GREEN SET FOR EARLY ACTION ON BONUS BILL

Terms of New Measure Agreed Upon by Sub-Committee; Want Vote in One Day; Would Be Effective January 1

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The terms of the new soldier bonus bill providing paid-up life insurance policies were agreed upon today by a sub-committee of the house ways and means committee and will be taken before that body for decision tomorrow.

Chairman Green announced he would attempt to have the measure acted upon next Monday under suspension of the rules which would eliminate debate, prevent amendments and permit a vote in one day.

The insurance policies, it was decided, would be 20-year endowment valued on length of service, with $1 allowed for each day of home service and $1.25 for each day of overseas service, but with the first 40 days excluded. To this total would be added 25 per cent and the face value of the policy then would be determined by computing the total amount of adjusted service credit plus the 20 years of compounded four per cent interest.

In figuring the adjusted service credit maximums of $500 would be allowed for home service and $625 for overseas service. It was estimated that the maximum value of any certificate would be about $1400 for a veteran who served full time at home or $1900 for one who served the full time overseas.

Under previous agreement all veterans up to the rank of captain in the army and marine corps and lieutenant senior grade in the navy would be eligible to the policy. It also was decided to include dependents of all veterans who have died since the close of the war. Cash payments would be made to all veterans not entitled to more than $50.

The policies would be made effective next January 1 and after two years loans could be taken at state and federal banks on 90 per cent of the cash value of the policy at the time.

DISARM FILIPINO POLICE.

MANILA, March 12 (AP)—To prevent religious fanatics of Surigao province from surprising the police and stripping them of their arms, Governor General Wood today directed the police of all municipalities of Surigao, where no constabulary posts are maintained, to be disbanded. The action was taken as a precaution against possible repetition of recent fanatical outbreaks there.

Mine Men Laugh as They Carry on in Search for Bodies

Grim Work of Seeking Remains of Friends Taken as Commonplace Affair by Hardened Tolders at Castle Gate

CASTLE GATE, Utah, March 12 (AP)—Six helmeted men trudged up the dusty, covered road about winding its way through the confines of mine No. 2 of the Utah Fuel company at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Laughingly and jokingly they prepared to enter the interior workings in an effort to recover 43 bodies of their comrades, remaining within the death chamber.

Behind them followed two flatbed trucks. Several men, within a wired enclosure, dropped their picks and shovels, rushed to the gate, doffed their caps and permitted the trucks to enter the enclosure. There followed women, accompanied by strong men, women accompanied by children, some walking, others tightly clasped to their mothers' breasts—all victims of the terrible disaster that visited this little mining camp nestled in Price canyon last Saturday, when in the twinkling of an eye practically every household head was killed.

Neatly, groups of workmen, apparently impervious to the tragic drama that was being enacted about them, continued their tasks—that of preparing graves for the bodies of their less fortunate brothers.

Freighter Santiago Reported Sunk in Tempest on Atlantic Seaboard; Eight Killed in New York City

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—The captain of the Ward line freighter Santiago and 24 of his men are believed to have been lost with their vessel in the hurricane which last night swept the Atlantic coast, taking eight lives in New York city alone.

After raging at 80 miles an hour, along the eastern seaboard from Cape Hatteras, where the Santiago went down, to Eastport, Maine, the gale appeared tonight to have spent its fury. Its path on land and sea was marked by scores of disabled craft, enormous property damage and a long list of dead and injured.

Power Crippled.

Transportation, power distributing systems and lines of communication were seriously crippled. In Brooklyn the Rapid Transit lines were completely tied up, stranding hundreds of thousands of commuters.

Ten men were reported rescued and 25 were missing from the Santiago, news of whose sinking 60 miles south of Cape Hatteras was carried in a radio message intercepted today by the Charleston (S. C.) navy yard station, from the Norwegian steamer Gisk was told.

The Santiago left Clearforks, Cuba, March 4, bound for New York with 32,000 bags of cargo for the American Sugar Refining company. She was to have reached this port tomorrow. She was a 5000 tonner, built in 1900, and valued, with her cargo, at approximately $1,500,000.

Toss of a Coin Was Determining Factor in Killing, Woman Says

Coroner's Jury Is Told of Bizarre Wager Between Members of Drinking Party

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—A bizarre wager by which the toss of a coin determined which took first shot at the other with a pistol was related to a coroner's jury today by Mrs. Belle Gartner, pretty divorcee, and resulted in the jury recommending that she be held on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Walter R. Law, automobile salesman.

Law was found early today in Mrs. Gartner's automobile with a bullet through his head. Mrs. Gartner told police Law and she had been to a cabaret and on the way home started to argue about their unrequited love and the wager resulted.

Mrs. Gartner admitted that she was intoxicated.

ARMS SALES TO MEXICO AT HUGE TOTAL VALUE

More Than Million Dollars Worth of Surplus Materials Sold to Oregon by U. S. Since Last January

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—More than a million dollars worth of surplus war materials have been sold by the United States to the Oregon government in Mexico since the first sale last January.

Efforts have been made to conduct the transactions quietly so that revolutionary forces might have less chance of capturing the materials. On February 16 Secretary Weeks informed the house sub-committee on army appropriations that the additional sale of arms was being made and that bombs, machine guns and Russian rifles had been added to the list of materials sold in the earlier transactions.

KENYON GETS OFFER TO TAKE NAVY PORTFOLIO

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—William H. Kenyon, former senator from Iowa and now a federal circuit judge, has been offered the naval secretaryship by President Coolidge. He will give his answer to the president probably tomorrow.

Considered first for the post of attorney-general in event of retirement of Harry M. Daugherty, Judge Kenyon was asked to come to Washington, and, arriving last night, was taken to the White House. During a two-hour conference with Mr. Coolidge he was tendered the navy appointment and it is understood to have asked that he be given until tomorrow to decide.

Wants Government to Fill in Tax Figures on His Signed Check

Beats Income Tax Dilemma by "Passing the Buck" to Internal Revenue Department

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—Sending the government a blank check and inviting Uncle Sam to write the amount, is the way one man extricated himself from the income tax dilemma.

"I am sending a blank signed check," the letter received today by the collector of internal revenue said. "I don't know whether Coolidge is going to cut the Mellon or not, but make out the check to suit yourself and if there is any reduction make it out in my favor."

The name was withheld.

READY TO START LEASE ACTIONS

Court to Hear Preliminary Case in Government Move to Cancel Oil Leases

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 12 (AP)—The United States government's legal action for the annulment of the Teapot Dome naval reserve lease to Harry F. Sinclair and the Mammoth Oil company will be started with the opening of court here tomorrow morning.

Judge T. Blake Kennedy of the United States district court in Wyoming has set 10 o'clock as the hour for a preliminary hearing on the government's bill in equity, asking cancellation of the lease on the grounds of fraud and illegality; for an injunction against further development work on the lease; and the appointment of a receiver for the property pending final determination of the litigation.

Albee Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, plan to file the bill in equity with the court just prior to the hour set for the preliminary hearing, they announced tonight.

The government counsel reached

FARMER RELIEF MEASURE GOES AHEAD SLOWLY

Senate Adds Five Hours Debate with Little Progress Being Made Toward Final Agreement on Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The senate added five hours to the many already devoted to its first farm relief measure—the National Farm Loan Act—today, but with little progress being made toward final agreement on aid proposal.

Beyond placing on record the attitude of practically every senator present, the only accomplishment of the day was discussion of an amendment by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, giving the secretary of agriculture discretionary power in the selection of an agency through which the $50,000,000 to be appropriated would be distributed. Senator Walsh first proposed compulsory use of existing agencies, such as the farm loan board, but the amendment was lost by a tie vote.

Fears Scandal

"We are on the eve of a national campaign," Senator Walsh said, supporting his proposal, "and I undertake to say if the distribution of this fund is left in the unrestrained control of the secretary of agriculture we are likely to have a national scandal."

An attempt by Senator Trammell, democrat, Florida, to substitute language of the bill which would restrict the aid to the spring wheat states was defeated without a roll call.

By unanimous consent the senate agreed to limit debate, beginning tomorrow at 1 o'clock. Each senator will be restricted to five minutes on the bill and five minutes on any amendment.

Session Closes

The amendment by Senator Bureman, republican, New Mexico, to add $20,000,000 for loans in banks in the wheat sections "to restore credit and confidence" was under discussion when

U. S. ATTORNEY WANTS RESPECT FOR SHIP LAWS

Foreign Shipping Interests Jeer at American Rules and Openly Smuggle Contraband, Colonel Hayward Says

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Upholding the seizure today of the British liner Orinda by the government after a raid in which liquor and narcotics worth $10,000 were seized, United States District Attorney William Hayward tonight charged that virtually every foreign ship entering New York harbor allows traffic in liquor and narcotics.

"On every ship they sneak and jockey at the United States and openly defy our government," said Colonel Hayward, who personally led the raid which resulted in the issuance of an order in Washington by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for the seizure of the Orinda. Eight members of the Orinda's crew were arrested.

"Either there is the lowest stage of discipline on the ships which is a constant menace to passengers," said Colonel Hayward, "or the head officers themselves, or possibly the lines themselves, are in collusion and sharing in profits."

"The government, through the treasury department, did everything to prevent serious interference with the routine of ships, permitting liquor to be carried as medical stores under the certificate of a public health officer. These ship people, instead of accepting

Divorced Wife of Man Who Committed Suicide Tells of Husband's Combine with Justice Chief on Big Deals

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—With an amazing tale, replete with insinuations, references and charges, the senate committee investigation of Attorney General Daugherty got under way today.

Roxie Stinson of Columbus, Ohio, divorced wife of Jesse W. Smith of Washington Courthouse, confidant of the attorney general who committed suicide in the latter's apartment here a year ago, was the only witness.

From behind the crumpled folds of a tear-soaked handkerchief she told a sensational story that ranged from stock transactions to millionaires of the Carpentier-Dempsey prize fight, all of which she insisted were connected with profits for her late husband and the attorney general.

Tells of Stock Deals

Specifically Miss Stinson testified that Smith gave her 25 shares of White Motors stock which was a part of what "they" had obtained without any cost; that Smith told her "we" looked forward to profits approximating $100,000 if it could be arranged to exhibit the motion picture of the Carpentier-Dempsey fight; that Smith had come into possession of an amount of the stock of the Pure Oil company of Ohio, and that Smith, proprietor of a small town store in Ohio worth approximately $175,000, when he came to Washington in 1921, soon increased his fortune to approximately $250,000.

Daugherty in Combine

All this, Miss Stinson said, was done by "us" and "we" and she persisted that the second man of the combination always was Attorney General Daugherty because, she declared, that in all their confidences Smith never mentioned anybody else and that furthermore that when he did he mentioned the person specifically by name.

Having gone two nights without sleep, she said she had exacted a promise from Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee's prosecutor, to keep her on the stand only an hour today. She will return and finish her story if possible tomorrow. She was just getting down to questioning about "a mysterious grove house on K street" when the committee let her off.

Row Occurs

Senator Wheeler had a row with Paul Howland, Mr. Daugherty's chief counsel. Sparks flew from both sides of the table when Senator Wheeler hunched into a foiled effort of questioning in which the questions and answers flew so fast and covered so wide a ground that a room full of veteran newspaper correspondents couldn't keep up with the proceedings.

Smith told her, Miss Stinson said, of many transactions in which Mr. Daugherty was involved although she said Mr. Daugherty's name was not mentioned specifically. She professed inability to state from whom or for what service such stock was received but promised tomorrow, upon arrival of papers from Ohio, to support her testimony with documentary evidence. The committee also subpoenaed Columbus stock brokers' records and telegrams to and from Smith.

Oregon is Out to Get More Tourists for the Northwest

Adopt Napoleonian Axiom in Presenting Banquet to Scores of Rail Executives; State Products Are on Menu

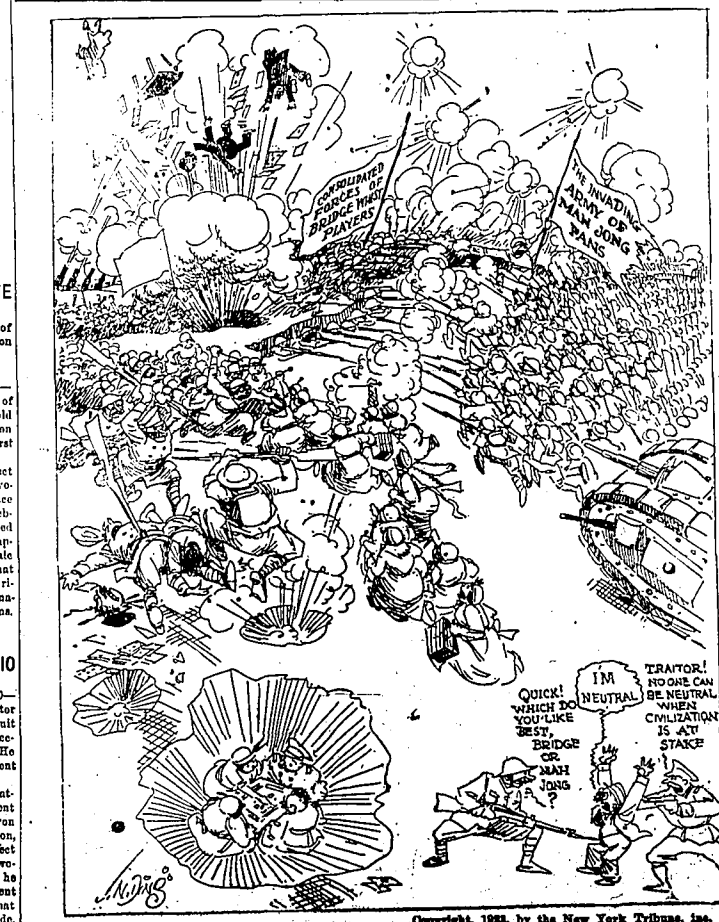

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—From the Napoleonian axiom that an army travels on its stomach, the Oregon state chamber of commerce set about today to make the tourist armies of the country, and the industrial legions seeking new worlds to conquer, to the Pacific northwest by first winning the generals to the food of the region.

The generals who were guests today at an Oregon luncheon at a hotel here, were more than 100 passenger traffic managers, railroad advertising agents and industrial representatives of half a hundred railroads of the country. Nineteen Oregon products made the feast menu, and six souvenirs of home manufacture were presented to each guest. This banquet of Oregon white goods served as menu cards.

Fifty-six commercial and civic organizations of Oregon, co-operating through the state chamber of commerce contributed to the banquet, Mr. Dudley explained.

FIRE HAMPER RECOVERY OF MORE BODIES

Remains of 43 Men Still in Castle Gate Mine Wednesday
Afternoon; Forced to Carry
Water in Buckets

CASTLE GATE, Utah, March 12 (AP)—Fires that broke out in mine No. 2 of the Utah Fuel company early this morning, and which continued to burn throughout the entire day, handicapped seriously the work of the recovery of the remaining 43 bodies of victims of Saturday's explosion. One of the fires, which started shortly after four o'clock this morning, was finally extinguished shortly after 7 o'clock, but this no sooner had been put out until additional fires were started and the efforts of helmet men and fresh air crews was required almost exclusively in the work of combatting their spread throughout the day.

It was decided tonight that the workers finally had placed the fires under control, but the handicaps under which the work has been carried on has made it difficult. Water had to be carried by buckets into the mine. The huge water pipes by which sprinkling was maintained in the mine were completely wrecked by the force of the explosions last Saturday morning. Since that time, pipe lines have been laid by the workmen into the interior of the mine, but late last night the pipes froze and were useless today in combatting the fires.

Water Runs Back

In addition to this, water which has been pumped out of the mine during its active days, has accumulated in the four days since the disaster and has hindered the work of recovery. The pumps in the mine were rendered useless by the force of the blasts and until they can be repaired there is no way of eliminating this seepage.

But three bodies were removed from the mine in a 12-hour period between 7 o'clock this morning and the same hour tonight.

Additional rescue crews furnished by the United States Fuel company arrived here this afternoon during the funeral service held for the victims of the disaster and immediately went into the mine. They will be used in fighting the fires that have broken out.

SCOUTS TO MERGE.

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—The executive board of the Boy Scouts of America last night approved plans for merging the Lone Scouts of America with the Boy Scouts organization.

The membership of the Boy Scouts numbers approximately 600,000 men and boys and the Lone Scouts are estimated to have been 20,000 and 100,000 members.

JAPANESE RECOGNIZE FLIGHT OF AGRICULTURE IN EMBELEM

TOKIO, March 12 (AP)—A separate department of agriculture is to be established by the Japanese government to cope with the increasingly serious problems of rural life and production. Heretofore agriculture and commerce have been grouped under one ministerial department.

Next to the reconstruction of the districts devastated by the great earthquake of last September, the most serious problem confronting the government is the farm problem. Conditions similar to those in the United States obtain here, farmers receiving comparatively low returns for their products in an era of high prices.

Unique Band Saw.

There is in use an ingenious sort of band saw for coarse work, such as cutting trees and sawing stone wood. The saw, instead of being a continuous ribbonlike blade, is made up of links, like those of the driving chain of a bicycle. On their outer side they have teeth of extremely hard steel. The endless chain is supported on four ball-bearing sprockets, wheels mounted in a light metal frame. A five-horsepower benzine motor drives it.

Keeps Flea 3,000 Years.

Custor oil, collecting the only flea to come down in all its glory from that age to this, was found in the tomb of Tutankhamen in Egypt, according to Arthur Weigall, former inspector-general of antiquities for the Egyptian government. The custor oil was still in liquid form, when found. The flea was found embedded in the oil and is now deposited in state in the museum in Cairo where it is reported as the only flea mummy in the world.

The Spanish Main.

The name Spain Main was popularly given by English voyagers, during the Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries, to the north coast of South America, between the Orinoco river and the isthmus of Darien, and also to the Spanish provinces of Central America bordering on the Caribbean sea. The expression "Spanish Main" is also used to denote the Caribbean sea itself, especially in connection with the buccannery who infested those waters.

Paradise Nuts.

Paradise nuts are sweet and oily and resemble the Brazil nut. The nuts are formed inside a large urn-shaped shell, commonly known as "monkey pot," similar in construction to that enclosing Brazil nuts, but much larger. When the mature pod falls to the ground, the natural gas within blows off the neatly-fitting lid of the urn, scattering the nuts and at the same time producing a characteristic report which brings all the neighboring monkeys rushing to the feast.

McLEAN DENIES HE WAS PARTY TO OIL GRAFT

Washington Publisher Testifies
He Played No Part in Teapot
Dome Affair; Says He Only
Wanted to Aid Fall

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, told the oil committee today that he had been drawn unwittingly into the oil scandal through an effort to aid his trusted friend, Albert B. Fall.

He insisted that the true story of his $100,000 loan to the former secretary was that which he told Senator Walsh, of Montana, at Palm Beach, in January; that he had given Fall checks for that amount in November, 1921, and that they had been returned to him unchanged.

His previous statement that the loan had been in cash, he said, was made because Fall requested last December that he make that explanation if it became necessary. He testified that Fall, ill and a broken man, had assured him that his worries and embarrassments had "nothing to do with Sinclair or Teapot Dome."

Protests Innocence

It was not until after he had testified in Palm Beach, McLean declared, that Fall told him he had obtained $100,000 from Edward L. Doheny on November 30, 1921. Declaring he had no other connection with the whole subject; did not know either Sinclair or Doheny; and never owned stock in any of their oil companies, the publisher summed up his position thus:

"I was trying to go down the line as far as I could for a friend. I have never done a dishonest thing in my life financially. I have never had anything to do with this damned Teapot Dome thing. You can decode telegrams, you can look through them for the next year, and you can never find anything dishonest I have done."

This statement came near the end of more than two hours of questioning.

Although hailed as one of the most important witnesses in the inquiry, McLean shed little additional light on the situation.

Interest Intense

Despite this his every word was followed with intense interest by the crowd which jammed the committee room.

The publisher was not subjected to vigorous examination. The only variation from his Palm Beach testimony was that he fixed the time of giving Fall the checks as the last week in November, 1921, instead of in the last week of December of that year.

McLean followed several White House and Washington Post employees. His attorney, Wilton J. Lambert and William Leahy, accompanied him into the committee room and remained throughout his stay on the stand. When the committee had finished its examination, Mr. Lambert questioned his client briefly to emphasize certain points of his testimony.

McLean emphatically declared that he had no connection with any slush fund, rumors of which have reached the committee. He was unable to aid the committee materially in translating some of the telegrams explaining that he could not recall details.

STATE AUTO MEN TO CO-OPERATE

Hope to Get Together to Eliminate Excessive Expense;
Direct Tourist Travel

BOISE, March 12.—The Idaho State Automotive association, composed largely of auto dealers at present, has been organized with the Idaho State Automobile association in efforts directed to the tourist business and legislation affecting the motorist. A joint arrangement on memberships, it is expected, according to the management, will be announced soon.

A bulletin of the association says: "There has been too much duplication of effort along all motorist lines. The work must be co-ordinated. The public cannot support all these independent organizations in the state, together with others from the outside here constantly asking for money.

"Funds so collected, and more especially by outside agencies, usually go to pay the salaries of 'live wire' secretaries whose principal business is to make trouble for communities that do not accede to their demands.

"The Idaho State Automobile association has been put on a public service basis, with all managerial compensation eliminated, the money to be expended wholly for service. The dealers everywhere are co-operating in the interest of the motorist."

INCOME TAX CUT
THROWN OUT BY HOUSE LEADERS

Republican Chiefs Definitely
Reject Coolidge's Request for Action to Effect Slash in 1923 Payments

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—House republican leaders definitely turned down today the request of President Coolidge for a resolution making effective immediately the proposed 25 per cent deduction in income taxes payable this year.

Representative Longworth, republican leader, told Mr. Coolidge the parliamentary situation would not permit action on such a resolution before Saturday when first installments on taxes must be paid.

At the same time, the revenue bill passed by the house and containing provision for the cut in 1923 taxes was vetoed by Secretary Mellon before the senate finance committee. The treasury secretary insisted it would bring about a treasury deficit of at least $25,000,000 in the fiscal year 1925.

Attack Request.

Preceding the death of the resolution proposal an attack on the president's request was made in the senate after a suggestion from Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, that action on the resolution be instituted there. Chairman Smoot replied that although the constitution specifies only that revenue raising measures must originate in the house, a resolution asking reduction in revenues would undoubtedly be considered unconstitutional if action on it were first taken in the senate.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, led the attack on the proposal, declaring the president's message "comes too late" and charging that the executive merely wanted a free hand to veto the revenue bill itself.

Appealed Too Late.

Mr. Longworth declared the proposal dead tonight after a conference with republican leaders.

In a statement Representative Hull, Tennessee, chairman of the democratic-national committee and a member of the ways and means committee, declared the appeal of the president came too late.

"It is not unfair to say," Mr. Hull asserted, "that the utterly belated tax message of President Coolidge of yesterday is in harmony with his past record of delay when confronted either by an important problem or by an emergency situation."

The statement of Secretary Mellon supported a previous declaration of Chairman Smoot of the finance committee that the house bill would have to be revised to provide for more revenue. Some democratic members of the committee also later indicated their belief that the measure would have to contain some higher rates to prevent a deficit.

Sensitive Instrument.

During the reading of a paper before a scientific body an eminent scientist observed that when the bolometer was invented, some thirty years ago, it was able to measure temperature to about one hundred-thousandth of a degree. Since then the instrument and its adjuncts have been so far improved that temperature can be measured to less than one hundred-millionth of a degree readily and with precision.

SAVING THE CHILD

Ten babies out of every 100 do not live a year. Three out of these ten die in the first month of their lives. Sometimes this is due to ignorance and sometimes the babies have not been given the proper start in life, because the parents were not healthy. Mother's milk is the best food for baby. If you do not think your milk is right for the baby do not stop giving it breast milk until you have seen your doctor. Very often your doctor will be able to increase the quantity and the quality of the breast milk.

After the sixth month the baby should be given food in addition to milk. Your physician will advise you and will furnish you with printed suggestions to help you.

Babies should be trained to sleep and eat at regular times. They should never form the habit of eating between meals.

Baby should be bathed regularly. If this practice is carried out regularly, it will become a habit. A daily bath is not weakening. Teeth should be cleaned at least once daily from the time the first tooth appears. Sufficient rest is necessary to the health of children. Until they go to school, they should have a daily nap and until the child reaches high school he should sleep from 10 to 12 hours at night.

It is not necessary for the child to have the so-called children's diseases. Keep your children away from all diseases and have your physician tell you how you can prevent them from ever having diphtheria.

Adenoids and diseased or enlarged tonsils are a menace to good health and should be attended to by a physician.

Thumb sucking and nail biting may be signs of nervousness and should be stopped. If the child continues in these habits a physician should be consulted. If a child is trained in regular habits when it is young, its development into healthy and happy manhood and womanhood will be much easier.

The Te Deum.

The Te Deum is a famous Latin hymn of praise and supplication—so called from its first words—used in the ritual of the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. Its date and authorship are uncertain, but it is commonly supposed to be the joint production of St. Ambrose and St. Augustine, on the occasion of the baptism of the latter, about 390 A. D. On this account it is frequently called the "Ambrosian Hymn." It also has been ascribed to Athanasius, bishop of Alexandria, to Nicetus, and to Hilary of Poitiers.

Seven Tests for Drunkenness.

A police surgeon who is often called in to pronounce motorists, arrested for reckless driving, either drunk or sober, has devised the following seven tests: 1, telling the correct name and address; 2, walking a line; 3, touching a spot on the wall; 4, touching the nose with the left hand and then the right; 5, touching the nose with the eyes closed; 6, saying "rural"; and 7, picking up a pin. If the one suspected can do all of these things he is a safe prospect to be pronounced sober.

Intelligent Pitching Would Reduce Ruth's Record, Sisler Says

Believes Proper Kind of Twirling Is Only Means of Curbing Swat King's Buns

ST. LOUIS, March 12 (AP)—Intelligent pitching would prevent Babe Ruth from slugging out so many home runs, a dispatch from the St. Louis American's training camp at Mobile, Ala., quotes Manager George Sisler as saying. "I do not mean that Ruth is not dangerous," the dispatch quotes Sisler as declaring. "He is always dangerous. But if pitched to intelligently his home-run total will not approach his record."

David Smith, director of the picture, has reproduced in this sequence one of the more famous Indian massacres, preserving carefully every historical detail.

To insure that the attack be historically correct Mr. Smith availed himself of the services of an old Indian scout, "Pop" King, who is 90 years old, is the sole survivor of a group that started to California in the gold rush of 1849. All the others were killed off during an Indian attack, in which King, thought dead, was scalped. He was rescued later and brought back to health.

DECREASE SEEN IN SPRING LAMB CROP THIS YEAR

Government Report Puts Market Supply for Early Months at Lower Figure; Increase Expected in the Summer

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—Considerable decrease from last year in the market supply of early spring lambs in April, May and June is indicated by present conditions in the principal early lambing areas, according to a report issued today by the United States department of agriculture. The supply in July and August promises to be larger than that of last year.

The greater part of the supply of spring lambs in April and May comes usually from California, Arizona, Kentucky and Tennessee. Conditions in all these states except Arizona are less favorable than last year as regards production and it is possible that the foot and mouth situation in California may cut off all supplies of live lambs at eastern markets.

Larger Idaho Crop

In June early lambs from the corn belt begin to move in volume and there are usually some receipts of early lambs from Idaho and Oregon. Conditions both in the south and in the northwest indicate a larger lamb crop than last year and, with favorable spring weather the June production from these areas may be larger than that of last year.

Conditions in California have been generally unfavorable for the early lamb crop, especially in the southern part of the San Joaquin valley, where rainfall has been only 25 per cent of normal and there has been little pasture or green feed available. There it has been necessary to feed all stock on dry feed and from some sections come reports of a serious shortage of feed stuffs and of considerable losses of lambs and sheep.

Epidemic in Problem

In the Sacramento valley conditions have been more favorable and possibly almost as many lambs as last year will be raised. Under the most favorable conditions from now on there will hardly be 175,000 head for eastern shipment this year as against more than 275,000 head shipped last year. Because of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease, it is a question whether the quarantine will be raised soon enough to make it possible to ship early lambs to eastern markets.

If all the lambs must find a market within the state there may be considerable shipments of dressed lambs to the east, the volume of which will depend upon the price of live lambs in California and of carcasses in the east.

Bams Needed

In Arizona there will be from 40,000 to 60,000 early lambs for market. There are 40,000 in the southern valleys that will begin moving shortly after April 1 and continue through May. In addition, 20,000 of January lambs from desert bands may be available if needed rains come to make desert feed.

In Iowa sheep have wintered well and there possibly will be some increase in the number of early lambs. There has been plenty of winter feed in Idaho and sheep have wintered well. Weather conditions have been excellent, especially in February, when the bulk of the early lambing takes place. Indications are that early lamb crop will be larger than last year and with continued favorable conditions the leading in June will be equal to that of last year, or larger.

Smaller Crop in Oregon

In Oregon the winter was probably one of the most favorable ever known and sheep are in excellent condition. The lamb crop will be somewhat smaller than last year.

In Washington few early lambs are loaded before July. The early crop is estimated at between five and 10 per cent larger than last year and sheep and lambs are in the best condition in years. Winter feed has been abundant and prospects for early range are good.

HAS ADVICE OF INTEREST TO RAILWAY EXECUTIVES

Fate of Road Lies with Sagacity and Statesmanship Shown by Officials, Sir Henry Thornton Asserts

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—The fate of American railways lies entirely with their owners and the future of transportation will depend to a large degree upon "their sagacity, justice and statesmanship," Sir Henry Thornton, a native American but now a British subject, chairman of the Canadian railway system, declared tonight, addressing the American Railway Engineering association.

More than 700 American rail chiefs were present.

The Canadian national railways system, he told the audience, came into being as a result of the failure of privately owned lines to maintain solvency.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

The senate ordered an inquiry into the administration of the bureau of internal revenue.

Former Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, it was disclosed, is under consideration for secretary of the navy. Leaders refused to bring up the resolution providing for a 25 per cent cut in taxes this year.

The senate Daugherty investigating committee opened its hearing with Roxie Blinson of Columbus, Ohio, as the first witness.

The house ways and means subcommittee made public its plans for insurance policies as a feature of the bonus bill.

The suspension of section 48 of the merchant marine act was lifted by the interstate commerce commission effective May 20.

Secretary Mellon told the senate finance committee that the revenue bill passed by the house must be revised to prevent a treasury deficit.

The army appropriation bill was reported to the house carrying $326,224,993 and calling for the maintenance of the army for another year at its present strength.

Congressional investigation of bribery rumors affecting members of congress was ordered by the house with Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, as head of the investigating committee.

Edward B. McLean told the oil committee his assertion that he loaned Albert B. Fall $100,000 in cash was made at Fall's request, adding that he had no interest in the Sinclair and Doherty oil companies. He denied any knowledge of the Fall oil policies except what he had read in the newspapers.

PLANS SHAPING FOR CONSISTORY

Active Preparations Under Way for Public Event to Take Place at St. Peter's

ROME, March 12 (AP)—Active preparations for the public consistory in the basilica of St. Peter's, at which Archbishop Hayes and Archbishop Mundelein will receive the red hat, were begun today. A large force of workmen was busy throughout the day in the sacred edifice.

Boxes are being constructed for members of the vatican diplomatic corps, personages of the Roman aristocracy and distinguished visitors. Near the "altar of the martyrs" a large platform is being erected. On this platform Pope Pius will take his place when he descends from the sedia gestatoria and the two archbishops will ascend, sit, kneel before the pontiff, kiss his ring and embrace him and have the red hat placed on their heads.

The papal tailor announced today that though work on the vestments of America's two new cardinals had not begun, all their robes would be ready during the week the consistory is in Rome prior to the ceremony. He already has their measurements.

There must be reply for the cardinals capes of ermine and red trains, almost 25 feet in length. In addition to the silk garments the new members of the sacred college must have some of red wool and vestments of violet. To be worn in the conclaves, where flat color alone is seen.

Reported Terms of Agreement Between Pope and Italian Government Call for Transfer of Property

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—The Daily Express gives great prominence today to a statement to the effect that the dispute between the pope and the Italian government is about to be settled and that in consequence the pope no longer will consider himself a prisoner in the vatican.

The terms of the agreement by which the trouble will be ended, says the newspaper, are, first, the government to restore to the vatican the whole of Vatican Hill, on which the vatican now holds only a part; second, the government to build at its own cost a palace, or a series of houses for the accommodation of the cardinals, the holy see in return handing over to the government scattered properties throughout Rome in which the cardinals are now housed, and third, the independence of the pope to be guaranteed by the league of nations.

The statement adds that under the agreement the pope will remain an independent sovereign and Vatican Hill will have the status of an independent country.

CANAL MANAGER ADVISES WATER CONSERVATION

Burton Smith Seeks Co-operation of Twin Falls Water Users in View of Possible Shortage This Season

In view of a possibility of a short water season, Burton Smith, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, issued the following statement regarding cooperation on the part of the water users with the company's organization to the end that there may be given "the best possible service to everyone concerned throughout the entire season."

"Creation of as much underground storage of water during the spring is urged by the general manager, as a means of conserving the water supply. 'This,' he said, 'can be done, in my opinion, most effectively by starting irrigation early and getting the greatest possible quantity of water in the land before drawing on storage holdings.'

Gives Report on Condition.
The manager, in his statement relative to conditions making for short water season, quotations from a letter addressed to the canal company, March 6, by E. B. Darlington, Minidoka project manager for the United States reclamation service.

Mr. Smith's statement in full follows:
"We are confronted with a possibility of a short water season and it is my desire, as the new manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, to get the facts before the farmers of the project as that we, as the company organization, may receive co-operation from the water users to enable us to give the best possible service to everyone concerned, through the entire season."

The important facts are these:
There is no snow in the lower portion of the Snake river water shed which means that drawing on the storage, if there be any, will begin early. That the storage, unless unusual conditions obtain during this spring season, will probably be low, and particularly so for this project, due to the fact that our storage is the top storage in the reservoir.

To substantiate these statements let me quote from a letter received by the company, dated March 6, of this year, from the United States reclamation service:

"It is indicated by the curves that water supply conditions are not improving and that it is somewhat doubtful at this time whether Jackson lake will fill, especially in view of the light snowfall on the watershed at lower altitudes, which conditions may make necessary and early draft on the reservoir."

"From diagram (2) it will be noted that the depth of now water content is below any year since records were started in 1920. Without the snow record of 1919 a complete comparison with that year is not possible, but precipitation records were kept in 1919 and the diagram shows 1924 precipitation very close to the 1919 curve. It is believed, however, that there is considerably more snow on the watershed now than at the corresponding date in 1919."

"As the Jackson lake drainage area controls but one-fifth of the runoff at Helise, the new conditions at the lower altitudes have a very important bearing on the water supply for the year. It is the impression that the snow conditions on the watershed at the lower altitudes are considerably below normal, which would indicate that stored water would have to be used during the last four years. Were it not for this fact, it might be still a safe prediction that Jackson lake would fill, but in view of this condition, it would seem somewhat doubtful at this time on account of the narrow margin as indicated on the storability diagram."

"Very truly yours,
(SIGNED) "E. B. DARLINGTON,
"Project Manager."

Would Create Storage.
It is my opinion that, during the spring, while we are drawing water from the natural flow of the river, that it will be of great advantage to all concerned if the farmers will create as much underground storage as is possible in their land. This can be done, in my opinion, most effectively by starting irrigation early and get the greatest possible quantity of water in the land before drawing on storage begins. It is also important that the co-operation of the farmers be reduced to the losses and wastes after the use of storage is begun."

ADVICE GIVEN IN WAR UPON PESTS

State Officials Make Recommendations at Opening of Orchard Spray Season Here

Use of standardized oil sprays for control of leaf roller and San Jose scale as well as of other orchard pests that are amenable to lime-sulphur spray treatment is recommended to Idaho orchardists at the opening now of the spraying season, a meeting of about 50 fruit growers of this district in the Parish hall Wednesday evening was told by M. L. Dean, director of the state bureau of plant industry, and Harry Smith, Idaho chief horticultural field inspector. The visiting officials arrived here Wednesday evening from Boise to address this meeting, which was held under auspices of the Twin Falls Horticultural society, and will today address similar gatherings in the afternoon at Jerome and in the evening at Buhl.

Substitution of standardized oil for lime-sulphur sprays was advised by the visiting officials because of its wider range of effectiveness, and because of a country-wide tendency to resort this season to the use of standardized oil sprays in control especially of San Jose scale, which they said, was more widespread and devastating last year than ever before in the history of the industry in this country.

Other Pests; Other Weapons
The state bureau, Mr. Dean said, would also recommend, without qualification, the use of cold mix emulsion oil sprays and considered the hot mix better, although use of both hot and cold mix, he said, is still in an experimental stage.

Orchard pests listed as susceptible to control by use of standardized oil sprays, in addition to leaf roller and scale, included oyster shell bark louse, winter moth, red spider, woolly aphid, green aphid and rosy aphid.

Immediate pruning to remove canes developed last season was urged by Mr. Dean as a means of combating blight.

Aerial sprays, he advised, should be used in control of codling moth, while use of barriers in the form of cotton girdles placed about the tree trunks together with poison was advised for control of climbing cut worm.

NEW MARK SET IN THIRD YEAR FASHION EVENT

"Smile and Style" Show Opens to Capacity House with Three-fold Claim to Popular Favor; Will Be Repeated Tonight

Not only dealers in women's wear, but industrial institutions and vendors of wares ranging from meals and groceries to automobiles, took part in the Style and Smile show, presented Wednesday evening before a capacity house in the Idaho theater and to be repeated this evening.

A succession of plans worked out during several weeks of diligent effort on the part of committee of the Twelfth Century club, the sponsoring organization, the Smile and Style show set a new mark in the history of similar events here and reflected great credit to the club women and those who have co-operated with them in the undertaking.

Stage settings brought here from Salt Lake by the theater management for the occasion, were elaborate and most effective as a background for the living models appearing in apparel of fashion's latest dictates, and for the several unique and original stunts devised by amateurs in the display of their varied wares.

Three Winning Events.
The performance was divided into three parts, opening with women's "blackface minstrel," followed by the "merchants' review," in which the various merchandise lines claimed attention, and closing with the fashion show proper.

The performance was presented with a minimum of delay, credit for this achievement as well as for some of the effectiveness of the stage settings, being earned by the executive committee of which Mrs. H. C. Gettler is chairman, and by Howard Smith as supervisor and director of the production, who served also as an announcer throughout the three-hour program. The minstrel performance opening the program scored a decided hit, and jibes on the part of the end men, Mrs. J. L. Hodgins and Mrs. N. J. Keefer, coming in for rounds of applause. Mrs. D. L. Alexander proved a capable interlocutor and vocal number sang by herself and other members of the circle met with manifest appreciation.

Stunts Highlight Interest.
Scenes of children and young men and women appearing in singing and dancing numbers and other stunts contributed largely to the success of the merchants' review, and distribution among the audience of sample wares was an interesting feature. In the presentation of this part of the program two young women were rewarded as making a trip to New York to inspect the various market-places of the metropolis.

Exhibitors in the merchants' review in the order in which their offerings were presented were as follows: The Amalgamated Sugar company, Troy Hardware, Liberty Market, Terry Hotel, Sunflower, Fisher Drug company, Alvord and Mott, Independent Meat company, Burkholder Furniture company, The Art and Gift Shop, Simpson Wholesale Grocery, Twin Falls Steam Laundry, Wagoner's Bakery, Alexander's Cash Grocery, Century Market, City Pharmacy, Five Point Grocery, Fitzgerald Motor company, Cosgriff Sign company. The flowers from the City Tower Greenhouses and from the Twin Falls Floral company also added to the charm of the stage settings.

In the preparation for the third and last part of the program the Twin Falls Life Insurance Underwriters' association presented a short playlet in two parts, entitled "As Long as Ye May Live," depicting the fate of the family of one who had died and left his family adequately prepared by life insurance, and the second scene presented the reward which was offered the man in heaven. The whole of the play was cleverly carried out by the life insurance men.

Owens, cloaks and millinery and other fashion's dictates for feminine apparel were attractively exhibited by living models in the style show proper, and the following exhibitors were represented:

Schramm-Johnson Drug company, Vanity Shop, Idaho Department Store, Booth's, Wright's store, Vogue, Riley's millinery, Shoe Market, Golden Rule Store, United Store, Robbins' book store, Barber Shoe company, Sinclair's, Ophelia Beauty Parlors and Priebe Jewelry company.

The program closed with a slow curtain while the minstrel quartet from behind scenes sang "The Home Town," a composition by "Pop" Fisher.

Furnishings for the third part were through the courtesy of the Hooster Furniture company and the Lugin Music company.
