

WITNESS LIST IN LEASE QUIZ IS LENGTHENED

Private Line of Communication Maintained by McLean Is Revealed; Telegrams Read;
Expect Daugherty to Quit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Another Pandora's box was opened today in the oil scandal.

As a result, new fields for exploration were discovered and the list of committed witnesses was appreciably augmented.

A chief development was the reading into the records of a copy of a telegram sent to Edward M. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, at Palm Beach last December and January by his agents and others in Washington.

These disclosed persistent efforts were made on behalf of McLean to keep him off the witness stand in the oil inquiry and that in this connection attempts were made to bring pressure on Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, chief figure in the investigation.

Know All Facts.

There was also evidence that McLean was kept constantly advised as to developments in the inquiry and as to the movements and opinions respecting the investigation of Albert B. Fall to whom the publisher at one time said he had loaned $100,000.

From the telegrams the committee learned also that R. W. Smithers, chief communications officer at the White House, had been employed to man the Washington end of a private telegraph wire which was installed between this city and McLean's Palm Beach cottage.

One of the arguments advanced to the publisher in favor of the private wire was "easy and quick access to the White House," and another was the "congressional situation."

Advise McLean.

In this same message sent by John J. Major, one of McLean's secretaries, under date of December 22, the publisher was advised that C. Russell Stemp, secretary to President Coolidge, was leaving that night for Palm Beach.

Mr. Stemp has testified that he talked about oil matters with McLean at Palm Beach and advised him to "get it all out" in his testimony before Senator Walsh at the Florida resort.

Additional telegrams to McLean will be read into the record tomorrow. Senators said that one would show that an agent reported to the publisher that A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general in the Wilson administration, and acting for McLean, would try to have "Underwood" use his influence with Senator Walsh in McLean's behalf.

A telegram to be read tomorrow and signed by the publisher, says, according to committee men, that Francis McAdoo, a New York lawyer, or his father, William G. McAdoo, another candidate for the presidential nomination, had been his attorney for several years.

Smoot Makes Disclosure.

Before the committee went into session, Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, former chairman of the committee, disclosed publicly that he was advised in advance by J. W. Zevely, personal counsel for Harry F. Sinclair, that E. L. Doherty was coming to Washington to clear up the matter of the $100,000 loan.

At the same time Senator Smoot told of a visit he and Chairman Leasure made to Fall's apartment at a hotel here during the Christmas holidays for the purpose, they said, of urging him to tell the committee where he got the funds to improve and enlarge his New Mexico ranch holdings.

Both declared there was nothing serious.

EXPECT DAUGHERTY TO QUIT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Attorney General Daugherty will remain for the present a member of President Coolidge's cabinet, but he will be expected to retire to private life as soon as the senate has completed its inquiry into his administration of the department of justice.

His determination not to resign without a hearing on the charges against him was reaffirmed today in the face of growing pressure for his removal. He even refused to promise that he would vacate his post upon termination of the senate inquiry, but it was apparent in other quarters that any plan for his retention beyond that time had been abandoned.

TYPED LOVE LETTERS

SHOCK SOCIAL MENTOR

PARIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—André de Fournier, who is universally accepted in France as the highest authority on social etiquette, has been asked his ruling whether a member of society, of the male sex, should use a typewriter for a letter to another member of society, of the female sex, if the letter is not strictly limited to business matters.

Decidedly not, says M. de Fournier. "The most elementary proper feeling and the simplest courtesy exact that any such letter be written by hand," he declares. "It is impossible even to imagine a typed letter being addressed to a woman, although the contents might be more commonplace; how much more inconceivable, then, would a typed letter be if it expressed tender affections! Such a letter is bad form in that it allows the supposition that it may have been dictated to a third person."

COMPROMISE ON TAX BILL URGED BY LONGWORTH

Numerous Conferences Among Congressmen Held as Final Action Approaches; Insurgents to Study New Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Approach of final action on the revenue bill in the house brought forth a whirl of conferences among republicans today in a feverish attempt to unite their forces for a stand against the democratic income rates. A compromise advanced by the organization leaders was the subject of the conferences held after the house had adjourned following the Harding memorial services, without consideration of the bill on the floor.

Representative Longworth, republican leader, after presenting his compromise to insurgent leaders at a meeting with the steering committee, said the situation was unchanged, with the prospects of republicans gaining sufficient strength to defeat the Garner rates a toss-up.

Fraser Wants Time

Representative Fraser, republican insurgent, Wisconsin, said later that the insurgent group, which agreed at a meeting today to reopen negotiations for a compromise, would study the plan further.

Meanwhile Secretary Mellon met with republican leaders of both the senate and house to discuss the future of the bill. He was advised not to expect the senate to reduce any income surtax rates voted into the bill by the house. Plans were made, however, to facilitate consideration of the measure when it reached the senate.

Those present at the meeting included Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee; Speaker Gillette of the house, Representative Longworth and members of the house republican steering committee.

Compromise Plan

The compromise presented by Mr. Longworth called for a flat 25 per cent reduction in the surtax rates in the existing law, with the same brackets retained. This would make the maximum rate 37 1/2 per cent on incomes in excess of $200,000, instead of the 55 per cent maximum on incomes in excess of $100,000 as proposed in the Mellon plan. The democratic maximum surtax is 44 per cent on incomes in excess of $84,000.

Lower Minimum

The compromise further provides for a two per cent minimum normal rate, applying to incomes below $4,000, and six per cent above that amount. The Mellon rates were three and six per cent. The democratic rates in the bill are two per cent on incomes below $5,000; four per cent on incomes between $5,000 and $8,000 and six per cent on incomes above that amount.

Mr. Longworth said he had been assured by the treasury the compromise would raise sufficient revenue for government needs.

Largest California Bank Will Be Under Employees' Direction

President of Bank of Italy Announces Change in Control of Big Institution

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Control of the Bank of Italy, California's largest bank in financial resources and eighth ranking financial institution in the United States, gradually is to be passed to its employees, it was announced recently by A. P. Giannini, the president. This step, he said, would be epoch making in bank management.

Giannini started in the bank 20 years ago as a small one-room affair. Today this San Francisco bank has 75 branches through California, with deposits exceeding $300,000,000. The bank has 485,000 individual depositors.

The bank of Italy has more than 2000 employees, most of whom now own stock, according to Giannini, but his plan will assist every employee in obtaining additional stock holdings with the definite aim of eventual control passing to these workers. This is desired to be the first time a large banking institution has endeavored to turn over its affairs to employees.

Giannini was the first man in America to develop state wide branch banking to a great success. He will retire from the presidency of the bank October 17 next, when he will become chairman of the executive board. His resignation, he said, was to relieve him from banking details, to "give the younger fellows a chance," and to allow him time to work out the profit sharing ownership plan.

CHURCH LEADER LAMENTS MODERN TREND OF YOUTH

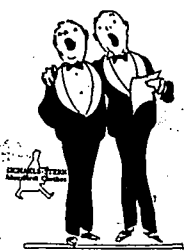

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP)—The phase of what has been called the "revolt of youth" today may be truthfully called the "collapse of restraint," according to Dr. W. S. Board, corresponding secretary of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"Parents have almost quit raising their children; teachers have no badge of authority, and society in general refuses to train up children in the way they should go," Dr. Board asserts. "Even moral distinctions are denied if they offer the slightest barrier to the complete satisfaction of life's many appetites."

"Any hesitation to follow one's natural instincts to the fullest is branded as cowardice or hypocrisy. This teaching is finding its way into the thinking and living of our day. In this critical transition of authority it is our solemn duty to arouse the teaching capacity and kindly to flame the spiritual devotion of the church in order that the on-coming generation may have an adequate personal experience of God."

ANNUAL STATE HOOP TOURNEY IS SCHEDULED

SUGARMEN WIN FROM THEATRE

Interscholastic Tournament to Be Held at Moscow on March 14 and 15; Teams from All Parts of Idaho Listed

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Feb. 27 (Special to The News).—The annual state interscholastic championship basketball tournament is scheduled to be held in Moscow at the University of Idaho gymnasium Friday and Saturday, March 14 and 15, according to word received by the athletic department of the university from the officers of the state interscholastic board of control.

Basketball teams winning district championships in tournaments in the seven districts into which the state has been divided will compete in the meet here for the state title, which last year went to the Moscow high school quintet.

As in the past, the university athletic department, through Athletic Director R. L. Mathews, will handle the tournament. The officers of the state association, whose officers are: Superintendent M. C. Mitchell of Twin Falls, Superintendent E. L. Cherry of St. Maries, and Superintendent J. E. Hae of Caldwell.

In arranging for the tournament this year a new district has been created, known as the east central district, and comprising Challis, Mackay, Arco, Salmon, Leadore, and smaller schools in the general territory of Custer, Lemhi and Butte counties. Other districts are essentially as in former years, four in southern and one in northern, with Sandpoint, Coeur d'Alene, Mullan, Kellogg, Wardner and other adjacent schools comprising one of the northern divisions, and Lewiston, Moscow, Caldwell, Orofino and Grangeville the other.

Southern District. Shelly and Aberdeen are leading cities in the extreme southeast section; Idaho Falls, Rexburg, Ashton, Rigby and Driggs comprise the second district; Twin Falls, Buhl, Burley, Elmer and Rupert are the principal schools in the third district; while Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Mountain Home, Welter and Payette constitute the remaining southern district known as the Boise valley district.

Tourneys Scheduled. District meets will be held shortly in each of the seven districts to determine winners to compete in the state championship tourney here next month. The plan of conducting the tournament is similar to last year's, using the double-defeat system of elimination which necessitates a team being defeated twice before final elimination from the pennant race. Not more than eight men may be carried by any team entering the state meet, and the state organization specifies, which assures teams traveling great distances under financial handicaps an equal break with teams within comparatively short distances of Moscow.

Expenses of the teams entering the state tourney will be met as far as possible with funds remaining after defraying all local expenses attached to the meet, to be pro-rated to schools from the south and southeastern sections of the state. Members of visiting teams will be housed in the various fraternity homes on the campus while here.

OUR SCHOOLS

Now that the school tax election is happily over might be a good time to suggest a little closer degree of cooperation as between taxpayers and the Board from this time on with a view not only to bringing about a closer understanding of school matters on the part of the public but as a means of assisting in the shaping of school policies without waiting until the eve of an election to begin filling objections to Board activities.

The School Board should be, and is, thoroughly responsive to the public will. There is nothing in the attitude or actions of the Board to suggest the idea that the institution is the master rather than the servant of the taxpayers. In fact it is unfair to the Board as an institution for any considerable number of citizens to credit it with occult powers and the ability to see into the minds of the people without a single spoken word from the people themselves.

Yet this is exactly the view of a good many taxpayers. They are perfectly willing to withhold even a hint of their views as to school operation, yet carefully reserve every petty difference of opinion until the cumulative result manifests itself in a popular outbreak of opposition to this, that or the other Board proposition.

School Board sessions are held in the full light of day. Each and all are public meetings. Not only the results but the discussion at such meetings should be open to the public. Executive sessions are not contemplated under the law, and star chamber proceedings of any sort, if they are held at all, are usually for good and efficient reason.

Those who object to the manner in which the schools are conducted have ample recourse at all times. No Board in the world will deliberately shape its course in opposition to public opinion, but the mistake lies in the fact that public opinion fails to manifest itself over the period when it might do some good but proposes to wreak its wrath in the eleventh hour in one fell swoop—the twenty-four hours immediately preceding an election being the time generally chosen.

What is required is cooperation, not opposition. A good many grievances disappear in the light of a full understanding of the facts involved.
There is never anything to be gained by ignoring the facts, and yet the tendency appears to be steadily in that direction with respect to public affairs.

Let there be plenty of criticism and plenty of commendation as well. The Board needs both and out of the clash of conflicting views will probably come a good average common-sense result which will be as close to the real popular majority view as it is possible to get.

But let's have it right along, not merely at election time.

TWO NEW CITIZENS

A cultured American woman who married a man born in England was subject, although the man had taken out his first naturalization papers and was well on his way to becoming an American at the time of his marriage.
The lady, to regain her American status, has had to undergo naturalization herself, and was naturally very much interested in the process.

She was one of a group, the rest foreigners speaking very little English, when she was examined. The judge put her through quite a competent grilling. She was able to answer all his questions about the government, the Constitution, national and state affairs generally, save one. Who did not know exactly how many members her state was entitled to send to the electoral college. This knowledge the judge supplied, and as she had answered the other questions correctly, he passed her.

The man preceding her in line was a Russian not less than fifty years of age. Asked whether he was an anarchist, he said no. Asked what was an anarchist, he replied, "Man believe in nothing, no God, nothing at all."

Asked what was the American form of government, he did not know. He said he could read, but was not asked to prove it. Asked what his own trade, he could not explain in English, and had to ask his witnesses to explain for him. A few personal questions were asked him, but the clerical examination was limited to those mentioned. The woman, naturally, supposed he had failed, and was amazed to find him proceeding her again in the room where they all went to swear allegiance, to receive the number by which their records are filed, and to be told to come back in ninety days for their final papers.

"Something must be wrong," said the woman. "For me, who could not possibly be a tool of politicians, everything was made difficult. For that man, ignorant of our language and government, everything was made easy."

Breakfast Food
"Matrimonial Speaking"

By Hugh McKay.

My wife buys clothes "for next winter" and starts wearing them the next day.

She tells me that all the stores are having such marvelous sales of coats and dresses right at this time and that she'll be saving simply tons of money if she buys her next winter's wardrobe now.

That sounds reasonable enough — and I tell her to go ahead. She does.
She goes so far ahead that I have to remind her that she's not buying things for the next three winters.

And the comes the shock. First she appears in next winter's coat.
(She says it really is the best economy to begin wearing it now, so as to have her old one as much as possible.)

Then she blossoms out in next winter's suit and hat. (She's just in the afternoon and may be quite the style next year, and so she'd better wear them now — maybe they can be altered later.)

Next, what crimes are committed in my mind.

Tomorrow: "My husband goes in for unfortunate color schemes."

JUDGE OWL'S LETTER

By DADDY

(Jack and Janet search with Judge Owl for birds who have stolen the nests of the summer birds.)

CHAPTER IV.

—Judge Owl is fooled.

"WHOO! WHOO! I'll have sparrows for my supper," hooted Judge Owl. "I'll punish those sneaky chaps for trying to steal the nests of the summer birds."

The English sparrows, still quarreling among themselves, had flown back into the road.

"Oh, will you, indeed?" jeered Posy Sparrow, their leader. "You will punish me first."

"Whoo! Whoo! That I'll do," hooted
Judge Owl, darting after him.

But Judge Owl found it was not an easy job to catch Posy Sparrow, or any of the other Sparrows. He chased them this way and that, but they dodged him and teased him, chattering at him all the time.

"Whoo! Whoo! That I'll do," hooted
Judge Owl, darting after him.

RADIUM AND CANCER.

Approximately 100,000 people die of cancer annually in the United States.
The growth of this deadly disease is years of age and in every 12 months over 10 years of age die of cancer.

When cancer first came into use, and even today, many people are satisfied with the idea that cancer is a fatal disease and that it is not curable.

But a great deal has been learned about cancer in the present time. The limitations of cancer are fairly well known, and it is recognized that only in a limited class of cases should it be used in the treatment of cancer.

It is not a mortality from its use, very slight pain and no scarring when the growth is itself removed. It is not a fatal disease and it is not curable.

Most cancers of the lips, particularly the early ones, which are resulted by small, indolent, round, cracks or fissures, which persist for some weeks and may lead only to break open again, are favorable to radium treatment. At this early stage vigorous and effective treatment can be advised without waiting until the cancer becomes obvious and possibly hopeless.

Radium can be used within the body cavities such as the nose, and can be applied to the gums, the tongue and cheek where surgical procedures are impracticable or difficult. In surgical operations for cancer, radium may be used to destroy the tumor and left for some time when the tumor is not too large.

The complete removal of the growth, or when the nature of the growth is suspicious, though not clearly malignant, is the best and most effective in certain tumors, which are not cancerous, but may be dangerously affecting the patient's health. Among this class are growths of the uterus. When the benefits of radium are fairly well known,
and it is recognized that only in a Solomon found John Irons and five of his sons and three of his daughters digging potatoes and pulling tops in a field near the house. The sky was clear and the sun shining warm. Solomon called Irons aside and told him of the approaching Indians.

"What are we to do?" Irons asked.
"Send the women and the children back to the sugar shanty," said Solomon. "We'll stay here 'cause if we run away the Indians'll get their hands lifted. I reckon we kin conquer 'em."

"How?"

"Shoot 'em full o' meat. They must be starved all night. Them Indians is tired an' hungry. Beat three days on the trail. No time to hunt! I'll hustle some wood together an' start a fire.
You bring a pair o' steers right here hasty. We'll rip their hides off an' git the reek o' vittles in the air soon as God'll allow it."

Mrs. Irons hid in the shed with the loaded guns.

Ruth Irons and the children set out for the sugar bush. The steers were quickly led up and slaughtered. As a hide ripper Solomon was a man of experience. He cut along the natural grooves, on turnips and a big pot of beef, onions and potatoes boiling over the fire when Jack arrived with the bones family.

A little later Solomon left the fire.
Both his eyes and his ear had caught sides—"An' when you see the moose hide in the distant bush and a flock of pigeons flying from the west."

"Don't none o' ye stir till I come back," he said, as he turned into the trail. A few rods away he lay down with his ear to the ground and could distinctly hear the tramp of many feet approaching in the distance. He went on a little farther and presently concealed himself in the bushes close to the trail. He had not long to wait, for soon a red scout came on ahead of the party. He was a young Huron boy, with a bow in his hand and a spear in his belt. His head was encircled by a snake skin. A fox's tail rose above his brow and dropped back on his crown. A birch-bark horn hung over his shoulder.

Solomon stepped out of the bushes after he had passed and said in the Huron tongue: "Welcome, my red brother; I hear that a large band of your folks is comin' and we have got a feast ready."

The young brave had been startled by the sudden appearance of Solomon, but the friendly words had reassured him.

INVESTOR HELD LIABLE TO PAY FOR EXPERIENCE

Instructed Verdict Awards $396 to Receiver for Defunct Co-Operative Concern from Buhl District Farmer

Joseph Abhl, Buhl district farmer, who executed his note for $500 in February, 1920, in payment for shares of stock in the now defunct Idaho Co-operative Beet Sugar company, is liable for payment of the note and interest amounting now to a total of $396.67, according to a instructed verdict returned Wednesday afternoon by a jury in district court here.

Abhl is one of a great number of farmers of this region who paid cash or executed their notes for the stock in this concern, which was organized here about four years ago by one Oswald Wilson and which sold out the business of establishing a co-operative sugar factory in the region. It was announced at one time that a factory in Nevada was to be purchased by the company to be moved to Filer, but later it was learned that the company alleged that none of the promises made to them by its representatives were carried into execution.

Obligations Exceed $40,000
The suit against Abhl, which is said to be a test case, was prosecuted by E. R. Cox as receiver for the defunct corporation. Mr. Cox testified during the trial that the total of unpaid notes given under agreement for purchase of the corporation's stock would exceed $40,000.

Some of the records and property of the concern were destroyed or damaged in a fire which gutted the second floor of the Smith-Rice building, Main avenue north, where the company maintained its offices, and a part of the evidence introduced in the trial of the Abhl case was a charred stock subscription agreement.

Sees Chance for Refund
Mr. Cox and his attorneys, Porter and Witham, fix the liabilities of the defunct concern at a figure that, they say, will permit of a substantial refund to its subscribers. Its stock, provided payment is made for all stock subscriptions. Some of the stockholders, they say, paid in cash the full amount of their subscriptions. In justice to such stockholders, the receiver and his attorneys argue, there should be full liquidation of obligations for stock subscription in order that all subscribers may receive their share of the refund to stockholders, if all subscriptions were paid, would approximate 50 per cent.

Legal Battle Mark Trial
Trial in the Abhl case was marked by close-fought legal battle, the jury being exercised occasionally while attorneys argued points of law. Deferring following one such argument, the defendant, Abhl, represented by Attorney A. W. Ostrom of Buhl, was denied the right to introduce evidence in support of his cross-complaint under which he alleges that the concern is in excess of the amount of his stock subscription; and finally, on questions of law, the court ruled that the jury must return a verdict for the plaintiff receiver. The trial occupied almost two entire days.

Deal in Sheep Taken Up
Following return of the verdict in the Abhl case a jury was impaneled to try the case of Charles E. Jones against James S. Russell, involving Jones' claim for about $5000 in connection with financing purchase of and feeding a band of sheep, and Russell's counter-claim for approximately $7,500 on account of Jones' alleged indebtedness to a Twin Falls bank of which Russell was an official. In the dispute brought to trial in this case, arbitrators were appointed at one time. Findings of the arbitrators awarding about $550 to Jones were set aside at Jones' instance, and the controversy was carried into the courts. The plaintiff Jones is represented by Porter and Witham, while Stephens and North appear as counsel for the defendant Russell.

The jury impaneled in this case is composed of J. P. Johnston, H. B. Johnston, H. P. Barger, J. P. Jewett, Leo Mauley, J. C. Boncamp, W. P. Gamble, George P. White, G. E. Thae, Mort, John Lundahl, C. L. Hart, P. E. Dean.

WATSON GETS JAIL TERM FOR THEFT OF HARNESS

Youth Whose Alleged Confession Involved Fred Greiz, Who Is Fighting for Liberty, Receives Sentence

Earl Watson, who pleaded guilty to larceny of a set harness taken from a local saddle shop, and brought before about February 2, last, was sentenced Wednesday by Judge O. P. Duvall in probate court here to serve a term of 30 days in the county jail. Watson's alleged confession is said to have involved Fred Greiz, who will today be arraigned in probate court on the charge of larceny in connection with the alleged theft of the harness. Immediately thereafter hearing will be held in district court on the application of the prosecuting attorney for revocation of parole to which Greiz was admitted last fall when he pleaded guilty before Judge T. Bailey Lee in district court at Burley to charges of larceny in a chicken house in this county. Greiz was sentenced at that time to serve one to 15 years in the state prison.

Greiz was arrested here by members of the sheriff's force soon after they had taken Watson in custody at Buhl about two weeks ago. Judge W. A. Bulechek in district court last week denied Greiz' application for release from custody of the county jailer under habeas corpus proceedings.
