SECRET PLANS FOR AIR TRIP ARE RUMORED

Amundsen's Organizer Tells Navy Officials Foreign Countries Getting Ready; Rogers Gives Up His Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Secret preparations for trans-Arctic aerial expeditions are being made in France, Germany and Russia, according to information given navy department officials today by Hkonon H. Hammer, organizer in the United States for Roald Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, who plans a venture of his own this summer into the North Pole region.

Explaining that he had just returned from Europe Mr. Hammer said he knew of the keen interest aroused there when it was announced that the American navy was planning a polar expedition.

"The news that the United States government has postponed the naval expedition," he said, "will be welcomed everywhere in Europe."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Representative Rogers, republican, Massachusetts, announced tonight he had dropped his plan to have congress go on record in favor of having the dirigible Shenandoah make a flight this summer into the Arctic region.

After orders had been issued yesterday by the navy department by direction of President Coolidge for the suspension of preparations for the expedition pending some indication from congress that it was willing to have the undertaking, Mr. Rogers began a campaign to determine whether quick action could be obtained on his resolution commending the enterprise as a worthy one.

After consultations with house and senate leaders the Massachusetts member said he had come to the conclusion that his resolution could not be passed in time to enable the navy to make adequate preparations.

Carter Holds Keys to Tomb; Is Not Allowed to Enter

Dispute Between Excavator and Egyptian Officials Over Work at Shrine of King Tut Reaches Deadlock

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The dispute between Howard Carter and Egyptian officials over conditions surrounding work low the tomb of Tut-ankh-amen has reached a deadlock, according to dispatches received here, and the peculiar position of the moment is that Carter holds the keys to the tomb but is not allowed to enter.

Mr. Carter, according to the Cairo correspondent of the Daily Mail, wrote to Premier Said Zagloul Pasha, threatening to take legal action against the government, to which the premier replied that Carter was free to take action, but the government was determined that the appointed days for visiting the tomb be observed.

He added: "I am sorry to have to remind you that the tomb is not your property. The science which you rightly love cannot conceive that owing to the accident over the shrine of Tut-ankh-amen you wished to favor, you and your colleagues will abandon your investigations, in which not only Egypt but the whole world is interested."

MINE AGREEMENT IS IN PROSPECT

Illinois Operators Ready to Talk Terms of Wage Contract; Will Meet Monday

JACKSONVILLE, Florida, Feb. 16 (AP)—Prospects of an agreement on a three-year wage contract for bituminous coal miners of the central competitive field early next week was bright tonight. Operators of Illinois, who hitherto have been uncompromising, indicated they would fall in line with the other operators, but that they would first demand the privilege of extending non-bargaining in Illinois.

This attitude was taken as clearing the way so all operators might unite Monday in offering to sign a three-year in stead of a four-year contract, as demanded by the miners.

In that event the Monday session will likely adjourn early so the miners may hold a separate conference and decide what they will answer.

It was believed tonight that there will be no great objection on the miners' part in agreeing to the compromise and it was the belief of representative operators that President Lewis will not insist upon referring back internal differences to the federal district, and will also agree to the operators' request for extension of machine mining in Illinois.

PENALTY ASKED IN GRENZ CASE

Prosecuting Attorney Charges Paroled Man with Felony; Court Dates Hearing

In district court here Saturday afternoon, Fred Grenz, who was arrested last Monday in connection with theft of harness at Blackfoot, listened to the reading of an affidavit presented by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor asking for revocation of the parole to which Grenz was admitted last September when he pleaded guilty to burglary of a chicken house and was sentenced by Judge T. Bailey Lee to serve one to 15 years in the state prison.

The prosecuting attorney alleged in his affidavit that Grenz again committed burglary in connection with the harness theft and asked that the judge pronounce a sentence. Judge Lee now imposed against Grenz.

Grenz stated, when reading of the affidavit had been completed, that he was not guilty of the second offense. Judge W. A. Babcock, presiding, set Wednesday next as the time for hearing the case and asked Grenz, when the latter said that he was unable to employ an attorney, that an attorney would be appointed to represent him and that he might call such witnesses as he deemed necessary.

President's Nomination of Former Democratic Senator from Ohio Is Given Official Confirmation

MONTANA SOLOP OPPOSES MOVE

Action to Be Taken Monday on Proposal for Roberts to Assist Pomerene

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Over the vigorous opposition of Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, the senate confirmed tonight the nomination of Atlee Pomerene, a former democratic senator from Ohio, to be a special government counsel in the oil lease cases. The vote was 60 to 13.

Consideration of the nomination of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia, to be Mr. Pomerene's associate, was postponed until Monday, but confirmation was forecast. Approval of the nomination of Mr. Pomerene came after more than six hours of debate. For nearly two hours the senate fought over the question of whether the nominations should be considered in executive session, as is the usual custom, then it voted 49 to 2 to discuss them in the open. Senators Fess of Ohio, and Norbeck, South Dakota, republicans, voted in the negative.

Borah Votes 'Yes'

The roll call on the Pomerene nomination follows:

Republicans—Borah, Brandegee, Bursum, Cameron, Capper, Conzues, Cummins, Curtis, Dale Elder, Ernst, Fess, Gooding, Hale, Harrell, Howell, Jones of Washington, Keyes, Leonard, Lodge, McKinley, McNary, Moses, Norbeck, Pepper, Phillips, Reed of Pennsylvania, Shout Spencer, Wadsworth, Warren, Senate dissenters and Whittier—44.

Democrats—Bayard, Brownawell, Bruce, Caraway, Dial, Fletcher, George, Glass, Harrison, Hefflin, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, King, McCallister, Mayfield, Overman, Pittman, Randall, Reed of Missouri, Robinson, Shields, Stephens, Swanson, Trammell and Walsh of Massachusetts—25.

Nays

Republicans—Brookhart,razier, La Follette and Norris—4.

Democrats—Ashurst, Dill, Shepard, Stanley, Walsh of Montana and Wheeler—7.

Farmer-Labor-Johnson and Shipstead—2.

Before the senate met, the house without discussion or a record vote adopted the Walsh resolution directing that the proceedings in connection with the recovery of sections 16 and 36 within the confines of naval reserve No. 1 in California now operated by the Standard Oil company in California under a grant from the state.

These were the only concrete developments today in the oil matter. The oil committee on February 25 and Chairman Leonard said subpoenas for additional witnesses would be issued in the meantime. Government attorneys will continue their work on the basis of the stock brokerage firm in an effort to determine whether government officials traded in oil stocks about the time or subsequent to the Pull oil lease. There was a sharp controversy in the senate—both in open and executive session—over the proposition as to whether the nomination of special counsel should be considered in executive session but once that issue had been settled the debate proceeded with little of the fervor that usually characterizes oil legislation.

President Coolidge was assailed from both the republican and democratic sides of the chamber for his failure to consider behind the scenes the oil lease, republicans, as well as democrats, contended that he had ample ability and the necessary experience to handle the cases.

Practically the only objection raised to Mr. Pomerene was that he lacked experience and ability to handle the cases at issue. All senators attested to his honesty and integrity, his courage and fidelity, while a number of senators, republicans, as well as democrats, contended that he had ample ability and the necessary experience to handle the cases.

DELLING STOPS

CASPER, Wyo., Feb. 16 (AP)—Development operations on the Taptop Dome oil reserve, 45 miles north of here, have been practically at a standstill since early winter. W. L. Connelly, vice president of the Standard Oil company, said today that the company had responded to a report that the company had shut down operations because of the senate oil committee's investigation. When major operations were suspended, drilling of only one new well and the deepening of two old ones to a lower level and the drilling of a new hole was completed recently and operations are still in progress on the deep tests, which are headed for the lake formation, according to Mr. Connelly.

BELIEVE KILLER WAS UNBALANCED

Slayer of Salt Lake Officers Held Insane or Drug User; Companion Is Held

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 16 (AP)—Authorities believe William Lee, restaurant robber, who last night shot and killed one police officer, fatally wounded another, and then shot Beatrice Hunter, who was with him, and as a climax fired a bullet into his brain which resulted in his death this morning, was crazed by narcotics or was mentally unbalanced. The affair occurred on West street between Broadway and Exchange Place and a few minutes after the holdup of a restaurant on West Broadway which was about 8:30.

The dead police officers are Patrolmen Noland W. Hunsman and B. H. Honey, the latter dying at 8 a. m. today.

Beatrice Hunter, companion of Lee, is suffering from a wound in the cheek and is unable to talk plainly. Authorities have learned, however, that she and Lee reached Salt Lake last night at 9 o'clock from San Francisco, having stopped at Reno, Nev., and Ogden, Utah, on the way.

The Hunter woman said she resided at 1101 West 10th street in Salt Lake and that she met Lee only three weeks ago and that he was a parole violator from San Quentin prison in California where he was sentenced for forgery.

Chinese Lose Out in Plans to Celebrate According to Custom

Chicago Fire Chief Refuses to Permit Use of Explosives to "Drive Out Spirits"

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Chicago Chinese lost out today in their efforts to convince the city authorities that the celebration of their New Year's day tomorrow necessitated the explosion of nine cases of fireworks, each cracker, according to the Chinese, disposing of one evil spirit for the next twelve months.

The explosives were seized by the police under an ordinance prohibiting the storing of fireworks in the city limits. A delegation of Chinese merchants yesterday called on Mayor Dene and informed him of that ancient custom which demanded the use of firecrackers in their celebration.

Chief J. C. O'Donnell of the fire prevention bureau, ruled today that the evil spirits would have to be frightened in some other way.

ROBBERS' LOOT $200,000

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16 (AP)—Diamonds, liberty bonds, watches and jewelry valued at $200,000 were stolen from the Provident Loan association, 408 Chapman building, this city, on February 9, in addition to $20,000 in cash and checks, it became known here today, when a private detective agency posted a $4000 reward for the return of the property. The extent of the robbery is borne out by a list describing more than 400 articles, made up of the most part of diamonds and diamonds set in jewelry.

MAXIMUM TAX IS BASIS OF OFFER FOR COMPROMISE

Republican Insurgents Would Get Together with Regulars on Surtax Proposal; Opposition Is Alternative

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Republican insurgents, who hold the balance of power in the house tax fight, offered today to compromise with organization leaders on a 40 per cent surtax maximum provided normal income tax rates are cut in half.

The offer, which remained unaccepted after two conferences, was accompanied by a threat that if turned down the insurgent bloc would support the democratic platform for a 44 per cent surtax maximum.

This leaders agreed, would give the Garner plan a majority when a vote comes next week on the income tax provision in the Mellon bill. Efforts of the republican organization to reach a compromise with the insurgents will be resumed Monday, although some of those who took part in today's negotiations see little prospect of an agreement. The stumbling block appears to be the insistence of the insurgents that the present normal income tax rate of 8 and 4 per cent be cut in half, a provision also carried in the Garner plan.

Representative Longworth, the republican leader, who initiated today's fight together with the insurgents, declared later he was flatly opposed to such a decrease. He contended it would alter fundamental principles of the Mellon bill, which calls for a 35 per cent surtax in normal times and a maximum surtax of 25 per cent.

As the negotiations between the two republican groups proceeded the house devoted a third day to general debate over the Mellon bill, in normal times, discussion, marked at times by sharp exchanges between democrats and republicans, a dinner recess was taken, after which the house plunged into a night session, the first of the session. Decision of the republican organization leaders to bid for insurgent aid was prompted, it was admitted, by a realization that the 44 per cent surtax might not be mustered to insure success of the 35 per cent surtax compromise agreed upon, as a substitute for the Mellon figure which, it is generally believed, would have no chance in a house vote.

At the first of today's conferences, Representative Fear of Wisconsin, an insurgent on the ways and means committee, advanced an offer of his group, which would reduce a tax plan of his own which provides for no reduction in surtaxes, was not present. He attended the second meeting, however, and advanced an offer of his group, which would reduce a tax plan of his own which provides for no reduction in surtaxes, was not present. He attended the second meeting, however, and advanced an offer of his group, which would reduce a tax plan of his own which provides for no reduction in surtaxes, was not present.

Present at today's conferences in addition to representatives of the Fearer were Speaker Gillette, members of the republican steering committee, Representative Begg of Ohio, who has been polling the republicans for their views on tax reduction, and a dozen insurgents and several others known to be unsympathetic toward the administration's tax program.

Wilson's Former Business Partner Refused Retainer

Bainbridge Colby Said to Have Rejected Offer of Sinclair for Services in Teapot Dome Investigation

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state and law partner of former President Woodrow Wilson, rejected a retainer offered by Harry F. Sinclair to obtain the services of the law firm in the Teapot Dome oil lease investigation, it was revealed today in a Washington dispatch to the Evening World which obtained confirmation of the story from Mr. Colby.

"It is true that Mr. Sinclair offered me a retainer to represent him in the Teapot Dome investigation, and I rejected the employment," he was quoted as saying. "I see no reason to discuss the matter further."

When first shown the dispatch, which asserted when the proposal first was made it was referred to Mr. Colby, who immediately rejected it, Mr. Colby declared he had no intention to make.

Mr. Sinclair's offer, the dispatch added, was made in the spring of 1923 and was on condition that the retainer be for the purpose of representing the Sinclair interests in the investigation. Mr. Sinclair's offer was made in the spring of 1923 and was on condition that the retainer be for the purpose of representing the Sinclair interests in the investigation.

STONE GIVES HISTORY OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

Counsellor of World News-Gathering Organization Tells of Routing of Private Control; Fairness and Truth Made Goal; Criticisms Fail Under the Light of Facts

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—Organization of the Associated Press in 1892 freed this country from the "censorship" of the controlled news distribution agencies then operating. Minnesota editors were told last night by Melville B. Stone, counsellor of the Associated Press.

Addressing members of the Minnesota Editorial association at a banquet given by the Minneapolis Journal, Mr. Stone, who was general manager of the Associated Press, told the story of the revolution of 1892, which is termed as "the revolution of 1892," the action of western editors in forming the co-operative news-gathering association.

"When in this country," Mr. Stone said, "we speak of the revolution, of course we refer to the contest which began at Concord bridge and ended at Yorktown. Little more than a century later there was another revolution in our land which seems to me to have been also of distinct consequence.

Government Control Broken

"Government control of the press was universal throughout the world for many centuries, and through the first clause in our bill of rights was broken down in this country; but we did not appreciate that private control was no less malign than government control.

"If it were desirable that the government of our republic should be intelligent, it was all-important that there should be an honest, impartial news service.

A. P. Organized

"The gathering and distributing of news, however, had been from the beginning under private control. In the late forties a few of the New York journals organized a little company called the Associated Press and its news they sold to the papers in the hinterland as these papers developed. It was a closed corporation.

"As time went on, and the newspapers in the back country increased, small tributary organizations were formed. In 1892 this central group of a few papers in New York passed under the control of three men—one a Chicago banker, another a telegraph operator and the third a business manager. These men were responsible to no one and were bent only on money-making.

"The menace was obvious. Not only were the newspapers dependent on the caprice or worse of these men, but away beyond that the public was subject to any sort of misinformation.

News Men Revolt

"This was the immediate cause of the revolution of 1892. It began in Chicago. The newspaper men revolted by the Western Associated Press, mindful as well of our public duty as of our private duty, revolted against this sort of control. There followed a struggle of four years duration. It was a bloodless contest, yet none the less revolutionary.

"The western men set out to form a national organization, refusing any arrangement with subscription organizations. It was to be an association that should wrest the whole business from the hands of profiteers and place it in the hands of a purely co-operative organization that should be able to sell no news, make no profits, declare no dividends, but should be the joint agent or joint reporter of its members.

Opinions Ruled Out

"It was believed that if the people of the country were capable of self-government, presentation of the facts would enable them to form their own opinions. Therefore any attempt to introduce opinion upon any event was strenuously forbidden.

"The expression of opinion respecting any facts presented by the Associated Press is left to the newspapers receiving the service. It is there that it belongs.

Thirteen Hundred Members Now

"There are about 1300 daily newspapers in the organization. They represent every conceivable point of view respecting politics, religion, eco-criticism which is welcome because it is helpful. Ignorant but honest criticism which is not objectionable because it is not malicious and untruthful. Malicious and untruthful criticism, which is not hurtful because, in the words of the president who died the other day, 'The truth will prevail.'

"Truth Will Prevail"

"Attacks have been freely aimed both at its form of organization and its method of operation. For instance, it is openly charged by an officer of the Ku Klux Klan that it is controlled by Jewish influence or that it is pro-Jewish in the tendency of its news service. It can hardly be necessary for me to say that I am neither a Jew nor a Catholic. On both my father's and my mother's sides I come from a long line of Methodists.

Unbiased as to Religion

"While I trust everyone connected with the organization who approves the first article in the bill of rights adopted by our forefathers, and while in the past 30 years at least five directors have been elected every year—the board consisting of 15 members—it happens that one Jewish gentleman has or ever has been a member of the board. And as to Catholic affiliation of members, in the 30 years I think it is true that there never have been more than two members of the Catholic church on the board at any time and not half a dozen altogether. I am making this statement not because anybody that I know of has ever undertaken to determine the religious beliefs of the members of the board as a ground for judging their qualifications, but as an illustration of the false charges made against the institution.

"As I have said, many of the criticisms are born of ignorance of the facts. For instance, a man reads something in a newspaper and either overstates the credit line or it may be there is no credit line and he assumes that it is an Associated Press telegram and at once charges us with the responsibility for it.

"I may also interest you to learn that by actual investigation in the 30 years that have passed, although thousands of words have been sent out daily and although there are 1300 daily newspapers printing its dispatches, the total cost of lawyers' fees and all other payments incidental to libel suits have been less than the cost of the lead pencils used in the service of the members and I know of no accuracy is earnestly sought.

"I do not pretend that the Associated Press is perfect. Absolute infallibility is impossible. The frailties of human nature attach to its work as they do to others, but this much is certain, that it is not intentionally untruthful."

DEBT PROBERS TO FILE THEIR REPORT MONDAY

Reparations Experts Will Give Final Facts Regarding German Obligations; Prevailing Sentiment Favorable

PARIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—The committee of experts who recently returned from Berlin where they investigated the reparation problem will begin the formulation of their report on Monday. Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, is to be heard regarding the details of the organization of the proposed gold bank. The members of the committee are now exchanging texts setting forth their individual opinions with a view to a final agreement.

General Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the first committee, is understood to have handed M. Barthou, chairman of the reparation commission, a document containing his summing up of the evidence heard by his committee, and other experts will do so as soon as they can complete a draft of their conclusions.

It is said on good authority that they already have made known verbally the substance of their conclusions, the result of which is a feeling of confidence in the successful termination of their task.

This optimism is most evident in French official circles where the impression from the little that is known of what the investigation turned up in Berlin is most excellent. High circles are entertained that the allies are finally on the road to a definite settlement of the reparation problem.

The German version of the conclusions of the experts which forecasts that they will demand that the Ruhr be handed back to German control along with the railroads, is scouted in French circles, although it is thought around reparation headquarters that the experts are likely to make a reference to the economic consequences of the occupation.

INJURED MAN'S CONDITION GOOD

Senator Greene Undergoes Successful Operation After Being Hit by Bullet

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—An operation described as successful was performed late today upon Senator Frank L. Greene of Vermont, who was wounded in the head by a pistol bullet last night during a battle between alleged bootleggers and prohibition agents and police almost within the shadow of the capitol.

Splinters of bone which were driven into his head by the stray bullet were removed, about one and one-half square inches of bone being taken out. Afterward attending surgeons said the senator was "resting as comfortably as possible" and that "the prognosis is good, providing no complications set in." The operation was performed under a local anesthetic.

The reverberations from the incident in the capital were almost as instantaneous and sharp as the battle itself, the entire prohibition enforcement situation which for months has been the center of criticism and controversy being again projected into the forefront of discussion with indications that the whole question will be aired in congress.

President Coolidge evidenced his personal interest in the situation by inquiring at the hospital concerning Mr. Greene's condition.

At the same time some White House officials inquired of the police what action was being taken against those responsible and were informed that the cases of three men held in connection with the shooting were under consideration in the district attorney's office.

The police refrained from discussing the affair, but intelligence officers of the treasury were ordered to make a thorough investigation, while Roy Haynes, prohibition commissioner, declared the incident "a very unfortunate one."

THE GUMPS—NOT GUILTY

PEACE IN KLAN FEUD DEPENDS ON CONCESSION

Armed Truce Brings First Quiet Day in Weeks to Williamson County; Factions Must Give in to Keep Order

MAISON, Ill., Feb. 16 (AP)—An armed truce, maintained by troops, tonight gave Williamson county its first perfectly quiet Saturday evening in weeks. Miners and townspeople crowded the streets, confident of security under the protection of national guardsmen, called to Herrin and Marion after the slaying of Constable Casper Cagle and wounding of John Layman, a sheriff's deputy, several days ago.

Cagle's death resulted from a clash between the Ku Klux Klan and the "flaming circle," a counter organization, because of liquor raids and to night, in spite of the outward appearance of calm, leaders of the opposing factions declared that there still are potentialities of serious trouble if the troops are removed. A citizens' committee composed of prominent citizens who are neutral toward both factions, is prepared to organize a vigilante committee to back up the civil authorities in enforcing the law impartially, but admits that its accomplishments depend upon concessions by both factions and influencing the rival organizations to make these concessions in the interest of peace.

Ora Thomas, leader of the "flaming circle," asserted that 200 members of the Klan have sworn over the body of Cagle, who was a clansman, to avenge his slaying, and he declared today that his organization is prepared for action. Peace cannot be maintained in Williamson county as long as the Klan remains as a military organization conducting raids, he declared. These raids which previously were participated in by S. Glenn Young, an employee of the Klan, he declared, are in violation of the law.

On the other hand, Sam Stearns, cyclops of the Williamson county Klan, declared that there must be a change in the sheriff's office with removal of George Galligan, the present sheriff, and his deputies, who, he asserts, have failed in the enforcement of the law.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—adv.

Dock Men's Walkout Threatens Hardship for Great Britain

More than 130,000 Out, Another 1,000,000 May Go; Nation's Ports Idle

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—A strike involving 120,000 well organized dock men, which started automatically at noon today, will arrest the port work of the whole nation and if it continues for any considerable time, may also make idle another million or more men concerned in auxiliary waterside work and dependent trades and industries.

This dockers' walkout is likely to prove much more inconvenient to the public than the recent railway strike, in that any prolonged cessation of work at the docks would prevent the unloading of incoming food and raw materials—a matter almost impossible for even the most willing government to remedy.

Length of Cubit

Cubit comes from a Latin word meaning elbow. The cubit is the distance from the elbow to the extremity of the middle finger. Owing to variations in this length in different persons, the following standard cubits were adopted by the ancients: Hebrew, 17.58 inches; Egyptian, 20.61 inches; Roman, 17.4 inches; Greek, 18.25 inches.

Don't Waste Time.

When a man says that he is willing to change his opinion if you can convince him that he is wrong, it's a sign that you'll never be able to convince him.

Bronchitis Best Treated With Vapors

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

If a cold has been neglected and has gone down into the chest, producing acute bronchitis, thoroughly rub the skin over throat and chest with hot, wet towels to open the pores. Then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

For hours after Vicks is applied the vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc., are inhaled directly into the infected air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Being externally applied, Vicks is especially good for children and is used by millions of mothers to prevent or relieve cold troubles.

At the meeting of the city council on Monday evening plans for the new fire hall prepared by Burton E. Morse and C. Harvey Smith were considered. When the plans are agreed upon the council will advertise for bids and will erect the fire hall at a cost of $5000.

Rural route No. 2 will be started from Twin Falls April 2, word to that effect having been received from Washington. The examination for carrier will be held on March 13 and applications to take the same must be sent to Washington not later than March 3.

Athletics, especially tennis and baseball, are being talked of in the schools and much activity is expected in those lines as soon as the weather will permit. At present it is so muddy that the school wagons have been taken off.

Frank Lytle left Twin Falls on Sunday night for Santa Ana, Calif., where he will be married on February 24 to Miss Fay Swank of that city.

Pike will serve tea at the home of Mrs. Miller on Thursday, February 25, for the benefit of the Presbyterian church.

John Lundahl and Edward Peterson, both of Worcester, Mass., have purchased 10 acres of the Fairview ranch and will go in the floral business.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thomas will leave on Sunday night for an extended eastern trip. They expect to be away about two months.

Carl E. Lind has secured the agency for the celebrated Buick automobiles for southern Idaho.

There are many opinions that the paving question should not be allowed to rest for an instant. When the streets are in such a condition that a team of horses can barely draw an empty wagon the farmers are unable to come in and trade. The country roads are bad enough, but the streets of Twin Falls are worse. These thoroughfares must be paved sooner or later and the time to pave them is now.

RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the tortures at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quick relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone. Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.—adv.

The red squirrels build their nests of dead leaves and strappings of hemlock and cedar bark, lining them with almost any soft material which they can find, says Nature Magazine. They are not always satisfied to have one home, but frequently have two or three.

SET FOUR NEW WORLD RECORDS

Past Marks for Indoor Events Are Passed and Two Equalled at New York Carnival

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Four new world's indoor records were set and two equalled tonight in a spectacular track and field carnival held by the Wilco A. A. in the Thirtieth regiment armory.

The world's record for the 80-yard high hurdles, which has stood on the record books for 37 years, was subjected to the severest attack, being broken twice and equalled once. Charles R. Barkes, a West Point cadet, set the new low standard of 10.35 seconds in the second preliminary heat after Tom Farrell of the Newark A. C. had topped the timbers for a new mark of 10.35 in the first heat. The soldier, however, lost by a yard in the final to Carl Christensen of the Newark A. C., who equalled his rival's record time.

The Meadowbrook club girls' relay quartet of Philadelphia, set a new standard of 54.55 seconds for the quarter-mile distance, while new marks were established by Jake Driscoll, Boston flier, in the 400-meter run, and Schuyler Zuck, Pennsylvania State, in the 800-meter special, both of which distances were run for the first time indoors.

Robert McAllister, New York's "flying cop," who was beaten by a six-limbed margin in the 100-yard dash by Loren Murehison of Newark the national champion, bettered record time in an earlier sprint, but it was not allowed. McAllister, running the 150-yard event, was clocked in 12.15 seconds at the 125-yard mark but under the rules no records are allowed at intermediate distances in a race of less than 220 yards. His time, however, was a fifth of a second faster than the 125-yard record made by C. H. Sherrill in 1889.

Murehison equalled his own indoor mark of 10 seconds in breaking the tape first in the century dash.

BOSTON PLAYER IS DEAD FROM MISHAP INJURIES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 16 (AP)—Norman D. Boeckel, star third baseman of the Boston National League baseball team, died at 3:30 p. m. today from injuries which he received in an automobile accident early yesterday.

BOSTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Secretary Edwin L. Riley of the Boston Nationals, on being informed tonight of the death of Norman D. Boeckel, star third baseman, in San Diego, Cal., declared that the club had lost one of its most valuable players and one of its best friends. Christy Mathewson of the club is at Saratoga lake.

Boeckel's death removes from the Braves' roster a keen and colorful player whom it will be difficult to replace on the diamond and in the reflections of Boston fans. It was announced today when hope of Boeckel's recovery still was entertained, that probably Jack Kellough, Brooklyn's world's heavyweight champion, who was obtained from the Chicago Cubs by the waiver rule, would open the season at third base for the Braves.

UTAH OWNER OPTIMISTIC

William Lano Sees Good Possibilities for Coming Season as Result of Acquiring New Players

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 (AP)—William Lano, owner of the Salt Lake City ball club of the Coast league, is optimistic over two of his acquisitions. They are Tony Lazzari and Clark Pittenger, procured in part payment for Paul Strand, the slugging outfielder who left the league batters last season and has gone to the Philadelphia Americans.

Lano concedes that Strand will be missed, but he believes that Lazzari and Pittenger will fit into a good line-up combination. The owner of the club declares his unit should make a much better showing than last year.

ONE THRILLER

(Contributed)

Exciting games are often seen, Baseball, football or craps. But one that stands out all alone Runs the other off the maps, I saw one in Chicago.

They said Cuba and Boston Reds That thrilled the Windy City. More than divorces, deaths or weds. Beginning the ninth session The score was four to two In favor of Chicago.

And hits were very few. First Red got a sacrifice. And scampered to first sack; The second hit a sacrifice, It was a lucky crack.

The third Red came up smiling 'Twas a smile of confidence; "I'll bust that pill," he whispered, "I'll send it to his kingdom."

First pitch was to his liking. 'Twas even shoulder high. He swung his bat with an awful crack. The ball started for the sky.

He tore the line out at first, Felt sure in was a single. "I'll win the game," it was he thought, "And make it thus a lingo."

The man at third had scampered home, His spikes dug in the plate. "He'll win the game," it was he said, "He'll win the game."

But unexpected sorrows Came to one and all. No human is exempted Nor players of baseball.

The Red who ran across the plate Was well high put to rest. He saw the ump's right hand go back Which said to him, "You're out."

"Not out, I guess, you must be wrong. That ball is going yet. You've pulled a horse, of course you have."

You're the worst I ever met. Then he glanced across the field At the Cubs coming in pell mell. A look of wonder spread his face. He just said, "What the H—?"

The man who hit that awful smash Fetched up at second sack. His umps bawled at him through a meg. And then he started back.

Now this is what had happened, The unexpected thing. Hoelskitter saved Chicago From defeat and from a sting.

Hoelskitter, six feet seven, With arms like a curlew's bill, Made a run and spring four feet high And appeared that night will.

He touched the sack at station three, He made the double play, He made it unassisted, And thus he saved the day.

Impossible things sometimes are done, Hoel's had accomplished one. He caught a ball fourteen feet high, Yet, it's said, "It can't be done."

IRAMON NOVARRO AND LEWIS STONE IN "SCARAMOUCHE"

Ramon Novarro and Lewis Stone in "Scaramouche."

Alice Terry, Lewis Stone and Ramon Novarro have appeared in the three leading roles in both "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "Scaramouche." Novarro has played in all of Ingram's pictures since "Zenda," which include "Trifling Women" and "Where the Pavement Ends." Miss Terry has appeared in all of Ingram's Metro productions except one—"Trifling Women."

And not only in leading players does the rule hold true. Actors like Edward Connelley, who plays in every Ingram picture, and John George, the little hunchback, are engaged again and again.

In this way the director knows just what each of his players is best fitted for, and consequently is enabled to bring out their best work to the great benefit of the picture.

COMING SOON TO THE ORPHEUM

Mayor John F. Hyman of New York city, was instantly won over by the excellence of Marion Davies and her picture, "Little Old New York." He called it the "finest motion picture ever produced," and that every man, woman and child in New York city ought to see it.

Mayor John F. Hyman said: "I must pay my tribute to the genius in all lines, who created such a film masterpiece. It's like an entrancing cut-back to the days when New York was young."

Why Blame the Coal?

There is a coal in town that a lot of people are calling names. Some call it NUT, but it is bigger than peanuts; others call it PEA, but it is bigger than the peas that grow in the garden; others call it PEE WEE, but it is bigger than pee wee eggs. Now why not be honest and call the coal by the right name? It is sold by the mines and shipped by the railroad as Screened Slack. Why call it anything else?

WE HAVE IT FOR $7.00 PER TON. WHY PAY MORE?

Also genuine nut that is shipped as such for . . . $ 9.00
Also your choice of either stove or egg coal . . . $10.00
Domestic Lump . . . $10.50
And the big lump with all the small coal out . . . $11.00

We have these sizes in either Peerless, Castle Gate, Kemmerer or Rock Springs, and they are all good coals.

One does not look with pleasure upon the part played by Frank A. Vandervip in the Senate investigation of the so-called scandal. By his testimony Friday Mr. Vandervip is held up to public view as a mere scandal monger, a sensation seeker with a penchant for the spotlight of publicity and a pandemonium to all that is evil in the breast of man.

This ex-banker and world figure in finance related a lot of intangible rumors which henchmen the memory of a great man. He admits that he had and has no dependable information of any kind and that his remarks consisted in the voicing of idle gossip which he had never taken the trouble to investigate or even consider seriously until the hand of fate late timelessness to his stuff and, like the ballyhoo man at the circus sidewalk, he saw that the psychological moment had arrived to cry his sorry wares.

It is not a pretty picture, but it is not an unpopular one, more the pity.

A COSTLY BLUNDER
One of the latest explanations as to why the German embassy at Washington did not lower its flag as the other embassies did, when ex-President Wilson died, is that "neither the state department nor Ambassador Jusserand, dean of the Washington diplomatic corps, officially advised the German embassy of Mr. Wilson's death."

Evidently a German ambassador could not know about Mr. Wilson's death unless he were notified officially, and so could not take any action about it. He could not read the Washington newspapers or see the flag half-masted, on the other embassies. That would have been extra-official.

It matters little what explanation is made. None can be satisfactory to anybody. The incident has been unduly magnified, and might as well be dropped. Yet the unfortunate thing about it is that somehow it will not let itself be dropped. People refuse to forget it. The attitude of the German embassy is taken, rightly or wrongly as typical of Germany and as showing that the German attitude toward America has not changed since the war—that Germans are still resentful, and have no regard for all the consideration shown them and the philanthropic efforts in their behalf.

Some of the reactions along that line are very unfortunate for the Germans themselves. Charitable movements in this country looking to further relief for German children receive a sudden chill and it may be impossible now to raise a projected German loan in America.

HEIRS TO MILLIONS
Thirty-five people in North Carolina are claiming a shadowy fortune of four hundred million dollars in New York real estate. They base their claim on an ancestor who died about a century ago and who, they believe, left sixty-five acres of land on Manhattan island tied up in a ninety-nine year lease. They are trying to find authentic records of the ancestor and his holdings.

An interesting question raised by this case is what will happen when all of the ninety-nine year leases now being made all over the United States, expire. Will about half the population of the country then be engaged in fighting for heirs' rights in properties of immensely increased value? Or will private ownership of land be abolished by that time?

The principal reflection aroused by this incident, however, is the fallacy of most lawsuits of the sort. Heirs, real or fancied, of some long-departed property-owner become obsessed with the idea of vast wealth, rolling up like a snowball generation after generation, and rightfully theirs. Mostly such ideas are grotesquely false. Even if there is a basis of truth, they seldom recover anything, but squander their money in legal fees and squander their lives in vain hopes and avaricious dreams when they ought to be doing creative work and earning their own fortunes.

The longing to be an heir to a great estate is one of the most pitiful of all human ambitions. It is a far worthier ambition to want to leave a great estate—though that seldom does the heirs much good.

America—Now and 35 Years Ago

Being an Excerpt from a Sermon Delivered by Henry Ward Beecher, Containing a Description of the Times; Comparison of Conditions Then and Now Brings Interesting Disclosures.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Those who are inclined to look upon the present state of public unrest as unique in the history of America, or who believe that the general problem of business and moral rehabilitation is something new in the development of the nation, are invited to give careful attention to the article which follows.

Therein is presented a true picture of existing conditions, exactly fitting the facts of today—yet the article is taken from a sermon by the late Henry Ward Beecher. It was not copyrighted until 1898 and was first given to the public years before that.

It is of keen interest in the present day and generation as tending to prove that America's present problems are not new problems in any sense of the word; that the conditions referred to have existed before and probably will exist again, and what is even more important, that these problems have been solved in the past, and will again be similarly solved.

The article might be termed prophetic in its wisdom were it not for the fact that it is in no sense a prophecy. It is merely an interesting description of the times at the period when it was written. It is a picture of the conditions of today, and it is no whit different to that in the days when Henry Ward Beecher lived and preached.

We are passing through times upon which the seeds of discontent have been sown broadcast, and they have brought forth a hundred-fold. These times will pass away, but like ones come again. As physicians study the causes and cures of the plagues of old, and as the student of the past draws from them an antidote against their recurrence, so should we leave to posterity a history of our moral plagues, as the best antidote to their recurring malignity.

Upon a land, capacious beyond measure, where peace and plenty were labor with an unobtrusive abundance of exuberant fruits, occupied by a people dignified by enterprise and industry, there came a summer of prosperity which brought no long and alone so brightly, that men forgot that winter would ever come. Each day grew brighter. No rains were put off by the imagination. The harvests of the year were swept away in a day. The strongest fruits were sent as easily as the oak leaf lightning. Speculating companies were dispersed as scattered leaves from a tree in the wind. The nation, ruined by thousands; clerks turned ruined by ten thousands. Mechanics were left in idleness. Farmers sighed for food and the imagination. The stones and dirt. The wild sea of commerce was stagnant upon the realm of industry settled down a sudden deluge.

Disaster Grows Apoc.
Out of this vortex, swarmed an unnumbered host of dishonest men, like vermin from a carcass. Banks were exploded, or robbed, or riddled by counterfeiting forgeries. Mighty companies, without cohesion, went to pieces, and hordes of wretches snatched up every blade that came ashore. Cities were ransacked by troops of villains. The ungrateful, lecherous, frauds, which sprung like snakes on every hand, set every mark to trembling lest the next explosion should be under his own feet. Fidelity seemed to have forsaken man. Men, that had earned a reputation for sterling honesty were cast as suddenly as the wind, into wickedness, that man who had been a saint, became a villain. Confidence grew confidence, and the heart throbbed with the nettle and thorns of fear and jealousy. Then had almost come to the end of the world. The religion of ancient wickedness: The good man is perished out of the earth; and there is none upright among men: they have all gone to the dogs; they hunt every man his brother with a net. That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, the prince and the judge ask for a reward; and the great man uttereth his words with a desire; so they wrap it up. The best of them is a bribe; the most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge. The world is full of violence and contention; the faithful are exhausted; the diligent are filled with lamentation, and the inhabitants wandering like

Return is Assured.
Our nation must expect a periodical return of such convulsions; but experience should steadily curtail their ravages, and diminish their immoral tendencies. Young men have before them lessons of manifold value taught by the severest of man's experience. They should be studying and that they may be, I shall, from this general survey, turn to a specific enumeration of the causes of dishonesty.

The first instinct of the Trust's ward, after that terrible night, was to flee, to get as far away from this place and its influences—from this great intangible power which held her—as possible. But a little reflection showed her how impossible this would be. The Trust was still alive, and she was still in the eyes of the law. And even if she could escape—which she probably could not do—she would be still in the eyes of the law. And even if she could escape—which she probably could not do—she would be still in the eyes of the law. And even if she could escape—which she probably could not do—she would be still in the eyes of the law.

CHAPTER XIII
To students of large financial affairs it will be of more than ordinary interest to know what has never been announced so far as yet—the intimate and inside story of the steps leading up to the final demise of that now widely-famous creature of the law, the Gorgam Trust—and incidentally of the termination of its power over the restless woman with whom it had been brought into such remarkable and dominating relation. The end actually came, it may now be announced—as so often in legal intricacies of this kind—by means of a compromise.

JUDGE OWL'S LETTER
By DADDY

CHAPTER I.
The Postman's Puzzle.

JACK and Janet had been sent to the village postoffice to buy stamps. They found the postmaster puzzling over a large envelope he held in his hands.

"This is the queerest letter I ever wrote to this postoffice," he muttered. "I can't make out the address and haven't any idea to whom it should go."

The postmaster held the letter close to his eyes, held it far away, he squinted at it over his glasses. And each time he shook his head.

"Please, can't you read the queer letter?" asked Janet.

"To be sure," said the postmaster. "But it will do you no good because you cannot make out the address."

He handed the large envelope to Janet, and she and Jack bent over it. Yes, as the postmaster said, it was a very queer-looking letter. Nothing was written on the front of the envelope, but the surface of the paper was broken by many small holes—like the prickles of a porcupine.

"Jack put his wits to work on the puzzle. He thought he saw some kind of form to the holes.

"They look like a puzzle," said he. "Perhaps if we marked the holes with a pen, we could read the letter."

The postmaster's puzzled face lighted up. "That's a good idea," he declared. "And that's the first time I've seen a child so clever."

Jack took the pencil and began to mark the envelope, putting a black dot over each hole. And sure enough, as he went on marking the holes, the dots began to form a picture on the envelope.

The picture made Jack and Janet jump in surprise. It was a picture of the great wood. It showed a favorite gathering place of the summer birds.

"There is the tree where Cocky Robin has his nest," cried Janet.

"And there is Judge Owl's hollow," said Jack.

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MCKAY

My husband complains because he has so little real home life. He says that genuine domestic existence is getting to be one of the rarest things in the world. Real home life flows often, he asks, does he get a chance to spend an evening in his own smoking jacket, with his wife beside him, just his wife?

I'd be genuinely touched by these sentiments if I didn't understand their author so thoroughly.

He generally starts talking this way just after I've received a few invitations to go out for dinner, or asked some people that he doesn't care about so much to come in to play cards. At times like these Hugh is at his most home loving.

Then he becomes the Champion and Defender—one of the last, he is sure, of the Great American Home. He even goes as far as to accuse me of having gone over to the enemy—and of doing all I can to expose him to the horrors of social gatherings.

And then, there's another reason why I'm not deeply moved by his pleas for the simple domestic life.

If we happen to spend more than one or two evenings at home in succession, he's sure to explode with:

"Let's go out somewhere. Sitting around in the evening this way is enough to make us old before our time!"

The battery man of the Idaho Auto and Supply company should caution your old battery before you throw it away. It may pay you to have it rebuilt. Mr. Washburn is an expert on rebuilt, his rebuilt batteries are outstanding many of the new batteries.

What is useless to you may be valuable to others—divulges it in its classified columns.

ROAD DISTRICT BOARD TO MAKE HIGHWAY SURVEY

Petitioners for Improvement Work Promised Consideration when Directors Complete Inspection Tour

Twin Falls highway district directors will take under consideration a number of road improvement projects following an inspection of all of the roads within the district to be made within the next 30 days, members of five delegations asking for work on as many different roads were told at a meeting of the board of directors Saturday afternoon.

No promises were made by the highway directors with respect to any suggested road improvement project and attention was called to the fact that the district will have only limited funds at its disposal for road work this year.

Five Projects Submitted

The several roads on which improvement work was sought by delegations appearing before the board Saturday were:

1. West to Rock creek crossing from the end of the main road three miles northwest of Twin Falls.
2. One mile between Kimberly road and Addison avenue two miles east of Twin Falls.
3. Five miles west from a point on the road three miles south of South Park, Twin Falls, to connect with the Rogers road at Grange, where it crosses the main road.
4. One mile east from a point on the road one mile east of the Twin Falls water purification plant.
5. One mile north and one mile east from the Sampson corner one mile east of Hansen.

Estimates Paid

In addition to receiving the petitions of the several delegations petitioning road improvement work, the highway district directors Saturday authorized payment of estimates on contracts for work now in progress.

Mrs. Barratt was on the way to Iowa when she received word of her mother's death.

A. Babcock to serve a term of from one to 25 years in the state prison. Nebel has been held in the justice county jail here since his surrender by his principal bondsmen a week ago.

FEDERAL COURT TO DEAL WITH LOCAL BOOZE CASE

William Prough, Arrested in Connection with Seizure of Liquor Cache Here, to Enter Plea at Boise

William Prough, 24, who was arrested Friday evening when the police seized a cache of about 10 gallons of moonshine whiskey from which he had just completed filling several bottles, will leave today with his attorney, E. V. Larsen, for Boise, where it is expected he will plead guilty in federal district court to charge of violating the federal prohibition law.

Chief of Police P. O. Herriman, who had stated Friday evening that the case would be brought to the attention of the federal authorities, was advised by the federal prohibition enforcement director at Boise to permit Prough to come to Boise in company with his attorney, Prough having expressed desire to plead guilty, the police said.

The liquor cache which was seized when Prough was arrested was concealed at 318 Main avenue south. Prough said he had rented the premises recently from Paul Dawson, proprietor of the Weaver rooms.

COLLECTIONS AT HOSPITAL SLOW

Financial Operations of County Institution Set Forth in Annual Report

Earned revenues of the Twin Falls county general hospital during the past year, in addition to income of $20,421.10 from taxes and interest, amounted to $18,708.40, making a total of $39,129.50, according to the annual report submitted Saturday to the board of county commissioners by Miss S. A. Johnson, superintendent.

Expenses of the institution during the year totaled $40,730.06, including $5954.57 for care of indigents and indigent sick, and $4315.80 for installation of a new water supply line.

Classified Accounts

While the earned revenues for the year exceeded $38,000, according to the report, there was outstanding January 1, 1924, for services rendered during the preceding year, a total of $17,577.04. Approximately one-third of this amount, the superintendent estimates, is uncollectible; one-half probably will be paid in the fall, and collection of the balance is "doubtful unless collection is forced." The total of the institution's outstanding bills for services since its establishment is given as $16,882.40.

Outstanding bills amounting to $13,497.73 were turned over to a collection agency last June, the report said, and the amount collected through this agency during the ensuing six months was $932.82.

A surprising percentage of people believe it is not to let the county wait," the report says.

One Thousand Patients

During the year, according to the report, 1000 persons were received as patients at the hospital. This number is about 100 less than that of the preceding year, and the reason, the report suggests, is that 1923 was an unusually healthy year. "Each patient spent an average of a little less than 10 days in the hospital."

During the year there were born at the hospital a total of 88 babies, 49 boys and 42 girls. One pair of twins was listed.

Fifty-four deaths occurred at the institution during the year. The death list is classified as follows: Accidents, 10; medical patients, 18; suicide, 1; operative, 23; following childbirth, 2.

A total of 619 operations were performed, 338 being major, and 281 minor operations.

Storage Room Needed

Among the present requirements of the institution as set forth in the report is need for a larger storeroom for home canned fruits which may be canned in the hospital kitchen, thus aiding in the prevention of waste of the region's abundant crops.

It is suggested also that provision for a tennis court would assist in solving the problem of maintaining the staff of nurses.

FLASKAMPER SHIPPED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Ray Flaskamper, third baseman last year for the San Francisco baseball club, is to appear this year as shortstop for the Soles, providing Hal Rhynes does not reconsider his recent decision not to join the team this year under the contract offered him. Rhynes and Gene Valla have both refused to sign the contracts sent them by George Fulman, secretary of the club, he said today.

NATURALIZATION BECOMES EVENT

Adoption of Citizens Takes on New Significance Through Women's Activity

Proceedings relating to naturalization of a number of foreign-born residents of this district, in district court here Saturday, took on a new significance when several aliens who have been attending classes conducted by the Americanization committee named by a number of local women's organizations, attended as a body and five of their number declared on this occasion their intention to become citizens of the United States.

Final examinations in the cases of six applicants for naturalization were held at this time and certificates of naturalization were issued at the conclusion of the examination to five out of the six applicants, one being advised to continue his study of the American form of government.

Adopted as Citizens.

The successful applicants who were Saturday admitted to United States citizenship were:

Oscar E. B. Peterson, Twin Falls; native of Sweden and resident of the United States since June, 1900.

Gus Lindholm, Filer; native of Sweden, and resident of the United States since June, 1906.

Thomas McElwain, Twin Falls; native of Ireland, and resident of the United States since June, 1910.

Henry Pryor, Castleford; native of Austria, and resident of the United States since August, 1904.

August Neveld, Buhl; native of Czechoslovakia, and resident of the United States since December, 1903.

The examinations were conducted before Judge W. A. Babcock by Del L. Sullivan, Salt Lake, United States naturalization examiner.

Declare Intention.

Under lately promulgated regulation requiring persons filing declaration of intention to become naturalized before a federal examiner, Mr. Sullivan refused during the day the declarations of seven persons. The five who have attended classes of the joint Americanization committee were:

Arne Rommetvedt, Twin Falls; native of Norway and resident of the United States since April, 1922.

Andreas Sane, Twin Falls; native of Norway and resident of the United States since August, 1923.

Theodor Rangen, Twin Falls; native of Norway and resident of the United States since April, 1922.

Jose Gonzalez, Twin Falls; native of Mexico and resident of the United States since March, 1918.

Manuel Silveria Alvarez, Twin Falls; native of Portugal and resident of the United States since November, 1907.

Declarations of intention also were filed by:

Samuel Rieder, Twin Falls, native of Switzerland and resident of the United States since July, 1916.

Gerrit L. Peters, Amsterdam; native of Holland and resident of the United States since August, 1934.

Committee's Work.

The delegation composed of persons who have attended classes of the joint Americanization committee was accompanied by Miss Elizabeth M. Stowell, director of the classes, which have been held four evenings each week since early last December. About 39 persons have attended these classes, gaining knowledge of American citizenship together with instruction in geography and history. Primary classes are held for aliens who are unable to speak or read the English language.

The naturalization proceedings also were attended by a delegation composed of Mrs. W. S. Campbell, Mrs. H. H. Wilson and Mrs. T. P. Warner, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who have taken an active part in the work of the joint Americanization committee, and by a junior high school civics class.

MUTUAL STARTS CRIMINAL ACTION

Former Officials of Building and Loan Association Accused of Embezzling $17,982.68

Charged jointly with K. S. Peters, former manager, with embezzling $17,982.68 from the Mutual Building and Loan association, Frank G. Lechleiter, former secretary of the association, entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned Saturday before Judge O. P. Duvall, in probate court here, and was admitted to $1000 bond. Peters is reported to be in California on a business trip.

The alleged embezzlement, according to the complaint filed Saturday forenoon, took place during the period Peters and Lechleiter served the association in official capacities, continuing from January 6, 1921, to November 12, 1923. The complaint was signed by O. J. Johnson, president of the association.

Sues Bond Concerns.

Before instituting the criminal action against the former officials Saturday, the association directors some weeks ago filed suit against Lechleiter, claiming bonds issued for Lechleiter as secretary to recover approximately $18,000 alleged to have been lost to the association as a result of alleged wrongful acts on the part of Peters and Lechleiter.

Negotiations for settlement with the bond concerns are said to be continuing.

At about the same time the association instituted suit against the bonding concerns, Peters and Lechleiter, through their attorneys, Roy L. Black, Boise, and Homer C. Mills, brought suit against the association for approximately $121,000 damages.

It was reported here Saturday. Strauss and Glauber have been partners in the clothing business since 1909, the former being in charge of the store here and the latter at Buhl.
