Selection of Convention City Is First Problem of Republicans in Opening of 1924 Political Battle

Western Cities Among Those Seeking National G. O. P. Meeting. Suggested to be Held Early Next June.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The great national political show of 1924 had its formal fall opening today with the assembling here of republican leaders to begin work in selecting the convention city for next year. As the first official act of the presidential campaign, a subcommittee of the republican national committee tomorrow will receive invitations from several cities bidding for their 1924 convocation, subject to the final choice of the full national committee which will meet here December 11.

Political gossip bubbled today in hotel lobby conversations of republican national committeemen and other leaders from several states; there being wide discussion of the prospects of President Coolidge, Senators Johnson of California and LaFollette of Wisconsin; former Governor Lowden of Illinois and others mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination. Discussion of presidential prospects appeared to take almost equal rank with the business which had brought the republican leaders here, the initial work toward choosing a convention city.

Five Cities Bid

Five cities are seeking the 1924 republican meeting—Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Des Moines and St. Paul. Representatives of each will present invitations and their claims tomorrow before the national subcommittee at a meeting in the New Willard hotel. David Mulvane, of Kansas, is the subcommittee chairman, his associates being Charles D. Gray of New York, W. M. Butler of Massachusetts, Ralph Williams of Oregon and H. L. Semmell of Arkansas. Chicago's bid is to be received first, the subcommittee deciding to hear the delegations in alphabetical order. Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the national committee, is expected to make his claim. Representatives Burton and Charles Thompson are to speak for Cleveland, Senator Cummins and former Senator Rawson head the Des Moines delegation, while Warren Shannon of the San Francisco board of supervisors, Charles J. Shea of the hotelmen's association and others head the city's claims. Who will speak for Denver had not been determined definitely tonight.

Windy City Favored

Twenty years habit of republicans in traveling to Chicago for their national conventions was said to be a factor favoring the windy city. Mr. Upham expressed complete confidence today that Chicago would be selected, although many national committeemen are opposing Chicago because of alleged high hotel rates imposed there.

RURAL CARRIERS TO COUNT PIGS

Another Census of Swine Population of U. S. Ordered by Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—In addition to their regular duties which range from weighing babies to administering first aid, rural mail carriers have been given the job of counting the pigs in the United States again next year. The carriers have counted them before and they did such a good job and the department of agriculture found the figures so valuable that Postmaster General New has ordered another census of the whole swine population to show how many pigs will be ready for the market next spring and summer. Postmasters are being supplied with questionnaire cards assigned to show not only the number and pigs on hand but also the number which will be kept throughout the winter as well as the amount of field corn and other stock food raised on the individual farm for feeding them.

The accuracy of last year's survey, Postmaster General New said, together with the various markets. Thousands of farmers, he said, used the reports which enabled them to determine first whether to cut down or increase the number of sows kept for breeding, and second, whether to market or hold on to their pigs, depending on the prospective supply as well as the relative price of corn and hogs. The report when compiled will be published throughout the country and by giving a clear picture of the situation will assist the farmer in adjusting his production to meet the probable demands of the market.

Lad Tells Why He Committed Murder

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Gilbert Brooks, 15, who last night stabbed John Cottingham, 17, to death, while Cottingham's mother looked on in horror, today gave police this version: "John's brother hit my little brother and took his chewing gum, and when I went to see John's brother about it, John came out and slapped my face and knocked me down and I got up and swiped at him with the pocket-knife."

FORBES ROILED BY ACCUSATIONS

Brigadier General Sawyer Is Target for Ire of Former Veterans' Bureau Director.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Charles E. Forbes, sued the 16 direct today by two of his accusers—Brigadier General Chas. E. Sawyer and Elias H. Mortimer, and then charged counsel for the senate committee investigating the veterans' bureau with suppressing material facts which show his innocence. Moreover, the former director of the bureau charged that witnesses had been "browbeaten" into testifying before the committee and asserted that his counsel had the proof.

Turning to Forbes' attorney, James E. Asby-Smith, John F. O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee, inquired if he was prepared to furnish the evidence. "I am if the committee desires to hear," replied Mr. Asby-Smith. "The committee certainly wants to hear it," declared Chairman Reed. Opening the cross-examination of Forbes, General O'Ryan asked the witness who was in the conspiracy to destroy him which the former director had charged yesterday was on foot.

Offens Proof

"Mortimer and Williams (J. M. Williams, Philadelphia attorney who previously testified) were two of the conspirators, and there were others," responded Forbes. "My counsel will call some witnesses on these matters and if the committee desires to hear further testimony concerning them, my counsel will furnish the names of other witnesses to this committee." It was during his cross-examination that Forbes said Dr. Sawyer had "lied" on the witness stand. General O'Ryan asked if Forbes believed that

IMPORT RATES ON WHEAT TO BE ANALYZED

Preliminary Hearing to be Held by Commission November 26; Experts to Probe Present Schedule at Once.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The tariff commission has decided to investigate the import duties on wheat. A thorough study of the whole question of wheat rates, it announced today has been ordered and a preliminary hearing will be held November 26. The commission's machinery is to be set in motion in advance of the first public hearing, a committee of its agricultural experts and representatives of the department of agriculture beginning immediately the assembling of information as to whether the present tariff duty of 30 cents a bushel is adequate to protect the interests of the producers in this country.

Although the work is scheduled to go forward as rapidly as possible, commission members asserted tonight that they could not hope to complete the task in less than three months. The order for the hearing was issued in the hope, it was said, that a preliminary meeting of all interested parties might result in expediting final action. At the same time, doubt was expressed generally at the commission's offices that anything could be done in time to afford relief for the producers of this year's crop.

Study Costs

The commission's chief problem is determination of whether the 30 cent duty carried by imported wheat, offsets the difference in production costs here and in Canada. It has been generally conceded the Canadian farmer can put their wheat on the market at a lower cost but the exact differential must be determined by the commission. Commission officials said they expected to study information as to the conditions and prices everywhere in the world, and to study the present question as to whether it is limited largely to Canadian imports. The commission's action resulted from an appeal by Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota, president of the Wheat Council of the United States, that the flexible provisions of the tariff law be utilized to increase the duty the maximum of 50 per cent allowed by the statute. His representation of conditions throughout the country warranted a thorough examination being undertaken, officials explained, but they added that this in no way undermined the commission to any program.

In its formal order for an investigation the commission said its inquiry would take in data having a bearing

McNARY PRESENTS PLANS

Oregon Republican Senator Recommends No Action by Congress Relative to Reclamation Bills. WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Senator McNary, republican of Oregon, one of the foremost advocates of reclamation legislation, recommended to President Coolidge that he make no request of congress at its coming session for enactment of reclamation bills. Present laws under which the federal government is able to expend about $9,000,000 annually for new reclamation work are adequate in view of the agricultural depression, Senator McNary told the president. "The chief aim of reclamation bills, such as the Smith-McNary proposal in the past has been the extension of our agricultural area," the senator said. "Just now, however, one of the things we need most is restriction of farms."

White "Milk" Bottle Failed to Fool Cop

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—A milk bottle painted white did not deceive policeman Edward C. Post, he testified today at the trial of Mrs. M. Grygol on a charge of violating the prohibition law. Post said that he entered Mrs. Grygol's home and found a man drinking from what was apparently a bottle of milk. But the odor of the bottle belied its appearance, he said, and picking it up he found it had been painted to make moonshine look like milk. Mrs. Grygol was fined $100.

BURREL WARNS OF POISONING

State Commissioner Tells of Finding Fatal Drug Contained in Cider

BOISE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Arsenic poisoning from cider is an actual and present risk and it behooves those who would avoid it to be sure that the apples from which the cider was made were washed. Dr. J. H. Burrell, commissioner of public health, made this announcement today. The state chemist has just concluded a test of cider submitted by a Boise physician whose patient was violently ill after drinking from it and he had written to Mr. Burrell.

"The cider was so completely saturated with lead arsenate that it was deemed advisable to call the attention of the department of welfare to the condition arising undoubtedly from lack of washing the apples before the manufacture of the cider. Arsenic content in cider cannot be neutralized by the addition of any drugs or chemicals."

The cowboys said they applied the shock to protect the men handling the animals.

It was announced that the separation action would not be opposed, counsel for Mr. Stokes said he would appeal last week's jury decision refusing him a divorce.

Hold Pact Has Been Violated by France and Further Payments Are Refused; Rhineland to Be Freed Nov. 25

LONDON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Germany has decided to repudiate the treaty of Versailles and not to comply with either the reparations clause or any other of the clauses of the treaty as long as the French and Belgians occupy the Ruhr, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Berlin. The German government's attitude, says the Daily Mail, is that reparations are being withheld by the Ruhr because the occupation of the Ruhr infringes the treaty and that as long as the French and Belgians persist in breaching the terms of the treaty, Germany is excused from observing them.

RELEASE PROVINCE

BERLIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—After November 25 Germany will no longer be able to meet the drain now being exacted for the payment of unemployment funds in the Ruhr area. Both these regions admit, permitting them to shift for themselves. This direct statement was made in official quarters here tonight. The German government's attitude arrives at a different conclusion after pending conferences with leaders in the occupied areas as the Reichstag opposes such a policy, it is now believed that the immediate future of the Rhineland and the Ruhr will be wilyly determined by the German government and the local leaders there are able to enter into with the French and Belgian authorities. The unemployment dues which the German government is paying out to

Bank Messengers Shot by Bandits; $43,000 Is Taken

Two Guardians of Cash Are Killed in Pistol Battle in Elevated Station; Flee Through Awe-Stricken Crowd.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Two bank messengers today shot and killed two bank messengers in an elevated station of the West End subway line at Fifty-fifth street and New Utrecht avenue, Brooklyn, matched a leather bag containing $43,000 from one of their victims and fled through a awed crowd in an automobile driven by a confederate. One messenger was killed before he could raise a hand to protect himself. The other died in an exchange of the with the bandits. The station cashier fainter in her small cage and was found faint in an hour afterward. Two hours after the shooting the bandits' car, abandoned, was found at Bath Beach. The holdup came as a climax to a period of sensational criminal activity in the city started yesterday with the slaying of a Ward Baking company cashier at the door of his office in Brooklyn and the robbery of $10,000 which he carried. The three robbers escaped.

The police tonight were working on the theory that today's holdup and the Ward Baking case were connected with the same gang. The victims of today's shooting were William Barlow, 42, a lieutenant of police, and William Maloney, a young war veteran. Both were shot yesterday and today's holdup was the second to another bank. It was a very bad made many times and was a custom; they told on the subway's sharpest route.

FOLLOWERS OF FORMER KAISER WOULD REGAIN POWER

Recalling the grim tragedy following the reign of Prussianism in Germany, nations of the world were startled just a few days ago by the efforts of Adolf Hitler and General von Ludendorff, von Hindenburg's right-hand man in the world war, to return the monarchists to power. Significance was placed in the move through the return of Friedrich Wilhelm, former crown prince to his home in Bismarck and the expected return of the former kaiser. The monarchist cause proved short-lived, however, Hitler landing in jail, while Ludendorff is now under constant surveillance. Above are shown the leaders in the move together with the Republican officials and Prince Rupprecht, who declined to support the plans of the militarists.

ANOTHER CLOUD IN GRID SPHERE

Californians See Red on Northern Horizon; Maroon Cyclone Descending

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Nov. 14.—There is another sinister cloud looming up to the north of California, and dimming somewhat the roseate hue of football in the country of the Golden Bear, the Cardinals and the Trojans: Two weeks ago a purple Washington tornado struck the Oregon Aggies at Corvallis and recorded such a decisive superiority that even Andy Smith had a right to fear the strength of his northern opponent.

On the northern horizon the Californians now see red—it is the maroon of Idaho a maroon cyclone completed the tearing asunder of the Aggie's tail fin at Boise Saturday before a crowd of approximately 10,000 gathered to witness the fourth annual Armistice day gridiron contest.

Neither team scored a decisive victory over the Aggies, but in both instances the superiority was evident in every department of play. Coach Knutson had a card to play in the game against teams to oppose Idaho that one which faced Washington, but even then the Idaho margin is quite comparable to that of Washington.

Both northern invaders go south this week and play on neighboring campuses Saturday. California entertains Washington at Berkeley, while Stanford greets the Vandals in which was scheduled as a "light practice game" preceding the big game with California. This "practice game" remark was accidentally dropped by a Stanford faculty member at the coast conference meeting last fall and has caused the Cardinals considerable embarrassment. That little remark is certain to have its psychological effect. The Vandals began priming for Stanford immediately after the Aggie game and this innocent slip of the tongue was the first thing thought of in connection with the Stanford game.

Idaho is the only conference team against which no scores have been made. That honor was shared with Washington and California until last Saturday when Montana scored upon the Huskies and Southern California burst through the Golden Bears for a touchdown.

Tough Schedule.
Of the schedules remaining for the championship contest Idaho is the hardest. The Vandals made the first lap of their three-game closing trip without injuries, but after Boise they will be alone in foreign territory. With the two big games of the day coming so close together, for Californians consider California and Stanford as neighbors, the gate receipts are not likely to come up to the fondest hopes. Idaho's spectacular rise this season and her being the only team not scored upon forecasts a good crowd for Palo Alto, but this Washington-California game, with both teams at their high crest, will no doubt overshadow the other.

If Idaho should upset Stanford, which seems problematical after the Cardinals' whirlwind victory over Oregon at Portland then a new attendance record is likely to be established when Idaho goes into her last game at Los Angeles November 24 against Southern California. Fans remember the Vandal-Trojan game of last year and would travel many a mile to see another thriller like it.

FREDERICK HOPES TO SEE GERMANY REBUILT

Former Crown Prince Appears Overjoyed on Being Reunited with Family; Gives Out First Interview

OELS, Silesia, Nov. 14 (AP)—Former Crown Prince Frederick William is overjoyed at his return to Germany after five years of exile in Holland. He spent the morning strolling about the garden of his estate, accompanied by his wife, Princess Cecilie, and later received the newspaper correspondents to whom he made the following statement: "I am glad to be back with my wife and children after nine years' absence (this apparently including his years on the war front); happy again to be among my fellow citizens and to be able to share with them the grave burdens of the fatherland. "It is my intention to devote myself to my personal estate in Oels and to help in the task of building up the fatherland, which has had reason to believe will regain its former greatness."

He wore a sport suit and was bareheaded. Cecilie was attired in a brown leather motor coat with a traveling hat to match and carried a walking stick. Two police dogs paced about the garden and Frederick William at times stopped to play with them, tossing sticks for them to retrieve.

His good humor seemed unbounded and he visited the garage of the estate, where he visited with the chauffeurs who accompanied him from Holland, their conversation being punctuated by jokes and laughter.

BRUINS WITHOUT CLERKS LOSE SCHEDULED GAME TO PRINTERS

Twin Falls and Burley Dead-look on Friday's Game; Idaho Falls Yields to Ruling

Although Idaho Falls football team champions of eastern Idaho, has yielded to ruling made November 2, by the interscholastic board of control, and consented to participate in district title game Friday, November 17, according to statement Wednesday evening of M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, the football situation with respect to Twin Falls team, at that time, showed no improvement.

The Burley team, which under ruling of the board of control, is the contender against the Twin Falls team for the district championship, and the right to meet Idaho Falls will not meet Twin Falls next Friday, according to decision of Burley's board of control that the game be played at Burley and rejecting Twin Falls' suggestion that the place of the game be determined by toss of a coin. The situation was deadlocked at that juncture Wednesday evening.

Idaho Falls is believed to have consented to postponement of the interscholastic contest in consequence of statement issued by J. J. Rne of Caldwell, member of the board of control, to the effect that the championship in the north has not yet been determined, that another game must be played this week to settle the championship there, and that Boise, champion of the southwest, must play the northern champions November 23.

TUNNEY AND HARRY GREB. MAY BE RING OPPONENTS

Negotiations Now Under Way for Match Between Pittsburgher and Light-heavyweight for December 10

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Negotiations for a 15-round match between Gene Tunney and Harry Greb, respective holders of the American light-heavyweight and world's middleweight titles, at Madison Square Garden December 10 were completed today by Tex Rickard, promoter of the fight, who said only one at stake.

The Greb-Tunney fight will be the third between this pair in less than two years. Greb won the American 175-pound title from his New York rival in May, 1922, but the ex-doughboy regained it in their second meeting last February. Both bouts were the limit.

Golden Rule Gang Falls to Meet Expert Pin-Busting of Larsen and Bruggeman

Medicore bowling crew "Pop" Kleffner's crew of clerks from the Golden Rule store to lose two out of three to the Times squad Wednesday evening. Larsen of the Times and his team mate C. Bruggeman, proved to be the mainstay of the printers, both going better than 500 for the evening. Larsen taking high score for the evening with 593 in the last game, and a total of 2064.

On the clerks' side the need of substitutes was acute. Hoy the Golden Rule lead off man, did his share, and Vogel attempted to hold up the opposite end of the lineup, but it was the space in between that counted and the Times won, taking 2397 pins to the Golden Rule's 1902.

The first game was featured by duplicate scores of 197 by the Bruggemans, and a 187 by Larsen. Needless to say the Printers won easily, 852-778. The second game was characterized by H. Bruggeman's drop from 197 in the previous game to 105, and Roy's score of 193. This one went to the Golden Rule, 778-742, though it was no fault of the Clerks. The last game was demoralizing to say the least. Vogel was the only member of the "Go into others" gang that scored above the 150 mark, while the bowling was not so good on the typesetters' squad, it was marked by a 200 score by Larsen.

Table with 4 columns: Name, Pins, Total. Rows include Golden Rule, Times, and individual players like Roy, Boone, Lewis, Kleffner, Vogel, Bruggeman, etc.

STRIKES AND SPARES

Neither team had any substitutes last night, but they needed them. The Golden Rule especially could have supported three at least.

The Times seems to get all the honors—high score for game, high individual score, low score for game and low individual score. Bruggeman and Larsen were the duo that saved the evening for the typesetters; as a matter of fact, they were, with the addition of Roy and Vogel, the only players who seemed to realize that the idea was to knock the pins down.

Kleffner, Boone and Lewis of the Golden Rule squad all played a consistent game, but it was consistency above all more preferable if it had centered around 370 rather than 140.

C. Bruggeman played an excellent game for the first two, but dropped away down in the last as did his brother in the second. Anderson played a fair game and Larsen at all times was taking the pins with regularity.

The crowd was larger last night. Tonight the Shoe Factory meets the Shoe Market. "Bill" Scilly expects to lead his Sugar Makers to a place on the top of the list when he meets the Shikies.

MILLION-DOLLAR FUND FOR COLLEGE IS GOAL

T. H. Hunter of Twin Falls, is Authorized by Trustees of Gooding Institution to Launch Campaign

GOODING COLLEGE, GOODING, Nov. 14.—(Special to The News).—Because of need for permanent endowment for Gooding college, trustees of the institution at a regular business meeting of the fall session held here Monday, authorized T. H. Hunter of Twin Falls, to undertake a campaign to write $1,000,000 worth of endowment insurance. Mr. Hunter, who is associated in business with George D. Aiken, promised to launch the campaign immediately.

The trustees feel that Mr. Hunter is especially qualified for this task because he was associated with the late E. H. Stevenson in efforts that resulted in taking over the building program of the Elks at Twin Falls, when that project was on the verge of failure. The Twin Falls undertaking was reaffirmed on a plan similar to the one that is to be used throughout the intermountain region in the interests of Gooding college.

The ill-feeling which had existed and especially still existed between Forbes and Dr. Sawyer was a motive for Dr. Sawyer's testimony. "No, indeed," said Forbes. "Then you believe he was just mistaken?" asked General O'Ryan. "Mistaken?" exclaimed Forbes. "No, he's not mistaken. He just lied."

"Then your idea is that he committed perjury?" asked O'Ryan. "Call it what you like," returned Forbes. Denise Reports Forbes again was on the stand throughout the day and his cross-examination probably will not be completed until tomorrow. During half of the time he was questioned by his counsel after the testimony of Mortimer, a Philadelphia coal dealer, which contained charges of corruption in connection with hospital contracts and of drinking "parties" in cities in the east and west.

"It's absolutely false," "It's absurd" were characteristic frequently used by the former director in denial of Mortimer's story.

SPIRITUALIST THEORY FAILS IN FINAL TEST

Body of English Spiritualist Healer Is Held Four Days After Death But His Claims Fail to Materialize

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Dr. Frederick L. Rawson, English spiritualist healer, who died from pneumonia four days ago with the belief that life remained in the human body until disintegration set in, had not returned to life this afternoon, when the four days in which, under the law, embalment or cremation must take place, had expired. Shortly before 4 o'clock the board of health granted an extension of one day. Under orders received from Mrs. Rawson in London, the body will be cremated tomorrow unless the prayers of the healer's disciples for his resurrection are answered.

Women disciples today still kept vigil at the bier in an Eighth avenue undertaking establishment. Apparently still retaining hope, they sang and prayed fervently.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Nov. 14 (AP)—A bomb which killed J. A. Barnes, prominent real estate dealer, mangled Jesse, his 12-year-old son, who died 20 minutes later, wrecked the Barnes dwelling and shattered every window in the block. Mrs. Barnes was cut by flying glass.

The bomb was in a box about 10 inches long and five or six inches wide. It was sent by express from San Antonio. The bomb was contained in a wooden box marked "J. A. Barnes, Corpus Christi, Texas," and "magazines." It was marked "Personal."

Police officials received word this evening from San Antonio authorities that a Mexican boy named Juan Morales, a newsboy, had been arrested in connection with the explosion. Morales, it was said, told officers that the package was given to him by a "crippled white man" in an automobile who asked that he take it to the express office.

The package arrived in Corpus Christi last night over the San Antonio, Uvalde and Gulf railroad and was delivered about 10:30 p. m.

HEAR BRIBERY CHARGES IN IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

Efforts to Shorten Walton Hearing and Omit Testimony Is Focused on Records

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 14 (AP)—The state senate court, disregarding all efforts to shorten the impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton, today plunged into an investigation of the charges that he received a bribe for approving an appropriation for the university preparatory academy at Tonkawa, Okla.

Regents of the school testified that $5,000 was paid to A. B. Snodgrass, assistant state highway commissioner, and alleged confidante of the executive, for which they said they had been promised the appropriation for the school.

The court apparently barred the way to a speedy termination of the trial today when it voted to require the prosecution to present testimony in support of all 23 of the impeachment charges before resting. Previously the prosecution had indicated it would rest after 13 charges had been covered, holding in abeyance the remaining nine articles, all dealing with major law cases, including involving constitutional questions which admittedly will require much time in presentation.

SEEK TO CUT MOVIE COSTS

Salaries of Stars Present Staff Problem in Attempt to Lower Expenses.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 14 (AP)—Salaries of leading or feature motion picture players, who are not under contract that have expired in the last two years from a range between $100 and $1800 a week to from $1000 to $3500 a week, present one of the stiffest problems in the current reorganization of the industry to a firm business basis, according to heads of production here.

Executives of the film world today are holding their cost sheets. The entire business is in the throes of readjustment, they assert. It is described as the second phase in the revolution of the industry that commenced under the advisory direction of Will H. Hays. The first chapter opened two years ago. That was the moral crusade. Now comes the economic mopping up in the upward progress of the films.

Cost of a playing cast for a standard feature production soared from a few thousand dollars to $60,000, the figure for a recent picture. The entire cost of a feature is said to average $100,000 to $175,000.

INVOLVE STUDENTS IN REBELLION IN MUNICH

Plan Is Made Public to Enroll at Least 50,000 Young Men in March Against Armed Soldiers

MUNICH, Nov. 14 (AP)—The centom of the organized rebellion are now among the students of which there are 30,000 in Bavaria's technical and high schools and the university. The plan is to enroll at least 50,000 young men willing to march unarmed against machine guns and willing to die as long as they were fired upon, but with enough left alive to overpower the soldiers or until the soldiers refused to fire upon them.

Some hundreds of ardent upper class men, government agents report, have for two days been hurrying about among their fellow students, pleading an urging them to join. Similar propaganda is also being made among the more conservative members of the student bodies.

There is a certain uneasiness in government circles because it would be with the greatest reluctance that orders would be given to fire. Nevertheless, it was arrested, this would have to be done.

unemployed men and women in the Rhineland and the Ruhr will amount to 200,000,000 gold marks in the next few days.

An autonomous state in the present stage of occupation and under prevailing economic and social conditions is viewed in Berlin circles as impracticable and not feasible and the inclination in government quarters to favor a plan to hold the occupying powers responsible for getting the local populace fed and back to work and otherwise readjusting completely the devastation in all lines.

If the latter solution is adopted the Berlin government will invest the local German authorities with plenary powers, authorizing them to deal with the French, Belgian and British authorities, thus making the occupied zones temporarily wholly independent of intervention by the central or Prussian governments.

There is an apparent desire to pass along the buck to France and Belgium, leaving the German populace to make its peace with the occupying powers for an indefinite period and permitting the central government to wash its hands of the legacy bequeathed it by nine months of passive resistance.

Wait Decisions.
If this solution is adopted by the central government it will incidentally preclude a complete reversal of procedure with reference to reparations and while no statement is forthcoming in this respect, it is presumed the creditor powers would have to enter into separate agreements with the industrialists regarding deliveries, while the question of gold payment would be presented by Germany on the ground that she was deprived of uninterrupted disposition of her complete economic organization, or a demand would be made for a postponement of cash payments until the country's financial situation has sufficiently recuperated to warrant them.

REPUBLICANS TO PICK CONVENTION CITY

in 1928. Definite limitations on room rates for convention visitors are to be demanded and are to be given according to Mr. Upham if Chicago is selected.

Financial inducements including all expenses of the national committee, are to be offered by all of the bidding cities. The Des Moines boosters are to urge the political effect of holding the convention in the heart of the "corn belt" together with 6,000 rooms available for hotel accommodations and a new auditorium seating 15,000 persons.

Influence of the west is to be urged by the Denver and San Francisco delegations as a factor which the republican party should consider together with ample auditorium and hotel accommodations. Ohio's position as a pivotal state in the next campaign as well as the central location, railroad, automobile and hotel facilities of Cleveland, are prospective arguments in that city's behalf.

Republican leaders here expect the national convention to be held early in June. June 2 or 3 were tentative dates discussed today with settlement apparently favoring the latter date. Some committeemen are urging a May convention, but any considerable support for such an early meeting it is said has not yet developed.

All Armenian wanted to know. Here is a Turkish story! An angel came upon a Christian, a Jew and an Armenian (the classification is Turkish) and offered each a boon. The Christian asked for power, and received it. The Jew asked for money and received it. The Armenian said "All I ask for is a little information: which one has the money?"

ELECTION RED FIRE

Where are the red fire and the torchlight processions that marked election night when middle-aged voters were boys?

General Apathy rather than general excitement appeared to be in command, writes the political reporter of the last election night, in a city once famous for its stirring campaigns. It was really an important election, involving a change of governmental system as well as official personnel. The vote was heavy, too. But everybody took things calmly. There were no fights at the polls, no brass bands parading the streets, no vast throngs of citizens gathered around the bulletin boards after the polls had closed.

For one thing, the personal element was largely absent. That is natural, when the choice of a head for the city government is geared down to the choice of non-partisan councilmen who, at their own discretion, will choose a city manager, and when the voting is by a complicated, scientific system.

Not every city has yet succeeded to modern political methods, but the tendency everywhere is in this direction. Personality, oratory and fireworks play less and less part in our municipal affairs.

It may be unfortunate from the viewpoint of those who like the dramatic and spectacular—and most people do. But it is fortunate from the viewpoint of good government. It means that, more and more, sober thought is replacing prejudice, passion and machine influence in municipal politics—that city government is coming at last to be handled in a business-like way.

A STATE SPELL-DOWN

Illinois is getting ready for a big spelling contest for which every common school child in the state is eligible. Spelling matches are to be held in individual schools. Winners of school matches will contend in township contests. These winners will try their skill in county spell-downs. Every county will finally send one champion to the state contest to be held in December, at Springfield, on the opening day of the state teachers' convention.

The words to be used in the final contest will be taken from the spellers used in the schools. There are to be no requirements for analysis, definition, diacritical marks or use of words in sentences. Just plain correct spelling is the goal.

Whether or not there is any reward other than the joy of victory, the contests are likely to be rather enthusiastic affairs. There is something perennially thrilling about participation in a well conducted spelling match. If there were more contests such as the one planned in Illinois, it would be an excellent thing for the growing generation of school boys and girls. They are working against difficulties in learning to spell correctly these days, since it has become the fad in advertising and in choosing trade names to indulge not in true simplified spelling, but in perverted spelling.

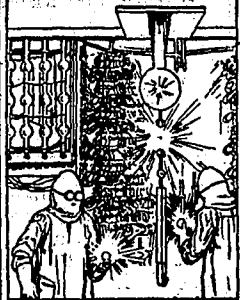

With such phonetic names as "Bid-Jid," hinting at rigidity, "shur-on" implying security, with "k's" taking the place of "s's" and "z's" used for "s's," with parts of different names combined to form one word-looking trade name, and with countless other strange word forms and spellings, it is hard for the young spellers—or even his elders—to keep the letters of the alphabet in their proper places in words.

What the World Is Doing

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Makes Headless Light by Harnessing Electrons

After two years of experimenting to develop bottled, headless light, an eastern inventor has announced discoveries that may result in the harnessing of almost limitless power for the use of mankind. He claims that he has succeeded in inventing a tube, not unlike the ordinary electric bulb, that will give 100 candle-power continuously for three hours without connecting wires, batteries, or need of renewals.

It is known that every bit of rock, piece of steel, or even a penny is a colossal reservoir of energy in the form of electrons, that are constantly moving at a speed of from 10,000 to 100,000 miles a second. In his search for a force that would release this energy and at the same time control it, this inventor developed a 5,000,000 volt flash of lightning, a yard in diameter, which jumped a gap of 37 feet and was maintained for 21 seconds.

The job from the electricity, he says, started a series of "explosions" in the secret material composing the filaments of the lights. But, instead of occurring all at one time, the sparks-tips are spread over a period of years, according to the amount of substance used in the bulb. Special and highly complicated apparatus was used to draw electricity from the air to capture and harness the current used in developing "cold" light. The illustration shows some of this intricate apparatus in his laboratory.

In his experiments, the inventor said that he had made profound changes in the composition of the filaments inside the lights by rubbing the bulbs with green leaves. Also, he says, he was puffed up like a balloon and several pounds were added to his weight by the electrons that entered his system while experimenting in his laboratory.

Easily Made Waterwheel for Running Small Dynamo

By using a light waterwheel of the type illustrated, where sufficient water current is available for turning it, the energy of the flowing water can be transformed and used for practical purposes.

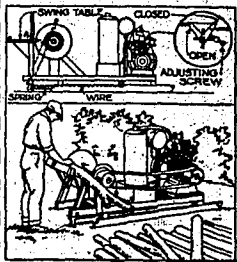

The waterwheel can be made by attaching a number of tin cans, of suitable size, on the felloe of a discarded bucket wheel, and fastening the wheel, together with a pulley, on a shaft that is supported by a wooden frame. The pulleys on the waterwheel and dynamo must be so proportioned in size that it will be possible to revolve the armature at its rated r. p. m., in order to obtain the voltage and amperage that the dynamo is capable of producing. By concentrating the water current in a narrow channel, as shown, a greater force will be exerted on the waterwheel.

Automatic Accelerator for Sawing Onfit

On circular saws it is often necessary to speed up the engine in order to cut heavy wood, but it is, of course, not necessary to have the engine running so fast while no wood is being cut. To take care of the speed variations, an automatic accelerator can be improvised to work in connection with the swing table; when the latter is swung forward the speed of the engine is increased considerably, and when brought back again the engine will slow down. The accelerator consists of a length of flexible wire, one end of which is attached to the leg of the swing table and the other end to the arm of the throttle valve on the carburetor. A large coil spring is connected to the leg of the swing table and the end of the acid so that the cable will be pulled back as soon as pressure against it is released. A small coil spring is also used to pull the throttle valve back to the closed position when the wire is released. The throttle valve is not closed entirely but kept open a trifle by the killing screw.

[There was a decrease in the birth rate in the United States last year and an increase in the death rate, according to recent government figures. The number of births dropped from 34.5 in a 1,000 population in 1921 to 22.7 in 1922, and deaths increased from 11.7 to 11.9.

CHAPTER XII

Remarkable as the apparition of Mr. Bennett appeared to his daughter, the explanation of his presence at that moment in the office of Marlowe, Thorpe, Prescott, Winlow and Apley was simple. He had woken early that morning, and, glancing at his watch on the dressing table, he had suddenly become aware of something bright and yellow beside it, and had glanced, transfixed, like Robinson Crusoe staring at the footprint in the sand. If he had not been in England, he would have said it was a patch of sunshine. Hardly daring to hope, he pulled up the shades and looked out on the garden.

It was a superb morning. It was as if some giant had uncovered a great bottle full of the distilled essences of grass, trees, flowers and hay. Mr. Bennett smiled luxuriantly. Gone was the gloom of the past ten days, swept away in a great exhilaration.

Breakfast had deepened his content. Henry Mortimer, softened by the fine balmy influence had been perfectly charming. All the little differences had melted away in the genial warmth. And then suddenly Mr. Bennett remembered that he had sent Billie up to London to entice the aid of the Law against his old friend, and remorse gripped him. Half an hour later he was in the train on his way to Epsom to intercept her and cancel her mission. He had arrived breathless at Sir Malia's office, and the first thing he had seen was his daughter in the arms of a young man who was a total stranger to him. The shock took away his breath again just as it was coming back. He advanced stealthily into the room, and supported himself with one hand on the desk, while with the other he plied the handkerchief on his superheated face.

Billie was the first to speak. "Why, father," she said, "I didn't expect you!"

As an explanation of her behavior this might, no doubt, have been considered sufficient, but as an excuse for Mr. Bennett thought it inadequate. He tried to convey a fatherly reproof by puffing like a seal after a long dive in search of fish.

"This is Sam," proceeded Billie. "San Marlowe."

Mr. Bennett became aware that the young man was moving toward him with outstretched hand. It took a lot to disconcert Sam, and he was the calmest person present. He gave evidence of this in a neat speech. He did not in so many words congratulate Mr. Bennett, ending on the scene from this point of vantage and mopping with a large handkerchief a scarier face, which, as the result of climbing three flights of stairs, had become slightly soluble. "Great Heavens above!"

The Screen

THE GOWN SHOP TO BE SHOWN AT ORPHEUM One of the largest casts ever used in a motion picture comedy is found in "The Gown Shop," Larry Bonom's latest comedy. This Vitaphone laugh producer brings humiltable Larry Bonom, a display of fashionable frocks, an irate wife, an angrier boss, a villainous boss tailor and a pretty sales lady in complications and situations that prove hilarious. This picture will be shown at the Orpheum theater for the balance of the week.

"CHILDREN OF DUST" Reflecting life as it really is, the First National Picture "Children of Dust," which is at the Orpheum theater this week, is a masterpiece. It is a production of which Frank Borzage, its director, may well be proud. Not since "Humoresque," which this brilliant man also created, has there been a picture so true to life and devoid of artificiality.

Three Men AND a Maid By P. G. Woodhouse Illustrations by Irwin Myers

"I thought you would be pleased," said Billie, relieved, but puerile. For a man of voluble passions, as Sam Marlowe had described him, he seemed to be taking the thing very much. She had anticipated a strenuous scene.

"Oh, it's a great compliment," Mr. Peters assured her.

At this point Sam came in, interrupting the conversation at a moment when it had reached a somewhat difficult stage. He had finished the installment of the serial story in Home Whispers, and, looking at his watch, he fancied that he had allowed sufficient time to elapse for events to have matured along the lines which his imagination had indicated.

The atmosphere of the room seemed to him, as he entered, a little strained. Billie looked pale and agitated. Mr. Peters looked rather agitated, too. Sam caught Billie's eye. It had an unspoken appeal in it. He gave an imperceptible nod, a reassuring nod, the nod of a man who understood all and was prepared to handle the situation.

"Come, Peters," he said in a deep, firm, quiet voice, laying a hand on the clerk's arm. "It's time that you went."

"Yes, indeed, Mr. Samuel! Yes, yes, indeed!"

"I'll see you out," said Sam soothingly, and led him through the outer office and onto the landing outside.

"Well, good luck, Peters," he said, as they stood at the head of the stairs. "I hope you have a pleasant trip. Why, what's the matter? You seem upset."

"That girl, Samuel! I really think—really, she cannot be quite right in her head."

"Nonsense, nonsense!" said Sam firmly. "She's all right! Well, good-by."

"Good-by, Mr. Samuel."

"When did you say you were sailing?"

was sitting limply on the chair which John Peters had occupied. She sprang to her feet.

"Has he really gone?"

"Yes, he's gone this time."

"Was he—was he violent?"

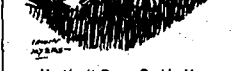

"A little," said Sam, "a little. But I calmed him down." He looked at her gravely. "Thank God I was in time!"

"Oh, you are the bravest man in the world!" cried Billie, and burying her face in her hands, burst into tears.

"Was there any more?" Sam asked.

"There! Come, come! It's all right now! There, there, there!"

He knelt down beside her. He slipped one arm round her waist. He patted her hands.

I have tried to draw Samuel Marlowe so that he will live on the printed page. I have endeavored to delineate his character so that it will be as an open book. And, if I have succeeded in my task, the reader will by now have become aware that he was a young man with the gall of an army mule. His conscience, if he ever had one, had become strophed through long diuvas. He had given this sensitive girl the worst fight she had had since a mouse had got into her bedroom at school. He had caused John Peters to totter off to the Rupert street music making long, bleating noises. And did he care? No! All he cared about was the fact that he had earned forever from Billie's mind that magnified picture of himself as he had appeared on the boat, and substituted another which showed him brave, resourceful, gallant. All he cared about was the fact that Billie, so cold ten minutes before, had allowed him to kiss her for the forty-second time. If you had asked him, he would have said that he had acted for the best, and that out of evil cometh good, or some alighting thing like that. That was the sort of man Samuel Marlowe was.

His face was very close to Billie's, who had cheered up wonderfully by this time, and he was whispering his degraded words of endearment into her ear, when there was a sort of explo-

OFFICERS HERE JOIN HUNT FOR FRAUD SUSPECT

Search for Two Wanted Men Alleged to Have Defrauded Nevada Merchant Leads Across State Line

Twin Falls county and city authorities joined Wednesday in an effort to apprehend two men sought by Nevada officers on charges of obtaining merchandise worth about $500 and $150 in cash, giving a bad check on a bank in payment.

The wanted men were reported to have been seen at Rogerson, near which place, it was later reported, one of the suspects, who gave the name of G. Hammer, was taken in custody by Nevada officers. Search for his companion is being continued.

Authorities here were brought into the pursuit when it was reported that the wanted men had been spotted at Rogerson transferring property from their horse-drawn wagon into a motor operated by a local laundry, and it was believed that they were coming toward Twin Falls. Officers set to watch roads entering Twin Falls from Rogerson intercepted the motor, but when the wanted men made the property in question was discovered.

Fine as Ranchman According to reports received here, the wanted men obtained from a Nevada merchant the merchandise and cash they are alleged to have obtained as ranchmen purchasing supplies for the winter.

IMPORT RATES ON WHEAT TO BE STUDIED

on production costs in competing countries and in the United States. Investigation abroad, however, it is added, would be confined largely to Canada because of the considerable shipments of wheat which came from the dominion, resulting in complaint by producers of the United States to feel the rate to be in jeopardy.

The commission was urged again today to speed up its inquiry in a reply by the American Farm Bureau, Federation, which declared through Washington office that the home market would break under the strain Canadian shipments southward if a commission marked time in its investigation.

ADMITS ATTACK ON REPUTATION TO SPEED TRIAL

E. F. Walton, Suing Publisher for $42,000 for Libel, Raises No Objection to Testimony of Boise Men.

Insisting upon immediate trial of the suit wherein E. F. Walton seeks to receive $42,000 in damages from H. E. Masters, publisher of the Twin Falls Times, on grounds of alleged libel, counsel for Walton in district court here Wednesday admitted affidavits as to the testimony of two Boise residents, who, defense counsel stated, would testify that Walton's reputation for truth and veracity and integrity, during his residence in Boise, was bad, and that "even though all of the material allegations of the plaintiff (Walton's) complaint concerning defamation of the plaintiff would be admitted, the plaintiff would not suffer damage or damage in any substantial amount by reason thereof."

Boise residents named in the affidavits were Jean Johnson and James Luuk. They were named in a motion for continuance of the case to November 19, as witnesses whose testimony would be offered in person at that time. Both men, the affidavit said, are now subpoenaed as witnesses in district court at Boise, and for that reason cannot attend an immediate trial here.

Jury Incomplete The motion for continuance was denied by Judge W. A. Babcock, when counsel for the plaintiff Walton announced that the testimony of the two Boise men, as set forth in the affidavits, would be admitted without objection by the plaintiff.

Only eleven jurors were in the box when the panel was exhausted at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening. Judge Babcock ordered a special venire for the additional jurors returned this morning. Counsel for Walton exercised five jurors for cause and each side exercised one peremptory challenge. Statement as to the testimony which it was expected the Boise men would give relative to Walton's reputation in Boise was contained in an affidavit signed by E. F. Walton (counsel for plaintiff), and offered in support of the motion for continuance.

A similar affidavit filed by the defendant Masters set forth his belief that the Boise men would testify, if present at the trial, that "the plaintiff (Walton) and one E. F. Walton, convicted in the district court of this county on a charge of intoxicating liquor without a license, were and are, one and the same person."

Jurors remaining in the box when the panel was exhausted Wednesday evening were A. W. Nelson, H. P. Barger, S. G. McAuley, George E. Goff, Kenyon Green, C. H. Burton, H. A. Brice, E. B. Johnson, Fred Nihart, Eugene Wahl, W. L. Gramann. Prospective jurors in the case who had not been exercised up to that time were J. C. Allen, S. H. Bolton, P. W. McRoberts, James Fitzgerald, W. T. Combs, Z. H. North, E. B. Shepherd. The case for the plaintiff Walton is being conducted by Attorneys Thomas C. Mills, Twin Falls, and E. E. Dampier, Rupert. Counsel for the defendant Masters consists of Attorney E. A. Walters and members of the firm of Hodgins, Stephan and North.
