CHAIRMAN GREEN OPPOSES MELLON CUT ON SURTAX

Sees Little to Be Gained by Reduction in Rate on Incomes of Wealthy; Lively Fight in House Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee came out tonight in opposition to Secretary Mellon's recommendation that the present 50 per cent maximum surtax be cut in half. He has agreed, however, to vote tomorrow with other Republicans on the committee to report the treasury tax bill which contains this provision.

Mr. Green outlined his views in a letter to Dr. T. B. Adams, professor of political economy at Yale university who had written to him on various phases of the tax problem. Although the chairman had been known to be lukewarm on the Mellon surtax schedule, he had not committed himself definitely until tonight to a maximum of at least 35 per cent.

Referring to Dr. Adams' letter, Mr. Green said it contained a statement to the effect that the extremely wealthy now defy the government and intend to continue to defraud it out of its just share of their taxes.

Ottos Canada and England.

"It is unnecessary to say," he continued, "that the political party which proclaims such a doctrine will seal its own doom with the announcement. You say that they will not pay and we cannot make them. But Canada makes them pay a higher tax than we have now and England makes them pay a higher tax than any which is now proposed for the new bill so far as I know—certainly very much higher than any I could advocate. If other nations can do this, that reason can give us no ground for not doing it."

"You say in effect, that they will not pay 35 per cent, which I have advocated. I say that the man with immense wealth who will evade taxes at 35 per cent will do so at 25 per cent. In neither case has he any need for the surtax which he keeps from the government."

"I agree with you in your criticism of legislators who champion the 'extremely high surtaxes and at the same time favor tax free bonds, but here again I make the assertion that a reduction from 35 per cent to 25 per cent as the maximum surtax will have little effect on the investments of the extremely wealthy in tax free securities and it will still be largely to their advantage to invest in them. It would require a still lower rate to make them unattractive to the multimillionaires."

Fight Expected.

Number of Freight Cars is Now Ample to Supply Shippers

Traffic Expert Announces Roads Operating in West Have More Rolling Stock Ready Now than in Seven Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—Railroad freight shipments in the east this year are expected to exceed those of last year about 10 per cent, but the situation can be adequately handled as box cars will not have to be exported to the west to handle grain traffic as in former years, the middle Atlantic regional advisory board announced tonight.

M. J. Gormley, chairman of the car service division, told the board there were 113,000 more box cars west of Chicago now than ever before, that roads operating in that territory have more box cars of their own on home lines than at any time in the last seven years, and that fewer box cars belonging to western carriers were in the east than ever before.

GRAIN WAREHOUSE BURNS

Fire Destroys Property of Prairie Flour Mill at Lewiston; Loss of $5,000 on Contents Estimated

CUL DE SAC, Idaho, Feb. 6 (AP)—The grain warehouse here operated by the Prairie Flour Mills company of Lewiston was destroyed by fire of unknown origin which broke out at 1:45 o'clock this morning. The loss, placed at $5,000 on wheat, barley, oats and corn in the building and $2,500 on the house owned by J. Scott, is said to be covered by insurance.

No fire had been about the warehouse for a number of days, the owners of the warehouse declared.

500,000 Children in Chicago Take Part in Memorial

Activities in Middle-Western Metropolis at Standstill when Funeral Is Held

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Chicago faced east and stood still for a minute today as a last tribute to Woodrow Wilson, the president who called the city's sons to war. At 3 o'clock traffic officers brought all traffic to halt while work came to a pause and in the schools all students observed the ceremony.

Cannon boomed at half hour intervals during the day at the Great Lakes naval training station, as a tribute to the dead. Many public buildings here were closed and Chicago's 500,000 school children participated in special memorial exercises.

Many organizations also held memorial exercises.

MID-WEST STORM SLOWLY WANING

Lines of Communication Being Repaired; Total Death Toll at Nearly a Dozen

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Radio telephone today continued to triumph over the mid-west snow and sleet storm while armies of workmen fought to free transportation systems and wire communications from the paralyzing snow and ice.

While the trains from the west were in most cases running behind schedule, wireless centering in Chicago reported that they were digging out of the snow and that rail transportation facilities by tomorrow will be about normal. After being completely cut off from the outside world for a time today by wire, telegraph facilities also were recovering and tonight The Associated Press was able to reach more leased wire points from Chicago than at any time since the storm interrupted communications with prospects that service would be about normal by tomorrow, although circuitous wire routing was still necessary to maintain communication with many points.

Three Chicago deaths attributed to the storm brought the total death toll from the snow and sleet in the middle west to nearly a dozen while the damage continued to pile up as railroads, telephone and telegraph companies battled to repair the havoc wrought by the blizzard. In Chicago hundreds of transient workers were employed by the city in an effort to clear the streets of snow, but tonight huge piles of frozen snow were still banked along the sidewalks.

Weather reports indicated light snow for tonight with overcast skies for tomorrow.

BARTON, N. J., Feb. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Cecilia Zangrandi, 84, yesterday fell two stories from her bedroom window to the frozen ground, then got up and walked back to her bed where she had been confined for a week with an attack of grippe. She was apparently uninjured, except for bruises. Mrs. Zangrandi was delirious when she left her bed and walked out of the window. A wire clothesline in the yard broke her fall.

U. S. Colors Put at Top of Embassy

Band of Americans, Incensed by Germany's Action, Carry National Emblem to Tip of Legation Flag-Pole

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—An Irish band of Americans early today nailed the Stars and Stripes to the German embassy which on instructions from Berlin had failed to lift must its colors for Woodrow Wilson.

Two dozen taxpayers who had checked out from work at 3 o'clock this morning started to perform the job with a worn flag picked up at the home of one of the group. By the time they had reached the embassy on fashionable Massachusetts avenue the crowd included 50.

Quiet, but determinedly, the leaders proceeded with their business. One of the group was picked to climb the tall center column of the portico at the main entrance. The flag, about four feet by seven feet in size, and attached to a strip of wood staff and bearing string was tossed up and wound about the column and securely tucked.

The band of workers gathered on the terrace above the street attracted attention and before the job was completed the wide thoroughfare was clogged with interested bunched spectators, including late travelers to homes as well as milk wagon drivers and newshybs whose business brought them around at that hour.

Not a sign appeared from within the large red brick building occupied by the embassy staff and the home of Germany's envoys here, where Woodrow Wilson signed the declaration of a state of war.

The flag tacked in place, the band dispersed as quickly as it had come. At 8 o'clock two policemen summoned by an unknown caller, arrived and removed the banner.

Menus for groups had gathered at various times in front of the place but no demonstration was made.

Announcement by the German ambassador that his flag could not be

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—A proud and sorrowing nation said its long farewell today to Woodrow Wilson.

With the solemn rites of the church and the swelling bugle notes of the soldiers' requiem, he was laid in marble to begin his timeless, honored sleep.

In the house where he lived his last days and gave up his soul at last to his maker simple services were said in the presence of his family and close friends, and a select company of officials who had come to symbolize the grief of the government he served so long.

On the sturdy shoulders of men who went to war at his command he was carried tenderly forth to make his pilgrimage to the place of entombment. At the cathedral where his broken body was laid to rest there was another service, almost as plain, but attended by others who had asked the privilege of honoring him. Among them were many who speak for the great movements of the earth.

But only the sorrowing widow and a little circle of other relatives saw the last ceremony of entombment. The funeral services over, the chapel was cleared while the great stone slab that seals the crypt was lifted from its place to receive him.

Taps

At the moment he was lowered into the hall of his long sleep an army bugler, the same who sounded taps over the unknown soldier at Arlington, stepped before the chapel entrance and the soft notes of taps rose to the gray sky.

Thus did the nation, at last, find a way to say a national farewell to him who had guided its destinies through such troubled years, but who had asked that there be no pomp of state ceremony when he was consigned to rest.

Tonight, the somber casket of black steel lies in the western niche of the great vault below Bethlehem chapel. Above, towering from the hillside, looms the gray mass of the cathedral. Below the lights of the city that has turned back from its days of sorrow to the crowding cares of life, twinkling through the dark of an overcast night.

And on that casket where the great dead lies alone beside the plate that

Expect Secretaries to Approve Program for Big Air Service

Strengthening of Aerial Departments of Army and Navy Is Contemplated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—A plan worked out by the joint army-navy board recommending congressional approval of a ten-year building program for the air services of the two departments of national defense is expected to be approved soon by Secretaries Weeks and Denby.

The plan contemplates the strengthening of the two services through annual appropriations, by congress over the ten-year period and provides for the elimination of all overlapping responsibilities, defining what stations shall be developed by the navy and what others shall be strengthened and maintained as part of the military establishment.

BUREAU INQUIRY GETS UNDER WAY

First Witnesses Called in Investigation of Forbes' Term in Office

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Grand jury investigation of the conduct of the veterans' bureau under former Director Charles F. Forbes began today. Following the swearing in of the special grand jury, several persons who figured in the senate investigation of the bureau were called into the jury room. The proceedings are secret.

More than 50 witnesses are understood to be under summons to appear.

Federal Judge George A. Carpenter, in discharging the jury, the court said that the inquiry "is probably the most important investigation in the United States in the past 100 years."

"If there is evidence of misconduct of officers of the veterans' bureau it will be your duty to indict regardless of who is hit," the judge said.

DENBY DEFENDS HIS ACTION ON OIL LAND LEASE

Asserts Congressional Action Authorized Dealings with Private Concerns; End of Scandal Still Far Off

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—On the eve of the renewal in the senate of the efforts of democrats for his removal from the cabinet, Secretary Denby made public tonight an extended statement explaining and defending his course in assenting to the lease of the natural oil reserves.

Asserting that there are involved three basic questions, the naval secretary answered them all in the affirmative; that the transfer of administration from his department to the interior department was legal; that the leases themselves were legal and carried out the expressed will of congress; that they were beneficial to the government, preventing further loss of millions of dollars worth of oil and greatly increasing the power of the navy to defend the country.

With the senate and its oil committee both in recess, Mr. Denby's statement was the only concrete development of the day in the oil lease controversy.

In the senate debate will break off afresh tomorrow and the committee will get back to its hearing on Friday.

End Not in Sight.

With the new leads developing in apparently unending succession, the end of the senate inquiry seems to be nowhere in sight. Many witnesses prominent in political and business life, are yet to be examined and there is no telling now how many others will be called after expert accountants have gone through the books of stock brokerage firms, banks and quasi-business association in search of transactions in any way related to oil leases.

After the senate has renewed the authority of the committee to meet one of the objections raised by Albert B. Fall, central figure in the oil scandal, in his refusal to testify, it will plunge into the fight over the resolution by Democrats to force Denby, calling for "Mr. Denby's resignation."

The naval secretary made no mention of this resolution in his statement tonight which was in the form of a telegram to Roy D. Chapin of Detroit, in reply to the message of confidence received some days ago from some 225 citizens of Michigan.

Denby Gets Support.

Stating that he had received hundreds of telegrams and letters from Michigan and all parts of the Union, Mr. Denby declared that "such a demonstration of faith requires that I shall give you the reasons why that faith is not misplaced."

Execution of Two Men to Be Given Final Rehearsal

Cat to Be Victim of Experiment at Nevada Prison to Establish Efficiency of Use of Poisonous Gas

NEVADA STATE PRISON, CAIRSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 6 (AP)—The first lethal gas execution in which two men have been sentenced to die next Friday morning, will be given a rehearsal in the death chamber in the prison yard here tomorrow.

A cat will be victim of the experiment and the experts supervising the execution will endeavor to learn how quickly the cat dies and whether the arrangements for releasing the hydraulic vapor afterward are satisfactory.

Only the warden and the experts will view the rehearsal. Four prison guards sent in their resignations to the warden today. They said they were unwilling to have any part in the execution. It is understood that the guards to act as executioners will be drawn by lot, and the guards who quit explained that they "didn't want to take a chance of being mixed up in it."

Two men who are to die Friday are Geo. Jones, Chinese tong slayer, and Thomas Russell, American born Mexican, convicted of killing his Indian sweetheart.

APPROVE DELEGATES.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Approval of a slate of 11 delegates at large to the military and naval convention was voted today by a special meeting of the Illinois state central committee. The list represents the organization filing in the April primary and probably will be opposed by a second group, representing factions dissatisfied with the committee selections.

STATEMENT OF LLOYD GEORGE CAUSE OF STR

London Papers Making Sensation of Alleged Secret Pact Between Wilson and Clemenceau on Rhine Seizure

LONDON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The London newspapers are making a sensation out of Mr. Lloyd George's statement in an interview with the Associated Press Sunday last that an agreement existed between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Clemenceau regarding the French occupation of the Rhineland of which the then English premier was unaware until the French government sought permission to publish the memorandum.

The Evening Standard in a double column story refers to Mr. Lloyd George's statement as a "diplomatic blunder" which could not easily have been made public during Mr. Wilson's life time.

The British Foreign office, however, which is preparing an explanation, throws cold water on the story by saying that the alleged secret pact was nothing more than a routine memorandum which the French government was seeking to publish in ordinary course.

Officials expressed the belief that Mr. Lloyd George's statement has become greatly exaggerated since it was first made to the Associated Press. They point out that the documents to which he referred as having been secret are only one of many memoranda exchanged among the big four during the protracted negotiations regarding the Rhineland. Each of the allied powers outlined their respective views on the Rhineland issue at the time and exchanged memoranda with their colleagues.

Premier's Theory Scouted.

It was during this period that the British premier returned to London to look after important domestic political developments. The theory is advanced that in the multiplicity of documents he was called to consider Mr. Lloyd George failed to remember specifically the memorandum respecting an occupation of the Rhineland which had passed between Mr. Clemenceau and Mr. Wilson. Throughout the hour's conversation with the Associated Press on Sunday the former premier did not appear to desire that a sensation be made of the Wilson-Clemenceau memorandum. The subject arose while he was discussing Mr. Wilson's character, his difficulties in Paris and how events transpired to cause him at times to sacrifice idealistic allied agreement on obvious chances of the treaty. One such instance had come to his attention, Mr. Lloyd George said. It was the agreement between Wilson and Clemenceau regarding the occupation of the Rhineland, the details of which he said he had never been acquainted with, that in fact he never knew that such a memorandum had also passed between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Clemenceau on that subject on the previous day when he had received an inquiry from the British foreign office seeking permission on behalf of France for publication of the memorandum. The copy of the memorandum in question accompanied the inquiry.

Mr. Lloyd George said that this was the first intimation he had that a Rhineland understanding between Wilson and Clemenceau had been embodied on paper. That he knew of the existence at least of a verbal understanding between Wilson and Clemenceau on the Rhineland question seems amply borne out by the fact that such a stipulation subsequently was incorporated in the Versailles treaty.

Awaited Permission.

At the foreign office tonight it was stated that only Mr. Lloyd George's permission was awaited before assuring the French government that there was no British objection to publication. According to official circles here there can be no question of the French government's intention not to publish the memorandum until after Mr. Wilson's death. The French request for permission to publish in event of Mr. Wilson's death was in Lloyd George's hands the Friday before Mr. Wilson died.

PENDLETON, Ore., Feb. 6 (AP)—A harsh fate will in the future meet stray horses from nearby ranges and ranches who wander into Pendleton to snatch a choice mouthful of green grass from city kept lawns, according to a recent decision of the city council. All such horses will be rounded up and offered at auction and in the event of no other bidder the city will bid them in and turn them over to the city executive who will kill and dispose of them.

Heretofore the city hired the proprietor of a livery barn to keep the stray visitors, but as an one-eyed claimant the feed bills soon proved prohibitive.

TAFT TO REST FROM ILLNESS

Chief Justice is Forced to Cancel All Engagements Due to Internal Complication

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Chief Justice Taft by direction of his physician, Dr. Thomas A. Clayton, has cancelled all engagements for the immediate future and entered upon a period of complete rest. This course was determined upon after the chief justice had suffered an attack of indigestion today. Although the attack is yielding to treatment, he followed his physician's instructions and went to bed.

Because of his illness, Mr. Taft was unable to attend the funeral of Woodrow Wilson, for which he had been named an honorary pallbearer. At the same time he decided to abandon a trip to New York and New Haven, which he had planned for tomorrow.

Although the supreme court is in a three week's recess, he had been working intensely in preparing opinions for delivery upon the reconvening of the court February 11. It is believed too close application to this duty is responsible in part for his condition.

A Story of Success

How Studebaker Cars became leaders

145,000 people last year paid $200,000,000 for them

THE most talked-about cars among fine cars are the Studebaker Sixes—at $975 and up. Sales have almost trebled in the past three years. The demand for these cars, growing by leaps and bounds, has been Motordom's chief sensation.

Over $200,000,000 was last year spent for Studebaker models.

Now we wish to explain, to all who are interested, the reasons for this success.

Studebaker has always led

For 72 years the name Studebaker has stood for quality and class.

Studebaker equipages, in the carriage days, led premier place. The White House owned them in the days of Grant and Harrison.

Now we make motor cars only. But the Studebaker name, in this modern field, simply had to maintain its prestige.

We had the money, we had the incentive—we who now control. And our one ambition has been to maintain the Studebaker place.

$90,000,000 assets behind us

Studebaker assets are $90,000,000. We have $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment.

Not old plants re-adapted. We have spent $32,000,000 in new plants in five years. We have equipped them with 12,500 up-to-date machines.

Over $8,000,000 was spent on drop forge plants alone. Another $10,000,000 on body plants, to maintain our prestige in coach building.

We believe that no other plant in the country is so well equipped to build quality cars as Studebaker.

Engineering—$500,000 yearly

We created an engineering department which costs $500,000 yearly.

There are 125 skilled men there who devote their time to studying betterments in cars. They make 500,000 tests yearly.

There is a department of Methods and Standards. They decide and fix every standard in these cars.

Learn why 145,162 bought Studebakers in 1923

Studebakers hold the top place in the fine car field today.

In 1919, the public paid over $80,000,000 for 39,356 Studebaker cars.

In 1920, the public paid over $100,000,000 for 51,474 Studebaker cars, an increase of 31% over 1919.

In 1921, the public paid over $120,000,000 for 66,643 Studebaker cars, an increase of 29% over 1920.

In 1922, the public paid over $155,000,000 for 110,269 Studebaker cars, an increase of 66% over 1921.

In 1923, the public paid over $201,000,000 for 145,162 Studebaker cars, an increase of 32% over 1922.

In 1924, business has opened with Studebaker as never before.

Learn why all these buyers preferred Studebakers.

Our factories employ 1,200 inspectors, to make 30,000 inspections on all Studebakers cars. Few flaws, few mistakes can escape them. That, we believe, is the finest organization ever devoted to motor car building.

The price of quality

On some steel alloys for vital parts we pay 15% extra to get them exact.

We spend $600,000 yearly to machine all surfaces of crank shafts, just as in Liberty Airplane Motors. That is the reason for that perfect balance, that absence of vibration.

Every Studebaker car is Timken-equipped. The Special-Six and the Big-Six have more Timken bearings than any car selling under $5,600 in America. The Light-Six more than any competitive car within $1,000 of its price.

Open cars have real leather upholstery. They cost $25 more per car than imitation leather.

Our closed cars have Chase Mohair upholstery. This is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. And a Sedan requires from 15 to 18 yards.

Velour for this upholstery would save us up to $100 per car.

Note the finish of every detail. Mark the infinite care. They add 25% to labor cost on luxurious closed bodies.

Note the completeness of our larger closed cars. The nickel-plated bumpers, the extra disc wheels and cord tires, the steel trunk, the courtesy light, etc. Think what they would cost you, bought as extras.

Thus we have made the Studebaker the leader of quality cars. We have built a demand exceeding 145,000 cars per year.

Learn the results of these efforts, in fairness to yourself. Don't buy a car at $1,000 or over without knowing what we offer.

Compare the parts and details. Mark the advantages we offer—scores on scores. Our experience is that 95% of those who do that buy a Studebaker car.

France Mourns as Wilson Is Laid at Rest; Germans Stubbornly Refuse to Take Any Official Action

PARIS, Feb. 6 (AP)—The French chamber of deputies this afternoon unanimously adopted a resolution of sympathy with the United States in the death of former President Wilson. The resolution was introduced by Deputy Francois de Wendel, who said the death of Mr. Wilson had plunged not only the United States, but the whole world into mourning. He therefore moved that the chamber associate itself with the American congress in deploring the loss which had fallen upon the United States.

"The government," Premier Poincaré interposed, "associates itself with these words: 'We shall never forget the work President Wilson contributed to justice and peace.'"

BERLIN, Feb. 6 (AP)—The attitude of the foreign office in refusing to extend official condolences on the death of Woodrow Wilson has resulted in a revival of newspaper comment regarding the late president in which the government's action meets with approval in some quarters while rebuking others.

The official statement was issued today:

"In response to an inquiry from the German ambassador in Washington whether the condolences of the German government on the death of Mr. Wilson shall be given official expression, the German government informed Ambassador Weisföhr that an official expression of condolence by the German government is to be dispensed with, but that the ambassador may decide for himself whether and in what manner he may possibly participate in the national ceremonies of mourning."

FLAGS AT HALF MAST.
DUBLIN, Feb. 6 (AP)—Flags were half-masted on all the free state government offices and a memorial service was held this afternoon in St. Patrick's cathedral.

PARIS, Feb. 6 (AP)—The flags on all public buildings in France were at half-mast today on the occasion of the funeral of Woodrow Wilson.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 6 (AP)—A day of public mourning was observed today by President Le Alvarez on the occasion of the funeral of Woodrow Wilson.

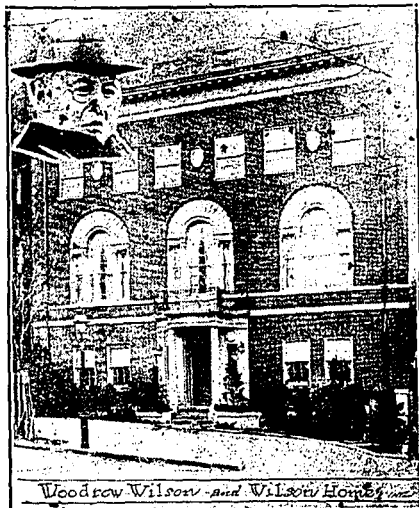

BRAZIL PAYS HONORS.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Brazilian government has directed that the flag be half-masted for three days in memory of Woodrow Wilson, and that honors corresponding to those for a chief of state be rendered today while his funeral is in progress in Washington.

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Peruvian national colors were flown at half-mast today in accordance with an executive decree in tribute to Woodrow Wilson. Cablegrams of condolence were dispatched by President Leguia to President Coolidge and the Wilson family.

Where Wilson Lived and Died

Above is shown a front view of the residence on S street, Washington, where the late Woodrow Wilson lived and where he passed away last Sunday morning. It was in this home where the war executive lived his last days, that family members and government officials gathered Wednesday to attend the brief and simple funeral services. The insert shows the late Mr. Wilson as he appeared last December 28 on his 67th birthday anniversary. It was snapped as he and Mrs. Wilson and his daughter were sitting in an automobile presented to Mr. Wilson as a birthday gift by a number of his friends. It was the last photograph taken of him.

BETTER HEALTH SERVICE

Public Health Is Public Wealth.

Issued by the Public Health League of Idaho

FIRST AID TO THE TEETH.

The capable dentist plays a big part in the health game. His work not only reaches the teeth, but on his skill depends many factors of health. He should be consulted as soon as there is the least decay in the tooth. He will cut the decay away and fill the hole. Here the dentist works to prevent a larger cavity, with its attendant larger cost to the patient in dollars and pain.

If the decay movement is not checked the enamel will break down and a small cavity can in the mouth will be established. The food will rot, will lay the foundation for a toothache and illness may result. Many illnesses may come from decayed teeth and dirty mouth, such as rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, headache, heart trouble, nose, skin affections, colds, hoarseness and nervousness.

Pain is the fire alarm bell of danger. A toothache is the dental signal. There are many things to put into a tooth which will stop the pain, but remember that these things will not stop the decay. The cavity will grow larger and either the pain will return or the nerve will die. The decay must be cleaned out—the cavity filled. Should the face begin to swell, put something cold on the cheek. Don't put a hot compress of any kind against the disturbed part.

Hang on to your friends as long as you can, but if their presence is irritating and brings only trouble, let them go. This applies to the tooth. When the tooth is unable to function properly, have it pulled. When it is pulled the chewing machine has lost one of its cogs. Its work must be done by the teeth on each side. Unless a support is put in, sometimes the side teeth are crowded over into crooked positions. Here the skill of the dentist constructs the right kind of support and bridges the eating gap.

Take care of the teeth.
You wash your dishes after every meal—knives, forks and spoons are scrubbed clean. The teeth are worthy of that much attention. Brush them at least once a day. Don't be a "hill billy" or "city" bruiser. Dig the dirt and grime out of the mouth. Then have your dentist examine your teeth and clean them at least twice a year.

Be good to your teeth. You will need them all your life.

Theatres

Three "happy young men" only a few years out of college, make up the personnel of the Backeye male trio instrumentalists and vocalists, who will be presented first Thursday evening at the high school auditorium by the Twin Falls Lyceum course. They are masters of many difficult instruments, and have had to learn their play, either in ensemble, where their work is especially strong, or in their solo efforts, to realize that they are professional artists who add dignity to the work in which they are engaged.

Their program features the instrumental numbers, in combinations of trumpet, trombone and baritone horn; piano and tenor saxophone; or trombone and slide trumpet novelties. The vocal trio comprises first and second tenor and baritone voices. One of the members is likewise a reader, and this offering is always an enjoyable feature of the program.

The personnel includes George Chas. and director, baritone, trombone, saxophone and piano; William T. Cook, second tenor, cornet, slide cornet, bugle and reader; Glendon Cragg, baritone horn, piano and first tenor. All of these men have had several years experience on the Lyceum stage and are no enthusiastic about their work that they impart this experience to their listeners. An audience never fails to go away from the entertainment feeling they have spent a worth while and wholly delightful evening.

OLD WORLD BEAUTY IN "ASHES OF VENGEANCE."
Those who are Joseph Schenck's, superb production "Ashes of Vengeance," a First National picture, in which Norma Talmadge is starred, and which is now being presented at the Orpheum theater, exhibit at the old world beauty of the gardens of Castle de Roche, in which the climax of the picture is situated for the fascinating star and Conway Tearle.

These scenes were filmed in the gardens of William Millard Graham, a Santa Barbara millionaire. Few estates in America boast any of greater natural magnificence and the vistas afforded in the film are nothing short of entrancing. A wonderful spot for love making as poetic as that between the beautiful Norma and the dashing Tearle.

Length of Twilight
Twilight is daylight which occurs between sunset and sunrise. Light is reflected from the upper air till the sun is at an angle of 18 degrees below the horizon. The length of twilight depends a great deal upon the condition of the atmosphere. In low latitudes, mostly on account of the quickness with which the sun traverses the 18 degrees below the horizon and because of the transparency of the atmosphere, there is little twilight. On the other hand, in latitudes higher than 45 degrees, twilight at certain times of the year lasts from sunset to sunrise.

Brown, at Universal City, when he directed "The Acquittal," a super-Jewel production, based on Edna Ferber's famous Broadway play, coming to the Idaho theater commencing today. Every character in the play is depicted as being the wanted criminal during the thrilling events that follow. The climax clears the story in a wave of surprise. Norman Kerry and Claire Windsor head the all-star cast.

SHOE FITTERS WIN FROM NEWS

Sheiks from Shoe Market Are Successful in Taking Two from Print Team

The newshy took one game and the Shoe Market took the other two in Wednesday's round at the bowling alleys. High score marks were pitifully low at 549 for Knefel on the shoe fitters' quintet. Logan followed with 517 for a close second with the remaining bowlers scattered in the 400 class for the most part.

Measured again on The News team with the regular trio who were still minus the aid of Self, who will be lined up once more for the next round, which will start next Monday. For the Shoe Market the quality furnished five failed to live up to expectations in the matter of scores and 64 points is the margin by which they defeated the crippled News bowlers.

Team averages show The News averaging on the 100 mark while the shoe clerk Sheiks fall short of 165 for an average by two pins.

Tonight the Times and Sugar Factory will meet for what is expected to be the best game of the week, for both teams have an excellent record with the Sugar Factory coming rapidly to the top with a long string of victories. Tonight's game concludes the second round at the local alleys and the final tip will begin February 11.

Southerners Have a Novel Method of Naming Racehorses

Choose Single Letter as Designation of Series of Each Year's Names

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 6 (AP)—To those persons who wonder from what source the names of Pullman cars and race horses spring, the Williams Brothers of Louisville have thrown a ray of light.

R. D. and Peter Williams, breeders and racers of thoroughbreds, have a unique method of naming their horses. This season, for example, they have chosen the letter "R" as the initial letter in the names of all their two-year-olds. Last year they used the letter "Q."

Horses to be sent to the post this year by them include Repulse, Realize, Recovery, Reprieve, Resistance, Remember, Request, Requite, Receiver, Reputation and Respite.

One of the older horses in their service they said was Cromwell, indicating, according to the alphabetical schedule, the horse was at least 15 years old.

Investors in Cambria Steel Company File Suit to Set Aside Recent Merger with Bethlehem

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—A group of minority stockholders of the Cambria Steel company today filed suit in federal court asking that the recent merger with the Bethlehem Steel corporation be set aside, that the Cambria properties, said to be worth $360,000, be recovered, that a receiver be appointed for the Cambria and that the Bethlehem Steel corporation make an accounting.

The technical defendants are the Cambria Steel company, the Bethlehem Steel corporation and its subsidiaries and the Guaranty Trust company of New York.

The petitioners aver that the transfer was "the result of a conspiracy" and therefore "fraudulent, illegal and void."

TAPS SOUNDED FOR FORMER EXECUTIVE

sets forth only his name and the days of his birth and death, there still lies the painful thought of the future of those who have that touching gift of the grief-stricken widow.

As the hour of the double services drew on, thousands took their places along the way from the house to the chapel to stand long in the chill rain, the first of those who would join that best about town. The wide avenue over which the dead was to pass would make his last journey was banked with people and kept clear of traffic until he should have passed.

Before the house, across the street, a solid rank of people had gathered before the first of those who would join with the family in the home service had arrived. They stood oblivious of cold, waiting to bare their heads any moment.

Opposite them the guard of honor came to a stand in ranks before the house, soldiers, sailors and marines.

Flowers, on the second floor of the house, flowers were everywhere. They covered the walls and sent their soft fragrance down from every niche and corner. There are three rooms and a short hallway on this floor, the living rooms of the house. Wide doors opened to the street, and the room that all who should be present at this intimate service in the home privacy the dead man loved, night at least, hear what was said.

The mellow chime of the great hall clock beat three solemn strokes through the stillness. As the last tones died and died, Dr. Taylor, the pastor in Washington, under whom Woodrow Wilson sat in all the years of his presidential greatness, raised his voice.

Reads From Psalms.

"The Lord is my Shepherd," he read—the old, comforting words of the twenty-third psalm—carrying out through all the rooms and up the stairs to the tearful women waiting there in deepest black. As he read, faint sobbing came from the landing where Mrs. Wilson's courage faltered for a moment in the long strain she had known.

As Dr. Taylor said the last word of the psalm, there was a murmured "Amen," and he gave place to his colleague from Princeton, Dr. Beach. Mr. Wilson's pastor in those far-off, quiet days. With raised hands the minister bade the company to prayer, pouring out his earnest plea that divine aid be given in the realization of the high vision of a vast and peaceful world, there was a murmur of which the dead president had glimpses. There was something again as he brought God's compassion on the brief-bowed family.

As the solemn words were spoken the clock chimed the quarter hour and the simple home service of Woodrow Wilson, plain American, had been said as he wished it said.

Theatres

A FINISHED PRODUCT.

One of the most thoroughly finished theatrical productions from an artistic standpoint ever seen in Twin Falls was that of "June Chag," as produced by the Moroni Olson Players at the Lavering last night.

The play itself presents a cross-section of life without embellishment and with an almost studied absence of the generally accepted values of modern dramatics. In weaker hands it would have been impossible as a vehicle yet as played by the Olson cast it proved of sustained and absorbing interest.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the quality of entertainment offered by these people. To those who enjoy the theater for its own sake the performance was almost a revelation. It was well balanced throughout, carefully staged and offered with a fidelity to detail which lifted the entire performance out of the common rut of the so-called straight show and placed it on a pinnacle of dramatic art which proved as refreshing as it was delightful.

Mr. Olson, and in fact the entire cast, belong to the quieter school of acting. The intensity of the more dramatic features was heightened by a reserve strength rarely met with in the work of the average stage company. Every part was in perfect character, each player was equal to his task, every last detail gave the impression of true appreciation of dramatic art and the result as a whole left little to be desired.

Each member of the cast is a clear and careful reader, and apparently each is possessed of an unusually good voice. Every word was audible throughout the house, and yet the great bulk of the dialogue is delivered in quiet, almost conversational tones. No attempt is made to take advantage of the conventional methods, although many opportunities are offered.

Children, as a rule, had but little to the average theatrical performance. This was not true in the case of last night's performance, and the work of Little Betty and Munroe Husbands added a touch in lighter vein which was altogether pleasing.

It is to be hoped that Twin Falls will see more of this clever company and that upon their next appearance they will be accorded the character of recognition which their work merits.

FARMERS' LOAN AGENCIES UNITE

E. C. Davis, Buhl, Heads District Organization Formed by 21 South Idaho Associations

Twenty-one federal farm loan associations scattered throughout southern Idaho were united in a district organization formed at a meeting here Wednesday of their representatives with M. E. Lewis, Moscow, vice-president, and other officials of the federal land bank of Spokane.

The organization was perfected with the election of E. C. Davis, Buhl, president; J. C. Knott, Russell Lane, vice-president; George Petrie, Gooding, secretary and treasurer; George W. Padgham, Bliss, C. C. Reid, Dietrich, C. E. Judd, Jerome, T. B. Bush, Richfield members of executive committee.

F. G. Adams, Buhl, and Julius Schmitt, Gooding, were elected delegates to a meeting of representatives of farm loan associations throughout the four northwestern states to be held early in March in Spokane.

The new organization voted to hold its next annual meeting in Jerome.

Follows All-Day Conference

Formation of the district organization was effected at an evening meeting following an all-day session featured by the presentation by Mr. Lewis and other officials and agents of the Spokane land bank and federal farm loan board, of the organization and objectives of this agency for extending credit to the agricultural industry.

Representatives of local loan boards participated in discussion of various phases of the subject, and as a result of the conference here, it was stated, a better understanding and closer relationship between the land bank and the local loan associations has been brought about.

One of the first undertakings of the now-formed district organization, it was announced, will be the inauguration of steps looking toward the establishment of an organization to take advantage of an intermediate credit system by means of which short term loans may be made to farmers on their personal notes.

Local Men Lead Discussion

Representatives of the land bank and farm loan board during the conference offered a number of suggestions as to methods for facilitating the operation of the farm loan system.

These suggestions and their application to local conditions were the topic for discussion during the forenoon session.

Chairman J. G. Adams, Buhl; W. P. Alworth, Twin Falls; J. C. Knott, Gooding; George W. Padgham, Bliss, and others. The federal land bank of Spokane, Mr. Lewis stated, has closed loans in the four states in which it operates up to December 31, 1923, amounting to $84,094,885. Associations represented at the meeting here, he said, have received more of this money than has been placed in the states of Nevada and Arizona combined; and nearly one-half as much as has been placed in Utah.

In spite of trouble occasioned for the bank by depressed conditions which, Mr. Lewis said, are not as pronounced in southern Idaho as elsewhere, the bank is "looking for and anxious to get good farm loans in every association district in its four states, on the basis of present land values."

Delegates on Hand

The following delegates represented farm loan associations participating in the meeting here:

Gooding—Martin Albreton, Holger Foster.
Richfield—T. B. Price.
Dietrich—T. C. Reid, E. R. Gaze.
Rupert—A. O. DeMay.
