PLANS FORMED FOR MEMORIAL TO LATE CHIEF

Place of Final Interment of Wilson's Body Yet to Be Determined by Widow; Want Burial in Virginia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Wrote in the glory of death, Woodrow Wilson has found sanctuary under the towering arches of the Washington cathedral, acclaimed by his countrymen and the world.

He was laid to his eternal rest in the silent vault with only the solemn, simple rites of religious service, as was his wish, often spoken to the sorrowing widow who today sought again to take up life's burdens with an aching sense of loss in her heart.

Before her still is the task of deciding where shall be the final resting place of her honored husband. For months, probably, he will lie in the vault to which he was committed yesterday, just as night came slowly over the nation's capital; but a greater memorial will one day be reared for him, to show the honor in which men held him.

The dead was president had given thought to the place where he would rest in death and it will be within the District of Columbia that his ultimate tomb will be set. That has already been decided by Mrs. Wilson in accordance with his wish, although the place where the tomb shall be erected is still to be selected.

Tradition Followed

Above the vault where lies the casket that contains his body the cathedral structure has reached a point in building where the transept north and south are next to be constructed. The north transept, by tradition in England and the United States, is the transept of statesmen where those may lie who gave great service to their countrymen in the civil walks of national life. Plans have been formed for the building of an adequate memorial to Woodrow Wilson in that transept of the cathedral beneath which he now rests. It would be placed just where the massive northern wall of the nave and the western bulk of the transept will join.

As the plan now runs the tomb would be built into the wall of the cathedral itself and the casket so tenderly placed yesterday in the chapel vault would be sealed within its stone enclosure forever. Within the transept, on the north floor of the cathedral, a fitting memorial would be set as the inner face of the tomb.

Mrs. Wilson to Decide.

Mrs. Wilson has not as yet assented to this plan. She has agreed with her husband that he lived for eight long years in Washington as president and came to the White House only to make his home in the city, it is in Washington, or at least within the lines of the District of Columbia that he should be buried. So far as closest friends are aware, however, she has not as yet had time or the courage to select the spot. Senators from his native state of Virginia have urged that his body should lie on Virginia soil, while from Princeton has come a claim that he should go back in death to the school.

Hughes Has Praise for Leadership of Wilson for Peace

"He Has Left an Imperishable Fame," Secretary Says; Established Friendly Relations Among Latin-Americans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Tribute to the leadership of Woodrow Wilson in the cause of peace and his labors in connection with the relations between nations of the western hemisphere was paid by Secretary Hughes today in an address, as chairman, at the monthly meeting of the governing board of the Pan-American union. The secretary expressed the appreciation of the United States government of the conditions extended on behalf of the Latin-American republic on the death of the former president.

"He has left an imperishable fame," Secretary Hughes said. "His leadership can never be forgotten by our people or other peoples in whose behalf he wrought in the cause of peace. I am sure that all Latin-Americans fully recognize the great worth of his labors in connection with the relations of the republics of this hemisphere."

On motion of Ambassador de Alencar of Brazil, the board adopted a resolution expressing their sympathy for the death of Mr. Wilson and directing that the expression of sympathy be forwarded to Mrs. Wilson.

CONDEMNED MAN WINS REPRIEVE

Thomas Russell, Sentenced to Die from Lethal Gas, Gets Life Sentence

CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 7 (AP)—Thomas Russell, one of the two men to die in the first lethal gas execution here tomorrow, was reprieved from death tonight. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment when Governor Shragham, presiding at a special meeting of the pardon board, changed his previous vote on the question of leniency and decided to exercise mercy. Under the Nevada law, the governor's vote as well as that of the majority of the pardon board is necessary to commute such a sentence.

Tonight only one member of the board, E. A. Decker, chief justice of the state supreme court, voted against the commutation. The governor explained that he was influenced largely by a telegram received today from the district judge who presided at Russell's trial. The judge said he had doubts as to whether a case of premeditated murder had been proven against Russell.

Russell was convicted of killing his sweetheart, Mamie Johnny, an Indian girl. Although there was direct testimony from the girl's mother and from her little sister that they had seen Russell stab the girl, Russell maintained his innocence, re-iterating it today, within a few hours of his expected execution.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Governor Shragham, "that Russell killed the girl; but there is doubt as to whether it was premeditated murder."

DENY INTEREST IN OIL LEASES

Standard Oil Company Disclaims Any Part in Development of Naval Reserves

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Standard Oil Company of California "has no interest, direct or indirect, in a single acre of naval reserve oil leases," announcement from the company's office here tonight said, commenting on a resolution offered in the senate today by Senator Walsh which called upon the secretary of the interior to take steps for the recovery of sections 16 and 20 in naval reserve number one.

"The company has no interest in section 16 in No. 1 reserve," the announcement said. "The attempt to link the Standard Oil company with the scandal in respect to naval oil leases is absolutely unwarranted and unfair."

Department of Justice Ready for Immediate Investigation of Alleged Corner on Oil Industry

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The department of justice will immediately set in motion its machinery to go to the bottom of charges by Governor McMaster of South Dakota, that "alleged interests of the Standard Oil" had cornered the crude oil supply and enhanced gasoline prices.

The department action has been taken upon instructions from President Coolidge to whom was directed today a telegram from the South Dakota governor setting forth his charges and also a similar message from Governor Bryan of Nebraska.

Shortly after the announcement that the president had ordered an inquiry into the gasoline and crude oil situation, former Representative Campbell of Kansas, speaking for the Prairie Oil and Gas company, submitted to the executive a statement giving reasons for fluctuation of crude oil and gasoline prices in the last year.

Utter Economic Law Mr. Campbell suggested that the operations of the economic law of supply and demand alone were responsible for the fluctuating prices.

The president's instructions, it was said at the department of justice, would broaden the inquiry which has been under way many months. United States attorneys long have had instructions, officials added, to aid local officials in efforts to run down monopolistic tendencies of all kinds in oil and gasoline as well as any other commodity.

Want Prices Checked

Although there has been constant observation of conditions in the oil industry, diplomatic officials said there would now be an intensive study of the situation of which the two state executives have complained.

Governor McMaster declared in his telegram that South Dakota had "performed its duty" in preventing excessive profits in the distribution business and called upon the federal government to check excess profits in the refining of gasoline.

BREWER PLACES CHARGE AGAINST U. S. TREASURY

Bureau of Engraving Trouble Again in the Limestone as Claim of Duplication of Bonds Is Put on Record

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The smoldering embers of the bureau of engraving conspiracy which first blazed up two years ago with a wholesale dismissal of employees by President Harding has again been fanned into flame.

Charles R. Brewer, department of justice attorney who investigated charges of duplication of government securities, brought the case into the open today with the filing of sensational charges against the treasury, and despite denials by Secretary Mellon and other officials that Brewer's allegations contained merit, Representative La Guardia, republican, New York, began steps by introducing a resolution of inquiry to force a congressional inquiry.

Alleges Duplication

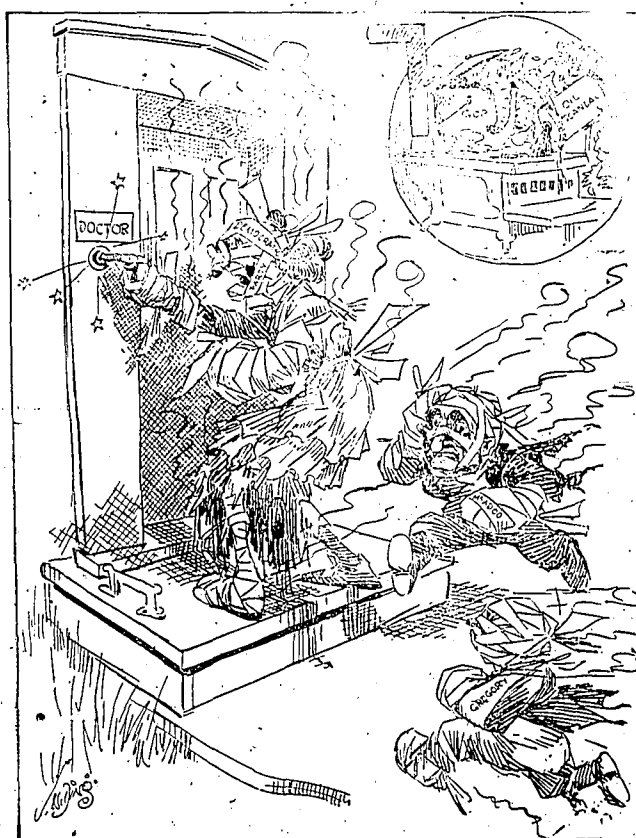

The charges by Brewer were contained in a copy of a report he had sent previously to President Coolidge and Attorney General Daugherty, and were made public when they were attached as exhibits to an injunction suit filed here against government officials whom Brewer said were interfering with his inquiry. They set forth that there had been duplications of bonds; that the treasury had suppressed knowledge of them; that treasury officials had thwarted Brewer in his attempts to uncover the condition, and that dupliques of bonds had been destroyed in the treasury.

Secretary Mellon, on learning Brewer's charges had been made public, said that for every bond issued, its face value had found its way into the treasury vaults. He added that there had been duplication of numbers, but there had been no loss to either the public or the government. He attributed the duplication of numbers to mechanical errors, which Brewer had said was not the case.

Brewer's charges have been known to treasury officials for many months and, they said, had been investigated and disproved. They included the assertion that a clique swayed the accurate banking committee.

BANK RESOURCES SHOW BIG GAIN

Comptroller Dawes Gives Analysis of Conditions as Shown in Call of December 29

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Aggregate resources of the country's national banks increased $431,171,000 during 1923, Comptroller Dawes of the currency announced tonight in making public an analysis of the banking conditions as shown in the call of December 29. The total resources were $22,466,128,000, the greatest since the call of December 29, 1920.

Deposit liabilities of the national banks, December 29, amounting to $17,928,861,000, were greater than at any call date in history, except that of December 31, 1919. This represents an increase of $788,331,000 since the call of September 14, but an increase of only $408,380,000 over the end of 1922, because of the reduction in deposits during the summer producing season when heavy calls were made for funds.

WARRANTS ISSUED.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Feb. 7 (AP)—Warrants charging Nicky Arstein and Charles Drucker, central figures in the $5,000,000 bond theft investigation in New York four years ago, and three others, with obtaining $48,000 under false pretenses, were issued today.

OPPOSE TERMS OF TRADE PACT WITH GERMANY

Opposition Centers Around Claim of Probable Retarding of Development of American Merchant Marine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—After further opposition to the treaty of commerce and amity with Germany had been voiced today in the senate foreign relations committee, the senate at the request of Chairman Lodge took the somewhat unusual step of making it public in advance of a report by the committee.

Chief opposition to the treaty centers around the most favored nation clauses which, it is argued, will retard development of the American merchant marine by restricting freedom of action by the United States in imposing lower tariff duties on goods imported in American ships than on those brought by ships under other flags.

Opponents of these clauses have insisted on the action of congress in 1923 in placing in the shipping act a provision directing the president to abrogate similar provisions in existing treaties of commerce.

No Action Taken.

President Wilson declined to comply, as did President Harding, and so far President Coolidge has taken no action.

The most favored nation clauses in the pending treaty are said to be typical of those contemplated for commercial treaties with a number of other powers and are a part of the plan of the administration for underlining pacts in the light of changed conditions since the world war. These sections in the treaty with Germany guarantee most favored treatment in respect to the movement of commerce, duties, facilities, the levying of duties on imports and exports and similar subjects.

Duties Limited.

Provisions in this connection which have come under fire in the foreign relations committee declare that neither contracting power shall suffer imposition of duties or other restrictions greater than the most favored nation.

Other sections give to the nationals of each country the right to enter, travel and reside, and to engage in any sort of legal industry upon payment of ordinary taxes imposed in the country; assure freedom of entry into every open port except that the restriction of American coastal trade is recognized; and provide for the exchange of consular representatives and their privileges and duties.

As in the case of most such treaties it is to run for ten years.

Sentence was deferred, but it was expected to be passed tomorrow or Saturday.

Coolidge Approves Co-operative Plan of Farm Marketing

Farmers' National Council Hears Endorsement of New Scheme by Many Speakers as Convention Opens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Endorsement of the co-operative marketing movement by President Coolidge and addresses on various angles of the question marked the opening session here today of a three day conference of the national council of farmers' co-operative marketing associations.

President Coolidge, in his message to the conference, declared there was need also of co-operative organization among urban consumers. He advocated "a close working relationship" between the producers and consumer groups, as an "ideal toward which the largely co-operative movement of the country should aim."

Speakers at today's meeting urged further development along co-operative lines included former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; Senator Capper, republican, of Kansas; and Robert W. Bingham, Louisville, Ky., publisher and chairman of the conference.

HOUSE MEMBERS BEGIN DEBATE ON AMENDMENT

Ways and Means Committee Agrees to report New Revenue Bill; Will Mean Loss of $220,000,000 Annually

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The first step in the revision of federal taxes was completed today when the house ways and means committee after two months' deliberation agreed to report the new revenue bill to the house. Shortly afterwards the house opened debate on another feature of the taxation program, the constitutional amendment resolution to prohibit issuance of tax exempt securities.

The committee revenue bill proposes reduction in income tax rates amounting to a loss in revenue of about $220,000,000 annually and cuts off about $114,000,000 annual revenue from the indirect, or war excess, taxes, many of which were repealed in addition to a 25 per cent reduction in 1923 income taxes payable this year was provided, saving taxpayers about $225,000,000 on these taxes.

Chairman Green will report the measure to the house next Monday on the prospects of an extended fight on the floor against the income rates approved by the committee. Mr. Green himself has come out against the 25 per cent maximum surtax rate in the bill, and it became known today that republican leaders had been conferring informally in the hope of effecting a compromise in the party on a higher surtax rate to assure passage of a republican bill. Democrats have announced they would stand united for the higher surtax rates and lower normal income rates proposed in their bill.

Opposition Develops.

Considerable nonpartisan opposition developed on the floor to the tax exempt amendment which would grant the federal government power to tax state and municipal securities and in turn give states and cities the right to tax federal securities. Indication of its defeat was seen in a test vote on adoption of the special rule making the resolution in order before the house, which was approved, 225 to 192, or less than the two-thirds majority necessary for passage of a constitutional amendment. The amendment passed in the house last year but was not voted on in the senate. The resolution will be voted on tomorrow upon conclusion of the allotted eight hours' debate.

Bill Voted Out.

The revenue bill was voted out by the committee, 15 to 3. Eight of the 11 democrats voted "yea," announcing they did not wish to delay a report of the measure but were opposed to the income rates fixed by the republicans in private and which conform strictly to the recommendations of Secretary Mellon.

The income rates provide for a reduction in the normal tax on the first $4000 of net income from four to three percent and from eight to six percent on the remainder of the net income. The maximum surtax rate is reduced from 50 per cent to 25 per cent to be levied against net incomes of $100,000 and over. The graduated scale starting at one per cent is made to apply first at incomes of $10,000 instead of at $6000.

Provides for Reduction.

The measure also provides for a reduction of 25 per cent in taxes on incomes which are earned, all incomes under $2000 being classed as "earned" for purposes of this reduction. The amount of income which may be declared earned is limited to $20,000.

The indirect taxes were revised to include repeal of the tax on telephone and telegraph messages, soft drink beverages, candy and several other articles. Taxes on all theater admissions of 50 cents or under also were repealed.

Chairman Green of the ways and means committee, author of the resolution, was its chief proponent, with Representative Langworth of Ohio, republican, floor leader, and Crisp, democrat, Georgia, among others, supporting him.

Sees Evil Effect.

Mr. Green predicted if the resolution were not adopted that in a few years the "rich" through their investments in tax exempt securities, would have concentrated the wealth in a few hands, "while we of the mass having moderate incomes soon will have to pay all the taxes." He said he believed farmers were willing to have farm loan bonds made taxable, if "this other huge volume of securities is opened to taxation." He estimated there was about $13,000,000,000 invested in tax exempt securities.

EXPORT BILL ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The McNary-Haugen bill proposing a grain export commission to handle surplus crops was attacked today as an impractical and superficial measure before the house agricultural committee by L. E. Ginter, former president of the Chicago board of trade, and P. H. Watkins, president of the National Grain Dealers' association.

RECALL GUARD IN NICARAGUA

Arrangements Made for Maintenance of Order without Presence of U. S. Marines

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Plans for the withdrawal of the American legion guard of 100 marines from Managua, Nicaragua, after the inauguration of the new administration there in January, 1925, were announced today by the state department.

Arrangements have been made between the two governments for the organization of an efficient constabulary to maintain order when the marine detachment is recalled.

Correspondence between the Washington and Managua governments made public with the announcement shows that the latter has accepted the offer of the American government to provide instructors in creating the constabulary as well as the services of Dr. H. W. Dadds, secretary of national municipal league, to assist in the administration in the electoral law adopted by Nicaragua. Dr. Dadds will be assisted by a limited number of technical advisers.

RENEW CONTEST TO FORCE DENBY TO QUIT OFFICE

Abandon Efforts to Question Former Secretary Fall in Oil Lease Trouble; Doherty Corrects His Testimony

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Abandoning further efforts to question Albert R. Fall, on the advice of the special counsel, the senate oil committee went forward today, with plans to press the naval oil lease investigation along every other available channel.

A new grant of authority for the committee to act was given by the senate to remove any ground for a challenge of its jurisdiction such as that made by Mr. Fall last Saturday when he refused to testify.

At the same time the senate voted to enlarge the area of naval oil lands sought to be recovered by the government by including sections 10 and 30 in the Elk Hills, California, field, now held by the Standard Oil company of California.

With these two matters disposed of without debate or a dissenting vote, the senate renewed its war of bitter words over the resolution calling for the resignation of Secretary Doherty, but without reaching a vote.

Chairman Leavort received a public letter from E. L. Doherty, in which the oil magnate asked leave to correct his previous testimony by stating that William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and his one-time New York law firm had received only a total of $150,000 in fees from his company, instead of $250,000 as originally testified to by Mr. Doherty.

President Cummins of the senate signed and sent to President Coolidge the Walsh resolution directing the institution of court proceedings for the annulment of the naval oil leases and the punishing of any guilty of wrong doing in connection with granting of them to the Doherty and Sinclair interests.

Silas P. Strawn and Allee Pomeroy, special government counsel, continued their investigation into the oil cases while opposition to their selection apparently was spreading in the senate, but with few indications that it would attain proportions sufficient to prevent their confirmation.

In its inquiry as to possible transactions in oil stocks by government officials the committee formally requested certain information and records of the New York stock exchange from Seymour Cromwell, president of the exchange.

MCADOO QUITS. WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—William G. McAdoo announced here tonight that he had terminated professional services with E. L. Doherty, California oil magnate.

Mr. McAdoo's announcement was contained in a letter to Chairman Leavort of the senate oil committee, in which he expressed the desire to testify before the committee immediately. He may be heard tomorrow.

The former treasury secretary said that when he read in the newspaper Mr. Doherty's "amazing disclosures about his transactions with ex-Secretary Fall," he refrained from immediately terminating his personal services with Mr. Doherty as was his first impulse, but he had done so now, "fearing that the newspaper accounts might be as vicious and unfair" to Mr. Doherty as some of them had been to him.

Decision of the oil committee to recall Mr. Fall when it resumes its public hearings tomorrow was reached on advice of Mr. Strawn and Mr. Pomeroy. They recommended that he be not heard unless he waived his constitutional right, as otherwise he might gain immunity from prosecution.

Case Would Fail

The committee had been advised that Mr. Fall's decision to stand on his constitutional right was irrevocable and also it had been told by special government counsel that proceedings against him for contempt in refusing to testify probably would fail since the statute governing in such a case was less broad in its scope than the constitutional guarantee against compelling a witness to incriminate himself.

With Mr. Fall discharged from their attendance the committee had not decided tonight what witnesses would be called tomorrow.

Events moved fast in the senate once it reached the oil question after its three days' recess out of respect to the memory of former President Wilson, since he was the father of the original resolution, the senate committee accorded Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, the courtesy of introducing the new resolution authorizing the full investigation. "The senate adopted it after it had been approved in the crowded galleries were aware of what had transpired. The measure later was sent to the house, where prompt action was forecast."

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, then called up his resolution for the recovery of the oil fields held by the Standard Oil Company of California and it was rushed through with such dispatch that apparently few of the spectators in the crowded galleries were aware of what had transpired. The measure later was sent to the house, where prompt action was forecast.

Renewal of the senate debate on the Doherty resolution was marked by another break from the democratic ranks by Senator Hiram, of Maryland, sharp exchanges between Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania, and several democratic senators and a scathing attack by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, upon Mr. Fall, Mr. Doherty, Harry F. Sinclair, Secretary Deputy and Treasury Secretary Mellon.

BRITON DENIES SECRET TREATY OVER RHINELAND

Lloyd George Asserts Compact Between Clemenceau and Wilson Was Above-Board; Foreign Office Gives Statement

LONDON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Mr. Lloyd George, through the Daily Chronicle, has issued the following statement concerning the interview printed in the New York World on the alleged secret Rhineland agreement between President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau at the Paris peace conference.

"I cannot accept the views attributed to me as accurately setting out the facts of what happened at a critical moment in the peace conference. As to those facts the official statement issued by the French foreign office is substantially correct."

Two Issues Involved. Then, alluding to how he was called to London at the time in question, Mr. Lloyd George proceeds:

"I found on my return to Paris that during my absence an agreement had been arrived at between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Clemenceau on two very important issues. One was the military occupation of the Rhineland and the other, a guarantee by the United States of the French frontier against acts of aggression by Germany."

"To describe this agreement as 'a secret compact' between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Clemenceau is ridiculous. Mr. Wilson, I need hardly say, acted with perfect loyalty and it cannot be imputed as a blame either to the late president or to Mr. Clemenceau that I was called to England at the time these grave matters were under discussion. The fact that the late president and Mr. Clemenceau had arrived at an agreement during my absence was communicated to me on my return, and the agreement regarding the occupation of the Rhineland was, after some modification, ultimately incorporated in the peace treaty."

Regrets Publicity. Expressing regret that any public reference should have been made to a communication set to him by the British foreign office, Mr. Lloyd George says:

"The facts are in effect set out in the foreign office communiqué." (This communiqué was passed by the foreign office Wednesday night).

The former premier then explained that the communication from the foreign office was not signed, and owing to this fact, there may be delay in replying to it, which he regrets. He adds that of the documents thus proposed to be distributed by the French government one is headed "Articles concerning the guarantee of execution treaties." The former is headed "Treaty Between France and the United States."

The former premier observes that he

KANSAS CITY, Kansas, Feb. 7 (AP)—The 30,000 stockholders and bondholders in the Tule San Oil corporation whose assets were ordered sold in federal court here late yesterday, constituted the greatest "sucker list" the world has ever known, according to Attorney for Kansas, declared today.

Although face value of the outstanding securities is approximately $30,000,000, A. L. Berger, attorney for the receivers, believes not more than $5,000,000 was realized by the company. Mr. Berger said the physical assets would bring not more than $200,000.

PRINTERS LOSE TO SUGAR MEN

Factory Quintet Tied for Third Place as Result of Two to One Win

One game reached the 800 mark and two men marked up 500 totals for the finish of the 14th week of the bowling league in the games Thursday, which went two to one in favor of the sugar factory.

Larsen made a good score of 540 for high hours and Scilley, the opposing lead-off man, was next topping the sugar list with a 507 total. The other scores ranged on down to the low mark of 201.

Times—Sugar factory 2380, Times 2254—a difference of 26 for the sweet squad, which denotes close games even though the totals were low. Team averages showed the printers missing 137 by a pin and the sugar men going above the 158 mark.

Hill was responsible for the Times' only victory when in the last game he rolled 185 instead of in the 140 class, where he had been bowling the first two games, and as a result the Times took their game only by 6 pins.

The secret of Hollister's demand against the Chicago club in refusing to sign until "the financial differences" between him and the Cubs had been adjusted, was revealed today when Hollister said "that according amount of back salary" would have to be paid him before he would affix his signature to a contract. The sum involved is believed to be between $4000 and $5000.

GAME WITH PAUL FIVE ON SCHEDULE TONIGHT

Metcores Blinded Against Small But Fast Basketball Quintet for Session in Local Gymnasium

Following their trip to Boise last week, the Paul team is a creditable showing against the Capital City hoopers with a crippled squad, the Metcores face other conditions tonight when they play Paul in the local gymnasium.

Although the Paul aggregation comes from a small school they have won all of the big schools of the eastern end of the district and promise the blue and white men a real battle from the time the game starts until the final whistle and the Paul teams are well known for their fight.

There will be no girls' game and the regular game will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Evans expressed his usual warning with the remark that "Paul had a fast passing crowd and are rated to be among the best by rough, superintending of the Paul schools, who is regarded as an authority in this district."

GAME PROVES FEATURE OF JUNIOR FEATURE

School and Class Spirit Emphasized; Ninth Grade Wins at Basketball; Band Shows Good Progress

The assembly of the junior high school Thursday was devoted to school and class spirit. During the assembly hour in the afternoon the entire student body of the junior school filled the gymnasium and spent the period singing their class and school songs and giving their yell.

The feature of the program was a basketball game between the eighth grade and the substitutes for the ninth grade. During the first half the younger players led the older team by a safe margin but the eighth grade scoring stopped when Loefer and Kelly, regulars, entered and held the younger players scoreless in the last half with the final score reading 30-15 in favor of the eighth grade.

The junior high school band of 22 members was also very much in evidence. Professor Bainbridge expresses his approval of the young organization this year, which he considers one of the best juvenile bands that he has had charge of.

COOLIDGE APPROVES MARKETING SCHEME

He told the conference "that it would be unfortunate for the farmer if he becomes imbued with the idea that co-operative marketing in itself is a panacea for all agricultural ills." While a wisely managed co-operative association can be most helpful in many ways, he said, "operations will be successful only when they are those of other business enterprises."

A tremendous problem awaits solution in crop mortgages and farm tenancy, Carl Williams, president of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, said in urging appointment of a special group by the conference for the study of these questions. The threat of the money lender to "make the farmer sell his crop at harvest is keeping the majority of American farmers in virtual bondage," Mr. Williams said, adding that the remedy for the situation lay with the education of the money lender to permit the farmer to "move in an orderly manner through the co-operative."

Thomas E. Wright, general manager of the New York Canning Crops association, said that the growers must be taught that the co-operative organization is not formed on basis of price but rather on the basis of the farmer's own economic advantage. He advocated an educational campaign in the interest of the co-operative movement and declared standardization of products and strict honesty with the public based on the right type of management were essential to its success.

Gift of Clothing Believed Rifled at German Border

Ogden Man Sent $2,000 Worth of Clothes to Russians; Gets Old Shoes Back

OGDEN, Feb. 7 (AP)—Two years ago Jacob Greenbaum, wealthy Ogden high dealer, and his wife shipped 12 bundles of clothing, valued at about $2000, to 12 families in Russia. Relatives to whom the packages were consigned have since written to say they never received the bundles.

A few months ago Greenbaum started to investigate. He found that the packages seemingly had never left a custom house on the German-Russian frontier.

Saturday five packages were returned to his home here. The wrappings were those of the original bundles, but the contents, Greenbaum says, consisted mostly of rags and paper. In one of the bundles was three pairs of shoes, out of the 72 pair shipped. He does not know where the other seven bundles are, but has placed the case in the hands of his attorney.

tions of the treasury department and that J. W. McCarter, former assistant register, had complained of being discharged for bringing complaint of alleged irregularities to the notice of treasury officials. Brewer also charged spurious securities had been issued and that duplicate bonds had been traced "to treasury sources from surrendered bonds stolen from the treasury vaults."

Says Harding Knew Facts

The report of Brewer disavowed that he had caused the dismissal of bureau employees by President Harding and set forth that the president had been informed of "fanciful irregularities" at the bureau before Brewer entered the case.

Treasury officials said today that the department of justice would make reply to Brewer's suit.

Draws Conclusions

Among the conclusions Brewer said he drew from his investigation were these:

"There are about 3,000 known pairs of duplicate bonds and about 4,000 known pairs of duplicate coupons. Duplicates still coming."

"That duplicates are being held by parties with guilty knowledge awaiting destruction of the bonds which would prove their duplication."

"That much that could be told has been held back by employees who fear the consequences."

"Were Deceived"

"That treasury officials from the start have given no real effort to officially determine the cause of duplication; that some impelling motive has caused them to intimidate employees; to join other enemies of the writer in their fraud cases who are off on record on seeking his discharge for two years; and to themselves attack him in the public press; and to falsely assail his honor in the same medium; to defy President Harding; to deceive Mr. Mellon, and to temporarily deceive President Coolidge."

While the charges of Brewer, the denial of Secretary Mellon and the threats of congressional investigation filled the air today, the employees discharged by President Harding and later exonerated, called on Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, who has been active in their behalf, to make complaint that they had not been re-employed.

But that is a question which only time and the development of opinion can answer.

EXPLAINS TROUBLES OF NORTHWEST FARMERS

Editor and Publisher of Breeder's Gazette Calls Attention to Primary Cause of Financial Difficulties in Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming; Too Many Banks Contribute to Difficulties

(By National Press Association)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—One of President Coolidge's recent callers was Alvin H. Sanders, of Chicago, editor and publisher of the Breeder's Gazette. Sanders, who has been making for some time a careful study of conditions throughout the country, today said:

"The worst spot on the map, financially speaking, is the northwest; more especially, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and adjacent areas. At present, liquidation of loans is precipitating bank failures because the enforced disposition of the collateral security has not netted enough to take up the obligation."

"The outpouring of all classes of range cattle during the fall months was too great for the central markets to absorb at anything like normal figures. There was no outlet for breeding stock except through the gates that led to the slaughtering beds. This was a deplorable situation, one sure to be reflected later on in a cattle shortage from that region."

Too Many Banks
"When growers were hard hit because of high production costs and low prices. In many cases the yield per acre was too meagre to admit of profit. The Dakotas were over-banked for one thing—one bank to every 400 or 500 people tells its own story."

"The whole situation up there is most distressing and I am glad to note that President Coolidge is apparently taking steps to extend government aid to the remaining institutions, by some form of co-operation between the federal reserve bank of that district and other governmental agencies. Unfortunately, aid comes too late to save many farmers and stockmen who have already been wiped out, but it will provide the necessary capital for salvaging a lot of crippled banks and some of their borrowers."

"The corn belt states are in better shape. Farmers who had avoided land and other speculations and saved some of their war profits are coming through. They do not keep all their eggs in one basket. Diversified farming is the rule in the middle west. Last year's hog crop was marketed at a fine profit and this year corn is commanding a good price. Western sheep and wool men have been enjoying real prosperity and should continue to prosper unless the fear of tariff reduction sets them into a panic. It is certainly to be hoped that this does not occur at this time."

Surtax Is Main Feature

"The country seems slowly waking up to the fact that the most important single feature of the tax-reduction bill suggested by Secretary Mellon is the surtax feature. Even the more extreme advocates of high surtaxes are now conceding that the effort at reaching the great incomes of the wealthy classes through that means has failed. President Coolidge is standing firmly for 25 per cent as a maximum. He is right in asserting that any higher rate than that will not call out and make room for productive enterprises, in their available for productive enterprises. On that basis, millions of money now locked up in tax-free bonds will be released to flow into active business operations—anti-farm mortgages. The rich will then begin to pay their share of the income tax, but at the rates proposed by politicians, maneuvering for supposed party advantage, they will prefer to retain their municipal bonds and the burden will thus be shifted to the backs of those less able to bear it."

It will thus be noted that the farm editor has not been led astray by the demagogues, who in their efforts here in Washington to fool the people in the matter of high surtaxes which would really place the greater burden of taxation on persons with a small income.

AFTER ALL THE BEST PLACE TO TRADE

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams

On Wednesday evening the Blue Triangle girls gave a mother and daughter banquet in L. O. O. P. hall which had been elaborately decorated for the occasion in blue and white, the club colors. Eighty-six guests were seated at one long table, also attractive in blue and white. Crystal candlesticks held blue candles and beautiful place cards were in blue and white, the handiwork of the girls.

Miss Valerie Rowberry, president of the club, introduced Miss Edgardo Shurtliff, who gave a charming toast. "To Our Mothers," which was responded to by Mrs. G. E. Baker, Miss Harriet Clapp very cleverly told "Who We Are," explaining that the girls' reserve was a nation-wide organization. Miss Margaret Seibler spoke on "Why We Are," saying that service was one of the requirements of membership. Miss Marjorie Woods told "What We Are doing to be," and pledged the support of the younger members, of which she is one, in carrying on the work.

Miss Jerome Krivanek sang two delightful solos. Following the banquet, dancing and games formed the diversion. All in all, this was one of the prettiest affairs ever given in the city.

Mrs. Alan P. Senior entertained the Episcopal Guild Thursday afternoon. The usual business was transacted with the president, Mrs. Thomas Robertson, presiding. At this time further plans were made for the reception of the Rev. and Mrs. L. P. Nielsen on February 13. Members responded by roll call with quotations from St. Matthew, and Mrs. J. A. Kroger read a splendid paper on the life and work of this apostle. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen were present, and the Rev. Mr. Nielsen gave a short talk. During the social hour Mrs. Senior served dainty refreshments assisted by Mrs. George Easley and Mrs. C. C. Higgins.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. C. Wyatt, on Third avenue north, who was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. C. P. Dwight, Mrs. E. O. Spellberg, Mrs. A. J. Green, Mrs. A. D. Stafford, Mrs. H. A. Heitler and Mrs. W. S. Campbell.

Considerable business was transacted with the vice president, Mrs. M. C. Mitchell, in the chair. At this time plans were made for a cooked food sale on Saturday, February 16.

The program was in charge of Mrs. H. C. Alexander during which Miss Mahel Williams rendered two piano numbers. Mrs. I. E. Joslyn made a plan for cooperation for the play to be given by the P. T. A. for the playground fund. About 50 ladies were present and refreshments were served.

The Ninth avenue club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. D. Weaver. Roll call was responded to with current events. Mrs. William Rough led the program in charge and gave an interesting talk on Abraham Lincoln. The usual social time was enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

THE MARKETS

ALL DELIVERIES OF CORN REACH TOPMOST RECORD

Setback Occurs on Account of Profit Taking Sales; Oats Follows Corn; Wheat Closes at Low Level

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP)—All deliveries of corn today reached the topmost prices yet this season, but profit taking sales led afterward to something of a setback. The market closed unsettled 1.8 to 1.4 to 3.5c net lower, May 81 1/2 to 81 5/8—Wheat which even more than corn was affected by selling to realize profits, finished heavy 1.2 to 1.4c down, May 81 1/2 to 1.11 5/8 and July 81 1/2 to 1.11 1/4. Oats closed 1.4 to 1.8 to 1.4c off, and provisions varying from 10c decline to 10c advance.

On the new upward sweep of the corn market the May delivery rose to 82.14c with July and September each at only 1.4c below that pinnacle. Throughout the remainder of the day, however, despite constant fresh buying, the volume of sales proved sufficient to hold values down to a little under yesterday's finish. There were some late reports that hauling of corn was being resumed in Iowa with considerable freedom. On the other hand, no news from different sections pointed to unfavorable conditions for the crop movement, with such demand here as to cause a basis of 1.4 to 1.5c premium for spot delivery as compared with future months.

Announcement that receipts of corn here today totaled a trifle above 400 cars had some effect toward making holders inclined to take profits, although country offerings to arrive were light and were reported as fairly held. Oats followed corn, July oats touching a new top price for the season.

Wheat closed at the day's lowest level. Much of the wheat selling was ascribed to the circumstance that country traders were looking for some reaction from the recent continued advance here.

Provisions were governed a good deal by the action of corn.

PRICE TREND REACTIONARY

Market Is Called Upon to Absorb A Large Volume of Realizing Sales; Motor Shows Show Strength

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Reactionary price tendencies prevailed in the city's irregular stock market which was called upon to absorb a large volume of realizing sales in addition to the rather extensive offerings of bear operators.

Late selling was inspired by the announcement that President Coolidge had ordered an investigation of gasoline prices and the heavy calling of loans by out of town banks, apparently in preparation for repayment of treasury funds to the federal reserve bank.

Steel Shares developed strength in reflection of reports that January production had shown the first monthly increase since last June and that mill operations were expanding, but the gains were reduced or cancelled in the close. United States Steel common touched 100 or within 5.8 of the high established in March of last year, but it sagged later to 107 1/4, off 3.8 on the day. Gulf States Steel crossed 80 and then slumped to 87 3/4, where it was up 1 3/4; Bethlehem dropped from 92 to 90 3/4, and Crucible from 70 3/4 to 70, off 3 1/2, and one point respectively.

Selling of oil shares was also influenced by the weekly report of the American Petroleum Institute showing increases in both crude oil production and imports. Pacific Oil dropped 2 1/2 to 55; Standard Oil of California dropped 2 and losses of a point or more were recorded by Cosden, Houston, the Mexican Seaboard issues, Phillips, Producer and Refiners, Royal Dutch and Atlantic Refining.

Temporary strength was shown by the motors and motor accessories on publication of a report that January production totaled 341,000 cars, an increase of 40 per cent over January of last year. Studebaker closed 1 1/2 higher at 106 after having gained a point above that figure.

Call money opened at 4 1/4 and advanced successfully to 4 1/2, 5 and 5 1/2, where it closed.

Time money markets were dull with rates at 4 1/4. The bulk of prime commercial paper continued to move at 4 3/4 per cent.

Foreign exchange rallied at the opening, following London's lead, but retreated in the later trading. Demand sterling fell from $4.33 to $4.31 1/8, where it was about 1 1/2 off. The rate showed nominal changes, French francs selling around 4.63 cents.

WIDE RANGE OF ISSUES TALKED AT DINNER MEET

School Operation Costs, American Falls Project and Importance of Dairying Topics of Discussion

Cost of public school operation, status and prospects of the American Falls reservoir project and importance of the dairy industry to southern Idaho were topics of discussion at the community dinner served in Tom's cafe Thursday evening in connection with the university farm institute progress here.

The speakers were Mr. C. Mitchell, superintendent of Twin Falls schools; W. P. Alworth, secretary of the American Falls reservoir district board of directors; and Gustav Kunze, Buhl, founder of the Clover Leaf cheese factory at Buhl and president of the county dairymen's association. E. L. Ashton, a member of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of arrangements for the community dinner, presided.

Implics No Tax Boost

Twin Falls board of education, Mr. Mitchell said, under provisions of a new state law, this year must apply to the voters of the district instead of to the state board of education, as in the past, for authorization to levy a sufficient tax levy to meet operating expenses of the schools for the coming year. This, he explained, does not imply an increased expenditure for this purpose.

Request for authorization of a levy deemed sufficient to operate the schools next year will be held before the voters of the district at an election within the next few weeks. If the request is denied, Mr. Mitchell said, revenues for operation of the schools next year will be limited to a sum approximately $40,000 less than the amount actually expended last year when expenses have so severely curtailed that school authorities here were warned that the standing of the local high school on the accredited list was in jeopardy.

Upon suggestion of C. E. McClain, chairman of the board of education, Mr. Mitchell cited statistics showing expenses per pupil per month in Twin Falls high school at $8.04 as less than that in any of the total of 21 Idaho high schools with enrollment of 500 or more pupils. Mr. McClain presented figures showing average cost per pupil per month throughout the entire school system in California at $10.35 compared with cost of not to exceed $7 in Twin Falls schools.

Cows Basis of Stable Value

Recalling his prediction made in 1912 when Twin Falls county land had sold then for from $80 to $110 an acre would be valued within five years at $250 an acre, Mr. Kunze stated that he had based his prediction on the value of the land when used for dairy purposes. His prediction, he said, had been fulfilled, but land values had fallen when cows were shipped out of the country in view of the promise of wheat at $2.50 per bushel. Now, he said, wheat is selling at $1 per hundred pounds and cows are coming back this time to stay, he declared, "and when there are 10 cows on every 80-acre farm to consume the roughage necessarily produced on it, there will be no more periods of depression for the Twin Falls country."

Project Prospects Brighter

Status of the American Falls project has been materially improved as a result of the approval by the house of representatives of an appropriation for the work. Mr. Alworth stated, "It is true," he said, "that the amount of the appropriation was left for the senate to supply; but we believe and have reason to believe, that the attitude of the senate as a whole toward the project is a friendly one."

A burlesque aesthetic dance presented by four boys was a feature of the entertainment program.

Timely Arrival of Mother Saves Little Tots when Youngster Dumps Stove with Kerosene

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lovison, 154 Quincy street, undertook Thursday afternoon to paint the kitchen stove, using an open can of kerosene in which his father had recently cleaned some paint brushes. The mother entered the room just as the kerosene spilled over on the kitchen stove where the little fellow had put it. She snatched up the young painter and a younger child and carried them to safety. Flames destroyed the kitchen and an adjoining bedroom with most of the contents. The fire department truck was hindered by almost impassable roads but arrived on the scene in time to save approximately one-half of the dwelling. The family beds and bedding were destroyed.

Dedication of individual effort toward solution of the farm problem through stabilizing the intellectual, social and moral and religious status as well as economic requirements of rural communities was urged by the Rev. W. Lloyd Roberts, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Jerome, in an address Thursday evening which closed the second day's sessions of the three-day farm life institute here in which the University of Idaho and the Twin Falls chamber of commerce are co-operating.

"The time will come," Mr. Roberts declared, "with the development of a broad vision of service, when men will be ordained to intellectual, social and moral and religious status as well as economic requirements of rural communities was urged by the Rev. W. Lloyd Roberts, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Jerome, in an address Thursday evening which closed the second day's sessions of the three-day farm life institute here in which the University of Idaho and the Twin Falls chamber of commerce are co-operating."

Defines Farm Problem

"The farm problem," Mr. Roberts said, "is one of getting standard, man and woman to remain on the farm. The farm must be satisfied to remain there. It must be shown, he said, that there is a big field for achievement on the farm as in any other sphere of human endeavor."

"The man with the vision and the woman with the vision and the vision of the future in the Twin Falls country," he said, "will do more than almost anyone else to bring about a change where this region will be populated by a rural citizenship that is satisfied and desirous of remaining on the farm."

Spiritual Needs Figure

"Desire," the speaker said, "is one of the most effective of human motives. If a man is content to drive to town in a lumber wagon, his farm will produce only a lumber wagon; but if he is seized with the desire to drive a Ford, he will make his farm produce the price of a machine."

Human desires, Mr. Roberts continued, not confined to material things, nor will the chasing of all modern conveniences in the farm home solve the farm problem. There remains, he said, to be reckoned with the human needs on the sides of the intellect, social instincts and moral and religious aspirations. Among agencies ministering to these needs the speaker mentioned the university's free traveling library, radio communication and social organizations such as the grange.

"There can be no better monument erected to the memory of any person," he declared, "in conclusion, than the recognition that comes of service well done in community life."

Mr. Roberts' address was preceded by an interesting talk on "Husbands' Rights," by Miss Katherine Jensen of the university extension division. Reviewing succeeding conceptions in law of the marital relation, Miss Jensen declared the specifics of automatic divorce on the part of the male member of the matrimonial concern had been amply compensated by his recognized sharing of responsibility with the wife of the family welfare.

Stress on Cow and Hen

Stress was laid in discussion led by Dean Moore, poultry husbandman, and P. W. Atkeson, university professor of dairying, in Thursday's institute sessions, upon the hen and the cow as important factors in the agricultural industry.

A new attendance record for the institute was set Thursday afternoon, when Parish hall was comfortably filled by the audience assembled to participate in these discussions.

"The Hen as a Relief From the Tax Burden" was the topic of Mr. Moore's address at the forenoon session, and in the afternoon he spoke on "Giving the Hen a Square Deal." Mr. Moore illustrated his remarks with pointed reference to instances of individual success attained in connection with the development of the poultry industry in Idaho from the standpoint of both of production and marketing.

The future development of south Idaho is intimately associated with the advancement of its dairy industry, and southern Idaho, because of its natural advantages for dairy products, is destined to become an important dairy center, whether we go to dairying or someone else does," Professor Atkeson told the institute. He spoke in the forenoon on "The Market that Beats the Freight Game—the Cow," and in the afternoon on "Cooperation with the Cow."

R. C. Broadard, Twin Falls county agricultural agent, spoke briefly of production of beans, an industry of growing importance in the Twin Falls region.

Music Is Feature

In connection with Thursday's institute sessions, an interesting feature was the musical program in which Miss Florence Solby, appearing in the stead of Miss Adair of the university faculty, sang several numbers, at both forenoon and afternoon sessions.

Address of the women's section, over which Mrs. W. D. A. worth presided, were continued Thursday with making of arrangements for formation through women's organizations here of millinery classes next month, to be followed by other activities under the leadership of home demonstration workers.

The women were addressed Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Nina Huxley Turley, and Miss Katherine Jensen.
