivvers

Pioneer in Aviation Has Interview with Manufacturer on "Air Lizzies"; Believe Cost Will Not Exceed $1000.

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Henry Ford, who speckled the surface of the earth with flivvers, has ideas that may fill the air with them. Ford's theories on the future of "air lizzies" as heard by Lawrence Sperry, American father of the flying flivver, were reported by Mr. Sperry today on his return from a 2000 mile trip in his tiny plane the "Messenger" with a wing spread of only 20 feet.

A month ago Mr. Sperry left Farmingdale on his tour, during which he visited Washington, Dayton and St. Louis. On the return journey he had occasion to stop off at Detroit for a couple of gallons of gas and while there was invited to talk to Mr. Ford in his Dearborn domicile. The three-cylinder air-cooled motor with which the Sperry flivver is equipped, interested Mr. Ford a great deal, and he viewed it, Mr. Sperry said, from a standpoint of quantity production, expressing the belief that in large numbers the engine could be built for $50.00.

"If he is right, and he ought to be," Mr. Sperry said, "the first air flivver could be put on the market for less than $1000." More advice about the construction of the various parts of the engine, the observation that the bones of the bird are hollow, in illustrating a point of engine weight and then Mr. Ford asked Mr. Sperry about his father, Elmer A. Sperry, inventor of the gyroscope. "Is he associated with you in aviation?" asked Mr. Ford.

"No, sir." "Quite right. It would be unfair to have a new medium of transportation held back by the prejudices of an older generation." Whereupon they shook hands and Mr. Sperry cranked his flivver and sailed away New Yorkward.

Apply New Theory to Murdering of Salt Lake Sleuth

Utah Officers Question Confessed Slayer as to Possible Participation of Three Others in Kidnaping of Boy

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 18 (AP)—Constructing the theory that all three of the prisoners in jail here are not only involved in the actual murder of Police Officer David H. Crowther, of Salt Lake City, but are responsible for the disappearance of Jack Pettinger, 17 years of age, who was with Crowther, and may have killed an officer at St. Thomas, Nev., during the flight southward, Salt Lake officers today took charge of the questioning of Robert F. Sanders, the confessed slayer, and Joseph Marunga and George Williams. Officers D. H. Clayton and F. V. White, members of the Salt Lake police force, arrived here today. Lester F. Wire, another Salt Lake officer, is expected tomorrow from Sacramento with extradition papers. The party will probably leave for Salt Lake Friday night.

Sanders grew defiant today, according to the officers. As the Salt Lake officers reached here today, they questioned that involved the missing Pettinger boy, Sanders is said to have suddenly halted and declared: "Something happened, but I am not going to say anything about it." The Salt Lake officers say that Sanders "reluctantly told them the story of the killing of Crowther, repeating merely in a few words as possible what he had already told Sheriff W. A. Shay. Although cursing his companions as "squealers," he did not seek to involve them in the murder.

SUGAR TARIFF INQUIRY WILL BE CONDUCTED

Federal Commission to Begin Public Hearings on January 15 in Line with Determination to Get at Facts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The tariff commission on January 15 will begin public hearings as a part of its inquiry into the effect, if any, of tariff duties on the price of sugar to the American consumer.

It was announced that the commission is determined to go to the bottom of the question and hopes to be able, when it has completed its investigation, to make a definite recommendation to President Coolidge as to the advisability of action under flexible provisions of the tariff act.

NATIONAL MEETING OF CATHOLICS IS ENDED

Ku Klux Klan Is Indirectly Referred to in Resolutions; New Directors Named; Officers Re-elected

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 18 (AP)—With the adoption of important resolutions, in which the activities of the Ku Klux Klan were referred to indirectly, the election of new directors and the re-election of the entire list of officers, the third annual convention of the national council of Catholic men ended its business sessions here Wednesday.

The council defined its attitude on the repeated outbreaks against law and order and reaffirmed its allegiance to the principles of government, reiterated its faith in the Catholic school system, deplored abrogation of powers granted each of three divisions of government, and the growing tendency toward divorce.

The council expressed its joy at the announcement of the Holy Father, Pius XI, that the cause of the beatification of the late Pius X be introduced at an early date.

The election of directors resulted in the election for three years of Francis R. Lowther, St. Louis; T. J. Cahill, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Martin Conroy, New York, whose terms had expired, and the addition of two new members, A. W. Nercop, El Paso, Texas, and Harry A. N. Dalley, Philadelphia.

TEAPOT DOME CLAIMED TO BE SMALL PRODUCER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The celebrated Teapot Domo naval oil reserve, the center of a bitter row in congress because of its supposedly rich deposits of petroleum, has produced but a small part of the return which government officials had expected from it.

Estimated by geologists when set aside to contain upwards of 200,000,000 barrels of crude oil, it is indicated now that it will supply only 50,000,000 barrels on the basis of a recent survey reported to the interior and navy departments.

LEGION BATTLES ON KLAN ORDER

Michigan Resolution Is Adopted; Consider Hooded Band "Menace to Liberty"

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—St. Paul was selected for the sixth annual convention of the American Legion in 1924, by the American Legion convention here today.

Paris, France, was recommended as the convention city in 1928, on the tenth annual anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—A verbal battle over pro-Ku Klux Klan and anti-klan resolutions, in which the press of the country was charged with trying to split the American legion over the klan question, raged for several hours at the fourth day's session of the fifth annual American Legion convention here, resulting in the adoption of the "Michigan" anti-klan resolution, which avoids using the name of the hooded order.

A total of 533 delegates made it known that while the legion objects to the klan order, it will not denounce it through a resolution which calls a spade a spade. With equal force it voted down a resolution the Oklahoma delegates introduced to effect a denunciatory resolution offered by Charles F. Kendrick of San Francisco. Unanimously carried.

The resolution which was carried by a roar of "ayes" to the weak cry of a score of "noes," was as follows: "Resolved: By the American Legion in national convention assembled, that we consider any individual, group of individuals, or organization which creates or fosters racial, religious or class strife among any people, or which takes into their own hands the enforcement of law, determination of guilt or infliction of punishment, to be un-American, a menace to our liberties and destructive of our fundamental laws; and be it further

"Resolved, that we consider such action by any individual, groups or organizations, to be inconsistent with the ideals and purposes of the American Legion."

Oppose Kendrick Plan. The Kendrick resolution, which was lost on a roll call vote, 315 to 142, with 36 not voting, was as follows:

"Resolved, that the Ku Klux Klan is an organization which is destructive to American principles and ideals and is unfair to hundreds of thousands of our comrades in arms during the world war. This convention, therefore, most unequivocally denounces the Ku Klux Klan as being an un-American organization and unworthy of membership by loyal American citizens."

Major Kendrick cast a lone ballot for his own resolution in the California delegation, the other 36 delegates voting no.

Klanman Voted Down. The "Oklahoma" resolution voted down was submitted by E. W. Whitney of Oklahoma, who stated he was a member of the klan. The resolution follows: "Whereas, the convention of the American Legion recognizes the rights of the members thereof to their own free opinion in matters of religion and politics, and

"Whereas, the basis of membership in the American Legion is service, irrespective of the religion or politics of the members, now, therefore, be it

Resolved: American Legion adheres a great statewide way and it is high to its original purpose and stands for the things it says it stands in religion or politics and welcomes, for, if it has what we thought it had in the war, if it has courage on both ends of the fun, if it has that, it will stand pat and stop pussy-footing and come out in the open against things that are destructive to our American government and to our constitution."

Major Kendrick accused the members of pussy-footing on the K. K. K. question and announced that he was there to "tear the mask off things and see just where we are." He said:

"Far be it from me to inject into this convention a religious issue. However, much as I desire that such not be the case, there is a religious issue here and there has been on for more than two years. The only way to meet the issue is to meet it squarely, meet it face to face, the same as we met other issues in times gone by.

"We can't pussy-foot in this organization and get anywhere. Let's tear the mask off things and see just where we are.

"You all know just as well as I do what happened at New Orleans. "You know perfectly well that Bill (William) Deegan's candidacy was proposed down there and the most important factor regarding him was his religion."

Withdraws Statement. Major Kendrick withdrew the statement when it was objected to by California delegates, and said:

"I withdraw the statement, but you all know, and merely say that I know it, and let me get a little closer to home with you. In Kansas City when my name was proposed throughout the convention as probable candidate for commander, on all sides I found my religion was a most interesting matter to men who desired to know whether they should or should not consider me as a possible commander.

"This is not a small matter to some little village; it has got so that a great state had to declare martial law because of it, and other states in the Union are considering the question in

BELIEVE MINERS ESCAPED DEATH

Voices of Entombed Men Are Heard by Rescuers Working Way Through Debris

BINGHAM, Utah, Oct. 18 (AP)—That three of the five men who have been entombed in slope number 20 of the Utah-Aspen metal mine for more than two days are still alive was definitely determined this afternoon, according to reports reaching the surface. Rescuers expect to reach the men about 10 o'clock tonight. Superintendent Joseph Norden is one of the men, but the identity of the other two is unknown.

The first hint that any of the imprisoned miners still lived came this morning when tapping was heard. A noise which nearby had made sufficient headway to hear voices, and late this afternoon in answer to the question came a weak answer that "Norden is here."

The condition of the men is undetermined, but judging from the feeble tones which reach the surface, the trapped miners are beginning to show the strain of the long captivity. Despite the fact that the rescuers were several feet closer at evening than at noon, answers from those entombed were perceptibly weaker.

The relief party is working with redoubled efforts to reach the men, but their efforts loose more of the crumbled ground and blot out the progress already made.

Hundreds of men and women have remained at the mine throughout the entire two days and dozens of miners volunteered for the place, but were overcome by exhaustion. A corps of medical men and nurses are ready to render whatever services are needed.

Stormiest Meeting of Extra Session of Oklahoma Legislature; Charges Startling

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 18 (AP)—A "searching" investigation into the Ku Klux Klan and its activities has been authorized by the lower house of the state legislature. It adopted unanimously a resolution proposing the inquiry.

The action came at the close of the stormiest meeting of the extra session during which attacks failed to unseat the house members and charges and counter-charges of party prejudices in the impeachment proceedings against Governor J. C. Walton were hurled across the chamber.

The house adjourned late this afternoon until Friday afternoon and the senate, which transacted little business, recessed until tomorrow.

Heat From Kerosene and Coal.

It has been pointed out that kerosene contains a greater quantity of heating energy than coal when the comparison is made upon the basis of weight. One pound of kerosene contains about 10,000 heat units, whereas one pound of high-grade coal shows about 15,000. The cost of the various fuels for heating purposes depends largely upon the relative supply.

Predictions of Expert Horsemen Are Fulfilled when All But Two of 16 Mounts Complete Fourth Lap

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Upsetting the predictions of expert horsemen all except two of the remaining 16 entries in the national 300-mile endurance contest at Avon, pulled into the stables in the minimum time limit of nine hours at the completion of the third 60-mile lap today. Despite the grueling route yesterday, the stiffest in the history of the riders, Jane Gray and Red Cloud, Morgan, entered by the S. S. Jane Gray was an hour late at the noon halt, but steadily decreased the deficit during the afternoon. ## DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which help to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of uric acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then set fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—adv.

Colors Worn by Jockeys. There are records to show that King Henry VIII as early as 1530 dressed his jockeys in colors, but nothing to prove that the colors were always the same. In 1782 the Jockey club posted a notice to the effect that several owners of racing horses had selected colors to be worn by their jockeys. Some of the colors chosen then are still in use by the same families.

TAXABLE INCOMES

There is considerable agitation for a federal amendment to forbid the issuance of tax-exempt securities.

Any such prohibition, of course, could not affect bonds already issued. It would apply only to future issues.

Many people wonder why Congress does not take a more simple and direct way to remedy the evil.

The Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, which authorized a federal income tax, specified that Congress might tax incomes "from whatever source derived."

It is in this case, a simple act of Congress, specifically ordering the application of the federal income tax to the incomes from securities issued by lesser political divisions.

SAW HORATIO ALGER'S GHOST

Intervenes in Time to Save Two Young Bookshelves by Tripping Policeman.

Emil Jones was always going in for things. His acquaintance knew him, and because they knew him they kept away from him.

That didn't stop Emil any. He just smiled sheepishly, took a long breath and began: "Yes; when Alger's ghost walked up the street to the corner the other day at noon and stopped for a moment in front of a cafeteria and watched four little bookshelves buy at their trade, he received the most earthly shock of his entire spiritual existence."

"Yes" said Smith, the bookkeeper, who didn't particularly care for Emil's tales, but took a keen delight in the disclosure of the rest of the staff.

"Well," beamed Emil, who was now sure of at least one listener, "the four bookshelves were working so quickly that Horatio stopped and remarked at the terrific speed of the youngsters.

"The policeman, who had himself up-brushed off his chest, stared at the quickly gathering crowd for a moment and then continued on up the street at a slow walk.

"One of the lads in another instant would have been arrested, but just as the policeman stretched out his hand to grasp the little fellow he tripped and sprawled upon the sidewalk.

"The policeman, who had himself up-brushed off his chest, stared at the quickly gathering crowd for a moment and then continued on up the street at a slow walk.

"He probably did not know and possibly never will know what I know and saw with my own eyes. Just as he was about to lay his hand on the youngster, Horatio Alger's ghost ran quickly out from the shadows of the building and deliberately gave the villainous policeman 'the foot.'—New York Sun and Globe.

THREE MEN AND A MAID

Copyright by George H. Doran Co.

Almost the first novels in the English language were novels of humor. More than anything else in the world she loved her charming home, Windles, in the county of Hampshire, for so many years the seat of the Hignett family.

She had not left England without a pang, for apart from the involved scenes, more than anything else in the world she loved her charming home, Windles, in the county of Hampshire, for so many years the seat of the Hignett family.

Breakfast was on the table in the sitting-room. Beside it was a little pile of letters. Mrs. Hignett opened them as she ate.

There was an invitation from the Butterfly club asking her to be the guest of honor at their weekly dinner.

CHAPTER I

Through the curtained windows of the furnished apartment which Mrs. Horace Hignett had rented for her stay in New York rays of golden sunlight peeped in like the foremost spies of some advancing army.

Was this Mrs. Hignett THE Mrs. Hignett, the world-famous writer on theosophy, the author of "The Spreading Light," "What of the Morrow," and all the rest of that well-known series?

The year 1921, it will be remembered, was a trying one for the inhabitants of the United States. Every boat that arrived from England brought a fresh swarm of British lecturers to the country.

Mrs. Hignett had come over with the first batch of immigrants; for, spiritual as her writings were, there was a solid streak of business sense in this woman and she meant to get hers while the getting was good.

and amiable face, marred at the moment by an expression of discomfort somewhat akin to that of a cat in a straw chair. "Hallo, Aunt Adeline!" he said awkwardly.

"Well, Samuel," said Mrs. Hignett. "There was a pause. Mrs. Hignett, who was not fond of young men and disliked having her mornings broken into, was thinking that he had not improved in the slightest degree since their last meeting; and Sam, who imagined that he had long since grown to man's estate and put off childish things, was embarrassed to discover that his aunt still affected him as a 'big' little boy, who made him feel as if he had omitted to shave, and in addition to that, had allowed some drug which had caused him to swell unpleasantly, particularly about the hands and feet.

"Jolly morning," said Sam, perceiving. "I imagine. I have not yet been very well."

"I thought I'd look in and see how you were."

"That was very kind of you. The morning is my busy time, but... yes, that was very kind of you."

"There was another pause. "How do you like America?" said Sam.

"I dislike it exceedingly."

"Yes? Well, of course some people do. Prohibition and all that. Personally, it doesn't affect me. I can take it or leave it alone."

"The reason I dislike America," began Mrs. Hignett, bridling. "I like it myself," said Sam. "I've had a wonderful time. Everybody's treated me like a rich uncle. I've been in Detroit, you know, and they practically gave me the city and asked me if I'd like another to take home in my pocket. Never saw anything like it. I might have been the missing link. I think America's the greatest invention on record."

"And what brought you to America?" said Mrs. Hignett, unmoved by this rhapsody.

"Oh, I came over to play golf. In a tournament, you know."

"Surely at your age," said Mrs. Hignett, disapprovingly, "you could be better occupied. Do you spend your whole time playing golf?"

"Oh, no. I hunt a bit and shoot a bit and I swim a good lot, and I still play football occasionally."

"I wonder your father does not insist on your doing some useful work."

"He is beginning to harp on the subject rather. I suppose I shall take a stab at it sooner or later. Father says I ought to get married, too."

"He is perfectly right."

"I suppose old Eustace will be getting hitched up one of these days?" said Sam.

Mrs. Hignett started violently. "Why do you say that?"

"What makes you say that?" "Oh, well, he's a romantic sort of fellow. Writes poetry and all that."

Handel's Messiah. Handel wrote his great oratorio, the "Messiah," in twenty-four days. He puts into music, which has been called the language of angels, the glorious story of the Gospel. "I did think, I did see all Heaven before me, and the great God Himself," he said, after writing the immortal Hallelujah Chorus.
