Military Control Mission to Be Resumed and Germany Must Give Protection; Insist on Keeping William in Doom

PARIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—The allies through their representatives in the ambassadors' council tonight agreed to notify Germany that the inter-allied military control mission will resume its functions in the Reich and that the Berlin government is bound to afford it facilities and protection.

They also decided upon a second communication in which they note the former crown prince's letter renouncing the throne of Prussia and voice expectations that the German government will see to it that Frederick Wilhelm faithfully observes the promises made therein. Under these conditions the allies will not insist upon laying hold of the prince, but they declare the German government must rigidly adhere to its assurance that the return of former Kaiser Wilhelm to Germany will not be tolerated.

Must Adhere to Treaty. This is the first time the allies have agreed on a question relating to the execution by Germany of the treaty of Versailles since the partition of Upper Silesia was referred to the league of nations two years ago.

The unusual action of leaving a meeting in full accord appeared particularly agreeable to members of the council who came out of the cloakroom of the foreign office radiant. Marshal Foch, who usually posed the line of reporters with military dignity, said to the "cherry" words, "Everything is all right."

Francis Pickens. The agreement was reached by mutual concessions on the part of France and Great Britain. The former withdrew from its stand that the notes should take the form of a mandate and indicate to the German government the measures to be taken by the allies if the demands were not met. The British consented to a change in the wording to satisfy objections on the part of the French cabinet.

The spirit of the agreement which resulted in having the entente is regarded as the best augury for the settlement of the other questions on which France and Britain are divided although there appears to be some apprehension in French circles to how parliament will receive the ambassadors' conclusions.

The migration of the entente caused no little joy in official circles, however, and Jules Cambon, to whom a great share of the credit for the result is attributed was the object of warm congratulations from his former colleagues of the foreign office and from the other members of the ambassadors' council.

Success Predicted. Speculation as to the impression the notes will make in Berlin tends toward the belief that Chancellor Stresemann (Continued on Page Five)

Woman on Trial for Third Time in Murder Case

Mrs. Martha Gardner, Wife of Man Recently Executed, Faces Charges Again; Have Trouble Selecting Jurymen

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 21 (AP)—For the third time Mrs. Martha Gardner, wife of George Gardner, recently executed, is facing a jury of a first degree murder charge alleged to have "aided, abetted and encouraged" her husband in the slaying of Joseph Irvine April 15, 1925. More than two days were consumed in selecting a jury.

George Gardner was executed August 31 after killing Joseph Irvine and Gordon Stewart, a deputy sheriff, following an attempt of the deputy to deprive certain of Gardner's property for the Irvine.

Witnesses for the state today testified that shortly after the deputy sheriff appeared at the Gardner ranch Gardner shot him. Mrs. Gardner is then said to have screamed "You have killed an innocent man. Don't kill any more innocent men. Get let me live." The witness then testified that Gardner started to a gulch near the house where Irvine was looking at some cattle. The killing of Irvine was not related in the testimony due to adjournment.

SHIP'S OFFICER FREED BY COURT

Sixth Defendant to Be Tried in Court Martial Is Found Not Guilty of Charges

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 21 (AP)—The general court martial trying officers on charges growing out of the Point Honda destroyer disaster in which seven destroyers were wrecked, this afternoon acquitted Commander Louis P. Davis, the sixth defendant to be tried. He had been charged with negligence in permitting a vessel in the navy to run upon the rocks at Woodbury, which Commander Davis had been commanding, was a total loss as a result of the disaster.

The seventh trial, that of Lieutenant Commander Herbert O. Roese, who commanded the destroyer Nicholas, began at noon as the judge advocate read the verdict of acquittal in the Davis case. The charge was identical with the charge in the case of Commander Davis and the specifications differed only in the naming of the Nicholas instead of the Woodbury as the vessel wrecked. Five witnesses were examined before the court adjourned.

She made application for the transfer yesterday to Prohibition Director Garfield, but refused to discuss her collar. Officials said the regulation did not allow them to disclose confidential information relating such applications because "certain applicants for such transfer permits are of such respectable standing in this community" that they were afraid such disclosures might "shamefully harm them."

We feel sure that the only way by which friends of these progressives may succeed in having one of

Move is Started to Combine Bourbons and Third Party in Consolidated Program

Leaders Admit Desirability of Suggested Plan

Mutually Acceptable Planks on Agriculture and Transportation Basis for Arguments; Talk Party Candidates

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Nov. 21 (AP)—A move to bring together the democratic and farmer-labor party organizations in South Dakota was made today in at least two counties. While conversations on the possibility of aligning the two parties on a single national ticket have not yet reached the stage of formal negotiations, leaders in both ranks admit that the amalgamation effort may be successful if mutually acceptable planks on agricultural policy and transportation can be written into a unified platform.

Following the resolution of the Hughes county democratic proposal convention, urging coalition with the third party, democrats in Minner and Minnehaha counties met today with farmer-labor delegates informally to discuss the possibilities of a common meeting ground on national issues. Spokesmen for both groups were reluctant tonight as to just what progress had been made, but from one of the democratic participants it was learned that a conference of committees from the two state conventions to be held at Pierre December 4 had been agreed on in principle. What such committee might be able to accomplish in bringing the two organizations together for the state primary in March behind a ticket headed by former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will be a question in the minds of "McAdoo" supporters, who, as a result of yesterday's county proposal convention, predict a quick nomination for McAdoo in the state convention.

From within the farmer-labor party the suggestion has come that McAdoo is an acceptable second choice to a considerable element of the third party in the event that Henry Ford cannot be given the democratic nomination at Pierre. This group, according to one of its amalgamation spokesmen, sees more hope of practical accomplishment with a progressive democratic ticket than in a third party battle, which never has been successful in South Dakota since 1912. Lacking a Roosevelt to head their ticket, the farmer-labor group does not look forward with confidence to a state victory over the old parties, a fact in the view of both the democrats and farmer-labor union elements which points to the wisdom of co-ordinated campaign on a liberal platform against the republican ticket.

NINE KILLED IN FACTORY BLAST

Fifteen Are Injured, Five May Die, as Result of Explosion of Refinery Boiler

NEW IBERIA, La., Nov. 21 (AP)—Nine persons are known to have been killed and 15 others injured, five of them probably fatally, as the result of a boiler explosion late today at the Vidua sugar refinery at Lousenville, 10 miles east of here.

The dead: SIDNEY BROUSSARD, nephew of Senator Edwin S. Broussard of Louisiana, plantation manager. OSCAR BROUSSARD, superintendent. DENIS MESDAYER, employe. L. D. TOUZEN, employe.

Three other employes are unaccounted for and are believed to have been killed. Nine bodies had been recovered tonight from the ruins of the plant.

Of the injured, the number was about equally divided between white and negro employes. The explosion came without warning just as a battery of five boilers had been steamed up preparatory to starting the season's work. The refinery, which employs 100 persons, was a complete loss, estimated at $100,000.

BANK QUESTION IS GIVEN STUDY

St. Louis Men Seek to Prevent Supreme Court from Deciding Branch Privilege

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Efforts to prevent the supreme court from deciding whether national banks have the right to establish branches were made today by Solicitor General Beck and F. H. Sullivan, counsel for the First National bank of St. Louis. During oral argument of a case brought by the bank to have set aside an injunction granted by the supreme court of Missouri, restraining it from opening branches, they urged the court to hold that states could not raise such questions and that it was a matter exclusively within the jurisdiction of the federal government.

Solicitor General Beck joined with Mr. Sullivan in contending that states could not under their own laws or under federal statutes challenge the right of national banks to establish branches, or exercise any jurisdiction over the activities of such banks, or an implication violated by a charter rights or exceeded its privileges in any way. It could only be upheld through proceedings instituted in the federal courts by the comptroller of the currency.

While Solicitor General Beck announced that he was willing to admit that the branch established by the St. Louis bank was illegal, if it transacted business beyond that of merely accepting deposits and cashing checks, which Attorney General Daugherty is a recent federal court decision held such branches could do, he insisted that the state of Missouri was helpless to prevent the establishment of such a branch bank by instituting a proceeding in the courts.

Discussing the attorney's opinion Mr. Sullivan asserted that it was not the intention of congress in the national banking act to prohibit branch banks. All growth of national banks, he contended, was not to be perpendicular, but they could also grow horizontally, and as their business required open additional buildings or offices.

U. S. COURT DENIES PLEA OF WALTON

Federal Judge Dismisses Deposed Executive's Suit; Another State Official Impeached; "Clean-up" Continues

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 21 (AP)—J. C. Walton failed today in his second effort to obtain federal intervention in the action of the state senate court of impeachment which Monday removed him as governor.

Judge John H. Cotterell, in the United States district court here, reaffirming a ruling handed down at Lawton, Oklahoma, the day before the impeachment trial opened, held that his court had no jurisdiction in the case and ordered by George F. Short, state attorney general, to dismiss the deposed executive's suit.

Walton entered an exception to the decision and announced that he would appeal to the United States supreme court. The former governor sought a retroactive restraining order to nullify all proceedings of the impeachment court. He alleged his impeachment resulted from a conspiracy between the Ku Klux Klan and members of the legislature.

"Denied Fair Trial" Walton's counsel referred to the "pretended trial" before the impeachment court and declared that the deposed governor had been denied "a equal protection of the law" as guaranteed by the federal constitution.

Attorney-General Short characterized the charges as "frivolous." At the conclusion of the hearing Walton went to the Oklahoma county jail house and declared that he expected to be indicted by the district court grand jury which was to be sworn today. He said he did not know what the charges would be, but desired to be present to submit to arrest at once. He waited for some time, but the grand jury did not report today.

J. K. Wright, county attorney, has announced that report probably would be made tomorrow. Beth Impeached Meanwhile the lower house of the legislature continued its "clean-up" campaign and impeached Charles H. Ruth, state supreme court commissioner, on charges of trafficking in executive clemency. Charges, drafted by an investigation committee, were approved 84 to 1 and will be filed in the senate court for trial.

Ruth, long a close political and personal friend of Walton, was appointed to his office by the deposed executive. He is charged with obtaining a leave of absence for Will Hendrix of Murray county, who was sentenced to 90 days on a liquor charge, and was under $5,000 bond in connection with a highway robbery case. Hendrix, according to the impeachment bill, furnished the bond and disappeared following the granting of the leave.

Governor of Kansas Says Farmers Bought Too Much Machinery in Bountiful Years; Testifies at Hearing

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 21 (AP)—The plight of farmers of the mid-west is attributable, at least in part, to extravagance during years of prosperity, W. J. Bailey, governor of the Kansas Federal Reserve bank, testified here today in the latest state commerce commission hearing on grain and freight costs. He testified that Mr. Bailey declared that he believed farmers had bought too much machinery in more bountiful years.

"Governor Bailey," asked Commissioner J. B. Campbell, "do you think the farmer should give up his motor car, his tractor, his telephone, his extraneous part of a motor car, his refrigerator, or a radio?" asked commissioner.

"I used to go along with a team wagon," Mr. Bailey answered. "Mr. Bailey pointed out that he is not in such bad financial straits as people believe."

Russia's Foreign Minister Declares Neighbor Country Will Pay Dearly for Assassination of Red Envoy

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (AP)—Switzerland has been placed permanently on the black list by the Russian soviet government in consequence of the acquittal at Lausanne of Maurice Conrad, who was charged with the assassination of the soviet envoy, Vorovsky, Foreign Minister Tchitcherin declared in an interview published today.

Switzerland will pay dearly for the crime, said Tchitcherin, for which the entire Swiss bourgeoisie was responsible. Russia would have no official dealing with the country and would not trade with her, preferring to lose money rather than to do so. No Russian would visit Switzerland, he said. Conrad's acquittal aroused indignation here.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Orders for the release of Lothar Wiseke, the only German spy convicted in the United States during the world war, caused considerable official commotion Tuesday in Washington, but the orders will stand as issued two weeks ago by Secretary Weeks, and Wiseke will be liberated today from Leavenworth prison. His sentence was commuted by President Wilson to life imprisonment. Wiseke's conduct at the prison is reported to have been excellent. Movies of Recent Zev-In Memorial Contest Belie Verdict Given by Judges

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Slow motion pictures of the Zev-In Memorial match race Saturday at Churchill Downs, Louisville, exhibited today for the first time by the Pathé company, show in Memoriam an apparent victor by a half head, although part at least of this margin was due to the location of the camera six feet beyond the finish line. The judges declared Zev qualified by a nose in one of the most thrilling thoroughbred races in history.

Calculation of the camera's location to the wire and distance from the horses at the finish gives in Memoriam an advantage of about four inches in the pictures, according to an explanation made by Samuel Cohen, Pathé editor, to newspaper men who witnessed a special showing of the films.

"Discounting this, however, it was pointed out in Memoriam apparently had a lead of approximately eight inches, inasmuch as the margin actually apparent in the pictures is about 18 inches.

How many kinds of automobile insurance do you carry? UNDOUBTEDLY you are protected against fire and theft. Possibly you also carry a fair amount of "liability and property damage." Very likely you stop right there and drive along with a comfortable, "peace-of-mind" feeling. Why not go a little further this year? How about "life" insurance for your motor? The policy is a simple one—inexpensive—and pays surprisingly good dividends. What is the policy?—Consistent use of the correct grade of POLARINE and periodic draining of the crankcase—at least every 500 miles. The Cost?—About a quarter of a cent per mile for the average car. The Dividends?—Saving a lot of avoidable repair bills that result from improper lubrication. The Polarine Chart will show you the correct grade to use in your car this winter. JUNIORS GIVE JEROME TEAM BAB DRUBBING

Anderson's Young Huskies Return from North Side Contest with 60-6 Victory; Locals Break Line Easily

Couch Anderson's huskies were victorious once more when the Jerome second string went down before their scintillating attack by an overwhelming score of 60-6 at Jerome Wednesday.

For the local gridlers Owens, Dunn, Berg and Frazzelle were stars, Owens displaying his usual flash by unscrambling end runs and return of punts. Berg showed heady and fast generalship of the team. Frazzelle displayed a smashing attack and kicking, and Dunn did some clever punting.

The Jerome honors were shared between LeMay and Paikmann, LeMay did the Jerome kicking and made the larger part of the Jerome gains through the line, while Paikmann stepped many a Twin Falls play before it was organized and proved to be the Cubs' greatest stumbling block on the line.

A full-sized crowd of Jerome fans witnessed the game, which was played on the dusty league field in Jerome. The game was called at 3 o'clock with a slight wind blowing from the west. Twin Falls won the toss and received the ball and promptly marched up the field for their first touchdown. Two more scores were soon negotiated in the first quarter. Kelly took the oval on the 35-yard line on the kickoff and pranced through the seconds for one of the scores and line bucks explain the other.

Second Quarter
The second quarter opened with the score 20-0. Kelly and Owens regularly made yardage and advanced the ball to the 35-yard line, where Owens got away for his first long run around end for the fourth score. Dunn kicked goal in the absence of Frazzelle. Shortly after the next kickoff Jerome was forced to punt. LeMay sent the ball for 35 yards and Owens side-stepped, whirled, and sprinted 75 yards for the next score, which made the total 34-0 when Dunn again converted. Owens replaced Kelly, who moved into Berg's place at quarter and Jerome chose to kick off.

The Cubs started another parade up the field, but lost the ball on a fumble and Jerome kicked to the 29-yard line with no return. An incomplete pass and a blocked punt gave Jerome the ball on the 15-yard line. The junior high line held the seconds for downs, but an offside made Jerome's first down and put the ball on the 5-yard line. LeMay crashed his way through on the next play for their single score. Jerome kicked off again to Vance, who toddled up the field for 20 yards before being downed, and the Cubs lost the ball on downs as the half ended.

Second Half
The second half found the Cubs again presenting the same line-up that started the game, which had largely been replaced during the half. Hartklopf was also relieved of the referee duties by Superintendent Hillman, who officiated during the first half. Twin Falls kicked off to Jerome and LeMay soon punted. Frazzelle sent the ball back and LeMay returned again. In the exchange Twin Falls gained 25 yards, but lost their advantage when an offside and poor kick out of bounds gave the ball to Jerome on the 30-yard line. Vance broke through the Jerome forward wall and nailed LeMay for a 5-yard loss and Jerome again punted, the ball going to Stimpson who returned it to the 30-yard line. Frazzelle carried the ball four times for the next touchdown. Score, Jerome seconds 6, Twin Falls cubes 41. Twin Falls again kicked off and Jerome was forced to punt. A pass, Frazzelle to Gentry, was completed but there was no gain. Falkman made some brilliant tackles and held the Cubs for

BRUINS BEGIN WORK FOR GAME

Twin Falls Squad Out in Full Force for Practice for Contest on Thanksgiving Day

The Bruin squad again donned their meekskins Wednesday night and began the limbering up process in preparation for their game with Nampa on Thanksgiving day. The squad was out in full force. Coach Evans put the huskies through a stiff drill practice and the boys looked like old times. They seemed to have regained the old time scintillating attack by an overwhelming score of 60-6 at Jerome Wednesday.

Nampa will be somewhat of an unknown quantity, and are coming with the reputation of being one of the strongest aggregations in the western division. The showing of the Filer team against them this coming Friday will give the local fans a chance to estimate the strength of the Nampaites. And the score in the Thanksgiving game will give the dopsters something to speculate on for the rest of the winter for they should be able to figure out how much better Twin Falls was than Boise.

THEATER SQUAD TAKES VICTORY

Retain Close Second Position by Taking Two Out of Three from Sugar Factory

In Wednesday evening's round of bowling the Idaho theater retained their position as close seconds to the crack Times team when they succeeded in snatching two out of three from the Sugar Factory bowlers.

Captain Linville hung up the high score for the evening with a total of 540 plus and thus did his share in helping the winning streak of the Theater lads.

The "Movie" boys had 2308 pins to their credit against the Sugar Makers' 2372. Both teams got a flying start in the first game with Kischner and Linville making nice scores for the Theater lads which were balanced by the scores of Sivers and Squires and the remaining sugar makers were able to bring the score up 898-704 in their favor. The Sugar Factory bowlers fell down in the next session and "Hoolla" Linville's squad ran away with that one with a score of 723-747.

The last game started with both teams playing for the game. The Theater lads were the more consistent bowlers, however, and left the Sugar Makers far behind with an 825-739 score.

STRIKES AND SPARES.
After the demonstration shown Tuesday evening by the Times bowlers, Wednesday's games seemed rather dull; shame to disappoint the fans, but they can't all be that way. Anyway, the two teams last evening were pretty evenly matched.

Phil Fix wasn't up to his usual peak last evening and his place in the lead will be threatened this week. And his won't be the only one. Bill Scilly has been out of practice for the last week or more and the score of 415 shows it. That means the skills for Bill's place for the week.

Among the new bowlers for the Theater lads we have Kischner, who seems to have the stuff, and was delivering 11, too, in last evening's round.

Moore was back on the job for the Showmen and finished the evening with 464 pins, after a week's absence from the alleys.

Still the fellow Hoolla Linville had been all cheered for the good scores. He was closely followed by another anchor man of the Sugar Factory, Squires, who went 510 for the evening.

Tonight finishes the third week when the Shoe Market "Sheiks" meet "Top" Kieffer's disciples of the Golden Rule.

Woman Rider Cures Rogue Racehorse

Ramus, famous French racehorse, was left at the post in the recent Goodwood Cup race in Paris, despite the efforts of Steve Donoghue, great English rider. Ramus has been known as a rogue horse—one that refused to start and always tried to kill his jackey. But Ramus has yielded now, for Miss Fanny Helly, prominent turf-woman and owner of a racing stable, took him over, and, under her feminine hand, he has been broken and makes his starts without further fuss. A great racing future is predicted for the horse.

TITLE CONTEST GOES TO BOISE

Winner of Idaho Falls-Burley Clash to Play for Championship at Capital City

According to a ruling by J. J. Rao, secretary of the state board of control of athletics, Kellomaki high school, winners of the championship of the northern division in football, forfeited the game to have been played at Baker, Ore., on Friday, November 23, to Boise. Therefore Boise will meet the winner of the Burley-Idaho Falls game Thanksgiving in Boise. The game will be in Boise, regardless of which team wins.

The Twin Falls fans are fairly well divided on the outcome of Friday's struggle. Many claim that the Burley aggregation cannot be beaten, while as many more say the Joe Maddox can turn the trick. Burley will have a weight advantage that will be hard to overcome. And on the other hand Idaho Falls has a powerful pair of ends who are being drilled to break up the Burley interference that enables Gannino and Kerchick to make substantial gains on short end runs. It will be a pretty contest to watch and many fans are planning for the trip. Barring a storm between now and Friday the roads should be in good condition and it is expected that a large delegation of Blue and White supporters will make the trip to see the contest.

VANDALS FACING ODDS IN COMING GRID GAME

Followers of Idaho Football Team Rejoiced at Possibility of Defeat at Hands of Southern California

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Nov. 21.—Followers of the Idaho football Vandalers are generally reconciled to the possibility of Idaho suffering a second defeat at Los Angeles Saturday at the hands of the University of Southern California. The Idaho eleven left Boise for California undefeated and not scored upon but both honors went sailing against Stanford, for the Cardinals tore and passed through to a 17-7 victory.

The reason for Idaho's unfavorable outlook in the final game is the lack of suitable reserve strength for such a heavy tail-end schedule. But even then there is no justification in giving up hope. Idaho's players have always displayed remarkable comeback powers and Southern California will not have such a tremendous weight advantage. The Stanford game saw the pitting of the lightest and heaviest clowns in the conference. Games on for Saturday have a strong flavor of tradition. The Southern California-Idaho game is the only one that lacks that bitter background which makes annual games so thrilling, but it will be an important contest because of the thriller last fall with which Idaho opened football relations with the California institution.

Other games for the day are Stanford-California, which will be the last opportunity to unseat the Golden Bears; Oregon and the Oregon Aggies; Washington State and Washington.

DENIES MOTION FOR ACQUITTAL

Efforts by Browning Defense for Verdict of Not Guilty Meet Opposition

SALT LAKE, Nov. 21 (AP)—Late this afternoon after the prosecution had spent practically the entire day in presenting regular testimony, Judge M. L. Ritchie denied the motion for a directed verdict of not guilty in the case of Marriette A. Browning, and John Browning, Jr., who are charged with the slaying of Benjamin Ballantyne last April 9. Just before court adjourned the prosecution stated it had completed its argument and would rest. The defense will begin its case tomorrow. Judge Ritchie also refused to change his ruling on the admissibility of the alleged dying statements of Ballantyne as testimony and declared that his ruling of last week admitting the statements would stand.

The motion directed verdict was made by the defense Monday on the grounds that the prosecution had insufficient evidence and that the court should reconsider its ruling on the dying statements.

During the presentation of the case the state has succeeded in having the alleged statements of Ballantyne admitted as testimony. It has also stated that the Brownings had forfeited their right to plead self-defense when they entered Ballantyne's home after having been warned to remain out.

Thomas Marriette, counsel for the defense, has given up his case concerning his witnesses tomorrow. At the beginning of the trial he announced that Mrs. Benjamin Ballantyne, wife of the slaying man and sister of John Browning, would be a witness for the defense. John Browning Sr., the inventor, Mrs. John Browning, and Mrs. W. H. Reeder of Ogden, who accompanied the Brownings to the Ballantyne home, were also listed among the defense witnesses.

Smoking Rule Puts Board in Quandary

Education Directors Put Teacher on Probation for Two Months But Fail to Find Officer to Take Charge

SECAUCUS, N. J., Nov. 21 (AP)—The Secaucus board of education which frowns on cigarette smoking by women school teachers, faces a quandary. After placing Miss Helen Clark, teacher in the Huber street school on probation for two months for smoking and acting "like a flapper," it is unable to find anyone to act as probation officer.

Mathew Peckol, supervising principal declined to accept the office, and Albert Schell, president of the board of education, as yet has found no one to keep a watchful eye on Miss Clark during her probation.

The house sent the resolution back to the original committee for further investigation of the charges.

PROHIBITION OFFICERS MAKE BIG LIQUOR HAUL

Liquor Valued at $100,000 Is Seized by Federal Agents in Raid on New York Warehouse

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Prohibition agents seized about $100,000 worth of liquor in a raid this afternoon on the West Broadway warehouse of Baird and Daniels company.

The seizure included 3000 gallons of Italian and French vermouths, 700 cases of gin, several thousand cases of wine and several cases of whiskey.

The firm of Baird and Daniels had a large liquor trade before prohibition, while the raiders busted themselves collecting the liquor in the large warehouse about 17 persons telephoned asking for liquor, according to Agent Brennan. He took down their names and told them they would get what they wanted.

Brennan said a number of customers also came in person to the warehouse seeking liquor while the raid was going on.

MOVE IS STARTED TO UNITE PARTIES

In the last gubernatorial election, held in 1922, the republican candidate won with a total of 79,000 against 59,000 votes for the democrats and 46,000 for the farmer-labor party and on these figures leaders in the coalition move based their prediction that a combined ticket would carry the state against all possibilities in the republican ranks.

The republican state proposal convention, which will be held at Pierre simultaneously with those of the other two parties, will be the first battleground on which the supporters of President Coolidge and Senator Johnson of California will match strength. The Johnson campaign has been intensive and has the avowed support of Governor W. H. McMaster, who has declared for the senatorial race under the Johnson banner. Coolidge supporters today declared themselves "well satisfied" with the results of yesterday's proposal conventions which train all eyes on Pierre.

WATSON MAY ENTER RACE AGAINST JOHNSON

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana may become a candidate on the republican ticket for the nomination for the presidency, "if for no other reason than to win the Indiana vote," he announced here tonight.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD CAUCUS

Call is Issued for Meeting of House Members in December to Organize Plans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—A call was issued today for a caucus of democratic members of the House Saturday night, December 1. House republicans will hold a conference that afternoon—two days before congress convenes—for organizing purposes.

The democratic caucus will meet out after Representative Garrett of Tennessee, who acted as minority leader in the last congress, had conferred with Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, who was democratic whip, Representative

Rayburn of Texas, who served as chairman of the democratic caucus and other party leaders.

Those who participated in the conference expressed the opinion that the democrats in the next house should have greater representation on important committees—also places on committees have a membership of 21 and 11 on the ways and means committee which has 23 members. In the last congress when the republicans majority in the house approximated 170, the ratio was 15 and 9 on committees generally and 17 and 13 on the ways and means committee. The proportion in the forthcoming congress will be determined by the republican committee on committees.

At the democratic caucus, candidates for speaker will be selected and probably the minority members of the ways and means committee who in turn will assign their democratic colleagues to various committees. Democratic leaders generally predict that Mr. Garrett will be put forward for speaker, automatically becoming leader of the party of the election of a republican speaker. Plans are being made to name Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, chairman of the democratic caucus and return him again to the ways and means committee where he served for many years.

The general opinion among diplomats is that the German chancellor will find it advisable to do all he can to comply with the allied demands rather than risk another note harsher in tone and terms, though some believe the great delay in reaching a decision will weaken its effect.

The clearing of the diplomatic atmosphere was so evident that the correspondents waiting in the cold dusk had to ask no questions to know that the entente had been saved.

THE CORRECT VIEWPOINT

Many a Twin Falls man has listened with regret during the past year or two to stories of loans turned down by Twin Falls banks and lived to bemoan the day that cashiers acquired the nerve to say No. Lots of people have blamed these institutions for their apparent unwillingness to come to the financial rescue of this, that or the other concern, forgetting altogether that the main purpose of a bank is to act as a trust agent for its depositors and to put out the depositors' money on only the best of security.

Banks should be appreciated more in times of stress than in times of prosperity. The test of a bank is perpetual, but it is a question if the real strength of the institution is not displayed to better advantage through the ability of its officers to turn down loans than to make them.

People of this section should be well satisfied with their banks. If they are not, a brief review of the banking industry in Southern Idaho during the past year or two should restore their faith.

And it is a matter for congratulation to every fast one of us that the trend of stress is receding further and further into the past and that business conditions are better today than they have been at any time in the past three or four years.

SIGNLESS HIGHWAYS

The governor of Illinois has recently called upon his fellow-citizens to complete the task already begun in that state, of removing all commercial signs from the right of way of state highways. Illinois is proud of the fact that there are in the state hundreds of miles of drives unmarred by unsightly signboards. It is urged that this pleasing result can be made general if every village, town and city in the commonwealth will look after its own territory.

One official, pointing out the advantages of the signless highway policy, says: "It is difficult to catch the meaning of a danger sign at a railroad crossing, side road or cross road when official signs are confused with commercial posters."

"In addition to the danger and inconvenience caused by promiscuous right of way advertising, it detracts from the natural beauty of the drives and deprives tourists of some of the pleasures of travel."

This attitude toward billboard advertising along roads seems to be gaining force right along. Several states, among them Connecticut and Minnesota, have enacted laws similar to that of Illinois. Others have made progress in this matter in varying degrees, while some still need to wake up in regard to the subject.

For the benefit of advertisers who believe in the highway sign, it should be noted that two busy business streets in New York City have recently eliminated all of their street signs, including the electric signs displayed so brilliantly at night. The merchants who brought about this reform did so from purely business motives. Their sign competition had reached a point of saturation so far as public interest was concerned. The absence of distracting signs proved a magnet for customers.

What the World Is Doing

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Hot Weather Forms Ice in Coal Mine

During the summer, ice is mined from a coal pit located in an eastern state. Cold air seeping through earth fissures in winter cools the rocks to a temperature below freezing, but no ice forms because the atmosphere is too dry. At its depth the heat of summer cannot reach the vaults. During warm months, the shaft becomes moist, and when coal was being dug there recently, it is said, the miners had to remove three or four carloads of ice every morning before they were able to get to their posts. As a result, the working was abandoned as a source of fuel, leaving it entirely free for use as a natural refrigerator.

Hunters Snowshoe Over Mud to Stalk Sea Game

Skins and snowshoes are used by fishermen and hunters on the islands of the North Sea to enable them to walk over the wet and slippery mud that covers the ground most of the year. With these it is possible to travel miles over the soggy ground, inhabited by sea-dogs and water fowls, much of which otherwise would be impassable. First the natives strapped big wood boards to their feet, but later it was found that the footgear used to traverse the snowdrifts was more efficient.

It is a difficult matter to catch a moth with the hands as it flies through the air. However, if the hands are moistened, the moth can easily be caught, as the nervousness of a wet surface seems to have a paralyzing effect.

Artist in Diving Suit Paints Sea's Depths

Fishlike birds, and castles of coral, have been painted by an artist who, with weighted palette and a diver's helmet, has walked through the tideless lagoons of the South Seas amid forests of seaweed. On the canvas, cliffs rise sheer, mountains seem to jut at a vast distance and, in one scene, the sky stretches behind a great horizon line which is, in fact, a beach cutting across the water's horizon. The painter's work under water is done on calkink. Fish swim about the artist while he is at work to catch the bits of detached paint. Some of these sea denizens are dangerous, among them being the tiger shark, the octopus, and the ray giant cousin of the stingray, whose weapon is his weight—a ton and a half.

Mistletoe Is Pest in South, Festive Twist Elsewhere

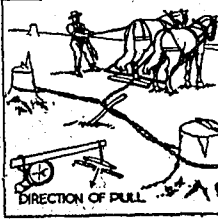

While mistletoe generally is favored as a yuletide decoration, it is regarded as a pest in the Southwest, and for the past 12 years scientists have been studying a way to exterminate it. Government experts call the green spig and its white berries, an "infectious and destructive disease," because it finally kills the trees.

How to Clean Tools

To keep tools clean and bright rub a little mineral oilment over them, which will form a moisture-resisting coating. Mineral oilment is also known as blue butter. It is somewhat poisonous, so should be handled carefully. Another good mixture to keep tools from rusting is made by taking six parts of lard and one part of resin. Heat these together slowly until the resin is melted. The mixture should be heated in the open air in case of fire and become added in about the proportion of one pint of benzine to half a pound of the mixture. When cool, the mixture can be rubbed lightly over the bright-steel articles. Tools thus treated will resist the corrosive action even of salt water.

Effective Method of Pulling Tree Stumps

In pulling stumps a team and one or two long chains will do the work efficiently if arranged as shown. The greater the distance the stumps are apart, the easier they can be pulled. When two stumps are situated close together, loop the chain around each stump and hook it. Twist it by means of a lever to get it as tight as possible, and then pull as shown. In some cases there is no other stump to hitch to, dig down so as to expose the main root, and after fastening one end of the chain, wind it around the stump, and under the root, providing a loop large enough for a 10-in. chain. This pole should be about 20 ft. long, and the team is hitched at one end as indicated in the left-hand detail.

hidden for a bit, and then returned him, and in her gratitude all was forgotten and forgiven, and never... "I know. Never had the bells of the old village church..."

"You mean I ought to steal her dog?" "Precisely, sir." "But, good heavens! Have you seen that dog?"

"I had anticipated that difficulty, sir. In Footpaths of Fate there was a nurse who assisted the hero by drugging the child." "By Jove!" said Sam, impressed.

"He rewarded her," said Webster, allowing his gaze to stray unconsciously over the country-side, "liberally, very liberally." "If you mean that you expect me to reward you if you drug the dog," said Sam, "don't worry. Let me bring this thing off, and you can have all I've got, and my cut-links as well. Come, now, this is really beginning to look like something. Speak to me more of this matter. Where do we go from here?"

"I mean, what's the next step in the scheme? Oh, Lord! Sam's face fell. The light of hope died out of his eyes. 'It's all off! It can't be done! How could I possibly get into the house? I take it that the little brute sleeps in the house!'"

"That need constitute no obstacle, sir; no obstacle at all. The animal sleeps in a basket in the hall... Perhaps you are familiar with the interior of the house, sir?" "I haven't been inside it since I was at school. I'm Mr. Elgnett's cousin, you know."

"Indeed, sir? I wasn't aware. Mr. Elgnett sprained his ankle this morning, poor gentleman." "Has he?" said Sam, not particularly interested. "I used to stay with him," he went on, "during the holidays sometimes, but I've practically forgotten what the place is like inside. I remember the hall vaguely. It's placed at one side, one or two suits of armor standing about a sort of window-ledge near the front door..."

Dreamland Adventures

THE TEN TURKEYS

BY DADDY

(Jack and Janet visit Farmer White's poultry yard to see how fat the Thanksgiving turkeys have become. That tall each other how they would escape if they were shut up, and the turkeys act on their advice, flying over the top of the fence. The children chase them to the fox farm.)

"I think you will be a still more Wonderful dinner."

CHAPTER IV. Bobbie Red-Top Shows Off.

WHEN the turkeys came to the wire fence of the fox farm, they scattered in different directions. Jack and Janet were too tired to chase them further. The children had to sit down and rest.

Tricky Fox, inside the fox farm, licked his chops as he looked out at the nine fat turkeys. He was thinking what a fine meal one of them would make for him. But how could he get a meal when they were on one side of the fence and he was on the other? He couldn't get out. He was too securely shut up to think of that. But if a turkey should happen to come over the top of the fence into the fox farm—yum-yum. Tricky Fox's mouth watered as he thought of the feast he would have.

But Tricky Fox did not say aloud what he was thinking about. In that he was wiser than Jack and Janet had been. Instead he put on a polite smile as he spoke very softly to Bobbie Red-Top, strutting on the other side of the fence.

"Good-day, Master Turkey," said Tricky Fox sweetly. "It is a fine day since I have seen such a fine handsome turkey in these woods. How did you ever escape from the poultry-yard?"

Bobbie Red-Top was much puffed up by Tricky Fox's flattering words. He thought himself a fine handsome turkey, but he liked to hear some one else call him that. He swelled out his chest and strutted about in an important way.

Tricky Fox saw the effect of his flattery, so he added some more. "Farmer White must have been very glad to have such a splendid turkey. I am surprised that he should let so wonderful bird get away!"

Bobbie Red-Top swelled out his chest still more. "Gobbie! Gobbie! He couldn't keep me shut up," boasted Bobbie Red-Top. "I flew over the fence."

"Arf! Really?" said Tricky Fox in polite surprise. "I didn't know that tame turkeys could fly so high. But perhaps it wasn't a very good fence." "Gobbie! Gobbie! It was much higher than this fox yard fence," boasted Bobbie Red-Top.

"Arf! Can that be true?" asked Tricky Fox, still very politely. "What an extraordinary flyer you must be. I can scarcely believe that a turkey can fly as high as the top of this fence. I would like very much to see such a wondrous flying!"

Bobbie Red-Top was puffed up more than ever by these words, just as Tricky Fox intended that he should be. He spread out his wings and looked for a place where he could start flying.

"There is a nice hill to start from," said Tricky Fox, pointing to a bare knoll outside the fox farm. "I will be surprised if you can fly from there over the top of this fence."

"Gobbie! Gobbie. Got ready to be surprised then," boasted Bobbie Red-Top, climbing the knoll. After him climbed the eight other turkeys, all anxious to show that they, too, were fine flyers.

Bobbie took a run into the wind, the gale caught his wings and lifted him up as before. Away he sailed over the top of the fence. After him sailed the other eight turkeys. The gale lulled, the wind no longer held up Bobbie Red-Top and the others. Down they came inside the fence of the fox farm.

"Gobbie! Gobbie! Now you see what a wonderful flier I am," boasted Bobbie Red-Top. "Arf! Yes," agreed Tricky Fox, baring his fangs. "You are a wonderful flier, and I think you will make a still more wonderful dinner for me."

And Tricky Fox started after foolish Bobbie Red-Top. At the same moment other fowls popped out of their holes to go after the other turkeys.

(How Jack and Janet came to the rescue of Bobbie Red-Top will be told in the next chapter.)

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking"

My wife plays solitaire. And she goes right ahead with it, knowing that she's slowly making a nervous wreck of me. She can sit around and talk or read like any other normal person for about half the evening. And then she furiously begins to put up the card table. In a few minutes I hear her shuffling and laying the cards on the table—and I know she's off again.

She'll sit and jinx all by herself for hours on end. I try to talk to her, to get her interested in other things, but once she's started, it's just like trying to get acquainted with President Coolidge.

I can't stand this sort of thing indefinitely. I know. One of these evenings she'll finish her game and find that her husband has just left for a rest cure at some sanitarium where cards aren't allowed.

(Tomorrow—My Husband Yawns.) (Copyright, 1923, by Publio Ledger Co.)

who ever spoke on Canadian soil. Half of that sum will be spent on a mausoleum and shrine at Marion, Ohio. The other one million, five hundred thousand dollars will be invested to keep these buildings up forever.

It is a good, wholesome project, and Canadians who can afford it should subscribe liberally in the name of Canadian-American friendship, of which Harding was a champion.

But this one million, five hundred thousand dollar mausoleum will only be a poor imitation of the shrine Warren Harding erected for himself in Vancouver last July.

No monument can be erected now that will equal in stability, force and appeal the picture that thousands of Canadians carry in their memories of this great, generous man, destined so soon for the grave, stretching out both his arms in love and friendship to the Canadian people in the leafy paradise of Stanley Park.

The new sense of international amity engendered that day in Vancouver and spread by word of mouth and the press to every corner of the North American continent is Warren Gamaliel Harding's most beautiful, most useful and most lasting monument.

And if the loving friends who would perpetuate his memory seek an inscription for the beautiful shrine they will erect to him they will find no truer than this:

"Here is a man who one summer's day drew two nations closer together in friendship, trust and esteem than any two nations have ever been drawn before."

"Excellent!" said Sam. "Terrific! I know I could rely on you. Say no more! The whole thing's settled. You take her out rowing on the lake, and upset the boat. I plunge in... I suppose you can swim?"

"No, sir." "Oh! Well, never mind. You'll manage somehow. I expect. Cling to the upturned boat or something. I shouldn't wonder. There's always a way. Yes, that's the plan. When is the earliest you could arrange this?"

"I'm not sure of the date, but I considered out of the question, sir. It really wouldn't do." "I can't see a flaw in it." "Well, in the first place, it would certainly jeopardize my situation..."

"Oh, hang your situation! You talk as if you were prime minister or something. You can easily get another situation. A valuable man like you," said Sam, indignantly.

"No, sir," said Webster firmly. "From boyhood up I've always had a regular horror of the water. I can't so much as go paddling without an uneasy feeling."

The image of Webster paddling was arresting enough to occupy Sam's thoughts for a moment. It was an inspiring picture, and for an instant uplifted his spirits. Then they fell again.

"Well, I don't see what there is to be done," he said, gloomily. "It's no good making suggestions, if you have some frivolous objection to all of them."

"My idea," said Webster, "would be something which did not involve my own personal and active co-operation. If it is all the same to you, I should prefer to limit my assistance to advice. I am anxious to help, but I am a man of regular habits, which I do not wish to disturb. Did you ever read 'Footpaths of Fate,' in the Nonesuch series, sir? I've only just remembered it, and it contains the most helpful suggestion of the lot. There had been a misunderstanding between the heroine and the hero—their names have slipped my mind, though I fancy his was Cyril and she had told him to hop it..."

THE MARKETS WHEAT SUDDENLY TAKES TURN TO HIGHER LEVEL

Strength of Foreign Exchange Reflected in Grain Quotations; Exchanges Comprise Early Trading

OHIOGAGO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wheat took a sudden upturn in price today at 14 cents, helped to some extent by strength of foreign exchange. The close was firm, 1.4 to 1.5 to 5.8 higher; December, $1.02 5/8 to 1.02 3/4 and May, $1.08 1/4 to 1.08 3/8. Corn, finished at 1.4 to 1.4 1/2 off to 1.2c gain; and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 7 cents.

It was only in the final dealings that a decided trend toward a higher level of prices was shown in the wheat market. Earlier, the bulk of the trading consisted of exchanges between commission houses and elevator interests, the commission houses letting go of December wheat, but taking May and July, whereas the elevators acquired December. In the course of this process, little change in price was noticeable except that during the first half of the day the market underwent something of a decline as a result of lower quotations at Liverpool. Later, however, weakness of the Liverpool wheat market was more than offset by the ascent of foreign exchange rates and by the upward swing of stocks and cotton.

Weakness of offerings as the day drew to an end made shorts in the wheat market uneasy and active local traders taking advantage of circumstances bid prices up. The effort to bring about a moderate market was successful in part as the market ran into commission house selling on the bulge. Closing prices, nevertheless, were at about the day's top figures. Incidentally, bulls put some stress on the fact that primary receipts showed a material falling off.

In the corn market reports that consignments notices from the country were steadily increasing led to selling of December corn and to buying of later months. Firmness of oats was due to scarcity of arrivals.

Provisions averaged higher, influenced by hog values.
