Upham Denies Knowledge of Contribution from Sinclair; Claims Oil Man Gave $100,000 on Democrats' Expenses

CHANDLER, Arizona, March 22 (AP)—"I am W. Upham, treasurer of the national political committee, in a statement here tonight asserted he had no knowledge of a contribution by Harry W. Sinclair of $100,000 to the national campaign in 1920.

The records of the committee at the national headquarters, he said, will show the record of every contribution received, together with the name and address of the contributor.

Mr. Upham said the only contribution by "oil interests" that he had heard of was when "democratic leaders" told him that E. L. Doherty had contributed from $100,000 to $150,000 to help wipe out the democratic deficit. The republican treasurer said he learned this from "democratic leaders," while he was in Washington as a private citizen seeking the democratic convention for Chicago.

Contributed $7000.

"Prior to the 1920 campaign," Mr. Upham stated, "Sinclair contributed $2000 to the republican committee and during the campaign he contributed $1000. That is all the record I have of Sinclair's subscription to the fund."

"I do not dispute Mr. Hays' statement," the treasurer added, referring to the remarks of Will H. Hays, former committee chairman, before the oil committee today to the effect that Mr. Sinclair told him (Hays) that he would "be responsible for a maximum of $75,000 and that this sum went as part payment of a note the Empire Trust company of New York."

GENERAL QUITS LEGION IN PROTEST TO BONUS

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Brigadier General Lincoln C. Andrews, retired, who commanded the 12th infantry brigade of the Eighty-sixth division in the world war, has resigned from the American Legion, as a protest against the adoption of the bonus bill by the house of representatives.

General Andrews declared he believed the veterans would derive a far greater benefit from reduction of war time taxes than from a federal bonus.

COUNTY VALUATION GAINS

BOISE, March 22 (AP)—Shoshone county valuation gains for 1923, more than two million dollars in 1923, according to the annual report of the county auditor, filed with the director of public accounts. The report is up to the close of business January 15, 1924.

Valuation of all taxable property in the county in 1923 was $21,094,430 and in 1922 the valuation was $2,176,924 less than this.

MOHAIR IN DEMAND

PORTLAND, Ore., March 22 (AP)—Preparations are being made by the Pacific Co-operative Wool Growers to handle the largest accumulation of mohair in the world as a new mohair growers are joining the association from California and Oregon as a result of satisfactory prices received by members last year when the association sold a carload of mohair for 95 cents a pound, which was the highest price received in Oregon for many years. Over 200 members shared in the pool.

Collision Causes Brief Panic Among Ship's Passengers

Olympic, Fourth Largest Liner Afloat, Strikes Another Vessel; Damage Is Slight and Steamer Proceeds

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—A collision between the fourth largest liner afloat, and the Furness, Bermuda steamer Port St. George, in the Hudson river today caused a momentary panic among 140 passengers on both vessels and several hundred people on the White Star line pier, wrought damages estimated at $150,000 to the Bermuda and $250,000 to the larger liner.

The Olympic, outbound for England with 1170 passengers, many of them notables, was turning down stream when the massive liner struck the Port St. George, also outbound with 270 passengers.

The main mast and a large hydraulic derrick on the smaller vessel snapped. Fifteen feet of railing was crushed; a lifeboat, the wireless apparatus and the roof of the main deck smoke room were smashed, but the vessel was able to back under her own steam to her pier.

White Star line officials inspected the Olympic and, on discovering that the damage was slight, permitted her to proceed.

Montana Candidate Urges Flogging of Moonshine Vendors

Shelby Attorney Believes in Rough Treatment as Preventive of Crime Activity

HELENA, Mont., March 22 (AP)—"Public flogging of bootleggers is urged in the election appeal of Jess H. Stevens, Shelby attorney, who today filed with the Montana secretary of state as candidate for delegate at large to the republican national convention.

Flogging, he writes, would have prevented the Teapot Dome scandal and the alleged war fund and veterans' bureau frauds, and would reduce the costs of enforcing the liquor law and all other federal laws."

COOLIDGE BANS ARMS SHIPMENT

President's Order Prohibits Exportation of Munitions to Factions in Honduras

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—A proclamation prohibiting the exportation of arms or munitions of war to Honduras was issued by President Coolidge tonight.

The action was taken under authority of a joint resolution of congress of January 31, 1922, and the proclamation recited that the step was required because of conditions of domestic violence in Honduras which are or may be influenced by use of arms or munitions of war procured in the United States.

SAN SALVADOR, March 22 (AP)—Advices received here today say the Honduran revolutionaries are dominating only part of Tegucigalpa, the capital of the republic, and are awaiting reinforcements from the northern coast before making a final assault on the city. The capital is surrounded on all sides by revolutionaries. American marines are guarding the legation. Numerous persons have been killed or wounded during the ten days of fighting.

ASK PUPILS TO AID IN FIGHT ON BLISTER RUST

BOISE, March 22 (AP)—A campaign against white pine blister rust will be launched through the public schools of Idaho the second and third weeks in April, it was announced Saturday at the offices of Mark A. Means, state commissioner of agriculture. The children of Fremont, Cassia, Lemhi, Clark, Butte, Boise, Adams, Grant, Washington, Payette, Valley and Idaho counties will be asked to help locate the cultivated black currant, which is host of the parasite causing the rust.

Occasional Snows on Weekly Weather Bill

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday: Northern Rocky mountain and plateau regions: Considerable cloudiness, occasional snows; temperature below normal.

SLIDES BLOCK TRAFFIC

TELLURIDE, Colo., March 22 (AP)—Following ten weeks of constant rain, slides are playing havoc in and near Telluride, blocking the Denver and Rio Grande western branch railroad south to Rice. Other slides are reported at carrying out both power and telephone lines and wrecking the water pumping station of the Union Smelter property near here and tramway equipment of the Black Bear mines.

BRITISH CROP PROSPECTS POOR

LONDON, March 22 (AP)—Grain crops in Great Britain will show a further decline this year. The long spells of wet weather which have been experienced of late have caused serious delay in the preparation of the land for sowing and nowhere has it been found possible to carry out the intended program of plowing and sowing.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

POCAHELLO, March 22 (AP)—Joe Kinney, wealthy Cokerville, Wyo., cattleman, Lee Olson and Lou Roberts, defendants in the white slave case in federal court, were found not guilty late this afternoon after 45 minutes deliberation by the jury.

IDAHO FUNDS IN CAREY BANK

BOISE, March 22 (AP)—Total deposits of Idaho state funds in the Carey State bank, which failed to open March 15, amounted to $10,000. It was announced Saturday by E. W. Porter, commissioner of finance.

IDAHO WEATHER

Sunday: Rain or snow, clearing and colder north.

MELLON GIVES CRITICS REPLY ON TAX REFUND

Secretary Disclaims Interference in Internal Revenue Bureau's Affairs; Would Welcome Helpful Suggestions

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Secretary Mellon declared in a statement today that he had "never interfered or attempted to influence the bureau of internal revenue in its decisions on any tax case."

Issued in connection with the hearings conducted this week by a senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau, the statement added that the treasury welcomed any investigation of the revenue bureau, "which for its purpose the investigation of conditions with a view to constructive suggestions for an improvement in the administration."

The statement said: "Considerable publicity has been given the amounts of refunds of taxes allowed by the government and vague general charges have been made that large sums of money have been returned to the taxpayers illegally and unjustly. Reports of these refunds have been made to congress from time to time as required by law, but only recently have the papers noticed these reports. The elements which have in fact affected the amounts of refunds of taxes are the construction of the audit by the bureau of taxes for high way, the decision of the supreme court on disputed questions of tax liability and the better recognition by the taxpayer of his rights."

"It should be borne in mind that since 1917 there have been about $26,000,000 of taxes collected and the total refunds are only $202,000,000, or one per cent of the amount collected. The adjustments made by the bureau as a result of an audit of returns are eight times the amount of the refunds. In other words, there is an additional assessment in favor of the government of $1 for every 13 cents of refund in favor of the taxpayer."

"The charges have been made that preference has been given to companies in which the secretary of the treasury is financially interested. Such a charge is preposterous and manifestly false. The Gulf company's case to which so much publicity has been directed, was settled before I became secretary of the treasury. I have never interfered or attempted to influence the bureau of internal revenue in its decision of any tax case. No evidence has been produced by anyone at any time from which a reasonable inference might be drawn that discrimination was being made in favor of any taxpayer."

WELL, WELL, WE THOUGHT IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE SUCH DANGEROUS BUSINESS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 22 (AP)—A fresh outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in the center of an extensive cattle-raising district in Merced county, scores of miles away from the present quarantined area around San Francisco bay, was announced here officially today by officials of the state department of agriculture.

General Who Held Verdun Suddenly Called by Death

Noted French Military Figure Dies at Age of 87; World Praised His Courage

PARIS, March 22 (AP)—General Robert George Nivelle died today of pneumonia. General Nivelle was the man who held Verdun, a pivotal point in the world war against the Germans, notwithstanding that the mud of it was inferno of shot and shell. He was 87 years old.

Until a few days ago the defender of Verdun, of whom praise for the defense of that city have been sung throughout the world, apparently had been in good health. Prior to the German attack he had been considered merely "an officer of artillery in the French army."

ABANDON IDAHO HIGHWAY ROUTE

Change Must Be Made in Location of Proposed Paving from Pocatello to Fort Hall

BOISE, March 22 (AP)—Interference with the proposed greater Fort Hall irrigation project has made it impracticable to construct the proposed paved highway from Pocatello to Fort Hall over the route desired by the state and approved by the secretary of agriculture. It was announced Saturday by H. W. Gregory, acting director of highways. Another route will have to be selected.

Conferences have been in session for the past four days both at Pocatello and Boise between state officials and persons interested in the location of the highway, but no definite route has been decided upon. This might, however, be definite, said Mr. Gregory. The new highway will be west of the railroad between Pocatello and Fort Hall. The present highway, known as the "high line route," is east of the railroad and will be abandoned when the paved route is completed.

EPIDEMIC BREAKS AGAIN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 22 (AP)—A fresh outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in the center of an extensive cattle-raising district in Merced county, scores of miles away from the present quarantined area around San Francisco bay, was announced here officially today by officials of the state department of agriculture.

Borah's Charge of Delay On Legislative Matters Starts Wave of Oratory

SENATE MAKES SLOW PROGRESS ON TAX SLASH

Only Few Pages of Revenue Bill Studied and Approved; Borah Wants Action; House Bonus Scheme May Be Changed

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—The revenue bill became the target for political discussion and meetings today after undergoing another examination by the senate finance committee, which resulted in no change in the technical administrative provisions considered.

Taken up on debate on the senate floor, the bill was advanced by members of both parties as a piece of legislation which ought to be speeded along.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, said he had read reports that in view of the changes made by the house in the bill it was likely the president would veto it. He added, however, that he did not think so.

Borah Urges Action.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, said his fear was "the president will not have an opportunity," and again urged the senate to "get down to business on legislation." Mr. Borah added that he thought "the senate should frame measures to suit everyone 'rather than any individual'."

Only a few pages of the bill dealing with definitions and administrative features were gone over and agreed to today. From the progress made, it appeared unlikely that the income tax schedule would be reached before the latter part of next week.

Meanwhile, members of the committee met again to discuss a rate schedule they will offer as a substitute for the Longworth rates. No agreement was reached.

With decision yet to be made as to whether the soldier bonus bill will be put ahead of the tax measure, Chairman Smoot continued study of the proposed changes he will offer to the house bonus bill.

Mr. Smoot declared today the house bill would cost much more than the senate estimated. His proposal, which calls for paid up life insurance policies payable only at death, would cost at least $1,200,000,000, he said.

New Declamatory Records Are Hung Up and Skylights Tremble as Senators Train Verbal Guns on Topics of the Day

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—A drum fire of oratory shook the senate skylights today. It started over renewed charges by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, of delayed legislation to permit "grand jury" proceedings. Before the smoke of battle cleared away, however, the senate had been extended to the point where subjects ranging from Teapot Dome to Muscle Shoals.

From the republican trenches, Senator Whadsworth of New York, predicted that the senate would do nothing during the day but "talk." It was wrong, however. The records show that in its five-hour session it voted an amendment to delay legislation providing for permanent white crosses over the graves of American soldiers in France. It took no other legislative action, except to confirm some minor nominations.

Baps Foreign Loans

The senate day started innocently enough. Senator Curtis of Kansas, the republican whip, was alone on the floor. He got the go-ahead within 15 minutes after a quorum had been mustered. Senator Shipstead, farmer-laborer, Minnesota, unleashed a prepared address criticizing generally foreign loans by American bankers and specifically the $100,000,000 loan by the Morgan bank to France.

The senator forewarned possibilities of "grave entanglements from such transactions and charged that a previous loan by the same firm to France had immediately preceded the entrance of the United States into the world war.

Talk Honduras Affair

Senator Shipstead then criticized the administration's policy in Central America and in this was echoed by Senator Borah, while Senator Lodge, republican, Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee, in reply, declared recent actions in Honduras were necessary to protect Americans.

At this point Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, trained his guns upon Speaker Gillett for the latter's recent criticism in a Boston speech on the senate floor. The Arkansas senator denied that the legislative program had been delayed by senate investigations and countered with the assertion that the house had been "at its lowest point in its history as a legislative body."

Borah on Defense

A reference to the recent lecture of Senator Borah to his republican colleagues on the matter of delays in legislative business brought that audience to determine which organization was his criticism. Senator Borah said every senator was pledged to tax reduction, but it was improbable any measure could be passed under the present conditions. He proposed that senate investigations be left to senate committees until concluded and debate on the floor revolved around the legislative program.

REQUEST OF SHORT LINE CLERKS WILL BE DENIED

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP)—The railroad labor board tonight announced it would deny the request of the Clerical Employees' association of the Oregon Short Line railroad for a new election to determine which organization shall negotiate for clerical employees of the road. The board directed the management to negotiate with the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight handlers, Express and Station Employees.

Vanderlip Ousted From Company As Result of Charges

Former Banker Resigns as Director of Big Firm Because of Statements Relative to Marion Paper Sale

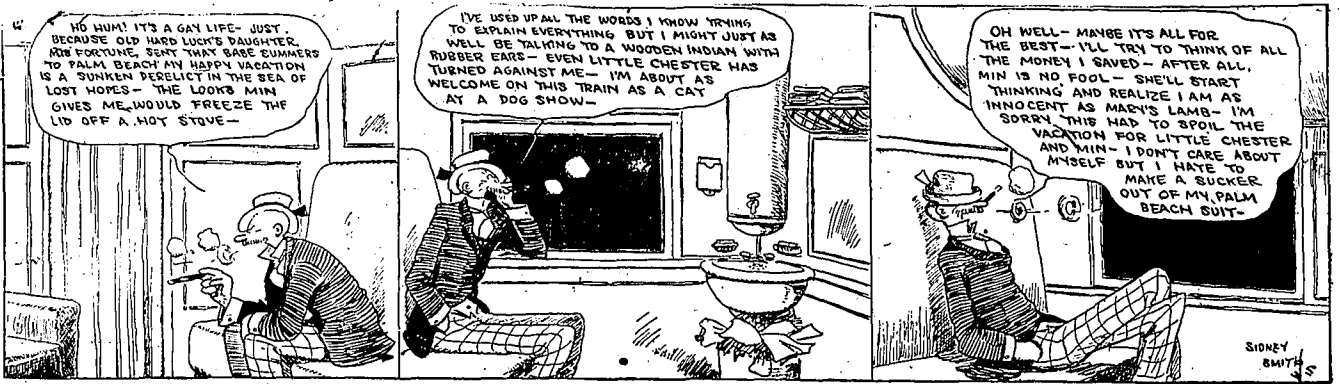

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Frank A. Vanderlip, former banker, has resigned as a director of the Continental Can company of Syracuse, at the request of J. Horace Harding, a fellow director who took exception to Mr. Vanderlip's statement that former President Harding sold the Marion Star for more than it was worth. It was learned tonight.

Mr. Harding said tonight he had written a letter as an individual stating Mr. Vanderlip to resign. "The board of directors," he said, "took no action until the former banker presented his resignation at a meeting a few days ago, when it was accepted."

Mr. Vanderlip today confirmed the report that he had resigned.

"I asked him to resign because of his unwarranted attack on President Harding," Mr. Harding said. "I am a republican. But politics has no part in this. My objection was the assumption of the character of a dead man. I wrote him a forceful letter. He refused to sit with him any longer."

THE GUMPS—NOT GUILTY

WOMAN'S STORY OF BOOZE DEALS IS NOT DEFINITE

Daugherty Investigators Spend Three Hours Listening to Roxie Stinson Unfold More "Amazing" Testimony

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Roxie Stinson today gave the Daugherty investigation committee another long chapter of her amazing story, including a description of a "deal" at the 1920 republican convention to nominate Harding and details of more whiskey "deals," in which she said Attorney General Daugherty was an influential factor.

She also struck back at Mr. Daugherty for his charges that she had attempted to blackmail him as a price for her silence and had registered at a Cleveland hotel with a man named A. L. Pink. Both charges constituted a "beautiful frame-up," Miss Stinson declared, in a sobbing statement of vehement denials and lengthy explanations.

The convention "deal," she said, was related often to her by the late Jess Smith, her divorced husband and constant companion of Mr. Daugherty. She said she was told of a promise of a cabinet position to Jake Hanson, former Oklahoma millionaire oil operator, and of strong arm methods by the Daugherty in the famous early morning conference of republican leaders at Chicago, when they got behind Mr. Harding for the nomination.

No "deals" which she said were cited by Miss Stinson, but she said Smith had told her of them and had said Daugherty's influence was vital to their success.

Questions as to how Jess Smith actually met his death a year ago, in the attorney general's apartment—heretofore accepted and certified officially as a suicide—also were a dramatic feature of the three hours Miss Stinson was on the stand. Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, in charge of the inquiry, asked many questions regarding the appearance of the dead woman's body, the absence of powder, and the "fear" which she said Smith had been laboring under.

A number of letters written by Smith to Miss Stinson were produced and read. There were a few indefinite references to "deals" but none were identified. Only a small part of the letters were reached today, and the witness will continue that phase of her testimony next Monday and after face the ordeal of cross examination.

The name of Howard Mannington again was brought into the picture by Miss Stinson, who related conferences at "the little green house in K street," where, she said, Smith told her that Mannington, Daugherty and certain acid impenetrable. She said Smith named Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, and Postmaster General Nease among the frequenters of the place. Mannington has been charged by other witnesses with receiving thousands of dollars in the Dempsey-Carpenter fight film case and New York whiskey deals. Committee members said today they had assurances he would come from Paris to testify.

Girl Psychic Found Guilty on Charge of Fraudulent Activity

Eugenie Dennis, Age 18, Convicted of Fortune Telling; Woman Complaining Witness

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Eugenie Dennis, 18-year-old psychic of Atchison, Kansas, whose clairvoyant powers have been demonstrated before scientific organizations and high police officials here, was found guilty of fortune-telling by a magistrate here yesterday. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Dennis, also was found guilty.

They were convicted on the testimony of Mrs. Mary W. Foley, who charged that the girl demanded $25 for "heating" her runaway boy, declaring him to have gone to Los Angeles. The boy later was found in Pittsburgh.

JENNINGS DECLINES TO EXPLAIN HIS STATEMENT

LOS ANGELES, March 22 (AP)—Jennings, evangelist, politician, real estate dealer and ex-bandit, left Washington today, to tell what he says he knows about a $1,000,000 payment of "oil money" that bought the republican presidential nomination for W. G. Harding in 1920.

Jennings is going to the national capital in response to a subpoena to appear before the senate investigating committee on oil matters.

The former train robber who claims close friendship with the late J. P. Morgan, Oklahoma, republican leader, declared he was going to "keep his tongue between his teeth," and refuse to divulge any names in the alleged political conspiracy until he was brought before the Washington investigation.

ATTACKS TREATY OF VERSAILLES

Man Who Aided in Framing Pact Says It Caused Present War Threats in Europe

ST. LOUIS, March 22 (AP)—The peace treaty of Versailles was vigorously criticized by one who aided in framing it when William Morris Hughes, former premier of Australia, speaking before the City club here tonight, pointed out what he termed its vital errors and faults.

The principal objection found by Hughes in what he described as the dilatory methods employed by those responsible for the conference. The allies failed to strike when the iron was hot, he said, and lost an advantage they have never been able to recover.

"The armistice was signed November 11, 1918," he explained. "At that time Germany was in a mood for peace. She was willing to pay them to her utmost capacity. It was the psychological moment at which to drive a bargain. Instead there was a long delay until January when the conference convened and then another month's delay before actual discussion began."

"And we acted with promptness and decision we would have had peace with Germany by Christmas, 1918. These three months of procrastination are directly responsible for the fact that Europe today is a seething cauldron of emities verging on open war."

Same Here. There may be men who love their neighbors as themselves, but so far have failed to make their acquaintance.

HAYS PRINCIPAL WITNESS IN OIL LEASE HEARINGS

Sinclair Declines to Testify and Contempt Proceedings Are Talked; Campaign Funds Under Examination

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Events in the oil inquiry moved again today with dramatic developments. Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of Teapot Dome refused to answer questions put by the senate investigators, who certified the facts to the senate with a view to contempt proceedings.

Will H. Hays, former chairman of the republican national committee, testified that he had contributed $75,000 to help wipe out the $1,600,000 deficit of the committee after the 1920 campaign.

Upham to Give Facts.

A subpoena was issued for Fred W. Upham of Chicago, treasurer of the republican committee, requiring him to bring all records of the committee bearing on any and all campaign contributions received.

After refusing to answer ten questions put to him, Sinclair upon leaving the committee room issued a long statement in which he attacked Theodore Roosevelt and others who have testified.

Hays denied a story that Sinclair had contributed 75,000 shares of Sinclair oil stock to wipe out the republican committee deficit, characterizing it as being "as false in content as it is vicious in purpose."

Deal Was Personal.

Other high spots in his testimony were:

That he and his brother, Hankley Hays had a "purely personal" transaction in bonds with Sinclair and that the committee was welcome to examine his private records of the transaction.

That while he was postmaster general he had first met Hays and Hays of Sullivan, Ind., of which his brother was a member, was counsel for Sinclair in Indiana.

That no stock was used as security for loans to the republican anti-trust committee, at least while he was chairman.

Leases Not Discussed.

That the naval oil leases were never discussed at any meeting of the cabinet at which he attended.

Hays said he asked Sinclair to contribute toward wiping out the committee deficit in 1923, more than a year after he left the cabinet. This was about one year after Sinclair obtained the lease of Teapot Dome.

After being directed by unanimous vote of the committee to take the stand for the sixth time, Sinclair announced his refusal to submit to further questioning in a long prepared statement which he read into the record.

CHANDLER, Arizona, March 22 (AP)

—Fred W. Upham, republican party treasurer, said today he recalled a contribution to the national committee "which was taken up by Mr. Hays" on a note at the Empire Trust company in New York, but added that he would have to examine the books and records of the committee at the Chicago headquarters to learn, definitely, the amount involved and the names of the principals in the negotiation.

Mothers You Can Prevent Children From Taking Cold

Next Time They Come in Wet and "Sniffing" Rub This Vapor Salve over Throat and Chest.

When children come in from play with feet wet, noses blue and hands like lumps of ice, you feel sure that they are "in for a cold."

But the next time try Vicks. At bedtime rub this vaporizing salve well in over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors, and these vapors go directly to the passages, stimulating the mucous membrane to repel germ attacks.

At the same time Vicks increases the circulation of the blood through the chest region, thus helping to prevent any congestion developing.

If applied in time, Vicks will prevent many colds from getting a start and its use doesn't disturb the child's digestion as constant internal dosing is so apt to do.

LOCALS BEATEN BY THREE PINS IN RETURN GAME

Twin Falls Bowlers Lose Third Contest to Idaho Falls on Poor Bowling; Murtaugh Is Feature Man of Evening

Once more the Idaho Falls bowlers defeated the local artists. After giving them every chance to win, the eastern team took two of the three games and won by a margin of but three pins, Saturday night.

In the final frame of the last game the result narrowed down to Bill Town's ability to strike out. Bill made his first strike clean, and it was then that the entire audience which packed the local alleys rose in a body to watch the Twin Falls anchor man. With one ball to win or lose the game, Bill shot a clean one that hit fall and took nine pins. The tenth walked and stood up—and the crowd went home.

This makes the third victory for Idaho Falls from the Twin Falls quarter. Saturday's score was 238-235, with Pardonette, Idaho Falls, high with a total of 548, and the only 200 score of the game in the first game when he rolled 212.

Stage Fright?

The alley was jammed to capacity when the match opened at 9 o'clock with the Idaho Falls bowlers falling into an easy stride which captured the first game without an effort from the Twin Falls men who were, from all appearances, awed by the crowd or badly in need of glasses. Three Twin Falls bowlers failed to pass the 150 mark and Self was high with 160. This game was all for Idaho Falls with the score 760-837.

Mark Murtaugh, chief coach and trainer for the Twin Falls bowlers featured throughout the second and last games with his timely suggestions to the local team to improve their form. Cubit profited the most by the suggestions and shut his eyes. Unusually luck for the local bowler seemed to be the result. Mark announced that next week he would take the team to Gooding for a championship contest with the school for the blind.

Second Game.

If the first game was poor, the second was still worse from the bowling standpoint. However, the Idaho Falls bowlers dropped nearer to the Twin Falls standard and the game became more sociable. This one went to the eastern men also, with a 825-755 score, and still three Twin Falls men were below 150.

And then in the last game of the evening the Idaho Falls men adopted the Twin Falls style altogether and the local maple bowlers rapidly jerked back into form taking the contest with a margin of 141 pins and coming within 3 points of tying the eastern team. The least that can be said is that a good time was enjoyed by all.

Murtaugh Features

Feature performers for Twin Falls are headed by Mark Murtaugh. He is closely followed by "Cubie" Cubit. And to Bill Town go the high score honors, with 194. Larson was particularly unlucky with his cherry pin which was left standing invariably on shot appeared to be perfect strokes. Self and Bailey also bowled nice games.

For Idaho Falls Pardonette was easily the star performer. His stint of rolling the ball in the gutter for the first ball and making a spare with the second was his feature act.

At the end of the match both teams accompanied by a large delegation of fans, attended a banquet at the Perrine hotel for the Idaho Falls bowlers.

CHANGES ARE APPROVED IN CODE FOR FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Four radical changes in the football playing code, all intended to speed up the game and increase its versatility, were adopted today by the National Intercollegiate Football rules committee at its annual meeting.

The abolition of all mud or artificial kicking toes, the advancement of the kickoff from the 40-yard line to the center of the field, an increase of from two to five yards as the penalty for excess time out and decision to try for point after touchdowns from the three instead of the five-yard line were the most important measures approved. A number of others were made to clarify rules often misinterpreted.

GREELY TOSSERS WIN.

SALT LAKE, March 22 (AP)—Greely, Colo., high school won the championship of the intermountain basketball tournament here tonight, defeating Latter Day Saints high school, Salt Lake, 29 to 13.

BOWLERS START ON FINAL WEEK

Golden Rule and Laundry Tangle Monday; Tie May Result for Third Place Honors

The bowling league is on its last lap. The home stretch is now in sight with the final week closing with the following lineup:

Monday evening the "Troy Laundry" will definitely decide their place on the list when they meet the Golden Rule bowlers, who express every confidence of being able to take all three games from the league leaders.

Tuesday evening the News bowlers will meet the Shoe Market in an effort to raise their standing and to move up in the pin standing.

Wednesday the Idaho theater and Royal Bakery quintets will furnish the excitement.

Thursday night's engagement will settle the count and end the season when the Times and sugar factory bowlers meet.

There is every possibility that a quadruple tie might result in the outstanding for third place pending the outcome of the week's games. There is also a possibility that the laundry and Idaho theater fives may finish in a tie for first place with no team to claim the third position.

One thing is certain, the Golden Rule will not be motivated in their possession of the cellar position.

SAYS FIRPO MAY RETURN

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Further pressure will be brought to bear on Luis Firpo to have him reconsider his "decision" to retire from the ring, Juan Homs, agent of Tex Rickard, intimated before sailing today for Buenos Aires. "Firpo likes the United States and would like to return," Homs said. "It was more confident of himself and thinks he would have a better chance against Dempsey should he fight him again."

"SIX DAYS"

The powerful dramatic pictureization of Elinor Glyn's greatest fiction achievement, "Six Days," will be shown at the Orpheum theater soon.

This picture, carrying a cast of first quality, is based upon a story that is packed with interest and thrills and contains some of the most elaborate sets ever used in the making of a photograph. "Six Days" is said to be easily the best of Elinor Glyn's film offerings.

"SHADOWS OF PARIS"

Pola Negri in her fourth American starring picture, "Shadows of Paris," a Herbert Brenon Paramount production, is surrounded by a brilliant array of supporting players.

Adolphe Menjou, Charles de Roche and Huntley Gordon head the cast in featured roles. Among others are Garret Hughes, Vera Reynolds, Rose Blane, Rosita Marand, Edward Kipling, Maurice, Cannon, Frank Nelson and George O'Brien.

"Shadows of Paris," which will be shown at the Idaho theater on Monday, remains for three days, is from the French play, "Mon Homme," by Andre Pieard and Francis Carco.

BOSSIE FALLS INTO BADGER

HOLE AND BREAKS HER NECK

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 22 (AP)—Badgers may be all right in a cage but in the open they should be classed as "deadly animals," in the opinion of A. Van Ausdale, game warden of this county. He bases his assertion on the fact that one of these animals recently caused the death of a milk cow of good stock belonging to a farmer in this vicinity.

The badger had undermined a steep bank along the Walla Walla river, with a broken neck as a result. According to Mr. Van Ausdale, the hole was so large that only one hoof of the cow was visible above the ground.

Two years ago a farmer in the same locality, while mowing his near the river bank, was suddenly precipitated, tumbler and all, into a huge earth pocket dug by a badger.

Mr. Van Ausdale expressed himself as favoring trapping of badgers in the locality.

WORLD WAR RESPONSIBILITY

For the benefit of posterity and the history writers it is probably essential that responsibility for the World War be correctly fixed. During the war most persons in the allied countries believed and maintained that Germany was wholly guilty. Since then we have come to regard Germany as most responsible but have admitted at the same time that other nations and their diplomats had at least a slight share of responsibility. Today three organizations are studying the whole question again and attempting to discover exactly what government was most to blame.

One of these organizations is German. It publishes a monthly bulletin containing articles, new documents and bibliographies tending to show that Germany was not wholly responsible. A French group is seeking the facts and is publishing them as quickly as possible in a quarterly.

Both of these groups are regarded by outsiders as sincere and honest in their purpose, but each of them inevitably leads a little to the side of its own country and the disparagement of the other.

The third group is the Neutral Commission of Investigation into the Causes of the War, located at The Hague. Distinguished representatives of neutral countries make up its membership. It has already collected a large library, and is sifting documents and publishing bulletins concerning its findings. It has not gone very far yet and is hampered a little by insufficient funds.

If all the causes which contributed to the World War are discovered they will be found to have many ramifications and to extend far back into history. If they could all be set forth simply and logically, and if thoughtful citizens of all the belligerent and the neutral countries could then be persuaded to read and study those causes, there might result a swifter movement toward the establishment of a practical program for peace. Unless, of course, nations are always to remain as slow about learning from past mistakes as they have been so far.

CHAPTER I

Early in the Morning.

"JACK" cried mother's voice from downstairs. "Jack, it is time to get up for breakfast and make yourself ready for school."

Jack turned over sleepily. His bed was very comfortable and chilly spring morning. He didn't want to get up.

Out of doors Cocky Robin was singing in a gay "good morning" song.

"Hello! Hello!" warbled Cocky Robin. "Hello, sunshine! Hello, flowers! Hello, breezes! Hello, everyone!"

Jack, half asleep, heard Cocky Robin's song.

"Jiminy! I wish I were Cocky Robin," murmured he. "It must be fun to be a bird and to get up when you please and not have to go to school. I wish I were as lucky as that."

Cocky Robin, balancing himself on a twig, outside Jack's window, looked inside at the sleepy boy.

"Hello! Hello! Hello, Jack!" warbled Cocky Robin. "But never there was a little phibistic note in his song."

"Cheese! I wish I were a boy and could snuggle down under warm blankets on a chilly spring morning like this."

No, it never is safe to make a wish unless one really means it, as Jack and Cocky Robin soon were to learn.

It happened that Fairy Flitter Bug was passing that way just as the boy and the bird made their wishes. Jack even if he had been wide awake and looking from his window would not have known that a fairy was around, for Fairy Flitter Bug did not look like a fairy at all, but just like the bug part of her name. Which is why she was called Flitter Bug.

"Flittery, flittery, yolly!" hummed Fairy Flitter Bug. "Boy have your wish! Bird have your wish!" And Fairy Flitter Bug flitted on her way.

But at her words Jack felt some thing astonishing happen. He wasn't in his warm bed any longer. He was shivering on the limb of a tree outside, trying hard to sing to keep himself warm and cheerful. He had wings instead of arms and no more feathers instead of pajamas.

"Golly! Golly!" sang Jack Robin. "I have been given my wish. I am a Robin!"

At the same instant Cocky Robin found himself sagging down in a warm bed instead of clattering on the limb of a tree. He had grown large and had smooth, pink skin instead of red and white, and black and slate-colored feathers. And he had two arms instead of wings and a mouth instead of a beak.

"Jiminy!" exclaimed Cocky Robin, just as Jack would have done. "I have been changed into a boy. Hurrah! Now I can snuggle in bed instead of shivering in the chilly morning air."

Jack, shivering outside, also found cause for rejoicing. He began to fit about in the tree. "Cheese! I could cream—adv.

am free to fly about all day. I don't have to go to school."

(How Jack Robin and Cocky boy both get astonishing and surprising will be told in tomorrow's chapter.)

Breakfast Food

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MCKAY

My husband finds fault with all our lunches.

Every week when his clothes come back from the wash, he holds an official inspection, and then he holds forth!

I know his anti-luncheon speeches by heart. I ought to—I have to listen to 52 of them a year.

"Just look at those clothes! They look as though they'd been laundered in a coal mine," he begins.

"Look at those soft skirts of mine! They have enough starch in them to turn a bullet," he continues.

"Look at those handkerchiefs! They look as though the world's champion rifle shot had been using them for targets."

That's the way he goes on for at least half an hour every week. And he always sounds as though he thought the whole thing was my fault, too, lack of it all.

I don't know what I can do about it, unless I write to the queen of England and ask her if she can recommend a competent laundress whose work might suit his American majesty, Hugh McKay!

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Monthe-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowle's Monthe-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cream—adv.

Overworked Starter puts heavy strain on battery—

BE nimble with the starter these cold nights and mornings. Don't let it grind and groan and groan in its struggle with a cold engine.

If your car has been standing in an unheated garage or for several hours out-of-doors, throw out the clutch and make judicious use of the choke as you step on the starter button. If the motor doesn't take hold with the first few turns, let it rest a few seconds before re-engaging the starter.

While it is true the present day starting-motor will stand a fair amount of punishment, bear in mind that its frequent and continued use puts a heavy strain on the battery. For this reason, as well as the fact that the lights are used a great deal more at this time of the year, the battery should be tested at frequent intervals—once a week isn't too often. A starved battery will freeze at 20° above zero. A fully charged battery is safe at 40° below zero.

A practical word about gasoline

Would you attempt to judge the heat value of a coal by its weight, if you didn't know whether it was anthracite or bituminous or what percentage was slate or dirt?

You might just as reasonably judge the quality of motor gasoline by its gravity. Labelling gasoline "high test" or "high gravity" amounts to saying nothing in an interesting way, so far as its quality, power and economy as motor fuel are concerned.

What you want in gasoline is a complete, orderly chain of boiling points—some low points to assure positive ignition, with a proper proportion of intermediate and higher points to yield maximum power and mileage. That is balanced gasoline. That is CONOCO. And that's as far as you need to look—winter or summer—anywhere in these six mountain states.

Attention, Beet Growers

The success of the Factory is dependent upon the success of the grower. These few remarks are offered in the interests of both, and in pursuance of a policy designed to offer every assistance in our power to the men who grow the beets.

JAMES SOILEY, District Manager.

NOW is the time to get busy on the land.

Fall plowed land or potato ground should be gone over and seed bed prepared by spring-tooth harrow, or disc, then floated so that low places in field where dry ground has been dragged will have a chance to get soaked up with any moisture we may get, thus insuring an even germination of seed, also to start weeds, then worked again before planting to destroy weeds.

Experience has proved that beets planted the latter part of March or early if April has made the best tonnage.

Drills should be examined to see that each shoe is depositing at the same depth. Each time a turn is made in the field see that shoes are not clogged up. Do not plant more than one and one-half inches deep. A good seed bed well packed and seed evenly deposited at the proper depth will go far to insure a satisfactory crop. All spring plowed land should be worked down, corrugated and irrigated before planting.

Clover and alfalfa ground should be crowned as shallow as possible to cut off crowns properly, then harrow and leave long enough to get crown dried up, then plow about seven inches deep, irrigate and plant as above.

This work should be done so beets can be planted by the 20th of April, and if possible by April first. Do not plant on smooth surface. Always harrow ahead of planter.

WOOL GROWERS HIT AT EMBARGO ON IDAHO WAYS

Association Will Assist Actively in Supplying Feed to Drought-Stricken Cattle if California Lifts Quarantine

Business of unusual importance to wool men and sheep men generally was transacted at a meeting of the Idaho Wool Growers' Association, held at Shoshone Friday, T. C. Bacon, president of the association, was unavoidably absent and the meeting was called to order by Vice-President Darrell Barr.

The meeting was called primarily to take up the matter of a wage scale for shearing, which was fixed at 12½ cents a head with board, the members pledging themselves not to pay more than this amount.

The question of importing stock from California to assist in disposing of the Idaho badger hay crop provoked a lengthy discussion, the final decision being in effect that every effort to assist California stockmen in the way of disposing of feed from Idaho would be given in the event that quarantine restrictions on Idaho hay be removed, but that under no conditions would California stock be permitted on the Idaho range as long as any possibility of infection of Idaho range was possible from foot and mouth disease.

The discussion was provoked through the reading of a letter by R. R. Shepherd of Jerome in which Mr. Shepherd suggested the importation of California stock to care for surplus hay. Following the reading of the letter, Mr. Bacon took the floor and proceeded to explain the situation in California. He stated that while the disease was apparently under control in known areas of infection, it kept breaking out in new sections and that while the disease had never spread to the American range as has been the case in Europe, if this result ever took place the stock industry faced disaster on a mammoth scale.

Favors Rigid Embargo
He advocated a rigid embargo on California livestock for as long a time as the disease prevailed and that Idaho stockmen would be foolish to allow any stock at all from the infected range to come into the state. He advocated an appeal to the governor of Idaho for an embargo on such shipments and declared that there was no great hay carry-over in Idaho and even if there was it was not a factor in the matter.

Mr. Clinton made the statement that if California needed Idaho hay she would do well to remove the present embargo on the item State product. He declared that Idaho potatoes were selling in California at three for 25 cents and the reason for this was the pretended fear of infection on Idaho hay. He urged that all current shipments of Idaho potatoes must be resorted and re-packed to satisfy California authority, the speaker declaring that with California so notably careful of its own health it would be well for Idaho to insist on a less severe treatment towards her products if California wants any favors in the way of feed for stock.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA'S SECOND CONCERT DATED

The second symphony concert for Twin Falls will be given Thursday, April 3, in the Orpheum theatre, it was announced Saturday. The symphony orchestra, numbering more than 50 instruments, under the direction of Gustav Flechtner, has been rehearsing diligently for several weeks past in an effort to surpass this year, if possible, its splendid offering of last year.

One of the promised features of the concert is the junior orchestra, which is said to be one of the best junior musical organizations in the state. Mr. Flechtner stated Saturday evening that arrangements had been completed for obtaining for the concert the assistance of several artists from Boise, Pocatello and other Idaho cities as well as a noted soloist from Salt Lake.

Tickets will be placed on sale this week, and plans will be worked out for accommodation of patrons from neighboring towns as well as from Twin Falls.

BABY LAID AT REST

The body of Rex Matthews, four and one-half years old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Matthews, former residents of Twin Falls district, whose death occurred last week in Oakland, California, was laid at rest Saturday afternoon in the Twin Falls cemetery with services conducted by Dr. Edgar L. White of the Methodist church. The services were largely attended by the friends of the deceased parents and Mr. and Mrs. A. Wansum, Twin Falls, parents of Mrs. Matthews.

LOCAL DISPUTES AIRED IN COURT

State Tribunal Hears Arguments in Four Suits Involving Twin Falls County Citizens

Idaho's supreme court in Boise last week heard arguments in several lawsuits involving Twin Falls county residents and interests and requiring attendance in court there of a number of Twin Falls attorneys.

Claims to a power site at Clear lakes is involved in the case of Mary E. Syter against William Hazard, in which the supreme court heard argument on appeal against Robert Rayl, represented by Attorneys J. R. Batwell, George Herriot and T. K. Hackman. Evidence was offered in this case to show that the Idaho Power company had agreed to purchase the site. Syter the power site in dispute in the event it was awarded to her.

Controversy over right of Salmon River project landowners in the restricted area to augment their water rights by proportionate interest in the stock issued to lands excluded from this area is at issue in the case of Richard Glavin against Robert Rayl and the Salmon River Canal company, in which the supreme court heard argument. Glavin being represented by Homer C. Mills and the defendants by J. R. Batwell and T. K. Hackman.

Ouster Appeal Argued
During the week the supreme court also heard argument on certain legal questions raised by the suit instituted by E. F. Walton against W. P. Parish, George Bice and W. E. Nixon as trustees of Twin Falls independent school district. The former directors, appearing from decision of the district court, were represented by W. A. Walters and R. P. Parry, and H. C. Mills appeared as attorney for Walton.

Validity of an alleged mortgage on 1100 sheep and title to 400 other sheep at stake in the case of Bruce against Haug, in which appeal was taken to the supreme court for judgment in the district court for Bruce, argument being heard last week with H. C. Hazel representing Bruce and T. K. Hackman representing Haug.

ARTICLES ON FILE FOR DAIRYMEN ASSOCIATION

Organization Committee Proceeds with Incorporation when Survey of Sign-Up Shows Requirement Met

Articles of incorporation of the Twin Falls district dairymen's association, a non-profit cooperative corporation, formed to market dairy products for its member stockholders, have been filed Saturday in the office of the county recorder here by members of an organization committee pursuant to direction of the committee following house of results of a membership campaign showing enrollment representing about 1200 cows and butterfat production of approximately 30,000 pounds monthly.

Under the articles, member stockholders at their first meeting here, April 10, to ratify the articles and adopt by-laws, will elect a board of five directors, to which management of the association will be delegated. Each year thereafter one member of the board will retire and his successor will be elected by the member stockholders at their annual meeting.

The articles filed Saturday bore signatures of the following members of the organization committee: Gustav Knutze, Leon S. Ayotte, S. N. Hull, E. N. Wood, G. M. McVey.

EGG MARKETING PLAN BOOSTED BY CONFERENCE

Call for Meeting of Producers and County Agents to Close Up Organization Campaign Is Issued Here

Call for a conference of county agents and farmers and egg producers of southeastern Idaho to be held April 4, in Pocatello, was issued here Saturday by W. Kjosness, state leader of county agents, upon request of farmers presented at closing session Saturday of a two-day conference of county agents, university extension division faculty members and representatives of farming, banking and canal organizations of south Idaho convened to work out a program for successful farming during the coming season in this region.

Announced purposes of the Pocatello conference are to review progress made and close up the campaign for organization of a branch organization of the Idaho-Oregon Egg Producers' association for southeastern Idaho, with headquarters in Pocatello.

Pren Moore, extension division poultry specialist, who took a prominent part in the formation of Idaho's first egg marketing association, which has been in successful operation for several years in the Boise valley, will attend and take part in this conference, it was announced.

Continues Unsettling

Closing sessions of the conference here were marked by decision to form a permanent committee to study various factors entering into successful farming in this region and to issue recommendations from time to time. This committee was appointed to be composed of R. E. Grossard, T. C. Kelly, F. L. Williams, Emmett O. E. McLaughlin, Gooding, with W. Kjosness, state leader of county agents, serving as chairman.

Associate members of the committee were named to include Julius Jacobson, United States crop statistician; C. B. Ahlson, state seed commissioner, and R. L. Shaugler, assistant state soil commissioner.

General recommendations of the conference declared for preservation of the livestock industry, by producing adequate crops and advice to the cash crops as extensively as conditions warrant.
