HUGHES URGES ENFORCING LAW AS GREAT NEED

Secretary Sees No Necessity for Increasing Statutes at Excessive Rate; Says Measures Are Badly Drawn

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The need of the hour in the United States "is not to make law but to enforce law," Secretary Hughes said here tonight before the American Law Institute.

"We have violated the right of self-government," he said. "Are we developing the competency to exercise that right?"

"We lack nothing in initiative, skill, in resourcefulness, in industry and commerce, in ingenuity of adaptations and facilities of communications. We fall down in government not because we do not have the mechanism of efficient government, but because of ineptness."

Too Many Opinions

Referring to the growing mass of law and legal opinion in the United States, Mr. Hughes said in a year there were 175,000 pages of decisions, an average of 12,000 or more statutes and an average of 13,000 recorded decisions of the highest court.

"We have liberty under law," Mr. Hughes said, "but under how much law?"

The secretary of state contended that judges should write their opinions because "the bar knows that the best security of good and faithful work is that the judge must state his reasons."

"Our generations have talked of the evil of multiplying laws," he said. "Lawyers decry the multiplication in the meetings of bar associations and then, sitting in legislative halls, do their full share to increase it."

Laws Badly Drawn

The main trouble with the volume of legislation is not with the courts but with the legislatures. The evil resides not merely in the number of laws. It is in badly drawn laws. It is also in the compromise of legislative bodies where the contests of opposing policies are satisfied by ambiguous phrases which transmit the difficulties of legislative bodies to the courts who are left with the burdensome task of discovering the legislative intent when actually there has been no definite legislative intent.

Improvement Needed

"Perhaps the greatest need of all is the improvement in the administration of the criminal law by certainty in its definition and celerity in its administration. At this moment when law enforcement is so difficult, an adequate and competent criminal justice system is more important than ever."

"The great duty of the hour is not to make law but to enforce law, to establish the fundamentals of security of life and property and to maintain enforcement respect for law in our great cities."

SCHOOL TAX SITUATION TO BE TOLD AT MEETING

C. Mitchell and other speakers at a mass meeting to be held Monday evening in the high school auditorium.

Course of Trial Altered: Woman Changes Her Vote

Feminine Juror in $150,000 Damage Suit Decides She Was Mistaken in Agreeing on Verdict; Couldn't Sleep

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Emma P. Wary of this city, today started the United States district court with the announcement she had changed her mind regarding a verdict she had helped to return as a juror.

Yesterday, Mrs. Wary signed a verdict in a $150,000 damage suit brought by heirs of four grand children against the Pennsylvania railroad, in favor of the railroad company.

The verdict was reached last night by the jury and sealed, after which the jurors went home. Today when Judge J. W. Whitaker Thompson broke the seal, Mrs. Wary said she couldn't sleep last night because she believed she voted the wrong way. "I am sure," she said, "I do not agree with the verdict," she said.

In view of Mrs. Wary's action Judge Thompson ruled that the original verdict was null and void and that the plaintiff would be allowed to file a motion to have it set aside.

Business Was Dull for Burglar; Asks Income Exemption

Only "Took In" $2525 Last Year; Was Forced to Work on Part-Time Basis

ST. PAUL, Feb. 23 (AP)—Burglars may not obey the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal," but at least one in St. Paul obeys the income tax law.

This honest burglar today submitted an income tax return by mail to L. M. Williams, local collector of internal revenue, claiming $2500 exemption, because he is married and paying one dollar tax, four per cent of the remaining $25 of his last year's income. The burglar explained in his return and in the letter that accompanied it, that he only "took in" $2525 last year because business was dull and illness compelled him to go on a part time basis.

With a bullet wound in the temple and a revolver by his side, the body of William O. Victory, 56, was found by his wife, Mrs. Victory, on Saturday morning in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Funeral services for Mr. Victory, who was married for 25 years, were held Saturday evening at the Presbyterian church in the Grosman chapel Tuesday morning.

POWER USERS AGAIN OPPOSE HIGHER RATES

Motion by Association to Reject Company's Proposed Schedule Marks Hearing Before State Commission

BOISE, Feb. 23 (AP)—A motion by the Shoshone Idaho Light and Power Users' association to reject the Idaho Power company's rate schedule filed January 18 was the closing gun Saturday in the hearing that has been in progress before the public utilities commission on the schedule announced continually since February 11.

The motion is a repeated one, having been made earlier in the hearing by the users and denied by the commission. The renewed motion made Saturday was taken under advisement by the commission.

The commission now has before it the testimony of witnesses from practically all sections of the Idaho Power company's system and with that will proceed to formulate a rate schedule which will be in effect not later than March 1. The power company wanted its schedule made effective February 17, but under an agreement with the commission, this date was extended to March.

Nothing spectacular marked the close of the hearing, which adjourned about 2:30 o'clock after being in session about a hour following the noon recess. During the course of the hearings the users have centered their attack on the company's schedule and produced witnesses from practically all sections of the territory served by the Idaho Power company to prove that if the company is allowed to place the proposed schedule of rates into effect, great increases in many classes of service will result.

EGG PRODUCERS COURSE FOR MARKETING

Poultrymen in Meeting Here Declare for Including County in Territory to Be Served by Idaho-Oregon Association

Twin Falls county will be included in the territory to be served by the southeastern Idaho branch of the Oregon-Idaho Egg Producers' association, according to a decision reached at a meeting in the county agent's office here Saturday of about 20 representative poultrymen of the county, who will at once inaugurate a campaign with a view to obtaining signatures of owners of 15,000 hens to contracts for marketing their eggs through the association.

Organization plan and business methods of the egg producers' association were explained at the meeting here by C. Ben Ross, mayor of Pocatello, and former secretary of the state farm bureau federation, who has taken an active part in the movement for organization of Idaho poultrymen since its inception.

Establishment of the branch organization, which will maintain a candling station and distributing center in Pocatello, Mr. Ross said, will require signing of the association's contracts by owners of a total of 75,000 hens in the 15 counties to be served by the branch organization.

Mr. Ross told of higher prices for their product and other advantages derived by egg producers elsewhere through their marketing associations, and declared that entrance of the Idaho-Oregon association into this field would result in immense development of this county's poultry industry.

The campaign in this county for signing of egg marketing contracts was carried on simultaneously in the various communities, for each of which a campaign leader was designated at the meeting here Saturday. It is expected that each campaign leader will follow up results of his individual effort in the undertaking by presentation of the proposition at a community meeting.

In attendance at the meeting Saturday were the members of a committee formed in this county some time ago to inquire into egg marketing organizations and plans. Several other representative poultrymen of the county also attended and participated in the meeting.

Mr. Hendrick, one of the unsuccessful contributors of peace plans in the Bok contest, asked for $100,000, the amount to be paid for the winning plan when approved by a referendum, and $1,000,000, estimated as the value of publicity and prestige attached to winning the prize.

Oklahoma Senator Asserts Former Secretary Gave Assurance He Would Not Make Reserve Deals Under Cover

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 23 (AP)—Albion H. Hall, former secretary of the interior, made a "glorious promise" to Senator J. W. Harrell, republican, Oklahoma, not to effect an oil lease without first giving public notice of his intention, Senator Harrell told a meeting of the republican state committee here today. After this promise, Senator Harrell said, "the deal was pulled off in a dark corner."

Senator Harrell's statement was something of a stir because it was said to be the first public intimation that former Secretary Hall had promised to give public notice before he contracted the Teapot Dome or any other oil lease.

Voted for Denby Ouster

The Oklahoma senator justified his action in voting for senate resolution asking the resignation of Edwin Denby as secretary of the navy by declaring "knowing as I did the facts, I could not vote any other way without in a dark corner." He said the most crooked deal in recent American history. Denby's usefulness as a public official was at an end.

In explaining how he obtained Mr. Hall's promise, Senator Harrell said that in April, 1921, he had protested to the late President Harding against the plan of Fall and Denby to have the naval oil reserves taken from under the supervision of the navy department and transferred to the interior department.

Promise Given

"I had the definite promise from Fall then that these leases would not be made without first giving a public notice and then the deal was pulled off in a dark corner," he said.

Senator Harrell declared that the oil lease scandal has "shaken the confidence of the people in public officials" and that we must back Calvin Coolidge in his determination to punish the guilty parties, or see the republican party swept out of power."

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR RAILROAD BUILDERS REPORTED PROVIDED

Commissioner Concern to Send Two Outfits to Rogerson Early in March, Is Word Brought Here

Word reached Twin Falls Saturday from a source believed to be reliable that the Gunn Supply company of Pocatello, commissary and hotel supplies, is now engaged in making arrangements to have a hotel put to Rogerson early in March for the construction men employed on the Wells-Rogerson line.

While the Utah Construction company is said to invariably establish its own camp and commissary on grading jobs, the actual laying of the tracks will be performed by Short Line construction crews and in the housing and feeding of these the Gunn Supply company finds its chief occupation.

The outfit now being got ready consist of a number of bunk cars, one in which meals are served and others from which supplies of various kinds are sold to the men on the job.

So far as known, to date no contract for grading on this line has as yet been let, though such action is anticipated in the near future.

Ludendorff Grows Thin as Hearing Date Draws Near

Photographers Excluded from Taking Pictures at Scene of Hearing; Take No Chances on Another Beer Hall Revolt

MUNICH, Bavaria, Feb. 23 (AP)—Former Field Marshal von Ludendorff has lost a lot of flesh worrying about his trial which is to begin here next Tuesday, but the outside world will not have a chance to see the physical figure of the once German war lord.

The Bavarian government has absolutely forbidden photographers to take pictures of the trial or of the scenes at the military academy where he will be held because the court buildings are not suitable for the proceedings.

It is rumored that Prince Rupprecht may be summoned to attend and it is known that Cardinal Michael Faulhaber and Dr. von Kahr, former Bavarian military dictator, will testify.

All gatherings in restaurants and public places are forbidden during the trial as the Bavarian government is not going to take any chances of having another beer hall revolution while it is trying to liquidate the war state.

So much attention throughout the world.

MOVE TO PLACE PROFITS TAX IN BILL DEFEATED

Stubborn Fight in Lower House on Behalf of Frear Amendment Fails; Claim Bonus Proposal Not Feasible

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The revenue bill without successfully all assaults in the house today, the most determined attack in the form of an amendment proposing a restoration of the excess profits tax being defeated 157 to 51.

A stubborn fight for the amendment which would have re-enacted the law repealed in 1921 with slightly different rates, so prolonged consideration of the measure that leaders predicted a final vote on it could not occur before expected before the latter part of next week.

Representative Frear, republican insurgent, Wisconsin, submitted the amendment, and was supported in debate by Representative Childfield, democrat, Arkansas. Democrats, however, divided on the question, only about half of those present voting with the republican insurgents for it.

Estate Tax Urged.
The estate tax section was taken up but, with another fight impending for increase of these rates, final consideration of it was put over until Monday.

Plans of republican organization leaders for an attempt to throw out the democratic income rate schedules in the bill when it comes up for a final vote were further complicated today by a development which it is feared might lessen the probability of several insurgent republicans joining at that time with the party organization in the vote for a compromise between the Mellon and Garner plans.

Talks Compromise.

Representative La Guardia, republican insurgent, New York, who had asked Secretary Mellon for his views on a compromise schedule providing for a 40 per cent surtax rate and a normal rate of five per cent on incomes above $4000 instead of six per cent as carried in the organization measure, was informed by the secretary that this plan would not provide sufficient revenue for a bonus. Mr. LaGuardia, who voted for the democratic income rates, had been counted among those expected by the organization to support a compromise.

However, Mr. Mellon declared also that neither the Garner schedule nor in the bill, the original Mellon rates or those including miscellaneous tax changes, reported by the ways and means committee, would raise sufficient revenue for a bonus.

Meanwhile, Mr. Longworth said negotiations had been held up on the fight against income scheduled as a result of delay in consideration of the bill.

Several minor amendments, none of which were passed, proposing to allow taxpayers more than 100 days to correct returns questioned by the treasury, were defeated in short skirmishes prior to the fight on the excess profits tax.

BRITISH AIRSHIP NOT FITTED FOR LONG TRIP

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—In view of reports that a British dirigible would attempt a North Pole flight next summer the air ministry denies that any request has been received for the purchase or loan of airship R-36.

This craft, which is now stored at Farnham, is stated to be in no condition for such a flight and her overhauling would require months even should the air ministry sanction such an expense, which officials consider extremely unlikely.

BORAH JOINS IN FIGHT TO FORCE DAUGHERTY OUT

Insist Coolidge Must Be Responsible for Holding Attorney-General; Offer to Start Impeachment Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The fight to oust Attorney-General Daugherty, which has proceeded in private conferences for several days among republican leaders, today again broke openly in the senate.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic floor leader, joined in an attack on Mr. Daugherty, agreeing that all responsibility for his remaining in the cabinet must be assumed by President Coolidge.

Mr. Borah added that he was prepared to "join with anyone in laying a foundation for impeachment proceedings."

Plan Inquiry
The senate flare-up was the only open development today in the fight on the attorney-general. Next Monday when the senate reconvenes the plan for a committee investigation of Mr. Daugherty and the department will be renewed. The leaders agree that the resolution of inquiry of Senator Wheeler, democratic, Montana, will ultimately be adopted but it is uncertain whether it can be brought to a vote on Monday.

Immediate action on the resolution, under the senate rules, would require unanimous consent and this probably will be denied, meaning the postponement of the day of a vote until Tuesday or even later if debate should develop.

Friends Will Fight
Considerable discussion is regarded as not improbable, inasmuch as the friends of Mr. Daugherty are in a more combative mood since Chairman Adams of the republican national committee gave his support publicly to the position taken by the attorney-general. Controversy in senate consideration of the Wheeler-resolution promises to revolve about clause for selecting the investigating committee personnel. Virtually all republican leaders are united in opposition to it as drawn.

Reps Adams' Statement
Senate discussion today of Mr. Daugherty was opened by Senator Robinson, who criticized Chairman Adams' statement opposing the resignation of the attorney-general. Declaring that Mr. Adams was seeking to confuse the issue by making both the Daugherty case and the oil scandal appear to be political in character, Senator Robinson reiterated that Mr. Daugherty had lost public confidence and ought to be replaced.

With thousands of federal secret service operatives at his command, Mr. Daugherty, he argued, could hamper and embarrass the proposed senate inquiry.

TEAMS WIN AT ALBION MEET

Burley and Rupert Selected to Represent Eastern Sub-District in Basketball

IDAHO, Feb. 23 (Special to The News-Bureau)—Burley basketball team will represent the eastern sub-district at the tournament held Friday and Saturday at Albion. Burley came through the entire tournament without suffering a defeat, losing only to the probable winners, Rupert, in a strong second round defeat at the hands of the latter Saturday afternoon by virtue of the fact that the latter team had a better record in the tournament.

The seven teams entered were eliminated by the double elimination plan whereby each team must lose two games to be definitely out of the running. The day started Friday morning with three games, each of which were as follows: Burley 21, Hoytville 4; Paul 27, Declo 22; Rupert 21, Oakley 21.

In the afternoon and evening the process of elimination started with the Hoytville team being the first to go. The results follow: Burley 41, Paul 16; Rupert 32, Albion 13; Declo 23, Hoytville 10. Saturday morning Burley and Rupert met in a strong second round game. The results of the game were as follows: Burley 41, Rupert 21. In the afternoon they met the Oakley team, also believed to have excellent chances of winning and with the same five men administered a 34-14 drubbing.

The results of Saturday afternoon's games, which eliminated Declo, are: Burley 27, Rupert 21; Oakley 21, Declo 10. The final game of the tournament was the elimination of Albion and Oakley, with Burley already finishing at the top of the list with four victories and the highest and best team in the tournament.

The final game was between Paul and the latter was a complete walkover for the latter, with the latter team being forced to play two gruelling contests in the same evening, whereas the Rupert quintet had the benefit of a rest. The score in the final game was: Rupert 25, Paul 5.

BOXING PROGRAM TO BE LINED UP

Matches Between Dempsey and Gibbons and Firpo to Be Brought in Discussion

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Plans for the 1924 heavyweight boxing program are expected to take definite shape next week as a result of the arrival in New York today of Jack Dempsey, title holder, accompanied by his manager, Jack Kearns.

Kearns said tonight he expected to resume early next week conference with Tex Rickard on the prospective return match with Tommy Gibbons, who already has accepted the promoter's terms for a match here early in June. Kearns also expects to discuss details of a return match with Luis Angel Firpo or a bout with the winner of the prospective Firpo-Harry Wills contest, which may take place in July. Providing Dempsey succeeded in disposing of Gibbons, his second match would take place in September.

CLUB LUNCHEON IS NOVEL EVENT

A. A. K. Members Are Entertained at Country Home of Mrs. T. E. Irwin; Short Business Session Held

Mrs. T. H. Irwin and Mrs. C. D. Irwin entertained the A. A. K. club with a 1 o'clock luncheon Saturday at the country home of the former.

The guests were seated at two tables, the centerpieces being small flags artistically combined with red and white streamers. The entire arrangement was symbolic of Washington's birthday.

The place cards were photographs of the guests, which had been procured without their knowledge, and surmounted other figures making them rather confusing even to the owners. These, of course, were the source of much amusement.

After the delicious three-course luncheon a clever guessing contest provided entertainment. Shortly before adjournment a short business meeting was held.

Club members present in addition to the hostesses were Mrs. DeWitt Young, Mrs. L. O. Evans, Mrs. J. D. Barnhart, Mrs. D. R. Churchhill, Mrs. E. P. Dunlap, Mrs. Bruce Hillman, Mrs. Marion Hammons, Mrs. W. A. Howard, Mrs. G. M. Simpson, and Mrs. Ernest Koch. Guests for the affair were Mrs. David Brown, Mrs. W. T. Combs and Mrs. May Horron.

Needlecraft Club Meets

The Needlecraft club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Bigley on Quincey street. It being Washington's birthday 13 members responded to roll-call with either a quotation on Washington or some event connected with his life.

After a few hours of needlework and a general good time the hostess served a delicious luncheon, the daintiness of which was enhanced by the use of napkins decorated with cherries and the presentation of small hatched as favors. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Cora Crouse, 504 Third avenue west.

Mrs. Frank Brown Entertains

Mrs. Frank Brown was hostess to the Blue Lakes Boulevard club Friday afternoon. After the usual transaction of business a program consisting of "Red Letter Day Birthdays" was enjoyed. During the social hour Mrs. Brown served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. O. W. Dougherty on the boulevard.

Mrs. A. E. Henderson Hosts Guest

The ladies of the Progressive club with their families met at the home of Mrs. Frank Kreuger on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. A. E. Henderson, who is soon to leave the community.

There were 24 adults and 19 children present, and all enjoyed several delightful musical numbers on the radio. A delicious lunch was served during the evening. The regular meeting of the club will also be with Mrs. Kreuger on Wednesday afternoon, February 27.

DECLAMATION CONTEST ELIMINATION SCHEDULED

High School Students to Display Historic Proverbs in Competition for Places on Team; Nineteen Entered

Declamatory work in the three divisions, oratorical, humorous and dramatic, is well under way at the local high school and the preliminary contest which will determine the representatives from Twin Falls will be held Friday evening, February 29, in the high school auditorium, according to Miss E. Lindley of the public speaking department, who has charge of the declamatory work this year. Nineteen students are trying out for places on the team this year with the most of the contestants attempting the humorous division, with the dramatic next in interest and the oratorical having the least with three contestants.

Following the local contest on Friday a sub-district meet will be held the following week and the district contest will be held in about three weeks when contestants will be chosen to compete for state honors. The dates and places for the latter meetings have not been definitely set.

Gloria Swanson in "The Humming Bird"

The managements of all the local picture houses are to be congratulated upon the class of pictures that they obtain for Twin Falls and further upon the fact that the new ones that are being talked about come so early to our city. Everyone in the East is talking about Gloria Swanson in the HUMMINGBIRD. It is said to be the best picture she ever made. We recommend it to you.

Hummingbird Hose

We take this occasion to link up with the Gloria Swanson advertising, our HUMMINGBIRD HOSE, which we believe to be the best value obtainable at the price. The Hummingbird Hose is 14-strand pure thread silk, and comes in a wealth of new colors. From experience we know it gives absolute satisfaction. People who used to pay from $2.00 to $2.50 are now buying HUMMINGBIRD HOSE. They $1.50 are now selling at, the pair.

The hose were marked special for one day only at $1.50. Ten sales-ladies were attempting to wait upon the crowds and one could not get within reaching distance of the counter. The department head said he could not give the exact figures, but expected that more than 1000 pairs would be sold.

RADICALISM IN ENGLAND

The famous State Opera Company of Vienna has given up its proposed London season, in May and June. Not musical or financial difficulties, but labor difficulties, are responsible.

The company naturally expected to take along its own amiable orchestra to play its accompaniments. Orchestration is no less important than singing, in operatic productions. And its orchestra happened to be directed by the famous Richard Strauss. It would hardly have occurred to any disinterested person to divorce the two. The British Musical Union, however, declared it was an outrage to bring foreign musicians to England, because there were plenty of unemployed musicians in London who could play the accompaniments for the singers as well as the Viennese players.

Thus a protest "purely economic" has interfered with a purely artistic production. British observers are now asking how far industrial unionism is going to dominate art.

Before visiting unreserved condemnation on British labor, however, it is just as well to consider another picture. The British labor government has had nothing to do with this musical mix-up. Moreover, it is generally admitted to have gone about its work in a moderate spirit, putting several conservatives in responsible cabinet positions. Yet the Conservative Club, a power in British politics, has expected two members for accepting office under the labor government. There is as much radicalism in that act as in the labor union's.

A CHECK TO CASH

A farmer and a lawyer, both young men, learned something of the value of money recently.

The farmer had sold a large piece of his inherited farm for forty-eight thousand dollars. He came to the city, hunted up an attorney—a college friend—and asked to be identified at some bank for the purpose of cashing a check. The lawyer was glad to be of service. At his bank the teller was affable until he saw the size of the check. Then he

JUDGE OWL'S LETTER
By DADDY

A Visit to Birdland.

"WHOO! Who! I am going to Birdland. Who, who wants to go with me?"

Judge Owl blinked his big yellow eyes at Jack and Janet as he asked this question.

"I want to go to Birdland," answered Jack.

"And so do I," cried Janet.

"Who! Who! Then follow me as fast as you legs can fly," roared Judge Owl, flapping on ahead and forgetting entirely that Jack and Janet had thin ponies saddled and bridled. Then they set off after Judge Owl, the ponies galloping briskly along the paths through the snowy woods.

They found Judge Owl waiting for them at the edge of Birdland.
Janet looked at the empty nests in the bare trees.

"Birdland is lonesome without the birds," said she. "I wish they would come back from the sunny south."
"They will, as they promised in my talking letter," roared Judge Owl.
"And we must see if their nests are in good shape for them. But first I am going to look at my own nest."

Judge Owl flew to the hollow tree where he had his home.

"Who! Who! Who is living in my hollow tree?" roared Judge Owl, seeing that the front door was wide open.

Out of the door popped Mr. Field Mouse. He blinked his snappy eyes at Judge Owl and frowned darkly.

"Go away!" he squeaked. Mr. Field Mouse. "Go away! This is my nest now."

"Who! Who! Who says it is your nest?" roared Judge Owl, almost suffocating in his excitement. "I'll come in there and show you whose nest it is."

"Eek! If you come in here I'll nibble your toes," squeaked Mr. Field Mouse.

Jack looked at the attorney and told him the bank didn't carry enough cash on hand day by day to enable it to cash such a check.

They proceeded to another bank, a larger one, but there, too, nothing could be done about cashing the check.

They tried to persuade the young farmer to deposit his money, and to take his time deciding what he wished to do with it. He knew what he wanted to do; he wanted to go to a broker with forty-eight thousand dollars in cash and buy securities. And since by this time it was getting late, he was going to take the cash to his lawyer friend's office and keep it overnight in a little safe until there.

About that time the lawyer friend began to get nervous. To protect papers from fire his safe was useful, but as a repository for forty-eight thousand dollars he refused to recommend it.

In the end the young men had discovered the best way to treat such a sum of money. It was deposited in a reputable bank where it drew interest and was perfectly secure until its owner had time to investigate and invest properly, after seeking sound advice on the subject. If any bank had been so foolish as to cash that check immediately upon presentation, the money might have been lost or stolen or spent for worthless stocks.

Piano tuning. Phone Logan's, 108.

The front door was wide open.

"Oh, you will!" roared Judge Owl.
"I dare you to nibble my toes."
Mr. Field Mouse simply twitched his whiskers. Judge Owl blinked his big eyes and yawned. Then he blinked some more, yawned again and shut his eyes. It looked as though Mr. Field Mouse was hypnotizing him and putting him to sleep.

Jack and Janet watched in surprise.
They knew Judge Owl had a habit of falling asleep almost any time, but they never had seen any one go to sleep so suddenly.

"I'll nibble your toes," squeaked
Mr. Field Mouse. Judge Owl snored in answer. "I'll nibble your toes," he squeaked louder than before. His only answer was another snore. Mr.
Field Mouse chuckled. He thought Judge Owl was asleep. Mr. Field Mouse went out of the door of the hollow tree. He sneaked up to Judge Owl's toes. He opened his mouth to nibble them.

Then suddenly Judge Owl woke up.
Quick as a flash he grabbed Mr. Field
Mouse.

Three snappy bites. Then Judge Owl blinked at Jack and Janet in a satisfied way. "What was that was a very good lunch," he roared.

(In tomorrow's chapter they find that provokers have visited the nests of the birds.)

Breakfast Food
"Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKay.

My wife spends her evenings writing letters.

It seems to me that a woman could arrange to give a little time to her husband, without having to do something every minute.

But when I suggest this to my wife,
she interrupts the letter she's writing only long enough to remark that she might just as well occupy herself any way she can as sit and watch me read the newspaper.

But that doesn't seem to me to be any reason why she should go on writing letters after letter, long after I've suggested that it's time to go to bed.
Whenever I say anything about calling it a day she always in the midst of a long letter to her Aunt Sarah or to her dear friend Louise—or Nannie—or Peg.

She has as much correspondence to keep up as the secretary of state—and she makes the mistake of trying to do it all after nightfall, instead of giving an eight-hour day to it.

Writer's cramp is my only hope!

Don't overdo the Choke

YOUR dash choke is an all-too-handy temptation at this time of the year. There is a bite in the early morning air—motor is cold—you are anxious to get her spinning and ready for a quick pull out of the garage. Gr-r-r goes the starter—out comes the choke—motor takes hold but acts rather stiff, so out slays the choke "to help warm her up"—and what happens?

Raw gasoline goes into the combustion chambers—too rich a charge for the spark to handle. The surplus, unburned gasoline works down the cylinder walls, washing off the oil that protects these surfaces, and on into the crankcase to dilute the oil supply. The lubricating quality of your oil is weakened—friction gets in its work and along come those extra repair bills.

Be a bit stingy with the choke this winter. Its use is necessary when the motor is cold but be sure to return it to normal position as promptly as possible—as soon as the engine begins to warm up.

What happens after a "quick start"?

Does your motor act lazy in the long run, after an initial display of "pep" and fireworks? Does it fail to deliver all the power and mileage you expect from each gallon of gasoline?

Very often these shortcomings can be traced to so-called "high-test" or "high-gravity" gasoline—fuel that usually "starts something it can't finish", simply because in giving it a highly volatile initial "kick" something has been sacrificed in its range and proportion of intermediate and higher boiling point fractions. And this nice proportion or balance is the source of full power and long mileage. Without it your gasoline can't do a complete, dependable, economical job.

CONOCO is balanced gasoline—uniform, sure-hitting, trustworthy fuel at lowest cost per mile. Wherever you see this circular sign.

THE MARKETS

WHEAT. QUOTATIONS AT HIGHEST DURING WEEK

Higher Prices at Liverpool Help in Boosting Chicago Figures; Fear Home Crop Is Damaged.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Helped upward by higher quotations at Liverpool the wheat market here ascended today to the highest price of the week, an net with less selling pressure than has been usual on advances of late. There was a firm close at 3-5 to 3-8 net gain, with May $1.11 to 1-11 1/2, and July $1.11 1/2 to 1-11 1/2. Corn finished unchanged to 3-8 higher, oats unchanged to 1-1/2, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

In connection with the price advance in Europe traders here showed interest regarding rumors that the work of the Dawes commission might permit passage to become a larger purchaser of wheat from this side of the Atlantic. Possibilities that domestic winter wheat has met with damage through important prospects that have given attention, complaints from districts east of the Mississippi being rather numerous. Furthermore, bulls continued to dwell on prospects that the import duty on wheat would be raised, that the 1924 crop would be materially less than the crop last year, and that the coming official estimate of resources of wheat on farms would be small. There were indications too, that the United States visible supply on Monday would show a moderate decrease.

With many traders looking for a fall-off in the volume of corn arrivals next week and thereafter, bulls had the advantage in the corn market, and the market was well. Messages from Iowa said the movement of corn in that state appeared to be largely at an end, and receivers here were generally of the opinion that even though the peak had been passed, some improvement in shipping demand was noted and there also was more or less corn bought by southern exporters.

Provisions were responsive to an upturn in hog values.

LOWER FREIGHT OF ADVANTAGE TO TWIN FALLS

New Schedule of Commodity Rates Puts Local Shippers on Better Than Even Basis with Competing Centers.

Freight reductions on commodity rates in less than ninety days which place Twin Falls on better than a parity with Boise in the case of shipments to many Idaho points are contained in a new schedule which goes into effect March 22, and which has just been received at the local freight office of the Oregon Short Line.

The reductions are in many cases better than those asked when the matter was taken up with Oregon Short Line officials here some four or five weeks ago, at which time a meeting was held and the entire situation pointed out in detail, with Shad L. Holgren and Secretary Dwight of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce representing the shippers.

Jobbers Benefit Chiefly.

The new rates operate chiefly to the advantage of jobbers who up to this time have been unable to sell in a number of southern Idaho towns because of the lower rates prevailing on shipments from both Boise and Pocatello. Under the new schedule the scope of Twin Falls jobbing houses is materially widened.

For competitive purposes the new and old rates are given from Twin Falls.

	New Rate.	Old Rate.
Twin Falls to—
Shoshone	$3.12	3.04
Hailey	.88	1.15
Jerome	$3.12	3.04
Ketchum	.88	1.15
Mountainhome	.89	1.40
Wendell	$3.12	.97
Boise to—
Shoshone	.76	84.12
Hailey	1.02	1.11
Jerome	.76	84.12
Ketchum	1.06	1.17
Mountainhome	$3.12	59.12
Wendell	.72	.80
Pocatello to—
Shoshone	$3.12	70.12
Hailey	.88	47.12
Jerome	$3.12	70.12
Ketchum	.93	95.12
Mountainhome	.89	.99
Wendell	$3.12	70.12

Reduced rates are in effect as between all Idaho points, the above being offered as an example and for purpose of comparison.

DISPUTE ENDED BY DISSOLUTION

Straus and Glauber Divide Interests Under Mutual Agreement; Suit to Be Dismissed

Dissolution of the partnership of Sol Straus and Theodore Glauber, operating clothing stores under the firm name of Straus and Glauber in Twin Falls and Buhl since 1909, was announced Saturday and attorneys for either partner stated Saturday evening that an agreement had been reached under which Glauber would dismiss his suit against Straus for $10,000 damages claimed because of alleged formation by Straus without Glauber's consent of a corporation under the style of Straus and Glauber.

Under the agreement Mr. Straus assumes sole ownership of the Twin Falls store and Mr. Glauber becomes the owner of the store at Buhl. The following statement was given out Saturday evening by Mr. Straus: Mr. Straus has purchased the Twin Falls interests of Mr. Glauber and will continue the business of the Twin Falls store under the firm name of the Straus Clothing company. Mr. Straus will make extensive improvements in the store and increase the number of lines with a view to giving better service.

Fashion and Economy Go Hand-in-Hand

To the Woman Who Makes Her Own Costumes

TIME was when to be fashionably dressed meant merely the expenditure of money. Now-a-days with the ease of making frocks at home, any woman may have a worth-while saving on her Spring or Summer wardrobe, with the satisfied consciousness that she is more becomingly dressed than ever before. And what a variety of costumes this makes possible! The fabrics themselves invite the designing of a frock for every occasion—so lovely are they in weave, design and coloring.

Naturally it's the part of wisdom to plan and make these attractive costumes now, before the warmer days come.

These Springtime fabrics are now on display in our store—more varied and attractive it seems than ever before. We invite you to inspect them.
