Former National Chairman of Bourbons Testifies Oil Man Contributed $34,000; Walsh Ired by Testimony

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The senate oil investigators took another three days recess today after hearing a single witness, George White, former chairman of the democratic national committee.

Called by Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, White testified that E. L. Doheny had contributed a total of $34,000 to the democratic campaign fund, but that Harry F. Sinclair had made no contribution. White explained that Doheny had given $9,000 during the 1920 campaign and $25,000 in 1921 to help wipe out the deficit resulting from the campaign.

While offering no objection to the examination of White, Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, the committee president, made a matter of record that he regarded the testimony as irrelevant. He told the committee he would support a resolution calling for a general investigation of all campaign contributions, but that he did not think the testimony sought by Senator Spencer was pertinent to the inquiry into the naval oil leases.

Senator Spencer took an opposite view, pointing out that contributions by Sinclair and Doheny to the republican campaign fund had been inquired into. Senator Walsh replied that this was irrelevant as it would be a natural inference that large contributions by the lessees of the naval leases to the republican war chest might influence the subsequent action of republican officials in leasing the reserves.

Lamar Gives up Fight to Escape Prison Sentence

"Wolf of Wall Street" Must Serve Time for Conspiracy to Block Shipments During War Period

TRENTON, N. J., April 2 (AP)—David Lamar, "Wolf of Wall street," has given up his fight to escape service of the one year imprisonment to which he was sentenced several months ago for conspiracy to cause strikes along the New York waterfront and prevent the shipment of munitions abroad during the world war.

Today he withdrew his appeal from Judge Hellstet's recent ruling upholding Lamar's conviction in which the court decided that Lamar had been sent to the wrong place for confinement.

Under Judge Hellstet's decision Lamar will be taken back to the federal court of the third district of New York for re-sentencing.

LEADS GAIN IN WISCONSIN VOTE

Lafollette and Smith Delegates Continue in First Place; McAdoo Falls Behind

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2 (AP)—Delegates at large pledged to Senator Robert M. LaFollette at the republican national convention, and to Governor Al Smith of New York, at the democratic national convention, continued to increase their leads over their opponents as additional precincts reported tonight. With 1011 precincts reported LaFollette delegates at large had 138,050 to 64,036 for President Coolidge.

The Smith delegates at large lacked the commanding lead of the LaFollette forces but the margin established during the early race continued to increase over the McAdoo delegates until it reached 12,380 when 853 precincts had been heard from. The vote was, Smith 33,433, McAdoo 20,553.

COST OF BOB TO BE $150.

CHICAGO BARBERS ASSERT
CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—The cost of bobbing a woman's hair is going up to $1.50 and a trim is to cost $1, according to action taken by the South Side Barbers' association, which expects to make the price general in Chicago. Objectors to the price raise contend that it takes only the same amount of time and effort to bob a woman's hair as to cut a man's and the latter is charged only an average of 75 cents.

COUNSEL ASKS ABATEMENT IN FORBES CASE

Flagrant Irregularities Alleged in Grand Jury Indictment of Former Head of Bureau; Testimony Attacked

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Charging flagrant irregularities in the grand jury proceedings, counsel for Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the veterans' bureau, today filed pleas in abatement against three grand jury indictments voted against Forbes as a result of an inquiry into the administration of the veterans' bureau.

Six pleas were filed charging that unauthorized persons appeared before the grand jury, that witnesses were examined without being sworn and that certain government agents were active in the proceedings without proper authority.

In general the pleas charged that through irregular procedure in the grand jury investigation Forbes was not granted fair and impartial consideration in accordance with established legal rights.

Assistant Attorney-General John W. Crim, the government chief prosecutor, the pleas set forth, was not authorized to appear before the grand jury in the federal court in which the indictments were returned.

It is also charged that Mrs. Kate Forbes, Colonel Forbes' divorced wife, was examined before the grand jury without being sworn as a witness and that she was compelled by coercive action to reveal certain confidential papers and letters.

Pending hearing on the pleas Forbes again asked what he termed indulgence of the house in respect to the many malicious statements which have been made against him during the inquiry of the administration of the veterans' bureau.

COUZENS LEFT ALONE WHEN MELLON'S TAX DATA IS SUBMITTED

RALSTON'S FRIENDS WANT HIM TO SEEK NOMINATION

INDIANAPOLIS, April 2 (AP)—An active campaign in behalf of United States Senator Samuel M. Ralston for the democratic presidential nomination was inaugurated at a meeting of the democratic state committee today at which Thomas Taggart, a party leader, was present. Taggart declared that while Ralston is not a candidate "his friends are insisting upon the presentation of his name to the convention."

Charles A. Grethhouse, national committeeman for Indiana, was authorized to proceed with formation of a Ralston-for-president organization.

MELLON SCORES TAX INCREASE

Proposed Raise in Estate Levy Meets Opposition; Bonus Figures Are Argued

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Another house amendment to the revenue bill came under fire today before the senate finance committee when Secretary Mellon attacked the increase in the estate tax. The hearing of the treasury secretary resumed the full morning session of the committee for the second time in two days, and with the secretary to be heard further to-morrow, Chairman Smoot said final report on the measure might be delayed until early next week. The committee meanwhile went ahead with consideration of the bill at a night meeting.

House action in increasing the estate taxes from a maximum rate of 25 percent to 40 percent was characterized by Mr. Mellon as "economic suicide." He insisted this form of taxation should be reserved principally to states, and the continued use, or increase, of the tax by the federal government would force states to resort to higher taxes on land.

Other Members of Investigating Committee Have Interests Elsewhere; Treasurer Offers Co-operation

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Tax affairs of companies in which Secretary Mellon is a stockholder were again under searching inquiry today before a special senate investigation committee consisting, for the day at least, of Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, alone.

The committee is looking into internal revenue bureau affairs, particularly those of the income tax division. The other members were detained in the senate or in other committee rooms, leaving Senator Couzens to proceed alone with the investigation he fostered.

Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, appeared in the committee-room only long enough to present a letter from Secretary Mellon saying he was prepared to furnish information as to other companies he was interested in, if the committee would inform him as to names of companies it had in mind and the questions raised as to them. This was in reply to a recent verbal request submitted to bureau officials by Senator Couzens for a list of all companies in which Mr. Mellon had any interest.

Senator Couzens renewed that request today after reading the Mellon letter. He also announced his purpose of asking Mr. Mellon to indicate his holdings in the three big corporations whose tax affairs have been the chief sources of inquiry by the committee up to this time—the Gulf Oil corporation, Standard Steel Car company and Aluminum Company of America, the so-called "Mellon companies." The Michigan senator asked bureau officials today if they knew whether Mr. Mellon had any interest in the Neeta Machinery company or if it was a subsidiary of one of the other three. They told him they had never heard of it.

Vanderlip Decides to Quit Business For Inquiry Work

Retired New York Banker Is Ousted from Another Directorate; Says Friends Don't Appreciate Him

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Frank A. Vanderlip, retired New York banker, announced tonight his intention of "resigning from every business board on which I occupy a seat" because of the attitude of many of his New York business associates "toward the work I am doing in Washington."

This decision was made known when Mr. Vanderlip made public an exchange of letters with E. P. Swenson, president of the Preopret, Texas, company of New York, in which his resignation as a member of that company's board was requested and given. Recently he resigned, upon request, as a director of the Continental Can company of Syracuse, N. Y., because of exceptions a fellow director had taken to his statement concerning the sale of President Harding's newspaper.

Among the directorships from which Mr. Vanderlip will retire, it was stated, were the Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Oregon and Washington, Salt Lake, Los Angeles and San Pedro railroads; the United States Rubber company, International Mercantile Marine and United States Realty.

The democratic candidate criticized the republican administration and outlined his own policies in his first campaign appearance in California.

Drastic Measures Are Taken Against Plague; Washington State Tightens Restrictions

SACRAMENTO, April 2 (AP)—State and federal authorities continued today to destroy livestock that was infected with the foot and mouth disease. No additional outbreaks of the epidemic were reported.

Federal and state inspectors fighting the disease in Los Angeles county decided to appraise and kill all cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, pet dogs and cats in the vicinity of the infected stock in the county. The section is upwards of two square miles and includes all stockyards, packing plants and feed yards. This, the most drastic measure taken so far, was executed after the discovery of an isolated case of infection in a family cow.

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 1 (AP)—The state department of agriculture today made more strict its provisions against the importation of the foot and mouth disease into Washington. No fruits or vegetables may be brought into Washington unless inspected and fumigated.

Stock within the state will be permitted only in cars that have been disinfected since February 25.

Record Caravan Over Idaho North-South Route Planned

WHEAT SEEDING IS UNDER WAY

Report Shows Favorable Conditions in Northwest and a Tendency to Diversify

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—The Price Current-Globe Reporter today says: Seeding of spring wheat in the American northwest is getting under way. Dry weather in that section has been favorable for field work and it is felt that if seeding can be completed early, the possibility of rust damage will be lessened. Indications are for a decreased acreage, with possibly some reduction in the Canadian northwest. The latter will probably come mainly in the province of Manitoba, which is suffering from the same causes as the American northwest—namely, relatively low yields per acre of spring wheat—and there is a decided tendency to go into diversified farming.

State Editorial Association Gets Behind Project to Attract Interest to Highway; Moore Favors Scheme

BOISE, April 2.—(Special to The News)—Plans are maturing to pull off the largest auto caravan in the history of the northwest, if not of the nation, over the north and south highway in Idaho.

It is sponsored by the Idaho State Editorial association, whose writers and cameramen, will not only sell the north and south highway to Idahoans but give it national publicity.

Cooperating in the undertaking is the Idaho State Automobile association and the Idaho Automotive Trades association, the former composed of car owners and the latter of auto dealers and necessary houses.

Moore May Join. The co-operation of the state highway department is also assured, and Governor Moore has stated to the head of the editorial association, President Swan of Bozeman, that he will join the caravan unless something unforeseen prevents. Pilot and repair cars will accompany the caravan.

Autoists from all over south Idaho are expected to join in the caravan. It is anticipated as an exceptional opportunity of seeing this comparatively new Idaho territory under the most favorable circumstances.

Coolidge Picks Noted New York Attorney to Fill Cabinet Place; Nomination Is Sent to the Senate

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—President Coolidge filled his second cabinet vacancy today by selecting Harlan Fiske Stone, dean of Columbia university school of law, as attorney general. Having gone recently to the Pacific coast to get a secretary of the navy, Curtis D. Wilbur, of California, Mr. Coolidge turned to the Atlantic seaboard for his attorney general, and in Mr. Stone chose a present resident of New York city and a former New England farm boy. Mr. Wilbur was drawn from California's supreme court and Mr. Stone is being taken from a law school and active practice.

The president selected Mr. Stone because he has known him for 30 years and has confidence in him; because he regards the New York man as possessing the desired qualities of thorough legal knowledge and administrative capacity and because he looks upon the Columbia dean as a "strong, steady, willing, for patriotic reason, to accept a $125,000 job."

Early Conference. Mr. Coolidge chose Mr. Stone yesterday from a list of six and summoned him to Washington. Arriving in Washington on an early train Mr. Stone and the president were in conference before most of Washington was awake and before 8 o'clock the president had tendered Mr. Stone the portfolio and the New York man had accepted. Then at 8 o'clock the president introduced the new attorney general to a dozen senators invited to the White House for a breakfast conference.

Mr. Stone's nomination was sent to the senate soon after that body convened at noon and late in the day it was referred to the judiciary committee for inquiry. Confirmation is expected without delay although several senators expressed a desire to examine the appointee's record and particularly to look into a letter written by him early in 1921 questioning the methods of the department of justice in the "red" raids of the year previous.

Awaits Confirmation. The prospective new attorney general after taking lunch with the president returned to New York on an afternoon train to await action by the senate on his nomination. He declined in advance of this action to discuss his policies on his plans.

Since last June Mr. Stone has been on leave from Columbia and several months ago submitted his resignation to become effective at the end of the present scholastic year in June. During the entire period of his connection with Columbia, dating from 1899, when he came a law lecturer at the university, he has maintained an active law practice and for several years past has been a member of the firm of Wilmer, Canfield and Stone. He recently agreed preparatory to retiring as dean, to associate himself with the law firm of Sullivan, Cronwell and company, at annual salary reported in the neighborhood of $125,000.

BETTER HEALTH SERVICE

Public Health Is Public Wealth

Issued by the Public Health League of Idaho

BEST IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.

Man is so constituted physically that it is impossible for him to apply himself continuously to any given occupation or profession, without a liberal amount of rest and recreation.

While we are subscribers to the mandate of the Almighty that we must earn our bread by the "sweat of our brow," yet by that mandate we are not denied the blessings of repose and rest, whether it be in sleep or recreation.

During periods of rest and recreation nature repairs our exhausted organs not then in use. These are tissues injured by the poisonous accumulation of overwork or even ordinary work, repairing themselves readily and even abused organs may regain their normal state and efficiency. Rest, therefore, may be regarded as a curative agent.

When we have tissues or structures that are wounded, such as a broken bone, we place it at rest and give it time to heal. The organ or structure wounded by work represents an injury in the true sense of the word, and the broken bone or the lacerated skin must be placed at rest if recovery is to be attained. We might call attention to the fact that this is a signal that an organ needs rest, or that the rest it is getting is inadequate. If we have a broken leg, warning is given by more or less severe pain that something is not right. Headache from overwork is one of the common manifestations of the bookkeeper at the end of the month, or to the business man going through some strain. It is a sign of a certain type and is nothing more or less than the cry of nature for a period of rest.

Not only is repair constantly demanding rest, but actual growth requires period of rest. The child that does not have sufficient rest will be stunted in his normal growth. Play, too, is demanded as well as study. Play is a sugar-coated form of exercise, but when fatigue comes, even though the incentive of play will stimulate the body to renewed efforts, the child should be made to take his rest. Study is a method of giving exercise to the brain, but like play, can be sugar-coated. The brain must not be overtaxed beyond its ability to recuperate.

Rest is of vital importance to the growing child. He needs it for two purposes. One, to repair the tissues worn out by exercise. Two, to expand and amplify those tissues which he has.

Rest is not alone that kind involved in lying on one's back and day dreaming the hours away. Sometimes a change in occupation, either temporary or permanently or some recreation consisting of walking or playing golf, or other kinds of outdoor exercise, will bring the rest demanded. Rest induced by drugs is never as suitable as rest induced by fatigue. Rest is sometimes impossible at complete exhaustion. It is well, therefore, to guard against going beyond that danger line we might call "normal fatigue." Every one is familiar with the remark, "I was so tired I could not sleep."

LOCAL CLASS TEAMS READY FOR CONTEST

High School Athletes Meet Today for Honors on Cinder Path and Field; Junior-Senior Competition Keen

Starting at 3 o'clock today the juniors, seniors and sophomores will try their luck on the cinder path and the various stunts, hurdles and other paraphernalia which go with a track meet.

The meet will start with the 50-yard dash which is limited to three men from each class.

The other events in their order are:

Fifty yard dash, high jump, half mile run, high hurdles (preliminary), pole vault, 100-yard dash, high hurdles (finals), 440-yard dash, discus throw, low hurdles (preliminary), 220-yard dash, javelin throw, low hurdles (final), shot put, mile run, broad jump, half-mile four-man relay.

Junior's Favorites.

In most of the events three men are to be entered by each class. The juniors, who are picked as favorites in the win, place Timm and Murray in the weights as their hopes. Alford in the dash and Wilham and Lawrence Hall in the distance events. In all probability these men will place well. Another promising hurdler on the junior squad is Robert Simpson, who is showing nice form on the low sticks in particular.

The senior hopes will center around Jenkins to win a large number of the weight events, with Harrison to hold up the distance runs, Walters to place in the dashes and Weaver in the pole vault. Asdown, another senior, is counted on to place well in the high jump.

Captain David Alford of the juniors has apparently a sure thing, at least the juniors seem to think so. Walters the senior captain, will have tough sledding and the sophomores under Clyde Rossi, are counting upon the performance of their captain to place well in the half-mile.

District Meet May 2.

The district meet will be held on May 2, according to Phil King, who presides this thing for the Twin Falls team this year. Prior to the district meet, which will be held either at Turley or Piler, a dual contest is planned between Twin Falls and Rupert, and another with Wendell. Rupert still has a great many of the performers who held Twin Falls last year for the district championship and a dual meet between the two schools should be a real treat.

King expects big things of the material which is showing up this year and plans to take a large share of the team through the season to a state championship at Moscow, a place aimed at by Rupert and Boise last year's champions, also.

McTIGUE HURT IN BOUT WITH YOUNG GEORGIAN

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, is suffering from an injured left hand and arm as a result of his match Monday night with Young Stribling, Georgian school boy, at Newark, it became known today.

McTigue's arm is swollen to twice its normal size and there is evidence of a possible fracture of the hand, according to Dr. E. L. McKeon, who examined the title holder. According to Paddy Mullins, manager of McTigue, the injury occurred in the sixth round of the bout in which Stribling was a decisive victor.

WEISMULLER WINS AGAIN

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Johnny Weismuller of the Illinois Athletic club broke the national A. U. championship record for the 100-yard freestyle swim tonight in the national A. U. senior indoor swimming championship tournament continued from last night, going the distance in 1:53 4-5. His old record was 54 seconds.

VOGEL TOPS THE LIST IN SINGLES TOURNEY

The first round of the singles bowling tournament ended Wednesday evening with Vogel topping the list with a total of 591.

Thirteen bowled Wednesday and the high men in order were:

Vogel	591
Evans	540
Pinko	528
Towman	517
Kerr	498
Bailey	484

Towman rolled the high game but only succeeded in placing fourth due to the handicap schedule which is being used. Vogel was good all of the time and it will take a good bowler to wrest first place from the Golden Rule man now. Tonight 12 or 13 more men will roll for the final selection of places on the list and Saturday of this week will close the alleys, according to Manager of Chicago today. The bowlers are sure to continue the season for another week.

Braves Lose in Consolation Play; Basketball Version of "Casey at the Bat" Staged

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—In the consolation play of the national interscholastic tournament at the University of Chicago today Medford, Oregon, high school defeated Boise, Idaho, high school, 32 to 22. The score was 14-14 at the end of the first half and continued close until Medford made three straight baskets toward the end of the third quarter.

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—The basketball version of "Casey at the bat" was played in the national interscholastic basketball championship tournament tonight when a string of 33 consecutive victories was ended and a state champion's visions of a national title faded.

Ungles, left forward of the Maitland, Missouri, team, played the role of Casey in the critical moment of his team's game with El Reno, Okla., which the Oklahomans won 20 to 19. Maitland, a town of 800 with 80 high school students and 13 boys from which to pick a team, led El Reno from the start, but near the end the Oklahomans tied and then passed the ball to Ungles. With 40 seconds to play, a double foul was called on El Reno and Ungles stepped to the foul line.

He tried a free throw, missed, and tried again. Again he failed and the whistle blew before the ball could be put in play.

One of the aspects came tonight when Florence, Miss., defeated Wichita, Kan., runners-up, 27 to 21. The southerners were the pacemakers from the opening whistle.

East High, Columbus, Ohio, had little difficulty in defeating Battle Creek, Mich., 31 to 19. Madison, S. D., also easily demonstrated its superiority over Tipton, Iowa, 28 to 17, defeating the easterners 29 to 13.

INQUIRY TO BE HELD BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Investigation of Charges Against Two Congressmen To Be Secret; Findings Will Be Submitted at Later Date

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Investigation of charges against Representatives Langley of Kentucky and Zihlman of Maryland, republicans, by a special house committee will be conducted behind closed doors, but a stenographic report of all testimony will be made public when the committee submits its findings to the house.

This procedure was agreed upon today by the committee as it resumed its inquiry, determined to first look into the charges against Mr. Zihlman. At two o'clock sessions the committee heard the testimony of Elias Mortimer, who is understood to have accused Zihlman of improper use of official influence. Tomorrow Edward Robinson, former proprietor of the Federal Drug and Chemical company of Baltimore, who also is said to have made charges involving the Maryland representative, will be examined.

Submit Report Later

At the close of today's hearings Chairman Burton issued the following report for the committee: "Having ascertained that Representatives Zihlman and Langley are the only members of the house against whom charges were made in connection with the Chicago grand jury proceeding, the committee will proceed as rapidly as possible to comply with the resolution (authorizing its inquiry), and when the hearings are completed will present to the house along with its conclusions and recommendations all the evidence submitted. The charges against Representative Zihlman will be first heard and then the charges against Representative Langley.

Upon very careful deliberation the committee has determined that the hearing shall be in executive session at least for the present. This course cannot prejudice any interest that may be involved, while it is obvious that the other course might be unfair to the government as well as to individuals, particularly in view of the fact that one of the representatives has been indicted and is now awaiting trial which may occur before the hearings are completed.

PIONEER CATCHER IS DEAD

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—Charles R. Robinson, 67 years of age, one of the most famous baseball catchers of the hatched-and-died of the eighties, both with Cincinnati and Syracuse, is dead at his home here.

Robinson was a "big-time" catcher for 15 years and quit the game in 1893 with both of his hands battered out of all resemblance to their original shape.

JEFFRIES IS RING PILOT

LOS ANGELES, April 2 (AP)—James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion of the world, has returned to the bantam square, but as a manager, not as a fighter. He will manage Tommy Richards, heavyweight, of Van Nuys.

CLAIMS DOHNEY PAID BOURBON CAMPAIGN CASH

Ladd announced that because of the absence of witnesses and the desire of the committee to give attention to pending legislation the house hearings would be adjourned until next Monday.

The house judiciary committee failed again today to take up the senate resolution proposing impeachment proceedings against Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, as customs collector at El Paso, for his refusal to testify before the oil committee. It had been in evidence that Chase had sought to have Price McKinstry, of Cleveland, Ohio, say he had loaned Fall $100,000.

After conferences today with special counsel in the oil cases, Secretary Wilbur stated he would co-operate with them in every possible way in the litigation already undertaken and proposed and resulting from the oil investigation. The new naval secretary sought the conference as to inform himself fully of the facts.

SEEK PINK-HEADED DUCK

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Undaunted by the failure of the expedition to find a pink-headed duck in the wilds of Asia, a party of scientists sails today to explore the valley of the Amazon in quest of a bird that breaks rocks with its bill, swims and resembles a bat. It is called the fountain, says George Conder, a photographer. A good specimen, he said, was worth $50,000.

raised in and around Twin Falls will not exceed $20,000 and may be less, depending upon the precise share of the expense to be assumed by the Nevada end of the committee in addition to the expense which the Nevada people have undertaken in the way of providing for all other right of way in Nevada, including terminals and other land requirements in Wells.

A telegram from the Nevada committee received Thursday indicated an entire willingness to assist in the raising of the $25,000 fund although the precise extent of this assistance has not yet been definitely determined. Chairman Seelye was instructed to notify the Utah Construction company of the decision to purchase the right of way through the company's property at the price offered.

The proposed visit of Chairman Seelye and members of the railroad committee to Contact scheduled for Wednesday was postponed until later in the week, with a possibility that the trip may be made today.

MELLON SCORES INCREASE IN ESTATE TAXES

by the committee to work on a new set of figures on the number of veterans entitled to benefits of the soldier bonus bill passed by the house by which the committee expects to close up somewhat the gap of $2,500,000 between the estimates on the cost of the bill submitted by the veterans' bureau and treasury authorities.

Estimates also were received as to the amount of reduction in taxes effected by changes in the bill to date. The committee is awaiting new estimates from the budget bureau on expected expenditures of the government next year before determining what further reductions can be allowed.

The estimates of Joseph McCoy, treasury secretary, that the house bonus bill would cost about $4,550,000,000 were severely criticized today by Herbert Hoover, treasury secretary employed by the American Legion. Mr. Hoover estimated before the committee that the cost of the bill would be $3,360,350,000, which by amortization over the period of 20 years covered by the insurance policies, could be met by an annual expenditure of $126,602,000.

In a letter to John R. Quinn, national commander of the American Legion, Mr. Hoover declared Mr. McCoy's estimate is of "no value whatsoever, and in my judgment is a disgrace to those who permitted it to be broadcast throughout the nation."

IMMIGRATION PROTESTS

Congress need not take too seriously the protests rolling in from various quarters regarding the new immigration bill. Protests from countries that do not like proposed restrictions are to be received courteously but treated always on their merits from a strictly American viewpoint. The same is true of protests from American groups of foreign origin.

Our immigration problem, after all,
 is ours—not that of Europe or Asia
 or any of the countries in those continent. By the law of nations as well as by the law of common sense, we are the sole judges of what kind of people and how many, we shall admit.

All foreign governments and peoples recognize this principle as a matter of course, in their own cases. And they act upon it. There is no civilized nation that does not determine for itself, as a domestic policy, the conditions of entrance for residence and citizenship.
 And there is hardly a country that does not control its immigration more strictly than we have yet controlled ours.

Suppose, now, that Greece, Italy, Jugoslavia, Russia, Germany, Japan or any other country, friendly or unfriendly, were working out a new immigration policy and the United States entered a formal protest, insisting that our people should have free access to that country, regardless of numbers
 and quality, fitness for assimilation,
 economic value, citizenship intentions,
 etc. What would such a country tell us? It would certainly tell us that its immigration policy was as much its own business as it is the business of a social club to say whom it shall admit to membership.

While there is discrimination, it is not necessarily a question of one nation being better than another. It is a question of natural preference and of suitability. We are a nation of a certain type, racially and institutionally, and want to preserve this type.
 Any other nation worth its salt wants to do the same thing. We do not question other nations' right to establish their own standards and preserve their particular kind of civilization,
 and they need not question ours.

CHILDREN AND CONSTITUTION

Many of the opponents of the proposed Child Labor amendment to the national Constitution have taken the trouble to carry their protests to the hearings before the House judiciary committee. They are fearful of many things.

Some of them are afraid of further experimenting in "coercion of the states." They fear the states may lose their sovereignty. They dread tampering with the work of the Federals of the Constitution. They pity the businessmen, who are already carrying a heavy burden of regulation, if child labor is barred. A few are fearful lest children be deprived of opportunity for healthful and instructive work. Said one physician, who should have known better, "Far better for children to be fatigued when they finish work and so go to bed instead of going out to waste their time at dances and the like."

Mill children going to work before daylight and stumbling home from work after dark, maimed and stunted agricultural child workers, ignorant and illiterate youngsters, worn out with too heavy work before they have grown up—none of these had any place in the pictures of disaster to the Constitution and the states which the protesters drew.

Two things now stand in the way of the Child Labor amendment. One is the number of investigations now going on in Congress which are likely to crowd out important legislation.

SPRING FUN
 by DADDY

CHAPTER IV.
 Mr. Thomas Cat's Bath.

MR. THOMAS CAT went walking in the forest. Now Mr. Thomas Cat went walking that usually meant trouble for the birds. He did not walk just for fun. He walked to find himself something to eat.

Just now Mr. Thomas Cat had his eye upon among the trees and down among the grass tufts. He was looking for birds.

"Meow-meow!" purred Mr. Thomas Cat. "I would like to lunch today on a nice, plump bird."

The birds, however, saw Thomas Cat walking in the fields. They knew from the past what the walks of Thomas Cat meant.

So the birds spread the alarm far
 and near.

"Cheer-cheer! Look out! Mr. Thomas Cat is taking a walk! Look out for him!"

This was the reason Mr. Thomas Cat did not find any birds were enough to catch. The birds flew to the tops of the trees beyond his reach and jeered at
 him.

"Cheer-cheer! Mr. Thomas Cat can't catch us, cheer-cheer! Mr. Thomas Cat is not so smart as he thinks he is,
 cheer-cheer!"

Meadow Lark began to chuckle to himself. "I know a good joke to play on Thomas Cat," he chuckled to the other birds. "Watch us, and you'll see some fun."

Meadow Lark flew behind some bushes far ahead in the path of Thomas Cat. Then when Thomas Cat came walking along Meadow Lark gave a loud shriek and ran along the ground, trailing a wing and crying it were broken.

Thomas Cat licked his chops and purred softly when he saw Meadow Lark.

"Meow-meow! That bird is hurt!"
 thought Thomas Cat. "He can't fly and I can eat him easily."

But Thomas Cat quickly learned he could not catch Meadow Lark as easily as he expected. Meadow Lark kept flapping about of him, and no matter whether Thomas Cat crept up slowly or rushed ahead in great leaps, Meadow Lark kept just beyond his reach.

The other birds got into the trees
 to watch the fun. They knew Meadow Lark was just pretending to have a broken wing and could fly away swiftly if Thomas Cat got too near.

Meadow Lark didn't appear to know

Thomas Cat looked very humble and bedraggled.

where he was going—he seemed anxious
 not to get away from Thomas Cat.
 But all the time he drew nearer and nearer to the high, steep bank of the river. At last he was on top of the bank. Here he appeared to be in great trouble. His wing dragged more than ever. He seemed sick and tired out.

"Now I'll get that bird," purred Thomas Cat to himself. Thomas Cat crept under the bushes and leaped.
 He crept. Then suddenly he sprang.
 At the same instant Meadow Lark hopped nimbly into the air. Thomas Cat flew beneath him. And Thomas Cat did not stop. Instead of landing on a nice plump bird, he found himself flying over the edge of the bank and down toward the rushing river. Thomas Cat did not like water. Now he was shocked when he saw he was diving into the deep stream.

Thomas Cat gave a frightened yowl—then splash! Into the river he went—deep, deep down. He came spluttering and thrashing. He paddled desperately for the shore.

And above Thomas Cat's head appeared a flock of laughing, jeering birds. They mocked him. They made dashes at him, forcing him to duck under to get out of the way of their sharp beaks. It was a wet, half-drowned, miserable cat that finally dragged himself out on shore.

Jack and Janet also laughed. Proud and naughty Thomas Cat looked very humble and bedraggled. He had been innocent as he deserved for hunting innocent song birds.

 Pango, the Wolf, gets fooled.)

OUR NEIGHBOR'S DOG.

 What is it fills our nights with woe,
 That spoils the sun's most radiant
 glow,
 That makes high spirits settle low?
 Our neighbor has a dog.

What is it, when the moonbeams pale
 With splendor flood our lovely vale,
 Emits the dirge, the dirge of evening wail?
 Our neighbor has a dog.

What is it, when the moonbeams pale
 With splendor flood our lovely vale,
 Emits the dirge, the dirge of evening wail?
 Our neighbor has a dog.

What is it, when low thunder growls,
 And storm-winds round our chimneys
 howls,
 Sends forth that hair-distinguishing howl?
 Our neighbor has a dog.

No day and night, in deep distress,
 With spirits filled with bitterness,
 We whisper to each other, "Yes,
 Our neighbor has a dog."

The other is the activity of its opponents to delay passage of the children's bill until the proposed Wadsworth amendment, altering and slowing up
 the procedure in amendment adoption, is put through.

Friends of the nation's children must be eager and persistent in their demand for the amendment.

CLOVER

CLOVER—Mr. and Mrs. H. Reinke and daughter, Dorothy, and son, Richard, are on the sick list with the measles.

Ernest Reinke and Arvin List spent Friday fishing at Lost River. They report trout fishing good there.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Liermann are the parents of a girl born March 26.

A crowd of people enjoyed a lecture and lantern slide pictures on the life of John Ruskin, given in the Clover church Thursday evening.

Members of the Pannerfeldt, C.
 Rieker, Ed. Rieker, Ed. Rieker, Ed. Rieker,
 A. Liermann, W. Rieker and J. Kuster families are on the sick list with the measles.

Miss Enola Schroeder, who has been in Twin Falls the past few months, is home on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Martens and family,
 Ted Gilling and Mr. and Mrs. A. Lost returned to Kimberly Sunday to spend the day at the E. Martens home.

Elia Knip has both the measles and mumps. Her sister, Helen, is recovering from the measles, and brother, Martin, has the measles.

Mr. Lutz has been on the sick list for two weeks with the flu.

There were but very few people in attendance at the Clover church service Sunday owing to the great number on the sick list. It was also necessary to close the school (parochial) for this week for the same reason.

Word was received from Rochester, Minn., that Mrs. J. Schaefer is recovering rapidly after an operation.

Mrs. Reinke is helping take care of the sick at the J. Meyer home.

George Gilling of Twin Falls is reported as quite sick with the mumps.

This Old Love Letter

Was "the Real Thing"

The man's mother had given the man's wife a love letter which she found hidden away in a mass of old papers. It had been written to the man when he was a boy and the writer
 was his sweetheart, fifteen years old.

The man's mother laughed when she handed it to the man's wife, and the man's wife laughed when she handed it to the man.

But the man did not laugh.
 "Ah," said the wife in her merry way, "see how the past rises up against you."

The man took the letter and slowly
 read it and softly read it aloud:
 "Dearest boy," he read, "I'm afraid you are mad at me because I walked to school, but it wasn't my fault at all.
 You know I love you, dearest boy, a thousand million times more than I love Johnnie, and when you look cross at me it breaks my heart. And you going to take me to the school picnic Saturday—because if you don't I can't go. I cried when I wrote this—that's why it's spotted. Don't unmake me cry any more, dearest boy."

The man looked at the letter for some time. His gaze softened and he sighed.

"That was the real thing," he murmured, and he carefully folded the letter and turned away.

And then the man's wife was sorry
 she had given the letter to the man—Cleveland, Ohio.

Method Is Devised to

Seal Copper and Glass

Most metals will not adhere permanently to glass after they have been sealed to it while in a semi-molten condition, and if they are in the form of rods or blocks. Metal and glass exposed to the heat that is required for sealing and cooling, inevitable separation occurs. The one notable exception has been platinum, which expands
 at very nearly the same rate as glass and has, therefore, been highly prized for the making of vacuum bulbs where the electric current must be fed into the bulb and the vacuum kept perfect and free from leaks. But platinum is much more costly than gold and so the electrical engineers have found a way by which copper may be sealed so closely to glass that the metal is fastened to a very thin sheet with a knife-like edge the thing can be done. This is because the stresses which the joint
 may have to endure are in proportion to the thickness of either the copper or glass. A thin sheet of copper glass will naturally be sealed into a glass of copper. So again, a necessity becomes the mother of invention.

What is useless to you may be valuable to another—advertise it in the classified columns.

CHAPTER XXII

The Greatest Trait.

Jack Irons used to say that he never had known had such an uncommon amount of common sense as George Washington. He wrote to his father:

"It would seem that he must be in communication with the all-seeing mind. If he were to make a serious blunder here our cause would be lost.
 The enemy tries in vain to fool him.
 Their devices are as an open book to Washington. They have fooled me and Solomon and other officers but not him.
 I had got quite a conceit of myself in judging strategy, but now it is all gone."

"One day I was scouting along the lines, a few miles from Philadelphia,
 when I came upon a little, ragged, old woman. She tried to go through the lines into the country to buy flour.
 The moment she spoke I recognized her. It was old Lydia Darrah who had done my washing for me the last year of my stay in Philadelphia."

"Why, Lydia, how do you do?" I asked.

"The way I have allus done, laddie bucke," she answered in her good Irish tongue. "Workin' at the tub 'n' flingin' the devil—had 'cess to him—
 but I kape me hilt 'n' lucky I am—do this—thanks to the good God! I how is the line that I'd saved?"

"I knowed 'bout the red ink," she answered, "but the red ink, that's 'Not as fine as when I wore the white ruffles but stout as a mose," I answered. "The war is a business."

"It is that—that the good God defends us! We cross the sea to be rid of the devil 'n' he follies 'n' grabs us
 by the nose while we're at sea."

"We were on a lonely road. She looked about and seeing no one, put a dirty old needle case in my hands."

"Take that, me smart lad. It's for good luck," she answered.

"As I left her I was in doubt of the meaning of her generosity. Soon I noted the needle and details of the needle in one of its pockets a piece of thin paper rolled tight. On it I found the information that Howe would be leaving the city next morning with five thousand men, and baggage wagons and thirteen cannon and eleven boats. The news of this was a great help to the proposed British raid. I rode post to headquarters and luckily found the general in his tent. On the way I arrived at a definite conclusion regarding the plans of Howe. I was eager to give it all, having no doubt of its accuracy. The general and I had a respectful attention while I laid the facts before him. Then I took my courage in my hands and asked:

"General, may I venture to express
 an opinion?"

"Certainly," he answered.

"If the plan of Howe to cross the Delaware in his boats so as to make us believe that he is going to New York. He will recross the river above Bristol and suddenly descend
 upon our rear."

"Washington sat, with his arms folded, looking very grave, but made no answer."

"In other words, again I presented
 my conviction."

"Still he was silent and a little embarrassed. In half a moment I ventured to ask:

"General, what is your opinion?"

"He answered in a kindly tone:
 'Colonel Irons, the enemy has no business in our rear. The boats are only for our scouts and spies to look at. The British hope to fool us with them. Tomorrow morning about daylight they will be coming down the

"He called an aid and ordered that our front be made ready for an attack
 in the early morning."

"I left headquarters with my conceit upon me and half convinced that our chief was out in his judgment of that matter. No like notion will enter my mind again. Solomon and I have quarters on the Edgely River. A little after dark, some coming from the British were reported coming down the road. A large number of them were killed and captured and the rest roughly handled."

Snow and bitter winds descended upon the camp early in December. It was a worn, ragged, weary but devoted army of about eleven thousand men that followed Washington into Valley Forge to make a camp for the winter.

Of these, two thousand and ninety-eight were unfit for duty. Most of the latter had neither boots nor shoes.
 They marched over roads frozen hard,
 with their ragged and pieces of hide clumped around their feet. There were many red tracks in the snow in the Valley of the Schuylkill that day.
 Hardly a man was dressed for cold weather. Hundreds were shivering and coughing with influenza.

"When I look at these men I cannot help thinking how small are my troubles," Jack wrote to his mother. "I will complain of them no more. Solomon and I have given away all the clothes we have except those on our backs. A fiercer enemy than the British is besieging us here. He is winter."

There are many here who have nothing to wear but blankets with amholes, belted by a length of rope.
 There are hundreds who have no blankets to cover them at night. They have to take turns sitting by the fire while others are asleep. For them a night's rest is impossible. Let this letter be read to the people of Albany

 and may they not be led down to sleep until they have stirred themselves in our behalf, and if any man dares to pray to God to help us until he has given of his abundance to that end
 and brought his neighbors to that end
 the same, I could wish that his praying would choke this letter and that he be saved—that is the question. If we expect God to furnish the flannel and the shoe leather, we are not. That is our part of the great task. Are we going to shirk it and fail?

"We are making a real army. The men who are able to work are being carefully trained in the use of arms.
 Baron Steuben and a number of French officers."

That they did not fail was probably due to the fact that there were men in the army like this one who seemed to have some little understanding of the will of God and the duty of man.
 This letter and others like it, traveled far and wide and more than a million hands began to work for the army.

The Schuylkill was on one side of the camp and wooded ridges, protected by entrenchments on the other. Trees were cut and dug logs constructed, 16 by 14 feet in size. Twelve privies were quartered in each hut.

The Gates propaganda was again being phased. Anonymous letters complaining that Washington was not protecting the people of Pennsylvania and New Jersey from deprivations were appearing in sundry newspapers. By and by a committee of investigation arrived from Congress. They left satisfied that Washington had done well to keep his army alive, and that they must have help or a large part of it would die of cold and hunger.

It was on a severe day in March that Washington sent for Jack Irons.
 The scout found the general sitting alone by the fire in his office which was part of a small farmhouse. He was eating a cold luncheon of baked beans and bread without butter. Jack had just returned from Philadelphia
 where he had chased his life as a spy,
 of which adventure no details are recorded.

The general arose and went to his desk and returned with scold letters
 in his hand and said:

"Colonel, I have a task for you. I could give it to no man in whom I had not the utmost confidence. You have served in respect to the hardships and perils of this army. There is a purse and two letters. With them I wish you to make your way to France as soon as possible and turn over the letters to Franklin. The doctor is much in need of help. Put your service at his disposal. A ship will be leaving Boston on the 14th. A good horse has been provided; your route is mapped. You will need to start after the moon moon. For the first time in ten days there will be fresh beef on the tables. Two hundred blankets have been ordered and more are coming. After they have eaten, give the men a farewell talk and put them in good heart, if you can. We are going to celebrate the winter's end which cannot be long delayed. When you have left the table, Hamilton will talk to the boys in his witty and inspiring fashion."

Soon after one o'clock on the 7th of March, 1778, Colonel Irons bade Solomon goodbye and set out on his long journey.

CHAPTER XXIII

In France With Franklin.

Jack shipped in the packet Mercury,
 of 70 tons, under Capt. Simeon Sampson, one of America's ablest naval commanders. She had been built for rapid sailing and when the second day out, she was under full sail, frigate bearing down upon her they were ship
 and easily ran away from her crew.

Their first landing was at St. Martin on the Isle de Re. They crossed the island on mules, being greeted with
 the cry:

"Vain les braves Bostoniens!"

In France the word Howe meant American revolutionaries. At the ferry they embarked on a long kabane for La Rochelle. There the young man enjoyed his first repose on a French bed built up of sandy layers of feather beds.

In the morning he set out in a heavy robe of two velvet, downy by three horses. His position in fringed and powdered hair, under a ruffled hat, with a long queue on his back and in great boots, hopped with him, rode a lively little biulet. Such was the French stagecoach of those days. Its running gear consisted of a platform on four wheels, the wheels were taxed according to the number of their wheels. The driver informs one that when the traveler stopped for food at an inn, he was expected to furnish his own knife. The highways were patrolled, night and day, by armed men, and the traveler was unknown. The vineyards were not walled or fenced. All travelers had a license to help themselves to as much fruit as they might wish to eat when it was on the vines.

THE MARKETS

CORN LEADS ADVANCE IN QUOTATIONS ON GRAINS

Wheat Also Finishes Firm; Fresh Arrivals in Chicago Decidedly Light; Farmers Now in Field Work

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Corn led a general advance today in the value of grain. Receipts of corn here were the smallest so far this season, and there was talk that the May delivery might yet reach $1 a bushel. The corn market closed firm, 3-4 to 1c higher, May 78 7/8 to 79c. Wheat also finished firm, 5-8 to 3-4 to 7-8 up, May $1.02 1/4 to 1.02 1/2 to 1.03 up, and July $1.03 3/4 to 1.04 to 1c advance, and provisions varying from 7c decline to a rise of 5 cents.

Notwithstanding the weather was normal, fresh arrivals of corn in Chicago today totaled only 27 carloads, and a canvass indicated that five of the leading houses on "change" had fewer than a dozen cars of corn in transit to this market. Meanwhile, country offerings to arrive here were virtually nothing, and it was said considerable corn already had been put under charter here and at Milwaukee for shipment at the opening of lake navigation. Besides, it was contended that feeling of corn to be grown more profit than heretofore of late, and that field work by farmers would render unlikely for some time any big movement of corn.

Price climbing which resulted in the corn market began almost as business opened. Subsequent gains were steady, and the final figure was within 1-4c of the day's top level. Oats were stronger in sympathy with corn and on further reports of delayed seeding.

Wheat was unsettled, being easy earlier but then developed strength after other grain had shown decided independence. The wheat market was unsettled in part because that France was buying under cover. Mill with draws of wheat in store here counted also as a stimulating factor.

Increased stocks of hard here and lower quotations on hogs caused the provision market.

BULLISH TREND PREVAILS
Further Improvement Noted in Prices of Stocks But Trading Is Confined to Relatively Small Volume

Total stock sales 709,100 shares.
Twenty Industrials averaged 95.12; net gain, .33. High, 1924, 101.24; low, 93.08.
Twenty railroads averaged 84.91; net gain, .35. High, 1924, 85.90; low, 82.74.

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Stock prices registered further improvement today but trading continued in relatively small volume. Professional bear traders, apparently discouraged by their recent failure to dislodge stocks for covering purposes, suspended their attacks while operations on the long side were of a rather cautious character.

Bullish sentiment undoubtedly was created by the brighter prospects for early action by the senate on the tax reduction bill. Speculative "expectations" that the market will make a favorable reaction to the Dawes report, which probably will be made public at the end of the week, was reflected in the strength of stocks likely to benefit by an amicable settlement of the troublesome reparations problem.

Revival of interest in the copper shares was based on prospective buying orders from abroad. American Smelting was the leader of this group, closing nearly 2 points higher at 11. Most of the others improved fractionally. American Zinc issues were strong.

Speculative interest in the railroad group was divided between the Erie and the St. Paul issues, buying of both being predicated on large current earnings.

Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent, but dropped to 4 after noon. Little change was apparent in the time money market, short term loans ruling at 4 1-2 per cent and the longer maturities at 4 3-4.

Establishment of new high records by French and Belgian francs, the former crossing 6 cents, featured, the former exchange market. Profit taking was noted, however, in the Italian, Swiss, Spanish and Scandinavian currencies.

BEARISH SENTIMENT WAGES
NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—With these Livemore, one of Wall Street's most prominent operators, back in the city, after an extended visit to Florida; George Tholan, another big trader, sailing from England today, and the Dawes report due within a week, market observers are predicting greatly increased activity within the next fortnight. While opinion as to the immediate trend of prices is still divided, there has been a noticeable decrease in bearish sentiment on the part of floor traders.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.
BOSTON, April 2 (AP)—Demand from abroad for the export of foreign wool held down this port limited to develop slightly. More than 500,000 pounds were cleared for export during the week ending March 22, and more than 1,050,000 pounds were cleared during the last week. The market in general was unchanged today.

SUGAR.
NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—A decline of 1-16 cent in raw sugar market today under continued liberal offerings, spot prices now being quoted at 6.50, duty paid, for Cubans. Sales included 20,000 bags of Cubans to an output refiner at 6.50, duty paid, and 10,000 bags to a local refiner at 6.50, both for second half April shipment.

The easier feeling in the spot market and more favorable crop advices from Cuba led to heavy selling

ORGANIZATIONS OF PRODUCERS MAKE HEADWAY

Dates for Launching of Dairy-men's Association and Egg Producers' Association Drawing Near

Completion of the organization of the Twin Falls County Co-operative Dairy-men's association and of a branch of the Idaho-Oregon Egg Producers' association for southwestern Idaho, including Twin Falls county, is expected to be effected within the next few days, marking attainment of goals set for two movements under very herculean efforts for some time.

Articles of incorporation of the dairy-men's association have been filed in the office of the secretary of state and county recorder, and a meeting of members has been called to be held here next Monday for purposes of ratifying the articles, adopting by-laws and electing directors to whom management of the association will be entrusted. The articles were filed when a majority of the membership campaign showed enrollment representing ownership of about 1200 cows giving the association control over marketing of 30,000 pounds of butterfat each month, but the campaign was not closed at that time and within the past few days the membership has been increased to a considerable extent. It is anticipated that when the association begins active operations the membership will be still further increased.

Poultrymen Gain Ground.

Completion of a sign up of poultry owners sufficient for proceeding with organization of the egg producers' association is expected to be recorded at a meeting of county agents, poultrymen and farmers recently called by W. Kjosness, state leader of county agents, to be held next Friday at Pocatello. Twin Falls county will be represented by a number of poultrymen as well as by its county agent at this meeting; it has been announced.

Announcement was made about a week ago that the sign-up in the south-east Idaho district necessary for organization of the egg producers' was short about 10,000 hens. R. E. Brown said Twin Falls county was well up at that time that it would be possible to sign up practically all of the required number of hens in this county, alone, in addition to those already signed up, and since then the membership campaign has been pushed hereabouts with results that are reported to be generally satisfactory to the organization movement.

ALLEGED NARCOTICS VICTIM BEFORE COURT

F. J. Taylor, arrested at Buhl recently upon complaint that he was receiving as a prisoner in this county jail here following his arrest last Sunday in Buhl, where, officers said, he had solicited charity with representations that the three-year-old child who accompanied him had been without food for three days. The mother and younger child were in Buhl, but have since arrived in Twin Falls. The complaint charging Taylor with failure to provide for his family was dismissed when the charge that he is addicted to use of narcotics was preferred.

March Brings Clouds But Little Moisture

Weather Observer's Report Shows Only Three Clear Days; Precipitation 12-100 Inch

Sunshine was at a premium in the Twin Falls county during the month of March, according to a monthly report just completed by M. Haanons, government weather observer here, showing a total of only three clear days during the month, with four cloudy and 26 mostly cloudy days.

Precipitation during the month totaled 12 one-hundredths of an inch, and snowfall was measured at 170 one-hundredths of an inch.

With an average maximum temperature of 46.9, average minimum of 24.7, and mean temperature for the period at 35.8 above zero, the top reach was passed up March 6 at 50 above, and the low mark of the month was recorded March 18 at 14 above.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR SYMPHONY CONCERT

The final rehearsal has been held, the program completed and everything is in readiness for the second annual concert of the Twin Falls Symphony orchestra to be presented under direction of Gustav Flechter and management of Maurice L. Klein, this evening at the orphan house.

The management announced Wednesday evening that the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock, giving opportunity for out of town guests to drive in. There will be no matinee performance.

Presentation of the "Nutcracker Suite" by Theodor Kowalevsky, including the entire eight numbers of this beautiful ballet, will make up the first part of the program.

John W. Summerhays of Salt Lake, widely known tenor soloist, will offer a number of selections from his extensive repertoire, at the beginning of the second part, which will include the offering of the junior orchestra. Mr. Summerhays also will sing Arin Furtiva Luginia, from Elizer d'Amore, by Donizetti, and the concert will be concluded with a variety of orchestra numbers, including the Hungarian Rhapsody No. 8, known also as the "Furiant" in Post Sunset Land and selections from the Fortune Teller.

PROBLEM PRESENTED BY CALIFORNIA SHIPMENT

Arrival here Wednesday of three boxes in a carload of immigrant movables from San Bernardino region, California, presented a problem that was referred by D. E. Sullivan, Oregon Short Line agent here, to Dr. H. H. Groomie, deputy state veterinarian.

The animals, according to documentary evidence provided by the owner, had been shipped from California under permit just 24 hours before San Bernardino county was placed under quarantine following discovery of foot and mouth disease in that region. At the time the permit was issued it was believed that there was no case of the disease within a distance of 200 miles.

The veterinarian issued orders for thorough cleaning and disinfecting of the animals and of the car in which they were shipped, and arranged to keep the animals isolated and under observation for a time. The owner came here to carry on farming operations on a place about four miles south of Twin Falls.

ADVISES SPRAYING TO SAVE IDAHO ELM TREES

"Many inquiries have been received by the horticultural inspection service as to the pest which is so seriously damaging our elm trees," says State Horticultural Inspector H. T. Blake.

"Large branches of many of these trees have been killed and the injury is spreading so rapidly that unless strenuous methods are used, and used soon, all of our elm trees will be damaged, and many of the finest destroyed. The insect causing this damage is the English elm scale and spraying with an oil spray is the only known way of controlling it.

"Two oil sprays are available—Spray-Emulsion, made by the Sherwin-Williams company, and a cold mixture oil spray. Both are for sale in Twin Falls.

"If we are to save our elm trees it is very important that they shall be sprayed this spring before they leaf out. As inspector for this district I will be more than glad to assist in any effort which is made to rid us of this serious pest."
