BUSINESS MEN SUBMIT VIEWS IN RATE CASE

Opposition to Lower Freight Charges on Through Traffic Again Voiced at Hearing Before Commission

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Opposition of intermountain business clubs and traffic associations to the plan of transcontinental railroads for lower freight rates on through traffic from Chicago to the Pacific coast for the purpose of equalizing competitive conditions as between the carriers and inter-coastal water lines, was given in an elaborate commerce hearing today before Commissioner Frederick I. Cox and Examiner Bardwell.

Any revision of the rate structure which would permit through rates to be fixed at levels lower than intermediate rates on short hauls would be discriminatory against the intermediate territory, mountain states opponents of the suggested change argued. The carriers' plan also is opposed by steamship operators in the coast-to-coast service.

The hearing here is to inquire into the source of the agitation for the lower through rates, and is pursuant to a senate resolution by Senator Gooding of Idaho, adopted last March, requesting the commission to report to congress at the next term on the whole subject of what is known as "fourth section relief."

Section Four Cited
The discussion hinges upon section four of the interstate commerce act which provides that in no case shall through rates between any two points be lower than the local rates between intermediate points, unless special permissions for exceptions be granted, for competitive purposes, by the commission.

Setting forth that the Panama canal traffic rates have robbed the transcontinental carriers of a large volume of business, the latter have appealed to the commission for fourth section relief under which competition between the water and rail systems may be equalized. At present, the railroads point out, the rates so favor the water route that it is cheaper to ship eastward from the Mississippi river to the Atlantic seaboard and thence by boat to Pacific ports than to move consignments direct by rail to the western terminals. The same condition rules, it is asserted, as regards shipments south and through the Gulf ports to the Pacific.

Ball Man Testifies
Vice President Edward Chambers of the Santa Fe system testified today that because of the present condition his road is compelled to carry westward from Chicago three empty cars to every loaded car moved to the coast. The cars are needed on the west coast for the eastbound traffic, but must be carried empty because of the lower water rates.

Mary Garden Postaged by Ranchers Following Her Entry in Matrimonial Market

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 2 (AP)—When Mary Garden, prima donna, was quoted as the Pacific coast recently as having said she might marry within a year, she started something, she said here today. The trouble was that somebody added a few frills to it, the principal one of which was that she had declined her offer for a westerner. Miss Garden said it was a plot hatched by newspaper reporters.
"The whole affair was started in jest," she said, "but soon became a terrible reality when ranchers and real-estate men began seeking interviews with me in order to press their suits."

Air Speed Records Broken by Mark of 260 Miles an Hour

Fastest Time Ever Reached in History of Aviation Is Accomplished by Star Aviator of U. S. Navy

MITCHELL FIELD, New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The fastest speed ever attained by man was made today by Lieutenant H. J. Brown, navy aviator, who flew over a three-kilometer straightaway course four times at an average speed of 259.15 miles an hour. On one leg of the course he traveled at the phenomenal rate of 265.21 miles an hour.

Brown's record was attained in competition with Lieutenant A. J. Williams, former pitcher on the New York Giants baseball club and winner of the Pulitzer prize, both men flying navy Curtiss planes. Brown was second in the Pulitzer contest.
Brown went up first and set a pace of 257.42 miles an hour and Williams was soon in the air, intent on beating that record. When his plane reached the ground he found he had flown 258.61 miles an hour. As he was being congratulated by army officers and others who watched the speed trials, Brown ran to his plane.
"Wait the propeller, boys," he shouted to his mechanics, "I'm going after it."

The spectators held their breath as his plane shot through the air and the thrill of the day came on the second leg, when, flying with the light wind that wafted over the army post field, he sent his machine at the breath-taking clip of nearly five miles a minute.
"It was almost unbelievable," said Major William N. Hensley, commanding officer at Mitchell Field, who was in direct charge of the contest.
"Pretty good, Brown," said Williams as he congratulated his competitor, "but I'm going to beat it tomorrow."
Statisticians figured out after the trials that on Brown's fourth leg his engine was turning over at the rate of 2800 revolutions a minute. The propeller hub, going at this speed, sent the propeller through the air so fast

RHINELANDERS DEFEATED BY REICH FORCES

Aix la Chapelle Is Again in the Hands of Government Troops as Separatists Are Forced to Abandon Strong Position

AIX LA CHAPELLE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Aix la Chapelle again is in the hands of the authorities of the reich government and city officials. The loyalists finally surrendered, but later the separatists were ejected and forced by the Belgians to leave the city.

Several persons were killed in the fighting, exactly how many has not yet been established, and a score wounded. The attack began between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. Followers of Joseph Mathes had drawn a curtain across the rathaus area and cleared the streets and near-by buildings of all persons, however inoffensive they seemed.
A delegation of the separatists then went to the rathaus to try to negotiate the surrender of the 100 loyalists inside. The garrison, however, refused to give in, and the Mathesites opened an attack.
Ladders and poles were taken from the scaffolding of a department store opposite the rathaus. The ladders were placed against the first floor windows and the separatists used the poles as battering rams.
Under a barrage of revolver fire the separatists scaled the ladders and shattered all the priceless stained glass windows in the left wing of the rathaus while other storming parties battered in the doors. The defenders, armed with clubs and firearms, resisted stoutly, but being outnumbered, they were driven step by step up the stairs to the top of the building where they were obliged to surrender just before 10 o'clock.

Throughout the battle Belgian officers and soldiers stood neutrally looking on. Soon after noon came the order terminating the brief triumph of the Mathesites. They were ordered to quit the building and leave the town. The origin of the order is uncertain. Notwithstanding a statement of the Belgians attributing it to the action of the allied high command, it is reported in reliable quarters tonight that the instructions were dispatched from Brussels without reference to what at present the Paris government might decide toward such a proceeding.

Twin Falls School Freed by State Board Decision on Charge of Unfairness

Idaho Athletic Officials Render Decision Exonerating Local School and Coach from Accusations of Encouraging Outside Star Football Players to Join Grid Squad Here

THE BOARD'S DECISION
MINIDOKA, Idaho, 8:15 p. m. Nov. 2—Twin Falls News, Twin Falls, Idaho—Board finds charges against Twin Falls as set forth in complaint not supported by the evidence submitted. Therefore Twin Falls is a contender for district championship.

BOARD OF CONTROL
Twin Falls high school and Coach Clinton W. Evans were exonerated Friday by the Idaho interscholastic association's board of control of charges of "enticing star athletes from other sections of the state and country, and the Twin Falls high school football team, winners last year of the state championship, was declared a contender for championship honors this season.

The board's decision followed a public hearing held here Friday afternoon on charges preferred by officers of the Southeast Idaho District association, who said that they were acting in accordance with the directions of a majority of the schools within the district of which the Twin Falls school is one. The charges on which the hearing was held repeated accusations against the Twin Falls school which were presented at the annual meeting of the district organization in Jerome last September, at which time other schools of the district refused to schedule football games with Twin Falls, and declined to schedule games with Rupert after Rupert scheduled games with Twin Falls.

Hear Testimony
In support of the charges against Twin Falls, officers of the district organization at the hearing Friday offered testimony of two students of the Bull school who said they had been solicited by Coach Evans to attend Twin Falls school. They offered also the affidavit of another student to similar effect, and related a purported conversation with a fourth person who also had said he had been solicited.
Flat denial of the charges was made by Superintendent M. C. Mitchell and Coach Evans, and testimony of a number of Twin Falls students, their parents and employers referred to by proponents of the charges, was offered in refutation of the accusation made against the Twin Falls school.
J. B. Jee, superintendent of Caldwell schools, acted as president of the state board and announced that Superintendent Charles F. Dient of Boise was unable to attend because of illness, but had sent in his stand Mr. Underwood, head of the commercial department of the Boise high school, H. R. Wallis, superintendent of American Falls schools, served in the stead of Superintendent M. C. Mitchell of Twin

CAPACITY CROWD HEARS ADDRESS OF NOTED GUEST

Lloyd George Reviews Strenuous Trip Through America in Far-Flung Speech; Talks Post-War Problems

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—David Lloyd George tonight faced his last audience in America. Returning to New York after a month's tour of the United States and Canada, the wartime premier of Great Britain prepared with care his final word to the new world before sailing home tomorrow on the Majestic.

Every one of the 3700 seats in the Metropolitan opera house was taken and for each seat there were 100 applicants.
Many of those who were unable to crowd into the auditorium camped at home around the radio to hear his words wafted to them through the ether.
More than an hour before the doors were thrown open for a meeting held under the auspices of the citizens' committee of New York, crowds were massed on Broadway in front of the main doors.

Remembering the attempt of Irish republicans to flaunt insulting banners in the face of the foreign visitor on the day of his arrival, the police threw a great cord on foot and horse around all four sides of the opera house. Main doors and stage doors were heavily manned and as the audience pressed into the hall each ticket was strictly inspected to prevent the entrance of any possible disturbers.

Davis First Speaker
John W. Davis was introduced as the first speaker and in an address referred to the public career of Mr. Lloyd George as "greater than any English minister since Pitt," and declared that his coming here was "not an occasion, but an event."
"I make bold to say," Mr. Davis declared, "that the message you have declared in this country already has gone to the minds and hearts of the American people."
The meeting came to a brief halt while the radio apparatus that was to flash Lloyd George's voice across the country was being tested.
In his speech David Lloyd George thanked the American people for the cordial welcome it had accorded him and said he left these shores with regret.

"I have traveled," he said, "some thousands of miles in Canada and in the United States of America; and my first, and I think, my deepest impression is the vastness of these two great countries, countries of infinite resource and of endless possibilities."
"I came here to address eight meetings—I believe this is my seventh. It is not in mortal man to deliver 70 speeches without saying something few which he is sorry. If I have said anything in the course of these numerous speeches that has given offense to anyone, that has transgressed any of your party conventions, well, please put it down to my ignorance and pass it by."
Denise Hanson
"I did not willingly trespass. I came on an mission, but being asked to speak I have spoken frankly. I have spoken what I believe. I have seen a suggestion that I was in collusion."

RIOTING MARS FINAL SPEECH OF EX-PREMIER

Irish Republican Sympathizers and New York Police in Severe Encounter; Delivers Last Address to Big Crowd

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Eight persons were arrested near the Metropolitan opera house where Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain, was speaking tonight when Irish republican sympathizers attempted to hold a mass meeting on the street. Patrolman's caps were knocked from their heads by pieces of the battle were carrying.

Police fought a hand to hand battle with a large group that gathered on Fortieth street near Broadway. Many carried signs bearing the picture of Eamon de Valera, while others were inscribed with phrases uncomplimentary to the British victor.

Mounted police finally charged the crowd that surged about the bluecoats. Hundreds of persons were driven back to Sixth avenue while here and there at patrolman grabbed one of the group and placed him under arrest. Several of those so caught were women.

AMUSED LISTENERS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—New York was chuckling today over Lloyd George's quiet humor in his address at the Lotus club last night. Departing from the usual tenor of his address in which he emphasized that the future of civilization depends upon Great Britain and America working side by side, the former premier spoke in lighter vein of observations on his tour and had his audience in laughter most of the time.

The way was paved for Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, the toastmaster, who welcomed him to Bohemia and the Lotus. David Lloyd George, "human being."

"I have traveled north and south, and east and to some extent west," he said. "Dr. Butler has told you what he thinks of the outlying districts—what the opinion in New York is of the districts, and after the kindness which you have shown me it would not really be nice of me to tell you what they think of New York."

"But I was received with kindness. You work your public men very hard. You have at least two or three very strenuous and energetic politicians here. I believe Mr. Bryan is one of them."

"However, I got on very well with the aid of a little machine, an amplifier and the radio. I believe they are going to revolutionize public speaking. I believe they will circumscribe the activities of politicians and give them a little more time to think of what they are going to say. I delivered a speech, I think, in Indianapolis. I got a telegram the following day from Texas from somebody that had been listening to me. I think that was adding a new terror to public life."

LLOYD GEORGE PAYS RESPECTS AT GRAVE OF AMERICAN LEADER

Places Wreath of Bay Leaves Over Burial Place of Roosevelt; Stands in Prayer

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 2 (AP)—A stately little pilgrim, with flowing gray hair, toiled up the stony path of a cemetery in Oyster Bay, Thursday, and placed upon the mound of fading blossoms that almost covered the grave of a former president of the United States a fresh wreath of bay leaves over which was the inscription: "To the memory of a powerful and attractive personality who fought the good fight with radiant valor."

A tiny white square of pasteboard with the name "D. Lloyd George" was tacked into the foliage.

A moment of wistful gazing, a movement of lips in prayer; a sigh—such was the tribute a former British premier paid to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt.

Lloyd George made the trip from the estate of John W. Davis in Locust Valley, where he is a guest.

EARTH TREMORS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Severe earth tremors were recorded late today on the Georgetown university seismograph. Beginning at 4:29 p. m. they reached a maximum intensity between 5:19 and 5:30 and were still registering at 7 p. m. Father Tondorf, in charge of the instrument, estimated the center of disturbance at 7,000 miles from Washington.

WILSON TO TALK ON ARMISTICE

Speech of War-Time President to Be Carried Over U. S.; First Since 1919

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Woodrow Wilson will address the American people on the night of November 10 on the "Significance of Armistice Day." (He will speak from his 33rd street home here and his message will be carried to every section of the country by radio.)

It will be the first time his voice has been heard outside of Washington since he was stricken in the west in September, 1919, while carrying to the country his fight for the league of nations.

The former president has promised to speak for 10 minutes and his friends believe he will devote much of his address to the subject closest to his heart—American participation in the establishment of the peace of the world. They would not be surprised if he should touch on the present international situation.

Under present plans the former president will begin to speak at 8 o'clock, talking into a microphone. His message will be carried over a telephone wire to a speech apparatus mounted on a truck stationed in the yard of the 33rd street home. Amplified by this apparatus, it will be carried on telephone wires to the WCAP broadcasting station here and on another set of wires to the WEAP station in New York, where it will be amplified again before being broadcasted on a different wave length from that used by WCAP.

This message by Mr. Wilson will be quite apart from any visit to his home on Armistice Day. Arrangements for this demonstration are now being made by a committee headed by Houston Thompson of the federal trade commission.

FRANCE NOT INTERESTED IN SEPARATIST PROJECT

Poincare Denies Government Involved in Present Move for Setting Up Separate German State

PARIS, Nov. 2 (AP)—The French government is not interested in any Rhineland separation movement, is not involved in the present one and is not encouraging it. This is Premier Poincare's reply to the British note in which the question was raised whether it would not be a breach of the treaty of Versailles if the Rhineland was separated from the reich.

At the same time, M. Poincare points out that in his opinion article 27 of the treaty of Versailles, which Marquis Curzon, British foreign secretary, interpreted as guaranteeing the German frontiers, simply fixed them and that as a matter of jurisprudence that clause could not be construed as a guarantee of territorial integrity.

Varsity President Effects Justice in Hair-Cutting Stunt

University of Arizona Students Sheared Freshmen Heads; Are Given Same Treatment

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 2 (AP)—More than 150 students of the University of Arizona are wearing their hair clipped close to the skin, and they are not all freshmen either. And as a result, Dr. Floyd Heck Marvin, president of the university, says student self-government at the university has again proved its value.

Members of the sophomore and junior classes were given credit for cutting the hair of about 100 freshmen Halloween night. Freshmen were stopped on the streets, on the campus, interrupted in their rooms and elsewhere and were sheared. Some of the students raided a public dance hall, stepped to the middle of the floor and sheared several freshmen who were dancing with their young women friends.

This morning there was a reckoning at the university. The students council, a part of the self-governing student body, decreed that every one who took part in the freshman barber work the night before should have his hair cut.

"Stand up like men, all of you who took part in the rash last night," said George Hill, president of the student body. All those who took part, numbering about 75, stood up.

"Come forward and get your official haircut," Hill ordered. The "A" letter men were appointed to cut the hair and the performance was gone through with on the chapel platform.

Time's Cash Value

Modern methods and appliances have set a new standard for a day's work. Time is the one big factor. This is true in the factory, on the farm, in the home, or what not.

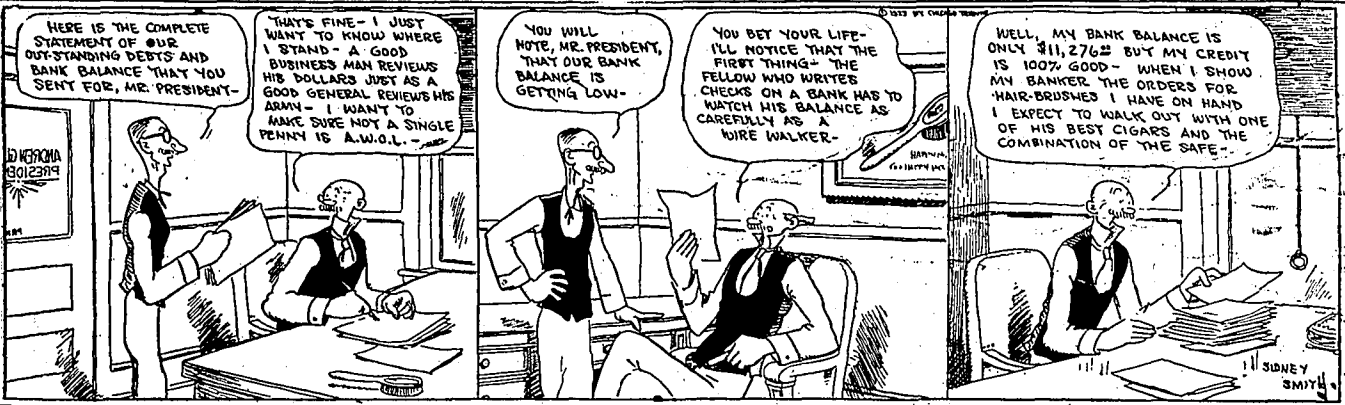

Time is money today. And anything that multiplies the value of an hour is increasingly valuable. Advertising is an annihilator of time. It provides a short cut between a manufacturer or merchant and you. It makes it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about the services or articles you need.

A quick glance through this paper enables you to sift out the things that interest you and in a moment you can know just where and when to go for what you want.

Figure out how much valuable time advertising saves you if you use it properly. Think how much needless walking and talking it saves you and your neighbors.

RENAULT BEATS FLOYD JOHNSON IN FAST BOOT

Canadian Aspirant for Heavy-weight Title Scores Knock-out Over Iowa Man in Terrific 15-Round Battle

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Jack Renault, Canadian aspirant for heavyweight honors, knocked out Floyd Johnson of Iowa tonight in the fifteenth and last round of a furious battle at Madison Square Garden. Johnson's seconds tossed a towel into the ring as he arose from taking a count of nine and staggered about the ring, helpless after a terrific bombardment. Renault weighed 196½ and Johnson 196.

Johnson rushed Renault at the start and was the aggressor throughout the first round. He pummeled the Canadian about the head, but took a stiff left jolt to the chin. They set a fast pace in the second round, Renault jarring Johnson with his left, but got the worst of the exchanges at close quarters.

Through the Ropes Partly off balance, Renault went half way through the ropes from a left to the chin in the third, but scrambled back without a count, apparently unhurt. Johnson let loose a flurry of blows, but they carried little steam and he took a hard right to the head. Renault brought blood from Johnson's nose in the fourth with a straight left, but absorbed considerable punishment about the head.

Renault staggered Johnson in the fifth with a left hook and kept a steady stream of blood flowing from the Iowan's nose as they battled at close range. They mixed at a furious pace in the sixth, Johnson sending Renault to the ropes once with a rushing attack. The Canadian tried hard for a right-hand knockout, but was wild.

Renault had Johnson in monetary distress in the seventh with a terrific attack to the head, but the Iowan rallied and sent Renault partly through the ropes in a mixup. Both slogged away at close quarters in the eighth. Renault's blows doing the most damage.

back from a clinch and fell to the floor as he lost his balance. He climbed to his feet and reeled toward Renault, carrying on only by instinct. Renault rushed in, drove a right to the jaw and sent Johnson flat on his back. All but out, Johnson somehow managed to gain his feet at the count of nine. Arms dangling at his sides, he tottered toward the center of the ring, but his seconds sent a towel hurdling into the ring before Renault could further punish his helpless opponent.

THREE MAJOR BATTLES OF INTEREST IN EAST

Dartmouth and Cornell to Clash at Hanover; Yale to Meet Army Men; Penn State at Syracuse

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Three major gridiron battles, in which five undefeated eleven will take part, tomorrow's pigskin program in the East. All will have a direct bearing on 1923 championship aspirations. More general interest, perhaps, may be centered in the battle between Yale, only undefeated member of the so-called "big three," and the Army at New Haven, but of greater importance in title calculations is the contest at Hanover between Dartmouth and Cornell, both undefeated and both having much at stake in what may prove the greatest struggle of the day. Of scarcely less calibre is the engagement at Syracuse between Chick Meehan's flashy Orange outfit and the rugged Penn State team, both of which also have clean slates so far, although the Nittany Lions were held to a 13-13 tie by West Virginia.

All three major teams look as close fought affairs with the odds of victory on form slightly favoring Yale, Cornell and Penn State. The Bulldog, however, on view before probably 80,000 spectators in the bowl, will find stiff opposition from the reds, who have shown improvement since being defeated by Notre Dame. Cornell's powerful and versatile eleven, unbeaten since 1920, faces a formidable opponent in the Green, which has risen to unexpected prominence as a result of 16 to 0 trouncing of Harvard a week ago.

UNHAPPY WOMAN RELATES STORY

Mrs. Stokes Unable to Recall One Happy Day Since Marriage to Wealthy Man

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Edwood Stokes testified today at the retrial of the divorce suit brought by W. E. D. Stokes, that her married life with the wealthy hotel owner had been unhappy from the first. She declared under cross examination of Max Steur, that she did not recall one happy day with Mr. Stokes since their marriage. "On the day you married Mr. Stokes you regretted it," asked Mr. Steur.

"I did," she answered. Mrs. Stokes continually denied she had ever been at the Thirty-first street apartment of Edgar Wallace, named by Mr. Stokes as a co-respondent. Mr. Steur caused something of a sensation when he produced several photographs of Mrs. Stokes and men in pajamas. But Mrs. Stokes did not deny the coyness that marked all her testimony. She claimed she did not remember the circumstances when her husband's attorney asked her to tell about one of the pictures.

Mrs. Stokes said Mr. Wallace had lent her a diamond ring. She declared the ring had no significance, saying she had worn other men's rings at house parties, but had not expected to marry them all. She accepted the rings and wore them, she testified, "just like any other normal girl does." When she was shown a photograph of herself sitting on the shoulders of Will Meyer at a house party at Grand Lake, Colo., she said she could not recall when it was taken. She remembered the background and the dress she wore, but said she could not explain how she happened to be photographed in such a pose.

ORGANIZED MARKETING OPPOSED IN MID-WEST

Sapiro Will Not Attempt to Inaugurate Plan in Iowa on Account of Views of Federation Leaders

DES MOINES, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Lowden wheat marketing committee will make no immediate effort to organize co-operating marketing in Iowa because of insufficient laws and because of the opposition of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation leaders to the work. Aaron Sapiro of New York, co-operative marketing counsel for the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared this afternoon.

His announcement followed a clash in a downtown hotel lobby at noon between Sapiro and farm bureau representatives and members of the extension staff of Iowa State college of Ames. They stopped Sapiro on his return to the hotel after an address on co-operative marketing before the Iowa State Teachers' association and challenged Sapiro to make a statement concerning the status of co-operative marketing legislation and progress in Iowa. The debate was concluded at its peak by the hotel clerk, who asked the men to leave the lobby. Mr. Sapiro declared this afternoon that pressure had been brought to bear on Iowa farm bureau officials to prevent his invitation to the state.

Wes Enders Held Powerful Husbands to Score of 27 to 9 in Favor of Burley; Lack of Experience Seen

BURLEY, Nov. 2 (Special to The News)—Buhl upset the dope here today when they held the powerful Burley team to a 27-9 victory. Many predicted a much greater defeat for the Buhl team. In the early part of the game Kerzhnik was removed, but he was back in the last half and made some very substantial gains. On the whole Burley's game was ragged and their forward passing was especially poor. Buhl team showed a lack of experience. All of Burley's scores were the result of straight football and were made by Taylor, Kerzhnik, and Canine.

BOSTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—A material increase in the export of foreign wool held in bond in Boston has been shown in recent weeks, according to an announcement tonight by the Boston office of the Market News Service on wool, United States bureau of agricultural economics. ## GOODING LOSES GAME TO FILER

Visitors Take Circular Part of 22 to 0 Score; First Score Made as Game Opens

Gooding's straight run of victories and their chances in the district race were lost Friday when the Wildcats of Filer handed them the circular part of a 22-0 score.

With weather conditions of all varieties, and a stiff western wind through, the north side marvels found Filer to be their match which, combined with a number of technical difficulties, breaks of luck, and the final endurance of the Filer team, all brought about Dr. Ikard's squad's defeat.

Perhaps a hundred Filer fans and about as many from Gooding were present when Lapp kicked off with the wind to the north goal. The ball dropped into the arms of a Gooding half, who fumbled, the ball rolled over and a Gooding back attempted to carry it out only to be dived back by his goal. This made Filer's first score, 2-0. The ball due to a fumbling standstill was taken to the 20-yard line instead of the 30. Gooding made their first down before the Filer line stiffened. Forced to kick Singer the big Gooding tackle dropped back and punted the ball going against the wind netted but 10 yards.

Filer Makes Downs

Filer made two first downs on straight line plunges and brought the ball to the 10-yard line. A 3-yard gain through the line, a 2-yard gain by Lapp on a long end run, an ineffectual attempt to gain through the line, and an incomplete pass gave the ball to Gooding on their own 5-yard line. "Nik" Ascuena, the speedy right half, made the first down in three attempts. Another first down was completed before the Wildcats sufficiently recovered to stop the Black and Red advance. Gooding lost the ball on downs. Diehl, Lapp, Love and Hall each carried the ball for two more first downs and managed to get to the 5-yard line once more where the Gooding line again proved their untiring and Filer lost the ball on downs. Singer punted 20 yards to Lapp, who was downed in his tracks. After two ineffectual attempts to penetrate the Gooding defense Lapp attempted a drop kick, the ball missing the goal by inches. The quarter ended with the ball on the 25-yard line in Gooding's possession.

Second Quarter

As the second quarter started Gooding staged a march the full 75 yards to the goal. The advance was featured by an 11-yard end run from a fake punt formation by Captain Deany, a beautiful pass, Denny to Prince, and brilliant plunges through the line by Prince. Conans went in for Landreth and Landreth made the gain in the line for Filer. The ball was on Filer's 3-yard line. Parke made an ineffectual attempt to pierce the line. Another line plunge availed nothing and a costly fumble put the ball back on the 10-yard line. Another attempt to score brought the ball on the 7-yard line, where Gooding lost the ball on downs. Lapp punted 30 yards. Filer held Gooding and Singer kicked. Lapp immediately returned the punt, the ball going out on the 25-yard line. The half ended with the ball in Filer's possession on their own 25-yard line.

Denny Replaced

In the second half Sparks replaced Deany, who was injured in the second quarter. Once more Filer kicked off, the ball going back of the goal posts. Gooding was held for downs and Singer punted to Lapp, who returned the ball 20 yards. From here Filer smashed their way to the goal line and finally over, making the score 8-0. Lapp attempted a drop kick at goal, which was blocked. Lapp recovered the ball and crossed the line. There was a long argument over the legality of the point. It was finally decided against Filer and the score stood 8-0. The threatening clouds started to sprinkle at this point of the game.

Lapp again kicked off, the ball going to Singer, who made a substantial return. Filer again held Gooding for yardage with the ball in Filer's possession. With all of the backs making substantial gains they tore through the Gooding defense for their second touchdown. Love carried the ball over. Lapp kicked at goal. Score 15-0.

Filer Kicks

Filer again kicked off 45 yards with Gooding returning the oval 10 yards. Gooding opened up a passing game that proved to be unsuccessful. Toome went in for Sparks. Filer held Gooding for downs and on Filer's second play Lapp eluded the Gooding secondary and ran 50 yards for Filer's third touchdown. Lapp kicked goal and the score stood 22-0.

Lapp Kicked off again when the third period ended with the ball in Gooding's possession on the 20-yard line.

Singer punted 30 yards to Lapp. There was an immediate exchange in the possession of the ball through fumbles on both sides which caused when Lapp was replaced by Fredericksen. A pass, Parke to Prince, netted 30 yards for Gooding, and for a time looked like a score for the Northsiders, as the halfback had passed the entire secondary and had only the safety between him and the goal posts. Cromwell on the game returned back and forth with no advantage for either side. The sun came out and the game ended with the ball in Filer's possession on the 25-yard line.

GONZAGA IRISH FAIL TO SCORE AGAINST IDAHO

Vandals Take 13 to 0 Victory Against Bulldogs in Game Featured by Absence of Straight Playing

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 2 (AP)—With a sudden reversal of tactics, changing from straight football to trickery of the highest type, Idaho downed Gonzaga university, self-styled Notre Dame of the west, here this afternoon, 13 to 0. Idaho's goal line was never seriously in danger. The nearest Gonzaga came to scoring was in the final period, when a 30-yard pass from Stockton went astray behind the goal line.

With her forward passing attack stopped early in the game, Gonzaga was forced to resort to line-plunging. Houston Stockton, the blocky half-back, did most of their ground-gaining, but he was unable to stand up against Idaho's fierce line. Neither eleven threatened in the first period, Gonzaga using an assortment of line plays to test the Vandal defense. Idaho started her offensive in the second period. Silvers received Houston's punt on the 38-yard line and returned two yards. Fitzke skipped around left end for 17 yards and Kinison, on a split back, eluded Gonzaga's secondary defenses for 27 yards. Two smashes put the ball on the 5-yard line from where Davis, sent in two plays before, smashed through to a touchdown. Fitzke's try at goal was blocked.

Kieffer Pools Em

Late in the third period Fitzke intercepted a pass from Houston on the 15-yard line and returned 40 yards. A pass from Stivers to Vesser added 21 yards and on the next play Idaho completely fooled Gonzaga on a delayed split back. Kieffer slipped through right guard and was within 15 yards of the goal before Gonzaga knew where the ball was. Fitzke kicked goal.

The Vandals outwitted the Irishmen on trickery, at which the Gonzaga team was hoped to be superior. Idaho completely smothered the Gonzaga passes, intercepting four and causing a total of 24 attempts. Idaho tried few passes and only the one aided materially. Idaho made but four first downs to six for Gonzaga. Fitzke completely out-punted Stockton.

Although the game was played on a muddy field, serious fumbles were not frequent. In the final quarter all the Gonzaga backs tried passes, Stockton's right arm having been injured.

RECALL THREE FROM CABINET

Stresemann Cabinet Loses Strength when Socialist Members Are Withdrawn

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Chancellor Stresemann's moribund four party coalition cabinet which the doughty chancellor resurrected from the last parliamentary crisis, lost one of its chief props tonight when the united socialists at a party caucus voted to recall their three ministers from the cabinet.

The defection of the socialists from the government with which they never were in complete accord from the moment they were coaxed back a month ago followed two days' waiting for the chancellor's reply to their ultimatum embodying a series of demands which obviously had been forced upon the party's moderated minority by the clamorous left wing.

The vote of the socialists to withdraw from the coalition was carried by a big majority. They are represented in the cabinet by Wilhelm Sollmann, minister of the interior; Gustav Radbruch, minister of justice, and Robert Schmidt, minister of reconstruction.

Dr. Stresemann has been indisposed for the last two days but is suspected of having given the program of the radicals mature thought in the quiet of his private chambers and when the party's entreaties called him after noon he was briefly informed that their ultimatum was ill-considered and wholly unfeasible in the present situation and that it behooved their party as an integral component part of the coalition to hold back with special pressure while the nation was passing through a grave crisis which was further augmented by complicated foreign relations. The chancellor's reply brought a swift rejoinder from the socialists tonight when in party caucus and after brief debate they voted in favor of recalling their ministers and withdrawing from the cabinet.

FREED OF CHARGES

Falls. The case for Twin Falls was presented by Superintendent Mitchell, with the assistance of Judge J. R. Booth and Frank L. Stephan, while the case for the district was presented by Superintendent H. M. Broadbent, Burley, and Superintendent M. V. Van Patten, Hah, vice president of the district organization.

President Rao opened the hearing with a brief statement of the case, and stated that, inasmuch as this was the first case of its kind, there was no precedent to follow, but that the procedure would not be technical; that the board desired to get at the facts in the case as quickly and completely as possible. Mr. Wallis then read the complaint and Mr. Broadbent, as president of the district board, was asked to present his case. After some little discussion it was decided by the board that a verbatim report of the proceedings should be taken.

Eligibility Not Questioned. Mr. Broadbent stated that the complaint was made at the insistence of the majority of the schools of the district and that he, as president of the board, made the complaint for the district board. He said that the board had no complaint of ineligibility of players, but that the spirit of the rules were being violated by Evans and the Twin Falls school. He further stated that the Jenkins case had been presented over the district board, and that the board felt that an organized effort was being made by someone to induce star athletes to come to Twin Falls school. He said that Herbert Canine had made the statement to him that Evans had offered Canine a job if he would come and play for Twin Falls, and that a Mr. Tracy came to him and would be selected and reported that some time during the past summer he had talked with Evans in Macaney's cigar store in Twin Falls and that Evans had told Tracy that he would have a world beater of a team; that he had Timm, Piller and Garry, and would get Canine, Kerschensnick and the other boys. He said that Mr. Tracy was not able to attend the hearing, but if the board desired to call Tracy he could be reached in Turley.

Mr. Broadbent then asked that Mr. Van Patten be allowed to present the balance of the case. Mr. Van Patten, President Rao asked Judge Bothwell if Twin Falls had any statement to make. Judge Bothwell entered a general denial to the complaint at this time.

Reads Patten's Statements. Mr. Van Patten stated that Wilbur Cox, one of the boys who signed the affidavit, had made the complaint, and was in Pocastello and could not be present, but that Troy Moore and Chester Ambrose were present. He then read the affidavit by Cox, then called Troy Moore to the witness stand. Moore testified that in 1922 Ray Hodgkin told him that he would like to go to Twin Falls to school and wanted him (Moore) to go along. Moore said he told Ray that he would have to work, and Ray told him that Evans would get him a job. He stated that he and Hodgkin came to Twin Falls and met Evans in front of the subject's pharmacy. Moore was asked Evans about eligibility. He said that Evans on that occasion told him there was no rule that prevented a player coming from another school playing the first year he attended the new school and further told him that he would get him a job. Moore also testified that he went to Superintendent Mitchell and was told that he would not be eligible but that he later saw Evans on two different occasions and was told by Evans each time that he would be eligible and that Evans would get him a job. He stated that in any way Moore also stated that Ray Hodgkin called Evans over the phone from Bull and Evans again assured him that Moore would be eligible to play that year.

Question of Age Figures. Judge Bothwell then questioned Moore. Moore stated his age is 21, and was corrected by Mr. Van Patten. Moore restated that he was 21 years old. Moore further stated that he was in Endicott, Washington, all summer and that he had numerous letters from Ray Hodgkin, all about football and coming to Twin Falls to play. And he further stated that one of his talks with Evans, Evans told him that a committee would secure him a job if he wanted to come to Twin Falls to school. President Rao asked Mr. Broadbent to get Mr. Tracy on the phone and limited the examination of witnesses to five minutes for each side.

Ambrose Tells Story. Chester Ambrose was then called by Mr. Van Patten and testified that Evans, along with four or five others in a Ford sedan, came to his house south of Bull, about August 20, 1923, and asked him if he wore the boy who played halfback on the Bull team the season previous. He said he answered affirmatively, and they then asked him if he would like to come to Twin Falls to school, to which he replied that he was not interested and the party drove on. Ambrose stated that he met Evans in the dressing room of the high school the first year Evans coached at Twin Falls and was later at El Dorado during a conference of older boys.

Judge Bothwell questioned Ambrose who was not certain as to the year he was approached, but after looking at the affidavit stated the date was about August 20, 1923. He further stated that he went to school only during football season and had not been in school since. He was not sure that he was in the car that approached him and stated that Evans did not ask the talking. When asked who asked him to sign the affidavit he stated that Superintendent Van Patten, Coach Harry Berry and H. W. Herman of Bull, and several others. Ambrose was dismissed and Mr. Wallis was called to talk to Tracy at Burley regarding the conversation. He had with Evans in Macaney's. Substantially the same account of the conversation was reported by Mr. Wallis as Mr. Broadbent reported at the opening of the hearing.

Recounts Interview. Mr. Van Patten then took the stand and stated that he had driven over the ranch of Robert Crow for two days ago and that Crow told him he had been approached by Evans at a baseball game and that Evans had promised him a job if he would come to Twin Falls. He said Crow could not attend the hearing because of farm work.

Troy Moore was then recalled by President Rao and asked if he had ever called any other state official on the phone regarding eligibility and stated that he thought he had Mr. Wallis had called a Mr. Rao of Caldwell.

Superintendent Mitchell was then called by Mr. Rao and given the eligibility list of the Twin Falls team and asked where each student lived had attended school last year. All, with the exception of Humphrey and Parrar, lived in Twin Falls. Mitchell said Humphrey was in California, and Parrar was not in school, while Timm attended Piler high school. President Rao then asked Mr. Mitchell if he knew how Garry and Mussel came to move to Twin Falls. Mr. Mitchell replied that he did not know. He further stated that he had seen Garry and that he wanted Laried to have better coaching and schooling. When asked if Laried had ever been solicited he stated that one of the Burley teachers had asked Laried if he didn't want to come to Twin Falls as the coaching was better.

Ray Hodgkin was then called. He stated that he and Troy Moore were close friends and that he decided to come to Twin Falls to school and wanted Moore to come with him, but that Evans did not tell him anything about eligibility, but sent him to Mitchell. Ray got his own job, he said, and did not inquire about his eligibility, because he had made up his mind to come to Twin Falls regardless. When asked by Mr. Broadbent who persuaded him to come to Twin Falls Ray stated that Bull business men talked him into coming; that he wanted to go to Colorado Springs, but they talked him into coming to Twin Falls. He also denied calling up Evans from Bull, as related by Moore. Mr. Kennedy, Hodgkin's employer was then called, and told about Ray and Moore coming to him and substantiated Ray's testimony. Mr. Underwood asked if Kennedy knew about a business man's committee to get athletes for Twin Falls and he replied that he did not.

Clinton Evans was then called to the stand. When questioned about Ambrose, he denied having seen him and stated that he did not even know him. He stated that at the time Ambrose had been in Bull he had been working for Charles Mull, checking grove; did not have a car and was not in the vicinity of Bull that summer. He presented checks and records to bear out his statements. Mr. Rao asked if Evans had a connection with the chamber of commerce and he was told that he did not and that the committee of business men referred to was a committee of a man from each of the clubs in town to foster athletics, and had nothing to do with inducing athletes to come here.

Mr. Rao asked if Evans had ever solicited by students and was told that Laried Jenkins was with Canine when he came to Mr. Mitchell's office. Mr. Mitchell brought applause from the spectators by stating that all players must keep up in their studies before they could take part in any athletics. Mr. Mitchell then announced his intention to lead up to the Jerome meeting of the district organization, stating that Twin Falls had no idea of what was impending, and that everything, even to the election of officers, seemed to be out and dried. He said that Mr. Hillman called him at noon of the day of the hearing and told him to be sure to attend the meeting.

Tells Proceedings Delayed. Mr. Mitchell then told of his efforts to hasten the filing of formal charges with the state board and the long delay in every instance. He also stated that Superintendent Curtice of Shoshone repudiated the signature on the protest and stated that had the protest been presented to him he would not have signed.

He also stated that many of the men who signed the protest were new men in this section and did not know the situation and explained that Superintendent Mercer of Oakley, who was present and verified Mr. Mitchell's statement, thought he was signing a request for a hearing and not a protest.

Mr. Wallis asked what the feeling was between Twin Falls and the neighboring schools, and Mitchell stated that he thought the coaches of some other schools were envious of Evans.

Mr. Rao asked if Mr. Mitchell would state under oath, as he was, that no influence had been brought to bear on men to come to Twin Falls schools and also asked if he would be likely to know, and was told that he (Mitchell) would know and that no such influence had been used.

Upon further questioning in regard to Evans' character, and how he got along with other teachers, Mr. Mitchell stated that Clinton Evans was the squarest and straightest man he had ever come in contact with and that he was an exceptionally good man to get along with in school work. Mr. Broadbent then explained that the reason for the delay in filing the charges was caused by failure of the board to get together and that the charges had to be sent around to each one to be signed and that Van Patten would like to add another paragraph, but that Donno and Broadbent did not concur.

Superintendent Rough of the Paul schools, then was called and stated that he had been approached by Donno and that he was already in Twin Falls with his family. Mr. Rough also stated that he and the two men why they did not notify Mr. Mitchell, and that they said they were divided on that question.

Mr. Timm, senior, was then asked to tell why he came to Twin Falls. He stated that a man was "free and 21 years old"; he could move from one community whenever he pleased and that he had been trying to come to Twin Falls for the past five or six years but could not secure office room.

Seeks Better Opportunity. Laried Jenkins' father was then called and being an old friend of Superintendent Rao, stopped to shake hands with him. Mr. Jenkins stated that he moved his family to Twin Falls because the work was better here and that he wanted Laried to have better coaching and schooling. When asked if Laried had ever been solicited he stated that one of the Burley teachers had asked Laried if he didn't want to come to Twin Falls as the coaching was better.

Ray Hodgkin was then called. He stated that he and Troy Moore were close friends and that he decided to come to Twin Falls to school and wanted Moore to come with him, but that Evans did not tell him anything about eligibility, but sent him to Mitchell. Ray got his own job, he said, and did not inquire about his eligibility, because he had made up his mind to come to Twin Falls regardless. When asked by Mr. Broadbent who persuaded him to come to Twin Falls Ray stated that Bull business men talked him into coming; that he wanted to go to Colorado Springs, but they talked him into coming to Twin Falls. Reads Canine's Letter. Mr. Rao then asked if Evans had shown Canine through the gym and Evans said the football equipment, and Evans stated that he had come down to school when he was giving out equipment this year. Evans then read a letter from Canine to Evans saying that he was sorry that trouble had come up at Jerome and that Evans' published statement regarding his (Canine's) case was correct, that he had not been solicited and that he wished he was in Twin Falls high school then. Mr. Rao asked if Evans had ever had any trouble at Pomona and was answered that he had not. Rao then asked how many football men worked their way through school and Evans went through the first. Rao asked Evans if he would deny that he ever solicited a man in his life and Evans replied that he had not approached any one for that purpose.

Suggests Decision. Mr. Mitchell suggested that, inasmuch as the case was the one of the district had refused to play Twin Falls and had scheduled games past the date set by the state board for the district championship game, and the board decided that the Rupert-Twin Falls game be the championship game. The board took this matter under advisement and will decide it later. Mr. Rao stated, however, that the school could be postponed one week and make the state championship game on Thanksgiving. Under such an arrangement Twin Falls would play Burley and Burley to decide the championship of this district. The board's decision on that matter will be forwarded to Superintendent Mitchell at a later date.

Mr. Evans was then recalled and denied that he knew anything about the Crow case and that he had ever been to Crow's place. He then adjourned the meeting and hurried to catch the evening train and the decision of the board was reached while en route to Minidoka.

SOCIETY

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 395

On Thursday afternoon the Pastor's Aid of the Methodist church met in their church parlors where a very delightful program was given under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Finch. Mrs. Winning sang two solos, which were followed by the appearance of the "Sweet Family," who delighted the audience with old-fashioned songs and recitations. Mrs. E. F. McInow was the organist and her daughters were the soloists. If you are interested in the program, contact Mrs. C. V. Parker, Iowanona, E. F. Asbury, F. T. Kellogg and O. W. Witham. Hallows' decorations were used and the refreshments were also suitable to the season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Virgil were hosts at a pleasant Hallows' party on Wednesday evening. The house was artistically decorated with witches, bats, black cats and all the other emblems devoted to this particular season. Pumpkin jack o'lanterns in great profusion were used to light the house. The guests were met at the door by the hostesses and were then presented to a number of ghosts standing in the receiving line. A program consisting of a group of songs by Mrs. F. S. Bell and Hallows' recitations by Alice Harrison, Gretchen Jones and Ora Wilson was thoroughly enjoyed. The remainder of the evening was spent with various games and contests, and delicious refreshments, closing with the singing of old-time songs. The guests were Mrs. J. A. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Will Childers, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bell, Mrs. M. C. BIG CROWD HEARS LLOYD GEORGE TALK along with Lord Curzon in something which I said. Well, I haven't the honor of having had any consultation or communication or previous arrangement with Lord Curzon. I am a member of no government. I am simply a private citizen. But in the things I had said I had a certain sense of personal responsibility. As regards to the part while I had played in the war and in the making of the peace. "We have all had our responsibility. During the war I stood for the ruthless prosecution of the war to a triumphant end. "The moment the war was over, I equally stood for a ruthless prosecution of peace to an even more glorious end. Those who make war, whether they are individuals or nations, cannot escape responsibility for the peace.

"Europe is in a deplorable condition. Whose is the responsibility? Some say it is the treaty of Versailles. Well, I am not here to defend the treaty of Versailles. I am quite willing on an appropriate occasion to do so and to say that it was the best treaty that could be negotiated under the conditions of the time. But it is not the treaty of Versailles. Every treaty depends not merely upon its intrinsic merits but upon the methods and manner of its execution. "The condition of Europe was not created by the treaty of Versailles. The difficulties were not created by the war. They were created by the completeness of the victory. It was more complete victory that has almost ever been won in war between great nations. Germany-Austria were shattered, demoralized, disarmed, prostrate; we left them like broken-backed creatures, on the road for any chariot to run over. We created the responsibility. Who did it? Well, if you had asked it on armistice day we all would have gently hinted that it was really done by us."

Now, he added, the nations were more prone to dodge the responsibility. All Responsible. "We were all responsible for the victory; we each contributed his part; we each did something toward achieving the fabric and we have got our responsibility for what follows. It is easier to make war than to make peace. In the civil war in America, there were millions of men who were prepared to sacrifice their lives to wage successful war, but there was only one man who was prepared to risk his career to make a successful peace and he was shot down. You say, 'yes, by an unbalanced mind.' All vengeance is unbalanced. Every vindictive man or woman is partly insane. "Lauds Hughes Plan. "You chairman has referred to the great step taken recently by your government to try to restore order out of chaos in Europe. I acclaim that step with full enthusiasm. When it was first proposed a year ago I felt it was the right step to take. It is suggested that I have been using flattering words since I came here about that proposal. The moment it was published in the December of last year, I wrote an article supporting that proposal. I thought it was the right course to take and I am glad that at last there is some prospect of its being acted upon."

Predicts Planes Will Soon Make Liners Obsolete

Famous American Ace Declares U. S. Will Dominate Air Commerce within 20 Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—The most proud queens of the sea will be obsolete in seven to ten years and transoceanic passengers will travel almost exclusively by air liner, Eddy Rickenbacker, American ace of the world war, declared today as he returned on the Majestic from a tour of battle zones where he won his spurs. "In 20 years the United States will dominate the commerce of the air," he predicted. He described three types of aircraft that would figure most prominently in aviation development in the next 10 years. "There will be small, cheap airplanes," he said, "as commonly used as a certain small, cheap automobile of today. Then there will be fleets of larger dirigibles crossing the ocean in two days, and voyaging around the world. Third, there will be thousands of heavier-than-air feeders of airplane tenders, to unload and load the dirigibles of their human and special cargoes."

THE PLAN suggests many similarities to model cities built in England and Germany, but the Detroit manufacturer has available for the purpose eight thousand acres of land.

Dreamland Adventures

NEW NAMES TO OLD FACES

Jack and Janet have exciting times in their dreamland. They find music and see Don Jose save Carmen from prison.

CHAPTER V: CROWDS stir all the silver pavement in the Land of Melody. Spangards and gypsies were travelling to Seville to see the bullfight.

Jack and Janet and You-Never-Can-Tell went with the crowd. Carmen was the first to see her.

They reached the city and joined the throngs hurrying to the bullfight arena. Jack and Janet found that this place was much like an open-air circus.

They heard the torero's song. Here came Escamillo, striding proudly along with the crowd cheering.

Jack and Janet had no tickets for the bullfight. They could not go in with the crowd.

But You-Never-Can-Tell had a scheme for seeing the fight. He led them into the open door of a church that stood near the street from the bull ring.

They came to a window in the church tower. Above them were the bells that called the people to attend the Spanish matinee.

They heard the torero's song. Here came Escamillo, striding proudly along with the crowd cheering.

turn away. They saw a poor blind folded horse torn by the horns of the fighting bull.

They saw Escamillo as a hero. Jack and Janet did not think him much of a hero. They thought that bull fighting was mean, cruel sport.

As the music belied over the victory of Escamillo, a song of anger drew the attention of Jack and Janet to the crowd.

Carmen would not stop. She ran away from Don Jose. He drew his dagger. He was about to kill her.

Carmen still fled with Don Jose looking upon her. In the church he was losing bricks, left after a repair job.

Jack seized one of the bricks. He hurled it at Don Jose. It struck just in front of the angry torero.

Stop Don Jose from killing Carmen. She screamed. The crowd poured out of the bull ring.

That shout had a strange effect. It started Don Jose, Escamillo and Carmen and all the crowd of Spangards and gypsies rushing into the church and up into the steeple.

Then, said Billie decidedly, "you must certainly do something at the ship's concert tomorrow!"

The Ladies Aid met at the church Thursday afternoon with Mrs. O. D. Wilson and Mrs. Severa as hostesses.

Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned to meet again next Thursday.

The Rev. Thomas Blodgett, newly appointed pastor, will be present next Sunday and conduct services both morning and evening.

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking"

By HUGH MCKAY

My wife is always suggesting mechanical improvements for our car. That would be very helpful if it weren't for the fact that she didn't know any more about the inside of an automobile than she does about Einstein's theory of the fourth dimension.

She's continually telling me that the cylinders are full of carbon, or that the differential is way off, or that the carburetor is just about to curl up and leave us.

"I'll admit I don't know anything about motors myself, but there's no use fussing about them as long as they don't die on the road."

"Tomorrow—My Husband Decides to Make His Overcoat Co. for One More Season."

"My dear old man, you have many worthy qualities, but you must know that you can't sing. You can't sing for nuts! I don't want to discourage you, but long ago as it is, you can't forget what an ass you make of yourself at that supper at school."

"I wish I'd known! You silly chump, you rained my collar."

"Ah, well! It's seven years ago. You would have had to send it to the wash anyhow by this time. But don't let me brood on the past. Let us put our heads together and think how we can get you out of this terrible situation."

"I don't want to get out of it. I confidently expect to be the bit of the evening."

"The bit of the evening! You'll Sing!"

"I'm not going to sing. I'm going to go on my imitation of Frank Tinney which I did at the Trinity smoker. You haven't forgotten that? You were at the piano taking the part of the conductor of the orchestra. What a riot I was—we were! 'Fay, Eustace, old man, I suppose you don't feel well enough to come up now and take your old part? You could do it without a rehearsal. You remember how it went? 'Hullo, Ernest! 'Hullo, Frank! Why not come along?'"

"The only piano I will ever sit at will be one firmly fixed on a floor that does not heave and wobble under me."

"Nonsense! The boat's as steady as a rock now. The sea's like a millpond."

"Nevertheless, thanking you for the suggestion, no!"

"Oh, well, then I shall have to get on as best I can with that fellow Mortimer. We've been rehearsing all the afternoon and he seems to have the hang of the thing. But he won't be right. He has no pep, no vim. Still, if you want, I think I'll be getting along to his stateroom. I told him I would look in for a last rehearsal."

"The door closed behind Sam, and Eustace Higgett, lying on his back, gave himself up to melancholy meditation. He was deeply disturbed by his copy of his cousin's face to show of any real registering of emotion, but he could tell from his manner that it was not well.

"What's the matter?" "The bouncer has quit!"

"There is only one! Bream Mortimer, curse him! There may be others whom thoughtful critics rank as bouncers, but he is the only man really deserving of the title. He refuses to appear! He has walked out! I went into his room just now, as arranged, and the man was lying on his bunk, groaning."

"I thought you said the sea was like a mill-pond."

"It wasn't that! He's perfectly fit. But it seems that the ally's ass took it into his head to propose to Billie just before dinner—apparently he's loved her for years in a silent, self-effacing way—and of course she told him that she was engaged to me, and the thing upset him to such an extent that he says the idea of sitting down at a piano and helping me give an imitation of Frank Tinney revolts him. He intends to spend the evening in bed, reading Schopenhauer. I hope it chokes him."

"But this is splendid! This lets you out!"

"What do you mean? Let me out? Why, so you won't be able to appear. Oh, you will be thankful for this in years to come."

COMMERCE BODY WILL PUT PLAN UP TO CITIZENS

Entire Question of Expanding Chamber of Commerce to Be Presented at Public Meeting to Be Arranged by Committee

Carrying into execution the plan to lay the entire matter of expanding the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce before the citizens of the city, announcement was made Friday by the campaign executive committee of the organization. The committee, headed by the office executive of Sted L. Hodgkin, chairman; C. A. Robinson, James R. Bothwell, Dr. C. R. Scott and C. N. Beatty.

This committee, it was stated will hold a meeting shortly and will decide on the character and plans for the meeting to be held for the purpose of the campaign. A public announcement will be made soon.

Campaign 'Majors' Named.

A big forward step was made in the progress of the campaign with the appointment Friday of three "majors" who will head the three divisions of the team organization during the intensive campaign for membership. November 15 and 16. The "majors" named are John W. Graham, J. A. Keefe and J. H. Masters. The "majors" met at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and selected 15 "captains" who will be leaders of teams. Announcement of the names of men selected to be "captains" will be made shortly and will consist of the persons named to serve had been obtained.

Everything, according to statement of members of the executive committee, indicates splendid cooperation on the part of citizens and wholly favorable prospect for the success of the campaign.

Platform Outlined.

The following statement was issued from chamber of commerce campaign headquarters in regard to the platform of the modern chamber of commerce:

"Cities which are making progress are those which have learned the principle that more can be accomplished by working together for a common purpose than by individual effort. Experience has taught that nothing can stay the driving power of the community which is well organized, knows what it wants and is in agreement, as to how to get it. Men and women in such communities pull together.

"The good of the community."

"That is the common ground of all cities. If you are a merchant, you are interested in the reputation of your city; you want it to be a place that will attract visitors and new home-makers. If you are a manufacturer, you want its transportation facilities to be the best, and the city a desirable dwelling place for workers that there may be always a sufficient supply. If you are a wage earner you want neat and well constructed homes, pleasant streets, good schools and playgrounds.

"These are the things that constitute 'the good of the community.'"

"What kind of an organization can secure those things?"

"First, a Common Platform."

"It must be an organization with a common platform to which all may subscribe. It cannot be a church, obviously. It cannot be a political or social club. It cannot be a trade or industrial association. It must be an organization in the activities of which every member may have an equal voice, but whose aims all have in common. And it must be democratic in spirit, purpose and constitution.

"The Chamber of Commerce."

"The chamber of commerce meets the need. It has no religious, political or social qualifications for membership. It asks only two questions of those who join it:

"Do you want a finer Twin Falls? Will you contribute your share of service to that end?"

"These are the vital questions. "Is there any one thing we believe ought to be done for Twin Falls, either civic, commercial or industrial in character? Through membership in the chamber of commerce you will be able to command the full strength of the public spirited men and women in section."

"Opportunity and Responsibility."

"The chamber of commerce furnishes to each member the same opportunity and lays upon him the same responsibility as that of every other. Each member will be led to realize that whatever benefits Twin Falls as a whole, a benefit to a merchant, a manufacturer, a banker, a wage earner or a professional man.

"The continuous development of civic spirit is the aim of the chamber. It is striving to substitute constructive for destructive criticism. It is stimulating and inspiring the public spirited citizen. It is developing community leadership. It provides representative, responsible organization of citizens which has been and can continue to be effective in securing such advancement and improvements as its members think are needed."

Giant Rally Evidence That Community Back of Team

The sophomore class of the high school staged a gigantic rally and bonfire Friday night and about 300 students were grouped around the fire as well as scores of townspeople, demonstrating the spirit of the whole community behind the team that will fight today as it never fought before to wipe out the sting of a 14 to 0 defeat two years ago at the hands of East High.

The students gathered in front of the high school on Shoshone street promptly at 7:30 o'clock and, headed by the high school band, made their way through the downtown business district, ending at the site of the fire. The marching parade wound up in the rear of the high school on Sixth avenue east, where a huge bonfire was ready to be touched off.

Captain Leiser, with the assistance of "Boys" Flynn, touched off the fire and the rally was on. The students introduced the various speakers of the rally. Captain Leiser was the first called on and his speech consisted of one sentence, "We will fight to win."

Mayor Sted L. Hodgkin was next called on and impressed the fact that the "Boys" had to fight to win. He related the story of the father telling his small son of the rabbit that was being pursued by the wolf, and just as the wolf was about to clutch the rabbit in his jaws the rabbit ran up a tree; and upon being asked how he got up there, he said he had a rabbit club climb a tree, the father replied: "That rabbit had to climb a tree."

Coch Evans was the next man to speak and the coach gave the students a real heart to heart talk on good sportsmanship. He told them that the Bruins would fight to the last gasp and that the students should display the same spirit in their rooting. Coach Evans urged that no matter what the outcome of the game, Twin Falls high will demonstrate that they are either good losers or good winners.

Harry Depoit was the next man called on and he talked to the team mostly, telling them that they represented the student bodies of all the schools in this district, and that indirectly they represented the townspeople. He also added to the thoughts expressed by Coach Evans and asked the boys to fight hard and clean and to obey the old Spartan saying to "either come home with their shield or on it."

Harry Depoit was the last man called on and told the crowd that he remembered the first football team that he saw play here 15 years ago. In closing Mr. Depoit said that in the old days he believed the students outrooted the students of today and that he believed the girls were out-rooting the boys. "Boys" decided to test the proposition and asked the boys alone to give nine for Twin, but the boys refused to sign any and clean and the result was a failure; but the second try resulted in a mighty roar, and the girls lacked the necessary volume to out-root the boys.

The big fire was burning low, and in order not to waste paper before the game the big rally disbanded with a pledge to all meet at the game.

COLLEGE ASKING FOR AID

Oberlin Alumni in Idaho Prepare to Take Part in Drive for Special Fund for Well-Known Institution

Twin Falls alumni of Oberlin college are interesting themselves in an organized, nation-wide effort to raise a fund of $4,500,000 to be used for the erection of new buildings and the general improvement of the college plant. Mr. John W. Graham is chairman of the local committee, together with Mrs. L. L. Breckonridge and R. E. Spafford. Solicitation will be commenced over the country as a whole on November 3.

The opening of the campaign in Idaho will be signalled by a dinner to be given at Boise on the night preceding the opening date at which it is expected some 75 alumni will participate, the chief purpose of which is to provide information as to the endowment and building campaign. The present buildings are said to be quite inadequate to meet the needs of the present student body or the demands of modern higher education.

Boy Scout Council Fills Vacant Post

Commission Form Is Completed with Election of A. J. Peavey Head of Field Work

Organization of the Snake River district boy scout council, in accordance with the commission form of administration, was completed at a regular monthly meeting of the council held Friday evening at Buhl, when Arthur J. Peavey of Twin Falls was elected district commissioner of field activities. The new commissioner will have charge of general activities of troops and of organizations of new troops.

The position filled by the election of Mr. Peavey is one of four commissioners, election of the other three commissioners having been held previously. The four commissioners serve as heads of the four departments of the district council work. Similar plan of organization is employed by local scout councils, and commissioners of the local councils co-operate with their respective commissioners of the district organization, and with the district executive.

Other commissioners of the district organization are Donald McLean, Twin Falls, camps; W. B. Hardy, Rupert, finance; O. B. Kendall, Burley, training activities.

Members of the district council were entertained at their meeting Friday evening at the home of Dr. J. E. Murphy, president of the council, and were guests at a phoanant dinner at Mrs. Murphy. Representatives of all four local councils within the district organization attended the meeting. The district executive, F. Douglas Hawley, will spend a greater portion of the next two weeks in Rupert, Burley and Buhl, assisting local councils in their campaign. Plans were discussed conducted this week in Twin Falls.

JUDGE CLEARS WAY FOR NEXT TERM OF COURT

Disposes of Preliminary Proceedings with Setting of Motions and Demurrers in 50 Cases for Hearing

Preliminary procedure usually incident to the opening of a district court term was disposed of Friday when Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here set for early hearing about 50 pending motions and demurrers in connection with cases on the civil calendar, and in which the way was being beginning actual trials soon after the opening of the next court term next Monday.

An order for a jury may be issued this week, it was stated, although the jury list will not actually be drawn before next Monday.

Criminal Calendar Slim

The court, during the next term, according to present indications, will be occupied largely with trial of cases on the civil calendar, most of which were reached during the last term, which was occupied entirely with trial of criminal cases.

The criminal calendar for the new term contains only one new case—that of George B. Shea, charged with attempt to commit a statutory offense. Shea is held a prisoner in default of $10,000 bond, and may demand trial at the opening of the new term. The case of Dr. James Monroe, charged with second degree murder, has not reached the district court, preliminary examination in the probate court having been postponed until November 16.

In addition to setting the motions and demurrers calendar Friday Judge Babcock decreed two decrees of divorce and heard additional testimony in the case of Jerry Bonard against D. B. Moorman and others, involving water rights on Dry creek. Testimony heard Friday was offered in relation to a cross-complaint filed by B. J. Day, who was represented by Swooley and Swooley as counsel. E. A. Walters and R. P. Parry appeared as attorneys for the Terrell interests, and E. B. Damphier, Rupert, and T. M. Morris, Burley, represented other defendants.

Two Divorces Granted

Decrees of divorce were granted in the case of Myrtle Hinton against Chester E. Hinton, and in the case of Blanche Barton against Ernest E. Barton. Default was entered on the part of the defendant in each case. Mrs. Hinton, who was restored to her former name of Myrtle Rogers, was granted a decree on the grounds of non-support. Decree in the case of Mrs. Barton was granted on grounds of cruelty. Custody of three minor children was awarded to the mother.

LOCUST GROVES THRIVING

Large locust groves set out last spring on land in the vicinity of Castelford owned by Arthur L. Swim and E. O. Spielberg, Twin Falls, have come through the summer season with minimum loss, according to James A. Waters, Twin Falls pioneer horticulturist, who set out the groves and this week inspected them with a view to making replacements.

Out of 3800 trees set out on Mr. Swim's land less than 200 failed to survive, and out of 1000 trees set out on Mr. Spielberg's land only 15 died, Mr. Waters stated.

The Star Social club will hold a cooked food sale at Clos Book Store Saturday, November 3.—adv.

State Supervisor Benjamin Buck Here to Meet Members and Arrange for Expansion Campaign

Members of the Twin Falls lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose will convene at 8 o'clock this evening in the Rogerson hotel for a special meeting and conference with Benjamin Buck of Boise, state supervisor for the order, who is here to conduct a membership campaign. Notice of the meeting has been sent out to members of the lodge by its secretary, Walter Harrison.

Mr. Buck will remain here between 30 and 60 days in an effort to round up some 300 to 400 candidates for membership. He has returned recently from a trip to Mooseheart, the home and school maintained by the order for dependents of departed members.

The order, according to Mr. Buck, is making steady progress in Idaho. Within the last four months, he says, large lodges have been instituted at Sandpoint, Priest River, St. Maries and Glenns Ferry, and on November 6 he will institute a new lodge at Pocatello. A deputy has been rolling prospective members with 150 candidates already on hand to ride the goat.

BUSINESS MEN SUBMIT VIEWS IN RATE CASE

Three years has failed to reveal any pressure by shippers for the rate revision, R. B. Strum, a special investigator for the federal body, testified today. The move of the carriers, he declared, seemed wholly upon their own initiative. The hearing ended today. Further testimony will be taken later at other points.
