Senate Committee Investigating Internal Revenue Affairs Hears Testimony Regarding $23,000,000 Assessment

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Testimony regarding a $23,000,000 tentative additional tax assessment against Standard Oil Company, which was later reduced to $18,000,000, came out today during the examination by the senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau of E. W. Rossmore, former section chief in the bureau and now a tax accountant practicing before the bureau with the company among his clients.

Senate Counselor, republican, brought the matter up when he called Rossmore to the stand, first mentioning $5000 as the amount to which the assessment was reduced, and then, however, he said the reduction had amounted to $18,000,000.

Complicated Questions.

The additional assessment was proposed to the bureau by Field Agent Guernsey, the proposal involving a number of complicated tax questions, including that of the allowance to be made on the company's property for "depletion." Quernsey, Rossmore said, was now in his office in New York after having resigned from the bureau. The committee did not go into details of the case, but determined to ask the revenue bureau to submit a report on the matter involved in the reduction, if the revenue commissioner believed he could make this report under the law requiring secrecy as to tax returns.

Is Under Charges.

Rossmore, who said he was now under charges before the bureau in violation of the possible improper use by him of information obtained by him while employed there, said he did not care to take that personal question up before the committee and already had filed his answer with the commission. He said the answer was a denial of the charges.

Explaining his employment by the Standard Oil company, the witness said that when he resigned from the bureau in 1910, after two years service, he was tendered a contract to do tax accountant work for the Standard Oil after having refused a salaried position with the company. The contract yielded him $10,000 a year for three years.

The students evinced much enthusiasm for the talk.

Charles W. Elliott, President Emeritus of Harvard, Received Greetings on Ninetieth Birthday Anniversary

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 20 (AP)—The duty of educated men lies in their service to their country in peace as well as in war, said Charles William Elliott, president emeritus of Harvard university, who received in Sanders theater here today the salutations of the American people on his ninetieth birthday. Charles William Elliott, 89, is present at the personal reception of President Coolidge, bore the message of "love, gratitude and respect for one whose long life has been full of content and useful service in promoting the welfare of his countrymen."

Bishop William Lawrence, of Boston, announced that friends of the bishop would be giving a matching of $125,000 for the better support of certain departments of the university, the gifts being, said Lawrence, in recognition of his illustrious life.

The greetings of the people of Canada were expressed through a letter from Premier W. L. McKenzie King, and a number of other prominent Canadians. President Elliott selected "Joy in Work" as the motto of a very large part of his life.

"It is not false, to say that he has lived a great portion of his life in the intelligent democracy of this country than any other official citizen of his time," Chief Justice Taft said in tendering to Dr. Elliott a personal congratulatory note on his long life of usefulness and honor and their deep and grateful appreciation of the work that he has done for them as their nation's champion for more than a half century.

Minister Morales replied that the Honduran authorities would give adequate protection for American lives and property including the legion and consulate, and that he would not accept responsibility for the consequences if the detachment was attacked.

FIGHT LOOMS ON INCOME SCHEME

Democrats Draw Up Another Set of Figures While G. O. P. Stands by Mellon Plan

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Interest of the finance committee's reconsideration of the revenue bill turned again today to the approaching fight on income tax rates after the committee had agreed to some further treasury provisions on technical and administrative details in the bill approved by the house.

Democrats drew up some prospective rates today and submitted them to fiscal experts to determine their probable revenue yield, while republicans continued to support the Mellon rates, displaced by the house for the Longworth compromise.

Meanwhile attention was centered on estimates as to the probable amount of revenue to be required by the government next year.

A report by Under-Secretary Winston of the treasury showed that the treasury, in its estimates as to the revenue which would be collected next year and on which it figured the surplus available for tax reduction, had used the lower figures of two different estimates.

If the maximum estimates had been used it showed that $88,415,000 more would be collected in the fiscal year 1924 and $248,415,000 more in the fiscal year 1925 than under the figures accepted by the treasury. The treasury had figured on the basis of the lower estimates that a surplus of $229,000,000 would be available in the fiscal year 1924, and $392,000,000 in the following year, the first in which the revenue law would apply.

Republicans Determine Upon Action on Fish Resolution Proposing $10,000,000 Expenditure; Labor Measure Up

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The fish resolution to authorize a $10,000,000 appropriation for the relief of German women and children will be put to a vote in the house Monday.

This was determined upon today by republican leaders, preliminary to a conference on the legislation situation with President Coolidge at the White House tomorrow night.

The German relief resolution introduced by Representative Fish, introduced by the independent group of foreign affairs committee, will be brought up under a rule limiting debate to one day, insuring a vote Monday. Longworth will be disposed of this week and will take up the army bill Tuesday.

It will be followed in turn by the independent group of foreign affairs committee, which is considered one of the controversial supply measures by the Johnson administration bill and the other appropriation bills.

Talk Cited Labor Law

Representative Longworth said today a house vote would be had this session on a resolution proposing a child labor amendment. Such a resolution he predicted will be reported next week by the judiciary committee. He also said that the house probably would vote on the Norris resolution, approved Tuesday by the senate which would advance the date for the inauguration of presidents and the convening of congress.

Adjourn Before June

In agreement with President Coolidge that congress should adjourn before the June convention, Mr. Longworth said today a vote would be taken on the adjournment of congress. He said he was firmly opposed to a recess over the convention and would insist that congress stay in session through the adjournment period if unable to adjourn since die before then.

In an effort to speed up its program the house tomorrow will meet at 1 o'clock. Instead of noon, and will be in session tomorrow night to pass on bills on the private calendar.

REPORT JOHNSON CASE
SETTLED OUT OF COURT

BOISE, March 20 (AP)—Legal battles connected with the settlement of the estate of O. P. Johnson, wealthy Hermann valley rancher, ended today when on the stipulation of attorneys, actions pending in the supreme court were dismissed with prejudice. The stipulation says the case has been settled out of court. Dismissal of the case "with prejudice" means that the case can never again come up in the Idaho supreme court.

The case attracted the attention of Idaho courts since about 1910 when Kate Cecilia Bedak, adopted daughter of O. P. Johnson and his first wife, died, and the estate was claimed in its entirety by Nellie Payne Johnson, his third wife.

Mrs. James Fitzgerald, Prominent Club Woman, Dies Suddenly at Home Here

Mrs. Cora M. Fitzgerald, wife of James Fitzgerald of the Fitzgerald Motor company, corresponding secretary for three years of the Western Federation of Women's club, an organization comprising 11 states, and for many years active in local, district and state women's club activities, died suddenly Thursday evening at her home here, aged 50 years.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was fatally stricken while alone at home Thursday afternoon. Her husband returned home about 5:30 o'clock in the evening to find Mrs. Fitzgerald lying on the floor. Effort on the part of a physician summoned by Mr. Fitzgerald to halt the bleeding life proved futile, and death occurred within the hour.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Fitzgerald is survived by a daughter, Mrs. O. J. Childs of Elmer, an only child.

One of Pioneer Women

Mrs. Fitzgerald was one of the pioneer women of Twin Falls county, coming here with her family almost 20 years ago from the state of Washington, where she had taught school for a number of years. The family had been here two years, according to a farm in the vicinity of Elmer and about six years ago moved to Twin Falls.

Fitzgerald was a graduate of a New York state normal school and possessed a faculty for ready expression in writing, which, together with her home management, her reliability in fulfilling tasks assigned to her, won her prominence in the sphere of women's club work.

She was regarded as a mainstay of the Twentieth Century club, current events department in which she had served for four years as social secretary. She was also secretary of the Twentieth Century club, and was the club's reporter for the publication of the state Federation of Women's Federation.

During the period of the world war, Mrs. Fitzgerald took a prominent part in activities of the Red Cross. She was an active member also of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church.

Completes Work at Hand

The last hours of Mrs. Fitzgerald's life were devoted to completion of tasks in connection with her official position in club work. She completed the work of the Twentieth Century club of First district clubs, and early in the afternoon, as though forewarned of the approaching end, she asked to be relieved of a committee chairmanship.

Upon Mrs. Fitzgerald's request, arrangements had been made for devoting the next meeting of the current events department of the Twentieth Century club to consideration of the activities of the Western Federation with an address by Mrs. M. J. Sweeney, president of the department, said Thursday evening, will not be held, but will be devoted to a service over Mrs. Fitzgerald's passing.

Moffat Tunnel Officials Announce Explosion Plot Was Frustrated; Sticks of Dynamite Planted

DENVER, March 20 (AP)—Officials of the Moffat tunnel commission announced today that an unsuccessful attempt was made last Sunday to blow up the west portal of the Moffat tunnel now being built under the continental divide. Dan Sullivan, an alleged I. W. W., was being brought to trial today and will be filed against him, officials said.

Tunnel officials charge that Sullivan, because of a difficulty with the superintendent of the tunnel, plotted several sticks of dynamite at the entrance of the first crosscut with the main tunnel and then exploded the charge hoping to wreck the timbering and block the tunnel.

No material damage was done.

Governor Moore Signs Extradition Papers in Case of Youth Held for Hazelton Holdup

BOISE, March 20 (AP)—Governor C. C. Moore signed extradition papers today for the return to Idaho of Roy Smith, one of a quartet wanted for the robbery last November of the Hazelton State bank. Smith is now in Los Angeles under arrest awaiting the arrival of Idaho officers. The sheriff of Jerome county will bring him to Idaho.

The papers named the entire quartet as follows:

James Elmer Havermale, Roy Smith, Russell Smith and John Doe, whose real name is unknown. The other three are still at large.

The sheriff of Los Angeles county, which is the place where the boys were arrested, said that Havermale had been traveling in an automobile, and had given the engine number and California license of the car and said he thought Havermale's parents were in St. Anthony. He also told a certain girl in Idaho.

Traced Westward

By means of a description of their car they were traced from Pocatello, Idaho, to Hazelton, where they were arrested, through Twin Falls toward Portland.

Belief that the young men arrested in Los Angeles Thursday were involved in robberies of other banks, including the banks of Rogerson and Hansen, was expressed by local authorities.

Twin Falls police and sheriff's force have co-operated with the Burns operatives in the search for and pursuit of the robber suspects.

Expected $4300.

Three men participated in the Hazelton bank robbery, according to statements of bank attendants following the holdup. Two of the robbers, wearing masks, entered the bank and seized approximately $4300 of the bank's funds and forcing the cashier, H. E. Gundelfinger, and two attendants to lie down on the floor. A third man remained outside the bank and waited in which they made their escape. The robber car escaped hastily organized pursuit in which most of the population of Hazelton joined in automobile.

World Fliers Get

Major Martin and His Men Settle Down to Preparation for Flight Overseas; Will Attach Pontoons

SEATTLE, March 20 (AP)—Major Frederick L. Martin, commanding, and three other officers, flying four planes, arrived here today and tonight had settled down to 12 days of preparation on Sand Point aviation field on Lake Washington just north of the city for the hardest test expected in the United States army to circumnavigate the globe in the air.

Three of the fliers, Major Martin and Lieutenants Lowell E. Smith and Fred W. T. Smith, traveled today from Vancouver, Wash., to Sand Point, 195 miles, in two hours and a half. They were joined later by Erik H. Nelson, who came from Eugene, Ore., today.

The four fliers, four stateside fliers at Santa Monica, near Los Angeles, was halted here for adjustments to meet the difficulties of driving the machines from the United States to Japan. This is reckoned by far the most severe part of the course that is expected to conduct the fliers back to Los Angeles in September and led to big money prizes that are being offered for them.

On the journey from the United States to Japan, 4168 miles on the course as mapped out along the coast of Asia, the fliers are to sail through the Aleutian Islands of the United States to the Kurile Islands of Japan, the machines are not expected to touch land. They are to be in the air for more than a month.

Wade Van Eaton, House Creek ranch employee, pleaded guilty on arraignment before County Judge Packard to a charge of violating the state prohibition law, but declined when he appeared later in the day in district court, exercising his statutory prerogative of withholding plea before the higher tribunal for 24 hours.

Van Eaton was arrested by deputy sheriff and a federal agent who raided his domicile Wednesday and seized a 15-gallon keg which they reported to be half full of moonshine whiskey.

Birch Volpi, arrested by deputy sheriff and a federal agent in a raid on his farm home near Berger, where two improvised moonshine stills and a quantity of liquor were seized in district court Thursday pleaded guilty to violating to state prohibition law and paid a fine of $300, whereupon 30 days' arrest was suspended by Judge Babcock and Volpi was released from custody.

LOS ANGELES, March 20 (AP)

Russell Smith, 21, and his brother, Roy, 19, were arrested by deputy sheriffs here today on a fugitive warrant from Boise, Idaho, charging the youths with robbery of the First National bank of Hazelton, Idaho, a few months ago.

According to officers here $4300 was taken in the robbery. The robbers had no money when arrested. Both denied guilt of the alleged crime. The boys' parents live at Fort Collins, Colo., authorities were told.

Women Accompanied Them.

The accused young men, according to the detectives, arrived in Pocatello early last week making the trip over to Idaho last week from Los Angeles to reclaim money stolen from the bank which they are said to have been caught in the vicinity of Hazelton according to Burns operatives, who were here last Sunday on the trail of the robber suspects.

LEASE PROBERS TO HEAR HAYS AND SINCLAIR

Succession of Thrills Looked for in Friday's Session of Oil Inquiry; Jennings, Once Famed Bandit, Is Called

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—A succession of thrills is looked for tomorrow by the oil committee with the appearance before it of Harry F. Sinclair, upon whom a subpoena was served today at New York.

The senate investigators are prepared to question Sinclair on a wide range of subjects, some of which have been gone into rather exhaustively through other witnesses and others which have not yet been touched upon.

Among the new phases is a story that the New York oil magnate turned over a large batch of securities to Will H. Hays, former postmaster general, and Attorney General Daugherty to wipe out the deficit of the republican national committee incurred in the 1920 campaign.

Witness Absent.

The committee had hoped to go into this matter today but G. D. Wahlberg, former private secretary to Sinclair, who was to be questioned about it, failed to respond when his name was called. Later committee members learned that he had been ordered to Havana, Cuba, by his physician because of ill health.

A subpoena for Will H. Hays has been issued by the committee and he is expected to be here Saturday, Carmel A. Thompson of Cleveland, Ohio, also is summoned for that day to tell what he knows, if anything, about rumors of "oil deals" at the republican national convention at Chicago in 1920.

In connection with the Chicago gossip the committee today issued a subpoena for Al Jennings, Los Angeles, once famous train robber of Oklahoma. It will not be possible for him to reach Washington before next week.

Information reaching Senator Walsh yesterday, the committee "prosecutor," is that Jennings was a close friend of Jake Hamon, former republican committee man from Oklahoma, who is alleged to have offered his support to Major General Wood at Chicago in return for appointment as secretary of the interior.

Brief Session.

In the absence of Wahlberg, the oil committee held on a brief session today and it proved one of the most colorful of the now six months old investigation. Former Representative Thomas Jefferson Ryan of New York, appeared voluntarily to deny under oath that he ever had dealt in any oil stocks. He asked for an apology from the committee for bringing his name into the inquiry.

Senator Walsh told him that an "apology" was unnecessary, that it was a case of mistaken identity, and that personally he regretted that the mistake had been made. Ryan then said he had no doubt that it was an "honest mistake" on the part of the committee's auditor, Louis F. Bond.

The Years at the Spring

Today, March twenty-first, the first day of Spring, ushers in a season of blue skies and of flowers; a season when women dress themselves in clothes of gayer mood and colors warm and bright as Nature herself assumes.

THE spirit of Springtime finds expression in boyish suits, in checks and hairline stripes. The boyish tailleur is fashion's favorite made for spring.

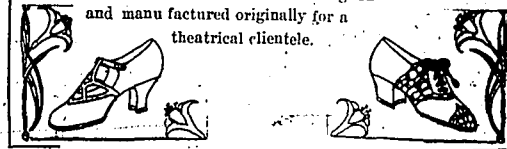

SPRING is the season for sweaters—and this Spring a season of color; so if your taste in color runs to the barbaric your sweater will be tangerine, Mexico, almond green, or possibly a brilliant blue.

SWAGGER topcoats from Hart Schaffner & Marx invite brisk walks in March winds. Colorful plaids, solid colors. And there are lovely coats of twill and charmeen if you want a dress coat.

SPORTS styles in colorful silks will describe many of the prettiest dresses for Spring. And we have provided these styles in large sizes this year, as well as sizes for the very small woman.

THE little girl who is eager for new Spring finery will like our Jack Tar Togs, pongee dresses, coats, capes and sweaters.

FOR shoes for Spring we offer many original designs from Boyd-Welsh, makers of street and theatrical footwear. Styles shown here are chosen from graceful numbers designed and manu factured originally for a theatrical clientele.

Attention, Beet Growers

The success of the Factory is dependent upon the success of the grower. These few remarks are offered in the interests of both, and in pursuance of a policy designed to offer every assistance in our power to the men who grow the beets.

JAMES SKILLEY, District Manager.

NOW is the time to get busy on the land.

Fall plowed land or potato ground should be gone over and seed bed prepared by spring-tooth harrow, or disc, then floated so that low places in field where dry ground has been dragged will have a chance to get soaked up with any moisture we may get, thus insuring an even germination of seed, also to start weeds, then worked again before planting to destroy weeds.

Experience has proved that beets planted the latter part of March or early in April has made the best tonnage.

Drills should be examined to see that each shoe is depositing at the same depth. Each time a turn is made in the field see that shoes are not clogged up. Do not plant more than one and one-half inches deep. A good seed bed well packed and seed evenly deposited at the proper depth will go far to insure a satisfactory crop. All spring plowed land should be worked down, corrugated and irrigated before planting.

Clover and alfalfa ground should be crowned as shallow as possible to cut off crowns properly, then harrow and leave long enough to get crown dried up, then plow about seven inches deep, irrigate and plant as above.

This work should be done so beets can be planted by the 20th of April, and if possible by April first. Do not plant on smooth surface. Always harrow ahead of planter.

RICKARD SAYS HE WAS FOOLED IN FILM DEAL

Boxing Promoter Admits He Believed Muma's Claim that Law Would Be Passed to Permit Picture Showing

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—More reels of the famous fight film "deal" were run off today by the Daugherty investigating committee by Tex Rickard, promoter, and Thomas G. Spelley, a former department of justice agent.

Their testimony partly corroborated and partly conflicted with previous stories told the committee. In his nightly statement, summing up the day's developments, Attorney General Daugherty declared that Rickard had "exonerated" him from failure to prosecute film exhibitions, and that Spelley's testimony mainly was "hearsay."

Rickard, in two lively hours on the stand, told of his part in the effort for widespread exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films in 1921, but said he was "bunked" by his associates, had made little money and that he was twice fined for his part in the exhibition.

Spelley confirmed generally the statement of Rickard, but in his other department of justice agent regarding the story told them by Jay Muma and its involvement of Mr. Daugherty, Edward B. McLean, the Washington publisher, and others. He quoted Muma as saying Daugherty suggested that Muma should get a "cut" in the profits of the exhibition, but disclaimed Holdridge's version, that the attorney general suggested a 50 per cent "cut."

Muma became an even more interesting figure tonight through futile efforts of the committee to locate him. He failed to respond today when his name was called, although Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, in charge of the testimony, said Muma's lawyer had promised his appearance. Process servers now are on a fresh hunt for him and Senator Wheeler expects him before the committee tomorrow.

Rickard said that Muma, telling of "influence" in Washington, suggested exhibition of the fight films upon assurance that a law would be passed forthwith making their display legal. This action could be secured in two weeks, Rickard said he was assured, but said that on this as well as other promises he was "bunked."

"I got bunked—that's all," was his only explanation of the promises of legislation when senators expressed amazement that he considered them seriously.

"They did not do anything for us," he said, regarding Muma and his associates. "We got no protection, and got nothing, and they got their money without doing anything."

LIONEL BARRYMORE IS MOST VERSATILE PLAYER

Perhaps no other actor alive today has played such a vast variety of roles as has Lionel Barrymore. On the stage and on the screen, he has demonstrated a versatility that is amazing and he invariably gives to a part a finished performance that stamps his acting as a work of art. But, then, he is a Barrymore—a name rich in traditions.

Barrymore can be seen this week at the Orpheum theater, where he is playing the role of Baron Bonelli in "The Eternal City," a production of his studio, the National picture was produced in Italy, Canada and with a stellar cast that includes in addition to Barrymore, Barbara L. Marr, Bert Lytell, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love.

As Baron Bonelli the famous actor is called upon to interpret a role that is extremely difficult, and which makes demands upon all the emotions known to the histrionic art. This is a big role in a big picture.

BARRETTING ASSISTS IN SCREENING NOVEL

Booth Tarkington evinced a keen interest in the filming of his studio, "Pied Piper Malone," written especially by Thomas Melghan, the star of the Paramount picture which comes to the Idaho theater today. He was on the "sets" during the filming of a greater part of the scenes of the story.

Although several of Mr. Tarkington's novels have been turned into picture form, this is the first one he has written originally for the screen and the first one he has actually had a working part in.

The actual working out of the scene

ario by Tom Geraghty interested the Hoosier author very much—he wanted to be on the spot when his characters were brought to life.

"Pied Piper Malone" is a tale of the New England shipping town of Oldport. It is a sailorman's romance. Lois Wilson is leading woman and others in the supporting cast are equally prominent.

Getting Too Fat? Try This—Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. EFFICIENCY BEING TRANSLATED INTO HOME ACTIVITIES

Shown by a Policy of Completing Spring and Summer Wardrobes Early

The business-like foresight for careful planning which women apply to every problem of today is being exercised in the home sewing activity which is so apparent just at this time. Knowing that every day will be filled to overflowing with pressing duties and enjoyable social occasions, when once Spring is really here, every woman makes preparation for her motto.

Spring and summer clothes for the school children, too, are being rushed to completion. Mr. Booth of the Booth Morencille Co. stated that in his opinion the reason for the increased home sewing activity lies in the simplicity of the spring styles and the ease with which the modern commercial pattern may be used.

A glimpse into his store would seem to furnish further inspiration for the creation of attractive costumes. Even to a masculine eye the colorings and designs of the new silks, wools and cottons appear most attractive. A host of new colors and unusual designs are displayed in a fetching manner, along with the rich plain weaves which are always in favor. An extensive Springtime Dressmaking Campaign, featuring fabrics, trimmings and dressmaking accessories, is announced by Mr. Booth this spring. If the special features, which Mr. Booth mentioned, are carried out, this promises to be an event of real community interest.—adv.

BAKERS SLIP UP ON SHOE CLERKS

Sheiks Lose Standing at Hands of Royal Bakery Five in Two Out of Three Games

The bowling league reached the home stretch Thursday evening with the best scores of the week when the Shoe Market five lost two of the three games to the Royal Bakery bowlers with a margin of 30 pins in the two totals.

Knefel was the high man for the evening with his score of 585. Logan, another shoe fitter, brought up a strong second with 540, and Baker, captain, Toman, took third and high place for the winners with 502.

A total of 922 was the bakery mark made in the first game for the two teams to shoot at in gain during the remaining games. They took that game by a wide margin. In the second the 203 score of Salmon dropped to 143 and several other bowlers evidenced with a resulting victory for the clerks. The final game was a real battle. Both teams were tied in the league standing up to that game, and eight pins in the final game tells the story of the bakery's victory.

Team averages rose for the week with the bakers hitting 171 and the clerks standing at 160.

Team Standing.

At the end of the twelfth week, the bowling league is headed by the Troy laundry which undoubtedly take the local bowling title for the third year in succession.

Each team has three games more to play and it is barely possible that the Idaho theater squad may tie or pass the Trojan squad, and the third place position still remains open for the Times, Sugar factory, Royal bakery or Shoe Market, all depending upon the showing made in the last week's bowling.

The standing of the league also may be broken by any of the four teams.

BUHL, March 20 (Special to The News)—First call for track and baseball candidates this evening at the local high school brought out over 40 athletes for the two spring sports. Coach Harry Barry, who has charge of the local athletes, will have assistance in affairs pertaining to the two sports, it was announced.

Last year Buhl did not have a baseball team and consequently the team will have to be built from the bottom up. As far as track prospects are concerned, Joyce, a distant man, is the only outstanding performer in the likely-looking squad from which Buhl's team will be chosen this year.

GOVERNOR RECOMMENDS
ARBOR DAY OBSERVANCE

Proclamation Advises Idaho Citizens to Assist in Planting Trees on Designated Day

BOISE, March 20.—The following proclamation recommending observance of arbor day has been issued by Governor C. C. Moore:

At this time of the year, with budding flowers and trees bursting into color, nature reminds us of the rebirth of plant life in the mysterious cycle of seasons. With its winter rest nature has restored itself and new life is everywhere abundant. Flowers and trees go for toward making life more pleasant and profitable. Nature was profuse in covering the hills with trees and the plains with the verdure of grass, but the ravages of time and the hands of civilization have caused much of its tree beauty to pass.

We, therefore, in an effort to beautify the earth, to make it more pleasant for our homes and for the homes of our children, should plant trees, shrubbery and flowers, to compensate for the losses nature has sustained. Idaho is endowed with great natural beauty and we must try to keep it so. In those sections less favored by nature, greater effort must be put forth to add the beauty and protection afforded by a greater number of trees.

It is the duty of each county superintendent of schools to set aside a day in the month of April for the planting of trees and for exercises in the proper conservation of our natural beauties. This day is called Arbor Day, and I wish to encourage the good people of the state to unite in exercises and in the planting of trees for the beautifying of the commonwealth. It is perhaps the desirable that instruction be given to the care of trees so planted, and it is, in my opinion, highly necessary that school grounds throughout the state be further beautified.

Now, therefore, I, C. C. Moore, governor of the state of Idaho, do hereby recommend that the people of the state of Idaho upon the day designated by the county superintendent as Arbor Day, assist as far as possible in planting trees along streams, public highways and in school grounds, in parks and upon their own premises, in order to provide for the needs of future generations.

CENSORS AND DRAGONS

The man difficult with extreme censorship of any sort is that it lays emphasis on doing away with certain problems—which frequently won't be done away with—instead of preparing people to meet and master them.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey, referring to the activities of the Clean Books League and similar groups of censorship enthusiasts, says:

"All of this nonsense is calculated to relieve homes, schools and churches of their responsibility to prepare youth for the path of life—instead of all this overstraining to prepare the path of life for youth.

"Our part I conceive to be not so much in devoting so much time and effort to finding ways to spare youth something they can't be spared by putting responsibility on the shoulders of individuals, to watch what they see,
read, hear or think, but to spend more time and effort in homes, schools and churches to equip them with the knowledge necessary to grapple with and conquer evil wherever it is encountered on the path of life. This is all being neglected, largely because of these chambers after the false gods. Thus they become a menace to the best interests of modern youth and not a help—as no doubt they want to be.
St. George was armored and he slew
the dragon."

Judge Lindsey and the others who believe that the Clean Books League is on the wrong track entirely are not advocates of uncleanliness in fiction or on the stage or the moving picture screen. Censoring dirt cannot keep it out of the house, but providing soap and scrubbing brush and paint and varnishes and teaching youth how to use them will enable them to keep their own lives in a state of wholesome cleanliness.

RADIO MUSIC ROYALTIES

Radio broadcasters, among their many troubles, are facing demands for royalties on copyrighted music. The music publishers are talking of getting "a million dollars from radio," and believe they can do it if they hang together. They want the broadcasters to make up such a fund, in some way;
otherwise they threaten to refuse the use of their music, on penalty of suits
for infringement of copyright.

It is natural for composers and publishers to feel that radio broadcasting,
which is a public use of their music,
should pay them some return. And no doubt some mutually satisfactory adjustment will be made, in time. At present, however, the broadcasting stations are much perturbed. Most of them have enough difficulty in meeting the big expense of their stations as matters stand, and more and more they are obliged to pay performers for their services.

It might do little harm, for a while,
if the music publishers were to carry out their threat and absolutely forbid
the use of their copyrighted music, though the broadcasters want it "to balance the program." Most of it is jazz and much of it bad. All of it is recent. The world is full of good music so old as to be immune from copyright laws, and recent inquiries have shown that the majority of radio patrons prefer "classical music" anyway. A few weeks of jazzless radio programs, pending the working out of this compensation problem, might be a good thing all around.

THE HOMESICK BIRDS

By DADDY

Jack and Janet, made as tiny as dolls, fly south to see why the birds have not come north in the springtime. They find Cuning-bird has coaxed the birds to stay in the south all year, instead of making the long trip to the north.

"They were saying, 'Spring is here!'"

CHAPTER V.
Janet Tells a Story.

"THE birds are homesick," whispered Janet to Jack. "And I am going to make them more homesick."

"Why?" asked Jack. But Janet answered only with a sly smile.
"Would you birds like to hear a story about the Great Woods?" asked Janet;
and Janet began.

"Not 'No!'" shrieked Cuning-bird very quickly. "We don't want any story about the Great Woods."

"Yes, yes!" cried all the other birds,
and the wild geese and the wild ducks.

"Tell us a story about the Great Woods," the birds gathered eagerly about Janet, waiting for her to begin.

"Well, the other day I took a walk in the Great Woods," began Janet.
"And I saw some wonderful things, and I heard some wonderful things."

"I saw the little budlets bursting forth on the branches of the trees. I saw the soft pink without nodding in the breeze. I heard the rippling brook-let singing as it danced down to the glistering creek. I saw the hepatica peeping above the hillsides, and the pink anemones hiding under the leaves.

"I heard the insects stirring under the bark of trees and I saw the worms venturing from their holes. I heard the rabbits squeaking with joy as they made their home behind the shrubbery. I saw Ducky Deer kissing Deary Doe. I heard the zephyrs whispering to the baby leaves, heard the sap dripping from the saplings."

"And what do you think everyone was saying?" Janet paused a moment.
The birds were all attention.

"What was everyone saying?"
chirped the birds anxiously. "They were saying 'Spring is here! The glad some spring is here. Soon we shall hear the birds singing! Sun the woods-will be all merry and gay! Spring is here!'"

"That is what the little bursting budlets whispered as they turned their faces toward the warming sun. 'Spring is here! That is what the pussy will tells."

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure,
and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine;
the pores of the skin are also a means of forcing the blood of this impurity.
In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating
through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness, and pain—called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a table-spoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—adv.

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MCKAY

My husband is continually going to banquets.

All the moths in our house have moved out of his dress suit and into his smoking jacket.

I see just about as much of my husband in the evening as a head waiter's wife does of hers. He's invited to more dinners than a United States senator —and he hasn't passed one up for three years.

Business banquets, club banquets,
political banquets, lodge banquets—
every kind of banquet that anybody ever thought of getting up! Hugh's always sure to be on the list of invited guests at $5 per plate.

He always tells me that he'd "sooner be shot than go to that doggone banquet tonight." But, he listens to me, he simply can't get out of it—
"business reasons, and all that sort of thing."

And so I sit at home and eat my lonely meals—and beat myself playing solitaire.

If I hired a couple of waiters, appointed myself toastmaster, and called on Hugh for a speech—maybe I could get him to do his banqueting at home
once in a while.

Tomorrow: "My wife takes spring housecleaning seriously."

SUMMER'S WORK AHEAD OF ROAD BUILDERS HERE

Spanning of 23-Mile Gap Between Hansen and Burley on Oregon Trail to Be Started Without Delay

Highway construction to bridge a 23-mile gap on the Old Oregon Trail, between Hansen and Burley, will be completed within about five months after the week-end of this spring, according to H. W. Gregory, state director of highways who, with W. J. Hall, state commissioner of public works, passed through Twin Falls Thursday afternoon returning to Boise from Pocatello.

Work on the road will be inaugurated at the earliest possible moment, Mr. Gregory said. Advertising for contractors' bids, which, according to previous arrangement, would be started within the next two weeks, will begin Mr. Gregory said, soon as directors of the Morten district formalize their formal statement of the district's assumption of responsibility for grant of the right of way through its boundaries. This, Mr. Gregory said, is largely a matter of form, and is sought with the purpose simply of expediting arrangements for beginning actual construction.

Settlement by arbitration of differences over the right of way through the Morten district removed the last hindrance to construction of the road. Transportation and distribution of gravel over it will constitute the major portion of the work involved in the construction of the road. Upon completion of this work, the Old Oregon Trail will be hard surfaced over practically its entire length through the state.

Throughout the jurisdiction of the order membership was increased last year by issuance of 122,000 certificates of membership and $4,695,618 in benefits was paid.
