FORBES CLAIMS HIS INDICTMENT WAS NOT FAIR

Former Director of Veterans' Bureau Insists He Was Victim of "Frameup"; Expects to Name "High Official"

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Severely denouncing witnesses before the Chicago grand jury that indicted him for conspiracy and bribery in connection with his administration of the veterans' bureau, Charles R. Forbes declared in two statements issued from his attorney's office today that he was the victim of a "frameup" and that he was prepared to name a "high individual, unofficially connected with the government," who, he charged, "laid the plot."

After an all-day conference with his attorney, James E. Early-Smith, it was announced that the "groundwork" for Forbes' defense was being laid and a list of witnesses being considered. Friends of Forbes indicated that Mrs. Caroline Vetter, sister of the late President Harding, would be called as a witness, but Forbes' attorney declared he had made no plans to summon her.

Papers Not Served

Papers had not been served on Forbes late today, but it was announced that arrangements had been made for him to appear voluntarily Monday before a United States commissioner here and arrange bond. He would go to Chicago voluntarily if it was stated, and not appear in extradition. "If ever there was a contemptible frame-up," Forbes said to newspapermen in the presence of his attorney, "I am the man who was framed, and I know the exact day the plot was laid and the individual who directed the frame-up—he is a high individual, unofficially connected with the government."

Forbes charged that the "real cracks" were being shielded. He further charged that General Charles E. Sawyer's work in connection with bureau activities "had more to do with preventing proper administration of the laws for the relief of the ex-service men than all other causes combined." He made a scathing attack on the efficiency of the late President Harding, his charges ringing with invective and denunciation.

Forbes was particularly severe in his attacks on Elias H. Mott, named as the agent of Thompson and Black, contractors, and Brigadier-General Charles E. Sawyer. He attacked Mortimer's testimony before the senate investigation committee and asked in one of his statements why he had not been indicted along with himself and J. W. Thompson.

In his second statement, in answer to questions put to him by newspaper men, Forbes referred to the visit to Chicago by Attorney-General Daugherty and questioned whether it was to assist the grand jury in returning indictments or for other reasons.

ROBBERS GET 25 YEARS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 1 (AP)—Twenty-five years imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth was the punishment assessed against five alleged members of the Al Spencer bandit gang, charged with the robbery of mail from an M. K. and T. messenger train near Okemah last August. The jury in federal court returned its verdict early tonight. The trial started Thursday.

Prince, Reported Dead, Returns to Life; May Recover

Matsukata, Whose Death Was Twice Announced, Regains Consciousness; Physicians Work Desperately

TOKIO, March 2 (AP)—Prince Masayoshi Matsukata, whose death was announced yesterday and for whom the entire nation went into mourning, is alive today and has a bare chance for recovery, according to statements made by his physicians this morning.

The prince was pronounced dead at 11:15 o'clock yesterday morning when his heart and respiration stopped. Shortly thereafter, however, he began to show faint signs of life.

By what the physicians pronounce a "miraculous recovery," Matsukata, who is in his ninetieth year, slowly came back to life. The astonished physicians worked over him desperately and in the afternoon he had regained consciousness that he was able to acknowledge by the presence of his hand presence of Viscount Makino, the emperor's messenger.

This morning he took some nourishment and slept for a time. All the Tokyo newspapers but two carried stories of the prince's death together with lengthy obituaries.

MORE SOLDIERS PUT ON GUARD AT CONSULATE

Washington Government Forced to Take Action in Honduras Affair; American Negro Dead; Bandits at Work

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—With a force of American marines and blue jackets guarding the consulate at Tegucigalpa, the American destroyer speeding from Jamaica to the Honduras port of Puerto Cortes, the Washington government has been forced to take action in connection with the revolutionary outbreaks in the Honduras republic which have already cost the life of one American citizen.

An American negro, whose name has not been reported as yet, was killed in the recently fighting at Celma during which the consulate was repeatedly struck by bullets.

Rear Admiral Dayton, commanding the special service squadron in Central American waters and whose flag ship, the cruiser Dealey, is now at Celma, has found it necessary to double the marine guard of 35 men first sent ashore to protect the consulate. An additional force of 55 blue-jackets has joined the marines of the guard and Admiral Dayton reported today that the situation at Celma was so menacing to American interests that he did not consider it wise to withdraw his ship from that place at present.

While the revolutionary movement which followed the failure to elect a new president by constitutional means has been a double-headed affair, from the first apparently there are separate leaders also in progress and handling the situation in some places.

Recent reports from Celma indicate that fighting there which caused the building of American marines and soldiers in some places. The de facto government headed by President Gutierrez and an unauthorized band led by a leader named Muniz. Whether the latter is a party or operating without any connection with revolutionary movements has not been disclosed.

TUD KENT WINS McCALL DERBY

Boise Entry Takes First, Gaston Driving for Nampa, Is Third in Dog Race Event

McCALL, Idaho, March 1 (AP)—Tud Kent, owner of Boise's entry, captured first place in the 15-mile McCall dog derby, the closing event in the two-day carnival here today. Smokey Gaston, last year's United States champion, driving for Nampa, finished second. Sam Trude, driving for Ashton, came in third.

The dog derby proved a feature of the entire carnival. Gaston, Kent and Trude, veterans of the snow trail, raced neck and neck for first place in the race against time. Trude, taking the lead at the start, was passed by both Kent and Gaston, despite the fact that the latter got off the trail in the first lap. Kent forged ahead in the first round and held his lead to the finish. Gaston tried again for second place, while Trude, veteran trainer of Ashton dog entries, made a good showing but failed to marshal his dogs as well as his two townsmen, and finished third.

Warren Brown, driving for McCall, finished fourth, and John Nicholson, with the Cascade county entry, failed to finish when his dogs ran amok. Kent proved himself capable of handling a team and his dogs jumped at his every command. Gaston had considerable trouble with his team, as did Trude. The other entries failed to furnish competition, but Brown, McCall high school boy, managed to stay in the race.

Kent's time for the 15 miles was 74 minutes, 20 seconds, with Gaston in close second.

MOTORIST MAKES COMPLAINT.

Complaint was made Saturday afternoon to police headquarters by A. E. Wall that the Blue Line motor stage, turning to the left from Shoshone street onto Main avenue, had cut the corner and bumped into his car that had been brought to a halt on Main avenue to permit the stage to pass.

Bids Asked on Wells-Rogerson Cutoff; Property Matters Ironed Out; Believe Work to Begin Soon

With announcement by W. R. Armstrong, chief engineer of the Oregon Short Line, that bids had been asked on the work of grading for the Wells-Rogerson line, together with the statement of the local committee to the effect that all difficulties in the matter of right of way through the Nevada properties of the Utah Construction company had been satisfactorily ironed out, events with respect to railroad development moved rapidly on Saturday.

According to the letter received by J. S. Keel from W. R. Armstrong, specifications for the grading have been handed to 14 construction companies. Bids will probably be filed within the next ten days and the matter of awarding the contract for the work should follow almost at once. It is anticipated that grading will commence as soon as the necessary outfit can be gathered together by the successful contractor.

Expect Early Action

The delay occasioned through the inability of the local committee to reach a satisfactory understanding with the Utah Construction company is believed to have been the real obstacle in the way of a commencement of work. With this matter disposed of there appears to be little reason to look for any further delay.

Practically all necessary right of way between Rogerson and the Nevada line was cleared some time ago. A committee at Wells is engaged in the work of securing the terminal facilities and such other land as is necessary, and the balance of that territory traversed by the line in Nevada outside the properties of the Utah Construction company is such as to offer little obstacle in the way of early acquisition.

Members of the committee on Saturday expressed themselves as highly gratified at the turn of events of the past 24 hours and offer it as their opinion that

ORDER INQUIRY IN ACTIVITIES OF DAUGHTERY

Senator Brookhart Heads Special Senate Committee to Begin Monday on Justice Chief's Administration

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Headed by a republican insurgent of the LaFollette group, Senator Brookhart of Iowa, a special senate committee will begin an investigation Monday of Attorney General Daugherty and his administration of the department of justice.

The inquiry, expected to rival the oil investigation in its ramifications, was ordered late today by the senate in adopting the resolution of Senator Wheeler, senator, Montana. The vote was 61 to 1, Senator Eklund, republican, West Virginia, standing alone in opposition.

The choice of Senator Brookhart for chairman came in a spectacular climax to two days of bitter debate. He was nominated by Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, leader of the republican insurgents, after having been selected originally by Senator Wheeler.

The regular republican organization abandoned its effort to retain control of the committee and contented itself with nominating Senator Moore, New Hampshire, and Jones, Washington, while Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, nominated Senator Wheeler and Ashurst, Arizona, as committee members.

No other nominations were forthcoming after a long and dramatic pause and the senate, as agreed upon by Senator Wheeler after conferences with Senators LaFollette and Robinson, went through without a roll call. Privately, republican leaders said they regarded it as useless to oppose the insurgent democratic coalition.

Counsel Filer Request

After adoption of the Wheeler resolution, attorneys for the attorney general, Paul Henshaw of Cleveland, and for Senator George F. Chamberlain of Oregon, sent formal letters to each member of the special committee requesting the privilege of being present at all hearings, of examining all witnesses, of presenting independent evidence, of having processes issued for witnesses, and of presenting oral and written arguments. They gave assurances of the assistance of every agency and facility of the department of justice.

Chairman Brookhart said the com-

HEAVY TOLL OF LIFE IS TAKEN IN BLAST IN POWDER FACTORY

Forty Persons Dead, Hundred or More Reported Seriously Injured from Explosion in TNT Plant; Small Town Is Obliterated; Heavy Damage Done at Distance of 60 Miles

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 1 (AP)—Forty persons dead, and a hundred or more injured was estimated tonight as the toll of an explosion in the TNT plant of the Nixon Nitration works. Flames showered through 40 buildings of an adjoining celluloid works and demolished the little industrial town of Nixon. Accurate check on the number killed was impossible.

As many of the victims, dead and dying, as could be removed from the blazing ruins were taken to a half dozen hospitals and later, equipped emergency morgues. Their bodies were mutilated and burned that only a few were identified.

Soldiers Join Search.

By nightfall 12 bodies were reported recovered and seven had been identified tentatively. Spurred by reports of survivors that a score still lay buried beneath the burning debris, soldiers joined the state police and civilian volunteers in hauling out lights and beginning an all-night attack upon the twisted masses of wreckage.

The explosion occurred at 11:30 a. m., in the ordnance salvaging plant. The nitration works had been leased to the Ammonite company for the treatment of new TNT to be used as agricultural fertilizer.

Shock Felt 60 Miles Away

The building, two stories high, 300 feet long and of hollow tile construction, was literally blown from the earth along with the men believed to have been within it. The shock was felt for 60 miles, shattering windows, lifting roofs and toppling chimneys in many cities. On Selden Island buildings rocked as if in an earthquake.

The single destructive blast crushed 40 buildings of the Nixon company's celluloid novelties manufacturing works which surrounded the TNT plant and razed as if by shell fire the encircling dwellings of 200 employees whose little settlement was known as the town of Nixon.

Showers of Fire.

Through shattered roofs and crumbled walls—upon piles of flimsy celluloid sheets in every one of the Nixon buildings—showered embers, blazing TNT and boiling acid broadcast by the explosion. The blue flames of the highly inflammable celluloid with which all the structures were filled, burst forth on the heels of the blast, like a huge blow torch, cutting down everyone and everything within a radius of several hundred feet.

Capper Confident Coolidge Intends to Demand Justice

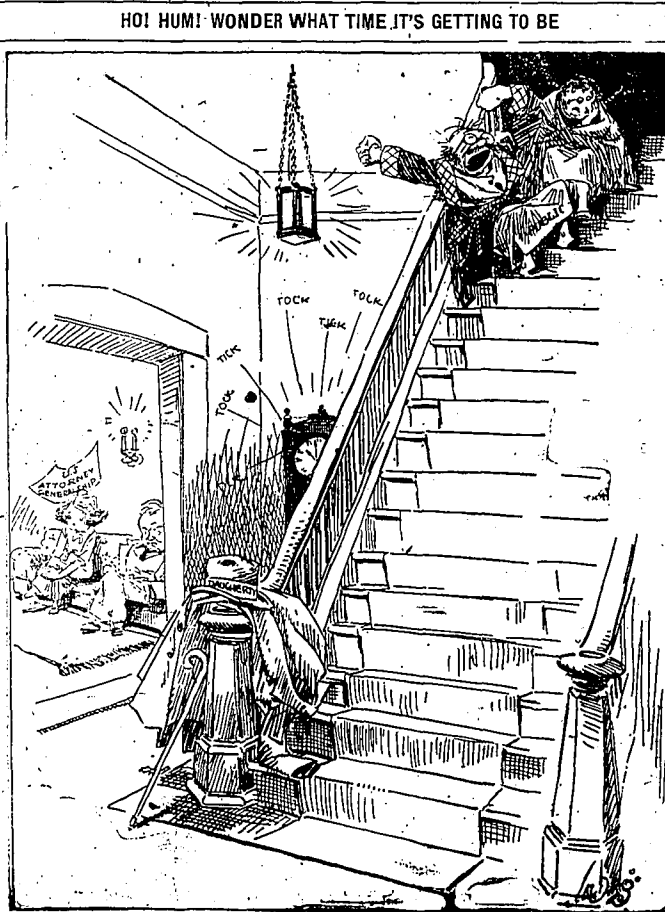

Senator's Speech Erases Partisan Lines from Oil Trouble; Has Contempt for Personalities Issues

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Senator Capper of Kansas expressed to the National Republican club in an address today his confidence that President Coolidge would punish all persons found guilty in the oil lease investigation. There could be only contempt, he said, for those who would make a personal issue out of a national shame.

"The country has no patience with attempts to make personal capital out of this oil lease affair," Senator Capper asserted. "The dirty dollar that would defile the honor of government knows no politics. It knows no distinction of creed or party."

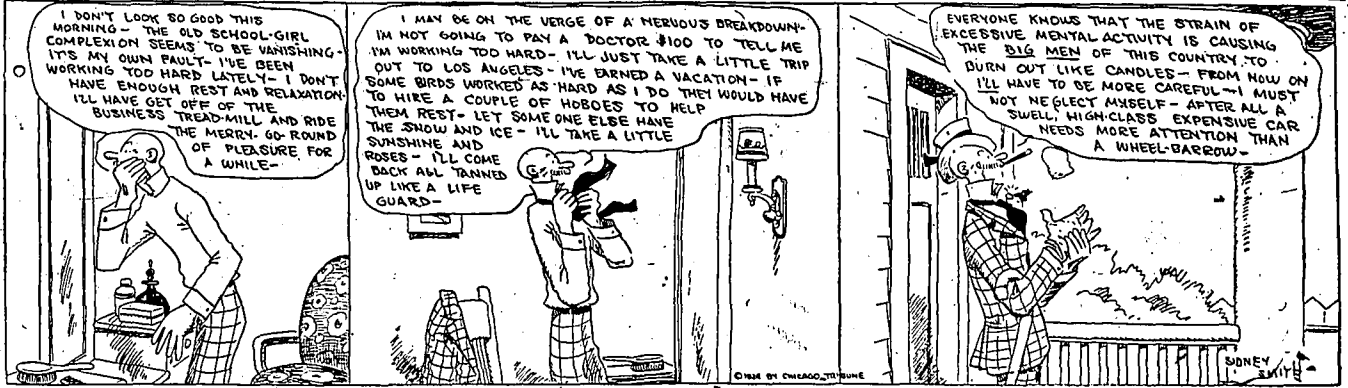

"Authority at this hour has no party to please. It has no party to condemn. It has only a duty to perform. The country looks for that performance under the leadership of Calvin Coolidge in full confidence that every strain upon the nation's honor shall be purged and that the ends of justice shall be unsparringly served."

Senator Capper reiterated his plea for greater consideration of farmers' needs.

Trail of Lengthy Inquiry Leads to Department of Justice; Suspect McLean May Have Needed Information

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The long, long trail of the oil inquiry led today into the department of justice. A cipher message signed "Mary," and found among the celebrated McLean telegrams carried it there and the oil committee immediately made plans to follow it wherever it may go.

From William J. Burns, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, Mrs. Mary Duckstein, a special agent of the department, and others, the oil investigators will seek to learn.

The truth about reports that Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, and a central figure in the inquiry, is himself a department of justice agent, and in possession of the department's code.

Trace Message.

Whether Burns directed Mrs. Duckstein to send a message to her husband, who is one of the McLean employees, saying that the "McLean investigation is under way by special agents of the department of justice," is important.

How Duckstein and other representatives of the publisher came into possession of a copy of the code.

Whether all of the code messages found in the McLean file of telegrams are, like the "Mary" message, in cipher code used by the bureau of investigation.

Paraphrase Contents.

The "Mary" message was sent from Washington February 2, to W. O. Duckstein, described to the committee as one of McLean's confidential men, at Palm Beach, Fla.

A paraphrase of it, furnished to the oil committee, said:

"Sent for by Burns, who told me to say McLean investigation is under way by special agents of justice department. He believes information is important."

The message was sent by Postal Telegraph and at the bottom appeared this notation:

"Chgo Post, A. M. D. for W. O. Duckstein."

Arthur D. Marks is business manager of the Post.

The paraphrase furnished to the committee bore the signature, "Mary."

(Quigley, chief telephone operator of Washington Post).

Post Name.

Asked today how her name became confused with that of Miss Quigley, whose name appeared in one of the McLean telegrams, Mrs. Duckstein said, "Oh, very few people know that my 'post' name is Mary." Her name is Mrs. Jessie Duckstein.

Mrs. Duckstein was then at the oil committee hearing room in response to a subpoena and she declined to discuss the reference to the "McLean investigation" in her telegram.

Burns Talks.

Expressing his willingness to tell the committee all he knows, Burns said he understood the code employed in the "Mary" message was used at one time by agents of the justice department.

"The department of justice," he said, "never had anything to do with the oil scandal or Teapot Dome. I never gave any tips to McLean. The only telegram to McLean that I know about was all right. It contained no tips of any kind."

Watch your radiator solution carefully

USE an anti-freezing solution in your radiator throughout the winter season, particularly if your garage is not heated or if your car is likely to stand idle out-of-doors for any length of time. Watch this solution carefully, as evaporation weakens its resistance to freezing. The hydrometer is the surest mechanical means of testing it, and this should be used frequently during any period of severe cold weather.

A plain solution of denatured alcohol and water will prove entirely efficient, inexpensive and harmless to the car. The following table indicates the proportions to be used for protection at the temperatures listed and shows the corresponding hydrometer reading for each solution:

Temperature	Alcohol	Water	Hydrometer Reading
20° above zero	20%	80%	13.1
10° above zero	30%	70%	14.6
Zero	40%	60%	16.3
10° below zero	45%	55%	17.4
20° below zero	50%	50%	18.4

If you are not certain as to the water capacity of your cooling system, refer to your instruction book or consult the nearest dealer handling your make of car.

Why balanced gasoline is the ideal motor fuel

Old style gasoline, an extremely light and volatile product, was absolutely necessary in the early, experimental stages of the automobile engine's development—not only to start the motor but to keep it running. In those days, gasoline was judged by only one test—its gravity.

How different now! The modern motor, a marvel of engineering skill and efficiency, has revolutionized the requirements for gasoline. "Gravity" indicates nothing, so far as the value of gasoline for fuel is concerned. Today, only a comparatively small proportion of volatile, low boiling point fractions are needed to insure prompt ignition. The remainder should consist of an orderly series of intermediate and higher boiling point fractions—so proportioned as to afford complete vaporization and continuous combustion. These are the real source of full, sustained power and greater mileage.

Such a fuel is properly called balanced gasoline. A safe, easy-to-remember name for it is CONOCO.

TEACHERS WIN FROM LAWYERS

Faculty Members Gain Revenge in Two to One Victory Over Barristers

The teachers' retaliation for their former treatment at the hands of the law by lawyers by defeating the attorneys in two games out of three Saturday evening.

Four-man teams were used by both teams. This deprived the lawyers of the use of their "professional," Bailey, who was not present to help his fellow barristers. The teachers took the first two games easily and in the last Witham scored a 212 score for the lawyers and Benoit scored another high count for 198 which gave the law the better of the argument and that game was marked down to the credit of the bar.

After an argument as to which had the better team, the lawyers having highest total pins and the teachers the most games, a fourth game was played to decide the tie-and the teachers won. Their retaliation is complete.

Porter, a regular league bowler, was the high man with a 482 count while Witham's lucky count in the last game places him second high with Taylor taking the high mark for the teachers with 470.

South central Idaho intercollegiate district commercial contest will be held this year at Gooding April 25, according to decision reached at a dinner meeting of the district commercial teachers' association held Saturday at Tom's cafe. The contest will be conducted under new rules to be formulated by a committee appointed at this meeting and composed of Mrs. Jean Lucas, Twin Falls; Miss Shemwell, Shoshone; and Miss Clara Beck, Gooding. Miss Carolyn Overstreet, Blackfoot, president of the state commercial teachers' association, will superintend the contest.

A round table discussion during the business session following the dinner here Saturday was conducted by D. A. Hiles of Gooding. A vocal number was given by Miss McDuffy of Shoshone.

Extensive Improvements Being Installed in Men's Clothing Department for Efficiency

Extensive improvements are being installed in the men's clothing department of the Idaho Department store, including construction of a balcony along the west wall which is to be used for display especially of boys' clothing and luggage. Under this balcony, which is nearing completion, there have been installed a number of lockers, each having lock for storage and display of clothing, and cases for containing hats and caps. It is planned to install in the center of the floor a number of glass cases in which furnishings will be displayed.

The lighting system is being rearranged and a number of new mirrors are being installed.

UNIVERSITY DEBATERS GIVE RADIO ADDRESSES

OAKLAND, Cal., March 1 (AP)—Debaters of the Universities of Oregon and California, last night addressed an inviolable audience in at least four states in what was said to be the first interstate debate ever conducted by radio.

The question was: "Resolved that the high power plan should be adopted." The opposing teams listened to each other's arguments by radio and prepared and delivered their rebuttals in an ordinary debate.

Decision as to the winning team is to be made by radio mail vote by those who "listened in" to the debate.

AMERICANIZATION EFFORT RELATED

Thirty-Six Persons of Five Nationalities Attend Night Classes, Report Says

Five nationalities were represented by pupils who attended evening classes for adult foreigners conducted during the past 10 weeks by the educational instruction committee of the Twin Falls joint committee on Americanization, according to report made to the joint committee at an annual meeting in the high school building Saturday afternoon by Miss Elizabeth Shotwell, chairman of the educational instruction committee. The total number of pupils enrolled was 36 of whom 17 were Mexican, 13 Spanish, four Norwegian and one each Chinese and Portuguese. Twenty-five pupils attended two or more of the 40 sessions held.

The annual meeting Saturday was attended by representatives of a number of the women's organizations participating in the work of the joint committee. Because of illness of Mrs. E. M. Wolfe, president of the joint committee, election of officers for the coming year was postponed to a meeting next month, and Mrs. H. W. Clouche, vice president, presided.

Offers Recommendations. Among recommendations for next year's work, Miss Shotwell included in her report, three groups of pupils for purposes of instruction, frequent gatherings on Friday night of social and conversational type and organization of an "All Nations" club, with active membership composed of foreigners and associate membership of representatives of each organization co-operating with the joint committee.

Indicating the value of Americanization work, Miss Shotwell said, "Twin Falls should not be satisfied until every resident foreigner within our borders is able to read and write and understand something of our history and government. Can we be said to do our full duty until we have made provision for helping these people in our midst? If their presence here be an incorrect policy, then proper steps should be taken to bring about a change, but until that time we should make sacrifice if need be, to help them. See Mutual Profit.

"Nor will the gain be all on their part. They make splendid contributions in the way of ideas when we have considered them in the way of bridging the English difficulty. Let anyone who doubts this prepare and teach a lesson on the constitution. That same constitution takes on a new meaning and significance for the teacher. Their attitude is sincere. They desire to learn. The opportunity is ours. May Twin Falls always deserve and keep, by fair treatment, sympathetic attitude and good example, the confidence which the foreign pupils of this year's night schools have so markedly shown."

Acknowledgment was made in the report of assistance given by the following teachers of Twin Falls schools: Miss Ethel Knapp, Miss Ruth Beauchamp, Miss Gladys Coiner, Miss Margaret Pomeroy, Miss Lillian Swan, Miss Helen Ruth Goodwin, Miss Clara Billiar, Mrs. Ethel Gray and Miss Catherine Shotwell.

GOODING COLLEGE WINS DEBATE CHAMPIONSHIP

POCATELLO, March 1 (AP)—Gooding college of Gooding, won the debate championship of the southern Idaho at the conference contests held Friday evening. Both the affirmative and negative teams of Gooding college won, while the college of Idaho, at Caldwell, Albion Normal at Albion, and Idaho Technical Institute at Pocatello, each won one of two contests. Hicks Academy at Rexburg failed to win either in the affirmative or negative debate. The question of the debate was "Should the United States enter a world court?"

March Comes in Here with Lamb-like Mien

Advent of March on Saturday, was entirely lamblike with mercury turning to higher levels and absence of biting wind that had marked the last days of February. Records of the government weather observer's station showed high temperature Saturday at 58 above, an advance of seven degrees over the maximum of the preceding day, and low at 29, an advance of five degrees.

MALE STARS SCARCER

SAYS MARY PICKFORD. The nearest commodity in the motion picture industry, according to Mary Pickford, is a suitable type for leading roles at the time her present picture, "Hush," a United Artists release, due as the feature attraction at the Idaho theatre Monday, was in the making, one of the most difficult presented, it presented itself as that of finding a leading man.

"Male leads are the rarest things in the motion picture world today," said Mary Pickford. "A leading man must have so much. He must be rugged, virile, yet handsome; he must be talented, yet not too forwardly. The ideal type is the man who is not too handsome—that is, the 'pretty boy' kind—for when he is, neither woman nor man can be convinced he is a fighter. Then, too, leading men suitable for one picture will not fit another. Now, Douglas and Douglas would not have been the type for my leading man in this picture. On the other hand, Ramon Novarro wouldn't have been exactly suitable, but a team between Douglas and Novarro was just the sort we wanted, and after a very, zealous search we finally found him in George Walsh."

Walsh is one of the most popular and best known personalities on the screen. His career as an actor dates from the time of "Intolerance" in which he did his first picture under the direction of D. W. Griffith.

TRIBUTE TO FIREMEN

A glowing tribute to local firemen is the Vitaphone special production, "The Midnight Alarm," which will be exhibited at the Orpheum theatre tomorrow. One of the most spectacular fire scenes ever screened is contained in this special. How the firemen combat the flames and their intense heroism in rescuing citizens are depicted in this film. One of the best casts ever assembled.

Wright's A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

QUALITY AND STYLE

Every season we are making more friends for Wooltex garments. Particularly this season are they very popular, for this is a tailored year. They give that well-dressed look.

A CHOKER TO COMPLETE

There is no reason why one should not have a choker to complete their suit outfit, for they are quite inexpensive. Some now squirrel, fox and opossum ones at very reasonable prices.

CORO PEARLS

Let us suggest for your daughter's birthday Coro Oriental pearls. They are guaranteed not to peel, change color, nor break. Ask about them.

And of course we must mention the tulle. No card party is complete without something different in tulle. In our assortment you will find some new ideas for Mah Jongg parties. New gift suggestions for either 'brides or Mah Jongg.

Some new velvet checks are being shown in the piece goods department. They make those attractive tailored dresses, or even better are they good for skirts. These are exquisite in quality.

Time to replenish your tumbler stock. Our downstairs glassware and crockery department is replete with just every kind of tumbler, glass and goblet.

SILK GLOVES BY VAN RAALTE

One need not look at the complete showing of silk gloves by Van Raalte to know what is the newest and best looking to be found. Very reasonable.

NELLIE DON DRESSES

You no doubt have seen them in the window. House or street dresses of tissue gingham, linen, etc., that are entirely different. These are tailored and show such style, workmanship and quality that our customers buy two and three at a time.

A Few Ideas in General

Just a few thoughts about some of our Spring merchandise. We cater to the masses with quality merchandise at popular prices. It is understood that you may expect entire satisfaction without us telling you of the fact continually.

Nothing new under the sun, said someone. Well, he had not seen the new hula car rings. A new lot of them just came in. Off with the old and on with the new. You will like the new ones.

Sometime next week we shall have for your approval some of the new vests that are being worn with the new pin-striped suits. Satin and pique vests, so tailored, smart and chic.

How about shoes? Well, this much we must say, that even the large centers of the East do not show anything newer, and they get bigger prices. One finds Selby shoes in all first-class shoe shops.

Talking about shoes, we think it time to say something about Arch Preservers. Every day is building for us a clientele of Arch Preserver customers, hundreds at Twin Falls will wear no other kind.

And then for children the famous Billiken shoes. Shoes that the children outgrow. We wish we could take space to tell you of all the good things we hear and know about Billikens.

Last week we had a sale on Van Raalte Fabric gloves. To get such a ridiculous price we bought 20 dozen. Ten dozen of them have been sold. We suggest that you come in this week and select yours. We assure you the value is out of the ordinary.

Our downstairs drapery department is the source of many compliments to us. Every day we hear that nowhere in town is there such a complete stock, and nowhere is there such an attractive department in which to shop them.

When you invite the bridge club over, why not have them rave about the cards they play with, in addition to the cats, the decorations and each others' clothes? Some very new attractive playing cards just in.

And of course we must mention the tulle. No card party is complete without something different in tulle. In our assortment you will find some new ideas for Mah Jongg parties. New gift suggestions for either 'brides or Mah Jongg.

GOOD NEWS

Probably there never has been any real room for doubt as to the intention of the Union Pacific System to live up to the promise of its president, Mr.
Gray, to build the Wells-Torgerson line.
For a while this Spring and late last Fall it looked as though somewhere, somewhere, time was being wasted, yet it is difficult at this time to see where there is any legitimate ground for complaint anywhere concerned.
For the past two months the delay has been due to the inability of the local Committee to reach a satisfactory basis of agreement with the Utah Construction Company for the land necessary for the right of way. With this obstacle happily removed, perhaps the biggest single step of the past twelvemonth period has been successfully negotiated.

There is abundant ground for gratification in the news which reached Twin Falls Saturday. Barring contingencies at this time unforeseen, another thirty days or less will see the beginning of work. Once that time arrives Twin Falls will have definitely turned the corner and the trail ahead will be plain and the going easy.

INHERITANCE TAXES

It looks as if Congress, while reducing income taxes in the new revenue bill, will raise inheritance taxes. This is not necessarily inconsistent. There are less valid objections to high inheritance taxes than there are to high income taxes.

The latter, taken out of current income, are evaded by large capitalists by passing them on to the consumer or by putting their capital into tax-exempt securities. They have a depressing effect on current business conditions. They put a damper on business enterprise. Economists and financiers therefore have almost unanimously urged the lowering of the present war rates on incomes.

Progressive inheritance taxes, with a pretty high maximum rate, are free from most of these objections. They let the money-maker have the fun of playing for big stakes and piling up millions, and do not cut into them excessively until the owner has passed from the stage. That is easier on the builder of the fortune, and easier, too, on the heirs, however the latter may resent it. They are losing only money they have not earned themselves, and the bigger the slice taken by the government, the more sure they are, to have plenty left for their legitimate needs.

This method has the additional merit of breaking up immense fortunes, thereby preventing the virtual

Dreamland Adventures

THE ONE GOOD SPARROW

By DADDY

Six Boxes of Birds.
Jack and Janet had caught every one of Pesky Sparrow's flock of English Sparrows.

They had done it with six box traps set up on the barn floor. The boxes had been propped up with sticks and when the greedy Sparrows had gobbled
the grain placed there as bait, the children had jerked the sticks out, thus trapping the Sparrows.

"Wheel! Wheel! That is a good job," hooted Judge Owl, blinking his big eyes at Jack and Janet. "With six boxes more Sparrows than wings can."

Judge Owl knew this to be true, because he had tried to catch the Sparrows by flying after them and had failed. But Jack, by using his wits, had caught them all without trouble.
"Cheer! Cheer! Let us out of these dark boxes!" chattered the Sparrows angrily.

"Hil! Hil! You should have thought about getting out before you got into these boxes," laughed Jack. He was very proud over the clever way in which he had trapped the thieving Sparrows.

Janet looked at the boxes with doubtful eyes.
"Now that we have caught the Sparrows, what are we going to do with them?" she asked.

Jack, too, began to feel a bit doubting about the wisdom of passing them on, with all the power they represent, to heirs who may not use them so wisely as did the creators. It is manifestly bad public policy that such a fortune as that of Rockefeller or Ford should pass on intact, to be increased generation after generation, resulting in a genuine plutocracy.

In enacting such tax legislation, Congress is trying to get around the chief difficulty met heretofore—the avoidance of inheritance taxes by giving away an estate to the heirs before the owner's death. The present remedy is to impose a tax on "gifts," with reasonable restrictions. Something of the kind is obviously needed, as part of a workable inheritance tax policy.
It is only fair, too, in levying the federal inheritance tax, to allow credit for the payment of similar taxes to the state.

ful. But Judge Owl had an answer right on the tip of his tongue.
"Wheel! Wheel! The thing to do is to cut 'em up!" he hooted.

Jack and Janet shook their heads as they looked at the traps and then at each other. They did not like the idea of eating Sparrows.

"I don't think I want any Sparrows
today," said Janet.

"Nor I," added Jack.

"Then I'll eat them all," hooted
Judge Owl. "I'll think of the way I chased those rascally Sparrows without catching them, and I'll enjoy every mouthful."

"But you'll be so stuffed you will not be able to work on your job of catching mice and rats," said Jack.

"We had better get rid of the Sparrows in some other way," said Janet.

Judge Owl blinked solemnly. "I like mice and rats better than I do Sparrows," he admitted. "Perhaps I had better save my appetite for them. But if we don't eat the Sparrows, there is nothing else to do with them."

"That seemed a fuss. Then Jack got an idea. "Let us sell them," said he.
"Let us make a big cage and put it on a sled and take them out and sell them to folks who want to buy birds."

(How they set out to sell the Sparrows will be told in the next chapter.)

"The minister was his master until we went into the bush. Then I had to be farmer and school-teacher. There is a great trial for learning in this New World."

"How do you find time for it?"

"Oh, we have leisure here—more than you have. In England even your wealthy young men are overworked.
They dine out and play cards until three in the morning and sleep until midday. Then luncheon and the cock-fight and tea and parliament! The head of us have only three steady habits. We work and study and sleep."

"And fight savages," said the women.

"We do that, sometimes, but it is not often necessary. If it were not for white savages, there would be no red ones. You would find America a good country to live in."

"At least I hope it will be good to sleep in this night," the woman answered, yawning. "Dreamland is now the only country I care for."

The ladies and children, being near spent by the day's travel and excitement, turned in soon after supper.
The men slept on their blankets by the fire, and were up before daylight for a dip in the creek near by. While they were getting breakfast, the women and children had their turn at the creek-side.

That day the released captives were in better spirits. Soon after noon the company came to a swollen river, where the horses had some swimming to do. The older animals and the following colts went through all right, but the young stallion which Jack and Margaret were riding began to rear, and plunge. The girl in her fright jumped off his back in swift water and was swept into the rapids and tumbled about and put in some danger before Jack could dismount and bring her ashore.

"You have increased my debt to you," she said; when at last they were mounted again. "What a story this is!
It is terribly exciting."

They rode on in silence, feeling now the beauty of the green woods. It had become a magic garden full of new and wonderful things. Some power had entered them and opened their eyes.
The thrush's song grew fainter in the distance. The boy was first to speak.

"I think that bird must have had a long flight sometime," he said.

"I am sure that he has heard the music of Paradise. I wonder if you are as happy as I am."

"I was never so happy," she answered.

"What a beautiful country we are in! I have forgotten all about the danger and the hardship and the evil
men. Have you ever seen any place like it?"

"No. For a time we have been riding in fairyland."

"I know why," said the boy.
"Why?"

"It is because we are riding together.
It is because I see you."

"Oh, dear! I cannot see you. Let us get off and walk," she proposed.
They dismounted.

"Did you mean that honestly?"
"Honestly," he answered.

She looked up at him and put her hand over her mouth.

"I was going to say something. It would have been most unmanly," she remarked.

"There's something in me that will not stay unsaid. I love you," he declared.

She held up her hand with a serious look in her eyes. Then, for a moment, the boy returned to the world of reality.

"I am sorry. Forgive me. I ought not to have said it," he stammered.

"But didn't you really mean it?" she asked with troubled eyes.

"I mean that and more, but I ought not to have said it now. It isn't fair.
You have just escaped from a great danger and have got a notion that you are in debt to me and you don't know much about me anyhow."

She stood in his path looking up at him.

"Jack," she whispered. "Please say it again."

No, it was not gone. They were still in the magic garden.

"I love you and I wish this journey could go on forever," he said.
She stepped closer and he put his arm around her and kissed her lips.
She ran away a few steps. Then, instead, they were back on the familiar trail in the thirty-mile bush. A mouse bird was screaming at them. She turned and said:

"I wanted you to know, but I have said nothing. I couldn't. I am under a sacred promise. You are a gentleman and you will not kiss me or speak of love again until you have talked with my father. It is the custom of our country. But I want you to know that I am very happy."

"I don't know how I dared to say and do what I did, but I couldn't help it."

"I couldn't help it either. I just longed to know if you dared."

"The rest will be in the future—perhaps far in the future."

His voice trembled a little.
"Not far if you come to me, but I can't wait—I will wait." She took his hand as they were walking beside each other and whispered: "For you."

"I, too, will wait," he answered, "and as long as I have to."

Mrs. Hare, walking down the trail to meet them, had come near. Their journey out of the wilderness had ended, but for each a new life had begun.

through group insurance. But the most important public service rendered by the Equitable is to assure protection for the family and home under policies providing in various ways for the payment of the insurance money in the form of a monthly income for life. Thus the beneficiaries are protected against waste or loss. In this way the Equitable provides insurance that insures—protection that gives permanent protection. The Equitable's public service is further indicated by the distribution of its funds throughout the United States in conservative investments, including dwelling and farm loans.

STATE ASSUMES MAINTENANCE ON ROAD TO SOUTH

Highway District Is Relieved of Further Work on Road Between Godwin and Rogerson; Crossings Cause Gap

An agreement under which the state highway department, in the immediate future, will assume responsibility for maintenance of a gravel highway extending from Godwin to Rogerson, a distance of about 20 miles, was worked out by A. N. Ashlar, Shoshone, district engineer for the state district, at a regular meeting of the directors here Saturday afternoon. Under this agreement Mr. Ashlar will assign the workmen and equipment to begin improvement work on the road within the next few days.

It is expected that the state department later will assume responsibility for maintenance of a road between Twin Falls and Godwin. The state department, it is said, objects to the present route for road crossings at Small and Godwin, and effort is to be directed toward locating another route between Twin Falls and Godwin that will avoid these crossings.

Quarry Lands Leased.

In addition to taking action on payroll and estimates on contracts for work now in progress, the directors Saturday afternoon approved an agreement with E. H. Buckett for lease to him this year of 10 acres of land on the district's quarry site south of Twin Falls. Under the lease terms the lease will pay $15 an acre for seven acres of alfalfa and $5 an acre for three acres of orchard. The land was leased last year on a basis of crop rental.

Attention of the directors was called by Robert Ray, a member of the board, to a resolution adopted recently by the "Community" club, requesting publication of an itemized statement of expenditures last year for road maintenance which the resolution stated amounted to $30,000. The resolution was addressed to Mr. Ray.

Ray Indicates Reply.

In reply, Mr. Ray told his associates of the board he expected to refer inquiries to monthly and annual reports in respect to these expenditures on file in the office of the highway district and of the county auditor. Reference was made by the directors to this meeting to the last annual report which showed total expenditures for road maintenance in the sum of $81,230.00, the aggregate expenditures for the year for all purposes being shown in the sum of $230,611.73, itemized as follows:

Equipment, $1319.20; general $8603.91; erect charges, $1274.84; road construction, $59,743.00; road maintenance $8120.06; bridge construction, $7199.61; bridge maintenance, $2963.24; automobiles and trucks $1065.58; quarry, $1116.64; state highway, $4850.65; warehouse expense, $290.70; material, $9036.36; interest on bonds $68,921.39; state highway, $16,130.27; truck (rock settlement, $11,810.44; Murtugah settlement, $10,000.

FIND GRENZ GUILTY OF LARCENY OF HARNESSES

Jury in Probate Court Convicts Man Held for Hearing on Prosecutors Motion to Revoke His Parole.

A jury in probate court here Saturday afternoon found Fred Grenz, Twin Falls, guilty of petty larceny in connection with alleged theft of a set of harness taken from Blighman county, Idaho, about February 2, and brought to this county. The charge of which Grenz was found guilty involved him in the theft with Earl Wittson, who had pleaded guilty and received sentence. Grenz testified that he had no knowledge of what Wittson had brought here when they both came here February 2 from Blackfoot in Grenz' car.

Hearing has been set for Monday in district court on prosecuting attorney's application for revocation of the parole to which Grenz was admitted last fall when he pleaded guilty to burglarizing a chicken house and was sentenced to serve one to 15 years in the state prison.

BOTH LITIGANTS' CLAIMS UPHELD

Jury Awards Jones $5130 and Directs That It Be Applied on $8061 Given to Bussell

Claims of both litigants in the case of Charles E. Jones against James A. Bussell were sustained by a jury in district court which returned its verdict Saturday afternoon. The trial began last Wednesday afternoon.

The jury declared in answer to an interrogatory that Jones, who had sued for approximately $4000, was entitled to receive $5130.25, "not taking into account the claim of the defendant; Bussell," and declared that Bussell was entitled to receive the full amount of his counter claim with interest, amounting to $8061.63, from which the credit given Jones should be deducted, leaving a balance due to Bussell in the sum of $2931.38. Costs were assessed against the plaintiff Jones.

The verdict was returned after about three hours' deliberation.

Appeal Indicated.

Probably of an appeal by the plaintiff Jones to the supreme court in an effort to invalidate Bussell's counter claim was indicated Saturday evening in statements of Jones and his attorneys. The counter claim was based on notes delivered by Jones to the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company of which Bussell was at the time an official. Evidence in the trial showed that these notes had been purchased from the bank by Bussell for $755 consideration. Jones contended in a motion during the trial that the purchase of the notes was illegal for the reason that no valid consideration had been given, and asked that the notes be declared void because of the manner in which they had been obtained by the defendant. The motion was denied by the court, after hearing argument by attorneys in the absence of the jury.

The suit was an outgrowth of dispute arising between the litigants in connection with the purchase and feeding of a band of sheep, which were fed on the Jones ranch north of Twin Falls. The dispute was at one time referred to arbitrators who awarded Jones $555. Jones refused to accept the award of the arbitrators and carried the case into court. He was represented in trial of the case by Porter and Williams, the defendant Bussell being represented by Stephan and North.

COMPLAINANT SHOT DOG.

Story published Friday regarding the case of D. Kirby, Kimberly district attorney, who pleaded guilty to battery committed upon Jacob Mason, a neighbor, and paid $10 fine, was incorrect wherein it stated that Kirby had shot Mason's dog. Statements made to officials by both Kirby and Mason agreed that Mason had shot Kirby's dog and that this occurrence led to the battery complained of by Mason.

FARMERS ADOPT WAGE SCHEDULE

Meeting Puts Rate of Pay for Coming Season on Practically Same Basis as Last Year

Approximately 150 Twin Falls district farmers assembled Saturday afternoon in Parish hall here at a meeting for which arrangements had been made by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, adopted a farm wage scale for the coming season providing that until August 1, when haying begins, rate of pay on a monthly basis shall be as follows:

Single men, $50 per month and board.

Men with families, $70 to $75 per month, house, garden and other living accommodations being furnished by the employer.

Men employed on other than monthly pay basis to receive $2 per day and board.

The wage schedule is believed to be about the same as that in effect generally throughout the region last year. Increase Not Measured.

It was anticipated that wages would be increased with the beginning of haying and the harvest season, but no attempt was made to gauge the measure of such advance.

The meeting was opened by R. E. Broadard, county agricultural agent, who turned over the chair when he left to attend a conference in Buhl, to Charles F. Dwight, secretary of the chamber of commerce. Frank Thometz was chosen secretary.

Admission by members of a farm wage scale was suggested by the chamber of commerce in order that it might conduct more efficiently its free employment bureau through which employers are brought in touch with men seeking employment, and jobs are found for men looking for work.

Demand for help on farms recently has exceeded the supply. Secretary Dwight said Saturday evening, although difficulty has been experienced in finding places for a number of men with families.

Let the Kiddies Romp Outdoors In All Weathers

There is Nothing Like Fresh Air Play to Build Sturdy Bodies. If Colds Come Treat Externally.

Children should play outdoors daily in winter as well as in summer. To keep them indoors so much is a mistake. For healthy growth they need and must have lots of outdoor exercise.

Of course, some colds will come as a result of exposure. But constant internal dosing must not be thought of. Vicks answers the need. It is externally applied and can be used frequently without upsetting the digestion.

When rubbed on over throat and chest Vicks acts externally like a liniment or plaster. At the same time the ingredients, absorbed by the body heat, are inhaled directly into the affected parts. Vicks is the ideal treatment for children's cold troubles.

Sweaters Again

But with a difference; a trifling jauntier, a little more desirable, than sweaters have ever been. Some are silk, some are wool, and some wool with designs woven in silk. Closely related to the sleeveless sweaters, and a bit newer, are the sleeveless jackets. Prices range from $2.36 to $11.95.

February the month for "shopping around." And yet last month the sales in our Ready-to-Wear were 56 per cent over last year—and last year we thought was pretty good. And over half of these sales were to women who had shopped the town, and came back to say: "Your prices are so much more reasonable than elsewhere"; and "you people have the prettiest dresses in town." Careful New York buying has enabled this department to set the standard of judgment among women who know quality and style.

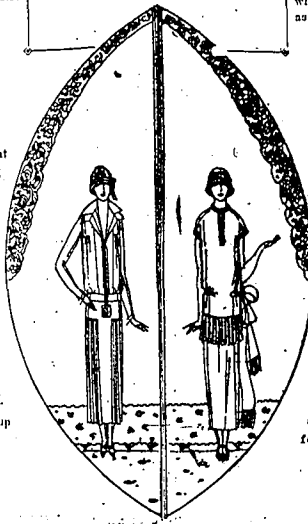

The "Feminine Touch"

It must be very dainty—that feminine touch that offsets the extreme severity of the boyish costume. The exquisite hand-made blouses may supply the need. $3.75 buys a beautiful blouse of bisque d'irish with a touch of real Irish lace and hand hemstitching. Other blouses in white and bisque for as low as $2.50.

Graceful Styles for larger women

Large women who want the new materials and smart style in their dresses—and have been unable to find them—surely will appreciate these dresses. There are styles just as distinctive as the extreme girlish models, and in the same materials. Sizes up to 48 1-2 in silk dresses, in both sport and dressier styles; and sizes up to 54 1-2 in the wool.

Frocks with youthful air

Peggy Paige, Dorothy Devine, and Co-Ed—all are houses famous for cleverly styled dresses for younger women—and all are represented here. Each dress has the touch of individuality that women seek, whether it be a striking mandarin dress or one of the simpler one-piece frocks. Many models in printed silks and the brilliant shades for spring and summer.

The Mannish Tailleur

Smart femininity attires itself in mannish suits this spring—very mannish indeed, both as to fabric and cut. Alpaca, wool crepe, serge, flannel, twill, velours and mixtures are materials used. Sizes run from fourteen years to six thirty-eight in the boyish styles; and up to 52 in strictly tailored navy blue suits. Prices from $28.95 to $67.50
