

GRAHAM SEEKS LEADERSHIP IN LOWER HOUSE

Believes Coolidge will Pursue "Hands Off" Policy in Contest; Opposes Continuation of Representative Gillett

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Representative Graham of Illinois after a conference today with President Coolidge announced he would remain in the race for republican leader of the house. He said he had gained the impression that the president would pursue a hands off policy in the contest which has developed between him and Representative Longworth of Ohio.

Mr. Graham explained he had gone to the White House to discuss the general political situation with Mr. Coolidge and his secretary, C. Bacon Stump, for years a member of the house.

While the president desires harmony, said Mr. Graham, he expressed no preference as to candidate for leadership, but indicated it was a question to be settled by republican members of the house.

Discuss Policy.
During his talk with the president Mr. Graham expressed the view that continuation of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts as speaker, with Mr. Longworth, an Ohioan, as republican leader, would not prove popular with the country at large. Such a policy, he contended, might injure republican party prospects in the presidential election next year, because of its national character.

In a formal statement issued after his interview at the White House, Mr. Graham declared the movement to make him leader was not a "radical or insurrectionary" one.

"It is a sane, progressive movement," he continued, "in support of what we are convinced will be for the best interests of the republican party and the country. It is just a matter of good common sense."

Outlines Views.
"If the republican party is to be successful," said Mr. Graham, "if its presidential candidate is to be elected, it must be because the people of the country believe that the whole country is represented and being considered in the administration and conduct of national affairs by the party. We cannot be sectional in our councils. The contest being made on the organization of the house has nothing to do with individual candidates; it is simply an effort to make the house of representatives what it ought to be and what the people demand it shall be, representative in its acts of the whole country, east and west, north and south. To concentrate power in any portion of the country does not meet this requirement."

Mr. Graham declared that house republicans supporting him were deeply concerned with the makeup of committees and would press for representation on all the important ones, including the republican steering committee.

Supporters of Mr. Graham predicted they would muster east 40 votes for him in the republican organization conference which will be held a week from Saturday, two days before the convening of congress.

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 898

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Rowcliffe and Spielberg was the scene of a charming T. J. Douglas.

Wedding Thursday afternoon when their daughter, Irma, became the bride of Willough Rowberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rowberry. The bride and groom stood in front of a pedestal holding a beautiful cut glass vase filled with large white chrysanthemums. On either side pedestals held a large fern and tall brass candelsticks held lighted ivory cathedral candles. The ceremony was performed at 3:45 by the Rev. A. G. Pearson. Miss Eleanor Munson played the wedding march.

The bride's gown was cream lace over silk in the same shade and she carried a shower bouquet of cream roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Dorothy McMill. The shades were drawn and the house lighted with ivory candles. Immediately after the ceremony the guests were seated at one large table and a two-course luncheon was served. The guests numbered 15, being the immediate families and a few intimate girl friends of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Rowberry motored to Hansen where they took the train for Salt Lake, where they will spend a week, after which they will be at home at the Colonial apartments.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rowberry are graduates of the Twin Falls high school. Mrs. Rowberry spent two years at the University of Idaho and is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma society. The going away gown was ruffled and charming in blue and black with hat to match. With this was worn a black coat with fur trimming and black suede shoes and gloves. Mr. Rowberry has been in the employ of the Idaho Light and Power company for several years.

The Presbyterian Missionary society met in the church parlors Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. G. M. Hall, presiding. Devotionals were led by Mrs. James Fitzgerald. After the usual order of business a missionary letter was read by Mrs. A. K. Seaver. An unusually interesting program on Latin America, in charge of Mrs. John C. Harvey, was given, assisted by Mrs. G. H. Krenge and Mrs. Leo Bracken. Refreshments were served by the hostesses who were Mrs. J.

The members of the Shamrock club will entertain their families with a Thanksgiving dinner in the basement of the Community church on Thanksgiving day. Each member is asked to contribute three things for dinner. All are urged to be present and make this a truly happy Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. John W. Graham entertained two tables of players at bridge on Wednesday evening complimentary to Mrs. Clarence N. Bonty, who left on Thursday morning for California.

Mrs. Leonard Vincent and Mrs. A. H. Vincent entertained the Episcopal Guild Thursday afternoon at the home of the former on Sixth avenue north. There was a brief business session with the president, Mrs. C. C. Siggins, in the chair. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Charles W. Simpson entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at her home on Ninth avenue north in honor of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. G. J. Cavanaugh. A color scheme of lavender and pink was used for the table, the centerpiece being a low bowl of sweet peas in pink and lavender combined with violets. The lovely birthday cake bearing 60-pink and lavender candles, was served by the honored guest. Those present in addition to Mrs. Cavanaugh, were Mrs. R. P. Logan, Mrs. G. M. Hall, Mrs. D. B. Adams and Mrs. C. E. Adams.

Mrs. F. H. Higbee and Mrs. C. N. Anderson entertained the Pythian Sisters Social club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Higbee, with a Mother Goose party. Most of the guests were arrayed in Mother Goose costumes. Mrs. J. W. Porter and Mrs. G. R. Halpin as Jack and Jill, being awarded the first prize. Mrs. D. Harvey Cook won the prize offered for guessing the most characters represented correctly. Mrs. Dean Bascom won the regular club favor. Other prizes were won by Mrs. W. G. Thompson and Mrs. C. N. Anderson. Delicious refreshments were served late in the evening. Seventeen members were present, and Mrs. Dan Bascom and Mrs. R. B. Loser were guests.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandmas' Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Can Tell

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brooding at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking good strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—adv.

SHOE MARKET TAKES CONTEST

Squad Goes into Third Place by Two Out of Three Victory Over Golden Rule.

The Shoe Market bowlers ended the week in third place when they won from the Golden Rule Thursday evening two games out of three. Poor bowling and absence of players on both squads were the features of the evening's games. Buchanan was the high man for the evening closing with a total of 546. He was beaten in the individual game score, however, by Roy, who bowled 215 in the second game.

Pop Kieffner's crew were badly handicapped by the absence of two bowlers. A substitute filled one vacancy and the other was taken for the first two games by Milluck, who averaged 83. In the third Rucker took his place in time for the Golden Rule to take at least one game when he rolled 150. For the other squad Jarman was again absent and another dummy filled in there, but the scintillating display of Buchanan against the substitute on the Golden Rule team accounted for the games.

The first and second went to the "Shrikes," with scores of 620-815 and 759-763, respectively. The last game should have been the shoe fitters' and but the steady decline of Reeves and Maxwell's scores were too much to be offset by Buchanan's 203 score and the clerks managed to save one game from the wreck!

The facts:

Golden Rule	Total
Roy	148 116 128—492
A. Boone	150 110 117—377
Milluck	81 85 300—466
Kieffner	102 103 101—431
Substitute	160 150 150—460
Team	620 769 780—2169

Shoe Market

Total
Reeves	188 144 138—470
Maxwell	181 158 144—483
McEwain	131 135 117—383
Buchanan	166 178 203—547
Substitute	150 150 150—450
Team	815 785 782—2382

STRIKES AND BEARERS.
"Pop" Kieffner hopes for a better night next time. Well, anyway, he has one consolation, and that is that he has the bottom berth all alone now; no one to dispute it with him.

However, we'll have to admit that the Golden Ruleers did have their share of hard luck last night.

what they consider practicable plans for promoting world peace. The prize money, tempting as it would not explain all this activity.

The inference is plain that the American people are tremendously in earnest about restoring peace to the world and are eager to back their idealism with practical efforts.

Through all argument and disguise, this big fact forces itself home more and more—that our people are more interested in peace than in any other subject, national or international.

DEGENERACY? For some two or three weeks now some person or persons have been engaging systematically in the work of poisoning dogs.

THE PEACE CONTEST When Edward Bok's peace plan contest was announced a few months ago, many persons took the matter as a joke.

THE TEN TURKEYS

By DADDY

(Jack and Janet visit Farmer White's poultry yard to see how fast the Thanksgiving turkeys have become. The turkeys, aided by a gale, fly over the fence and fly inside among the foxes.)

CHAPTER V.

TRICKY FOX, by his flattery, had fooled the nine foolish turkeys, into flying over the fence into the fox farm. The moment the turkeys landed on the ground they knew they had made an awful mistake.

Jack was the same with the other turkeys—they dashed about, fluttered their wings—made frantic leaps to get away from the foxes.

Jack saw in a flash, the turkeys could not get out of the fox farm, if they were to be saved the children must do something against the fence was a long pole. Some boy must have used it for a fish pole.

Leaning against the fence was a long pole. Some boy must have used it for a fish pole. Jack grabbed the pole. He showed it through the wire fence up as high as he could reach.

Jack had thought of this plan as quickly and he and Janet had worked the sawn pole so fast that the last turkey had been thrown into the air just high enough so he could flutter over the fence.

—Could fly over the fence. (Jack gets the turkeys back into the poultry house in a very clever and funny way, as will be tomorrow.)

"Fine!" "You can then secret yourself in the cupboard in the drawing room. Perhaps you recollect the cupboard, sir?"

"Immediately behind the piano, sir. A nice, roomy cupboard. I was glancing into it myself in a spirit of idle curiosity only the other day."

"You retire quite early, sir, as a rule. By half past ten the coast is generally clear. At that time I would suggest that I came down and knocked on the cupboard door to notify you that all was well."

"You know, you're a master-mind!" he said, enthusiastically. "You're very kind, sir!"

"I'm glad that you appreciate my poor efforts, sir. Then we will regard the scheme as passed and approved?"

"Very good, sir." "I'll be round at about a quarter to eight. Will that be right?"

"And, I say, about that sportive... Don't overdo it. Don't go killing the little beast."

"Oh, no, sir." "Well," said Sam, "you can't say it's not a temptation. And you know what you, Napoleons of the Underworld are!"

CHAPTER XVI Episode One. If there is one thing more than another which weighs upon the mind of a story-teller as he chronicles the events which he has set out to describe, it is the thought that the reader may be growing impatient with him for straying from the main channel of his tale and devoting himself to what are after all minor developments. The story, for instance, opened with Mrs. Horace Hignett, the world-famous writer on Theosophy, going over to America to begin a lecture tour; and no one realizes more keenly than I do that I have left Mrs. Hignett flat. I have thrust that great thinker into the background and concentrated my attention on the affairs of one who is both her mentor and moral inferior to her.
