Senate Finance Committee Indicates Desire to Remove Provision for Cut and Pass Resolution Before March 15

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Machinery was set in motion in congress today to remove from the revenue bill the provision of a 25 per cent reduction of personal income taxes payable this year and incorporate it in a joint resolution which could be adopted before March 15 when first installments are due.

Acting on a request from the treasury department, the senate finance committee unanimously indicated its desire to agree to such a procedure and Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee announced he would place the proposal before that committee tomorrow. If adopted, Mr. Green said, he would call for a special rule which would permit the house to take the resolution up immediately.

Flare-Back Occurs

A flare-back, which leaders late today admitted was growing to considerable proportions, developed, however, and fear was expressed by some members of both parties that removal of the proposal from the revenue bill might leave that measure open to delay in enactment.

In this connection some members also recalled the recent statement of Representative Tilden of Connecticut, republican member of the ways and means committee, who had a staunch advocate of the Mellon rates which were eliminated from the bill, suggesting such action by joint resolution with the hint of a presidential veto of the measure itself.

Bourbons Urge Out

After talking the proposition over with some leaders in the senate, Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, a member of the finance committee, said it was the opinion of democrats that the reduction should be allowed, perhaps as soon as possible, but that it was probable they would contend for a meeting on the basis of the democratic income tax rates rather than on a flat 25 per cent reduction on taxes under the present law.

Should senate democrats carry out this plan the entire income tax fight would be brought to a head, and leaders predicted such a "contest" would prevent action before March 15.

Labor Board Finds Railroad Men Must
Eat Occasionally

Question That Perplexed Best Minds Finally Settled and Suspended Employee Is Restored to Good Standing

CHICAGO, March 6 (AP)—Railroad men, like all human kind, should eat from time to time—and when occasion demands they may, with impunity, stop their trains for the purpose of satisfying an outraged stomach.

So ruled the United States railroad labor board today in disposing of docket No. 1390 and in settling authoritatively the question which has perplexed the best minds of the transportation world since the day of the rickety old Dowitt Clinton.

The decision was in the case of the Order of Railway Conductors vs. the Western Pacific railroad, in which J. B. King, a brakeman, was cited as an undesirable employee because "he stopped a train at Carlin, Nevada, to eat after being on duty 13 hours."

In making the stop, it was shown, the crew had complied with the carriers' rules by wiring their superintendent of their intention beforehand. King was ordered reinstated with full seniority rights and full pay for lost time.

Attorney-General Directed to Make Identities Known; Longworth Informed Evidence Was Given by Criminals

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Immediate disclosure of the names of the two representatives charged in a Chicago grand jury's report with accepting bribes was demanded today by the house.

A resolution directing the attorney general to transmit the names to the house was adopted unanimously after Representative Longworth, the republican leader, had announced the accused men would have an opportunity to defend themselves on the floor. Mr. Longworth said he had been informed the evidence against the two house members had been presented to the Chicago grand jury by "crooks and criminals," and came up incidentally during the investigation of alleged veterans' bureau frauds.

OSBORNE CASE
IS REVERSED

Father of Juvenile Movie Star Acquitted of Battery Charge by District Court Jury

IDAHO FALLS, March 6 (AP)—Leon T. Osborne, father of "Baby Marie," Osborne, juvenile movie picture actress, was acquitted today by a district court jury of the charge of battery against "Baby Marie." A probable cause court convicted him last week and the case was appealed.

Osborne took the stand in his own behalf and related incidents which occurred on the night of February 12, when he was accused of having attacked the girl in a local hotel room where they were staying. He denied treating her brutally.

The jury was out about two hours.

Nothing official has been given out as to what disposition would be made of Marie. Judge Peck stated today that it was extremely unlikely that Osborne would lay claim to further custody of the child, and that in all probability she would be given into the care of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Eulenbeck, Sacramento, Cal.

RUPERT ATTORNEY WILL APPEAR FOR SENTENCE

BOISE, March 6 (AP)—R. B. Dampier, Rupert attorney, convicted on charge of sending obscene letter through the mails, will appear before Judge F. S. Dietrich in United States district court this morning to receive sentence. Counsel for Dampier announced Thursday that argument will be made at 10 o'clock on motion for a new trial for the Rupert attorney. It was understood that in case a new trial is denied, an appeal for Dampier will be made to the circuit court at San Francisco.

EXPLOSION KILLS MINER

PARK CITY, Utah, March 6 (AP)—Bert Chew, metal miner, was instantly killed and Fred Davis was seriously injured as the result of an explosion in the Silver King Consolidated mine here today. A drill being operated by the two men went into a mined hole. Little is known of Chew, as he was a new man. Davis has a wife and three small children.

POLAND ACCEPTS GRAIN TAX PAYMENTS, THEN EXPORTS IT

WARSAW, March 6 (AP)—The government of Poland is preparing to issue special bonds to facilitate the payment of taxes. Pending the passage of the act the government is accepting payment of taxes in kind and farmers have been informed that the capital levy will be accepted in grain.

The grain is turned over to a special government office charged with its exportation. The sum received is turned over to the finance ministry and the taxpayers credited with the amount of their contribution in gold francs.

LONDON, March 6 (AP)—Ismet Pasha has resigned as Turkish premier, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph, but the president of the republic has asked him to form another cabinet.

HIGHER TARIFF
RATES ON GRAIN
TO BE EFFECTED

Increases Will Be Ordered at Once by President's Proclamation; Raise Pertains to Wheat and Products

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Increases in the tariff rate on wheat, flour and wheat products will be ordered tomorrow by President Coolidge, acting under authority conferred upon him by the flexible provision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act.

Proclamations setting forth the new rate on the basis of comparative cost of production of wheat and the other products in Canada and the United States were drawn up today for the president's signature. Necessity of referring the documents to the tariff commission for checking of some of the production figures, however, delayed issuance of the proclamation.

The new rates will become effective 30 days from the date of issuance of the proclamations. The present duties are 30 cents a bushel on wheat, 78 cents a hundred pounds on flour and 15 per cent ad valorem on wheat products or mill feeds.

The president under the flexible provision of the tariff act may proclaim increases amounting to 50 per cent of the existing rates. Such an increase applied to wheat and it is generally believed the full increase will be ordered, would make the tariff on that grain 45 cents a bushel. A similar increase applied to mill feeds would raise the rate to 22 1/2 per cent ad valorem. The increase on flour is expected to be proportional, bringing the rate to $1.12 a hundred.

The action of the president will be the first taken under the flexible provisions since the present law was passed in September, 1922.

WHITE HEADS COMMITTEE WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Appointment of Representative White, republican, Maine, as chairman of the house committee which will investigate the shipping board was announced today by Speaker Gillette.

Says Many a Husband Would Be Held to Court if Swearing Was Taboo; Must 'Cut Loose'

LOS ANGELES, March 6 (AP)—Plain, old-fashioned profanity from the lips of a husband is not ground for a divorce, according to a ruling here of Judge Edwin M. Owen.

"If plain, ordinary swearing constituted grounds for divorce, it is safe to say that half the men would be offenders," said the court. "There are times when a man is perfectly justified in 'cutting loose.'"

HIRAM'S PILOT WORRIED

CHICAGO, March 6 (AP)—"The apparent victory" of the Coolidge forces in the Minnesota county conventions yesterday should serve as a warning to the friends of the president's campaign that the "machine" is running counter to the will of the progressive republicans of the country," Harold L. Leves, Illinois manager for Senator Hiram Johnson, declared today.

"The machine can control the nomination in Minnesota, but the result of the last seven general elections in that state shows it cannot control beyond the nomination," the formal statement said.

Close of General Debate in House Opens Way for Flood of Proposed Amendments

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Close of general debate in the house on Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals late today opened the way for a flood of amendments offered as consideration of the McKenzie bill, which would authorize its acceptance, was begun today by action.

A variety of proposals to make drastic changes in the terms of the proposed contract were submitted, with (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Bacharach Forced to Step Between Treadway and Crowther to Prevent Clash; Vote Is Taken to Frame Measure

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Soldiers' bonus legislation got away to a flying start at the first executive meeting today of the house ways and means committee when it voted 16 to 4 to frame a bill, but a snag was struck when the form of payment was discussed.

Attention was centered on two plans—paid up insurance policies and a two-fold scheme with options of full cash payments or insurance.

After a heated discussion or the proposals, marked by a spirited verbal battle between Representatives Treadway of Massachusetts and Crowther of New York, republicans, further consideration was postponed until tomorrow.

Clash Threatened.

Representative Treadway was one of those voting against any form of a bonus and when Mr. Crowther later charged the committee with dilatory tactics which, he said, were aimed to delay progress of the legislation, Mr. Treadway took issue. One word led to another, and Representative Bacharach, republican, New Jersey, stepped between the two members when they started toward each other. A reconciliation was quickly effected.

The other three who opposed the (Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

Final Decision of Coolidge Expected Friday After Cabinet Meeting; Dietrich's Chances Less Favorable

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Attorney-General Daugherty will return to Washington tomorrow from Florida to find that his tenure of office again hangs by a slender thread.

Unless he can present new and overpowering argument why he should remain in the cabinet, there is every expectation in administration circles that he will be asked without delay to resign to private life.

He probably will reach the capital in time to attend the regular Friday cabinet meeting and a final decision regarding him may be announced by President Coolidge after the whole situation has been talked over again by the executive and his chief advisers.

No Explanation.

Today there was no explanation from any official source regarding the circumstances of the attorney general's unexpected return to Washington. Neither would the White House or the justice department make any predictions regarding his course after he arrives. But it was tacitly conceded that his first duty would be to report to the president and probably learn without delay of a final decision regarding his retention in office.

The administration's sifting of eligibles to succeed to the post of attorney general, a process of which there was further confirmation today in administration quarters, progressed during the day to the point where a selection of a successor could be made quickly.

Three Jurists Considered.

The attitude toward the appointment of the three jurists under consideration—former Senator Kenyon of Iowa, now a federal circuit judge; Chief Justice Wilbur of California, and Federal District Judge Dietrich of Idaho—is now known to President Coolidge.

Friends of Judge Kenyon here reported they believed he would accept. If shown, however, the fact that acceptance would entail his relinquishment of a life position on the federal bench.

Chief Justice Wilbur conferred recently with President Coolidge and is remaining in the east temporarily, visiting friends in North Carolina.

The personal views of Judge Dietrich on the question also have been sent to Washington and they are believed to have decreased the likelihood of his selection.

Governor Grosbeck of Michigan, another mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Daugherty, was a White House caller today in company with Michigan friends and has another appointment (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Two Bulls Sacrificed Amid Gay Festivities While Sheiks Entertain with Feats of Horsemanship

LUXOR, Egypt, March 6 (AP)—The reopening of the tomb of Tutankhamen today for inspection by some 200 visitors, guests of the Egyptian government, was preceded by the picturesque ceremony, following the custom in the days of the Pharaohs, of sacrificing two bulls in the center of the tomb. The first party, made up of ministers and high officials, was present.

Thousands of natives and sheiks in gorgeous costumes crowded the gaily beflagged streets, singing to the accompaniment of Egyptian instruments. After the sacrifice the government party was entertained by feats of horsemanship performed by the sheiks. A large platform has been erected and from this the visitors had an excellent view of the gold-covered figure of the Pharaoh.

The visitors included J. Morton Howell, the American minister; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar S. Straus, Prince Leopold of Prussia, the Duke of Spoleto and the Duke of Aosta.

Neither Howard Carter, the chief excavator, nor any of his staff was present.

The tomb will now be closed until March 10, when it will be reopened for ten days to permit the public to inspect it.

TWO AMERICAN PRELATES WILL BE CARDINALS

Word Comes from Rome of Vatican's Selection of Archbishops Hayes and Mundelein
for High Offices

ROME, March 6 (AP)—Two American prelates will be elevated to the cardinalate at secret consistory to be held March 24. They are Archbishop Hayes of New York, and Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago.

This announcement was made at the Vatican today. Pope Pius in giving two additional red hats to the United States was moved by the generous response of the American people to the appeals of the suffering states of Europe. The pontiff is said also to have desired to honor the people of the United States for their spirit of sectional and loyalty.

Pope Pius has long admired the work of Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein and after due consideration to the claims of other countries for increases in their membership in the sacred college he decided that the United States was most deserving and that Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein were well fitted to be honored.

Adds Strength.

The Vatican expressed the view that the addition of two new American cardinals to the sacred college will add strength to the highest church council, as well as give the United States more even representation both geographically and numerically. It was said today that for a long time the Vatican was on the point of deciding to nominate a cardinal from west of the Alleghenies but that the present move finally fulfilled a proposal which had been held in suspense for months.

Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, has been in conference with Vatican officials for several days. He expressed delight today that the representation of his country would be raised to four.

Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein are expected to reach Rome March 17. They will be received by Pope Pius before entering the consistory.

It is certain that additional red hats will be allotted at the coming consistory, but the Vatican is maintaining the closest secrecy concerning the names.

NEW YORK REJOICES.

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—New York's Roman Catholic population, larger than that of Rome itself, rejoiced today because two native sons, Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes and Archbishop George Mundelein of Chicago, had been nominated to receive the coveted red hat of a cardinal at a consistory in Rome on March 24. Satisfaction also was expressed by the many non-Catholic friends of the prelates who are popular in the metropolis.

The archbishops Monday had engaged passage to depart Saturday for Europe on the liner Irenegaria, on orders from the apostolic delegate at Washington. Archbishop Mundelein was on the way tonight from Chicago.

While high dignitaries of the church in New York said tonight that official word of the nominations had not been received from the Vatican the cable dispatches of the Associated Press from Rome were accepted as authoritative.

Archbishop George W. Mundelein was born in New York city July 2, 1872, of poor German parents. After attending the parochial schools and the academy of the Christian Brothers from which he was graduated in 1887, he entered Manhattan college where he remained for two years. Under the direction of the bishop of Brooklyn, he was sent to Union college of the propaganda in Rome and was ordained a priest in 1895. Within two years of his return to Brooklyn he was named chancellor of the diocese after which he became titular bishop of Loryna and auxiliary bishop of Brooklyn and in December, 1915, was promoted to the see of Chicago, succeeding Archbishop James E. Quigley.

Archbishop Hayes was born in New York city 55 years ago. He received

His first position was as curate in St. Gabriel's church, on the east side. When the late Cardinal Parley was auxiliary bishop, Father Hayes served as his secretary. When Cardinal Parley succeeded the late Michael A. Corrigan, as archbishop of New York, he appointed Father Hayes as chancellor of the diocese. A few years later he was made a vicar general and his promotions as auxiliary bishop, bishop and finally archbishop were rapid.

As bishop, he was chaplain general for the American Catholics in the world war. He has lately devoted much attention to the development of Catholic charities.

LIGHTHOUSE KEEPER AND AIDES MAROONED BY STORMS 17 WEEKS

PENZANCE, March 6 (AP)—After being marooned in the Loughs light-house at Land's End at the entrance to the English Channel for 17 weeks, the lighthouse keeper and his two assistants have been rescued and brought to land. The men had been cut off from land by the storms which have raged off Land's End since early in September. All previous attempts to reach them failed and they were rescued when their supplies of canned beef and biscuits were about exhausted.

The men were taken to a hospital for an extended rest after the serious strain of having waves, often 100 feet high, breaking continuously over the lighthouse.

Radio Broadcasting Brings Cheer into Many Farm Homes

Daily Programs Become Vital
Factor in Prairie Districts
of Canada

WINNIPEG, Man., March 6 (AP)

—Radios carrying the latest news of the world into remote farm homes and hooking up pioneer prairie settlements with large cities, have become an important factor in civilization in the Dominion, according to a report issued by the department of marine.

"The radio has robbed prairie farm life of its isolation," reads the report. "Loneliness is no longer to be dreaded. Settlers and their families listen in on current news of the day, enjoy high class concerts and entertainments, receive information from agricultural colleges on new farming methods and courses in household management and get the latest market quotations on agricultural products."

Of 100,000 receiving sets estimated to be in operation throughout the Dominion more than 60 per cent are owned on farms. This is especially true in the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In Manitoba, the provincial government aids broadcasting through its publicly owned telephone system.

Broadcasting stations in Canada number 38, the report shows, and are located in the principal cities from coast to coast. Investment in receiving sets amounts to more than $2,000,000.

COOLIDGE GIVES EXPLANATION OF WIRE MESSAGES

Another Commotion Stirred Up by President's Telegrams to McLean; Other Moves Are Sidetracked

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—Two telegrams from President Coolidge to Edward R. McLean, caught in the dragnet of the oil committee, stirred up another breath-taking commotion today in official Washington.

Shortly after the first message had been read before the committee, a statement was issued from the White House declaring it related to a local patronage question in the District of Columbia.

Presentation of the second telegram was followed by two White House statements. At first it was stated the message was a response to a congratulatory telegram from McLean on the president's inaugural speech, but a later statement explained that a mistake had been made and that in reality the president was replying to a McLean telegram commending him for not demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby.

Defends President

Later in the day the telegraphic exchange between the White House and the McLean cottage at Palm Beach became the subject of a fiery debate in the senate with Republican Leader Lodge defending the president against a scorching attack from the democratic side of the chamber.

The effect of the whole development was to completely throw into shadow a number of other important moves in the oil inquiry, including an announcement by government counsel that civil action to annul the Sinclair and Doherty leases would begin next week and criminal proceedings would follow shortly.

Pian Court Action

Injunction suit to prevent further removal of oil from the Tappet, Dome and Elk Hill reserves, the special counsel announced, would be filed in the federal courts in Wyoming and California and a hearing on the motion given by the Wyoming court at Cheyenne on March 13. Annulment of the leases will be asked for on ground of "fraud and illegality," and a special federal grand jury will be impaneled here about April 1 to consider criminal features of the oil disclosure.

GERMANS STILL ARGUE ON WHO LOST THE WAR

Discussions Take Place on Trains, in Shops and Cars; Fastime Compared with Mah Jongg in United States

BERLIN, March 6 (AP)—Arguments as to "who lost the war" have been one of the favorite indoor sports in Germany this winter. Discussions of this kind, for some reason, appear to have seized the press and public about the same time cold weather began. It was the same last winter. There arguments are heard in street cars and on trains, in the shops and cafes, and would seem to be more popular than playing Mah Jongg in the United States. Nearly everyone has been accused at various times, from the sergeants in the trenches and the peasants in the fields to the former emperor and most of the men of his family.

The most recent member of the ex-royal household to be attacked and accused of being a slacker is Ernest August, former Duke of Brunswick, married Princess Victoria Louise, August by inheritance retained the title of prince royal of Great Britain and Ireland. He is accused by news paper writers of having evaded service in the fighting lines and of having displayed pronounced pro-British tendencies.

Ernst, of course, denies all the charges brought against him, and his friends rally to his support. The arguments lead nowhere, and serve only to fill the press with the vehement letters of partisans.

MANY ISSUES IN TEXAS ELECTION

Discuss Presidential Candidates and Policies; Bonus and Klan Are Argued.

DALLAS, Texas, March 6.—Discussion of issues advocated by presidential candidates William Gibbs McAdoo and United States Senator Oscar W. Underwood, together with the entry of six prominent Texans in the race for the democratic nomination for governor, has brought the political pot hereabouts to a near-boiling point, despite the fact that the primary is four months away.

The soldiers' bonus, the 18th amendment and the Ku Klux Klan are included in the issues spoken of on all sides at present. Mr. McAdoo's stand on the bonus, Mr. Underwood's stand on the 18th amendment, and the stand of the six candidates for governor on the Ku Klux Klan question absorb interest at present and overshadow the entry of numerous candidates for the lesser state offices. Both McAdoo and Underwood have established state headquarters in this city and are lining up the state for intensive campaigns.

The Ku Klux Klan, a prime factor in the last election, is mentioned by three of the gubernatorial candidates in their platforms. T. W. Davidson, Burkett and Lynch Davidson have declared against the Klan, while the others have not mentioned it.

The platforms of the candidates for governor carry a variety of issues from tax reduction to minor legislation.

Few women candidates have signified their intention of running for any office, but it is understood that several may seek election to the legislature. The campaign is expected to take on added interest after the meeting of the state committee in May.

BURLEY DEFEATS FILER; RUPERT TRIMS METEORS

North Siders Pile Up 26 to 16
Score Against Locals in Opening of Tourney; Burley Touted as Probable Winner

THURSDAY'S RESULTS AT ALBION TOURNAMENT
Albion 35, Hagerman 5.
Gooding 24, Carey 10.
Rupert 26, win Falls 16.
Burley 20, Filer 8.

ALBION, March 6.—(Special to The News.)—Burley swept the boards Thursday in the opening day of the district basketball tourney here, by a clean win over the Filer basketball quintet. Twin Falls, unable to down the fast team work and clever basket shooting of Stone and Berger, went down to a 26-16 defeat to Rupert.

The afternoon games started with the Albion and Hagerman teams taking the places of Hilder and Jerome, playing a slow, easy game in which the Albion hoopers easily vanquished the valley team with a margin of 30 points. The Gooding-Carey tangle was the best of the first games with the Gooding five victorious by a 24-16 score.

Evening Game Fast.
Rupert and Twin Falls met in the evening session with a fast, close game for the most part with Jenkins and Cole leading the attack for the blue and white against the brilliant work of Berger and Stone, crack Rupert forwards. The scoring was held down considerably in this game by the strict watch of Hilder and Jerome, who reserved all of the games with eagle eyes. The Rupert squad seemed to have the better scoring system and triumphed with a 26-16 score.

The great surprise of the day came in the last match between Burley and Filer, reported to be the strongest teams of the district. This contest resulted in a complete victory for the Burley hoopers who held the Filerites to one field goal. Adkins, Filer guard, being the only one able to evade the wonderful defensive game played by the Burley team. The remaining points were made on free throws by Filer, while Burleton and Gander were largely responsible for the Burley score. The game was a clean fought contest without thrills.

Schedule for Friday.
The following schedule is arranged for Friday's games which will result in the elimination of three contestants by two defeats:

Morning Games.
Albion-Gooding, at 10 o'clock.
Burley-Rupert, at 11 o'clock.
Afternoon Games.
Carey-Hagerman, at 2 o'clock.
Filer-Twin Falls, at 3 o'clock.
Evening Games.
Winners of the morning games, at 8 o'clock.
Winners of the evening games, at 9 o'clock.

The winners of today's games are playing in the morning and in the afternoon the losers play. This will result in the elimination of two teams in the afternoon, with the Twin Falls-Filer game occupying the center of attention. This game will eliminate one of the two rival schools and leave an easy path open to the winner until Saturday's games.

Both teams are rated the same by those attending the tournament and a fast game is anticipated.

The Rupert-Burley game will also be a battle worth seeing, with the present outlook pointing to the final game of the tournament being between these two schools.

The afternoon games will eliminate two schools and in the evening still another will meet its second defeat, leaving five teams to fight it out on Saturday, ending Saturday evening with the championship battle, with the results of today's games pointing to Burley as the easy winner of the district title.

CALIFORNIA WINS TITLE IN COAST BASKETBALL

OAKLAND, Cal., March 6.—The University of California quintet won the basketball championship of the Pacific coast conference by defeating the University of Washington, 28 to 25, in a bitterly contested game that went into an extra five-minute period here tonight.

BITUMEN AIDES. March 6.—The atmosphere of international rivalry surrounding the boat between Luis Firpo and Erminio Spalla, the Italian heavyweight, which is to take place next Friday night, became intensified here tonight. Spalla, of clubman from Benito Mussolini, the Italian premier, telling Spalla to "keep the Italian colors aloft," and another message from the Italian boxing federation encouraging him to victory.

Both Firpo and Spalla ended their hard training today.

TROJANS FALL BEFORE CLERKS

Sheiks from Shoe Market Best League Leaders by Two to One Score

By the skin of their teeth, so to speak, do the Troy Laundry bowlers hold their option on first place in the bowling league. Thursday they completed their twelfth game, with 10 defeats marked up against them, tying for the top position with the Idaho theatre, which takes the Times' former place.

"Clay" King was the shining light of the Sheik team, and of 599, with a starting roll of 299, made on two games which went over the 200 mark, one reaching 234 as a high individual game. For the washmen Selek proved to be the stumbling block with a total of but 379, none of his games getting above 138.

Total pins for the evening form an interesting comparison also to what a good little team can do to the proud but humbled league leaders. The laundry total is 2402 and the shoe clerks are 98 points further up with an even 2500.

BUHL CO-EDS WILL TRY FOR STATE HOOP HONORS

Coach Barry Leaves with Girls' Team for Parma; Orange and Black Set to Play for District Championship

BUHL, March 6. (Special to The News.)—Coach Barry leaves at noon Friday for Parma with the crack Buhl girls' basketball team for a game with the winners of the Boise valley district.

On their return the Buhl sextet plans for a game to clear up the district title which rests between Jerome, Buhl and Richfield and Hailey in the northern sub-district.

While this schedule is unofficial it is unchallenged by any of the various teams of the district which have not apparently cared to meet the Buhl sextet of clever basket tossers.

Parma has an undefeated team and promises a good game to the many fans who are planning to accompany the team.

CLEVER PAINTERS BOOST SMILE AND STYLE SHOW

Clever cartoons have been produced in paintings on a number of business house windows and soda fountain mirrors calling attention to the "Smile and Style" show in which the Twentieth Century club and Twin Falls business men are co-operating to be presented March 12 and 13.

The paintings are the work of Ross Herrick, cartoonist-soda fountain manager at the City pharmacy, whose effort in this direction appearing on the mirror at that establishment was one of the most interesting bits of advertising in connection with the Fashion show of last year. Mr. Herrick was requested this year by the women's club committee to repeat and extend this work in the interests of the "Smile and Style" show. Lettering in connection with the painted pictures is the work of Howard Sablin.

COURT OF HONOR GIVES SCOUTS HIGHER RATING

Four Boy Scouts were promoted from the grade of tenderfoot to second class scout, and four boys received Boy Scout merit badges for proficiency in personal health knowledge at a monthly session of the court of honor of the Twin Falls Boy Scout council held Thursday evening in the high school building.

Boys who were advanced to the grade of second class scout were Harry Nelson, William Young, Ruggles Wheeling, and Jack Gardner.

Merit badges were awarded to George Sprague, Tim Robertson, Robert Deles and Byron Rendahl.

All members of the court of honor were present except Clinton W. Evans, who was confined to his home by illness. Members of the court sitting on this occasion were R. W. Gardner, Dr. W. F. Passer, James McMillan and Arthur L. Swim.

WAREHOUSE GIRLS HOSTS

Girls employed by the Southern Idaho Wholesale company were hostesses Thursday noon, at a dinner for the employees of the firm and several members of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers association.

More than 50 persons were present at the dinner, which was served in the large warehouse where the girls are busy sorting the large crop of beans belonging to the association.

C. P. Boring was toastmaster, calling upon several for impromptu speeches, to which W. F. Morgan, F. W. Harder and E. C. Lichty responded with brief talks.

Thirty-five girls are employed in the local warehouse.

BERRYMAN IS ACQUITTED

Berryman, former cashier of the Standard bank of Blackfoot, who was charged with embezzlement of a clerk for $69,666.30, was returned by a jury in Ada county district court Thursday night at shortly after 9 o'clock. The jury retired at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and deliberated approximately three hours.

FISTIC ENCOUNTER AVERTED IN HOUSE

boons were Representatives Tilson, Connecticut and Mills, New York, republicans, and Collier, democrat, Mississippi.

Urges Insurance.

Representative Bacharach advanced the paid up insurance scheme and was instructed to prepare data on it. Several proponents of the full cash payment option spoke for it, including members of both parties, and Chairman Green, who is opposed to such a scheme, admitted tonight it had gained considerable strength.

The two-fall proposition was endorsed yesterday by the committee of five democrats named by the house, democratic conference to confer with the committee on house legislation. Representative Jeffers of Alabama, chairman, declaring his coat would not cost $1,400,000,000, and suggested it be financed by a bond issue.

Cost Two Billion.

The insurance proposal of Mr. Bacharach would provide policies with value based on the number of days of service of veterans, allowing $2.65 for each day of service. Such a bonus would cost in all about $2,000,000,000, he estimated, and not more than $78,000,000, in any one year.

The house bill passed at the last session and vetoed by President Harding has been discarded by the committee. Chairman Green said, but if either of the two plans now under discussion fail of option, he predicted this measure again would be taken up.

he had discussed the situation with Acting Attorney General Seymour and John W. H. Crim, special government counsel in charge of the Chicago grand jury's inquiry, and had gained the impression that no action could be expected by a grand jury here with regard to the charges within a month.

Publication of the grand jury's report referring to two house members without naming them, in the opinion of Mr. Longworth put the entire membership of the house under suspicion and made prompt action to establish the identity of the accused imperative.

RAILROAD WORK GETS UNDER WAY

Western Pacific and Utah Construction Company Begin Wells-Winnemucca Operation

Marking the opening gun of the Western Pacific construction program, toward instituting improvements in preparation for the double tracking agreement with the Southern Pacific company, two work trains were started this morning, and the company's gravel pit at Cluro was opened, says the Elko, Nevada, Independent in its issue of last Tuesday.

A steam shovel gang and a loading gang, consisting of approximately 50 men are at work at the Cluro pit. The work trains carry crews of approximately 30 men each. Additional work trains will be started March 6, and gravel pits at Pardo, Luke and Timpy will be opened within the next few weeks. The pit at Timpy, however, will not be used as a supply base for the joint track construction operations. It will, however, be the scene of the largest blast that has ever been shot on the Western Pacific system.

It was this morning learned at the Western Pacific office that the company will supply the Utah Construction company with gravel which will be used in the ballasting of track between Wells and Winnemucca. When all of the gravel pits between Wells and Winnemucca have been opened, crews will be worked from each direction from each pit, and the construction work will be conducted simultaneously over all of the trackage of the company between Wells and Winnemucca.

It is estimated that between 1003 and 1750 workmen will be employed by the Western Pacific company and the Utah Construction company between Wells and Winnemucca within the next few weeks.

The Western Pacific company is now hard at work constructing a material yard below the Standard Oil warehouses in this city.

The material yard will be used for the storage of construction materials. In addition to a considerable length of new track, a warehouse will be a temporary structure and will probably exist only during the duration of the double tracking activities.

The Utah Construction company, it is reported, has opened offices in the Nevada Wholesale Company building, and will conduct their operations from this city.

RE-CREATE FAMOUS EVENT.

"Vincennes," the chronicle of America, produced by Yale University Press, and shown at the Idaho Theatre today and tomorrow, depicts the tremendous achievement of George Rogers Clark, a gallant and courageous Virginian pioneer, in driving the British out of that vast territory in the northwest that gave to the colonists the five states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

LLOYD HUGHES DID IT.

KEEP AT IT, BOYS!

The impression that one has to be a city "sleeker" with lots of "pull" to get into motion pictures seems to be prevalent among smaller communities.

Lloyd Hughes, featured in Zan Grey's "The Heritage of the Desert," for Paramount, is a living contradiction to that belief.

EXPLOSION AT QUARRY JARS NEBRASKA TOWN

LOUISVILLE, Neb., March 6 (AP)—

Windows in practically every house in Louisville were broken and the entire town was jarred when a powder magazine at a quarry more than a quarter of a mile from the city limits let go tonight. Plate-glass windows in store fronts were shattered and heavy property damage to buildings was reported.

Cause of the explosion has not been determined. The magazine was said to have contained two carloads of dynamite. No one is known to have been injured.

URGE CHANGES IN SHOALS BILL

representatives indicating that many more would be offered tomorrow when consideration of the measure is resumed. None of the amendments offered today was put to a vote.

Probability that more than a score of amendments would be offered caused leaders to doubt whether a final vote on the McKenzie measure could be reached before Saturday.

In brief those seeking to amend the McKenzie bill would place the Detroit manufacturer under jurisdiction of the federal water power act and limit his power to 50 instead of 100 years, and make the lease binding not only on the corporation to be founded by Mr. Ford but also by the manufacturer himself.

Opponents also would have specified in the measure that Mr. Ford be compelled to generate surplus power for sale and that this be made available at least 200 miles from the shaft properties; that the nitrate plant be leased, instead of sold; and that a more binding guarantee to the manufacture of fertilizer be required.

Hearings to Start.

The special senate committee which next week is to begin investigation of Attorney General Daugherty and the department of justice, held an meeting today, giving Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee proponent an opportunity to prepare for the opening of hearings. It is still hoped to start the hearings Monday. New information was received today by Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, chairman of the committee and turned over to Senator Wheeler.

There probably will be a change in the committee's tentative program to open the hearings with evidence relating to enforcement of the anti-trust laws. Committee men said that instead, a new line of inquiry not now possible of disclosure, would be taken up first.

OUR WEAKNESS

When prices are down and there is no market for anything, everybody would sell. When land and produce are saleable at figures which will profitably prosper, no man will sell.

In this connection there is lesson for Twin Falls in a recent editorial in the Breeder's Gazette commenting upon a speech delivered by a Dakota
banker and stockman. "The trouble with most people," said the speaker,
"is that they are always optimistic
when they should be pessimists and become rank pessimists when they should be optimists."

Then which there never was a greater truth.

In Twin Falls men are breaking their necks in an effort to sell out and quit—not all men but a great many. Most of them had opportunities to sell out and quit at a profit
a few years ago, but true to type,
they refused to sell then when they might have sold to advantage, but are anxious to sell now at a heavy sacrifice.

They are pessimists when they
should be optimists.

The bottom of the market is never the time to sell. It is the time to sit back in calm confidence and await the inevitable rise. In Twin Falls the rise is just ahead—of that there can be no reasonable doubt.

Here is the way in which the editor of the Breeder's Gazette sums up the matter:

Those who can see nothing but gloom ought to turn to the greatest book of all the ages, and read of the fat years and the lean years of the Pharaohs. They need to nail up over the doors upon which they have hung the crepe of what they call a dead-
and-buried industry the one great life-giving truth: "There is nothing new under the sun." Solomon was wiser than certain modern would-be rulers in our midst. What farmers and stockmen have been experiencing of late has happened time and again in past history.
What came to them during that war has been enjoyed time and again
by succeeding generations of farmers and stockmen. The one fact standing out like the sun in a clear sky is this:
greatest of all economic truths:

When everybody else is wildly optimistic, be a pessimist, and let them
have all your possessions, and let them pay for them at a price which will leave you a good price and a good margin, when the whole world seems hung in black, when the dirges of pessimism are being chanted in all the highways and byways of the land, place everything you possess upon the altar of sane optimism, and await your reward.

Mr. Jackson is flying the right flag
—the flag that means the certain regeneration of the west upon a basis
that is to endure until another generation of men, some day in the remote future, repeats the follies of those gone before. "What has been shall be," and by that token all may know that good times are to come again.
The cycles are dependable. The coming years will confound the cravens of today.

A NATION OF INVENTORS

Present-day enthusiasts frequently speak proudly of the advantages this generation enjoys in labor-saving devices and mechanical appliances of all sorts for an infinite number of purposes. A glance at patent office statistics, however, makes one feel surprised that there is anything left to be invented.

The United States has about one sixteenth of the population of the world, but it has one-half the world's patents. Eighty thousand Americans asked for patents on their favorite inventions last year. In the past ten years, allowing for variations in population caused by immigration and deaths, one person out of every one hundred fifty in the United States invented something or other and asked for a patent.

Of course not all the inventions

THE ONE GOOD SPARROW

By DADDY

Jack and Janet try to sell a flock of English sparrows they have caught in traps.

CHAPTER V.
The Bad Tramp.

JACK and Janet were puzzled. They had caught a flock of sparrows and had been able to get rid of only three.
All the others were still in the box on the sled.

"We can't sell these sparrows, and we can't give them away," sighed Janet. "Shall we turn them loose
again?"

"No, indeed," answered Jack. "That would not be fair to Judge Owl or to the birds of Birdland. You know how these sparrows planned to steal the seeds of the birds."

"Yes, and I know how they stole grain from the barn," said Janet.
"Something should be done with them
but I don't know what that something is."

While the children were saying this they were hearing a hub by the creek.
Out of the hub came a trampish looking man, whose face was all covered with whiskers.

"Hey! What have you there?"
asked the trampish looking man.

Jack and Janet didn't answer. Instead they began to run. They knew that the trampish looking fellow was a bad chap. They feared harm from him.

"Well, if you will not tell me what you have I'll take it away from you," shouted the trampish man. He ran after them. Jack and Janet put all their speed into their legs, but the trampish man caught up with them and he caught hold of the box.

He tripped over a stump and fell sprawling. But still he clung to the box, dragging it from the sled.

Jack and Janet fled onward, while the tramp picked himself up and looked into the box. "The box has sparrows
in it," he said.

"Minutely!" I'll bet that tramp is surprised to find only three sparrows
in that box," chuckled Jack.

"Yes," said Janet, looking back over her shoulder. "Now we will no longer have to worry over what to do with the box. The bad tramp has stolen that problem from us."

"It is a joke on him," laughed Jack.
But the tramp was not worrying over the problem. He had made up his mind what to do the moment he saw the sparrows.

"Well, I'll have those sparrows pie," cried he. "I'll bake the biggest pie that ever was made and eat it all myself."

brought to the patent office get the patents asked for. A highly efficient corps of experts scrutinizes every invention carefully, seeking its merits, advising the inventor if he wishes it, or throwing the thing out if it is a fake or has been patented previously. Of the eighty thousand applicants last year only forty thousand received the patents asked for.

In spite of all this, the demand for genuinely useful and workable inventions remains good. There are still plenty of tasks to be lightened by new inventions, so that the seven thousand new applications reaching headquarters monthly are not to be laughed at or thrown aside. They'll get careful consideration and some of them will be in use and accepted as consumable before long.

Pumps Shoot Water.

A pump of peculiar construction
lifts water by the direct action of exploding gas, in much the same way that a projectile is driven from a canon.
In trials the machine is said to have proved so economical that it is to be tested for use in a large English project for draining Lake Mareotis in Egypt. If the tests are successful, pumps which will raise a billion gallons of water daily to a height of 20 feet will be installed. It is planned after the work is in progress, to double the capacity of the pumps first installed, thus pumping the station the largest known pumping plant in the world.

What is Meant by "Truth of God."

In the Middle Ages private warfare was very common and the church synd, in order to limit what they could not wholly express, in the Eleventh century and later, frequently issued decrees that there should be no such warfare during certain holy seasons and on certain days. By the end of the Eleventh century only about 80 days were left free for private warfare, but most of these days came in the summer when the fighting would naturally be most common. These holy seasons, when fighting was not allowed,
were called the "Truth of God."

Vast Spaces Within the Atom.

Just think of it. Although an atom is a particle of matter so tiny that it can scarcely be recognized by the most delicate scientific instruments, yet, says Prof. Niels Bohr, the famous Danish scientist now at New Haven,
its infinitesimal parts, the electrons,
can be as far away from the nucleus, conspicuously, as the sun is from the earth.

The tramp began to look pained!

The tramp dragged the box back to his hut, Jack and Janet quit running and turned back.
"I'd like to see how the tramp
makes sparrow pie," whispered Janet.
"And I'd like to see if he can eat it all himself," whispered Jack.

So the two went back to a little hill
above the tramp's hut and from there they looked down into a window. They could see the tramp bustling about inside.

He made a big pie crust—one big enough to fill a huge dish pan. Then he dumped the sparrows in, every last one of them. He closed the crust over them and put the great pie into an oven.

He made the pie baked and baked and baked.

"Poor sparrows!" sighed Janet.
"Poor tramp," if he eats those sparrows," chuckled Jack. They are so bad they must be very tough. They will give the tramp a stomach ache."

So they did. The greedy tramp pulled the pie out of the oven before it was cooked brown. He pitched into it with a big fork and knife and ate and ate and ate, until he was stuffed full and every sparrow was gone.

Then the tramp began to look pained.
He put his hand over his stomach.
He groaned. The sparrows seemed to be kicking up an awful row inside of
him.

"Oh, oh, I am sorry I ever saw those sparrows," groaned the tramp. I am sorry I stole from the children."

Jack laughed. "The tramp is getting punished for his badness, just as the sparrows were punished for their badness," said he. "They all deserve
what they get."

What becomes of the one good sparrow will be told in the next chapter.

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MEKAY

My husband says, "Well if a man can't—"

"That's the beginning of his favorite reply to any criticism I ever make of
him."

"Well, if a man can't come home a few minutes later for dinner once in a while without having to apologize for it—"

"Well, if a man can't get what he likes to eat at his own table—"

"Well, if a man can't make himself comfortable and put his feet up on his own furniture—"

These are just a few of the great
"If a Man Can't" Series. There are at least a hundred others—more than enough to cover every possible domestic emergency.

Even a good thing, I tell him, can be overdone—and this line of his wasn't any good to start with.
If he keeps on with it I'm going to start on "If a Woman Can't" and then he'll hear something.

Tomorrow: "My wife is beginning to say that she doesn't have a thing to wear this spring."

CHAPTER IV

The Crossing.

There were curious events in the voyage of Jack and Solomon. They sailed on or about the eleventh of October, 1773. Their ship was the Snow, which had arrived the week before with some fifty Irish servants, Indian and for their passage. The food was of poor quality, the cooking a lax upon jaw, palate and digestion, the service unclean. When good weather came,
by and by, and those who had not tasted food for days began to feel the pangs of hunger. The ship was filled with a most passionate lot of pilgrims.
It was then that Solomon presented the petition of the passengers to the captain.

"Cap'n, we're 'bout wore out with whale meat an' sloggishness. We're all down by the head."

"Se'm I'll say the cap'n. 'This ere man had a good recommend an'
said he could cook perfect."

"A man like that kin cook the passengers with their 'own heat," said Solomon. "I feel like my belly was full o' rocks. If y'e'll let me into the kitchen, I'll right ye up an' shift the way of the wind an' the course of the ship. I'll swing the bow toward heaven 'stead o' hell an' keep her plenty straight an' it won't cost ye a penny. They's too much swearin' in this 'ere ship. Can't nobody be a Christian with his guts a-bellin'." His tongue'll break loose an' make his soul
look like a vagabond with a smashed wheel an' a busted ex. A cook could do more good here than a minister."

"Can you cook?"

"You try me an' I'll agree to happy ye up so ye won't regret yourself. Yer entire won't be raw nor pettiled an'
there won't be no sneaks in the bil-
cuit."

So Solomon was installed as cook
and happiness returned to the ship.

In the course of the voyage they overhauled the Star, a four-masted ship bound from New York to Dover.
For hours the two vessels were so close that the passengers engaged in a kind of battle. These on the Star hegan it by hurling turnips at the men on the other ship who responded with a volley of apples. Solomon discerned on the deck of the stranger Captain Preston and an English officer of the name of Hawk when he had known at Oswego and hailed them. Then said Solomon:

"It's a shipload o' Tories 'e've had enough o' Ameriky. They's a cuss on that tub that I helped put a coat o'
tar an' feathers on in the Ohio kentry.
He's shot me with the black pipe in his mouth. I don't know his name but they use to call him Slops—the dirt-est, low-downed, d—n Tory traitor that ever lived. Helped the Indians out thar in the West. See that 'ere black pipe? Allus carries it in his mouth
'cept when he's eatin'. I guess he goes to sleep with it. It's 'e's the features o' his face. We tarred him plenty now you hear to me?"

That evening a boat was lowered
and the captain of the Snow crossed a hundred yards of quiet sea to dine with the captain of the Star in the cabin of the latter. Next day a stiff wind came out of the west. All sail was spread, the ships began to jump and were the waves and the Star ran away from the smaller ship and was soon out of sight. Weeks of rough golfing followed. Meanwhile Solomon stuck to his task. Every one was sick but Jack and the officers, and there was not much to be done.

Because he had to take off his coat
while he was working in the galley.

THEY OVERHAULED THE STAR.

Solomon gave the precious letter into Jack's keeping.

About noon on the twenty-ninth of November they made Dover and anchored in the Downs. Deal was about three miles away and its bunta came off for them. They made a circuit and sailed close to shore. Each boat that went for passengers had its own landing. Men threw a rope across the breakers. This was quickly put on a windlass. With the rope winding on its windlass the boat was slowly hauled through the surge, its occupants being drenched and sprinkled with salt water. They made their way to the Inn of the Three Kings where two men stood watching as they approached. One of them Jack recognized as the man Slops with the black pipe in his mouth.

"That's him," said the man with the black pipe, pointing at Solomon, whereupon the latter was promptly arrested.

"What have I done?" he asked.

"You'll learn directly at 'eudquan-ters," said the officer.

Solomon shook hands with Jack and said: "I'm glad I met ye," and turned and walked away with the two men.

Jack was tempted to follow them,
but feeling a hidden purpose in Solomon's conduct went into the Inn.

So the friends parted, Jack being puzzled and distressed by the swift change in the color of their affairs.
The letter to Doctor Franklin was in his pocket—a lucky circumstance. He decided to go to London and deliver the letter and seek advice regarding the relief of Solomon. At the desk in the lobby of the Three Kings he learned that he must take the post coach for Canterbury, which would not be leaving until 6 p. m. "This gave him time to take counsel in behalf of his friend. Turning toward the door, he met Captain Preston, who greeted him with great warmth and wished to know where was Major Blinks.

Jack told the captain of the arrest
of his friend.

"Old Stuff" From Arabia.
A New York barber recently got some valuable publicity because he regained his customers with tea and music. "It was 'old stuff,'" comments
William H. Ukers in his new book,
"All About Coffee." The fact published by the Tea and Coffee Trade Journal company, New York. "The Arabian and Turkish barber shops have been serving coffee, tobacco and sweetmeats to their customers for centuries.
In Arabia and other oriental countries
the coffee is part of the ritual of business;
shopkeepers serve it to the customer
before the argument begins."

Reciprocity.

know him." Jack—"Oh, well, you see,

me in mine'."

FIGURES SHOW INTENSIVE USE OF WOOD LANDS

Demand for summer range exceeds supply; Effort continues to get funds for Oakley-Rogerson Road

Demand for summer range in the Minidoka forest for stock continues in excess of the supply, even though the prospects for better cattle prices are none too bright, according to a statement issued by Supervisor R. D. Garver, Burley. Permits for 21,800 cattle and horses and 78,100 sheep, divided among 500 owners, have been approved for the grazing season 1924, the supervisor says.

During 1923, 358 timber sales were made which aggregated 365,000 feet. In addition, it is estimated that 1,275 acres obtained 1,916,000 feet for fuel, fencing, building, etc., under free use.

For the past season, says the supervisor's statement, a conservative estimate shows that at least 5,000 people visited the forest for sport and recreation. The completion of the Oakley-Rogerson road would open up additional country and without doubt the use by recreationists would more than double. "An earnest effort is being made to obtain funds for this project, but at this date it is not known whether or not the funds will be available."

Approximately $8,000 of the forest receipts for 1923 will be returned to the various counties in which the forest is located, for road and school purposes.

There is, the supervisor advises, a bill in congress, sponsored by stockmen, which provides that the grazing fee should be fixed so as to cover merely the cost of administration, or about 30 per cent of the present fee of 12 cents per month per cow. There is, however, another bill which provides that stockmen shall pay the commercial value of the forage. This bill would increase the present fee of about 80 per cent, making it 20 cents per month per cow. If the first bill is enacted into law it is estimated the above $8,000 will be almost wiped out; if the second, it will be increased to about $14,000.

IDAHO TECH GLEE CLUB SINGERS SCORE SUCCESS

Student Musicians on Tour Please Audiences at Afternoon and Evening Performances Here

The Idaho Tech Glee Club pleased the Twin Falls audience Thursday afternoon and evening with a splendid program of singing and readings. The organization, which is under the direction of T. R. Neilson, is composed of eight girls and the same number of boys, with Norman Masterson-Smith, Ellen Engstrom and Mark Ellingson as soloists and readers.

Perhaps Miss Masterson-Smith's clever readings and delightful solos were the biggest individual features of the program. Mark Ellingson's reading, "The Unknown Speaker," and later his solo, also were well received as was Miss Engstrom's Indian song.

The program was a somewhat lengthy affair in two parts opening with the entire club singing and followed by the two groups of boys and girls singing separately, readings and solos, with a special number by the male quartet composed of Vernon Day, a Twin Falls student, second tenor; John Brickman, first tenor; Ivan Traynor, baritone; Paul Pearson, bass. In the second part of the program the entire club appeared in full Indian regalia, used through the course of the Fort Hall Indian reservation, singing Indian songs, the whole club joining in the final number, the alma mater song of the Idaho Tech.

The personnel of the singers follow: Norma Masterson-Smith, Frances Hunt, Ellen Engstrom, Ruth Warner, Phyllis Wigwall, Vivian Anderson, Doris Wagner, Agnes Bradford, John Brickman, Arthur Agner, Vernon Day, Clyde Crocker, Ivan Traynor, Mark Ellingson, Emmett Remington, Paul Pearson, Director, T. R. Neilson; accompanist, Mayme Ingard Neilson.

Seeks Feed Here for California Livestock

Southern Pacific General Agent Asks Chamber of Commerce to Give Advice

Anticipating increased demand for livestock feeding grounds elsewhere, in view of "unsatisfactory feed conditions in some parts of California," Press Bancroft, general agent for the Southern Pacific Lines, has requested the assistance of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce in obtaining information as to where feed is available "for large numbers of cattle and sheep."

The chamber of commerce will be glad to communicate with persons in this region who have surplus pasture or feed with a view to submitting this information to the Southern Pacific general agent, Secretary Charles F. Dwight said Thursday when Mr. Bancroft's letter was received.

Mr. Bancroft's letter was as follows: "In view of unsatisfactory feed conditions in some parts of California, it is more than likely that we will be called upon for information as to where feed is available for large numbers of cattle and sheep."

"If you can furnish me with feed conditions in your territory and advise of any available pastures, giving name and address of party controlling number of acres, class of feed and many head of cattle and sheep can be handled, we assure you this information will be greatly appreciated."

WAY CLEAR FOR MURTAUGH ROAD

Arbitrators Announce Award which Land-Owners and District Have Agreed to Accept

What is believed to be the last obstacle in the way of road construction to span a gap in the Old Oregon Trail—a highway between pavement at Hansen and gravel road west of Burley was removed Thursday with the announcement by arbitrators of awards which, under previous agreement, will be accepted to settle a controversy between affected land-owners and the Murtaugh highway district regarding acquisition of right of way for the new route of the state highway through the district. Spanning of this gap will complete a gravel and pavement highway between Boise and Pocatello.

The award was formulated and announced after the arbitrators had traversed the right of way in question Thursday. The arbitrators set prices on lands for which adjustment had been made, as follows: Sam Cox, $425; P. J. Pringle, $350; O. Nelson, $350; Pay Cox, $325. In all cases except that of Sam Cox, who received, practically the amount asked, the price fixed by the arbitrators was between the amount asked by the land-owners and the amount offered by the district.

An adjustment was made by the district with J. W. Walker, who donated his land for the right of way, and with T. F. Warner, who donated the way through his land with the understanding that it would be fenced on both sides of the road.

The arbitrators were R. B. True, Murtaugh; R. C. Calico, Hansen, and Arthur L. Swin, Twin Falls.

Bond Is Approved—Bond furnished by B. F. Flaherty, recently appointed as one of the justices of the peace for Filer precinct, was approved Thursday by the board of county commissioners.

RANCHERS TAKE COURT'S AWARD

Chester Brackett and Associates Evidence Readiness to Accept $44,000 for Lands

Chester Brackett, administrator of the estate of his father, the late Ira Brackett, and other defendants in a suit instituted about four years ago by the Idaho Farm Development company in the vicinity of Roseworth, have agreed, according to statement Thursday of their attorneys, to accept the award of approximately $44,000 made by Judge W. A. Babcock as an alternative to granting by the court of the plaintiff company's motion for a new trial in district court here. The award is about $15,000 less than the amount awarded by a jury in district court here last December, and is approximately the same as the amount awarded by a jury when the suit was first tried in district court here four years ago.

Notice of appeal to the supreme court was filed by the plaintiff company after Judge Babcock's alternative ruling was announced February 12, the defendant land-owners being given 30 days in which to accept or reject the court's award.

Brackett and his associates in this case were represented by E. A. Walters, E. M. Wolfe and S. T. Hamilton, all of Twin Falls, while Edwin Snow, Boise and A. W. Ostrom, Burley, appeared as attorneys for the plaintiff company.

On their way, they said, to Utah to find work, three 13-year-old boys obtained permission Wednesday evening to sleep in a haystack on a farm near Holliester, where they were found Thursday morning by John R. Ault, county probation officer, and returned with him to their homes here.

One of the lads was traveling on his pony and the other two were making the trip on bicycles, which, according to the probation officer and the police, had been stolen here Wednesday afternoon.

SONG RECITAL PLEASURES MUSIC-LOVING AUDIENCE

Miss LeNelle Breckenridge Delights Hearers in Program Reflecting Credit on Talent and Training

Appearing in song recital Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church, Miss LeNelle Breckenridge delighted an audience made up of the music lovers of the city. Miss Breckenridge, who has recently returned from New York where she has been studying under Signor Gennaro Curi, possesses a rich mezzo-soprano voice of good tone and excellent tonal quality. The first half of her program carried two groups of songs from the early Italian composers and closed with the charming "Mimi's Song" from La Boheme, which especially displayed the flexibility of the young singer's voice. Other numbers deserving of special mention were Schubert's Serenade with the violin obligato, played by Miss Nellie Nelson, and the Aria from Cavalleria Rusticana, perhaps the most difficult number on the program, which was rendered with an ease and artistry that did high credit to Miss Breckenridge's training and musical ability. Piano accompaniments were played by Mrs. Merlin Batley.
