REPUBLICAN TROOPS MEET BITTER OPPOSITION IN SEPARATIST MOVE

Rhinelanders Score Temporary Victory in Capturing Duisburg and Coblenz But Are Forced to Surrender at Other Points; Weisbaden and Bonn in Control of French.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 23 (AP)—A detachment of nationalists from Cologne is reported to be marching on Duren, now occupied by the Separatists, and a column of peasants from the Mont Joe district is marching on Aix la Chapelle.

AIX LA CHAPELLE, Oct. 23 (AP)—Loyal Blue police, reinforced by Stramen, assembled just before dark for a combined attack to oust the Separatists from the government headquarters building. After numerous hurried conferences with the Belgian and French authorities, however, the German officials called off the attack for the night.

The police officials stated tonight police would attack the building tomorrow unless the Separatists vacated during the night. This they seemed to think likely.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 23 (AP)—Nationalists today recaptured Weisbaden, Muenchen-Gladbach and Montjole and expelled the Separatists from them. During the disorder there were some casualties and several houses were pillaged.

COBLENZ, Oct. 23 (AP)—The pendulum in the bitter struggle which has been raging since Sunday between the Separatists attempting to install a Rhineland republic by force of arms and nationalists, communists and certain elements of the workmen's unions opposing such action, is swinging back and forth with alternate advantages to the contending sides. But to the neutral observer it appears that the republicans have made little headway since their green, white and red emblem was first raised over Aix la Chapelle's city hall three days ago.

By capturing Duisburg and Coblenz today, thus gaining their first foothold in the Rhine, the nationalists Rhinelanders scored what was regarded as a telling blow until news was received that they had been expelled from Muenchen-Gladbach and other points. The nationalists, however, their adherents were besieged in the city hall at Aix la Chapelle, with surrender imminent.

Opposition Strengthens
The surprise of the nationalists at the movement and the opposition of the nationalists has crystallized and is gaining strength. The presence of French troops, with their arms to the republicans because these troops, while observing strict neutrality, have proved a tower of strength to the Separatists, as they

Ford Proponents Launch Movement For Third Party

Conference of Ford-for-President Clubs Called; Sponsors Admit Auto King Has Not Accepted

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 23 (AP)—The movement started by a small group of Henry Ford's friends and neighbors to make him president of the United States took its first major step forward today in the announcement of a Ford-for-president club. The club, throughout the country will be called into conference here December 12, 13 and 14.

Formation of a new national political party with Mr. Ford as its standard bearer was announced as the object of the conference.

Admitting the sponsors of the movement and an auto king, Mr. Ford that he would accept the leadership of the proposed new party, William Kronberg, Detroit editor, and one of the founders of the original Ford club, announced that he had called the conference was at the insistence of similar organizations throughout the country.

The calling of the conference was decided on at a meeting of representatives of three Michigan Ford clubs held here last night. Resolutions inviting the co-operation of the National Orange, the American Federation of Labor, the Farmers Bureau, the Farmer-Labor party and kindred organizations were adopted by the meeting.

Mr. Kronberg estimated the number of Ford-for-president clubs scattered throughout the country at between 300 and 400.

Judge Edward J. Jeffries of the recorder's court of Detroit, who drafted the resolutions adopted at last night's meeting, is a democrat and was once Farmer-Labor candidate for governor of Michigan. He presided as chairman of the meeting.

It was proposed that steps be taken to obtain Mr. Ford's nomination on a prohibition platform was voted down. Mr. Ford could not be reached today for a statement on the action of last night. At his office, however, it was said he probably would have no statement to make at present.

HARVEY STATES U. S. FOREIGN POLICY VIEWS

Pledges His Country on Aiding World Peace; Foreign Ministers Yawn While He Delivers Farewell Address

LONDON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Ambassador Harvey delivered a long farewell speech at the Pilgrims' dinner tonight, in which he reiterated the willingness of the United States to help meet Germany's capacity to pay reparations, reviewed the Monroe doctrine and declared that America must not keep aloof from the trials of Europe.

He reminded his large audience, which included the British prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes; the French, Belgian and Japanese ambassadors, that the United States had waived reparations claims from Germany for the joint benefit of the allies and was therefore uninterested, but that when America came to the door of Europe to assist in a settlement of the reparations, she found the door closed.

"We are ready to promote any scheme for the economic rehabilitation of Europe," he declared. "We are ready to join in any conference which will promote the recuperation and stability of the world, but we cannot amass in the door."

Count de Saint-Aulaire, the French ambassador, fidgeted uncomfortably in his chair as Colonel Harvey asserted that billions of money lent to Europe by the United States was being used to maintain greater armies than had ever before existed.

Sir Auckland Geddes, who was at the head table, made his first public appearance since his return to England. The quality of the American ambassador's speech seemed to be lost in the desultory, almost inaudible tone in which he delivered it. Many present could not hear him at all as he roared for more than an hour in low tones from a typewritten manuscript.

Premier Baldwin, who sat next to Colonel Harvey, smoked a big bowled briar pipe, while the French, Belgian and Japanese plenipotentiaries at times seemed detached from what the ambassador was saying.

Sir Auckland Geddes whose presence was warmly greeted by all the speakers, looked exceptionally vigorous and fresh in spite of the serious impairment of his hearing.

Old Family Doctor Receives Tribute of Modern Medicos

Surgeons at National Clinic Hold General Practitioner the Most Valuable of All

CHICAGO, Oct. 23 (AP)—The old family doctor rising at all hours of the night to minister to the sick, traveling into the highways and byways with little thought of his fee, curing small ills and alleviating great suffering, still bears the brunt of the battle against disease.

You have heard the worst of surgeons attending the clinical congress of the American College of Surgery, 3,000 specialists in their field, for that. Many tonight paid tribute to the old-time general practitioner, going about his daily list of calls and consultations, charging two or three dollars where specialists charge thousands, but still as important a cog in the fight for life as the expert of the operating room.

The specialist has his place in the advancement of medical science, the surgeons said, and accepts work that the general practitioner would be unable to do without special training. Great battles against great odds still will be fought out in the operating room, but no matter how specialized medical science becomes, nothing can supplant the old family doctor to whom every family can turn in time of need, or trouble, for aid and advice.

DECREASE SHOWN IN BEER AND BREWERY PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Brewery production of cereal beverages this year shows a decrease of almost 27,000,000 gallons, according to a statement today by prohibition headquarters. The output of near-beer and other cereal products during the past year was reported at 100,000,000 gallons compared with an annual approximate production of 900,000,000 gallons of real beer before prohibition.

BANDITS BOB PAYMASTER

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Oct. 23 (AP)—The paymaster of one Number 1 of the Southern Coal, Coke and Mining company was held up here today by six bandits and robbed of $14,500. The holdup occurred as the paymaster stepped from a street car. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Alleged Corrupt Dealings in State Affairs Basis for Legislative Act

Upper House Gives Notice of Its Readiness to Convene at Any Time to Consider Additional Impeachment Charges Against Walton; No Statement Issued by State's Executive

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 23 (AP)—Governor J. C. Walton was suspended from office at 8:40 p. m. when the state senate by a vote of 36 to 1 adopted a resolution temporarily relieving him of his official duties, following the submission by the lower house of a bill of impeachment against him.

FALL DEFENDS BIG OIL LEASE

The house then passed to the consideration of the third charge which is that the executive prevented the assembling of a grand jury which had been summoned to investigate his official conduct.

The first charge in the committee report has not been considered. Informed of the house action, Governor Walton declared "I haven't a word to say."

The impeachment bill charged the executive with entering into a "corrupt agreement with Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner," to place T. P. Edwards, the governor's personal chauffeur, on the payroll of the health department at $200 a month; and that thereby "certain moneys were diverted from the statutory object and purpose for which they were appropriated by law."

The suspension resolution was introduced by Senator W. M. Gulagher of Muskogee. A committee was named to inform the governor and lieutenant governor of the action.

Lieutenant Governor Trapp is in Sapulpa, Okla., and was notified by telephone. The committee delivered their message to the governor in his office.

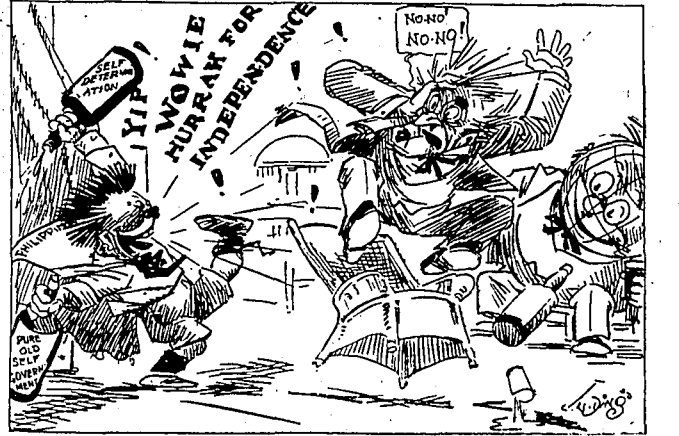

Immediately afterward they transmitted article 3, charging the governor with preventing the meeting of a grand jury to inquire into his official acts, and the senate accepted it also.

The senate notified the house that it would convene at any time to receive additional impeachment articles that might be adopted later by the lower body and then adjourned. The house ended its session almost at the same time.

World Conference Held Necessary to Rescue Europe

Premier Smuts Warns England and U. S. Against Too Much Generosity on Debt Remissions; Turns to America

LONDON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Premier Smuts of South Africa called for a conference of the powers to consider the whole European situation in a speech tonight at a dinner attended by the South African delegation to the imperial conference. He attacked France for her policy and warned England and the United States against any "excessive generosity" in the remission of inter-war war debts which might aid in further militarization of the continent.

"Of the great number of public men whose names stand under the peace treaty," he said, "there are only two or three who still survive in power today. For better or for worse I am one of them and the responsibility for what was done at Paris weighs heavily on my conscience in spite of the fact that I signed it only under protest and sense of foreboding of calamities which has come only too true."

A gallant attempt to save Europe, without patching or temporizing, was necessary, he said, and this could only be done through a conference of the powers who were interested in the repatriation question. The situation was so desperate to be dealt with by superior authorities or even the reparations commission or the council of the league of nations.

"It is a business for the principals, not agents," he declared.

"It is equally important that the United States should be there as an active member and bear her full weight which under the circumstances may be more decisive than that of any other power. In her distress Europe has turned to the United States for help and stretching her eyes and stretching her hands to the great daughter nation in the west. The appeal is not so much for material assistance as for moral support. In this dark hour it is the lack of moral justice which is Europe's nadir."

Billions of Marks Needed to Purchase One Loaf of Bread

Latest Quotations Placed at $6,000,000,000 to the Dollar; Launch Costs Two Billion

BERLIN, Oct. 23 (AP)—Bread is bringing 5,500,000,000 marks a loaf in the market here, and it is estimated as bakers say they cannot afford to buy flour in the open market and sell at that price. There were long lines of hungry people before the bakeries today, and it was reported that the government had to buy flour in the open market and sell at that price.

The mark was officially quoted at $6,000,000,000 to the dollar, and the unofficial quotations ranged much lower with the result that the prices in the marks of all commodities were rising rapidly this afternoon.

Two billion five hundred and forty million marks was the cost of a lunch consisting of hot waffles, potatoes, rolls and beer today in an ordinary lunch room on the Alexanderplatz, in the working-men's section here. The beer cost 800,000,000 marks with potatoes 1,200,000,000 and the rolls 200,000,000 marks.

One could obtain coffee at one billion marks per cup, a piece of cake or pie at 800,000,000 and a plate of soup at 300,000,000. Many men who entered the lunch-rooms left without ordering, not being able to pay the prices.

RESCUE PARTY TO SEARCH FOR MISSING PAIR

Two Federal Foresters from Missoula Feared Lost in Storm-Ridden Fastnesses of Mission Mountains

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 23 (AP)—Somewhere in the untracked and little-known fastnesses of the Mission range near Flathead lake, two rangers of the United States forestry service have been missing since October 14, and late this afternoon a rescue party was being organized. The missing rangers are Jack Clark and J. D. Swan of Missoula, Mont.

Nine days ago they left on an exploration tour of the range—a range which few persons are known to have crossed—carrying rations for a four-day trip. They were last heard of when they left Holland lake.

On the first night, out a heavy snow storm set in, but because the rangers were mountaineers, little note of the storm was taken by the Missoula forestry office. More snow accompanied by a high wind came on the second night. When the fourth day came and the pair did not return to Missoula as scheduled the officials began to worry.

Late today Thomas Whoomaker, chief of the public relations department of the United States forestry service in district No. 1, which includes all of Montana and northern Idaho, who had arrived in Great Falls for inspection of Jefferson forest, cut his visit short and left for the Mission range to organize a searching party.

DEMAND—FIXING OF PRICE

Committee Appointed to Urge Federal Agricultural Board to Clamp at Capitol for Finnish Fight

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 23 (AP)—A committee appointed at the farmer-banker meeting at Wheaton last August which went on record for the establishment of an agricultural board by congress with power to fix prices of all agricultural products, will camp in Washington next month and stay there until congress takes final action on the question. Frank Murphy of Wheaton, declares today.

"We will get some kind of office in Washington and we'll stay by our guns," Mr. Murphy declared. "This agricultural board will be established, I feel sure. The farmers of the northwest are for it. The committee from one state will go down and then if business demands that its members come back the committee from another state will take its place."

DEATHS REVEAL TRAGEDY

BEND, Ore., Oct. 23 (AP)—After killing his sister, her baby daughter and his three children, Ell Chase, a farmer living 11 miles north of here near Deschutes, set fire to his home and then ended his own life by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. It was not known here today, following the discovery of the tragedy early today by W. H. Steele, a neighbor, who saw the house in flames. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deaths were caused by "party or passion."
A blood stained hammer was found at Chase's feet and a revolver lay beside the body. The studies of the sister and four children were burned as they lay in their beds, where they had been beaten to death with the hammer.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by dripping a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to excrete it from the blood. They become feeble and weaker; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.
To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Bad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithin, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.
Bad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithin-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—adv.

LINDSEY MAY BE COURT WITNESS

District Attorney Seeks Explanation of Statement of Famed Colorado Judge

DENVER, Oct. 23 (AP)—Juvenile Judge Ben R. Lindsey's letter today to the grand jury declaring he will not divulge all he knows concerning alleged illegal operations and abortions in Denver, may not prove sufficient to excuse him from appearing before that body when it convenes tomorrow night. District Attorney Philip S. Van Cise said this afternoon.
Judge Lindsey made the statement that it was his belief that 1000 illegal operations were performed in Denver annually in a letter mailed today to the grand jury. He also made public his intention to refuse to violate confidences placed in him by women and girls who have gone to him with their troubles. He has been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

Just what proceedings may be undertaken as a result of the judge's refusal to tell all he knows was not stated by District Attorney Van Cise, although he intimated that definite action would be taken.
"I shall meet coalitions as they arise," was the only comment Van Cise would make. "However, if a man makes a statement to the press, as Judge Lindsey has done, in which he said that illegal operations have cut Denver's birth rate in half, then I shall do my duty toward finding out just what this man knows."
"The letter I have directed to the grand jury sets forth all I have to say on the matter," Judge Lindsey said. "I have pointed out the way to the enactment of an enforcement of adequate legislation. That will at least tend to wipe out this prevalent evil."
In his letter to the grand jury Judge Lindsey said that while he would refuse to violate confidences placed in him by women and girls he would be glad of an opportunity to appear and urged the jury to "bring indictments against the state of Colorado for any punitive legislation that forbids dissemination of the truth about birth control under proper auspices and in proper cases."

"It is far better," he wrote to prevent the beginning of life, where it is not desired, or where it is sure to be imperiled than to take life by illegal operations."

THE GUMPS—THE GUEST OF HONOR

DENVER MAN IN SHOOTING FRAY

Effects of Bad Liquor Held Responsible for Fatal Shooting of Man and Woman

DENVER, Oct. 23 (AP)—Crazed love early today caused A. H. Mitchell, a Denver plumber, to shoot to death Mrs. Georgia B. Bryan, wife of an assistant fire chief, and A. J. Sherie, a farmer, and Mitchell's divorced wife's strong religious feeling, he told the police, caused him to confess the crime first to a minister and then to the police.

The bodies of Mrs. Bryan and Sherie were found in the front yard of the Sherie home, near Morningglade, Colo., where several hours before Mitchell, Sherie and Mrs. Bryan were the principals in a liquor drinking party.

After the shooting Mitchell told the police, he returned to his room in Denver. Grace Bryan, the slain woman's young daughter, he said, called him on the telephone and asked him if he had seen her mother. This call, Mitchell said, caused him to go to the home of his divorced wife, Margaret Mitchell, and confess the crime.

"I had intended to shoot myself after I shot Mrs. Bryan and Sherie," Mitchell told the police, "but I unloaded my gun on Sherie and I planned to shoot my wife to shoot me. She refused. She said 'The wages of sin is death. She was always religious and she advised me to go to a Christian minister and make a clean breast of the crime. We went to the Rev. W. H. Guberson, pastor of a Baptist church, and I made a confession."

The three took the prayer, Mitchell said, and then they went to Denver police headquarters and Mitchell surrendered.

"I imagine love for a woman and rotten whiskey, is responsible for this," said Mitchell. "Let it be a warning to all comers. This shows what whiskey will do. I met Mrs. Bryan six months ago and became infatuated with her."

Mitchell said, "we all got drunk at the party at Sherie's."

During the party, Mitchell said, Sherie and Mrs. Bryan went into a room together. Crazed, Mitchell said he left the house and drove to Denver for his gun. When he returned, he said, Sherie and Mrs. Bryan were still together and he shot them.

Blood covered the walls of the bedroom and a trail of blood led across the front porch and into the yard where the bodies were found.

W. S. Bryan, husband of the slain woman, told the police Sherie was his best friend and formerly had lived at the Bryan home.

BOZEMAN, Mont., Oct. 23 (AP)—Nine farmers, a druggist, a painter and the foreman of a cement factory, comprising the jury in the Beth O. Dunger trial today, heard Attorney General W. D. Rankin outline in the state's case a story of fiendish murder and robbery.

The attorney general declared that the state will show Dunger not only murdered Mr. and Mrs. John Sprouse, who had been his friends in Moberly, S. D., but that he left their bodies on a bed in a tent around which his own barefooted children played, and that when a faithful dog belonging to the victims whined plaintively while looking up at their bodies he took the same interest with which he had killed Mrs. Sprouse and barked the dog.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISE GIVEN

Rising Barometer Brings Encouragement to Growers and Assistants in Saving Crops

A rising barometer Tuesday evening, indicating probability of fair weather to follow storm period of the past three days, brought encouragement to growers and their volunteer assistants in the work of harvesting perishable crops in this district that are threatened with serious damage if not cleared for immediate shipment for gathering.

The cause for gratification was found in the fact that storms of the past three days have not been so severe as to interfere with harvest work except in the bean fields and that a promise of fair weather will dry out beans sufficiently for threshing.

In this respect, according to reports received during the day, the Twin Falls region was more fortunate than other south Idaho districts. These reports told of heavy snowfall Tuesday about Idaho Falls and Pocatello, with four inches of snow on the level of the latter point. At Burley it was reported, deep snow was formed on the streets, and on the hills to the south snow was falling on a region already covered with snow to a depth of ten inches.

Bean Harvest Urgent

Demand for help with farm work Tuesday again exceeded the available supply, according to reports at the chamber of commerce offices. About 25 persons were sent out to work Tuesday morning in response to the call for help in harvesting of sugar beets, onions, potatoes and apples. The supply of help was sufficient to meet the demand in the case of the apple harvest, where many women and girls are employed.

Available weather forecast was regarded at the chamber of commerce offices as an indication of increased demand Tuesday for help in the bean fields. Stacking or threshing of the bean crop, it was pointed out, is the most urgent requirement of the present situation, since this crop alone will be seriously damaged by rain or snow. Growers and their assistants are willing to lend their assistance in the task will meet as usual, at chamber of commerce offices Wednesday morning, it was announced.

WALTON SUSPENDED

Oklahoma, is charged with offenses made grounds of impeachment by the constitution, and:

"Whereas, the filing of the articles with the senate automatically suspended J. C. Walton as governor and the office with its duties and compensations devolves upon the lieutenant governor;

"Now, therefore, he it resolved by the senate that the governor and lieutenant governor be advised as to their duties in this event and that the secretary of the senate notify the governor and lieutenant governor of the proceedings thus had and to present to each of them a copy of this resolution."

The senate will resolve itself into a court of impeachment tomorrow morning, it was said. Chief Justice J. T. Johnson of the state supreme court will preside.

House Continues Probe

Meanwhile the house is to continue consideration of the remaining 20 counts in the impeachment indictment. Governor Walton was among the last to leave the darkened state house last night. With a small group of friends he walked slowly down the stairway to the main floor.

The governor halted briefly to read a copy of the senate resolution suspending him from office which a press representative handed to him.

"The vote was 36 to one for the resolution," the governor was told.

"Who voted for me?" he inquired in a low voice.

"Senator Barker."

The executive inquired about three other votes, all of which had been cast against him.

"Will you have any statement tonight, Governor?" he was asked.

"Not a word," the executive replied.

The vote on the impeachment charges in the house came unexpectedly late in the day. After most of the session had been devoted to reading testimony taken by the investigating committee and an effort to suspend the oral presentation had been voted down, the house suddenly changed its course, cut off the reading and plunged into consideration of the second article in the impeachment bill. Consideration of article 3 followed at once.

Charge Fund Diversion

Article 2, the second of the 22 specific charges against the governor made in the committee report, was approved without discussion by the house. It alleged that Governor Walton had diverted state funds to his own use by placing his private chauffeur on the state health department payroll.

A brief debate preceded adoption of article three, which charged the governor with an offense against the constitution by dispersing an assembly of the lower house in September 26 by the state militia.

ment of his eyesight, but he left before Colonel Harvey's speech was ended, a cablegram from Channey M. Dewey, welcoming the return of Ambassador Belden to Washington, was vigorously applauded.

Baldwin Pays Tribute

Premier Baldwin spoke briefly, paying tribute to Colonel Harvey for his association with even the settlement of the British debt to America and the Washington conference, events which had left a lasting impression.

The prime minister compared Colonel Harvey to a stormy petrel, and asked the guest of the evening if he were going west to meet a storm. This provoked much laughter, and Mr. Baldwin remarked he wished he were returning to Washington to be warmly welcomed this winter.

He closed by proposing a toast to the ambassador which the diners honored by standing.

Premier Bruce of Australia created much amusement by asserting that Mr. Baldwin had received his inspiration for a settlement of the debt with the United States from Australia, and added: "Great Britain would not act altogether ungenerously if she made the same favorable terms with us as she did with America."

Speeches were then submitted separately to the senate as bills of impeachment as soon as the house had acted.

Several Testify

Testimony that had been presented was that of Dr. E. T. Ryan, who was at different times executive, controller and state bank commissioner; Aldrich Blake, counselor who succeeded Bynum and who was, like him, deposed; Buck Garrett, former sheriff of Carter county and recently a personal bodyguard to the executive; and Colonel Zack Mulhall, wealthy cattleman and personal friend of the governor.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Former teachers of the Lincoln school entertained the new members of the faculty of the building on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Father McRoberts on Sixth avenue east. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves.

Cards was the diversion, different games being played at each table, each player striving to make the table at which they started the winning one. Tiny panukkas were used for talles. A two-course luncheon was served after the games. Guests were the Misses Rose Wolfe, Mary Childs, Ruth Beauchamp, Elva Cherrington, Gladys Conner, Gale Musser, Marguerite Pomeroy, Elva Wilkinson, Hazel Goodwin and Mrs. George Searlett. Those entertaining were Misses Fannie Perkins, Elizabeth Showell, Charlotte Bond, Helen Fenner, Father McRoberts, Hazel MacIntyre, Veronice Wiemann, Lillian Swanson, Grace Bernard, Martha Lecky and Helen Norton.

Mrs. C. E. Wright entertained three tables of players at bridge Tuesday afternoon at her home on Sixth avenue north. Favor for high score was won by Mrs. W. F. Through and consolation by Mrs. J. E. Russell. Holloway decorations were used for the rooms and a two-course luncheon was served, following the games.

Complimenting Mrs. Ernest Claudin of Long Beach, Cal., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Slifer, Mrs. J. B. Williams entertained with a "500" party Monday evening at her home in the Reed apartments. There were two tables of players, all close friends of the guest of honor who was presented with a dainty favor while honor for high score was won by Mrs. D. L. Livia. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mrs. I. H. Appell entertained at dinner on Sunday in honor of the birthday of her grand-daughter Helen. The table was lovely with Hallowe'en decorations and the flowers were in the same colors. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock. Covers were laid for ten, those present being Misses Helen Appell, Thelma Erickson, Ora Constable, Ida Jones, Ruth Jones, Messrs. Harris, Hartneff and Bickford.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones entertained at dinner on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koch and son, Richard, of Twin Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koch and family of Klamath. The day was spent with a general social time and was greatly enjoyed by the participants.

On Tuesday Mrs. F. H. Irwin entertained nine ladies at her country home with a delicious dinner at noon after which the afternoon was spent with quilting and visiting.

The Presbyterian Missionary society will meet with Mrs. James McMillan, 345 Second avenue north, on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. D. F. Sweet has charge of the program, which will be on Alaska, and roll call is to be answered with something pertaining to that country.

On Monday evening members of the Pan-Hellenic club motored to Filer where the regular club meeting was held with Mrs. Arthur E. Anderson and Mrs. W. D. Gillis at the home of the former. After a brief business session presided over by Mrs. Merlin Batley, the program for the evening in charge of Mrs. J. W. Visher was given. Mrs. Visher was assisted by Mrs. Kyle Walte, and the guests were taken on a trip abroad. Mrs. Anderson told of her trip through the various European countries, Mrs. W. F. Pike talked of her winter in the Hawaiian Islands, and Mrs. Visher spoke of her visit to Jamaica. At the close of this very delightful evening the hostesses served dainty refreshments.

The current events department of the Twentieth Century club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James A. Walker on West Main, assistant hostesses being Mrs. W. W. Humphrey, Mrs. Louis Friedman and Miss Albert Simonds. The usual current events were given and Mrs. M. J. Sweetley told of the Western Federation meeting at Atlanta, Ga. Interesting readings were given by Mrs. James Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. W. Clouche and Mrs. J. W. C. Dyack. Several items of business were discussed and declined and the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. R. S. Loner was hostess to the T. S. S. club on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Eighth avenue east. The rooms were attractive with Hallowe'en decorations and after the usual social time refreshments were served. Mrs. W. E. Taylor was a guest, and ten members were in attendance.

The Kiwanis club dinner dance which had been planned for the evening of October 23, has been postponed to the evening of November 6, on account of the Bkvguard concert to be given on next Monday evening.

GARAGES OR HOMES? Senator Copeland says the lack of housing in New York comes largely from providing shelter for automobiles instead of people.

Something of that kind may be readily needed in the metropolis, which is said to lack more than one hundred fifty thousand homes...

To the credit of most communities, however, it should be said that when their people cannot afford houses and garages both, they nearly always prefer houses.

EDUCATION FOR REFORM A publication devoted to the fight against child labor in this country printed a number of "Snapshots from the Tenements" as first-hand documents against the sweatshop evil.

Whatever her mental processes, she is typical of that large section of the indifferent or unenlightened public which makes possible the continuation of child labor and all its attendant evils.

INCOME TAX REVISION A tentative plan submitted to President Coolidge by Senator Smoot calls for substantial downward revision of the income tax.

Reduce the maximum surtax from fifty per cent to thirty-three per cent; Remove the tax altogether from personal incomes of two thousand to three thousand dollars;

Lower the rate enough to cut one hundred million dollars in taxes from incomes of three thousand dollars to six thousand dollars;

Do likewise with incomes of six thousand dollars to ten thousand dollars; Eliminate taxes on special industries, like the three per cent tax on candy.

Such a set of reductions would be greeted with enthusiasm by the general public, inasmuch as the majority of taxpayers would benefit. The lowering of the highest surtax might be unpopular, but the little income people might tolerate it if their own taxes were lightened.

It should be observed that these reductions are based on the supposition that Congress, in the coming session, will not authorize an army bonus or any other unusually expensive measure not provided for in the budget.

THE PRIZE WINNER By DADDY

Jack and Janet and Daddy Dog's school set out for the fair. Daddy Dog gives his pupils a holiday.

He wasn't able to waddle and farther.

CHAPTER II. Why Bonnie Went.

W H I L E Jack and Janet and Daddy Dog and Daddy Dog's rabbit and squirrel pupils were on the way to the fair, they came upon Farmer Brown's farm.

This farm, which one had been run-down and poor, was now thriving and rich-looking. The houses and barns were in fine repair, the fields were loaded with crops ready for the harvest, and in the barnyard were laying hens, strong horses, contented cows and fat pigs.

But fine and rich-looking as the farm was, Bonnie Brown sat by the roadside in a very unhappy state of mind. As he watched the autos rushing by he did not want him to fight bravely to keep the tears from filling his eyes.

What is the matter, Bonnie Brown?" asked Janet. "You look very sad."

"I look sad because I am sad," replied Bonnie Brown, gulping hard as though something was in his throat. "Grunty Pig has grown so big and fat that father is talking of selling him to the butcher to cut up into ham and pork chops. I am fond of Grunty Pig and do not want him cut into ham and pork chops."

"Ee-unk! Ee-unk!" grunted Grunty Pig from the pig sty. "I don't want to be cut into ham and pork chops."

Jack and Janet and Daddy Dog and the rabbits and squirrels stopped to look into the pig sty.

"Ee-unk! Ee-unk!" grunted Grunty Pig. "I don't want to be cut into ham and pork chops."

"Ee-unk! Ee-unk!" wailed Grunty Pig. "I don't want to be cut into ham and pork chops."

"Ee-unk! Ee-unk!" wailed Grunty Pig. "I don't want to be cut into ham and pork chops."

us he will win so many prizes Farmer Brown will not want to sell him to the butcher."

"That seemed a fine idea to Janet and to Bonnie Brown."

"I have seen lots of pigs going by on their way to the fair," said Bonnie Brown, his eyes shining with hope and eagerness. "Grunty Pig is bigger and fatter than any of them. I am sure he would win prizes from all of them."

Jack and Janet agreed with Bonnie Brown. Trucks were going by in a stream, some of them bearing sheep to the fair, some bearing poultry, and some bearing pigs. Not a pig was finer than Grunty Pig.

"Would you like to go to the fair?" Jack asked Grunty Pig.

"I would like to go to the fair," said Grunty Pig. "I would like to go to the fair."

So Bonnie Brown opened the gate of the pig sty, and Grunty Pig crawled through. He was so fat his sides scraped the sides of the door.

They set off hopefully for the fair. Grunty Pig ahead with Jack and Janet. But they hadn't gone far when Grunty Pig began to pant. Then he began to gasp. And finally he stopped short.

"Ee-unk!" he wailed. "I am so fat I can't walk. I'll never be able to get to the fair. And even if I did, I would lose so much weight walking that I would be too thin to win a prize."

What Grunty Pig said was true. He wasn't able to waddle any further.

But they must get him to the fair. How could they do it?

(In the next chapter will be told how they got Grunty Pig to the fair.)

Sam left the steamroom and headed for the companion. He wanted to get on deck and ascertain if that girl was still on board. About now the sheep would be separating from the goats; the passengers would be on deck and their friends returning to the shore. A slight tremor on the boards on which he trod told him that this separation must have already taken place. The ship was moving. He ran lightly up the companion. Was she on board or was she not? The next few minutes would decide. He reached the top of the stairs and passed out onto the crowded deck. And as he did so, a scream, followed by confused shouting, came from the rail nearest the shore. He perceived that the rail was black with people hanging over it. They were all looking into the water.

Samuel Marlowe was not one of those who pass aloofly by when there is excitement toward. To dash to the rail and shove a fat man in a tweed cap to one side was with him the work of a moment. He had thus an excellent view of what was going on—a view which he improved the next instant by climbing up and kneeling on the rail.

There was a man in the water, a man whose upper section, the only one visible, was clad in a blue jersey. He wore a derby hat, and from time to time as he battled with the waves, he would put up a hand and adjust this more firmly on his head. A dresy swimmer.

Samuel Marlowe had been taken in this special case. He had been taken in this special case. He had been taken in this special case. He had been taken in this special case.

At this moment the fat man in the tweed cap, increased at having been jostled out of the front row, made his charge. He had but been crouching, the better to spring. Now he sprang. His fat weight took Sam squarely in the spine. There was an instant in which that young man hung, as it were, between sea and sky; then he shot down below the rail to join the man in the blue jersey, who had just discovered that his hat was not on straight and had paused to adjust it once more with a few skillful touches of the finger.

In the brief interval of time which Marlowe had spent in the steamroom, chatting with Eustace about the latter's bruised soul, some rather curious things had been happening above. Not extraordinary, perhaps, but curious. The fat weight took Sam squarely in the spine. There was an instant in which that young man hung, as it were, between sea and sky; then he shot down below the rail to join the man in the blue jersey, who had just discovered that his hat was not on straight and had paused to adjust it once more with a few skillful touches of the finger.

By now the bustle which precedes the departure of an ocean liner was at its height. Hoarse voices were crying. "All for the shore!" The gangway was thronged with friends of passengers returning to land. The crowd on the pier waved flags and handkerchiefs and shouted unintelligibly. Members of the crew stood alertly by the gangplank ready to draw it in as soon as the last seer-off had crossed it. The girl went to the rail and gazed curiously at the shore. There was an anxious expression on her face. She had the air of one who was waiting for someone to appear. Her demeanor was that of Mariana at the Moated Grange. "He cometh not!" she seemed to be saying. She glanced at her wrist watch, then scanned the deck once more.

There was a rattle as the gang-plank moved inboard and was deposited on the deck. The girl uttered a little cry of dismay. Then suddenly her face brightened and she began to wave her arm to attract the attention of an elderly man with a nose made wider by exertion, who had just forced his way to the edge of the dock and was peering up at the passenger-lined rail.

The boat had now begun to move slowly out of its slip, backing into the rivarly moor with a nose made wider by exertion, who had just forced his way to the edge of the dock and was peering up at the passenger-lined rail.

My wife enjoys reading about the moving picture stars.

There's no explaining tastes, of course, and there'd be no harm done if she only wouldn't insist on telling me what she reads.

Somehow or other I don't care a whoop if Lolo Dimple, the super-super-premo star, just loves hooks and spends at least fifteen minutes a year with the grand old classics.

And it doesn't seem my blood pressure up a bit to learn that J. Fitzgibbon, the director of all the Ultra-Perfect films, is just like a big boy when he's away from his work, and loves nothing better than a romp with his kiddies.

But that's the sort of thing my wife reads to me out of the magazines and newspapers. She believes every word of it, too, and says I'm nothing but an old cynic, anyway.

"Spring Cleaning" Old Custom. What we call "spring cleaning" is said to go back to the Passover. From that time there has been a custom whereby everything in a house should be cleaned in the early part of the year. The custom was common among the Jews, especially those who settled in Holland, and gradually the whole of the Dutch nation became inaugurated with this idea. From the Netherlands the custom spread to England.

POSSE SCOURS HILL COUNTRY FOR MURDERER

Officers Take Up Trail of Dave Vaughn, Alleged Slayer of One Mexican and Believed to Have Killed Second Man

Search throughout northern Nevada and southern Idaho was made today for Dave Vaughn, who is alleged to have shot and killed one Mexican shepherder, and who is believed to have slain another Mexican, known as "Little Joe," after freeing him to assist in carrying away the body of the dead man. The alleged murder is reported to have occurred last Sunday at Dix Valley, just across the border in Nevada, about 35 miles southeast of Rogerson.

The killing of the first Mexican is said to have been witnessed by a third person upon whom Vaughn opened fire but did not injure. The horse ridden by "Little Joe" is reported to have returned Monday without his rider.

Local officers stated, however, that the word of the killing was not received by Sheriff Joe Harris of Elko county, Nevada until Monday. Assistance of the Twin Falls county sheriffs' force was granted Tuesday morning by the Nevada officer, and Deputy Sheriff John W. Gahrnt was detailed from here to take part in the man hunt.

Gahrnt returned Tuesday evening and reported that the search up to that time had been without result. Sheriff Harris was in Rogerson Tuesday evening, and was to take up the hunt again this morning from that point.

The search Tuesday led through a mountainous region covered with about 10 inches of snow, mere snow falling most of the day. Officers who took part in the search expressed the opinion that Vaughn had not left the hills. Word was sent out, however, through the sheriff's office, that the local Postelle and intermediate points to watch for Vaughn's appearance. Similar notices were sent out to Nevada points.

Description Given.
A description of the hunted man, as given by the officers here, is as follows:
Dave Vaughn, white, 45, 6 feet tall; weight, 170 pounds; medium complexion; light brown hair, gray at temples; wore mustache and beard; nose on right side of nose; wore dark leather coat over a blue and black hat; rode blue gray horse.

According to accounts given the officers Vaughn had been drinking heavily when he set out with the snow and the purpose of killing the Mexicans, whom he accused of stealing his field glasses. He had purchased a rifle shortly before he set out, and invited the person from whom he purchased the gun to join him in the killing.

Meager Report Brought Here Says T. F. Murray of City Pharmacy is Victim of Automobile Accident

T. F. Murray, proprietor of the City pharmacy, was severely injured in an automobile accident in Salt Lake last week, according to reports brought back by Probation Officer John R. Ault on his return from Boise Monday. Employees of the pharmacy here have received no word in regard to injury of Mr. Murray, although it was learned that Mrs. Murray was called to Salt Lake last week. According to statements made to Mr. Ault by Mr. Fitzgerald of American Automobile company, business associate, on the train to Pocatello last week, Mr. Murray had suffered dislocation of a shoulder and fracture of several ribs. A full report of details had been given Mr. Fitzgerald at that time.

GOODING COLLEGE, GOODING, Oct. 23.—President Charles Wesley Tenney has just received word from Dr. Robert A. Parrott of Twin Falls, stating that the Methodist orchestra of 29 pieces, directed by himself, and the chorus choir of 40 voices led by Mrs. Frank Bell, are at Gooding by storm Friday evening, November 10, and give a grand concert and chorus for the third number of the lyceum course. Both organizations are at ready hand at work on the program, which will be given in Twin Falls, as a benefit for Gooding college, before the orchestra-chorus choir to Gooding. While here these visitors will be the guests of Gooding college at the young women's dormitory, so they can see the institution and become acquainted with both teachers and students before yondering their program.

Others numbers which are appearing on the Gooding lyceum course are Mrs. Frank Bell, who speaks at both the college and the high school, each time for the Gooding-Wellzell football game, made a good fellow of himself all day and then gave a lecture that should have been heard by every athlete in Idaho. Friday evening, Axel Skovgaard and his talented wife, who give violin and piano concert Thursday, October 23. Harold Ford, magician, electrician and inventor, December 7; the Gooding public school performers, the Gooding college orchestra; and three young men rendered by home talent or lyceum group.

LITVIN RELATES STORY IN COURT

Garage Operator on Trial on Felony Charge of Receiving Stolen Car Takes Stand

David Litvin, Twin Falls garage operator, who is accused of receiving a stolen 1922 Buick automobile, took the witness stand in district court here Tuesday afternoon to testify in his own defense in his second trial on a felony charge of receiving one of these cars. Litvin had not completed his testimony under direct examination conducted by Frank L. Stephens, defense counsel, when the evening recess was taken, and he will return to the stand when the trial is resumed this morning.

It was believed that the case would be given to the jury for a verdict. The first trial resulted in a failure of the jury to agree upon a verdict. The state rested its case at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after introducing the testimony of eight witnesses, two of whom for the state having been called to the stand after selection of the jury on Monday. Witnesses called Tuesday by the state were J. J. Hannah of Utah, self-confessed thief of the cars he is alleged to have delivered to Litvin; H. S. Hamilton, former deputy sheriff; A. A. White, special agent of the federal department of justice; M. Compton of Ogden, Utah, owner of the car which Litvin in this case is charged with having received; G. W. Shrout, Twin Falls, and C. E. Farce, Buhl, deputy county assessors. Marvin

AGED FARM LABORER FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Effort is Made to Communicate with Relatives of Albert Flood, Victim of Sudden Attack of Violent Illness

Effort was made Tuesday evening by Coroner P. J. Grossman to communicate with relatives elsewhere of Albert Flood, aged about 62 years, and a resident of Twin Falls for about five years, who was discovered Tuesday morning dead in his bed in a camp wagon on the Anderson farm, about eight miles southeast of Twin Falls, where he had been employed for about a week. Flood leaves no relatives here, although he has many acquaintances in and about Twin Falls. It is believed that he leaves a brother and other relatives in Wisconsin, with whom the coroner was attempting to communicate. An inquest in the case was deemed unnecessary by Coroner Grossman, after an investigation of the circumstances.

Flood was apparently violently ill when Mr. Anderson went to the wagon where he slept after a boy had been sent to learn the reason why he had not appeared for breakfast. Flood then was in bed. He complained of being intensely cold. Mr. Anderson brought him to his home, called a physician, and then after calling a physician, went to a neighboring farm for assistance. Flood was dead when Mr. Anderson returned.

BULLH'S SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR WORK IN HARVEST

Senior and Junior High School Students Released for Remainder of Week to Help in Having of Crops

BULLH, Oct. 23.—(Special to The News).—Senior and junior high schools of the Buhl school system were dismissed today for the remainder of the week, through action taken by the board of education to release approximately 350 boys and girls for work in the harvest of beans, potatoes, apples and hay crops. Arrangement was made for distribution of the students among growers applying for their help through the school system, one of the teachers being detailed each day to attend to this function. About two-thirds of the students found employment in the harvest work Tuesday.

Closing of the schools will not result in cancellation of the Oakley-Bull football game to be played at Bull Friday, it was announced.

The "Dangerous Age"

For Your Child's Feet

And for your child's health; for improperly fitted shoes means faulty posture, and faulty posture carries many ills in its train. Digestive troubles, rounded shoulders, poor circulation—besides permanent foot troubles—are direct and indirect results of improperly fitted shoes.

When the habit of walking improperly begins before six—as it usually does—it's a habit that stands a mighty poor chance of ever being corrected. Even with all watchfulness and care, it will take years of correction to overcome deformities developed during those years when the bones are hardening and the muscles being strengthened.

Though properly fitted shoes for children are far more important than properly fitted shoes for adults, many parents who would not tolerate a poorly-made, ill-fitting shoe themselves buy most anything for their children because they "soon wear them out, anyhow." A short-sighted policy—the best we can say for these parents is that they are thoughtless.

Poll Parrot "foot-culture" shoes are made for those fortunate children whose parents insist on foot comfort for their children as well as themselves. They are no more expensive, either, for they are built of solid leather, for hard wear. And the foot-shaping last and wide nature toes are giving their feet the right start in life.

We've Poll Parrots for the little girl who is fussy about the style of her shoes.

And here are Poll Parrots for real boys and their tomboy sisters who wear their shoes hard.
