CITIES ENTER BIDS FOR 1924 DOUBSON MEET

Democratic Party Affairs Center in Committee Meeting to Select Place for National Convention

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Democratic party affairs center the political spotlight today with the arrival of the vanguard of party leaders for the meeting here next Tuesday of the democratic national committee to fix the time and place for the 1924 national convention.

Three cities, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, are leading competitors for the convention, and other invitations are expected from San Francisco, where the 1920 democratic convention was held, Atlanta, Ga., and Louisville, Ky. There is every prospect of a hot contest with New York, which has been represented here for several days offering large financial inducements to capture the convention for the first time in a generation.

Chicago, which failed to obtain the republican national convention for the first time in 50 years, is also prepared for a vigorous contest, with republican leaders in Illinois joining with democrats in urging its selection. George E. Brennan, democratic national committeeman for Illinois, Edward W. Hurley, former chairman of the shipping board, and Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee, heading the Chicago delegation, arrived today, and Mayor Devor of Chicago, and a delegation of business men are due tomorrow.

All are prepared to urge the selection of Chicago as its central location, railroad and hotel facilities and particularly the opportunity of the democratic party for the first time in 50 years to hold the convention in its own city.

St. Louis also is making a strong bid. Mayor Kiel of St. Louis, E. G. O'Leary, Missouri democratic national committeeman, and James Smith, chairman of the civic committee representing St. Louis, are reported en route here. St. Louis was last the scene of a democratic national gathering in 1916, when President Wilson was nominated.

The convention date is expected to be selected for some time in the first week of July, and the date is precedent for the convention being in session at that time, the nominations sometimes having been made on the fourth of July. With the republican convention at Cleveland opening June 10, and because of the democratic custom to hold their convention after that of the opposites, it is regarded as probable that the democratic gathering will open Thursday, July 1.

Coolidge Seeks to Break Tariff Tieup

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Seeking to end a deadlock in the tariff commission which admittedly is regarding the operations of that agency, President Coolidge held lengthy conferences today with Chairman Marvin V. Vose, Chairman Culbertson, the leaders of the deadlocked group. What results were obtained was not disclosed by either of the commission members or by Attorney General Daugherty, who also participated in the discussions.

Building Program for 1923 Breaks All Past Records

New Construction Activities Last Year Exceeded 1922 Figures by 25 Per Cent; Total Fixed at $5,500,000,000

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Building operations of the country in 1923 broke all records, exceeding 1922, the previous record year, by 25 per cent, according to reports released today by S. W. Straus and company, placing the year's total at $5,500,000,000.

An indication that these operations are being carried on a proportionately large scale in the new year is shown in the report for December which gave it a gain of 18 per cent over the same month a year ago.

That the building shortage in many sections of the country is not being made up is shown in the fact that 23 leading cities representing 20 per cent of the country's population, are absorbing 50 per cent of the nation's building activities.

Reports from 256 cities showed 5,232,041,750 building permits had been issued, compared with 4,207,251,872 in 1922.

Pacific coast cities showed the greatest increase in activity with a jump of 41 per cent over 1922. The states showed a 30 per cent gain, the east 18 per cent and the south 14 per cent.

Leading cities ranged as follows: New York, $792,911,590; Chicago, $320,004,217; Los Angeles, $200,133,181; Detroit, $129,092,111; Philadelphia, 123,000,000; Cleveland, $99,590,000; Washington, $48,000,000; San Francisco, $49,004,011; Oakland, Cal., $27,628,870; Portland, Ore., $25,217,135; Long Beach, Cal., $24,003,580; Seattle Wash., $22,402,978.

Frenchman Plans to Start Campaign for Straits at Panama

Noted Visitor Seeks Re-Placement of Canal with Billion Dollar Project

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Lieutenant Colonel Philippe Roussin-Viel, the French soldier-engineer, is expected to reach here on the steamer Paris tomorrow to open a campaign for the construction of a $1,000,000,000 Panama strait to replace the present Panama lock canal.

He will present his plans on January 15, before the National Geographic club, where 25 years ago, at the height of the controversy over whether a lock or a sea level canal should dig through the Isthmus, he appeared as a strong advocate of the less costly lock system.

WESTERN LANDS OPEN TO ENTRY

Strip Extending Across Oregon to Snake River to Be Available for Settlement

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—A strip of land extending across Oregon from the Dalles, on the Columbia river, to a point on Snake river, opposite Port Boise, Idaho, was ordered thrown open to entry today by the interior department.

The land originally was a part of the public grazing ground for the construction of a wagon road by the Dalles Military Road company, and the Eastern Oregon Land company in 1867. It is now proposed to open the remaining tract under the homestead and desert land laws that have not already been patented.

Opening of 200 acres of public land in vicinity of Boise, California, also was announced.

Secretary Work signed, in addition, a public notice opening to entry February 8, 12 public farm units on the Boise irrigation project in southern Idaho. Water for these units will be available with the opening of the irrigation season. The units are subject to a cash rental charge of 7.24 per irrigable acre, which may be reduced over five years in addition to an annual operation and maintenance charge.

WOMAN'S LETTER FAILS TO PRODUCE NEW CLUE

SALT LAKE, Jan. 9 (AP)—Governor Charles H. Mabey announced tonight to the press that investigation of information contained in a letter from Mrs. Corolla J. Robbins of Boise, Idaho, in his opinion failed to throw any new light on the case of Omer H. Woods, convicted wife murderer, convicted to face a firing squad on January 15.

While the governor did not state that he had abandoned the matter it was generally believed that the conclusion would not be reached by throwing the strength of Mrs. Robbins' letter.

Just what Mrs. Robbins told the governor in the letter is not known, but press dispatches from Boise state she intimated her information pertained to "a man and a woman."

Governor McMaster Resumes Price War

MITCHELL, S. D., Jan. 12 (AP)—Following announcement that the standard oil company increased its price of gasoline two cents a gallon, making the cost 22 cents, Governor W. H. McMaster of South Dakota today instructed the state highway department here to sell the fuel at 21 cents a gallon.

The governor sent a card of gas oil to the state station here, resuming the price "war" which he started against the Standard Oil company last summer when that firm raised prices. According to Carl Butterfield, superintendent of the state highway department, the state has been selling as much as 2000 gallons of gasoline a day.

Varied Weather Is Official Forecast

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday:

Northern Rocky mountain and plateau regions—occasional rains or snow with fair and generally fair recent weather. About the middle of the week east of the divide; warmer first part and cooler latter half.

Pacific states generally fair in southern and central California and occasional rains elsewhere; temperature near normal.

JAPS FORM CORPORATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12 (AP)—A corporation known as the Development Finance company has been formed in California, with $50,000,000 capital behind it and backed by Japanese money. It is reported to be a Japanese enterprise, according to a statement today by A. S. McIntosh at a meeting of the district attorneys of the state.

BLOC PREPARES FOR ENACTMENT OF FARM RELIEF

Reduction in Transportation Charges Also to Be Included; Bill Providing for Loans on Livestock Is Favored

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Organized pressure for the enactment of farm relief measures and a reduction in transportation charges on farm products is to be expected soon by the senate farm bloc.

These subjects were discussed exhaustively at the first meeting of the bloc at this session of congress, held last night at the home of Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, chairman of the group. Twenty-one senators, republicans and democrats, were present.

Senator Capper and today there was unanimity of opinion that the question of agricultural aid was perhaps the most important before congress. There appeared to be general endorsement, he said, of the proposal to repeal the rate section of the transportation act and to pass the Norris-Snyder bill, to create a government corporation to buy and sell farm products.

Sentiment also was expressed in favor of the Norbeck bill, which would provide for government loans to farmers of the northwest to enable them to enter the dairying and livestock business. More aggressive support of the farmers' cooperative movement entered into the discussion with suggestions that the work of the department of agriculture be broadened to assist along that line.

Tax Reduction.

Tax reduction was discussed in a general way, much of the talk centering around reduced freight rates. Senator Capper said was recognized that congress cannot go far in bringing about a reduction of transportation costs by direct action, but that help changes could be made in the transportation act, particularly by repeal of the fair return clause. He added that there was no suggestion of a complete repeal of the act.

The chairman of the bloc declared also that there was no hostility to the railroads, and that the necessity for their prosperity was recognized. He said, however, that farm bloc senators were of the opinion that the roads had reached the point at which they could and should carry some of the burden which has been placed on the farmer, and which he is no longer able to bear.

PARTY LEADERS SPLIT ON MELLON TAX BILL

Longworth and Green Hold Compromise on Revenue Revisions Inevitable; Tilson Leads Defense of Measure as Drafted; Possibility of Veto Is Subject of Comment

URGES TIME ON WATER CHARGES

Secretary Work Asks Favorable Report on Bill Pertaining to Irrigation Projects

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Secretary Work today urged the senate committee on irrigation and reclamation to favorably report the bill which would authorize extension of time for payment of construction, operation, maintenance and water charges on government reclamation projects.

The measure, introduced by Senator Phillips of Colorado, would defer the dates of payment until January 1, 1925, and provides that amounts of such deferred payments shall bear six per cent interest rate instead of the usual penalty of one per cent a month.

The secretary of the interior at present is without authority to make extensions or suspend payments for the calendar year and he urged passage of the bill in order to protect many water users from the loss of their homes.

The secretary also asked that this relief be given farmers with good records due to the fact that many projects have exceeded original estimates, and the inability of farmers to meet their crop-high freight rates, crop failures and other causes. He pointed out that the situation now existing before the special advisory committee on reclamation makes its report with recommendations for a new reclamation policy based on sound business methods.

CHILDREN DROWNED

BRUSSELS, Jan. 12 (AP)—Twelve boys, aged from 12 to 14, are believed to have been drowned while skating on a pond at the Belgian frontier near Longwy, France. Twenty-five or more school children were enjoying the sport when the ice gave way. Nine bodies have been recovered.

CUMMINGS WILL NOT RUN

HAARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 12 (AP)—Homer C. Cummings, national democratic committeeman from Connecticut, and former national chairman, said today he is not a candidate for the presidential nomination.

SUPPOSE HE'LL HAVE TO WORK ON IT A BIT OR HE WOULDN'T FEEL THAT HE WAS EARNING HIS SALARY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—A split definitely developed today among republican leaders of the house as to the advisability of modifying the Mellon tax bill.

Representative Longworth, the party leader, said he realized a compromise was inevitable, particularly on surtax rates—a position also held by Chairman Green of the ways and means committee.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, a committee member, announced he was opposed to any compromise and believes the Mellon plan should be carried into law substantially as drafted. He discussed the situation with President Coolidge and issued a statement as to his views after leaving the White House.

The position taken by Mr. Tilson is understood to be in accord with that of at least five other republicans on the ways and means committee, while the rest are either non-committal or inclined to modifications of the treasury draft.

Buzzards See Victory As the branch among the republicans watched democratic leaders who have offered a substitute for the Mellon plan declined to comment on the situation except to reiterate that on Monday will begin public hearings on the bill. The committee has been instructed to report the measure by February 11.

For a brief time today republicans of the committee were in conference to continue their discussion of tax policy, but as on yesterday, when they talked over the situation with Mr. Longworth, no decisions were reached.

Congress Wants Debate The only senate angle on the situation today was the publication of a letter from Senator Coughens, republican, Michigan, to Secretary Mellon in which the senator challenged the latter's surtax proposal and questioned the soundness as well as Mr. Mellon's views on lax exempt securities.

Mr. Longworth, discussing the situation, said congress never had and never would suggest without change, rates suggested by the secretary of the treasury. It is too jealous of its prerogatives to let it be reflection on Mr. Mellon if changes were made.

APPROPRIATION BILL HELD UP; TALK DRY LAW

Speech by Volstead's Successor Draws Attention in House; Cramton Refuses Smith Chance to Talk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Held up to the discussion over prohibition the house monetary appropriation bill, which was under consideration today, when Representative Cramton of Michigan, in charge of the bill, got mixed up in the discussion and in order to comment, declined to give Chairman Smith of the irrigation committee, time to discuss the appropriation bill.

Mr. Cramton, one of the driest drys in the house, paid tribute to Mr. Volstead, declaring he had performed a "last national service" by championing the cause of prohibition.

Making his first speech in the house, Representative Kvale, independent, Minnesota, in response to Representative Volstead, today attacked the Volstead act as not dry enough.

Kvale argued for his bill to tax liquor held by individuals and declared he proposed to amend the Volstead act to "make prohibition effective, not just for the poor, but for the rich."

Pointing out the enforcement act permitted possession of liquor in private dwellings, Mr. Kvale declared it one of the main reasons for disregard of the eighteenth amendment.

"No stronger guard could have been placed," he said, "nor more impenetrable wall could ever have been built around the Newport and Atlantic City whiskey coveys than this clause." He added that his bill was not "fathered by, nor sponsored by the Anti-Saloon League, nor do I look to that source for aid or support. It is too dry and too progressive for that organization, or perhaps I should say, for the leaders of that organization."

Law for the Poor Only

"The enforcement act," he said, "sometimes erroneously and ridiculously named after the man who never in all his life had given the saloon or the liquor traffic any cause to worry, that law, framed by the 'lawyers of the Anti-Saloon League' as it was framed, has so operated since its enactment into law as to be a law for the poor, and a privilege for the rich. The law in operation has belied its promise."

By the time the enforcement act is enforcing, or rather failing to enforce, the eighteenth amendment, we are breeding a nation of hypocrites, just all officers were selected. It is the greatest tragedy ever witnessed in civilization.

You never can allow the millionaires to have all the liquor they want and at the same time compel the poor in overalls to obey the amendment. It cannot be done."

Poison Liquor

Representative Berger, socialist, Wisconsin, asked Representative Kvale if it wasn't true that there were more drunkards now than ever before. The Minnesota representative replied in the negative, but Mr. Berger rejoined that he spoke from experience.

Officials Breaking Laws are Classed as Worst Criminals

Rear Admiral Sims Asserts Government Executives Who Defy Their Own Legislation Are 'Most Dangerous'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Government officials who violate the law they are sworn to enforce were described as "the most dangerous criminal of all," said Rear Admiral William B. Sims, retired, speaking here tonight before the convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America. The convention, which will continue until next Wednesday was preceded by a meeting of the executive council at which all officers were re-elected, including Dr. P. A. Baker, of Westerville, Ohio, general superintendent of the league.

Rear Admiral Sims declared that every man who takes a drink is in effect himself a bootlegger. Men who traffic in alcohol, he asserted, are dangerous criminals, and those who buy it are accessories to the crime. "There is fun in alcohol," he said, "but there is, alas, great danger. Look at the gradual physical effect on the man 50. They are a disgrace to the human race, and it is up to you to stop, look and listen."

In a report to the trustees of the league, Dr. Baker, chairman, general secretary of the world league against alcoholism, said practically every country had passed some temperance legislation since the United States went dry. One of the world league plans for 1924 he announced, was establishment of a world temperance parliament. He also declared closer cooperation between the organization and the Anti-Saloon league would be effected.

LONG INQUIRY ON MERGERS IS NEARLY ENDED

Oral Arguments on Rail Consolidations Finished; Congress to Get Final Report on Favored Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Oral arguments in the matter of consolidating railroads, the last stage but one in a three year inquiry of the interstate commerce commission into the subject, was concluded today. The final step, the reporting to congress of a plan by which all the major railroads of the United States may be fused into 15 or 20 great mergers, will be taken whenever the commission reaches conclusions upon the general project and the series of controversies arising out of it.

Among the last to appear before the commission on arguments on the question was the National Industrial Traffic League, which urged today through J. H. Parnham, its counsel, that the commission refrain from advising or recommending any further steps by the government in the consolidation enterprise.

Twenty Mergers

Tentatively the commission with the advice of Professor W. Z. Bixley of Harvard, one of its experts, has laid out a plan calling for creation of some 20 mergers, each of which is grouped around one or two of the existing major railroad systems except in New England. There has been suggested that all railroads be placed in one group.

Views have been elicited from many railroad executives and financiers and from representatives of communities held in all parts of the country. Railroad states during prolonged hearings held in all parts of the country. Railroad consolidation have indicated sharp opposition to the tentative plan in two cases, and in the northwest, where the Hill group has objected to severing the Great Northern from the Northern Pacific and the Chicago and North Western and Great Northern. The commission plan suggested that the Great Northern be placed with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul in a new consolidation.

Not Compulsory

Under the law railroads are not required to take any steps to make the plan effective, even after its adoption by the commission, but if they desire to do so, the transportation act withdraws the ban of the anti-trust laws against consolidation of parallel and competing roads for the purpose. President Coolidge has urged that legislation encouraging and facilitating consolidation under the plan be enacted.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

Fifteen Years Ago in Twin Falls

From News Filed January 15, 1909.

The members of the new board of county commissioners, E. H. Sherman, of Bluff, E. P. Newberry of Kimberly, and C. A. McLaughlin of Twin Falls, took the oath of office on Saturday when the other officers elected in November assumed their duties. E. H. Sherman was sworn in as assessor, Carl J. Hahn as treasurer, James W. Shields as probate judge, T. W. Potter as county superintendent, Charles Mail as surveyor, C. W. Dyce as sheriff, W. P. Guthrie as county attorney, and H. E. Hunt as coroner. George Herriott and R. A. Carter were officially installed as justices of the peace. E. R. Sherman was chosen chairman of the board.

All local admirers of Lincoln are requested to assemble at the rink at 8 p. m., February 12, to celebrate the one hundredth birthday anniversary of our martyred president. An interesting program will be rendered. After the program an Illinois association will be organized.

The Presbyterian chapel will be ready for occupancy on Sunday, January 21, and will be dedicated on January 21.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Hahn on January 9, and the status of the county treasurer has increased materially in consequence.

D. R. Moorman has purchased the lot between the Moore and Smith buildings on Main avenue, opposite the Hotel Perrine, from Harace Bray. The price was $6500. Mr. Moorman intends to build on the lot at once.

George McAllister has disposed of his interest in the Shoshone Falls hotel to his partner, Gus Johnson, and has joined William Wood, lately from Oklahoma, in the purchase of the Dine theater on Main avenue, from Benoit brothers.

Harry Allen has been elected secretary of the Twin Falls Commercial club in place of John Balabridge, who has embarked in business. Mr. Allen was one of the pioneers and has always been a consistent booster.

At a meeting of the Commercial club, this evening the proposal to buy a site for fair grounds will be taken up and probably disposed of. It is understood that the committee appointed to select suitable grounds has decided upon 80 acres south and west of the Shoshone avenue bridge, owned by R. G. Beach. A portion of this tract is in the city limits and can easily be reached.

LIVESTOCK SALE INTEREST GROWS

Twin Falls Breeders Are Well Pleased with Prospects; Best Blood in West Represented

With bays up two dollars a hundred in the last three weeks, interest in the forthcoming Durco hog sale to be held in Twin Falls, January 15-16, by C. A. McMaster, Dr. R. S. Arney and Fred C. Graves, is growing steadily.

The sale will be held at the McMaster barns in Twin Falls and some of the best blood in the country will be represented among the animals to be disposed of.

According to C. A. McMaster and R. H. Schilman of Piler, who returned from the Ogden livestock show Saturday, general interest in hog raising is becoming more apparent among farmers and stockmen. At the Ogden sale, the Twin Falls North and South Side Breeders' association disposed of 36 head of cattle at prices ranging from $69 to $200. Both Mr. McMaster and Mr. Schilman speak in complimentary terms of the management of the show and of the treatment accorded to exhibitors. Stock sold was distributed over Nevada, California, Wyoming and Idaho.

"Livestock always has been and always will be the thing for Idaho farmers," said Mr. McMaster. "Nine out of ten of all the men who have made a failure on an Idaho farm have been without livestock. It does not necessarily follow that a man with stock never goes broke but the man without it has a poor chance. There is no doubt about that."

The hogs to be sold on Tuesday and Wednesday are the same breeding as those which carried off the first and second grand championship prizes at the Ogden show and an invitation is extended to prospective buyers to visit the barns on Monday and inspect the animals which are to be sold.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

A complete reproduction of the famous Prater of Coney Island of Vienna, Austria, was built at Universal City for the spectacular motion picture "Merry-Go-Round," which comes to the Idaho theater Monday. "Merry-Go-Round" is a story of love—the world war serves as a background. The Prater is the locale of most of the scenes, and the Prater is a fantastic, interesting place. The gigantic set cost over $200,000 and was a work of rare technical artistry. Norman Kerry, Mary Philbin, George Backsthorpe, George Gravina and a dozen other fine artists of renown appear in the photoplay.

NEGRO BATTLER GETS BIG OFFER

Harry Wills Tendered $300,000 Proposition to Meet Firpo and Dempsey

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Harry Wills, New Orleans negro heavyweight, has been made in offer of $300,000 by Tex Rickard to fight next summer with Luis Angel Firpo and Jack Dempsey.

The promoter made this announcement tonight, adding at the same time that conferences through an intermediary with Wills and the negro's manager, Paddy Mullins, so far had failed to effect an agreement.

Wills, according to Rickard, declared his willingness to accept the offer, confident that he can dispose of Firpo and even a match with the champion, for which he has been seeking two years in vain. Mullins, however, balked at any proposition calling for an exhibition fight, insisting that Wills is entitled to meet Dempsey without further preliminaries. Rickard's refusal to agree to this has produced a deadlock, which, it is believed, may keep Wills in the back ground of the 1924 heavyweight program as he was in 1922 and 1923.

Rickard's offer calls for a guarantee of $100,000 to Wills for a fight with Firpo around July 4, and if the negro wins, a $200,000 guarantee for a title fight with Dempsey in September. Both bouts are to be staged in the metropolitan district. It also was understood that Rickard desired to match Wills with George Godfrey, Philadelphia negro, for a preliminary test.

HOPPE RETAINS TITLE AS BILLIARD CHAMPION

New York Express Concludes Contest with Victory Over Walker Cochran; Final Score, 500 to 346

BOSTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Willie Hoppe, New York, retained his world's 18.2 ballline billiard championship tonight by defeating his three-night 1500-point match with Walker Cochran of Los Angeles with a 1500 to 1189 victory. Hoppe's score for the final 500-point block was 300 against Cochran's 346. The champion had entered the final block with a lead of 157 points.

in the rates proposed by him, as his bill had nothing to do with the situation. Mr. Longworth said he was certain President Coolidge would not veto a bill carrying higher surtax rates than those proposed by Mr. Mellon. This observation was made in the face of announcements at the White House that the president was opposed to any changes in principle.

Suggest Change

There were indications today that republican leaders, groping about for a surtax maximum which would command the support of a majority of the house, might suggest 25 per cent, as against the 25 per cent limit on incomes in excess of $100,000 proposed in the Mellon bill and the 44 per cent maximum on incomes exceeding $92,000, favored by the democrats. The present maximum is 50 per cent on incomes of $200,000 or more.

Mr. Green declined to give his views on the surtax question, although he is known to believe that the Mellon maximum would not have the support of enough republicans to increase its adoption. He is inclined to increase it considerably above the treasury figure.

As to the likelihood of compromise, the ways and means committee chairman said that all important legislation was the result of adjustments, with the tax bill no exception. From the start, he said, the committee has intended to write the bill, and it was indicated that efforts would be made to make changes for the purpose of meeting the demands from various groups in the republican party in committee rather than permit an inter-party fight to develop on the floor.

Talk Bonus Bill

Members of the ways and means committee said today that, while no committee discussion had taken place, there had been considerable talk of modifying the McKenzie bill in an effort to reduce the cash outlay, and permit greater tax reduction. The McKenzie draft is substantially the same as the bonus bill voted by President Harding. Some house members, it was said, have been arguing that its options be restricted and that the borrowing features be eliminated. Mr. Green said he personally favored laying more stress on the paid-up insurance features of the bill, and announced that he would have some amendments to offer on this point as well as on other sections of the measure.

APPROPRIATION BILL IS HELD UP IN CONGRESS

"I never get drunk," he hastened to add. "I never got drunk in my life. But the trouble now is the liquor now is not good. It is poison." Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, suggested that instead of taxing private liquor stocks, they should be dumped into the sewer. The rich, he said, would surely notice a liquor tax and certainly would not decrease their supply on account of it.

Not less than 25 homes in Twin Falls are affected by an epidemic of measles, according to statement Saturday evening of Dr. D. Weaver, county physician. A total of 15 cases of measles was reported Friday to the county physician, and as many more on Saturday, Dr. Weaver said. The situation is not regarded as dangerous, and it is believed that it can be controlled by quarantining. The measles epidemic follows an epidemic of mumps which now is dying out. Schools at Castleford which were closed some time ago because of the prevalence of scarlet fever in that district, have been reopened, Dr. Weaver announced.

High Cost of Living Is Now Moving Steadily Downward

Roger W. Babson Points Out Trend of Events with Respect to Expense of Operation for Average Home Holder

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Jan. 12 (Special to The News)—Roger W. Babson's analysis of the cost of living during 1923 is decidedly cheering to the average householder.

"The cost of living has always seemed too high and will continue to seem too high," says Mr. Babson in a statement issued today. "We have eaved the good old days when sugar could be bought for five cents a pound, a pair of high-grade shoes for three dollars and a half, and a fairly good suit of clothes for twenty dollars. Judged on this basis present prices seem exorbitant. Going back about ten years to 1913 we find present living costs 72 per cent higher, that is, we must spend a dollar and 72 cents today to get what a dollar would buy in 1913.

Improvement Is Noted

"Judged on a 1920 average, however, we find present living costs in a more favorable light. In 1920 it cost two dollars and 16 cents to buy what one dollar would buy in 1913. Since that time we have experienced a very healthy decrease in living costs amounting to 20 per cent. Four dollars today will buy what five dollars bought in 1920. If your income is the same as it was then you can enjoy the same standard of living and have one-fifth of your money left over.

"This decrease has not occurred in all items. If we examine the things classified by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor in making up their cost of living figures, we find that four have decreased, while two have increased during these past three years.

"Food costs, for instance, have gone down about 22 per cent. The amount of food that could have been bought for a dollar in 1923 can now be had for sixty-eight cents. It is probable that the food costs in 1924 will remain about the same level. The food trend, however, is probably downward.

Clothing Is Lower

"The most important item in clothing, which has declined steadily from 1920 with the exception of a slight increase this last year. The total decline from a high point amounts to nearly 40 per cent. The fifty-dollar suit of 1920 can be bought today for thirty dollars and the hundred-dollar suit may be had for sixty dollars.

"Housing is one of the exceptions in the general trend of living costs and is now a greater burden in the family budget than it has been at any time during the past ten years. Rentals on the average this winter are about 18 per cent higher than in 1920 and about 65 per cent above the pre-war level. Housing costs move slowly and while the high point has probably been reached, the decline will be gradual. Fuel and light is another item that is held up with a tendency to increase during these past two years. The present level is just about the same as

MANY DEATHS IN FANATIC CLASH

Eighty Members of Filipino Religious Society Reported to Have Been Killed

MANILA, Jan. 12 (AP)—Recent dispatches from the Philippine Islands disclose that 80 members of the Colorum, a religious society, were killed last week in clashes with the constabulary. Nineteen constabulary soldiers, it is said, lost their lives in the encounters with the fanatics.

The destruction of a tank, believed by the fanatics to have held sacred waters, is declared to have been the cause of the sanguinary battles between the constabulary and the Colorum. The religious society blamed the soldiers with destroying the tank. It was known as the "miraculous tank" and about 300 members of the society were bathing in it or drinking its waters when the constabulary broke its way and let the water out. The fanatics believed the waters possessed remarkable health giving properties.

Although the details of the embargo are not yet available, Governor General Leonard Wood said it was possible the breaking of the tank was carried out because the water in it had become polluted or had become the carrier of infectious disease. General Wood is awaiting a complete report before deciding whether he will go to Mindanao to investigate the trouble.

AERIAL PATRIOTISM

"Radio is king at the present moment," says a clothing publication, admiring yet envious of the immense business being done in the radio industry.

"The world is listening in. The air is charged with sermons, vaudeville jokes, songs, ragtime, arias and funny stories. Lightning rods carry a current of fun and harmony pours down the radio chute. Honest folks stick a wet finger in the air and pull down a Joe Miller dressed in a new bill.

"The radio craze has New York all tangled up in its own wiring. Men rush home from business at night and fuss with divers knobs and handles in a magnificent effort to get in touch with folks far away. The next door neighbor has lost his attraction;
people are making friends beyond the Rockies."

That is very good for New York,
and for the region to the east of it, both of which have sometimes been accused of being oblivious of all things west of the Hudson river. They are learning more about America, than they ever knew before—their people, their speech, their interests, their hearts.

The Middle West, and South and Far West are learning likewise many things about the East that they never knew, or had forgotten. All America is listening in to all the rest of America, and being entertained, instructed and delighted with what it hears.
Cities a thousand miles apart are suddenly drawn close together by this aerial magic. People separated by the width of a great continent become neighbors.

Is not radio really the most patriotic thing in America today? Is it not the greatest power for genuine national unity?

It will be so in many other countries soon. Eventually it may be more than that, crossing frontiers and becoming a force for intelligent internationalism, which is the patriotism of mankind in general, enabling nationalities and races in Europe and Asia to hear and understand each other as they do here.

A TRAVELING NATION

Not all the travelers are going from the northern belt to the southern sunshine this winter. It is reported from New York that an almost unprecedented stream of tourists is headed for European lands and for cruises on the Mediterranean. In fact, the sailings resemble in number a Mid-June exodus.

Business and pleasure are about equally responsible for the call to foreign climes. Political isolation apparently has little to do with personal international relationships.

Life, too, is further evidence of the fact that traveling is becoming a favorite American pastime, whether it is done at home or abroad, in the conventional "vacation season" or in every other season of the year. Almost everybody travels somewhere, sometime, and the experience is good for the whole nation.

GOLDLESS MINES

Recent court action in New York restraining certain gold-mining companies from further activity in Yonkers comes very much like the time-honored custom of locking the barn door after the horse is stolen. It is likely that the particular promoters in question considered further activity unnecessary, anyhow, since they had cleaned up about $800,000 and had vanished from public and court view.

Apparently the promoters found plenty of gold in their Yonkers mining enterprise, but it came from the savings accounts and the pockets of gullible fellow-citizens and not from the earth. It is just one more example of how easy it is to throw away money if one really tries. And among the deepest holes into which loose money may be thrown are fake gold mines and oil wells.

HOPPITY-HOP RABBIT AND THE WOLVES
BY DADDY

CHAPTER I.

Hoppity-Hop Goes Hunting.

FRESH snow covered the Great Woods. Jack and Janet trudging along a forest trail saw many tracks
in the white carpet.

There are the marks of Junco birds," said Jack, pointing to dainty footprints.

"And here is the trail of Daddy Dog," added Janet.

"Pinky squirrel frisked along the ground under this tree," declared Jack a bit further along.

"But what are these tracks?" asked Janet, pointing to sharp, deep cuts in the snow.

Jack carefully examined the tracks.
Suddenly he gave a shout.

"I know," cried he. "It is the track of Bucky Deer. Let us follow his trail and see where Bucky Deer is going."

They turned aside from the forest path and followed the track of Bucky Deer. After a time they noticed that in the tracks, instead of being close together, were stretched far apart.

"I wonder what makes the difference in Bucky Deer's tracks?" said
Janet.

Jack, who had learned much from Hoppity-Hop, the Indian boy, pointed to the far apart tracks. "I think I know,"
he said, presently. "When we first saw Bucky Deer's tracks he was going along slowly and easily. Then something scared him and he began to run.
And he must have been scared very badly, for you can see the great leaps he took."

"What do you think scared him?"
asked Janet, looking around fearfully.
The winter woods were very quiet and lonely. Supposing some danger was hiding near?

"Perhaps we shall find out by following his tracks a bit further," replied Jack. They went on, but with many an anxious look about them at the silent trees.

They came upon a whole lot of tracks running into the trail made by Bucky Deer.

"Why, these look like the tracks of Daddy Dog," said Janet. Maybe Dandy Dog met a lot of other dogs and they have gone deer hunting."

"I don't think these are the tracks of Daddy Dog or of other dogs," he whispered. "But I do think they are the tracks of hunters on the trail of poor Bucky Deer."

"What kind of hunters?" whispered
Janet.

"Wolves!" was Jack's startling answer. "Happy Hanks, the Indian, showed me the tracks of wolves once and they were tracks just like these."
Janet halted. "I think we had better be hurrying home," she said. "If the wolves are running in the woods

we ought not to be here."
Jack agreed with that. Of all the forest folks, they feared wolves most of all and with good reason.

But as they turned back they saw a queer sight. Standing in the midst of the wolf tracks was Hoppity-Hop Rabbit dressed in hunting clothes and carrying a stick that looked like a gun.

"My gracious, Hoppity-Hop! Rabbit! What are you doing dressed up in those hunting clothes and carrying that stick that looks like a gun?" asked Janet.

Hoppity-Hop Rabbit twitched his whiskers and wrinkled his nose.

"What a silly question," sniffed he.
"Can't you see what I am doing? I am hunting, of course."

That seemed a queer answer.

"Huh! Who ever heard of a rabbit going hunting?" exclaimed Jack.

"Rabbits usually are hunted," Jack said. "That is why I am going hunting."
sniffed Hoppity-Hop Rabbit impatiently. "I have grown tired of being hunted all the time, and now I am going to do some hunting myself."

"What are you hunting?" asked Janet.

"Wolves," sniffed Hoppity-Hop Rabbit, as a mournful howl sounded in the distance. "I am hunting wolves.
Do you want to go along?"

(How Hoppity-Hop Rabbit and Jack and Janet come upon the wolves will be told in the next chapter.)

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking"

By HUGH McIKAY

My wife shows feminist tendencies.
The thing that always strikes me funny is that when a woman starts out to be a feminist, the first thing she does is to dress as much like a man as she can. That must be women's club logic.

Anyway, my wife is getting very strong ideas about feminine rights and so on. I can tell she is because she's taken to wearing low-heeled shoes, straight skirts and neckties.
She says it makes her perfectly forlous when a man get up and offers her his seat in a car. She has just as much right to stand as he has, she says.

I tried to explain to her that that's the way most men feel about it, too, but she didn't want to admit they were
that broad minded.

She says that a woman is her husband's partner, not his housekeeper.

She thinks that the wife has a right to share her husband's problems and his worries. "She's welcome to enjoy mine, I tell her."
I don't believe this feminist idea will last very long, though. What's the use of a woman trying to prove she's a man's equal when everybody used to admit she was a whole lot better?

ries about catching colds."

Cheaper Coal

Coal is not cheaper at the mine, but it seems to be cheap at Twin Falls. We saw some real nice black coal in a show window—the price was quite reasonable.
It was less than our coal cost. Now, if you want cheap coal it might pay you to shop around a little. We will say right now, if you find that it don't suit you, we will let you have SPRING CANYON at the same price we have been getting all winter. You see we cut early in the Fall.
We sold first-class Spring Canyon all winter at $8.50.
If this cheap Lump coal is better than ours, you can have ours free of charge.

Some folks have a mistaken idea about coal. They seem to think it depends on the size. If that were always true, then a cow could catch a rabbit.

Now, we wear woolen clothes. They are warm. Some folks wear overalls and jumpers—they are cheaper, but we doubt very much whether they are warmer, and so it goes. Generally you get goods according to what you are willing to pay. Think it over and act accordingly.

Dont let Friction warm up your motor

AVOID excessive "racing" of a cold motor. As soon as it takes hold, throttle down and retard the spark for a few minutes.
This gives the oil a chance to reach the bearing surfaces before they become overheated from friction.

The best lubricating oil ever made is useless as a lubricant until it reaches the frictional surfaces. And no matter how high in quality, any oil will be more or less sluggish in cold weather. Use a good oil of correct body and give it a chance to do its work.
Excessive "racing" brings destructive friction—a mighty expensive way to warm up your motor.

Five points to be sure of

For maximum power and mileage economy, motor gasoline should meet these requirements:

1. It should have a complete, orderly chain of boiling point fractions; just enough low-points for prompt ignition, with a proper proportion of intermediate and higher points for the development of full heat, power and mileage. In other words, it should be balanced.
2. Its range of volatility should be such that every fraction will complete Does the gasoline you use meet these requirements? CONOCO does.
3. It should be pure—free from sediment, water and acids.
4. It should be uniform so that the carburetor can "stay put" and give best results.
5. It should be easy to get, wherever you go—available within easy driving distance.

BOARD TAKES NO ACTION ON CANAL MANAGER

Opinion Among Observers of Situation Divided as to Attitude of New Administration on Filling Position

Discussion of the management of the Twin Falls Canal company during the coming year, an issue in the stockholders' annual meeting and election last Tuesday, did not figure in the proceedings of a meeting of the company's directors here Saturday at which the affairs of the company were turned over to the new administration which has been reported to be hostile to the retention of the present general manager.

J. C. Wheelan, who is rounding out his fifth year as general manager for the company, told the new board of directors after its organization, that he would remain as manager at his present salary as long as the directors desired.

Observers' Opinions Vary.

Opinion among persons close to the situation was divided after the directors' meeting Saturday as to the course the new administration would take with regard to the management. On one hand, opinion was expressed that the new board would immediately invite applications for the position and take definite action in regard to employment of a manager at its next meeting. The name of R. K. Tiffney, Spokane, who is said to have managed the Wenatchee, Washington, irrigation project for many years, and of Warren G. Swenson, Idaho commissioner of reclamation, were mentioned as persons likely to be considered for the place.

On the other hand, it was reported that the present general manager was likely to receive a disappointment in their choice of candidates for the directorate, and that it was doubtful whether a majority of the new board would vote for employment of a successor to Mr. Wheelan.

Miller Named President.

The new board was organized Saturday with the election of Carl J. Miller of Coeur d'Alene, as president, and Ivan G. Lincoln, who was defeated for reelection by N. V. Sharp, of Blair, the only new member of the board. T. M. Baird, of Twin Falls, was elected vice president, and William Cunningham, of Buhl, secretary and treasurer.

The board voted unanimously to retain W. O. Taylor as assistant secretary with authority to name his own assistants, and Judge James R. Bothwell as attorney.

Contract for an annual audit of the canal company's books was awarded to John Wolfenden of Twin Falls, on his bid of $250.

TRUCK AND CAR COLLIDE

Lighter Machine Damaged in Crash When Big Motor Turns in Front Toward Side Street

A new Ford car driven by Robert Lingman on Shoshone street west Saturday afternoon, crashed into a stock truck owned by Ned McCracken and driven by W. R. Kana, when, according to the police, the truck turned directly in front of the car at the intersection of the street with Second avenue west. Neither driver was injured, but the lighter machine was damaged to an extent that repairs estimated at between $35 and $40 will be necessary to restore it to running order.

BANK OFFICIALS REPORT BETTER BUSINESS YEAR

T. J. Lloyd, a stockholder and director of the institution since its establishment, was elected one of the vice presidents of the Twin Falls National bank, and Charles P. Larsen and E. E. Quinn, who have served heretofore as tellers, were elected assistant cashiers, at an annual meeting of the stockholders this week. All other officers were re-elected as follows: President, Joseph Keefe; vice president, N. J. Keefe; cashier, A. J. Keefe; directors, James R. Bothwell, J. G. Johnston, J. A. Keefe, Joseph Keefe, T. J. Lloyd, E. A. Mason.

UTAH WOMAN PIONEER IS FATALLY STRICKEN HERE

Mrs. Julietta Fielding, mother of Mrs. George D. Aiken, died Saturday morning at the Aiken residence here, aged 78 years. Death was the result of a stroke suffered about a week ago.

Mrs. Fielding, most of whose life was spent in Utah, came to this state in 1850 as a child. She resided with her husband at Mantu, Utah, for about 27 years, moving to Salt Lake to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Tuttle, upon the death of her husband a few years ago. Mrs. Fielding came to Twin Falls to visit her daughter, Mrs. Aiken, about three months ago.

The remains were sent to Mantu, Utah, Saturday evening, where the funeral will be held on Tuesday. Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. Aiken accompanied the body.

PRISONER SEEKS RELEASE

Under a writ of habeas corpus orator Saturday Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here, Thomas Jensen will be brought into court Monday for a hearing on claim that he is being held illegally as a prisoner in the county jail here to answer to a grand larceny charge, involving alleged theft of a number of sheep pellets that November. Jensen was admitted to the jail in the sum of $1500, which he has not furnished. He was arrested in Buhl and preliminary hearing in the case was held before C. G. A. Bivens, justice of the peace.

AWARDS DIVORCE DECREE

A decree of divorce was granted Saturday by Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here, to Cora M. Patrick from James H. Patrick. Judgment as to division of property and maintenance was granted to the plaintiff, and the mother should retain the custody of a minor son until he becomes 14 years of age.

SEED SHOW WILL OPEN AT JEROME

Sessions to Be Held During Four Days with Three Evening Programs Arranged

The Idaho state seed show will open January 15 at Jerome and continue until the 18th. Sessions will be held in the Victory theatre with women's sessions every afternoon in the high school auditorium. Preparations have been made to take care of a large attendance.

Daily programs have been arranged covering topics of interest to farmers and others. E. P. Taylor of the department of organization of the American Farm Bureau Federation will be present from Chicago and will deliver addresses Thursday evening and Friday morning. Dr. A. H. Upham of the University of Idaho will speak Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon. Moving pictures of all the various activities will be taken.

A corn-judging contest for farmers will be held Wednesday with $50 in prizes. Many exhibits are already on hand, and a very successful show is anticipated.

WOOLGROWERS TO HEAR IMPORTANT DISCUSSIONS

Program for Annual Meeting of State Association Lists Experts on Various Phases of Industry

Subjects of importance to the wool growing industry will be discussed by experts at an annual meeting of the Idaho Woolgrowers' association, to be held at Pocatello, January 21, of the program for which was received here Saturday. Following the annual address of the association's president, Frank J. Haggenbush, who will discuss the future of the Woolgrowing industry, the program lists the following discussions: "Grazing Fees From the Government," Vernon Metcalf, secretary Nevada Woolgrowers' association; "Grazing Fees From the Forest Service Viewpoint," R. H. Rutledge, district forester, Ogden; "Control of the Alfalfa Weevil," Claude Wakeland, field entomologist, University of Idaho; "Observations on Lamb Pasturing and Feeding," E. P. Rinehart, extension division, University of Idaho; "Regulation of Lamb Shipments," M. S. Benedict, supervisor Sawtooth national forest; "Sheep Control for 1923," Dr. J. S. Burdick, chief inspector, Idaho board of sheep commissioners.

Winter halted a three-days' retreat Saturday, and while sunshine prevailed most of the day, temperature a range was lower, according to records of the government weather observation station here, showing a maximum for the day at 34 degrees, a decline of four points under the high mark of the preceding day, and minimum at 18, a fall of ten degrees. Fair weather is the official forecast for today.

ELKS' COMMITTEE FOR SCOUT TROOP IS NAMED

Members of the committee to represent the Elks lodge as sponsor for a Boy Scout headquarters troop soon to be organized were announced Saturday by Herbert G. Lauritzen, elected ruler of the lodge. Captain Everett M. Sweeley was named as chairman of the committee, of which the other members are Paul H. Taber and A. J. Myers.

The headquarters troop which the Elks recently voted to sponsor is to be composed of first class scouts of a minimum age of 16 years, according to plans announced by T. M. Robertson, newly elected president of the Twin Falls county. Members of the troop of which Donald McLean has served as scoutmaster are expected to form the nucleus of a new troop into which there are to be graduated members of other troops when they have made prescribed qualifications. Members of this troop are to be detailed to serve as assistant scoutmasters and to assist in the training of younger scout units.
