RIGHT OF WAY FOR NEW ROAD OFFERS CHECK

Misunderstanding with Respect to Utah Construction Company Lands Presents Temporary Obstacle to Plans

As a result of a visit to Twin Falls Sunday by H. V. Platt, general manager of the Oregon Short Line, and W. R. Armstrong, chief engineer, the right of way through the land of the Utah Construction company properties will be provided by the people of the various towns along the line rather than by the Oregon Short Line.

This statement was made by Mr. Platt to M. J. Sweeney and J. S. Keel during a two hours conference held aboard Mr. Platt's car. On Monday afternoon a meeting of the local committee was held to consider the situation in its new aspect.

The question of the securing of right of way through the Utah Construction company property was taken up by the committee with Chief Engineer Armstrong some ten days ago at which time it was understood by the committee that the negotiations for the necessary land would be taken up by the railroad with the public assisting in any way possible, this assistance to go to the extent of possibly helping to defray a part of the expense if this should prove excessive in the same sense as the securing of right of way by the committee through the Idaho lands, involving an expense of less than $500.00.

Present Price Too High
The price placed by the Utah Construction company upon the necessary right of way through the Nevada ranch properties is just under $61,000.00, which price was obtained by the local committee from the company some three weeks ago. The amount was regarded as excessive and the Oregon Short Line was advised of the fact. Following this statement to the railroad by the committee a message which was accepted as meaning that the Short Line would relieve the committee of further responsibility in the matter was received here. It now appears that this latter message either was misinterpreted or not authorized in the form in which it was given, and that the local committee, so far from being released from the obligation of securing the right of way, is definitely expected to do so.

Claim Success for Industrial Unity as War Preventive

Finance Reserve Officers Are Told of Value of Organizing Business as Guarantee Against Battles

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10 (AP)—The whole question of America's industrial mobilization, "not as a preparation for war, but as a guarantee against war," was discussed here tonight at a meeting between Brigadier General S. H. Wolfe of New York, a finance reserve officer, and other finance reserve officers in the ninth corps area.

The mobilization, General Wolfe told the meeting, already involved $500,000,000 of establishments throughout the country who had entered actively into the campaign of the finance reserve corps of the army to "check profiteering and prevent any return of conditions which allowed shirkers to get high wages while drafted men worked for army pay.

"We desire to organize the industries of the country so that we will be in a position to mobilize them as the man-power of the country is mobilized," General Wolfe told the meeting. "The war department means to prevent the scandals of the old 'cost plus' system by having four standard contracts to meet the various needs of the several procurement branches of the army, which are quartermaster, ordnance, engineering, medical, air, signal corps and chemical warfare."

Recommend Against Insistence on Identities of Men Charged with Graft; Suggest Two Courses for Official Action

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The house was advised today by its judiciary committee to make no further effort, at least for the present, to ascertain from the department of justice the names of the two representatives against whom criminal evidence is said to have been developed before a Chicago grand jury.

A report from the committee containing this recommendation was submitted, but action by the house on it was deferred. It was indicated that when the committee report comes up for approval some of the democratic members may urge that the house insist on having Attorney-General Daugherty disclose the names.

The judiciary committee was instructed to determine on a course of procedure when the house was notified Saturday by Mr. Daugherty, in response to a resolution directing him to make public the names of the men he was unwilling to do so until convinced of the guilt of the accused.

Two Ways Open
Under the reply of the attorney-general, said the committee report, "there is but one of two courses open to the house of representatives."
"A. The house take full charge of the investigation and evidence of the alleged charges and relieve the department of justice from further responsibility.
"B. Allow the department of justice to continue the investigation now being made.

Opinions Differed

WILL START ON NEW BONUS BILL

Adopt Definition of Veterans Entitled to Compensation; Talk Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The same definition of veterans entitled to a soldier bonus as was carried in the bill passed last session was agreed upon today by a sub-committee of the house ways and means committee in drafting the new measure.

Work will be started tomorrow on framing the paid up life insurance provision which forms the basis of the new bill.

Under the definitions agreed upon men and women who served in either the military or naval forces at any time after April 5, 1917, and before November 12, 1918, would be eligible to the bonus. The committee previously had agreed to exclude from the benefits of the bill officers who ranked above captain in the army and marine corps, and senior lieutenant in the navy.

Framing of the insurance provision of the bill is expected to entail considerable study by the sub-committee. Several provisions have been presented, including proposals for endorsement policies running from 20 to 30 years. The basis on which their values would be figured, however, is problematic. The old bill provided for an adjusted service credit of $1 for each day of home service and $1.25 for overseas service.

REPUBLICANS TO NAME DELEGATION AT RALLY

Call for County Committee Meeting Includes Invitation to All Members of Party to Participate

General invitation to all republicans to participate in the selection of Twin Falls county's delegation to the state convention at Lewiston March 25, to be held in Cleveland, the national convention in Cleveland next June, is included in a call issued Monday by Chairman Frank L. Stephan for a meeting of the republican county committee to be held at 2:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon in the Parish hall here.

Six delegates are to be elected to represent Twin Falls county in the Lewiston convention.

Hamon's Daughter Goes to Senate to Deny Allegations

Girl, Age 16, Will Protest Innocence of Her Father Before U. S. Lawmakers

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—Olive Belle Hamon, 16, daughter of the late "Jake" Hamon, wealthy oil man and republican leader, ran away to Washington today in an attempt to persuade the United States senate to allow her to enter a denial to charges that her father had conspired to arrange a corrupt political deal with Major General Leonard Wood.

"Mother dear," a note to her mother said, "I've gone to tell the senate about Daddy. I think he'd like me to."

DENBY, OUSTED, TAKES PLACE IN RESERVE CORPS

Many Friends Manifest Loyalty as Naval Chief Surrenders His Portfolio; Roosevelt in Charge of Affairs

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Edwin Denby surrendered his navy portfolio today but retained a connection with the naval establishment of which he has been the chief for three years. When he left the secretary's office late in the day he was again Major Denby, fourth class, marine corps service, with a renewed pledge of loyalty to the flag on his lips.

"You see they cannot force me entirely out of the navy," Mr. Denby said smilingly. "I am still on the payroll. I draw $1 a month."

Departmental affairs were turned over to Acting Secretary Roosevelt until such time as Mr. Denby's successor is nominated and confirmed. There was nothing to indicate that President Coolidge had as yet determined definitely upon a man for the post.

Goes to Detroit
The former secretary will leave for his home in Detroit Wednesday afternoon, returning to Washington about March 20.

A home-coming reception awaits him as evidence of the confidence of his fellow townsmen. Detroit will see to it, however, to make that home-coming more striking than was the farewell extended to him today by commissioned and civil personnel of the navy department.

Mr. Denby began his last day in office with flags draped about the big room, his desk laden with flowers wishing him bon voyage on behalf of "comrades of the navy and marine corps on duty in Washington" and with high officers of the department gathered to witness his commencing in the marine reserve. He held the rank of major when selected by President Harding to fill the cabinet post.

Repeats Oath
Standing beside his desk Mr. Denby repeated in solemn tones the oath administered by Major General Lejeune, commander of the marine corps, and which reunited him with the service in which he had spent the war years.

"As the general and the re-commissioned reserve officer shook hands, the Marine band in the street outside played "Semper Paratus," the always faithful march of the marine corps.

After that came a seemingly endless round of hand-shaking. Officers and clerks by the hundred passed through the secretary's office to shake hands with their departing chief. Members of the Marine band also were greeted, and Captain Santelmann, director of the band, exclaimed as he grasped Mr. Denby's hand, "Once a marine, always a marine."

Expresses Feelings
At his last conference with the newspapermen who have been daily in touch with him during his cabinet years, Mr. Denby took occasion to express his feelings as to that relationship.

"I would like to express my personal feelings about the press and the men of the press," he said. "I just want to say that during my three years as secretary of the navy I have not at any time had the slightest suspicion of betrayal of office. I have nothing but the deepest appreciation and friendship for the men of the press."

Asked for some final statement Mr. Denby said: "After three years at the very nerve center of the navy and after some 30 years of more or less union with the navy, my respect, my confidence and my admiration are greater than ever before. I have been where all the moonshiners, all the self-seeking would have been apparent, but I can say that I have never seen a body of men more wholly devoted to the country."

Mr. Denby called on President Coolidge during the day to take his official leave. He spent the afternoon in his office, however, winding up the last affairs that needed his signature as secretary, and it was after five o'clock before he left the department with his work as secretary of the navy at an end.

HOUSE REJECTS PLAN OF ACTION ON TAX REVISE

Turn Down Move to Get Immediate Action on Income Rate Reductions; Ask Mellon to Submit Revenue Figures

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The movement to obtain immediate action on the proposed 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year was revived in the house today, but as quickly turned down. Republican leaders decided that action could not be obtained on a resolution before March 15 when first installments are due.

Republican members of the ways and means committee meeting with Representative Longworth, party leader, agreed, however, that if the revenue bill, already passed by the house and containing this provision, meets with any delay in enactment, a separate resolution to make the cut effective before June 15 would be passed.

The action again places in the hands of the senate the problem of tax reduction, and the senate finance committee in its consideration of the revenue bill will now take up the section which provides for the cut in 1923 income taxes.

Want Mellon Figures
The great of the administrative sections of the bill were gone over today without change by the committee. Upon acquiring these details of the measure the various tax schedules will be taken up. Secretary Mellon will be asked to present estimates on the amount of revenue necessary to be raised and his opinion on the rates required to obtain such revenue. Chairman Smoot has expressed the opinion that the bill as passed by the house fails by $100,000,000 of raising sufficient revenue and has declared many of the tax rates will have to be raised.

Representative Chindblom, of Illinois, a republican member of the ways and means committee, introduced a resolution today to make the 25 per cent reduction on 1923 taxes effective immediately. Representative Mills of New York and Tilson of Connecticut, republicans on the committee, again urged action on the proposal, but the meeting of the majority members of the committee decided the legislative jam in the house would not permit action in time to allow tax-payers to make the cuts in the first installments. If the provision is finally agreed to as carried in the revenue bill, deductions in taxes due in the other three installments will be allowed to make up for the full payments made at this time.

Utah Governor Finds Heart-rendering Circumstances at Castlegate and Urges Help

SALT LAKE, March 10 (AP)—Returning from Castle Gate, Utah, where 17 miners were entombed by an explosion Saturday morning, Governor Charles R. Mabey of Utah tonight issued the following statement:

"With a desire to be helpful in whatever manner possible, I visited the scene of the explosion at Castle Gate Utah, where 17 miners lost their lives. Actuated by a profound sympathy which I feel has been aroused throughout the nation, I have preferred every facility of the state government to those in distress.

"A heartrending condition prevails as a result of the disaster. More than 150 women have been widowed and upwards of 500 children left fatherless. A large proportion of these face the

Those Pearly Smiles

Do what they do—millions of them
Fight the dingy film on teeth

There is a way to whiter teeth, to greater beauty, sweeter smiles. You know that if you look about. Millions are using a new way of teeth cleaning. They combat the film, which other millions leave. Go now to your dealer and ask for a free test of this new-day method.

Most teeth are unclean
Most teeth are coated more or less by film. You feel it now—that viscous coat. Leave it, and it soon discolors, forming dingy coats. That is how teeth lose luster.
No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it. So well-brushed teeth may suffer.
Film causes most tooth troubles. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

A serious matter
Film is a serious matter. So dental science has long sought for ways to fight it. Two have been found. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.
Many careful tests have proved these methods effective. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Protect the Enamel
Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

PROVISION FOR FARM AID CASH MEETS DEFEAT

Senate Rejects Proposed Appropriation for Financing Fertilizer Buying; Political Views Are Presented

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—In the first record vote of the session on a farm relief measure the senate today defeated, 34 to 28, the proposed appropriation of $5,000,000 to be used in financing fertilizer purchases.

Party lines were not discernible in the result, southern democrats and eastern republicans joining in opposition to the proposal which was denounced as "communistic in theory" and entailing an unwarranted intrusion of the government into an already highly competitive business.

The appropriation was proposed as an amendment, offered by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, to the Norbeck-Burness bill which would appropriate $75,000,000 to finance diversification of crops among "one-crop" farmers. Objections made to the Harris amendment were laid also against the parent measure.

The Norbeck-Burness bill was still the unfinished business of the senate when adjournment was taken.

Much Opposition
Opposition to the fertilizer item was voiced from both sides of the chamber on the ground that it was unconstitutional. Democratic senators generally also referred at the same time to the Fordney-McCumber tariff, which they asserted was responsible for the existing agrarian situation. Practically every senator on the floor participated in the debate.

Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, declared the amendment was an attempt to put the government in a new line of business and predicted it would fail to prove of any value. He raised the same objection to the Norbeck-Burness bill itself.

"There is one way we can help the farmers," he continued. "That is by removing the tariff wall behind which every large industry robs and battens upon his purse. Senators who now urge aid for the farmers include among who have assisted in placing a tax upon everything he buys and at the same time refusing him the slight protection of foreign competition in that market. That tariff tax is unconstitutional and would be so declared if its purpose were written on its face."

Railston Agrees
Senator Railston, democrat, Indiana, said he agreed with the arguments against the Norbeck-Burness bill and the Harris amendment, but would vote farthest "in the name of humanity." As a member of the agriculture committee, he said, he had been impressed by the evidence of the "deplorable situation of the northwest wheat farmer." The Indiana senator rebuffed the contention that the bill was unconstitutional.

"This bill runs counter to my political convictions," he said, "but I can not help remembering that the same senators now opposing it failed to speak against the present tariff which certainly constitutes special aid for special interests."

Opposes Policy
Senator Dial, democrat, South Carolina, said he opposed in principle the policy of government aid for special sections, but he was recorded in the affirmative on the Harris amendment. His statement that the legislature of South Carolina had approved the amendment was repeated later by Senator Reed, who said it might better be stated "that a few imbeciles approved it."

"I am sorry that the senator from Missouri saw fit to make such an uncalculated reference to the legislature of my state," Senator Dial said. Destruction of the fertilizer business was predicted by Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, should the government enter the business. He denied there was any necessity for such a step, declaring that "a surplus of nitrates is either in the United States or enroute and there has been no gouging in the selling price."

BETTER HEALTH SERVICE

Public Health Is Public Wealth

Issued by the Public Health League of Idaho

CONQUERING CONSTIPATION.

It is estimated that the American people pay $20,000,000 annually for cathartics and pills to cure constipation. Probably a product of body in difference, of our rush and hurry in life, of too little attention to food. Some one has said that we eat with our "eyes" and choose foods because of their color scheme rather than from nutritive values.

Yet constipation, with a little judgment and a little work, can be eliminated. A safe method in avoidance of this condition may be stated in three headings: 1, Habit; 2, Diet; 3, Exercise.

By the first, habit, is meant the practice of having a certain time for elimination. This is to a great extent an individual matter. But the bowels can be regulated by persistent effort until a certain time is established and a habit of health is made.

The second thing to be concerned in constipation is to be avoided, is the diet. The meal should contain a fibrous residue, vegetable in origin. The past we have been taught that the diet was complete when carbohydrates, proteins, fat and mineral salts have been digested. Then came Dr. McCollum, with his vast experiments on 20,000 rats at John Hopkins university, and found the value of what we know as vitamins. Improper swinging movement of the body. A "daily dozen" each a minute man for health—will work wonders in your general condition and aid in driving constipation from your system in a natural way.

WOMAN OFFERS ADDED CLUE IN MYSTERY CASE

Woman Detective Asserts Der-ringer Was Found in South-ern Matron's Room Previous to Murder of Her Husband

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 10 (AP)—The statement in Chicago today of Mrs. Jennie Moore, a detective, that there had been a deringer in her first street home added another un-usual angle to the killing Saturday night of Henton by William Gates, some elements of which have remained more or less obscure.

Gates, who had been a prisoner in a house in 34th street for two days, shot Henton to death Saturday night at a deringer, which, he said, had been in his vest pocket throughout his im-prisonment in a room equipped like an operating room of a hospital.

Mrs. Henton, who had been under surveillance for two weeks, by Mrs. Moore, was in the house when Henton was killed. She said she was on the first floor at the time, having arrived at the house where she was admitted by her husband.

Gates, in his confession after sur-rendering yesterday, said he did the will-ing and that the pistol had been over-looked by the kidnappers. He forgot-ten for the time being by himself. It is cause of his condition Gates was not questioned at length by the authorities and several phases of the case remain unclarified, police say.

Entertain at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. John W. D. Smith were hosts at dinner Saturday evening for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benoit, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pink, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorp and Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Smith.

The men of the party were at one time members of a bachelor club which met quite frequently and the evening was pleasantly spent reminiscing over bygone days.

Mr. and Mrs. Shores Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Nepht Shores were tendered a delightful surprise Sat-urday evening at their home on Raragee street by their daughter, Mrs. Russell Harkness, Mrs. Winifred Whitehead and Mrs. Long.

The event was in honor of their nineteenth wedding anniversary and was celebrated with games and music. Good wishes for many more happy years were expressed. At a late hour refreshments were served.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pink, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whit-zell, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bundy, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lincoln, Mrs. Laura Statton, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. White-head, Robert Shaw and Rollin White-head.

Shower Given Mrs. Wise

Several friends of Mrs. Henry Wise pleasantly surprised her Saturday eve-ning with a "miscellaneous" shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Elder.

Appropriate games and delicious re-freshments were served by Miss Rose Elder, who assisted the hostess. Mrs. Wise was formerly Miss Esther Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Russell and a graduate of the Twin Falls high school with the class of 1923. Mr. and Mrs. Wise will re-side on the Salmon tract.

Greater Enrollment in Schools Reported

Enrollment in Twin Falls schools for the first six weeks' period of the second semester, ending a week ago last Friday, totaled 2646, which was 53 greater than the enrollment for the correspond-ing period last year, according to report made by Superintendent M. C. Mitchell to the district board of education at its meeting Monday evening.

STAGE DRIVER ACCUSED AS RESULT OF WRECK

Visit to Police Court Is Consequence of Collision in Which Four Persons Narrowly Escape Serious Injuries

As a result of an automobile col-lision Sunday evening at the intersec-tion of Main avenue and Fourth street north in which a car carrying four persons was wrecked and they nar-rowly escaped serious injury, Henry Peromus, driver of a Boise-Twin Falls motor stage, has been summoned to appear today in police court to an-swer to charge of violating the municipal traffic ordinances preferred by the police.

Occupants of the wrecked car were Mrs. V. H. Ormsby, owner and driver of the machine; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wood of Piler, and Mrs. I. W. Lutz. The car was proceeding west on Main avenue on which the stage was travel-ing in the opposite direction. Mrs. Ormsby had entered the intersection, according to the police, when the stage turned abruptly onto Fourth street north and crashed into the car, strik-ing it broadside. One front wheel was broken off the stage, while the car was badly damaged.

Seven persons were passengers in the stage when the collision occurred.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The World Wide Guild of the Bap-tist church will meet in the Baptist bungalow Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. All girls are requested to be present and the ladies will serve the lunch.

The president of each club in the Rural Federation is requested to be present at a meeting of the board of directors Saturday, March 15, in the Business Women's club room, and make a report on the past year's work in her club. Those unable to attend are requested to send their reports to the meeting with their directors. The meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m.

The Woman's Progressive club will meet with Mrs. Emma Scott on Wed-nesday afternoon, March 12, with Mrs. Owens as hostess. Each member will please come prepared to give a favorite cake recipe in answer to roll call.

The current events department of the Twentieth Century club will meet this afternoon with Mrs. H. W. Glen-chek at 2:30. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. P. J. Costello, Mrs. Kenyon Green and Mrs. Earl Alworth.

The M. S. S. club will meet with Mrs. Eliza Woodhead, 461 Second ave-nue east, Wednesday afternoon, March 12.

RAY FINDS HUMOR IN WESTERN MINING TOWN

Little Butte, Mont., is the locale for the greater portion of the picture "The Deuce of Spades," starring Charles Ray. In it the star goes back to the primitive mining days of the north-west, where the most respected citi-zens were those who could swing a nifty card.

Supporting the star is Marjorie Man-ridge in the leading feminine part and the following players: Lincoln Plum-mer, Philip Dunham, Andrew Arbuckle, Dick Southernland, Jack Richardson, J. P. Lockney, Gus Leonard, Bert Offord and William Courtright.

The picture will be shown at the Orpheum theatre tomorrow on the same bill with four big acts of vaudeville.

NORRIS' NOVEL "BRASS" BASIS FOR IDAHO FILM

The screen version of Major Charles G. Norris' novel, "Brass," with Monte Blue portraying the role of Philip

Baldwin, is now showing at the Idaho theatre. This is the story which is on-lying uninterrupted vogue by its real-istic treatment of marriage and di-vorce.

The picture is said to retain the vividness characteristic of the novel. The setting of the story is in sunny California, first in a prosperous rural community, then shifting to bustling San Francisco, where most of the ac-tion passes.

The queer domestic life of the young married Baldwin is the theme around which the story is spun. Philip is so busy storming the gates of fortune during the day that he longs for the home of evenings, while his wife, Mar-jorie, a piquant slip of a girl, doesn't see why having a baby should keep her away from husbands, gay boon com-panions and a generally good time. They get divorced; each goes separate ways, falling in love but in the end feeling the gap in their lives. The end is developed in a whirlwind climax.

Pictures of Mr. Bones and Mr. Tambo, famous artists who are appear-ing at the Idaho theatre Wednesday and Thursday, may be seen at the Majestic pharmacy—adv.

mittie the unanimous conclusion was reached that, in the event of steps to condemn being necessary, the actual expense would be but a fraction of the price placed by the Utah Construction company on its holdings and it was decided to reopen negotiations with the Nevada corporation in an effort to secure a price within the ability of the public to meet. Failing to do this, the Oregon Short Line will be request-ed to begin condemnation proceed-ings, the cost of the land as determin-ed by the courts of Nevada to be guaranteed by the local committee and the money raised by popular subscrip-tion in Idaho and Nevada.

During his visit Mr. Armstrong stated that unless a satisfactory set-tlement was effected before the ex-piration of the time for the opening of the bids the bids would not be opened.

curring concerted action. Just as soon as it can be definitely seen what approximate amount of money will be required the entire matter will be laid before the public for action. A little over $5,000.00 yet remains to be hand from the fund gathered for the purchase of the stock of the old Idaho Central and the resultant retirement of the former certificate of necessity and convenience. This sum, it is believed, would have been more than enough to take care of all demands outside of the Utah Construction company right of way, and may go far towards pro-viding for that in the event that a reasonable figure is placed upon the lands either by the owners or by the courts.

KIWANIS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Kiwanis club were entertained at a dinner meeting Mon-day evening by employees of the Moun-tain States Telephone and Telegraph company, who served the repast in the local exchange building and furnished an enjoyable entertainment program featuring song parodies by the Blue Bird quartet. Members of the club, after the dinner, were shown through at Wells, Nevada, with a view to set-ting the exchange.

A CHURCHMAN'S VIEW

Christianity has lost its hold upon the masses of the people.
The industrial classes have ceased to be influenced by it. It has shrunk into a concern of the so-called upper and middle classes.
This is a condition which, if allowed to continue, means that Christianity in America will soon enter definitely into the status of a decaying religion.

If this paragraph were a part of an article written against the Church as an institution it would be received with a storm of condemnation by good people everywhere. But it is not, it is the opening paragraph of a brochure
prepared by Monell Bayre, of Washington, D. C., in which is presented perhaps the strongest plea so far for the upbuilding of a national cathedral and a revival of Christianity through the power of preaching.

A discussion of the subject matter of the brochure is not something that can be taken up and dismissed in a few words, but the fact that such a statement before the endorsement of James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, may be accepted as the best of all evidence of the correctness of the conclusion.

From all the indications in the world of religion today it will not be long before the laity as well as the ministers will be asking themselves
the question, What shall the Church
do to regain its hold upon the hearts of the people?

CONSTRUCTIVE GOVERNMENT
WORK

"There is a pretty widespread impression," says Secretary Hoover in a recent interview, "that the government is doing too many things, that it is concerning itself with too many activities. Especially is this true regarding certain development work in the Department of Commerce, the Interior Department and the Department of Agriculture."

"I want to say that every bit of this development and constructive work repays a hundred fold. Instead of contracting such work, the government should increase it, just as fast as possible. Anyway, the total amount spent for such work is not over one hundred million dollars. We spent thirty times that amount last year for all purposes."

Nearly all of the non-constructive expenditures now are for past wars and for the present upkeep of the army and navy. Dead war horses must be paid for, and living war horses
sold; but it is obviously easier and better to save from the other two billion nine hundred million dollars than from the wholly constructive one hundred million dollars.

DR. JACK
By DADDY

Jack plays doctor and Janet plays nurse. Hoppy Hop Rabbit comes looking for a doctor to attend Lonesome Bear, who is groaning and moaning.

CHAPTER II.

Lonesome Bear's Illness.

"HURRY!" said Hoppy Hop Habit to Jack and Janet.

"Lonesome Bear needs a doctor and a nurse right away."

Jack, who was playing doctor, quickly put a saddle on Trixie, the pony.

"I'll go right away," said he, trying to talk like a real doctor.

"So will I," said Janet, who was playing she was a nurse. Janet brought out Topsey, the pony, and Jack put his saddle on. Then Jack and Janet mounted the ponies, and away they went after Hoppy Hop Rabbit.

Hoppy Hop Rabbit went very fast.
It was plain that he thought
Lonesome Bear needed help in a hurry.

Galloping through the woods and over the hills and across the creek, they came at last to the cave where Lonesome Bear had his winter home.

Dr. Jack and Nurse Janet got down from their ponies; they heard a most frightful groan and moaning coming from the cave.

"A-ugh! Oh! Oh! W-ah! I'm dying! Oh, I am being murdered!" It was more noise that a bad boy makes when his mother is spanking him.

Jack and Janet looked within the cave. The place was so dark they scarcely could make out the form of Lonesome Bear thrashing about in a corner. He seemed suffering so much he could not keep still.

"A-ugh! W-ah! I'm dying!" It was Lonesome Bear, heaving back and forth.

"There! Didn't I tell you he needed a doctor?" said Hoppy Hop Rabbit to Jack and Janet. "Go in and cure him."

Jack and Janet went in. Jack was easier said than done. Jack and Janet found it fun playing doctor, but now they had a real doctor's job on their hands they wished they knew five dollars to eight dollars a day,

with tolerable accommodations for considerably less in more modest hotels.
Prices in Switzerland have returned to conditions near normal. In Central Europe living is especially cheap for anyone possessing American dollars.

When all is said, though, the cheapest travel of all is cruising over American highways in the little advance sleeping in the auto tent by the roadside and cooking meals on one's own camp stove. And there is just as much work seeing here as anywhere,
if you've never seen it.

more about the business. They didn't feel a bit like going into that cave with Lonesome Bear. While he carefully was a gentle, friendly bear, they didn't know what his plan might make him do.

"Here's the doctor, Lonesome Bear," squeaked Hoppy Hop Rabbit.
"Come and get cured."

Lonesome Bear rolled over to the mouth of the cave.

"W-ah! Oh, cure me quick," he moaned.

Jack pondered over the matter. What did a doctor do first when he visited a patient? Why, find out what was the matter of course.

"What is the matter with you?"
asked Jack.

"You are the doctor. You ought to know," groaned Lonesome Bear.
"I have an awful pain."

"Where?" asked Jack.

"In my head," moaned Lonesome
Bear.

Sure enough, now that Jack and Janet looked at Lonesome Bear's head
they saw it was badly swollen.

"Why, you look just as Janet did when she had the mumps," cried Jack.
"You have the mumps!"

"Care him!" squeaked Hoppy Hop
Rabbit. "Give him some medicine."

Jack opened his valise. In it were his sugar pills. He doubted whether the sugar pills would help Lonesome
Bear.

"But they are sweet. They ought to make him feel better," whispered Jack and Janet. "Candy always makes me feel better."

"Open your mouth!" said Jack. Lonesome Bear opened his mouth. It was such a big mouth that one pill did not seem enough. So Jack poured all the sugar pills he had into Lonesome Bear's gaping maw.

Lonesome Bear looked pleased for a moment. Then he gave a hoarse groan. He began to run around in circles. The sugar pills seemed to have driven him crazy.

"Do you wonder why the sugar pills didn't drive him crazy?"
Tomorrow's chapter will tell.

The king—a stout, red-nosed, bluejacketed man, with big, gray, staring eyes—was in a sedan chair surmounted by a crown. He was dressed in light cloth with silver buttons. Queen Charlotte, also in a chair, was dressed in velvet colored silk ornamented with brocade flowers. The two were sulk-ing and howling as they passed. In a moment the procession entered a great gate. Then there was a creak of wheels and the traffic resumed its hurried pace.

When they had been conducted to the presence of Doctor Franklin he took Solomon's hand and said:
"Mr. Hinkus, I am glad to bid you welcome."

He looked down at the shrewd, bigboned, right hand of the scout, still holding it.

"Will you step over to the window and give me a look at your hands?" he asked.

"They went to the window and the Doctor put on his spectacles and examined them closely."

"I have never seen such an able Shamoonian fist," he went on. "I think the look of those hands would let you into Paradise. What a record of hard service is written upon them! Hands like that have laid the foundations of America. They have been generous hands. They tell me all I need to know of your spirit, your lungs, your heart and your stomach."

"They're pretty heavy—that's why I generally carry 'em in my pockets when I ain't busy," said Solomon.

"I saw Sir Jeffrey Amherst this morning and told him you were in London. He is fond of you and paid you many compliments and made me proud to bring you to his home."

"I'd like to smoke a pipe with you," said Solomon. "They ain't no nonsense 'bout him. I learnt him how to talk in an 'ard rap and he built a fire with tunder an' elbow grease. He knows me plenty. He staked his life on me a dozen times
in the Indian war."

"How is Major Washington?" the Doctor asked.

"Stout as a pot of ginger," Solomon answered. "I passed with him one evening down in Virginia. I'll never forget him any, you hear to me. His right hipper is as big as mine an'
when it takes hold y'd think it were going to strip the shack off yer soul."

"It's in every way a big man," said the Doctor. "On the whole, he's about our biggest man. An officer who came out of the ambulance at Fort Duquesne with thirty living men out of three companies and four shot holes in his coat must have an engagement with destiny. Evidently his work was not finished. You have traveled about some. What is the feeling over there toward England?"

"They're like a wild cat," said Solomon. "They're like a wild cat, but they don't know how to step careful now."

"Tell Sir Jeffrey that, if you see him, just that. Don't mince matters.
Just tell him you saw me and you and I think to show you the new lodgings. We found them this morning."

with Jack's equipment. Franklin had seen and approved the admirably shaped and fitted garments. The young man and his friend Solomon had moved to their new lodgings on Blossomway square. The scout had acquired a suit for street wear and was now able to walk abroad without exciting the multitudes. The Doctor was planning what he called "a snug little party." So he announced when Jack and Solomon came, adding:

"But first you are to meet Margaret and her mother here at half after four."

Jack made careful preparation for that event. Fortunately it was a clear, bright day after foggy weather. Solomon had refused to go with Jack for fear of being in the way.

"I want to see her an' her folks, but I reckon y'll have yer hands full today," he remarked. "We don't need no scout on that kind o' reconnoiterin'."

You go on ahead an' git through with yer amackin' an' by-ym-by I'll straggle in."

Precisely at four thirty-five Jack presented himself at the lodgings of his alter ego. He had seen him and in a letter when his dramatic adventures all behind him, that this was the most thrilling moment he had known. "The butler had told me that the ladies were there," he wrote.

"Upon my word it put me out of breath, clinging to the door and stairs. That it was in fact the end of a long journey. It is curious that my feeling then should remind me, as it does, of moments when I have been close up to the enemy, within his lines, and lying hard against the ground in some thicket while British soldiers were near. I could feel the ground shake. In the room I saw Lady Hare and Doctor Franklin standing side by side. What a smile he wore as he looked at me! I have never known a human being who had such a cheering light in his countenance. It was the light of the darkest days of the war aided by the light of his words. His faith and good cheer were immovable. I felt the latter when he said:

"See the look of alarm in his face.
Now for a pretty drama!"

THE MARKETS

SELLING DRIVE LEADS TO BREAK IN PRICES

Aggressive Support Lacking on Wheat Market; Gossip Current of Some Cancellations of Foreign Orders

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—Something of a selling drive which from the market minus aggressive support led to a decided break in wheat prices today. The government report on foreign stocks was bearish as to wheat, but was received after the end of trading and apparently had no relation to the wheat market. Wheat, all grades, was steady at the finish, was one cent to 1.5¢ down with May $1.09 7/8 to $1.10, and July $1.10 1/4 to $1.11. Corn closed 7.8¢ down, and the 1 1/2 to 5.5¢ off and provisions to one cent lower.

It was shortly after the opening that the wheat market suddenly flattened out. Developments at Washington in regard to the McNary-Hoag bill were being closely watched, and with the government report due after the close and with snowfall general throughout the winter wheat belt, no far-reaching movement was apparent until prices had fallen two cents in some cases. Gossip was current that some of the selling came from houses with Paris connections. There was talk that Prince had cancelled some purchases of wheat. The bulk of the selling, however, seemed to come from the market.

Subsequently, reports of crop damage from Russian 49 in Kansas tended to rally the market a little. Declines in cotton and rails were due to sympathy with the weakness of wheat. Corn receipts here, however, proved to be much less in volume than hoped for, and the result was an unfavorably favorable conditions acted as an offset for announcement of an increase in the visible supply total. The government report on farm interest in corn and on the percentage of non-plantable corn was construed as about what had been generally expected, but the figures as to oats were rather bearish.

Provisions remained in line with hog values. The Twin Falls markets yesterday were as follows:

MISS SHOTWELL BOARD'S CHOICE FOR PRINCIPAL

Veteran Teacher and Supervisor of Twin Falls Schools Receives Promotion; K. S. Peters Retires as Trustee

Miss Elizabeth Shotwell, teacher and supervisor of grades in the Twin Falls schools for 16 years past, was elected principal of the Twin Falls senior and junior high schools at a salary of $2500 a year by the board of education at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening. Miss Shotwell is the first woman to be elected principal of the high school here. Members of the board were advised that the election of Miss Shotwell met with the wishes of Ernest D. Bloom, superintendent.

The board at this meeting, in accordance with recommendations of the superintendent-elect, also re-elected at their present salaries the principals of the three grade schools as follows: Miss Fanny Perkins, Lincoln; Mrs. Ethel Gray, Bickel; Miss Clara Hill, Washington.

Office Newly Created.

The position which Miss Shotwell was elected to is a new one in Twin Falls schools. With the organization three years ago of the junior high school, the office of principal of that department was created and at the beginning of the present school year the office of superintendent of schools and principal of the senior high school were combined. M. C. Mitchell being elected to serve in the dual capacity. The board at its special meeting recently voted, 3 to 2, to abolish the office of principal of the junior high school and of supervisor of grades. Before voting Monday evening on the nomination of Miss Shotwell to be principal of both senior and junior high schools, the board adopted a motion by E. N. Peters, in effect that position. Miss Shotwell then was nominated by Mr. Weaver for the place.

Mrs. North Given Praise.

Miss Shotwell had served for several years as supervisor of grades, one of the offices which the board has voted to abolish. The other abolished office, that of principal of the junior high school, has been administered by Mrs. Rose Murray North who, in a communication submitted to the board Monday afternoon, stated that she does not desire to be considered as an applicant for appointment to a position in the schools.

Appreciation of Mrs. North and her service in the schools here was expressed in a resolution adopted by the board declaring that it had been deemed a commendation "for revenue of economy, to eliminate the position of principal of the junior high school," and that the board desired to express its appreciation of the efficient and very satisfactory service rendered by Mrs. North in that position.

R. D. Perrine New Member.

The resignation as a member of the board tendered by K. S. Peters for the given reason that he is "closing up affairs here preparatory to moving to Los Angeles, where I have completed a business connection requiring me to be on the ground as soon as possible," was received and accepted by the board. R. D. Perrine was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Perrine, who was nominated by James Fitzgerald, received votes of three of the members of the board, and C. H. Hempleman, nominated by E. N. Flory, received two votes.

Negotiations instituted by the board some weeks ago, looking toward the purchase of refunding bonds to take up bonded indebtedness of the district in the amount of $52,000, will be suspended as a result of the decision reached at the Monday evening meeting that the transaction could not be completed by April 1, when interest payment becomes due. It was determined to resume the negotiations about August 1, with a view to completing the transaction by the next interest payment date, October 1. These negotiations have been carried on with the state department of public investments.

Reports on Election.

Report was made to the board by Miss Charlotte Pugh, county superintendent, of the canvass of votes cast in the district's election February 20, on the proposition of authorizing additional tax levy for maintenance of schools during the next school year. The report showed authorization granted by vote of 619 to 417.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR SHRINE CLUB DANCE

Committee Promises Royal Entertainment; Proceeds to Go to Charity Fund of Local Club

Tonight's Shrine club dance is being looked forward to as one of the big events of the kind of the year. For some days past committees have been busily engaged in looking after the hundreds of details which an affair of the kind entails. The decorations at the Lavering are said to include a number of novel effects and no pains are being spared anywhere to make the affair a great success.

Sale of tickets indicates a heavy attendance, which the committee in charge declares itself fully competent to handle.

Proceeds of the dance will go into the charity fund of the Twin Falls Shrine club.

BANDMEN GIVE SEASON'S PLANS

Organization Claims Appropriation to Assist in Financing Summer Concert Program

Purpose of the Twin Falls band to furnish minimum of 12 free open-air concerts in Twin Falls during the coming summer season provided adequate financial support is given, was explained to Twin Falls municipal commission at a regular meeting Monday evening by Fred W. Ingraham, manager, and W. R. Prieb, president of the band.

The declaration of purpose was accompanied by the request that the commission make available to the band as much as was deemed proper of the $800 appropriation made for the band in the budget for the present fiscal year, and that the next year's budget also include appropriation for the organization. The band, it was explained, has received none of the appropriation for the present year and has made no claim heretofore for any part of it.

Public activities of the band last summer were confined to two or three concerts given in the city park and for which the bandmen volunteered their services.

Cost to the band of the 12-concert program for the coming year was estimated at $1200. Effort will be made to raise 150 popular subscription the amount required in addition to the municipal appropriation.

Fire Station Available

Members of the commission expressed approval of the suggestion that the fire station be placed at the disposal of the band for weekly rehearsals provided it was determined that the arrangement would not interfere with sounding of the fire alarm. Such an arrangement, if it could be effected, would result in saving to the band of $200 for rent.

No expression was asked or given relative to the amount of the appropriation for the present year to be received by the band. J. S. Keel, commissioner of finance, in this connection, however, indicated that he would urge reduction of the appropriation when the budget for next year is made.

"I would like to see a cut made in all departments," he said.

Drafting of an intentional ordinance prescribing boundaries of the sprinkling district for the coming season was ordered by the commission for consideration at its next meeting. Commissioner S. S. All suggested that the district be formed with the same boundaries as were fixed last year. He reported that sprinkling had been done last year "cheaper than ever before in the city's history," by men and teams employed at wages of 50 cents an hour.

The commission awarded to the C. R. Transfer company a contract for hauling 31 lengths of cast iron pipe, each weighing 2100 pounds, which had been purchased to replace a wooden pipe leading from the water purification plant. The successful bidder, under its bid, will receive 9 cents per hundred-weight for the task.

Issuance of building permits was reported by the city clerk to P. Walter, 534 Third avenue east, and Walter Casey, 1429 Poplar avenue. Each applicant will erect an addition to his residence property at an estimated cost of $500.

MAN SUSPECTED OF SLAYING AT CONTACT TAKEN

Prisoner Is Held in Cedar City Jail in Connection with Murder Two Years Ago in Nevada Town, Newspaper Says

Silvin Van Eaton, sought for more than two years as the perpetrator of a murder which was perhaps one of the most cold blooded crimes in the history of the west, has been arrested at Cedar City, Utah, under the name of Earl Murphy, and is in jail, awaiting the arrival of Sheriff Joe Harris, of Elko county, Nevada, says the Elko Independent. Saturday the Nevada newspaper is quoted as follows:

"Van Eaton has been identified by Silvin Wilson. The description furnished to the Elko sheriff's office corresponds so far as it goes, with the description of the fugitive. While identification is not certain until Sheriff Harris has viewed the captive, there is every indication that the man who, in a fit of jealous rage, shot and killed 17-year-old Dolores Weighall and seriously wounded Mrs. Weighall, the girl's mother, has been arrested in the southern Utah city."

Crime Was Unusual.

"Van Eaton and Dolores Weighall were sweethearts, it is declared. They attended a dance during the early part of September, 1921, at Contact, Troublesome between the couple during the dance. The quarrel assumed huge proportions. After the dance was finished, Van Eaton went to the Weighall home. He shot and killed Dolores, and also shot the girl's mother through the head. The bullet, striking below the left eye, coursed downward through the woman's face. She was at a hospital in Twin Falls for several weeks and eventually recovered."

Made Good His Escape.

"Van Eaton fled. Sheriff O. L. Lannon of Elko, together with a posse from neighboring towns in Nevada and Idaho, scoured the northern country in search of the missing man, who, at that time, was 22 years old. Although they went over the country quickly and thoroughly, they found no trace of Van Eaton until they arrived at the Salmon river dam. Here, on the edge of the vast reservoir were found articles of clothing belonging to the fugitive. Two guns, carried by him, were present. His puttees and his coat were on the bank, and a message, written to his brother, indicated that he had decided to 'end it all,' by committing himself to the cheerless cold of a watery grave."

Searched In Vain.

"There was little doubt in the officers' minds but that the body of Silvin Van Eaton was somewhere within the reservoir. Crews of men dragged the waters of the dam for days, and every possible method of recovering the body was resorted to. Crews of watchmen were stationed to keep a lookout for the drowned body of the murderer."

Several False Alarms.

"Although Van Eaton disappeared almost as completely as though he had vanished in thin air, Sheriff Harris, together with his assistants, have maintained a constant effort toward apprehending the murderer. On several occasions rumors arrived that Van Eaton had been seen. Corroboration of these rumors were sought in southern California, where Van Eaton's relatives resided, to and also in Colorado, and as far away as Canada."

Description Fits.

"Silva Wilson, who identified Van Eaton in Cedar City, is presumably a former resident of the northern part of Elko county. There is a possibility that he had been employed on one of the Utah construction company ranches in that part of the country."

"The man under arrest in Cedar City is 25 years old. He weighs 163 pounds and is five feet ten or eleven inches high. His arms bear tattoo marks. There is gold in one of the upper right front teeth. This description corresponds fairly accurately with the description at the sheriff's office and the fact that there is gold in one of the upper right front teeth is looked upon as particularly significant, inasmuch as Van Eaton two weeks before the fatal shooting had two teeth extracted at Twin Falls, Bridgeport, containing gold, may have been secured after the murder was committed."

"In event the man proves to be Van Eaton he will be returned immediately to Elko county."

Several Final Rehearsals Held Sunday and Assurance Is Given of Attractive Event

Several final rehearsals were held Sunday and all arrangements are being completed for the presentation on Wednesday and Thursday evening at the Idaho theater of the Twentieth Century club's third annual fashion show.

The plans this year are even more extensive than in previous years and from the interest being manifested and the efforts being put forth the "Style and Smile Show" will be one to be long remembered in the amusement annals of Twin Falls. The program committee is to meet today and arrange the final numbers and to advise the merchants and those who will take part just where they will come in so as to avoid all confusion and as much congestion as possible.

J. E. Madsen has arranged a short picture program to start at the regular time and the first of the "Style and Smile Show" will start promptly at 8 o'clock.
