LOWER COAL PRICE IS AIM OF PINCHOT

Governor of Pennsylvania Invites Chief Executives of 29 Other States to Frame Laws to Reduce Costs.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 13 (AP)—Governor Pinchot tonight sent letters to the governors of 29 anthracite consuming states inviting them to meet in a single specific program. He said he was prepared to submit a suggestion for such a program and invited the governors here to consider it and if it is found practicable, to agree upon a definite plan of legislation to be laid before congress at the coming session.

Declaring "justice to the great body of anthracite consumers must be reached mainly by national action," the governor said such action could be secured "most certainly and effectively" after the governors of the anthracite consuming states unite in a single specific program. He said he was prepared to submit a suggestion for such a program and invited the governors here to consider it and if it is found practicable, to agree upon a definite plan of legislation to be laid before congress at the coming session.

Takes Up Study.

"Since the coal strike was settled in September I have taken up the question of price in a series of conferences with the members of a committee of operators," the governor wrote. "On Friday last," this committee finally decided to recommend to the coal industry that it should clean its own house of extortion, as I have been urging it to do. We do not have to prove the existence of abuses in the anthracite industry or of crying injustice to the consumers in extortionate prices.

"They are matters of common knowledge. It would have merely been the most elementary common sense for the operators to take these evils in hand. Being the producers in the coal they have the power to do so most effectively. They could, if they would, not only give the consumer a square deal, but at the same time free their industry of the public condemnation which now rests upon it. They have declined to do so. Then we must turn elsewhere.

"Since the settlement of the coal strike a revision of an anthracite price has been in progress at Harrisburg, and has resulted in the outline of a definite plan for national legislation and for state action.

"About ninety per cent of the anthracite mined in Pennsylvania is burned in other states. Therefore, justice to the great body of anthracite consumers must be reached mainly by national action. Such action can be secured most certainly and effectively if the governors of the anthracite using states will unite in support of a single specific program.

Remaining Time in Walton Trial May Be Reduced

Maze of Figures Introduced in Impeachment Hearing of Oklahoma Governor; Campaign Fund Charge Is Aired

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 13 (AP)—The impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton moved forward today through a maze of figures, with indications that a definite move to shorten the length of the hearing was in prospect.

Virtually the entire day was devoted to a review of campaign funds solicitations by Dr. E. T. Bynum, former adviser to the governor, and an investigation of the executive's bank account and building and loan stock investments.

Dr. Bynum testified he was only one of several agents who sought campaign funds for the governor and that he did not have a record of the amount he obtained.

He said a wild guess of the sum would be "about $7000 or $8000," and denied that he had collected $75,000 as defense counsel implied.

Woman Tells Story of Being Rescued by Faithful Dogs

Claims Sagacity of "Jack" and "Pup" Saved Her From Death when Wagon Upset

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 13 (AP)—Mrs. Ruby Pettis, 53, who lives on a ranch at Blount Bridge, near here, told in a hospital here today how her life had been saved by her two dogs, Jack and Pup. While driving a loaded wagon Sunday the wagon upset in a hollow, pinning her beneath the load.

Sagacity of the dogs in digging a hole under her head and supporting her body enabled her to breathe, but she was unable to extricate herself, being forced to remain a prisoner for 15 hours until yesterday when a ranch hand heard the barking of the dogs and rescued her. Mrs. Pettis is recovering from exhaustion and lacerations.

Counsel for Both Sides in Browning Trial Outline Procedure Before Court.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 13 (AP)—The defense in the trial of Martin A. Browning and his cousin, John Browning, Jr., who are charged with the slaying of Benjamin Ballantyne, brother-in-law of John Browning, Jr., August 9, will place their case before the jury on the basis of justifiable homicide, it was indicated today when the first testimony was taken. The defendants are nephew and son, respectively, of John Browning, the noted inventor. The prosecution, on the other hand, will prove, according to a statement made to the jury by the district attorney.

FORMER RULER DENIES HOPE OF RETURNING

Deposed Hohenzollern Head Goes Calmly about Affairs at Doorn; Is in Ill Health; Paris Still Is Perturbed.

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 13 (AP)—William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, goes calmly about his customary tasks at Doorn house, notwithstanding the reports which have gone abroad that he was preparing to depart for the fatherland. It is asserted here that there is no foundation for the report that he and the members of his entourage have been granted passports for a journey to Berlin, or elsewhere in Germany, and they close to him declare that he has no intention of leaving Doorn.

Dr. Kahn, of the Dutch ministry of the interior, who had a long conference with the former emperor yesterday, may have had something to do with the announcement that the former world would continue to reside in Holland, for it is believed that the purpose of his visit was to inquire into the former kaiser's position and to reiterate in view of the crown prince's hasty departure, the difficulties that might face Holland at the hands of the allies if the head of the house of Doorn followed in his son's footsteps. Moreover, it is said that the former kaiser is not in good health, and his personal physician who resides in Amsterdam has been here for some days. The excitement which attended the news of the former crown prince's departure for Germany was not yet subsided and there still is an air of uncertainty in the precincts of Doorn.

REPORT CAUSES FLURRY

PARIS, Nov. 13 (AP)—The report that the former German emperor is about to return to Germany from Holland caused a flurry in official circles here.

ADMIT INABILITY OF GERMANY TO RETAIN FRONTIER PROVINCES

Government Official Statement Shows Weakening of Grip on Ruhr and Rhineland; Circulate New Currency

BERLIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—After permitting to go unchallenged throughout the day reports to the effect that the German government was about to proclaim an autonomous Rhineland and Ruhr state within the German federation, an official communication, issued tonight, threw a strange light on a secret conference which was in progress at the chancellery all day.

At the conference President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann and others of the cabinet discussed at great length with the promoters of the federated states and a committee comprising Buhr and Rhineland leaders the question of the liquidating of the economic chaos of the occupied zones.

By indirectness the German government in its statement virtually admits its inability to "support" the Ruhr and Rhineland any longer, and to day's action is considered as having resolved itself into an abandonment of those territories and leaving their populations to their own fate and at the mercy of the occupying powers.

General Chaos

The official statement lays stress on the catastrophic social conditions resulting from increasing unemployment in all lines and the general chaos which has followed in the abandonment of passive resistance and the subsequent inability to arrive at a working understanding with the occupying powers with respect to resumption of industrial activities and the reinstatement of the German official civil service employees.

The German government declines to discuss the question of an autonomous state. It declares that this is an issue which is wholly determined through the application of paragraph 18 of the federal constitution and that the question of such a state has no present

READY TO OPEN RATE HEARING

Case for Lower Freight Charges on Grain to Be Resumed Before Federal Commission

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 13 (AP)—Seventeen million dollars, state officials estimated tonight, is the stake in the middle western grain rate hearing which will reopen here tomorrow before John J. Egan and Johnston B. Campbell, members of the interstate commerce commission.

The case for lower freight rates on grain, grain products and hay will be presented almost wholly from the viewpoint of the farmer, rate experts and public utility commissioners from the eight states involved agreed in a conference today. The states represented are Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota.

Dr. H. J. Waters, editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star, the first witness at the hearing, is expected to lay a foundation for other testimony by giving an analysis of economic conditions in the middle west.

The railroads are marshalling a mass of testimony for the purpose of showing that any reduction in rates would hamper their opinion and would not materially aid the farmer.

The requested reduction of 10 per cent on grain and grain products not only would mean so much cash in the pocket for the farmer, Thomas A. Browne, chairman of the Nebraska's commission, declared today, but in his opinion would have a direct effect on farm products prices.

Rate experts at the conference estimated that if the reductions were put into effect the farmers of the middle west would profit a total of $17,000,000 annually.

"Depressed prices for farm products are bringing a loss to the farmer," Mr. Browne said. "In addition the farmer must pay the freight on his produce to the market. He does not reach the 'ultimate consumer' to recover that freight charge; he must pay it from the price he gets."

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 13 (AP)—When Walter Schew, 23, appeared in the city court today, he found he had indulged in a very expensive kiss.

"I kissed her once and when I went to kiss her good-night she slapped me," said Schew.

CRITICS GET SHARP REPLY FROM FORBES

Former Director of Veterans' Organization Fires Broadside of Scandal Allegations at Washington Enemies.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Charles F. Forbes struck back boldly and vigorously today at his critics before the senate veterans' committee.

He charged a "conspiracy" to smother his denials, "by means of perjury and the suppression of material facts and documents," and enticed a "general, sweeping and absolute denial" of charges made by other witnesses reflecting upon his honor.

Time and again he attacked Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, personal friend and physician of President Harding. Captain Dr. Sawyer, a "mediator" in the affairs of the veterans' bureau under his administration Forbes declared that "politics and Sawyer" were to blame for most of what were termed the difficulties in the administration of laws for the benefit of disabled veterans.

General Sawyer was determined, Forbes testified, that hemophobe doctors "should get their linings" in the matter of the employment of physicians by the veterans' bureau and he also was strong for "soldiers' homes" as places for treating the world war veterans.

Plays Dr. Sawyer

Denying the testimony of Dr. Sawyer that President Harding had called for his resignation as director because of "insubordination," in connection with the Perryville, Maryland, sale of supplies, Forbes asserted he had "frankly" told the president he could not continue to serve if Dr. Sawyer remained an officer and that he "never" had the president of any embarrassment" by tendering his resignation.

Forbes told the committee that he had a report from the department of justice that Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia, was a "well known" professional bootlegger of Washington.

It was Mortimer who made charges of intrigue, debauchery and corruption in connection with contracts for veterans' bureau hospitals.

The former director denied he had discussed such contracts with Mortimer in an office and that he had refused to deal with the Sutherland Construction company of St. Louis until assured by officers of the company that Mortimer did not represent them in the transactions.

Gave Lengthy Testimony

Appearing at his own request, Forbes was on the stand for four and one-half hours today and it appeared that his direct and cross examination probably would not be concluded for at least two days. He began by reading into the

Owner of 110,000 Acre Ranch Tells Why He Can't Market Crop at Profit While Others Figure Their Losses

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—The use of farm machinery and the co-operation of his men today were held responsible for most of his success by Thomas D. Campbell of Harden, Montana, head of the Campbell Farm corporation and owner of 110,000 acres of semi-arid land which is under cultivation. Mr. Campbell raised and marketed 500,000 bushels of wheat this year and is reputed to be the largest individual wheat grower in the world. His wheat, he said, was marketed at a profit when thousands of wheat farmers were figuring up their losses.

Mr. Campbell summed up his recipe for successful farming as follows: "Machinery—and more machinery."

Pay "high enough to meet city competition and keep good men on the farm."

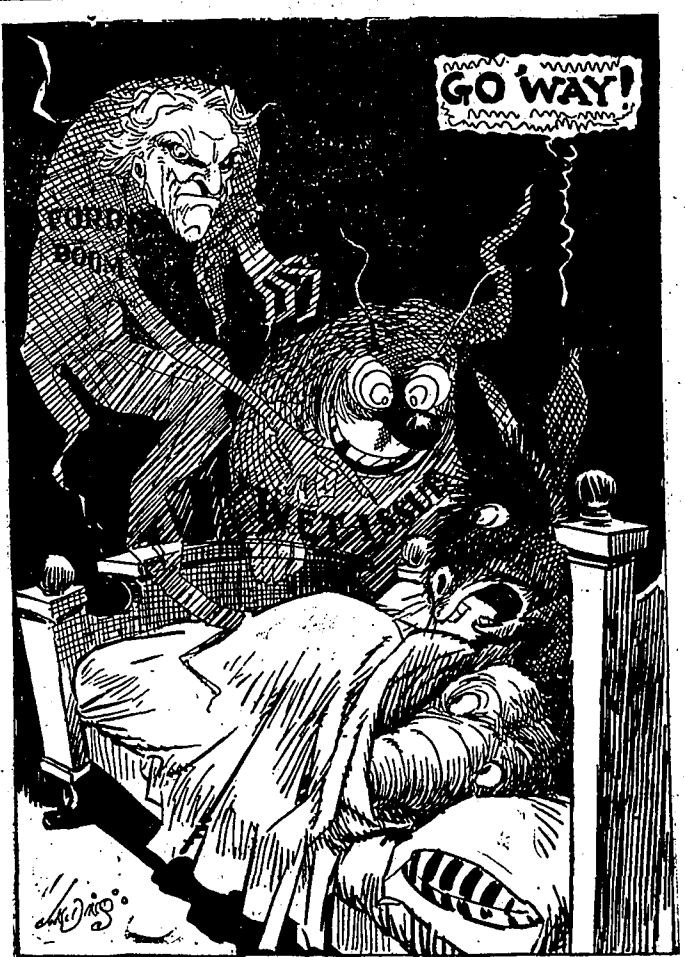

Co-operation with selected employees. Use of all the department of agriculture information on semi-arid wheat farming.

There is not a horse on his land, he said, but added that there are 6 wheel tractors and 13 caterpillar tractors.

"Farming, after all, is an engineering proposition," he said in explaining his use of farm machinery for a possible operation. "It's taken, for example, more money to plow a 500-acre farm land in the country each year

FRANCE DELAYS ACTIVITIES ON DEBT HEARING

Action on Poincare's Suggestion to Be Deferred Until German Capacity to Pay Is Explained; America is Quiet

PARIS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Action on Premier Poincare's suggestion that the reparations commission appoint an expert committee to conduct an inquiry into the reparations request was deferred by the commission today until German delegates shall have been heard regarding the rich's capacity to pay.

The suggestion, made through Louis Barthou, was that the expert committee be charged with estimation of the "real" capacity of Germany. Sir John Bradburn, the British representative, is understood to have declared that this would provide for an even closer restriction of the inquiry than that proposed by the French in the case of the Hughes plan.

The French plan was that, after estimating the present resources of Germany at home and abroad, the committee should fix the amounts Germany could pay during the ensuing three years. M. Barthou dwelt especially on the necessity of ascertaining the total German assets in foreign countries. Any new scheme for the payment of reparations based on the committee's report, he said, should take into account the old schedule fixed at the London conference of May, 1921.

Logan Present.
Colonel James A. Logan, the American observer, was present at the meeting but made no remarks regarding either M. Barthou's suggestion or the question of hearing the Germans.

The German request for a hearing was granted without opposition and without restriction the date being left open in order to allow them to make arrangements for their representatives but it is thought the first hearing will take place in about ten days.

He held that the committee should without fear or favor execute its mission, investigate all of the causes that have led to the present condition of Germany and fearlessly apply or recommend whatever remedies it may deem necessary after investigation.

Optimism Wanes.
The impression in reparations circles after today's meeting was that the committee was losing effectiveness and that the reparations negotiations would be settled only by the governments.

MUNICH SITUATION QUIET

Bavarian Dictator Reported Successful in Defending His Authority; Hitler in Jail, Ludendorff Shadowed

MUNICH, Bavaria, Nov. 13 (AP)—The situation in Bavaria was considerably more tranquil today. Dr. Von Kahr, the dictator, apparently is succeeding in defending his authority in the face of the uncomprehending discontent of the followers of Adolph Hitler who are keeping up demagogic political warfare against Von Kahr and General Von Lossow, commander of the Bavarian re-echelon.

With Hitler locked up at some unnamed point outside Munich and with General Ludendorff under rigid surveillance any armed resistance from the Hitlerites is not being looked for at the present time. Dr. Von Kahr has ordered the university and the war academy closed temporarily.

General Ludendorff was informally cross examined by the prosecuting attorney today with regard to his connection with last week's putsch, although it is stated that neither the Bavarian nor the central government has given any indication as to its attitude toward the question of indicting the participants in the putsch.

NO CHANCE FOR EMBRYO STARS

Hollywood Chamber of Commerce Advises Stage-Struck Girls and Boys to Go Slow

The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce plans to act as a "daddy" for the hundreds of movie-struck boys and girls who come to Los Angeles every month to seek fame in the pictures, says a recent issue of the Hollywood Record.

A campaign will soon be under way to give advice to those who contemplate work in the movies. Churches, civic organizations, schools and newspapers in eastern cities will be asked to aid in the campaign of education. Young girls who hope to become Gloria Swansons and Norma Talmodeas will be asked to write to the chamber regarding the situation in Hollywood. The chamber will reply to these letters warning neophytes of the hardships and disappointments due those who come to Hollywood with the hope of being movie stars.

100 Every week.
More than 100 persons a week, mostly boys and girls of high school age, arrive in Hollywood and start to make the rounds of the studios, according to Harry Barratt, assistant secretary of the chamber, formerly city editor of The Twin Falls News.

"Most of these young people arrive with practically no money," Barratt declared. "They think that all they have to do is to announce that they are going to become stars."

"Just last week a young girl came into my office with her hair curled like Mary Pickford. She was destitute. Her folks had sent her all they could. Just a clipping.

"All the girl had was a clipping from a small town paper which praised her to the skies for her acting in an amateur theatrical performance. The paper said she was a 'second Mary Pickford.'"

"A little advice given in time, may prevent many a girl from disappointments and heartaches and sometimes worse."

Barratt criticized the attitude of some eastern papers, which made it appear that all Hollywood was "broke" because of the temporary shutdown of two producing organizations.

"There are at least 85,000 persons living in Hollywood," he said. "We estimate that only 12,000 of these are working in the movies. With only two studios out of 50 shut down, the situation could not be as bad as it is painted."

"Such headlines as 'Hollywood in ashes' are exaggerated, to say the least."

SPORTS
FILER SECONDS LOSE TO CUBS

Local Junior Gridders Come Through with 13-6 Victory; Owens Scores 95-yard Run

Once more the junior high came through with flying colors when they took Coach Donnan's Filer aggregation for a 13-6 win Tuesday on the Filer field. Donnan used his second string exclusively with the exception of the two tackles whose places were filled by Landroth and Hicks.

The junior high's first score came in the first three minutes of play when Owens received Patten's punt on the 5-yard line and equalled Garby's feat of the East High-Twin Falls game by going through the entire Filer team twisting and sprinting the entire 95 yards for the first score. The other came near the end of the third quarter when the Cubs' line battered the Filer seconds into submission and backed the ball over.

At two other times the ball was advanced within 5 yards of the goal, but the Cubs were unable to put it over. The Filer score came in the first half by a series of line bucks.

Play Full Quarters.
The game started shortly after 5 o'clock with a fair-sized and evenly divided crowd of both Twin Falls and Filer fans. It was decided to play full fifteen-minute quarters and Filer won the toss and elected to receive. Frazzelle kicked to Landroth, who returned the ball for a nice gain. Filer made first down on the next play and then the Cubs held the Wildcats for down and Patten kicked, the ball going to the 5-yard line, where Owens received the ball and started a vicious return down the south sideline. His straight-arm was successful and he twisted through the entire Filer squad for the first score. Frazzelle kicked goal.

Forced to Kick
Filer again received but a costly tumble forced them to kick. Twin Falls lost the ball on downs and Filer again made a first down and were once more forced to kick. Owens juggled the ball on the 3-yard line while the fans held their breath. Finally the ball slipped and Filer recovered the ball on the 9-yard line. Brown went in for Bechell on the Filer line and four attempts put the ball over for Filer's first and only score.

Filer kicked and the ball sailed over Stimpson's head and back of the goal posts. Stimpson attempted to run the ball out but was downed on the 3-yard line. An exchange of punts followed and then the youngsters set out for a score and made four straight first downs, Owens finishing the quarter by advancing the ball to the 3-yard line on reverse end run for 85 yards.

Filer's Ball
In the start of the next stanza Owens raced across the field for what seemed to be a certain score, but he ran out of bounds a foot from the goal and Filer received the ball and The rest of the quarter the Cubs worried the Wildcats for their persistence in keeping the ball in Filer territory and the half ended after Twin Falls had twice advanced the ball to the 10-yard line and Patten kicked out on the 30-yard line when the half ended.

In the start of the second quarter Kelly relieved Borg at quarter on Anderson's squad and Sullivan, who was released in the first half, took Hinton's guard. Frazzelle kicked off in the second half and Filer started to march up the field. They made five first downs, two of them on penalties, and were on the 10-yard line before the Bruin youngsters woke up. Then the Cubs held together splendidly and Filer was unable to score in four attempts. Penalties came often for Twin Falls and the Twin Falls fans began to leave. Finally Frazzelle intercepted a pass for 15 yards and the whole junior high team went its way to the 10-yard line and from there went over for their second score, but Frazzelle failed to kick goal and the score remained 13-6.

Frazzelle again kicked off and Filer was held for a loss. Stimpson intercepted a pass just as the sun went down at the end of the third quarter.

The fourth and last stanza of the game was played by moonlight with the Cubs fighting for another score and the Filer squad showing signs of weakening, in fact the whole line for the Wildcats was being upheld only by the stellar work of one player, Hicks. Lester took Harrison's tackle, Owens featured again in this half with a 55-yard run and a 20-yard return of Patten's punt. The game ended with the moon shining brightly on the field and the fans siding with their ear lights. Twin Falls had one more yard advanced the ball to the goal line through Owens' spectacular run, but penalties and fumbles proved too much for the Cubs and they were unable to score.

MYSTERY VEILS WOMAN'S DEATH

Indiana Resident Hurlled from Roof of School Building Following Brutal Attack

PHOENIX, Arizona, Nov. 13 (AP)—A veil of mystery tonight shrouded the killing of Mrs. George Boudreau of Elkhart, Ind., who was battered to death and hurled from the roof of a school building, authorities believe after she was attacked early this morning. Her mutilated body was found in the school yard by a caretaker. Dragged more than 50 feet by her assailant, from a sidewalk while walking home from a dance hall where she was employed, Mrs. Boudreau evidently fought frantically to save herself, investigators stated. A single clue, a man's cuff button, with no initials to identify the owner, was left by the slayer.

EXTENSION OF TIME IS DENIED

Governor of Arizona Refuses to Grant Extended Period for Reservoir Construction

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 13 (AP)—Governor Hunt today denied an extension of time of the permit issued by the former state water commission for the construction of the Diamond Creek dam on the Colorado river by James B. Girard. The present permit will expire on December 22. The governor in a statement to the water commission denying application for renewal of the permit declares that since the development of the Colorado river is now receiving consideration both by the basin states and by the federal government, he "believes it advisable that negotiations be not affected in any way by the interests of any one project."

"The desire seems to me to treat the proposition for development as a unit," Governor Hunt stated. "The federal power commission has indicated that it will not grant any permit to Mr. Girard until such time as the seven states in the basin arrive at an understanding," the governor said. The extension of time should not be made, he added, pending the submission of the whole of the development of the Colorado river to the legislature.

The governor's action followed that of the federal power commission at Washington which recently refused to grant the Girard permit, pending settlement of the Colorado river development program by all of the states in the Colorado river basin. The Girard permit was issued on December 20 last year as one of the last acts of the former state power commission.

The permit allowed the applicant to build a dam at the mouth of Diamond creek, 300 feet in height and 1200 feet in length.

WILLIAM NOT WELCOMED

German Liberal Editor Scouts Suspensions of Monarchist Intrigue But Laments Former Prince's Return

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 13 (AP)—The return of the former German crown prince to Germany is anything but an auspicious omen and the German people have a right to know why the government permitted it during the present situation, observes the Frankfurter Gazette, the leading southern German liberal organ. "The newspaper rejects the inference that the home coming of Frederick William suggests a suspicious relation to the recent Munich putsch, but it observes that if he finds a welcome home sign stuck up on the door of his castle at Ooels, it will reflect an untruth as he is highly unwelcome to the German people in the present perturbed internal situation.

BAKERS PLASTER TYPO BOWLERS

News Team Takes Trip to Basement in Contest with Royal Bakery Pin Smashers

Once more the bowling dope proved unflinching and the team with the substitute won. The Bakery took two out of three from the News team Tuesday evening, thus consigning The News to the basement again for this week.

Captain Asbury hit the high mark again for individual score when the pins went down before his well directed shots for a 211 count in the last game. High score for the evening went to the other captain, Towan, tumbling the pins for 524 in the three games.

Table with 3 columns: Name, Score, Total. Lists scores for various players like Hailhan, Salomon, and the team total.

STRIKES AND SQUARES

Yochem failed to appear and the Bakers won, regardless of consequence. As a matter of fact the fourth man for the Bakers was the most consistent bowler for the evening.

Everyone seems to agree that The News has sure got the bowlers if they ever get started; the printers even admit that themselves. But in the meantime they are credited with four games against them. Asbury and Whitel, who, according to last year's records, are supposed to be minor members of the squad have stepped right out with the best scores for the team so far.

Towan was easily the best bet yesterday for the Bakers. He hit 524 for the evening and his lowest was 169. He seems to be a jibed anchor man.

Hailhan started out with a bang but ended with a crash, a drop from 101 to 136 indicates a marked decline; the same was true of Kerr; and possibly with a couple of more games The News would have taken the Bakers.

The crowd was a little better last night. Tonight the Times meets "Pop" Kleffner's gang from the Gledon Role.

NAMPA MAKES PROTEST AGAINST BOISE PLAYER

Richard Wing of Capital City Eleven Is Declared Ineligible in Charges Filed with State Board

BOISE, Nov. 13.—Richard Wing, tackle on the Boise high school football team, has been named in a formal protest of ineligibility by Nampa high school coach and officials, according to D. H. Holloway, principal of the Boise high school. Mr. Holloway received notice of the protest from J. J. Rae of Caldwell, secretary of the state board of control of the state athletic association.

Should the charge against Wing be sustained it will mean the forfeiture of the game recently won by Boise from Nampa 7 to 6 and also the forfeiture of the right to meet the champions of the northern district or the winners of the two southern district.

Wing is charged with having played four years with the uncredited Star High school team. An investigation has been ordered by the Boise school officials and will deal with the eligibility of Wing as a member of an uncredited team. No conference standing and no games with conference teams.

GRIDIRON NOTES

Since the game for Friday is not yet decided upon the Bruins are still working hard every night to prepare for everything. Word is expected today to tell the story of with whom, when and where the battle will be next Friday.

Boise seems to be having their own little difficulties on the grounds of ineligibility. Nampa seemingly being the cause of the disturbance. Then on top of that we also hear a rumor that a similar complaint is about to be filed against Idaho Falls. Maybe the reason may be as in such a hurry to play Twin Falls. Blackfoot and Pocatello will be the contenders if Idaho Falls is ruled out on the ineligible charge as has been rumored.

But since there is nothing to do in our wood we might as well take in the fighting ability displayed by the Cubs against the Filer proteges.

Denman was unable to muster a full team from his seconds, but the game was made interesting by the addition of the regulars on the line, with Captain Love and Quarterback Lapp officiating.

But in all fairness to Denman let us say that on the protest of Coach Anderson, Denman offered to referee. However "Andy" was content to let the game go as it was.

The Filer field has been marked since the Gooding game and that was over two weeks ago, since then there has been a rain so whether Owens ran out of hand in the second quarter or not is still a puzzle to the fans, if he did the referee was right, and if he didn't the score should read 19-6.

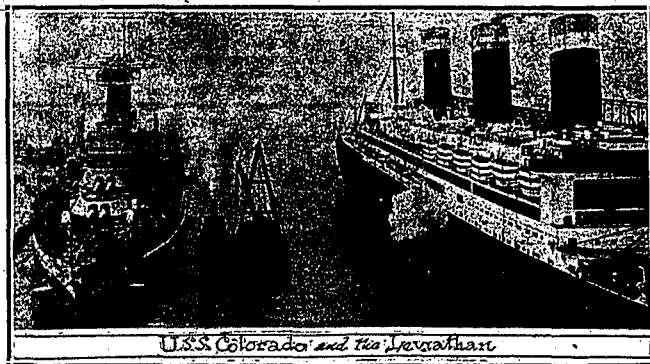

But there is one thing we ought to do and that is bar a regular player from refereeing when his own teammates are playing. It's bad enough to have a referee from the same town.

But to get back to the junior team it must be admitted that "Herb" Owens is just about all there and a little bit more when it comes to taking the pigskin down the field. This follows plays about the same way Timm does on the regular team. He uses the straight arm with telling effect and makes two yards after he's hit, although he didn't get credit for it at Filer.

"Peck" Dunn seemed to enjoy the game just for the fun of spilling the Filer plays for a loss. Another one who seemed to get lots of kick out of it was Frazelle. His punts were doubling the distance of Fatten's in Tuesday's game.

Getting the Bruins don't seem to be since to any definite decision concerning Friday's game the Cubs have arranged to play their game with Cassioid Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Jail Doors Opened to Permit Girl to Make Trip to Altair

Stenographer Held for Forgery Is Married to Salesman; Honeymoon Is Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The jail doors of the District of Columbia jail swung open today for Gladys Peyton, 19-year-old prisoner, once to permit her to marry, the second time to give her temporary freedom and a possible honeymoon.

Miss Peyton, a stenographer, was sentenced recently to a year's imprisonment for forgery. This did not deter Frederick Ewers, salesman, and her fiancé and today he called by special permission and accompanied her to the altar. The bridal party, as arranged, returned to the jail and Mrs. Ewers went to her cell.

An hour later the bride received her first wedding present, the criminal court permitting her to leave under the custody of her attorney when she changed her former plea of guilty to not guilty. Tomorrow her attorney will seek to have the case dropped, that the proposed honeymoon to Florida may be started immediately.

POSTPONE FIGHT BETWEEN JOE EGAN AND STRIBLING

MACON, Ga., Nov. 13 (AP)—The fight between "Young" Stribling of this city, and Joe Egan of Boston, scheduled for November 21 in Boston, has been postponed, it was announced by the fighter's father-manager tonight.

Young Stribling started in training this week, but found that a back injury, sustained in previous training, would force him to rest longer. The match will be postponed at least two weeks, it was stated.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Nov. 13 (AP)—Virtually every member of the Missouri river conference is expected to be represented here at the annual valley cross country run Saturday in connection with the Kansas-Drake football game. HORSE RACING APPEALS TO ITALIAN SPORTSMEN

MILAN, Nov. 13 (AP)—Italian horsemen are searching for an Italian Spinney, Zev or Papyrus. A record purse for racing in Italy will be offered early in 1924 for 3-year-olds. The purse will aggregate fifty million lire and will be given by a group of sportsmen who aim to encourage the breeding of thoroughbred stock in Italy.

This is a return game. The Cubs took the other end here and they are prepared to take this one too.

On Wednesday of next week the Cubs travel again. They go over to Jerome to meet the Northside seconds and incidentally to repeat their former victory. We might tip Coach Hartkopf off to put in a few of the first string when they meet "Andy" Anderson's gang.

GIVE TESTIMONY IN MURDER CASE

Salt Lake City after the Brownings had come from Ogden to take Mrs. Ballantyne to the home of her parents in Ogden.

That both John and Marjorie Browning had told Ballantyne not to shoot—that he had him covered.—That John Browning, Jr., stated to detectives after the shooting, "Marjorie fired the shot. It would have looked better if I had done it, but he lent me to it."

That the pistol surrendered to the detectives after the shooting at the Browning day of the shooting.

City detectives who were called immediately after the shooting were the chief witnesses today. These men testified that they found Mrs. Ballantyne in an automobile in front of the house and found the two Brownings and Judge R. A. Reeder of Ogden in the yard. Ballantyne was on the floor, shot through the neck, and apparently unconscious. The story filed was in substance:

The Brownings were called from Ogden, following alleged abuses to Mrs. Ballantyne, John Browning's sister, by Benjamin Ballantyne. More or less discussion followed and Ballantyne started to the library table for his gun. The Brownings warned him not to shoot and then came the shot which resulted in Ballantyne's death.

Under cross-examination one of the detectives stated that the gun mentioned was a small calibre automatic revolver and that it was "ready for immediate use."

hearing on the situation in the Ruhr and the Rhineland. The statement issued tonight says: "With regard to many reports abroad that an autonomous Rhineland was to be proclaimed with the consent of the imperial government, it is stated that the imperial government maintains the attitude that no discussion is possible with regard to alterations in the legal regulations of the Rhineland and the Ruhr to the Reich.

"The imperial government will never take any step in this direction and will never sanction the proclamation of a Rhineland republic. The only authority for any alterations in the relations of the Rhineland to the Reich is the constitution of the Reich."

Defeat Realized

Since the fountaining of the negotiations between the French authorities and the industrialists, the Berlin officials have realized the hopelessness of liquidating the situation in the occupied zones out of Germany's own resources, and today's action which in its final analysis is considered as tantamount to the abandonment of German administrative jurisdiction and the withdrawal of financial and other support from the Rhineland and the Ruhr areas, it was declared in official quarters tonight, was the only remedy at Germany's disposal, unless she courts disaster at the cost of the work by attempting to salvage the Rhineland and the Ruhr in the face of Franco-Belgian economic opposition and political resistance.

Any attempt to stabilize the currency or to safeguard the rentmaster, which is to be put in circulation this week, is considered as doomed to defeat if the government is called upon for further subsidies or unemployment does in the occupied areas and its position as reflected by today's momentous meeting is that it has resolved upon the grim determination to hold France and Belgium morally and financially responsible for the welfare of the German people in the zones occupied by them.

Oil Spreader for Rough Seas to Help Ships in Storms

To calm rough waters around ships caught in storms, a southern man has invented a spreader that sprays oil over a large area around the vessel. Pumped from a tank on deck, the fluid passes far out from the boat to umbrellas-like devices of canvas that are set floating in the sea. It can be used for large or small craft, or from lifeboats while making their way through heavy waves in the event of disaster.

The illustration shows the oil spreader being used from ships and shore to subside breakers and protect passengers, vessels and breakwaters. A close-up of the spreader is shown in the inset.

Poles of Elastic Concrete Bend Without Breaking

Hollow, concrete poles, designed to carry electric transmission lines, are being made by a process that allows them to bend under heavy strains without breaking. The top of a 64-foot pole will swing 7 feet in any direction without back-acting without injury. Laid in a horizontal mold, the steel skeleton of the pole is covered with concrete, and revolved 1,000 times a minute. The force drives the concrete against the sides, where it forms a shell over the framework. The finished product is kept in the mold for two days and then buried in damp sand for four weeks to season.

Thirteen Thousand Laws Are Enacted in Year

Although there is said to be no exact record of the number of laws enacted, the books of the nation's experts have calculated that in one year, 13,000 of 40,000 bills presented in the legislatures of 35 states, were passed at a cost of about $900 each. Congress handles from 10,000 to 20,000 bills each session, and it is estimated, passed 930 before its adjournment. The nation figure that there are between 50,000 and 100,000 state and federal laws.

Simple Garage-Door Catch

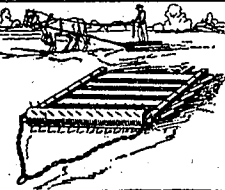

The garage-door catch shown in the drawing of the elastic doors to prevent the doors from swinging back against the car while driving it into or out of the garage. The arrangement is unusually simple in that only one piece of iron rod, bent to the shape shown, and pivoted to a wooden bracket, forms the complete catch. The wooden bracket is screwed to the side of the garage and a bolt on the end of the bracket is used as a pivot for the catch.

Combination Rotary Harrow and Drag

The combination rotary harrow and drag shown in the drawing and used for pulverizing clods can be made in a short time from material available on every farm. It consists of five 6-ft. lengths of 2 by 10-in. lumber, nailed or bolted to two 2 by 4-in. endpieces, and a 6-ft. wooden roller, attached to the front so that it will revolve when the drag is pulled over the ground. Rows of teeth, made from heavy spikes, are then driven in so that they project about 4 in. and the heads cut off and the teeth sharpened. Two 3/4-in. bolts, driven into each end of the roller, serve as journals, and turn in bearing holes in the 2 by 4-in. endpieces. The drag may be weighted down with stones, or if desired an old mower seat may be attached to it for the convenience of the farmer.

Cat-Tails Yield Flour, Silk, Starch, and Also Sugar

From the cat-tails found in almost every swamp, scientists have succeeded in making both food and cloth. Roots of the weed produce starch and sugar, the pollen has been used as a flour to make bread, the brown spikes make an excellent substitute for silk, and the fluffy down is valuable for stuffing pillows. The plant was first discovered by the Iroquois Indians and, during the Great War, it was extensively used throughout central Europe.

"We run the farm on a co-operative basis all the way through," he added, "and each man draws from $300 to $500 bonus at the end of the season."

Tractor men, he said, receive the equivalent of $250 a month, figuring in room and board, and managers receive from $6,000 to $7,500 a year. He uses 250 employees, he said, where by ordinary methods about 500 would be required.

"We seed by machinery and harvest by machinery," he said. "We have things down to the point where we can say that the grain is untouched from the time the seed goes into the ground to the time it is hauled to market by a caterpillar tractor."

Little Boy in the Sleeping Car Thought It Must Be God Who Was Speaking.

Little Frederick, en route with his parents, was put to bed in the lower berth across the aisle from them, an elderly gentleman occupying the upper over him. It was Freddie's first sleeping car experience and he was a little nervous. His mother, to reassure him, said: "Now, don't be afraid, mamma and daddy will be just across the aisle, and you know God is always with you."

After the lights were turned out that lonesome feeling got too much for him, and he called out: "Mother, are you there?"

"Yes, darling," mother answered. "I'm here."

"Daddy"—a moment later—"are you there?"

"Yes, son. I'm here. Go to sleep like a good boy."

In a moment the questions were repeated, with answers satisfactory—for the time being—to Freddie, if not to the other passengers.

After a short silence his voice again cut through the car with "Mother, are you there?"

A deep voice from above announced: "Yes, your mother is there and your father is there, and I am here."

Then came Freddie's tremulous query: "Mother, was that God?"—Pulman News.

Artificial Silk in Japan

The manufacturers of artificial silk have made very little progress in Japan, being confined to the production of coarse yarns of inferior quality. Imports of artificial silk in 1922 amounted to 225,840 pounds—an increase of 62.7 per cent over 1921.

Unofficial estimates place the Japanese imports from January 1 to April 30, 1923, at 178,729 pounds, or about 70 per cent of the total artificial silk imports in 1922. The use of artificial silk in Japan was formerly limited to the manufacture of neckties and shawls, but it is now being used for hosiery and mixed silk textiles.—United States Commerce Report.

India Wants Merchant Fleet

India wants an Indian merchant marine, says the Nation's Business, or at least there is enough discussion among the people of India to give the subject some importance. The argument seems to proceed pretty largely upon the theory that every well-regulated and proud nation with its feet on salt water should have a merchant marine. In other words, a merchant marine is an indispensable demonstration of sovereignty if a nation wishes to maintain a place in high society. As India's foreign dangers were always said on the landward side, national defense would not enter into the equation.

Those present were the Misses Hazel Kearns, Gladys Wilcox, Verona Murray, Helen Varney, Genevieve Wilcox and Violet Cross; Messrs Roy Mahaffey, Gerald Hunt, Theodore Taylor, Burney Wilcox, Orrell Tucker and Donald McClain.

"No, this one is the beauty of the family, I believe. A very bright, intelligent girl. I was telling her about your revolver just before she came in, and she was most interested. It's a pity you haven't got it with you now, to show her."

"Oh, but I have! I have, Mr. Samuel," said Peters opening a small handbag and taking out a hymn-book, half a pound of sweet chocolate, a tomato sandwich, and the pistol, in the order named.

"Well, wait here a minute or two," said Sam. "I'll have finished talking business in a moment."

"He returned to the inner office. 'Well?' cried Billie. 'Eh? Oh, he's gone,' said Sam. 'I persuaded him to go away. He was a little excited, poor fellow. And now let us return to what we were talking about. You say...'"

"There is something you may care to look at while I'm gone. I don't know if you have read it? Widgery on Nial Perus Evidence. Most interesting."

"You can go in now," said Sam. "Certainly, Mr. Samuel, certainly." Sam took up the copy of Home Whispers, and sat down with his feet on the desk.

CHAPTER XII: Billie had been standing near the wall, inspecting a portrait of the late Mr. Tomah Appleby, of which the kind of thing one can say is that one hopes it did not do him justice.

"How do you do, Miss Milliken?" he said. "Thank God!" said Billie. "I'm not even engaged! It's all been a terrible mistake!"

"I suppose—I suppose you're a good shot?" asked Billie. "I seldom miss," said John Peters. "Billie smiled. Then, reflecting that the longer she engaged this maniac in conversation the more hope there was of Sam coming back in time to save her, she assayed further small talk."

"It's—it's very ugly!" "Oh, no!" said Mr. Peters, hurt. "Billie perceived that she had said the wrong thing. 'Very deadly looking, I mean,' she corrected herself hastily."

"I have told you the facts!" "This man at Ealing West?" said Mr. Peters, moistening the point of his pencil. "After a few moments, he pulled himself together again, and, as his first act was to replace the pistol in the pocket of his coat, Billie became conscious of a faint stirring of relief."

"The great thing," said John Peters, "is to learn to draw quickly. Like this!" he added, producing the revolver with something of the smoothness and rapidity with which Billie, in happier moments, had seen conjurers take a bowl of gold out of a tall hat. "Everything depends on getting the first shot. The first shot, Miss Milliken, is vital."

Suddenly Billie had an inspiration. It was hopeless, she knew, to try to convince this poor demagogue creature, obsessed with his "idea" that she was not Miss Milliken. Denial would be a waste of time, and might even infuriate him into precipitating the tragedy. It was imperative that she should humor him. And while she was humoring him, it suddenly occurred to her, why not do it thoroughly.

"Mr. Peters," she cried, "you are quite mistaken!" "I beg your pardon," said John Peters, with not a little asperity. "Nothing of the kind!" "You are sure?" "I assure you I am not. Quickness in the draw is essential."

"You have been misinformed." "Well, I had direct from the man at the Rupert street range," said Mr. Peters stiffly. "And if you had ever seen a picture called 'Two-Gun Thomas...'"

"I suppose—I suppose you're a good shot?" asked Billie. "I seldom miss," said John Peters. "Billie smiled. Then, reflecting that the longer she engaged this maniac in conversation the more hope there was of Sam coming back in time to save her, she assayed further small talk."

"You have been misinformed." "Well, I had direct from the man at the Rupert street range," said Mr. Peters stiffly. "And if you had ever seen a picture called 'Two-Gun Thomas...'"

"Mr. Peters!" cried Billie desperately. He was making her head swim with his meaningless ravings. "Mr. Peters, hear me! I am not married to a man at Ealing West!" Mr. Peters betrayed no excitement at the information. This girl seemed to him an extraordinary one, but many women, he was aware, were in a similar position. In fact, he could not at the moment think of any of his feminine acquaintances who were married to men at Ealing West.

"Indeed!" he said politely. "Won't you believe me?" exclaimed Billie wildly. "Why, certainly, certainly," said John Peters. "Thank God!" said Billie. "I'm not even engaged! It's all been a terrible mistake!"

When two people in a small room are speaking on two distinct and different subjects and neither knows what on earth the other is driving at, there is bound to be a certain amount of mental confusion; but at this point

John Peters, though still not wholly equal to the intellectual pressure of the conversation, began to see a faint shimmer of light behind the clouds. In a nebulous kind of way he began to understand that the girl had come to consult the firm about a breach-of-promissio action. Some unwise man at Ealing West had been trifling with her heart—hardened lawyer's clerk as he was, that polyanth, "I'm not engaged!" had touched Mr. Peters—and she wished to start proceedings. Mr. Peters felt about in his depth again. He got the revolver from his pocket, and drew out a notebook. "I should be glad to hear the facts," he said with professional courtesy. "In the absence of the Governor..."

"I have told you the facts!" "This man at Ealing West?" said Mr. Peters, moistening the point of his pencil. "After a few moments, he pulled himself together again, and, as his first act was to replace the pistol in the pocket of his coat, Billie became conscious of a faint stirring of relief."

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking" By Mrs. HUGH MCKAY. My husband has restless spells. They usually come on him in the evening, about an hour after dinner. The first symptom is getting up from his chair and beginning to walk around the room—and out and back again. He usually goes to bed about 10 o'clock. After about five minutes of this I ask him if he wouldn't like to go out somewhere, and he says, "Of course not. And when I ask him if he doesn't feel like taking a little nap, he says, "Of course not!" to that, too. So, on hot-goes crawling about the room—and out and back again. He never says a word, but just puffs hard on his pipe. In fact, he looks a good deal like a confused locomotive that can't make up its mind in what direction to go. Of course, all this is very restful for me. His continual pacing around the house just about as quiet and home-like as an atmosphere as you'd find in a railroad station. And by the time he's finished his indoor marathon we're both exhausted and the evening is ruined, and the only thing left to do is to go to bed. DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER. Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder Is Irritated. Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food is bad for you because it paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. To help neutralize those irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—adv.

WHEAT QUOTATIONS FIRM; CORN MARKET IS WEAKER

Spreads involving Heavy Purchasing and Selling Orders Held Responsible for Divergence in Prices

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Unloading of spreads between wheat and corn today involving the purchase of wheat and the selling of corn helped to strengthen wheat values, but tended to weaken the corn market.

Wheat—Closest firm 1 1/2 to 5/8 to 1 1/4; higher; December $1.05 1/2 to $1.03 1/4 to 1 1/4; No. 1 yellow 1.03-1/2 to 1.08 1/2. Corn finished unchanged to 3/8 lower, oats unchanged and provisions vary from 7c decline to a rise of two cents.

An increase of the United States visible supply of wheat failed to have much effect on the market having a great part taken for grain to the other hand, the possibility of food relief measures for Germany attracted some notice and was a factor in making wheat nervous.

Reports indicating that rains were less general than had been expected took away much of the bullish aspect of the corn market. Besides, reports were a little larger and the southwest predicted curtailment of the feeding demand. Oats were steadied by the smallness of arrivals and the reduction in the visible supply total.

RULES FOR MEAT INSPECTION HIT BY CITY BOARD

Commission Decides Investigation of Regulations and Their Operation Desirable; Acts for Road Improvement

Action looking toward possible revision of Twin Falls' meat inspection ordinances was indicated by the municipal commission at its meeting Tuesday evening. Members of the commission admitted, when the subject was presented by Commissioner E. A. Latta, that they were not affiliated with the present meat inspection methods, referring particularly to the provision under the present regulation which relieves dealers of payment of inspection fees and assesses the cost of inspection against the city's general fund. It was apparently the consensus of opinion that inquiry should be made into the most inspection ordinance and its operation, and W. T. Leslie, commissioner of public welfare, stated that he would inaugurate such an inquiry. The subject was presented by Commissioner Latta with a reference to the commission's semi-annual financial report showing a deficit for the period in the meat and dairy inspection fund. Dairymen, it was pointed out during the discussion, pay inspection fees, and similar policy is followed with respect to meat dealers prior to the adoption of the present ordinance which, it is said, was modeled after a Salt Lake ordinance.

Tackles Another Problem.

The commission tackled another problem when it referred to City Attorney A. J. Meyers for investigation, a question of liability for payment for land encroached upon by paving within the city limits. The problem was presented by T. J. Woods, owner of the property, which is situated on Blue Lakes boulevard south, immediately north of the highway district's rock crushing plant. The property, Mr. Wood said, has been divided into lots and the plat will be filed in the near future. As a result of the encroachment of the paving, Mr. Wood said, a triangular space extending 60 feet across the front of the corner lot and 85 feet along its south side has been cut off. The encroachment resulted from the paving of the highway. The payment is said to have been made by the highway district at the instance of the city. Responsibility for the rounding corner had not been determined.

Anticipates Bond Building.

In addition to preliminary steps taken toward solution of these two problems, the commission anticipated award by the highway district of a contract for the graveling of the proposed highway Elizabeth boulevard, and authorized expenditure of $310 to meet the city's share in the expense of improving the road within the city limits. Approval also was given an adjustment of a situation which for several months has delayed the paving of the road leading south along land owned by the city in the vicinity of its water purification plant. Under this adjustment the city will contribute $10 toward purchase of a right of way for a ditch, removal of which is required by the highway district in connection with improvement of the road.

Park Move Discussed.

Movement lately launched for acquisition of an additional park for setting out other trees to replace parks now being removed from the city park was discussed informally by members of the commission. Request was received during the session that the park commissioner, Dr. W. H. Dwight, arrange a conference with the Kiwanis club committee to discuss park proposals, and Dr. Dwight indicated his readiness to meet with the committee. It was agreed among members of the commission that advice should be obtained from competent horticulturists relative to the advisability of setting out additional trees in the city park. Commissioner Leslie declared for providing trees of as many varieties as possible in the park and Commissioner J. B. Keel offered to furnish a magnolia tree as his own expense. Warrants were ordered drawn in payment of claims against the general fund in the sum of $62.66; library fund, $500, and sprinkling fund, 40 cents.

Tests Show City's Meat Supply Good

Out of 245 cattle and 93 calves, from which Twin Falls' supply of beef was derived during the past month, only one animal was found infected with tuberculosis and condemned, according to reports made to the city municipal commissioner at its meeting Tuesday evening by Dr. Walter McPherson, city meat and dairy inspector.

Chamber's Drive Bringing Results

Two Hours Work Adds 98 New Members and Collection of Fees Amounting to $1000

One hundred citizens enlisted in the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce expansion campaign, turned in reports at their luncheon assembly Tuesday, showing a total of 98 new members enrolled and dues in the amount of $1000 collected, as a result of their first two hours work in the field, according to announcements made Tuesday evening by Frank Horton, campaign manager. Results of the afternoon's work were not canvassed Tuesday evening, at the close of the first day of the campaign, but the reports of workers will be prepared for presentation at the luncheon assembly. Daily during the progress of the drive which is to continue for three days, it was announced. Chamber of commerce campaign workers expect to meet at noon today with members of the Rotary club at their regular weekly meeting, Mr. Horton stated.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF W. H. CRAVEN

Funeral Services Bring Together One of Largest Assemblies Ever Gathered on Similar Occasion Here

Funeral services for the late W. H. Craven, whose tragic death occurred last Friday as a result of an accident on a hunting trip, brought together here Tuesday afternoon one of the largest assemblies ever gathered at a similar occasion in Twin Falls history. The assemblage included almost the entire population of Hollister, where Mr. Craven and his family made their home for several years, and there were large delegations from other Salmon River project communities. A profusion of floral offerings, covering the casket and banked high against the altar rail, bore silent witness to the esteem in which Mr. Craven was held throughout the wide field of his acquaintances. Impressive ritualistic services of the order were conducted in the Methodist church and at the cemetery by Twin Falls commandery, Knights Templar, of which Mr. Craven was a member. Principal officers of the commandery taking part in the services were: Joseph H. Seaver, past eminent commander, and M. C. Mitchell, prelate. Vexel numbers were given by a quartet composed of Mrs. O. P. Duvall, Mrs. W. Zenas Smith, C. N. Beatty and Nelson Hayward.

Attendees chosen from among Mr. Craven's friends included the following: Mrs. J. M. Branton, J. M. Maxwell, E. E. Salladay, C. S. McFarlin, M. J. Sweeney and F. E. Chamberlain.

ANNUAL CANAL LEVY FIXED AT $1.50 AN ACRE

Company's Records Show More Than $100,000 of Delinquent Charges Collected Last Year Applied to Indebtedness.

Assessment of $1.50 against each acre of land under the Twin Falls canal system will be levied to meet the 1924 maintenance and operation expense, according to decision reached by the directors of the Twin Falls Canal company at a meeting here Tuesday. Payment of the assessment, as usual, is to be made in two installments. Agreement on the amount of the assessment was reached by unanimous vote of the directors. Explaining the situation which they agreed makes necessary an assessment of $1.50 next year as against the assessment of $1.25 last year, members of the board stated that the lower assessment last year was made possible by collection of more than $100,000 in delinquent assessment charges. The total of delinquent assessments has been reduced materially by collections made during the past year, and no longer constitutes a financial reserve of any considerable proportions.

Actual Cost Shown

Actual cost of maintenance, operation and payment of interest charges during the Twin Falls Canal company's records, amounted to $149 for each acre against which annual assessment is made. Extensive drainage operations during the year cost approximately $100,000, whereas the estimate for this work had provided only about $40,000.

Practically all of the delinquent assessment charges collected during the year, according to the company's records, was applied to payment of the company's indebtedness during the year amounting to about $100,000, or approximately 50 cents for each acre under the canal system.

Statement was made after the meeting by Secretary W. O. Taylor, that call for the annual meeting of the canal company, to be held January 8, would be issued in the near future, and that the notice would designate December 28 as the date of closing the company's books for transfer of stock.

JUNIORS' PLAY IS POSTPONED

Student Pageant "Friends in Bookland" to Be Parent-Teachers Meeting Feature

The junior high school pageant, "Friends in Bookland," has been postponed to Thursday evening as a result of a conference in which Mrs. I. E. Joelyn, head of the high school Parents' Teachers' association; Mrs. North, principal of the junior high school, and Miss Friser of the public library, participated. It was decided that instead of the Parent-Teachers' association of the high school would meet Thursday evening, and this organization includes parents and teachers of both senior and junior high school, it would be desirable to have both meetings and pageant at the same time.

The program then for the Parent-Teachers' association for its first regular meeting of the year will include the pageant, which is being given in connection with the celebration of the National Book week by the junior high with the cooperation of the teachers. There will be a very short business meeting.

Another feature of the evening will follow the program. The students of the two schools are asked to bring their parents and at the conclusion of the regular meeting they will have ample opportunity to introduce their teachers to their parents. Mrs. Joelyn will speak to the senior high school on this matter today and will mention it to the junior school Thursday at their regular mid-week assembly.

The program will begin promptly at 7:59 o'clock and a large attendance is desired as the association is anxious to get as many interested as possible in the show week this year. There will be no admission charge to the pageant.

TRESPASS SUIT FIRST ON TRIAL

Special Venire Is Required to Obtain Jury in Opening Trial of Present Court Term

The first jury of the present term of district court here was impaneled Tuesday afternoon to try the case of R. G. Benson and C. G. Benson against Jack France, on appeal from the probate court involving Benson's claim for $250 damages for alleged trespass by France's sheep on alfalfa fields on Bensons' land on the Salmon River project in the summer of 1922. The case for the plaintiffs was closed and a motion for non-suit, offered by E. V. Larson and W. B. Guthrie, counsel for France, was argued just before the evening recess was taken. Judge Babcock did not announce his ruling on the motion. The Bensons are represented in the suit by Homer C. Mills. Only 17 out of the 30 citizens summoned to serve as jurors during the term remained after Judge Babcock had acted upon various reasons given for exemption from jury service, and a special venire calling for three additional jurors was required to complete the first jury impaneled.

Larson, attorney for Bruggeman, announced that a new suit would be instituted and that E. F. Walton and his associates in the corporation would be named as defendants.

Claims Forfeiture

The suit involves Bruggeman's claim to $500 under forfeiture terms of a lease under which Walton and his associates occupied Bruggeman's building with their millinery establishment in 1919. The building was at one time occupied by the postoffice. Jurors impaneled in the first trial of the present term are A. W. Nelson, Kenyon Green, T. M. Atkin, George E. Goff, Eugene Wahl, H. P.
