WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Attorney General Clegg, informed the House today that he is unwilling to comply with its request that he disclose the names of the two representatives against whom criminal evidence is said to have been developed before a Chicago grand jury, until he is convinced of their guilt.

Poses Seek Vandals in Connection with Fatal Train Wreck

Seven Reported Under Arrest Suspected of Removing Rails That Caused Smash

CONGRESS, N.J., March 8 (AP)—Poses of special officers and Indian trailers today penetrated the desert and mountain wastes of the region in search of vandals who last night removed a portion of the railroad track near here and caused two cars and the locomotive of Santa Fe passenger train No. 42, northbound, to crash over a 16-foot embankment. One trainman was killed and another seriously injured.

Seven men, five Mexicans and two Indians, are reported to be under arrest in connection with the wreck, while authorities are seeking one more man. Investigators are working on the theory that the wreck was caused by a band of men who attempted to hold up the train and take the passengers, but who became frightened and fled when the locomotive, instead of merely derailing, plunged over the embankment.

Seven men, five Mexicans and two Indians, are reported to be under arrest in connection with the wreck, while authorities are seeking one more man.

Triple Blast Imprisons Workers; Rescue Crews Penetrate Drift But Fail to Find Bodies; Destruction Heavy

CATTLE GATE, Utah, March 8 (AP)—With one rescue crew dead, the efforts of the various relief crews, the fate of approximately 175 men, entombed this morning in the triple explosion in the Utah Fuel company first-aid work, is still unknown and another 12 hours must elapse before definite information can be gained.

The only hope for the entombed miners is that those who were not killed directly by the blast were able to erect a barricade quickly enough to block off the deadly fumes which permeated the mine and have been pouring out of the entrance for hours. Some hope is expressed for those fortunate enough to be near the first-aid station, which is located about 3,000 feet from the mouth of the main tunnel.

Most Are Married Men. To add to the awful tragedy most of the men entombed are married and have families. Only two weeks ago the Utah Fuel company first-aid work, was laying off single men or men who had no dependents.

George Wilson, superintendent of the company, is the first known victim. He was asphyxiated "this afternoon while leading a rescue crew into the mine. Five of his comrades were rescued by the powerful gases but were revived by this first-aid work. Wilson was picked up about 500 feet from the main entrance.

No official list of the men entombed was made, but it is believed that many because the lack upon the mine identification checks are placed by the miners as they enter the mine was wrecked by the explosion.

Fan Broken. Destruction of the fan has kindled material, but this will be in operation tomorrow. It is thought that rescuers hope that the blast from the fan will be sufficient to clear the mine of a large part of its gases. Rescue work still being attempted, however, but no progress is expected until the fan has been placed in operation. Telephone and electric light poles, timber, pipes and debris that were wrecked by the blast are scattered in the valley, which is nearly a mile wide. The second explosion devastated the fan-house and added to the damage of the first. The third, 20 minutes later, completed the destruction by causing a cave-in. The office building, a hunched foot from the shaft, was partially destroyed.

Nurses and doctors arrived from Salt Lake City by a special train at 3 o'clock. Mine rescue cars en route from Dawson, Butte and Phoenix. The rescue force at the mine is now working to clear the mine of the gases. The rescue force at the mine is now working to clear the mine of the gases.

CURTIS DENIES STORIES TOLD IN OIL HEARING

Investigation of Affairs of Washington Publisher Constitutes Feature of Inquiry;
Plan Daugherty Probe

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—The oil committee devoted another three hours today to exploring ramifications of the affairs of Edward M. McClain as a central figure in the oil scandal.

At the hearing, Senator Curtis of Kansas, assistant republican leader in the senate, appeared substantially and denied under oath three separate stories told by John E. Bennett, an editorial writer for the Washington Post.

John E. Bennett, one of McClain's agents, testified that McClain and Albert S. Hall had discussed before him what Hall should tell the committee regarding the famous $109,000 loan.

Mr. Curtis, attached to the office of Attorney General Daugherty, told the committee that his telephone information from a Tulsa branch of the independent inquiry into his bank account in the Tulsa case had been purely a personal message and had no relevancy to his connection with the department of justice.

Francis T. Hunter of Baltimore, a legal adviser of McClain, read a statement in one of the McClain telegrams that he had sent "quick answers" to McClain and the "White House" as one reason why the publisher should have a private lawyer in Tulsa between the office of the Post here and his cottage at Tulsa beach.

One story Senator Curtis denied was that he had told Bennett that he had suggested to President Coolidge after he had received to the presidency that he should force Attorney General Daugherty to resign.

The other story was that Senator Curtis had given advice to McClain through Bennett as to the policy the Post should adopt with respect to the oil matters in connection with the inquiry.

There was no cross-examination of Senator Curtis, however, was questioned by the committee in connection with the situation reached the stage where Senator Adams, democrat, Colorado, informed the witness that he thought it "utterly improper" that Bennett said.

READY FOR INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—While awaiting developments in connection with the expected resignation of Attorney General Daugherty, the special senate committee appointed to investigate the oil scandal disclosed some outlines of the many-sided inquiries to be made next week.

As indicated for the first time, there is a charge that former Secretary of the oil industry and the oil industry in Mexico, the de la Huerta revolutionists in Mexico through shipment of arms and ammunition from the United States.

Charges that the department of justice acted as agents on Mexican territory "under color of" by Washington "when attempting to break up oil companies in violation of neutrality laws."

Francis of Edward Wood and Harding campaigns of 1920 in connection with possible "oil" influence.

The charges of attempted bribery of Mr. Daugherty and New York federal committee in connection with the oil industry of Gustav B. Meyers, a former department of justice agent, with the late Feltz associate of Mr. McClain's in the Charles W. Morgan case.

Witnesses expected to testify along these lines of inquiry already have been subpoenaed.

Mrs. W. H. Harvey, C. G. A. Divelbiss and A. H. Dixon were the judges. The sub-district declamatory contest will be held in Buhl Friday, the 14th. Winners in this trial will go to Albion to compete in the district event, March 28.

Lowden.

ROTARY HOST TO FARMERS
BUHL, March 8 (Special to The News)—The Rotary club gave Thursday evening to a farmer get-together banquet. During the meal the country guests were entertained with toasts, jokes, songs, and skits by the members.

It was pronounced one of the best meetings of the year and everyone expressed the hope that it will be the start of a real co-operation between business-men and farmers.

Farmers around Hansen are taking advantage of the fine weather by plowing and getting their land ready for spring planting.

The Commercial club has contracted with the Pacific Monthly for a half page of advertising space in that publication for Twin Falls during the coming six months. The Commercial club has also accepted a proposal from the Oregon Short Line to join that company in publication and distribution of a beautifully illustrated booklet descriptive of the city of Twin Falls and the Twin Falls country.

Arthur Brisbane in the New York Journal gives Some Good Advice about Buying Clothes

FROM THE NEW YORK JOURNAL EDITORIAL

Know Who Makes Them

When You Buy Clothes.

Copyright, 1924, by Star Company

When you buy clothes ready made—the kind that all SENSIBLE people now buy—he sure that there is on the clothing a NAME that you know.

When a man puts millions into advertising a name he has something at stake. He doesn't destroy that name, which is worth more than all his factories.

Also, when he puts millions into building up a name, you know that he must have a name that is WORTH something and that is based on honesty.

You realize the importance of having the right name attached to your clothing when you read that fifty millions of ready-made clothing for men and women is ruined every year when sent to the cleaners because seams in the clothing are glued together instead of being sewn. And the buttons are made of material that melts and disappears under steam heat.

LOOK FOR THE NAME. A good name, well known, well established. When you find it you will know that you have found something worth buying.

IT gives us a good deal of satisfaction to know that a great editor endorses the service that we've been rendering for years.

We feature the name Hart Schaffner & Marx and Michaels-Stern because they stand for more in clothing than any names that we know of.

They mean finest all-wool fabrics, expert needlework, smart authentic style.

You know what you're getting; we know what we're selling—it's fine for both of us.

With our new men's department about completed and new spring clothing and furnishings coming in every day we are prepared to give the men of the Twin Falls country the finest assortments for every purpose that the big store has ever shown. This department is built for every man, the man who lives in the country and the man who lives in town. With each article you buy goes two guarantees: First, quality for quality we will never be undersold; and secondly, "If it isn't right bring it back."

Detweiler's Special Coal Sale

To dispose of an over-supply of Egg Coal at $9.00 per ton, 10th, 11th and 12th of March, as we are moving into our new quarters one block south on the same street on March 12th.

Now, this is NOT a Harvest Sale; NOT a Stupendous Sale; NOT an Inventory Sale; NOT a Fire Sale; NOT a Gigantic Sale;

NOT a Cut Price Sale to call back our old customers that have quit us

If we were selling the best coal in the West for a number of years and would now have to cut our price below the prices that inferior coal is selling, for we would think there must be something wrong with us or the coal. The Book to Wellville says there is a reason.

One other matter we wish to call your attention to. We see small nut advertised. We don't change the name of our nut to fool our customers. Our nut is still nut like it always was. These same dealers were talking themselves hoarse all winter telling you that our nut was pea coal, but it seems that very few believed it. They know "nuts" when they see them. It would be well to compare this small nut with our nut. When nut gets down to the size of a hazel-nut or a peanut, you can't pass it off as a first-class nut only to the inexperienced. However, you can't say it's not small nut. This is quite a nutty problem, but it must be solved.

Alhson Reports Ladino Winning Favor with Idaho Farmers; State Tests Offer Help

The Idaho State Ladino Seed Growers' association, of which M. A. Thomsen, Twin Falls, is president and George H. Johnson, Piler, is secretary, reports that a large quantity of Ladino clover seed is being planted for livestock and poultry pasture according to C. H. Alhson, state seed commissioner, who spent Friday evening and Saturday in Twin Falls meeting with the Ladino seed growers and checking over the various lots of seed held for sale by the seed dealers.

Commenting in regard to Ladino seed, Mr. Alhson said: "Ladino clover is more than any other variety. Where alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover and alsike are found in the same field Ladino will be found growing, setting the other varieties in relief. The carrying capacity, according to all reports, is greater than that of the average pasture and Ladino promises to be a leading pasture crop for the dairy farms."

"Country producers are using it for green feed in the poultry lots. It makes continuous growth throughout the season with the application of water."

"It has come to the attention of the commissioner that the seed growers generally are realizing more than ever before the value of purchasing and planting only high quality state tested seed. A 25 per cent test of any lot of seed is excellent, but the five-tenths of one per cent (50) may contain enough noxious weed seed to make the lot unsuitable for sowing in a clover, well prepared seed bed. Red clover, alfalfa seed, mustard, etc., per pound cannot be sold in Idaho for sowing purposes. The majority of growers are demanding seed free from noxious weeds and they satisfy themselves by observing the data on the state seed analysis report which lists all kinds of weeds found in any sample."

"Others draw a two ounce sample representative of the lot and send it to the state seed laboratory at Boise for analysis. The laboratory reports show that only 20 per cent of the seed in the state tested during the past year failed to pass the seed law requirements. In 1921 a total of 51 per cent of the samples were condemned."

"During the past three years Idaho has won $2 per cent of all the premium money offered in the small seed shows at the International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago in world competition. Twin Falls county has been the principal winner and has always taken first place on red clover and alsike clover classes."

"In regard to seed law requirements Mr. Alhson points out that individuals who sell to their neighbors seed which does not meet the state seed law requirements are at fault in prosecution as the dealers who sell seed of inferior quality. 'This feature,' Mr. Alhson said, 'must know the grade of his seed before selling for sowing purposes. A test costs nothing and puts him in the clear.'"

MOTHER CONFESSES TO SMOTHERING HER CHILD

Wife and Young Husband, College Student at Tacoma, Held in Maine on Charges of Manslaughter

PORTLAND, Maine, March 8 (AP)—Mrs. Nettie MacLean of Tacoma, Washington, has admitted that she killed her infant daughter by smothering the child with a pillow at a hotel in Brunswick on the morning of February 28. County Attorney Clement F. Johnson announced here tonight. Mrs. MacLean and her husband, Kenneth Ross MacLean of Tacoma, Bowdoin college sophomore, are held on charges of manslaughter.

The admission, the county attorney said, was made to Mrs. Hubert Read of the state board of charities and correction, and to others. According to the county attorney's statement, Mrs. MacLean said she later buried the child's body in the snow but afterwards realized it, changed its wet clothing for dry, and carried it in her arms from Brunswick to Portland, 25 miles.

BURLEY MEETS RUPERT MONDAY FOR THE TITLE

Tourney to Go One More Game; Flier Eliminated by Albion; Final Session on Schedule for Championship

SATURDAY RESULTS AT DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

Afternoon Games.
Rupert 15, Burley 19.
Flier 23, Albion 22.
Evening Game.
Burley 20, Albion 15.

ALBION, March 8.—(Special to The News).—Another game was held today to determine the championship of the Idaho south central district basketball tourney, so evenly matched were the teams in Saturday's session which closed with Burley and Rupert tied with one defeat each, for the championship.

Saturday afternoon the session started with Burley and Rupert meeting for the second time of the tournament before a large crowd. Bateman led the way for the Burleyites with a sensational attack while the Rupert honors were divided between MacKillop, Stone and Berger. At the end of the playing time the contest was no closer than 15-13, the result of a tie in the last period of five minutes two baskets for Burley put the red and gray in the lead.

The other afternoon game was a decided upset of the dope. Saturday morning the games were delayed until it was decided that Flier should play Albion instead of Rupert as previously scheduled. The upset was due to the cause of the arrangement which had formerly placed winners against winners.

Flier Eliminated.
The Albion quintet, which has been playing above their "head" throughout the meet, played Flier with the winning score of 28-25 in the first game of the session. This eliminated Flier from the going and left Albion pitted against Burley for the evening session.

Every Game Well Attended.
The largest crowd of the tournament packed the gymnasium Saturday evening for the Albion-Burley game and the well coached quintet of Glendora, Burley's mentor, found no trouble in trimming the Albion five. This eliminated Albion and left Rupert and Burley still in the going, by a 21-15 count.

Rupert having previously beaten the red and gray, 11-13, in Friday's session, and having been beaten by the same team today, must again play Monday evening with the Burley team to decide the closest championship the district has seen for many years.

Financial Good.
The financial situation at the tournament is very gratifying, $645 having been taken in at the tourney so far with every evidence of a record crowd Monday evening. This sum will go a long way toward providing the expenses of the trip for the eight teams.

SOUTHWESTERN TOURNEY WON BY BOISE PLAYERS

BOISE, March 8.—Boise high school, undefeated in the southwestern Idaho conference tournament, defeated the Caldwell high school quintet Saturday night, winning the conference title and the right to represent the district in the state contest at Moscow, March 14 and 15. Caldwell played its way into the finals Saturday night by defeating the Nampa high school, 41 to 31, in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon. The tournament closed Saturday night.

PRESENT $10,000 CHECK FOR PERMIT FOR BATTLE

CUMBERLAND, Rhode Island, March 8.—A certified check for $10,000, the fee demanded by the Cumberland town council for a license for a Dempsey-Wills championship boxing match at Cumberland Hill in July, was presented today by promoter, Harry S. Greener, and accepted by the town council. The town council, however, refused to issue the license until an agreement protecting the town's interests had been signed by the promoters and acting President R. H. Eastwood of the town council. Judge Advocate J. J. McGuire of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said such an agreement would be signed as soon as drawn.

BUHL GIRLS BEAT PARMA

PARMA, March 8 (Special to The News).—The Buhl Coeds nipped out the Parma team in an extremely close game Saturday evening by a score of 25-23. Both teams played a tremendous game throughout. The work of Miss Cox star forward, of Buhl, predominated in the victory. Parma was beaten through out the contest.

LOCALS BEATEN AT IDAHO FALLS

Fast Pace Too Much for Twin Falls Bowlers Who Drop Three Straight Games

IDAHO FALLS, March 8. (Special to The News).—The Twin Falls bowlers posted a bitter defeat at the hands of the local team here tonight in a tournament which resulted in a three-game victory for the home team with a 2748 to 2381 total.

Karr was the predominating star of the meet with a total of 617 for the three games, all of which were above the 200 mark. The low man on the home team rolled 497 and the highest on the visitors' squad was lucky to get 513.

Two weeks from tonight the local team will travel to Twin Falls for a return game.

A large crowd attended the games and immediately after the tournament a splendid banquet was given by the Twin Falls bowlers by about 125 bowling enthusiasts of the Idaho Falls League.

The strange alleys and long trip account somewhat for the comparatively poor showing made by the Twin Falls quintet, who are confident that they will be able to even up matters some when they meet the eastern team on their own alleys.

Team totals give Idaho Falls 183 and Twin Falls 158 with a difference of 267 in the total pin standing.

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

SPRING COLORS

SPRING is the season of freshness, of gaiety, of brightness. New fashions are most appealing and some of the colors that emphasize the beauty and smartness of the mode are listed below.

Black

—alone, or with touches of white continues a fashion favorite. Lustrous black silks add to fashions slenderness, touched up by a few pearls, a garland or a bit of trimming.

Navy Blue

—is important for frocks of twill, for the smart three quarter length coat, or the costume suit. The severe tailor is very practical and smart, of navy blue.

Brickdust

One of the new red tones which is blazing its way down the Fashion highway. Popular for sports frocks, particularly. It's almost the shade of brick, a bit lighter.

Porcelain

A soft blue, somewhat like the old Dresden blue, with a bit of a greenish cast. Lovely enough and bright enough to receive a smart welcome by many women this Spring.

Artichoke

A new shade of green which is receiving rapid recognition. It is darker than the almond green which is a carry-over from last season, lighter than moss green. Sports dresses and frocks for informal wear in this shade are very popular.

Oriental Red

Reds are among Fashion's favorites this Spring, and Oriental Red, a lovely dull Chinese red—a cross between lagoon and brilliant Chinese red—top the list.

Oxford

Dark oxford grays, in covert cloth or men's suitings are going very strong for the masculine tailor. Becoming to many women.

Pins bring good luck they say. Well, we're not so sure about all pins but the new pin stripe materials that the new tailored suits are made of will certainly bring fortune in some form to the women that wear them.

Lace has ever been a clever weapon of the feminine world. Somehow lace always plays on the sympathies and romantic tendencies of the masculine world. This Spring lace is used alluringly in charming new ways on the smartest frocks. Here's your chance girls.

On With the Spring Play In which Fashion Details Take their Cues

The stage is all set. The scenery is ready. Rehearsals have been going on for months. And when the first Spring day dawns, Miss Fashion, in the role of leading lady, will open in the Spring Play. Spring style details are awaiting their cues.

Realizing the importance of adopting the right fabrics to the right colors, and to the right silhouette, we know you will be doubly interested in this Play.

The Three S's

Short, Straight, Slender—Shorter skirts, straight effects, long slender lines, they are still the predominant style tendencies. And whether applied to coats, suits, dresses or wraps, the smartest line is the straight line between two points.

Cape Effects

Short flary capelets on spring suits and frocks, detachable capes on two-piece costumes, cape collars and long cape effects on swagger sports costumes—all evidence the popularity and becomingness of the cape adjunct for Spring.

Three-Quarter Lengths

sponsored by Paris for several seasons, popularized by American designers this season. The fashion right coat length of the season, whether for topcoat, sports coat, dress coat or costume suit coat hovers around the three-quarter and seven-eighths lengths.

Scarf Treatments

Since the line is the straight line, there must be some care-free adjunct to relieve its severity, and scarfs are among the most becoming and smartest of these smart treatments. Scarf collars, separate or detachable, play a most important role in this popular Spring Play.

When Spring taps at our doors and rouses us from our winter slumberings, she brings all sorts of vegetables, sequins, buds and the like to help intrigue us. Novelty spring buttons boast of all these—and more too. Jeweled sequins, buttons of ocean pearl hand decorated, imported glass buttons with enamel trimmings are just a few of these novelty button notes.

"On again, off again," say the tricky little capes that swing capriciously on the smartest of Spring frocks. They are indeed but victims of feminine whims for they easily snap on and easily snap off.

Mannish suits, English broadcloth shirts, and now what next? Tailored nighties with pleated inset bosoms just like shirts. It is hard to believe but it's true and really they are ever so smart with their sports collar and tiny row of buttons down the front.

Zer is without doubt a race hero but who would ever have thought that he'd win out in the race of Spring fashions. Zer is the name of a new street oxford with perforated decorations and side lacing. Three cheers for Zer.

"History repeats itself" just as truly in the fashion world as any place else. All the lovely old fashioned flower gardens that knew so much romance in the days of our grandmothers will live again this Spring in exquisite colors of the new Cotton Fabrics.

To be four sided may be square, or may be rectangular, but for our umbrella to be four sided is to be smart, indeed. Palm Beach boasted of these novel adjuncts—umbrellas that were four sided affairs of tie-dyed silk, whose shank extended from the end of one rib. This handle was ornated with a spider-web.

SPRING FABRICS

SPRING has her fabrics as well as her colors and silhouettes, and when you are choosing your new spring frock, suit, wrap or coat, here is a guide to go by.

Jacquard Twill

The twill family still asserts its style importance. And chief among the new twills for Spring is jacquard twill, a twill with an elaborate design woven on the Jacquard loom.

Covert Charmeen

Covert weaves are very important for suits and dresses. Covert charmeen is particularly new and good, a medium weight fabric a cross between twill and covert.

Bouchette

Knitted fabrics have leaped into style prominence the past two seasons. And smartest of all knitted fabrics for Spring is Bouchette, a knitted fabric which gives a loop stitch effect—very much like turkish toweling only much finer.

Kasha

This fabric still retains its fashion prestige for informal frocks and suits and for capes. It is a fabric something like rough, coarse cashmere.

Charmeen

The satin family has already proved its popularity. Charmeen, a member of this brilliant family, is a light weight, rich looking soft satin with a dull back.

Alpaca

may belong to many families. Some of it is rough and wiry. Some sleek and smooth. But most of all does it resemble mohair. Important for sports and street dresses and for suits.

Bengaline

Bibbed and corded silks are surging to the fore. And Bengaline fashions many a smart garment this season. It is a corded silk, similar to silk Poplin, but a little heavier.

History repeats itself they say and who cares as long as Time digs up the romance of the past. This Spring you will see women of fashion blossoming forth in old fashioned silks that lend color and pliancy to their new Spring frocks.

Ring out style bells and let all our housewives know that the bell sleeve of elbow length is the very smartest sleeve for the new Spring house frocks.

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MAKAY

My husband hates to be disturbed during office hours.

He doesn't seem a bit glad to hear my voice when I phone. "Oh, hello," he says. "Now, listen, dear, I haven't much time to talk—"

He seems to feel that there's something sacred about "office hours." "Don't bother me if you can help it," he keeps telling me "during office hours."

But I never can tell just when these mysterious hours begin and when they end.

Some days when I phone him at 12 o'clock I'm told he's out for lunch. And when I call again at 2 o'clock, he's still "out for lunch."

But whenever I ask him to attend to something for me some day at lunch time he can't possibly do it—because he has to get right back to the office.

As far as I can see office hours are times when a man can't do anything that he doesn't want to—and can do anything that he does!

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The house adjourned late today without reaching a final vote on the Shoals Shoals Bill.

This amendment, the first of importance to be approved, was voted with the consent of Mr. McKee. All other amendments proposed to change radically the terms of the proposed flood contract were rejected.

POSTMEN'S PAY

Of all classes of workers asking for wage increases, postal employees, at least, seem to the average citizen to be wholly deserving. It is pointed out that in a forty-year period of postal service living costs were at one time doubled, at another almost tripled and that now they remain far out of proportion to the advances the postal workers have secured.

A bill recently introduced in Congress provides increases of a few hundred dollars to the present wage scales.

The raises are obviously justified and are actually essential to the maintenance of the efficiency of the postal service. With all their loyalty to the service—and it has been, very high—postal employees cannot go on forever without enough pay to support and educate their families and to provide for health and recreation.

The annual deficit of the Postoffice Department is small and is being reduced. It is believed that the pay rates in question could be increased without augmenting that deficit much. Parcel post rates are very low. By a special additional charge of two cents a package a yield of fifty million dollars a year could be secured. Or by increasing the rate per pound on that class of mail by a moderate amount all the money necessary for raising postal workers' pay could be raised.

The postman serves the public in a particularly intimate and friendly way. The loss of his daily visits would make a much bigger hole in the average citizen's life than the bitter realities. The problem of the postman's pay should arouse general public interest and sympathy.

DR. JACK
by DADDY

CHAPTER I.

A Call for the doctor.

JACK and Janet were playing doctor.

Jack was the nurse and Janet the doctor.

After Jack had visited all the dolls and cured them of measles and whooping cough and scarlet fever and bad colds, he looked around for other patients.

"I'd like to give pills to really alive sick folks," he said.

"And I'd like to cure really alive sick folks, too," added Janet.

Out in the stable Trixie, the pony, sniffed his oats too fast. Some of the oats went down the wrong way, and Trixie coughed. Jack heard the cough.

"Ah, ha! Trixie has a cold," cried he. "I'll be his doctor and give him pills."

"What kind of pills will you give him?" asked Janet. "Bitter pills?"

"Yes, Jack decided he would give Trixie bitter pills. He made some bitter pills out of salt and flour and pepper and water all mixed together. These put in a few pills and started out to visit Trixie.

"How do you do, Trixie," said Jack. "I heard you-cough. You have a very bad cough, indeed. You need a doctor. I am a doctor and so I'll give you pills to take."

"Nay! I haven't any cough," protested Trixie. "I don't want to take any pills."

"You must take them," said Jack. "I am your doctor and I order you to take them."

"And I am your nurse, and I will make you take them. Open your mouth."

Trixie was an obedient pony, and opened his mouth wide. Janet popped in one of the pills made of salt and pepper and flour and water.

My, what a face Trixie made when he tasted that awful pill. He dropped the pill out of his mouth in a hurry.

"Nay! Nay! That's a bad, bitter pill," said he.

"Bitter pills are good for you," said Janet.

"Sweet pills are better," said Trixie. "I'll not take any more pills unless they are sweet pills."

Jack was much disturbed when Trixie said he would not take any more pills. But he cheered up when Trixie spoke of sweet pills. It was just as easy to make sweet pills as bitter pills.

Jack ran back into the house and got half a dozen lumps of sugar. These he chopped up into round pills. He put them in his valise and ran out to the stable.

"Open your mouth!" he ordered Trixie. The pony was cautious. He did not want another bitter pill.

But finally Trixie opened his mouth part way. Jack popped in a sugar pill. The instant Trixie tasted that sugar pill he opened his mouth wide.

"More! More!" he cried. "Give me more pills."

Jack threw two more into his mouth, and Trixie eagerly swallowed them down.

"More! More!" demanded Trixie. But Jack was closing his valise. "No more," he said. "Two is enough."

At that sly Trixie began a great coughing, as though she had a terrible cold. "More! More!" he urged, as Jack had to give him more sugar pills to keep him quiet.

Jack thought he would have to give all his pills to Trixie when there came a cry from outside. Hoppy Hop had dashed into the yard.

"Doctor, doctor," he cried. "Lonesome Bear is grunting and moaning and needs a doctor right away. Where shall we find a doctor?"

"I am a doctor," cried Jack. "I'll go to Lonesome Bear at once."

(How Jack plays doctor to Lonesome Bear will be told in tomorrow's chapter.)

Through a friend of the former Miss Christopherman here the police discovered that the woman had met Frank while she was working as a maid at the Hotel Whitcomb. A Better Way To Treat All Croupy Colds

An External Treatment That Replaces Internal Dosing. Nothing To Swallow—You Rub It On

Today millions of modern mothers treat croup and children's cold troubles by the vapor method.

They use Vicks, the vaporizing salve, because it is externally applied. There's no dosing to upset a delicate little stomach.

When rubbed on over throat and chest Vicks acts like a liniment or plaster. At the same time, the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are inhaled directly into the affected air-passages.

For spasmodic croup, you rub Vicks well in over throat and chest until the difficult breathing is relieved, then spread on thickly and cover with a warm flannel cloth. An application at bedtime will prevent most night attacks.

Vicks is just as good, of course, for the other cold troubles of children and also for adults.

BEAN GROWERS DIVIDE PROFITS OF 1923 CROP

Association's Final Settlement
Completes Distribution of
About $440,000 Among 175
Producer-Members

Payment to about 175 growers who are members of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association of approximately $440,000, the 1923 bean crop was completed at a business meeting of the association held in Parish hall here Saturday, following a banquet given at the Hotel Perrine in about 100 members and several invited guests.

Payment to the grower members was made in three installments, the final settlement being made Saturday.

The settlement was made on the basis of records showing the sale through the association of approximately 8,022,000 pounds of beans at an average price slightly in excess of 5.5 cents per pound, as compared with price of 4.7 cents per pound received by growers in previous years.

Accountants are now completing a statement of the association's operations of the past year. It was announced that this statement will show comparative figures relative to volume of beans handled and price paid last season and previous seasons.

Conform to New Law.
Association members at the meeting here adopted measures to bring the organization into conformity with requirements of Idaho's cooperative marketing law which was enacted subsequent to the organization of the association.

Gusley Finze, Buhl, was granted the privilege of the floor to urge development of the bean industry in this region and to report that about two-thirds of the amount of bean required to complete organization of the county-wide farmers' association is represented by membership contracts signed up to the present time.

F. E. Chamberlain presided over the association's business session.

Banker Praeger Association.
A. Herman Johnson, of the First National bank, and C. D. Dawles of the Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery company, were the speakers at the banquet of the bean growers' association at the Perrine hotel at noon.

The banquet was attended by upwards of 100 growers and lasted for nearly two hours. The entertainers who acted materially to the pleasure of the affair and enabled all present to enjoy with added zest the banquet spread provided.

Mr. Johnson discussed the matter of co-operation from the standpoint of the banker, warning his hearers against being led astray by selfish interests seeking only their own end and encouraging the growers to continue along their present lines, in a businesslike way, with clean, conservative management at every stage of the movement. The bean growers' association, he declared, was by far the most successful association of the kind within the history of the county. It was warmly applauded upon conclusion.

Mr. Dawles introduced a comparatively new idea in connection with co-operation when he pointed out that successful cooperative beans growing did not necessarily mean a higher cost to the ultimate consumer, but greater percentage of every dollar spent for beans for the growers of the grower. He also declared that association beans were more readily marketable than the product of the individual grower and that the assistance he could offer his members of such an organization was an advantage to the industry not enjoyed by non-members. He, too, was warmly applauded.

Mr. L. H. Griffin acted as toastmaster and chairman. Following the banquet, adjournment was taken for the afternoon meeting.

Scouts Lend Hand at Shoshone Falls

Boys Set Out 144 Trees in Co-operation with Plans for Beautifying Grounds

Twin Falls boy scouts took a hand Saturday in beautification of grounds about Shoshone Falls, co-operating with P. J. Adams, Omaha, owner of the premises, in plans for developing possibilities of the mighty waterfall and its surroundings as an important asset to this region.

Under supervision of James A. Waters, Twin Falls pioneer horticulturist, 30 scouts made short shrift of their task of setting out 144 trees along water-courses on the south slope of the canyon where natural advantages will make for sturdy and uninterrupted growth of the trees. Mr. Adams arrived on the scene soon after the work had been completed and the lands were engaged in a series of tests under direction of their troop leaders. The expressed pleasure over the scouts' part in the undertaking, which had been suggested by Mr. Waters following Mr. Adams' visit here last year.

Trees set out by the scouts included 25 large and 23 small cork oaks, 27 silver poplars, three pussy willows, two globe locusts, 39 black locusts and 25 junipers.
